

THE

Code of Criminal Procedure

BEING

Act No. V of 1898

As Imended by Subsequent Enactments

SIR H. T. PRINSEP, K.C.I.E., I.C.S.
SOMETIME ONE OF H. M.'S JUDGES OF THE CALCUTA HIGH COURT

FIFTEENTII EDITION

REVISED AND BROUGHT UP-TO-DATE

ΒY

SIR H. MONCRIEF SMITH, KT., I.C.S. (RETD)

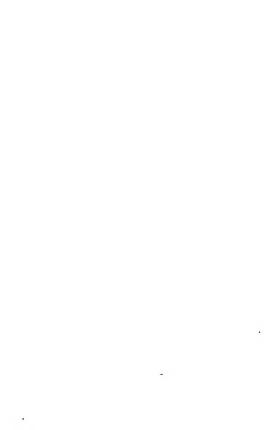

Late President, Council of State

۸ND

F. B. BRADLEY-BIRT, I.C.S. (RETD)

CALCUTTA.

S. K. LAHIRI & CO.
1933

PREFACE TO THE FIFTEENTH EDITION.

After many years, Sir Henry Prinsep's well known commentary on the Code of Criminal Procedure makes it re-appearance. Both the learned editors of this revised edition having left the Indian shores, the duty of contributing the usual but perhaps unnecessary preface has to be discharged by the Publishers. During the period that has elapsed since the last edition, there have been earried through the Legislatures many and important amendments of far reaching consequences. There have also been reported in the various reports and journals a bewildering mass of eases of more or less importance. All these have received due attention, but the learned editors have constantly kept in view the ideal followed in the previous editions of making the work a commentary, rather than a mere annotated edition of the Code. With this end in view they have sought in the following pages to trace the gradual development of the law by pointing out the changes effected by the numerous amending Acts, to explain in a systematic and orderly manner the law as it now stands, illustrating it with the aid of judicial decisions, to reconcile apparently conflicting decisions, wherever possible, and to express their own opinion on obscure and doubtful points.

Much of the work has had to be rewritten in view of the changes effected in the law and in order to make the book more complete. The latest amendment has been noted and the ease law brought up-to-date. Important cases reported while the book was passing through the Press have been noted in the Addenda.

CALCUTTA, June, 1933. THE PUBLISHERS

PREFACE TO THE FOURTEENTH EDITION

This edition like the last, the thirteenth edition of this hook on the Code of Criminal Procedure, is a commentary rather than a mere annotated edition of the Code. An attempt has been made to reconcile judgments apparently contradictory and to point out occasionally where some judgments have seemed to ful to earry out the intention of the legislature as expressed in the law, which it is hoped may result in re-consideration and settlement of such doubtful matters. In the course of time since the enactment of the first Code of Criminal Procedure of 1861 there has been a long series of amendments of the law which have made many reported cases obsolete. To draw attention to ful of these would considerably and somewhat immediately enlarge the bulk of the book. An endeavour has been made to show the state of the present law, and for 'his purpose all cases bearing on it have been referred to. When other cases come under consideration they would be accepted with caution and not without careful examination of changes of the law effected by more recent legislation.

A considerable portion of the present edition has been re written in order to make the work more complete, and it has been brought up to-date in its references to reported cases. The latest of these which have appeared in the law reports while this book was passing through this Press have been noted in the Addenda.

LONDON, December, 1906. H T. P.

CONTENTS.

Talle of Cases	KYY

THE CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE,

Act V of 1898,

( is modified up to date)

PART I.

Preliminary.

CHAPTER I

Section		PAGE
1	Short title	1
	Commencement	1
	Txtent	1
2	[Repealed]	3
3	References to Code of Criminal Procedure and other repealed enactments	3
	Expressions in former Acts	4
4	Definitions	4
•	Words referring to Acis	g
	Words to have same meaning as in Indian Penal Code	10
5	Trial of Offences under Penal Code	10
•	Trial of Officers against other lans	10

PART II.

Constitution and Powers of Criminal Courts and Offices.

CHAPTER II

OF THE CONSTITUTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS AND OFFICES

A -Classes of Criminal Courts

6 Classes of Criminal Courts 11

B -Territorial Divisions

Sessions divisions and districts
Power to alter divisions and districts
Existing divisions and districts maintained till altered Presidency towns to be deemed districts

B -Sentences which may be fassed by Courts of various Classes Sentences which High Court and Sessions Judges may pass

Centences which Magistrates may pass

CONT

3 IÌ

Section 33	Powers of Magistrates to sentence to imprisonment in default	Paci
34	of fine Proviso as to certain cases Higher powers of certain District Magistrates	28 29
	Sentences which Courts of Vigistrates may pass upon Furonean British subjects	30
35	Schenecs in cases of conviction of several offences at one trial	30 31
	Maximum term of punishment	31
	C -Ordinary and Additional Powers
36 37 38	Ordinary powers of Magistrates Additional powers conferable on Magistrates Control of District Magistrate's investing power	36 36 37
	D -Conferment, Continuance and Cancellation of Powers
39 40	Mode of conferring powers Powers of Officers appointed	37 37
41	Powers may be cancelled	37
	PART III.
	General Provisions,
	CHAPTER IV
	Of Aid and Information to the Magistrates, the Police and Persons making Arrests
42 43 44	Public when to assist Magistrates and Police Aid to person other than police-officer executing warrant Public to give information of certain offences	38 39 39
45	Village headmen, accountants, laudholders and others bound to report certain matters	41
	Appointment of village headmen by District Magistrate or Sub divisional Magistrate in certain cases for purposes of this section	42
	CHAPTER V
	OF ARREST, ESCAPH AND RETAKING
	A -Arrest Generally	45
46	Arrest how made Resisting endeavour to arrest	45
47	Search of place entered by person sought to be arrested Procedure where ingress not obtainable	46 47
48	Breaking open Zenatia	47
49	Power to break open doors and windows for purposes of liberation	47

		Page
SECTION	No unnecessary restraint	47
50	Search of arrested persons	47
51	Mode of searching women	48
52	Power to seize offensive weapons	48
53	Power to seize onensive weapons
	B -Arrest unthout Il arrant
54	When police may arrest without warrant	48
55	Arrest of vagabonds habitual robbers, etc	55
56	Procedure when police officer deputes subordinate to arrest
	without warrant	57
57	Refusal to give name and residence	58
58	Pursuit of offenders into other jurisdictions	59
59	Arrest by private persons and procedure on such arrest	59
60	Person arrested to be taken before Magistrate or officer in charge of police station	60
61	Person arrested not to be detained more than 24 hours	£1
62	Police to report apprehension	62
63	Discharge of person apprehended	62
64	Offence Committed in Magistrate's presence	62
65	Arrest by or in presence of Magistrate	62
66	Power on escape to pursue and retake	63
67	Provisions of Sections 47, 48 and 49 to apply to arrest unde	Γ
	Section 66	63
	CHAPTER VI OF PROCESSES TO COMPEL APPEARANCE
	A -Summons
68	Form of Summons	63
	Summons by whom served	63
69		64
	Signature of receipt for Summons	64
70		65
71		d 65
72
73		66
74
	not present	67
	B - Il arrant of Arrest
7		67
	Continuance of Warrant of Arrest	67
7		69
_	Recognizance to be forwarded	70
7	7 Warrants to whom directed	71
	Warrant to several persons  Warrant may be directed to landballons at	71
4	8 Warrant may be directed to landhollers etc	71

Warrant directed to Johce effeer

60

81

Notification of substance of warrant Persons arrested to be Iroi alt before Court without delay

71 71

72

72

TENT

ıx

FCTION		PAGE
82	Where warrant may be executed	73
83 84	Warrant forwarded for execution putside jurisdiction Warrant directed to police officer for execution outside	74
	rurisdiction	74
55 86	Procedure on arrest of person against whom warrant issued Procedure 13 Magistrate before whom person arrested is	75
80	brought	75
	C -Proclamation and Attachment
87	Proclamation for person absconding	76
89 89	Attachment of property of person absconding Restoration of attached property	77 79
	D -Other Rules Regarding Processes
90	Issue of warrant in hen of or in addition to, summons	81
91	Power to take bond for appearance	81
92	Arrest on breach of bond for appearance	82
13	Provisions of this chapter generally applicable to summonses and warrants of arrest	82
	CHAPTER VII
ON P	ROCESSIN TO COMITE THE PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS AND OF MEET PROFERTY, AND FOR THE DISCOVERY OF LERSONS WRONG FULLY CONTREP	ułk
	A -Summons to Produce
94 95	Summons to produce document or other thing Procedure as to letters and telegrams	82 84
	B -Search Warrants
96	When search warrant may be issited	94
97	Power to restrict warrant	86
89	Search of house suspected to contain stolen property, forged documents, etc	87
09	Disposal of things found in search beyond jurisdiction Power to declare certain publications forfeited, and to issue	69
0971	search warrants for the same	83
991		90
99C		90
991	Order of Special Bench setting aside forfeiture	90
991		90
99F		90
09C	Jurisdiction barred	90
	C -Discovery of Persons Wrongfully Confined
100	Search for person wrongfully confined	91
	D -General Provisions relating to "
101	Direction, etc., of search warrants	91
102 2	Persons in charge of closed place

CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE

ection	92 92
Occupant of place searched may attend	92
E Mescetlaneous	94
104 Power to impound documents, etc produced 105 Magistrate may direct search in his presence	94
PART IV.
Prevention of Offences.
CHAPTER VIII
OF SECURITY FOR REEPING THE PEACE AND FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUS	R
A -Security for keeping the Peace on Connection
106 Security for keeping the Peace on conviction	97
B -Security for Lecting the Peace in other Cases and Security Good Behaviour	for
107 Security for keeping the Peace in other Cases Procedure of Magistrate not empowered to act under Sub	100
Section (1)	101
108 Security for good behaviour from persons disseminating seditions matter	108
109 Security for good behaviour from vagrants and suspected persons 110 Security for good behaviour from habitual offenders	110
111 [Repealed] 112 Order to be made	114
113 Procedure in respect of person present in Court	115
114 Summons or watrant in case of persons not so present 115 Copy of order under Section 112 to accompany summons or	115
warrant	116
116 Power to dispense with personal attendance 117 Inquiry as to truth of information	116 116
118 Order to give security	121
119 Discharge of person informed against	123
C-Proceedings in all Cases Subsequent to Order to furnish Securits
120 Commencement of period for which security required 121 Contents of Bond	124
122 Power to reject sureties	125 125
123 Imprisonment in default of security	100
Proceeding when to be laid before High Court or Court of Session	of 128
Kind of imprisonment	128

Section		Page
124	Power to release persons imprisoned for failing to give
125	security  Power of District Magistrate to cancel any bond for keeping	131
126	the peace or good behaviour	133
	Discharge of sureties	134
120 1	Security for unexpired period of bond	104

	CHAPTER IX
	Unlawful Assimblifs
127	Assembly to disperse on command of Magistrate or Police Officer	134
129	Use of civil force to disperse	136
129	Use of military force	136
130	Duty of officer communding troops required by Magistrate to disperse assembly	136
131	Power of commissioned military officers to disperse assembly	137
132	Protection against prosecution for acts done under this chapter	137
	CHAPTER X
	Punic Nuisiners
133	Conditional order for removal of musance	141
134	Service or notification of order	145
135	Person to whom order is addressed to obey, or show cause or claim jury	146
136	Consequence of his failing to do so	147
137	Procedure where he appears to show cause	147
138	Procedure where he claims mry	148
139	Procedure where jury finds Magnetrates order to be reasonable	150
139A		151
140	Procedure on order being made absolute	152
141	Consequence of disobedience to order Procedure on failure to appoint jury or omission to return	152
	verdiet	153 154
142 143	Injunction pending inquiry  Magistrate may prohibit repetition or continuance of public
,	nuisanee	154

	CHAPTER XI
1 гмго	RARY ORDERS IN URGENT CASES OF NUISANCE OR APPREHE	NDED

144 Power to issue order absolute at once in urgent cases of nuisance or apprehended danger

192

226

230

231

SECTION
---------	--

167

168

169

CHAPTER XII DISPUTES AS TO IMMOVIBLE PROPERTY

145 Procedure where dispute concerning land, etc., is lik cause breach of peace	ely to 162 162
Inquiry as to possession
Party in possession to retain possession until legally e
140 Day or to attach cubiact of dispille	100
147 Disputes concerning rights of use of immovable propert	y, etc 186
148 Local Inquiry	190
Order as to costs	190
Citati is to touch	/
The state of the s	//
CHAPTER XIII
PREVENTIVE ACTION OF THE POLICE
149 Police to prevent cognizable offences	192
150 Information of design to commit such offences	192
151 Arrest to prevent such offences	192

PART V.

Prevention of injury to public property

153 Inspection of weights and measures

tuenty four hours

Information to the Police and their powers to Investigate,

	CHAPTER XIV
154	Information in Cognizable Cases	19 £
155	Information in Non Cognizable Cases	195
	Investigation into Non Cognizable Cases	198
156	Investigation into Cognizable Cases	197
157	Procedure where cognizable offence suspected	198
	where local investigation dispensed with	198 where police officer in charge sees no sufficient ground for investigation	198
158	Reports under section 157 how submitted	199
159	Power to hold investigation or preliminary inquiry	199
160	Police officer's power to require attendance of witnesses	202
161	1,xamination of witnesses by police	20.2
162	Statements to police not to be slepted, use of such statements in evidence	203
163		210
164		211
165	Search by police officer	223
166	The charge of police station may require another to issue search warrant	225

Procedure when intestigation cannot be completed in

Report of investigation by subordinate police officer

Release of accused when evidence deficient

 $\lambda m$

Section		PAGE
170	Case to be sent to Magistrate when evidence is sufficient	231
171	Complainants and witnesses not to be required to accompany police afficer	233
	Complainants and witnesses not to be subjected to restraint	234
	Recusant complainant and witness new he forwarded in custody	234
172	Diary of proceedings in investigation	234
173	Report of police officer	236
174	Police to inquire and report on suicide, etc	237
175	Power to summon persons	239
176	Inquiry by Magistrate into cause of death	240
	Power to disinter corpses	240
	PART VI.
	Proceedings In Prosecutions.
	B
	CHAPTER XV
Or the	JURISDICTION OF THE CRIMINAL COURTS IN INQUIRIES AND TR	INTE
٠,, ٠,,,
	A -Place of Inquiry or Trial
177	Ordinary Place of inquiry and trial	242
178	Power to order cases to be tried in different sessions divisions	242
779	Accused triable in district where act is done, or where con sequences ensues	243
180	Place of trial where act is offence by reason of relation to other offence	245
181	Being a thing or belonging to a gang of decoits, escape from custody, etc	246
	Criminal misappropriation and criminal breach of trust	246
	Theft	246
	Kidnapping and abduction	2 46
182	Place of inquiry or trial where scene of offence is uncertain, or not in one district only, or where offence is continu	~ 4~
183	ing or consists of several acis	247 248
183	Offence committed on a journey	240
104	Offence against Railway, Telegraph, Post Office and Arms	249
185	High Court to decide in case of doubt, district where	240
100	inquiry or trial shall take place	249
186	Power to issue summons or warrant for offence committed	210
100	beyond local jurisdiction	250
	Magistrate's procedure on arrest	250
187	Procedure where warrant issued by Subordinate Magistrate	252
189	Liability of British subjects for offences committed out of
	British India	252
	Political Agents to certify fitness of inquiry into charge	252
189	Power to direct copies of depositions and exhibits to be received in evidence

	B -Conditions requisite for initiation of Proceedings
190	Cognizance of offences by Magistrates	256
191	Transfer or commitment on application of accused	256
192	Transfer of cases by Magnetrates	267
193	Cognizance of offences by Courts of Sessions	270
194	Cognizance of offences by High Court	273
	Informations by Advocate General	273
195	Prosecution for contempt of lawful authority of public
	comente	274

	Informations by Advocate General
95	Prosecution for contempt of lawful authority of public servants	i
	Prosecution for certain offences against public justice
	Prosecution for certain offences relating to documents given

	Prosecution for certain offences against public justice	274
	Prosecution for certain offences relating to documents given
	in evidence	274
196	Prosecution for offences against the State	287
196A	Prosecution for certain classes of criminal conspiracy	290
196B	Preliminary inquiry in certain cases	291
197	Prosecution of Judges and Public servants	291
	Power of Government as to prosecutions	292
198	Prosecution for breach of contract defamation and offences
	against marriage	295
199	Prosecution for adultery or enticing a married woman	298

CHAPTER VVI

than person aggreeved

199A

70	COMPI MINTS	700	MACISTRATES

Objection by lawful guardian to complaint by person other

298

299

313

314

200 201	Examination of compluming Procedure 13 Magistrate not competent to take communic	300
	of the case	305
202	Postponement for issue of process	306
203	Dismissal of complaint
203	Distrissal of complaint	310

CHAPTER XVII

Or the Count-cement of Procesoings Before Macistra	Trs
--	-----

			The state of the state of
Issue of Process Magistrate may accused	with	personal	nttendance	0

CHAPTER XVIII

OF INQUIRY INTO CASES TRIABLE BY THE COURT OF SESSIONS OR HIGH COURT

206	Power to commit for trial	31
207	Procedure in inquiries preparatory to commitment
209	Tal in middles preparatory to commitment	318
	Taking of evidence produced	319
	Process for production of final
209	Process for production of further evidence	31
209	When accused person to be discharged	32

CONTENTS	χv
	PAGE
When charge is to be framed	325
Charge to be explained and copy furnished, to accused	325
List of witnesses for defence on trial	328
Further list	328
Power of Magistrate to examine such witnesses	329
Order of commitment	329
[Repealed]	333
Quashing commitments under section 213	333
Summons to witnesses for defence when accused is committed	335
Refusal to summo i immecessary witness unless deposit made	335
Bond of compluments and witnesses	336
Detention in custody in case of refusal to attend or to execute bond	336
Commitment when to be notified	336
Charge, etc., to be forwarded to High Court or Court of Session	336
English translation to be forwarded to High Court	337
Power to summon supplementary witnesses	337
Custody of accused pending trial	338
CHAPTER XIX Or the Chargi or an entro
Form of Charges
Charge to state offence	339
Specific name of offence sufficient description	339
How stated where offence has no specific name	339
What implied in charge	339
Language of charge	340
Previous conviction when to be set out	340
Particulars as to time, place and person	341
When manner of committing offence must be stated	342
Words in charge taken in sense of law under which offence is punishable	343
Effect of errors	344
Procedure on commitment without charge or with imperfect
charge	345
Court may alter charge	347
When trial may proceed immediately after alteration	348
When new trial may be directed or trial suspended	349
Stay of proceedings if prosecution of offence in altered charge requires previous sanction	350
charge requires previous sanction Recall of witnesses when charge altered Fffect of material error	350 351 351

Joindor of Charges

Three offences of same kind within year may be charged

353

355

Separate charges for distinct offences

together

SECTION. 210 W hen

211

212 Power 213 Order 214

215

216 Summ

217

218 Comm

221 Charg Specif How What Lancu

222 223

224 Word

225

226 Proce

227

228 When 229 When 230 Stav 231

232

233 234

Englis 210 Power 220

11.514	Ai

Erction		Per
210	When charge is to be frat c1	325
	Charge to be explanted and evan firmed of, to a reped	325
211	List of urineses for deferee on trial	177
	Lumber list	124
212	Power of Magistrate to examine a first co	121
213	Order of over trait	1.01
214 215	[hepcaled]	***
216	Quashing or ritterity to text 211 Suring the Continuous In defend a formal to	111
210	Smiritis t vitteses In defend a file and file
	Refusal to s fun a interces ary note so to fort and that	11.
217	B n1 of complaments and with sec.	111
	Detention in custody in case of refinal to act to be t	14 execute lend
215	Commitment when to be n tifed	10
	Charge etc to be fermiled to High Court of Cont of	10
		10
	Lightly translate it to be I awarded to High Court	111
210	l'ower to similion sufplementate nature	117
220	Cust xly of accused pending mind	111
	CHAPTI R XIX
	Ot THE CHARCE
	I orm of Charges
221
	Specific name of offence sufficient description	137
	How stated where offence has no specific many	$17
	What implied in charge	117
	Language of charge	351
	Previous conviction when to be set out	3 54)
222		340
223	When manner of committing officies unity be Mate	341
22	When manner of committing offence must be state! Words in charge taken in sense of law under which effect is punishable	$x_{i}$
22	5 Effect of errors
22	6 Procedure on commitment without charge	3(1
	charge ville limited	314
22	7 Court may alter charge	315
22		317
22	When trial may proceed immediately after altitude 199 When new trial may be directed or trial suspensely if proceedings if proceedings of pro	318
23	When new trial may be directed or trial surjected in alternation of of trial surjected in alternation of tri	349
	Recall of witnesses when charge altered
2.	of Recall of Witheases when energy antifed	350
2.		35
	Joinder of Charges	•
2	33 Separate charges for distinct offences
	33 Separate charges for distinct offences 34 Three offences of same kind within year hay he cl is together and have the class

. HI TO THE TANK THE TA

COTILITIE
	Pve
mone and manual areas and total	- 1

Section		Pıg
262	Procedure for summons and warrant cases applicable Limit of my resonant	41
263	Record in cases where there is no appeal	41
264	Record in appealable cases	41
265	Language of record and judgment	41
	Bench may be authorised to employ clerk	413
	CHAPTER XXIII
(	Or Thinks before High Courts and Courts of Session
	A —Preliminary
266	"High Count" defined	414
267
263	Trials before Court of Session to be by jury or with assessors	415
269	Local Government may order trials before Court of Session
	to be by jury	415
270	Trial before Court of Session to be conducted by Public Prosecutor	416
	B -Commencement of Proceedings.
271	Commencement of trial	417
	Plea of guilty	417
272	Refusal to plead or claim to be tried	420
	Trial by same jury or assessors of several offenders in	420
277	succession Entry on unsustainable charges	421
273	Effect of entry	421
	C -Choosing a lury
274	Number of jury	421
275	Jury for trial of Furopean and Indian British subjects and
	others	422
276	Jurors to be chosen by lot	422
	Existing practice maintained	422

Persons not summoned when eligible

Procedure when juror ceases to attend, etc.

Discharge of jury in case of siekness of prisoner

Supply of place of juror against whom objection allowed

Trials before special jurors Names of mrors to be called Objection to jurors Objection without grounds stated

Grounds of objection

Decision of objection

Foreman of jury

Swearing of jurors

١,

crios		PAGE
235	I real for more than one offence	357
LUU	Offence falling within two definitions	357
	Acts constituting one offence but constituting when com bined a different offence	357
236	Where it is doubtful what offence has been committed	362
237	When a person is charged with one offence he can be con
231	victed of another	364
220	When offence proved included in offence charged	365
238	When outlier proved included in onence charges	368
239	What person may be charged jointly
240	Withdrawal of remaining charges on conviction on one of	371
	several charges	3/1
	CHAPTER XX  OF THE TRIM OF SUMMING CASES IN MIGISTRATES
241	Procedure in Summons Cases	372
242	Substance of accusation to be stated	373
213	Conviction on admission of truth of accusation	374
244	Procedure when no such admission is made	374
245	le juittal	376
	Scritchice	376
246	I inding not limited by complaint or summons	377
217	Son at hereards of combine and	377
248	Withdrawal of complaint	379
219	Power to stop proceedings when no complainant	380 functions Iccusations in Summons and Warrant Cases 250	I also frivolous or vexations accusations	380
	CATAL TORONTO.
	CHAPTER XXI
_	Of THE TRIAL OF WARRANT CASES BY MAGISTRATES
251		389
252		389
253		391
251		393
255		391
25	Procedure in ci c of previous convictions	395
256		395
257		ı
25	accused	398
		400
25	Convicti n	400
•	O Abecies of comfluint	401
	CHAPTI R AXH
	Or SUMMER TRIALS
26	O Poser to tra summards	45.4
21	I lo or to meest Bonch of Magistrates invested with les	403
	power total of dagistrites invested with les	400

ENT

X3 II

SECTION.		PIGE
262	Procedure for summons and warrant cases applicable	410
	Limit of imprisonment	410
263	Record in cases where there is no appeal	410
264	Record in appealable cases	412
265	Language of record and judgment	413
	Bench may be authorised to employ clerk	413
	beach may be authorised to employ elerk	410
	CHAPTER AXIII
c	TRIALS DEFORE HIGH COURTS AND COURTS OF SESSION
	A -Preliminary
266	"High Count" defined	414
267	Trials before High Court to be by Jury	414
269	Trials before Court of Session to be by jury or with assessors	415
269	Local Government may order trials before Court of Session
	to be by jury	415
270	Trial before Court of Session to be conducted by Public
	Prosecutor	416
	B -Commencement of Proceedings
271	Commencement of trial	417
4/1	Plea of guilts	417
272	Refusal to plead or claim to be tried	420
212	Trial by same jury or assessors of several offenuers in	740
	succession	420
273	Entry on unsustamable charges	421
213	Effect of entry	421
	Lifect of entry	741
	C -Choosing a Jury
274	Number of jury	421
275	Jury for trial of I uropean and Indian British subjects and
	others	422
276	Jurors to be chosen by lot	422
	Existing practice maintained	422
	Persons not summoned when eligible	422
	Trials before special jurors	422
277	Names of inrors to be called	423
	Objection to jurors	423
	Objection without grounds stated	423
278	Grounds of objection	423
279	Decision of objection	424
	Supply of place of juror against whom objection allowed	424
280	Foreman of jury	424
281	Sucoring of jurors	424
282	Procedure when juror ceases to attend etc	424
283	Discharge of jury in case of siekness of prisoner	425

CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE

Section		PAGE
235	I ri il for more than one offence	357
2.00	Offiner follow within two definitions	357
	Acts constituting one offence but constituting when com-
	buned i different offence	357
236	Where it is doubtful what offence has been committed	362
237	When a person is charged with one offence he can be con
201	victed of another	364
238	When officies proved included in offence charged	365
239	What person may 14 charged jointly	368
240	Withdraw d of remaining charges on conviction on one of
240	several charges	371
	severar en ages
	CHAPTER AX
	OF THE TRIM OF SUMMAS CASES IN MICHIGANIES
211	Procedure in Summons Cases	372
242	Substance of accusation to be stated	373
213	Conviction on admission of truth of accusation	374
214	I rocedure when no such admission is made	374
245	le puttal	376
	Scritchice	376
246	I inding not limited by complaint or summons	377
217	Non appearance of complaniant	377
219	Withdrawal of complaint	379
219	Power to stop proceedings when no complanant	380
	In clous Accusations in Summons and Harrant Cases
250		380
	CHAPTER XXI
	Of the Party of Warrist Cases by Migistrates
251		389
252		389
253		391
254		393
253	) lea	391
25	A Troce lure in case of previous convictions	395
250	D Petence	205
25	Transfer of Charles and Charles of Charles de la lastance de	of decired)	398
25		400
25	Conviction	400
చు	9 Meence of complainant	401
	CII APTI R XXII Of SUMERY TRIALS
•
		403
•	I forer to meet Bench of Magistrates invested with le	400

CONTENTS

xvn

262 263 264 265	Procedure for summons and warrant cases applicable Limit of impresented Record in cases where there is no appeal Record in appealable cases Language of record and judgment Bench may be authorised to employ clerk	PAGE 410 410 410 412 413 413
	CHAPTER XXIII
C	I Thin's neport High Courts and Courts of Session
	A -Preliminary
266	"High Count" defined	414
267 2 63	Trials before High Court to be by jury Trials before Court of Session to be by jury or with assessors	414 415
269	Local Government may order trials before Court of Session	415
	to be by jury	415
270	Trial before Court of Session to be conducted by Public Prosecutor	416
	B -Commencement of Proceedings.
271	Commencement of trial	417
222	Plea of guilty	417 420
272	Refusal to plead or claim to be tried Trial by same jury or assessors of several offenders in
273	Succession Entry on unsustainable charges	420 421
213	Effect of entry	421
	C -Choosing a Jury
274 275	Number of jury  Jury for trial of Luropean and Indian British subjects and	421
	others	422
276	Infors to be chosen by lot I xisting practice maintained	422 422
	Persons not summoned when eligible	422
	Trials before special infors	422 423
277	Names of jurors to be called Objection to jurors	423
	Objection without grounds stated	423
278 279	Grounds of objection Decision of objection	423 424
	Supply of place of juror against whom objection allowed	424
280	Foreman of jury Swearing of jurors	424 424
281 282	Procedure when juror ccases to attend, etc	421
283	Discharge of jury in case of sickness of prisoner	425

		PAGE
SECTION		1 AGE
	D -Choosing Assessors
284	Assessors how chosen	425
284A	Assessors for trial of European and Indian British subjects	400
	and others	426
285	Procedure when assessor is unable to attend	426 man I a I T alla
	DD -Joint Trials
285A	Trial of European or Indian British subject or Luropean or American jointly accused with others	427
	E-Trial to Close of Cases for Prosecution and Defence
286	Opening case for prosecution	428
	Examination of witnesses	428
287	Examination of accused before Magistrate to be evidence	430
288	Ludence given at preliminary inquiry admissible	435
289	Procedure after examination of witnesses for prosecution	439
290	Defence	442
291	Right of accused as to examination and summoning of witnesses	442
292	Prosecutor's right of reply	442
292	View by jury or assessors	444
294	When jury or assessor may be examined	445
295	Tury or assessors to attend at adjourned sitting	445
296	Locking up jury	446
	r -Conclusion of Trial in Cases tried by Jury
297 298		446
299		455
300		456
301		457 457
302		457
303		458
	Questions and answers to be recorded	458
304		463
305		463
	Discharge of jury in other cases	463
306 307		463
307	Procedure where Sessions Judge disagrees with verdict	464
	G -Retrial of Accused after Discharge of Jury
309	Retrial of accused after discharge of jury	469
		103
	II -Conclusion of Trial in Cases tried with Assessors
300		469
	Judgment	469
	1 9
310	1-Procedure in Case of Previous Conscion
31		472
-51	When evidence of previous conviction may be given	474

	$\mathbf{r}$	T

ΧIÝ

or CTION		PAGE
I ist	of Jurers for High Court and Summoning Jurers for that C	Court
312	Number of special jurors	474
313	List of common and special jurors	475
	Discretion of officer preparing lists	475
314	Publication of lists preliminary and revised	475
315	Sumber of purors to be summoned in presidency towns	476
21.0	Surplementary summons	476
316	Summoning jurors outside the place of sitting of High	476
317	Courts Vilitary pirors	476
318	Failure of incors to attend	477
~ −I 11	t of Jurors and Assessors for Court of Session and Summ Jurors and Assessors for that Court
319	I tability to serve as jurors or assessors	477
320	Exemptions	477
321	List of jurors and assessors	479 479
322 323	Publication of list	479
324	Objection to list Revision of list	479
324	Annual revision of list	480
325	Preparation of list of special infors	480
326	District Magistrate to summou jurors and assessors	480
327	Power to summon another set of jurors or assessors	482
328	Form and contents of summons	482
329	When Government or Railway servant may be excused	482
330	Court may excuse attendance of jurors or assessors	482
	Court may relieve special jurors from liability to serve again	482
331	as jurors for twelve months List of jurors and assessors attending	483
332	Penalty for non attendance of juror or assessor	483
332		100
	L -Special Proxisions for High Courts
333	Power of Advocate General to stay prosecution	483
334	Time of holding sittings	484 484
335	Place of holding sittings	484
336	Notice of sittings [Repcaled]	484
500	[zerelemen]
	OVER DATE STATE
	CHAPTER XXIV
	General Provisions as to Inquiries and Trials	405
337	Tender of pardon to accomplice	485 490
338 339	Power to direct tender of pardon Commitment of person to whom pardon has been tendered	490
339A		492
340	Right of persons against whom proceedings are instituted
0.0	to be defended and his competency to be a witness	495
341	Procedure when accused does not understand proceedings	496

SECTION		Page
342	Power to examine the accused	498
343	No influence to be used to induce disclosures	504
344	Power to rostpone or adjourn proceedings	505
344	Remand	505
	Reasonable cause for remand	505
345	Compounding offences	510
	Procedure of Provincial Magistrate in cases which he cannot 346	dispose of	515
0.47	Procedure when after commencement of manny or trial,
347	Magistrate finds case should be committed	516
	Trial of persons previously convicted of offences against 348	comage stamp law or property	518
	Procedure when Magistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently 349		520 severe
3ა0	Conviction or commitment on evidence partly recorded by	523
	one Magistrate and rartly by another
	Changes in constitution of Benches	525
351	Detention of offenders attending Court	525
352	Courts to be open	525
	•
	The same and the s
	CHAPTER XXV
O	F THE MODE OF TAKING AND RECORDING EVIDENCE IN INQUIRH AND TRIMS	ES
353	Evidence to be taken in presence of accused	526
354		527
355		. 527
,,,,,	first and second class Magistrates	527
356		529
	Pythonce given in English	529
	Memorandum when evidence not taken down by the Magistrate or Judge himself	529
357		532
359		533
359		7 533
360	Procedure in regard to such evidence when completed	534
361	Interpretation of cyclenee to accused or his pleader	535
363	Record of evidence in Presidency Magistrate's Courts	536
363	Return's respecting demeanour of witnesses	537
36-	Examination of accused how recorded	537
36	Record of evidence in High Court	541
	CHAPTER XXVI
	Or THE TOPCHASE

366 Mode of delivering judgment
367 Language of judgment contents of judgment Judgment in alternative

ĈΟ

XXI

SECTION		Pige
368	Sentence of death	550
	Sentence of transportation	550
369	Court not to after judgment	551
370	Presidency Magistrate's judgment	551
371	Copy of judgment, etc. to be given to accused on apr lication	555
	Case of person sentenced to death	555
372	Judgment when to be translated	556
373	Court of Session to send copy of finding and sentence to
	District Magistrate	556
	District (Inglistrate	000

	CHAPTER XXVII
	OF THE SUBMISSION OF SENTENCES FOR CONFIRMATION
374	Sentence of death to be submitted by Court of Session	557
375	Power to direct further inquiry to be made or additional evidence to be taken	557
376	Power of High Court to confirm sentence or annul conviction
377	Confirmation or new sentence to be signed by two judges	558
378	Procedure in case of difference of opinion	558
379	Procedure in cases submitted to High Court for confirmation	559
390	Procedure in cases submitted by Magistrate not empowered to act under Section 562	559
	CHAPTER XXVIII OF EXECUTION.
		***
381	Execution of order passed under Section 376	559
382	Postponement of capital sentence on pregnant woman	561
383	Execution of sentences of transportation or imprisonment in	561
204	other cases	563
384 385	Direction of warrant for execution	563
386	Warrant with whom to be lodged	563
387	Warrant for levs of fine Iffect of such warrant	565
388	Suspension of execution of sentence of imprisonment	565
389	Who may issue warrant	567
390	Execution of sentence of winpping only	567
391	Execution of sentence of whipping in addition to imprison ment	568
392	Mode of inflicting punishment	569
	Limit of number of strikes	570
393	Not to be executed by instalments	570
	l'xemptions	570
394	Whipping not to be inflicted if offender not in fit state of health	571
	Stay of execution	571
395	Procedure if punishment cannot be inflicted under Section 394	571

CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE

XXII

Section 396 Lectution of sentences on escaped convicts 397 Sentence on offender already sentenced for another offence 398 Saving as to Section 396 and Section 397 399 Confinement of youthful offenders in reformatories 400 Return of warrant on execution of sentence	PAGE 572 574 575 575 580
CHAPTER XXIX
Of Previous Acquittals or Convictions
401 Power to suspend or remit sentences 402 Power to commute punishment	580 582
CHAPTER XXX
OF PREVIOUS ACQUITTALS OF CONVICTIONS
403 Persons once convicted or acquitted not to be tried for sam offence	ie 583

PART VII
Of Appeal, Reference and Revision.
CHAPTER XXXI
Of Appeals
404 Unless otherwise provided no appeal to lie	592
405 Appeal from order rejecting application for restoration attached property	of 592
406 Appeal from order requiring security for keeping the pea	ce
or for good behaviour  4064 Appeal from order refusing to accept or rejecting a sure	593 tv 591
407 Appeal from sentence of Magistrate of the second or thi	rd
Transfer of appeals to first class Magistrate	594 594
408 Appeal from sentence of Assistant Sessions Judge	or
Magistrate of the first class  409 Appeals to Court of Session how heard	596 597
410 Appeal from sentence of Court of Session	598
411 Appeal from sentence of Presidency Magistrate	598
412 \ \text{o appeal in certain cases when accused pleads guilty} \ 413 \ \text{o appeal in petty cases}	598
414 No appeal from certain summary convictions	599 600
415 Proviso to Sections 413 and 414	600
415A Special right of appeal in certain cases	109
416 [Repealed]	601

	CONTENTS	XXIII
io.	Annual on helialf of Consument or any of the first	PAGE

	PAGE
Appeal on behalf of Government in case of acquittal	601
Appeal on what matters admissible	604
Petition of appeal	606
Procedure when appellant in jail	607
Summary dismissal of appeal	608
Notice of appeal	610
Powers of Appellate Court in disposing of appeal	612
Indement of subordinate Appellate Courts	633
Order by High Court on appeal to be certified to lower court	634
Suspension of sentence pending appeal
Release of appellant on bail	635
Arrest of accused in appeal from acquittal	636
Appellate Court may take further evidence or direct it to be taken	636
Procedure where indges of court are equally divided	639
I mality of orders on appeal	639
	Appeal on behalf of Government in case of acquittal Appeal on what matters admissible Petition of appeal Procedure when appellant in just Summary dismissed of appeal Notice of appeal Powers of Appellate Court in disposing of appeal Judgment of subordinate Appellate Courts Order by High Court on appeal to be certified to lower court Suspension of sentence pending appeal Release of appellant on bail Arrest of accused in appeal from acquittal Appellate Court may take further evidence or direct it to be taken

CHAPTER XXXII

642

(	ĵ0	Referi sci	۸ND	RIVISION

Matement of appeals

431

432	Reference by Presidency Magistrate to High Court	643
433	Disposal of case according to decision of High Court	643
-	Direction as to costs	643
431	Power to reserve questions arising in original jurisdiction of
	Iligh Court	643
	Procedure when question reserved	643
435	Power to call for records of inferior Courts	646
436	Power to order inquiry	650
437	Power to order commitment	655
439	Report to High Court	661
439	High Court's power of revision	666
440	Ontional with Court to licar parties	676
441	Statement by Presidency Magistrate of grounds of his decision to be considered by High Court 677 High Court's order to be certified to lower court or Magistrate 678 442

PART VIII.

Special Proceedings.

SUFCIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO CASES IN WHICH EUROPEAN OR INDIAN BRITISH SUBJECTS ARE CONCERNED 685

Determination regarding applicability of this Chapter 443 Definition of "complainant" 444 685

479

480

481

482

Record in such cases

		PAGE
SECTION		687
445	Procedure in summons cases
446	Procedure in warrant cases	689
447	Courts to inform accused persons of their rights in certain
	cases	690
448	References to Sessions Judge to be construed as references to
	High Court in Rangoon	691
449	Special provisions relating to appeal	691
	63 [Repealed]
430 4	00 [Kepearea]
	CHAPTER XXXIV
	LUNITICS
464	Procedure in case of accused being lunatics	692
465	Procedure in case of person committed before Court of
400	Session or High Court being lunate	695
466	Release of lunatic pending investigation or trial	695
400	Custody of lunatic
		695
467	Resumption of inquiry or trial	697
468	Procedure on accused appearing before Magistrate or Court
469	When accused appears to have Leen in ane	698
470	Judgment of acquittal on ground of Innacy	698
471	Person acquitted on such ground to be detained in safe	:
	custody	701
	Power of Local Government to relieve Inspector General of certain functions	701
472		701
473	Procedure where lunatic prisoner is reported capable of making his defence	701
474	Procedure where lunatic detained under Sections 466 or 47	1
	is declared fit to be released	702
475	Delivery of lunatic to care of relative or friend	702
	,	700
	CHAPTER XXXV
	PROCEEDINGS IN CASES OF CERTAIN OFFENCES AFFECTING THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE
476		703
470	5 \ Superior Court may complain where subordinate court ha	100
	omitted to do so	704
47		704
47		716
47		d /10
•••	Commit to High Court or Court of S	α

commit to High Court or Court of Session

Procedure where Court considers that case should not be

Procedure of Civil or Revenue Court in such case Procedure in certain cases of contempt dealt with under Section 480

717

718

718

721

	CONTENTS	xxv
444 45 46 45 46 457	When Registrar or Sub Registrar to be deemed a Civil Court within Sections 480 and 482.  I charge to offender on submission or apology Impressionant or committal of person refusing to answer or produce document Appeals from convections in contempt cases.  Certain Judges and Vagistrates not to try offences referred to in Section 195 when committed Lefore themselves.	P (Gr 722 722 722 723 724
	CHAPTER XXXVI
	OF THE MUNTENING OF WINES AND CHILDREN
469 469 469	Order for maintenance of wives and children Enforcement of order Micration in allowance Inforcement of order of maintenance	726 727 735 736
	CHAPTER XXXVII
	DIRECTIONS OF THE NATURE OF A HALLAS CORUS
491 491 \	Power to issue directions of the nature of a habers corpus Power of High Court outside the limits of appellate jurisdiction	738 739
	PART IX.
	Supplementary Provisions.
	CHAPITR XXXVIII
	OF THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR
492 493	Power to appoint Public Prosecutors Public Prosecutor may plead in all courts in cases under	740
494 495	his charge Fflect of withdrawal from prosecution Permission to conduct prosecution	741 743 745

CHAPTER XXXIX Or BAIL In what cases bail to be taken
When bail may be taken in case of non bailable offence
Power to direct admission to bail or reduction of bail

11/4

5	499 Bond of accused and strettes 500 Discharge from custody 501 Power to order sufficient bail when that first taken is insufficient	755 755 755 756
	502 Discharge of sureties	,,,,
	OF COMMISSIONS FOR THE EXMINITION OF WITH SSES
	503 When attendance of witness may 1c dispensed with Issue of commission and procedure thereunder 504 Commission in case of witness temp within presidency town 505 Parties may examine witnesses	756 756 760 760
	506 Power of Provincial Subordinate Magistrate to apply for issue of commission  The Return of commission  Adjournment of inquiny or Irial	761 761 762
	CHAPTER \LI
	SPECIAL RULES OF EVIDENCE
	500 Deposition of medical witness Power to summon medical witness 510 Report of Chemical Examiner 511 Previous conviction or acquittal how proved 512 Record of evidence in absence of accused Record of evidence when offender unknown	763 763 765 765 766 766
	CHAPTER \LII
	PROVISIONS AS TO BONDS
	513 Dejosit instead of recognizance 514 Procedure on forfeither of bond 5144 Procedure in case of insolvency or death of surety or when 5140 Bond required from a minor 515 Api cal from and revisions of orders under Section 514 516 Power to direct levy of amount due on certain recognizances	772 772 773
	CHAPTER \LIII
	OI THE DISPOSAL OF PROPERTY
	516% Order for custody and disposal of property pending trial in	ı

517 Order for disposal of property regarding which offence com

773

773 certam cases

mitled

XXVII

PACE

779

779

780

820

822

521 .522	Destruction of hladlous and other matter Power to restore possession of mimovable property	782 782
523	Procedure by Police 111 on service of property taken under Section 51 or stolen	785
	Precedure where owner of property seized inknown	786
524	Procedure where no clamant ap ears within six months	783
525	Power to sell perishable property	788
	CHAPTER YIIV
	Or the Trinsfer of Criminal Cases
526	High Court may transfer case or itself try it	789
	Notice to Public Presenter of application under this Section Adjoi runnent on a pheation under this Section	790 790
5_61	High Court to transfer for trial to itself in certain cases	804
527	Power of Governor General in Conneil to transfer cases and appeals	805
528	Sessions Judge may withdraw cases from Assistant Sessions Judge	806
	District or Sil-divisional Magistrate may withdraw or refer
	Pure to outlook Dutant Manufact to mathematical elegation	806
	Power to authorise District Magistrate to withdraw classes of cases	806
	CHAPTER XLIV A
Sti	HIPWENTARY PROMISIONS RELATING TO PURGUEN AND INDIAN BRITISH SUBJECTS AND OTHERS
528 1	Procedure of claim of a person to be dealt with as Furopean or Indian British subject or as European or American	815
528B		816
528C	Trial of person as belonging to class to which he does not telong	816
528D	Application of Acts conferring jurisdiction on Magistrates or Courts of Session	816
	CHAPTUR YLV OF IRRECULAR PROCECULACS
529	Irregularities which do not vitate proceedings	817 817

Order may take form of reference to District or Sub divisional

Payment to innocent jurchaser of money found on necused

Stre of order under Sections 517, 518 or 519

SECTION

518

519

520

531

532

Proceedings in wrong place

When irregular commitments may be validated

Magistrate

PAGE

FUTION 164 or 364	823
	826
534 Omission to pives information under Section 447	876
535 Pffect of omission to prepare charge
536 Trial by jury of offence triable with assessors	837
Trial with assessors of offence triable by jury	827
5 to D trace not illegal nor distrainer 2 trespasser for defect or omission in charge or other proceedings	823
538 Distress not illegal nor distrainer a tresspassor for negect or want of form in proceedings	843 want or join in proceedings	• • •
CHAPTER \LVI
Miscell'ineous
539 Courts and rersons before whom affidavit may be sworn	844
539A Affidavit in 1 roof of conduct of public servant	845
530B Local inspection	845
540 Power to summon material witness or examine person present	847
540 1 Provisions for inquiries and trial being held in the absence	011
of accused in certain cases	849
	850
541 Power to appoint place of imprisonment  Removal to criminal fail of accessed or convicted persons who	000 are in confinement in civil pul and their return to the civil jail	850
542 Power of Presidency Magistrate to order prisoner in juil to be brought up for examination	8 D
543 Interpreter to be bound to interpret truthfully	851
544 Expenses of complainants and witnesses	853
545 Power of Court to pay exceuses or compensation out of fine	853
546 Payments to be taken into account in subsequent suits	856
546A Order of payment of certain fees paid by complainant in non cognicable cases	857
547 Moneys ordered to be paid recoverable as fines	858
548 Comes of proceedings	858
549 Delivery to Military Authorities of persons liable to be tried	000
by Court Martial	860
Apprehension of such persons	860
550 Powers to Police to seize property suspected to be stolen
551 Power of Superior Officer of Police	862
552 Power to compel restoration of abducted females	862
553 Combensation to persons proundlessly many in chapment	863
553 Compensation to persons groundlessly given in charge in Presidency town
554 Power of Chartered High Courts to make sules for angreeties	863
	1 .
of records of subordinate courts	864
Power of other High Courts to make rules for other purposes	s 8 64
555 Forms	864
556 Case in which Judge or Wagistrate is personally interested	865
537 Practising Pleader not to sit as Magistrate in certain court	s 873
558 Power to decide language of courts	874
559 Provision for powers of Judges and Magistrates being	2
exercised by their successors in office	874

560	Officers concerned in sales not to purchase or bid for property	876
561	Special provisions with respect to offence of rape by a lınsband	876
561 \	Saving of inherent rower of High Court	876
562	Power of Court to release certain consicted offenders on probation of good conduct instead of sentencing to 1 unishment	877
	Conviction and release with admonition	877
563	Provision in case of offender fuling to of serve conditions of his recognizances	890
564	Conditions as to alode of offenders	880
565	Order for notifying address of previously convicted offenders	881
SCHEE	OULF I[Repealed]

SCHIDLIT II -Tal ular statement of offences

SCHEDULI III -Ordinary Fowers of Proximeral Magistrates SCHLDUI F IV — Additional powers with which Provincial Magistrates may be invested

SCHI'DLII' V -I orms

ADDENDA OF CASES

INDEN

SECTION

TABLE OF CASES

Mhas Inada is Queen Propress, 446

Melal Mr Chowdhury, 99 Melal Mr Ismailp, In re, 733, 735

Allas Fegum , s Inda, 834

Abdul Ahm Khan, 403

Malul Mb, 248

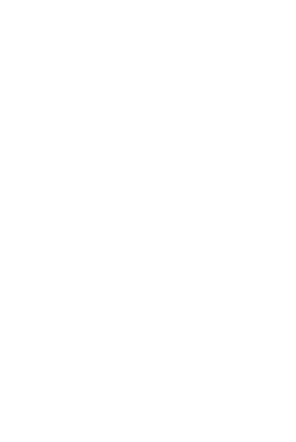

Afalul Aziz, In re., 102. Afalul Goffer vs. Mahamu nd. Mirza, 1008. Melul Chini is Pmp, 623, 621 Menn Coron Is Prop. 825, 621 Melal is Cholam Mahamma i, 775, Melal is Guffin, 725 Melal Hamid is K. Prop. 315 Melal Khafek is Prop. 897, 899, 601 Malul Khan, 127 Midul Khadas Salub is Nerval Salub, 1012 Malul Kader to Mira Salish 209 Malul to Lucks Norma, 157 Abdul Majid Khan 15 1 mp, 369, 541 Abdul Matlab, 649 Alsiuliali 15 Crown, 99 Alsiuliali 15 Jitu, 79, 80, 836 Abdullah Khan, 711
Abdullah Mondol, 237, 284
Abdur Rahnan, In te, 371, 509
Abdur Rahman, 709, 710
Aldur Rahman te Shakina, 733, 735 Aldur Razzak, 776 Alxlus Samad vs Yusuf, 404 Aldias Charan Das, 669 Al hay Chowdhury vs Brar, 107 Abhaveshari Debi vs Sulheshari, 158, 176, 305, 647, 759 Alunas Chandra Bhattacharsa, 778 Alunas Malakar vs Finperor, 127 Abraham vs Mahatabo, 863 Abrul Miah vs Nasir Maharmad, 153 Achambit Mondol, 378 Acharjeelal, In re , 373 Achru vs Prip , 1010 Adams vs I'mperor, 11 Adams Sheikh, 127 Adamson vs Arumugaon, 153 Adikhan vs Alaghan, 382, 384, 385

Adıtram Mirstrani, 714 Affiludds, 743 Almed Ab Sardar as Emp. 130, 754 1hmed Chowdhury, 171 Ahmed Lasim Mollah as Khatun Bibi, 1631 Ah Loong ts Funeror, 502, 537 Aillutealu, \muddin 5hekh, 629 Ana Kannu Pillai, 707 Apalial as Pimperor, 269, 659 Apolinalal as Pravag Naram, 809 Akaloo Ch Das, 168 Akiar Ah Khan vs Domrilal, 17, 270,

Milat Kumar Chatterjee ts Queen I mpress, 113, 120, 124 Allm Kumar Mukerjee vs Pmperor, 504 Aklin Singli, 514, 650 Aklinanandamal vs Periasami, 185 Aklin Chandra De, 709 Alagarisami 15 Noiken, 493 Alagarisami Pathan, 837 Aldul Walth, 549
Aldul Rahma 13 Pmp, 1025
Aldul Rahma 13 Vest Annr Begun, Alague Amlalan 13 Imperor, 595, 838 1032.
Aldul Rahma 14 Idu Pin, 855
Alfred Landow, In re, 159
Ala Ahmed 13 Pmp, 355 Malul Rahimanalai, Jolu I'nn, 855
Alahind Radi, Mina ta Rahimanddan
Bhuta, 172
Aldali Salem ta Pmp, 291, 355, 70, 449, Mi Jahrus 1, 2 Pmpress, 646, 842
Aldali Salem ta Pmp, 291, 355, 70, 449, Mi Jahrumand ta I'mperor, 771
Aldali Sikdar ta Matin Sungh, 72
Aldali Waheb ta Chandin, 521, 522
Aldali Waheb ta Chandin, 521, 522
Aldali Waheddar ta Murran Bida, 631
Aldali Das va Crown, 99
Alimin Sich ta Shahinda, 141
Aldali Das va Crown, 1021
Alimin va Ceneral Council of Pducalion, 799
Allu vs Crown, 527, 829, 833
Aluvala Gurnin vs Emp, 138, 153
Amanat Khan vs Paperor, 384 Amanat Sarılar vs Nagendra Biswas, 610,

> Amar Singli, In re., 795 Amar Singli vs Sadhu Singli, 795 Amar Nath, 712 Ambica Prosad, 112 Ambica Singh vs Pinperor, 1015 Ambier, 185 Ammullah Serang, 248 Amur Ch Maliato In 70, 375

Amir Khan vs K Fmp , 26, 30, 228, 230, An ir Khan 15 Mahalingam Pillai, 1013 Amiraddin, 145, 159 Amiradd n Ahmed vs. Emp., 215, 456 Amir Zaman 15 Crown, 1021 Ammanamal 15 Sellary, 185 Amnat Ali vs Fmp, Amjad Alı, 386

TABLE OF CASES

Albas Icgum .s Inda 834 Attas Iwada is Queen Impress, 446 Malel Mr 248 Alajal Ali Chowdhury, 69 Alajul Ali Ismailji, In re 733, 735 Alajul Alim Khan 403 Abdul Ariz, In re., 102 Abdul Coffur a Mahammad Mirza, 1008 stead cother a Maltum ad Mirra, 1998 Melai Glam at Ping, 523, 624 Melai La Glodam Maltummal, 775 Melai La Gulin 725 Melai Hamid at K. Ping, 405 Melai Khaida Kaladi K. Ping, 537, 899, 691 Melai Khaida Salada at Asroof Salada, Melai Khaida Salada at Asroof Salada, Melai Khaida Salada at Asroof Salada, 1012 Aldul Kader is Mira Salub, 709 Aldul 13 Lucky Narain, 157 Aldul Majid Khan 13 Luip, 309, 541 Alelul Matiali, 649 Alelul Rahman vs. Prop., 1025 Alelul Rahm vs. Mest. Amir. I chum, Ablul Rahin avalad, Idu Paji, 855 Ablul Rauf Miva 15 Rahimmud lin Blinisa, 172. Alalul Salem ts Peno , 291, 355, 170, 448, Atdul Sakdar 13 Mathu Singu, 72 Aldul Waheb 13 Chandra, 521, 522 Aldul Wahed 13 Amiran, 100 Abdul Waheuddin 13 Amiran, 100 Mdull Waiteuddin 15 Amirin, 100 Alelullah 15 Crown, 99 Melullah 15 Jita, 79, 80, 89 Alelullah Khin, 711 Abdullah Mondol, 237, 267 Alelur Rahman, 79, 710 Alelur Rahman, 79, 710 Alelur Rahman 15 Shakina, 733, 735 Abdur Razzak, 776 Abdus Samad vs Yusuf, 404 Al hay Charan Das, 666 Abhay Chowdhury vs Brar, 107 Abhayeshari Debi vs Sidhe-hari, 158, 170, 305, 647, 759 Almas Chandra Bhattacharva, 778 Alimas Malakar vs 1 Imperor, 127 Abraham vs Mahatabo, 863 Abrul Miah vs Nasir Maharmad, 153 Achambit Mondol, 378
Acharjeelal, In re. 373
Achru vs Pinp, 1010
Adams vs Pinperor, 11

Adams Sheikh, 127

Adamson vs Arumugaon, 153 Adıkhan vs Alaghan, 382, 384, 385

Aditram Mirstrani, 714 Affiliadds, 747 Abmed Ah Sardar ts Puip, 130, 754 Unned Chowdhury, 171 Ahmed Kasım Mollalı 18 Khatun Bibi. 1031 Vh Loong is Imperor, 502, 537 Aillutiala, Amudden Shekh, 629 Ana u 15 Q 1 mp , 418 Ana Kannu Pillai, 707 Allar Lis Pingeror, 269, 659
Apolliyalal ts Prayag Naram, 898
Aklar Ah Khun ts Dominial, 17, 270,
Aklar Akumar Chatlerjee ts Queen Akiar VII. Akim 1 John Hall, Jr. 270, Akiar Kung 1 John Hall, Jr. 270,
Akiar Kung 1 Januar Ja Amanat Sardar ts Nagendra Biswas, 610, Amar Singh, In re., 795 Amar Singh vs Sadhu Singh, 795 Amar Nath, 712 Ambica Procad, 112 Ambica Singh vs Finperor, 1015 Ambler, 185 Aminullah Serang, 248 Annr Ch Mahato In re, 375 Amir Khan vs k. Pmp, 26, 30, 228, 230, 615, 519 Amer Khan is Mahalengin Pellas, 1011 Amruddin, 145, 159
Amruddin Ahmed is Emp. 215, 456,
Amr Zaman is Crown, 1021
Ammamamal vs Sellarji, 185 Amnat Ali ts Emp. Amjad Alı, 386

Amrit Marilin os 1 mperor, 312, 809, 869 Ananda Cli Bhattacharva vs Carr

Stephen 158 647 Azion Shekh, 269 Ananda Ch. Sinch vs. Basu Mudh, 310, Azizuddin es. Finiperor, 185 Anandee Koer as Kanee So saet Koer,

Ananta Goundan 43 k Emp, 297 \nant Ramchand Lothkar, 280

Anant Shitaji, 736 Anant Shitaji, 736 Angan es Rampirban, 11° 651 Angapa Mi lah 150 153 Annapurnabai 775 776 780 Anonymous 3, 496, 639

Anta Mr. 217 Antoine Jose 609 Anu Sheikh as K. Imp. 524 809

Appada is Appamina 735

Appalanarasavvi Bhukta 15 En p 383 Appan Assar In re

Appana 584 623 625 C26

Appa Ran Mudaliar vs Janasa Ameral, 1014

Arif Munshi 367 Arjun Megha 437 Arnold 5 Andrews 641 Arumugam 18 Tulokonam 731 Arumia Govindon 191

Arpin Shikh In re 628 629 Anmuga Tegandan In re 175 195 Arunachellan 18 I np. 491 Arunachellan 18 Chilambaram 189

Arunachallam Pillu 279 334 Arunachellam Reddi 797 Arunachella Reddy In re 1022 Arunachellam Theyan 595 780 782

run Samanta 15 Finperor 113 Ishi,ar Ili Biswas 353 354 Ishi Ili Khan 15 Pinperor 114 Ishiraf Ili 754 Ashraf Ali 15 Finperor, 262

Ashutosh Das Gupta vs Purna Chandra Bala Subbanna 610 Gliosh 371 Vsimuddi 798 Vslam Mealt 515

Asmal Hossam 513 Assistant Se sions Judge of Arcot, 276, Balmukundram 13 Ghanasamram, 343 802 Assistant Sessions Judge, North Arcot 13 Taluram Gogai 776

Ramanimal 241 272 Balwa Dagdu Bhi! 454
Vestant Sessions Judge, North Arcot I alwant vs K. hen 37
15 Ran aswami Vani 255 I alwant Singli vs Unit

Mma Ram . s Pimperer 1008 Ating Ram to Harmam Singh 1011 Atmoram Arrain Parali In re 189 Atterney General of S Woles as Pertram, 527, 650 833 1 T Sankaralinga Madaliar, 544

Auba Vin Visras, 720

Amodal Ram is I mp, 1013 Autor Singh, 194
Amittalal Hazra 355 V Joseph is I mp, 1019
Amittala Deba is Darpa Naram, 167, Ven Malamat Akand is King Emp, 266, 263, 653, 809 \(\text{zimullah}\), 720 \(\text{Aziz Ahmed vs. Budlin Khan, 785}\).

Baban, 624

Labbon Sheikh, 507, 846 Pabulal, 214 Babulal Sarkar, 58, 72 Babu Ram vs Crown, 1026

Babu Ratneshwar I rosad vs Inp, 797. Bachanna, 217, 540 Bachchatar Singh os Crown, 1022

Rachulal is Jagdon Sahai, 385 Badmddin Sharfuddin, In rc, 279 Padrool Hosam, In re, 54

Badu Mir is Emp, 1008 Bahadur Molla is Jenail, 1034 Bahadur Singh is Cown, 1013

Baltadur Sinch, 729 1 at Asha 382

Baidynath Mozumdar, 98 99, 166 C66

Baidvanath Singh vs Muspratt, 308 mannanth singit vs Muspratt, 308
Tajipath Pande vs Gouri kanta, 608, 859
Ivijirath Singit vs Emp, 840
Laipo Mondal vs I up, 831
Laikant Kumart, In re 174 191
Lai Kasturbat vs Bas Malda, 1029
Isir Parbatt, 318, 324 376 6-7, 661
Laishiav Cit Das 524
Ershiav Cit Das 524
Ershiav Cit Muspratter

Tayo Sueth vs I mu, 1008

Baslinav Ch. Manji, 181
Papa Singh vs. Imp., 1008
Layrangilat vs. Pimp., 219
Layrangilat vs. Pimp., 219
Baslinavi Singh, 25
Baslinavi Singh, 25
Lahi, Singh, 25
Baslinavi Singh, 26
Baslinavi Singh, 26
Baslinavi Singh, 27
Baslinavi Singh, 27
Baslinavi Singh, 28
Baslinavi Singh, 28
Baslinavi Singh, 28
Baslinavi Singh, 28
Baslinavi Singh, 25
Baslinavi Singh, 25
Baslinavi Singh, 25
Baslinavi Singh, 25
Baslinavi Singh, 26
Baslin

Inldeo Baksh vs Rai Ballum 175

i allı Pande, 387 Bulkıssen vs Sepalulal, 18 Ralkrishna \mrit Prodhan, In rc . 190

346 672 837

I alwant Single vs Umed Single, 282 Asoke Prosonno Pal 13 Purp 1008 Religation Blumappa 108, 112 Assistant Sessions Judge of North Arcot, Banarsi Das 133 282 Pandam Atchreya, 544, 837 Bangab Shah vs Pup, 110

Bangaru \sarı 299, 366 Itammadhab Das, 405 l animadhab Roy as Rasoraj 872, 316 Banka Singh 15 Gokul 1011

Bankes Behart Singh vs K I'mp, 73, 834, 864

Pansgopal 78 Imperor 709 Ian 1 8 Iuxmi Das 795 Lanes Mir Ilia, 613 land Singh is Imperor, 430, 744 Lanwari s Crewn 1000 Ranwarilal es Hrila, 165 175 Lanwarilal Mi ser es Kaja Ralha Lershal 179 Liperam Sarma es Gentinath 282 285 Laperam Sarma es Queen Lip 710 711 laju Dallı 249

Laren frarath Ghish 222 Larin Ita Kumar Chine 259 Larola Kanta R v. s. Karmuthi 524 Harrela Ironal Mu tafe as Corachanl

Larpa Chanles Dev. 133 Partiol Duning Kulrika 59° 600 I realist in Pharmat pr 753 lasanta Bu tali 145 Rasanta Kumar Glintek 127 499 519 I reanta Lell 45 609 I asanta I ila In re 759 Tasaffa In re 873 Lastrudde ta Queen Prop 837 Lasteo Mera a Labi Mera 1033 Lasules Surma Go sun et Nazionillus 775 7°C "60

la umati Allicarini lattlt Rellb In re l udbram Kohta 4t5 l atakala l atriva lu In ee Bath e lal a 10 milal 170 lia Xin a 12mj 1011 l echar 247 Bechulal Kasastha 13 Pmj 1023 Beel re Ratneswari Narain 11 > a1 Singh

l egam alias Plahecjan, 244 legu ts Pmp 1019 lelari 335 lelarilal In rc 168 170 647 Itil grifal Chatterjec 771 I harifal fr guttur 15 Darts 170 I clarilal Malt n 339 342 343 835 Behart Maltin vs 17m1 1021 Lehari Lathak 15 Mahanima l Ilivat Khau 107

Nehart Smit 54 Lejos Singli Neosa to Pimper r 105 Belagal Ramacharlu 103 122 180 Belat Alı 15 Kalımı 139 I ellilious 671 Bengali Goje 15 1 mp 1006 1 em Madhal Kun lu 457 Bem Madhab vs Kumud Kun ar 382 lem Naram vs Achiryanath 168 Lenoda Sundarı Cli medlinram 191 Lenode Lehart Nath 15 Emperor 8 112

119 502 838 Benode Kanta Roy 15 Korimuddi 119 Bej in Behari De vs Pimperor 597 Bej in Behari Mukerjee vs K E1p 662 Benin Behari Sen 141 Bepin Beliari Shaw 473

Peputoolah is Nazun Shekh 406 Hinbaturan Choch to Lankutosh Lal, Bhadreswar Tewari ts

hanta I rosad Higgs Shah is Shadiqu O tagar, 785 lihatwan Singh 183 lihatwan Singh 18 1 mp 1025 lihatwal Chowdhars 18 Pemperor, 79

Ithaktasatsalu Naulu, 623 Ithanji Jassa In re 86 Bharat Chandra 15 Dwarnanath 672 Dharasa Naw 15 Sukdeo 1027 I harasa Naw Nath 15 Jal edah 384 I hau Avankatesh In re 1015

Mirwoo Jisan ta Mulji 53 672 677 Miegi Komplulas 433 Thikan Maniksa 730 Bhikari Tati Is Imp l hin a 384 I himaganda 280 283 Dhimlat Shalt, 309 710 Bhojal Sonar ts Nibaran Singh 191 Phelaram ts Crown 1034

Bholmath De 8 709 ltl clamath Chose In re 175 18' I holanath Single to Wood 170 Bh wra Singh to Tara Singh 1010 I huban Chan fra Hazra 543 Blud ane-linar Dutta In re 65 I humar Mukerjee 18 Digar Digambar Da 176 191 Hure Khim ts 1 mp 1017 Thup Suigh 34 Hutmath De In rc 88

Inhati Moh n Roy Bit lee Kulsum 116 1 Klutranand Das 248 Bidhuranjan 159 Bier 1h 262 ligan Singh vs 1 mp 10°s ligan vs Pinperir 10°0 ligo Singh vs Pinperer 261 305 589 likao Singh vs Cueen Empress 208 likao Singh vs 1 mp 1031 lilas Singh vs 1 mp 1031 lillinghurst vs Meek 507

Buidhachal I rosad Rat 385 Bipra Das 272 Biren Irahi Bhaduri 346 319 633 830 Dir Khan 642 Liron Mond of 446 646 841 Bishambar I at 153

Bishendas Glash vs K. Puiperor 379 586 653 Bishendaval Rai vs Chedi Khan 258 269 313 B shu Baulk 277

l ishu Sleikh vs Sabor Mollah 405 819 Bisser Misser 84 Brajarakhal Mazumdar 675

Braja Rakhal Mazun dar 675 Brindshan Dutt vs Dwarksnath 149 150 Brindshan Shah In re 107 Brown 13 Anand Mullick 281 Brown 25 Prithwira 170

Budhai Sheik vs Tarap Sheik 357 Budhan 334

Budhanbar, 311 Rudhnath Mahatao, 307, 311, 312 Budh Ram, 279, 280 Budhu vs Musst, Lachman, 342, 344 Budhu Tetna vs Emp, 1024 Bukkaree Singh 23 Got , 80 Bulled Singh vs Kanai, 311 Bundhoo, In re, 658
Burgess 1s Laugley, 463
Bykantram Shaha Rov, 157, 158
Pyrne vs Crown, 398, 502, 838 Byruvala Naidu, In re , 387, 567

c.

Carmen es O'brien, 1006 Chajju Singh ts Crown, 771 Chakradhar Potti In re , 262 Chaku, In re 732, 735 Chalupathi Naidu is Subba Naidu, 1011 Chamipati vs Crown, 1007 Chamon Singh vs Public Prosecutor, Chandalayada Ramanappa, 627 Chand Lhan, 332, 370 Chandi Charan Bhattacharya, In re , 655 Chandi Charan Giri, 278 Chandi Charan Giri, 278 Chandiprosad vs Abdur Rahim, 588, 873 Chandi Pershad, 35 Chandira Kanta Ghosh, 276, 277, 282 Chandra Kumar 15 Properor, 513, 514 Chandra Kumar vs Mathuria Debi, Chandra Kumar Visser, 334 Chandramoni vs Kunja Reddi, 802 Chandranath Sarkar, 435 Chandranath Sen 18 Ramdayal, 139, 140, Chandrasekhar Thakur vs Nitaloo, 405 Chandra Sukul vs Dhurunnath, 406, 819 Chandulal Ranchod, 734 Chantung Arnold, 842 Chanton, 728, 731 Charan Mahato s Frip, Charan Chandra Das 13 Narendra Krislo,

Charu Chaudra Mazumdar 15 Timperor,

Charu Chandra Mullick, 103 Chittradhari Goala 558 Chattrapat Singh, 176, 182 Chatturai is Airanjan Rai, 166 Chaurasi is Ramsankar 11, 168 Chedi Kunjra, 375 Chedi 15 Ramlal, 386 Singh 836

Chellam Naulu 13 Ramaswams, 297 Chemon Garo, 299, 350 Chendu Kalwa, 544 Chettoolal Kalwar ts I'mp , 3a5

Childambaram Pillin 15 I mp , 108, 116, 289, 309, 415, 431, 834 Chinaman 15 Ramlal, 783 Chinaman, 389

Chimian baran Singh, 847 Chimbas Chosh, In 1 227, 499, 500 Chuna Ramanua Gond, 201

swamy, 324, 392 Chimmargidu, In re , 521, 522 Chintamoni Singh, 119 Choalal vs Anant Pershad, 673 Choolian Telee, 262, 285 Choragudi Venkatadri, 360 Chotalal Mathura Das, In re., 285 Chotelal 25 Chedilal, 278 Choto vs Kachem, 279 Chotolal 18 Nathabhar, 296, 297 (hotosado Peada, 710

vs

Chunathamba Mudalı

Silla Guru

Chowdhurv Amir Sing vs K I'mperor, 295 Chowdhury Mohammad Israel Hnq vs

Q Emp, 711 Chumroo Roy, 80 Chunder Bhon Singh, In rc , 80

Chunital Iswardas, 787 vs Ramkrishna Saha, 139, 153 Vethal, 462 Chyton Chunder Roy vs Brojo Kanta, 178

Clarke vs Brojendra Kishore Roy Chow dhury, 85, 86, 94, 224 Codd vs Cabe, 46, 72 Crown vs Abdul Aziz, 771

75 Abdul Ariz, 771

Diwan Chand, 1011

Jaggat Singh, 672

Mibria, 167 Abdul, 1018

Reib Newar, 130

Barricel, 1022

Rahman, 497

Binal Frond, 1023

Mibria, 1024

Dhama Lel, 1029

Patra Singh, •• ** •• ٠.

.. ,, •• ••

**

٠,

Dubiraddi Naskar vs Shakat Molla, 1028 Dada, 496

Padan Gazi, 208 Daem Sardar, 296, 298 Dagdoo Babu, In re, 767 Damuila Taluqdar vs Maharullal, 617 Dakhmeswar Misra, 8, 709

Dahmiteswat Biria, 9, 19 Dalapati Rau, 35, 588
Dalapa Sangh 13 Crown, 547, 720, 721
Dilip Singh 15 Crown, 547, 720, 721
Dilip Singh 15 Rawal, 279
Dalmat Puri 15 Khodudad Khan, 190
Damodar Ram Mohori 15 Enp., 19
Damodar Vidyadhar Mahapatro, 166
Damodar Vidyadhar Mahapatro, 166
Damodar Lidyadhar Mahapatro, 169

Damri Thakur 15 Bhawani Salioo, 409 820,

Damu Senapati 15 Sridbar, 543, 548 Diraghi 15 Fmp, 1025 Dirbiti Mondol vs Jogoolal, 650, 654 Darpanaran Bara, 710, 711
Drizoolla Khan, 331, 370
Dasarathi Mondol, 449, 662
Daulat Snegh, In re, 56, 110
Punlatram 18 Kanhya Lal, 1039

Daulatea, In re., 32 Davaln Manalpad, 184

David, In re , 663

Davanath Talugdar, 123 savanam ramquir, 123 Del ichimi Biswis, 672 Dela Prosad 13 I mperor, 1019 Dedar Bix 13 Shamapada Das Malakar, 258, 269, 309

Deela Mahton 13 Sheo Daval, 338, 399 Denomoni 13 Choudhuram, 168 Deathar Sinch, 5

Deokinandin, 324 Depuly Legal Kemeribrancer, In re., 801 Deputy Legal Remembrancer, Bengal, 740 Deputs Legal Remembrancer 11

Singli, 487, 488 Deputs Legal Remembrancer to Gav1 Provad, 604

Deputy Legal Remembrancer 13 Hakim Mottah, 585, 586

Depuit Legal Remembrancer 13 Instal Dimonath Chuckervar Jali Klan, 617, 149, 149 Depuit Legal Remembrancer 15 Karuna Dimonath Mondol, 367 Barstale, 603, 604

Deputy Legal Remembrancer to Sarna Kalımı, 297

Deputs Legal Remembrancer as Upendra Lumar Glovli, 809 Dervish Hossam, 408, 554, 678

Devendra Chandra Chowdhurs to Mohimi Mohon, 630, 631, 876

Devendranath Bose, 109 Devendranath Das-Gupla 13 Registrar of Joint Stock Companies, 248 Devidas ts Crown, 1012 Devidaval to Crown, 499 Devidin Durgapravad, In re 775, 776

Bevidin Burgaprasad, In rc. 778, 776
Levi Singh, 558
Devji Valad Bhavani, In rc. 709, 716–718
Deviankar Griji Sainkar, 610
Deviankar Griji Sinkar, 610
Dhan Mondol, 437
Dhan Reddy ts Fing, 1016
Dhanpithoy Karimukhan, 312
Dhann ts Chiford, 685, 661
Dhanolar Ghovii, 639 Dhanpar Singh ts Chiefterput Single,

165, 167, 808

Dhanukdhari Singh, 548 Doulat Kore ps Shiva Prosad Pundit, 190

Dowlat 13 Pershad, 191 Dowlat Singh, 408, 412 Dowlat Singh 43 Brinda Beldar, 376 Driver vs. Q. Finp., 122 Ludekula Lal Saheh, 379, 745

Dukin Khewat, 808 Mullah vs Halway, 187, 189 Dula Fakur vs Bhagiralli, 522 Dulal Ram Dev, 139 Dunn vs Hemchandra, 119 Dunne vs Kumarchand Kishore, 171

Dupeyron vs Driver, 798, 799, 800 Durga Ch Das vs Sashi Bhusan, 141, 149, 150 Durga Ch Shome, 605

Day, 709

Jamadar vs Q I'mp, 72 Tewari vs Roliman, 72, 865 .. Dwarka Manihi, In re., 624

Dharam Mondol, 139 Singh, 333

,, Singn, 555 Dharmadas, 709, 710 ... Kawar 18 K Emp, 710

Dhera Singh, 730 Dhondu Kanu, 856 Ramchaudra, 394

Dhone Krishna Samanta 13 Emp. 822 Dhumuo Kazi, 320, 390, 429, 461, 742 Dihakanta Chalterjee, 502

Dilan Singh 13 1,mperor, 305, 822

Dillasi Koer, 191 Dillet, In rc, 641 Dil Malimumad Shekh, 467 Dinbliai Jijibhai, In re , 671

Dindwal Mazumdar, 104, 105, 158 Dinendranalli Shamal, 807 Dinonath Chuckervarty 15 Harcovind.

Mullick, 102 ••

ts Rajkumir Singh, 395 ٠. Taluadar vs logendranaram.

., 412 Dintariin Devi, 759

Dist Magistrate, Satara vs Mohendra Raghu, 1026 Polegovind Chowdhury to Dhannu Khan,

104, 106, 189 Doingo Sahau ta Jilan Dusadh, 662 Dodan Hoolwai ta a dumb person, 497 Doomoo Shahoo, 379 Doot Mahammad, 139

Dowlata, 365, 367 Dowlat Koer 15 Rameshari, 176, 163

D'souza ts I mu Dudukela Lai Salub.

Ľ

Pad Ah vs Lai Bibi, 733 I aswara 13er, 643 I brahum Molla vs 1 mp, 1022 I'kkarı Mookerjee vs Emperor 610 Pkram Singli, In re 103, 181

I lachur, Venkatachinasya is King Fmperor, 108, 524 Flah Bux, 448, 451, 674, 841, 843

Elı Buksh, 126 Fmamain vs Fraperor, 537, 554 I'mperor vs Abbas, 101, 180

Abbasbhai, .. .. Abdul Hamid, 461, 467 ..

Abdul Karım, 406 819, 1010 ., .. Abdullalı 521, 522 .. , Abdul Latif, 651 ..

" Abdul Radhanath, 200 .. Abdul Rahman, 3 ., , Abdur Rahman, 468

.. , Abdur Razak, 272 .. .. Abdus Sobhan, 649, 662 •• 1021

. Abedalı Iakır .. , Abul Hossan, 262 .. Achirag Lal, 44 ..

Achulka, 44 ٠,

Ahmad Alı Khan, 834

Princeror s Akhar Baloo 222 Properor vs Alam 1028 VI a 1034 Albloy Ablul 511 M muddin Naskar 1923 Allal abad Klan 834 Anar Nati 72 Arantram Sngh 229 Annu Kha 410 Anusiya 440 Anusar 369 Arun ugan 230 Aseruddin 1012 Ashgar Ah 410 493 505 Asl ootosl 434 As radd Mondol 127 178 Babar Al 466 Babulal 355 Bacha Clo L dar 767 Bacl an Par le 355 370 Radlu Slal 821 Ba dyanati Day 403 410 Bajrath Keda 1007 Bala I atel 670 Baldaya 947 Balchand 1023 Baideo Prosad 708 Baldeo Sal a 196 398 399 Bal Gar gadi ar Tilak 758 Balu Saluj 404 Banka Beh ri Janik 725 870 Bankutaram Lacl miran 363 Barton 759 Bateswar 305 Bechan 1el 1009 Beclu Chaube 50° 838 Behari 1022 Beharital Bose 217 500 539 Berak Nagendra Natl Sc 1009 Rere 1 813

Bl agabati 767 Bl a rab & b Dutt 149 Bha ron 1009 Blaskir Balwant 441 Bla al angle 385 Bl awan 434 Bhay am Dibal 610 Bhawani Dutt 5 299 Blawam 1rwad 379 Bhawin "85 Bl naj Venkaj 295 325 Bl ma 309 Bhole Sigh 5 Il u loton Singl 461 Ili uremal 161 li n lesi arı C ssa n 394 Bın lesbatı Sugli 387 794 504 846

B sheshari Singh 833 Brojokanta Ro Cho ili ura 143 C Dunn 633 Clagan Davram 600 Clat Ram 703 Chain 1020

Chandan 514 Clandranati Dutt 324 Changowda I rgouda 367 Chedi 266 °67 Cl edi Ray 671 Chelli m 461 Ch ef Officer Mushtari 242 Chinna Kalappa Goundan 311 542 653 661 Cl ratulal 1008 Cl ttar Singh 1012 Chotulal Bal ar 246 Comsell 757 C W k ng 315 Dabee Perst al 757 759 767

Daj Narsu 434 Darabsla Romanj 1017 Dastar Ali 1019
Datto Han mart 342 361
Dava Debji 1030
Daya Ran 1016
Desf and Dunb Accused Debart Singh 114 Debi Prosad 6 Debi Ram 787 Dedar Sarcar 173 Deo Dat 875 Devananta Ji a 878 Devappa Ramarpa 671 Di aram Raj 99

Dinonath Roy 859 Dul chand 1010 Dulla 379
Dulla 1006
Durant 44° 489 503 504
Durga Pro ad 309 Dwarka Kirmi 435 E W Smiler 618 619 841 Fakına Apı ava 430 Fakrudat klan 133

Dhondu 404

Tatch S ngl 1039 Fatch 637 638 Gajraj Singl 1016 Ganpatlal 324 Ganpat Kalwar 189 Gantal 434 Gayad n 603 G D Sha 725 776 Govind S gh 797 Genugopal 451 453 George Booth 421 Ghariba 96 Ghas te 879 Gliure 616 Gwand 129

Gir sh Ch Kundu 1017 Gopal Das 615 Gopal Dhanuk 395 Gopal S ngl 50 Govind Sal ni 552 804 Culzar lal 341 356 Gund va 325 389 516 Gundu 835

.

Properor s knowd Raghu 379

peror s Cunning 2 Gur Naram From 1 298 CC G S 1 erd nanz 374 Hadı, 330 Haji Nur Mahamel 1012 Hanmara Hi 200 Harak Ch Marwari 602 Haran Kumar Barma 463 Hardaval 597 Hardwar I al 287 Hari las Mukerjee 6°C Har Prosal Bhargana 490 Hari M han Joshi 10°4 Havfell 444 Hazarilali 1022 Hiralal 600 880 Hiru Satwa 1000 Hossam 490 690 Hossam Man 600 II rahim Khan 341 Intiva Salabat Khan Islan Chunter De 600 Ishtiq Malannal 311 350 Ismail Klalt Sal 1019 I paltat 1017 Ja lunatli Cai guly 692 603 Jafar 598 Jakannati 822 Jakat Cli Mazut ler 266 Jaggan 799 Jahandi 663 Jaisukh 415 83. Jamnı 277 Janeshwar Das 1017 Jawala Ira ad 711 lethial 360 Jevanji 834 Jilan Kristo Bagel 354 361 Jijblai Covind 267 Jitendra Natli Bose 1023 Jivaram Dankaji 588 Jogendra Nath (1 sh 711 Jogessar Lassi 317 John I rancis Lebo 643 Joti I rosad 39 Jumna Bar 667 kalacl and Das 122 123 Kale 615 Kalı Charan 255 669 Kalı Charait Satına 1007 236 255 Kaliprosonna Das 320 742 Kalkaj rosad 341 Kalu 659 Kan al 672 Kamjan Kuki 213 Kandaswami Gounda 468 Kanta I rosad 708 Katan Sugh 413 Kassım Klan 203 Latwari Rao 361 Kehri 455 Klandya 575 Kharga 651 Khiali 493

histavial Vireland 600 Kishen Narayan 1008 , kondiba 460 Kumpur Kuki 195 Kunwar Joshant Singh 321 Lachman 99 785 Lakshman Bala I al Bal adur 1077 1 al Behati 114 594 Laft Mohon Chuckerbutty 289 Lal Sleikh 222 825 Lal Singh 597 600 Laxman 1014 Liaquat Hossa n 31° 651 Lvall 467 Madan Bux 669 Malan Mohon Mundel 468 Madhay Barman 294 672 Malhab Lak lin an 371 Matho D 11 241 Maganlal 73 255 Malmbir 1 r rad 10°7 Maliadeo I rosad 369 Mahadeo 5 ngh 267 Maharaj 1023 Malies var Koi da a 39º 661 Mahammad Yakub 28 Maikn 56 Makhan Karwar 460 Malu 435 Manant 1018 1079 Mamkka Gra an 621 Mangal 1029 Man k Ra 99 Man lul Awa ti 1009 Man Shgh 425 Manual Ph hp 25 Maru Parsu 553 Maruti Jote Slunde 435 Maung Ba I'hon 10°8 Maung Myat 1028 Maung Tun Nyan 10°7 Menalal 1008 Mewa Ram 1077 Mensingh Reclar 416 Miajan 1027 Misri 210 Mol idin 18 Mohim Ch Roy 605 Mohonlal 866 Molon Singl 342 Monjul Bhai 1076 Morgan 855 Mulchand 121 Munna 113 171 Murari 355 Murli Pathak 1024 Nabakumar latn k 474 Nabbu Khan 127 Nallayadu 494 Nanda 255 Nanhua 523 Nanji Samuel 330 Naran Diakn 10°5

Centeror	is Akbar Badoo, 222	Emperor .	s	Chandan, 514
	\lam, 10.28	19		Chandrauath Dutt, 324
.,	\ha. 1034		.,	Changowda Pirgouda, 367.
"	Alabhov Ab'ul, 514			Chedi, 206, 267 Chedi Ray, 671
	. Ahmuddur Naskar 1923	.,		Chedi Rav, 671
	, Allahabad Khan, 834	.,		Chellum, 461
	mar Nath, 72		,,	Chief Officer, Mushtari, 242
	Anantram Singh, 223			Chinna Kaliappa Goundan,
"	, Annu Khan, 410			311, 542, 653, 661
,,	, Anusiva 440			Chiranjilal, 1008
	, inwar, 369	13	20	Chittar Singh, 1012
	, Arnmugan, 230			Chotulal Baltar, 246
	Aseruddiu, 1012			Counsell, 757
	\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\			C W King, 315
,,	,, \shooto-11, 434			Dabee Pershad, 757, 759, 762
,,	, Astrada Mondel 127, 128			Dan Narsu, 434
,,	" Babar VII 186			Darabsha Bomanji, 1017
	" Babulal, 355			Dastar Alt, 1019
	" Bacha Chewkular 767			Datto Hannmant, 342, 361
,,	" Bachan Pande 355, 370			Dava Debu, 1030
	" Badlu Shah S21	.,		Dava Ran 1016
	" Baidvanath Da-, 403 410		;;	Dava Debji, 1030 Dava Ran, 1016 Deaf and Dumb Accused,
	" Baijnath Kedia, 1007		••	496
	,, Bala Patel, 620			Debart Singh, 114
	" Baldava, 247			Dala Dencad 6
,,	" Balchand, 1023
	, Baldeo Proval, 708 , Baldeo Sahai, 196, 398 39			Dadan Canasa 122
	, Baldeo Sahai, 196, 398 39	9 !!		Deo Dat. $25
••	, Bal Gangadhar Trlak, 758		,	December 11cm 679
	, Balu Salun, 404			Devappa Ramanpa, 671
	" Banka Behiri Banik, 725, 87	U
,,,	, Bankataram Lachmiran, 36	3, "
	673
	" Barton, 759		;	Dulichand 1010
	,, Bateswar, 305
	" Bechan Teli, 1009 " Bechu Chambe, 502, 833			. Dulli, 1006
,,				Durant, 442, 488, 503, 504
	Delineded there our con a	na 21		, Durga Provad, 309
	" Beraik Nagendra Nath Se			, Daarka Kurmi, 435
•	1009			, E W Smither, 619, 619,
	, Berril, 813			841
	. Bhagabati, 767			" Takina Appava, 430
	Bhairab Ch Dutt, 149			, Palrudati Khan, 133
	Bhairon, 1008			, Patch Singh, 1032
	Bhaskar Balwant, 441			, Tatch, 637, 638
	n Bhawal Cingh, 385			, Gajraj Singh, 1016
	Bhawani, 414 Bhawani Dihal, 610	21		, Gampatlal, 324
	. Bhawant Dihal, 610			" Gampat Kalwar, 189
				,, Gantal, 431
	Bhawani Prosad, 379	30		" Gayadın, 603
	Bhawin, 285 Bhimaji Venkaji, 295, 3			., G D' Silva, 725, 726
	namaji venkaji, 295, 3:	25 "		" Govind Singh, 797
	Phote Single, 5	. "		" Genngopal, 451, 453
		20		, George Booth, 421
				" Ghariba, 96
	Bindeshari Gossam, 394			" Ghasite, 879
	, Bindeshari Singh, 382			Ghure, 616 Grand, 129 Girish Ch Kundu, 1017
	504, 846			Grand, 129
	Bislieshari Singh ear			Goral Day 815
	, Brojokania Ros Chowdh			" Gopal Das, 615
	143			Gopal Dhannk, 395 Gopal Singh, 50
	., ., C Dunn, 633			Govern Soles 652 en
	" Chagan Darram, 862	::		" Govind Sahai, 552, 804
	, Chait Ram, 709			,, Gulzarilal, 341, 356 Gundiva, 325, 389, 516
	,. Chajju, 1020	::		, Genda, 835, 189, 516
		.,		11

1 mperor s Cunning 2 Cur Niran Prosal 298 CC G S Lerdining 374 Hali, 300 Haji Nur Mahamel 1012. Hanniara H. 200 Harak Ch. Marwari 600 Haran Kun ar Barino 463 Hardaval 597 Hardwar I al 287 Harrias Mukerjee CC Har Prosal Blarkawa 490 Hari Molan Joela 1824 Hayfeld 444 Hazarılalı 1022 Il ralal 600 880 Hiru Salwa 100° Hossa n 49° 69° Hossa n Klan 600 Bral n Klat 341 Intiva Salifat Khai 493 I han Cl i ler I) 60° Islt i Malamial 341 356 Isma'l klair Sal 1019 I pal at 1017 Jalunath Gantul 60° 601 Jafar 598 Jaconnath 822 Jacot Ch Nazun der 966 Jakkan 799 Jal and 664 Jassukl 415 83° Jamm 277 Janeshwar Das 1017 Jawala Irasal 711 Jeti lal 360 levanji 834 Iban kristo Bagel Lian 354 Jij bhai Govind 267 J tendra Nati 160 e 1023 Jivaram Dankaj 588 Jogendra Nath (105h 711 Jogessar La si 317

236 255

John I ranc s 1 ebo 643 John I rosad 39 lumna La 603 kalaci and Das 122 1.3 kale 615 Kah Claran 255 669 Kalı Cl aran Sınna 1007 kal prosonna Das 320 742 kalkaprosad 341 haln 659 Kan al 672 kamian kuki 213 Kandaswai Go inda 468 Kanta Prosad 708 Karan Sngh 413 kass m kla i 203 katwari Rao 361 Kehri 455 Li andva 575 Klarga 651

kl al 493

Projector as known Raghu 329 Atshavlal Virol at 1 600 kiel en Naravan 1008

Kondilia 460 kumpur kuki 195 kumvar Jo lant Sigl 321 Incl n an 99 785 Lakslin in Itala 435 1 al Rala lur 10°7 1 al Bel arı 114 594 Lalit Molos Cluckerbutty 289 131 Sleikh 222 8_5

Lal S nal 597 600 Laxman 1014 I a juat 11 c a n 31º 651 Ivall 467 Madan I v 669
Madan I v 669
Madan I v 669
Madan Mol n Min lel 468
Madlan Marian 294 822
Madlah I ak l nan 371
Madho D in 241
Maganlal 73 255 Malabit 1r ad 10°7 Mahadeo I ro-ad 309 Mal adeo Sigl 267 Malaraj 10.3 Maless ar Kondasa 39º 661 Malamma 1 Yakub 28 Makn 50 Maklan Karsar 460 Malu 435 Manant 1018 10'9 Mamkka Cramani 6 I

Man k Rai 99 Man k Rai 99 Man lal A va tl 1009 Man Shgi 425 Mansoor Hossam 670 672 Manual Hulip 2.5 Marı Parsu 553 Maruti Jote Sluide 435 Maung Ba Flon 10°8 Maung Mvat 10°8 Maung Tui Nyan 10°7 Mey alal 1008 Mewa Rai 1027 Mews ngh Beclar 416 Majan 1097

Mol onlal acc Mol on Sngh 342 Moniul Bla 10% Morgan 855 Mulcl and 121 Munna 113 171 Murar 355 Murl Patlak 10°4 Nabakumar 1 atn k 474 Nabbu Klan 127

Mol m C! Rov 605

Misri 210 Mol idin 18

Nallavadu 494 Nandu 255 Nanhua 523 Nanj Samuel 330 335 Naram Dlaku 10°5

```
Emperor vs Natam, 255
Natam Keshav, 1024
                                                         Emperor vs. Ramai Dadabhai, 878, Ravalu Kesigadu, 211.
                                                              ..
                                                                      ..
             Narottom Das, 278
                                                                           Recd, 443,
                                                                      ,,
     ..
                                                              ..
             Narain Goppa, 278
                                                                          Reolah, 649
Rooshar Singh, 656.
     ..
                                                              ..
             , Nath Mal, 808
, Nathu Kastuchand,
                                                             ..
     ..
                                                                          Rouben, 498
                                                              ...
                                                                      ,,
     ..
             , Naram Raghupathi, 606
, Nasir Ahmed, 1008
                                                                      , Ruknuddin, 399.
     ..
                                                              ..
                                                                          Rustom, 767
Sabar Akunji, 493
     ..
                                                              ...
                                                                       ••
              , Nawab, 111, 112
      .,
                                                              ..
                                                                       ..
                 Nem Alur, 1009
                                                                          Sadasiya Narain Joshi, 268.
Sagambar, 217, 539, 767.
Sahadat Valad Miran, 553 ٠,
                                                              ..
                                                                      ..
                 Nepal, 55
                                                              ..
                                                                       ..
                 Nga Ann Myat, 1027
      ..
                                                              ..
                                                                       ,,
                 Nga La Gui, 1024
                                                                           Sahar Rae, 467.
Sajiwan Lai, 614.
      ..
              ..
                                                              ..
                                                                       ..
                 Nga La Gale, 1026
                                                              ..
                                                                       ..
                  Nga Khang and Aur , 1017
                                                                       Salık Roy, 262
              ..
                                                               ..
                 Nga Pve. 1026
                                                                       . Samiruddin, 209
                                                               ..
                 Nihal, 1009
                                                                       " Sana Mathur, 1014
" Sankar Gope, 246, 247.
                                                               ..
              . Nilambar, 592, 777, 780, 781,
                                                               ,,
                                                                       ., Sarju, 120
                                                               ,,
              , Nirmal K Roy, 584, 586
                                                                       ., Sarmukh Singh, 254, 255
       ٠.
                                                               ,,
                                                                      ... Sarmukh Singn, 284, 285
Sassoon, 1031.
Savalya Atma Pastya, 440
Sayed Khan and ors., 1030.
Sayad Yacoob, 89
Shankarlal, 133
Sheikh Abdul, 113, 114, 120
Sheik Idoo, 281.
              , Nirmal Singh, 93
       ..
                                                               ,,
                  Nobin Ch Dutt, 769
Nebogopal Bose, 799
       ..
              ••
                                                               .,
      ..
              ..
                 Nuri Shekh, 219
Panchanan, 386
Pancheowri Dutt, 1013
                                                               ..
      ..
              ..
                                                               .,
       ..
                                                               ..
      ..
                                                               ..
              , Pandurang, 1026 ٠,
                                                               ..
                  Pannalal, 468
              ..
                                                                           Sheik Usman, 1013
Sheodin, 1022
                                                               •
                                                                       ..
                  Paramananda, 26, 325, 331,
              ..
                                                               ..
                     389, 517
                                                                       " Slieodarsan Singh, 675
" Slieo Jangal Prosad, 1009.
                                                               ..
                   Parwart, 195
       .,
              ..
                                                               .,
                  Pita, 1034
Po Thin Gyi, 1018
                                                                           Sheoraj Singh, 1032
Sheo Sampat Pande, 5
               ..
                                                               ••
                                                                       ..
       ٠.
               .,
                                                               ...
                                                                        ..
                   Powell, 813
Pravag Singh, 144
                                                                            Shera, 1022
Sherafully Alibhoy, 360
                                                               ..
                                                                        ..
       ٠.
                                                               **
                                                                        **
                   Profulla, 468
                                                                        , Shiboo, 650
       ..
               ..
                                                               ..
                   Purushottam Kar, 119, 400,
                                                                          Shib Singh, 127,
Shujauddin Almed, 355, 361,
                                                               ..
                                                                        ..
                                                               .,
                                                                        ,,
                   Putto Lai, 255, 270
                                                                        , Shukari, 725, 879,
       ..
                                                               ...
                   Radha Halwat, 229.
Radha Kissen, 262
Rafi Mian, 1022
                                                                        " Siranadu, 461, 467,
" Sirdar, 623
" Sita Ram, 133
       ٠.
                                                               .
               ..
                                                               ..
                                                               91
                                                                        . S. Moorga Chetty, 756.
                    Rafiuz Zaman.
                                                               *
                    Raghanath Singh, 128
                                                                        " Srmarain Prosad, 360,
                                                               ...
                    Rahmeat, 669
                                                                         . Srmarain Singh, 1015
                ..
                                                               ..
                    Rahu, 112
Rajah Singh, 100
                                                                        Srinath Kar, 353
, Srinath Mahapatra, 444 ٠.
                                                               .,
        ..
                ••
                                                              ,,
                   Rajbansı, 112.
Raju Abilajı, 440.
                                                                         . Sundar Lal, 708
        ..
                ...
                                                              . .
                                                                         Sundar Swarup, 5
        ..
                ..
                                                                .
                    Rajur Ram, 770
Ramanjiyya, 212,
Rambaran Singh, 180
                                                                            Thakur Das, 291,
Tazem Ah, 1022
        ٠,
                ..
                                                                ..
                                                                         ..
               ٠,,
        .,
                                                                ,,
                                                                         ..
                                                                             Thakur Dayal, 522
        ..
                ••
                                                                .,
                                                                         ••
                    Ramchad Bowla, 380
                                                                        , Thakur Pande, 180.
                                                                ..
                    Ramchand Govind Harsha.
        ..
                                                                .,
                                                                         " Thakur Pandit, 103
                                                                 ..
                                                                        " Tirlok, 1009.
" T. K. Petre, 109
                , Ram Chandra, 650
         ..
                                                                 ..
                ,, Ramdas, 523
         ••
                Rameshwar Harmath, 1029
Ram Sukh, 1033
Ramsaruh, 1034
Ram Gulam, 1008, 1009
Ramlochan, 181.
                                                                         Tribhuban Das, 747, 831
                                                                 ,,
         ,,
                                                                            Tucker, 135.
                                                                 **
                                                                         .
         ..
                                                                         , Tukaram, 553
, Tulsidas Lachman, 36.
                                                                ..
         ٠.
                                                                ••
                                                                ..
                                                                        Tulsıram, 597.
Udairaj Singli, 651.
Udmi, 114
                                                                ..
                     Ram Kissendas, 800
                 •
                                                                ••
                     Rannath Bose, 650
                 ...
                                                                        .. Umadutt Misser, 771.
                                                                 ••
                     Rampeare,
          ..
                 ••
                                                                        " Umar Khan, 541
" Uttan Kundoo, 353
                     Ramras Nanges & ors , 1018
                                                                .
          ..
             . ..
                                                                ••
                 .. Ramratan Chundal, 245
                                                                             Vaimbilee, 418, 419, 540, 852.
```

I'mperor .s Vidvapathi, 113 ,,, Vinavak Damodur Sarvakar, 73 ,, ,, Viranna, 37

", Virjuandas, 261, 310, 318, 324, 325, 333, 392, 402, 683
", Vishuanath Josh, 261
", Vishuan Ialkirishna, 534
", Wahad Vh Khan, 795

, Wahad Vii Khan, 795 , Waman Dinkar Kalkar, 711 , Wan Na and ers , 1997 , Nacoob Khan, 222

I roma Variar vs Pmp, 289, 595 Pranholi Athan vs K Pmp, 283 I san Ch Dutt is Prannath, 712 I vans, In re, 1034

Г

799, 800
1 atthchand Vastachand, 447, 448
1 atton 11 Fatton, 318, 324, 125, 333
1 atton 12 Fatton, 318, 324, 125, 333
1 and 10 Talken 12 Kas (Lowelline), 670
1 ark Khan 12 Crown, 1028
1 choo Malaton, 217, 559
1 thon Hassan 12 Fraperor, 114, 546, 559
1 thon Hassan 12 Fraperor, 114, 546, 559
1 alchand Valgouild, 10 Fe , 1031
1 alchand Valgouild, 10 Fe , 1031
1 arany art call 10 alchand Valgouild, 10 Fe , 1031
1 arany art call 10 alchand Valgouild, 10 Fe , 1031
1 alchand Valgouild, 10 Fe , 1031

•

Cabhaveswari Dela, 298
Galzarial, 386
Gadzen Zancialu Reddv, 278
Gajanand Thiakar vu K Pinp, 639
Ganpant Chetty vu Rex, 214, 275, 692, 821
Gampat Lal, 126, 686, 688
Ganechar Libhara, 711
Ganesh Balwant Modak, 672, 673
Ganech, 1r r e, 873
Ganesh Lal, 245
Ganesh Marain Salhe, 1n r e, 260, 902, 308

379
Ganesh Sahu vs Pmp, 586
Ganga vs Pmp, 1012
Gangadhar Prodhan vs Pmp, 305, 840
Gangadhar Prodhan vs Pmp, 305, 840
Gangaran vs Banki, 1016
Gangasaran Singh, 165
Ganga Reddy, 308, 312

Gantapalli Appalanima, 7,32
Gambhin Dhorop, 451
Garappu Mangadu, 418
Garvad Yadab Vani, In re, 1032
Garvarlal 13 Bunudhar, 150
Gaun Sahai, In re, 281, 282
Gaya Singh 23 Imp, 1027
Gentapalli Appulanma, 10
Ghanapatti Bhatta, 118, 119

Gangoo Singh, 391, 671 Ganpat Singh 15 K Emp., 161 Gansar Oraon 15 K Emp., 435

Gholain Mahammad, In rc, 295 Ghulama 18 Kauma, 612 Ghulam Mahammad 18 Crown, 504, 794, 848 Ghurbin Govind, 769, 767

Gallons, In re. $52
G I P. Ry 114 Norton Lestoru, 183
Gurdhar Chatterge 12 Haddullah, 191
Gurdhar Mondol, In re. 282
Gurdh Ch. Das, 178
Gursh Ch. Hoodu 12 Papp, 683, 800, 872
Gurth Myte 15 O. Papp, 547
Gurth Ch. Rox, 279

Great Part 1, 129 mp, 847
Great Part 1, 129 mp, 707
Grantenlah, Ju re, 1031
Gollan Ahrt 1 s F rup, 113, 287
Gogun Ch Ghosh 11 Pup, 606
Golat Bundart, 374
Golal Chand 12 Crown, 142, 143, 151
Golal Chand 15 Toolstram, 80
Golam Abed 13 Toolstram, 80
Golam Abahan ad 22 Finjeror, 1013

Golam Mchindin, 730, 795 Golapidas Bhandas, Jin rc , 729, 771 Golapidy Shenkh vs Q 1mmp, 268, 269, 320 Golap Famder, tr R II Roddam, 406 Golla Hanunopipa, 38, 623, 625, 628, 629 Gomer Sarth vs Fump, 524 Gomer Sarth vs Fump, 524 Gonda vs Feary Das, 78

Goodman vs Harvey, 777 Goodmanee, 614 Gopal Burnwar, 168

" Dhanuk, 418, 835 " Hajam, 441 " Naidu 18 K Fmp, 36

Saha vs Matilal Singh, 1019
Sidhewar Deshpande, 286
Singh, 44
Gopalum Narasaiya, 359

Gopmath Patnaik vs Narain Das, 808 Gopmath Shali, 517 Gorachand Gope, 672 Goswam Runchor Lalji 13 Sri Girdharji,

185 Gouthart Gope vs Alay Gopini, 631, 785 Gouth Sankar vs Mata Prosad, 74 Gouth Prosad Dey vs Chartered Pank of

Gouri Prosad Des us Chartered Pank of India, 1007 Gourmohort Singh, 262

Gostmohon Singh, 262 Goyinda Chandra vs Niharan Ch 172, 173

Govinda Chota, 1 "D vs 402 835 Connda Swame, 808 Ch Montra vs Abdul Saiyad, 166, Hardwar Singh 18 Khinga Ojha, 409, 820, Saliai, 158 Govindu, In re , 284, 371, 831

xl

Hanmant, In 7c, 385 Govt 1s Karmdad, 262, 285, 312, 713 1s Mazaffar Khahfa, 145

.. of Bengal vs Gocool Ch Chow ..

dliury, 618 of Bengal vs Mahaddr, 365, 367, 459 of Bengal vs Parameshar Mulhel, of Bombay us Shidapa, 585

Pleader, 626 , rieader, 0.20 Greene es Delninev, 663 Gudar Singh, In re, 795, 801 Guggilappu Padayva, 479 Guhiri Mian es Emp, 1012 Guja Manjhi va K Emp, 214 Gulab Singh, 773 Gulli Bhagat, 745

Gul Maliammed Sircar 353 Galram Gliosal vs Lal Behari Das, 189

Gulraj Marnati 13 Sheikh Bhattoo, 175, 82

Gulzardal vs Emperor, 374 Gunamony Sapus vs Q 1 mp, 277, 707 Gurameah vs K Imp, 91 Gurbin Koeri, 386 Gurdit Singh, 26, 325, 389 Gurubeliari vs K Emp €10 Guruchandra Sen 35 Kalimath, 524 Gurudas vs Gaganendra, 171

Kundu Chowdhury, 167 Nag, 270, 795 Gurusahay Ram vs K Emp , 36, 597

Halubullalı vs Q Pmp, 363 Hafizuddin 18 Laborde, 1011 Haibut Khan vs Fmp 313, 709, 710 Haidar Ali, 297 Haidar Ali, In re , 112 Han Kassem Mahammad, 775 Hakam vs Raharam, 647 Hakim Wajed Ali vs Pmp, 1013 Haladhar vs S I Police, 202, 303, 307, 310, 312 Halfbide 35 Hallbide, 728, 737 Hamid Alı vs Emp 1022 Hammanta, 744 Haraknarun Singh vs Luchmi Bux, 170 Haramolion Sardar vs Govind Salin, 172.

Haran Chunder Roy, In Te, 125 Harananta Ciba, 148 Haran Mondol 18 Mahim Ch Pramanick,

173 Haran Sheikh 18 Ramdhone, 407 Harballabh Naram vs Lachmiprosad, 183 Harbans Singh as Pakir Das, 324, 326, 660, 661

Harbhanjun Sao vs Emp, 1007

Harekrishna Parida ts Emp., 1030

Harchandra 25 Jaffir Alı, 569

Harendra Kumar Bose, 173 Harendranaram is Bhowampres, 173 Haricharan Gorait, 309, 312 Harnharan Smelt 18 Pmp , 365

Hurdas Sanyal 15 Saritallali, 312, 651. 651, 654, 655, 657, 677 Hari Gopal, 407

Harthar Das 13 Magsud Alt, 1017 Harikishore 25 Abdul Baki, 871

Harimolion Tagore 13, Kissen Sundari, 183 Hurinarain Biswas In re, 264

Harmarin Birbhan, In re , 769 Harisatya Vishnu 15 Emp. 261 Harnarain Ramjidas, 878 Harnath Rov, 332 Harsatkar 15 Udiv Sankar, 265 Harsnath Chatterjee 15 Hrrp, 355, 370 Harun Rasind ts Emp, 1019 Haru Tantt, 386 Haslavaram Subba Reddi, 755, 771

Hassan Alı, 254 Hassam Bux vs 1'mp , 331, 370, 421, 500, 650, 839 Hassasın Sardar vs Kalu Sardar, 394, 401 Hasat Klim vs Crown, 1008

llaves, In rc , 795 Hawthorne, 217 Il C Ganti 15 I L Harcourt, 1030

Heerabhan 28 I rann, 604, 671 Hem Ch Roy, 715 Hem Coomari Dassi, 759

Hetlal Rov. 872 Hetram. 383 Hikayat Singh vs. Emp., 1032 Huralal Shalim, 769

Iluralat Shahin, 769
Iliranata Ojha vs Fmp, 495, 503
Iliran Kumar Chowdhirt), 249
Ilorace Lyall, In r., 468, 739
Ilirdav Govund Sar vs I mp, 10
Irishikesh Mondol, 604, 662, 670
Ilim Gyow & ors vs Rmp, 107
Ilubert Crawford, In re, 772 Hurbullable Naram Singh to Luchmeswar

647, 674 Hurpurshad vs Sheodayal, 637, 871 Hurronath Rov, 712 Hurro Sundoree Chowdhuram, 758 Hurrycharan Chuckerbutty, 462 Hussain Sahab, In re , 1027

Ibrahim, 323 Ibrahm vs Guran Ditta Mal, 1028 Imp as Raban Khan, 348

us Bhagwan Devraj, 293

17 Dengari, 642 17 S Pitambar Jana, 608, 621, 645, 843 17 Dengary Naram Joshi, 753, 803

.. vs Sırsappa, 541 .. vs Sridhar Nanalala, 765.

Indarchand as I mp . 625 Inderchand Bachrai ts I mp . Inder Kai, 300 Inderpt Singh to 1 mg. 1016 Indranath Banerice, 144 Ishab Mondol . 1 Imperor 158, 206, 647 Ishan Ch Chakravarts, 149 Ichan Ch Das is Garth, 167 Ishan Ch Kalla is Dinimath, 783 Islan Moschi er (1 1 m) ress, 556 Ishn Terstad 286 Ishwar Ch. Ohosal, 83, 224 Israil Routhe, 811 Ivrail to 1 mp 1021 Isree Prosad Singh is Sham 5 122 Isser Ch. Mondle is Kohim Shekh 405 Irser Ch Raut 13 Kahkumar, 346, 397 Itnaree Dome, 353 Jadulal Sahar 277 Jadu & ors., 491 Jadu Sandan Singh 286, 709 711 712 Jadunandan & Pimp Jaduneth Shah, 404 Jafar Mondol is Jaribullah 101 106 Jaffir Ali 127 lagalondhu Chowdhurs is Abdul Sovan Johur Mall, 754 Sarkar, 1031 Jagabandhu Karmakar, 5 lacannath 574 Jagannath Swami 15 Monkvam 1016 Joshi Vesam, 739 Jagat Ch Mazumdar 15 & Pup., 284 280, Josepomer Bundhoolal, 508 Jagat Narain 18 K Pmp 103 Jagan Ahir 18 Maris Shukol 162, 795 Jagomohon Pal 18 Ramkumar, 647 Jagoat Koeri 18 K Pmp, 68 Jagroshan Bharthi 15 Madon Pande, 1009 Jaharlal 15 Jaggumal,

Inavet Mits Mohen Singh, 285

Jainarain Rai, 216 Just Shahoo is Bheekon Roy, 661 Jaja Purmunick, 449 Jalit 127 Jamal Ahmed, 385 ames Hastings, In re , 68 69 aminaddi Marah 15 Fmp , 449, 453, 622 Jamini Mullick, 753 Janu Manght, 166 Janakidas Guru Sitarum, In re., 303, 310 Janakinath Rov vs Q I'mpress, 177 anardan Thakur, 281 Jarip Gazi is Pmp, 778 atra Sheakh 15 Reazat, 299, 366 Javanti Kumar Mukeriee vs Middleton, Jay Kissen Makerjee, In te , 185 Jay I rokas Lal, In re , 102, 104, 105 Jaykissen Mukerjee, 641 D Sntherland, In re , 121 Jawalur, 437 Jeejeelshoy Framji Petit, 321, 516 Jerennalt vs Vas. 698 lethial Hurlochand, 361 Jesa Bhatta, In re , 127

Jettabhai, 244 Jirbu Singh 15 Rutherford, 170 Italan Jahn is Buchin, n77 Ihappoo, Re Jhari Gope 15 1'mp, 1013 Jhardal is 1 mp, 1025 Jharu Jote or Jha, 269, 320 Jharn Lal, 673 Jhingai Singh is Ramprotap, 162 Jhoja Seigh ts Q 1 mp , 112, 121, 130 Jhoja Singh, In re , 130 Jhubboo Mahton, In re , 762, 765, 838, 839 Jimbboo Singh, 591 Hummel Jha is Inthak Mondol, 268, 330 Jebanji Lemji, 107 Jitidal to Jagmohon, 99 irtu Maya, 217, 541 Juanji Adamji, In rc 873 Jogendrafal Mukerjee, 5 262 Jogendranath Mukerjee 328 Joggendranath Rai ts Abu Sheik, 173 Joggessar Ghosh, 335, 441 Joghi Kannican is Emp Joseph 13 Pmp, 715, 718 Josephan Ghoch, 217, 218 John Subarna is K 1 mp , 303 Johnreddin Sarker is k I'mp, 779 708, 804 orga Preham 401, 835 Jennulgada Venkatravudu, 195 Josoda Nand 144 Joyda Parmanick, 494 Joskuru Singh is Man Patrick, 660 Jonndee Parmunick, 438 Joytindranath Daw, 311, 653 Judoq Mussalmanee, 729 Juggut Chunder Chukravarts, In re . 123. Jugol Kishore Koeri vs Abdul Karim, 386 Isotis Chunder Mookeriee, 534 Kachalı Harı 15 Q Empress, 534, 764 Kada Valad Atur, 655 Kader Batcha, 189, 190 Kader Bux Khan vs Musstt Pussehoon 155a 783 Kadambini Debi, 315 Kulas Ch Pal vs Pmperor, 354, 361, 370 ", vs knnjn Bear, 181 "Sen vs Ramial, 139, 150 Kurmi vs Fmp, 305 Prosad Varman vs Emp, 355 ,, .,

Kaka vs Q, Pmp, 771
Kalachand Sarkar, 437
Kalai Haldar vs Pmperor, 113

" Dasst vs Durga Ch , 728

, Lal, 286 , Mukerjee, 363

Kalat Haldar vs Pmperor, 113 vs Kala Chowkidar, 60 Kali Ch Ghosh vs Pmp, 799, 803 xlnKalı Das Mitter, 244 Kalikant Roy Chowdhury, In re , 769 Kali Kissen Tagore, 166 Kalikissen Tagore, 15 Anand Chunder, 187 Kalı Kristo Thakur 13 Gholam Mi, 165, 177 Kahmohon Kar, 143 Kah Muddally, 796, 803 Kahmuthu vs Fmp, 650 Kahprosad Mulnsal vs Q Imp, 371 kah Singh vs Fmp, 290 Kallu, 723 Kalubhai Meghabhai, 599 Kalu Doson, 598 Kalugaya Bantah 294, 333 Kalu Mann vs Emp. 1021 Kalyan Singh, In re, 324, 326 Kamal Bhusan Chowdhury, 118 Kanal Bunsan Choose Kamal Sunya (647, 669) Kamal Narum vs Rajah Joundrawath, 161 Khanur, 161 re, 1658 Kamal Linnathan Chetti, 514 Khanur, 161 re, 1658 Fupp, 1021 Khamil Sheikh vs. Pupp, 647 Kamini Bourini, 516
Kamini Bourini, 516
Kaminiha Prosad vs Emp, 1029
Kaniraddin Dar vs Sonitan Mondal, 547
Kamunanath Jha, 794
Kanaga Sabai, 779
Kanaga Sabai, 779
Kanaga Sabai, 848 Kananilah, 715 Kanchabi Garbi, 710 Kanchan Gorhi, 309 Kanchan Mulick, 613 Kandaswami Chetty, 295 Kandaswami Goundon, 473 Tengah Sa.dar, 675 Kanhookatam Kunhammed vs Tmp, 99 Kanihalal vs Enperor, 267
Kanihalal vs Ehsgwan Das, 1016 kaniz Anuna s K Imp, 160
kanih Ram vs Crown, 761
Kansee Shekh, 527 Kansee Suekn, 52/ Kauta Ram, 6 Karim Bux vs Crown, 1034 Karim Bux, 278 Karımuddı vs Naimuddi, 179 Kariyappa, In re , 146, 833 Kariyappana Nadan vs Chariman, Madura M pality, 410 Karappana Pollar, 629, 637 Karuthan Ambalam, 81 Karuha Swam Serva, In re., 1920
Kasu Chandra Chakravarty vs \lar
Mahammad, 151, 159
Kashi Chunder Das vs Harkishore, 105
Kashi Nath Pillai vs Shamrugar Pillai, Kashi Sundar, 103 Kasim Ali vs Emp , 356, 744 Kasım Pirbhai, In re , 733, 735 Kasımuddı, In re. 548 Kasımuddı 18 Emp. 634 Kasoolal Sajawal, 157 Katras Jharia Coal Co 15 Shibkristo Das, 185 C V Reddy vs Emp, 1017 -

Kedar Buksh Khan, 165

Kaw Them and another as Emp Kedar Bux, 720 Kedar Nath Biswas 13 Adhim Manjhi, 379, 653 Kedarnath Das vs Mobies Chunder, 281, 282 284 Kedarnath Ghosh, 709 Kedarnath Kor, 714 Kedarnath Mal, 139 Kedar Prosonna 18 Laht Mondol, 175 Kent 15 Kent, 1032 Kefatulla vs 1 eruzuddin, 647 Keramat Mi vs 1 mp, 1029 Kesaviya, 726 Keshab Lakshman, In re , 384 Keshab Chandra Roy 13 Akhil, 670, 671 Kesri 15 Mahammad Bux, 304, 375 Kesu, 167 Ketabhor is Queen Bnip, 113 Khairunnisa 15 Basir Ahmed, 1031. Khanda Giri, 111 Klian Maliammad vs Crown, 708 Aman Majimimmad 75 Crown, 708 Kharar vs Konta Rem, 1020 Khizana Panjam, 642 Khazau Chand 25 Crown, 1008 Khazan Singh 15 Kirpan Singh, 276 Khelat Chandra Ghosh vs Tarachurn, 141, 149, 150 Khema Rukhad, In re., 781 Khepurnath Sikdar vs Girish Ch 710 712 Kheraj Mullah os Janab Mullah, 413, 613 Khetramohon Chowringhee, 404 Klumat Singh, 613 Khondker Abdul Basiah, 709 Rhosh Mahammad Sacrar, 168, 166 Khadram Bose vs Fmp, 440 Khudram Bukerge vs Emp, 266 Khusla vs Emp, 1633 Kum Chand vs Devkaran Vulji, 1016 King Emp, vs Abdul Rahim, 267 , Alagari Snami Pathan, 308 .. , Anand Ch Thakur, 461, 468, ., Aygan, 406, 518, 624 819 Basiruddin Mollali, 103, 104, •• 105 Binda Ahir, 1007 Bhola Bhagat, 309 , Bhutnath Ghose, 194, 219. Cludghan Gossain, 458, 468 ,, .. Daulat Kunjara, 195 ,, Tyazuddin, 653 ,, Hinga, 148 ,, ,, vs Jabanulla, 625 ,, Jayram, 427, 832 ,, Jogendra Ghosh .. 534 ,. Karımuddın, 130 ,, ,, Krislinaya 610 , Krishna Arvar, 586 Maung Kha Gvi, Malhar Martand, 267 ,, ,, king himperer s Messerudd n Shikdar, Krishtendra Roy 105 427 Kristo Beliari Das vs I inp. 473 Muniswami Mudaliat, K. Sallandi, In re, 231 Ku Irutullalı 34' 809 Munna 10° 810 kulada kinkar Ros, 160 166 175 Nea Po Bym Kuld p Sahai vs Budban 308 Nga Shwe Lon Kuldip Singh 25 1 mp 1027 Nilkantha '06 452 Kullada Prosad Mozumdar 588 Laimal \ai 11kumaraswann Chetty 514 Largo Sankar 416 605 kundan 15 Crown 1008 Kunderva Lal 200 I urns Ch Hazra 468 Kunhammad Haji 552 676 Rajani Kanto K er 499 kurli pur larambil 18 Gulum Hossa n 500 305 345 39 397 00 5agwa 629 kuppeswami tiyat In re Sakharam 1 an lurans. kusai Mullek 361 832, 833 Rusum Bewa ts Becha Bewa 513 Shakharam 509 kuttiali 15 I ari Marki 378 Thamman a Reddi 386 k Vally Reddy 584 Tirumal Leids 427 h lenlatroidn 764 Vinavati Sarkar 255 Zalım Singli "07 Linoo Slah 99 I bli Singh to Crown 1012 Labli Singh to Nath an Drs 1016 L slen Mandar & Inp Lishore Lal Ray Chowdlury 271 Laclman vs Janla 318 374 325 326 histore Sarkar 99 333 listori Gir ta 1 mij "97 803 Lachman In re 139 147 histori Mohon Bageli ts Haridae I aclini Narayan ts Pinp Bysack 80 Kashordal Roy Inklian Narain Ghosh 264 Lakshman Bor 708 165 187 Lishori Mohon Iramanik 15 krishna I akshiman Govind Nirgule 314 392 778 Behari Basak 1010 List to Mundol 432 Takshmidas Lalji 707 708 Fochai Fakir ts Romes Ch Biswas 165 Kodai Kahar 233 330 Lakshmidas Narainji In re 83 85 Lakshminarasappa 652 654 658 670 Lalanandu Pal 218 kokil Ghosh 13 kusimuddi 396 397 kolasl un Bibee 14 Steikh Dedar 729 kolka kocr 14 Muneswar Tewari 185 Lalan Missir vs Ram Ricchie 1011 I ala Ojha vs Emp 624 I alchand 216 540 Kompella Anantram Assya 280 kopalı kotrasya 650 Jaldhari Singh ts Suldeo Narain 169 k I arameshwaram Nambudra Kopella Anantia Ramasja 25 Chikatin Laht Charan Neogi vs farini Prosad Tukkadu 286 karuthani Ambalam In re Lalt Mohon Motra vs Surva Kanto Karapaltu Monappa 375 270 795 Korban Mollah as Rajah Srmati 168 Laht Mohon Shah vs Chandra Mohon Lotayya 379 407 412 Kotten Hompanna 516 K. Rang Reeds 25 F : persy 190 Lalit Mohon vs Surya Late Gone vs Guidhart 291 Krishnadhon Mondal 584 804 622 Inlu In re 871 Krishnagovind Dutt 706 Lal Vahmud Sheikh vs Satcourie 387 Krishnaji landurang Jos lekar 508 Krishna Kamini vs Abdul Jabbar 168 169 170 172 177 I al Mohon Mondol 753 797 167 Langadole Balukole 725 Langridge 245 Laraite vs Ramdial 735 I rishnamachariar 13 Shaw Wallace 247 Krishnamohon Vysack 647 Laxaman Rangu Rangaru 779 781 I uzman Ranger In re, 780 781 Krisl namonee vs 1 mperor 222 Krishnananda Das vs Hari Bera 284 Ledgard vs Ball 795 Krishna Pillai vs Krisl na Konan 286 Lee vs Adhicary 237, 263 I egal Remembrancer vs Amalya Dwan 362 Lrislina Reddy 283 325 617 brishna Reddy vs Subbanna 653 655 Jegal Renembrancer vs Bhairab Ch Kr shua Swami Ayyar 731, Tegal Remembrancer vs Jafar Raki 1009 Lillas vs Imp $30 legal Remembrancer vs Lalt Molon

Single 213

Thatabari 115

1029

Legal Remembrancer is Jularam Barodia, 604

Lein 1u vs Queen Emp Leong Mon as Tchun Chun, 159 Liaquat Hossain, 725 Lie Tien is Queen Emp, 841 I. M Ismail is Emp, 1027 Lockely vs K Emp, 398, 399

Loka Mahton as Lan Singh, 1011

Lokenath Shah Choudhur, vs Biswas, 185

Lopotee Domne 15 Thika Moolee, 728, Mahammadi Mollah, 157 730, 737 Mahammadi Sheikh 15 Ah Sheikh, 100

Tower Santal us Kah Charan, 175 Lakhe, Naram Banerjee us Ram Kmmar, Maharaj Misser, 370 193, 140, 162 187 Maharaj Misser, 370 Maharaj Misser, 380 Gost of 139, 140, 152 187 Lukhee Naram Ghosh 25 Imperor, 873

Lyme vs Crown, 463, 491, 832

M Macdonald 15 Riddell, 650 Machall vs Martu, 799 Mackenzie vs Sher Bahadoor, 178 Madad Ah Khan, 441 Madan Mondol vs Haran Ghosh, 599 Madapusi Srimivasa Aivengar, 76, 81 Madar, 433 Madari Sildar vs Emp 1013 Madayarayachar as Subha Rau, 810 Maddeia Ramanujamma, Re, Maddu Venkayya, 734 Madhab Chi lanti vs Martin, 173

Madho Chran, 199 Madho Dhobi, 54
Madholal vs Juglal, 168
Madholal vs Juglal, 168
Madhuadan Das, 666
Madura Mathu Varman 297, 501 Magistrate of Bustee, 494 Mahadaji Sadasiya Tilak, In re,

Mahadeo Kunwar vs Bishu, 106,

Mahadeo Sing 15 Ouen Emp., 308
Mahadeo Tenari, 388
Mahadeo Tenari, 388
Mahadao Tenari, 388
Mahadao Tenari, 381
Mahaganan Valadi Vahoba, 331
Mahaganan Waladi Vahoba, 331
Mahaganan Mahagan Mahammad 11 Crown, 1015 Mahammad Abdul Bars, 124

Mahammad Abdul Hadi, 233
Mahammad Abdul Hadi, 233
Mahammad Mabdul Hadi, 231, 252, 253, 254
Mahammad Mudul Memuron, 311, 653, 661
Manpihi vs Manik, 887
Mahammad Alid At vs Ludden Shaba, Mahammad Alim 13 Shekh Ah, 378
Mahammad Alim 14 Shekh Ah, 378 Mahammad Abdul Hadi, 333

Legal Remembrancer 13 Mozam Mollab, Mahammad Chouse Rahousa Saheb 13 91 Authu Vellabp, 29 Legal Remembrancer 12 Srish Ch. Roy, Mahammad Hayat Malla 25 Prap. 1025 Mahammad Hossam 15 Puperor, 412 500

Mahammad Ibrahim, 708 Mahammad Idris 15 Crown, 1030 Mahammad Ismail 15, Laizuddi, 513 Mahammad Musaliar 15, Kunji Chek,

Mahammad Yashin, 608 Mohammad Yunns 15 Emp, 134, 446,

417, 419 Lokenath Patro 25 Sannyasi, 305, 311, Vahammad Ynsufuddin, 54, 73, 241. Mahammad Zacharia 15 Almied, 83, 85 Nedu Mahammad Zamiruddin 15 K I'mp, 638 Mahammadi Kanni Rowther, 515

Bengal, 182

Maharaj lewars vs Har Charan Ras, 162, 183, 647

Maharata of Burdwan vs Chairman, Darjeeling Municipality, 189 Maharana Sri Jaswal Singh, 139, 144 Mahatan Darku, 402 Maha Singh vs Mangal Khandu, 387, 830,

831, 632 Malila ts Pmp, 1023 Mahuban vs Takir Bus, 734, 735

Maint Missir vs Pmp, 1015 Makaral Daffadars, 333'
Makin vs Attorney General of N S

Wales 618, 819, 843 Maktab Bibi, 730, Malan vs Queen Emp, 611 Malappa, 434 Malappa Reddi, 5, 195 Malgonda, 448 Mallay vs Emp, Mailay vs. 11mp,

Malony, 248
Milthy, In rc, 697
Malta Gope vs. Fup., 1018
147, Manavala Chetti, 349, 382
Mangal Chand vs. Makhan Goala, 1020
Mangal Singli, 26, 325, 382
Mangal Div. St. Zimp, 448
Mangal Div. St. Zimp, 448

Manik Fan, 38, 73 Manik Fan, 38, 73 Manindra Ch Nundy vs Baroda, 166 Manipur Dev, 139 Manjava, 297

Mahammad Biakku, 711, 712
Mahammad Biakku, 711, 712
Mahammad Prashad VI Khan vs Sarada Va On Khu vs N K Firm, 1030
Maral Jaj

Marakkel vs Kandappa, 731,

Mohessar is Kondaya, 542

Mare Gond, 131 Mariam I ewa, 647, 676 Mari Nalvar, 842 Marivalavam, 450 Markandar Gen Iv . s 12mp 574 Maruthamatha Vanion, In re , 838 Martindale 1 1 mp , 1029 Maruthanatha Kudamban s Imp 1014 Voloro Singh, 618
Marutha Vithin In rc 1027 Volonto Dey Das 803
Matabar Molla s Calam Jarijaton, 1010
Mataka Misser s Imp 44 Monten Malita, 100 Mata Pereliad 804 Mathu Kumara Swami Lillar 206 Matlura Prosat as Imp 708 Vesthur Ch Has In re 147, 149 Mathur Nath Chakravarti In re 506 Matiram Shahoo , s Motilal, 139 Matukdhari & Hari Rallav 150 Mung Ra Chit & Rmp 1024 Mang Hia Mang & Lmp 1031 Mang kai la ta Wa Hun In 1031 Mang, Mank & Anr & Mang Io Yon, Yaung Io : Maung Clut Pvu 1011 Maung to A yang Jink Sugh 1016
Maung to Pint as Maung Ivu
Maung to Pint as Mala Mai 1002
Maung Son Pa s Mala Na Via 1004
Maung Shaw lie as Mala Na Via 1000
Maung Tha Daw as U. Io Numi 1020
Maung Tha Daw as U. Io Numi 1020
Matter Market Mauthia Moopon 392. Mazhar M . s I mperor 119 502 Meenatchimmal is Muthuswami Lillar, 1031 Meera s Pmp 1033 Meherlan Hossain, 310
Meher Khan 13 Mest Blinkt Bliari 1024
Meher Shakh 13 Emp, 1018
Meher Chirach 19in 13 Crown 105 837
Melauuddi 13 Taripullali 663
Mengra Budhia 456 Menon as Krishnon Navar, 1020 Messrs W A Beardsill & Co., 285 Mian Jan 18 Abdul, 77 Milan Lhalifa to Dwarkanath 34 Milan Khan ts Sagar Bepari, 613 Milan Khani 13 Sigai Applat, 605
Milar k Rapardra, 170, 185 187 and 1007
Mir Ahwad Howsan or Mil Askari, 261, Micsamat Guljama vi Gaddo, 728
305 310 724 392, 492, 542, 582, 583, Micsamat Jamodi vi Gaddo, 728
589, 652, 653, 661
Mir Dhunno vi Brown, 174, 191
1021 Mir Tilawan vs K. Pmp , 398 502 Misrilal vs Lachmi Narain, 623 Mitchell vs Joggessor Baba 592, 780, 781 Mithig Khan, In re 115 Mitirapt Singh as K Pmp, 398 M M Khan vs Emp, 1015 Moleckar Ch Mukerice, 102 Modhu Sudan Chakravarty, In re , 44 Moghul Beg, In re, 670 Mchendra Bhunji 28 Pmp, 593, 594 Mohendra Nath Misser, 534 Moliendra Suigh 795

Mohes Ch Shah In rc , 523 809

Mohim Ch Nath Bhowmick to Binp, 1026 Mohimmolion Chowdhury os Harendra Chowdhury, 630 784 876 Molummohon Ghosh, 622 Mohiuddin Abdul Kader is 1 mp , 499 Monimokou Mondol, 652 Moslem Mondol vs 1 mp , 1032 Motharam Dovay & an other, In the matter of 598 Motifal Gliosli 759 Metilal Harkovind 176 Motiram, 51J Mouli Derzi 200 Moula 13 Crown, 324 Moul Single 13 Mahabir 268 269 320, 653, 659 Multi Bena 15 Jhotu Santra 386 Mukund Babu Vatha In re 54 Mukund Singh ts Timp Mulfar Mr Sheilft 282 Mulka 730 Municipal Commissioners, vs Maliammad Vb. 144 Municipal Commissioners, Madras us Major Bell, 295 Municipal Committee of Dacca us Hin gooraj In rc , 604 Muni Kantisirajavaji is Bai Lafavati, 1031 Muniruddin Sarcar, 311 Munna 270 Monnalal 441 Munna lewari ts Chandraball, 1010 Munshi Bux, In re , 363 Munshi Issar 262 Mmishe Shakh, In re , 217, 908 539 Murray vs Queen Pmp, 513 Musai Singh vs Pnip, 354, 830 Mussamat Durgi vs Secretary of State, Mussamat Gulam Jammat 15 Crown, Mussamat Ghasita vs Crown Mussamat Hakim Debi vs Shan Singh Mussamat Jesmut vs Shoojat Ali, 730 Mussamat Jowahir, 244 Mussamat Nanbati vs Crown, 1006 Mussamat Somree vs Jitun Sonar, 729 Mussamat Salieb Koer 655 Mussamat Sharfaraz Begum vs Miran Baksh 1031 Mathia Chetty, 333 661 Muthialu Chetty vs. Bepun Saib, 157, 160 Muthialu Pillai, 277 Mohed Ch Baierrec, 1n re, 264, 586 752 Muthia Moopan, 1n re, 103 587, 745, 746 Woles Ch Kapah vs Mohes Chandra, Muthia Shaikh vs Finp, 514 488 Muthio Swaini Lar 223 Matha Kumara Swami Amar, 644 Molies Sowar vs Naravan Bag, 166, 170 Matha Lumara Swami Pillai, 452

Muthuswami Servai Garon os Tharugam Netai Laskar 25 Queen Emp, mal Ayyar, 1011

350 Mutty lai Ghosh, In re, 711, 716

N.

Nabhu Khan, 122 Nabi Shah In re . 642 Nabu Sardar, 133 Nadharyia Hollia, 372 Nafar Ch Pal, 553 Nafar Sheikh is Imp, 610, 611 Nagappa is Sied Badruddin, 178

Nagendra Nath Nath vs Lopal Sardar, Norkoo, 605, 827, 1022 Nageshappa Pat. 648 Nagireddy Konda Peddy vs K Pmp,

108, 810 Nur Sen, 121 Nakhi Lal Jha vs Queen Fmp, 129, 130 Nursing Narain, In 10, 107 Nahm Kanto Laha, 281 Nallun Chenchia vs. L. Emp, 371, 660 Nanaji Valad Sadhu, 402

Nanda Kumar Sarcar vs 1 mp, 355 Nandalai Vasak vs N N Mitter, 294 Nannoram Goenka vs Phulchand Jay puria, 1017

Nantamram Uttamram, 638 639 Narata, 499 Narain, In te, 441

Naram Chand, Shiv Chand, In re. 278, 287 Narain Ch Baperjee 25 Howrah Mups Onen 25, Warburton, 463
Narain Ch Baperjee 25 Howrah Mups Onullah 25 Beni Madhab Chowdhury, cipality, 800 Narain Charya vs Emp, 458 Narain Das vs Crown, 435 Naram Das, In re , 471, 832 Naram Govinda us Vesau, 784 Naram Meher vs Dhana Meher, 1030

Narain Mudally, 400, 839 Narain Navan, Re Narain Pendshe, In re, 741 Narain Prosad Nigum Re Narain Subodhee, Re , 122, 127

Naram Swami Naicken, Re Narasayah vs Venkiah, 1011 Narasinha, In re , 143, 146, 149, 150 Narasinha Shankar Deshpande, 225 I arendra Ch Rudra vs Sabarah Bhuva, Pauchanauda Tambiram, 721. 1025 Nasaruddi 15 Akıluddi, 139, 150

Natabar Ghosh 15 Provas Chandra, 554 Pauchu Singh, 379 Natha Singh vs Mest Hannman Koer,

Nathraja Iver. In re . 708 Nathu Mal, In re , 647 Nathu Sonar, 731 Naturaja lyer, 709 Navroji Dadabhai, 229 Nanab Ali Haji 18 Jamah Bibi, 1028 Nawab on Fag to January 2004, 1888 Nawab Singh ts Kokil Singh, 658 Nazimuddin ts Finperor, 587, 622, 670 Nellikel Fdathil Achin, 107 Nepoor Aurat vs. Juras, 733, 735, 736

Newaz Alı 18 Ramballablı, 170 Mutirakal vs. Kovilagatha, 271, 318, 348, Nga Hla U ts Emp, 1024 Nga Nye Gyi ts Emp, 1026 Nibaran Ch 13. Bhuggobutty, 662

Muzaifar Hossam us Mohammad Yakub, Niln adhab Mitter, 3 Nilmoney Poddar us Queen Emp, 34 Nilratan Sen vs. Jogesh, 829, 831. Nirmal Das, 436, 438 Nitva Gonal Palit, Re Nityanand vs Paresh Nath, 165, 166, 174 Nityanand Larmakar, 800

Nijamat Shah as Emperor, 1033 Nizam of Hyderabad vs Jacob, 83 Nizamuddin Khan, 133, 471 Nabin Krislina Mukerjee us

671, 672. N Subayya vs P Ramayya, 151, 676 Nut Bux, 434 Nur Mahammad vs. Aiyesha Bibi, 736

0. Obedar Rahman vs Emp. 1024 Odachi, 732

Ofel Mullah, 456 Ohnblusan Adhicary is Emp., 369 Okhoy, Kumar, In re, 535 Olayet Khan vs K Emp., 613, 670 Oudh Beharee Singh, 444 Emp, 613, 670

Opendranath Ghosh vs Dukhin Bewa. 524, 648, 656

l admanabha Hebbara, In re, 710 Padmanabha, In re, 524, 648, 656 Padmanabha Panji Kaunja, 365, 367 P A Pakir Mahamad vs Emp. 1034 I alakdhari Mahtoon, 127 Palaniandy Pillai, 294

Palamappa Asray vs Emp. 119, 374 Palamappa Villan, 388, Paldeo Koeri vs K Emp., 203

l aliad vs. Crown, 361, 830 l aliandi Goundan vs. Emp., 523, 524 Pampapati Sastri vs. Subba, 282, 284, 285 Panchu Das, 456

Panchu Gazi, 133 Pandhari Nath, In re, 620, 781

Landstrang Govind, 183, 189, 795 Pandstrang Naram, 386 Pandya Najak, In re, 44 Prabhans Pande vs Sheodarshon Singh, 1011 Parameswar Pillat, 627. Parbati Ch Aich vs Queen Emp , 143,

Parbati Ch Bose, In re , 770 Paran Kusum Narasa)a vs Stuart, 61. Laree Kunhammad, In re, 282

Parkas Ch Dutt, 807, 810 l'arsi Hajra ts. Bandhi, 387 l'arsottom Das vs 12mp, 1021 l'arthasarathi Naicken 13 Krishin Swami

Ayyar, 1020 Pasupati Nath Bose 18 Nandalal, 187. Pasuvathia Pillai, In re., 1007 Patala Atchamma, 729 Patal Mulphhai, In re., 1014 Pattikadan Umaro, 367, 705

l'edda Siva Reddi, In rc., 111, 120 Pulm Behary Das, 260, 36 l'eerun 13 I teld, 821 l'endvala Subbaravadn 15 Guth Vada Pulsank, Reddi, 370, 836

Goppavia, 1015 Pereira ts Demello, 1920 Perumala 15 Navam, 831

Petumber Jugi 13, Nasaruddi, 141, 149, Purna Ch Kundu vs Emp., 60 150

Phagu Sahu 15 Pmperor, 261, 305 Phanindra Singh vs Properor, 708 Pheku Jha 13, Queen Emp, 597, 599 Phoolmen 13 Satram, 29 Liari Pal tr Sagor Mal, 1028

I'stl: Singli, 138, 156 Littri Chand Lal, 333

I'nllard, In re , 721 Ponnakeots Mudaliar to The King, 450

l'onnavee, 729 Ponnusami Chetty, 506, 752 Ponnuswami Goundon In re 1016

Ponnuswami Odavar, 374 I onnuswam: Nadan, 521, 522, 595 Porbathan, 736

Poresh Nath Sarcar 15 Emp. 342, 344, 672, 836

Porno Ranchod, 319 Pournamal, in re., 674 Prablist Chandra Chatterjee, 783 Prablin Dhal vs Rami, 736

Pramatha Nath Barat, 670 Prankrishna Saha 13 Emp. 118

Pravag Dutt, 786 Pravag Mahaton vs Govind Mahton, 177, Prayag Singh vs Fazool Hossam, 176, Premchand Manicklal, In re, 278

Premchand vs Dharam Das, 161 Prestong Dinshaw vs Ha p', 644 Queen Hap vs A. Morton, 295 Priyanath Dey vs Gobordhone, 143, 148, Queen Pmp vs Anant Puranik, 288 149, 150

Profulla Chandra Sen, 350 Prokas Ch Dutt, 14

Pronkhang, 224 Prosonna De & others, 718

Prosonna Kumar Chatterjee vs Emperor,

Protap Ch Mukerjee vs Emp. 693 "Bajoo Chowdhurj Protap Naram Singh vs Rajendra Naram, Oncen vs Bajoo Lal, 281, 710 Queen Hmp vs Bai Rukmun, 297.

Public Prosecutor vs Abdul Hamid, 446, Queen vs Baklear Marfaraj, 639 461.

Public Prosecutor is Bongin Pottigadu, Public Prosecutor 15 Chockalingam Amba-

lam, 1033 Public Prosecutor 15 Kadim Koya, 354,

Public Prosecutor vs Ponnuswami Nayak,

Public Prosecutor as, Ratnavelu Chetty,

1014 Pulm Beliary Das, 260, 302 Pulm Tanta 15 Emp , 213, 215

Punjab Singli, 407, 412, 537, 551, 836

Purna Ch Banerjee, 779 Purna Ch Ghosh, 5.

Purnadeo Narain Singh, 247 Persaram Borrook Re Purushottam Vanama, 202 lutiramrındas vs Mahaumad Kasem, 284, 285 Puttaswami, 509

l iran, 248 Puttaswamiv Anandappa, 425, 445 l iriai, 247 P. Varadwaja Naodu, 289 l P. Varadwaja Naodu, 289 l P. de Ramianna, In re., 774, 778 l'uttaswamy \nandappa, 425, 445

Quaryum Alı vs Fazl Alı, 604 Queen Emp, vs Abbi Reddi, 820 " Abdullah Saheb 726 •• .. .. .. Abdul Latif, 247

.. Abdul Quader, 120 Abdul Rahiman, 623 .. ** .. .. ** •• Abdul Razzak Khan. .. ,, 266

Abraham Umar, .. .. ... Adam Khan, 311, ** . Alimadi, 321, 330, 516 Ahmed, 592, 780, 781 Ala Buksh, 604, 673, 21 .. . .. .. ** ..

Alaga Kone, 218
Allan, 799
Altar Alı, 514
Amar Singh Jetha, 55 .. .. .. ... •• ,, Amanullah, 219, 436 Queen vs. Amir Khan, 462, 654, 801

Queen vs Amiruddin, 470 Queen Emp vs Anganj, 523 Queen Emp vs Anga Valayam, 828

Queen vs Anta Alı, 540, 823, 830, 833 Promotha Bhusan vs Durga Charan, 170 Queen Emp vs. Appa Subbana Mendre, Promotha Nath Banerice, 502 364, 365, 367, 462, 835, 843 Queen Emp vs Appigadu, 203

Arumugam, 451 Assanoollah, 439

Babaji, 297 Babnial, 220 Baijoo Chowdhury, 431. .. ... •• ...

Queen Emp vs Baku, 255

```
Queen Emp vs. Balasınnatabı, 652, 654, Queen Emp vs. Chunder Bhuttacharya, 655
                                                                                                                                434
                                                                                       Queen 25 Chutterdhari Singh, 444
                                   Baldeo, 453
                  ..
                            ..
                                  Bal Gangadhar Tilak, Queen Emp vs Croft, 585, 588.
                                                                                                                           Dada Ana, 460
Dalip, 53, 57, 58, 72
Daya Bhima, 255
Dan Sami Dada, 627.
                                       288, 294
                                                                                                                     ..
                                    Balkrishna Vithal, 297
                             " Balwant, 674
                                                                                              ,,
 Queen vs Barda Ali, 627
Queen Emp vs Bankhandi, 320, 429, 742
                                                                                                          .,
                                                                                                                     ••
                                                                                              ..
                                                                                                          ••
                                                                                                                     ••
                                                                                                                            Deodhar Singh, 646
                                                                                                          ••
                                                                                                                     **
                                                                                                                            Deokinandan, 297
Dhananjas Choudhurs,
  Oueen vs Banomaly Sahu, 195
                                                                                              ..
  Queen Pmp us Bans Panja, 34
                                   Basappa, 409, 820, 832,
Barton, 2
                             **
                                                                                                                    as Chandra Goela, 521, 522
                                                                                         Oueen Emp
        ,,
                    ,,
                              **
                              , Basantlal 57
                                                                                                                            Dolegovind Das, 392
                                                                                              ••
                                                                                                                     ..
                                                                                                          ..
                                                                                                                     " Dora Jisa, 434
Doraswan i Aisar, 435,
                              .. Basavanta, 433
                                                                                              ..
                                                                                                          ..
                             , Basir Khan, 809
                                                                                              ..
                                                                                                                     "Durga, 320, 391, 429, 494,
                    ..
                             " Bastieno, 427
        ••
                    ,,
                                                                               497,
                                                                                        S52, 742
Queen vs Durga Ch Shome, 827
Durjodhan Samanta, 605
                              " Bebbeki Pathak,
  Queen vs Beeju Lal, 286
Behari Lal Bose, 483
                                                                                         " " Dwarka Nath Dutt, 590
" " Fdwards, 803
" " Fllalice Buv, 488, 619, 620, 622
Queen I mp vs Erram Reddi, 586
                   " Behari Singh, 53, 61, 201
         ..
                   " Belat Alı, 434
         ..
    ", Bepin Biswas, 434, 453 456
Queen Emp vs Bhairab Ch Chakravarts
                                                                                                                       , Falirappa, 359, 360, 361, 201, 214, 218, 447, 449

""

"Bharma 364

""

"Bharmatappa 434, 436

""

"Blau, 272, 334, 493
                                                                                                           ..
                                                                                                                       " Fatteli Bilinder, 870, 872
" Fattali Chand, 778, 780
          ..
                                                                                                             **
                                                                                                ,,
                                                                                                            .,
                                                                                                                       , Fox, 552
                                                                                                **
                                                                                                             .
                             " Bhima, 212
" Bhimappa, 553, 649, 619
                                                                                                                       " Gadat Raut, 552
          .
                                                                                                ••
                                                                                                            **
    Queen vs Bholanath Sen, 268, 650, 869
Bhoobon Molum De, 765,
                                                                                          " " Ganspatin, 418
" Ganspate Varimanar, 827
" Gansch Sarcar, 822
" Gangachuru, 488, 491
" Gangaratu, 285
Queen vs Ganga Singh, 834
     Queen Emp vs Bhujpal, 547
     Queen vs Bhuttan Rajwar, 433
     Queen vs Bhuttan Kajwar,  Queen vs Ganga Suign, or Queen vs Bothuit Bhusan, 617 Queen vs Ganga Suign, or Queen vs Byro Das, 493 Queen Rmp vs Bustam Valap, 194, 218, Queen Rmp vs Gaystra Prosonno Ghosal, 232 Lth 200, 202
      | Queen trip vs | December 223, 840, 830, 833 | 759, 755, 893 |
| Queen trip Bisoconath Pal, 827, 650, 833 | Queen trip vs Ginfrys, 432, 433, 449 |
| Recambber Das, 765 | Recamb
      " " Biswambhar Das, 765
" Bowka Hari, 497
Queen Emp vs Brij Narain Man, 334, Queen vs, Giridhari Manjhi, 432
                                                                                                            , Girish Ch Ghosh 809
             493
                                                                                             Queen Emp vs Gobind Ch Drs, 165, 173
       Queen Emp vs Burke, 758, 769
                                                                                                                                    178, 181
      Queen vi Buzi Ah, 406

", Bushmo Anen, 471

", Bykunthanath Banerjee, 453
                                                                                                                              Gobordhon, 452, 454, 616, 636
                                                                                                                         " Gopal Goundan, 838
       Queen Emp Js. Chagan Dayram, 649,
                                                                                                   ,,
                                                                                                   ..
                                                                                                               .
                                                                                                                          , Gordon, 347
              672
                                                                                                                         " Govinda, 580
                                                                                                   .,
                                    .. Chand Khan, 593
                                                                                                                         " Govinda Pillat, 297
" Gundya, 26, 288, 331
                                                                                                               ,,
                                    " Chandra Bhurya, 331, 370
                                              838, 839
                                                                                                                                    406, 518
                                    "Chandra Goela, 521, 522
Changan Jagannath, 628
Chattradhari Goela, 615
                                                                                                                         " Gustadji Burjoyi, 3 ٠.
                                                                                                               ,,
              ••
                          ٠,
                                                                                              Queen vs Handsley, 799
                                                                                                                          .. G W Havfield, 429
              ..
                          ••
                                    ,, Chanchaya, 380
              ..
                                                                                              Queen Emp vs Hanma, 627
                                    Chenchi Reddi, 873, 879
              ..
                                                                                                                          " Hammantin Reddi, 657
                                                                                                    .,
                                    , Cheria Koya, 2
         Queen ts Cheyt Ram, 418, 419, 699
                                                                                                                                Haradhon, 643
                                                                                                    ,,
                                                                                                                          ..
                                                                                                                                Har Chandra Chow-Queen Pmpress us Chidda, 817.
                                                                                                                          **
                                                                                                                               dhury, 770
Har Govind Singh, 329,
                                    " Chunna Paruchin, 420, Queen vs Chinna Vedagiri Setlu, 718
                                                                                                                                     539, 543, 837
                         , Choto Hurry Pramanick Tanti.
                                                                                                                          , Harı, 579, 580
, Harılal, 145
                                                                                                    **
                                                                                                                 ,,
          Queen Emp. 18 Chotu, 603, 653
                                                                                              Queen vs. Harr Prosad Ganguly, 549
```

	All All
Queen Ing s Hart wa 598	Queen I mp 18   krishini hat   434   456   660   842
Harmath Gul v 574	660 812
Curen a marnix le Cli Ci il 648 618	Krishnagovin la Das 6
670 644 843	kti lina un lat Del 34
Oreculat a Hasin 655	Queen ts Kn to Ch (loh 801 Kn to Dh la 327 500
Hand other than 201 214	Kn to Dh la 327 500
Ibralal Drs 849
He san talu 585 815	Queen I my s Kuji javar 169
II am Hap 458	Kuj pom tlu l illai 800
Opera Hora Stat 441	Luili 271
Queen Imp 3 It am Ma kIm 8.89 Imm V n l 1 1-4 6-3	I a limi Kant 627
Imm V n1 1 1-4 653	Queen lip s lalt levara 50
In Iraj t 404	In ISIn 840
Queen Itglata 716	Lakhi la Makhan Das
Unen Int 413 445 Queen Int a Hwar Ch Ser 9" 115	145 159
It (-S	Iaklijat 124 385 Iaklijassa Ianlaran
I tr I aut 5 %	395 4 0 503
Jalanulla 584 61 C-1	I 1 karı 524 648 656
רבו ניו	( man a 1 70
J1 1 757 758 76	In hn prosal 45°
Jalah 19 414 417 417 414	rueca i mj to 1/1 1/1 R 459 461
Lucen 3 Juliar 11 46 558 605 615	311 13 744
Queen Ing a Jant Cl VIII - UI	Valial r 43 433 454
439 493 494	Valialat ildin 787 Valianna i Humavui
Queen s Jagrus 434	Shah 457 549
Jainri Ri 540	Maint I am to I for
Queen Ing s Jaram Harllas 605	Kl 111 497
8.3 Juc II. 89 891	Maikulal 433 454
822	Malin illin 580 676 Malin 838 899
1 rull: 443 445	Vialu 32 33
12 km ht ( 1211 458	Manaj 7
Jc.x1 436	Mangal Tekel and 795
J van 585	108
j ken ira Nati Mukerjee 68 70 232	Mai ck Ch Shrear 494 Manmol on Lal 770
T or satt 400	Mannu 208 234 235
J 1 rt Sugh 408 412 J tr Rajtak 777 Queen s Kala Chan l Das 453	Maru 840
] ti Raji ak 777	Matal lal 710
Queen s Kala Chan l Day 453	Queen s Vintanilal 172
Kalı Clı Slalı 174	Queen Ing vs Matilal Lahre 341 Meagun Sheikle 459
Ouecn I'np ts Kallu 491 Ouecn ts Kamm Das 1, 764	Meakhan 586
Queen Lip s Katajja Lillin 308 310	Moltima Chi Chakra
Kan lajja 8)	varty 375
Queen 3 Kanjamal Lalavich 658	Mohunt of Lirupati 85
Queen Ing is Karamili 663 669	M jahar Rahn an 468
Karana lda 648 Karagowda 295 603 617	Mona Punna 112 121 130 442
Karu ( 1 60F	Montru Idin Mondol 657
Kasım Slekh 446 549	658 659
Kavemullah 330 335	Monu 837
394	Queen vs Mookta Singh 445
hattay 11 74	Mookun 443
Natha Perun al 255 Kedar Nath 150 154	Queen I mp 28 Mootket Kora 34 Morton 82
Klanlı 434	Motin 284
Q een vs Khan Malannad 809	Queen vs Mrs Belil os 800
Queen Fmp 15 Klarga 25	Queen Vs Mrs Belil os 800 Queen Cmp 15 Madun Mun lle 536
hlem 218 hleda Ura 348 366	lingantal 6/2
Klush Ram 141, 149	Mugappa 364 549
150	Mukh lun 725 7°6 Mukun litat 407 412
hirpa! Su gli 740 253	Mi lna 353 360 493
7

```
Queen Limp 13 Munisami, 654, 657, 656 Queen Finp 13, Frivagopal, 524, 648, 656
Queen 15 Murphy, 463, 837

Musst Ilwarya, 590

Musst Mina Nuggerbliatin, l'uran, 311.
                                                        ..
                                                                      ..
                                                                ..
                                                                          Rachappa, 5
                                                                      ,,
                                                        ,,
                                                                ..
                                                                          Raghu, Mahadu, 15
Raghu, 216, 262,
                                                               ..
                                                                      ••
                                                                                                    540, 471, 472
                                                        •
                                                                21
                                                                      ..
                                                                            826, 833
Oucen I'mp 15
                      Muthavva, 74
                 , Mutlee Nushvo, 528, 530
                                                                          Raghunath Das, 357,
          **
                                                                ..
                                                                      .
                    Mutsuddt Lal, 121, 124,
                                                                             509, 823, 832, 833
                 ..
                                                                          Ralum Bux, 127, 771.
                        130, 651
                                                                ..
                                                                      ..
                                                     Oncen 15 Rajecontar Bose, 456, 519
 Oneen vs Nahadwip Chandra, 211
          " Naba Kumar Banerjee, 808
Naba Kristo Ghosh, 456
                                                                   Rajkrishna Mitra, 527.
                                                        ,,
                                                                   Rajnaram Mytee, 115
Ratra, 123, 580, 676
  Oncen Emp as Naga, 434
                                                         ..
                      Nagappa, 714
                  ••
                                                         ..
                      Nageshappa, 673
                                                                   Ramaingam, 441
Raman, 93, 432, 454
     .,
                  ..
                                                         ٠,
                                                               ..
                      Nagla Kala 223
     ..
                                                         ..
                                                               .
                  Name of Sattan, 318, "Ramaswam, 231, 334, 490, 324, 325, 333 Queen Emp 18 Rans Tewan, 272, 334.
     •
      ..
             **
                  , Nanliu, 619
, Naram, 737
                                                                             431, 494
      *
                                                                           Rambaran Singh, 572
Ram Chandra Govind
             ..
                  , Naralla 5
             ..
      ..
                                                                ••
                  , Narayanasami, 17, 595
, Narayan, 145, 147, 153, Harshe, 606, 616, 620, 646, 756, 759, 761, 762, ٠
             .,
             ..
                         214, 433
                                                                              842, 643
                  " Natawan, 254
                                                                                    Chandra Sarcar,
                                                                           Rant
      ..
             ..
                  , Nathu, 97, 104
, Nawaban, 380, 453
                                                                              747
      **
            .,
  Queen 15 Nelson, 255

Nelson, 255

Nelson & Brand, 73, 241

Queen Emp of Nga Tha Moung, 243

Queen 15 Nutheram Bagdee, 452
                                                      Queen 15 Ram Charan Ghosh, 468
                                                      Queen Pup 15 Ram Charman Gross, 400

, Ramde, 820, 621

, Ramgopal Dhor, 456

Queen Pup 15 Ramlal, 415, 472, 832

, Ramsada, Chakravarty, Queen Emp vs Nilmadhab Mitra, 194.
                          223
                                                                              467, 558
                                                                        , Ramsahai, 742
, Ramsahai Lal, 320, 390, Numchand Mookernee.
                                                          ••
                          447
                                                                 **
                    , Nirmal Das, 494
                                                                               429, 430
    Queen vs Nobin Ch Banerjee, 699
                                                       Queen vs Ramsaran, 453
                Nusiruddin, 437
                                                       Queen Emp vs Ramsundar, 255
    Queen Prop vs Obrien, 244
                                                                        .. Ramtabal Singh, 517
                                                          .
                                                                  ..
                        O'Hara, 451, 616, 620, Rangananii, 406
Rangi, 434, 454, 499
                    ..
                                                           ••
                                                                  .
                           645, 843
                                                  836, Queen 15 Rannt Sonthal, 433
                         Patambar Buksh,
                                                        Queen Emp 25 Ratte, 651
                         Palambar Bux, 720
                                                                        , Raza Alı, 123
                     " Paltooa, 420, 435
" Paltoon, 420
" Pandori, 420
" Pandara Tevan, 326
" Paudeh Bhat, 547
                                                           ,,
                                                                  ..
                     ,,
                                                                             Razat Mta, 540
                                                           .,
                                                                  .
                                                                        ..
                                                                        , Riding, 531, 764
                                                           .,
                                                                  ..
        ••
                ,,
                                                                      , Robinson, 603, 616
, Roopgoala, 418 ٠,
                                                                  ..
     Queen vs Parasurama Naika, 321
     Queen vs Parasurama Naika, 321
Queen Emp 1s Pectambar Dhobee, 334, Queen 1s Rungatonee, 718
Rupam Rai, 385
                                                                  , Russockoollah, 537
                          Perbhu, 420
        ..
                ..
                      ..
                                                        Queen Emp is Sadhu Karal, 488, 491,
         ..
                      ..
                          Periatina, 604
                ..
                                                                         .. Sagal Sambal Sagao, 217
                          Perinman, 195
                                                            31
                                                                   ,,
         ••
                ••
                      •
                      , Pershad, 34
Perumai, 840.
                                                                             Sakar, 384, 385
                                                           ٠,
                                                                         ..
         ..
                ٠,
                                                                   ..
                                                                             Salamat Ah, 367
                                                            .
                                                                   ,,
         ..
                ..
                                                                             Samapapt, 212
Samavier, 294
                          Poholi Mulhel, 151
                                                            ..
                                                                   .,
                ..
                      ••
                          Pohpi, 609
Pohp Singh, 764
                .,
                                                            ,,
                                                                   **
                                                                         ..
                                                                             Samı, 416, 470
Samınada Chetty, 202
         ••
                ..
                                                            ..
                                                                         ..
                                                                   ,,
                      , Poranmai, 553
         ..
                .,
                                                            ..
                                                                   ..
                                                                         ••
                      " Potadu, 60
         ..
                ..
                                                            ..
                                                                             Samınadha Pıllaı, 144
                                                                   ,,
                                                                          ••
                      , Prag Dutt, 604, 616
          ..
                ..
                                                                             Sankar, 718
                                                            ,,
                                                                   ,,
                                                                          ..
                      ,, Pratap Ch Baroo, 176
          ..
                ..
                                                           "
                                                                   ,,
                                                                          , Sankaralinga, 203
                      " Pratap Ch Ghosh, 159,
                .
                                                            ,,
                                                                          , Sarat Chandra Rakit.
```

725, 726, 797, 870

```
Queen I'mp 7s Sarkar Jan Mahammad, Queen I'mp 18 Virasami, 425, 509, 796, 382
                                                                804 Schada, 24
                                                              Waris Alt, 347
   ..
                                                              Warmbhan, 610
                  Seodulial Rai, 7
   ..
              ..
                                                           ..
         ..
                                            Queen 15 Womes Chandra Ghosh, 76
                  Secharra, 725
              ..
Queen is Sewa Bliogta, 840
Queen Imp
              7.5
                  Shakir Mi, 329
                                            Queen I'mp 15 Yusuf, 365, 367, 623
                  Shamini, 262
                                                          " Zor Singh, 663
                  Shamsundar Chow
   ..
         ٠.
              ..
                                                                 R, c'hurs, 125
                  Sharn 840
                  Sheikh Beart, 7, 281, Radhaballas Rai .s Benode Behari Roy, 284, 285
                            Meher Chand, kadha kassen, 285
                  Sheikh
                                            Kadhanath Karmokar vs I'mp. 354
                    431
                  Sheikh Mooneah, 34
                                            Kadhe Halwar, 217
                  Sheikh Silieb Badruddin, Radluca Mohen Dass to Hannd Mr, 1014
                    604 672.
                                            Racha Blump +s K I'mp , 440
                                            Raghunath Day is Pup, 60
Kaghanandan Proshad is Pup, 107, 116, Sheodal Mal, 244
                  Sheeslin, 571
                  Shere Singh 663
                                                750 Sludgowda, 407, 412
Sluvaram, 744
                                            Rachunath Pandaram, 809
                  Shivaram, 744
                                            Lauliu Saliai, 178
                                             Kahamat Mi es Imp , 447, 841
                                       299, Kalumadullah, 707
                  Sitanath
                            Mondol.
                    365, 366, 367
                                            Rahim Shekh is I'mp, 425
Rahimuddi is Ashgar Mi, 344
                  Somir Bourt 498
 Oncen s Somaullah 395, 34
Queen Imp es Sri Mobalamatam Jur, km 15 Crown, 1007
                                            Rai Mohon Karmokar, 148
Rai Mohon Rai es Prosonno Chandra, Stanton, 320, 429
                                             Rai Mohon 15 Wise, 175, 182
 Ouecn s Sularna 195
 Oween Imm
               5
                  Sullio Nask 138
                                            Rajah Bahoo 13 Mudon Mohon, 165, 177
Rajah Nasendralal Khan, 752
                  Sullarava, 16, 79,
                                        80, Kajalı Shatvananda Ghosal vs Camper down Co., 140, 149
Raph of Venkatagur 25 Irakapalli, 185
                  Sullaria Pillai, 280,
                  Sulsbarra, 607, 636
                                             Rajani Benode Chakravarty, 200
    **
          •
               **
                  Subramaniva Awar, 753
                                            Rajam Lanto hose 25 Ashan Mullick,
          ..
                  Sudra, 493
                                                454
                                            Rajam Kanto Dutt, 798
                  Sukha, 623
Sundar Singh, 223
               ..
                                            Rajam Kant Panya, 143
Rajam Kant Shah, 745,
               ..
                  Surendra Nath Sarcar,
               ..
                    660 Raja Rao es Prop. 1030
                                            Raj Chunder Mazumdar vs Gourchandra,
 Oueen 15 Sustiram Mondol, 459, 462
 Queen I'mp 15 Tangarela Chetty, 831
                                            Rajcoomar Singli, 675
 Queen ts Larachand Mukerjee, 660
                                            Rajcoomar Singh vs Saliebjada, 153
                                            Rajendra Narain, 118, 185, 191
            farını Churn, 624
 Queen Pmp
                                            Rasendra Natam as Md Argumand, 184
              s Iliaku, 820
                  Thomson, 2
                                             Rajjab Ali, 552
    .,
          ..
               ••
                  Tomijuddi, 191
Tonooram Malee, 34
                                             Rajkumar Dutt, 749
          ,,
               ••
                                             Raj Kumarı Devi, 716
          ..
               ..
                                             Raj Naram Kumuar vs Lala lamoh, 373, Tribem Saln. 503
          .,
                                                389, 401
                   Iribhuban Manick Chand
               .,
                                             Raj Naram Roy as Bhagabat Ch Nundy, 786
 Queen vs Uday Changa, 459
                                                98. 99
         ,, Udlian Bind, 452
                                             Rapprit 15 Deolt, 732, 734
 Queen Pmp
                                             Rai Rajeswari Debi, 315 US
                   Umadas, 311
                   Vajiram, 348 359.
                                             l an Achari, In re
    ••
          ,,
                ,,
                                             Rakal Ch Laha, 534
                   Vasudevayya, 606
    ,,
          ..
                ••
                   Velayudattı, 552
                                             Rakhal Ch Rai, 356
    ..
          ••
                ••
                   Venkataram Jeth,
                                             Rakha vs Crown, 1012
Rakhal Ch Shah, 139
    ٠.
          ,,
                ••
                   Venkataramna, 285
          ••
                ..
                  Venkataswam, 72
Viranna, 519, 522
                                             Rallial Das Singh as Sheo Pershad, 184
               ,,
          ,,
                                             Rakhal Nikari vs Queen Pmp, 672
    ,,
          ..
               ..
                   Viraperumal, 840
                                             Rakhal Rajah vs Khirode Pershad, 628
          ..
```

Rama Myar, 283 Ramatin Latan, 450 Lamalinga O'avar, In re , 1018 Parianadhan Chetty, 158, 161 Ramanand Maliton .5 Kovla, 406 Ramarath Kalapahar, 666 Raman Behari Das & Pmp , 341, 354 Pama-orvial, 278, 725 Rama Vatar Shah, 144 Ramaya Naik, 93 Rambarai Singh 15 Ramprotop Rui, 270, Rambaran Smeh. 130, 101 Rambharas, 311 Ramchandra Boral vs Inandra a. 783, 784 Ram Chandra Chatterjee cs Hamf, 442 Ram Charan Dass as Monohor Das 170, Ram Chandra Chatteriet as Kinhvalaha, 406, 819 Ram Chandra Acharva is Aditio Ch Pal, Fam Chandra Modal, is Pmp, 1005 1020 Ram Chindra Mestry 18 Nobin Mirdha, 785 Randilid vs 1 mo Randm Devidin, 416 Ranica Ch Banerice, 840
Ranica Ch Banerice, 840
Ranica Ch Banerice, 15 Fmp, 94, 471 625 675 Rames Ch Das vs Pmp, 619 Ram Det ts Jhunnt Lal, 1931 Ramgonal, 513 Ram Gopal Goenka ts Naravan Das, 1010 Ramigovind Singli, 745, 746 Ramiraddi, In re 1028 Ramjag Alur - 5 Pmp 1022 Ramjit Sinkh vs Lachman Singh, 156 159 Ramjiyan Rai 28 Durgacharan, 376, 385, Ram Katiali vs Subba Rao 1021 Ramkanto Sarcar .s Jadas, 308 Ram Kissore Ros, 15, 102 Ram Kissore 25 Crown, 514 Ram Krishna Nadan, 744 Rum Krishna Reddi es Emp. 416, 470, Rami Krishna Roy, 270 Ramid Tewari vs Shufaram, 752 Ramloganial, 351 Rammanikya 15 Dhananjay, 356 Ramnath Chowdhurs, 159 Ramprosad ts K Fmp, 118
Ramprosad Vullah, 277
Ramprosad Roy, 278
Ramprosad Roy, 278
Ramprosad Roy, 282
Ramprosad Roy, 693
Ramprosad Roy, 693
Ramprosad Roy, 693 Ram Saday Chakravarty, 605 Ramsylas Ram ts Frop. 586, 592 Ram Samult s Frop. 1016 Ramsaran Pathal, 168 Ramsaran Singh, 71 Ramsaran Singh, 71 Ramsaran Bania, 353

Ramsingh Natoba, 148 Ramsingh, 382 Ramsundar De 13 Ranab Ali, 409, 832. Ramsundar, 324 kamtalial Dosadli, 609 Ramyad Suigh, 399 Ramean Kunjra 15 Ram Khelwan, 627. Ramzan Ali ts Janardan, 168 Ranchod Dwal, 726 Rance Anandamovee 15 Lachman Purshad, 179 Kaneegang Coal Assn 25 Hembal, 175 Ranga Avvar, 718 Rangacharm, 610 Avenuar 15 Narasınlıalu, Rangaswami 178, 615 Rangaswami Goundon, 798 Kangasnami Pillat, Re, Rangbalidur Singh, 798 Rangulam 1eh 18 Pinp., Ranjit, 107 Rappanna Chetty, 780 Rashchari Das 15 Balgopal, 610 Rasbeliarital Mondol, 85, 318, 333 Rasheliari Shali, 649, 662, 670 Rasbehari Singh, 649, 662, 670 Rasbehari Singh, 156, 160 Kasik Chi Chakravarta, 396 Ratto Singh is Kari Singh, 654 Ravalu Kesigadu, 54 Rayn Rann, 514 Ravan Kuth, 5 620 Razai Mai, 216 Reasut 45 Courtney, 579, 676 Keazuddin, 352 Reg ts Abdullah Saheb, 725 Absbullah Ravithan, 499 ... .. Adragadu, 247 .. .. Ahmed Ah. 44 .. .. Ambigaru Hulagu 434 \mrita Govind, 606, 620, 643 •• •• Appanna Subhanna, 346 Bai Ratau, 217 Balwant, 432, 433 Barron, 586 .. .. .. ,, Battı Reddi, 503 ., ., Budhu Nanku, 434, 452, 453 Bylia Valad Surjum, 528, 530 ., ,, Cassidy, 742 Chand Nur, 365, 367 Dalsookram Haribhai, 149, 154 ., ,, ., ., .. Devanna, 653, 677 Deij Dial, 833 .. .. Dinz, 499 ,, •• Fateheliand Vastachand, 620, 742, •• 841, 843 Gajkom Ranu, 821 .. •• Gobindadas Haridas, 350 •• .. Hemanta, 488 Hughes, 54 • .. •• Janakinath Bhattacharva, 144 Kula Karsan, 546. , Kalya, 65 •• Karsoniai, Danatram, 65 ... " Kasınath Durkar, 740 " Lakhva Govind, 246, 247, 367. .. , Lalla Kalwar, 564 , Lallobha Jassubha, 316

kek as Locha Kala 251 Maha Singh, 725 TH Mulion Nama 509 Mullims 453

Natavan Lakaji 55 Naravan Sundar 504

Navr ji Di libbiri 600 618 620 611 Nel en 54

Nualaileta 641 Lalam Chetti 349 Lar lurant, Myral "14 Landu Vin Villi pi 720 larlaty 471 47larsh tam Kelias 295 lars pa 75 le tang lun linn 84t

Rala Naraing 529 Rangivral Jivalral 60% 617 Ran i wami Mulali r 6_0 S48

Rana wami Individu 45. 454 Ramij Jutajias %4 %7 Raiji Sijdaras %4 Slekli Vina Valut Davil 454 Stallart C33

Suttre -55 71 a Thakur Ira 674 728 Waxiliea 1 742

Regina & Gelam Mas 36 Registrar II t. Madras 3 Kodinin 1030

Reid s Richard n 180 672 Reza 11 main 218 541 Kıklıı Rat 385 Ri al Singli i Baljit Singli, 1010 Roghuni Singli 761 764

R himu idi Howladar, 521 Rehmudh tr Queen I'mp 548 836 Ron on Audinkarı 69a Rocke as Invarilal 139

l copial Das 15 Manuk 158 l xra s Pmp 10"7 Roy Omes Ch Sen . s Jehanath 139 R SI handri Re

Ru lolf Stalman, 803 Rutan Smill ts 1 mp. 1025 Rusul Libee, 775

Sahud Mandol 18 Lakshmi Mondol 166 Sachidananda 18 Gopal Aiyangar Sadagopa Chariar 18 Rama Rao 160 Sadagor Chowdhury 18 Emp 10.25 Sadagopa Chariar 18 Raghobs, 208 Sadananda Mondol, 572 88 Sadinanda Mondol, 512
Sadhu Charan Roy 305
Sadhu Charan Roy 305
Sadu Shekh vs Lmp 619 646
Sagal Sambo Sajo 216
Salubdin vs Crown 521
Salubdin vs Crown 521 Sahiram Agarwallah vs Jihan Proshad 277

Saktu Valad Kadır is Ibrahim, 139 Sakya 31 Saligram Singh 771 Salık Roy, 195

Samaruddi ts Emp 117 419 Saml lunath Sarkar as Ramkamal, 409

Saminadha Pillai 111 Samir Khan 255 Samirudden Sarkat us Albaran 331 356 Sami Vannai Nainar ts Panaswami \aidu 1030

Sanatan Bhattacharya te Imp 1025 Sandaram Pandaram 185 Sangh Ratapppa is Imp 101 Sankarlings Mulahar 613 837 Sannasi Audaml an 509

Santiappe Schuram 809
Sarab Dayal ts Bir Singh 1020
Sarab Dayal ts Bir Singh 5arab Dayal ts Bir Singh Sarab Payal ts Bir Singh
Saras Ammal ts Dhanokoti Ammal 10 12

Sarat Ch Matra 689 Sarat Ch Roy es Bepan Ch Roy 15 102 Sarat Ch Shah Choudhury to 1 mp 1 1 Sarbananda Bose ts Pransankar 170 Sardar Ut to Abdul Karım 175 Sardarilal ve Crown 708 Sarjug Proshad Singh to Emp 885 Saroj Kumar Chakravarti vs Emp 1027 Sashi Bhusan Chakravarti 44

Sashi Kumar De ta Sashi Kumar 284

Sashi Rajbanshi ta Emp 456 493 Satis Ch Bose ts Q Lmp 581, 612 602 Satis Ch Mitra, 411 Satis Ch Panday to Rajendranaram, 1~1, 183 270 807

Satis Chandra vs Rajendra, 7 Satis Chandra Ray vs Jodu 72 Satnaram Teon us The Lmp , 212 3fl, ქან

Satnafain Tewari 222, 309 Satu Dulah ts Lmp , 872 Satyacharan Ghosh vs Utterpara M pality, 307, 303, 312 Satya Charan Vitra vs Lmp, 1012 Satyanandi Appa 420 Schein vs Q Emp, 598

Secretary of State vs Jethabhai Kalidas, 139 140

Secretary of State vs Vakhat Sangi Meghrap 787

Sessions Judge Combatore vs Kangaya Mantradiyar 333

Mantradiyar 333
Sessons Judge, Combalore vs Mourappa
Sessons Judge, Combalore vs Mourappa
Sewposal Poddar, 509
Shabijan vs Emperor, 597
Shadula Howladar vs Emp, 441, 470
Shadula Howladar vs Emp, 441, 470
Shaha Abri Iliyas vs Ulfal Ilib, 735 36

Shahoebar Ma 435

Shama vs Lochu, 3

Shama Charan Chakravarty vs Katu, 102 Sital Ch Moitra, 332 Shama Charan Mazumdar, 71 Shamananda Das, 159 Shamasundar vs Jardine Skinner, 176 Shamkhan 289 Shamlal Kalwar ts K Emp , 502 Shamsankar Biswas 327 Shamsankar Mazumdar ts Ram Anand moyee, 172 Shamshere Alı Shah 547 Shamoher Khan 399 Shamsuddin Sarcar 13 Emp, 769 Shankar Abun Hossing 798 Shankar Dattatraya 13 Dattatraya Sada shiv, 1019 Sharif is Rai Hari Prosad 1033 Shankar Lal vs Crown 1014 Sharif Ahmed vs Quabul Singh 670 Sharif Din vs Gokul Chand, 1932 Sheikh Ahmed Ali 783 Sheikh Ahmeddin 783 Sheikh Ahmeddin 785 Stall Chamaria, 798 Stuart Goudin, Re Sheikh Amunddin, In the matter of 60t Stringth Barai we Limperor, 400 Stringth Manille ve Council 198 Sheikh Bahadur 8 707, 708 709 Sheikh Bazu 360 Sheikh Boodhoo 432 Sheikh Dadabhai 607 Sheikh Imrat Ali 139 bheikh Kutab Ali 13 Emperor 277 Sheikh Keamat 527 Sheikh Mahammad Yasin vs Emp t026 Sheikh Mohiuddin 114 Sheikh Moniruddin vs Ramdhun 729 Sheikh Mustafa 698 Sheobalak Rai vs Bhagwant Pande, 186 Sheobaran Ojha vs Nunmonia 385 Sheobhanjan Singh is S A Moswai, 106 Sheobux Ram 331 Sheocharan Lal 141 Sheorar vs Chattar Roy, 103, 180 Shera 61 Sherati Shekh 715
Sher Mahammad vs Lmp of India, 36
Sher Singh ts Amir Kunnar, 1031
Shevedyal Singh vs Girban 80
Shibnath Chong vs Sarat Chandra, 385 Shibpershad Chuckerbutty, 280 Shivalinga ts Gurulingava, 1026 Shoffiruddin, 433 Shoffiruddin, Shri Nana Maharaj 277 Shukadeva Sahai vs Hamid Mian, 1014 Siar Monia, 453 Sib Deb 420 Sidheswar Teor is Junada, 736 Simha Charan, 243 217 Sims, 167 Sims vs Johorylal 171, 175 Simu Goundan 6°2 Surinu Goundan Aiyat vs K Emp Sisir Kümar Mitter vs Corporation Calciutta, 1019 Sia Ahr vs Fmp, 827, 835 Sutal 1 s Crown, 103, 711

Sitalprosad vs The Lmperor, 109 Sitanath Mondol, 798, 802 Sitaram Tukaram, 522 Sitaram Rago, 607 S Kondareddi, 83 Solai Naik 18 Fmp , 93 Sokharam, 672 Solicitor to Gost of India, 8, 9 Sonaram Sangma, 113 Sookhum Sahoo vs Govt , 787, 788 Soundaraj Snami Chetty, 729 Sourindramohon Chuckerbutty, 731 Sourindaminah Mitra, 156 119, 454
Sri Bhagwan Singh us Lmp, 335
Srihari ta Lal khan, 98, 783, 784
Srikanta Nath Saha 118
Srikissenla Lg K Lmp, 638
Srikissha Reddi us Subamma, 660 Srinath Mondle is Srinath Raiput, 671, Srinath Roy, 148 Sripad Chandavarkar, In re , 1029 Sriprosad Misser, 416 Subad Domnee vs Katıram Dome, 731 Subal Chandra Dey vs Ram Kanai, 98, Subba Nayak ts Trinchal, 189 Subbasarı, 288 Subbaraya Chetti, Re Subba vs Q Emp , 420, 833 Subbaa Thevan, 461 Subbaak Kone vs Kandaswamy Kone, 1026 Subedar Ahir vs Emp , 355 Subedar Krishnappa, 587 Subha, 725 Sheodhal Rai 80 Subhag Ahir vs Emp, 1015 Sheo Narain Singh vs W D Rawlins, Subodh Ch Ray Chowdhury vs Emp, 1006 Subramaniya Aiyar vs K Emp , 33, 341, 352, 355, 361, 371, 406, 830, 831, 835, Subramanija vs Queen, 405 Subramanya Aiyar, Re Suchandi Folitani vs Dom Kolita 387 Sudduruddin vs Ramjoy Mojoomdar, 677 Sudhamma Upadhaya vs K Emp, 832, 872 Sufferuddin vs Ibraham, 17 Sukee Raur, 421 Sukheswar Phullan, 81 Sukho vs Durga, 669 Sukhal Sheikh vs Tarachand, 171, Suknandan Singh vs K Emp , 599, 601 Sukru Dosadh vs Rampergash, 165 166 Sulaman Muhammad Bholat vs Emp, 1013 Sundaram Aiyar vs K Emp, 878 Sundar Bhim 110, 112 Sundar Manjhi vs Emperor, 175

Suppaya Tharagen

Tugle .

Tukaram 233

Supdi and Remembrances of Legal Tilak Chandra Sarkar us Busayamuff, Affairs to Marmeb n Loy, 333 513 537 Supdt and Remembrancer of Legal Tilakdhan Mahton, 21 Affairs to Sundar Ch Day 1014 Suproserra Ubosal, 61

Suratlal Chowdhury to Imp "" sps Surendram Chetty ICI Surendranath Banery 7.1 Surendra Nith Baneryee to Sashi Bhusan Torkee Bline Abdul Khim 73"

Sarkar 1012 Surendra Nath Maiti 11 \ushil Chakravarti 102

Surendranath Sarma to Raim hon Das

Surya Hamani ta K Imp 283 Surya Kanto Acharya 173 Surya Kanto Itay ta Imp Surya Kanto Roy Chowdhury, 102, 200, 510

Surya Kuimi ta Emp., 116, 603, 828 Surya Naiain Singh, 528, 559 Sutherland to Crowdy, 16" Sped Bahadur Ah to Nur Mahammad,

355 Syad Moddin Sahib, 780

Taj Khan 200 Taju Parmanuk (18 ( )) 12 (1/ 81. 613 Tangedujalia Pedila Di kola 201 825 Tarachan I bingh te (r mi 544 Turachand Singh vi Imperer (3) Larakeshwar Mukhopadhya ts I mo

Taramoni Chowdhurani is Gayanendsa

Tarapada Biswas ts Nurul Hug, 173 Tarapada Naskar, 461 Tara Singh, 122

Tarini Charan Chowdhury to Amulya Ratan, 166 Tayebulla ts Emperor, 291, 710 Tea Kotta Shekdar ts Amir Manjhi, 268

Tel Singh is Crown, 1032 Teka Ahir 18 Q Emp., 420, 471 Tepanidhi Govinda, 361, 371 Thakur Prosad Singh, 260, 261 302 Thakur Sen vs Adhar Chandra 297 Thakur Sao vs Abdul Aziz, 1010

809 Thandavan te Perianna, 601, 669, 671, Varisai Rowther, 397, 818, 691

Thandraya Mudaly, 211 The Govt Pleader, 617 The Public Prosecutor, 571 The Sessions Judge of Mangalore, 430 435

The Sessions Judge of Mangalore is Malinga, 600 Thingar Singli, 183 Thiraj vs Crown, 1027

Thoja Singh, 122, 127 Thomas vs Lmperor, 311, 312, 356, 1029

Tim Shah 2% Tirkamal halidas "40 Tirkhy to Nansk, 1010 Titu Masa, 539 Tonkya is Jaganna 1019

Teps is 1 mp 802 Trailokya Nath Sarcar 181 Tupura Sinkar Sarkar, 30 Trodokya Sath Day 13 Imp., 1010 T R Prett ve Imp . 8

U Ha Thomag vs. Ma Aya, 1042 U Ha Thin to I mp , 10-1 Uddat Cland Mukhopadhynyn, (98 Ugelmas : Dass to Chaudra Kumar, 115 153, 159 Hun Graw & others is K. Ling., 1013 U h Itawas 107 ka Die 1 # I mp 1018

Kyow In & thors is U Shine Si, I (ib) I mal tan Minili 150 Incheren Sutir a Hummeltil But In oharm Sintia Ita 1 mar # 13

Umital Latina to Noninchian Di Umer Ali to Saffir Ali 20 001 1! Min to Maung link, 10.0 Umrao Singh to Lukir than 1 to 8

Upendranath Hintinthuyn (* tvahltosli Chandra, 14, 140, 11) Upendranath Hawas (* 140), 851 Upendianath Dhal is brid mill, 78a Upendianath Mandal, 11st

Uttam, 517 Uttameland Kapinhanl, 1995

Vambilet, 216 Lathimuthu Pillal, 640 Lah Mahammal Min, 610 Val Mitha, 383 Vallia Ambu Podaval, 5 8) Thaman Chetty vs Alagen Chetty, 19, Varad rapida Naidu ts h 1 mp / //

Vastabhe Puthariar, 276 Vedappa Servai va Perhitian Perval, 1010 Veerappa Naidu vs Arnlegen 1, 1912

Vellamonyi Goun liu, In 10 1018 Vellayan Ambalam (11, 128 1198 Vellal Kone vs k | 111 1198 Velu Jaya Ammal, (5) Velu Jyi Ammal, (5) Venkala Swama Itaji ta Silakara!

Venkataswami Arbarya, 401 263

Venkata Reddy ts Crown, 1025 Venkateswara Shastri, 795 Venkata Subbayan, 731 Venkata Subbayan, 731 Venkata Subba Reddi, 654 658 Vijareghavalu Nudu, Re Vilaitee Khanum ts Veherah 809 Vinayak Diyakar, 294 Virankutti Chiyam 585 Virbhadra Goud 329 Vishnuram ts Crown, 1015 Viswanath Krishna Sathe, 218 Visram Balaji, 8, 216, 217 Vithaldas Mulji ts Emp , 1032 Vithia Nada Tanbiram, 191

11

Vyan Katrao Srinibas, 541

Wafadar Khan us K Emp , 363, 608 618, 615, 812 Wahid Ali Khan, 113 120, 650, 793 Waller vy Crown, 365 Waman Dhondey 41

Wazid Alı Khan 18 Emp., 108, 795, Wazir Kunzra ts Emp , 1028 W J Good, 370 W J Good is Ganpat Rai Khemka, 20.

Υ.

Vaccoob, 537 Yakub Ali us Lethu Thalur, 626 Yakub Abmed us V M Abdul Ganny, Yasin vs K Emp , 434, 155, 473, 519

Yerukala, 731 Vesubin Sivaji, 880 Vesu Khandu Tukarı, 127.

Z

Zaffar Nawab, 144 Zamuma 13 Ramtahal, 296, 297. Zanwar Hossain, 839 Zebunnessa ts Mendu Khan, 733

THE

CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE,

ACT V OF 1898.

AN ACT TO CONSOLIDATE AND AMEND THE LAW RELATING TO CRIMINAL PROCEDURE.

Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to Crimmal Procedure;

It is hereby enacted as follows:-

nersous.

PART 1.

PRIMINARY.

CHAPTER I.

- 1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Proceshort tute. come dutc, 1898; and it shall-come into-force- on mencement. the first day of July, 1898. 20 After 16.
- (2) It extends to the whole of British India; but, in the absence of any specific provision to the contrary; nothing herein contained shall affect any special or local law now in force, or any special jurisdiction or power conferred, or any special form of procedure prescribed, by any other law for the time being in force, or shall-apply to—
  - (a) the Commissioners of Police in the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, or the police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay;
  - (b) heads of villages in the Presidency of Fort St. George;
- (c) village police-officers in the Presidency of Bombay: Provided that the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, by notification in the official Gazette, extend any of the provisions of this Code, with any necessary modifications, to such excepted

The previous sanction of the Governor General in Council to the issue of the notification under the proviso which was formerly accessary, is now no longer required (see S 2 and Sch 1 of the Devolution Act \\\\\\\\\

British India mems all a critories and places with a Her Majesty's dominions which are for the time being governed by Her Vinjesty through the Governor General of India or through any Covernor or other officer subordinate to the Governor Gen rat of India-General Clauses Act (\ of 1897), S 3 (7)

This Code of Criminal Procedure regulates the proceedings in all Criminal Courts in British India unless otherwise specially provided See Ss 5 188 post, and S 4, Penal Code as amended by Act IV of 1898 S 2

Exceptions are made a taxour of any special or local law in force

The most important imangst the special previsions to the contrary is the Scheduled Districts Act (11) of 1874) under which the Local Government ma declare what enactments are in force or not in force in any Scholluled Distric or part of such District (5 3) and may also extend to any such District of part of it any ensement then in force in any part of British India (S 4 subject to such restrictions and modifications as that Government thinks for (9 5A en icted by 1ct 111 f 1511) The Local Government may also regulat the procedure of officers appointed to identifier criminal justice within the Scheduled Districts but not so is to restrict the operation of any enactmer for the time being in force. The Scheduled Districts in set out in Schedule of that Act

Extension of this Code

This Code has accordingly been extended to-

The Sonthal Parginas (with modifications)-Reg V of 1893, S 4, Angul an the khond Mchals-Reg 1 of 1894 5 5

British Baluchistan (with modifications)-Reg 1 of 1890 S 3 Reg II ( 1800 S 2

Upper Burma (except the Shin States) -Act XIII of 1898, Schedule subject to the provisions of Reg. V of 1892 (See Appendix)

Anchin Hill Tracts as regards Hill Tracts (in part and with a modification) . Reg 1 of 1895 S 3 See also Act VIII of 1898 S 2

The Chin Hills (in part and with a modification) -Reg V of 1816 S 3 S

also Act VIII of 1898 5 2

The Androna and Nicobar Islands (with modifications)—Reg. I of 188

The D strict of Angul in the Imbutary Mehals Orissa 1

But when no notification hall been made under the Scheduled Distric Act $ 3 either extending this Code to or excluding it from operation in Scheduled District it was held that as an Act in operation in Bratish India this Co (and also the Penal Code for the same reason) was in force 2

Ceased to be in Operation

By orders issued under the Assum Frontier Tructs Reg. II of 1880 extend by Reg 111 of 1884 the Code of Criminal Procedure has ce ised to be in for in the Naga Hills the Dibrugarh Frontier Fracts and the North Cachar Hill

The Garo Hills District and the Khisii and Jaintin Hills District The Mikir Hills Tract 5

This Code regulates the procedure in all Criminal Courts in British Ind unless otherwise specially provided 5, when an offence has been committee in a British ship on the high seas and the Courts of British India have jurisdicti under the English Statutes, the trial must be held under this Code,6 (S

<sup>1</sup> Cal Caz July 8 1908 Q Emp v Chena Koya I L R 13 Mad Assam Gaz 1884 Part II p 670

* Assam Gaz 1831 Part II p 212

* Assam Gaz 1832 Part II p 212

* Assam Gaz 1834 Part II p 795

* Assam Gaz 1834 Part II p 795

* Emp v Ganning [I. R. 21 Cal., 782], O Emp v Thompson 1 B L R, 1 O

Cr. Cas 1 Q Emp v Batton, I L R, 16 Cal. 238

also S 188 of this Code) and the offence would be one under the Indian Penal

Under the Government of India Act s 52A where the Governor General in Council lies declared in territors in British India to be a "backward tract" be may further direct that may be a left Indian Legislatus shall not apply to the territors or any part the red or shall upply with such exceptions or modifications to the Council of the tower or to write think it. Hus year on smalleritors of the Council of the traction of the Council of the Market Prisadiency See Courte of India 1922, Part I p 2003.

Special Juriediction

When a Subordinate Magnetia has purodiction to the nogratine of on offence under the Abbara Act, them let V of 1878), his jurisdation is not effected by the feet that he was not competent under S. 199 (1) (e) of this Code to intrate the precedure, S. S. desethe codings from all Law is not inffected by a special ast requiring section possibline to tell in before a prosecution for an offence under it. Since the office he was done in the Paril Cith this Code should be appared since the special with would apply only to a official under

Police in Pres dency T was

This Code does not times otherwise expressly defined a ply to the police in the teams of Cotte and Lembor. It is however in force in respect to the police in that we if Velaco has been deply to the Commissioner of sith Police. So 4, 41, 51, 55, 56, 56, 58, 56, 17, 200 has been expressly made applied by technique coin the teams of Colorita and Hombiry. Schedule II. Coloring to the power to rivest with our wint into officiences under the Penal Color and other laws, applies to the police of the towns of Calcutta and Bombar. See explainment into the band of Schedule II.

S 155 is its applicable to the police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay 4. In respect to the Police in Presidence towns see as to Midray Set NAV of 1559 as to Bombay Boma, Act IV of 1522 and as to Calcutte Ben, Act IV of 18.6 There lets have all ben frequently amended

Heads of villages in the Presidency of Fort St George See Mrd Reg. M. of 1816, Sec 10 14 and Mid Reg. IV of 1821, S. 6

Village Police Officers in the Presidency of Bourbay Sci Born Act VIII of 1877, S. 14-16. See also Q. Lmp v. Rogho Mahadu, I. L. R., 19 Bom 612.

- 2. [Repeat of enactments, notifications, etc., under repeated Acts Penting cases] Repeated by the Repeating and Amending Act, 1914 (X of 1911).
- 3 (1) In every enactment passed before this Code comes References to Code into force, in which reference is made to, or to any Chapter or section of, the Code of Criminal Procedure, Act XXV of 1861, or Act X of 1882, or Act X of 1882, or to any other enactment hereby repealed, such

I See 37 and 38 Vic c 27 S 31 | Fmp r Ablool Rahuman I L R 14 Rom 227, Penal Code S 4 as mohifi-I by Act IV of 18 i S S -? O I nep r Custrilly Bujery I I k i i B B 1 181 | Sec al o Stama | Lechu

&#x27;Oʻlmin' (Ustrilji Birjorpi III), ioʻBra 181 Scenlo Slama — Lechi III 23 Cali 300 'Anonymon' III, i Muli 55 — Cenlo OʻEman v Gustadji Burjorji II. P reference shall, so far as may be practicable, be taken to be made to this Code or to its corresponding chapter or section.

<sup>10</sup> Bom 181
4 Nilos idhub Mitter I L R, 15 Cal 595 Visram Babji I L R, 21 Bum,

- (2) In every enactment passed before this Code comes into Expressions in former Acts.

  A Magistrate, "Subordinate Magistrate, first class," and "Subordinate Magistrate, first class," and "Subordinate Magistrate, second class," shall respectively be deemed to mean "Magistrate of the first class," "Magistrate of the second class," and "Magistrate of the third class," the expression "Magistrate of distinct" shall be deemed to mean "Sub-divisional Magistrate," the expression "Magistrate of distinct," shall be deemed to mean "District Magistrate," the expression "Magistrate," the expression "Magistrate," and the expression "Joint Sessions Judge" shall mean "Additional Sessions Judge."
  - 4. (1) In this Code the following words and expressions have the following meanings, unless a different intention appears from the subject or context:—

    - (a) "Advocate General" includes also a Government Advocate General" eate General or Government Advocate, such officer as the Local Government may, from time to time, appoint in this behalf.
    - (b) "bailable offence" means an offence shewn as bailable
      "Bailable cfence" in the second schedule, or which is "Non-bailable offence." made bailable by any other law for the time being in force; and "non-bailable offence" means any other offence:
    - (c) "charge" includes any head of charge when the charge contains more heads than one:
    - (e) "Clerk of the Crown" includes any officer specially "Clerk of the Crown." appointed by the Chief Justice to discharge the functions given by this Code to the Clerk of the Crown.
    - (f) "cognizable offence" means an offence for, and "cog"Cognizable offence" mizable ease" means a case in,
      "Cognizable offence" which a police-officer, within or without the presidency-towns, may, in accordance

<sup>1</sup> Clause (d) was repealed by S. 3 and Sch II of the Repealing and Amending Act, 1923 (XI of 1923).

5

CHAP I

2 Cal

with the second schedule, or under any law for the

An effection in her the B index Sult Act (II of 1856) has been declared by section 45 of the Vet to be a controlled offence, and also an offence under the familing Act (Blow Act II of 1857). These are matters especially provided for Soch waver Scholl for the concluding period of which provides for offences and rollows other than the Pen Lead. Certim offences under the Metal Tekens Act 1881 for not expand the Section (Benes and et al. 2014).

- (g) Commissioner of Police includes a Deputy Commis-'Commissioner of Sumer of Police Police
- (h) complaint means the allegation made orally or in writing to a Magistrate with a view to his taking action, under this Code, that some person, whether known or unknown, has committed an offence, but it does not include the report of a police officer.

The d family to the first is contained in (0) post miles a complaint under this Code, thus superseding to the Code, thus superseding

m in reported cases under either C des Prichedings tak in by a Cool Crimin of Resenue Court under S 476 is it stood till in in did in 175 m sending a case for inquiry or trial to the nearest

May treat in and der recomplant. It treats the meaning second and the treats of the meaning whether is statement as a complaint within this definition is a finite like the recommend of the meaning the statement of the concurst mean in the concurst mean in the concurst mean makes the way may be a finite meaning cert or charges and which the meaning cert or charges and when the meaning cert or charges and makes meaning cert or charges and makes meaning cert or charges and makes meaning cert or charges and meaning cert or charges are charges and meaning cert or charges are charges and meaning cert or charges and meaning cert or charges and meaning cert or charges are charges and meaning charges are charges a in the first instinct, is a complaint.

A structural mode to a Magistrite extra-judgently in reply to a question of ed and with utany intention or desire that it should be taken as a complaint, is not a complaint, is not a complaint. For its eletter from a trying Magistrate to be official superior is long for instructions as to how he should proceed. But where a kidnapping case the worm is shuband as a winess skedt the Magistrate not to proceed with the case is he intended to procedure under section 498 of the Penal Code at was believed in the case is he intended to procedure under section 498 of the Penal Code at was believed in the case in the instance of the contraction of the contract

Where in Assistant Collector trying a rent suit was of opinion that the fluidiff had committed prejury and sent the record to the Collector "for starting are so under $1.13 Indian Penal Code," the Assistant Collector's order was a continuit though it could not be regarded as an order under $476. So be where it Musualf informed the District Judge of his suspicion that a document filled in a case before him had been tumpered with a letter thereupon

&quot; Fmp t Bhole Singh I I R 38 All 32
" Fmp t Sheo Sampat Pande I L R 40 All 641
" I mp t Bhowant Dat I I R 38 All 276
" Fmp t Sun lar Sarup I I R, 26 All 514 written by the District Judge to the District Magistrate requesting him to take action amounted to a compliant for the purposes of S 195 (c) 1

The proper application of the definition of 'complaint' is especially important in reference to S 199 (c) for if 1 Mightrate takes cognizance of an offence except upon 1 complaint or a Police report of facts constituting such offence, he may be deburred from holding the trial (See S 191)

(i) European British subject ' means-

European British subject

 (i) any subject of His Majesty of Emopean descent in the male line born, naturalised of domiciled in the British Islands of any Colony, or

(a) any subject of His Majesty who is the child of grand child of any such person by legitimate

descen

This definition was inserted by $ 2 (i) of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, $ 3 (VII of 1923) (hipter VXIII of this Code, inserted by the same Act, $ 27 enicts special provisions for the trial of cases in which European and Indian British subjects are concerned and $ 443 lays down the manner of determining claims for a trial to be conducted under those provisions, thereby rendering obsolute many earlier rulings on the subject

Colony means any part of His Majosty's dominions exclusive of the British Islands and of British India—General Clauses Act 1897 (X of 1897)

(1) "High Court means, in reference to proceedings against

High Court

Sons jointly charged with European British subjects or persons jointly charged with European British subjects, the High Courts of Judicature at Foit William, Madias, Bombay, Allahabad, Patna, Lahore and Rangoon, the Chief Courts of Oudh and Lahore and Rangoon, the Chief Courts of Oudh and the Central Provinces in other cases "High Court" means the highest Court of criminal appeal or revision for any local area, or, where no such Court is established under any law for the time being in force, such officer as the Governor General in Council may appoint in this behalf

This definition has been imended from time to time as new High Courts of Judic ture have been est dishsted. This portion which gives the Courts of the Judicial Commissioners jurisdiction over European British subjects was inserted by S. 2 (*) of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1923.

(1) 'inquity' includes every inquity other than a trial conducted under this Code by a Magistrate or Court

'Trial' has not been defined An inquiry, however, as here defined, does not include a trial. In the repealed Codes of Criminal Procedure it was declared that a trial communers whim it are used has been called to plead to a charge, or in a summinute is where he chirty is driven when the accused appears Lef re a Magistrate. The distinction is important, because, in a trial, the accused can claim to be acquitted if no case is made out and this would be a bar to subsequent proceedings so I me as the order of a quittal is not set aside, whereas in n inquire, the final order o such a case would be in order of discharge which would be no bar to fresh preceedings. (See S. 403)

Fmp t Debi Priend, I I R 35 All, 8

Proceedings under S 145 are an inquire 1

(1) investigation ' includes all the proceedings under this Code for the collection of evidence Investigation conducted by a police officer or by any person (other than a Magistrate) who is authorized by a Migistrate in this behalf

Thus proceedings held by a Magistrate would not be in investigation, they would be a inquire the later part of this definition refers to a case such as when a Magistrate on recept of a compount sees reason to distrust it and, under Sonz directs a lections stigation by a person not being a Magistrate or Pole Officer is he thinks fit for the purpose of exertinging the truth or false I saled the complaint before he assure process for the attendance of the occused

It will be observed that there is a distinction between an investigation, which relates to proceedings by a Police-officer or other authorized person not being a Magistrati and an inquiry which relates to proceedings conducted by a Magistrite or Court (A) miles a distinction also between in inquiry and a trial, but it does not mark the distinction declared by the Code of 1872, S 4

Und r the terms of this definition it is for a Police officer to collect evidence, the value of which it is the duty of a judiced officer to determine

A Police officer can in this respect express his opinion only so far as it may be to declare whether the condence is sufficient or furnishes reasonable ground of suspicion to justify his forwarding the occused to a Magistrate (S 170) or to release him from custody if he he not satisfied (5-160)

(m) 'judicial proceeding" includes any proceeding in the "Judicial proceeding" course of which evidence is or may be legally taken on oath:

Outh includes affirmation-General Clauses Act, 1807, S 3 (36) Pro cedings under 5 88 are not judicial proceedings within this definition,2 but projectings under 5 8 of the Reformatory Schools Act (VIII of 1897) are judicial proceedings 3

It has been hild that in order under 5 192 sanctioning a complaint for cert in offences is a judicial act, and that a proceeding held in connection with it is a judicial proceeding. But, though the Courts held that in some cases an inquiry should be held before such sanction is given, there was no provi sion in the Code for such an inquiry, and therefore it was doubtful whether evi dence could be taken on oath in such an inquiry so as to make the proceedings judicial within this definition

But the amendment of Ss 195 and 476 renders these cases obsolete for there is now no question of granting sanction under S 195 to a private person to make a complaint, and S 476 provides for an inquiry

<sup>1</sup> Lolit Mohun v Surja 5f al W N 749 (a c) I I R, 28 (al 709 Satish Chiindra v Rajendra, I J R 22 Cal 898

O Emp v Scodiskal Rai I L R 6 All 487 O Emp v Manaji I R 14 Born 381 O Emp v Sheikh Bears, I L R 10 Mad 232 [235]

judicial proceeding " is not exhaustive It includes an The definition of 1 execution proceeding and the resistance to the attachment of moveables is, when reported or complained of to the Court an offence committed in relation to a proceeding in that Court It is noticeable that $ 476 (1) no longer refers to a undicial proceeding but merch to a proceeding," though 5 476 (3), which is new, uses the expression "judicial proceeding."

The doubt which has been expressed in some reported cases of the Calcutta High Court whether proceedings in execution of a decree of a Civil Court were undict if proceedings for the purposes of this Code has been settled by a Luff Bench of that Court which has held that they are of that character?

(n) 'non cognizable offence means an offence for, and ' non cognizable case" means a case Nor crgnizable eff-nce which a police-officer, within Non-cog nizable or without a presidency town, may case not arrest without warrant

See Sch II col 3

8

(o) offence 'means any act or omission made punishable by any law for the time being in Offence foree .

it also includes any act in respect of which a complaint may be made under section 20 of the Cittle-tres pass Act, 1871

The latter part of to) affects the definition of complaint (h) so as to bring a complaint under S 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act 1871, within that definition
See also S 4 of the Penal Code as mended by Act IV of 1898, S 2 which extends this definition

I person called upon to give security in proceedings under Chapter VIII is not guilty of an offence

(p) "officer in charge of a police station" includes, when the officer in charge of the police-Officer in charge of a police-station station is absent from the stationhouse or unable from illness or other cause to perform his duties, the police officer present at the stationhouse who is next in rank to such officer and is above the rank of constable, or, when the Local Government so directs, any other police officer so present This definition does not upply to the Police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay by reason of S i (i) which declares that in the brence of any specific provision to the contrary nothing contained in this Code shall apply to the Police in these towns a

S 551 provides for the exercise by police-officers of superior rank of the powers of an officer in charge of a police station

Sheikh Bahdur I L (t 37 Cal 492 (s c) 14 Cal W N 799 (s c) 12 Cal L J 4 coverulum, Hara Charan I L R 32 Cal 367 (s c) 9 Cal W N 864 Kante Ram I L R 35 Cal 135 See also Bhohanath Dey no Cal W N 85 Dakhnesswr 10 Cal

Binode Bihiri Nath i Tmp 1 L R 50 Cal 985
 Solicitir to Covt of India 7 Cal W N 661

- (q) "place" includes also a house, building, tent and
- (r) "pleader," used with reference to any proceeding in any Court, means a pleader or a mulhitar authorised under any law for the time being in force to practise in such Court, and includes (I) an advocate, a vakil and an attorney of a High Court so authorized, and (2) any other person appointed with the permission of the Court to act in such more cling.

A very important intended in this bost made in this definition. A mulditar ship privatively had to be in the privatively had to be in the privatively had to be in the form of the Court is now placed on the same footing as a pleader of intended under any liw for the time being in force to prefer to such Court. He live on the subject is contained in the Light Precisioners, Act. 1874 (AVIII of 1874). The amendment of this definition, read with S. 340 of the Cod. This obstituted the difficulties which in the past troop, as to the right of a present to be represented by a multiple holding a certificial and crimible and of the light presents and considerable and cons

(5) "police station means any post or place declared,

Police station generally or specially, by the Local Government to be a police station, and includes any local area specified by the Local Government in this behalf

See note to (p) ante 1 5 551 provides for the exercise by a police-officer of superior rank of the powers of an officer in charge of a police station

- (t) "Public Prosecutor" means any person appointed under

  'Fublic Proses section 492, and includes any person acting inder the directions of a l'ublic Prosecutor on behalf of Her Majesty in any High Court in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction

- (u) "sub-division" means a sub division of a district "
- (v) "summons-case" means a case relating to an offence,
  "Summons-case" and not being a warrant case: and
- (w) "warrant case" means a case relating to an offence

  "Warrant case" punishable with death, transportation or imprisonment for a term exceeding six months
- (2) Words which refer to acts done extend also to illegal Words referring to acts omissions, and all words and expressions used herein and defined in the Indian Words to have same meaning as in Indian be deemed to have the meanings respectively attributed to them by that Code

<sup>1</sup> Solicitor to Govt of India w Madho 7 Cal W N , 661.

Generally these definitions are contuned in Chapter II of the Penal Code, See 6.52. There are also after definitions, which are equally applicable, such as definitions of various offences. It may be observed that "good faith" is defined by S. 52 of the Penal Code and also by S. 33 (20) of the General Clauses Act. 1897 in somewhat different terms. If any conflict arises in defining "good faith in this Code probably the definition given in the Penal Code will be a complete to all subsequent legislation by the Imperial Council "unless there is mything repugnant in the subject or context but this Code has in S. 4 (2) applied the definition of good furth as given in the Penal Code. It should be noted that sub-section (2) is not like the definitions in sub-section (3) to be applied to this Code unless a different intention appears from the subject or context. Validituity incovariantly arose in applying the term adultery as used in S. 438 of this Code in the restricted sense expressed in S. 439 of the Penal Code in which the adultary of the main is alone described. A full Bench of the Varies High Court however lield that this could not have been the intention of the Legislature and declared that adultery" should be read in the ordinary sense

5 (I) All offences under the Indian Penal Code shall be Trail of offences investigated, inquired into, tried, and otherwise dealt with according to the provisions hereinafter contained

(2) All offences under any other law shall be investigated, Trai of offences inquired into, tried, and otherwise dealt with against other laws according to the same provisions, but subject to any enactment for the time being in force regulating the manner or place of investigating, inquiring into, trying or otherwise dealing with such offences

Instances of special procedure prescriled by other laws were to be found in Part 1 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act 1908, and in the Anarchical and Levolutionary Crimes Act 1919 commonly known as the Rowlatt Act, but both these canciuments were repealed in 1922

SEE also Reg IV of 1991, the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1925, and the Bengal Criminal I aw Amendment (Supplementary) Act, 1925 A special procedure has also from time to time been enacted by Ordinances made by the Governor General under section 72 of the Government of India Act, these however have a duration of six months only

As regards the Burma Frontier Districts see Reg I of 1925

<sup>1</sup> Gentapallı Appalamma I L R 20 Mad 470

PART II

CONSTITUTION AND POWERS OF CRIMINAL COURTS AND OFFICES,

CHAPTER II

OF THE CONSTITUTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS AND OFFICES

.1 Classes of Criminal Courts

6 Besides the High Courts and the Courts constituted under Causes of Criminal in live other than this Code for the time being in force there half be five classes of Criminal Courts in British highs namely

I Courts of Session

II -Presidency Magistrates

III - Magistrates of the first class

IV Magistrates of the second class

V Magistrates of the third class

This closes of Curis her described are stated probably with regard to Scholin H Cc1 8 th Curis of a Sea in Judge and Additional Sessions Judge and a Nesset at Seams, judge through different in degree being included in the term Courts of Session Judge is a different from those of a Sessions Judge is a different from those of a Sessions Judge as the of the different closes of Mightantes inter as Amongst other Courts not specially mentioned in this section is the Court of a Justice of the Perec. It is not mention d in this Code. The office is almost ilways combined with that of a Magistrate under this Code

Though there, ire still certain offences which can only be tried by a Magistrate who is a Justice of the Peace, the provision in S 443 which required the trial of Europe in British subjects to be held by a Justice of the Peace has now disappeared.

B -Territorial Divisions

The following sections deal with the territorial jurisdiction of the several inferior Criminal Courts in British India. No reference is made to the jurisdiction of the High Courts which is conferred by their Chriters. The Criminal Courts of British India have ilso jurisdiction conferred by some special law or by statute in regard to certain offences committed beyond British India, eg, in a Toreign State, or on the High Seas, or in any territory which may be declared by His Majesty in Council to be one in which jurisdiction is assumed by or on behalf of His Majesty through the Governor General of India in Council or some authority subordinate to  $\lim 1$

<sup>1</sup> Indian (Foreign jurisdiction) Order in Council 1902 Caz Int 1902 Fart I p
667; see Adams v Lmj I L R 26 Mad 607

- 7 (1) Every province (excluding the presidency-towns) shall Sessions divisions and every sessions division shall, for the purposes of this Code, be a district or convist of districts

  - (2) The Local Government may alter the limits or the num-Power to alterdiving ber of such divisions and districts
  - (3) The sessions divisions and districts existing when this

    Existing divisions and districts rules to decomes into force shall be sessions divisions and districts rules that districts respectively, unless and until they are so altered
  - (4) Every presidency town shall, for the purposes of this presidency towns to Code, be deemed to be a district

Province means the territor as for the time being administered by any Local Government General Clau es 3ct \ of 1807 S 3 (43)—Local Government means the person authorised by low to administer executive Government in any part of British India and includes a Chief Commissioner—Ibid (49)

in any part of British India and includes a Chief Commissioner—Ibid (*9) Person-ver von W means it el. cil limits for the time being of the ordinary civil jur sd ction of the light Court of Judicature at Fort William, Madras or Bombay as the rise may be—Ibid (#1)

Sub Section (1)

Although sub-section (t) does not contemplate one District including two Sessions Dissions set this has actually occurred in the Presidency of Maderia and was protected by sub-section (3) and was therefore not illegal. A difficulty however arose in respect of the appellate and reus onal jurisdiction of the two sessions Judges over the proceedings of the District Vagistrate who was subortionate to both but held his court within the local jurisdiction of only one of those Judges It was held that the Sess no Judge of that division in which the District Vagistrate held I is court should be the superior Appellate and Revis and Court irrespective of any territorial jurisdiction over the particular offence.

- 8 (2) The Local Government may divide any district out-Power to divide disritetianto subdivision. Sale the presidency towns into sub divisions, or make any portion of any subdivision alter the limits of any subdivision.
- (2) All existing subdivisions which are now usually put Existing subdivisions under the charge of a Magnetrate shall be maintained deemed to have been made under this Code

C .- Courts and Offices outside the Presidency towns

9 (1) The Local Government shall establish a Court of Session for every sessions division, and appoint a Judgo of such Court

- (2) The Local Government may, by general or special order in the official Gazette, direct at what place or places the Court of Session shall hold its sitting; but, until such order be made, the Courts of Session shall hold their sittings as heretofore.
- (3) The Local Government may also appoint Additional Sessions Judges and Assistant Sessions Judges to exercise jurisdiction in one or more such Comts
- (4) A Sessions Indge of one sessions division may be appointed by the Local Government to be also an Additional Sessions Judge of another division, and in such case he may sit for the disposal of cases at such place or places in either division as the Local Government may direct
- (3) All Courts of Session existing when this Code comes into force shall be deemed to have been established under this Act.

The powers, in regard to sentence of a Sessions Judge, an Additional Sessions

Judge, and an Assist int Sessions Judge are set out in S 31, fost Except as otherwise expresses provided, no Court of Session, as a Court of original jurisdiction can tale cognizance of an offence, unless the accused has Leen committed to it by a Mignetrate dish empowered on that behalf, and an Additional Sessions Judge and in Assist int Sessions Judge can try such cases only as the Local Government by general or special order may direct them to try, or as the Sessions Judge of the division by general or special order may make over to them for tred ($ 133)

An Assist int Sessions Judg is subordinate to the Sessions Judge in whose Court he exercises jures liction and the Sessions Judge may from time to time, make rules for the distribution of business to him -5 17 (3). A Sessions Judge will hold his Court for the treat of cases commuted by Magistrates within his local jurisdiction, but, for idministrative convenience, the law, as enacted by (3) and (4), on ibles the Local Covernment to give the same Sessions Judge jurisdiction over two sessions decisions, and to hold his Court in one division for the trid of cases committed to the Sessions Court of another division

In Madris a district, instead of being conforminous with a Sessions Division or a part of it, sometimes includes two Sessions Divisions-see note to S 7 ante A Sessions Judge or an Additional Sessions Judge is computent to act as a Court of Appeal in certain cases (5s 408, 409), and also as a Court of Revision. (5s 435-438)

10 (1) In every district outside the presidency-towns the Local Government shall appoint a Magistrate District Magestrate of the first class, who shall be called the District Magistrate.

- (2) The Local Government may appoint any Magistrate of the first class to be an Additional District Magistrate and such Additional District Magistrate shall have all or any of the powers of a District Magistrate under this Code or under any other law for the time being in force, as the Local Government may direct.
- (3) For the purposes of sections 192, sub section (1), 407, sub-section (2), and 528, sub-sections (2) and (3), such Additional

14

District Magistrate shall be deemed to be subordinate to the District Magistrate

In the Central Provinces, the Deputy Commissioner of every district being Magistrate of the first class has been appointed to be the Magistrate of the District 1

In Bombay, except the Dhar, Parkar and Upper Sind Frontier Districts in Sind, all persons permanently or temporarily holding the office of Collector, as defined in the Bombay Revenue Code, 1897 have been appointed under this Code to be Magistrates of the first class and District Magistrates in the districts to which they may be posted 2 Similarly in the Dhar, Parker and Upper Sind Frontier Districts the Deputy Commissioner has been declared to be ex-officio a Magistrate of the first class and the District Magistrate 3

In respect of sentence the ordinary powers of a District Magistrate are those of a Magistrate of the first class (S 32)

Hitherto an Additional District Magistrate was not lil c all other Magistrates in a District subordinate to the District Magistrie (S 17) and therefore the District Magistrate could not under 5 528 transfer a case to him* nor apparently under 5 192 but the law has been alicred in this respect by the insertion of sub-section (3)

In certain parts of British India a District Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class may be given special powers to try as Magistrate all offences not punishble with denth sentence are enhanced (Sec S 34). There are also other powers relating to various mylters under this Code which are conferred on a District Magistrate [See Sch III (5)] and he is empowered to invest Magistrates subordinate to him with certain powers (Sch IV) In Upper Burma (not including the Shan States), additional powers have been specially conferred Reg I of 1975

The Code places a great responsibility on a District Magistrate for the peace of the district for while it gives him power to talle security from persons filely to disturb the peace it also gives him discretion to release any person bound over under Chapter VIII or to reduce the security (S 124) or to cancel a bond for keeping the peace executed by order of any Subordinate Magistrate (5 125) He may also be empowered to hear in appeal against an order for security for good behaviour p seed by a subordinate Magistrate (S 406) and he hears appeals against orders of Subordinate Magistrates under S 122 refusing to accept or rejecting a surety (5 4061). It is also his duty to supervise the proceedings of all Migistrates in the district (Ss. 435.538) who are subordinate to him (S 17) and he is under certain specified circumstances vested with power to order a commitment to be made ($ 438), or to order further inquiry into a case which may have been summarily dismissed or in which the accused may have been discharged (S 436)

A District Magistrate may also make rules or give special orders consistent with the Code, as to the distribution of business amongst Magistrates and Benches in the district (S 17) he may transfer my case of which he has taken cognizance for inquiry or trial to any Magistrate subordinate to him (S 192), and he may withdraw any case from or recall any case which he has made over to, any Mag strate, and he may inquire into or try such case himself or refer it for inquiry or trial to any other competent Magistrate (S 528)

Whenever, in consequence of the office of a District Officers temporarily Vagistrate becoming vacant, any officer succeeds succeeding to vacancie. temporarily to the chief executive administrain office of District tion of the district, such officer shall, pending Magistrate

Cent Pro Gaz 1873 Part I A p 18 * Rom Gaz 1879 Part I p 522 * ProLes Chandra Dutt I L R 34 Cal 918

the orders of the Local Government, everuse all the powers and perform all the duties respectively conferred and imposed by this Code on the District Magnitate

- 12 (1) The Local Government may appoint as many persons Subordirate Magis as it thinks fit besides the District Magistrate, trates to be Magistrates of the first, second or third
- to be Magistrates of the first, second or third class, in any district outside the presidency-towns, and the Local Government, or the District Magistrate, subject to the control of

Local limits of their the Local Government may, from time to time, jurisdiction define local areas within which such persons may exercise all or any of the powers with which they may respectively be invested under this Code

(2) Except as otherwise provided by such definition, the jurisdiction and powers of such persons shall extend throughout such district

In Bombay, fir purposes under the Bombay Districts Police Act (Bom Act IV of 1800) in the Crimmest our through in the districts under his control, and the Inspector Control of Police the ugboat the Presidence have the powers of a Magicirite of the first class subject to such huntations as may, from time to time, be imposed it is the Local Government (5-7).

An order conferring powers and rethe section would not make a Magnetrate abdominional Magnetrate within the terms of Si 36, 37 and Sch 111 (4) S 13 provides for the appointment of Sub-divisional Magnetrates

Sub-Section (2)

This is important. It gives a Magistrate in the district power to act in a Sub-division. There may be a Sub-divisional Magistrate but, unless there has been some special and r under sub-section (r) restricting the excress of his general powers throughout the district, a Magistrate in the district, even if he be not within the sub-division, is competent one? I Ordinarily he would not interfere with the jurisdiction of a Sub-division il Magistrate, but occasionally he may be called upon to act, and provision is here made giving him authority to do so

- 13 (1) The Local Government may place any Magistrate of the first or second class in charge of a subdivision, and relieve him of the charge as occasion requires
- (2) Such Magistrates shall be called Suh divisional Magistrates
  - (3) The Local Government may delegate its powers under Delegation of powers this section to the District Magistrate. to District Magistrates.

The ordinary powers of a Subdivisional Magistrate are set out in Sch. III (4) He can also be given by the Local Government power to act under S 435 as a Court of Revision

Sarat Chandra Roy v Bepnn, I L R 29 Cal, 389; (s c) & Cal W N, 552 Kissore Roy, 10 Cal W N, 1095

His competency to try various offences depends upon the class of Magistrates to which he may belong (See Sch. 11 Col. 8) and his power to pass sentence is described in S. 21.

described in S 31
In the Panjab the Local Government has delegated its powers under S 13
In the Panjab the Local Government has delegated its powers under S 13 to District Magistrates in regard to the plicing of Magistrates of the first and second class in charge of a subdivision and so has the Government of Madras, but any alteration in existing arrangements should be notified in the District Gazettes

In Bencal all District Magistrates have been empowered to place any Magistrate of the first or second class in charge of the subdivision at head quarters

whenever they themselves may be absent from head quarters

In Assay the same powers have be a conferred on District Magastrates 4 (See S. 12 (2) and note thereunder is to the jurisdiction of a Sub-divisional Magastrate over the entire district)

14 (1) The Local Government may confer upon any perspecial Magnitudes son all or any of the powers conferred or conferrable by or under this Code on a Magnitation of the first, second or third class in respect to particular class or particular class of particular class or particular class of cases, or in regard to eases generally, in any local area outside the presidency towns

(2) Such Magistrates shall be called Special Magistrates, and shall be appointed for such term as the Local Government may

- by general or special order direct

  (3) The Local Government may delegate, with such limitations, as it thinks fit, to any officer under its control the power
- conterred by sub-section (1).

  (4) No powers shall be conferred under this section on any police officer below the grade of Assistant District Superintend-
- ont, and no powers shall be conferred on a police officer, except so far as may be necessary for preserving the peace, preventing crime and detecting, apprehending and detaining offenders in order to their being brought before a Magistrate, and for the per formance by the officer of any other duties imposed upon him by any law for the time being in force.

In Assam any Police Officer not below the rank of Assistant District Superintendent may be invested with all or any of the powers conferred or conferrable on a Magistrate of the first, second, or third class in respect of non-cognizable offences.

Sub Section (3),

The provision requiring the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council has been repealed by Act XXXVIII of 1920

15 (I) The Local Government may direct any two or more

Benches of Magnitrates Magnitrates in any place outside the presidencytowns to sit together as a Bench, and may by order invest such Bench with any of the powers conferred or conferrable by or under this Code on a Magistrate of the first, second or third class, and direct it to exercise such powers in such cases, or such classes of cases only, and within such local lunits, as the Local Government thinks fit

CHAP II. Secs 15, 16.

(2) Except as otherwise provided by any order under this powers exercisate section, every such Bench shall have the powers by Berchin absence of special direction and in the proceedings as a member of the Bench, belongs, and as far as practicable shall, for the purposes of this Code, be deemed to be a Magistrate of such class

Type Binch in a District or Sub-division is subordinate to the District or Sub-divisional Migistrate S. 17 part

The terms of $1.5 it wells observed and the Local Government to Invest i Bench of Magnetics with in Jointed powers of a Magnetic, and to restrat the extrass of such powers to particular cases of closes of sixes and within specified local cris. It can then four impower a Bonch to del with cream to long trials? The right of upon 4 would depend on the powers exercised by the Bonch with reference to the last clause of $5.15?

Before the presents of the monementary but of 1923 the effect of a change in the constitution of a Bench during the course of a crial was often discussed by the High Courts. For instance it was beld that if some of the Magnitimes should be about but the rim ining. Measures constituted a proper Bench the tral could proceed and that in Magnitime who and not taken part in all the former proceedings, cound round be look to taken part in all the former proceedings. For avoid a Bon he resume a trial commenced by mother Bench composed of other Mignitimes. But it, it with studing the absence of some of the Mignitimes, that it measures a trial commenced by mother Bench as Bench, they could resume and conclude the trial. By the environment of $3.30 km at $1.00 k

- 16 The Local Government may, or, subject to the control Power to trame rules of the Local Government, the District Magis forgudance of Benches trate may, from time to time, make rules consistent with thus Code for the guidance of Magistrates' Benches in any district respecting the following subjects:—
  - (a) the classes of cases to be tried;
  - (b) the times and places of sitting;
  - (c) the constitution of the Bench for conducting trials;

&lt;sup>1</sup> Safferuddin v Ibrahen I I R 3 Cal 754, (s c) 2 C L R 263 rendered obso lete by a change in the words used in S 350 of the Code of 1872 now repealed <sup>2</sup> Q I mp t Natavanasami I I R 2 Mad 35

CEA* II $ r3. 11 15 - - - 5 CF N- 5 7 ES - 1- - 1-12 cm suce 12 n wers tender 5 th - - i fr and ---- or Markes e D tod are any भ्योद नग - an per --- l or con - a Vametrate \ct mar care or ï۱ - 17 recard to n let r towr r - rate and to romment mar ≟ −ch hmita -= 1 the power n en anv ~natend -e- except -wrenting an then in the per f J الم ليبيهن مسه err ce Energy in order invest such Bench with any of the powers conferred or conferrable by or under this Code on a Magistrate of the first, second or third class, and direct it to exercise such powers in such cases, or such classes of cases only, and within such local limits, as the Local Government thinks fit

(2) Except as otherwise provided by any order under this Powers exercisate section, every such Bench shell have the powers excellented by this Code on a Magistrate of the special direction highest class to which any one of its members, who is present taking part in the proceedings as a member of the Bench, belongs, and as far as practicable shell, for the purposes of this Code, be deemed to 1 e a Magistrate of such class

Every Binch in a District or Sub-division is subordinate to the District or Sub-divisional Magnetrate S 17 post

The terms of $1.5, it will be observed, entitle the Local Government to move a Bench in Majsstrate, with an limited powers of a Majsstrate, and in restrict the extract of such powers to pirtual r cases or classes of cases and within specified local areas. It can therefore, ampower a Binch to deal with cases not being trade. The right of upon a would depend on the powers exercised by the Binch with reference to the list clause of $5.15.

Before the presented of the main anisothing Act of they the effect of a change in the constitution of a literach during the course of a trial was often discussed by the High Courts. I can not note at was held that of some of the Magistrates should be been but the remaining Mignatures constituted a proper Bench the trial could proceed, and that no Mignature, who had not taken part in all the former proce of ones, could rejoin the Bench holding the trial without virting the entire proceedings. Not resuld a Bench resume a trial commenced by another Bench composed of other Magistrates. But if, notwithstanding the besence of some of the Mignature, the remaining Magistrates were sufficient in number to constitute a Bench, they could resume and conclude the trial. By the ensement of $350 \text{ host the Ligistrates has clearly intended the trial. By the ensement of $350 \text{ host the Ligistrates have and the proceedings. The court of the mainted is that the time of the passing of the order with the requirements of sections 15 and 16, and that they shall have been present introductable the proceedings. Presum thely it would still be constitution of a Bench should remain unchanged throughout the proceedings.

- 16 The Local Government may, or, subject to the control Power to frame rules of the Local Government, the District Magis for guidance of Benches trate may, from time to time, make rules consistent with this Code for the guidance of Magistrates' Benches in any district respecting the following subjects:—
  - (a) the classes of cases to be tried;
  - (b) the times and places of sitting;
  - (c) the constitution of the Bench for conducting trials;

&lt;sup>1</sup> Saffernddin: Brahim 11 R 3 Cal 754 (s.c.) 2 C L R, 263 rendered obso <sup>2</sup>e by a change in the words used in S 350 of the Code of 872 now rejected <sup>2</sup>Q Emp v Naryanasami 1 R, 9 Vnd 36

(d) the mode of settling differences of opinion which may arise between the Magistrates in session.

A Bench may be empowered under S 190 to take cognizance of offences, or it may try only such cases as may be made over to it under S 192 or under rules or special orders is to the distribution of business made by the District Magistrate under S 17

Where rule duly made find down that a trial must be completed before the same Magistrates who commended it a trial was set aside in which one Magistrate out of three was absent, and the remaining two consisted the accused. But it would be otherwise now since in view of $350\tau it would be held that a rule such as that referred to would be ultra tires is not being "consistent with this Code".

- 17 (1) All Magistrates appointed under sections 12, 13 and Magistrates and Benches constituted under section Magistrates and Benches to Dittet Magistrate Dittet Magistrate and he may, from time to time, make rules or give special orders consistent with this Code as to the distribution of business among such Magistrates and Benches; and
- (2) Every Magistrate (other than a Sub-divisional Magistrate of Sub-divisional trate) and every Bench exercising powers in a sub-division shall also be sub-ordinate to the Sub-divisional Magistrate, subject, however, to the general control of the District Magistrate
- (3) All Assistant Sessions Judges shall be subordinate to the Subordination of Sessions Judge in whose Court they exercise Assistant Sessions Judges to Sessions Judges and he may from time to time, fugge, distribution of business among such Assistant Sessions Judges
- (4) The Sessions Judge may also, when he himself is unavoidably absent or incapable of acting, make provision for the disposal of any urgent application by an Additional or Assistant Sessions Judge, or, if there be no Additional or Assistant Judge, by the District Magistrate, and such Judge or Magistrate shall have jurisdiction to deal with any such application
- (5) Nother the District Magistrate nor the Magistrates or Benches appointed or constituted under sections 12, 13, 14 and 15 shall be subordimite to the Sessions Judge, except to the extent and in the manner hereunafter expressly provided

S 17 does not empower a District Vingistrate to delegate to the Senior Homerary Vagistrate of the district the duty of distributing cases among the other Honorary Magistrates and Benches?

* Tmp r Mohdur I L R 44 Bom 400 * Bal Rishan v Sipahi Lal I L R 36 All 468

The system of illistrict administration is here declared -

Majistrates in a district are subordinate to the Majistrate of the District, and, without interfering with this rule it is also declared that all Majistrates in a sub-division shall also be subordinate to the Sub-divisional Majistrate.

The difficulty formerly felt by reason of the absence of any reference to an Additional District Missistrate in subsection (1) has now been removed by the amendment mode in S in aute

An Assistant Sessions Judge is subordinate to the Sessions Judge because he exercise inferior powers, and in some respects his sentences are appealable to the Sessions Judge is 40% but the law is silent in regard to an Additional Session Judge, because he is competent to exercise powers co-ordinate with those of the Sessions Judge.

Sub section 2

A Migistrate in a Sub-division is subordinate to the Sub-divisional Magistrate and also to the District Magistrate 3

Sub section .

Assistant Sessions Judges shill fire such esseconts as the Lical Government by general or special order may shout than to tree or is the Sessions Judge of the distribution by general order may make over to them for trail (5-193 (5)).

Sub section /

This provides for the disposal of urgent business such is in application for ball when the Sestene Judy, is unity ideally deem for inceptible of sitting. The subordination of Magnetines to the Sessions Judy's waited thus he restricted to close ringularly a using before him in uppoid (8-408) or committed for trial by the Court (8-103), to matter taken up by him under 8-435, no order to existing limited fact to the certainess legality or propriety of any finding sentence or order or the regularity of any procedulings, and to cross on which is person ordered by a Magnetiate to give security for more than one year does not give it (8-123), also to cives regarding certain officiars which would be ordinarily impeabled limit, that is in cases tracked by a Magnetize to give security of the first class, where a complaint has been made, or the Augustrate his reduced to make a complaint (8-47618).

District Magistrats should couply but ill requisitions for records, returns and information mide by Session July 8 with regirt to one use appailable to them or referable by them to the High Court, whether decided by the District Magistrate or by other magistrat of office is of the District, or mide by the Sessions Judges under orders of the High Court in the exercise of their duty of supermindence over the subordinat Courts. They should also render any explanation which Sessions Judges may require from them, and obtain and submit any explanation door which Sessions Judges any require from them, and obtain and submit any explanation to assist the Applicate Courts in respect of the Classes of cases whose referred to

D-Courts of Presidency Magistrates

18 (1) The Local Government shall, from time to time, appoint a sufficient number of persons (heresidency Magistrates in a fer called Presidency Magistrates) to de Chief Presidency Lagistrates for each of the presidency-towns, and shall appoint one of such persons to be Chief Presidency Magistrate for each such town.

<sup>1</sup> Thaman Chette v Alagert I I R 14 Mad 331

- (2) The powers of a Presidency Magistrate under this Code shall he exercised by the Chief Presidency Magistrate, or by a salaried Presidency Magistrate, or by any other Presidency Magistrate empowered by the Local Government to sit singly, or by any Bench of Presidency Magistrates
  - (3) A Presidency Magistrate may be appointed under this section for such term as the Local Government may, by general or special order, direct
  - (4) The Local Government may appoint any person to be an Additional Chief Presidency Magistrate, and such Additional Chief Presidency Magistrate shall have all or any of the powers of a Chief Presidency Magistrate under this Code or under any other law for the time being in force, as the Local Government may direct

The Presidency towns are the towns of Calcutta Madras and Bombay within the local limits for the time being of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of their respective High Courts—General Clauses Act 1807 S 3 (41)

The Commissioner of Police of the town of Madras is exofficto a Presidency Magistrate but he cannot hold in angury (Chapter XVIII) into a case triable by the High Court nor a trial of a warring case (Chapter XXI) —Mad Act III of 1888 S 7

(Chapter VI) --Mad Act III of 1888 S 7
Sub sections (3) and (4) were added by Act No VIII of 1923 S 3 There was hitherton provision for the appointment of an Additional Chief Presidency was hitherto no provision for the appointment of an Additional Chief Presidence Magistrate

- 19 Any two or more of such persons may (subject to the rules made by the Chief Presidency Magistrate under the power hereinafter conferred) sit together as a Beuch
- 20 Every Presidency Magistrate shall evercise jurisdiction Local limits of in all places within the presidency town for which he is appointed and within the limits of the port of such town and of any navigable river or channel leading thereto, as such limits are defined under the law for the time being in force for the regulation of ports and port-dues

See the Indian Ports Act (VO of 1908) and the Calcutta Port Act (III of 1890) A Presidency Magistrate can under this section read with S 139 of the Ben Act III of 1890 try an officine under S 84 of that Act committed outside the limits of the town, but within the limits of the Port of Calcutta 1

21 (1) Every Chief Presidency Magistrate shall exercise Chief Presidency within the local limits of his jurisdiction all Magistrate which by any law or rule in force immediately before this Code comes into force are required to be exercised by any Semior or

CEAR II SEC 22

Chief Presidency Migistrate, and may, from time to time, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, make rules consistent with this Code to regulate -

- (a) the conduct and distribution of business and the practice in the Courts of the Magistrates of the town;
  - (b) the times and places at which Benches of Magistrates shall sit,
- (c) the constitution of such Benches ,
- (d) the mode of settling differences of opinion which may arise between Magistrates in session, and
- (c) my other matter which could be dealt with by a District Vigistrate under his general powers of control over the Vigistrates subordinate to him
- (2) The Local Government may for the purposes of this Code declare what Presidency Magistrates including Additional Chief Presidency Magistrates are subordinate to the Chief Presidency Magistrate and may define the extent of their subordination
  - 5 21 dies not cenfer en i Chi f Presidence Migistrate power to control, restrict or onling the powers conferred on a Presidency Migistrate or Bench It merely declares that they shall undertake only such business as shall be made ever to them by my govern repetited relief the Chief Presidency Magistrate So when a Bench is comparent a net under sales an acquire security to keep the price on convert in 1 and of the offene a specified thereon 1.

Though under 5 5 feet (e) the High Court can transfer a case from one criminal Court to another Legal jurisdiction the words equal jurisdiction, are not defined in the Cad. But the Made a High Court has held that they refer to the ordinary powers of Courts to dispose of classes of cases and to inflict punishm nt and they also under the Courts to which and the conditions under which appeals will be The High Courts therefore held that though in certain particulars not iffering their aid n at jurisdiction in the sense above indicated the Presidency Mighstrates in subordinate to the Chief Presidency Mighstrate yet the two Courts are of equal jurisdiction for the juripose f = 5,  $56^{-2}$

Under $ 125 h t th Cli f Presid my Mighstrite mit) for sufficient reasons to be recorded in writing cin 1 my bond executed under Chapter VIII by order of any Court in his district not superior to his Court

No pleader who practices in the Court of any Magistrate in any Presidencytown shall sit in any such Court, or in any Court within the jurisdiction of such Court (S 557)

The words "including Additional Chief Presidency Magistrates" in subsection (2) were inserted by Act XVIII of 19'3, S 4 This is a consequence of the power taken in S 18 (4) to appoint Additional Chief Presidency Magistrates

' E .- Justices of the Peace.

22 Every Local Government, so far as regards the territories subject to its administration may by notification in the official Gazette appoint such persons resident within British India and not being the subjects of any foreign State as it thinks fit to be Justices of the Peace within and for the local area mentioned in such notification.)

Bom H Ct Sept 21, 1905 * In re Venkateswara Sastri I L R. 35 Mad., 739.

23 (Justices of the Peace for the Presidency-towns.) Omitted by s. 4 of Act XII of 1923.

24. (Present Justice of the Peace.) Omitted by s. 4 of Act XII of 1923.

S 22 was amended and Ss 23, 24 were repeiled by Act XII of 1923. The effect of the amendments is to also in the distinction which hithere existed within and without the Presidency-towns, and to remove the qualification of being a Luropean British Subject for being appointed a Justice of the Peace in areas outside the Presidency-towns Justices of the Peace still retain certain powers, but the provision which existed in S 443 up to the coming into force of Act XII of 1923, under which a Magnetrate was barred from exercising turn-diction in respect of a I trope in British subject, unless he was a Justice of the Peace, that displayed in the provision of the Peace still repeat the subject of the su

For general remarks as to the changes in procedure in respect of the trial of European British Subjects introduced by the passing of Act XII of 1923 see note

at the beginning of Chapter XXIII

25. In virtue of their respective offices, the Governor General, Experimo Justices of Governors, Lieutenant-Governors and Chief the Peace. Commussioners, the Ordinary Members of the Council of the Governor-General, and the Judges of the High Courts are Justices of the Peace within and for the whole of Britush India, Sessions Judges and District Magistrates are Justices of the Peace within and for the whole of the territories administered by the Local Government under which they are serving, and the Presidency Magistrates are Justices of the Peace within and for the towns of which they are respectively Magistrates.

F .- Suspension and Removal.

26 All Judges of Criminal Courts other than the High Courts

Supermon and removal of Judges and retrates, may be suspended or removed from office by the Local Government:

Provided that such Judges and Magistrates as now are liable to be suspended or removed from office by the Governor General in Council only shall not be suspended or removed from office by any other authority.

27. The Local Government may suspend or remove from Supersion and removal of Justices of office any Justice of the Peace appointed by the Peace.

Ss 26 and 27 received General Clauses Act, 1897, S. 16, which declares that where by an Act of the Governor-General in Council or Regulation, a power to make any appointment is conferred, then, unless a different intention appears, the authority having power to make the appointment shall also have power to suspend or dismiss any person appointed by it in exercise of that power.

CHAPTER III.

POWERS OF COURTS

1 .- Description of Offences cognizable by each Court.

- 28 Subject to the other provisions of this Code, any offence Offences under Penal under the Indian Penal Code may be tried-Code
  - (a) by the High Court, or
  - (b) by the Court of Session, or
  - (c) hy any other Court by which such offence is shown in the cighth column of the second schedule to be triable.

III estration

A is committed to the Sessions Court on a charge of culpable homicide. He m is be convicted of voluntarily consing fourt, an officer triable by a Magistrate

Subject to the other provisions of this Code

Thus for instance except in certain cases of contempt of Court committed in HE VIEW OF PROSERVE ($5. 450 and 485) no Court of Session can talle cognizance of any offence as a Court of original purisdiction, unless upon commitment by a competent Court or Magistrate (5 193)

So also, no Court can take committee of certain offences committed in contempt of the authority of a public - ruint, or committed in relation to any proceed ing in any Court or committed by a party to a proceeding in any Court with respect to a document given in evidence therein, sive on the complaint of that or a superior Court ( 195), or of my offence is unst the State save on the complaint of Government, (5 196), or of an offence commuted by a Judge or public servant. not remove this from office without sanction of Government unless special sanction has been previously accorded ($ 197), or of in offence under Chapter \1\ (Breach of Contract) Chapter XXI (Definiation), or Ss 433-466 (relating to Marriage) of the Penal Cod, except on complaint of an aggreed person (S 198), or of an offence under 5, 407 (Adulters), or 5, 408 (entiring away of a married woman) of the Penal Code, without complaint of the husband of the woman or her temporary guardian, or of an offence committed by any person by an act purporting to be done under Chapter IN of this Code (unlawful assemblies) except with the sanction of the Local Government, or, in the case of an officer or soldier, of the Governor General in Council (S 132) The jurisdiction of a Magistrate would further depend upon the due observance of the conditions requisite for commencement of the proceedings See Ss 190 and 191

If, without being empowered to do so, a Magistrate takes cognizance if an effence on a complaint, or on a Police report of facts constituting such offence (S 190 (1) (a) and (b) ), his proceedings are not void merely on the ground of his not being so empowered, provided that he has acted erroneously and in good faith But, if not being empowered by liw in that benalf, a Magistrate talles cognizance of an offence not on complaint or on a Police report (5 199 (1) (c) ). his proceedings are viid (5 530)
S 556 also declares that no Judge or Angistrate shall, except with the permission of the Court to which an appeal lies from his Court, try or commit for trial any case to or in which he is a party or personally interested, and no Judge or Magistrate shall hear an appeal from any judgment or order passed or made by himself On the same principle no Magistrate or Sessions Court can. lexcept in cases specially provided for by Ss 480, 485 of this Code, try any person for any offence referred to in S 195, when such offence is committed before lumself or in contempt of his authority, or is brought under his notice as such Judge or Magistrate (S 487)

A High Court may take cognizance of an offence upon a commitment made to it (S 194) or it may withdraw for trial before itself any case from any other

Court (S 526 (1) (10)

A Chartered High Court can also in exercise of its extraordinary original criminal jurisdiction under its Letters Patent try it its discretion any person residing within its ordinary jurisdiction who may be brought before it on a charge preferred by the Advocate General S 192 (*) of this Code also deals with this matter

The Illustration is intended to show that although an offence may appear in Schedule II as one triable only by a Migistrate of the case is before a Court of Sessions on commitment mide for a more homous offence the Sessions Court is competent to hold the trial only for the minor offence. See also S 238 post But if the offence is punishable and r some other law in which a Court is specially mentioned it cannot be tried by any other Court for instance, by a Court of bes sion if a Migistrate is so mentioned is the Court competent to try it 2

(1) Subject to the other provisions of this Code any Offences under other offence under any other law shall, when any Court is mentioned in this behalf in such law, be tried by such Court

(2) When no Court is so mentioned, it may be tried by the High Court or subject as aforesaid by any Court constituted under this Code by which such offence is shown in the eighth column of the second schedule to be triable

Hitherto the only provision of the Code which governed this section was 5 447, which I id down the circumst inces in which an Europe in British Subject was to be committed for trial to the Court of Sessi n or the High Court. The coming into force of the Criminal Liw Amendment Act 1323 (All of 1924) his altered this See the general note in this subject it the beginning of Chapter XXIII

Ss 191 29B and Chapter Will are some of the provisions of this Code which Lovern the application of $ 29 See also $ 5.8D (2), and Chapter ALIV

on the transfer of cases

The Indian Railways Act (IX of 1830) S 133 provides that offences under it shall be triable by a Presidency Mag strate or by a Magistrate exercising powers not less than those of the second class. The Indian Registration Act (VI) of 1908) S 83 also restricts the trial of offences under it to Angistrates not inferior to the second class Certain offences under the Metal Tol ens Act (1 of 1889) are triable by a District or Sub-divisional Magistrate and by other Magistrates only with the previous sanction of such Magistrate The Prisons Act (IX of 1894) S 52, makes certain offences under it triable only by a Magistrate of the first chies

Offences under the Opium Act (I of 1878) can be tried by a Presidency Magis trate, a Magistrate of the first class, or by a Magistrate of the second class

specially empowered by the Local Government

The Malras Stamp Vet 1898 (II of 1899) the Indian Salt Act, 1882 (VII of 1882) and the European Vigeint Act 1874 (VII of 1874) are instances of other Acts which provide specially for offences under them An offence under a special law cognizable by a Mag strate vested with special powers cannot be transferred to an ordinary Magistrate who is not so vested? 1 Q Timp t Schade I I R

CRAP III. Secs. 294, 30

The fact that, in a case committed to his Court, the Sessions Judge adds a charge of an offence trible exclusively by a Magistrate does not affect his jurisdiction to try it!

231. No Magistrate of the second or third class shall inquire Trail of European into or try any offence which is prinishable British subjects by second and third class otherwise them with fine not exceeding fifty rupees where the recused is an European British subject who claims to be tried as such

This section was introduced by the Criminal I in Amendment Act, 1973 (All of 1922). It provides one of the few remaining, distincts in the trial of Luropan British subjects which it was the object of that Act to account to Frinceian British subjects see S. 4 (2) (2) and as to claims to be fixed as such exclaiming to the results of the American American American States and American American American States and American Amer

23B Any offence other then one pumshable with death Junia that in the or trensportation for life, committed by any lerson who at the date when he appears of its brought before the Court is under the age of fifteen years, may be tried by a District Weistr, te or a Cluef Presidency Megistrate or by any Majort to specially empowered by the Local Government to exercise the powers conferred by section 8, subsection (I) of the Reformatory Schools Act 1897, or, in any area in which the sid tech is been wholly or in part repealed by any other law providing for the custody trial or punishment of youthful offenders by any dagstrate empowered by or under such law to exercise all or any of the powers conferred thereby.

This is n w. It provides for the establishment of puemic Courts. The first step in this direction was taken by the Walris Englishine Council when it pased the Madras Children Mit, 1950. This for all the repetide to a considerable extent the Reformatory Schiols Let 187 in so for its it was applied ble to the Madras Presidency. In Madris and in my other province in which a similar law that Presidency In Madris and in my other province in which a similar law that paster of this section, and mobile or in part the Reformatory Schools Act, the latter part of this section, on this special Magister I Courts to be instituted for the trial of cerous offences commuted by usenable who would lut for this section, have to be committed for trial. See also the Bengal Children Act, 1922, as amended by Bin Act V of 1073.

30. (In the territories respectively administered by the Administration of the Commissioners of Oudh, the Administration of the other provinces in which there are Deputy Commissioners of Assistant Commissioners the Local Government may, notwithstanding anything contained in section 29, west the District

O Fmp : Klarge I l R S Alt 6/2 I the Punjal included at the time the Cole was passed the territones which now form the North West I router Province. The Punjab Burma, the Central Provinces and Assym are now Cost mores. Provinces and Oudh is administered by the Governor of the United Provinces.

Magistrate or any Magistrate of the first class with power to try as a Magistrate all offences not punishable with death

Any Magistrate so empowered can pass a sentence of imprisonment not exceeding seven years including such solitary confinement as is authorised by law, or of fine, or of whipping or of any combination of these punishments authorised by law (S 34) But when an accused is an European British Subject see S 34 A

When there is evidence which if believed would constitute a charge of murder an offence punishable with death it is undesirable that the Magistrate should try the case under these special powers on a minor charge. By so doing he incurs a grave responsibility. In such a case however the High Court, after considering the evidence refused to interfere as they were not satisfied that the finding was not correct 1

A Magistrate under powers conferred by S 30 convicted the accused of culpable homicide not amounting to murder. Her painting out that in this instance the offence would amount to murder unless it fell within one of the exceptions given in $ 300 Pen il Code in the definition of murder and that as the Court is bound under S 103 of the Evidence Act to presume the absence of circumstances constitut ing such an exception the burden of proof would lie on the necused, the Chief Court Punto has held that the proper course was for the Magistrate to have committed the accused to the Court of Scision on a charge of murder, leaving it to that Court to determine the offence. The Chief Court observed that the proper construction of the Magistrate's proceedings in convicting of culpible homicide not amounting to murder is that the Magistrate has in effect tried the accused for murder and found him guilty of an act not falling within the definition of murder in S 300 but has reduced it to the lessor offence of culpible homicide not amounting to murder by reason of the existence of some of the circumstantes described in one of the exceptions to that section. And in doing so he has usurped the jurisdiction of the Court of Session and has exceeded his own jurisdiction as a Magistrate empowered under S 302

A Magistrate competent to commit to the Court of Session cannot after an inquiry under Chapter WIII of this Code male over the case for trial by the District Vingistrate under special powers given under $ 30. He is bound to com tuit or d scharge the accused S 346 does not apply to such a case. The object of conferring special powers under S 30 is to accelerate trivis by avoiding the delay consequent on a commitment to the Court of Session and also to afford relief to those who have to attend as witnesses and would thus have to attend the Criminal Courts more than once 3

It should be borne in mind that in such a case the Magistrate is holding the trial as a Magistrate and not as a Court of Session So, if he finds it necessary to offer a conditional pardon to one of the accused persons, he becomes incapable to hold the trial by reason of S 337 (14) 1 proposal to enable such a ease to be transferred to a Magnetrate specially empowered under this section was not accepted by the Legislature

B - Sentences which may be passed by Courts of various Classes

Sentences which High 31 (1) A High Court may pass any sen-Courts and Sessions tence authorised by law Judges may pass

(2) A Sessions Judge or Additional Sessions Judge may pass any sentence authorised by law, but any sentence of death passed

I'mp v Paramananda I I R 10 Cal 85 (8 c) 13 C L R 175 Q Emp v
 Gundya i L R 13 Bom 502
 Gurdya i L R 13 Bom 501
 Gurdya i Panj Rec 1891 p 8 Mungal Singh Panj Rec 1893 p s
 Amir Khan i K Emp 7 Cal W N 457

CHAP III SEC 32

by any such Judge shall be subject to confirmation by the High Court. (3) An Assistant Sessions Judge may pass any sentence authorised by law, except a sentence of death or of transportation for a term exceeding seven years, or of imprisonment for a term exceeding seven years

This section sets out the endinger powers of a Sessions Judge, an Additional

Sessions Judge and an Assistant Sessions Judge

The restrictions on the powers of Courts of Session to try and sentence I uropean British Subjects contained in Se 444, 447 and 449 as they stood prior to the amendment of the Cale in 1923 have now disappeared. See now S 34A, a Court of Session cannot sent nee an Fumpe in British subject to transportation or to whipping but can pass a sentence of penal servitude As to cases which can be traid by Additional and Assistant Sessions Judges

Certain Courts which otherwise have full powers of High Courts under the Code are not High Courts fir the purpose of proceedings against Puropean British Subjects (See d finm n of High Court in 5 4 (1) (1))

(1) The Comits of Magistrates may pass the following with sentences namels -Sentences Migistrates may pass

(a) Courts of Presi Magis and of Magistrates of the first class

Imprisonment for a term not exceed ing two years, including such solitary confinement as is authorised by law

Fine not exceeding one thousand rupecs,

N hipping

(b) Courts of Magistrates of the second class

Imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, including such solitary confinement as is authorised by law,

Fine not exceeding two hundred 1 upces .

(c) Courts of Magna trates of the Imprisonment for a term not exceeding one month.

Fine not exceeding fifty rupees

(2) The Court of any Magistrate may pass any lawful sentence, combining any of the sentonces which it is authorised by law to pass

This section describes the ordinary powers of a Magistrate in regard to sentences which he can pass but if the accused person be an European British subject and claims to be tried as such, no Ungestrate of the second or third class can inquire into or try an offence punishable otherwise than with fine not (xcceding fifty rupees (See 5 29A)

District Migistrates and other Migistrates of the first class cannot sentence an European British subject to whipping (See 5 344 (b))

An Appellate Court in altering a sentence is bound by the limitation imposed on the trial Court by this section. Thus where a second class Magistrate had passed a sentence of three months' imprisonment, and a first class Magistrate acting is an Appellate Court illered the sentence to one of fine of four hundred supees the High Court held the Appellate Court's order to be ultra wires and restored the original sentence 1

As a rule, the law declaring an offence also provides for its pumshment. there is however an exception in regard to the special punishment of whipping The offences punishable by whitping are set out in the Whipping Act, (IV) of 1900 See also Reg. III of 1901, Ss b and 12

In certain districts of UPPER BURNA, all Magistrates of the second class are competent to pass sentence of whipping 2 The punishments prescribed for offences under the Penal Code are set out in Sch II, cul 7 of this Code Imprisonment means imprisonment of either description fre, rigorous or simple) as defined by the Indian Penal Code, S 53-General Chauses Act

( of 1807), 5 3 (20)

55 73 and 74 Punal Lode, thus provide for centences of solitary confinement -

Whenever any person is convicted of an offence for which, under this Code, the Court has power to semence him to rigorous imprisonment, the Court may, by its sentence order that the offender shall be lept in solitary confinement for any portion or portions of the imprisonment to which he is sentenced, not exceeding three months in the whole according to the following scale, that is to 411-

A time not exceeding one month, if the term of imprisonment shall not exceed aix months

A time not exceeding two months if the term of imprisonment shall exceed six months and shall not exceed a year

A time not exceeding three months, if the term of imprisonment shall exceed one yeur-5 73 In executing a sentence of solitary confinement, such confinement shall in no case exceed fourteen data at a time, with intervals beingen the periods of solitary confinement of not less duration than such periods, and when the imprisonment awarded shall exceed three months, the solitary confinement shall not exceed seven days in any one month of the whole imprisonment awarded, with intervals between the periods of solitary confinement of not less duration than such periods-S 74

Whipping

The punishment of whipping should not ordinarily be inflicted on adults in cases in which the offender holds a respectable station in life. It is appropriate only in the case of eriminals in the louir order of society, and, save under very special circumstances involving particular turpitude on the part of the offender, it should not be inflicted in cases of extortion, false evidence or forgery, and generally it should be understood, that, as an additional punishment, the policy of Government is that whipping should be awarded only when a further deterrent seems really called for in the interests of public justice. It is a punishment manifestly designed as a reinforcement of the powers of the law for the repression of what are popularly styled "the dangerous classes," and especially when the ordinary punushments, having been resorted to, have failed of success It should be avoided in the case of a native of the class known as Bhadro (respectable) convicted of a petty their and a first conviction (Ben Govt Orders)

(1) The Court of any Magnetrate may award such Power of Magazrate terms of impresonment in default of payment to sentence to impriof fine as is authorized by law in case of such sonment in default of fine default.

Emp v Muhammed Yalub Ab L.L. R. 45 All , 594 2 Reg I of 1925. Schodule, el II.

Provided that

Prov so as to certain

- (a) the term is not in excess of the Magistrate's powers under this Code.
- (b) in the case decided by a Magistrate where imprisonment his been awarded as part of the substantive sentence, the period of nuprisonment awarded in default of payment of the fine shall not exceed one-fourth of the period of imprisonment which such Migistrate is competent to inflict as punishment for the offence otherwise than as imprisonment in default of payment of the fine

(2) the nuprisonment awarded under this section may be in addition to a substantive sentence of imprisonment for the maximum term award tole by the Magistrate under section 32

64, Indian Penal Code, as amended by Act VIII of 1882, S 2, and by Act III of 1886, S 21, declares that, in default of payment of fine, it shall be competent to the Court to direct that an offender shall suffer imprisonment for a term which shall be in excess of any other imprisonment to which he may have been sentenced, or to which he may be hable under a commutation of a sentence, and S 63 declares that if the offence be pumshable with imprisonment as well as fine such imprisonment in default of payment of fine, shall not exceed one fourth of the term of imprisonment which is the maximum fixed for the uffence

Thus in a case of thele is 37) Penil Code) the powers of a Magistrate of the first class would be imprisonment for two years and a fine of 1,000 rupees, or, in default of payment of fine impresonment for six months, i.e., one fourth of two years, the maximum term of impresonment that he could inflict. In cases regarding offences punishable with imprisonment as well as fine, a Magistrate of the second class cannot, in default of payment of fine, pass a greater sentrace of imprisonment than say weeks, i.e., one fourth of six months? Similarly, on week it, one fourth of a month) would be the maximum sentence in such cases by a Magistrate of the third class has further completed the assimilation of the law in this respect

The imprisonment imposed in default may be of any description to which the offender might have been sentenced for the offence (see 65, Penal Code), but if the offence be punishable with fine only, the imprisonment which the Court imposes in default of payment of the fine shall be simple, and the term for which the Court directs the offender to be imprisoned in default of payment of the fine shall not exceed the following scale, that is to say, for any term not exceeding two months, when, the amount of the fine shall not exceed 50 rupees, and for any term not exceeding lour months, when the amount of the fine shall not exceed 100 rupees, and for any term not exceeding six months in any other case -5 67, Penat Code, as amended by Act VIII of 1882, S 3

Imprisonment imposed in delault of payment of a fine shall terminate whenever that fine is pild or levied by process of law (5 68), and if, before the expiration of such period of imprisonment, a portion of the fine is paid or levied, the sentence of imprisonment shall be proportionately reduced. -S. 69.

Phoolmen v Satram, 6 W R, Cr Rulings 51.

passed a sentence of three months impresonment, and a first class Magistrate aring as an Appellate Court intend the sentence to one of fine of four hundred rupers the High Court held the Appellate Courts order to be ultra wires and restored the original sentence?

As a rule the I'm declaring an offence also provides for its punishment for its boxtier in exception in regard to the special punishment of whipping the offences punishment is whitping are set out in the Whipping Act. (IV) of

1909 See also Reg Ill of 1901, So to and 12 In certain districts of Upper Burnt all Magistrates of the second class tre competent to para sentence of whipping 2.

The punishments pre-cribed for offences under the Penal Code are set out in Sch II, col 7 of this Code impressment of either description (1.6, rigorous or simple) is defined by the Indian Penal Code, S 53—General Clauses Act

Simples is denied by the indian renal code, 5 53—General Chause No. (No. 1817) S 3 (26)
So 73 and 74 Penal Code thus provide for entences of solitary to 73 and 74 Penal Code thus provide for entences of solitate

Whenever any person is converted of an offense for which under this Gode, the Court fix power to sentence him to rigorous impresentant the Court may, by its sentence order that the offender shall be lept in solitars confinement for any portion or portions of the impression at the which he is sentenced, not exceeding three months in the whole according to the following scale that is to sair-

A time not exceeding one month, if the term of imprisonment shall not exceed six months

A time not exceeding two months if the term of imprisonment shall exceed six months and shall not exceed a year

A time not exceeding three months, if the term of imprisonment shall exceed one year-S 73

In executing a sentence of solitary confinement, such confinement shill in one size exceed fourtein days at a time, with inter-als between the periods of solitary confinement of not less duration than such periods, and nien the unpresonment invited shall exceed three months, the solitary confinement shall not exceed sector dies in any one month of the whole imprisonment awarded, with internals between the periods of solitary confinement of not less duration than such periods—5 74.

Whipping
The punishment of whipping should not ordinarily be inflicted on adults in cases in which the offender holds a respectable station in life of the case of criminals in the lower order of society, and save under very special circumstances intoling puriodial runpitude on the part of the offender, it should not be inflicted in cases of extortion, false evidence of forgery, and generally it should be understood, that, is an additional punishment, the pour of Government is that whopping should be marded only when a further deterrent seems really called for in the interests of public justice. It is a punishment manifestly designed as a reinforcement of the powers of the law for the repression of what are popularly styled 'the dangerous classes," and especially when the ordinary punishments having been resorted to, have failed of success it should be moded in the case of a native of the class known as Bhadro (frespeciable) convicted of a petity their and a first connection. (Bin Gort Orders)

33 (1) The Court of any Utgestrate may award such to antier to impersonment in default of payment of fine as is authorized by law in case of such default

Emp v Mahammel Yakuh Ak I L. R. 45 All 594

CHAP III

SEC 33

Provided that

Prov so as to certain

(a) the term is not in excess of the Migistrate's powers under this Code.

(b) in any case decided by a Magistrate where imprisonment has been awarded as part of the substantive sentence, the period of imprisonment awarded in default of payment of the fine shall not exceed one fourth of the period of imprisonment which such Migistrate is competent to inflict is punishment for the offence otherwise than as imprisonment in default of payment of the fine

(2) the imprise in it is wirded under this section may be in addition to a sub-tinitive sentence of imprisonment for the maximum term award tole by the Magistrate under section 32

As Indian Penal Code, as amended by Act VIII of 1885 S 2, and by Act VIII of 1886, S 21, declares that in default of payment of fine, it shall be completent to the Court to direct that an offender shall suffer impresonment for a term which shall be in excess of any other impresonment to which he may have been entraced, or to which he may be lable under a commutation of a sontence, and S 62 declares that if the offence be punishable with impresonment as well as fine such impresonment in default of payment of fine, shall not exceed one fourth of the term of impresonment which is the maximum fixed for the offence.

Thus in a case of theft (5) 37). Peni Code) the powers of a Magistrate of the first class would be impresonment for two years and a fine of 1,000 rupees or, in default of payment of fine impresonment for six months, i.e., one fourth of two years, the maximum term of impresonment that he could inflict. In cases regarding offences punishable with impresonment as well as fine, a Magistrate of the second class cannot in default of payment of fine, pass a greater sentence of impresonment than six weeks, i.e., one fourth of six months 1 Similarly, one week (i.e., one fourth of a month) would be the maximum sentence in such cases by a Magistrate of the third class.

So 64-07 of the Penal Code, as originally enacted applied only to sentences passed for offences under that Code, but an amending Act (N of 1886) has extended this law to offences under any local or special law Act X of 1886, S 21,

has further completed the assimilation of the law in this respect

The imprisonment imposed in default may be of any description to which the offence might have been sentenced for the offence (see 65, Penal Code), but if the offence be punishable aith fine only the imprisonment which the Court imposes in default of payment of the fine shall be simple, and the term for which the Court directs the offender to be imprisoned in default of payment of the fine shall not exceed the following scale that is to say, for any term not exceeding two months when the amount of the fine shall not exceed 50 rupees, and for any term not exceeding four months, when the amount of the fine shall not exceed for the Impresonment imposed in default of payment of a fine shall terminate whenever that fine is p ud or levied by process of law (S 68), and if, before the expiration of such period of impresonment, a portion of the fine is p paid or levied, the sentence of impresonment shall be proportionately reduced—S. 69.

Phoolmen v Satram, 6 W R . Cr Rulings 51.

passed a sentence of three months imprisonment, and a first class Magistrate acting as an Appellate Court altered the sentence to one of fine of four hundred supees the High Court held the Appellate Court's order to be ultra vires and restored the original sentence 1 As a rule the law declaring an offence also provides for its punishment there is however an exception in regard to the special punishment of whipping The offences punishable by whipping are set out in the Whipping Act, (IV) of 1909 See also Reg III of 1901, Ss o and 12

In certain districts of Upper Burva all Magistrates of the second class ire competent to pass sentence of whipping 2

The punishments pre-cribed for offences under the Penal Code are set out

m Sch II, col 7 of this Code

Imprisonment means imprisonment of either description (i.e., rigorous or simple) as defined by the Indian Penal Code, S 53-General Clauses Act (\ of 1897) 5 3 (26)

55 73 and 74 Penal Code thus provide for centences of solitary confinement -

Whenever in person is convicted of an offence for which, under this Code, the Court has power to sentence him to rigorous imprisonment the Court may, by its sentence order that the offender shall be kept in solitary confinement for any portion or portions of the imprisonment to which he is sentenced, not exceeding three months in the whole according to the following scale, that is to

A time not exceeding one month if the term of imprisonment shall not exceed six months

A time not exceeding two months if the term of imprisonment shall exceed six months and shall not exceed a year

A time not exceeding three months if the term of unprisonment shall exceed one vent-S 73

In executing a sentence of solitary confinement, such confinement shall an no case exceed fourteen days at a time with intervals between the periods of solitary confinement of not less durition thin such periods, and when the imprisonment is irded shall exceed three months the solitary confinement shall not exceed seven days in any one month of the whole imprisonment awarded, with intervals between the periods of solitary confinement of not less duration than such periods-5 74

Whipping

the punishment of whipping should not ordinarily be inflicted on adults in cases in which the offender holds a respectable station in life. It is appropriate only in the case of criminals in the lower order of society, and, save under very special circumstances involving particular turpitude on the part of the offender it should not be inflicted in cases of extortion, false evidence or forgery, and generally it should be understood that as an additional punishment, the policy of Government is that whipping should be awarded only when a further deterrent seems really called for in the interests of public justice. It is a punishment manifestly designed as a reinforcement of the powers of the law for the repression of what are popularly styled "the dangerous classes," and especially when the ordinary punishments hwing been resorted to, have failed of success It should be avoided in the case of a native of the class known as Bhadro (respectable) convicted of a petty theft and a first conviction (Ben Govt Orders)

(I) The Court of any Mignitrate may award such Powr of Magnituate terms of imprisonment in default of payment to sentence to impriof fine as is authorized by law in case of such to flust-b m tremmes default

Emp o Muhammed Yakub Ali I L R . 45 All . 594 Reg I of 1925. Schedule, el 11.

Provided that

Prov so as to certain

(a) the term is not in excess of the Ungistrate's powers under this Code.

(b) in any case decided by a Magistrate where imprisonment his been awarded as put of the substantive sentence, the period of imprisonment awarded in default of payment of the fine shall not exceed one to irth of the period of imprisonment which such Migratrite is competent to inflict as pum-liment for the offence otherwise than as imprisonment in default of navment of the fine

(2) The impression introduced under this section may be in addition to a sub-tintive sentence of implisonment for the maximum term awardable by the Magistrate under section 32

5 64, Indian Penal Code, as amended by Act VIII of 1882, S 2, and by Act III of 1886, 5 21, declares that, in default of payment of fine, it shall be competent to the Court to direct that an offender shall suffer imprisonment for a term which shall be in excess of any other imprisonment to which he may have been sentenced, or to which he may be hable under a commutation of a sentence, and S 63 declares that if the offence be punishable with imprisonment as well as fine such imprisonment in default of payment of fine, shall not exceed one fourth of the term of imprisonment, which is the maximum fixed for the offence Thus on a case of theft (5 37), Penal Code) the powers of a Magistrate of the first class would be unprisonment for two years and a fine of 1,000 rupees, or, in default of payment of fine, imprisonment for six months, i.e., one fourth of two years, the maximum term of imprisonment that he could inflict. In cases regarding offences punishable with imprisonment as well as fine, a Magistrate of the second class cannot, in default of payment of fine, pass a greater sentence of imprisonment than six weeks, i.e., one fourth of six months 1 Similarly, one week (i.e., one fourth of a month) would be the maximum sentence in such cases by a Magistrate of the third class

55 64-67 of the Penal Code, as originally enacted, applied only to sentences passed for offences under that Code, but an amending Act (X of 1886) has extended this law to offences under any local or special law. Act A of 1886, S 21,

has further completed the assimilation of the law in this respect

The impresonment imposed in default may be of any description to which the offender might have been sentenced for the offence (see 66, Penal Code), but of the offence be punishable with fine only, the imprisonment which the Court imposes in default of payment of the fine shall be simple, and the term for which the Court directs the offender to be imprisoned in default of payment of the fine shall not exceed the following scale, that is to say, for any term not exceeding two months, when, the amount of the fine shall not exceed 50 rupees, and for any term not exceeding four months, when the amount of the fine shall not exceed 100 rupees, and for any term not exceeding six months in any other case -5 67, Penal Code, as amended by Act VIII of 1882, S 3

Imprisonment imposed in default of payment of a fine shall terminate whenever that fine is pixl or levied by process of law (S 68), and if, before the expiration of such period of imprisonment, a portion of the fine is paid or levied, the sentence of imprisonment shall be proportionately reduced -S. 69.

<sup>1</sup> Phoolmen v Satram, 6 W R. Cr Rulings 51.

30

Formerly a sentence of fine could not fix a term within which the fine should be prid such being contrity to > 68 and the subsequent sections of the Penal Code 1 But S 388 of this Code as now amended provides that when a sentence of fine only or of imprisonment in default is imposed, and the fine is not paid forthwith the Court may direct p iment in full within thirty days, or in two or three instalments within intervals of thirty days, and the Court may suspend execution of the senten e of impresonment and release the offender on the execution by him of a bond to appear on the date or dates fixed for the prement of the fine or instriments and in default of payment on the due date may direct the sentence of imprisonment to be carried into execution forting the

The Court of a Magistrate, specially empowered under section 30 may pass any sentence authorised by law except a sentence of death or of trans certai i District Magis trates portation for a term exceeding seven 10, 15 or imprisonment for a term exceeding seven verrs

This has to be read subject to S 24 A which follows

Trials held by Mig str to in exercise of special powers under S 30 will s in a mirrant-case under Chapter XXI of this Code. They cannot be held be summers precedure is sen (1) proviso)

It is not competent to a Magnetic instead of committing a case for trial big the Court of Session to send it is Magnetiate vested with powers under S on because he is of opmon that the sentence which he can pass is inadequate He is bound under such circumstances to commit? See note to S 30 15 to the discretion to be exercised by a Magistrate specially empowered under that section in regard to the trial of a case in which homicide has been committed

34A Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 31, 32 which and 31-Sentences Courts and Magistrates may ra s upon Euro pean British subjects

(a) no Court of Se-sion shall pass on any European British subject any sentence other than a sentence of death, penal servitude, or imprisonment with or without fine, or of fine and

(b) no District Wagistrate or other Magistrate of the first class shall pass on any Luropean British subject any sentence other than imprisonment which may extend to two years, or of fine which may extend to one thousand rapees, or both this section is new To a large extent it removes the restrictions on the powers of Courts of Session and Magistrates to impose sentences on European British subjects Denher Court can pass a sentence of whipping, a Court of Sess on cannot pass a sentence of transportation but can pass one of penal servitude otherwise Courts of Sersion and Magistrates of the first class have in re, rd to l'urepe in British subjects their ordinary powers of sentence But the powers of 5 30 Magnetines are governed by this section. For general note on the changes introduced into the Code by the Criminal Law Amendment Act All of 1923 se beginning of Chapter Will

<sup>1</sup> Cal H (1 50 and 326 of 1861

* Amir Ishan v H Imp - Cal W N 457

35

(1) When a person is convicted at one trial of two or more offences, the Court may, subject to the Sentence in cases of provisions of section 71 of the Indian Penal conviction of several offences at one trial Code, entence him, for such offences, to the several punishments prescribed therefor which such Court is competent to inflict, such punishments, when consisting of imprisonment or transportation to commence the one after the expiration of the other in such order as the Court may direct, unless the Court'directs that such punishments shall run concurrently

(2) In the case of consecutive sentences, it shall not be necessary for the Court, by reason only of the aggregate punishment for the several offences being in excess of the punishment which it is competent to inflict on conviction of a single offence, to send the offender for trial before a higher Court

Provided as follows -

- (a) in no case shall such person be sentenced to imprisonment for a longer period than Maximum term of punishment fourteen years
- (b) if the case is tried by a Magistrate (other than a Magistrate acting under section 34) the aggregate punishment shall not exceed twice the amount of punish ment which he is in the exercise of his ordinary jurisdiction, competent to inflict
- (3) For the purpose of appeal the aggregate of consecutive sentences passed under this section in case of convictions for several offences at one trial shall be decined to be a single sentence

By S 7 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923, (XVIII of 1023), three amendments were made in this section for the purpose of removing misunderstinding. The intention of the law has not apparently been changed the first twenty-right words of sub-section (1) were substituted for the words " where a person is convicted it one trial of two or more distinct offences, the Court min, 'the words "the aggregate of consecutive sentences" were substituted for the words "aggregate sentences," and the l'aplanation and illustration were omitted

There was, prior to its amendment in 1923, some confusion in applying $ 35 which seems to have anser from overlooking us purport and object. It appears in Chapter III, "Powers of Courts," in which, after virious sections declaring the ordinary powers of the Courts, 5 3 declares on what occasions, in the same trial, those Courts may, in the sentences passed, exceed their ordinary powers

5 35 declares that a Court convecting it the same trial a person of two or more distinct offences may sentence him for such offences to the several punishments prescribed therefor, which such Court is competent to inflict, such punishments when consisting of imprisonment or transportation, being either consecutive or concurrent

S 35 next provides that by reason of such sentences, if consecutive, being in the aggregate in excess of the ordinary powers of a Court, its jurisdiction shall not be ousted so as to require the Court to send the case for trial by a higher Court provided that such sentences shall not exceed certain limits to which extent the ordinary powers of each class of Court are enhanced S 35 seems to have been intended to enhance the ordinary powers of a Court convicting, at the same trial a person of distinct offences rather than to declare what are to be regurded as distinct offences. The illustration was perhaps misleading. It was not intended except to explain S 35, that is to say, it did not declare that a separate sentence could not be passed for breaking into a house with intent to commit their and for theft of property therein but to declare that these are not distinct offences which come within S 35 so as to enable a Magistrate to pass for distinct offences separate sentences which in the aggregate would exceed his ordinary powers

So the Bombay High Court held! that the illustration showed that it was the intention of the I egislature that only one sentence should be passed for such offences, but that if separate sentences are passed, and the aggregate of such sentences does not exceed the punishment prescribed by law for any one of those offences or the jurisdiction of the Court it would be an irregularity and not an illegality requiring interference by a Court of Appeal or Revision

It would however seem that separate sentences may be so passed under the ordinary powers of a Nigustrate This is shown by S 35 which enables a Magistrate to direct that the sentences may run concurrently S 71, Penal Code. as amended by Act VIII of 188 S 4 explains the law on this subject thus -

Where any thing which is in off nee is made up of parts and any of such parts is itself an offence, the offender shall not be punished with the punishment of more than one of such his offences unliss it be so expressly provided

There any thing is in offer a I lling within two or more separate definitions of any law in force for the time being by which affences are defined or punished, or where several acts of which one or more than one would by itself or themselves constitute an offence constitute when combined a different offence, the offender shall not be punished with a more severe punishment than the Court which tries him could award for any one of such offences

So long as the limit of sentence which a Magistrate can pass under S 32 is not exceeded, there may be less difficulty still if he passes two sentences when one only should have been passed, an Appellate Court may find itself unable to regard such sentence as consolidated and in confirming the con iction, if it is of opinion that the consolidated sentence is appropriate at may find itself unable to aftern it, because this may have the appearance of enhancement of the sentence properly passed in such a case, honorer the remedy against allowing an madequate sentence to have effect would be to refer the case to the High Court as a Court of Revision, the law (S 439) giving to a Court of Revision the power to enhance a centence

Difficulties have ansen chiefly from the attempt to define what are a distinct offences.

Many of these difficulties may be trued to a misjoinder in trying several offences in the same trial instead of separately Ss "33"36 and S 239 relating to joinder of charges contain the I'm on this subject -

S 233 declares that for every distinct offence of which any person is accused, there shall be a separate charge and every such charge shall be tried separately, except in the cases mentioned in So 234 235, 236 and 239. It separate trials are held the senience that a Macistrate can pass in each case is limited by his general powers. But such sentences must be on charges of offences for which ceptrate trials may be held and which are not within $ 7t, Penal Code (See S 71, Penal Code

234 permits the joinder in the same trial of any number of offences of the same kind committed sithin twelve months from the first to the last of such effences, provided that the number of such offences does not exceed three and it further explains that offences are of the same kind when they are punishable with the same amount of punishment under the same section of the Penal Code or of one special or local fan, and in a few other cases specified If offences that should be tried aparticle are tried together in the same trial -

O I mp r Malu I L R 3 Rom 706 Pull Bench In re Daulatia I I R 3 AM 305 (F B) Weir res

the proceedings are bad a S 215 declares that

(1) If, in one size is a use connected together as to form the same transaction, more offences than one are committed to the same person, he may be charged with and tred at one trul fir every such offence

(11) If the airs dieged constitute in effence falling within two or more separate definitions of int len in force for the time being by which offences are defined or punished the person a used of them may be charged with, and tried

at one trial for, cath of such effences

allte If several arts of who have or more than one would by itself or themselves a negitute an affence constitute when combined a different offence, the person occused of them now to charged with and tried at one trial for, the offence constituted by such acts when combined, or fer any offence constituted by any one or more of such loss

(11) \ thing cent uped in this section shall affect the Indian Penal Code, S 71 S are iterlains that if a single let or some of acts as of such a nature that it is doubtful which of several flemes the facts which can be proved will constitute, the coord may be bursed with biving committed ill or any of such offeners and any number of such charges may be tried at once, or he may be thirtied in the diernitive with hising committed some one of the said offences

S 23 m s be applied his on alternative charge in regard to note constituting on official and a finding converting the neured on such alternative charges may follow. In such a case of differ nt punishments are prescribed for each of such offences 5 72 Penal Code provides that the offender shall be puntshed for the offence I r which the lewest punishment is provided, if the same punishment is ntproductional against the pender of charges in the same trial against several ters as all therefore it is a tor levint to the matter and reconsideration The remainiest form of case to which S 38 is applied is that referred to in the existence in to that section which has now disappeared in which a person is charged with committing a certain offence with intent to commit another, and also with committing the litter offence is for instance, house breaking by night with intent to commit theft (5 457 Indian Penil Code) and theft in a house (5 380), and the accused is convicted of both offences. The question then arises, whether these are distinct offeness within the menning of S 35 so is (6 emblo a Martini to have septral sentences in changement of his ordinary powers and it is a sentence of the sentence of the content of the sentence of Code of 1872 settled the point on which the reported cases had been contradictory, by showing that they are not distinct offences within $ 35, so as to enable a separat sentence to be passed in the same treal for each offence which may in the aggregate exceed the Vergistrate's ordinary powers; and as pointed out above the recent amendments of this section were not intended to change the law in this respect file simi rule would be applicable to many other offences, such as, kidnipping or abducting a person with intent to commit various offences, (Ss 363 to 369, Indian Penal Code), or forgery with a similar intention (Ss 468, 469), and afterwards committing the offence intended. At the same time separate sentences for each of such offences may 2 be pissed (See S. 235 (2) and Illustrations thereto), so long as in the aggregate the ordinary powers of the Magistrate are not exceeded, for there is otherwise on adequate reason for the insertion of S 235 in the Code, nor of the Illustration in that section. Similar difficulties have arisen in cases in which charges of rioting and hurt of different degrees have been found against the accused. In such cases where the hurt was not caused by some of the accused but by another member of the unlawfut assembly, in prosecution of the common object of that assembly, etc., all the members of that assembly may be hable for it (S. 140. Penal Code) but all these persons cannot be sentenced for both rioting and hurt the hurt being the violence which constituted and formed part of the noting and therefore not a distinct offence within S 71, Penal Code The person who actually caused the burt might be connected of both rioting and hurt and be separately sentenced for each Probably such offences would be regarded as distinct offences within $ 35. The same principle has been applied to separate sentences for noting ($ 147) and criminal trespass ($ 447), the common object of the illegal assembly by which the rioting was committed,2 also for rioting (5 147) and wrongful confinement (S 342)3 Although separate sentences are not illegal against anjone consisted of rioting and, constructively by reason of 5 149 of hurt crused by another in execution of the common object the aggregate sentence must not exceed the limit for any one of those effences so that those affences would not be regarded as distinct offences within S 30 of this Code 4 But where in act or omission constitutes an offence under two or more enactments (such as, under the Indian Penal Code and also under some local or special law) then the offender shall be liable to be prosecuted and punished under either of those engetments but he shall not be liable to be punished twice for the same offence 5

&lt;sup>1</sup> Sutrahmanu VVVar i King Fmp | L R - 5 Mad | 61 (5 c) | 1 * R , 28 | A | 257 | (5 c) | 5 Cal | W | 866 | Q | Lmp | i Matu, I | L R | 23 | Bom , 706 | 1 mt

Thefts committed at the same time and in the same room of articles belonging to different persons cannot be regarded is distinct offences. They constitute one offence s It is not legal to split in offence into its component parts, each part constituting a distinct offence when these parts combine I form another offence Thus in committing theft I man may cause hart of some kind. These may be distinct affences but the acts when r mit ned constitute the offence of robbery, and therefore a person convicted of such acts should be sentenced only for imbery, similarly separate sentences cannot be passed on a person convicted of rioting (5 147) and being a member of an unlawful assembly (S 143), since he could not be guilty of rioting without being a member of an unliwful assembly

So also a Magistrate cannot separate one act and convict of the offence constituted by that act where it has been combined with other acts and the whole

constitut d an effence trible only by a Court of Session

If the Court desires to pass a sentence of transportation, it should note that na sentence of transportation can be passed for a term less than seven years and that no effence under the Penal Code is punishable by transportation for a term of years but that als an offender is lable to impresonment for a term of seven years or upward- the Court in passing sentence may, instead of awarding sentence of imprisonment sentence him to trin-pertition for a term not less than seven years and n t exceeding the term for which by this Code such offender is hable to imprisonment (5 30 Penal Code) The Penal Code does not expressly declare that no offence to pumishable by transportation except for life, and it is only by the application of S 59 that a sentence of transportation for a term can be passed (S 1341 of the Penal Cole enseted by 1ct VVIII of 1870 S 5, and re-enacted in a modified form by 5, 4 let 10 of 1598 however, contemplates a sentence of transportation for a term which by reason of 5, 50 of the Penal Code, would be for a term of not less than seven veurs). A general sentence of transportation for two or more offences in treating the sentences as consolidated where only one or nuce of the paintshments awarded is seven years' imprisonment, is illegal?

General Cluses Act (N of 1897) S 2 66 General Cluses Act (N of 1897) R 67 G Fmp i Sheikh Monneah it W R Cr R 38 O Lmp i Pershad I L R 7 All 414

Weelan Kultist Durista t W. R. 7 M. 447
Weelan Kultist Durista t W. R. 7
Q i Woolkee Aora 2W R. Cr. 1 Q v Kristo Soonder Deb Ibid. 5 Q v Tonooram Italee 3 W R Cr 44 . Q t Shonaullah 5 W R Cr 44 Sakya, 5 Bom , 36

In the case of consistion for in attempt to commit an offence punishable with transportation the maximum penalty is half that prescribed for the substantive offence (see Penal Code Social) and would therefore be ten years' transportation,

(See Penal Code 5 57)

the has already been pointed out that, he reson of the General Clauses Act, 1857, 5 by, the same acts made jurnshable by the Penal Code and also by a special and levil law cannot be regarded as distinct offences in respect of the jurnshment to be an arded. A per on committed as distinct offences in respect of the tareful to be a surface. A per on committed as the diffences cannot be junished take for the same influed not can be be separately tried for each offence. Support of the particular and the same facts for any other jurnshiction shall not be hable to be tried again on the same facts for any other effects for which is made to the particular and the same facts for any other for any other of the particular difference for which is particularly for might have been made anything that the form it trial and the particular might have been made against limit it the farm it trial and the same particular and there exception is made by subsectinity.

The first ner who was in charge of a post-office was considered an accelerated under the AMI of 188, $5.50 for histing fraudulenth secreted a postal letter. He was afterwards tred committed and sentenced under the same law for fraudulenth making as a with the same him. It was pointed out by the High Court that, though rather it is punishable and rathese section without any evidence of the other, still $5.30 pp. and that he had severe connected and farmed substantially a part of one and the same remain it mested and farmed substantially a part of one and the same remain it mested and farmed substantially a part of one and the same remaining the strength as a second the present must be considered to have been tred and in peril in respect of the whole transaction seems of finer on the first charge. The evidence is to the making any with the but was properly a part of the evidence in support of the first charge and the streng's proof of it. There was in fact no part of the evidence on the first charge. The second consistent and sentence were therefore set and.

The prisoner we under trial for certain offences under the Indian Penal Code relating to a false return mode by him under the Viuncipal Act of carriages and horses belonging to him requiring a hierose and holses belonging to him requiring a hierose and holses belonging to him requiring a hierose and holse to a tax, and the proceedings were quasished. The High Court bit that the Municipal Act was intended to be complete in itself as regards offences committed against the Municipal Commissioners, and there was no indication in the Act of any intention to make the delinquent itso habe to punishment under the Penal Code. There was no penalty attached to the omission to male a return, and there are no words in the Act constituting the maling a false return a penal offence. Whenever there is an intention to apply the provisions of the criminal law to reds authorized or required by particular statutes that intention is always made clear by express words to that effect, and there are no words in the Municipal Act such as are necessary to make the provisions of the Penal Code applicable 2. The correctness of the law thus expressed seems open to doubt.

At the time this decision was given S 33 of the Indian Coincils Act, 1861, (24 and 25 Vic. G) Jaid down that it should not be Invital for the Governor in Council to the into consideration any law altering in any way the Penal Code that section laid down that the subsequent assent to the law of the Governor General curid any invalidity on this account. The present law on the subject is continued in S 833 of the Governore of India Act (S & Geo S Chapter 61, S A 7 Geo S Chapter 37 ind S A 10 Geo, S Chapter 101) which contains the same proxis. But it would apper that there must be relear intention in a local law Jio out-rade the proxisions of the Penal Code, otherwise the latter would not be affected

* Dalapati Rau t Mal II C R 83 (s c) Weir 196

If the act had been made an offence under the Municipal Act, it would none the less be punishable also under the Penal Code (see General Clauses Act, S 8 now re enacted as Act V of 16)7 S V b). Its omission has nevertheless been considered to exclude the operation of the Penal Code which is open to doubt

Where more than one sentence is pressed to take effect consecutively, the aggregate sentence is to be deemed one sentence for purposes of appeal A Magistrate should be careful not to deal with several offences by one sentence by Magistrate should be careful not to deal with several offences by one sentence be beyond his jurisdiction. A separate finding and sentence should, norcover, be passed for each distinct offence even if, as the law has now been expressed in its amended form the sentences are to run concurrently, for, by omitting to do so, there may be some embarrassment on appeal should the Appellate Court find that the conviction and sentence should have been for an effence other than that set out in the Magistrate's order

In vew of sub-section (3) it seems to be clear that the aggregate of concurrent sentences cannot be taken into account for the purposes of appeal, and if none of the sentences is appealable individually no appeal will lie in any case. This view has almost invariably been taken by the Courts?

C -Ordinary and Additional Powers

36 All District Magistrates, Sub Divisional Magistrates and Ordinary powers of Magistrates of the first, second and third classes have the powers hereinafter respectively conformed upon them and specified in the third schedule Such powers are called their "ordinary powers" $ 9.78

It will be seen from Sch III, that these ordinary powers do not relate to the jurisdiction of a Magistrate to try an offence or to the sentence which he is competent to piss Sch III, Col 8 declares by whit Court or by what Magistrate each offence under the Penal Code is trable and it also similarly provides for the trial of (fitness under local or special laws unless otherwise provided for by any particular lim. The local jurisdiction of a Magistrate is dealt with by Chapter Vv, and in councition with this subject S 12 and especially sub section (2) are important like gradiently powers of a Magistrate in regard to sentence are set out in S 3.

The power to of nn in techning to sentence are set out in S 3 of to the to their various orders in the course of nn in techning t returning t the jurisdiction such as an ited it saffres a public nu since (Chapter \) or to require security to keep the peace or f r good behaviour (Chapter \\)111), or to present a breech of the peace likely to talle place in consequence of a dispute concerning land or water or the right to the use thereof (Chapter \\)111 As to Upper Burma see Reg 1 of 1925 Sch cl 111

37 In addition to his ordinary powers, any Sub divisional Magistrate or any Magistrate of the first, second or third class may be invested by the Local Government or the District Vigistrate, as the case may be, with any powers specified in the fourth schedule as

Tulshilas Litshman (1991) it Bom L Rep 511 Regits v Gulam Abas (1875)

<sup>1 4</sup> Mad XXVt1 app
4 Mad XXVt1 app
11 R McGal 6313 Gur Sahey Ram v King Emp 11 R HI
11 138
5 Sher Muhammad v Luperor of India Punj Re 1991 Cr 1, 81 Emp v

powers with which he may be invested by the Local Government or the District Magistrate

The allitimal powers here referred to are powers of the same description as the ordinary powers. They are generally, however, those which a Magistrate of an inferior class cannil exercise without being so secrally invisted.

33 The power conferred on the District Magistrate by seccontrol of Dain t iten 37 shall be exercised subject to the control Magistrates rivesting of the Local Government

D -Confirment Continuous and Cancellation of Powers

- 30 (1) In conferring powers under this Code, the Local Mode of co-tering Converning times by order empower persons specially by name or in virtue of their office or clustes N official generally by their official titles
- (2) Viery such order shall take effect from the date on which it is communicated to the person so empowered
  - Whenever any person holding an office in the service Powers of office of covernment who has been invested with any powers under this Code throughout any local area is appointed to an equal or higher

office of the same rating within a like local area under the same Local Government hashall nules the Local Government otherwise directs or has otherwise directed, exercise the same powers in the local area, in which he is so appointed

The amendatins made in this section by 5 8 of the amending Act NVIII of 1973 in effect did nething in re thin substitute the word "appointed" for the word "transferred". It is not clear that my real difficulty arose under the former wording of the section. The object of the section is to obviate the regazetting of officer's powers every time they are transferred.

So when a Sub Registrar, who was vested with powers of a Magistrate in a particular locality is transferred as Sub Registrar to another place, he continues to exercise his powers as a Magistrate in that place, unless the Local Government has ord red to the contrary. But a District Unsetrate who on vicating office is appointed as Magistrate in mollier District does not continue to exercise the powers of a District Magistrate unless so specially appointed? He is only a Magistrate of the first class. A District Magistrate is a Magistrate of that class a District Magistrate of a particular District (S 10).

- 41. (1) The Local Government may withdraw all or any of Powers may be the powers conferred under this Code on any person by it or by any officer subordinate to it

- (2) Any powers conferred by the District Magistrate may be withdrawn by the District Magistrate

&lt;sup>1</sup> Emp v Viranna I L R 15 Mad 132
<sup>2</sup> Emp v Anad Sarup, I L R 3 All. 563. Balwant v Kishen I L R, 19 All.
14 See also Re Pursoyam Borozah, I L R, 2 Cal. 117

PART III.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

CHAPTER IV

OF AID AND INFORMATION TO THE MAGISTRATE, THE POLICE AND PERSONS MAKING ARRESTS

- 42 Every person is bound to assist a Magistrate or policepublication to assist officer reasonably demanding his aid, whether Magistrates and pair within or without the presidency-towns,—
  - (a) in the taking or preventing the escape of any other person whom such Magistrate or police-officer is authorised to ariest.
  - (b) in the prevention or suppression of a breach of the peace, or in the prevention of any injury attempted to be committed to any railway, canal, telegraph or public property

5. 127, 125 go lurther than 5. 47 (b) in maining it obligatory on any male person, when required in issued a Migrariae in dispersing an illegal assembly in mentional outside on the give issistance when demanded is punishable under 5 187, Penal Code

Whom such police-officer is authorised to arrest

S 54 sets out the power of a police-officer to arrest without a warrant lie is the uniformed to arrest any person whom he may know to be designing to commit a cognizable offence, if it appears to him that the commission of that officer cannot be officered, if such warrant be directed to him for execution, or be andored in his name, by the officer to whom it is directed or redored to 50), or on an order in writing from the police-officer in charge of a police station or any police-officer milling an investigation in a cognizable case ($50). He can also arrest a person who, in his presence, has committed a non-cognizable offence, or has been accused of such offence, and who on demand in these to give his name, and residence or gives one believed to be laise ($5.57).

An officer in charge of a police station can also arrest sugations or habitual rubbers, &c (5 55), he may arrest any person suspected of the commission of a cegnizable offence (Schedule II, Col 3), (5 157), also any person forming part of an unlawful assembly which does not, after being so commanded, disperse (5 128)

The custody of a Chowkeedar who has been employed by a constable executing a warrant of arrest is a lawful custody?

Where a Sub-Inspector of Police having heard that some suspected decoits were in the neighbourhood called upon the Jemindar's agent to lend him a gun belonging to the Jemindar and asked two villagers to join him in a search for the dronts and the agent and the villagers refused the assistance asked for, their conviction under S 187 of the Pen'll Code was set aside apparently on the ground that the Sub Inspector's request for assistance in finding and arresting a number of unkn wn persons whose precise whereabouts were also unknown was too vague and was not concred by the provisions of $40.2

When a warrant is directed to a person other than a 43 police officer, any other person may aid in Aid to person other the execution of such warrant, if the person than police efficer, exe cuting warrant to whom the warrant is directed be near at hand and acting in the execution of the warrant

This section supplements 5 4. (a) which ward refer to the execution of a warrant of arrest by a police-officer. In such a case assistance when demanded, is oblighter, under S. 43 it is optional.

54. 77 and 75 periods for the source of warrants of arrest directed for execution to persons other than pelice-fleets

44 (1) Every person whether within or without the pre' sidency towns aware of the commission of-Public log ve infor or of the intention of any other person to commation of cerlain offences mit any offence punishable under any of the following sections of the Indian Penal Code (namely), 121, 121A,

122, 123, 124, 124 \ 125 126 130 143 144, 145, 147, 148, 302, 303, 304, 382, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 402, 435, 436, 449, 450, 456, 457, 458, 459 and 460, shall, in the absence of reasonable excuse, the burden of proving which shall lie upon the person so aware, forthwith give information to the nearest Magistrate or police officer or such commission or intention

(2) For the purposes of this section, the term "offence" includes any act committed at any place out of British India which would constitute an offence if committed in British India

121 Waging or attempting to wage war or abotting the waging of war against the Queen

121A Conspiring to commit certain offences against the State

Collecting arms, &c, with the intention of waging war against the 122

Concealing with intent to facilitate a design to wage war 123 Assaulting the Governor General Governor, &c with antent to compel or restrain the exercise of any lawful power

124A Exciting or attempting to excite disaffection 125 Waging war against any Asiatic Power in alliance or at peace with the Queen, or abetting the waging of such war 126 Committing depredation on the territories of any power in alliance or at peace with the Queen 130 Aiding escape of re-cuing or h rhouring a prisoner of State or War or offering any resistance to the re-capture of such prisoner S 143 Being member of an unlawful assembly

Emp v Joti Prasad, I L R, 42 All 314

40 144

Joining in unlawful assembly armed with any deadly weapon Joining or continuing in an unlawful assembly, knowing that it has 145 been commanded to disperse

Rioting armed with deadly weapon 148 Murder

SSSS 302 Murder by a person under sentence of transportation for life 303

Culpable homicide not amounting to murder 304 Theft, preparation having been made for causing death or hurt or 382 restraint or fear of death or of hurt or of restraint, in order to the committing of such theft or to retiring after committing it, or to retaining property tal en by it

5 Rabbery 392

Attempt to commit robbers 393 Voluntarily causing hurt in committing or attempting to commit 394 robbery or being jointly concerned in such robbery

ς Dacoity 395

396 Dicoity with murder Robbery or dacoity with attempt to cruse death or gricyous hurt

397 Attempt to commit robbery or decosty when armed with deadly 398

Making preparation to commit decoity 399

Being one of five or more persons assembled for the purpose of 4172 committing datoity Mischiel by fire or explosive substance with intent to cause damage

415 to amount of 100 rupees or mountds or in case of agricultural produce 10 runces or upwards

4361 Mischiel by fire or explosive substance with intent to destroy a house &c

House trespass in order to the commission of an offence punishable 449 with death House treeps a m ord r to the commission of an affence constitute 450 with trin pertition for life F3(

Lurling hou e trespis or house breding hy night 457 I urking house trispass or house breaking by night in order to the commission of an offence punishable with imprisonment

458 I urling house tresposs or house brealing by night after preparation made for consing hurt &c

Grievous hurt caused whilst committing lurking house-trespass or 459 house breaking

Death or greeous hurt cau ed by one of several persons jointly con cerned in house breaking by night, &c

The terms of S 44 (2) are very wide. It would not be reasonable to enforce the obligation on any person in British India who may be aware of the commission, in a distant quarter of the Globe of any of the offences specified, but it might be useful so to act if any such person was aware of the intention to commit such in offence, and ocutted to give such information, as for instance, in the case of a widespread conspirace. A prosecution for an omission to give the information required by S as would be only on the complaint in writing of the public servant concerned, or some public servant to whom he is subordinate (5 195 (1) (a)], which would afford a guarantee that the obligation would not be lightly enforced It would be for the person omitting to give information to prove n reasonable excuse

See S1 176 and 20%, Penal Code for the penalties of omission to give the information required by S  $_{44}$  of this Code

S 154, Penal Code, moreover imposes special obligations on the owner or occupier of land on which an unlawful assembly is held or a riot is committed

45 (1) Every village headman, village accountant, village victoriant hand holdes and others bound to report certain matters of leading of the land, and the agent of any such owner or occupier of land, and the agent of any such owner or occupier in charge of the management of that land, and every officer employed in the court of Wirds shall forthwith communicate to the nearest large-trate or to the officer in charge of the nearest police station, whichever is the neuror any information which he may possess respecting

(a) the permanent or temporary residence of any notorious receiver or vendor of stolen property in any village

- receiver or vendor of stolen property in any village of which he is headinin accountant, watchman or police offeer or in which he owns or occupies land, or is agent or collects revenue or rent
- (b) the resort to any place within, or pessage through, such villing of any person whom he knows or reasonably suspects to be a thing subber, escaped convict or proclaimed offender
- (c) the commission of or intention to commit in or near such village aux non bullable offence or any offence punishable under section 143, 144, 145, 147, or 148 of the Indian Penal Code,
- (d) the occurrence in or near such village of any sudden or unnatural death or of any detch under suspicious ercumstances or the discovery in or near such village of any corpse or part of a corpse, in circumstances which lead to a reasonable suspicion that such a death has occurred or the disappearance from such village of any person in circumstances which lead to a reasonable suspicion that a non-bailable offence has been committed in respect of such person.
  - (c) the commission of, or intention to commit, at any place out of British India near such village any act which, if committed in British India, would be an offence pumshrible under any of the following sections of the Indian Penal Code, namely, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 302, 304, 382, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 402, 435, 436, 449, 450, 457, 458, 459, 460, 489A, 489B, 489C and 489D.
  - (f) any matter likely to affect the maintenance of order or the prevention of erime or the safety of porson or property respecting which the District Magistrate, by general or special order made with the previous sanction of the Local Government, has directed him to communicate information

- (2) In this section-
  - (1) "village" includes village lands, and
  - (11) the expression "proclaimed offender" includes any person proclaimed as an offender by any Court or authority established or continued by the Governor General in Council in any part of India, in respect of any act which, if committed in British India, would be punishable under any of the following sections of the Indian Penal Code, namely, 302, 304, 382, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 402, 435, 436, 449, 450, 457, 458, 459 and 460
- (3) Subject to rules in this behalf to be made by the Local Government, the District Magistrate or Appointment of Sub divisional Magistrate may from time to willage headm n by time appoint one or more persons with his Datrict Magistrate or Sub divi ional Magis or their consent to perform the duties of a trate in ce taux cases for purposes of this village headman under this section whether a section. village headman has or has not been appointed for that village under any other law

Numerous amendments were mide in this section by the Code of Criminal Procedure (\text{\text{Numerous amendment}} \text{\text{Act \text{NIII}}} of 1923 \text{\text{section}} ) The words 'in charge of the management of that land' were introduced into sub-section (i) as a result of a non-official amendment proposed during the passage of the Bill. They do not appear to have any particular significance but apparently the object is to ensure that responsibility shall not be laid on an owner's or occupier's agent unless he is actually engaged in the management of the property. An obligation is now laid by the addition to clause (b) on the persons enumerated in sub section (t) to report the discovery of a corpse in suspicious circumstances or the disappearance of any person in circumstances which lead to a reasonable suspicion that a non-bailable offence has been committed in respect of that person

Aumerous offences have been added to those specified in clause (e), namely offences concerned with the counterfeiting of coin and currency notes and banknoter The amendment made in sub-section (3) enables Sub-divisional Magistrates to appoint village headmen and also enables auditional village headmen to be appointed in areas too large to be controlled by one man

51 154 155 and 156 Penal Code impose certain obligations on owners or occupiers of lands on which riots are committed or unlawful assemblies are held,

as well as on their Agents or Managers

There are also numerous special and local Acts which impose various obliga tions on village-officers or persons connected with land to report other matters which it is unnecessary to describe in detail (Cf Criminal Tribes Act, Vi of 1924, St 26, 27)

The offences specified are -

143 Being member of in unlawful assembly

144 Joining an untraful assembly armed with any deadly weapon

S 145 Joining or continuing in an unlawful assembly knowing that it has been commanded to disperse

t47 Rioting

S 145 Rioting armed with a deadly weapon

5 231 Counterfeiting or performing inj part of the process of counterfeiting com

232 Counterfeiting or performing any part of the process of counterfeiting the Queen coin

133 Viking, busing or alling instrument for the purpose of counter-

S 34 Making huving or selling instrument for the purpose of counter-

festing the Queen's con

S 2.55 Possession of instrument or material for the purpose of using the sants for counterfesting coin

236 Meeting in Braish India the counterfeiting out of British India of coin

5 237 Import or export of counterfeit coin knowing the same to be counterfeit

23h Import or export of counterfeits of the Queen's com, knowing the

S 302 Murder

S

ς

yea, Culpible homewik not incoming to murder

y hit preparation having been made for causing death or hart or rate and or fear of death or of hurd or of restraint, in order to the committing of such theft, or to return a feter committing at, or to returning property taken by it

5 313 Mit mpt to commit robbery

314 Volunt inly crising hurt in committing or attempting to commit robbers or being jointly concerned in such robbery

395 Dacorty

5 330 Dacoity with murder
5 330 Dacoity with murder
6 337 Robbers or deceits with ittempt to cause death or grievous hurt

337 Robbers or decents with attempt to cause death or grievous hart 398 Attempt to commit subbers or decents when armed with deadly

33) Making preparation to rimmit decoity

5 402 Being one of five or more persons assembled for the purpose of committing decony

5 435 Viseline by fire or explosive substance with intent to cause damage to immunit of ion rupees or upwards, or, in case of agricultural produce, 10 rupees or upwards

S 436 Vischief by fire or explosive substance with intent to destroy a house, &c house, &c

House trespass in order to the commission of an offence punishable

5 450 House trespass in order to the commission of an offence punishable with transportation for life

S 457 I urking house trespass or house breaking by night in order to the commission of an offence punishable with imprisonment Lurking house trespies or house breaking by night, after preparation made for crusing hurt

S 45) Greeous hurt crused whilst committing lurking house trespass or house-breaking

S 460 Death or grievous burt eaused by one of several persons jointly concerned in house breaking by night. &c

480A Counterfeiting currency notes or bank notes

489B Using is genium forged or counterfeit currency-notes or bank notes

480C Possession of forged or counterfeit currency notes or bank-notes 489D Maling or possessing instruments or materials for forging or counterfeiting currency actes or bank notes

The terms of 5 45 are peremptory They do not, as in 5 44, provide for a reasonable excuse for an omission to report, but in a trial for an offence to enforce such an obligation this may be pleided and taken into consideration S 45 of this Code is now in force in I pper Burm : See Act VIII of 1898, Sch 1

But St 45 does not upply to are as in which the Burma Village Act 1907 (Bur Act VI of 1907) is in force. See S. 7 (2) of that Act

Further obligations are imposed by the Criminal Tribes Act (VI of 1924) Ss 26, 27 on tillinge headmen tillinge witchmen and owners or occupiers of land, and their agents

Intentional omission to give information which a person is legally bound to give as punishable under 5 170 Penal Code and the intentional furnishing of false information under $ 177 But no Court can take cognizance under this section except on the complaint in writing of the public servant concerned or of some other public servant to abom he is subordinate [See S 195 (1) (a)]

The pen ilty should not be enforced against a person who has omitted to give information under S 45 to the police if the police had already obtained that information from another person also bound to give it !

In order to convict any person for non-performance of the obligation imposed by S 45 it should uppear what the offence is as to commission of which he has wilfully omitted to give information that the specified offence was committed by some one, and that he knew of its having been committed

It is not intended that a person by the mere circumstance of his being the owner or occupier of land anywhere or the agent of such owner or occupier. should be bound to give information of any sudden or unnatural death occurring in a part of the country remote from where the land is owned and held mere occupation of the house in which such death took place as a residence is not what was contemplated as imposing an obligation to report nor can employment of a person is mukhtar for business in Court make him a responsible agent under this section for giving information to the police of any of the matters specified. The introduction of the words "in charge of the management of that land makes this clearer

It was held by Prinsep and Macpherson II, that the fact that the death took place where the body was found may be presumed therefrom Mitter, I, however held that this mere finding by itself does not amount to proof that the dirith took place there for it is equally consistent with death having taken place in mather village and the subsequent removal of the body to that alliage. The addition made to clairse (d) would now meet this case

A Moonsiff's peon does not come within the terms of S 45 so as to make him bound to give the information specified therein, nor a Khazanchi, nor does the owner or occupier of a house within a village in which the death has taken place?

In Bossay, Bom Act VIII of 1867 imposes additional duties on a police pitel It is his duty himself to investigate the matter of a crime and to obtain to when the second of the seco numerou ers or pi<sup>n</sup> R 1 Mad 266 ers or pi<sup>n</sup> R 4 Cal 6:3 (1 c) 3 C. L. R 87 iary to dc R, tz Mad 92 See also In re Mudhoosoodun all procurable evidence (S. 10), and if any unantural or sudden death occurs or an corpus to found the power pitel must forthwith assemble an inquest and investigate with a Pinch the cruses of death and all the circumstances of the case and make written report of the same (S. 11) If from the inquest it appears that the dath was unlawfully caused he must give immediate notice to the police statum and if the state of the crypse permits he must forward it to the Cast Surgeon or the appointed medical officer. Under S. 12, a police patel can make arrests and under S. 13 he can talle evidence on solumn affirmation and hold searches?

CHAPTER V

OF APPIST ESCAPE AND RETAKING

.1 -. 1. rest generally

- 46 (1) In making an arrest the police officer or other person making the s me shell ectually touch or confine the body of the person to be arrested, unless there be a submission to the custody by word or action
- (2) If such person for the reasts the endearout to arrest present endearout him or attempts to enade the arrest, such police officer or other person may use all means necessary to effect the arrest
- (3) Nothing in this section gives a right to cause the deeth of a person vious not acrossed of an offence pure ishable with death or with transportation for life.

The first part of this Chapter relates to arrest generally the second part ($\sigma_5 = \cdot \choose \), to arrest without a warrant Chapter VI ($\sigma_5 = \choose \choose \), $\sigma_6 = \choose \), relates to arrest a vection of a warrant. So it had been held that $\Sigma_6 \choose \choose \), which requires the pice efficer or other person secuting a warrant of arrest to notify the substance thereof to the person to be arrested and if so required to show him the warrant did not apply to an arrest made under $\Sigma_6 \choose \), by loce officer under authority of in order in writing delivered to him by an officer in charge of a police station who is competent on its own responsibility himself to make such an arrest without warrant $\Sigma_6 \choose \) But this decision is rendered obvoice by the addition now made to $\Sigma_6 \sigma_6 \choose \).

S 46 sub-secs (2) and (3) declare the powers of a police officer making an arrest, if such person forcibly resists the endeavour to arrest him or attempts to evale the arrest

the offer brail Code declares that a person has no right of privite defence against his affects by a public servant or by direction of a public servant country in good faith, under colour of his office if such person knows or has reason to believe that the person so acting is a public servant or when such person and if he knows or has reason to believe that under such direction or if the person so states.

unuer such direction or il that person so states is in writing if he produces it if demanded arrest is vail do or not is immatered if the officer making the arrest is betting in good faith under colour of his office.

<sup>1</sup> Q Emp v Ragho Mahadu I L R 19 Bom 612 1 Basanta Lalf I L R 27 Cal 320 (s c) 4 Cal W N 311

S 52, Penal Code, declares that nothing is said to be done or believed in good faith which is done or believed without due care and attention

S So of this Code is particularly important in this respect. It requires that the substance of a warrant shall be notified to the person to be arrested, and that, if it be required the warrant shall also be shown and where an arrest is made without a warrant S 36 (1) provides that the officer making the arrest shall before making the arrest notify to the person to be arrested the substance of the order which he has received and, if so required by such person, shall show him the order

It has been held in England that if the officer making an arrest has not got the warrant the person offering resistance cannot be convicted of resisting an officer in execution of his duty 1

Resistance or obstruction by a person to his own apprehension is punishable under S 224 Penal Code and if it be to the apprehension of another person, it is punishable under 5 225 Rescue from lawful custods is also punishable under

The alterations made in So 774 775 as originally enacted by Act X of 18% S 4 are important. They apply those sections to all lawful arrests and detentions in lawful custody though an arrest or detention may not be on account al the commission of an offence

In places where the Frontier Crimes Regulation III of 1001, is in force,

S 46 is to be read as if the following were added to it namels -

But this section gives a right to cause the death of a person against whom those portions of the Frontier Crimes Regulation 1001, which are not of general application, may be enforced -(a) if he is committing or attempting to commit in offence or resisting or eviding arrest in such eircumstances as to afford reasonable ground for believing that he intends to use arms to effect his purpose or (b) If a hue and cry has been raised against him of his having been con cerned in any such offence as is specified in clause (a) or of his committing or attempting to commit an offence or resisting or evading arrest, in such circums tances as are referred to in the said clause See Reg III of 1001 S 38 (11)

If any person acting under a warrant of arrest or any police officer having authority to arrest, has Search of par ex reason to believe that the person to be arrested tered by person sought to be arres ed has entered into, or is within, any place, the person residing in, or being in charge of, such place shall, on demand of such person acting as aforesaid or such police officer, allow him free ingress thereto, and afford all reasonable facilities for a search therein

Ss 75-56 refer to the execution of a warrant of arrest-See note to S 42 for the authority of the police-officer to arrest

The person to whom a warrant has been directed for execution is the proper person to execute it. It may be directed for execution by a police-officer and generally this is the practice. Such police-officer may endorse it for executin its another police-officer ($79). It may be directed to another person or persons, if no police-officer is immediately available and its immediate execution is necessary (5 77), and it may be directed to a landholder, larmer or manager of land in the district, if the arrest to be made is of an escaped consict, proclumed effender or person who has been occused of a non-builible offence and who has chall d pursun-(S 75) It should be noted that it is only in these special instances that a warrant of arrest can be directed to a person who is not a police-off cer

<sup>1</sup> Codd v Cabe, L R , 1 Ex D 35 4L J 453 13 Cox C C , 202

Execution of a warrant of arrest cun be made only by the officer or person to 1 form a warrant of arrest is directed or duly endorsed. But any pole-officer may arrest without a warrant any person vibor has been concerned in any cogn rable officine or again twition a reasonable complaint has been made or credible information 1 nd been received or reasonable suppon exists of his being of concerned 15 55 (1).

So $3-86 relate to the execution of a warrant of arrest outside the local

jur ed ction of the Mag strate issuing it

48 If ingress to such place cannot be obtained under section Procedure where in 47 it shall be lawful in any case for a person stess not obtained in acting nuder a warrant and in any case in which a warrant may issue but cannot be obtained without affording the person to be arrested an opportunity of escape for a police officer to enter such place and search therein and in order to effect an entrance into such place to breal open any outer or inner door or window of any house or place whether that of the person to be arrested or of any other person if after notification of his authority and purpose and demand of admittance duly made he cannot otherwise obtain admittance

Provided that if any such place is an apartment in the sensing open ctual occuping of a woman (not being the per n to be arrested) who according to custom does not appear in public such person or police officer shall before entering such apartment give notice to such woman that she is at liberty to withdraw and shall afford her every reasonable facility for withdrawing and may then break open the apartment and enter it.

- 49 Any police officer or other person authorised to make Power to break open any outer or inner does sand windows for the purpose of 15 at on the having lawfully entered for the purpose of making an arrest is detained therein
- 50 The person arrested shall not be subjected to more res
  No unneces ary re traint than is necessary to prevent his escape straint

More restrant refers to the manner n which custody is enforced Unwarrantable violence by a police-officer to a person in his custody is punishable under Act V of 1867 S 20.

pun shable under Act V of 1861 S 29

For the consequences of detent on an custody beyond the time allowed by law or just flable see Ss 64 and 67 and notes

51 Whenever a person is arrested by a police officer under

Search of arrested a warrant which does not provide for the tabing of bail or under a warrant which provides for the taking of bail but the person arrested cannot furnish bail, and whenever a person is arrested without warrant, or by a private person under a warr at and cannot legally be admitted to bail or is unable to furnish hail the officer making the arrest or when the arrest is made by a private person, the police officer to whom he makes over the person irrested may search such person, and place in safe custody all articles other than necessary wearing apparel found upon him

Any seizure of property so made shall be reported forthwith to a Magistrate who is impowered to pass orders regarding it -S 523

52 Whenever it is necessary to cause a woman to be searched, Med of searching the search shall be made by another woman with strict regard to decency women

53 The officer or other person making any arrest under Fewer to seze off this Code may take from the person arrested any offensive weapons which he has about his person and shall deliver all weapons so tal en to the Court or officer before which or whom the officer or person making the arrest is required by this Code to produce the person arrested

B-Arrest nathout Warrant

A police-officer super or m rank to an officer in charge of a police station may exercise the same powers throughou the local area to which he is appointed as my be exercised by an officer within his station-S 551

54 (1) Inv police officer may, without an order from a Magis When poice may trite and wathout a warrant arrestwarrant

my person who has been concerned in any cognizable offence or against whom a reasonable complaint has been made or credible information has been received, or a reasonable suspicion exists of his having been so concerned secondly int person having in his possession without law ful excuse, the burden of proving which excuse shall he on such person, any implement of house breaking, thirdly any person who has been proclaimed as an offender either under this Code or by order of the Local Govern ment, fourthly, any person in whose possess on any thing is found which may reasonably be suspected to be stolen property and who may reasonably be suspected of having committed an offence with reference to such thing,

- fifthly, any person who obstructs a police-efficer while in the execution of his duty, or who has escaped, or attempts to escape, from lawful custody:
- sixthly, any person reasonably suspected of being a deserter from Hei Majisty's Viniv Navy of Ali Force of of belonging to Hei Majisty's Indian Marine Service and being illigibly about from that service;
- seconthly, any person who has been concerned in, or against whom a recisionable complaint has been made or exclible information has been exceeded of a reasonable suspition exists of his baying been concerned in, invact committed at any place out of British India which if committed in British India, would have been junishable is in offence, and for which he is, under my fiw relating to extradition of index the Fugitive Offenders. Act 1881, or otherwise, hable to be apprehended or detained in custody in British India.
  - eighthly any icleased convict committing a breach of any rule made under section 565, sub-section (3).
  - ninthly invited from another police-officer, provided that the requisition specifies the person to be arrested and the offence of other cause for which the arrest is to be made and it appears therefrom that the person might lawfully be arrested without a variant by the officer who issued the requisition.
- (2) This section applies also to the Police in the town of Calcutta
- B) Act MIII of 1973 5 in, the word "and" was substituted for the word "or" in clause fourthly and down multly was added. The first amendment does not appear to have welkened to any great extent the powers of the police, for cases presumely covered by clause fourthly and no longer included therein by reason of the mendment would probably come under clause first. Clause multily is important. A requisition must make it deer to the officer to whom it is sent that the officer issuing it could himself arrest without wirrant.
- S 54 is made specially applicable to the Palice of the town of Calcutta because, without specific prevision to the contrary, this Code does not apply to such police S 2 (1) The section formarly also applied to the police in the town of Bombay, but was modified in this respect by the City of Bombay Police Act, 1907, (Bium Act IV of 1907) S 2 (1) and Sch A Sec Ss, 33, 31 and 36 of that Act for the powers of police officers on the town of Bombay to arrest without wirrant

Every person is bound to assist in police-officer to contably demanding his aid, in making an arrest in any of the contingereces above, specified —S 42 (a). The power to arrest given to a police-officer would not necessarily give his power to investigate the offence for all reest was made. That would dope upon Chipter VV (500 S 136). If he has no jurisdiction, the police officer should without unnecessity delay other related the person arrested on hall, or take or send him before a Magnetrate or the efficer in charge of a Police-station himing jurisdiction in the case ($5.60)

Clause (1) Credible information.

Knowledge on the part of a Police officer that a warrant for the arrest of a certain person has been sested as credible information." to justify his arrest although the Police off-cir may not have the warrant.<sup>3</sup>

Clause (3).

The preclamate n under the Code here referred to as one made under S S7 Clause (4) Person found with suspicious property.

perty t 1 M 1, but he officer furthwith to seport the finding of such property t 1 M 1, but he who is empowered to pass the proper order regarding its disposal. The definition of stolen property contained in S 410, Penal Code, (see S 4.1) (this C de) should be applied in this clause.

Clause (6) Deserters.

S 54) on bles the fiven recentral in Council to make rules as to the construction is subject to military law shift be tried by a Court to which the Code applies or by a court marked and for the course to be taken by Marketings in such 1985.

With respect t diseiters and absentees without loave the following provi sions of 5 154 of the Army Act shall have effect -

(i) I pen re is nible suspition that a person is a deserter or absentee without leave it shall be a half for any constable, or if no constable can be in a cluttely net with then for any officer or solder or other person, to apprehend such suspected person and forthwith to bring him before a court of summary justishit in.

(2) A Justice of the Peace Magnetic or other person having authority to use up in writing for the apprehension of a person chaiged with a crime may, if satisfied be collected to oth litter a deserter or absence without leave is or is readily supplied to be within his purisdetion issue a warrant authorising such deserter rebestite without leave to be apprehended and brought forward.

helire eccurt f summiry jurisdiction

(3) Where a person is brought before a court of summary jurisdiction control with being a discrete or absentee without leave under this Act, such control and do with the cree in the manner is if such person were brought to that court charged with an indictable offence, or in Scotland an offence

(4) The court of satisfied either by existence on oath or by the confession, of sich person that he is a deserter or abstatte without leave shall forthwith, is it may seen to the ceitr mote explaint with regard to his safe custody, or most of the ceitre but of the ceitre may be considered in such manner as the centring of an most expedient or, much be cut be so delivered to be committed a some person police station or effort must be provided for the information of persons on custs he for such desirable time appears to the tentral central central must be considered.

(4) Where the jets a confessed houself to be a deserter or absentee with cost and cooling of the truth or libello ded such confession is not then fert coming the court shall remond such person for the purpose of oblighing in fraction as to the truth or fisched of the soil confession, and for it a purpose the curt shall remond it sating in the United Kingdom, to the Yami Council or or they may direct, and for in India to the general or other

Freq | G pal San h I | R | 37 MI C; Ratha Malah c Bang Prop | I | R | p Mal | 1 | 8

officer commanding the forces in the military distinct or station where the court site, and if in a colon, to the general or other officer commanding the forces in that colons, a return (in this let referred to as a descriptive return) containing such particulars and being in such form as is specified in the Fourth Schedule to this Act, or a may be from time to time directed by the Army Council

(t) The court may from time to time remand the said person for a period not exceeding eight days in each instance and not exceeding in the whole such period as prepare to the court remanable necessary for the purpose of obtaining the said information

(7) Where the court cause a person either to be delivered into military custody or to be committed as a deserter or absentee without leave, the court shall send if in the United Lingdom, to the Army Council, or as they may direct, and if in India or a colons, to the general or other officer commanding as aforesaid, a descriptive return in relation to such deserter or absentee without leave, for which the clerk of the court shall be entitled to a fee of two shillings.

(8) The Army Council shall direct parament of the said for

(a) Where a person surranders himself to a constable in the United Kingdom as long a deserter or absente without leave, the officer of police in charge of the police station to which he is bounget shall forthist in inquire into the case and if it appears to him from the confession of that person that that person is a deserter or absente without leave, he may cause him to be delivered into military custods without bringing him before a court of summing jurisdiction under this section and in such area shall send to the farm Council or as they may direct in critificate signed by himself as to the fact, date, and place of such surrender

The Indian Arms Act VIII of 1911, S 123 hys down -

(i) Whenever any person subject to this Net deserts, the commanding officer of the corps, department or delenhment to which he belongs shall give written information of the desertion to such evil subjectives as, in his opinion, may be able in affined assistance towards the capture of the desertie, and such authorities shall thretupon take steps for the approxension of the sud deserter in like manner as if he were a person for whose apprehension a warrant had been issued by a Magistrate, and shall deliver the deserter, when apprehended, to military custody

(2) Any police-officer may arrest without warrant any person reasonably believed to be subject to this Act and to be travelling without authority, and shall being him without delay before the nearest Magistrate, to be dealt with according to lan

Clauss (7) Extradition, Fugitive Offenders Act

This clause is important in so far as it empowers a police-officer to arrest without warrant a person for an offene ecommitted out of British India A Policeofficer has the same power to arrest as he has if the offence has been committed in British India, provided that such person is liable to be apprehended or detained in custody in British India under any I'm relating to extradition or under the Fugithe Offenders Act 1881. The offences for which such an arrest can be made are specified in the schedule to Act VV of 1903 (The Indian Extradition Act), also in 33 and 34 Vict Cap 52, in 36 and 37 Vict Cap 60, and in the same statute Cap 88 S 27 Act AV of 1903 empowers a Magistrate of the first class, or any Magistrate specially empowered by the I real Government, to issue a warrant for the arrest within his local jurisdiction of a fugitive criminal of a Foreign State. in the same way as if the offence had been committed within his jurisdiction. reporting forthwith the issue of such war int to the Local Government, and he can detain such person in custody for two months, unless within that time he receives an order from that Government, and similar powers are conferred if the offence has been committed by a person, not an European British subject, in a State not a Foreign State [see defn S 2 (a)] But S 23 also provides that a person arrested under S 54 cl 8 of this Code, without an order from a Magistrate and without a warrant, may, under the orders of a Magistrate within whose jurisdiction the acrest has been mide, be deruned for two mentles under the same conditions as

The Fugure Offenders Act 1851 (44 and 45 Vict c (61) relates to the arrest and trial of persons areu id it offenc - commuted in one part of the Bruish Dominions who are found in mother part 1 is in force in British India under an order in Council dated Dec 12 185 5 33 of that Act declares that -

Where a person accused of an offence can be under this Act or otherwise tried for or in respect of the offence in more than one part of His Majesty's Domimions a warrant for the apprehension of such person may be assued in any part of His Majesty's Dominions in which he can, if he happens to be there, be tried, and each part of this Act shall apply as if the offence had been committed in the part of His Myesty's Dominions where such warrant is resued, and such person may be apprepended and returned in pursuance of this Act, notwithst inding that in the place in which he is apprehended a Court has jurisdiction to try him And S 54 of this Code enables I Police-officer in British India to arrest without a warrant or in order from a Magistrate a person concerned in or re isonably suspected of having committed such an offence within the British Dominions for which he might be arrested under the Lugitus Offenders Act

Power to arrest without warrant

The power to arrest without wirrant given to the police-officer by 5 54 15 discretionary and should not be exercised for petts builable offences especially when the complaint has been made some time after the offence is alleged to have been committed. In such a case it should not be exercised unless there is some sufficient reason for the arrest of the accused person such for instance, as the likelihood of his absconding or the risk of his committing some further offence, if

A police-officer, to whom a complaint of a cognizable officers is made, ought, if there be circumstances which lead him to suspect the information, to refrain from arresting persons of respectable position leaving it to the complainant to go to a Magistrate and convince him that the information justifies the serious step of the issue of warrants of arrest 2

In addition to the cases provided for by S 34 of the Lode, any police-officer or village witchman mit arrest subout a warrant and take before a Magistrate any person registered under 1ct 11 of 1924 (The Criminal Tribes Act), who is found in any part of British India beyond the linite prescribed for his residence without such pass as is required, or in a place, or at a time, not permitted by his pass, or who escapes from an industrial or reformator, settlement - 1cf \ I of 1024.

Whenever any person, apparently an European vagrant, refuses or fails to comply with in requisition made by a police-officer, under 5 4 of the European Vigiancy Act, whenever any person of European extraction commits an offence under S 23 in view of a police-officer, and whenever any police-officer has reason to believe that such offence has been or is being committed, the person so relusing, or failing or offending may be forthwith wrested without warrant by the policeofficer for the purpose of being produced in the usual manner before the officer empowered to deal with the case a

Any person committing certam offences under the Indian Railways Act (IA of 1890) may be arrested nathout warrant or other written authority by any Railnayservant or police-officer or by any other person whom such servant or officer may eall to his aid-Act 1X of 1890 S 131 Any person may apprehend and disarm any person going armed and without a license in contravention of the Arms Act (NI of 1878), S 12 A police-officer is also bound when so required to assist in arresting a deserter from a Merchant Ship -Act AM of 1923, S 101

Bom Hk Ct., Oct 3 1895 Bom H Ct., Oct 3 1895 Rules mader Buropean Vagraucy Act (IX of 1874), S 36; Gaz. Ind., 1870. Part 1, p 721.

1ct 1 of 1801, 5 44 gives police-officers power to arrest in the following cases any person who on any road or in any open place or street or thoroughfare within the limits of any town to which this section shall be specially extended by the Local Government, commuts any of the following offences, to the obstruction, inconvenience, annovance risk danger or damage of the residents or passengers, shall on conviction before a Vagistrate be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labour not exceeding eight days, and it shall be liwful for any police-officer to talle into custody without a warrant any person who, within his view committs any of such offences, namely -

Frst - Any person who shoughters are cattle or cleans any carcass, any twison who rides or drives any cittle reclassis or furiously or triple or breaks in any horse is other cattle

Second - Inv person who wintonly or cruelly beits abuses or tortures any anımal

Third - In person who leeps any cattle or conveyance of any kind standing longer than is required for loading or unloading or for taking up or setting down presengers or who kives any convenance in such a mainner as to cause incon venience or danger to the public

For the - in person who express any goods for sile

11th - In person who throws or his down any dirt fifth rubbish or any stones or building materials or who constructs am cow shed at ble or the life, ir who caus s any offensive matter to our from any house factory dung heap or the lik

Sixth - Ins person who is found drunt or rictous or who is incap ble of

tiking care of himself

Se enth -Any person who wilfully and indecently exposes his person or any offensive deformity or disease or commits nuis ince by easing himself or by bathing or washing in any tank or reservoir not being a place set apart for that purpose

Eighth - Any person who neglects to fence in or duly to protect, any well, tink or other dingerous place or structure In Madras a police-officer not below the rank of Sub In pector or a police station-officer m y arrest without warrant for earl in offences under the Abkari

Act-Mad Act 1 of 18% In BONBY 1 police-officer may arrest without warrant any person committing in h a view in a Municipality certain offences resembling public nuisances-Born

Act VII of 1867, 5 31 I or instances of other special Acts in which police officers are given power to arrest without warrant see Act VII of 18/8, S (3, Act IV of 1884, S 13 Bur Act III of 1898 S 194 Bur Act I of 1893 S 5, Pun Act III of 1911, S 91, Act VII of 1972 5 75 Ben Act 111 of 1863 5 1, etc

Discretion to arrest and abuse thereof

What is a reasonable complaint or suspicion must depend on the circumstances of each particular case but it must be at least founded on some definite fact tending to throw suspicion on the person arrested and not on mere vague surmise or information. Still less have the Police power to arrest persons as they appear sometimes to do, merely on the chance of something being proved hereafter against them Any wilful excess by a police-officer of his legal powers of arrest is, under S 220 of the Penal Code an offence punishable with imprisonment for seven years 1

When an arrest has been made by a police-officer under bond fide belief that the person arrested was in possession of stolen preperty, though the possession may afterwards be satisfactorily explained the police officer is protected, and the person so arrested can be lawfully convicted of assaulting him, as he has no right of private defence 2 See S 99, Penal Code

O v Behary Sing 7 W R Cr 3
Bhawoo Jivaji v Mulji, I L R, 12 Bom, 377 See also Q Emp v Dalip, I L R, 18 All , 246

A police-officer is not competent to irrest without wireant a person in British India who is accused in a Loreign State of in officee committed in it. He was accordingly rightly convicted of wrongful confinement (S. 342 Penal Code)?

A police-officer detained a person while he consulted his superior officer whether he should take 'a recognizance. On being prosecuted by the person so detained, it was held that the confinement was without any justifiable ground but massmuch as there was proof that the police-officer cived bould file, though his might have exceeded the limits of his authority, the High Court found that the facts did not amount to the craimal offence of wrongful restraint for there was no malice, no intention of doing any jet of the nature described in $330 or $340, and no voluntary obstruction or restraint which would render the police officer liable to penal consequences.

If is is frequently the case a policist finer without arrising a person lumself directs some of the neighbours to tale charge on lum, the policisefficar is responsible in the some way as if he had haveful mide the arrisist the person arrested by his order being in law in his custody a

Len if a person be rightly arrested at dise, not rest with the discretion of the pelice-officer to keep the prisoner in custody where and as long is he please. Under no currumstances can he be detained will out the special order of a Magis true for more than twenty four hours at the experition of twenty four hours at the experition of twenty four hours are the experition of twenty four hours or sent in to the Magistrate injudge detention is absolutely inflavious, and though the Code is not so express a point the place of the time of confinement still it is perfectly efert that it was intended that where a police-officer his arrested in person the prisoner should not be Lept in confinement in my place which the subordinate officer might select but that he should if possible be sent immediately to the police station and there be Lept in the custody of the officer in charge of the station who is the person christed 1) the At with the conduct of the inquiry

The question whether the officer who made the accest is within or beyond his powers does not affect the question whether the accused are or are not guilty of the offence with which they are charged. As the Magistrich Ind jurisdiction to take cogalzance of the offence the High Court on appeal refused to consider the legality of the arrest 4.

How the prisoner came bettere the Magistrate that is whether he was legally or illegally arrested is immaterial if the Magistrate is competent to try him for the offence of which he was accused.

That the arrest was illegal is not proper ground for an acquittal 4

But, where it find jurisdiction though Council in setting should also be set a up."

without he Privy thereon

It should also be noted that there is no right of private defence on the part of a person charged with an officine against an act which does not reasonably cause apprehension of death or grievous hurt if done or attempted to be done by a public servant, e.g. a police-officer under colour of his office though that not may not be strictly justifiable by law, nor if done or attempted to be done by the direction of a public officer so acting S op Penal Code

Proof of an unlawful commitment to confinement will not of itself warrant the legal inference of malice. Knowledge that such commitment is contrary to law is a question of fact and not of law, and must be proved in order to support a conviction of a police-officer under S 220 of the Indian Penal Code 1

- 55 (1) Any officer in charge of a police-station may, in like Arrest of vagabonds, manner, arrest or cause to be arrested—habitual robbits, etc.
  - (a) any person found taking precautions to conceal his presence within the himits of such station, under circumstances which afford reason to believe that he is taking such precautions with a view to committing a cognizable offence, or
    - (b) any person within the hints of such station who has no ostensible means of subsistence, or who cannot give a satisfactory account of himself, or
  - (c) any person who is by repute an habitual robber, liousebreaker or thief, or an habitual receiver of stolen property knowing it be stolen, or who by repute habitually commits extortion or in order to the committing of extortion habitually puts or attempts to put persons in fear of injury
  - (2) This section applies also to the police in the town of Calcutta

In certain districts of Upper Burnet the Levil Government may emifer powers under this section on any palice-officer (see Reg. 1 of 1925, Sch. Cl. IV) see also

Reg III of 1991, S. 39/
S. 55 is independent of C ' 't Chapter my follow an irrist under S in charge of a police-estation may arrest who may after airds be dealt s 'agistrate
'agistrate

who may afterwards be dealt a "agistrate District Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class under S 100 or C $100 and 100 and 100

The operation of $ 55 is specially extended to the Police of the town of Calcitat as otherwise by resson of $ 1, (2) they would be excepted It applies like the rest of this Code to the Police of the town of Madris This section formerly applied also to the Police in the town of Bomby but was amended in this respect by the City of Bomby Police Act, 1902, (Bonn Act IV of 1972) S 2 (1) and Sch A.

Certain local Acts also give powers of arrest to the Police of these towns under circumstances similar to those set out in this section

Thus in Calcutts and Markes every police officer is competent to arrest without warried may be proof found between suised and sunrise arried with an dangerous or offensive instrument whatsoeser with intent to commit any emininal act, any reputed their found between suises and sunrise on board any wessel or boar, or lying or loitering in any bazur, street, road, yard, thoroughfare, or other place who shall not give a suisistatery account of himself; any person found between sunset and sunrise having his free covered or otherwise disguised, with intent to commit any offence, any person found between suisest and sunrise in any discling-

<sup>1</sup> Reg v Narayan Baban 9 Bom H C R 345 S-e also O Emp v Amarsang Jeths I L R, 10 Bom, 506.

house or other building whatsoever, without being able satisfactorily to account for his presence therein, and Any person having in his possession, vithout lawful excuse (the proof of which excuse shall be on such person), any implement of house breaking may be taken into custody by any police-officer without a warrant, and shall be liable, on summary conviction before a Wigistrate to imprisonment, with or without hard libour, for any term not exceeding three months -Ben Act IV of 1866, Mad Act III af 1888

Power is specially given to my police-officer in the town of Midras to arrest under certain specified circumstances (Mad Act III of 1888, S 64, see also S 24) A police-officer superior in rink to a officer in charge of a police station may exercise the same powers throughout the local area to which he is appointed, as may be exercised by an officer within the limits of his station -5 551

Every officer in thinge of a police station may arrest or cause to be arrested all persons found wandering at large whom he has reason to believe to be lunatics, and shall arrest or cause to be crrested all persons whom he has a uson to believe to be dangerous luntics -Act IV of 1912 S 13

The power given by $ 55 should be exercised only when the officer in charge of a police station has good reason to apprehend that serious harm will result before I'e a able to go to a Magistrate, who is under 5 112 empowered to deal with such a matter. A person so arrested by the Police should always be given the option of release on suitable bail 1

This section should not be used to ditain in custody a person whom a court, after acquittal of an offence charged has ordered to be set at liberty?

The proper use of a Budmashi Regi ter was thecussed by the Allahabad High Court in the case of Babn I all and Datter v I ventenant II M F Horsford District Superintendent of Police and Varain Singh Kotaal of Allahabad, an unreported case

We think it proper to state in this place the opinion which is entertained by us, and we believe we may say also by the other learned Judges of the Court with respect to the legitimate use which may be made by the Police of Register No to which is more generally known as the Budniashi List 1 or the protection of the public it has been found necessary in every civilized State to constitute certain persons officers for the presention said detection of crime, and to render them efficient it has also been found necessary to confer on them powers of interfering with the liberties of their fillow-citizens which if exercised by private persons would render them liable to civil proceedings. It is necessary for the officiency of the Police that they should possess information of the names of persons who are likely to commit offences and inasmuch is changes must of necessity constantly take place in the members who constitute the Police I orce it is all a necessary that the information above mentioned should be preserved. To effect this, registers are ordinarily kept showing the names of persons who have committed or who on strong grounds are suspected of the commissio of offences. Such a register accurately compiled and strictly preserved for the purpose for which it is designedthe private use of the Police-my be of great advantage to the public in enabling the Police to perform their duties effectively. But if this register be a public regis ter, or if the persons having the custody of it allow its contents to be a matter of public conversation we can imagine no greater engine of injustice and oppression

"The matter recorded is not confin d to facts which have been ascertained by fair and open investigation in Courts of Justice. It does, and necessarily must, in a great measure, consist of the results of ex parte investigations made in private It is and necessarily must be, in great part the fruit of rumour and suspicion, and sometimes it may be of malice. Were it permitted that such a register should be kept as a register to which the public might have access, or of which the entries were brunted about, the character of honest men might be blasted

<sup>1</sup> In re Daulat Singh I L R 14 All 45 See 1 60 * Emp v Vaiku I, L R. 41 All 483

without redress, through the instrumentality of any enemy who could gain the ear or excite the suspicions of the Police Very shortly after the establishment of this Court, the abuse of this register was, on more than one occasion, prominently brought to its notice. It had at that time (and we fear the exil has not even yet been cured) come to be regarded as a public register, and Magistrates not unfrequently passed ord re directing the entry of a person's name as a kind of punishment the Court, on the 9th August 1866, addressed the Government of these Provinces on the subject, and pointed out the probability and magnitude of the exils, of which we have above made mention, and the Government promptly passed an order that entites should only be made by the District Superintendent or the Migistrate in his expects of Superintendent of Police and directed that the register should be considered a private register and should only be open to inspection by efficers of Police. In the present rise, and the orders of Government been cheved in spirit as well as in letter, whhough the pluntiffs in one might have been unjustly recorded they would not have been greatly dominified but no sooner was the entry mad, than it became to word had been made

Cause to be arrested -This would be by an order in writing directing a particular pulies officer to arrest a specified person stating the offence or other cause for which the arrest is to be mad (5 56) See also 5 54 (1) muthly. In endorsement on a copy of a warrant of armet is not in order in writing under S 56, nor is the copy of a warrant sufficient authority to arrest

Procedure when police officer deputes subordinal. 10 arrest wilhoul warrant

56 (1) When any officer in charge of a police-station or any police officer making an investigation under Chapter XIV requires any officer subordinate to him to arrest without a warrant (otherwise than in his presence) any person who may lawfully be arrested without a warrant, he shall deliver to the officer required to make the ariest an order in writing, specifying the person to be arrested and the offence or other cause for which the arrest is to be made The officer so required shall, before making the arrest, notify to the person to be arrested the substance of the order and, if so required by such person, shall show him the order

(2) This section applies also to the police in the town of Calcutta

The powers under this section form rly only vested in the officer in charge of a police station, but have now by the Amending Act No XVIII of 1923 been given to every police-officer maling an investigation

An order in writing so if Inered to a sub nin ite police-officer empowers him to make the arrest which the superior palit a flicer is competent to make. Formerly he was not bound, as in executing a warrant of arrest (S 80), to notify its substance, or, if required to do so, to show the order in writing, since S 80 did not But it was held to be desirable that he should do so, so as to deprive the person to be arrested of an excuse for resistance or obstruction on the plea of the exercise of the right of private defence, and the amendment made in sub-section (1) by S 11 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act XVIII of 1923, now places an order in writing under this section on the same footing as a warrant

This section is specially applied to the police in the town of Calcutta formerly applied to the police in the town of Bombay, but was amended in that respect by Bom Act IV of 1902 As to Madras see Mad Act III of 1888

&lt;sup>1</sup> Q Lmp v Dalip I L R 18 Att 246 Q Emp v Basant Lall, I L R, 27 Cal 320 (s c), 4 Cal W N 311 See also S 99 (2) Explin 2 Penal Cole, and Note to S 46, ante

An endorsement on a copy of a warrant of arrest result by a Magistrate cannot be regarded as an order in writing under S 36, nor is a copy of a warrant sufficient authority for an arrest 1

Having regard to his duties as set out in Ben Act VI of 1870, S 30, a chowleider in Bengal is an officer subordinate to an officer in charge of a police-station, and can therefore be authorised by him to make an arrest 2

- (1) When any person who in the presence of a police-Refusal to givename officer has committed or has been accused of committing a non-cognizable offence refuses, and reside ce on demand of such officer, to give his name and residence or gives a name or residence which such officer has reason to believe to be false, he may be arrested by such officer in order that his name or residence may be ascertained
- (2) When the true name and residence of such person have been ascertained, he shall be released on his executing a bond, with or without sureties, to appear before a Magistrate if so required

Provided that, if such person is not resident in British India, the bond shall be secured by a surety or sureties resident in British India

(3) Should the true name and residence of such person not be ascertained within twenty four hours from the time of arrest or should he fail to execute the bond, or, if so required, to furnish sufficient sureties, he shall forthwith be forwarded to the nearest Magistrate having jurisdiction

Act IX of 1890 (The Indian Railway, Act) S 132, similarly provides for bail to be taken from a person arrested for an offence under that Act or a bond without sureties if his name and address are ascertained

A police-officer cannot without the order of a Vingistrate of the first or second class having jurisdiction to try such case or commit it for trial or of a Presidency Magistrate, investigate a non cognizable case -S 155

The person bound over may deposit a sum of money or Government promissory notes to the amount required in hea of executing a bond (S 513) Unless a surety be resident in British India it would be impossible to enforce the penalty of a bond, hence the proviso

In Upper Burns at his been enacted that, notwithstanding anything in S 57 or S or (of this Code) an officer in charge of any police station, to which this may be specially applied by the Local Government by notification in the official Gazette, may detain a person arrested without warrant so long as under all the circumstances of the case is reasonable—Reg. I of 1925, Sch. C. V.

But when the officer of his own authority detains any such person in his custody for a longer perud than twenty four hours exclusive of the time necessary for the journey from the place of arrest to the Magistrate's Court, he shall state in the report prescribed by 5 for lef this Code] his reason for prolonging the detention of the person, and where the detunion extends beyond three days, he shall submit further reports of the reasons therefor, as the Magistrate to whom the report under S 62 was submitted, may direct—Reg I of 1925, Sch Cl V proviso In British Baluchistan see Reg VIII of 1896, S 7(1)

Q Emp v Dalip, I L R, 18 All 246 2 Babu Lat 0 rear 10 Cal W. N., 287.

The Madras High Court held! that a private citizen has the right to arrest under the Common Law any person as to whom there is reasonable apprehension that he would commut a breach of the peace. This ruling was considered in the following year by a full Benef of the same Court which laid down that the criminal law of India hal been codified in the Indian Penal Code and the Criminal Procedure Code. The former Code deals specifically with offences and states what matters will afford an excuse or a defence to a charge of any offence and the Court is not entitled to invoke the common Liu of England in such matters at all It was held that in re Ramas came Aypar (I L R 44 Mad, 913) was rightly decided not on the ground of the l'nglish Common Law on which the decision is based, but on the provisions of the Indian Penal Code relating to private defence; where two police officers arm still without warrant a person who was drunk and creating disturbance in a public street and confined him in the police-station though one of them I new his name and address and it was not found to what extent he was a danger to others or their property it was held in the same case that the arrest having been made by the police-officers without warrant for a non-cognizable offence their action was prema facte in effence under 5 342 of the Indian Penal Code unless it was justified under the prayisons of the Code relating to the right of privite delence or and r 5 St of the same Code 2

I police officer may, for the purpose of arresting without warrant any person whom he is authorized Pursut of offerders to arrest under this ( hapter, pursue such person into other jurisde tions into any place in British India

British India me ins. iff territories and place within His Majesty's dominions which ir fir the time being governed by His Majesty through the Governor General of India ir nrugli in Governor er other officer subordinate to the Governor General of India—General Clauses Act (V of 1897) S 3 (7)

The power to pursue a person for the purpose of arresting him without warrant

here given is limited to my place in British India

(1) Any private person may arrest any person who in his view commits a non bailable and cog-Arrest by private nizable offence, or any proclaimed offender, person and p oc dure on such arre t and, without unnecessary delay, shall make over any person so arrested to a police-officer, or, in the absence of a police officer, take such person or cause him to be taken in custody to the nearest police station.

(2) If there is reason to believe that such person comes under the provisions of section 54, a police officer shall re-arrest him.

(3) If there is reason to believe that he has committed a noncognizable offence, and he refuses on the demand of a police officer to give his name and residence, or gives a name or residence which such officer has reason to believe to be false, he shall be dealt with under the provisions of section 57. If there is no sufficient reason to believe that he has committed any offence, he shall be at once released

The amendments made in this section by Act VIII of 1923, S 12 amount to

&lt;sup>1</sup> In re Ramaswami Ayyar, I L R 41 Mad 913 <sup>1</sup> Gopal Naidu v King Pmp, I L, R, 46 Mad, 605 (F B.)

nothing more than redrafting. A proposal in the Bill as introduced to give certain village-officers the powers of police-officers under S 54 was rejected by the Legislature

The sending of a man so arrested by a private person in charge of his servant is a compliance with S 59 so as to make the min escaping from such custody liable to punishment 1 Act XXI of 1923 (the Indian Merchant Shipping Act) S 101 confers powers to arrest deserters etc on certain persons connected with a ship with or without the assistance of police-officers who are bound to assist if required. Numerous other special and local Acts also give power to arrest in certain circumstances

A village Chowkeeder is not a Police-officer within S 59 in view of the duties set out in Bengal Chowleedari Act 1 of 18) S 132 A person arrested under S so should be forwarded from a police station direct to the Magistrate having jury teti n and not to the next superior officer of Police 3

No person who has been arrested by a police-officer, shall be discharged except on his own bond or on bull or under the special order of a Magistrate -

As to the powers of a private person to arrest in areas where the Frontier Crimes Regulation III of 1901 is in force see S 38 (1) of that Regulation

The ruling of the Madras High Courts that a private citizen has the right to arrest under the Com non Law any person as to whom there is reasonable appre hens on that he would comput a breach of the peace was over ruled by a Pull Bench of the same Court's which laid down that the provisions of the English Common Law could not be relied on but regard must be h d to the provisions of the Indian Penal Code relating to private defence or to S 81 of that Code

Where a private person has lawfully arrested an offender under S 59 but made him over to a chowkeedar to be taken to the police station, the custody of the latter is not lawful within 5s 224 and 224/109 of the Penal Code inasmuch as he is not a police-officer within the meaning of the term in S 50 of this Code 8

Where a private person bond fide makes an arrest under S 59 but takes the prisoner to the Magistrate instead of to the nurrest police station he is protected from a charge of wrongful confinement by the provisions of S 79 of the Penal Code 7

A police officer making an arrest without warrant shall, without unnecessary delay and subject to the Person arrested to be taken before Mag s provisions herein contained as to bail, take or trate or officer send the person arrested before a Magistrato in charge of police having jurisdiction in the case, or before tho

officer in charge of a police station

See notes to S 57 ante for the l w 11 Upper Burma and British Baluchiston If the offence for which the person has been arrested is bailable and he is prepared to give bail to the police such pers n shall be released on bail (S 406) If the offence is not bulable he may be released on bail but he shall not be released if there appear reasonable grounds for believing that he has been guilty of an offence punishable with death or transportation for life (S 497)

Q Emp v Fetadu I L R 11 Mad 480
Q Emp v Fetadu I L R 12 Mad 480
Richi v Kala Chowkusı I R 27 Cal 366 (S c) 4 C W N 252
Puma Chandra Nandy 17 Cal W N 272 S 1 L R 41 Cal 17
Ben Man Vol II p 449 para 12
I Ben Man Vol II p 449 para 12
I ne r Ramasvumi Ayya I L R 44 Mad 913
Gopal Naudu v King Emp I L R 46 Mad Co5
Gopal Naudu v King Emp I L R 46 Mad Co5
Paras Chandra Kundu v Emp 1 L R 41 Cal 17 following I L R 27
Cal 356

Special orders have been issued by the Government of India regarding the execution of a warrant for the arrest of a Rullway servant which would probably apply equally to an arrest without worrant by a pice other. If the person whose duty it is to arrest, finds that the immediate arrest of the Rullway servant would occision risk and inconvenience to the public, the police-officer shall made are ingenents to present escape and apply to the proper quarter to have such servant releved, deferring arrest until he is releved.

61 No police-officer shall detain in custody a person arrested before a rested and without warrant for a longer period than under the bedetained four all the circumstances of the case is reasonable, hours a special order of a Magistrate under section 167, exceed twenty-four hours exclusive of the time necessary for the journey from the place of arrest to the Magistrate's Court

The terms of S 6t in regard to the limit of detention in custody by the police have been modified in Urtin Buists, see note to S 57, which is applicable also to 5 6

Whenever it appears that my investigation under this Chapter cannot be complicted within the period of beenly four bouns fixed by S of, and there are grounds for believing that the accusation is well founded the officer in charge of the police statum is hill forthwith training to the nervest Magistrate a copy of the entries in the distribution infer presented relating to the case and shall, at the same time, forward the accused to such Magistrate (S: (7).

The prince of it wenty for hours the limit of detention in custody by the

The period of twenty for hours as the limit of detention in custody by the police sive under a special order old under from Mygistrate under S. 167, when there is investigate in held by the police of tentileters. So on the appeal of a police-officer consect of favoragial configuration in in it is a bicklight in no case is a police-officer consect of favoragial configuration in in the state of the policy p ground warranted by the circumstances of the case.

The time for which a pirron is a rengfully of

The time for which a person is wrongfully confined by a police officer is material only for fixing the punishment for the offence

A police-officer, who, without arrising a person directs some of the neighboris to take charge of him, is responsible in the sam, a miner as if he had himself made the irrist the person so trasted being in his custody 3 so also the requiring the attendance of a person by letter, and the deputing of two constables to accompany him, under the allegation that their dutus were to prevent him from speaking to any one, amount to an arrest and confinement 4.

The detention in custody referred in S 6s is by a police officer of the regularpolice force. The term of detention by a village police-officer, under Born Act VII of 1867, is not to be included in the time allowed by S 6s. 1 is should be noted that, after an arrest under S 59 by a private person, the police-officer is required to re arrest the accused, if there is reasonable ground for proceeding against him

Special order of a Magastrate

This would be passed under S 167. The term so ordered cannot exceed fifteen days in the whole Before a Mugistrile can grant a remand to custody the accused must have been brought before him. To remand is to re-commit to custody and requires the presence of the prisoner? A police officer, who fails to place an accused person before a Magistrate is lumined guilty of an offence, of which serious notice should be taken <sup>2</sup>. Every prisoner must be forwarded from a police station of rect to the nearest Magistrate having jurishition, and must not be sent to the next superior officer of police <sup>2</sup>. A remand to police custody ought to be granted only in cases of real necessity, and when there is good reason to believe that the accused can point out property or do something that will assist in cludding the case <sup>3</sup>. It cannot be granted by a third class Magistrate, or by second class Magistrate unless specially empowered.

Gov Ini June 20 1877, Beng Pol Cir July 27 1877 Bom Bk Cir p 4 Suprosundo Ghosaul 6 W R Cr 88 4 0 v Behary Sing, 7 W R Cr 3 Paran Kusum Narasya v Suart 2 Mad H C R, 195

Bom H Ct Cir, 1260, 1869 Shera 2 Panj Rec, 72 Weir 95

62 Officers in charge of police stations shall report to the Police to report

District Magistrate, or, if he so directs, to the Subdivisional Magistrate, the cases of all persons arrested without warrant, within the limits of their respective stations, whether such persons have been admitted to bail or otherwise

The words or otherwise here may refer to a case in which the person arrested has been 1 scharged is for in tance under $ 59

The object of this section is that the lud cial Bench should promptly exercise authority, if necessary with regard to all arrests by the police and it seems to have been finamed with this iew that with no press or no be released without the order of a Magistrate except on boil or recognizance it shall be the Magistrate's responsibility as well as that of the police if a part in lifegally arrested remains unneces sarily in custody.

- 63 No person who has been arrested by a police officer Dscharge of person shall be discharged except on his own bond, apprehended or on bail, or under the special order of a Magistrate
- Offence commuted in the presence of a Magistrate within the local limits of his jurisdiction, in Magistrate's he may himself arrest or order any person to arrest the offender, and may, thereupon, subject to the provisions herein contained as to ball, commit the offender to custody

Within the local limits of his jurisdiction

Unless the jurisdiction of a Magistrate has been expressly restricted by the Local Government, or subject to its control by the District Magistrate, the jurisdiction and ordinary powers of a Magistrate extend throughout the d strict—(S 12) For the provisions as to bail see Chip VVVI post

65 Any Magistrate may at any time arrest or direct the Arrest by or in presence of Magistrate of his jurisdiction of any person for whose arrest he is competent at the time and in the circumstances to issue a warrant

<sup>1</sup> Bom H C Cr Cir p 2 1 Ben Govt Sept 22 1862

Panj Bk Cir p 1/6 Ianj Bk Cir, P 174

66 If a person in lawful custody escapes or is rescued, the Power, on escape, to person from whose custody he escaped or was rescued may immediately pursue and arrest him in any place in British India

A polyce-off-cer for the purpose of mresting any person without warrant is also authored to juriest such part on the any place in British India (S. 58) and he is also authored to arrect without warrant has person who has escaped from lawful custod: (S.  $_{\rm 54}$  Cl. v.) S. 66 gases similar powers to any person from whose custods the person irrected has escaped or been received to pursue and arrest him in any lace in British India. This violat apply it an arrest made under S. 59 by a private person.

67 The provisions of sections 47, 48 and 49 shall apply to Provisions of sections 60 although the person making any such arrests not acting under a warrant and is not a police officer having author 1st, to arrest

CHAPTER VI

OF PROCESSES TO COMPLL APPEAR INCE

A -Summons

- 68 (1) Every summons issued by a Court under this Codo shall be in writing in duplicate, signed and scaled by the presiding officer of such Court, by rule direct
- (2) Such summons shall be served by a police officer, or, subject to such rules as the Local Government may presente in this behalf, by an officer of the Court issuing it or other public servant
- (3) This section applies also to the Police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay

A summons would be (1) to inswer to the accusation of an offence, (2) to show cause against some order (3) to attend as a witness or (4) to attend as a juror or assessor at a Sessions trial forms of such summons are given in Schedule V Ss 68-74 apply to every summons under this Code (S 93)

In writing

This includes printing 1 thography photography or other mode of or reproducing words in a visible form —General Clauses Act (X of 1897), S. 2.

In duplicate

The reason for this is that one of these duplicates should be left with the person on whom the summons is served (S 69) or, if personal service cannot be made, service should be made by learning the process with an adult male member of his family or, in a presidency town with his servent residing with him ($ 70), or, if such service cannot by the exercise of due diligence be effected, it should be affixed to some conspicuous part of his house or homestead. The other copy should he returned to the Court with certificate of service

Signed

Difficulties have arisen from signature being by initials only, and it has been doubted whether a process bearing a signature by initials is valid. The illustration to S 5.7 which declared that it a Magistrate being required by law to sign a document signs it by initials only this is purely an irregularity, and does not vitiate the validity of the proceeding. has been omitted by Act XVIII of 1923, S 148 on the ground that it was unappropriate. It remains to be seen what view the Courts will take as to the effect of the omission, but it seems doubtful whether the law has been changed

By whom to be served

A summons is usually seried by one of the process serving establishment appointed under the Court Lees Act (VII of 1870) S 22

A fee is charged on each summons which is fixed by rules made by the High Court under Act VI of 1870 S 20, such fees are to be collected by stamps (S 25), which, when the summons is acted upon should be cancelled by punching out the figure head of the stamp (S 30). If the offence for which summons has issued is non cognizable that is in offence for which the Police may not arrest without warrant (S 4 (n) of the Code) or for wrongful confinement or wrongful restrunt which are cognizable offences the Court of it convicts the necused person may order him to re pay such fees to the complainant ($ 546A of this Code) Such fees may be recovered as if they were fines imposed by such Court ($ 5.47)

Every officer of a Court of Justice whose duty it is, as such officer, to execute any judicial process is a public servant (S 21, Penni Code)

A summons may be served by any public servant. The object of this is to effect the service of process more readily in matters determinable under local or special laws, such as under the Porest Act

Whenever a Mag strate issues a summons for the attendance of an accused person, he may, if he sees reason to do so, dispense with his personal attendance,

- and permit him to appear by plender ($ 205)

  5 57 of the Presidency Magistrates Act (IV of 1877) the only unrepealed section of that Act thus regulates the fee for a summons or warrant " A fee of eight annas shall be paid for every summons or warrant issued by a Presidency Magistrate except in the case of a summons to attend and give evidence or to produce documents, in which case there shall be paid a fee of four annas vided that such Magistrate may in any case remit any such fee, if he is satisfied that the complainant is unable to pay the same and shall remit it when the complaint is made by a public servant in the execution of his duty
  - (I) The summons shall, if practicable, be served per-Summons how sonally on the person summoned, by delivering pski2» or tendering to him one of the duplicates of the summons
  - (2) Every person on whom a summons is so served shall, if so Signature of receipt required by the serving officer, sign a receipt remains therefor on the back of the other duplicate. for summons

(3) Service of a summons on an incorporated company or other body corporate may be effected by serving it on the secretary, local manager or other principal officer of the corporation, or by registered post letter addressed to the cluef officer of the corporation in British India. In such case the service shall be deemed to have been effected when the letter would arrive in ordinary course of post

'Person' includes an Company or Association or body of persons whether incorporated or not—S 11, Penal Code. As in some matters, e.g. suppression of a nuisance under S 133 of this Code summons may issue against a Company, provision is made by S (4) (3) for the service of such summons.

The mere showing of a summons is not sufficient service. Either the original should be left or exhibited or delivered or tendered !

A refusal to give a receipt for a summons is not an offence under S 173, Penal Code 2

70 Where the person summoned cannot by the exercise of Serres when per due diligence be found, the summons may be served by leaving one of the duplicates for him with some cdult indemenber of his family, or, in a presidency town, with his servant residing with him, and the person with whom the summons is so left shall, if so required by the serving officer, sign a receipt therefor on the back of the other duplicate

71 If service in the minner mentioned in sections 69 and Procedure when ser 70 cannot by the exercise of due diligence rice cannot be effected, the serving officer shall affix one of the duplicates of the summons to some conspicuous part of the house or homestead in which the person summoned ordinarily resides, and thereupon the summons shall be deemed to have been duly served

This mode of substituted service of summons is often too readily resorted to It should be noted that it is only when by the exercise of due diligence ordinary service cannot be made that service under  $S = \gamma 1$  can be substituted for it

72 (1) Where the person summoned is n the active service on servant of the Government or of a Railway Company, the Court issuing the summons shall ordinarily send it in duplicate to the head of the office in which such person is employed, and such head shall thereupon cause the summons to be served in manner provided by section 69, and shall return it to the Court under his signature with the endorsement required by that section

(2) Such signature shall be evidence of due service

&lt;sup>1</sup> Reg v Karsaulal Danatram 5 Bom H C R, Cr 20
<sup>2</sup> In re Bhobunethwar Dutt I L R, 3 Cal 621 (s c) 2 C L R 80 Reg v Kalya, 5 Bom H C R, 34 Q Emp v Krushaa Govenda Das I L R, 20 Cal, 353

38.

Attention has been directed in the note to $ 60 to the orders of Government in regard to action of the Courts or the Police when requiring the absence of Railway officers from their duties. An opportunity should be given to the local superior of any such officer to provide temperarily for the performance of such duties so as to avoid inconvenience to the public. In such matters affecting the absence of medical officers their convenience should similarly be consulted

Service should be made through the local head of the office. Thus, in the case of a police-officer summons should be served through the District Superinten dent or the Assistant District Superintendent in charge of the sub-division to which the officer may belong and in the case of a medical subordinate at a sub-division through the Magistrate or other executive head of the district, in order to enable him in communication with the Chil Surgeon to make arrange ments for the conduct of the medical duties 2

Whenever it may be necessary to summon an officer or soldier in military employ summons should be sent under cover to the officer in command of the regiment or detachment with an application for his assistance in serving it,3 unless there are special reasons for proceeding otherwise which should be recorded 4

Summons on a medical officer should name such date for attendance as will enable the officer to attend in time. Whenever the attendance of a witness as a medical officer in charge of a dispensivy is likely to entail prolonged absence from duties the Court should communicate with the Civil Surgeon, so that arrangements may be mad 5

Summons in the United Provinces should be served-

(a) in the case of an officer or soldier in military employment through the officer in command of the corps of detrehment in which such person

mil be serving (b) in the case of a Gazetted officer in the department of Land Revenue and General Administration or in the Judicial Department, when attendance is required by any Court beyond the limits of the district in which the person is serving through the Chief Secretary to (rovernment (c) in the case of a Gazetted officer in any other department, through the head of that department.

In the case of a person in the active service of a Railway Company, certain persons have been specified as head of the office !

Sub Section 2)

Although the signature of the head of the office is evidence of the service, when service has to be proved there should be evidence of the signature

When a Court desires that a summons issued by it shall be served at any place outside the local limits outs de local limits of its jurisdiction, it shall ordinarily send such summons in duplicate to a Magistrate within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the person summoned resides or is, to be there served

A translation of the summons certified by the transmitting Magistrate should be sent if the language in ordinary use in the district in which service is to be made is not that of the Court issuing it, it should accompany it with a letter requesting service

<sup>1</sup> Cal H C Cir O 14 Dec 6 1866 Rules &c. 3 2 Cal H C Cir O 1 Jan 10 1868 3 Cal H Ct Rules &c p 4

Panj Bk Cir p 142

Bom Bk Cir, p 142
All Rules &c No 7
All Rules &c No 8
Cal H Ct Rules &c, p 47

11

In forwarding an application or summons for the attendance of a witness residing in a varies State care should be taken to give such a lescript on of him that he may be easily identified. Thus, for include I set the name and his father's name the requisition should indicate his age exist and village and it should be mentioned if his village is in the neighbourhood of an well nown low.

In the case of persons residing in the territories of His Highness the Nixim the district village and mobilita (locality) should be mentioned. The probability time during which the autness will be detained should also be stated and in fring the date when the appearance of a witness is required reasonable time should be given so as to allow of his being fund an 1 s at off until the contrary is proved

1110 When practice I be the latta allowed by Government orders for the expenses of witnesses (see note to S 544) should be transmitted at the time of sending the request n

- 1V By these arrangements if is h ped that a greater degree of punctuality with regard to the attendance of watersess from Nature States will be secured. It is describle that officers should (when it is possible) and I summoning such witnes as for the preliminary inquiry before the Magistrate in cases where their evidence though necessary before the Sessions Court is not indepensable for the purpose of commitment.
- Proof of service is such the local limits of its jurisdiction, and in such cases and wire a serving officer on any case where the officer who has served a summons is not present at the hearing of the ease, an affiliavit purporting to be made before a Magistrate, that such summons has been served and a duplicate of the summons purporting to be endorsed (in mainer provided by section 69 or section 70) by the person to whom it was delivered or tendered or with whom it was left shall be admissible in evidence, and the statements made therein shall be deemed to be correct inless and
- (2) The affidavit mentioned in this section may be attached to the duplicate of the summons and returned to the Court

B -Warrant of Arrest

- 75 (1) Every narrant of arrest assued by a Court under Form of warrant of this Code shall be in writing, signed by the arrest presiding officer, or in the case of a Bench of Magistrates, by any member of such Bench, and shall bear the seal of the Court
- (2) Every such warrant shall remain in force until it is cancontinuanced celled by the Court which issued it, or until warrant of stress it is executed.

All the provisions in this Chapter relating to a warrant of arrest its issue and execution apply, so far as may be to every warrant of arrest issued under the Code-(S 93)

A warrant of arrest may be issued for the attendance of a person (1) accused of an offence or (2) required to show cause against an order, or (3) for the attendance of a nitness or (4) for the appearance of a person bound by a bond to appear who does not appear [S 92 (5)] or (5) for the arrest of an occused person who has been requitted if any appeal has been presented against the order of requittal-(5 4°7)

Forms of warrants of wrest are given in Sch V

Schedule II column 4 sets out for what offences ordinarily a warrant for the airest of the accused person shall issue in the first instance S 203 (1) however, gives a discret on to the Vingistrate who may if he thinks fit issue a summons and if summons is issued the Magistrate may dispense with the personal attendance of the recused and permit h m to appear by pleader-($ 200) A warrant of arrest may by endorsement by the Court on it direct that the person arrested may be released on but The terms of the bail should be specified on the warrant-(S 76) And in any case in which a Court is empowered by this Code to issue a summons for the appearance of any person other than a juror or assessor it may after record ing its reasons in writing issue a warrant for his arrest-

(a) if either before the issue of such summons or after the issue of the same but before the time fixed for his appearance, the Court sees reason to believe that he has absconded or will not obey the sum

mons or

(b) if at such time he fulls to appear and the summons is proved to have been duly seried in time to admit of his appearance in accordance therewith and no reasonable excuse is offered for such failure (S 90)

A Magistrate can issue a warrant of arrest only for the production of the person arrested in his own Court. He cannot issue a warrant for the arrest of a witness required in a Police investigation 1

A warrant for the arrest of a person called upon to show cause against an order would not issue in every case of this description for in many cases e.g. an order under S 133 on proof of service of the notice or summons the order may be made absolute in his absence or in a maintenance case under S 488 an order may be mide ex parte on evidence given by the petitioner. But where a per son criled upon to show cruse why he should not be bound over to keep the peace or for good behaviour does not appear on service of summons a warrant of arrest would issue The order could not be passed in his absence because it could not be enforced unless he was before the Court [See S 90 (b)] A warrant for the arrest of a witness would be issued under the circumstances stated in S 90

The note to S 68 applies also to S 75 in regard to the warrant being in writing and signed by the presiding officer

Where a warrant for the arrest of an accused person who failed to surrender on the day named in his bond was signed not by the Magistrate who had cogni zance of the case but by an honorary Magistrate the warrant was invalid and a conviction under S 353 of the Indian Penal Code for resistance to the constable making the arrest was set aside 2

The arrest under a warrant duly signed but not sealed is illegal and a con viction under S 225 B of the Indian Penal Code was set aside 3

The following observations were made by SARGENT, I on the necessity for sealing a warrant to ensure its validity, and certain particulars which should be specified therein -

<sup>1</sup> Q Emp v Jogendranath Mukerjee I L R 24 Cal 320 (s c) r Cal
W:N 154 N 154 Mahajan Sheikh v Emp I L R 42 Cal 708 In re James Hastings 9 Bom . H C R . 154

. Having regard to orinin that has been generally entertained by the Judges in England that a seal was necessary at Common Law to the validity of a warrant and that it is expressly provided by the Code of Criminal Procedure that a warrant shall be scaled I should hesitate much before coming to the conclus on that a seal is not essent al to the salidate of a warrant issued under the Code. The reason for requiring a seril seems to be that the instrument to which it is attached has not been issued without deliberation as well of course as to prove the authenticus of the instrument " I that I am bound to follow the principle involved in the ruling of the Courts of England in Hood's case 1 Mood's Cr Cas 281 which is that a vistrant shall contain a distinct and unequivocal internation to the person that he is the induidual in Court to be apprehended and must surrender to the officers. and this two the more especially as the form of warrant provided in the Code requires that his resilence should be inserted. The issuing of general warrants is, it is well known ideal and this though not projectly spealing a general warrant which means a warrant to apprehend all persons committing a particular offence or class of offences, is, however, of such a general nature as to justify the Police in arresting any person of the name of James Hastings whoever he may be or wherever he may be found the number of persons to be arrested under it being I mited only by the limit so the number of persons bearing that name. The warrant in this case is in mit opinion for more general than was the warrant in Hood's ease and I am therefore of opinion that it is bad" (See however S 537 since enacted which would remedy such an omission if it has not occasioned a failure of justice)

The place where the Magistrate signs the warrant should appear on the face of it 1

A warrant of arrest is not returnable the a summons within a certain time It remains in firer until it is executed. But the officer to whom it is directed for execution should report if it cannot be executed so that the Magistrate may consider whether this is due to the person to be irrested having absconded or to his concealment if himself so that further action may be talled against him (5 87)

In Berut it the following orders have been issued on this subject -

Warrings of arrest should be returned on execution or alternatively after a given time, e.g. six months. In the latter case they should be accompanied on return by a police report as to whether the accused has been heard of, and is likely to come within reach. After reassue for a certain number of times, the warrant thus returned should be put on a dormant file -in eap tal cases after seven years in cases subject to transportation or imprisonment for not less than seven years after three years, in less important eases after a year. In the event of informa tion reaching the Magistrate that the accused has been seen in the district and where he could be arrested, the warrant should be re issued by the Magistrate 2

S 57 of the Presidency Magistrates Act (IV of 1877) the only unrepealed section of that Act thus regulates the fee for a summons or warrant "A fee of eight annas shall be paid for every summons of warrant issued by a Presidency Magistrate except in the case of a summons to attend and give evidence or to produce documents in which case there shall be paid a fee of four annas Provided that such Magistrate may in any case remit any such fee if he is satisfed that the complainant is unable to pay the same and shall remit it when the complaint is made by a public servant in the execution of his duty?

76 (1) Any Court issuing a warrant for the arrest of any Court may direct person may in its discretion direct by endorsesecurity to be taken ment on the warrant that, if such person eye cutes a bond with sufficient sureties for his attendance before t'

In re James Hastings 9 Bom H C R , 154

Court at a specified time and thereafter until otherwise directed by the Court, the officer to whom the warrant is directed shall take such security and shall release such person from custody.

- (2) The endorsement shall state-
  - (a) the number of sureties,
  - (b) the amount in which they and the person for whose arrest the warrant is issued, are to be respectively bound, and
  - (c) the time at which ho is to attend before the Court.
- (3) Whenever security is taken under this section, the officer Recognizance to be to whom the warrant is directed shall forward forwarded the bond to the Court

The form of this endorsement is given in Sch. V, II last part. Security may be provided by depositing a sum of money or Government promisery notes to the amount specified—(5,313). If bill caunot be given the police-officer inhibiting the arrest or receiving the person arrested into his custody may search such person and place in safe custody oil articles other than necessary wearing apparel found upon him—($ 51)

S 92 provides for the assue of a warrant of arrest if the person bound over to attend does not appear. Proceedings may be also taken to enforce the bond—

A warrant for the arrest of a Rulway-servant should be entrusted for execution to some police-officer of superior grade who shall, if he finds on proceeding to execute the warrant that the immediate arrest of the Railway-servant would occasion risk or inconsenience, make all necessare arrangements to present escape, and apply to the proper quarter to have the occused relieved, deferring arrest until he has been relieved.

When an arrest is made under S 48 of the Indian Railwas Act, 1870 (S 137, Act IV of 1830) of a person who there is reason to believe, will abscond, or whose name and address are unknown and he refuses to give them, or, when given they are reasonably believed to be incorrect, the case should be sent to the Magistrate under S 170 as a cognizable? Case within the definition given in S 4 (f) of this Code, although the offence alleged against the accused is not itself cognizable?

Let person is bound to assist a polecofficer reasonably demanding his aid in the talang of any other person whom such polecofficers in thorsest to a prest [S-49], and when a warrant is directed to a person other than a polecofficer, any other person may aid in the execution of such warrant, if the preson to shoom the warrant is directed be near at hand and acting in execution of the warrant [S-43].

The warrant of a Magistrate must be for attendance before lumself or some other Magistrate. It cannot be for attendance before a police-officer conducting an investigation?

When security for attendance may be taken

The Court issuing a warrant of arrest may at its discretion direct security to be taken. If it does so it must endorse this on the warrant. In such case it is important that this should be made known to the person arrested for it has been field that where this was not made known his forcible rescue from arrest was justifiable?

<sup>1</sup> Bom H C Cr Cir. p 4 Bom Gaz 1870 Part I, 145. Bk Cir. p 7 2 Q Emp r Jogendra \a'th Mukerjet, I L R, 24 Cal, 320 (s c) t C W \ 154

CHAP 11 SEC# 77, 79

Time of attendance 21(c)

The lapse of time only affects the 1 wer to effer bond and not the currency of the warrant which remains in force until it is executed or cancelled 2

- 77. (1) A warrant of arrest shall ordinarily be directed to warrant to several one or more police officers, and, when issued by a Presidenty Ungistrate, shall always be so directed, but any other Court issuing such a warrant may, if its immediate execution is necessary and no police officer is immediately available, direct it to any other person or persons, and such person or persons shall execute the same
  - (2) When a warrint is directed to more officers of persons that one, it may be executed by all, or by any directed one or more, of them

Care should be then that a warrant is executed by the police-officer or per in to when it is directed or by a place-officer to whom it is directed or place of the police of police for execution by a police-officer to whom it is directed or endorsed (5.79), and also that it is properly as cuted (5.40 in d.80) eitherwise a person charged with obstruction or rest tance have be equitted and such person may lawfully exercise the right of private defence against his arrest (5.90, Penal Code)

I very person is bound to asset a police-officer reasonably demanding his aid in the taking or preventing the escape of any person whom the police-officer is authorised to arrest (5 42)

When a warrant is directed t any person other than a police officer, any other person may rid in the execution of such warrant is the person to whom such warrant is directed be not at hand and acting in execution of the warrant (S 43)

- Warrant may be may direct a warrant to any landholder, farmer to holders, etc to lard holders, etc proclaimed offender or person who has been accused of a non-ballable offence, and who has eluded pursuit
- (2) Such landholder, farmer or manager shall acknowledge in writing the receipt of the warrant, and shall execute it if the person for whose arrest it was issued, is in, or onters on, his land or farm or the land under his charge
- (3) When the person against whom such warrant is issued is arrested, he shall be made over with the warrant to the nearest police officer, who shall cause him to be taken before a Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case, unless security is taken under section 76

Syama Charan Majumdar 16 Cal W N 549
 Ramsharan Sing 13 Cal W N 1091

The person arrested shall not be subjected to more restraint than is necessary to prevent his escape ($ 50)

Proclaimed Offender

S 87 provides for the issue and publication of a proclamition for the appearance of any person against whom a warrant of arrest has been issued which cannot be executed

S 54 Cl in contemplates also a similar proclamation by order of the Local Government

The persons mentuned in S 78 are by S 45 bound to communicate to the nearest Mag strate or to the officer in charge of the nearest police station which ever is the nearer any information which they may obtain regarding the resort to any place within or the passage through the village of any one person whom they I now or reasonably suspect to be an escaped convict or proclumed offender (S 40 (b))

When a warrant is directed to any person other than a police-officer, any other person may aid in the execution of such warrant if the person to whom the warrant may be directed is near at hand and acting in execution of the

warrant (S 43)

Wilful neglect on the part of any of the persons mentioned in S 78 to execute the warrant directed to him is punishable under 5 187 Penal Code

A warrant directed to any police officer may also be Warrant di cette to executed by any other police officer whose name is endorsed upon the warrant by the officer to pol ce officer whom it is directed or endorsed

Care should be taken that the warrant under execution is properly endorsed to the police officer executing it that the person so endorsing it has juthority in the terms of that warrant or its endorsement and that the person to whom it is endorsed for execution is a police-officer. An arrest made by a person who is not a police officer and to whom the warrant was neither directed nor endorsed by proper authority is not a lawful arrest?

If the endorsement is in de by initials proved or identified as having been made by the proper person, the proceedings are not invalid 2. See S 247

The police officer or other person executing a warrant of arrest shall notify the substance thereof Notificat on of sub stance of warrant to the person to be arrested, and, if so required, shall show him the warrant

S So did not apply to an arrest made by a police-officer on an order in writ ing under 5 56 so as to make a obligatory that before arrest such police-officer should notify to the person to be arrested the substance thereof 3 But this has been altered by the amendment of S 56

If however in executing a warrant of arrest the police officer fails to act as directed by S 80 the arrest is illegal and resistance to arrest is not punishable, so also where in arrest is made by an officer who has not with him the warrant of arrest 5 But the person resisting has no right of private defence against any

&lt;sup>1</sup> Dur<sub>0</sub>a Jemadar v Q Emp I L R 27 Cal 457 fs c] 4 Cal W N 832 Car Tewart v Rahman 4 Cal W N 8 85 See ulso Q Emp v Darp I L R . 18 All 26 Sant Lull I L R 27 Cal 3 Abdul Sakdarv Makhu S ng 5 Cal W N .447 Sasart Lull I L R 27 Cal 3 150 fs c] 4 Cal W N 317 fs Cal W L R 27 Cal 28 Cal

CHAT VI SE% 51, 52,

act which does not reasonable cause the apprehension of death or of grievous hurt if d ne or attempt d to be done by a police officer, or by his direction, acting in good futh unit cultur of his office though such act or direction may not be e netly justified le les len-Penel Code 5 og

Omission on the part of an officer executing a warrant to explain to the accused the particulars of the warrant after showing him the warrant does not

invalidate the arrest

Where a constable executing a warrant of arrest showed the warrant to the accused and informed him that he would take buil, if it was offered, and the accused asserted that no warrant had been assued against him, and the constable thereusen took him into custody, it was held that the terms of 5 to had been substantially compled with !

81. The police officer or other person executing a warrant of arrest shall (subject to the provisions of Person arrested to section 76 as to security) without unnecessary be brought before Court without delay delay bring the person arrested before the Court before which he is required by law to produce such person

Und r no circumstances should detention in custody by the Police exceed a Dinger period than under all the circumstances of the case is reasonable, and this shall not exceed twenty four hours exclusive of the time nicessary for the journey from the place of arre to the Magistrate Court (Se 60 61 and 167)-See note to 5 6s

The custody of a chowkeedar employed by a Police officer executing a warrant of arrest is liviful custods?

A warrant of arrest may be executed at any place in Where warrant may British India be executed

If it is desired to arrest a person out of British India and in a Native State, the matter should be dealt with under the Indian Extradition Act (Act VV of 1903)

The Lugitive Offenders Act 1881 44 and 45 Vict, c 69 which has been extended to British India provides for the arrest of persons accused of an offence committed in one part of the British dominions who may be found in another

When the alleged offence was committed in British India and the accused was arrested under a warrant issued by a Magistrate in British India while in a Foreign State it was held by the Judicial Committee of the Pray Council that his arrest was illegal and that when he petitioned for a cancellation of the warrant and to be released, he should have been released instead of being subjected to Criminal Procedure 1 But if he had been found in British territory (see S 188 post.) he could have been tried and convicted without regard to the legality of his arrest 4

Every process should be written in the language in ordinary use in the district in which the Magistrate's Court is held, that is in the language in which proceed ings of the several Courts are conducted But where the process is sent for execution to the Magistrate of another district in the same province, or in a different province where a different language is in ordinary use, the process

Bankey Behary Sung v King Emp 3 Pat L. J 493
 Mank Pan 6 Cal W N. 337
 Muhammad Yusufuddin v Q Emp, I I R. 25 Cal, 25, (S c) 2 Cal W N

T. L. R. 24 Ind App. 130 Jamodar Sarvakar I L. R. 35 Bom 225 See Emp v Maganlai, I L. R. 63, Q v Nelson and Bran 3 T L R 344 10

The person arrested shall not be subjected to more restraint than is necessary to prevent his escape (S 50)

Proclaimed Offender

S 87 provides for the issue and publication of a proclamation for the appearance of any person against whom a warrant of arrest has been issued which cannot be executed

S 54 Cl iii contemplates also a similar proclamation by order of the Local Government

The persons mentioned in S 78 are by S 45 bound to communicate to the nearest Magistrate or to the officer in charge of the nearest police station, which ever is the nearer any information which they may obtain regarding the resort to any place within or the passage through the village, of any one person whom they I now or reasonably suspect to be an escaped consist or proclaimed offender [S 43 (b)]

When a warrant is directed to any person other than a police-officer, any other person may aid in the execution of such warrant if the person to whom the warrant may be directed is near at hand and acting in execution of the warrant (S 43)

Wilful neglect on the part of any of the persons mentioned in S 78 to execute the warrant directed to him is punishable under $ 187, Penal Code

A warrant directed to any police officer may also be Warrant di ceted to executed by any other police officer whose name police officer is endorsed upon the warrant by the officer to whom it is directed or endorsed

Care should be taken that the warrant under execution is properly endorsed to the police officer executing it, that the person so endorsing it has authority in the terms of that warrant or its endorsement, and that the person to whom it is endorsed for execution is a police-officer. An arrest made by a person who is not a police officer and to whom the warrant was neither directed nor endorsed by proper authority is not a lawful acrest t

If the endorsement is m de by initials proved or identified as having been made by the proper person the proceedings are not tovalid 2 See S 537

The police officer or other person executing a warrant Notification of subof arrest shall notify the substance thereof stance of warrant to the person to be arrested, and, if so required, shall show him the warrant

S 80 did not apply to an arrest made by a police-officer on an order in writing inder S 50 so as to make 1 obligatory that before arrest such police-officer should notify to the person to be arrested the substance thereof? But this has been altered by the amendment of S 56

If however, in executing a warrant of arrest the police-officer fails to act as directed by 5 80, the arrest is illegal, and resistance to arrest is not punishable. so also where an arrest is made by an officer who has not with him the warrant of arrest But the person resisting has no right of private defence against any

<sup>1</sup> Durga Jemadar v Q Emp I L R, 27 Cal, 459 (6 c) 4 Cal W N 83; Sex al o Q Emp v Danja I L R 18 Al 28 Cal W N 85; Sex al o Q Emp v Danja I L R 18 Al 28 Cal W N 185; Sex al o Q Emp v Danja I L R 18 Al 28 Cal W N 347 (20 Cal W N 347 Cal W N 347 (20 Cal W N 347 Cal W N 348 Cal W N 348

CHAP VI SE~ $1, 12

act which does not reasonably cause the apprehension of death or of grievous burt if d ne or attempted to be done by a pulsee officer or by his direction, acting in good faith under cel ur of his office, though such act or direction may not be strictly justifiable by law-Penal Code S 99

Omission on the part of an officer executing a warrant to explain to the recused the particulars of the warrant after showing him the warrant does not

invalidate the arrest

Where a constable executing a warrant of arrest showed the warrant to the accused and informed him that he would take but if it was offered and the accused asserted that no warrant had been assued against him, and the constable thereupon took him into custody, it was held that the terms of S 80 had been substantially complied with a

The police officer or other person executing a warrant of arrest shall (subject to the provisions of Person arrested to section 76 as to security) without unnecessary be brought before Court without delay delay bring the person arrested before the Court before which he is required by law to produce such person

Und r no circumstances should detention in custody by the Police exceed a Linger period than und r ill the circumstances of the case is reasonable, and this shall not exceed twents four hours exclusive of the time necessary for the journey from the place of arrest to the Magistrate's Court (Ss (so 61 and 167)-See note

The cust dy of a chewl eed in amployed by a Police officer executing a warrant of arrest is limful custody?

A warrant of arrest may be executed at any place in Where warrant may British India be executed If it is desired to arrest a person out of British India and in a Native State, the matter should be dealt with under the Indian Extradition Act (Act XV of 1903) The Lugitive Offenders' Act 1881, 44 and 45 Vict, c 69 which has been extended to British India provides for the arrest of persons accused of an offence committed in one part of the British dominions who may be found in another part When the alleged offence was committed in British India, and the accused was arrested under a warrant assued by a Magistrate in British India while in a I oreign State it was held by the Judiet il Committee of the Privy Council that his arrest was illegal, and that when he petitioned for a cancellation of the warrant and to be released, he should have been released instead of being subjected to Criminal Procedure 3 But if he had been found in British territory (see S 188 post.) he could have been tried and convicted without regard to the legality of his arrest 4 Every process should be written in the language in ordinary use in the district in which the Magistrate's Court is held, that is, in the language in which proceed ings of the several Courts are conducted. But where the process is sent for execution to the Magistrate of another district in the same province, or in a different province where a different language is in ordinary use, the process

1, L. R., 24 Ind App., 137

L. Enp v Vinayak Damodar Sarvakar, I. L. R., 35 Bom 225 See Emp v Maganlal, I. L. R. 6 Bom 662 1 Q v Lopes 27 L. J. N. C. 48, Q v Nelson and Brand 3 T L R 344

&lt;sup>1</sup> Bankey Behary Sing v King Emp 3 Pat L-J, 493
<sup>2</sup> Mank Pan 6 Cal W N, 337
<sup>3</sup> Muhammad Yusufuddin v Q Emp, I I R, 25 Cal, 20, (S c) 2 Cal W N

235

should be invariably accompanied by a translation certified by the transmitting officer to be correct into such other language or into Laglish. In such a case too, the process should be accompanied by a letter in English requesting its execution.

- 83 (1) When a warrant is to be executed outside the local Warrant forwarded limits of the jurisdiction of the Court issuing for execution outside the same such Court may, instead of directing such warrant to a police officer, forward the same hy post of otherwise to any Magistrate or District Superintendent of Police or the Commissioner of Police in a presidency town within the local limits of whose jurisdiction it is to be executed
  - (2) The Magistrate or District Superintendent of Commissioner to whom such warrant is so forwarded shall endorse his name thereon, and if practicable cause it to be executed in manner hereinbefore provided within the local limits of his jurisdiction

In Bombay sub-section (2) has been repealed so far as it relates to the police in the town of Bombay by Bom Act IV of 1 102 S 2 (1)

Ss 83 nd 84 relate to the execution of a wair nt of arrest out of the local jurisdiction of the Migistrate issuing, it but within British India

The endorsement under S 83 (2) would be a direction to some police-officer to execute the warrant so as to authorise his action

To obtain the arrest at Aden of a person who has proceeded there by sea, the application should be made ordinarily to the Local Government or, in entire gent cases direct to the Government of Bombay 2 and similarly elsewhere 2.

For the procedure to be followed for the purpose of securing the attendance of prisoners and obtaining their evidence see the Prisoners Act III of 1900 Part IX

- S 83 applies to a warrant issued under Act XIII of 1859 (Breaches of Contract by Artifictre &c) as there are no words in it limiting its operation to warrants issued under the Code 4 But this Act will be repealed from 1st April 1926 (See Act III of 1925)
- 84 (1) When a warrant directed to a police officer is to be executed beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the same, he shall ordinarily take it for endorsement either to a Magistrate or to a police officer not below the rank of an officer in charge of a station, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the warrant is to be executed

(2) Such Magistrate or police officer shall endorse his name thereon, and such endorsement shall be sufficient authority to the police officer to whom the warrant is directed to execute the same

<sup>1</sup> Cal H Ct Rules &c pp 34 See also Bom Bk Cir p 10 All Rules &

within such hunts, and the local Police shall, if so required, assist such officer in executing such wirrant

- (3) Whenever there is reason to believe that the delay occasioned by obtaining the endorsement of the Magistrate or police-officer within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the warrant is to be executed will prevent such execution the police officer to whom it is directed may execute the same without such endorsement in any place beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which issued it
  - (4) This section applies also to the Police in the town of Calcutta

The application of this section to the police in the town of Bombay was removed by Bom Act (V of 1902 S 2 (1) S 2 S 17 of that Act

A pole-offer may for the purpose of arresting without warrant any person at m he is noth rised to arrest under Chapter V of this Code pursue such person into any place in British find a-(5.5). If the pole-offer is acting in execution of a warrant of arrest he may arrest out of the local jurisdiction of the Court which issued the warrant on his own responsibility and without the sutherity by end issument on such warrant of a Wagseriste hiving local jurisdiction provided it is appelled indefined that the delay to old in such endorsement will present execution of the warrant. This is however sulpert to 5.8, that is that the arrest must be mad in British India.

85 When a warrant of prest is executed outside the disgreen against two and a special specia

In Bombay, 5s. 85 and 56 so fir is they relate to the police in the lown of Bombay, hive firm repidled by Non-Act IV of 130 S 2 (1). See Ss. 50 and 59 of that Act

86 (1) Such Magistrate or District Superintendent or Com-Procedure by Magistrate before whom per totate before whom per sonatreated abrought to the help count which issued the warrant, direct his removal in custody to such Court,

Provided that, if the offence is bailable, and such person is ready and willing to give but to the satisfaction of such Magistrate, District Superintendent or Commissioner, or a direction has been endorsed under section 76 on the warrant and such person is ready and willing to give the security required by such direction, the Magistrate District Superintendent or Commissioner shall take such bail or security, as the ease may be, and forward the bond to the Court which issued the warrant

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent a police officer from taking security under section 76

As to Bombay See note to S &c

C -Proclamation and Attachment.

- (1) If any Court has reason to believe (whether after Proclamation for taking evidence or not) that any person against whom a warrant has been issued by it has person absconding absconded or is concealing himself so that such warrant cannot be executed, such Court may publish a written proclamation roquiring him to appear at a specified place and at a specified time not less than thirty days from the date of publishing such proclamation
  - (2) The proclamation shall be published as follows-
    - (a) it shall be publicly read in some conspicuous place of the town or village in which such person ordinarily resides.
    - (b) it shall be affixed to some conspicuous part of the house or homestead in which such person ordinarily resides or to some conspicuous place of such town or village, and
    - (c) a copy thereof shall be affixed to some conspicuous part of the Court house
- (3) A statement in writing by the Court issuing the proclamation to the effect that the proclamation was duly published on a specified day shall be conclusive evidence that the requirements of this section have been complied with and that the proclamation was published on such day

See Sch V, forms (4) and (5) for the forms of proclamation for the appearance of an accused person and of a witness

The period of thirty days proclaimed for appearance must be from the date of the complete publication of the proclamation, otherwise the proclamation is invalid in regard to any fadure to appear in compliance therewith a If the person proclaimed appears within the date fixed in the proclamation he is not hable to punishment under S 172, Penal Code 2 But he may be punished for obsconding or concealing himself 3

A proclimation requiring the absconder to appear at a specified place and within a specified time, not less than thirty days from the date of publication, must be pull'ished, or a sale under $ 88 is invalid, and confers no right on the purchaser, and the alsoconder is entitled to precover the property by a suit in the Civil Court Intending parchasers are bound to take the ordinary precaution of ascertaining whether the Magistrate has issued a stat ment under 5 87 (1) that the proclamation was duly published, and in the absence of such statement, proof that it was not duly published may be taken!

i Q Emp v Subbardyar, I L R, 19 Mad, 3 a Q v Wemesh Chunder Ghose 5 W R Cr, 77 a Madapusi Stiaiyasa Ayy ngar v Q I L R 4 Mad 393

In connection with $ 55 $ 5 sea is most important, for, unless action is taken unfor it it may happen that In the exaling great the evaluate against the accused may be lost & Size mills a Majistrate texamine and receil the diposition of witnesses if it is proved that an necused person has absented and there is no immediate prospert. I arresting him and it also provides that if after the arrest of such person the dimminates of the in mable of giving evidence or his attend once cann id produced with in an unit of illus expense or inconvenience which under the circumstances of the case would be unreasonable his deposition so recorded may be given in evidence against him on the inquiry into or the trial for the aftence for which he is charged

(1) The Court issuing a proclamation under section 87 may at any time order the attachment of any Attachment of pro-

property morcable or immoreable, or both, perty of person absconding belonging to the proclaimed person

- (2) Such order shall authorise the attachment of any property belonging to such person within the district in which it is made; and it shall authorise the attachment of any property belonging to such person without such district when endorsed by the District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate within whose district such property is situate
- (3) If the property ordered to be attached is a debt or other moveable property, the attachment under this section shall be made-

(a) by seizure . or

(b) by the appointment of a receiver, or (c) by an order in writing prohibiting the delivery of such property to the proclaimed person or to any one on his behalf : or

(d) by all or any two of such methods, as the Court thinks

(4) If the property ordered to be attached is immoveable, the attachment under this section shall, in the case of land paying revenue to Government, be made through the Collecter of the district in which the land is situate and in all other cases-

(c) by taking possession; or

(f) by the appointment of a receiver; or

(g) by an order in writing prohibiting the payment of rent or delivery of property to the proclaimed person or to any one on his behalf; or

Mian Jan v Ablul, I L R . 27 All 572

- (h) by all or any two of such methods as the Court thinks
- (5) If the property ordered to be attached consists of live stock or is of a pen hable nature the Court may, if it thinks it expedient order immediate sale thereof and in such case the proceeds of the sale shall abide the order of the Court.

(6) The powers dutie and liabilities of a receiver appoint ed under this section shall be the same as those of a receiver appoint ed under Chapter XXXVI of the Code of Civil Procedure

(6.4) If any claim is preferred to or objection made to the attachment of any property attached under this section within six months from the date of such attachment by any person other than the proclaimed person on the ground that the claimant or objector has an interest in such property and that such interest is not hable to attachment under this section, the claim or objection shall be inquired into and may be allowed or disallowed in whole or in part.

Provided that any claim proferred or objection made within the period allowed by this sub-section may in the event of the death of the claimant or objector be continued by the legal representative

(6B) Clums or objections under sub-section (64) may be preferred or made in the Court by which the order of attachment issued or if the clum or objection is in easy ect of property attach ed under an order endorsed by a District Migistrate or Chief Pie sidency. Manistrate in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2) in the Court of such Migistrate.

(6C) Every such claim or objection shall be inquired into

by the Court in which it is preferred or made

Provided that if it is preferred or made in the Court of a District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate such Magistrate may make it over for disposal to any Magistrate of the first or second class or to any Presidency Magistrate as the case may be, subordinate to him

(6D) Any person whose claim or objection has been dis allowed in whole or in part by an order under sub-section (6d) may, within a period of one year from the date of such order, institute a suit to establish the right which he claims in respect of the property in dispute, but subject to the result of such suit, if any, the order shall be conclusive

(6E) If the proclumed person appears within the time specified in the proclamation the Court shall make an order releasing

the property from the attachment

(7) If the proclaimed person does not appear within the time specified in the proclamation, the property under attachment shall be at the disposal of Government, but it shall not be sold until the expiration of six months from the date of the attachment and until any claim preferred or objection made under sub section (6.1) has been disposed of under that sub section, unless it is subject to speeds and natural decay, or the Court con siders that the sale would be for the benefit of the owner, in either of which cases the Court may cause it to be sold whenever it thinks

The sub-sections introduced after sub-section (6) by down for the first time a definite procedure for the guidance of the Courts in dealing with claims or of jections in respect of preperty attached under the section. Several rulings of the Courts in licating the procedure to be followed, and discussing whether proceed ings in object in are judicial proceedings or not now become obsolete A provision on the lines of the proviso to rule 58 (1) Order VI Code of Civil Proce dure, 1928 was embodied in the amending bill as introduced but was struck out by the Legislature

Where the Court has simultaneously issued a pr clamation under S 87 and an attachment under S &S the proclamation should be published at the place before attachment is mad 1

See Sch V (6) for form of an order of attachment under this section A strict compliance with all the formalities required by $ 87 for the making of a proclamation is necessary in order to legalise a sale 5 537 will not cure any omission. An order refusing to restore the property to a person not legally proclaimed was therefore set aside? But central it has been held that 5, 89 provides no facility for contesting the legality of a proclamation. When the property had been sold, but possession still remained with the absconder the High Court in revision could not consider the title of the purchaser the property having vested in him, although in some respects, the proclamation may not have been in strict accordance with I is. The privis must look elsewhere for their legal remedies. If under S 405 such person has the right of ppeal, it is difficult to understand why he cannot also apply for resiston of such an order Resistance to an attachment of property on the ground that the property attached is not the property of he absended is unlawful as here is no right of private defence of property against the act of the police-officer acting in good faith under colour of his office even supposing that the order of attachment made may not have been lawfully made *

For the reference in sub-section (6) to Chap AAAVI of the Code of Civil Procedure now read Order XL of the First Schedule of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (General Clauses Act 1897 5 8)

If, within two years from the date of the attachment, Restoration of at any person whose property is or has been at the disposal of Government, under subtached prope by section (7) of section 88, appears voluntarily or is apprehended and brought before the Court by whose order the property was attached, or the Court to which such Court is subordinate, and

r-

moves to the satisfaction of such Court that he did not abscord or conceal lums it for the purpose of avoiding execution of the wairant, and that he had not such notice of the proclamation as to enable him to attend within the time specified therein, such property or if the same his been sold, the net proceeds of the sale, or it part only thereof has been sold, the net proceeds of the sale and the residue of the property, shall, after satisfying thereout all costs incurred in consequence of the attachment, be delivered to him

A person whose pphention under 5 80 for the delivery of property or the proceeds of the sale thereof has been refused has the right of appeal to the Court to which an appeal ordinarily 1 es (5 405)

The fulure to appear within the time specified in the proclamation will place the property attached at the disposal of Government-[5 85 (7)] An opportunity is however given by 5 8) on the appearince, either volunturily or under arrest, of the person pr claimed for lim to prove to the satisfaction of the Court that he did not ibscord or concert himself for the purpose of wording execution of the warring or that he had not such notice of the proclamation as to unable him to attend within the time specified therein he should be asked on these points. In om a ion to do so has been feld to viti to the proceedings sub equently taken and the sale Mas set aside !

Lormerly it was held that when a Magistrate refused to enquire into a claim preferred by a third party has order was not open to resiston and the remedy way But the law now makes special provision for the consideration of a clum made by any person other than the proclaimed offender, the claim, however, must be based on the ground that the claimant has an interest in the attached property, and that such interest is not hable to attachment Sale under sub section (") of $ 83 must be postponed until the claim has been disposed of

The amendments made in $ 85 by Act Will of 1013 do not deal with the question as to the right to institute proceedings in a Civil or Criminal Court on the ground that the proceedings have been irregular. The suit contemplated by sub-section ( (D) would be to establish the fact that the plaintiff has an interest in the attached property, and that that interest is not hable to attachment under

If the proceedings have been regularly conducted no Civil Suit will be on behalf of the absconding party 3 Whether there is any remedy in the Criminal Court to set uside a sale if the proceedings have been irregular is doubtful as the reported cases are conflicting (See note to 5 83). The mere absence of a person proclaimed would, after the time fixed in the proclamation put his property at the disposal of Government " and it is for him on his appearance within two years from the date of the strachment to prove to the satisfaction of the Court that le is not hable and rathe terms of $ 87 Where after such property had so come to be at the disposal of Government a dispute arose between a purchaser in the Magistrate's Court and a purchaser in the Guil Court it was held that the right of the Government was absolute. The nature of the title obtained from Govern ment a is evidenced by the fact, that even if the proprietor appeared and satisfied the Magistrate that his absence was, due to no full of his own he could, under 5 89 accorder only the nest proceeds of the sale and not the property itself 5

Golam Abed v Toolseeram I L R 9 Cal 861. (SC) 12 C L R, 411

to Shee

<sup>1</sup> Show Iyal Singl 1 Criban 6 W P Cr 2 Ct 1 10 Show Show Iyal Single 1 Criban 6 W P Cr 2 Ct 1 10 Show I Show

D .- Other Rules regarding Processes

90 A Court may, in any case in which it is empowered for each of the Code to issue a summons for the head of its appairance of inv person other than a piror its interpretation of the person of the p writing, a warrant for his arrest-

- (a) if, either before the issue of such summons or after the issue of the same but before the time fixed for his appearance, the Court sees reason to believe that he has absconded or will not obey the summons, or
- (b) if at such time he fails to appear, and the summons is proved to have been duly served in time to admit of his appearing in accordance therewith, and no reasonable evense is offered for such failure.

S to applie to a with see is well as in accord person. Before issuing a warrant the Court must record its resone in writing, which must be such as come within the terms of this section. See Sch. V. Aff for the form to be used unless the Court has recorded us reasons in writing the warrant is allegal.

Abeconded

This does not necessarily mean change of residence, but it may be effected by concealment."

Summone is proved to have been duly served

Set Sx (s)—7; for the faw regarding service of summons Proof of service of summons out of jurnshelmon or when the serving officer is not present at the learning, we ull be by aird not —5 74

On he is chargeable when the process is issued by a Court of its own motion solely for the purpose of taking cognitance of and punishing any act done, or words poken, in contenut of its own inthority?

When the scaing officer is present on the day of trial his statement will be duly record of regarding service of summons but if he is not present or if the summons has been served outside the local limits of the Court's jurisdiction, an affidant, purporting to be mide before a Magistrate that such summons has been duly served and i duplicate of the summons purporting to be endorsed by the Prisons to whom it is delivered or tendered shall be admissible in evidence—(5-74)

91 When any person for whose appearance or arrest the Power to take bond officer presiding in any Court is empowered to issue a summons or warrant, is present in such Court, such officer may require such person to execute a bond, with or without suiches, for his appearance in such Court

<sup>1</sup> Sikheshwar Phullan I L R 48 Cal 789 (ee) 15 Cal I J 186 In re Karu than Amt alan I L R 38 Mad 1088

<sup>1</sup> Madapus Senivasa Assangues O J L R 4 Mad 393 Cal H Ct Rules & P 120

H Ct Rmeave

82

92 When any person, who is bound by any bond taken Arrest on breach of under this Code to appear before a Court, does bond for ap earance not so appear, the officer presiding in such Court may issue a warrant directing that such person be arrested and produced before him

Proceedings can also the taken under 5 514 to enforce the penalty of the bond

The provisions contained in this Chapter relating to a summons and warrant, and their issue, Provisions of this service and excention, shall, so far as may be, chapter gene ally appli cable to summonses and apply to every summons and every warrant of warrants of arrest arrest usued under this Code

No lee shall be levied for any summons to attend as a juror or assessor in a Court of Session I

CHAPTER VII

OF PROCESSIS 10 COMPPLETHE PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS AND OTHER MOVLABIT PROPERTY, AND FOR THE DISCOVERY OF PERSONS WRONGFULLY CONTINED

A -Summons to Produce

- 94 (1) Whenever any Court, or, in any place beyond the Summons to produce limits of the towns of Calcutta and Bomhay, document or other thing any officer in charge of a police-station considers that the production of any document or other thing is necessary or desirable for the purposes of any investigation, inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Code by or before inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Code by or below such Court or officer, such Court may issue a summons, or such officer a written order, to the person in whose possession or power such document or thing is believed to be, requiring him to attend and produce it, or to produce it, at the time and place stated in
- (2) Any person required under this section merely to produce a document or other thing shall be deemed to have complied with the requisition, if he causes such document or thing to be produced instead of attending personally to produce the same
- (3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the Indian Evidence Act 1872 sections 123 and 124, or to apply to a letter, postcard, telegram or other document or any parcel or thing in the custody of the Postal or Telegraph authorities

<sup>1</sup> Cal. Gaz 1879 p 304 . Assam Gaz . 1879. p 596 Rules &c., p 116

*Document * shall include any matter written, expressed or described upon any substance by means of letters, figures or marks or by more than one of those means, which is intended to be used or which may be used, for the putpose of recording that matter. General Clauses Act (X of 1807) S 3 (16)

S 44 provides for an order to produce a document or thing to be mide by a Court, or bit a pole-configer in charge of a pole-estitation outside the towns of Calcutt or Bomban, which may be required for the purposes of an investigation, inquirit, trial or other proceeding before such Court or pole-configer. S 56 enables a Court to issue a search warrant when at his reason to believe that a document or thing will not be columntarily produced on an order under S 64, and S 165 gives similar power to an officer in charge of a pole-estation not in the town of Calcutta or Bombay [S 142]], holding an investigation into an officer to search or cause search to be made for a document or thing necessary for the conduct of such investigation under similar circumstances.

Personal production of the document or thing required is declared by subsection (s) to be unnecessing. A person summond an produce a document does not become a witness by the nert fact that he produces at and he cannot be consequently in the second of the production of unpublished official resemble relating to my afform of State and the disclosure of communications under the public officer in official confidence which he may consider should in the public interest, not be disclosed, cannot be enforced (I vidence Act, 1872 So 123 aml 124)

The quistion whether the production of invidesturent or thing is necessary or describe for the purposes of any trial is one which must be decided by a Magistrite before he orders the production, and in determining that question he has to exercise his discretion judicially, i.e. he must stack himself that the document or thing his is being quoting in relevant to the case to be triad by him. Section 94 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, which enables a Court to issue a process for the production of a document or ather thing is not himself to documents forming the subject of a criminal offens, but is applicable to documents or things which are or rain be used to evidence in support of a prosecution.

When a document is thus brought into Court, the prosecution is entitled to inspect it in order to determine whether it should be put in evidence.

Even Court is cuttled to his before it my property which forms the subject of a charge before it. The fact that the person holding such property (currency-notes) may claim to how a liken on it cannot affect this right. The ultimate right to them will be determined under $ 517 after the conclusion of the judicial proceedings.

Where a man we convected maker $ 175 Penal Code of neglecting to produce and which under $ 93 of the Code he had been required to produce and which was of an incriminating nature to be used against him in a charge of forgers, the convection was set aside on the ground that $ 94 could not be applied to such a case and it was added that that we is very different thing from sying that his house could not have been searched for that document before or during his trial for forgers.

The Madras High Court has refused to follow this case and has held that there is nothing in 5-44 which prevents its upplication to in accused person. In this respect the High Court followed an earlier case in the Calcutta High Court (2)

which had not been referred to *

All the cases on the subject have since been considered by the Calcutta High Court and it was held that the law has conferred the right of search of the premises

<sup>980 (1903)
1 3 (31 109
15 (31 20)
15 (31 20)
16</sup> But see Confr 1 S. kondaredda,

* S Kondareddi I I R 37 Wad, 112

92 When any person, who is bound by any bond taken Arrest on breach of under this Code to appear before a Court, does hood for appearance not so appear, the officer presiding in such Court may issue a warrant directing that such person be arrested and produced before him.

and produced before him

Proceedings can also the titlen under 5 514 to enforce the penalts of the bond

Provisions of this chapter gene ally applied to a summons and warrant, and their issue, scapter gene ally applied to the chapter gene ally applied to the control of arrest warrants of arrest values is such control of a summons and every warrant of a summons and warrants of a summons and warrant and their issue, so the summons and warrant, and their issue, so the summons and warrant and the summons are summons and warrant and the summons are summons and the summons are summons and the summons and t

No fix shall be leved for any summons to attend as a jurior or assessor in a Court of Session  $^{\rm L}$

CHAPTER VII

OF PROCESSIS TO COMPIL THE PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS AND OTHER MOVEAUTE PROPERTY, AND FOR THE DISCOVERY OF PERSONS WEDGEFULLY CONTINED

A -Summons to Produce

- 94 (1) Whenever any Court, or, in any place beyond the Summons to produce limits of the towns of Calcutta and Bombey, document or other thing any officer in charge of a police-station considers that the production of any document or other thing is necessiny or desirable for the purposes of any investigation, inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Code by or before such Court or officer, such Court may issue a summons, or such officer a written order, to the person in whose possession or power such document or thing is behaved to be, requiring him to attend and produce it, or to produce it, at the time and place stated in the summons or order
- (2) Any person required under this section merely to produce a document or other thing shall be deemed to have complied with the requisition, if he causes such document or thing to be produced instead of attending personally to produce the same
- (3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the Indian Evidence Act 1872 sections 123 and 124, or to apply to a letter, postcard, telegram or other document or any parcel or thing in the custody of the Postal or Telegraph authorities.

<sup>1</sup> Cal. Gar. 1879 p 304 . Assam Gar. 1879 p 596 Rules &c . p 116

* Document * shall include any matter written, expressed or described upon any substance I'v means of letters, figures or marks or by more than one of those means, which is intended to be used or which may be used, for the purpose of recording that matter General Clauses Act (V of 1897), 5 3 (16)

S of provides for an order to produce a document ar thing to be made by a Court, or Iv a police-officer in charge of a police-station outside the towns of Calcutta or Bombas, which may be required for the purposes of an investigation, inquiry, trial or other proceeding before such Court or police-officer S 96 enables a Court to issue a search warrant when it has reason to believe that a document or thing will not be voluntarily produced on an order under S 04 and S 165 gives similar power to an officer in charge of a police station not in the town of Calcutta or Bombas [S 1 (2)], halding an investigation into an offence to search or cause search to be made for a discussion or thing necessars for the conduct of such investigation under similar circumstances

Personal production of the document or thing required is derlared by subsection (1) to be unnecessity. I person summaned to produce a document does not become a witness by the mere fact that he produce it and he cannot be crossexamined unless or until he is called as a watness. (Fyidence Art. 1872 S. 139.) The production of unjudieshed official records relating to any affair of State and the disclosure of communications made to a public officer in official confidence which he may expender should in the public interests not be disclosed cannot be enforced thudence for 1872 So 123 and 114)

The question whether the production of one document or thing is necessary or desirable for the purposes of any trial is one which must be decided by a Magistrate before he orders the production and in determining that question he has to exercise his discretion pidicially i.e. he must satisfy himself that the document or thing has bearing upon and is relevant to the ease to be tried by him. Section 94 of the Code of Criminal Procedure which enables a Court to assure a process for the production of a discurrent or other thing is not limited to documents farming the subject of a criminal offence, but is applicable to il coments or things which are or can be used as evidence in support of a prostrution t When I document is thus himight into Court the uniscution is entitled to inspect it in order to determine whether it should be put in evidence?

I very Court is entitled to have before it my property which forms the subject of 1 chirgs before it. The fact that the person holding such property (currencynotes) may claim to have a hen on a cannot affect this right. The ultimate right to them will be determined under $ 517 after the numehision of the judicial pro-

cerdings 2 Where a man was centured under S 175 Penal Code of nightening to produce a document which under 5 94 of this Code he had been required to produce and which was of an incriminating nature to be used against him in a charge of forgery, the conviction was set aside on the ground that S 194 could not be applied to such a case and it was added that that was a very different thing from saying that his house could not have been searched for that document before or during his trial for forgery 4

The Madras High Court has refused to follow this case and has held that there is nothing in 5 94 which presents its application to an necused person this respect the High Court followed an earlier case in the Calcutta High Court (2)

which had not been referred to 5

All the cases on the subject have since been considered by the Calcutta High Court and it was held that the law has conferred the right of search of the premises

i In re Lukhuudas Varanji 5 Born I Rep 980 (1903)

Mahomed / tekariah 1 Ahmed I J R 15 Cal 100

Mahomed / tekariah 1 Ahmed I J R 15 Cal 100

Mahomed / Landra Ghorlid 12 Cul W N 1016 But see Contra S kondared

I I R 37 Mad 112 S Kondaredd I I R 37 Mad III

Arest on breach of under this Code to appear before a Court, does not so appear, the officer presiding in such Court may issue a warrant directing that such person be arrested and produced before him

Proceedings can also the taken under 5 514 to enforce the penalty of the bond

The provisions contained in this Chapter relating to a summons and warrant, and their issue, Provisions of this chapter gene ally appli service and execution, shall, so far as may be, cable to summonses and apply to every summons and every warrant of warrants of arrest arrest usued under this Code to fee shall be leved for any summons to attend as a turor of assessor in a Lourt of Session x

CHAPTER VII

Or Processis to compilate Production or Documents and OTHER MOVEABLE PLOTTETT, IND FOR THE DISCOVERS OF PERSONS WRONGILLLY CONTINED

A -Summons to Produce

94 (1) Whenever any Court, or, in any place beyond the Summons to produce himits of the towns of Calcutta and Bombay, considers that the production of any document or other thing is necessary or destrable for the purposes of any investigation, inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Code by or before such Court or officer, such Court may issue a summons, or such officer a pritten order, to the person in whose possession or power such document or things is believed to be, requiring him to attend and produce it, or to graduate the state of the person of the perso and produce it, or to produce it, at the time and place stated in

(2) Any person required under this section merely to produce a document or other thing shall be deemed to have compled with the requisition, if he causes such document or thing to be produced instead of attending personally to produce the same

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the Indian Evidence Act 1872 sections 123 and 121, or to apply to a letter, posterid, telegram or other document or any parcel or thing in the custody of the Postal or Telegraph authorities.

Cal Caz 1879 p 304. Assam Gaz, 1879 p 596, Rules &c., p 116

Document 'shall include any matter written, expressed or described upon any substance by means of letters, figures or marks or by more than one of those means, which is intended to be used or which may be used, for the purpose of reconling that matter General Clauses Act (X of 1897), S 3 (16)

S at provides for an order to produce a document or thing to be made by a Court, or Is a police-officer in charge of a police station outside the towns of Calcutta or Bombas, which may be required for the purposes of an investigation, inquire, trial or other proceeding before such Court or police-officer S 96 enables a Court to issue a search warrant when it has reason to believe that a document or thing will not be voluntarily produced on an order under S o4, and S 165 gives similar power to an officer in charge of a police station not in the town of Calcutta or Bombay [S x (2)], holling an investigation into an offence to search or cause search to be made for a document or thing necessars for the conduct of such investigation under similar circumstances

Personal production of the document of thing required is declared by subsection (2) to be unnecessors. A person summened to produce a document does not become a witness he the mure fut that he produces it and he cannot be crossexamined unless or until he is called as a witness (I sidence Act 1872 S 139) The production of unpublished official records relating to me office of State and the disclosure of communications made to a public efficer in official conful nee which he may consider should in the public interests, not be disclised cannot be inferred (Ludence Act, 1872, Se 123 and 124 !

The question whether the production of any document or thing is necessary or describle for the purposes of any trial is one which must be decided by a Magistrate before he orders the production, and in determining that question he has to exercise his discretion judicially, i.e., he must satisfy himself that the document or thing has a bearing upon and is relevant to the case to be tried by Jam. Section 94 of the Code of Commod Procedure, which enables a Court in some a process for the production of a document or other thing, is not limited to documents forming the subject of a criminal afferce, but is applie that to documents or things which are or can be used as evidence in suggest of a prosecution.

When a document is thus brought into Court, the prosecution is entitled to inspect it in urder to determine whether it should be put in available.

I ters Court is intitled to his before it any property which forms the subject of a charge before it. The fact that the person holding such properly (currencynates) may claim to have a lian on it cannot affect this right. The ultimate right to them will be determined under 5 517 after the conclusion of the judicial proceedings 1

Where a man was consisted under $ 175 Pennif Code of neglecting to produce a document which under 5 of of this Code he had been required to produce and which was of an incriminating nature to be used against him in a charge of forgery, the conviction was set aside on the ground that 5 94 could not be applied to such a case and it was added that that was a very different thing from saying that his house could not have been searched for that document before or during his trial for forgery 4

The Madras High Court has refused to follow this case and has held that there is nothing in 5 94 which prevents its application to an accused person. In this respect the High Court followed an earlier case in the Calcutta High Court (2) which had not been referred to $

All the cases on the subject have since been considered by the Calcutta High Court and it was held that the law has conferred the right of search of the premises

I In to I than I 980 (1993) 5 (al 100 19 Cal 5' surface Conter S Kondareddi, 1 1 1 1 37 Mad 112 S Kondareddi, I 1 R, 37 Mad, 112 of an accused person for property alleged or suspected to have been stolen or found under circumstances which relate to the commission of an offence 1

Chapter XLIII relates to the disposal of a document or other property produced before a Court holding an inquiry or trial

- (1) If any document, pareel or thing in such custody Procedure as to letters 15, in the opinion of any District Magistrate, ard telegrams Chief Presidency Magistrate, High Court or Court of Session, wanted for the purpose of any investigation, inquiry, trial or other proceeding under the Code, such Magistrate or Court may require the Postal of Telegraph authorities, as the case may be, to deliver such document, parcel or thing to such person as such Magistrate or Court directs
  - (2) If any such document, pareel or thing is, in the opinion of any other Magistrute, or of any Commissioner of Police or District Superintendent of Police, wanted for any such purpose, he may require the Postal or Telegraph Department, as the case may be, to eause scarch to be made for and to detain such doeument, parcel or thing pending the orders of any such District Magistrate, Chief Presidency Magistrate of Court

A police-officer cannot require the Postal or Telegraph authorities to produce a document, parcel or thing. The Commissioner of Police in a presidency town and any District Superintendent if Police clewhere can however, require the Postal or Telegraph Departmen to search for and detain a document parcel or thing until the orders of a Magistrate or Court shall lawe been obtained in this respect. An order under S 45 it should be noted is not for production as under S 94 but for its delivery to such person as the Magistrate or Court may direct

A District Magistrate on Chief Presidency Magistrate can under S 96 (2) issue a warrant to search for a document, parcel or thing in the custody of the Postal or Telegraph authorities, but only under the special circumstances set out in that section. If any other Magistrate issues such warrant his proceedings are void—

If any journal or other record of a Post Office is produced the Court shall not permit any portion of it to be disclosed other than that which may seem to the Court to be necessary for the determination of the case before it?

B -Search-warrants

(1) Where any Court has reason to believe that a When search warrant person to whom a summons or order under may be issued section 91 or a requisition under section 95, sub-section (1), has been or might be addressed, will not or would not produce the document or thing as required by such summons or requisition.

or where such document or thing is not known to the Court to be in the possession of any person.

Bissar Misser I L R 41 Cal 261 * All Rules &c . No 40

or where the Court considers that the purposes of any inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Code will be served by a general search or inspection.

it may issue a scarch-warrant, and the person to whom such warrant is directed may search or inspect in accordance therewith and the provisions heremifter contained

(2) Nothing berein contained shall authorize any Magistrate other than a District Magistrate on Chief Presidency Magistrate to grant a warrant to search for a document, parcel or other thing in the custody of the Postal or Telegraph authorities

See Sch. 3. (5) for the form of a warrant under 5. of

The search or inspection may be general or it may by the terms of the warrant, be restricted to a particular place or part thereof-15 47)

The Court should exercise its discretion in determining the terms of a searchwarrant. It will be for the Court to consider whether the purposes of any inquery, trial or other proceeding under this Cosh will be served by a general search-[5 1/4(1)]

So of authorises the person to whom the warrant may be directed to make any worth authorised thereby but there are some local or special Acts e.g. the Arms Act, 1875, which regum that screeks shall be made by certain padice-officers or Prisons Probable Soft would be applied subject to such processions of the use of the world. Court in Social and Soft his control would count in Social and Soft his control with the subject of the subje issued there must be one pusherd proceeding! but the Judicial Committee of the Prive Council less given it a more blorid interpretation holding that the word "Court these not necessarily imply this. The Code using the ferms Court and Majestrite generally if not always is convertible terms." Their Lordships also relied up in S. 6 and and S. 36 of the Code taken in conjunction with Sch. 111. Which declars that the power to issue a search warrant under S. 36 as among the ordinary powers of a Wigner ite. It was recordingly held that a Wignerrate was competent under 5 to to some in order for a general search during in investiga tion at which he might be present?

The provisions of 55 43 75, 77 70, 82, 83 and 84 apply so far as may be to

Warrants issued under this viction -(5 101)

When any document or thing is seized and produced before a Court in execution of a stand-warrant could under section of, the right to inspect them follows as a necessary consequence of such production, and that curries with it the jurisdiction to allow the prosecution the right to inspect them. This is the natural inference to be drawn from the words, " for the purpose of int investigation, inquiry, trial or other proceeding," which occur in section of

A summons to produce account books of a search warrant to obtain them would not entitle the party, at whose instance they were required, to examine them The Court should restrict such examination to the particular book or part of a book relating to the matter under inquiry or treal 4

When property not alleged to be stolen property is in the hands of third persons, its production can be demanded only for purposes of evidence. A search-warrant

<sup>In re Hart Lat Buch I I R 22 Bom 949 Rash Bebart Lat Mondal 12 Cil W No 15 Q Emp v Mahant of Truputt I I R 13 Mad 18 Cirche Brajendra Kichoro Roych Coddhur I L R 36 Cal 433 (c. 913 Cil W N 488, (sc.) 9 Cal I J 268 Clarke v Brajendra Kichore Roy Chowdhur I L R 36 Cal, 9.33 (SC.) 16 Cil W N 805, (SC.) 15 Cal L J 23
In re Lakimidas Narasji 5 Bom L Rup 980, (1903)

Shahomed Zackarsh v Ahmed Mahomed, I L R, 15 Cal, 199.</sup>

ought not to be granted for the sole purpose of attaching property, the title to which is in dispute 1 A Magistrate, who is competent to issue such a warrant, may order a search to be made in his presence—(S tox) If any person, not being duly empowered in that behalf, issues a search warrant for a letter in the Post Office or a telegram in the Telegraph Department, his proceedings are soid [Sec 530 (b)] that is to say, his order need receive no attention The proper course to be taken by such a person is indicated by S 95 (2) so as to obtain the detention of a letter &c or telegram, until a duly empowered officer can issue the necessary order for its production

Where application is made under S 10 of the Indian Copyright Act (III of 1914) for the issue of a search warrant the Magistrate has power under S 96 of the Code to issue a search warrant for the production of copies of the infringing books, etc, and where the person against whom such warrant was issued prays for the stay thereof and offers an undertaking not to sell copies of the books but to produce them before the Court whenever required, the Magistrate has jurisdiction to stry execution of the narrant conditionally on the execution of a bond to produce the copies in court

In what is known as the Mymensingh case, there had been serious rioting by armed crowds and the aggressors had lalen refuge in the cutcheries of the leading Hindu zamindars. The next day the District Magistrate decided to search the cutcheries for arms. The cutcheries were found locked, and as no servant of the simindars could be found they were broken open by the District Magistrate orders and a scarch was made. In a suit for trespass against the District Magistrate the Judicial Committee of the Privs Council held, reversing the decision of the first Court and of the majority of the Appellate Court, that the search was warrinted by the Code the Magistrate having power to issue a search warrant under 5 90 and therefore to direct a search to be made in his presence under 5 ros s

A Vingistrate must in 5 06 (1) paragraph (3), apply his mind to the question whether the purposes of any inquiry trial or other proceeding will be served by a general search and unless there are materials before him connecting the person against whom the wirrant is applied for with the offence alleged, upon which he can come to in independent decision on the point he has no power to issue the search warrant

He cannot grant such warrant simply because a Police Officer informs him that it is necessary and asi s him to do so s

In the town of Bombry in circumstances similar to those detailed in the first two paragraphs of sub-section (1) an officer making an investigation can search or cause search to be made. Bom Act IV of 1902 S 66

Forest Officers can be invested with powers to issue search warrants, See Bur Act IV of 1902 5 74 (c) Reg V of 1890, S 25, Mad Act V of 1882, S 59 (c) and the Indian Lorest Act VII of 1878, S 71 (c)

The Court may, if it thinks fit, specify in the warrant to restrict the particular place or part thereof to which Power warrant only the search or inspection shall extend; and the person charged with the execution of such warrant shall then search or inspect only the place or part so specified

The search warrants may however be for a " general search" for a document or thing specified in it See S of (1)

In re Bhann Jassa Ikm H Ct Oct 1803

I In to Bhanji Jassa and Aribada Byen "T I R 4-Cal 164 8 Kishori Mohan Bagehi e Haridas Byen "T I R 4-Cal 164 1 I R 30 Cal 053

* T R Pritt | Emp I I P

98 (1) If a District Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate, Surphelbourne, Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the search of hous use. Tresticinely singularities of indigistrate of the percent forced force from the property forced force from the first class, upon information and after such in particular forces for the force for the deposit for the dep or sale of stolen property.

or for the deposit or sale or manufacture of forged documents, false seals or counterfeit stamps or coin, or instruments or materials for counterfeiting coin or stamps or for forging, or that any forged documents, false seals or counterfeat samps or com, or instruments or materials used for counterfeating com or stamps or for forging, are kept or deposited in any place.

or, if a District Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate or a Presidency Magistrate, upon information and after such analysis as he thinks necessity, his reason to believe that any place is used for the deposit, sale, manufacture or production of any obscene object such as is referred to in section 202 of the Indian Penal Code or that any such obscene objects are kept or deposited in any place:

he may by his warrant authorise any police-officer above the rank of a constable-

- (a) to enter, with such assistance as may be required, such place, and
- (b) to search the same in manner specified in the warrant, and
- (c) to take possession of any property, documents, seals, stamps or come therein found which he reasonably suspects to be stolen, unlawfully obtained, forged, false or countertent, and also of any such instruments and materials or of any such obseene objects as aforesard, and
- (d) to convey such property, documents, seals, stamps, coins, instruments or materials or such obseene objects before a Magistrate, or to guard the same on the spot until the offender is taken before a Magistrate, or otherwise to dispose thereof in some place of safety, and
- (e) to take into custody and carry before a Magistrate every person found in such place who appears to have been privy to the deposit, sale or manufacture or keeping of any such property, documents, sends, stamps, coms, instruments of materials or such obscene objects knowing or having reasonable cause to suspect the said property to have been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained, or the said documents, seals, stamps, coins, instruments or materials to have been forged, falsified or counterfeited, or the said instruments or materials to have been or to be intended to be used for counterferting coin or stamps or for forging or the and obscene objects to have been or to be intended to be sold, let to hire, distributed, publicly exhibited, enculated imported or exported

- (2) The provisions of this section with respect to-
  - (a) countcifeit coin,
  - (b) com suspected to be counterfest, and
- (c) instruments or materials for counterferting com, shall, so far as they can be made applicable, apply respectively 10-
  - (a) pieces of metal mide in contravention of the Metal Tokens Act, 1889, or brought into British India in contravention of any notification for the time being in force under section 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878,
    - (b) pieces of metal suspected to have been so made or to have been so brought into British India or to be intended to be issued in contravention of the former of those Acts, and
    - (c) instruments or materials for making pieces of metal in contravention of that Act

Sch V Form IN provides a form for search warrants under S 98

If my Migistrate not empowered by his issues a starch is arrant under 5 98 erconcously in good fiith his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being so empowered ($ 520)

The provisions of Se 43 75, 77, 79 82 83 and 84 apply, so far as may be, to all search warr into secured under this section-(5 101)

A warrant under S 48 can be directed only to a Policiofficer above the rank of constable

Several of the expressions in 5 98 are defined in the Penal Code and must be so understood

Stolen property is defined in S 510 n forged document in S 470, counterfeit by 5 28 com by 5 230, and obscene object by 5 292 of the Penal Code Il search for the document or thing required is to be made at a place out of the local jurisdiction of the Court assuing the warrant, proceedings should be laken in record men il so sa sa fill a Cal al charter de fill able by S tor The warrant can be exect I also I frush h fa-(5 8)

51" (2) ce 2 (rn al C rit depose of a document or oil or property prefact before to the test task or and noted by the expected been countried and has been countried and has been countried as the supported by The addition to the exert more ting to the lights were made by The

A Act VIII for s

When in the execution of a search warrant at any place Discoul of things beyond the Littl limits of the musidiction of found in search beyond the Court which issued the same any of the Juns" chen things for which search is made are found such things together with the list of the same prepared under the provisions becomiffer contained shall be immediately taken before the Court i sum, the warrant unles such place is nearer to the Man trate having pure illustrent their in them to such Court, in which cale the list and things shall be immediately taken be

Power to declare cer ta n publ cal ons forfe t ed and to issue search warrants for the same

Le taken to such Court

trary such Majistrate shall make in pider authorizing them to 99A (1) Where--- fore such Magistrati and unless there I cancel cause to the con-

(a) any newspaper, or bool is defined in the Press and Registration of Bool's Act 1867 of

(b) my document. wherever printed, appears to the I ocal Government to contain any seditions matter, or any matter which promotes or is intended to promote feelings of eminty or hitred between different classes of His Majesty's subjects of which is deliberately and maliciously intended to outrice the religious feelings of any such class by insult ing the religion or the religious belief of that class, that is to say any matter the publication of which is jumishable under section 124 of Section 153A or Section 295A of the Indian Penal Code. the Local Government may by notification in the local official Gazette stating the grounds of its opinion ilectare every copy of the newspaper containing such matter and every copy of such book or other document to be forfested to His Muesty, and thereupon any police officer may seize the same wherever found in British India and my Magistrate may by warrant authorise any police officer not below the rink of sub inspector to enter upon and search for the same in any premises where any copy of such issue or any such book or other document may be or may be reasonably suspected to be

(9) In sub-section (1) document includes also any paint

mg drawing or photosi iph, or other visible representation

Application to High Court to set aside order of the newspaper, or the least the issue of the newspaper, or the book or other matter of such a nature as is referred to in Sub-section (1) of Section 199A.

99C Every such application shall be heard and determined Hearing by Special by a Special Bench of the High Court composed of three Judges

99D (1) On receipt of the application, the Special Bench Order of Special shall, if it is not satisfied that the issue of the Bench setting a side for feature way paper, or the book or other document, in respect of which the application has been made, contained seditions or other matter of such a nature as is referred to in sub-section (1) of section 99A, set aside the order of forfeiting

(2) Where there is a difference of opinion among the Judges forming the Special Bench, the decision shall be in accordance with the opinion of the majority of those Judges

Evidence to cover ence to any new spaper, any copy of such newspapers part may be given in evidence in aid of the proof of the nature or tendency of paper may be given in evidence in aid of the proof of the nature or tendency of the words, signs or visible representations contained in such newspaper, in respect of which the order of forfetting was, made

Procedure in High be, frame rules to regulate the procedure in the case of such applications, the amount of the costs thereof and the execution of orders passed thereon, and until such rules are framed, the practice of such Courts in proceedings other than surts and appeals shall apply, so far as may be practicable, to such applications.

99G No order passed or action taken under section 99A Jurisdiction barried shall be called in question in any Court otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of

So (9) V to (9) G were inserted by the Press Liw Repeal and Amendment Act MV of 1922, which repealed the India Press Act 1 of 1910. The provisions of the new sections are for the most part taken from the latter Act, but are confined to newspapers looks and other documents containing seditious matter that is to say matter the pul cat n el which is pinishable under S 1241 Penal Code That section penal use any person who is wirds either spoken or written or by again or live it is caper sented in or otherwise transfer or attempts to bring into hitred or cent mit or excites a stimple of excite distillection towards Her Majesti or the Government established by law in British India. The Explana tions to the sect on should be read

The price of the 42 mg mg mg 83 and 84 apply so far as may be, to warrants and nir to y

C -Dis overy if persons reronatelly confined

100 If any Presidency Magistrate Magistrate of the first Search for persons class or Sub-divisioned Migistrate has reason worgful years et a la la large start and a construction of the large start and a construction of the large start and the to behave that any person is confined under such circumstances that the confinement amounts to an offence he may used a search warrant, and the acreon to whom such warrant is directed may search for the person so confined and such search shall be made in accordance therewith and the per son if found shall be immediately taken before a Magistrate, who shall make such order as in the circumstances of the case scems proper

 $\frac{S_4}{43}$  =  $\frac{7}{5}$  =  $\frac{7}{7}$  =  $\frac{8}{43}$  and  $\frac{8}{4}$  apply so for as may be to all warrants assurd and  $\frac{7}{5}$  too—(S. 101)

It is imm it ri I what firm is used fir a search warrant under 5 100 Search w trants int ni d to be used unl r the section are legal if drawn up in the form priscribed fri erits unlike fire is swith alternatives adapted to meet

Reseon to believe

to be verified to the first ordered to be level than if he has sufficient cruse to be level that this first not exist. (Code) at level Code to the highest properties of the code to be sufficient to the sufficie

no nfmoneed

Whoes r selunt rily ob ing nany direct nin restra n that person (S a mann r as 1 presen Im to is s I wr ngful for the ix vers of a Hall Court in similar cases to assue directions of the nature of a labeas c rhis se S 491 and for the l wers of a District or Presidency Magistrate on a complaint of the abduct on or unlawful detention of a woman or female child see S 552

D -General Provisions relating to Searches

101 The provisions of sections 43, 75, 77, 79, 82–83 and 84 Direction etc of shall so far as may be, apply to all search arch warrants warrants issued under section 96, section 98, search warrants section 99A or section 100

<sup>1</sup> Legal Remembrancer t Mozam Molla I L R 45 Cal 905 Gurameah v king Emp 16C W \ 336

99B Any person living any interest in any new spaper, book

Application to High or other document, in respect of which an order court to set and order of follertine has been under section 99A, court to set and order of forlettue has been under under section 99A mix, within two months from the date of such that the issue of the newspaper or the book or other document, in respect of which the order was made, did not contain any seditions or other matter of such a nature as is released to in Sub-section (1) of Section 99A

99C Every such application shall be heard and determined by a Special Bunch of the High Court composed of three Judges

99D (1) On receipt of the application, the Special Bench Order of Special shall if it is not satisfied that the issue of the Bench setting a side for incompanie on the book or other document, in respect of which the application has been made; contained seditions or other matter of such a nature as is referred to in sub-section (1) of section 99A, set aside the order of forfeiture

(2) Where there is a difference of opinion among the Judges forming the Special Bench, the decision shall be in accordance with the opinion of the majority of those Judges

99E On the hearing of any such application with reference to brove ence to any newspaper, any copy of such newspapers proof of the inture of tendence of the words, signs of visible representations contained in such newspaper in respect of which the order of folletture was made

99F Every High Court shall, as soon as conveniently my court of might be, frame rules to regulate the procedure in the case of such applications, the amount of the costs thereof and the execution of orders passed thereon, and until such rules are framed, the practice of such Courts in proceedings other than sunts and appeals shall apply, so far as may be practicable, to such ambiguitions.

99G No order passed or action taken under section 99A

Jurisdiction barred shall be called in question in any Court othersection 99B wise than in accordance with the provisions of

55 993 to 196 were inserted by the Press Liw Repeal and Amendment Act NIV (fig.) which repealed the India Press Act Lef 1910. The provisions of the new sections are for the most part taken from the fatter Act, but are confined to renspapers, books and other documents contaming seditious matter, that is to say restler the present of which is punishable under 5 1241 Penal Code That section penalties and present with the words either spoken or written, or is agree or little or compation or therewise large or attempts to bring into hatred or cont m, t. ex exists ex attempts to excite disaffection, towards Her Majests of the to vernment established to the in British India." The Explanations to the wetten should be read

The presence of Se 42 75 77 20 Se stand 84 apply, so far as may be, to Warrin's result entr's "."

C -Discovery of persons aeronafully confined

100 If any Presidency Magistrate Magistrate of the first Search for persons class or bub discissional Magistrate has reason worgfuly etrares to behave that any person is confined under such circumstances that the confinement amounts to an offence, he may usue a search warrant and the person to whom such warrant is directed mix search for the person so confined, and such search shall be made in accordance therewith, and the person, if found, shall be immediately taken before a Magistrate, who shall make such order is in the circumstances of the case seems proper

$4 43 75 77 71 82 % and $1 will see for 75 mm; be to all warrants issued under $ 1000-(5 mm;)

It is immittered what form is used for a search warrant under S 100 Search warrants intended to be used under the east in one legal if drawn up in the form prescribed frin reints and r 5 / or 5 /5 with literatives adapted to meet the requirements of 5 (ex) !

Resson to believe

to believe that thing but not otherwis -(5 of Penal Code)

The definition of "wront fal confinement is thus given in the Penal Code When a ent that person from proceedtπ proceed is said wrongfully to re restrains any person in such а second certain circumscribing or the powers of a High Courl in similar cases to assue directions of the nature of a hidrar corput see S 41, and for the powers of a District or Presidency Magistrate on a complaint of the abduction or unlawful detention of a woman or female child see 5 552

D -General Processions relating to Searches

The provisions of sections 43, 75, 77, 79, 82, 83 and 84 Duection, etc. of shall, so far as may be, apply to all searchsearch warrants warrants issued under section 96, section 98, section 99A or section 100

Legal Remembrancer : Mozam Wolfa I L R 45 Cal 905 Gurameah v King Emp 16 C W N 336

- Persons in charge of closed place to allow the warrant, and on production of the warrant, allow him free ingress thereto, and afford all re isonable facilities for a search therein
- (2) If ingress into such place cannot be so obtained, the officer or other person executing the warrant may proceed in manner provided by section 48
- (3) Where any person in or about such place is reasonably suspected of concealing about lus person any article for which search should be made, such person may be searched. If such person is a woman, the directions of section 52 shall be observed.

It should be noted that there must be not only a demand by the officer or other person executing a search warrant but the warrant must be produced

In execution of a warrant not only can the place be searched but also the person of any person in or about it who is reasonably suspected of concealing about his or her person any article for which search should be made. The object of a search of the place might be frustrated it such a facility were afforded for the removal of the article sought for A list of the properties taken from such person shall be prepared, and at his request a copy of such list shall be given to him—[5] so it (all).

It should be noted that S 102 does not apply to the Police in the towns of

Calcutta and Bombay See S 1 (a)

- 103 (1) Before making a search under this Chapter, the Search to be made in officer or other person about to make it shall presence of winesses call upon two or more respectable inhabitants of the locality in which the place to be searched is situate to attend and witness the search and may issue an order in writing to them or any of them so to do
- (2) The sevreli shall be made in their presence, and a list of all things served in the course of such search and of the places in which they are respectively found shall be prepared by such officer or other person and signed by such witnesses, but no person valuessing a search under this section shall be required to attend the Court as a witness of the search unless specially summoned by it
- (3) The occupant of the place searched, or some person in Occupant of place his behilf, shall, in every instance, be persented my attend permitted to attend during the search and a copy of the list prepared under this section, signed by the said

witnesses, shall be delivered to such occupant or person at his request

- (4) When any person is searched under section 102, subsection (3), a list of all things taken possession of shall be prepared, and a copy thereof shall be delivered to such person at his request
- (5) Any person who, without reasonable cause, refuses or neglects to attend and witness a search under this section, when called upon to do so by an order in writing delivered or tendered to him, shall be deemed to have committed an offence under section 187 of the Indian Penal Code

The addition to Sub-section (1) and the insertion of Sub-section (5) by Act AVIII of 1923 penalises in unre sonable refusal or neglect to attend is a search witness and would make it a condition precedent that the person in question should have been required to ittend by in order in writing from the Police-officer

These intendments are intended to put an end to the objectionable practice of bringing some professional search witnesses from a distance and to prevent the by no means uncommon frustration of searches by the unreasonable refusal of witness s to attend

The Lounder Committee recommended the issue of executive instructions to the Police that they should whenever possible require the attendance of respectable witnesses from the immediate vicinity

When a search had been conducted under S tog evidence can be given regard ing the things sized in the course of the search and regarding the places in which they were found in addition to the evidence of the list which the law directs to be drawn up religing to the particulars of the property found 1

The circumstance that the nitnesses nere not inhabitants of the locality does not necessarily expose the conduct of the Police to suspicion or render evidence of a search inadmissible 2. An attempt to search a house without the presence of wit nesses does not justify obstruction and resistance so as to bar a consistion under

353, Penal Code 4

The Allahabad High Court held that though a Sub Inspector of Police investigiting a charge of theft requires no warrant to search a house which he suspects to contain stolen property yet in making the search he is bound to comply with the provisions of S 103 and if he attempts to make a search without search witnesses the owner or occupier of the house is justified in resisting the attempt so far as to exclude him from the house. The owner or occupier is not however justified in using any more force than is necessary for such purpose

Refusal to sign the list of things seized in a search is not an offence punishable under S 187, Penal Code It is an independent duty imposed on a witness to a house search and not a refusal to render assistance to a public officer which must have some personal relation to the execution of his duty by the public officer implying that the person who assists is doing something which in ordinary circumstances the person assisted could do for himself 5

The spirit of Ss 101, 103 require that an option be given to the occupant of the place searched to be present at it and not that he is to be allowed to be present only on demand. The words "occupant of the place" refer to persons

Solai Naik v Lmp I L R 34 Mad 349 • O Emp : Raman I L R 22 Mad 33 • O Emp v Putkor Kotu I L R, 19 Mad 349, see also Penal Code s 99 • Emp v Numal Sing I L R 42 All 67 • Ramaya Naik I L R 46 Mad 419

- Persons in charge of under this Chapter is closed, any person share of shall, on demand of the officer or other person shall, on demand of the officer or other person lim free ingress thereto, and afford all reasonable facilities for a search therein.
- (2) If ingress into such place cannot be so obtained, the officer or other person executing the warrant may proceed in manner provided by section 48
- (3) Where any person in or about such place is reasonably suspected of concealing about his person any article for which earth should be made, such person may be searched. If such person is a woman, the directions of section 52 shall be observed.

It should be noted that there must be not only a demand by the officer or other person executing a search warrant but the warrant must be produced

In execution of a warrant not only can the place be searched but also the gerson of any person in or about it who is reasonably suspected of encealing about his or her person any article for which search should be made. The object of a search of the place might be frustrated if such a facility were afforded for its removal of the article sought for A lat of the properties taken from such person shall be prepared and at his request a copy of such list shall be given to him—[5] sog (4)]

It should be noted that S nor does not apply to the Police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay See S 1 (a)

- 203 (1) Before making a search under this Chapter, the Search to be made in officer or other person about to make it shall presence of wines eat in upon two or more respectable inhabitants of the locality in which the place to be searched is situate it attend and witness the search and may issue an order in writing to them or any of them so to do
  - (2) The search shall be made in their presence, and a his of all things seized in the course of such search and of the place in which they are respectively found shall be prepared by such officer or other porson and signed by such witnesses, but in person witnessing a search under this section shall be required to attend the Court as a witness of the search unless specially summoned by it
  - (3) The occupant of the place scarched, or some person is searched may attend performed to attend during the scarch and copy of the list prepared under this section, signed by the sair witnesses, shall be delivered to such occupant or person at his request.

- (4) When any person is searched under section 102, sub-section (3), a list of all things taken possession of shall be prepared, and a copy thereof shall be delivered to such person at his request.
- (5) Any person who, without reasonable cause, refuses or neglects to attend and witness a search under this section, when called upon to do so by an order in writing delivered or tendered to him, shall be deemed to have committed an offence under section 187 of the Indean Penal Code

The addition to Sub-section (i) and the insertion of Sub-section (5) by Act XVIII of any pendists an unrassonable relies do reglect to attend to a search witness and would make it a condition precedent that the person in question should have been required to attend by in order in writing from the Police-officer.

These maintainers are intended to put an end to the objectionable practice of bringing sum professional scarch witnesses from a distinct and to present the bit no means uncommon frustration of scarches by the unreasonable refusal of witnesses to attend

The Loundes Committee recommended the issue of executive instructions to the Police that they should whenever possible require the attendance of respectable witnesses from the unmediate vients.

When a sinch hid be an conducted under S. soglessdence can be given regarding the things sized in the course of the sarch and regarding the places in which they were found in addition to the evidence of the list which the law directs to be drawn up reliting to the particulars of the property found?

The circumstance that the witnesses were not inhabitants of the locality does not necessarily expose the conduct of the Police to suspicion or render evidence of a search inadmissible. An attempt to search a husse without the presence of with madmissible in the presence of the presence

S 353 Penal Cixle 3

The Allahabad High Court held that though a Sub-Inspector of Police investigating a chirge of theft requires no warrant to search a house which he suspects to contain stolen property set in making the search he is bound to comply with the provisions of $5 103 and if he attempts to make a search without search wintesses the owner or occupier of the house is justified in resisting the attempt so far as to exclude him from the house. The owner or occupier is not however justified in using any more force than is necessary for such purpose $4$.

Refusal to sign the list of things seized in a search is not an offence punish able under S 187, Penal Code It is an independent duty imposed on a withess to a house search and not a refusal to render assistance to a public officer which must have some personal richion to the execution of his duty by the public officer implying that the person who assists is doing something which in ordinary circumstances the person assisted could do for himself *

The spirit of 5s 101, 103 require that an option be given to the occupant of the place searched to be present at it and not that he is to be allowed to be present only on demand. The words "occupant of the place" refer to persons.

CHAP VII SECS 104 10a

residing in, or being in charge of a place, but it is deslrable in practice that any person against whom an inference may be drawn from the finding of articles should be present at the search

94

If the bond fides of the search is impeached, it must be shown that the law has been ignored and an inference against bona fides will not arise from the mere failure to exercise a wise discretion on the part of the officers conducting the search 1

E -Miscellaneous

104. Any Court may, if it thinks fit, impound any document or thing produced before it under this Power to impound Code document, etc DIO

duced On conviction of certain offences the Court is competent to order certain property to be destroyed (S 521)

Any Magistrate may direct a search to be made in his presence of any place for the search of Magistrate may direct which he is competent to issue a searchsearch in his pre ence warrant

So a Magistrate who is present at a Police investigation may under 5 of direct the search of a house to be made although no judicial proceedings have been held 4 See notes to S of

<sup>1</sup> Ramesh Chandra Hanerjee : Fmp I I R 41 Cal 350 1 Clarkev Brajendra hisho e Roy Chowdhur, I L R 36 Cal 956 (SC) 16 Cal N 865 (SC) 15 Cal L ] 431

PART IV.

PRINTING OF OTHERS

CHAPTER VIII

Of Security for kilping the Pince and for Good Bihaviour

In places where the Problem Crunes Regulation 1901, is in force, see Ss. 40 to 47, both inclusive of this Regulation Ss. 112, 113, 115 and 117 of this Code do not apply to certain enquiries under the Regulation, see Reg. 111 of 1901, Ss. 42 (2) and 47 (2) Ss. 20 to 26 of Reg. 111 of 1802 are to be read with and construed is part of this Chapter (See S. 27 of that Regulation and S. 3 of this Code)

Of SIGURITY FOR WILLIAM THE PLACE AND FOR GOOD BURNATION.

1 For keeping the peace

The law provides two ways of taling security for Leeping the peace

The first, by means of S 106 is, after conscious of any of the offences specified therein, by passing an order at the time of passing sentence on any person, ordering him to execute a bond for a certain sum of money, with an with out sureties to keep the peace for a certain period not exceeding three years such period commencing on expiration of the sentence (S 120). The order is summary because the person bound over has had an opportunity during the trial of defending himself or of showing cause sgannst the facts on which he is bound over. It may, however, he observed that the has had no opportunity of showing that the terms of the bond are unreasonable or out of proportion to his means.

If the trial is held by a Magistrate not a Sub-divisional Magistrate or of the first class and who is therefore not competent to pass an order under S 106 and he thinks that such an order should be passed he should record his opinion and submit the case to the Migistrate to whom he is subordinate to be properly dealt with (S 349) An order under S 106 requiring security to keep the peace can be pissed by a Court of Appeal or by the High Court as a Court of Revision.

The second is by proceedings taken on information that a person is likely to commit a breach of the perce, &c (S 107) More than one person cannot be joined in the same proceedings unless they have been associated together in the matter under inquiry (S 117). In such case the Magistrate must make an order in writing setting out the substance of the information on which he acts, the amount of the bond to be executed, the term for which it is to be in force, and the number, character and class of sureless (fi any) required (S 112). A copy of such order shall be delivered to such person on service of the summons calling upon him to show cause on a specified day, why he should not be required to comply with such order (S 113). A warrant of arrest may be issued instead of a summons, if his arrest is found to be necessary to prevent an immunent breach of the peace (S 114), but, as on service of summons, a copy of the order must be delivered to him, when such warrant is secuted (S 112).

residing in, or being in charge of a place, but it is desirable in practice that any person against whom in inference may be drawn from the finding of articles should be present at the search

If the bond fides of the search is imperched it must be shown that the law has been ignored, and an inference rigainst bond fides will not arise from the mere failure to exercise a wise discrition on the part of the officers conducting the search?

E -Miscellaneous

Power to impound ment or thing produced before it under this document etc pio Code

On conviction of certain offences the Court is competent to order cectain property to be destroyed (S-521)

Magnitude may direct a search to be made in his presence of any place for the search of which he is competent to issue a search-warrant.

So a Migistrate who is present at a Police investigation may under S of direct the search of a house to be made although no judicial proceedings have been held  $^4$  See notes to S of

Dec 110162 10 3 90

Ramesh Chandra Banerjee v Fmp I I I 41 Cal 350
Clarke v Brajendra Kisho e Roy Chowdbury I I R 36 Cal 056 (SC) 16 Cal
S 865 (SC) 15 Cat I J 36

PART IV.

PHAINTION OF OHENCIS

CHAPTER VIII

Of Security 1016 Kilping the Pince and for Good Betaniour

In places where the Frontier Crimes Regulation 1901, is in fect, see $\inp 10\) to $17\] both inclusive of that Regulation $\inp \frac{1}{2}\] 112\] 113\] 115\] and $117\] of this Code do not apply to certain enquiries under the Regulation see Reg. III of 1901, $\inp \frac{2}{2}\] 20\] and $\inp (2)\] $\inp 20\] to $\inp \text{0}\] for $\inp \text{Reg.}$ III of 1892\] are to be read with and construct as purt of this Chapter (See $\inp 2\) of that Regulation and $\inp 3\] of this Code)

Of SICIRITY FOR KITCHING THE LEACH AND FOR GOOD REPRESSION

For keeping the peace

The law provides tw ways of taking security for I coping the peace specifed therein by means of 5 106 is, after convection of any of the offences period therein by passing, an order at the time of passing sentence on any person ordering him to execute a bond for a certain sum of money with or with out sureties to keep the peace for a certain period not exceeding three years such period commencing on expiration of the sentence (S 120). The order is summary because the person bound over has bad an opportunity during the trial of defending himself or of showing cause against the facts on which he is bound over it may, however be observed that the lars had no opportunity of showing that the terms of the lond are unreasonable or out of proportion to his means fif the trail is held by a Magistrate not a Sub-divisional Migistrate or of the first class and who is therefore not competent to press an order under S 105 and he thinks that such an order should be passed he should record his opinion and submit the case to the M gistrate to whom he is subordinate to be properly dealt with (S 439). An order under S 106 requiring security to Keep the peace can be passed by a Court of Appeal or by the High Court as a Court of Revision [5 100] (3)1

The second is by proceedings triken on information that a person is likely to commit a breach of the peace, &c (S 107). More than one person cannot be joined in the same proceedings unless they have been associated together in the matter under inquiry (S 117). In such case the Magistrate must make an order in writing setting out the substance of the information on which he acts, the inviting setting out the substance of the information on which he acts, the number, character and class of sucreties (if any) required (S 112). A copy of the number, character and class of sucreties (if any) required (S 112). A copy of which order shall be delivered to such person on service of the summons calling "Pon limit to show cause on a specified day, why he should not be required to summons, in this arrest is found to be necessary to prevent an imment breach a summons, in this arrest is found to be necessary to prevent an imment breach of the peace (S 114), but, as on service of summons, a copy of the order must be delivered to him when such warrant is executed (S 115).

A warrant of arrest would also issue if summons cannot be served or, if, on Vigistriet can dispense with personal ritendance and he may permit the person called upon to show cause to appear by pleader ($ 116) If the person is not the person to the court the order is to be read to him, or, if he so desires it, its substance should be explained to him ($ 113) When the Magistrie has the person before him, he is required to proceed to inquire into the truth of the information on which he has acted, and he should proceed as nearly as may be practicable as in the trul of a summons case ($ 177 (2)] that is to sty, he should, first of all upon the person concerted to show cause why he should not be bound over, and if he admits that the information is correct, he can at once bind him over ($ 242 243).

But if he does not so admit the Vigistrate must proceed to take evidence to the the necessity shown in the information on which he has acted exists for binding him over. The wintessex can be cross-expinined and re-examined. If a pinum facte case is established the defence is taken and the witnesses for the defence should be examined (5-24). Judgment is then pronounced. If the order is for security to be taken the terms of such security cannot exceed those specified in the order passed under 5-11. (5-118). The security should be given at once or, on failure, the person will be seminited to yal for the term for which security is required (5-120-123). But the Magistrate may for sufficient reason 8x 3 liner date for the communication of the open into of this order, and he may thus enable the person required to give security to make arrangements to comply with the order [5-120(2)].

Security may honever be given afterwards through the Superintendent of the Jul, and if it is accepted by the Migistrie the person giving it should be released from Jul [S 123 (4)] If the security is for a period exceeding one year, and it is not given, the person is detained in jul but the proceedings must then be laid before the Court of the Sessions Judge, or, in the case of proceedings of a Presidency Magistrate, before the High Court and such Lourt is empowered to priss such order as it may think fit, but cannot commit a person to prison for failure to gite security for 1 period executing three years (S 123) A Sessions Judge or an Assistant Sessions Indige Order or an Assistant Sessions Indige or an Assistant Sessions Indige Order Or

An unite reliaving to scept or rejecting a surety is appenhible (S. 406 A). The District Magistrate and the Chief Presidence Vidgastrate have power to release, any person impresented for bulling to give security if, in their opinion, he may be released without heard to the community or to any other person. Such an order of discharge may be unconditional or upon such conditions generally prescribed by the Local Government as the persons affected may accept. On breach of a condition the person may be recreated and may be remained to prison unless he furnishes the security origin filly fair midded (S. 124).

The District Magistrate or the Chief Presidency Migistrate may at any time for sufficient reasons to be recorded in writing cancel any bond executed by order of any Court in his district not superior to his Court (5 125)

An appeal now has a gunst in order dentanding sections for keeping the peace except where the proceedings have been had before a Sessions Judge under S 123 (5 46).

A surety can at any time spiply to a Magistrate to be released from his obligation, and the Magistrate, efter curefuling the bond, will require the person affect to furnish fresh security, and in default of fresh security will commit such person to prison (S 126 and 126 t)

Lmp v Gharito, I L R 46 All 101

CHAP VIII SEC 106

Where the Magistrate is of opinion, during the inquiry, that immediate measures are necessars for the presention of a breach of the peace he may, for reasons to be recorded in writing direct the person affected by the order under S 112 to execute a bond with or without sureties, for keeping the peace until the conclusion of the inquiry and may detain him in custody in default of execution of the bond [S 117 (1)]

1 Court of Appeal can set aside, amend or pass any such order under S 106 in a case regularly brought before it on appeal [S 423 (d)] and the High Court, as a Court of Revision has similar powers (S 439)

2 For Good Behaviour

The procedure prescribed for security to keep the perce generally applies also to proceedings to require security for fined behaviour and need not therefore be repeated. The grounds in which such proceedings may be taken are set out in Si 105 109 and 110 and such of these are applicable to the matter before the Magistrate must be set cut in the order in writing to be delivered to the person concerned on service of summons or on execution of wirrant of arrest, as the case may be (5 115) 5 112 requires that such order shall set forth the substance of the information on which the Magistr to his icted for without such information the person required to ship cause would not come prepared to meet the case argainst him. In a norm is with this subject it should be recollected that a Magistrate connot pr perly change the grounds on which he has proceeded without some fresh n tice to the prom concern d. For instance, if such person has been called upon to show cause why he should not give security for good behayour under S 100 that is because he has no estensible means of subsistence, it would not be prop r for the Migistrate without notice and probably also without some adjournment of the proceedings to take evidence to bind him over because he is by habit a robber house breaker or their under S 110 The procedure would be as nearly as may be practicable as in a warrant-case that is, under Chapter XXI, and the Magistrate would therefore first commence with taking evidence as to the truth of the information upon which he has acted (5 117) and it would be only when a prima facte case has been established that the accused would be called upon to enter on his defence (S 255 el seg), but no charge need be framed—[S 17[2]] Seprile proceedings should be held against each person, unless it appears that they have been associated together in the matter under moury 15 (17 (5)]

Evidence of general repute or otherwise is admissible where the ease is that the accused is an habitual offender, or is so desperate an offender, as to render his being at large hazardous to the community. The latter part of this is new

[5 117 (4)] Imprisonment for failure to give security for good behaviour, where the proceedings have been taken under S 108 or S 109 15 simple, and, where the proceedings have been taken under 5 110 may be rigorous or simple as the Court directs [5 117 (6)]

Any person ordered to give security for good behaviour by a Magistrate not being a District Magistrate or a Presidency Magistrate has the right of appeal to the District Magistrate (5 406)

'A -Security for Leeping the Peace on Conviction

106 (1) Whenever any person accused of any offence punishable under Chapter VIII of the Indian Security for keeping the peace on conviction Penal Code, other than an offence numshable under section 143, section 149, section 153A or section 154 thereof, or of assault or other offence involving a breach of the peace, or of abetting the same, or any person accused of committing criminal intimidation, is convicted of such offence before a High Court, a Court of Session or the Court of a Presidency Magistrate, a District Magistrate, a Sub-divisional Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class.

<sup>1</sup> Q Emp v Ishwar Chandra Sur I L R 11 Cal, 13, Q Emp v Nathu I I., R 6 All 214

and such Court is of opinion that it is necessary to require such person to execute a bond for keeping the peace, such Court may, at the time of passing sentence on such person, order him to execute a bond for a sum proportionate to his means, with or without sureties, for keeping the peace during such period, not exceeding three years, as it thinks fit to fix

(2) If the conviction is set aside on appeal or otherwise, the bond so executed shall become and

(3) An order under this section may also be made by an Appellate Court including a Court hening appeals under section 407 or by the High Court when exercising the powers of revision

The original intention of the Amending Bill, which became law as Act XVIII of 1923 was to make this section applicable to all cases of conviction under Chapter VIII of the Indian Penal Code. The Legislature excepted the sections enumerated in sub-section (i) The words or of assembling armed men or taking other unlawful measures with the evident intention of committing the same which have been omitted are to a large extent, if not entirely, covered by the insertion of the reference to Chapter VIII of the Indian Penal Code

There was some conflict of opinion among the High Courts as to whether an Appellate Court could require security on appeal from convictions by second of third class Magistrates I he introduction in sub-section (3) of the words "includ ing a Court hearing appeals under section 407 sets the doubts at rest

Difficulties have arisen in respect of orders purporting to have been passed under S 106, requiring security to keep the peace, because the person so required to furnish security his not been convicted of an offence within the terms of that section 1 or instance, a person has been accused of rioting (S 147 Penal Code). and he has been convicted only of being a member of an unlawful assembly (S 143) or of criminal trespass (S 447) that being strict in the charge as the common object of such assembly, but neither of these offences is amongst these specified in S 106, nor do they necessarily mixible a breach of the peace?

But if the criminal trespass has been committed with the intention of committing a breach of the peaces or hurt, an order for security can be passed. It cannot be passed where the intention was otherwise, as for instance, to have Illicit intercourse with the complamant's wife 3

An order under 5 106 may be made in a case where it is found that armed men were assembled with the intention of committing a breach of the peace though none occurred & Such an order can be made only if the Magistrate expressly

<sup>1</sup> JibLalv Jugmohun I L R 26Cu 576 (SC) 3Cut W N 97 Lollowed in Baidya Nath Majumdar I L R 30 Cal 93 (SC 16 Cal W N 471 466 also Ray Narain Roy I. Il 35 Cat 315
 Subal Chandra Dey v Ram Kanat I L R 25 Cal 628 (SC) 3 Cal W N 18

O v Gendoo hhan 7 W R Cr 14 Re Jhapoo 20 W R Cr 37

finds that the acts of the accused amounted to assembling armed men, or taking unlawful measures, with the evident intention of committing a breach of the peace, or the evidence is so clear that, without such express finding, a superior Court should be entisfied that the acts found do involve a breach of the peace or an evident intention to commit the same !

Il an order for security to keep the peace is passed on consiction of an offence not specified in S 105, it is incumbent on the Magistrate to record a clear finding of facts making section are applicable 3 Such a finding should be clear and explicit 3

I consiction und c S 504 Penal Code justifies an order under S 106 of this Code, for the expression other offence insolving a breach of the peace" includes an offence which was an offence because a breach of the peace had occurred or was High to recur 4

Where the accused were connected of offences not necessarily involving the use of force or a breach of the power e.g. under Sc. 143, 207, 379, 426 Penal Code and where there was no finding that a breach of the peace had ensued, en order and r 5 106 of this Code was illegal 5

But contra the All thichard High Court (Knox J ) held that an " offence involving a breach of the peace does not mean only an offence which necessarily mightes a breach of the peace or of which a breach of the peace forms an ingredient but includes such in offence as in common I nowledge is ordinarily or very prob bly the occasion if a breach of the sence, as eg the removal of a landmark .

To bring a case within the terms of S 106 there must be an express finding that the acts of the accused on hed a breach of the peace or were done with the evident intention of causing the same or at all events the evidence must be so clear that without in express finding a superior Court is satisfied that such was the case? A finding that the common object of an unlawful assembly was by means of commal free coston then of to take possession of land, and that but for the direction of the rival landled to the tenants to retire there might have been a seri us riet was insufficient to bring the case within S 106 r

Lix n a conviction for criminal trespies where the intention of the trespies is the minute, breight of the period and order may be passed under S 106.

The mere i msing a disturbance in religious worship to provoke an assault and convictions under 54 2% and 208 Penal Code are not sufficient grounds for an order under 5 100 of this Lode But if the evidence shows an intention to commit a breach of the peace an order under S 106 after a conviction of criminal trespass can be maintained to It may depend upon the intention with which the offence was committed. An order under S 106 can be passed in a summary trial if there has been a conviction of an offence within that section. and the Magistrate or Bench has jurisdiction to convict and to make such order 23 The rudence however generally shows that the conviction should have been for rioting which is a warrant-case and not triable summarily. The result is that the order for security to keep the peace is set aside on revision as ultra pires, for a summary trial having been held the conviction cannot be altered to a conviction

<sup>1</sup> Subal Chan Ira Dey v D m Wann 11 D a C 1 C B CC

<sup>2</sup> Bardya Nath i Nibarar I L tt 2) Cal 3/3 (SC) 6

Kishore Surlar v K L

<sup>**</sup> Thinker Straight Sacob I. J. R. 47 Benn 551

** R31 Narius Roy e Bhagabat Chunder Nandi, I. R. 35 Cil. 315 Nanhookaram

** R31 Narius Roy e Bhagabat Chunder Nandi, I. R. 35 Cil. 315 Nanhookaram

**Kunhanedi Imp. I. R. 26 Mad. 469 Abdutta v the Crown I. L. R. 2 Lah., 279

**Fmp. v Mank Rai J. L. R. 32 All 771

**Abdul Ali Chowdhury v Emp. I. R. 43 Cil. 671

**Imp. v Dharam R31 L. R. 42 Cil. 345

**Imp. v Dharam R31 L. R. 42 Cil. 345

* Kuchipura parambil v Gulam Hussann Weir 719

10 O v Gendoo Khan 7 W R Cr 14 Re Jhapoo 20 W R Cr 37

11 Emp v Luchman 7 W P W 1886 p 181

of another offence not so trable. The responsibility is consequently entirely with the Magistrate for such result

An order requiring security to keep the peace can be passed by a Court of appeal or revision. If the conviction, on which such an order is founded, is set aside, the order becomes void And though the conviction may be affirmed, the appellate Court may set aside the order under Sec 106 [S 423 (1) (d)] 1

If the sentence is not appealable it does not become appealable merely on the tround that the person consicted is ordered to find security to keep the peace (S 415) If the period for which security is required exceeds one year, and, on failing to comply with it, the person is committed to prison, the proceedings must be referred to the Court of Session, or, in a Presidency Town, to the High Court, for orders (S 123)

The period for which security is required under S 106 commences on the expiration of the sentence passed (S 120)

Powers of Magietrates

If a Magistrate of the second or third class requires a bond to be executed under S 106 his proceedings are void (S 530) If he thinks that such an order should be prived he should proceed as directed by section 349 that is he should record his opinion on the case before him, and report his proceedings to the District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate to whom he is subordinate He cannot convict and sentence the accused and then refer the case for an order under S 106 2

But a Sub-divisional Magistrate is competent to pass an order under S 106, and to bind a person over for a period of six months notwithstanding that, but for his being a Subdivisional Magistrate he would only have second class

Bull bonds in criminal cases are exempt from stramp duty (Court Fees Act, 1870, S 19 Cl vi) But Sch 11, Art 6 of that Act declares that bail bonds and other instruments of obligation not otherwise provided for by that Act, when given by direction of the Court shall bear a stamp of eight annas Government of India has however remitted the fees chargeable on security bonds for keeping the pence of persons other than the executants 4

A person required to execute a bond, with or without sureties, to keep the peace may be allowed by the Court to deposit a sum of money or Government promissory notes to such amounts as the Court may fix in lieu of executing such

B - Security for Leeping the Peace in other Cases and security for Good Behaviour

107. (1) Whenever a Presidency Magistrate, District Security for keeping Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate the peace in other cases Magistrate of the first class is informed that any person is likely to commit a breach of the peace or disturb the public tranquility, or to do any wrongful act that may probably occasion a breach of the peace, or disturb the public tranquillity, the Magistrate if in his opinion there is sufficient

i Abdul Wahruddin i Amiran 6 Cal W 422 (5 C) I L R 30 Cal 101 Mahmudi Sheikh i Ali Sheikh I I R 21 Cal 622 Momen Malita I L R 1 L R 37 Cal L J 602 Momen Malita I L R 37 Int 230 Cal India 1880 p 223

ground for proceeding may, in manner hereinafter provided, require such person to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond with or without sureties, for keeping the peaco for such period not exceeding one year as the Magistrate thinks ft to fix

- (2) Proceedings shall not be taken under this section unless either the person informed against or the place where the breach of the peace of disturbance is apprehended, is within the local limits of such Magistrate spirisdiction, and no proceedings shall be taken before any Magistrate other than a Cluef Piesidency or District Magistrate unless both the person informed against and the place where the breach of the peace or disturbance is apprehended are within the local limits of the Magistrate's jurisdiction.
- (3) When any Magistrate not empowered to proceed under the reduce of the real subsection. (1) has reason to behave that any person is likely to commit a breach of the fit of the reason and the person is likely to commit a breach of the person of disturb the public tranquillity or to do any wrong full let that may probably occusion a breach of the person of disturb the public tranquillity and that such breach of the person of disturbing such person in custody such Magistrate may, after recording his reasons issue a wirrant for his airest (if he is not already in custody or before the Court) and may send hun before a Magistrate empowered to deal with the case together with a copy of his reasons.
- (f) A Magistrite before whom a person is sent under subsection (3) may in his discretion detain such person in eustody pending further action by homself under this Chapter

Sub section (1)

The words of in his opinion there is sufficient ground for proceeding? are new having too introduced by Act Will of 1923 S 16 They bring S 107 into I ne with S 24 from which the words are triken but do not add anything to the law which chrously commenplated, before amendment, iliat a Magistrate, in the exercise of this of scretion should act on reasonable grounds.

Jurisdiction

Proceedings under 5 toy cannot be taken by a Magistrate of the third class, or by a Magistrate of the second class unless he is a Sub-divisional Magistrate; and if so taken they are void ($ 530). But if such Magistrate has reason to believe that there are sufficient reasons. But if such Magistrate has reason to be they are not disturbance of the public for so proceeding, and also that a breach of the peace or disturbance of the public trace proceeding, and also that a breach of the peace or disturbance of the public trace proceeding that a presented otherwise than by detaining the person from whom this is apprehended in custody, he may after record ng his reason, issue a warrant for his arrest, and send him before a competent Magistrate [5 107 (3)]

In order to give a Magistrate jurisdiction to act under S 107 either the person informed against or the place where the breach of the pence or disturbance of the public tranquility is apprehended must be within the local limits of his jurisdiction and such proceedings cannot be taken except before a Chief Presidency Magistrate or District Magistrate unless both the person informed against and the place where the breach of the pence or disturbance is apprehended are within the local limits of the Magistrate substitutions is apprehended are within the low imposes on a Chief Presidency or a District Magistrate a discretion to take such proceedings after they have been tallen the case may under S 102 be transferred to any Magistrate subordinate to him otherwise competent to act within the terms of S 107. The intention of the Legislature is to limit the jurisdiction in regard to the institution of proceedings in such a case to a Chief Iresidency Magistrate or District Magistrate but when such Magistrate has neversee of such discretion instituted proceedings there is nothing in law to prevent his transferring the case to a Magistrate otherwise competent, to complete them

S top (a) merely declares that in such a case proceedings shall not be taken under this section. I from which it would seem that it is only in regard to the institution of such a case that the jurisdiction of a Sub-divisional Magistrate or a Magistrate or the first class is limited. So it has been held by the Calcutta and Allinhabad High Courts that the object of sub-section (2) is merely to restrict the power to institute such a case, not to present a Magistrate, otherwise competent, from dealing with proceedings tid only a superior Magistrate?

The question is often ruised whether a Sub divisional Magistrate has jurisdiction where the person informed against is not within the subdivision, although he is within the district. Jurisdiction in such a crose depends upon the terms of the appointment of the Sub-divisional Magistrate. He is a subordinate Magistrate within the terms of S 12 of this Code and unless therefore his jurisdiction and powers have been limited they would extend throughout the district [S 12 (2)], and the same principle would be applicable where the person informed against is in a sub-division, and proceedings have been tallen before a Magistrate not the District Magistrate would be applicable where the person informed against is in a sub-division. It is not an Magistrate holding his Court within that sub-division. S 13 merely declares that the Local Government may place any Magistrate that the first or second class in charge of a sub-division but except that S 12 (2) declares that every Magistrate bearing powers in a sub-division and proceeding the subordinate to the Sub-divisional Magistrate there is no provision in regard to be subordinate to the Sub-divisional Magistrate between its no provision in regard the exercise of jurisdiction by a Magistrate between than is expressed in S 12, and in regard to special Magistrate in S 14.

No Magnitrate can take proceedings against a person who is in another district 3 list proper course is to have information field before a competent Magnitrate of that district so that proceedings under 5 not may be taken and to have evidence forthcoming that there are reasonable grounds for perchending a breach of the personable and advantages of the public tranquillity.

Where it was found that before and after the proceedings had been taken, the person informed against had been temperarily residing within the Magistrate's juried ction the order was maintained.

Though his permanent address may be outside the Mag strate's jurisdiction, buryaa hanta Roy Chow Ihura I I R 31 Cal 350 h Fnpp p Munna I L R 24 All 145 f see however canded Wheekar Ch in Let Monkerger 13 Cal N 550 Soot Sarat Chunder Ros i Bepin Chandra Roy I L R 26 All 350 SC 16 Cal N 551 h Lmp i Munna I I R 24 All 151 Sarat Sarat Soot Mondday I L R 24 All 151 Sarat Soot Mondday I L R 25 Sarat Soot Mondday I Roy Chowdhury

CEIT TIH

if he has a loose within it and the acts complained of were committed while he was there, the Magistrate is competent to take proceedings against him?

But a marked at I also be cann the proceeding against miles there is legal proof that he is a tual asked to commit a breach of the peace, or to do Free et the terrace at legal proof the peace?

But where the extend and are their both channed the right to take offerings from a lighting at Gara rathers extrom, and both sent servants armed with lather to cover presents and there were distributioners, the accused was held to five been rights bound down under Sotor, though he never went to the station I most, a nie he was nevering a claim takel to cause a herealt of the peace and was raising preparation to enduce that claim through an armed second?

The rise of the tween So 117 and 145 of the Code. The fact that there is a dispute of corning half his is come a for the of the perce does not deprive a Magnetate of purel to a under So 107, the proper for a Magneta to to the and rise 145 must depend on the creumstances of the cost of whether his this od of a factor of the peace continues or not 4. An end rise A Magnetate under So 145 is no bor to the Magnetate binding over the same pitties on the same facts and r 5 107.

In re Ekram Singh, 3 Cal W N 297

The institution he persons who have been bound down of a suit to enforce their rights he not a breach of the bond $

Dispute concerning land likely to cause a breach of the peace

A Majorate is competent to take proceedings. For security to keep the perce against any green likely to brink it, or to disturb the public tranquility, or to do 40) wrongful act that mix probably cause a hereigh of the peace. [5 107 (1)] and showever a Magoriante of a cert in class is satisfied from a "police report or other information that a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace exists concerning any limd" & the cause of the class of the dispute But of the peace and the dispute But of the peace may be concerning the possession.

representations and response to the dispute from the following the follo

<sup>1</sup> Kasa Sunder, I L R 31 Cal 419 guishung Jagat Narsin s

In order to give a Magistrate jurisdiction to act under S 107 either the person informed against or the place where the breach of the pence or disturbance of the public tranquillity is apprehended must be within the local limits of his juris diction, and such proceedings cannot be taken except before a Chief Presidency Magistrate or District Magistrate unless both the person informed against and or disturbance is apprehended are within the jurisdiction [S 107 (2)] or a District Magistrate a discretion to take such proceedings after they have been talen the case may under S be transferred to any Magistrate subordinate to him otherwise competent to act within the terms of S 107. The intention of the Legislature is to limit the jurisdiction in regard to the institution of proceedings in such a case to a Chief I residency Magistrate or District Magistrate but when such Magistrate has, in exercise of such discretion, instituted proceedings, there is nothing in law to prevent his transferring the case to a Magistrate, otherwise competent, to complete them

S 107 (2) merely declares that in such a case proceedings shall not be taken under this section, from which it would seem that it is only in regard to the institution of such a case that the jurisdiction of a Sub divisional Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class is limited. So it has been held by the Calcutta and Allahabad High Courts that the object of sub section (2) is merely to restrict the power to institute such a case, not to prevent a Magistrate otherwise competent, from dealing with proceedings tal en by a superior Magistrate 1

The question is often raised whether a Sub-divisional Magistrate has jurisdiction where the person informed against is not within the subdivision, although he is within the district. Jurisdiction in such a case depends upon the terms of the appointment of the Sub-divisional Magistrate. He is a subordinate Magistrate within the terms of S 12 of this Code and unless therefore his jurisdiction and powers have been limited they would extend throughout the district [S 12 (2)], and the same principle would be applicable where the person informed against is in a sub division and proceedings have been tal en before a Magistrate, not the District Magistrate, who is not a Magistrate holding his Court within that subdivision 2 S 13 merely declares that the Local Government may place any Magistrate of the first or second class in charge of a sub-division but except that S 17 (2) declares that every Magistrate exercising powers in a sub-divison shall be subordinate to the Sub-divisional Magistrate there is no provision in regard to the exercise of jurisdiction by a Magistrate otherwise than is expressed in S 12, and in regard to special Magistrate in S 14

No Magistrate can take proceedings against a person who is in another district 3 His proper course is to have information In d before a competent Magistrate of that district so that proceedings under S 107 may be taken and to have evidence forthcoming that there are reasonable grounds for apprehending a breach of the pence, or a disturbance of the public tranquility Where it was found that before and after the proceedings had been taken, the person informed against had been temporarily residing within the Magistrate's purisdiction, the order was maintained 4

Though his permanent address may be outside the Magistrate's jurisdiction,

<sup>1</sup> Suryya Kanta Roy Chowdlury I L R 31 Cat 350 K Emp v Minna I L R der Mookerjee 13 Cal W N 580 L R 29 Cal 389 (SC) 6 Cal W I Suryya Kanta Roy Chowdhury I Roy Chowdhury In re Abdul Azız

<sup>4</sup> Shama Charan Chakravarts v Katu I L R 24 Cal 344 (SC) I Cal W N 120

Crir VIII tr"in;

if he like he we may be at the here or marking a finance committed while he was there, the Mag strate is compresent to take proceedings against him?

But a ning that I not the earn the preceded against, unless there is legal proof that he is a said a fit as mount a freach of the peace, or to do some ortiles the smale heftle pener

Bit to the rate of mir to be almost the right to take offerings from a grower given, the same and state or and both sent servants armed with lath a trace of a present and the were distinct ances, the accused was held to love lies on the individual and the Soon of the 19th lie never went to the station from the source of the peace and The militude of the state of th

Then in n a Cat between Se a not age of the Code. The fact that there Badar to enter a lattle at e or alteration the peace does not deprive a Magazite of part and a second stay whether after proceeding under S. 107. it is proper to a Migration in the transfer to tag must depend on the circumstances of in his area and a migration to the first of the difference continues or not for

An ord of the Megarete and a section for costs Magazinto binding over the same parties on the ment of the part of the same The ire itation to present who have been be infill not of a suit to enforce thur ngl is as not a track of the bent !

Dispute concerning land likely to cause a breach of the peace

A Manager is comperment to take proceedings for security to Lorp the peace against any person filely to fred it es to distint the public trinquillity or to do am aroughl at that my at hally a me a treath of the peace [5 m7 (1)], and Minmerer a M gistrate of everton close to actuefied fruite i * police reject or other information that a district like a tax mee a breath of the paine raists concerning any land " &c , li can tille proceedings under & 145 to determine the actual possession of the lind, and he declaims this, remove the cause of the dispute. But the mere fact that a dispute libely that mer a breach of the peace may be concerning the possession of the limb &c to not sufficient to present a Magistrate from taking proceedings unjo 5 to 7, in 1 to require him to proceed under 5 ta5 The Magistrate has a discretion in such a matter. But if the Magistrate has to decide whether the pirty presended against is doing a wrongful act in disturbing the possession in lind of another le would exercise a better discretion if he took proceedings unit 5 145 for in such we are alone would be be able to determine with whom the actual procession, the cause of the dispute, lies, in the presence of all parties to the dispute. Without a proper ditermination of this, an order binding on one of the parises would bear the effect of restraining him from the exercise of his lewful rights, and if both parties to the dispute were bound over, the actual cause of the dispute would still remain, and might give rise to further proceedings. So with one of the parties to such a dispute was bound over to keep the peace without any finding with whom the actual possession of land, the cause of the dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace, was, the proceedings

<sup>1</sup> Kass Sunder, I L R 31 Cal 419 In re Charco Chundra Mullick in Cul J R 430 Balalai Mahtur o K Imp i Pat L J 361 distinguishing Jagat Narain o K Emp. 7 All 1 1 1161

K Emp., Adl I ] 166

'Lmp v Abbas 1 R 3, 1st 1,00

'In re Mutha Moopyn I I R 36 Mad 315

Stal Chitar v the Crown I I R 1 1 st 30

'Emp v Busud in Walsh, Cal W N 746

Sheora; v Chatter Ro., I L R, 330

31 Cal 'K Emp v Busud in Walsh, Cal W N 746

Sheora; v Chatter Ro., I L R, 36 Mad 471

Jafar Mandal, J. Cal (S) 10 Cal W N 785

Rady Busud H 1 R 28 Att 406, ste contra Sarada

Pand 1 L R 1 4 At 4 At 40

'In te Ekram Singh, Cal W N 297

were set aside ! In another ease in which possession of land had been found, it was held that the Magistrate could not properly find this, except in the presence of all the parties concerned in the dispute, which could only be arrived at in proceedings under S 145 But even if proceedings be also taken under S 145, those under S 107 need not necessarily be abandoned, for it would still be com petent to the Magistrate if he thought it to be necessary, to bind over the party found, in the proceedings under S 145, to be disturbing the actual possession of another which is likely to cause a breach of the peace

The Magistrate should not bind over only one party to a dispule without endeavouring to ascertain whether he was in the wrong. He should not abstain from this because the matter in dispute can be finally settled only by a Civil Court When it is doubtful which of the parties is in the wrong he should bind over both the parties. No order should in any way encourage the infringement of a legal right or prevent its exercise in a legal manner or even temporarily affect the performance of a legal obligation, so where by interfering with labourers employed on land in possession of a mortgagee, the mortgagor seeks to eject him wrongfully and the Magistrate finds that his claim to possession is not bona fide proceedings were properly taken only under S 107 4

Nature of the information

The information must be that a person is likely-

(1) to commit a breach of the peace or to disturb the public tranquillity, of (2) to do a wrongful act that may probably oceasion a breach of the peace

or disturb the public tranquillity

A breach of the peace may be merely by in assault on some person, a disturbance of the public tranquillity is a breach of the peace of a more serious The dipersal of an unlawful assembly likely to eause a disturbance of the public tranquility is specially dealt with by Chapter IV, Ss 127 to 13", and it is probably contemplated that, on such an occasion, a subordinate Magistrate, who 19 without jurisdiction to proceed under S 107, should act by issuing a warrant for the arrest of any person in such unlawful assembly, in order that proceedings under S 107 may be taken by a competent Magistrate

The substance of the information, on which proceedings under S 107 are taken, must be set out in an order in writing (S 112) and this order must be served on the person informed against either on service of summons for his appearance, or on his arrest in execution of a warrant of arrest (S 115), or, if he is present in Court, the order shall be read over to him, or, if he so desire it, its substance shall be explained to him-(S 113) The information must be of a clear and definite kind, directly affecting the person against whom process is issued, and it should disclose tingible facts and details so that it may afford notice to such person of what he is to come prepared to meet," and thus enable him to bring evidence to disprove that information 6 The act complained of, and on which proecedings have been taken must be one I nown to have been in contemplation at the time that information was given and not merely one a repetition of which may be appreliended from misconduct of the kind without anything further. Thus the fact that certain persons were contsantly creating disturbances in certain bazars is not sufficient ground? The information on which the Magistrate may take action may be that several persons are likely to break the peace, and he may, by one and the same written

<sup>1</sup> Dolegobind Chowdhury v Dhanukhan, I L R 25 Cal 559 K Emp ; Basir Diegonal Constitution of Management, I L R 25 Cit 559 K Emp :

**Month Mollah 7 Cal W N 746

**Saroda Prosad Singh t Emp 7 Cal W N 142

**Din Daval Majurdar, I L R 34 Cal 935 (SC) 11 Cat W N 1603

**Ram Burat Singh I L R 23 All 406

**In re Jai Praksah Lal I L R 6 All 26

O Emp v Nathu I L R 6 All 214

order, require them to show truse whi they should not be found over but he should early it his inquire square early of them separately, unless he should find that they have been resecrated upgether in the matter [S 177 (4)]

Wrongful Act

Where a person appears lefter a Mainstrate and swears that he is in fear of his life on account of the conduct of a person named, the Magistrate can act on this as credible information.

Il information is given regarding an set likely to occasion a breach of the peace at must be a wiringful act to justify action under the section

2.52 of the Code of 18 o and the corresponding section (49) of the Code of 1872, were in the same terms and empty with a Magnetrate to proceed ugainst a prison who was allely to do in at which may probably occasion a breach of the page. It was half that that Should be construed to mean a wrongful act," and not an at which a prison may lawfully do. The law was consequently amended in the Code of 1885 in the terms in wexpressed in 8 toy of this Code.

A Manageria should not bind over a person who have the legal right to do the not which is found to be life the reuses a breach of the pear of there is any doubt is to the reported rights and ability in one of the contending parties, they should both of them be be und than until the rights and obligations have been determined by a competent found. It hand down only one of the parties in such a case may ansuring the infract in of legal rights who the other under cover of legal rutheria. If the cadence of the right in one party is denied by the other and is not quite patent in onde room should be made to ascertian the respective rights and obligations of the parties?

A per on informed igninet legan to build a side will to a building on his own ground and objection was ruised by his mighbour, because he anticipated that the dripping from the roof of the building when completed would fall on the thatch of his house so as to case supper be his premises. It was pointed out that the Magistrate is not authorised to prayent a person from exercising his rights of property because another person would be highly to commit a breach of the peace if he did so. So where it was found by the Magistrate that certain persons were not entitled to what was highly to cause a breach of the peace, it was hold that the parties resisting such aggression on the exercise of their lawful rights could not properly he bound over to keep the peace.

Similarly a Manstrate is not competent to bind over a person to keep the present, so as to hold him responsible by anticipation for acts which were not shown to be inlegal, such as attaching the crops of rights for alleged arrears of rent? So also, when the lands hid been decreed to the master of the person informed against, there was nothing illegal or imprise for him is date servants to sow the lands. The law is not to be arbitrarily used to prevent persons from legally exercising their rights of property?

Still there are occasions on which a Magistrate may temporarily restrain a man from the exercise of his lastful rights and this may be unavoidable to prevent the disturbance of the public tranquillity such authority is given by $5.44 post See notes thereunder

When the lawful act that the Magistrate is informed that a party is likely to do which will probably occasion a breach of the peace is to disturb the possession of another in certain land, and the actual possession is in dispute, S 145 of this by finding the possession of one of the parties and maintaining it, or, if he is unable to do this by attaching the land until the matter has been settled by a competent

CUAP VIII BEC 107

(S 146) This is the most convenient and sitisfactory manner of settling temporarily the dispute and thus presenting it from causing a breach of the peace, and, under such circumstances the Magistrate should abstain from proceedings which may have been t ken under S 107 and 1ct in the manner prescribed by S 145 He cannot in picceedings under S 107 declare and maintain the possession of one of the parties and bind over the other to ed under S 145. The proceedings under S 16 to require a Court of Revision to set them as αſ Revision has set aside an order under S 118 passed in proceedings taken under S 107 on the ground that the Magistrite should rather have tallen proceedings under S 1452 An order binding down one of the parties to a dispute regarding possession of certain land has been set uside on the ground that it had the effect of binding down only one of the parties leaving the other free, without any adjudi cation upon the question as to which of them was in possession." But if the act likely to be done which will probably occasion a breach of the peace is a disturbance of possession found to be with another it would be a "wrongful act" within the terms of S 107 and the aggressor can be bound over When a breach of the peace is likely to take place in consequence of an illegal act by some of the owners of certain lands the parties who are justified in opposing it should not be bound over, as their opposition is not a wrongful act? When however a Magistrate had taken proceedings under S 107 when they should have been taken under S 145 but no final order had been passed requiring security, they were set aside as not just and proper as they were hilely to have an injurious effect by restraining one of the parties in the exercise of lawful rights of property, and the law (S 145) had provided other remedies by which the Magistrate could prevent a probable breach of the peace . So also a finding of possession of land with a party to a proceeding under $ 107 was set uside, on the ground that the parties did not understand that the Magistrate intended to act under S 145 and did not accordingly addure such evidence as they would have adduced in a matter of which cognizance had been taken under that section? The result of these cases stems to show that when in proceedings tal en under 5 107 to require eccurity to keep the peace the Magistrate finds that the cause of a probable breach of the peace is a dispute of a nature cog nizable under S 145 he should abstrain from further proceedings under S 107, and should take proceedings under S 145 and so properly determine the real matter in dispute If at the termination of the proceedings under S 145, the Magistrate should still find it necessary to bind over the party showing cause under S 107, there is apparently no object on to his proceeding with that case. It may also be pointed out that S 145 (4) proviso 2 gives a Mag strate summary power to remove the cause of d spute and thus to preven a breach of the peace by enabling him to attach it pending his decision under that section and under $ 144 he would be also competent to pass a temporary order summarily, if immediate prevention of speedy remedy 15 desirable

The course to be taken by a Magistrate in such cases is therefore clearly indicated. The law if properly administered affords easy and effective means of promptly removing all probability of a breach of the peace by a determination of the matter in dispute

<sup>1</sup> K Emp v Basıruddin Mollah 7 Cal W N 746

Balai Mahto v Nobin 7 Cal W N 29 Dole Gobind Chowdbry v Dhann Khan I L R 25 Cal 559 Driver v O Emp.

Ibid 798

Jafar Mandol v Janbullab 9 Cal W N 551
Bhabatayan Ghose v Bankutosh Lal 9 Cal W N 518

Dole Gobind Chowdhry v Dhann Khan I L. R 25 Cal 559 Mahadeo Hunwar v Bisu I L R 25 All 537

Remedy in case of emergency

If an apprehended breach of the peace cannot be otherwise prevented, the Magistrate may, on information received the sul stance of which must be recorded by him, issue a warrant of arrest (S 114) and this power can be excreised by any Magis trate [5 107 (3)] In the special circumstances mentioned in sub-section (3) a Angierrate can detain a person in cust do during the inquiry held. Even if arrested he should be admitted to I ail. But the amendment introduced by Act XVIII of 1971 S to provides a new paner f r dealing with emergencies S 117 (3) is new and empowers the Magnetine talling action under the Chapter to demand an ad interior lived of he considers that immediate measures are necessary for the present in of a breach of the price or disturbance of the public tranquility", and the priving a normal may be left in custody pending the execution of the bond or the compet n of the inquire

A Diete et Mag etrate a Chief Presid nes Migistrate a Sub-divisional Magistrate or any oth r Magistrat specially empowered in this behalf may also by natten and r stating the material facts of the case and served on the party con ormed, direct him to alisting form a certain at or take certain order with certain Property in he present a runder his management of such Magistrate considers that such direction is 11ch to present or tend to present a disturbance of the public tringulate or a ret or in offere but such order will not remain in force I'm re il n twe m oths from the maling there I except under a notification of the Local Generament in the Total Gazette to 144) and as has afreedy been P nied cut if the dispute likely is preason a breach of the peace is concerning land &c the Magistrite there til ing proceedings under 5 tag can attach the property in dispute pending his decision regarding actual possession thereof. Except on conviction of a specified effence a Magistrate cannot summarily bind down a Prion then the part (5 10) He can do so only on proceedings regularly fallen units 107 and after in adjudy view in the manner set out in Ss. 117 and 118

Information upon which the Megistrate can proceed

Although the report of a subordinate Magistrates or a Police Reports or depositions of witnesses given in a committee ig unst the person informed against ma) be credible information upon which a Magistrate can issue process, still in the inquiry held in the presence of the person informed against, evidence must be taken to show the truth of such information (5 117) and there must be a distinct adjudication as to the existence of a disquite likely to occasion a breach of the peace, and as to the necessity of taking security for its preservation, for such report is no legal evidence

On expiry of the term for which security for good behaviour had been given, a Magistrate cannot talle fresh proceedings having the effect of renewing that securiy He can take fresh proceedings only on evidence that something has subsequently occurred to render this necessary. There should be an opportunity given of showing that the person bound out is stilling and inclined to earn an honest Inchhood 6

A proceeding under S 107 is a "criminal case" and is subject to the

<sup>1</sup> Rachunandan Pershad v I'mp I L R 32 Cul 80 1 Vellikel I dattlut Achin 2 Mad 240 Suryya Kant Roy Chowdhry v Emp I

L R 31 Cal 350

<sup>4</sup> Ir ٠Â sinch Ne

r 42, Nur Bom H C R R Cr, 60 1, Beba * R

Code enables the Magistrate to take proceedings so as to settle the cause of dispute by finding the possession of one of the parties and maintaining it, or, if he is unable to do this, by attaching the land until the matter has been settled by a competent Court (S 146) This is the most comment and satisfactory manner of settling temporarily the dispute, and thus preventing it from causing a breach of the peace, ind, under such circumstances the Magistrate should abstain from proceedings which may have been taken under S 107, and act in the manner prescribed by S 145 He cannot in preceedings under S 107 declare and maint in the possession of one of the parties, and bind over the other to 1 cep the peace as if he had proceed ed under S 145 The proceedings under S 107 are not without jurisdiction so as to require a Court of Revision to set them aside 1 But nevertheless a Court of Revision has set aside an order under S 118 passed in proceedings taken under S 107 on the ground that the Magistrate should rather have tallen proceedings under S 145 2 An order binding down one of the parties to a dispute regarding possession of certain land has been set awde on the ground that it had the effect of binding down only one of the parties leaving the other free, without any adjudice. cat on upon the question as to which of them was in possession a But if the act likely to be done which will probably occasion a breach of the peace is a disturbance of possession found to be with another it would be a "wrongful act" within the terms of S 107, and the aggressor can be bound over 4. When a breach of the peace is likely to take place in consequence of an illegal act by some of the owners of certain lands the parties who are justified in opposing it should not be bound over, as their opposition is not a wrongful act. When however a Magistrate had taken proceedings under S 107 when they should have been taken under 5 145 but no final order had been passed requiring security, they were set aside as not just and proper as they were hilely to have an injurious effect by restraining one of the parties in the exercise of lawful rights of property, and the law (S 145) had piovided other remedies by which the Magistrate could prevent a probable breach of the peace So also a finding of possession of land with a party to a proceeding under S 107 was set aside, on the ground that the parties did not understand that the Magistrate intended to act under S 145 and did not accordingly adduce such evidence as they would have adduced in a matter of which cognizance had been taken under that section 7 The result of these cases seems to show that when, in proceedings taken under 5 107 to require security to keep the peace, the Magistrate finds that the cause of a probable breach of the peace is a dispute of a nature cog nizable under S 145 he should abstrin from turther proceedings under S 107 and should take proceedings under S 145 and so properly determine the real matter in dispute If, at the termination of the proceedings under S 145, the Magistrate should still find it necessary to bind over the party showing cause under S 107, there is apparently no objection to his proceeding with that case also be pointed out that S 145 (4) proviso 2, gives a Magistrate summary power to remove the cause of dispute, and thus to prevent a breach of the peace by enabling him to attach it pending his decision under that section, and under 5 144 he would be also competent to pass a temporary order summarily, if immediate prevention or speedy remedy is desirable

The course to be taken by a Magistrate in such cases is therefore clearly indicated. The law, if properly administered, affords easy and effective means of promptly removing all probability of a breach of the peace by a determination of the matter in dispute

&lt;sup>1</sup> K Emp v Basırıddın Mollah 7 Cal W N 746 <sup>2</sup> Balaı Mahto v Nobin 7 Cal W N 29 <sup>3</sup> Dole Gobind Chowdhry v Dhanu Khan I L R 25 Cal 559 Driver v Q Emp.

Ibid 798 Jafar Mandol v Jaribullah 9 Cal W N 551

Bhabataran Ghose v Bankutosh Lai 9 Cai W N 618
Dole Gobjad Chowdhry v Dhanu Khan I L R 25 Cai, 559

Mahadeo Lunwar & Bisu I L R , 25 All , 537

Remedy in case of emergency

If an apprehen to I treach of the peace cannot be otherwise prevented, the Magistrain man, on information received the a feature of which must be recorded by him, issue a narront of arrest a right and this power can be exercised by any Magistrate [S 107 (1)] In the special every metances mentioned in sub-section (3) a Mag death can detain a preson in cust of during the inquire held. I sen it arrested, he should be now that to tall. But the amendment introduced he Act XVIII of 122 S to practice a new power for dealing with emergencies S 117 (3) is new and empirers the March of taking acts in under the Chapter to demand an ad interior bond of he considers that immediate measures are necessary for the present mail a fremb. I the peace or streturbance of the public tranquillity "; and the prices concerned may be been in cust she pending the execution of the bond or the time, a mill the inquire VD strict Manatrice in Chief Presidency Magistrate in Sub-divisional Magistrate or any other Meaner't sweath empowered in this behalf may also by written order ording the most coal fals. I the case and served on the party concerned, direct him to that in to me a partian after take certain order with certain property in his process of a under his management of such Magistrate considers that such it metion is 11-by a present or find to present a disturbance of the pelie tring it to ir a rit ar in affect had such erder will not remain in force for more if notwom rules from the moting there for each under a notification of the Local Communities the affined Courtie 15 144) and as his already been point d'eut if the distuit 11 cls 1 occasion a breuch of the peace, is concerning land, he the Magistrate after taking presendings under 5 145, can attach the priparts in dispute pending his daise in regarding minul possession thereof. Except on conviction of a specified effence a Magistrate cannot summarily bind down a person to leep the grant's used the can do so only on proceedings regularly tilen und r S 107 and alter in idjudention in the minner set out in Ss 217 201 118

Information upon which the Magistrate can proceed

Although the rigery of a subordin to Magistrate2 or a Police Report2 or depositions of witnesses given in a criminal rise igninst the person informed against may be credible inform them upon which a Vigestrate can issue process, still in the inquiry held in the presence of the person informed against, evidence must be taken to show the truth of such information (5 117), and there must be a distinct adjudi Calion as to the existence of a dispute likely to occasion a breach of the peace, and as to the necessity of taking security for its preservation, for such report is no legal evidence

On expiry of the term for which security for good behaviour had been given, a Magistrate cannot take fresh proceedings having the effect of renewing that secumy He can tide fresh proceedings only on evidence that something has subsequently occurred to render this necessity. Their should be an opportunity given of showing this the person bound over is saling and inclined to earn an honest livelihood 4

A proceeding under S 107 is a "criminal case" and is subject to the application of S 526 (8) 1 But a person against whom proceedings are taken may offer himself as a witness (S 340).

&lt;sup>1</sup> Raghunandan Pershad t Fup I I. R 32 Cat 80 <sup>2</sup> Vilikel Fdatthii Achin 2 Mad 240, Suryya Kant Roy Chowdhry v Fmp, I L R 31 Cal. 350

In re Brandabun Shaha 10 W R Cr. 41 In re Brandabun Shaha 10 W R Cr 41 In re Nursung Narain 10 W R Cr 1 (SC) 2 B I R. 7 note Alban 2 Cho Abr Ray 6 B L R 148 app (SC) 15 W R. Cr. 42, Nur-Sinch I I Beb

The amendment made in sub-section (4) by Act VIII of 1923, S 16, makes it clear that action under sub-section (4) c'un only be inlen by a Magistrate to whom an accused is sent under sub section (3) The law had already been so interpreted "

 $\overset{\circ}{S}$  350 (i) (a) of this Code applies to proceedings under S 107, and the accused is entitled to a trial de now on the Vagsetrate being transferred  $^3$  A Distinct Magistrate cannot be said to have tall en cognizations of a case under S 107 in which he has issued no notice to the accused and he cannot transfer such a case under S too to another Magistrate 4

108 Whenever a Chief Presidency or District Magistrate or a Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class specially empowered by the Security for good b haviour from persons Local Government in this behalf, has infordis eminating seditious mation that there is within the limits of his jurisdiction any person who, within or without such limits, either orally or in writing, or in any other manner intentionally disseminates or attempts to disseminate, or in anywise abets the dissemination of --

- (a) any seditious matter, that is to say, any matter the publication of which is punishable under section 124A of the Indian Penal Code. of
  - any matter the publication of which is punishable (b) under section 153A of the Indian Penal Code, or
  - (c) any matter concerning a Judge which amounts to criminal intimidation or defamation under the Indian Penal Code.

such Magistrate, if in his opinion there is sufficient ground for proceeding may (in manner hereinafter provided) require such person to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond, with or without sureties, for his good behaviour for such period, not exceeding one year, as the Magistrate thinks fit to fix

No proceedings shall be taken under this section against the editor, proprietor, printer or publisher of any publication registered under, and edited, printed and published in conformity with the rules laid down in the Press and Registration of Books Act, 1867, with reference to any matter contained in such publication except by the order or under the authority of the

<sup>15</sup> R 43 Mad 511 R 41 Mad 246

Governor General in Council or the Local Government or some officer empowered by the Covernor General in Council in this

Pirt It is it are bed in its 1. And no fir the Prevention of offences. Acts for which seek is a miter than fir good let so ir under a just and ito are offences ate tomme in the militari or beautiful to repetition of any such comments tom a titement became the person of any arranged as a citier in presention of that cheere first the north at the first content to cognizance of the north at the first the north at the cognizance of the north at the north at the cognizance of the north at the north at the contents General in Connect the least of the north at the contents General in Connect the least of the north at the contents of the north at the contents of the north at the n in Council on it a let the ent graced age on to taken under to ios for when for each the or firsten m fines with at intends special author to every in the strong time with a declast prograph

Or in any other manner

There were minute effect to $1 $1111 four 5 of make it certain that art or ear let 1 n in respect title mail n feed in us matter by means of thet grille to ture mile In rose inem torighte grim phones and the like

The nert of the next to the second of the next to the next to the next the next to the nex it is dulified to become a die fix inding in most chin linder the section "If in the first it is and an ar in if r priceding has to those Morde seniet w 1 - 1)

The first r in nimints in the a ting species be consequential on the amendment til Pr if he it n | Bale hit ist; mide by Act XIV of 1 j22

To justify n rir nir all the suffir ni that the words used are thely to firm of the formula at him d between different classes and it is necessary to self of in ment in a primate such feelings as it would be on

I trid for the fine more Sold Paul Cd In pres lings, most its other participated the names of the the only eviden a fird was tit that the pumphlet mentioned the names of the auth r trint r nd tullisher (n) . at tement furnished under S 18 of the Press and Registr is not Book at a story stiting the same information and (iii) a delartion under 5 4 if the Act mentioned the name of the alleged printer as it legar of the press it was held that the evidence was not suffer not to estill shothe identity of the mithor, that the identity of the printer has proved but that he was not shown to have had knowledge of the contents of the pumphlet and that the elleged publisher was properly bound over for as publisher he disseminated or at least abetted the dissemination of seditions matter, and he could be presumed to have had I nowledge of the contents 2

- 109. Whenever a Presidency Magistrate, District Magis-Security for good trate, Sub divisional Magistrate or Magistrate behaviour from vaggants of the first class receives informationand suspected persons
  - (a) that any person is taking precautions to conceal his presence within the local limits of such Magistrate's jurisdiction, and that there is reason to believe that such person is taking such precautions with a view to committing any offence, or

Sital Prasad v I'mp I L R 43 Cal 59r descenting from Dhammaloka : Emp (1911) 12 Cr L ] 248 Emp v T K Pitre I L R 47 Bom 438

(b) that there is within such limits a person who has no ostensible means of subsistence, or who cannot give a satisfactory account of lumself.

such Magistrate may, in manner hereinafter provided, require such person to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond, with surcties, for his good behaviour for such period, not exceeding one year, as the Magistrate thinks fit to fix The object of the concealment referred to in clause (1) must be to commit some offence The object of the section is to enable Magistrates to take action against suspicious looking strangers within their jurisdiction See 15 C L J 396

In regard to the procedure in such cases after service of such process, see note to S 110 post

Compare S 55 in regard to the powers of an officer in charge of a Police Station to arrest without warrant in matters similar to those set out in S 109 His powers are however I mited to a cognizable offence whereas S 109 (a) enables him to give information to a Virgistrate on which proceedings may be talen without any such restriction as heretofore

The option of bail should be given! Magistrates can act under S 109 on informations such as are mentioned in notes under S 107 ante

Proceedings under S 109 should be irrespective of any proceedings on account of any offence committed 2

That a man belongs to a wandering tribe and therefore has no settled abode or livelihood is no proper ground for requiring him to give security for good behaviour 3

Proceedings under S 100 must be commenced by an order in writing in the terms of S 112 and 1 copy of this order must be served on the accused with the process issued under 5 114 (S 115) if the accused be not present in Court (S 113).

It should be noted that the maximum term for which a bond can be required is twelve months as under S 109 and not three years as under S 110

Imprisonment in default of giving security under S 100 must now be simple, see S 123 (6) as amended by Act VIII of 1923 S 21

A person cannot be bound over under both the sections 100 and 110 4

The conducting of the ring 'game which has been held not to be an offence under the Gambling Act is an ostensible means of subsistence a

Whenever a Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate good or Sub divisional Magistrate or a Magistrate b hay our from habitual of the first class specially empowered in this offenders behalf by the Local Government receives information that any person within the local limits of las turisdictionis by habit a robber, house breaker, thief, or (a) forger, or

<sup>1</sup> In te Duolut Sinoh I L R 14 All 45 2 Shunder Blum Bom It Ct Sept 17 1869 Ballya bin Bhimappa Bom 4 Ct

Dec 9 1897

Yerakala Manipati Pologada West 725

Re Rangarami Pilia I L R 38 Mad 555

Bangab Shah v Emp I L R 40 Cal 707

Caur VIII Sec. 110

- (b) is by habit a receiver of stolen property knowing the same to have been stolen or
- (c) Indutually protects or harbours thieves or aids in the concealment or disposal of stolen property, or
- (d) halutually commute or attempts to commute or abets the commission of the offence of ladnapping, abduction extortion cheating or mischief, or any offence punishable under Chapter MI of the Indian Penal Code, or under section 189A, section 489B, section 189C or section 189D of that Code, or
- (c) hilutually commits or ittempts to commit, or abets the commission of, offcuces involving a breach of
- the peace, or

  (f) is so desperite and dangerous as to render his being at large without scenity hazardous to the community, such Migistrate may in manner hereinafter provided, require such person to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond, with sureties, for his good behaviour for such period, not exceeding three years, as the Magistrate thinks fit to fix.

Unkes a Magistrate of the first class has been specially empowered although he may have local jurisdiction throughout the d strict he is not competent to try a case under S 110 which may have been transferred to him under S 192 by the D strict Magistrate 1

If any Magistrate not being empowered by law in this behalf demands security for good behaviour, I is proceedings stall be void [S 550 (d)]

Considerable amendment has been made in this section by Act VVIII of 1923

18 The habitual for, r [clause (a)] can now be proceeded against under this section and clause (d) has been expanded to include habitual abetment of clause (c) Kidnapping and abduction have also been introduced for definitions sec 5s 359 and 362 of the Indian Penal Code
The offences relating to the counter litting of coin and currency notes are more comprehensive than they were since the utterer can be proceeded against as well as the actual counterfeiter

Object of taking security for good behaviour

The object is to afford a protection to the public against a repetition of enmes by the persons proceeded against in which the safety of property is menaced and not the security of the person alone is geopardised. It is for the prevention, not the punishment of crime. (This is doubtful under the present Code, see note to S tool)

Where certain persons who had been arrested under S 54 were in custody on suspicion of being concerned in a dacoity, and the Pol ce report the Magis

Li Khandu Giri Bom 11 Ct Jan 30 1896 Emp v Nawab l L. R ~ All 835 In re Raji v

ILR.

In re Umbica Proshad i Cal L R 268 Q Em 67 In re Pedda Siva Reddi i L R 3 Mad 238

R 7 A

trate that there was no sufficient evidence for proceeding on the charge but they were however detained in custody for twole days with a view to taking proceedings under S 110 it was held that the order for detention was illegal unless and until they were regrested by the Police under S 55.1

A person cannot be bound over under both the sections 109 and 110 2

A Magistrate should not detain a person under S 110 unless he has information on which he can male the order required by S 112 3

In proceedings under S 110 h Migistrate not having jurisdiction is not empowered to remand an accused person to cuetody S 167 applies to proceedings under Ch 1VI and not to those under S 119 4

Proceedings under Ch \\ \frac{111}{111} are inquiries and not thats. A person called upon for security is not an accused nor is he guilty of any offence" as defined in

S 4 (o) But for the purpo es of Ss 340 and 342 the word 'accus d means a person over whom a Magistrate or other Court is exercising junsdiction, and under S 340 tle Sessions Judge is bound to here plender pointed by a person ordered to give security for good behaviour under S 118.5

The mere fact that a person has been prevously connected of offences against property is not in itself sufficient to justify proceedings under S 110 unless there is additional evidence that the person informed against has done some act or his resumed accitions that indicate on his part an intention to return to his former course of life and to pursue a course of preving upon the community. He should not be subjected to penalties until it is shown that there is no reasonable prospect of his future good behaviour. The greatest third is entitled to a locus penalticular when he has served out his punishment. It is only when he outrages that grace which is extended to him and thereby shows that he is unreformed that proceedings under S 110 should be tall in against him morder to obtain a substant that guarantice for secrety that he will not commit further depredations upon it.

All proceedings to require security for good behaviour should be irrespective of any taken on account of an offence committed. ** any they should not be taken against a person under trial ** because such a course would prejudice him seriously at his trial

Proceedings crunot be taken under more than one section so as to enable a Magistrate to require security in excess of what he may be competent to require under either section <sup>12</sup> Nor should proceedings be taken on several of the grounds set out in S 110 as they would be likely to confuse the trivil and prejudice the man in his defence. If the person required to give security is sentenced to, or 15 undergoing a sentence of improsonment the period of such security shall commence on the expiry of such sentences (S 120).

Junsdiction

To give a Magistrate jurisdiction to talle proceedings under S 110 the person informed against must be within the local limits of his jurisdiction, that is residing

I Fmp v Rahu I I R 43 AH 186 PRE Rangasami Fillas I L R 38 Mad 5<sub>55</sub> Emp v Raj Bunsi I L R 42 AH FK Emp v Famad Nat I o AH L J 351 Emp v Raj Bunsi I L R 42 AH

<sup>1 98 3 50</sup> Cal 985

Cal 493 Q Emp + Mona Puna I L R

In re Haidar Ali I L R 12 Cal 520

within such limits. The fact that at the time that proceedings are instituted he may be in detention in a district would not give juri-diction. Residence implies something voluntary. It was not contemplated that, because it is alleged that a man has had a bad reputation in a district the Magistrate of another District should take proceedings and issue a waterant fee his arrest so as to pursue him into another jurisdiction where he would be unl nown! The Madras High Court has refused to follow this case as it has held that the Wigner ite of the place where the person proceeded against happens to be it the time that he takes action has jurisdiction as in its opini in such a limited construction is calculated to defi it the object of S tto in the preventen of crime. But the nis for which proceedings are taken under 5 110 are more likely to affect the community imanges which he lives than those of a locality in which homes have cisatelly time and his character would more properly form the subject of an inquiry in the place in which he was known. It would be otherwise with proceedings talen under 5 101

I person who has served the period of his imprisonment should be given a chance of reformation, and proceedings should not be taken against him under 5 tio soon after his emergence from 1 al 3

When in proceedings under S 110 (c) the Magistrate in his judgment observed that it was impossible to remain from his mind the impression of certain cir cumstances which he had seen and that in addition to the witnesses examined many persons had made complaints a binn at was hald that the Magistrate should not have trial the ever personally 5 190 (c) applies only to diffences but the principle of that class is also applicable to cases of a miscellaneous tharacter 4

'Offences involving a breach of the peace '

This me ins offences in which a bright of the pe na is in ingredient and not offences provoking or lifely () had to a breach of the pance. So immorthly in attempting to siduce m resid wom n and behaving indecently or immorally towards them does not come within these terms

Evidence.

When the person called upon to show cause appears, the Magistrate is required to inquire into that is to take evidence as to the truth of the information upon which ution has been taken and to till e such further evidence is may appear necessary. The fact that a person is an habitual offender may be proved by evidence of general repute or otherwise (5 117) But in proceedings taken under S 100 or under S 110 (f) an order for security should not be made only on evidence of general repute

Such evidence was by 5 117 (3) before amendment admissible only to prove that a man is an habitual offender but under the new sub-section (4) of S 117 it is now also admissible to prove that a man is so desperate and dangerous as to render his being at large without security hizardous to the community." It is not admissible in proceedings to require security to keep the peace?

An order calling upon a person to show cause why he should not give sureties

<sup>1</sup> Ketabot v Q Frap 5 Cal W N 29 (SC) I L R 27 Cal 903 Sonaram Sangma 3 Cal L J 195

In re Rangen t L R 30 Wed 96 followed in Lmp : Vuona I I R 3, Ml 139

 <sup>1.27</sup> Emp v Stetka Adult I I R 43 Cal 128
 Codham Abre K Imp 4 Pat I J 7
 A Gardian Abre K Imp 4 Pat I J 70
 A Taun Samanta v Imp I L R 30 Cal 366
 Kailai Iliadar v Emp I L R 25 Cal 270
 Akhon Jaumar Chaitericer Q Emp, 5 Cal W N 240
 Wahad Ah Ishan it Cal W. N , 789
 Emp v Biddyapatt I L R 25 Cal 120

<sup>15</sup>

in a specified amount for his good behaviour without requiring him also to execute his own bond is bad and was set aside 1 Whenever proof of previous convictions is required under Ch VIII such previous convictions must be proved strictly and in accordance with law 2 Although information already possessed by the trying Magistrate concerning the person proceeded agunst under 5 110 cannot be used as if it were evidence in the case yet such information is a form of chiel which the trial Court may legimately use to test the nature of the evidence with which it has to deal, and to negative for example a suggestion that the police investigation has been unfair 3

It should be noted that the period for which security for good behaviour may be required under Ss 108 10) and 110 varies. Under Ss 108 and 109 it may be for a period not exceed ug on year where sunder 5 110 it may be for three years. The conditions as to the amount of the bond or the number or amount of the sureties are left to the discretion of the Magistrate but they are limited by the order originally passed instituting the proceedings (S 118 Prov 1) If sequenty is not given as required the person is committed to prison for such period unless he shall within the time comply with the order. But if the security is for a period exceeding one year [in order which can be passed only under (S 110)] and it is not furnished the proceedings must be submitted to the Sessions Judge or in a Pres dency Town to the High Court for orders ($ 123)

Appeal

The amendment of S 40f made by Act XVIII of 1923 S 109 gives a much more extensive right of type 1 th n form rly A person ordered under S 118 to give security may appeal against the order of made by 1 Presidency Magistrate to the High Court of made by 10 the Magistrate to the High Court of Session But the Local Government may direct that in any district appeals from orders made by a Magistrate other than the District Magistrate shall lie to the District Magistrate Where proceedings are laid before a Sessions Judge under S 123 there is no right of appeal. It is the duty of the Appellate Court on an appeal from an order under S 118 to look into the evidence for the defence notwithstand ing that the counsel for the appellant has practically ignored it during his argument 4

Though an Appellate Court dismissing an appeal summarily is not bound to write a judgment, an appeal from an order requiring security is distinguishable from an appeal against a conviction for an offence. In such cases the Appellate Court should not dispose of an appeal otherwise than by a judgment showing that he has applied his mind to a consideration of the evidence and of the pleas raised by the appellant both in the Court below and in the memorandum of appeal 5

[Proviso as to European ragrants ] Omitted by s 8 of Act XII of 1923

When a Magistrate acting under section 107, section 108, section 109 or section 110 decms it Order to be made nccessary to require any person to show cause under such section, he shall make an order in writing, setting forth the substance of the information received, the amount of

<sup>1</sup> Emp v Udmi 1 L R 27 All 262 per Knov Acting C J and Aikman J Bur kitt J Dub *Emp v, Sheik Abdul I L R 43 Cal 1123 *Emp v Rebart Singh I L R 45 All 749 distinguishing Ashiq Ali v Emp 21

All L J 513
4 Fidoi Hossein v Emp I L R 40 Cal 376
4 Lmp v Lal Bibari I L R 38 All 393

CHAP VIII OF SECURITY FOR KEEPING THE PEACE ETC.

the bond to be executed, the term for which it is to be in force, and the number, character and class of surcties (if any) required.

S 112 is directory not mandator. The omission to pass such an order, or to make an incomplete order would not necessarily vitate the proceedings taken. This would depend upon how for this has prejudiced like party against whom the proceedings were taken so as in fact to have occasioned a failure of justice.

(See S 537)

Such an omission if discovered on the appearance of the party proceeded against be cured by proceeding as $41 out in $5.13. The object of requiring such an order to be mide, and of requiring also that it shall be served on the person concerned is to inform him of the maliter of the case, so that he may come preved to defind himself or to show that in its terms the order is unreasonable. When no order under $5.112 had been made and the accused was not informed of the case that he had to meet whether it wis under $5.100 or $5.110, the order requiring security was set rands. The consequence of an omission to pass an order under $5.112 would therefore in a great measure depend upon the nature of the proceedings tale on the appearance of the press in proceedings tale on the appearance of the press in proceeding stale on the appearance of the press in proceeding stale on the

The Madras High Court his however held that an omission to male an order in writing as required by S. 11. missings to in illegably which renders all subsequent proceedings you?

Substance of the information received

This does not require that the Mignet it should set out for the information of the person summoned the name of the persons from whem he has received information but the substance of the information given. If it were so, very few self-respecting persons in the country would deem of pilicing any information at the disposal of the Mignetize I is not as if this information were any evidence against the person concerned. The substance of the information is the matter upon which he has to show a use. In information, the person summoned in the tensequently there is no likely hood or hope that he will obtain in impartial hearing is treast a slur upon the Mignetize which cannot be allowed?

113. If the person in respect of whom such order is made

Procedure in respect of person present in linn or, if he su desires, the substance thereof

Court shall be explained to him

114 If such person is not present in Court, the Magistrate sincle of person not so appear, or when such person is in custody a appear, or when such person is in custody a warrant directing the officer in whose custody

he is, to bring him before the Court

Provided that whenever it appears to such Magistiate, upon the report of a police-officer or upon other information (the substance of which report or information shall be recorded by the Magistiate), that there is reson to fear the commission of a breach

O I mp + Ishwar Chandra Sur I I R 11 Cal 13
Krishna Swami Thathanhari I I R 30 Mad 82

In r. Within Khan I I R 27 All 17 of the peace, and that such becach of the peace cannot be prevented otherwise than by the unmediate arrest of such person, the Magistrate may at any time issue a warrant for his arrest

Schedule V (12) gives the form of a summons

A warrant of arrest can also be issued, if on service of summons, the person proceeded against fully to uppe it without reasonable excuse (S. 60 (b))

OBIVOT

See S 107 (3) which confers similar powers on a Magistrate who is not employed to tall e proceedings to require security. But when a person so arrested is brought before the Might telephone to the process of the magistrate who is not entirely when the special circumstances mentioned in S 107 (4) are found to exist that hail can be refused.

S 114 should be read with S 107 (4) It is only under the special circumstances mentioned therein that the Magistrate can detain a person in custody until the completion of the inquiry being held by him. Ordinarily the person arrested must be released on bail

A Magistrate cannot mike at a condition for admitting a person to bail that he should undertake that no attempt should be made to realise rent forcelly by lumself or by any one on his behalf and that nothing should be done likely to cause a breach of the pone. In do so might he in restraint of legal powers and rights and might cause the realisation of rents due to become barred by limitation.<sup>3</sup>

Copy of order under shall be accompanied by a copy of the order section 112 to accompanie or war and to delivered by the officer serving or executing such summons or warrant to the person screed with, or arrested under, the same

Power to dispens pense with the personal attendance of any pense with the personal attendance of any penson called upon to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond for keeping the peace, and may permit him to appear by a pleader

For definition of Pleader, see S 4 (r) and note

117 (1) When an older under section 112 has been read or evaluating as to truch of planned under section 113 to a person present information in Court, or when any person appears or is brought before a Magistrate in compliance with, or in execution of, a summons or warrant issued under section 114, the Magistrate shall proceed to inquire into the truth of the information upon which action has been taken, and to take such further evidence as may appear necessary.

- (2) Such inquiry shall be made, as nearly as may be practicable where the order requires seeintly for keeping the peace, in the manner hereinafter prescribed for conducting trials and re-ording evidence in summons eases, and where the order requires seeintly for good behaviour in the manner hereinafter prescribed for conducting trials and recording evidence in warrant cases, execut that no charge need he framed
- (3) Pending the completion of the inquiry under sub-section (1) the Magistrate of the considers that immediate measures are necessary for the prevention of a breech of the peace or disturbance of the public tranquillity or the commission of any offence or for the public safety may for reasons to be recorded in writing, direct the person in respect of whom the order under section 112 has been made to execute a hond with or without surcties, for keeping the peace or maintaining good behaviour until the conclusion of the inquiry and may detain him in enstody until such bond is executed or in default of execution until the inquiry is concluded

Provided that-

CHAP VIII

Src 117

- (a) no person against whom proceedings are not being taken under section 109 section 100 or section 110 shall be directed to execute a bond for main taining good behaviour and
- (b) the conditions of such bond whether as to the amount thereof or as to the provision of sureties of the number thereof or the pecuniary extent of their hability, shall not be more onerous than those specified in the order under section 112
- (4) For the purposes of this section the fact that a person is an inditual offender of its so desperate and diagrams as to render his being at large without seeming hazardous to the community may be proved by evidence of general repute of otherwise
- (5) Where two or more persons have been associated together in the matter under inquiry, they may be dealt with in the same or separate inquiries as the Magistrate shall think just

Two important unendments have been made in this section by Act XVIII of 1923 S 19 It is now provided that the fact that a person is so desperate and dangerous as to render his being at large without security hazardous to the community may be proved by a dence of general repute. Several rulings of the Courts to the contrary are thus rendered obsolver.

In the second place the Magistrate is given power if he considers that include measures are necessary for the presention of a breach of the peace of disturbance of the public trinquility or the commission of any offence or for the public safety for require the person who has been called upon to show cause, to give security until the conclusion of the inquiry and in default the Magistrate may detain such person in custody. But an adjusting order to maintain good behaviour rannot be made in the course of proceedings for keeping the peace

After the order under S 112 containing the substance of the information on the person or persons concerned the Vagistrate if he has more than one person before him should consider whether they should be proceeded against together or separately. This would depend in he first instance on whether they have been associated together in the mater under inquiry. If they are concerned in the same dispute which is filly to cause a breach of the peace which it is the object to prevent but as opposing parties and in conflict they cannot be regarded as associated together? But proceedings can be held against several persons on account of wrongful arts alleged to have been committed by them for the binefit of their common master with the same common object if they are likely to cause a breach of the price that is the course a breach of the cross so the proceedings can be held against several persons on the cause a breach of the peace which acts were not committed by such persons together does not require that separate proceedings should be held for the persons were issecuted together within the terms of S 117 (4)?

It is however in the discretion of the Magistrate how far persons associated together in the matter under inquiry in uld be dealt with in the same or separate

inquiries [sub section (5)]

Where the number of persons called upon to show cause is large even if they have been associated together it is describle that they should be divided into batches a separate inquiry being held against each batch.

The inquity in a case regarding security to Leep the peace is to be conducted as in the trail of a summon case. Chapter NN) and in a case regarding security for good behaviour is in a warrant case (Chapter NN) except that in the latter no formal driven needs formed. (This has been explained in the notes at the hi did fith Chapter and also under S. 107 and S. 110 and 2). On this appearance the actual of a case regarding security to keep the peace should be asked to show turns with he should not be consisted that is why the order should not be mide be clusted. 242) and if he deem to admit the trath of the information the Vigistriae should proveed to hear the evidence for the proceeding. In the constant of the information that the examination of the witnesses for the proceedings should commerce with the examination of the witnesses for the prosecution (S. 252).

"high this means 'the truth of the information on which action has been taken." [2-ub ecction (1)] should be proved for that is essence of the inquiry before the Vigistrate. When the information was a Police report the Calciuth High Court on revision (per Mookeryer and Imam J. J., Carnduff J., diss) set on the ground that the information was not bona fide the report showing animus grainst the person proceeded against 'This seems in extreme case for it is the truth of the information which is the matter for inquiry and if that were established the aumuns of the information would be immersial except as a

just cause for doubting the evidence produced to establish it

The accused may be examined by the Magistrate at any stage of the inquiry, but only for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing

<sup>1</sup> Ghanpathi Bhatta I I R 31 Mad 2 6 Kamal Bha in Chowdhury 11 Cal N \ 4-3 (SC) 5 Cal I J 3 Shainta Nath Shaha 9 Cal W \ 898 (SC) 1 Cal I 616 (Henlerson J dis )

Pran Krishna Saha t Emp 8 Cal W \ 180
Rajen lra Narayan 17 Cal W \ 200 (SC) 16 Cal L J 465

So, if after ex mining the with sea for the prosecution the Magistrate finds that no case has been did and he should terminate the proceedings (S. 119)

In a case nearling security fir good behaviour the person informula against may, there he has intered in his differe applet to the Vigistrate for a process to compath a stradence of an with so for the purpose of examination or cross examination or into the Vigistration bound in issue such process, unless he considers that such pith in a should be rised on the ground that it is made for the purpose of very time or cells are defined to the conders that it is made for the purpose of very time or cells are defined to the conders that his reasonable expenses incurred in ittending, the court shall be deposted by 25719.

But if he has die he crossed mired the witnesses for the prosecution he is not entitled und recognition has a research min the migran of the has entered on his differe. In a wire not not used in which the charge is formed that the need come to know the diffinite charge that he his to meet whereas in a case of security for good behaviour he knows which he has to meet as soon as he is required t tind the Migistrite's Court 4

In a cas regarding security to keep the peace as in a summons case, the person informed against that is the ecused, should be asled whether the information on which the proceedings have been taken is true or false, that is whether he admits the fices so stated. To isk him only whether he is willing to execute a bond or desires in inquiry is misleading. When this has been done the proceedings have been set aside. He should ordinarily attend with the witnesses for his defence. It is descretional with the Migistrate to resue process to compel the attendance of such a witness [S 244 (2)] The information on which proceedings are taken and the order (5 112) passed thereon may relate to more than one person but the inquiry on their appearance should be separate as to each unless they can be dealt with together under the terms of S 117 (5) Two contending parties fr m whom a breach of the peace is apprehended, cannot be dealt with together in the same proceeding. Such a joinder is not a more irregularily but an illegality which will vittate the proceedings. If, during the course of an inquiry the M gistrate ceases to exercise jurisdiction, the Magistrate succeeding him if otherwise compcent may act on the evidence recorded by his predecessor and partly recorded by himself, or he may recommence the inquiry, but the person proceeded against is entitled to demand that the witnesses or any of them may be re summoned or re heard (S 350)

Sub section 3 Temporary bond in case of emergency

This sub-section, which is new (Act XVIII of 1923, S 19), is important litherton in cases of emergency to which S 144 did not apply the Magistrate's only course was to arrest under S 114 and to keep in custody II is not required

&lt;sup>1</sup> Dunn v Hem Chandra 4 B L R 46 FB (SC) 12 W R 60
<sup>2</sup> Binode Behan Nath v I mp I L R 50 Cal 985 distinguishing Mazahar Ah v

Lmp I L R 50 Cal 2°3
Fmp v Purshottam I L R 26 Bom 418
Charles and I R 26 Cal 243

<sup>34</sup> Vad 139 Mad 276 • Cal L R, 452

In the second place the Magistrate is given power if he considers that immediate measures are necessary for the prevention of a breach of the peace or disturbance of the public tranquillity or the commission of any offence or for the public safety, to require the person, who has been called upon to show cause, to give security until the conclusion of the inquiry, and in default the Magistrate may detain such person in custody But an ad interim order to maintain good behaviour cannot be made in the course of proceedings for keeping the peace

After the order under S 112 containing the substance of the information on which the Magistrate has taken action has been read to or explained to the person or persons concerned the Magistrate if he has more than one person before him should consider whether they should be proceeded against together This would depend in he first instance on whether they have been or separately associated together in the mater under inquiry. If they are concerned in the same dispute which is hi ely to cluse a breach of the peace which it is the object to prevent but as opposing parties and in conflict they cannot be regarded as But proceedings can be held against several persons on associated together! account of wrongful acts alleged to have been committed by them for the benefit of their common master with the same common object, if they are likely to cause a breach of the peace. The fact that such acts were not committed by such persons together does not require that separate proceedings should be held for the persons were associated together within the terms of S 117 (4) 2

It is however in the discretion of the Migistrate how for persons associated together in the matter under inquiry should be dealt with in the same or separate

inquiries [sub section (5)]

Where the number of persons called upon to show cause is large, even if they have been associated together it is desirable that they should be divided into batches a separate inquiry being held against each batch 3

The inquity in a case regarding security to Leep the peace is to be conducted as in the trial of a summons e se (Chapter \1) and in a case regarding security for good behaviour is in a wirrant-case (Chapter \1) except that in the latter no formal charge need be framed (This has been explained in the notes at the held of the Chapter and also under $ 107 and $ 110 ante) On his appear nee the occurred in a case regarding security to keep the peace should be relied to show cause why he should not be convicted that is why the order should not be made b lute (5 242) nl if he does not admit the truth of the information the M gistrate should proceed to hear the evidence for the prosecution in a case regarding security for good behaviour, the proceedings should commerce with the examination of the witnesses for the prosecution (S 252)

By this means the truth of the information on which iction has been [sub section (1)] should be proved for that is essence of the inquiry before the Vingistrate. When the information was a Police report, the Calcutta High Court on revision (per Mool erjen and Imam J J Carnduff J, diss) set aside the proceedings of a Magistrate for requiring security for good behaviour on the ground that the information was not bond fide the report showing animus against the person proceeded against 4. This seems an extreme case for it is the truth of the information which is the matter for inquiry and if that were established the animus of the informant would be immaterial except as a just cause for doubting the evidence produced to establish it

The accused may be examined by the Magistrate at any stage of the inquiry, but only for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing

Ghampathi Bhatin I I R 31 Und - 6 Kamal Bhu an Clowdhury 11 Cal 1 Srikanta Naih Shaha 9 Cat W N 898 (SC) 1 Cal I Gif (Henlerson J

dje )

3 I rin Krishna Saha i Ump 8 Cal W N 180

4 Rajendra Nirayan 17 Cal W N 21 (SC) 16 Cal L J 467

in the evidence names him to 41 and therefore he cannot properly be examped until some unit not has been taken which may appear to require some explanation from h m. The Lunden of proof hes on those at whose instance the proceedings have been instituted. But the Cabutta High Court has held that S 342 of the Cole dies n 1 upple to m inquire under 5 117, the omission to examine a person callel upon for security at the close of the prosecution case and before he is called in the one r upon his defence is not an illegality vitating the conviction but in irregularity covered by 5 517 when he has not been projudiced by such emission?

So, if after 13 imining the witnesses for the prosecution the Magistrate finds that no case has been made out he doubt terminate the proceedings (S 119) In a case regarding security I regard behaviour the person informed against may, ofter he has entered in his ib bine upply to the Migistrate for a process to compel the attendance of one witness for the purpose of examination or crossexamination in the Mississis is bound to issue such process, unless he considers that such apply ite nish and be refused on the ground that it is made for the purpose of vexion ver relieve rulef ring the ends of justice, and he may, before summaning in witness out of require that his reasonable expenses incurred in attending the Court shall be deposited (5 257) 5

But if he has alr ids an sees maned the witnesses for the proscention he is no entitled under 5 age to an sees mine them ignin after he has entered on his defence. In a warrant case it is the when the charge is framed that the accused comes to know the definite charge that he has to meet whereas in a edse of security for good behaviour he knows what he has to meet as soon as he

ts required to itend the Migistrate - Court 4

In a casa rigarding scrurity to keep the peace as in a summions case, the person informed against that is the locused should be asked whether the information on which the proceedings have been taken is true or false, that is, whether he admits the firsts so stated. To isk him only whether he is willing to execute a bond or distres an inquiry is misleiding. When this has been done the proceedings have been set iside 5 He should ordinarily attend with the witnesses for his defence. It is discretional with the Magistrate to issue process to compel the attendance of such a witness [S 244 (2)] The information on which proceedings are taken and the order (5 112) passed thereon may relate to more than one person but the inquiry on their appearance should be separate as to each unless they can be dealt with together under the terms of S 117 (5) I'vo contending parties, from whom a breach of the peace is apprehended, cannot be dealt with together in the same proceeding. Such a joinder is not a mere irregularily but an illegality which will vitiate the proceedings. If, during the course of an inquiry, the Magistrate ceases to exercise jurisdiction, the Magistrate succeeding him, if otherwise competent, may act on the evidence recorded by his predecessor and partly recorded by himself, or he may recommence the inquiry, but the person proceeded against is entitled to demand that the witnesses or any of them may be re-summoned or re-heard ($ 350)

Sub section 3 Temporary bond in case of emergency

This sub-section, which is new (Act XVIII of 1923, S 19), is important. Hitherto in cases of emergency to which S 144 did not apply the Magistrate's only course was to arrest under S 114 and to keep in custody. It is not required

4 Cal L. R., 452.

Dunn v Hem Chandra 4 B L R 46 l B (SC) 12 W R, 60 Binode Behari Nath v Emp, I L R, 50 Cal, 985 distinguishing Mazahar Ah v Lmp I L R 50 Cal, 223 Fmp v Purshottam I L R, 26 Bom, 418

<sup>34</sup> Mad , 139 Mad 276

imm. district public to give may d behav, Atı which person before t or separ associat same di to preve associate ресципт benefit of to cause such perfor the pr It 18 5 together is inquiries, Where they have I batches, at The inf as in the security for the latter n notes at the his apprairan be asked to ! should not b the informati prosecution should commi (S 252) By this n taken." [sub-s before the Mag High Court on aside the proce on the ground animies against it is the truth . were established just cause for d The accused but only for the 1 Ghanapathi die).

المسايس المعاليس - .- h mm 4=. .... e' (**** - --er el, etter fere - - Trin the grains ; مع بيسب بي سر بي م 直如此十八名 1月 日本山田 日本山田 a seed and come a facility of broken Salama part great day to V 111, or the it the color of the sent that to I mited, the book can't my an eat to be from the a man and the least are limited to the testing of or a great that the seconds to be located as as a second in his order union $ 114 miles the many of specified in the color take & and a major (in order) take aging the The man is a set of the second section of the the to S like an End the the same and a straight the shell see the of the standard of the grade of or & turning the nate charter in the

> A to prop here The Prior of the ase معصم منا الا المه معمد ... a hrd sing sind Charles to a la grand And Mintel Son E Say & Since from a best fresh الله المراجعة المراج المالية المالي المالية المالية

The production of the second of the

AND STATE

The training of

The end of the party of the land of the la Mother and have a set to W, N 473 (SC) Srikanta Nat 2(112) E 7 ESP FOR Pran Krishna · Rajendra Nar by the sub-section that there should be an inquiry before an order is passed but reasons have to be recorded in writing. What is contemplated is very probably a case in which in the course of hearing evidence during the inquiry the Magis trate comes to the conclusion that it is not site to writ till the end of the inquiry before he takes security. Security for mituning good behaviour cannot be tall en under this sub-section in proceedings mittried under S. 107.

Sub section 4 Evidence of general repute

This was formerly admissible only when the matter for determination was whether the person informed against is an habitual offender, that is, when the information is within the terms of S 110 excluding clause (f) <sup>1</sup>

But sub-section 4 (formerly sub-section 3) has now been amended so as to admit evidence of gener I rejute for the purpose of proving that a person is so desperate and dangerous is to render his being at large without security hazar dous to the community

5 34 of the Evidence Act is important in this respect

In criminal proceedings, the f ct that the ccused person his a bad character is irrelevant unless evidence has been given that he has a good character in which case it becomes relevant.

Explanation I - This section does not apply to cases in which the bad character of any person is itself the fact in issue

Explanation II—A previous consistion is relevant as evidence of bad character—[Act 1 of 1872 (Evidence Act) S 24 is amended by Act III of 1891, 5 oil

Ludence of gentral repute is admissible to prove that a person is an habitual offender [S 117 (3)] but ilthough when witnesses inceximined as to general character their text mony is not of much value is to the hibits of a suspect, unless they can in support of their opinion addition instances of the misconduct imputed will, when the question is one only as to his rejute the evidence of witnesses if reliable is not without value though they may not be able to connect the suspected person with the actual commission of crime

The evidence that is required is that of respectable persons who are acquainted with the accused and live in the neighbourhood and are aware of his reputation such evidence must relate to particular instances which have come to the knowledge of the witness and must be specific. Mere belief and opinions, without reference to acts and instances on which they are based, are not evidence of repute 3

All

Sub section 5

Where there is a joint inquiry in respect of several persons there must be definite evidence in regard to each. It is insufficient against a collecture body of persons to suggest that they are indulging in feelings of hostifity towards another body of persons.<sup>4</sup>

The case of each accused should be differentiated in the evidence and the order of the Court a

Confessions made by persons in a joint inquiry can be used against co accused, the effect of the words or otherwise in subsection (4) being to render admissible any evidence which would be relevant if the accused persons were being thed on a charge of being habitual oftenders 3

Akhoy Kumur Chatterjee 5 Cal W N 249 Wahid Ali Khan 11 Cal W N 789

v Shambhu Nall I L R 38

Fmp v Sheikh Abdul I L R 43 Cal 1128 Emp v Sarju I L R 41 All, 231

Junediction

Where the Magistrate had recorded as ground for proceeding under S 110 that he had proceeded on his knowledge of previous cases at was held that he was not a pupper person to hold the nugari which invoked the truth of the information on which he had acted. The case was accordingly transferred to another Magistrate. The Magistrate cannot dispense with the inquiry provided for by 5 117 and base his order merely on the results of a not case recently tried by him. A person called upon to show cause in such proceedings is a person over whom the Magistrate is exercising jurisdation and is consequently in that sense an accused person. He is therefore under S 140 centiled to be defended by a pleader See also S 116.

118 (1) If, upon such inquiry, it is proved that it is necessary for keeping the peace or maintainthe person in respect of whom the inquiry is made should execute a bond, with or without sureties the Magistiate shall make an order accordingly.

Provided—

first, that no person shall be ordered to give security of a nature different from or of an amount larger than or for a period longer than that specified in the order made under section 119.

secondly that the amount of every bond shall be fixed with due regard to the engineerings of the case and shall not be excessive

thirdly that when the person in respect of whom the inquiry is made is a minor, the bond shall be evecuted only by his surefies

There must be some easilence taken to prove the necessity for I eeping the percor mainting good believ our otherwise security cunnot be demanded. Unless the person informed aguinst admits the truth of the information upon which the Magistrate has proceeded the Magistrate bound to take evidence to prove the facts stated therein so as to justify an order for security. A report by a subord nate Magistrate or by a police officer is credible information upon which proceed ings may be taken but it is not evidence of frets stated therein, and the facts stated therein must be proved at the inquiry. Previous convictions of offences against property are not alone sufficient—See note to S. 177.

The statements of the parties in d spute may be sufficient evidence to justify an order binding them down to keep the peace 4

See Sch V for forms of bonds to keep the peace (No V), and for good behaviour (No VI)

Bail bonds in criminal cases are exempt from stamp duty-Court Fees Act

, (SC) 18 W R Cr 11

<sup>1</sup> Alimud I Howladar ( Pmp I I R 9 Cd 3) (SC) 6 Cal W 595 Nr Seu 35 Panj Rec (S p 11 r Pmp 661 Hoja Singhi Q Emp I I R 2 Ali I 10 Pmp R 21 Ali I 10 Pmp R 21

(VII of 1870) S 19 Cl xs Sch II Art 6 further declares that bail bonds and other instruments of obligation not otherwise provided for by that Act, when given by direction of a Court or Migistrite under the Codes of Criminal or Civil Procedure shall be in a stamp of eight annas. The fees chargeable on security bonds for keeping the peace by or good behaviour of, other persons than the executants have been remitted

The terms of the order made under S 110 regulate the inquiry held as well as the final order in regard to the security to be given, so, where the order relates to security to I eep the peace the person informed against cannot be ordered to give security for good behaviour 1

Terms of the bond ordered

The security required cannot be of a nature different from that specified in the order made under S 112 that is if the order did not specify that a surety or sureties are to be furnished the bond cannot require such to be given Similarly the number of the sureties and the period are limited by the terms of the order But the Magistrate may direct that the security to be furnished may be more moderate in its terms than that specified in his order under S 112, and if he has reason to believe that the security specified in the order under S 112 is not sufficient he can issue a fresh summons (or order) under which the person con cerned will have an opportunity of showing cause against such an order

A Magistrate by his order under S 118 can direct that the surgices required must reside within certan geographical lim to but they should not be so narrow as to impose an infility on the person informed against to find sureties at all s The law does not enable a Magistrate to impose arbitrary conditions not essential to the object in view, viz to restrain a person from infringement of the law, still less to impose impossible conditions 4

The Calcutta High Court has held that a Magistrate is not competent to require sureties under certain specified conditions or limitations, such as that they should reside in the neighbourhood of the person bound over so as to be able to exercise a control over his behaviour. The report of this case does not show what were the terms of the order in writing in this respect

A person required by any Court to execute a bond with or without sureties may, except in the case of a bond for good behaviour be allowed by such Court to deposit a sum of money or Government Promissory Notes to such amount as the Court may fix in heo of such bond ($ 513)

An order to deposit cash in heu of entering into a bond for good behaviour is bad .

Amount!of the bond

This should be fixed with due recard to the circumstances of the case, and must not be excessive. The Magistrate should consider the station in life of the person concerned and should not go beyond a sum for which there is a fair pro bability of his being able to find security. The order is for the protection of society, not for the punishment of the individual. The effect of passing an order for security to an amount which is unreasonable and beyond the power of a person to give, would be either to make him undergo imprisonment ($ 123), or to subject him to a fine in obtaining such security from another, and thus to subject him to punishment in a case only of suspicion and reputation. Imprisonment is provided as a protection to secret against the perpetration of crame by the individual, and not as a punishment for a crame committed and being made conditional on default of finding security it is only responsible and just that the individual should be afforded a fair chance at least of complising with the required condition of security.

Driver: Q Imp II R 25 Cat 198 1 Isree Pershad Singh 9 B I R 41 App (SC) 18 W R 61 Belagal Rama Charlu I 1 R 2f Mad 471

Albu Khan I L R 24 All 471 Q Imp v Rihim Bakhsh I L R 20 All 206 4 In re Narun Sooboddhee 22 N. R. Cr. 37. Tara Singh. Panj. Rec. 1880. p. 91. 5 Thopha Singh. I. R. 24. Cal. 175. 5 Find i. Kula Chand Dass I. L. R. 6 Cal. 14. (S.C.) 6 Cal. L. R. 128.

But, although a Magistrate cannot order that security shall be furnished to a certain amount in cash 2 where a person is required to execute a bond with or without sureties the Court may except in a case of a bond for good behaviour, permit him to deposit a sum of money or Government promissory into the amount as the Court may fix in litu of executing such bond (S. 513). It may be neted that there is no limit to the sum which may be originally fixed by the Court, but this discretion must be exterised in a resonable minure in the order finally passed and apparently such a matter will arise only on the objection of the person bound over

Minor

If proceedings are taken gainst a manor he should appear and defend the case himself or by a plender if his personal attendance is excused (S 116) dihough if he be required to give security, the bond should be executed only by his sureties. If history  $l \in l$  into the formula the sureties required the minor shall be committed to person (S + ix).

Appeal Reference and Revision

Under S 400 no order under S 116 requiring security is ppeal bile if made by a Presidency Mights it to the High Court and I mide by 100 to the Magistrate to the Court of Session but this does not apply to proceedings laid before the Sessions Judge under S 123 presumably because the Sessions Judge under S 123 presumably because the Sessions Judge in order 1 to 100 power in such a case to go fully into the evidence and to pass such order as he hinks fit. The Local Sovernment my direct that in a specified district appeals from Magistrates orders shall be to the District Magistrate.

A District Magistrate cannot en appeal set aside an order requiring security.

under S 112 ind order further inquiry with a view to requiring security on other terms

As to rejection of sureties offered and appeal against an older of rejection see Ss 122 and 4064.

The Chief Presidency Megistrate and the District Vigistrates have certain powers in regard to the discharge of persons impressioned for failure to give security (5 124) and in regard to the cancell tion of bond (5 123) or the reduction of the amount of security or the number of surrices [S 124 [27]]

If security is required for a period exceeding one year, and is not furnished, the proceedings are laid for orders before the Sessions Judge (S 123)

The High Courts Irac, in revision, reduced the amount of sureties found to be excessive and unreasunable.

119. If, on any inquiry under section 117, it is not proved because of prison that it is necessary for keeping the perce or maintaining good beliaviour, as the case may be, that the person in respect of whom the inquiry is made, should execute a bond, the Magistrate shall make an entry on the record to that effect, and if such person is in custody only for the purposes of the inquiry, shall release him, or, if such person is not in custody, shall dischurge him

&lt;sup>1</sup> Dayanath Taluqdar | L. R. 33 Cat. 8
<sup>4</sup> In re Juggut Chundre Chu lerbust | L. R. - Cal. 110 Emp v O la Srcar l L. R. 2 Cat. 38; (sc.) | Cul. L. R. 15 Q. Lm v R. Runs | L. R. 10 Bon. 37. , Q. Lmp v Rara kul. L. R. 2 3 All. 80.

If a person has been discharged under S 119, further inquiry cannot be ordered under S 137, as the matter does not come within that section 1 But the Magistrate can institute fresh proceedings on fresh information received, 2 or the District Magistrate in revision on the same record 3

A person called upon to give security for good behaviour cannot, under S 250 clum compensation after he has been discharged 4

C —Proceedings in all Cases subsequent to Order to furnish Security

Commencement of quilting security is made under section 108 or section 118, is, at the time such order is made, sentenced to, or undergoing a sentence of, imprisonment, the period for which such security is required shall commence on the expiration of such sentence

(2) In other eases such period shall commence on the date of such order unless the Magistrate, for sufficient reason, fixes a later date

An order for security would thus ordinarily take effect at once, that is to say, the security required must be given at once, or, if the person cannot give it, he will be committed to prison (S 123)

Sub section (2) enables 1 Magistrate to fix e letter date for the compliance with his order, and he should exercise such discretion where delay would not operate injuriously to the public |e|g| < e > 107 (3), and also when the person against when the order has been prissed is of respectivity, and synthese the Magistrate that he would be table to compay with the order if a reasonable time be allowed for that purpose

If the security is not given at once, or on any later date specially fixed, the person in default will be committed to prison or detained in prison until the period of the security brisk experience of the security of the security of the period for security exceeds one year, the case must be referred for the orders of the High Court (in a presidency town) or of the Sessions Court. A Magistrate who has passed an order requiring a person to give security to keep the peace for a certain period, cannot in another case require another security to take effect on expiration of that period. That is not the object of sub section (2) By such means a Magistrate might extend his powers beyond what is contemplated by the law.

<sup>762, (</sup>SC) 6 Cal W N, 103, see also IL, R 21 All 107 >2, (SC) 6 Cal W N 163

Carr VIII SECs 121 122

121. The hand to be executed by any such person shall hand him to keep the peace or to be of good Laufe is of bond heliaviour, as the ease may be, and in the latter case the commission or attempt to commit, or the abetment of, any offence punishable with imprisonment, wherever it may be committed, is a breach of the bond

See note to $ 118 in regard to the stamp to be affixed to such a bond

See Sch \ f r form of 1 band to leap the peace (No \) and for good Echaviour (No XI)

S 124 declares what constitutes a breach of the bond for good belaviour such as will ential a ferfeiture of that bond. No special provision has been made in regard to a breach of a bond to keep the peace as the terms of such a bond (See Sch 1, 10 1) are clear. The party executing such a bond binds himself not to commit a french of the pence or to do any ret that may probably occasion a breach of the pence during the penced specified therein. The bond would be liable to forfuture if any breach of the paid were committed and not only on commission of the breach apprehended for which proceedings have been taken

A bond for keeping the price cannot be forfeited except on proof of the com-inission of an offence involving a breach of the point such offence need not be committed in the district in which the bond was executed 1 It cannot be forfeited on the conviction of the person bound over for theft nor on a conviction for wrongful confinement? But such a conviction would be sufficient ground for forfeiture of a bond for good behaviour. Chapter VIII, 5 514 post provides for proceedings on forfeiture of a bond

(I) A Magistrate may refuse to accept any surety officed, or may reject any surety previously accepted by him or his predecessor under this Power to reject sure Chapter on the ground that such surety is an unfit person for the purposes of the bond

Provided that, before so refusing to accept or rejecting any such surety, he shall either bimself hold an inquiry on oath into the fitness of the surety or cause such inquiry to be held and a report to be made thereon by a Magistrate subordinate to him

- (9) Such Magistrate shall, before holding inquiry, give reasonable notice to the surety and to the person by whom the surety was offered and shall in making the inquiry record the substance of the evidence adduced before him
- (3) If the Magistrate is satisfied, after considering the evidence so adduced either before him or before a Magistrate deputed under sub-section (1), and the report of such Magistrate (if any) that the surety is an unfit person for the purposes of the bond, he shall make an order refusing to accept or rejecting,

<sup>1</sup> Q t Sham Sundar Chowdhry 2 B L R 11 2 In re llaran Chunder Roy, 18 W R Cr 63 3 In re Zearuddin Howladar 19 W R Cr 48

as the case may be, such surety and according his reasons for so doing

Provided that before making an order rejecting any surety who has previously been accepted, the Magistrate shall issue his summons or warrant, as he thinks fit, and cause the person for whom the surety is bound to appear or to be brought before him

S 126 provides for a person who has become surety obtaining his discharge, but no provision has been made for a Iresh surety to be required on the death or insolvency of a surety

S 50 provides that if through mistile friud, or otherwise, insufficient sureties have been accepted or if they alterwards become insufficient, the Court may issue i warrant of arrest directing that the person released on bail before it, and order hum to find sufficient sureties and, on his failing to do so may commit hum to jul. Whether this would apply to a case under Chapter VIII will depend on whether the words released on bail are held to apply to the case of a man who on going sureties for keiping like peace of for good behaviour is released from being committed to prison or released from imprisonment on gaing such securit. Otherwise the law does not provide for such a case

This section previously indicated no procedure to be followed by a Majistrue in coming to a decision at to the firm is if a surety. Thus it was a Majistrue in this respect. The new section does no more than by down the procedure which the High Courts have indicated in a long course of rulings to be necessary, except that it permits of the inquiry being held by a subordinate Migistrate. An inquiry on oath, after notice to the surety was offered, is not motive to the surety was offered, in the surety was offered was offered to the surety was offered to the surety

obligatory

The power to reject a surety previously accepted by the Magistrate or his predecessor, is new

For what happens when the person for whom the surety is bound appears before the Court set S 126A post

S 406A post which is a new section provides for an appeal in every case where an order refusing to seeps or rejecting, a surety has been made under this section. The appeal will be from the order of a Presidency Magistrate, to the High Court, from the order of the District Magistrate to the Court of Session, and from the order of any other Magistrate, to the District Magistrate

S 112 provides that in talling proceedings under this Chapter the Magistrate shall record an order in writing which amongst other matters should set out "the number character and class of surriues (if m) required, and 5 115 directs a copy of this order shall be dehicred to the person concerned on service of the summons or on execution of the warrant of arrest. The Legislature has not prescribed my kind of unfairess but if the surrey tendered does not come within the class" of surety required by the order seried on the person required to give security that obviously would be an unfitness. It is otherwise left to the discretion of the Magistrate who should in each case determine whether the surety tendered is a fit person. Unless the circumstances are in all respects the same, no other case can be accepted as an authority in this respect. Before rejecting a surety, a Magistrate is bound to make known to the party concerned this reasons so is to give him an opportunity to controver them by hearing what he has to say on his own behalf. Where this had not been done a Magistrate's order was set aside ind he was directed to proceed accordingly?

The Joint Committee of both Chumbers of the Indian Legislature to which the Bill (which afterwards became Act No XVIII of 1923) was referred introduced into S 122 an amendment enumerating the grounds on which surety could be rejected as unfit, res, that he was not sol good moral character, was of insufficient means, and was not able to control the movements of actions of the person by whom the bond was executed. The amendment was however expunged when the Bill came back to the Legislature. The grounds for rejection will be those laid down from time to time by the High Courts but as said before each case must be dealt with on its ments. The unfitness of a surety is not limited to his pecunitry unfimes :

Cast VIII Sec 122

A Magistrate required the sureties to be persons of 'respectability and substance, not related to him and residing within one nule of his house" It was found on inquiry that no person of respectability lived within that area. The High Court held that security should be demanded, but it expunged the condition, remarking that the law il we not enable a Migistrate to impose arbitrary conditions not essential to the object in view, it to restrain a party from infringe ment of the lin still liss to impose impossible conditions. To make such an order was equil bent to saving that the prisoner shall not formish any security at all but must go to tul?

The sureties required need not necessarily be residents of the district. The Magistrate is not competent in reject is in unlit person a surety offered merely because he resid s in mother district and more especially when his order does not place any limit with regard to the description of the sureties required, undue and unnecessary difficulties a innot be thrown in the way of persons attempting to furnish the required sureties s

Surcties shown to be solvent and respectable should not be summarily rejected on the strength of a police report that they were not living near enough to exercise control over the coused a

The surress tendered should, however, not be persons residing at such a distance as would make it unlikely that they could exercise in control over the man for wh m they were willing to stand surety ! It is obvious that a surety from a remote spot would not be in a position to exercise any control over the person bound over. On the other hand it has been held that the fitness of a urety does not dipend upon his control over the person for whom he is a surety but whether he is of sufficient substance. Nor should a surety be refused because he is a relative for from being an objection, it is a useful qualification for he is I person prima facie interested in restraining the person required to give security, and able from his relationship to exercise his family influence for that purpose

When the order for security declared that the sureties were not to be from the village in which the person bound over fixed, nor to be of the kumbi class, it was held, that the conditions were illegal, as the accused would be best able to obtain sureties from the village in which he lived, and to prevent him from obtaining a surety from the humbi class was arbitrary 10

The fact that a person offered as a surety has been convicted will not for ever make him unfit for that purpose, in one case he had been convicted of rioting

| Jahl 13 Cal W \ 80 (SC) 8 Cal I J 242 Jamr Ah I L R 37 Cal, 446, (SC) 14 Cal W \ 146

Fig. 1 Astraddi Vandal I I R 41 Cal 764
In re Naram Soobod thee 22 W R Cr 37 followed in Tart Sinch Pinj Rec 1880 P 97 but disapproved in Q Emp v Rahim Bakhsh I L R 20 All 206 See also Abdul Khan R 15 Cal 455

In re In re

Q Er see contra Abinash Malakar

Fmp 4 C * Adam Pershad 6 Cal

<sup>4</sup> Cal W > 707 , Ram

shad 6 Cat. w. N. 533 Fmp. v. Shib Singh I L. R. 25 All. 131 Abdul Khan 10 Cal. W. N. 1027 'l. Yesu (Khandu Tukar: Bom. H. Ct., Aug. 29 1899, 1 Bom. L. Rep., 520

and voluntarily causing grievous hurt more than two years previously, and he was accepted by the High Court on revision 1

But where the sureties though pecuniarily fit were the brothers of a notorious decoit who had been directed to furnish security and there was a consensus of opinion that they would not be able to keep him in control it was held that the ground of object on was not unreasonable

Ir quite into enfficiency of a surety

The inquiry must be by examining witnesses on onth

A Magistrate is now competent to refer to another Magistrate an inquiry into the sufficiency of the s rety tendered and to reject it upon his report But Ie must record his reasons in writing. The ridings that laid down that a Mag strate could not delegate the inquiry to a subordinate Migistrate are now to slotled as it is also shown held that a Magistrate could not subsequently reject a surety previously accepted by him as ft

(1) If any person ordered to give security under sec-Impresormert in ce tion 106 or section 118 does not give such security on or before the date on which the fault of s cu sty period for which such security is to be given commences, he shall, except in the case next hereinafter mentioned, be committed to prison or if he is already in prison be detained in prison until such period expires or until within such period he gives the security to the Court or Magistrate who made the order requiring it

(2) When such person has been ordered by a Magistrate to give security for a period exceeding one very, Proceedings when to be lad before Hen Cout such Magistrate shall if such person does not o Cou tor Sess on give such security as aforesaid assue a warrant directing him to be detained in prison pending the orders of the Sessions Judge or, if such Magistrate is a Presidency Magistrate, pending the orders of the High Court and the proceedings shall he laid as soon as conveniently may be before such Court

(3) Such Court after examining such proceedings and requiring from the Magistrate and further information or evi dence which it thinks necessary, may pass such order on the ease

as it thinks fit

Provided that the period (if any) for which any person is imprisoned for fulure to give security shall not exceed three

16315 (3A) If security has been required in the course of the same proceedings from two or more persons in respect of any one of whom the proceedings are referred to the Sessions Judge or the High Court under sub section (2), such reference shall also include the case of any other of such persons who has been ordered to give seemity, and the provisions of sub-sections (2) and (D shill, in this event apply to the east of such other person also, except that the period (if any) for which he may be imprisoned shall not exceed the period for which he was ordered to give seemity.

<sup>1</sup> Fmp : Ragbunath Singh I R 2f All 189 1 Fmp : Asira H: Mandal I R 4f Cal 7f 1

(3B) A Sessions Indge may in his discretion transfer any proceedings and before him under subsection (2) or sub-section (31) to an Additional Sessions Indge or Assistant Sessions Judge and upon such transfer such Additional Sessions Judge on Sessions Judge may expect the powers of a Sessions Judge under this section in respect of such proceedings.

(4) If the security is tendered to the officer in charge of the pail, he shall forthwith relatithe matter to the Court of Magistrate who made the order and shall twent the orders of such Court or Magistrate.

(a) Imprisonment for Inline to give security for keeping the ment of imprison peace shall be simple

(6) Impresement for fulme to give security for good bebrytom shall where the proceedings have been taken under section 108, be sumple and where the proceedings have been taken under section 109 or section 110 be rigorous or simple as the Court or Magistrate in cicle case directs

Subsection (i) alphase a security to leap the peace and also for good behaviour Subsection () hower place only to cases of security to leap the peace of mon within 5 100° and long-ood behaviour only to cases coming under 5 110 to it is ally a such a 50° that security can be demanded for the period exceeding one year 50° 50° had seen up can be demanded for the period exceeding one year 50° 50° had $\text{Min-N}$ for form for execution of orders passed under 5 12°.

The law as to uppeals in cases referred to the sessions judge is now settled by it annoted it,  $\Delta c \in \Gamma(n)$  3. So of oil this Cole now lays down that there will be no appeal by persons the precedingly against whom are laid before a Sessions judge, ender subsection (2) or subsection (3) of S 123, so though in a single case now posse to be expansed by possion services for a precode creeciling 1 peri there will be no appeal in the case at all because under this section the reference will include the case of all persons required to give security for such a case if a person ordered to give security for one part does not furnish it the Magnetirale will not trait a test in under S 123 (1) i.e. he will not commit bim to prison in default but will refer the whole case to the Sessions Judge

Notice should be given of the data for the hearing of a reference under S 123 fungh this is not expressly provided every person is entitled to be heard before an order is pressed against him <sup>1</sup>

A prison called upon to give security is an accused person within the terms

<sup>1</sup> Nakhilal Jlac Q Lmi I L. R., Cil (56 Imp i Cirand I L. R. 25 All 375

of S 340 and is therefore, entitled to be defended by a pleader whom the Sessions

Judge should also hear on the reference 1 An order of restriction for a period exceeding one year passed by a Magistrate under Punjab Act V of 1918 does not require confirmation by the Session Judge' Sch V cls (13) and (14) prescribe forms of warrants for commitment to prison on fadure to find security 5 29 of the Prisoners Act (III of 1900) provides for the removal of a person so sent need to imprisonment from the juil in which he is confined to any other fail in the same province

Sub section 3.

"Alter requiring any further evidence which it thinks necessary." This was chacted in consequence of its being helds that, under the Code of 198. the Sessi is Judge had no power to remand a case to the Magistrate for this purpose

"Such orders on the case as it thinks fit."

Although it declined to put a construction on these words the Allahabad High Court, as a Court of Revision has declared that it is absurd for a Court to order the detention of a person bound over under 5 123 for a period less than that for which he was called upon to give security. The term was accordingly enhanced to that period It would seem his wever that in a case before a Sessions Judge under S 123, he would have the same discretion to reduce such period as the Magistrate who instituted the proceedings would have to reduce the period or any of the other terms of the security stated in his order in writing under S tra, but apparently it was held that such discretion had not been properly exercised

A Sessions Judge can admit to bail a person whose case has been referred s

The terms of the Magistrate's order would probably not be enhanced either in regard to the amount of the security the number of the sureties, or the period fixed Unless it sets aside the order of the Magistrate, the order of the Court of Session would be that the person should be detruned in prison for some specified period unless he shall in the meantime furnish the security required (See Sch. V Nos \111 and \1V) The nature of the imprisonment is not defined in this Code Whether it should be regarded as a sentence has been considered in several cases with reference to its relation to a sentence subsequently passed upon him for some offence. Whather that sentence should tal e effect at once or be suspended until the termination of imprisonment which he was undergoing in default of security, was much discussed in the High Courts and was the subject of con flicting rulings. These doubts have been set at rest by the proviso added to S 397 by Act You XVIII of 1973 5 too this lays down that where a person who has been untended to and is undergoing imprisonment by an order under S 123 15 subsequently sentenced to imprisonment for an offence committed prior to the making of the order, the latter sentence shall commence immediately

The Chief Presidence Magistrate or the District Magistrate (S 125) may for sufficient reasons to be recorded in writing cancel any bond executed under this Chapter by order of any Migistrate not superior to his Court, and such Magistrate can also order the discharge of any person impresoned by order of any such Magistrate for failing to give security or by can reduce the amount of the security or the number of the sureties

Sub-section (33) now requires a reference to be made in respect of all the persons in a case though security for a period exceeding one year may have

i Nakhi I al Jira i O Fmn I I R 7 Cel Cel Ji na Sineh i Q Fmp I L R 23 Cel 193 Q Fmj i Mona Puna I I R 6 Bom 66 Q Fmp ( Mutasaddi Lal I L. R 24 Mi 195

TOOMIN Rab Neway I I R 1 Lah 612 In re Hoja Singh I I R 21 Cal 155 K Fmp n Katimuldin Beg I I R 23 Mt. 122

Minied M. Sardar i Pmp I I R 50 Cal 9/9

RAT VIII SEC 124

been demanded in the case of one person only. This obvintes the possibility of conflicting decisions in the same case.

Sub-section (3B) enable references under the section to be transferred to Assistant Sections Judges regarding whose dealing with them there was heretofore some doubt

Sub section (6)

The Magistrite no longer has a discretion as to the Lind of imprisonment in default where proceedings have been taken under S 108 or S 109 (Act VVIII of 193 S 21). The imprisonment must be simple in these cases. Why the Legislature has drawn a distinction in this matter between S 109 and S 110 is not clear.

- 124 (1) Whenever the District Magistrate or a Chief Presi Power to release per dency Magistrate is of opinion that any person supersoned for imprisoned for failing to give security under failing to give security this Chapter * * * may be released without havard to the community or to my other person, he may order such person to be discharged
- (2) Whenever my person has been unpresented for failing to give security under this Chapter, the Chief Presidency or District Magistrate may (unless the order has been made by some Court superior to his own) make an order reducing the amount of the security or the number of surches or the time for which security has been required
- (3) An order under sub-section (1) may direct the discharge of such person either without conditions or upon any conditions which such person accepts

Provided that any condition imposed shall cease to be operative when the period for which such person was oldered to give security has expired

- (4) The Local Government may prescribe the conditions upon which a conditional discharge may be made
- (5) If any condition upon which any such person has been discharged is, in the opinion of the District Magistrato or Chief Presidency Magistrate by whom the order of discharge was made or of his successor, not fulfilled, he may cancel the same
- (6) When a conditional order of discharge has been cancelled under sub section (5), such person may be arrested by any policeofficer without warrant, and shall thereupon be produced before the District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate

Unless such person then gives security in accordance with the terms of the original order for the unexpired portion of the term for which he was in the first instance committed or orde to be detained (such pointion being deemed to be a period equal to the period between the date of the breach of the conditions of discharge and the date on which, except for such conditional discharge, he would have been entitled to release), the District Magistrate of Chief Presidency Magistrate may remaind such person to prison to undergo such unexpired portion

A person remanded to prison under this sub-section shall, subject to the provisions of section 122 be released at any time on giving security in accordance with the terms of the original order for the unexpired portion afores ud to the Court of Magistrate by whom such order was made or to its or his successor

55 124 and 125 impo e gre t responsibilities on a District Magistrate and Chief Presidency Vigistr te in respect of bords for keeping the peace or good behaviour Such superior \1 Listrates are empowered for sufficient reasons to be recorded in writing to neel such a bond (S 123) if it has been executed by order of a Court not superior to his Court and if faling to give security ordered by such a Migistrate any pers n imprisoned such superior Magistrate may order his discharge or he may reduce the terms of the order so as to enable the person against whom it has been made to comply with it (S 124) The Section has been amended in some import in respects by Act No VIII of 1923 S 22 Lornierly in cases of security required by the Court of Session or the High Court the District Magistrate could not order discharge under sub-section (1), he had to report the case to those Courts who then had discretion to order the discharge There is now no such restriction on the power of the District Magistrate, the amendment made recognises him as the chief authority responsible for the peace and good order of his district. Sub section (2) however has remained unchanged Sub sections (3) (4) (5) and (6) are new They provide that an order of discharge under sub section (1) may be conditional enable the conditions to be prescribed by the Local Government and lay down the consequences of a breach of the conditions The second paragraph of sub-section (6) is important A breach of the conditions imposed does not involve commitment to prison for a period equiv lent to the remainder of the sentence. The sentence of imprisonment is deemed to continue to run from the time of discharge up to the date of the breach of the conditions. The intent on apparently is that the period for which security is demanded is not in any case to be extended by the operation of this section and therefore the Courts would probably hold that where there was an interval between the date of the rearrest under sub section (6) and the date of the order remanding to prison, the unexpired portion will begin to run from the date of the re arrest, () the energouse 0.5 377 of the Code. The principle appears to be that the object of Chapter VIII being to secure the good behaviour of a person for i specified period that object is achieved if the person is during that period undergoing imprisonment for a substantive offence or is otherwise not at liberty

An order for security would be passed by such Courts for keeping the peace ifter a person has been connicted of one of the offences mentioned in S 106 or for good behaviour or by a High Court on a reference made under S 123 by a Presidency Magistrate

See Sch. V (15) for the form of a warrant to discharge a person imprisoned on failure to give security

If any Majistrate, not being empowered by law in that behalf, discharges a person lawfully bound down to be of good behaviour, his proceedings are void [S 530 6]

SE S 125 126 The Chief Presidency of District Magistrate may, at 125 any time for sufficient reasons to be recorded in writing cancel any bond for keeping the perce or lor good behavious executed under this Chapter by order of any Court in his district not superior to his Court

Power of

Magistrate to cancel any bond for keeping the peace or good behaviour

In respect to the cincellation of a borid for keeping the peace or for good behaviour Prisidence Mightrins are regarded is inferior or subordinate to the Chief Prisidence Magistrate

The consellation of a b nd has contemplated would be on the ground that it was no longer necessire 5 125 supplements 5 124 which enables a Court or Magistrie t dail with the essent of eperson impresented on future to give security. while a 125 mables a competent Magistrate to a meet the bond atself when the pers n may not be under such impris nment

1 Magistrate connot under 5 125 concel a band given by a surety on the ground that he is an unfit person be sust he reald exercise no control over the p rson bound over 1 The Cikuti 1 High Court has held that the terms of 5 125 ire sufficientiv wide to enable a Vingt-Frite to a most a bond even on the ground that on the evidence it ought not to have been taken. There is nothing in limit his power to cases in which something has occurred subsequent to the execution of the bond which makes the bond no longer necessirs and the Madras High Court has also expressed the same opinion 3 But the Allahabad High Court has held that if the order requiring a bond was wrong the Magistrate should refer the case to the High Court as a Court of Revision & This case was later considered by a Bench of the s me Court, which held that an application to the District Magistrate to exercise his powers under S 123 cannot be regarded in the same light as an appeal, and the Vingistrate's order thereon would not be utilated by the fact alone that the applicants had not been heard Semble that on an application for revision of a security order the High Court should not refuse to interfere solely on the ground that application had not first been made to the District Magistrate under 5 125 8

The law is now amended gives the right of appeal in every case of security for good behaviour, and the exercise of this right will enable the appellate Court to deal with such a case (see 5 406)

If a Magistrate, not being empowered by law in this behalf, cancels a bond to keep the peace, his proceedings are void IS 530 (1) 1

126 (1) Any surety for the peaceable conduct or good behaviour of another person may at any time apply Di chage of urete, Di chage of urete, to a Piesidency Magistrate, District Magis-tiate, Sub-divisional Magistrate of Magistrate of the first class to cancel any bond executed under this Chapter within the local limits of his jurisdiction

(2) On such application being made, the Magistrate shall

<sup>1</sup> lmp: Fakhrudati Khan I l R 33 AB 62; Nabu Sridar I L R 34 CaI i FB (80) ir CaI W N 25 this overniling li pa de clendra I l R 34 CaI i FB (80) ir CaI W N 25 this overniling li pa de clendra I l R 34 CaI i FB (80) ir CaI W N 860 Panchi o Gari I L R 27 CaI 455 (8) 6 CaI W N 201
1 Nata Gowd I L R 37 Mad 125 l H
1 Bandrai Das I l R 35 AB, 103 Emp v Shankar LaI I L R 41 AB 641
Nizamoddia Khan I L R 44 AB 644
1 Lmp v Sits Ram I L R 39 AB, 466

issue his summons of warrant, as he thinks fit, requiring the person for whom such surety is bound to appear or to be brought before him

126A When a purson for whose appearance a warrant or secunty for unexpired sub-section (3) of section 122 or under section 126, sub-section (2) appears or is brought before him, the Magistrate shall cancel the bond executed by such person and shall order such person to give, for the unexpired portion of the term of such bond, fired, security of the same description as the original security. Every such order shall, for the purposes of sections 121, 123, and 124, be deemed to be an order made under section 106 or section 118, as the case may be

S 126 A is new, it is merely in elaboration of former sub-section (3) of S 126, so is to provide a procedure for the case where the Magistrate takes step to reject on the ground of unfitness is surely previously accepted. If the Magistrate is satisfied of the unfitness of the surety or where in application is made by a surely under S 126 (1) the Magistrate has no option but must cancel the bond, he will not however do so until the person bound over his appeared before him.

CHAPTER IX

Uniawful Assemblies

Assembly to disperse on command of Magis trate or police officer of any assembly of five or more persons likely to cause a disturbance of the public peace, to such assembly to disperse accordingly.

(2) This section applies also to the police in the town of Calculta

Police-officers superior in rink to in officer in charge of a police station may exercise the same powers, throughout the local or to which they are appointed, is now be exercised by such officer within the limits of his station (S. SSI.)

is not be exercised by such officer within the limits of his station (S 551).

A police-officer in charge of a patrol boot has no authority to act under this Chapter, and no sanction is therefore necessary under S 132 for his prosecution for firing on an unlawful assembly in order to disperse it 1.

An assembly of five or more persons is designated an "unlawful assembly," if the common object of the persons composing that assembly is—

First—To overawe by criminal force, or show of eriminal force the Legislatice or Executive Government of India or the Government of any Presidency or any Lieuten in Governor, or any public serv int in the exercise of the lawful power of such public servant, or

Second -To resist the execution of any law or of any legal process, or

<sup>1</sup> Muhammad Yunus v 1 mp . 1 1 R 50 Cal . 318

Third—To commit any mischief or criminal trespass, or other offence, or Fourth—By means of criminal force, or show of criminal force, to any person, to take or obtain passession of any property or deprive any person of the enjoyment of a right of way or of the use of water, or other incorporcal right of which he is in possession or enjoyment, or to enforce any right or supposed right, or Fifth—By means of criminal force, or show of criminal force to compel any person to do what he is not legally bound to do or to omit to do what he is legally person to do what he is not legally bound to do or to omit to do what he is legally bound to do

Fyplanation — In assemble, which was not unlawful when it assembled, may subsequently become a lawful assembly [5 44, Penal Code, and S 4 (2) of this Code]

In person who being aware of facts which render any assembly an unlawful assembly, intentionally joins that assembly, or continues in it, is said to be a member of an unlawful assembly (5 142)

The offence of being a member of an unlawful assembly is a cognizable offence, and, therefore, under S 53 of this Code am police-officer may, without orders from a Magistatic and without a warrant, arrest any person who is concerned in such offence or against whom a complaint has been made, or credible information has been received or a reasonable suspicion exists of his having been a member of such assembly

Being a member of an unlawful assembly is an offence punishable with impresonment rigorous or simple for a term not exceeding six months, or with fine or with both ($\Chi_{13}$) and joining or continuing in an unlawful assembly, knowing that it has been commanded under $\Sigma_{27}$ of this Code to disperse, is punishable with impresonment ingorous or simple, for a term not exceeding two cares or with fine or with both $\Chi_{12}$ penal Code Both offences are buildie.

Whether an assembly is likely to ruse a disturbance of the public peace is necessarily a matter of spinion and the police-officer or Magistrate to whose discretion the law leaves the power of dispersing assembles must of course act on his own opinion. If his opinion is relevant the grounds upon which it is based are relevant also?

If any part of the country be no a disturbed or dangerous state, it is larghil for the Inspector General of Police with the sanction of the Local Government to be notified by proclamation in the Government Graette and in such other manner as the Local Government shall direct to employ any Police Porce in excess of the ordinary fixed complement to be quartered therein. The inhabitiants of that part of the country will be charged with the cost of such additional Police Porce, and the Magistrate of the distinct is to assess the proportion to be paid by them?

When it shall appear that any unlawful assembly, or not for disturbance of the peace his stale place, or may be resconsibly apprehended, and that the Police Force ordinarily employed for preserving the peace is not sufficient for its preservation, and for the protection of the inhabitants and the security of property in the place where such unlawful assembly or not, or disturbance of the peace fins occurred or is apprehended, it shall be lawful for any police-officer, not below the rank of Inspector, to apply to the neverst Magistrate to appoint as many of the residents of the neighbourhood as such police officer may require to not as special police-officers for such time and within such limits as he shall deem necessary, and the Magistrate to whom such application is made shall, unless he sees cause to the contrary, comply with the application?

Knowingly joining or continuing in an unlawful assembly likely to cause a disturbance of the public pence after such assembly fins been lawfully commanded to disperse is punishable with imprisonment for two years or fine or both [S. 145, Penal Code]. The assembly may be for lawful purposes, but it may excit such opposition as to be likely to cause a disturbance and for this reason it may be called upon to disperse. Refigious processions or meetings of the Solution Arms.

would be of this description <sup>1</sup> Where the assembly is not unlawful the maximum penalty is 6 months, (S 151 Pen il Code)

128 If, upon being so commanded, any such assembly upon disperse and disperse or if, without being so comdisperse manded, it conducts itself in such a manner as to show a determination not to disperse, any Magistrate or officer in charge of a police station whether within or without the presidency towns may proceed to disperse such assembly by force, and may require the assistance of any male person not being an officer or soldier in Her Majesty s Army or a volunteer enrolled under the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869, and acting as such, for the purpose of dispersing such assembly, and, if necessary, arresting and confining the persons who form put of it, in order to disperse such assembly or that they may be punished according to law

Firey person is bound to assist a Magistrate or police officer personally demanding his aid in the prevention or suppression of a breach of the peace—

The Indian Volunteers Act 1860 has been repealed by the Auxiliary Force Act 1920. Section 32 of the lattir Act law down that for the purposes of sections 128 190 and 191 of this Code all officers non commissioned officers and men liable to perform military service under the Act who have been appointed to a corps or unit shall be deemed to be officers non commissioned officers and soldiers respetively of His Majesty. Trim Every person enrolled under the Act is liable of perform military service after attaining the age of eighteen years but shall not be required to perform such service except (a) when called out with any portion of the Auxiliary Force India to text in support of the civil power or to provide existing founds or (b) when the partion of it. Auxiliary Force India to text in support of the civil power or to provide existing founds or (b) when the partion of it. Auxiliary Force India to text in support of the civil power or to provide a nan emergency by a Government notification or (c) when attached at his own request to an regular forces (vit to VIV) I 190 S. 7 and (8)

129 If any such assembly cannot be otherwise dispersed and if it is necessary for the public security that it should be dispersed the Magnetiate of who is present may cause it to be dispersed by military force

A Magistrate may also under such circumstances direct the arrest of any member of such assemble —(S 130)

Duty of officer commanding troops required any communication of any soldiers in Her Majestrate to disperse assembly

Aimy or of any volunteers enrolled under the

Anny or of any volunteers enrolled under the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869, to dispose such assembly by military force, and to arrest and confine such persons forming part of it as the Magistrate may direct, or as it may be necessary to arrest

Emp r Tucker 1 L R 7 Bom 42

and confine in order to disperse the assembly or to have them pumished according to law

(2) Every such officer shall obey such requisition in such niquiner as he thinks it, but in so doing he shall use as little force, and do as little injury to person and property, as may be consistent with dispersing the assembly and arresting and detaining such persons.

As to the Indian Volunteers Act 1869 see note to S 128

- 131 When the public security is mainfestly endangered by power of commission- and such assembly, and when no Magistrate different seembly of the of Hei Majesty's Army may disperse such assembly by multary force, and may arrest and confine any persons forming part of it in order to disperse such assembly of that they may be punished according to law but if, while he is acting under this section it becomes macricable for him to comminicate with a Magistrate, he shall do so, and shall thenceforward obey the instructions of the Magistrate as to whether he shall not continue such action
- 132 No prosecution against my person for any act purportProtection against mg to be done under this Chapter shall be instituted in any Criminal Coint, except with the sanction of the Local Government, and—
  - (a) no Magistrate or police officer acting under this Chapter in good faith,
    - (b) no officer acting under section 131 in good faith,
    - (c) no person doing any act in good faith, in compliance with a requisition under section 128 or section 130, and
    - (d) no inferior officer, soldier, or volunteer doing any act in obedience to any order which he was bound to obey.

shall be deemed to have thereby committed an offence.

Provided that no such prosecution shall be instituted in any Criminal Coint against any officer or solder in His Majesty's Aims except with the sanction of the Governor General in Conneil.

A prosecution without sanction would be bad. It is not saved by section 537.

Until this section was amended by the Devolution Act, NNVIII of 1020, sanction of the Governor General in Council was required for all prosecution such as are referred to in this section.

would be of this description. Where the assembly is not unlawful the maximum penalty is 6 months, (S. 151. Penal Code)

128 If, upon being so commanded, any such assembly use of civil force to does not disperse, or if, without being so commanded, it conducts itself in such a manner as to show a determination not to disperse any Magistrate or officer in charge of a police station, whether within or without the presidency-towns may proceed to disperse such assembly by force, and may require the assistance of any male person, not being an officer or soldier in Hei Majesty's Aimy or a volunteer enrolled under the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869, and acting as such, for the purpose of dispersing such assembly, and, if necessary, arresting and confining the persons who form part of it, in order to disperse such assembly or that they may be punished according to law

Fiery person is bound to assist a Magistrate or police officer personally distinct and in the prevention or suppression of a breach of the peace—
(S. 43)

- The Ind in Volunteers Act 1860 has been repealed by the Auxiliary Force Act 1971 Section 37 of the Inter Act Isas down that, for the purposes of extense 188 100 and 101 of this Code all officers non commissioned officers and men hable to perform military service under the Act who have been appointed to a corps or must shall be deemed to be officers non commissioned officers and soldiers respectively of His Myesty a Army Deery person enrolled under the Act who have been appointed to a corps or perform military service after alluming the age of eighteen years but shall not be required to perform such service except (a) when called out with any portion of the Auxiliary Force had to extend the support of the civil power, or to provide extent it quards or (b) when the portion of the Auxiliary Force has been embodied in an emergency of the Covernment indifficution or (c) when attached at his own request 0 and regular forces (Act No All No figure Sec 7) and 18)
  - 129 If any such assembly cannot be otherwise dispersed, and if it is necessary for the public security that highest rank who is present may cause it to be dispersed by military force
  - ). Unfastrate may also under such circumstances direct the arrest of any member of such assembly -(S-130)
  - Duy of officer commands to observe used a seembly by multi-uniform to disperse and mandang toops required by Magnitarie to disperse assembly and command of any soldiers in Her Majesty's Auny or of any volunteers carolled under the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869 to disperse such assembly by mil-

Indian Volunteers Act, 1869 to disperse such assembly by military force, and to arrest and confine such persons forming part of it as the Magistrate may direct, or as it may be necessary to arrest and confine in order to dispers, the issembly or to have them pumshed according to his

<sup>1</sup> Emp : Tucker I L R 7 Bom 42

- (2) Exery such officer shall obey such requisition in such nature as he thinks fit but in so doing he shall use is little force, and do is little input to person and property as may be consistent with dispersing the is embly and directing and detain may such persons.
  - A toth India Victor At is cent t Sis
- Power of commussion and which is seembly and which no Magistrate of mid-stay officers to the communicated with any officers of the communicated with any commissioned officers as sembly by multiary force and may arrest and confino any persons forming part of it in order to disperse such assembly of that they may be punished according to law but if while he is a triping under this section at Lecomes participle for him to communicate with a Magistrati he shall do so and shall thence forward obey the instructions of the Magistrate as to whether he shall or stall not communicate hardon.
  - 132 No pilo cention against my person for any act purport-Protect on against proceed on for action of the dominated this Chapter shall be just fixed in my Criminal Count except with the sanction of the Local Government and—
    - (a) no Migistrate or police officer retring under this Chapter in good futli
      - (b) no officer acting under section 131 in good furth
      - (c) no person doing int act in good futh an compliance with a requisition under section 128 or section 130,
      - (d) no inferior officer soldier or volunteer doing any net in obedience to any order which he was bound to obey
    - shall be deemed to have thereby committed an offence

Provided that no such prosecution shall be instituted in any Criminal Court as unit any officer or soldier in His Majesty's Army except with the sanction of the Governor General in Council

A prosecution without sanct on vould be bad. It is not saied by section 53**
Until this siction volumed d by the Dodution let NNNIII of 110
sinction of the Golernor Gener 1 in Council was required for all prosecution such as re-referred to in 11 s section.

The General Clauses Act (\ of 1897), S 3 (20), declares that a thing shall be deemed to be done in 'good faith' when it is in fact done honestly, whether it is done negligently or not But set S 3, Penal Code, which under the last part of S 4 of this Code, upplies It defines that 'nothing is said to be done or behaved in good faith which is done or behaved without due care and attention'

An assembly become in unfixful assembly when its members did not disperse on being called upon to do so. It was then the duty of the Police to arrest those who appeared to be the leiders of the assembly and to see what effect his had on the others. The Police did not do so, nor was any warning given that, if these persons did not desist from the set complained of, they would be fired on It was consequently held that neither the officer in charke of the Police nor the constable who fired at his order acted in good faith for neither of them believed that it was necessary for the public security to disperse such an issembly by firing on them, and they were incordingly convected of murder?

CHAPTER X

PUBLIC NUISANCES

Many of the matters which can be dealt with under this chapter may form the subject of a summary order S 144 provided that immediate precinion or speedy remedy is found to be desirable, but it should be noted that any order under S 144 will ordinarily first effect for only two months. If a Magistrate have acted under S 134 will ordinarily first effect for only two months. If a Magistrate have provides for immediate action, for S 142 gives a Magistrate power to issue an injunction forthwith to any person against whom an order inder S 133 may have been passed if he considers that immediate measures should be taken to present imminent durger or injury of a serious kind to the public, and on disolabelience of such injunction he may himself act. Probably the proceedings under the order under S 133 mould continue, and the operation of the impunction would depend upon the final order passed after the party concerned has shown cause (S 137), or the report of the jure ippointed his Leen and (S 1390)

It should be noted that this Chapter is fixeded Pentic Aussances, and that S 133 under which certain Majorithes are empowered to act states as grounds for their action the existence of certain conditions all of which affect the public, not individuals alone

Where a well adjoining a road is dangerous to the public as well as to the existence of the road in order under this Chapter can direct the construction of such works only as incincessaris for the safety of the public and not of works necessaris for the safety of the road?

Import int incidences have been made in this Chapter by the amending Act VIII of 1023 So 24 of They were elected degreed to remove the difficulties which have meen in proceedings for the removal of public museances, and the Lagistature fix which is dopted the interpretation of the law almost universally laid down by the High Courts

The most important mitter in which the original Code was silent was the juxedime talk idopted by the Masteria when the person on whom notice was based under S 133 type red, and denied the existince of any public right in the use of an way inter, channel are ple Though some of the rulings have been run level clash to the introduction of the new S 1314, yet it is useful to refer to them as in many cases important principles have been laid down which will still apple for the guilance of the substitute Courts faced with a dispute of this nature. The Courts have held that, in such a case, it was the duty of the Magistrate before taking further proceedings to determine whether the objection is bond fide or male ments to present further action on his part ! He ought not to go further and deals whether the title sel up does or does not exist, for that is a matter for the Civil Court 2. The matter is not one that a jury is competent to consider and then fire it should not be sent to the jury for their consideration and report 3. The function of n jury is to consider and report whether the order of the Magistrate and r S 133 is reasonable and proper (S 139). If the dispute is bona fde (and thus must be found by the Magistrate) no order under S 133 could be presed or made absolute until the public right of way had been estab lished by proceedings civil or criminal. That was held in a case decided under the Code of 187. I but the Code of 1882 and the present Code of 1898 do not in S 147 as in S 532 the cerresponding sects n of the Code of 1872, give a Criminal Court power to deal with such a matter. If notwithstanding such an objection a Magistrate should appoint a pure. In his order would not be reasonable and proper, because at the outset of their inquire, the jury would be met by the object. tion that the was was private and not public property. His reference to a jury could be of no effect fir ill proceedings taken on it would be voids although no ervil suit will lie to set asule an order under this Chapter [5 133 (2)] 6 Still a person may obtain a declaratory decree that he is owner of the land as against any person, who may claim to use it as a public way ?

<sup>1</sup> Q Imp r Sulda Nak I I R 2t Mad 41 1 Itti Singh 8 W R Cr 37 May la Gurusah r Imp I I R 31 Mad 280

It was further held that if such a dispute were found to be bond fide and not a pretext to oust jurisdiction the Magistrate should make no order he should allow an opportunity for the determination of the matter in the Civil Court ! If within a reasonable time after the Magistrate had stayed proceedings, the person objecting d.d. not assert or failed to establish his right in the Civil Court the Magistrate might proceed. The Magistrate however should not stay proceedings merely because he found that the objection was bone fide without first finding that frima facie it is a public way but if he found on evidence tal en that it is not a public way, he should re-call his order

The fact that a Magistrate takes action under $ 133 is prima facie sufficient to show that he considers that the place from which he orders an obstruction to be removed is a public thoroughfare or place. If no such objection was raised, and it was found that the order was reasonable and proper, the High Court would not interfere on revision 10 The new section 1391, introduced by 1ct XVIII of 1923 S 26, non lays down a procedure for the guidance of Magistrates in cases in which denial is made of the existence of any public right in respect of a way river, channel or place regarding which a conditional order has been made under S 133 On the appearance of the person igainst whom the order is made the Magistrate is required at once to question him as to whether he denies the existence of a public right. If the existence of a public right is not denied no denial can be trused in the course of the subsequent proceedings and the Magistrate will then proceed to ascert in whether the person intends to show cluse or to apply for the appointment of a jury of the existence of a public right is denied the Magistrate is required forthwith to inquire into the matter and if as a result of such inquiry the Vlagistrate finds that there is reliable evidence in support of the denial he must stry the proceedings until the question of the existence of such right has been decided by a competent Civil Court The law does not say how long the pro ceed age are to be staved but presumably the Courts will continue to hold that if within a reasonable time after proceedings have been stayed the person upon whose denial the Magistrate has found that there is reasonable evidence against the existence of a public right does not take steps to establish his rights in the Civil Court the M gistrate my proceed ! If the Magistrate finds that there is no reliable evidence in support of the denial lie will proceed with the case and the Magistrate's finding on the question of the existence of a public right will be final so far as the proceedings under this Chapter are concerned and the person concerned will not be permitted at nov subsequent stage of the proceedings to raise again his dentil of the existence of a public right. In no case will the question of the existence of a public right be inquired into by a jury appointed under S 138 As hitherto the Wagi trute will not be required to stry proceedings merely because he finds that in objection rused is bond fide. There must be at least a princi facie case that no public right exists

Rockey Pyarilal 3 B L R App 43 (SC) 11 W R Civil 434 Buroda Pershad

In the Presidency of Bomb is the rights over all public roads are vested in the Government 2 In municipalities in Bengal to which the Municipal Act of 1884 has been extended all roads are vested in and belong to the Commissioners also in the Town of Calcutta 4 In Midras ill public streets in any municipality to which the Madras District Municipalities Act 1020 has been extended are vest d in and belong to the Municipal Council unless specially excluded by notification of the Govern r in Council and elsewhere in the Piesid ney of Madras situate beyond the limits of the City of Madras all public roads or streets are vested in the Local Board unless specially schilded is just mentioned and there is a similar provision in regard to the City of Madras ?

The jury must be appointed strictly in accordance with $ 138 that is to $45 the fareman and one half of the remaining members must be nominated by the Magistrate himself and the other members by the person who may have applied for the jury that is by the person again t whom the order under S 133 Was unde The Viguetrate cannot nomin its or appoint as members of the jury per cons nominited by the person at whose instance le has talen action. The Mag strite must exercise his own independent discretion in the matter. He can not on the object n of one of the parties concerned and without notice to the other parts cincil the appointment of a puror even though such juror be one of h sown noming n*

It is not ill gal on the part of the Was strate to enquire from the applicant th names of rejectable and independent inhabitants of the neighbourhood who would be willing to serve on the jury but the Vinge-trate should see that he does not ppoint friends or partisans of the applicant. The criterion is whether the person at whose instigntion the proceedings were instituted was allowed to exercise rights not conferred upon him by line is if he were a party to the hitigation 1

I lucklee Virain i Rimkumar I L R 15 Cil 364 Belat Ali i Abdul Rahim 8 C W N 143

Filem Act V of 1879 # 37 Secretary of State & Jethabhai I L R 17 Bom 293

The report of the jury must be the result of a consultation amongst all its members who must be associated together in considering the matter? They must all report even though some of them may desent from the verdict of the Majority I final verdict ought not to be delivered in a case in which the jurors differ, until by consultation and discussion on the points on which they differ they have endeavoured to arrive t in un inimons judgment for by that means only they can materially assist one mother in irriving at a just decision. A time should be fixed fir delivery of the report [S 138 (1) (c)] which can be extended if necessary and if no report is submitted within such time the Magistrate may pass such orders is he thinks fit ($ 141)

(1) Whenever a District Magistrate, a Sub-divisional Conditional order for Magistrate of a Magistrate of the first class considers, on receiving a police-report or other removal of nuisance information and no taking such evidence (if any) as he thinks fit, that any unlawful obstruction or nuisance should be removed from any way, liver or channel which is of may be lawfully used by the public, or from any public place, or that the conduct of any trade or occupation, or the keeping of any goods or merchandise, is injurious to the health or physical comfort of the community, and that in consequence such trade or occupation should be probibited or regulated or such goods or merchandise should be removed or the keeping thereof regulated, ٥r that the construction of any building, or the disposal of any substance, as likely to occasion conflagration or explosion, should be prevented or stopped, or that any building, tent or structure, or any tree is in such a condition that it is likely to fall and thereby cause minis to persons hving or carrying on business in the neighbourhood or passing by and that in consequence the removal, repair or support of such building, tent or structure, or the removal or support of such free, 15 necessary, or that any tank, well or exervation adjreent to any such way or public place should be fenced in such manner as to prevent danger arising to the public, or that any dangerous animal should be destroyed, confined or otherwise disposed of,

<sup>1</sup> Parzand Ah v Hishim th I L R 37 till 26
Thepin Behari Sen Cal H C Jan 25 1883, see also Abelat Chunder Ghose r Tarichuri O M R Ctwil 250. ....

<sup>**</sup>Durga Churn Dist Stshi Bhavan, I I R 13 Cul 2-5 Petamber Juju r Nassa **Durga Churn Dist Stshi Bhavan, I I R 13 Cul 2-5 Petamber Juju r Nassa ruddi 25 W R Cr 4 Khelit Chunder Ghoe r Iara Churn 6 W R., Livil, 269, Q I mp v khusth Run, I L R 18 M 158

such Magistrate may make a conditional order requiring the person causing such obstruction or musance, or carrying on such trade or occupation, or keeping any such goods or merchandise, or owning, possessing or controlling such building, tent, structure, substance, tank, well or excavation, or owning or posessing such animal or tree, within a time to be fixed in the order.

to remove such obstruction or musance; or to desist from carrying on, or to remove or regulate in such manner as may be directed, such trade or occupation, or to remove such goods or merchandise, or to regulate the keeping thereof in such manner as may be directed; or to prevent or stop the election of, or to lemove, lepair of support, such building, tent or structure, or to remove or support such tree, or to alter the disposal of such substance, or to fence such tank, well or execution, as the case may be; or to destroy, confine or dispose of such dangerous animal in the manner provided in the said order .

or, if he objects so to do.

to appear before lumself or some other Magistrate of the first or second class, at a time and place to be fixed by the order, and move to have the order set aside or modified in the manner hereinafter provided

(2) No order duly made by a Magistrate under this section shall be called in question in any Civil Court

Explanation -A 'public place' includes also property belonging to the State, camping grounds and grounds left inoccupied for sanitary or recreitive nurposes

By the intendment made in this section by Act No AVIII of 1123, 5, 24, all first class Magistrates are now empowered to take action under this section, and not only such first class Wagistrates as were specially empowered by the

Local Government

Though the whole section has been redrafted and re-enacted the important changes are few. The words "the conduct of any trade or occupation" have been substituted for the words, any trade or occupation. The Labore 1180 Court his hold this where the Operation was to the mode in While the occupation. of manufacturing bricks was carried on, and not to the occupation itself, S. 133 did not apply 1 it would now probably be held otherwise. Dangerous tents, structures and trees are now provided against, as also diagerous animals

Termerk terious tets, cutrial and local, regulting municipalities, enabled Municipal authorities to use the power conferred by this Chapter on Magistrates, but later Municipal test now give ad hoc power to deal with public nutrances without reference to the Code

It kulthanle treun l I it a Lah mg

If any Virgistrate, not being duly empowered by Iaw in that behalf, makes an order under S 133, his proceedings shall be void [S 530 (g)]

It has been held that if the Ungistrate has, as Chairman of a Local Board already taken action in the matter be is under $ 350 past barred from proceeding under $ 133 This case was heard exparte and it was not brought to the notice of the Court that 5 336 applies only to enquiries and trials relating to the commission of such offences and ilso to appeals

But though proceedings can be taken under 5 133 only by a District Magis trate, a Subdivi ional Migistrat or a specially empowered Magistrate of the first class any such Magistrate can order the person against whom a conditional order has been made to uppear before a Magistrate of the first or second class who will have the conduct of all subsequent proceedings 2. See note under S 135 from the terms of the second clause the massance would probably be held to be a public nuisance from the nature of the place in which it is committed S 268 Penal Code, declares that a per on is guilty of a public nuisance who does any act or is guilty of an illeral omission which causes any common injury danger, or innovence to the public or to the people in general who dwell or occupy property in the vicinity or which must necessarily cause injury, obstruction danger or annex ince to persons who may have occasion to use any public right A common nuisance is not excused on the ground that it causes some con venience or advantage. Public musances causing or likely to cause certain dangerous consequences are punishable under various sections of the Penal Code, # and when not made so specially punish ble re generally punish ble under section 200 with fine not exceeding two hundred rupees ORDER

Lorms of order under S 133 are given in Sch V to VI The order should be clear in its terms so that the person to whom it is directed should be able to learn what he is required to do for the purpose of compliant with it. Where it was indefinite it was set aside on revision $

In a proceeding under S 133 ignost several persons alleging various acts of unlawful obstruction to a public was the initial and final orders must state accurately the specific obstruction caused by each, and which he is required to remove unless it is alleged that all of them are jointly responsible for all the obstruction a An order under S 133 cannot even by consent of parties, be based upon information gathered at a local inquiry. A final order proceeding on ground, not covered by the conditional order issued is illegal 5 S 133 relates to in existing state of affurs and not to the possibility of future results

An order under S 133 cannot be unconditional so an order directing a person to do a certain thing within a certain time and threatening him with certain penalties on disobedience thereof is illegal 6 It must be clearly and unequivocably expressed. If it is ambiguous and capable of two interpretations and disobedience thereof is made the subject of a criminal prosecution, the interpretation most favourable to the accused must be ido; ted 1 The order should be directed to some person or persons who have been found to have brought themselves within S 133 and under the definition of person in S 11, Penal Code, it may be directed to any company or association or body of persons whether incorporated or not. The order cannot be a general order addressed to the public. Such an order is however specially provided for in a matter dealt with under 5 144

I Rajani Kant Panya 10 Cal L ] 484 In re viras mha I L R 9 Mad on Preomath Dev : Gobordhone I L R 9 Ramohan Karmiları Emp I L R 44 Cal 61 25 Cal 278 Al 78
4 Kuli Mohan Kor II Cal I J 114
5 (okul Christ 1 Imp 1 I R 1 Lah 163
1 Fran 1 Broj 1 kuri Ros Chowdhuri I I R 9 Cul (3)
1 Fran 1 Broj 2 kuri O Frap I I R 10 Cul (3)
See s 144 (3)

<sup>1</sup> Larbutty Churn Aich t Q Fmp I I R 10 Cal a

The Magnetaux should be careful to male his order comply with one of the projection of for instance order the removal of a bund because it diminishes the supply of water to lower lands? (See however S. 430. Penal. Code, regarding the commission of mistelie by doing an act causing or I nown to be likely to cause diministion of the supply of water for agreeitheral purposes, &c.). In such a case, however if the erection of a band which lot cause a breach of the peace, he can pies in order under S. 141 or different parts its path to be recopered which leads to a public thoroughfure as there is public right of way over such pathway? Or can a Magnetize dorder the rimoval of in obstruction to a drain into which the sewage of certain premises fell unless it causes a musance in a public place?

Nor can a Magnetz to require extrain repurs to be made to a dwelling house because in his opinion at its likely to fall unless it is also likely to cause injury to the general public. Where the house stood in its own compound and at a distance from the public road at was held that the Wagnetz the was not competent to pass in order under S. 133 for its repuir and that consequently disobedience to that order which was not a legal order was not an offence under S. 188 Penil Code.

The most commen case in which in order under S 133 is passed relates to the removal of in obstruction to a public with See note at the head of this Chapter.

No length of time creates a prescriptive right to commit a public nuisance. So what is not in the first instance a public nuisance may become one

But it has also been held that in order under $\circ{3}{33}$ prohibiting the use of an old public burning that is a public mustance is not having, for it is highly unresonable and unjust to deprice the people of the country of a right of which this are so very tenacous and which entails the performance of a senious duty, simply because it cut als annovance and discomfort to a smiller community in the righburnhood $\frac{4}{4}$ the question whether this burning ghat found to be a public nois tree should not be removed to another locality seems not to have been considered.

5 133 has been applied to the removal of a slaughter house, which had been long used without objection, but was found to be a pursuince dangerous to the

he ilth of the community?

Withough a crimation ground properly kept may not be a public mustice still if it be light and used in a minure to be offensive or a source of injury danger or min vince to the public in general who has in its vicinity it may be

de ilt with under 5 133

An order my be prised under 5 133 directing the removal of a band across 7 error which by rusing the depth of water in the river has made it unfordable on foot and for cirts. The band had cuised in impostifiable obstruction to the public in [axful engoinent of a right of way. S. 147 seems to provide for such a case of the depth between the printers is likely to cuise a braich of the page.

t Emp i Prayag Singh I I R o'Cal 103 In re Maharan er Shri Jaswatsang I L R - 2 Bom | 088 | Ram Mular Saha 13 Cal W \ 108

<sup>7</sup> B 1 R

Then Commers Sub Cal a Mahomed Ma 7 B L R 481 (SC) 16 W R Cr 6

See also 7 B 1 R 307

† In Irx Ath Binerjee I 1 R 45 (al 425 (SC) 2 (al W \ 11) explaining Samma tha littu I U R 19 Wil 4/4 See also Sheo Surn Lal 12 (al W \ 70 † Zufer Awat I L R 4, 31 d 9 g)

Houses occupied by prostrintes on the public road cannot be said to affect the physical confort of the community so as to justify an order under S 133 for their removal?

Sub-section 2

The reason of this has been thus explained 2

"The object of the Act is to enable the Magistria to make an order speedily, and speedily in earth that order into execution. It would be mere infling with the Act, if, when it says that no action shall be entertuned by any Court in respect of anything necessarily or resconshly done to give effect to an order of this nature we should hold that the Civil Court could interfere to restrain the Magistria from gaing effect to his order at all, for that is what is really sought to be done by such a suit. If the Magistriae had carried it into effect, no suit could have been brought against him or against any one acting under his order, and yet it is contended that a suit will be to prevent him from earrying his order into effect."

The provisions of the law are stringent, because the intention is to create facilities for conditional orders, which Unjustrates are authorised to pass under this Chapter, in order to prevent danger to the public, becoming final without needless delay, and thereby to ensure public safety a

If an order under $\Sigma_{133}$ is within the jurisdiction of the Magistrate making it disobedience thereto is punishable under $\Sigma_{183}$ Penal Code on a complaint made by, or with the sanction of, such Magistrate or of some Magistrate to whom he is subordinate ($\Sigma_{195}$) but on proof that such order is illegal by reason of its being beyond the jurisdiction of such Magistrate, a conviction and sentence for such offence is illegal, and will be set aside 4

But an irregularity, such as a failure to serve the order as required by S 134, will not vitrue a conviction and sentence under S 188 Penal Code, if it is shown that the person to whom it was directed had otherwise become informed that it had been made and that notwithstanding this he has wilfully disobered it?

- 134 (1) The order shall, if practicable, be served on the Service or notification person against whom it is made, in manner of order herein provided for service of a summons
- (2) If such order cannot be so served, it shall be notified by proclamation, published in such manner as the Local Government may by rule direct, and a copy thereof shall be stuck up at such place or places as may be fittest for conveying the information to such person

Sections 69—74 relate to the service of summons. See especially S 69 (3) for the manner of service if the "person" to be served is an incorporated company or other body corporate. As the matter is one in which the Magistrate has acted of his own motion at seems distillate whether a fee for summons would rected of his own motion it seems drubtful whether a fee for summons would be charge-tible.

In Benger, proclamation under S 134 is to be made by best of drum at the place where the nursance to be absted or removed is situated that is to say when personal service is not practicable ?

1 WR FB 18

t Mozuffer Klat fa s Makan Das 1 L

, ,

9 R

The Magistrate should be careful to male his order comply with one of the conditions set out in S 133. He cannot act merels for the protection of private property as for instance, order the removal of a bund because it diminishes the supply of water to lower lands! (See however S 430, Penal Code, regarding the commission of mischief by doing an act a using or known to be likely to cruse diminution of the supply of water for agricultural purposes, &c) In such a case however if the erection of a build is likely to cause a breach of the peace, he can piss an order under S 144 or determine the right to use the water by proceedings taken under S 147 Vor can be order a private path to be re-opened which leads to a public thoroughline as there is public right of way over such pathway Nor cin a Vigistrite order the removal of in obstruction to a driin into which the sewage of certain premises fell unless it causes a nuisance in a public place 3

Nor can a Magistrate require certain repairs to be made to a dwelling house because in his opinion it is lifely to fall unless it is ilso tikely to cause injury to the general public. Where the house stood in its own compound and at a distance from the public road at was held that the Magistrate was not competent to pass in order under 5 133 for its repur and that consequently disobedience to that order which was not a legal order was not an offence under 5 189 Penal Code 4

the most a minon case in which in order under S 123 is passed relates to the removal of an obstruction to a public with Sec note at the head of this Ch upter

No length of time creates a pres riptive right to commit a public nuisance. So what is not in the first instance a public nuisance may become one 5

But it has also leen held that an order under $ 133 prohibiting the use of an old public burning that as a public nuisance is not lawful, for it is highly unre isonable and unjust to deprive the people of the country of a right of which they are so very tenacious and which entails the performance of a serious duty, simply because it entails annoy ince and discomfort to a smiller community in the neighbourhood 4 (The question whether this burning ghat found to be a public nuisince should not be remined to another locality seems not to have been considered )

S 133 has been applied to the removal of a slaughter house, which had been long used without objection but was found to be a nuisince dangerous to the health of the community ?

tithough a cremation ground projectly lept may not be a public nuisance still if it be lept and used in a manner to be offensive in a source of injury, danger or innosance to the public in general who live in its vicinity it may be dealt with under S 133 "

An order may be passed under 5 133 directing the removal of a bund neross a river which by rusing the depth of water in the river has made it unfordable on foot and for curis. The bund had caused in unjustifiable obstruction to the public in liviful enjoyment of a right of way " S 147 seems to provide for such a case if the dispute between the parties is likely to cause a breach of the peate

<sup>4</sup> Emp : Prayag Singh I I R 9 Cal 103 In re Maharana i Shri Jaswatsang I L R 2 Bom 988 Ram Autar Saha 13 Cal W \ 198

al a Mahomed Mar B L R

R 430 (SC) 16 W R Cr 6

CC 1507 D. I. R. 516

*In Ita A th Binerie 1.1 R. 25 Cal. 425 (S.C.) 2 Cal. W. N. 113 explaining 5 aminaths. Phil. 1.1 L. R. 19 Mad. 464

*See also Sheo Surn Lal. 12 Cal. W. N. 70

**Zalfer Avas D. I. L. R. 12 Cd. 1.90.

Houses occuped by pro-titutes on the public road cannot be said to affect the physical comfort of the community so as to justify an order under S 133 for their removal?

Sub-section 2

The reason of this has been thus explained 2

"The object of the Act is to enable the Ma, strik to male in order speedily and speedily to certi what order into execution. If would be mere trilling with the Act, if when it was that no ct on shall be entertained by any Court in respect of anything necessarily or recombile done to gave effect to in order of this nature we should hold that the Court could interfere to restrain the Vagastrate from going effect it has order at all for that is what is really sought to be done by such a suit. If the Vaga trute hid curried it into effect no suit could have been brought against him or agringly and one proceeding under his order and yet it is contended that a suit will be to prevent him from carrying his order into effort."

The provisions of the law are stringent because the intention is to create facilities for conditional orders which Ungistrates are authorised to pass under this Chapter in order to prevent danger to the public, becoming final without

needless delay and thereby to ensure public safety s

If an order under S 133 is within the jurisdiction of the Magistrate midung it disobedinence thereto is punishible under S 188 Penil Code on a compliant made by, or with the struction of such Magistrate or of some Magistrate whom he is subordinate (S 163) but on proof that such order is illegal by reason of its being beyond the jurisdiction of such Magistrate a conviction and sentence for such offence is illegal and will be set saide.

But an irregul rith such as a failure to sense the order as required by S 124 will not vitate as environe and sentence under S 188 Penal Code, if it shown that the person to whom it was directed had otherwise become informed that it had been made and that notwethstanding this he has wiffully designed.

obeyed it 5

- 134 (1) The order shall if pricticable be served on the Service or notification person against whom it is made, in manner of order herein provided for service of a summons
- (2) If such order cannot be so served it shall be notified by proclamation published in such manner as the Local Government may be rule direct and a copy thereof shall be stuck up at such place or places as may be fittest for conveying the information to such person.

Sections 69—74 relate to the service of summons. See especially S. 69 (3) for the manner of service if the person to be served is an incorporated company or other body corporat. As the matter is one in which the Magastrate has acted of his own motion it seems disability whether a fee for summons would be chargeable.

In Bendu proclamation under S 134 is to be made by beat of drum at the place where the nuisance to be abated or remmed is situated that is to say when personal service is not practicable ?

WR FB 18 fozuffer klalfa akan Bas I L

II P 245

9 13 1

Ř 14

In Bourn proclamation is to be made by notification published in the Bombry Government Grzette and in such local papers, if there be any, as the Magistrate issuing the proclamation thinks fit, and by beat of drum at the place where the order notified by the proclamation is to have effect.

135 The person against whom such order is made shall-

Person to whom o der i- addressed to obey or show caus or claim tury

- (a) perform, within the time and in the manner specified in the order, the act directed thereby, or
- (b) appear in accordance with such order and either show cause against the same, or apply to the Magistrate by whom it was made to appoint a jury to try whe they the same is responsible and proper

The words and in the manner are new

As to the procedure to be followed in the first place on the appearance of the person concerned before the Magistrate see S 139A post and note thereunder,

also the note at the beginning of this Chapter

A distinction is drawn between a case in which cause is shown and one in which an application is made for the appointment of a jury. In the former, if the appearance has been made in accordance with the order under S 133 (1) before a Magistrate who did not pass that order that Magistrate can deal with the case under S 137 that is, he can hear the case on cause shown, and evidence should be taken as in a summons case (S 137) But if application is made for a jury, it must be made to the Magistrate who present the order under 133 and it would seem that he alone is competent to deal with the case?

The law is still not very clear as to the procedure which should be followed by a person who has received a conditional order and who is directed thereby to appear before 'some other Magnitzate when he desires to apply for the appointment of a jury 5 135 requires him to appear before the Magnitzate who made the order, and he can therefor apparently ignore the order to appear before the other Magistrate

A Unjustrate made a condutional order under S 133 and when the party appeared to show cause sent the case with the consent of the parties to another Magnetarite for inquire and report, and on receipt of the report made the final order. This was an irregularity which stated the proceedings of

It is desirable that reasonable opportunity should be given to the parties proceeded against und r S 133 to show cause under S 135 (b) or adduce evidence

under S 137 (1)4

Many Julings as to the effect of the denial of the existence of a public right, whether or not combined with an application for the appointment of a jury are now rendered obsolete by the enactment of S. 130A. The law repeatedly laid down by the High Courts that a jury enmost try in objection based on the denial of a public right has now been emboded as a statutory law. The case law on the subject was thoroughly examined by the Calcutta High Court in Luckhee Narain Baneries v. Ram Aumar, 1. L. R. 15 Cal. 564.

If application is made for a jury, the Magistrate who passed the order under

<sup>1</sup> Bom Gaz 1901 Part I p 7,9 2 In re Narusamba I I R 0 Mid of 1 reonath Dey 1 L R 25 Cal 278 5 In re Katusampa I L R 47 Bom 89

Rum han Kumakarı Emp I L R 14 Cal 61

CHAP X SECS 136 137

S 133 is bound to appoint a jury in accordance with S 1381. If a jury be appointed the applicant is bound by their verdict."

The application for an order for the appointment of a jury should be written on a paper bearing a stamp of cight annas 3

If the Magistrate should under sub-section (2) of S 137 abstain from further proceedings on ground that the order under 5 133 is not reasonable and proper, no order for further inquiry can be passed as S 437 does not relate to such a case But this is no bar to fresh proceedings upon materials upon which prima facie the Magistrate could act 5

If such person does not perform such act or appear consequence of his and show cause or apply for the appointment failing to do so of a mry as required by section 135 he shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in that behalf in section 188 of the Indian Penal Code, and the order shall be made absolute

Service of the order must be proved before the order under S 133 is made absolute in consequence of the non appearance of the person to whom it is directed

If application is not made within the time specified, but is made before the order is made absolute the Magistrate is bound to take evidence as a basis for the order which he has made A mere inspection of the spot by the Magistrate is not sufficient. The proceedings must show that the case was one for his interference. When a statute directs anything to be done in a particular way, it includes in itself a negative the thirt it shall not be done otherwise a

Before proceedings can be taken under S 188 Penal Code for disobedience or non-compliance with an order which has been made absolute under Ss 136, 137 or S 139 the sanction or complaint of the Magistrate who passed the order or of some officer to whom he is subordinate that is to whom appeals against his orders ordinarily lie must be obtained ($ 195)

It is not competent to a person prosecuted under S 188 Penal Code for disobedience to an order made absolute with which he has failed to comply to go behind the order and show that it was an order which ought not to have been

The Magistrate, whose order may have been disobered, cannot hold the trial (S 487)

- (1) If he appears and shows cause against the order, 137 the Magistrate shall take the evidence in the Procedure where he appears to show cause matter as in a sommons-case
- (2) If the Magistrate is satisfied that the order is not reasonable and proper, no further proceedings shall be taken in the case
- (3) If the Magistrate is not so satisfied, the order shall be made absolute

In cases in which clion is I ting tallen to prevent obstruction nuisances or danger to the public in the use of any way, river, channel or place the first thing the Magistrate will do on the appearance before him of the person concerned will be to question him as to whether he denies the existence of any

I in re Motheor Chunder thas 2 Cat I R 500 Mad II Ct Pro Dec 6 1883 r 732 In re Lachman I L R 22 All 267 Weir 732

**Court Lees Vet (VII of 18.0) Sch II Art 1 (b)

**Stratth Roy : Annald 1 T R ... (*12 395 (*C.) 2 C21 W N 217 15th Chandra Chik-revart 5 CAI W N 1-1 1 to re Wisheday Sadvshiv Tilah 1 | R 14 180m 375

In BOMBIN proclamation is to be made by notification published in the Bombay Government Gazette and in such local papers, if there be any, as the Magis trate issuing the proclamation thinks fit, and by beat of drum at the place where the order notified by the proclamation is to have effect 1

135 The person against whom such order is made shall-

Person to whom o der addressed to obey or show caus or claum jury

- (a) perform, within the time and in the manner speci fied in the order the act directed thereby, or
- (b) appear in accordance with such order and either show cause against the same, or apply to the Magistrate by whom it was made to appoint a jury to try whe they the same is reasonable and proper

and in the manner are new

As to the procedure to be followed in the first place on the appearance of the person concerned before the Magistrate see S 139A post, and note thereunder,

also the note it the beginning of this Chapter

A distinction is drawn between a case in which cause is shown and one in which an application is made for the appointment of a jury In the former, if the appearance has been made in accordance with the order under S 133 (1) before a Magistrate who did not pass that order that Magistrate can deal with the case under S 137 that is he can hear the case on cause shown, and evidence should be taken as in a summons case (S 137) But if application is made for a jury, it must be made to the Magistrate who passed the order under $ 133, and it would seem that he alone is competent to deal with the case a

The law is still not very clear as to the procedure which should be followed by a person who lias received a conditional order and who is directed thereby to appear before some other Magistrate" when he desires to apply for the appointment of 1 jury 5 135 requires him to appear before the Magistrate who made the order and he can therefore apparently ignore the order to appear before the other Migistrate

A Magistrate made a conditional order under S 133 and when the party appeared to show cause sent the case with the consent of the parties to another Magistrate for inquiry and report and on receipt of the report made the final order. This was in irregularity which vitrated the proceedings 2

It is desirable that reasonable opportunity should be given to the parties proceeded against under 5 133 to show cause under S 135 (b) or adduce evidence

under S 137 (1) 4

Many rulings as to the effect of the dentil of the existence of a public right, whether or not combined with in application for the appointment of a jury are now rendered absolute by the enactment of S 139A. The law repeatedly laid down by the High Courts that a jury cannot irs an objection based on the denial of a public right has now been embodied as a statutory law. The case law on the subject was thoroughly examined by the Calcutta High Court in Luckhee Narain Banerjee v Ram Kumar I L R 15 Cal 564

If application is made for a jury, the Magistrate who passed the order under

| Nom Gur 1901 Part I p 7.9 | In re Varusimha I I R 9 Viul 201 Preonath Dey I L R 25 Cal 278 | In re Kunyauppa I L R 47 Bom 89

Rumohan Karmakar a Imp I L R 14 Cal 61

CHAP X Excs 136 137

S 133 is bound to appoint a jury in accordance with S 1381 If a jury be appointed the applicant is bound by their verdict?

on a paper bearing a stamp of eight annar?

The application for an order for the appointment of a jury should be written

If the Magistrate should under sub-section (2) of S 137, abstain from further proceedings on ground that the order under 5 133 is not reasonable and proper, no order for further inquiry can be passed as $ 437 does not relate to such a case But this is no bar to fresh proceedings upon materials upon which frimă facie the Magistrate conid act s

If such person does not perform such act nr appear consequence of his and show cause or apply for the appointment of a mry as required by section 135, he shall failing to do so be liable to the penalty prescribed in that behalf in section 188 of the Indian Penal Code, and the order shall be made absolute

Service of the order must be proved before the order under S 133 is made absolute in consequence of the non appearance of the person to whom it is directed If application is not made within the time specified, but is made before the order is made absolute the Magistrate is bound to take evidence as a basis for the order which he has made. I mere inspection of the spot by the Magistrite is not sufficient. The preceedings must show that the case was one for his interference When a statute directs in thing to be done in a particular way, it includes in needs a negative to that it shall not be done otherwise "

Before proceedings can be taken under 5 188 Penal Code for disobedience or non-compliance with an order which has been made absolute under Ss 136, 137 or S 139, the sanction or complaint of the Magistrate who passed the order, or of some officer to whom he is subordinate that is, to whom appeals against his orders ordinarily lic must be obtained ($ 195)

It is not competent to a person prosecuted under $ 188 Penal Code for disobedience to an order made absolute with which he has failed to comply to go behind the order and show that it was an order which ought not to have been

The Magistrate whose order may have been disobesed, cannot hold the trial (S 487)

- (1) If he appears and shows cause against the order, the Magistrate shall take the evidence in the Procedure where he appears to show cause matter as in a summons case
- (2) If the Magistrate is satisfied that the order is not reasonable and proper, no further proceedings shall be taken in the case
- (3) If the Magnetrate is not so satisfied, the order shall be made absolute

In cases in which ction is being taken to prevent obstruction nuisances or danger to the public in the use of any way, river, channel or place the first thing the Magistrate will do on the appearance before him of the person concerned will be to question him as to whether he denies the existence of any public right in respect of the way &c , (5 139A) If a denial is raised, the Magistrate will inquire into it and will not in the meantime tale evidence for the purpose of showing cause

In re Methoor Chunder Dass 2 Cal 1 R 509 Mad H Ct Pro Dec 26 1883 Weir ~32 In re Lachman 1 L R 22 All 267

Q Emp 1 Narayana I L R 1. Und 475

As to the procedure see 5 244 and 5 245 and see 5 355 for the manner in which evidence is to be recorded A Magistrate is bound to tile evidence upon the matter of the complaint not nicrely any evidence that the other side might offer 1 He cannot on a mere inspection of the place deal with the matter would merely indicate his own opinion. It would not show that the matter was one properly for his interference and whether his order was reasonable and Droper 2

When appearing to show cause the party cannot consent to abide by any order that the Magistrate might make upon the result of a local investigation, for the terms of S 137 are mandators requiring the Magistrate to take evidence as in a summons case. It does not contemplate that he should not as an arbitrator at the instance of the parties. Public rights are involved which must be determined on legal evidence and not upon information devised at a local inquiry. No waiver

enn confer any jurisdiction on the Magistrate 3

Failure to produce evidence on the part of the person cilled upon to show cause does not justify a summary order maling the order bestute. Where such person denies the facts on which the order under S 133 was passed evidence must be taken to prove those facts and to show that such order is reisonable and proper "

The Magistrate to whom a case has been transferred min deal with it under S 137, although he may not have been competent to pass the order under S 133

commencing the proceedings 5

The person called upon to show cause may be examined upon outh and if he mikes a false statement he is liable to be prosecuted for an offence under S 193 Penal Code III is not an accused person and may be examined upon outh. The prohibition in S 342 (4) applies only to a person liable to punishment for an offence 4

If an order is passed under sub-section (2) no superior Court can order a further inquiry, as S 437 dies not apply to such an order?

The fact th t another M sistrate has discharged an order under S 133 is no bir to fresh proceedings upon materials on which prime face the Migistrate could ict *

The order shall be made absolute

This should be followed by a notice as set out in S 140 and on non-compliance with the order within the time specified in such notice the Vingistrate may cause the ict to be perf raied the costs may be recovered from the person in default, who may also I e prosecuted for an offence under S 188 Penal Code-(S 150 post)

(1) On receiving an application under section 135 to Procedure where he appoint 1 jury, the Magistrate shallclaims jury

> (a) forthwith appoint a jury consisting of an uneven number of persons not less than five, of whom the foreman

<sup>1</sup> Stringth R is 1 L R 24 Cal 305 (SC) (Cal W > 217 followed by K I'mp Hingu I | R 31 \| 453 11 B m 375

Precnath Dey 1 Caberdhone 1 I R

<sup>25</sup> Cal 278

by the Magistrate

and one-half of the remaining members shall be nominated by such Magistrate, and the other members by the applicant,

- (b) summon such foreman and members to attend at such place and time as the Magistrate thinks fit, and
- (c) fix a time within which they are to return their verdict
- (2) The time so fixed may, for good cause shown, be extended

The Virgistrate here referred to is the Migistrate who made the order under 133 instituting the proceedings, not a subordinate Magistrate before whom apprarance was made ($ 133) by the terms of that notice. That is indicated by 135 (b) 1 Consequently, on the transfer of the case to mother Magistrate, if a jury is applied for the matter can be dealt with only by the first Magistrate who 1. The " Magistrate referred to in 5 138

See Sch V (17) for a form of a Magistrate sorder constituting a jury. To avoid future objections it would be well if the Migistrale wirned the juros that they should hold their proceedings together and arrive at their verdict in consulta lion, for in several reported cases orders based on riports of juries have been set iside on this ground. So if an inspection of the locality be made it should be made by all the jurors together, and not by each of the jurors separately

The Magistrate is bound on application made to appoint a jury? The jurors must be appointed as presented by $ 138. The Migistrate cannot appoint the nominees of the person at whose instance he has acted a nor can the person called upon to show cause b appointed a juror for no one can be judge in his own cause 5. It is desirable that before the appointment of a juror the Magistrate should learn whether the person to be appointed will serve for he has no power to compel service. He may probably substitute mother piror for one who will not serve, or who is in some way incapacitated from serving

The appointment of a new jurer must be regularly in ide and not be the ferem in of the jury 6

But the Magistrate current on the objection of the parties and without notice to the other cancel the appointment of a juror even though he be one of the Magistrate's nominees ?

Where the jury neglected to report, the Magistrate should not pass a summary order in the case under 5 141 and refuse to illow the person concerned to show cause for such person is not responsible for the neglect of the jury. To so deal with the cree shows want of proper discretion and of careful consideration of the rights of property on the part of the Magistrate *

I la re Narasımlır I I R 9 Mid .or Preonith Dey i Colordhine I I R 2, Cal 2,8

Durga Charan Dasa Sashi Bhusan 1 L R 13 Cal 75 Petamber Jugit Nassa rud li .5 W R Cr 4 Khelit Chunder Ghose 1 Tara Churn 6 W R Civil .60 O Imp i Khushali Ram 1 1 R 18 MI 158

<sup>1</sup> In re Mothour Chunder Dass 2 Cal 1 R 504 Weir "3" * Dino Nath Chuckerbutta & Hurkoand 16 W R, Cr 3 Ra ah Shatvanundo Cilioval a Cumperdown 21 W R Cr 43 I pendra Natha Khitish Chan Ira 1 I R, 23 (3) 189

<sup>**</sup> Brind thim Dutt i Dwirkmath . W.R. Cr. 4**

** Imp r Blourth Chunder Datta 10 Cal I R 134

** In ra Chun Leruth Seu I R 8: CCU 875 (SC) 6 Cal L.R. 3 0

** Reg r Dalankram Hambhan 2 Bom H. C.R. 384

(1) If the jury or a majority of the jurors find that the order of the Magistrate is reasonable and proper Procedure where surv

finds Magistrate's order to be reasonable as originally made, or subject to a modification which the Magistrate accepts, the Magistrate shall make the order absolute, subject to such modification (if any)

(2) In other cases no further proceedings shall be taken under this Chapter

The Magistrate referred to would be the Magistrate who made the order under

S 133 and appointed the pury ' See S 135 (b)

The jury must be properly constituted so where some of the jurors refuse to act the report submitted is not a legal report within S 130. It was the duty of the Magistrate to appoint others to make up the full number required by S 138 (1) 2 It is not the function of a jury to determine an objection which the Magistrate has over ruled as not bona fide that the way is not a public way, but whether the order of the Magistrate is reasonable and proper 3

As an instance of the other cases referred to in sub section (2) may be given a case in which the verdict of the jury is that the Magistrate's order as originally made is not reasonable and proper. If objection is taken that the verdict is not a proper verdict the Magistrate should inquire into the validity of such objection The objection must be taken as speedily as possible, and the objector must pledge himself to establish definitely such facts as would if proved, be sufficient to render the verdict improper and invalid 4 The jurors must meet and arrive it their verdict after consultation. A verdict cannot properly be arrived at except at a meeting of all the jurors. Each juror must exercise his own discretion in the case submitted to him, and he must decide on evidence. A juror cannot blindly follow the opinion expressed by others. If they visit the spot they should go together Unless the verdict be a modification of his order, and there is valid objection to it, the Magistrate is bound to accept it

Where three out of five jurors refused to return any verdict at all the Magis trate was not justified in stopping proceedings entirely, but should have appointed

i fresh jury "

The duties of jurors are thus described?-

All acts of a judicial nature to be performed by several persons ought to be performed when they are all present together, and a final decision ought not to be pronounced in a case in which they differ until by conference and discussion of the points in difference, they have endeavoured to arrive at an unanimous judgment. Such a rule is clearly laid down in regard to arbitrators, and it is equally, if not more specially, necessary to be acted upon by a Court consisting of two or more judges, with power to decide on matters of the greatest importance With regard to arbitration it is laid down in Russel on Arbitration As they must all act so they must all act together, they must each be present at every meeting, and the witness and parties must be examined in presence

&lt;sup>1</sup> In re Narasumha I L R 9 Mad 201 Preonath Dey 1 Cobordione I L R 25 Cal 278 Angappa Mudali I L R 43 Mad 316 * Uma Churn Mundle I L R 11 Cal 841 Dunga Charan Das I I R 13 Cal

<sup>375</sup>

<sup>3 (21)</sup> 72

of Cal Soo Nasari ddi r Al Inddi Dwarkmatt 23 W R Cr 15
C 43 Cd 275 Petunlur Juget Nassar Parachura 6 W R Civil 60 Q Imp w bedarnath I I R 3 M 15

R Cavil 260 sec also Q Imp t Ichu

CHAP X

of them all if the parties are entitled to have the argument, experience and judgment of each of the inflittative at every stage of the proceedings brought to bour on the min is of their fell a judges. So that by conference they shall mutually assist each other in arriving at a just decision ""

The middlestin count be what amounts to a fresh order to provide for the Where the jury reported that the obstruction to a Lhal no longer existed and that was the abject of the order passed under $ 113 the Magistrate could not on the recommendation of the pure used an order to present future obstructions and to with rise one of the party s to ruse one of the binds of the I hal ! But if the report is indefinite in its terms the Migistrate should call upon the pirors to report whether in their epint n his order was or was not reasonable and proper?

In order prixing in griunds not covered by the conditional order under S to3 is illigit

If find order is subject to revision (S 435)

to appeal lies in Ir the Letters Patent against an order of a single Judge of the High Court in a Crittumal Revision Petition preferred against an order of a Magistrate acting under 5 133 4

(1) Where in order is made under section 133 for 139A the purpose of pieventing obstruction, nuisance Procedure public or danger to the public in the use of any way, existence of right is denied river, cleannel or place, the Magistrato shall, on

tle appearance before him of the person against whom the order was made question him as to whether he denies the existence of ony public right in respect of the way, river, channel or place, and if he does so, the Magistrate shall, before proceeding under section 137 or section 138 inquire into the matter

- (2) If in such inquiry the Magistrate finds that there is any reliable evidence in support of such denial, he shall stay the proceedings until the matter of the existence of such right has been decided by a competent Civil Court and, if he finds that there is no such evidence, he shall proceed as laid down in section 137 or section 138 as the case may require
- (3) A person who has, on being questioned by the Magistrate under sub section (1) failed to deny the existence of a public right of the nature therein referred to, or who, having made anch denial, has failed to addince reliable evidence in support thereof, shall not in the subsequent proceedings be permitted to make any such denial nor shall any question in respect of the existence of any such public right be inquired into by any july appointed under section 138

This section is new having been inserted by Act VIII of 1924 S 26. The procedure to be followed in cases of the nature dealt with in this section was laid down by the Cil att a High Court in a case in which all the authorities on the point were considered. The statutory law laid down in this section goes a little further than the case law in that it requires the Magistriate as soon as the person against whom the conditional order has been made appears before him to question him as to whether he denies the existence of any public right. This question will only be put in cases in which a conditional order has been made for the prevention of obstruction mustance or danger to the public in the use of any way, river, channel or place but it will be put whether the person desires to show cause or apply let the appointment of a jury. The Magistrate therefore referred to in $1.30\text{ }, where the person appears to show cause is the Magistrate before whom appearance is directed by the order under $1.31\text{ and where the person appears to apply lor a jury the Magistrate who made the order under $1.33\text{ [see $S. 135. [6])} As to the procedure to b. followed under this section see note at the beginning of this Chapter.

<sup>1</sup> hash Chunder Chuckerbutty t har Mahomed 21 W R Cr 10 2 O t Pohilee Muttick 12 W R Cr -8 3 Gokal Chand t Crown 1 L R 11 hi 13 4 \ Subhyata P Ramnya 1 L R 39 Mad 537

Under the old liw it was held that if the Viagistrate found the claim of title to be well founded he should take no further proceedings for it will then have been shown to him that $\S_{133}$ does not apply to the case. The Migistrate should then stry proceeding, in order to give the person concerned an opportunity to establish the right he claims in a Cail Court, but if within a reasonable time the person solpecting did not so assert of railed to establish his rights the Magistrate might proceed. But it is not altogether clear whether sub-section (2) of $\S_{139}A_1$ is intended to enact this is strutuor) but It lays down thit proceedings shall be stayed until the matter of the existence of a public right has been decided by a competent Civil Court. This can hardly be intended to amount to an absolute stay or what ment of proceedings in the case where a person concerned takes no steps to establish his title and it would probably be held that where a reasonable opportunity has been given and has not been taken the Magistrate may proceed with the case. He would do so by accertaining whether the person against whom the order has been made desires to show cause or to apply for a jury.

The law is now perfectly definite that the question of the existence of a public right is not to be inquired into by a jury

- Procedure on order section 136, section 137 or section 139, the being made absolute winder Magistrate shall give notice of the same to the bins made perform the order was made, and shall further required him to perform the net directed by the order within a time to be fixed in the notice, and inform him that, in case of disobedience, he will be liable to the penalty provided by section 188 of the Indian Penal Code.
- (2) If such act is not performed within the time fixed, the Consequences of dis Migistrate may cause it to be performed, and bederectored may recover the costs of performing it, either by the sale of any building, goods or other property removed by lus order, or by the distress and sale of any other movemble property of such person within or without the local limits of such Magistrate's jurisdiction. If such other property is without such limits the order shall authorize its attachment and sale when endoised by the Magistrate within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property to be attached is found.

<sup>1</sup> I nekher Narum Banerjee i Ram Kumar 1 L R 15 Cal 3/4

(3) No suit shall be in respect of anything done in good faith under this section

See Sch 1 (18) for the f rm of the order of a lingistrate under S 140

Service of such order would probably be as provided by $ 134

A person is liable to punishment under $ 188, Penal Code before an order under

S 133 is made absolute and without any notice under 5 140 if he does not comply with the order er object to it by showing cause or by applying for a jury within the time fixed by the notice under 5 1331

The suit contemplated in sub set on (2) would be a suit for damigus2 in carry ing out an order under 5 133

A suit is maint inrible on her unt of in obstruction to highway only on proof of special damages sustained a

A suit will also lie for an injunction 4 and also for a decree declaring that the place, from which the Magistrate has ordered an obstruction to be removed, is not a public place. Iny finding of the Magistrate on this point cannot oust the juris diction of a Civil Court to determine private rights of property 5 The order itself cannot be called into question in any Civil Court [S 133 (2)], but the manner in which it was carried out under 5 140 is open to suit provided that it can be shown that it was done without good fifth that is without due care and attention (S 52 Penal Code) Nothing is said to be done in ' good faith " which is done without due care and attention (S 52, Penal Code)

The consequences of an interference by a Civil Court with an order passed by a Magistrate under this Chapter have been thus pointed out. If, when a Magistrate having entered into the question has determined that a nuisance does exist he is to be restrained by a Court of Civil Judicature from carrying this order into execution it might be two or three years before the numance could be removed, by which time if the injury may have been austained. While the suit is going on, persons may be possoned by the milana austing from the numance, or a con flagration may take place, or lives may be lost by the falling of a ruinous wall on passengers, or cattle may be drouned in a tank or well which has not been properly fenced to prevent danger

The object of the Act is to enable the Magistrate to male an order speedily, ind speedily to carry that order into execution. It would be mere trifling with the Act, if when it says that no action shall be entertained by any Court in respect of anything necessarily or reasonably done to give effect to an order of this nature, we should hold that the Cred Court could interfere to restrain the Magistrate from giving effect to his order at all, for that is what is really sought to be done by such a suit. If the Magistrate had carried it into effect, no suit could have been brought against him or against any one acting under his order and yet it is contended that suit will lie to prevent him from earrying his order into effect

The provisions of the law are stringent with the intention to create facilities for conditional orders, which Magistrates are authorised to pass under this Chapter of the Code in order to prevent danger to the public, becoming final without needless delay and thereby to ensure public safety ?

If the applicant, by neglect or otherwise, prevents the appointment of the july, or if from any cause Procedure on failure the jury appointed do not return their verdict to appoint jury or omis sion to return verdict within the time fixed or within such further

I Aluvala Guruwah I L R 31 Viol 280 Bishambar Lal I L R 15 til 5--ltaj Coomar Singhi Sahel zada I L R 3Cal 20 Abzul Minha Nasir Wihomed R 22 Chi 551
Adamont Arumagun I I R 3 Viol 4(2) I L R 22 Cal 551

time as the Magistrate may in his discretion allow, the Magistrate may pass such order as he thinks fit, and such order shall be executed in the manner provided by section 140

An extension of time for returning a verdict may be granted under S 138 (*) for good cause shown but only by the Magistrate who appointed the jury to whom the verdict is returnable?

Where the jury did not return the verdet within the time fixed, but subsequently, the Magistrite is bound to give due weight to it. He does not everuse a proper discretion if he simming makes his order absolute and also refuses to allow the party concerned to show cause. Considerations of justice and equity should form the rule of the Magistrite's order in such a case?

142 (1) If a Magistrate making an order under section 133 injunction pending considers that immediate measures should be taken to prevent imminent danger or impury of a serious kind to the public, he may, whether a jury is to be, or has been, appointed or not, issue such an injunction to the person against whom the order was made, as is required to obviate or prevent such danger or injury pending the determination of the matter

(2) In default of such person forthwith obeying such injunction, the Magistrate may himself use, or cause to be used, such incans as he thinks fit to obviate such danger or to prevent such injury.

(3) No suit shall lie in respect of anything done in good faith by a Magistrate under this section

See Sch V (19) for form of injunction under S 142

In Benoal and Assay a fee of one rupee is payable for an injunction, and in Bonbar, eight annas

The injunction would be merely during the inquiry being held, and it would be subject to its result

The suit contemplated by sub-section (2) is one for damages - See note to 5 141 ante

143. A District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate, or Magistra may prehigh repetution or continuance of public Government of the District Magistrate in this behalf, may order any person not to repeat or any special or local law in the PUNIU all Might des of the first or second class have been empower ed to act under 5 [43], and in Bounu, all District Superintendents of Polici and Assistint District Superintendents, and in Uirre Busin, all Angustratis of the first class?

Inter toda it I t is

<sup>384</sup> 506 Rules to p 116 Prnj Grz 1883 p 52 Reg V of 1832 Sch. Cl v.

Sch V (20) contains a form of a Magistrate's order under S 143 See S 68 Penal Code for the definition of a public nuisance

The repetition or cont jurner of a public nuisance after such injunction is punishable under S 291 Penal Col If any Mag strate not being empowered by law in this behalf prohibits the continuance or repetition of a public nuisance his proceedings shall be you (S 530) Orders under this section were formerly not open to revision as $ 435 (3) la d down that they were not proceed age with n the meaning of that section S 433 (3) has however been repealed by let to WIII of 19 3 S 116. The section seems to be one nd ch is rarely if ever used

CHAPTER XI

TEMPORARY ORDERS IN URCENT CASES OF NUISANCE OR APPREHENDED DANCER

(7) In cases where in the opinion of a District Magis trate a Cluef Presidency Magistrate a Sub Power to ssue order divisional Magistrate or of any other Magis absolute at once in r trate (not being a Magistrate of the third class) gent cases of nuisa ce or apprehended danger specially empowered by the Local Government or the Chief Presidency Magistrate or the District Magistrate to act under this section there is sufficient ground for proceeding under this section and immediate presention or speeds remedy is desirable.

Such Magistrate may by a written order stating the material facts of the case and served in minner provided by section 134, direct any person to abstain from a certain act or to take certain order with certain property in his possession or under his manage ment, if such Magistrate considers that such direction is likely to prevent of tends to prevent obstruction annoyance or injury, of risk of obstruction annoyance or injury to any person lawfully employed, or danger to human life health or safety, or a disturb ance of the public tranquillity or a riot or an affray

(0) An order under this section may in cases of emergency or in eases where the circumstances do not admit of the serving in due time of a notice upon the person against whom the order is directed be passed ex parte

(3) An order under this section may be directed to a particular individual or to the public generally when frequenting or visiting a particular place

(f) Any Magistrate may either on his own motion or on the application of any person aggreed rescand or alter any order made under this section by himself or any Magistrate subordinate to lum, or by his piedecessor in office

- (5) Where such an application is received, the Magistrate shall afford to the applicant an culty opportunity of appearing before him either in person or hy pleader and shewing cause against the order, and, if the Magistrate rejects the application wholly or in part, he shall record in writing his reasons for so doing
- (6) No order under this section shall remain in force for more than two months from the miking thereof, unless, in cases of danger to human life, health or safety, or a likelihood of a not or an affray, the Local (vovernment, by notification in the official Gazette, otherwise directs

See Sch V for a form of a Magistrate's order under S 144

A person igainst whom proceedings are tallen under this section may offit himself as a witness ($ 340)

If a Mignitrate, not being empowered by law in that behalf, makes in order

under S 144, his proceedings are void (S 530)

Some amendments have been made in this section by the amending Act No VVIII of 1933 S 37 Previous) m) Magistrate might be empowered by the Local Government or the Chief Presidency Unguistrate or the District Migstrate to act under this section A Magistrate of the third class cannot any longer be an empowered As to the words "there is sufficient ground for proceeding under this section " see note to S 107 (1)

By the terms of S 435 (3) as it stood before amendment proceedings under this Chapter were not open to revision. That sub-section has now been repealed A large number of cases did however come under the revisional scrutiny of the Chartered High Courts for it was held that an order purporting to be made under 5 144 which could not be legally made under this section was without jurisdiction and could be set aside by the Chartered High Courts

Sub-section (5) is new and though in so far is it lays down that an applicant under sub-section (4) should be given in early apportunity of showing cause against an order it adds nothing to the law, yet it now requires that where an application is made the Magistrate shall made a proper inquiry and record his reasons in writing where he refuses to rescand or after the order

In a matter which can be dealt with under S 133 as well as under S 144, the Magistrate is bound to proceed under 5 133 units it can be shown that immediate precention or speedy remedy is desirable, and he can make an order under S 144, ex parte, only in a case of emergency or where the circumstances of the case do not adout of the service of notice in due time. Except under special orders of the Local Government in order under 5 144 dees not remain in force for more than two months from the date of making thereof

An order purporting to linke permanent effect would be tilegal,1 and 30 would a direction by a Magnetette extending the duration of his original order

beyond two months 2

An order under 5 144 cannot be passed in a matter dealt with under 5 133 2 5 142 provides for in injunction in such a case to fine effect during determinatom of the matter under $ 133

<sup>1</sup> Sourendra Nath Mittra v Tmp to Cal W N 154 Rashbehan Singh 3 Pat Rangt Singh r Inchman I rovi 1 7 Cat W 140

An order under 5 144 can unir subsection (4) be rescinded or altered by the Magistrate who passed it or by the successor in office to such Magistrate or by a Magistrate to whom such Magistrate is subordinate that is by a District or Sub-divisional Magistrate

The order may be (1) to restrain in interference with lenful acts or (2) it may he to restrain a person in exercise of his lawful rights but a Magistrate can so net only when immediate previation or speedy remedy is desirable. Such should appear on the face of his proceedings of the order may be set as le as without jurisdiction 1

The Migistrate can interfere with the performance of a lawful act only when the consequences of such an act is dangerous to hum in life health or safety or is likely to cau e a di turbance of the public tranquillity or a riot or an affray And where notice to the parein concerned would cause such delay as would frustrate the object in view the Magistrate is empowered to make such an order er harte. But still the law contemplates that the person against whom such in order is summarily in 1 shall have an opportunity of showing that it has in called for or unjust or unreal nable for on bing satisfied of this the Magis trate may rescind or after my rifer made by himself or his predecessor in office or if he is a District or Sub-divisional Magistrate, an order made by any Magistrate subordinate to him An order under S 144 moreover will not remain in force for more than two months from the making there f except under special notification (I the local Government

Where a breach of the peace is prehended although the Mag strate in a case of emergency can jass an order ex parte directing a party to abstain from in net which may cause such breach still if it is found that a person is doing what he is legally entitled to do and that his neighbour chooses to take offence thereat so as to create a disturbance it is clear that it is the duty of the Magistrate not to deprive such person of the exercise of his legal rights but rather to restrain the latter from an illegal interference therewith 2 And if such order has been made

ex parte the Magistrate should rescind such order
Thus a Magistrate cannot restrain a person from executing a decree of a Civil Court awarding him possession of certain property a But the Magistrate may have good reason to apprehend a serious disturbance of the public tranquillity. as for instance when in execution of a decree an attempt was made to take possession of land which was claimed to have been used as a Mahomedan place of worship and was therefore regarded as desecration. In such case if the Magis trate has failed to induce the decree holder to abstrain from enforcing his decree until the excitement has ceased or the Police was able to assist him the Magistrate would probably be competent to pass an order (S 144) to have effect until such time as arrangements I id been made for preventing the danger

It is the first duty of a Magnetirate to secure to every person the enjoyment of his rights under the law and by measures of precaution to deter those who seek is invade the rights of others, but if he apprehends that the lawful exercise of a right may lead to civil turnult and he doubts whether he has a sufficient force mailable to repress such turnult or to render it innocuou regard for the public welfare is illowed temporarily to interdict the exercise. The duration of this authority in the Magistrate is co-extensive with the emergency that justified the exercise of the authority. The law has been explained in a case where the order of the Mig strate was to restrain a religious procession of Hindoos with music from passing a Mahomedan place of worship on the public road and it was held that there could properly be such restraint only in prevent disturbance of such worship and not at all times of the day & Similarly a Magistrate can direct a certain person not to interfere with the management of a temple so as to prevent a breach of the peace but such order can remain in operation for only two months 1

In another case the Magistrate prohibited a person from collecting rents from a certain property which he claimed to be his and he was convicted and sentenced under S 188 Penal Code for disobedience of such order. It was pointed out that if this were permissible a person without a shadow of right or title might put the rightful owner to great inconvenience and loss and tenants who migat be willing to pay their rents could not be asked to do so and limitation might bar claims thus suspended 2 Such a matter could not be properly dealt with under S 144 when S 145 provides a remedy complete in every respect to avert the contemplated danger to the public without injustice to the rightful owner of the property in dispute 1 Vagastrate can after taking proceedings under S 145 ittirch the land the subject matter of dispute pending his decision in regard to actual possession of that land if he considers the case one of emergency if

Similarly persons who have grown certain crops are entitled to reap them and are not to be restrained from doing so on the ground that others who claim the right to receive rent are likely to be injured for unless they interfere there is no probability of my hieach of the peace. They should be left to establish and enforce their rights by legal means and through the Courts $

Where the matter in dispute has been dealt with by the Civil Courts it is obviously the duty of a Vingistrate to endeasour to maintain the order passed in regard to the respective rights of the parties. So where a decree has been obtained ejecting some tenants and giving possession to the landlord the Magistrate cannot pass an order under S 144 restraining the landlord from the exercise of his lawful rights because he may have failed to have pointed out the exact lands of which he obtained possession. The effect of such an order would he to deprive the landlord of the benefit of the decree which he had obtained. It is rather for the opposite party if they maintain that the lands are not covered in the decree to satisfy the Magistrate on this point before they can claim his pretection by an order under S 1444

Another instance of restraint put by an order under S 144 in the exercise of limful rights to present a breach of the peace is the prohibition of the holding of a hat (a market) on the private property of a man on a particular day of the week in opposition to another list held on the same day in an adjacent place It was pointed out that a particular act or a particular mode of enjoyment of property might be perfectly innocent and lawful in itself. But the act may be done and the property enjoyed in that particular mode under circumstances calculated to lead to a serious breach of the peace attended even with loss to human life, and it would be by no means proper or desirable to hold that even in such cases the chall peace-officer of the district has no power to issue an order such as that contemplated by the law . But the Magistrate cannot in his order prohibiting the holding of a f if on certain days direct that it shall be held on certain other days leaving the party no option to hold it on certain other days

He cannot forbid the holding of a hat without any reservation of existing rights and having passed such an order under S 144 be cannot reconsider the matter unless he has cancelled or altered it at once. He cannot allow it to run while he takes proceedings to consider what order he shall mass in modification

charjet tí Cat

<sup>1320</sup> Monfals Fmp 8 Cat W \ 373 Imalut Fatima I L R 32 Cat 154

Got and Sahal t I R 39 Cat 385 (ac) 6 Cal W \ 466

'this kantram Staha Rov. (Newyan 10 H I R 434 FB (5C) 18 W R 470

Din Doval Vajumdar 4 Cal W \ 1003 E6 (2) I R 31 Cat 935

Shamamand Das I L R 4 Cat 990

of it. If this were possible he would be competent to extend the injunction pre viously passed in restraint of existing rights beyond the period intended by subsection (6).

The law allows an order to be passed in restraint of the exercise of private rights " to prevent danger to human life health or safety but a Magistrate would rarely act in such a case under S 144 for he can act only when immediate pre-vention or speedy remedy is desirable. Ordinarily such a matter would be more properly dealt with under $ 133 in which the procedure is not summiry as that under 5 144 and the final order is not like an order under S 144 only of temporary effect. If however such a matter is dealt with under 5 144 the Magis trate should be enreful to satisfy himself that it is a proper order, that is one within his jurisdiction under $ 144. So in order prohibiting inoculation was pronounced to be illegal because it related to a course of conduct or an occupation involving a scries of acts done at certain intervals and spread over an interval of time nor can an order be made prohibiting caste dinners in a certain town which by bringing people together are likely to promote the spread of cholera - f r that is not an order within 5 144 in ismuch as it is not directed to a parti fill it i erson nor to the public when frequenting a particular place. The conviction of a per on under S 188 Penal Code for disobedience of that order by having a dinner in his own house was set aside. Nor can a Magistrate make an order under S 144 regulating boat traffic at a certain landing place on the ground that the crowding cl boats is dancerous to public health because such an order is not for directing any per on to abstain from a tertum act or to the extrain order with certain property in his possession or under his management. And for the same reason, a Magistrate cannot make an order directing owners of cattle to take proping of them and not to allow them to stray on public roads about the station or in the bazar. That is an attempted exercise of a power of legislation by mailing in order of the nature of a Municipal bye law 4

An order under S 144 will be in force only for two months unless its operation is specially extended by a notification of the I ocal Government

It is open to revision: A conviction and sentence passed under S. 188. Penal Code, for disobed ence of an order made without gursalicution or an order set aside in revision will also be set a side. The reasons for the famility of an order properly passed under S. 133 have been stated in the note to S. 133 (2), and then are deserving of consideration in respect of an order under S. 144, lithough there is no special provision as to the jurisdiction of a Civil Court in regard to an order under that section?

This section does not enable a Magistrate to pass any orders except thosspecified in S 144. He cannot forbid any future obstroction to a thoroughfare,* nor can be make in order which not being limited in time, purports to be a perpetual injunction, nor can be renew in order under S 144 which after two months his ceived to operate. He cannot direct the remonal into Court of the disputed property for two months or until the Civil Court has decided the question of title.

If no time is specified in an order for its duration it must be presumed to be left order and therefore limited to two months unless there be something in it to show that it is intended to be in force for a longer period 8 See Sch V

8

<sup>1</sup> Mad H Ct Pro Feb 4 1879 Weir 736 2 Cmp 1 Lakhmidas Makondas I L R 14 Bom 165

<sup>11 / 1014</sup> (Cal II / 140

Cal 89- I B (SC) 11 Cal W 91- over-

No XXI which in giving a form for orders under S 144 does not refer to any

Where a renewal order passed under $ 144 did not state that there was again temporary emergency and a continuing or existing insufficiency of the police force to protect the petitioners in their nights, the Migistrate gives himself a more extended jurisdiction than is covered by $5.144. The order was however not set saide, as the period of two months was about to expire on the date of the hearing of the application for revision in the High Court. Where an order restraining persons from entering certuin land expired, and six weeks later the Magistrate passed a similar order against the same parties, it was held that the Magistrate should not have made the second order but should have proceeded under $5.07.

The use of S 144 is a suitable method of avoiding a breach of the peace only if it is clear from the police report that the claim of the party making the disturbance is not a claim made in good faith 3

Reported cases show that Magistrates are inclined to make ust of a summary and final order under S. 144 when the matter should have been properly dealt with under S. 133 or 145. The exercise of jurisdiction under S. 134 is especially important in regard to breaches of the peace likely to irise from excitement caused by religious processions and interruption to religious worship. The matter habeten carefully considered by the Madras High Court in a judgment which deserves the most careful attention. The following passages on this subject are reproduced—

It is on the one hand a right recognized by law that an assembly lawfully engaged in the performance of religious worship or religious ceremonies shall not be disturbed. It is on the other hand a right recognized by law that persons may, for a lawful purpose whether civil or religious, use a common highway by parading it attended by music, so that they do not obstruct the use of it by other persons If persons passing in procession attended by music pass a place in which others are assembled and engaged in their worship which the music would tend to disturb, it is the duty of the persons composing the procession to refrain from such disturbance, but assemblies for purposes of worship are held scarcely in any place at all hours and generally at appointed hours, and therefore it is unnecessary that there should be a rule that persons should not at any time pass along a high road in the neighbourhood of a recognized place of worship if ittended by music If indeed the procession be of a religious character, the prohibition of it may be as real in interference with the free exercise of a religion as in allowing it to proceed past in assembly engaged in worship ittended with such circumstances as to disturb that worship, and if no religious procession is to be allowed to pass a reconnected place of worship whether persons are or are not at the time there essembled and engaged in religious worship the niembers of a numerous sect might close any highway to the processions of a sect to which they are opposed by arceting in the neighbourhood of each highway a place of worship. The law in the restriction it imposes on processions of whatever character does not go beyond the necessity "For the preservation of the public prace a Majastrate has a special authority an inhority himfeld to extrain occasions. His first duty is 1, secure to exer person the enjoyment of his rights under the law, and by measures of precaution to defer those who seek to include the rights of others but it he apprehends that the lawful exercise of a right may lead to evil tunnit and he doubts whether he has available a sufficient force to rights whether the

<sup>1</sup> Govanda Cheta I I R 38 Wad 400

. Kaniz Amina i King Imp 3 lat 1 J 243 Curput Singli King Imp 3 Pit

L. 3 287 4 Multiplu Chelli i Hippin Sul I I R 2 Mal 140 (se) Wir 737 See abo Salagopacharieri Rima Ruo I L. R. 27 Mal 3,6 approved by the Irray Council 5 Cal I J 566 regard for the public welfare is allowed to override temporarily private rights, and the Magistrate is authorised to interdict their exercise. The duration of this authority in the Magistrate is co-extensive with the emergency that justified the exercise of the authority.

So also when an established cust in regarding the removal of certain idole for worship is denied it is not for a Magnetiate to determine the existence of this right, and, on being so surfield to direct certain persons to observe it by doing certain acts with idols in their possession. He should rather leave it to the parties to establish and enforce the custom by an order from a competent Civil Court 3 Nor can be order the division of crops between tennits and rival landfords, or pass in order of an irrevo sible instance or probabilities collection of rent from tenants 3

The recognition of a right to the undisturbed performance of public worships not extended to private worship such as may take plue at all hours of the day. It is not resonable to require the members of one section of the community to restrict themselves in their ordinity rights, in recognition of the reverence due to a religion to which they do not belong and in which they do not belong a

An order can be passed under S 144 to direct a certain person not to interfere with the management of a hour is one to present a breach of the peace, but such an order cannot also prohibit interference until the manager was excited in due course of law as under sub-section (3) an order under S 144 cannot remain in force for more than two months 4

Orders have been made under S 133 for the closing of old public shughter-houses and old burning ghats as nuisences dangerous to the heulth of the community Such matters might come within S 144. The cases are cited and explained in the note to S 131 and e.

Sub section (4)

This contemplates only a change in the nature of the order made and not a change in the party against whom it is made $\displaystar{\text{$^{6}}}$

Sub section (5)

This is new. In view of the fact that proceedings under this section are new open to revision the Legisliture apparently thought it desirable to lay down some procedure and provide for a written order, so that the High Court may law material upon which to base its decision. This adds little to the law, for a party aggreed undoubtedly had the right to appear and apply for a reconsideration of the court is order. It would probably be held now that the High Court would not consider an application in revision unless at least application had first been made under sub section (4).

Sub section (6)

A Migistrate forbade, by an order under S 144, the prisinge of processions, whether religious or otherwise along particular streets. The Local Government wis competent to extend the period of the order and was not required to 1 mit the extension to religious processions only.

| Kamal Narain : Raja Joliudra Mohan 8 Cul W | 3,6 | Umatal Patina v Nemiadraran I L R 3 Cal 154 | Premchand : Dharma Day o Cal W | 332 | 324 | Mad 45 | 1 287 | 287 |

CHAPTER XII

DISPLTES AS TO IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY

Previous to 1898 the High Courts had power to act as Courts of Revision respect of proceedings under Chapter XII Under S 435 (3) however as originally enacted in the Code of 1898 those proceedings were excluded from the revisi nal jurisdiction of the High Courts Nevertheless many cases came before the High Courts for the most put the Courts established under the Ind an High Cours Act 1861 held that they had power under S 15 of that Act to interfere where Courls had acted without jurisdiction, but where procredings were in intention in form and in fact proceedings under Chapter VII by a Magistrate duly empowered to act the High Court had no power to send for the proceedings either under the Code or under the Indian High Courts Act 1861. The cases on this point are now obsolete for Sub-section (3) of S 435 has been repealed by Act No XVIII of 1923, and therefore proceedings under this Chapter are now subject to revisional jurisdiction

145 (1) Whenever a District Magistrate, Sub divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class is Procedure where dis satisfied from a police report or other informa pute concerning land, etc, is likely to cause tion that a dispute likely to cause a breach of breach of peace

the peace exists concerning any land or water or the boundaries thereof within the local limits of his purisdic tion, he shall make an order in writing, stating the grounds of his being so satisfied, and requiring the parties concerned in such dispute to attend his Court in person or by pleader, within a time to be fixed by such Magistrate, and to put in written statements of their respective claims as respects the fact of actual possession of the subject of dispute

- (2) For the purposes of this section the expression 'land or water ' includes buildings, markets, fisheries, crops or other produce of lind, and the rents or profits of any such property
- (3) A copy of the order shall be served in manner provided ly this Code for the service of a summons upon such person or or persons as the Magistrate may direct, and at least one copy shall be published by being affixed to some consumous place at or near the subject of dispute
- (1) The Magistrate shall then, without reference to the Inquiry as to posses- merits of the chains of any of such parties to a right to possess the subject of dispute peruse the statements so put in, here the parties, receive all such evidence as may be produced by them respectively, consider the effect of such evidence, take such further evidence (if any) as he thinks necessary, and, if possible, decide whether any and which of the parties was at the date of the order before mentioned in such possession of the sud subject

Maharaj Tewaris Itar Charan Rai I L R 26 All 144 Jingai Singh t Ram Partap I L R 31 All 150

Provided that, if it appears to the Magistrate that any party has within two months next before the date of such order been forcibly and wrongfully dispossessed, he may treat the party so dispossessed as if he had been in possession at such date

Provided also, that, if the Magistrate considers the case one of emergency he may at any time attach the subject of dispute, pending his decision under this section

- (i) Nothing in this section shall preclude any party so required to attend, or any other person interested, from showing that no such dispute as aforested exists or has wisted, and in such case the Magistrate shall cancel his said order, and all further proceedings thereon shall be stayed, but, subject to such cancellation, the order of the Magistrate under sub-section (1) shall be final
- (6) If the Magistrate decides that one of the parties was of the parties of the provided of the first provided to sub-section (4) to return possession be treated as being in such possession of the until legally exists and subject, he shall issue an order declaring such party to be entitled to possession thereof until existed their provided in the provided provided in the provided provide
- (7) When any party to any such proceeding dies, the Magistrate may cause the legal representative of the deceased party to be made a party to the proceeding and shall therenpon continue the migury, and if any question arises as to who the legal representative of a deceased party for the purpose of such proceeding is, all persons cluming to be representatives of the deceased party shall be made parties thereto.
- (8) If the Magistrate is of opinion that any crop or other produce of the property, the subject of dispute in a proceeding under this section pending before him, is subject to speedy and natural decry, he mix make an order for the proper custody or site of such property, and, upon the completion of the inquiry, sirill make such order for the disposal of such property, or the safe proceeds thereof, as he thinks fit

- (9) The Magistrate may, if he thinks fit, at any stage of the proceedings under this section, on the application of other party, reached a summons to any witness directing him to attend or to produce any document or thing
- (10) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to be in derogation of the powers of the Magistrate to proceed under section 107.

Numerous amendments have been mide in S 145 by Act No AVIII of 1923; S 28 In sub-section (4) the words "receive ill such evidence as may be produced have been substituted for the words 'receive the evidence produced" In sub-section (6) it has been made clear that where the Magistrate has acted under the first proviso to sub-section (4) and has treated any party whom he finds to have been dispossessed within two months before the date of his order as if he had been in possession at such date the Magistrate shall issue an order declaring such party to be entitled to possession and he may moreover restore possession to the party who has been so dispossessed. Sub-section (7) has been elaborated so as to authorise the Magistrate to make the legal representative of a deceased party a party to the proceedings. If any question arises as to who the legal represent itive of a deceased party is ill persons claiming to be representatives are to be made parties to the proceedings. Sub-section (8) empowers the Magis trate to pass necessary orders for the custody or sale of property in dispute which is subject to speedy and natural decay. Sub-section (9) enables the Magistrate at any stage to summon a witness on the application of either party | Finally, subsection (10) has been enacted to make it clear that nothing in S 145 is to be deemed to prevent a Magistrate from proceeding under S 107 There had been some doubt on this point in view of the mandatory nature of the words " he shall make an order in writing" contained in sub section (1)

There was formerly some difference of opinion as to whether a proceeding under S 145 was a "criminal case" within the meaning of S 526. The leading cases on the point were considered on an application for transfer made to the Allahabad High Court! These cases are now obsolete for S 526 has been amended by the substitution of the word case. For "emimial cise" with the intention of making it clear that S 526 covers miscell ineous proceedings under the Code.

If a Magistrate not being empowered by law in this behalf, passes an order

under 5 145 his proceedings are void ($ 530)

Numerous reported cases have abundantly shown that in acting under S 145 Magistrates do not properly appreciate their responsibilities. The object of this section is to enable a Magistrate, when a breach of the peace is likely to take place in consequence of a dispute regarding any land or water or the boundaries thereof, to settle the matter in dispute temporarily, that is, until the contending parties shall have had their rights determined by a competent Court. It is not the duty of a Magistrate to determine such rights (sub sec 4) but too often in such proceedings the Magistrate loses sight of the real point for his determina tion and allows issues to be raised and evidence taken regarding rights in the subject matter in dispute instead of confining himself to the determination of the fact of actual possession thereof (Sub see 1) His duty is to find and main tain actual possession ' without reference to the merits of the claims of any such parties to a right to possess the subject of dispute " (Sub sec 4) In some reported cases no doubt it has been held that evidence as to such right may have some value in determining actual possession Evidence of title may supplement direct evidence of possession. It cannot however, standing alone, be proof of possession. If there is substantial evidence of possession, or a conflict of evidence on that point, a Magistrate is justified in looking at evi dence of title in combination with evidence of possession 1 As a Police Court, a Magistrate can deal with possession so as to present the occupation being disturbed by violence. The Court says "I cannot look at your title, the possession is the only question and therefore if your title is not clothed with possession you must go to another Court to establish that title '2

<sup>1</sup> Jaggu Ahır v Marlı Shukul I L R 34 All 533

CRAP XII Sec 145

So where the Magistrate decides that the oral evidence of actual possession is in favour of one parts he acts without jurisdiction if he proceeds to consider the effect of an order by a Revenue officer awarding possession to the opposite party, and directs that party to be grantained in possession in accordance with that order 3

Information on which the Magistrate proceeds to be stated

The most important part of proceedings, taken and held under S 145, is to record properly the order instituting such proceedings, so as to indicate (1) on what grounds, (2) in respect to the possession of what property, (3) in respect to the disputes or claims of what parties the Magistrate assumes jurisdiction to act as provided by that section It is essentially necessary to the validity of proceed ings so taken and for the muntenance of the final order passed therein, that, if the case comes before a Court of Revision, the terms of the order under subsection (1) taking proceedings under $ 145 should show that the Magistrate has acted with jurisdiction

Where both parties were fully cognizant of the matter in dispute and there was no danger of a breach of the peace the High Court declined to interfere where the initial order was defective in that it laid not set forth the ground for the Ungistrate being satisfied of the existence of a dispute lifely to cause a breach of the peace 4

The making of an order in writing under sub-section (i) is absolutely neces ears to give a Magistrate jurisdiction to act under S 145° and it should be properly expressed to comply with the law A Magistrate is bound to satisfy himself on grounds that are reasonable that the dispute is lifely to cause a breach of the peace. So if he is satisfied on a Lolce report in this respect, he has complied w h 145 in instituting proceedings An order referring expressly to a Police report is not defective because it is not self-contained and does not state in express terms the grounds upon which the Ungistrate was satisfied when these grounds appeared in the Police report 1. But 1e must exercise his own judgment and not act merely on a Police report which gives no facts to subs tantiste the Police opinion that a breach of the peace is lilely 4. The grounds upon which the Magistrate is so satisfied must be reasonable and they must as stated by him be such as would satisfy a Court of revision. The order under sub section (1) should be correct and complete in its terms. It is not sufficient that when he drew it up the Mag strate should have before him a Police report informing him that a breach of the peace is likely to take place in consequence of a di pute concerning certain land &c if, in his order lic omits to state that he is

520 [5'5] Nittya and r Paresh rput Singh I L. R 20 Cal 513

<sup>1</sup> hali hristo Thahur t Golam Ali I L R 7 Cal 46 (s c) 8 Cal L R 45 Raja Babu 1 Vuddun Vohan 1 L R 14 Cal 146

Babu 1 Vuddun Vohan 1 L R 14 Cal 146

'Kedar Bukah Khan 5 Moore Ind App 413 (see p 4-4)

'Nochu Fakr 1 Romesh Chandra Bawas I L R 35 Cal 703

'Ganga Saran Snigh I I R 30 Cal 443 Banwan Lal 1 Ihrdo I C

'Sukru Dosadh 1 Ram Pergash I I R 30 Cal 443 Banwan Lal 1 Ihrdo I C

L J 43 c) 2 Cal I. J 359

sitisfied in this respect from the report. He is bound to stite the grounds upon which he is so satisfied. When the Wigistrate merely stated that it appeared from a local inquiry held by him on a certain date that a dispute concerning certim hinds was likely to cause a breach of the peace and there was no record of that local inquiry to show the materials upon which the Magistrate acted it was held that he had not complied with the law, and had acted without rurisdiction 2

/-On what grounds

The order should show the information on which the Magistrate had proceeded and that he is satisfied from such information that there is a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace concerning cert in 1 and cr water or the boundaries thereof (which should be clearly stated and defined)

imminence of a breach of the peace is indicating a higher degree of the chance of the event happening than is denoted by the likelihood " of it is not essential to give a Magistrate jurisdiction 3

Although the order must sausty the requirements of sub-section (1), it need not be self-contained. If it refers to a Police report as showing the grounds upon which the Vingistrate is satisfied that the dispute is likely to couse a breach of the peace and the Police report sets out reasons for so reporting that will be sufficient 4

The fict that a Magistrate found on receipt of a Police report that there were no sufficient grounds for proceeding under S 145 does not prevent the District Magistrate from instituting proceedings on the same report? But if it the hearing the Magistrate finds that there is no apprehension of a breach of the peace he can strike off the case and another Magistrate cannot on the same information revive it?

Nor can a case be revived which has been struck off on a settlement by the parties of their dispute. If the same dispute should again arise so as to cause apprehension of a breach of the peace, the Magistrate can take cognizance of it only by fresh proceedings taken under S 145 (1)

Where the Magistrate with the I nowledge of the parties proceeded on an inquiry held by himself but omitted to state in his order in writing the informa tion on which he has proceeded under S 145 the omission will not affect the validity of his proceed ngs * Mthough the Magistrate need not describe the substance of the information on which he has proceeded at should form part of the record and it should show that there are reasonable grounds for apprehending a breach of the peace on account of such a dispute. It is not necessary that the Police report on which he acts should have been made by a police officer of the district in which the lands &c in dispute may be situated. So a report made by a Police officer that a breach of the peace was I kely to take place in conse

<sup>1</sup> Mohesh Sowar v Naram Bag I L R 27 Cal 181 In re I A Martin I L R 27 11 296

<sup>259 (</sup>FB) Baid anath Majumdart Nibaran Chunder I L R 29 Cal 42 (sc) 6 Cal W

Manindra Chandra Nandi v Barada Kanta I L R 30 Cal 112 (sc) 6 Cal W

N 417 Chathu Rai t Airanjan Rai I L R 20 Cal 729

Tanni Charan Chondhry t Amulya Ratan I L R 20 Cal 867

Sabid Mondul v Lakshmi Mandul 7 Cal W N 599

quence of a dispute regarding lands in two adjoining districts, was sufficient ground for a Magistrate in one of the districts to take proceedings under S. 13. To determine the actual possession of land within his jurisdiction. If the report does not show that such a dispute is likely to cause a breach of the peace, the Magistrate has acted without sufficient grounds, that is without jurisdiction, for a Magistrate cannot interpose to settle a dispute between private parties, unless it is likely to cause a breach of the peac. The making of an order in writing under sub-section (t) is absolutely necessary to give the Magistrate jurisdiction to proceed under 8 145 So he cannot summarily convert proceedings taken under S. 107 to require security to keep the peace into a case under S. 143.

The law does not require, as in a case for security to keep the peace or for good behaviour ($ 112) that the Majs-trate shill inquire into, that is, take exidence to prove the truth of, the information on which he has neted $ An part to the proceeding or any other person interested, is, however, cuttled to show that no such dispute exists or has existed, that is, that the dispute is not likely to cause a breach of the peace, such an objection can be made by any person interested, who need not be a party to the proceedings, that no dispute really exists regarding the particular land or water, or that the dispute is collutioned between the parties to the proceeding only to definud him in the exercise of his lawful rights of property. In such a case, the burden of proof would be on the person rusing such an objection, and evidence of the truth of the information on which the Vigistrate lass neted would be taken, and also evidence, if necessary to rebut such an objection.

//-In respect to the possession of what property

The dispute must be concerning "land or water or the boundaries thereof," that is concerning the possession of such land or water. It is obviously of vital importance that the subject matter of the dispute should be defined with sufficient accuracy to inform the parties so that they may be able to set out in their written statements their claims to actual possession thereof (either in whole or in part) and next because if the property, the subject matter of dispute, be indistinctly described there will be difficulty in enforcing the final order, so that in the end the proceedings may lead to no good result. Care in the first instance will prevent this. Where the parties are in dispute as to the identity of the lands specified in the order in writing under Sub section (1), the Magistrate is bound, before proceeding further to ascertain and identify them, so that neither party may be in doubt in regard to evidence of possession which they should produce a But when there is no misapprehension by the Court or either of the parties as to the land the subject matter of dispute, the want of specification of the boundaries is immaterial . After an inquiry has been commenced on the day fixed for the hearing the proceedings cannot be amended 7. A Magistrate is however competent in his final order to deal with the actual possession of only a portion of the lands mentioned in his order under Sub-section (1), if he finds that the dispute between the parties relates only to it . Where there is a dispute between two joint-owners, each claiming exclusive possession of a joint estate, through their respective ten ants, an order can be made under $ 145 declaring the exclusive possession of a terrant of one party * But S 145 does not apply to a dispute between co-sharers as to the right to collect market tolls and not as to possession of the market itself? Nor does it apply to the right to and apportionment of the offerings given by the worshippers at a temple 2

A Magistrate cannot under 5 14, determine the possession of cut crops stored on a threshing floor. He can determine only a right to standing crops which represent possession of the land to which they are attached 5 See Sub section (2) But it might now be different if the crops had been cut by reason of action taken by the Magistrate under sub section (8) But he cannot in a dispute between two landlords deal with the right to standing crips as they belong to the tenants who grew them if the tenants are not parties to the proceeding 4 Nor can a Magistrate determine a dispute regarding the right to collect rent in respect of a share in an undivided joint property a unless such right be disputed by an attempt to exclude a share holder from possession by denving his title to any share in the property or possession by receipt of rent

A Magistrate cannot under S 145 determine the method by which the posses sion of the parties is to be exercised or the agency by which the party in possession

is to collect the profits 4

The subject matter of dispute may be land with portions only of the posses sion of which each of some of the parties to the proceeding under S 145 is con The question has therefore been rused whether separate proceedings should not be taken in respect of each of these portions. A Fill Bench of the Calcutta High Court has held that it is impossible to lay down a general rule on this subject. The jurisdiction of a Magistrate would depend upon the nature of the information received by him upon which he has tal en action, and this would not be affected by the fact that in the course of his judicial inquiry, the claims of some of the parties are shown to relate to only portions of the entire area in question. The Magistrate's findings should however be directed to the possession of particular plots

A Magistrate ennot institute proceedings with regard to any land or such portion thereof as is outside his incisdiction

III -Parties concerned in such dispute

It is of the greatest importance that attention should be paid to this particular, as the expression—the parties concerned in such dispute has been interpreted to mean not only the parties actualty in dispute but any one concerned in the subject matter of the dispute. This has been carefully considered by a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court 1 It was held that when he institutes proceedings under $ 145 a Magistrate should endeavour to male part es to it all persons then claiming to be in possession of the property in dispute. Parties interested in or claiming only a right to such property are not entitled to be made parties to the proceeding and should not be so made. So a person claiming as a reversioner a right to the property in dispute should not be made a party 10 The intention of Subsection (3) is to empower the Magistrate, after he has issued the order under Sub section (1) to the persons who from the information before him appear to be claim ing to be in possession to bring in any other persons who from subsequent infor

Akaloo Chandra Das I I. R 36 Cal 986
 Ram Saran Pathak I L R 38 Cal 387
 Ramwan Aliv Janardhan I L R 30 Cal 110 (s c) 6 Cal W N 881 Chaurasi
 Ram Sankar All W N (1995) 278
 Denoman Chowdhram 5 Cal W N 105
 Madholal v Jug Lal 6 Cal W N 841 Benn Naran v Achar Nath I L R 5

<sup>30</sup> Cal 155 (s c) 6 Cal W N 737 30 Cal 155 (s c) 6 Cal W N 737

mation it may seem proper to have before him. Sub-section (3) also provides for the publication of the order under (4) in a consequence place to a near the subject of departs, probably with the intention of garding grants collisive proceedings as well as to take the content need a summons see as to have an apportunity of coming in with his claim to presession and also to notify generally to all persons in the leading that that a proceeding under 8 and has to notify generally to all persons in the leading that it proceeding under 8 and has to notify generally to all persons in the leading that it is proceeding under 8 and has to notify generally to all persons in the leading that it is proceeding under 8 and has to notify generally to all persons in the leading that it is proceeding to the indigence that the community of the control of the indigence that the proceeding is to this stage of the proceedings persons who are mentioned in the order under the purpose of joining in the proceeding and bringing it to in end. But after the commencement of the inquiry no person claiming to be concerned in the despite, that the topic of persons who are mentioned in the order under the purpose of joining in the proceeding and bringing it to in end. But after the commencement of the inquiry no person claiming to be concerned in the despite, that the tree that the parts is the proceeding.

be concerned in the dispute is entitled to be made a party to the proceeding. This judgment of the Full Bench of the Cikutta High Court has also declared I former judgment of a Lull Bench under the repealed Code of 1882 to be obsit lite In thit cast it had been held that a Magistrate was not competent to add or substitute is parties to a proceeding under $ 145 t persons who had not been so made in the order in writing by which those proceedings had been initiated, and that if he was satisfied that other parties should attend as being concerned in the dispute the only course open to a Wigistrate is if he be empowered in that behilf and if he is sitisfied that danger of a breach of the peace still exists to record a fresh proceeding. There are mains reported cases which depend on this case now declired to be obsolete to which it is unnecessity to refer in detail The result of these cases as was pounted out in the order of reference to a bull Bench 2 would be to rinder $ 145 moperative. The rule Ind down by the Cilcutta High Court may a use some delay in starting the judicial inquiry because on the day fixed for the commencement of this inquiry it may be found that persons other than these mentioned in the order in writing made under sub-section (1) are concerned in the dispute and should be made parties to that inquiry but it should be borne in mind that if the Wagistrate considers the case one of emergency " that is, that measures should be at once taken to prevent a probable breach of the he may attach the subject of dispute pending his decision? (Subsection (4) Proviso I Unless til such persons be mide prities to the proceedings in the order prised under sols section (i) the Migistrate is final order in regiral to the nectual posses son of some person who mis be a pirt) to the proceedings under S. 13 may lifted possession really with some other person who is no pirty, and silicough at order piessed in a proceeding to which he was no party may not in law affect the rights of sinch person it would put him to serious meconenicies and exponse in defending his rights and probably lauss further proceedings under S. 143 to be instituted which might have been avoided. So where there is a dispose within the terms of S. 143 between two sets of ten into each cluming to hold lands as terrints of different Indidords, it is not sufficient only to misk the landlord spirits to a proceeding under S. 143. The trainets should also be mide pirties. The land lords would in such 1 it is claim to hold retail possession interly by proof of recept of rint from the ten ints and an order as between two contending land lords, would not affect the actural possession of the tennants.

If a dispute far possession still exists likely to cause a breach of the peace, in which the tenints are concerned at may be necessary to institute fresh proceedings to which they are parties, but the former proceedings as between the parties.

"al 55 (s c) I Cal W \ 3
(s c) 6 Cal W \ 737
(s c) 4 Cal W \ 613
var I L R, 18 Wad 51

120

to them would still be binding is ignited them. They would not be void for wint of nurisdiction 3

If, however the dispute is whether the persons in actorl possession are so as the ten ints of A or B, the disputing parties the ten ints need not be made parties since the matter for determinition by the Magistrate as between A and B would settle which of these two persons is in possession by proof of receipt of rent from such tenants. A landlord can prove his possession by proof that his lessee is in possession but it is describle that when the lind is so let, ill those concerned in any dispute regarding possession which may arise should be made parties, that is the landlord his firmers and the occupying roots is they are all in some degree If the dispute be between lindlords cicli climing possession through the tenants occupying certain lands possession can be proved by evidence of the receipt of rent for the dispute which must be concerning land or water ' may, under the definition of this expression given be regarding the receipt of rent This may be proved by receipt of rent from a lessee of he as an receipt of rent frem the occopying ten ints 3. If however the dispute is believe a tye sets of fundlords each claiming possession through a different set of terrints and the ten into are not made parties to the proceedings, evidence of possession of receipt of rent would not prove it. It would be necessary to prove possession by the ten into themselves and as they are equally concerned in the dispute they should also be made parties

A miniger is not a proper party to a proceeding under S 145,5 nor an servants for the possession asserted is the possession of their employers who should be made parties though a manager or servints may be joined? But if the proprietor of the property in dispute be out of the jurisdiction of the High Court to which the Migistrate is subordinate he may in proceedings under S 145 be represented by his manager as a party . The Allahabad High Court has held that a party claiming possession as a manager cannot obtain in order under 5 145 even is against a person who under a compromise made with the party entitled to possession declared that he should manage the property in dispote on behalf of that party 4

The making of a immager and not the zemindar a party to the proceeding is merc irregularity or at most an error of law which does not affect the Magis Irate's jurisdiction 10

Parties claiming only portions of the lands in dispute are entitled to separate findings regarding actual possessison under determination by a Magistrate bot it is impossible to his down a general rule how for separate proceedings should be held in respect of each parcel of land. As between zemind it landlords there would be no difficulty, but to require the Magistrate to hold separate proceedings in respect of each plot of land claimed by each of the raights would be to require him to undertike in almost impossible tisl 11

If a receiver appointed by the High Court be made a party to proceedings

Krisl na Ikamiu i Abdul Jabbar I I. R. 30 Cal. 155. (s. c.) 6 Cal. W. N. 73/
 Harak Naram Singh v. Luchmi Bux Roy. 5 Cal. I. R. 287
 Pramatha Blusana v. Doorga Churn. I. I. R. 13 Cat. 4/3. Sarbunanda Basu t. Pransa 513

labb ford. Ibid c

<sup>7</sup> Cal W A -08

<sup>7</sup> Cal W A .08

Ram Charan Das v Monohur Roy I I R 21 Cal 29
Bathoo Lal v Donnt Lal Ibid 727

Millar t Rayendra Aath . (al W N 670

Ram Charan Das t Monohur Roy I I R 21 Cal 29

Dhondhru Singh t I ollet 7 Cal W N 822 (F B)

In re Behari Lal I L R 24 All 443
Bholmath Singh t Wood I L R 3° Cal 287 11 Kristo Kamini t Abdul Jabbar I L R 30 Cil 155 (s c) 6 Cal W A 737

under S 145 the Magistrate has no purisdiction to proceed against lum without the sanction of that Court | But see now 5 146 (2)

COMMENCEMENT OF PROCEEDINGS

If the case is struck off that is to say ahandoned because the parties have settled their ill-pute which caused proceedings under S 145 to be taken, it cannot be renewed if the dispute again irises. The Magnetiate must record an order in writing stating that he is satisfied on certain specified information that a dispute likely to cause a brusch of the peace concerning certain land &c "

A District or Subdivisional Magistrate is competent to transfer to any Magistrate subordinate to him it ease under S (4) for it is an inquiry  $[S \mid 4 \mid k)]$ , and thus it is within the terms of S (9) (1). But it has been held that such a case cannot be transferred by a Viggatrate of the first class empowered to act under S 145, because, although he may be also empowered under S 192 (2) to transfer cases, he is in transfer them only to another Magistrate competent to in the iccused or commit him for trial and this would not include in inquiry under \$ 145 The Wigistrate to whom a case under \$ 145 is transferred should be one competent to hold the inquiry that is, a Magistrate of the first class. There was some infference of apinion is to whether proceedings under 5 145 are a case which can under 5 326 be transferred to another Court by a High Court. The doubt has been settled by the amendment of S 562

It has been held that a proceeding under S 145 is a criminal case, and the Magistrate has power to transfer it under Ss 192 and 528 of the Code. Even if there was any illegality in such transfer, it was cured by $ 529 of the Code $

If the Magistrate finils that the case is one of emergency, he can at any time during the proceedings attach the subject of dispute until his final order shall have been passed (Sub-section 4 pair iii)

SIRVICE OF THE ORDER

A copy of the order under Sub-section (1) must be served as a summons, (See Ss. 68.74) upon such person or persons as the Magistrate may direct. This would urdin irily be on the parties to the dispute specifical in the order under Subsection (i) At least one copy must also be published by being affixed to some conspicuous place it or near the subject of dispute. The object of this is to give such notice as may en ibh other persons concerned in the dispute to appear If any such person does appear at the first hearing the Magistrate may add or substitute him as a party in omission in publish the order on or near the subject of dispute does not make proceedings subsequently held youd for want of jurisdiction. Such service is directory not mandatory? The direction as to publi cution relates to a matter of procedure and not jurisdiction, and omission to comply with it is only an irregularity, and so where the parties duly appeared and none suggested that ansone had been prepulated by the omission the High Court did not interfere. But where a Vagistrate having drawn up a proceeding under 5 145 in the presence of the parties, did not have notices served or published and neither of the parties filed written statements and the Magistrate after hearing one witness ilectated one party to be in possession, the proceedings were held to be so arregular as to justify the interference of the High Court ?

¹ Dunne i Numar Chandra Issor 7 Cal W \ 390
² Mohesh Sowar v Avrin Bag I L R, 27 Cal 981
² Saits Chindra Panday v Rajendra Arami I I R 22 Cal 898
v Minna I L R 24 All 151 I Pro Araminga I L R ∞6 Mad 188
v Minna I L R 24 All 151 I Pro Araminga I L R ∞6 Mad 188
² Stits Chindra Pinday t Rajendra Narami I I R 22 Cal 898
² Girudas Nag i Gaginendra 2 C L J 644
² Saikh Lal Sheikh I arachand 9 Cal W \ 30 16 (c) 2 C I J, 741 (Γ II)
² Sukh Lil Sheikh I I R 35 Cal 74
² \ 100 Narachand Chondhra I I R 35 Cal 74

If all the parties do not appear service on an absent party should be proved to force further proceedings are it en explarte. It would probably be preferable to before firely service in order to present an objection on account of non-service being raised for, if established it would situate ill princedings taken explarte in the absence of such party. In this obsence of one of the containing parties, the large strate is not competent summarily to pass 1 final order in favour of the party who is present? It is should to take evidence and to be existed in regard to the actual possession of that party before he can pass such an order explarte. But where the admission of the plead of one one side completely gives up his case, the Magietrate need not record in evidence.

COURSE OF THE INGUIRN

Any person against whom proceedings are instituted under Chapter VII may offer himself as a witness-5 346

The parties should on or before the day fixed for hearing put in their witten scalements of their respective claims is respects the fact of actual possess son of the subject of dispute it not infrequently happens, that one of the parties makes some excuse for an adjournment for the purpose of taking advantage of the written statement put in by his iderstry, in order to shape his own written statement so as to meet it. If an adjournment be granted the Magitante should it so required return in written statement put in by one of the prities, and direct him to present it again on the new day fixed for hearing

On the day fixed for hearing the Magistrite is competent to add or substitute parties who are shown to be concerned in the dispute or interested in the proceedings. He enmot do so afterwards an omission to add parties who may be afterwards shown to be necessity does not render the proceedings and for want of jurisdiction.

A proper interval should be allowed before the inquiry commences but when it has commenced, the Magistrate should endeavour to hold it de die in diem so is to complete it without delay. He should bear in mind that from its nature such a case should be death with speedly and summarily. His order is only an admirting order and this interference is permissible only to prevent a breach of the peace by temporarily settling and thus removing the cause of dispute. The parties should literafore come with their evidence or apply before the day of hearing for professes for the attendance of any witnesses, whom they may require. If the parties cannot produce their witnesses, the Magistrate should accede to an application for process to compel their attendance 4. A Magistrate hand account of the processing to make the proceeding under this section on the ground that the land or estate is under settlement by the recent authorities.

Under Sub-section (4) as amended the Vegestrate is required to receive all sections as any be produced by the parties that is to say he must examine all witnesses who are in attendance. Under Sub-section (6), which is new, the parties may apply for a summons and the Magistrate has discretion to issue it or not. The rulings which had find down the puriousles which should guide a Magistrate in this matter will still for the most part be applicable.

Although it may be discretional with the Vigistrite to issue summonses for the attendance of witnesses cited by a party still when such an application is made in proper time the Magistrate should not urbitrarily refuse his assistance the cannot refuse an application for summoness simply because a large number

&lt;sup>1</sup> Govind Chandra v Nibaran Chandra 8 W N 642

&lt;sup>2</sup> Haro Mo'an Sardar v Gobind Sahu 7 Cal W N 351 <sup>3</sup> Krishna Kaminiv Abdul Jabbar 1 I R 30 Cal 155 (5 c) 6 Cal W N 737 (F B)

<sup>4</sup> Shama Sanker Mazumdar t Rance A andamoyee 9 B L R App 45 (s c) 18 W R Cr 64

Abdul Rauf Min v Rahomuddin Bhuia 13 C W N 104

of witnesses is mentioned therein. The terms of the law do not mean that the parties should produce their own evidence, or absolve the Magistrate from the duty of assisting them in oldraming the attendance of material witnesses, when it is shown that their attendance cannot be otherwise obtained." To improperly refuse such a process is to act without jurisdiction

But a Division Bench of the Calentta High Court has held that, in proceedings under $ 145 the parties cannot claim as a matter of right, the assistance of the Court in producing their witnesses. The Magistrate is not hound to assist them in producing their evidence a

The evidence should be recorded in secondance with S 356, that is, as in a warrante is littler of the parties, or any third party interested in the proceeding may show that no dispute regarding the land &c. likely to cause a brench of the price, exists or his existed that is, that the police report or other information on which the Magistrate has acted is not reliable, or that the alleged dispute is collusive and not bond fide. If that be established the Magistrate can enneed his order that is, he can discharge the inquiry

Parties who though not actually involved in the dispute, claim to be in possession of the linds which are the subject of the proceedings, should be allawed to give evidence in support of their claim a

If without reisonable cause one of the parties should neglect to put in his written statement, the Magistrate cannot summarily pass an order in favour of the other pirty. He cannot do without taking evidence which satisfies him of the possession of thit parts 4

Before a Magi-trite can proceed exparte, he must have evidence of the service of the notice on the absent party !

When there are several cases all depending on the same evidence and arising out of the same circumstances, the Magistrate may talle the evidence in one case as a test case and treat that evidence as evidence in the others, but he can do so only with the consent of the parties and after telling them what he proposes to do I set party would have the right to cross-examine the witnesses and to produce is witnesses whomsoever he may wish to have examined on his own behalf. It would be a waste of time to live the same evidence taken again and again

The issue for determination is actual possession of the land, &c in dispute on the date on which the order of the Magistrate under Sub-section (i) instituting proceedings was made

It is however competent to the Ungestrate in his final order to find the possession of one of the parties at some earlier date within two months of the date of the order under Sub-section (1) if it appears to him on the evidence given Old of the dust perty has been foreight and wrangfully deposeesed on that date (Subsection (1) Prouse). The law did not however, provide that the Magnetrie shall in such a case order possession to be restored. The Magnetrie by his final order shall declare such party to be entitled to possession of the property in dispute until exicted therefrom in due course of I'm and at the same time forbid ill disturbance until such exiction. So that if the unsuccessful parts offers opposition to the entry of the party in whose favour the order has been passed, he might

fs c) I L R 32 Cal 1003 Harendra L

<sup>1</sup> Hurendra Varain e Bhohani Prea I L R 11 Cal 762 Ram Chandra Das i Monohur I I R 21 Cal 29 1 Surjy i Kanta Acharjee I L R 30 Cal 508 fs c) 7 Cal W 404 Madhab Chandra Fanti e Martin I L R 30 Cal 508 note

L. R. 37 Cal 285

o Cal 520 al W 64°, Haro Mohan Sardar

I jokendie vath Racii Abu Shaikh 8 Cal W N 719

probably be prosecuted for disobedience of the lawful order of the Magistrate S 322 enables a Magistrate to restore possession of immoveable property to one who has been forcibly dispossessed of the same, but that can be ordered only after a conviction of an offence attended by criminal force by which dispossession has been caused. A person who has been forcibly dispossessed of immoveable proparty would complain to the Magistrate of the offence so committed and on proof of his complaint he should obtain an order under S 522. He has also another remedy by summary suit under the Specific Relief Act (1 of 1877) 5 9 in which no question of title can be rused and the decree is not open to appeal or review of judgment. But such a suit must be brought within six months from the date of the alleged illegal dispossession. See Act 1\ of 1908, Sch 1, Art 3 Or a regular suit can be breight for recovery of possession, in which case the period of I mitation is three years (Act IN of 1908 Sch 1, Art 47) But the defect in the law which did not previde for unmary restoration to presse sion of the person treated as being in possession under Sub-section (4) previso t has been remedied by the amendment (1 Sub-section (6)

A Magistrate can depute any Magistrate subordinate to him to male a local inquiry, and in that case he should furnish such Magistrate with such written instructions as may be necessary for his guidance. The report of such local in gury may be read as evidence in the case. The inquiry should be restricted to some features of the property in dispute. It should not be directed to any matter which can be proved before the Magistrate who is holding the proceedings under S 145 1 for in that case an order for local inquity by another Vagistrate who may be competent himself to deal with the case, would practically result in the decision of the case on cyidence, not taken by him but by a Magistrate not competent to deal with the case, and on the opinion expressed by that Magistrate. When a local inquiry has been held and report made it becomes a part of the proceedings under S 145, and the party affected by it is entitled to be made acquainted with the result of such inquiry, and to have an opportunity of rebutting the report of he desires to do so 2

There must be some cyclence from which the Magistrate may reasonably and fairly draw conclusions of fact before he can pass an order in favour of cuther of the parties? He cannot proceed merely on the result of his personal inspection of the land in dispute. If the Magistrate cannot on the evidence before him find that either of the parties was in possession as above stated, or if he finds that neither was in possession he can attach the property pending the determination of the rights of the parties by a competent Court (S 146)

Where the lands actually in dispute are found to be only a port on of those to which the proceedings relate and they can be distinguished the Magistrate is competent to limit his order to declaring the possession of one of the parties to those lands only, or he can deal with them by an order under S 146 attaching them 5 or he may declare the possession of a part of the lands in dispute to be with one of the parties and under S 146 attach the remaining lands 8

The question has arisen whether on the application of the parties the Mag's trate is competent to refer the matter in dispute to an arbitrator appointed by them. Where a Magistrate had so proceeded, and had vacated office before passing a final order in the case, and his successor in office refused to act on the report of the arbitrator as it was in his opinion inadmissible in evidence, the High Court on revision set aside his order and directed him to take it Into con

<sup>1</sup> In re Baikant Kumar 3 Cal L R 134 2 Mir Dhunoo v Brown 21 W R Cr 2

Mad H. Cr. Pro May 12, 1869
 Mand H. Cr. Pro May 12, 1869
 Anandee Nort, Rance [Somaet Rober 9 W. R. Cr. 64, O. F. Alchander, Shah 7
 B. L. R. 322
 B. L. R. 322
 S. L. Sadar Aliv Abdul Karim 5 Cal W. 710
 Small Johurry, Lal 5 Cal W. 503

sideration 1. Sub-section (4) however requires the Vingistrate to receive any exidence produced by the parties to consider such evidence, to take such evidence as he considers necessary and if passable to decide the actual possession of one of the parties in dispute. It iloes not apparently contemplate that he should refer the matter in dispute to arbitration and deal with the case before him If the parties express a wish to settle the dispute on the report so minde between them by irbitration the proper course seems to be to stry his procredings on the ground that there was no longer any dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace

When one of the parties to a proceeding under 5 145 had instituted a suit for possession of the finds in dispute the Magistrate was without jurisdiction is possession of the other was admitted. He should rather take security from the person cut of postssion to keep the peace 4

The duty of a Magistrate in passing in order under 5 145 is to maintain the order of my competent Court which new free determined the right of of the pirts is igainst the other If the Magistrate finds that an reler of a competent Civil Court has given into of the lands in dispute to one of the parties he should maint im that party in possession s If he finds that the lind is after lind he should determine which of the parties is in actual possession. The object of the law is to prevent a breach of the peace by retaining in possession the parts already there until such time as the Civil Court can pronounce on conflicting claims of right. When the Civil Court has once proced a decree the right is between the litigants is decided and there is no more place for a summary order which proceeds not upon title but upon possession If the lin were otherwise it would be worth no one's while to to the trouble and expense of proving title in a regular suit for the effect of a decree might be to 1 great extent nullified by parties getting into some kind if possession and then demanding to be retained until a second suit is brought and d cided 6

In one case the High Court has gone so far as to hold that where there his been a derret of a Civil Court gring possession of the land in dispute one of the prince the U. structure should give effect to it, notwithstanding that another party to the proceeding under $ 14,0 was no party to the decree? But the dreier must be recent. If it is not so, the other party should not be shut out from giving evidence to prove his possession. It cannot after a considerable lapse of time be conclusively presumed merely on the decree that possession under it has not been disturbed a

The question of possession in a proceeding under S 145 has to be deter mined with reference to a specified point of time upon this question, every previous decret of a Civil Court or order of a Criminal Court is not necessarily conclusive the evidentiary value to be attached to such a document must depend upon the circumstances of each particular case a

If the deferted judgment diblor persists in reasting possession and is thus defining the authority of the Crit Court be should be told that he is a tresposer and he should in necessary be bound over to keep the peace, to

<sup>1</sup> Taramoni Chaudhrum 1 Gasanendra 7 Cal W 1 461

* Kulada Kunkar e Danesh Mir C I J 10 In re Bholanath Ghose 7 Cal L R 516

ind it has been so held where one of the nurtus had been declared to be in possession under the Bengal I and Registration Act 1876 1 Where possession has been declared by a competent Court at a period not too remote from the proceedings taken under 5 145 it is the duty of the Magistrate to maintain If the parties are it variance is to the construction and effect of a decree of a Civil Court at is competent to the Migistrate to construe the decree for the purpose of deciding on the evidence the fact of possession 5 Proceedings under 5 143 should be taken only when there is a lond fide dispute, the title to hold p s ession being intert in and there is in apprehended breach of the peace in consequence. If the title is certain the Magistrate should bind over the aggress r to leep the paine. How fir any proceedings or order of a competent Court was binding between the pirties in dispute before the Magis trate would depend upon whether this were both parties to the former proceed ings rither personally or through their predecessors in title

The dispute is often between some per on cluming a right to possession under in order or title braned from a Civil Court and some person resisting his teempt to obtain presession who is sometimes the judgment-debtor, or ? party to those proceedings or e third person. The proper course for such pirties is to ipply to the Civil Court to settle the matter in dispute is the Code of Civil Procedure provides for cases in which a decree holder or purchaser at in execution sale is opposed when attempting through in officer of the Cust Court to obt im possession the print whose right to possession is based on some title channel through the Cust Court should apply to that Court for redees and in order so obtained would be given proper effect to by the Magistrate in proceedings taken under 5 145 or it might have the effect of superseding in fresh order pissed by the Magistrate which is only of temporary operation. So where pessession given by in officer of the Civil Court in execution of a diverce was opposed by the judgment debtor on the ground that he held the land as sebuit under i different title the Migistrate's order in his friour was set aside, the judgment debtor being referred to the Civil Court which was competent to determine the title set up . Similarly where the judgment debtors claimed to re mum on the lands of which possession had been given to the decree holders on the ground that they were tenants having rights of occupancy and obtained an order of the Angistrate under S 145 it was set aside on the ground that as that title had never been rused in the Civil Court possession under the decree should be maintained. But a purchaser at a sale held in execution of a decree as not so entitled to be declared to be in possession if he is opposed by a third party claiming to be in possession. His remedy is in the Civil Court 8

The effect of a Butwara is simply to give possession of particular lands to proprictors is imanget themselves not to ous tenants in possession and therefore it cannot be binding as against the ten ats a proceedings under S 1457

When however a Vagistrate found that an order of his predecessor passed unler 5 145 two years previously had not been complied with he was not com petent to inforce it. He ought rather to have maintimed the possession which he found even if it were inconsistent with that order for the party who had obtained it had never complained that his possession had been threatened or dis turbed nor asled to be maint uned in possession *

<sup>1</sup> Gobind Chunder Moitra & Adhool Sayad I L R 6 Cat 835 (s c) 8 Cal L R

Doutat Koer : Rameswan I L R -6 Cal 62, (s c) 3 Cal W N 461

Moti Lal Hargovind Bom H Ct Feb 3 1304

*Mon Lai Hargovind Bolin H Cl. Feb. 3 1904 'In re Chatraput Singh 5 Cal L R 200 Shama Soonder) 1 Jardine Skinner (W R Cr 10 Prayag Singh 1 Fuzool Horsen 6 Cal 1 R 206 'Mackenzie 1 Shere Bahadoor I L R 4 Cal 3-8 Q v Protap Chandra Barooah 2 t W R Cr 2

The Magistrate cannot decide a matter under $ 145 on evidence of title,1 for Sub-section (4) declares that the Magistrate shall without reference to the ments of any claim of any of the parties to a right to possess the subject of dispute, decide which of the parties was at the date of the order in actual possession, and the written statements of the parties, as well as their evidence, should be directed to their respective claims as regards the fact of actual possession of the subject matter of disjuite. But the Wagistrate may use evidence of title merely to guide and assist his mind in coming to a decision of the question of possession. I videme of title if tiken may supplement direct evidence of posses sion but it cannot standing alone be proof of possession. If there is substantial evidence of possession or a conflict of evidence on that point, a Magistrate is justified in looking it exidence of title in combination with evidence of possession?

Sub section (s)

Under this one of the pirties to the proceedings or a stranger who may be affected by them 3 will be able to show that no such dispute, as is set forth in the order of the Vingistrate under sub-section (i), exists or has existed, and that therefore his interference is unnecessity or without jurisdiction. The dispute may not exist because there may have been a settlement of such dispute between the parties, or it may not have existed either m such manner is to close any reasonable apprehension of a breigh of the peace or in respect of the particular property specified. An objection so taken will in firt be to dispute the truth or the correctness of the information on which the Magistrate has proceeded. Such in objection may be made by a person who is no party to the proceedings under S 145 but who is interested in the matter under determination. Such person may be one in possession of the land sud t be in dispute and he may thus show that the dispute alleged to exist between the parties to the proceedings under $ 145, is fraudulent and collusive and merely in ittempt to interfere with his possession and to put him to inconvenience and expense in consequence if in idverse order behind his back in the Magistrate's Court which he has otherwise no means of contesting The Magistrate should in his order under sub-section (i) instituting proceedings, make parties all those who are interested in the dispute that is all persons who claim a right to the property in dispute though they may not be involved in the dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace, and although he may have omitted such a person is for instance, one interested therein he can add or substitute such parties who have not been made parties to the proceeding instituted under S 145 (1) it the commencement of the inquiry that is when the matter tomes before him under sub-section (4) but not at a later stage in the proceedings 4

Sub-section (4) seems to have been enacted so is to enable all parties "interested ', whether they have been made parties to the proceedings or not, to contest the information on which the Magistrate has reted that there is a dispute lil ely to cruse a breach of the pene for the Lix does not make it incumbent on a Magistrate, as in a case regarding security to keep the peace (S 117) to inquire, in the presence of the parties concerned into the truth of the information on which he has proceeded. It only requires that the Magistrate should be "satis fold from a police report or other information in this respect. The burden of priving that such information is not true seems rather to be thrown on the party disputing it under this sub-section for it declares that, subject to a cancellation of his order in consequence of such an objection being established the order of the Magistrate under sub-section (i) shall be final

Parties who though not actually involved in the dispute claim to be in posses-

Prayag Mahton : Cobind Mahton I 1 R 32 Cal 60° (s c) o Cal W 86° Kall Kristo Thakur c Colam M 1 L R 7 Cal 46, (s c) 8 Cal L R 245 Raja Babu t Muddun Mohim I I R 14 Cd 160
Janoki Nath Roy t Q Imp 3 Cal W 3

hrishna Kamini ; Abdul Jabbar I L R. 30 Cat 155 (s c) 6 Cat W & 737

ind it has been so held where one of the parties had been declared to be in possession under the Bengal Land Registration Act, 1876.1 Where posses sion has been declared by a competent Court at a period not too remote from the proceedings taken under 5 140 it is the duty of the Migistrate to maintain that order. If the parties are it virince is to the construction and effect of e decree of a Civil Court at is competent to the Magistrate to construe the decree for the purpose of deciding on the evidence the fact of possession 3 Pro ccedings under 5 145 should be tiken only when there is a bonu fide dispute the title to hold possession being uncert in and there is in apprehended breach of the peace in consequence. If the title is certain, the Magistrate should bin ever the aggressor to keep the price. How fir any proceedings or order of competent Court was binding between the parties in dispute before the Magis trate would depend upon whether they were both parties to the former proceed ings either personally or through their predecessors in title

The dispute is often between some person cluming a right to possession under in order or title obtained from a Civil Court, and some person resisting his attempt to obtain possession, who is sometimes the judgment-debtor, or party to those proceedings or e third person. The proper course for such parties is to ipply to the Civil Court to settle the matter in dispute, is the Cod of Civil Procedure provides for cases in which a deeret holder or purchaser in execution sale is opposed when attempting through in officer of the Cast Court to obtain presession the parts whose right to possession is based on som title obtained through the Civil Court should upply to that Court for redress and in order so abtinged would be given proper affect to by the Magistrate in proceedings taken under \ 145 or it might have the effect of superseding in fresh order passed by the Magistrate which is only of temporary operation. where possession given by in officer of the Civil Court in execution of a decre was opposed by the judgment-debtor on the ground that he held the land a sebuil under a different title the Magistrate's order in his fatour was set asile the judgment debtor being referred to the Civil Court which was competent to determine the title set up 4 5 mularly where the judgment debtors claimed to re main on the lands of which possession had been given to the decree holders, on th ground that they were ten ints having rights of occupancy, and obtained an orde of the Vingistrate under S 145 at no set aside on the ground that, as that tath had never been rused in the Civil Court, possession under the decree should b maintained. But a purchaser at a sile held in execution of a decree is not s entitled to be declared to be in possession if he is opposed by a third party claiming to be in possession. His remedy is in the Civil Court a

The effect of a Butwara is simply to give possessin of particular lands to pro prictors is amongst themselves, not to oust tenants in possession and therefor it cannot be binding as against the ten ints in proceedings under $ 145

Whin however a Magistrate found that an order of his predecessor passel under S 145 two years previously had not been complied with he was not com petent to enforce it. He ought rather to have maintained the possession which he found even if it were inconsistent with that order, for the party who has obtained it had never complained that his possession had been threatened or dis turbed nor asked to be maintained in possession

&lt;sup>1</sup> Gobind Chunder Mostra v Adbool Sajad I L R 6 Cal 835 (s c) 8 Cal L R

Doulat hoer t Rameswari I L R 26 Cal 623 ($ c ) 3 Cal W N 461 Moh Lal Hargovind Bons H Ct Feb 3 1994 for rectargut Singh 5 Cal L R 200 Shama Soondery v Jardme 5 kumer 6 W R Cr 10 Shama Sondery v Jardme 5 kumer 6 W R Cr 10 Praya Syngh i I tucoul Hossem 6 Cal i R 706 Praya Syngh i Lucoul Hossem 6 Cal i R 706 Collection t Shere Bahadoof I L R 4 Cal 378 Q v Frotag Chandra Baroosh 7 W R Cr 2

The Magistrate cannot decide a matter under $ 145 on evidence of title,1 for Sub-section (4) declares that the Magistrate shall without reference to the merits of any claim of any of the parties to a right to passess the subject of dispute, decide which of the parties was at the date of the order in actual possession, and the written statements of the parties, is well as their evidence, should be directed to their respective claims as regards the fact of actual possession of the subject matter of dispute. But the Wignerite may use evidence of title merely to guide and issist his mind in coming to a decision of the question of possession. Evidence of title of taken may supplement direct evidence of possessun but it cannot standing alone be proof of possession. If there is substantial evidence of possession or a conflict of evidence on that point, a Magistrate is justified in looking it evidence of title in combination with evidence of possession?

Sub section (5)

Under this one of the parties to the proceedings or a stranger who may be affected by them a will be able to show that no such dispute as is set forth in the order of the Magistrate under sub-section (i) exists or has existed and that therefore his interference is unnecessity or without jurisdiction. The dispute may not exist because there may have been a settlement of such dispute between the parties, or it may not have existed either in such minner is to ciuse any reasonable ap preliension of a breach of the peace or in respect of the particular property specified. An objection so taken will in fact be to dispute the truth or the correctness of the information on which the Wigistrate has proceeded. Such in objection may be made by a person who is no party to the proceedings under $ 145 but who is interested in the matter under determination. Such person may be one in possession of the land said to be in dispute and he may thus show that the dispute alleged to exist between th parties to the proceedings under $ 145 is fraudulent and collusive and merely in attempt to interfere with his possession and to put him to inconvenience and expense in consequence of in adverse order behind his back in the Magistrate's Court which he has otherwise no means of contesting The Magistrate should in his order under sub-section (1) instituting proceedings, make parties all those who are interested in the dispute, that is, all persons who clum a right to the property in dispute though they may not be involved in this dispute libely to cause a breach of the peace, and although he may have omitted such a person as for instance, one "interested" therein he can add or substitute such parties who have not been made parties to the proceeding instituted under S 145 (1), at the commencement of the inquiry, that is, when the matter comes before him under sub section (4), but not at a later stage in the proceedings 4

Sub-section (5) seems to have been enacted so as to enable all parties "interested", whether they have been made parties to the proceedings or not, to contest the information on which the Migistrate has acted, that there is a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace, for the Liv does not make it inclimbent on a Magistrate, as in a case regarding security to keep the peace (5 117) to inquire, in the presence of the parties concerned into the truth of the information on which he has proceeded. It only requires that the Magistrate should be "satisfied from a police report or other information, in this respect. The burden of proving that such information is not true seems rather to be thrown on the parts disputing it under this sub-section, for it declares that subject to a cancellation of his order in consequence of such an objection being established, the order of the Magistrate under sub-section (i) shall be final

Parties who though not actually involved in the dispute claim to be in posses-

Prayag Mahton : Gobard Mahton I 1 R 3 Cal 60° (s c) o Cal W A 86° hali kristo Thakir i Golam Ab 1 L R 7 Cal 46 (s c) 8 Cal L R 245 Raia

Babu t Middlen Mohin I I R 14 Cal 160
Janoki Nath Roy t Q Limp 3 Cal W N 3-9
Anshina hamini 1 bdill Jabbar I L R 30 Cal 155, (5 c) 6 Cal W N 737 23

sion of the lands which are the subject of the proceedings should be allowed to give evidence in support of their claim.

Dete of possession to be found and made ground of the Megistrate sinal order

Ordinarily the issue for determinat in is netual passession on the date of the Migistrate's order under sub-section (i) taling action in the matter. It, how ever sometimes happens that after the information has been given on which the Magistrate has proceeded and before he exercises jurisdiction under S 145, over the dispute one of the parties secreeds in forcibly and wrongfully ousting the other party or it may be that the probable breach of the peace reported to the Magistrate by the Police is the result of a wrongful or forcible dispossession by one of the parties. If therefore the Magistrate's order was strictly limited to possession on the date of his order subsequently passed it would maintain a possession forcibly and wrongfully required. This difficulty has been felt by the Courts as sever I reported cases show and it is to provide against this that the lin now permits a Magistrate to find actual possession within the terms of 5 145 to be within two months believe the date of his order under sub-section (1) if it ippears that within that period one of the parties has been forcibly and wrongfully dispossessed Still is has been observed in a previous por tion of this note the law did not originally provide that such person shall be ousted. The course which the law provided before the amendment of S 145 in the present Code and which still exists gives a remedy for such a e ise vi prosecution of such a person for the offence resulting in the forcible and wrongful possession and after his conviction if it is found that such dispossession has been attended by criminal force the Magistrate can under S 522 order the person so ousted to be restored to possession. Act IV of 1840, S r, expressly gave a Magistrate power to pass such in order in a summary proceeding such as that now under S 145 of this Code, but the Legislature, in 1860 and subsequently, thought proper to prevent such action on the part of a Magistrate except under S 522 ifter a conviction leaving it open to an ag grieved party to appeal to the Criminal Court by complaint of an offence or to the Civil Court by a summary suit under the Specific Richef Act, (1 of 1877) S 9 which re-enacted the law expressed in similar terms in Act XIV of 1859; S 15 But the more recent imendment of sub-section (6) provides an easier and more speedy remedy for the Magistrate is now empowered to restore to possession the party who has been forcibly and wrongfully dispossessed within the months preceding his order under sub-section (1) and whom he treats as being in possession under sub-section (4) proviso i

The order of a Magneti de works S 143 of this Code does not prevent a possessor, suit under Act I of 1877, S 9 or, in Bombay, under Bom Act II of 1906, S 5 to obtain pos esson on the ground that the possession so declared his been accounted otherwise than in due course of In S

The order passed should be that a certain person is entitled to retain possession until evicted in due course of I'm. Consequently a Magistrate cannot direct that certain ryots be retained in possession only until their crops have been raped. By such an order he would terminate a possession which he is bound to maintain until exiction as a result of other proceedings before a duly constituted tribunal?

When a Magistrate has cancelled proceedings under this section, he cannot

¹ Q Emp : Gobind Chandra Das I L R → Cal 5 0 1 Nagappii Sajad Badradin I L R 6 Bom 353 Chytun Chunder Roj v Brojø kant 20 W R Civil 12

ant 20 W R Civil 12
Bunwari Lil Misser i Raja Radha Pershad i Cal L R 136

CHAP VII SEC 143

make an order allowing one of the parties to reap the crops to the exclusion of the other 1

A Virgistrate issued in order under S. 144 forbidding any collection of rent in certain property and two months liter on experition of the operation of that order, he tool, proceedings under S. 145. The parties consequently were unable to give evidence of possession at the date of the order under S. 145 (1), or while the order under S. 144 was in force is by reason of that order they could not exercise an rights of possession. If was therefore field, on evidence of possession before the order under S. 145 (1) for the day for order inder S. 145 (1) for the day for the proceedings by the order under S. 145 (1)?

Subsection (6)

The terms of this Sub-section must be carefully considered in connection with an order passed by a Majestrak in the discretion given by Sub-section (4) Pro-Man i that is to say when he find, that there has been a forcible and wrongful dispossession within two months before the date of his taking proceedings under section 14.5 Sub-section (6) contemplates the right of the party so disturbed to re-enter into possession the Majestrate can declare that such party is entitled to possession and forbid all disturbance of such possession, and by reason of the recent amendment made in this section he can restore possession to the person dispossession.

Sub-section (7)

This is intended to enable a Magistrate to settle a dispute which may require adjudication so that the death of one of the proties to it shall not terminate his proceedings which in most cases would have to be renewed in consequence of the opposition of the legal representative or hear of the deceased party, for such person will be equally interested in maintaining possession of property which in that capicity he may claim. Hitherto no provision was expressly made for dealing with such a matter. The Magistrate on receiving information of the death of one of the parties should abstain for a reasonable time from proceeding further in the inquiry before him, so is to give an opportunity to some person of immig to act on behalf of the existe of the deceased party to apply for leave to appear or if the Magistrate has information on this subject, he should give notice of the proceedings before him, so as to enable an application to this effect to be made.

By Sub section (7) as now amended the Magistrate should take steps to bring the legal representatives on the record as parties, he is not required to make any inquiry as to which is the legal representative in case of dispute, that is the function of a Civil Court, in such a case all persons claiming to be legal representatives must be made parties to the proceedings.

Sub section (3)

This is new. It is to be remembered that the expression "land" includes "crops and other produce of land. Where such are the subject of dispute, and in the opinion of the Magistrate are subject to speedy and natural deedy, he can male an order for the proper custody and sale of such property, and at the conclision of the proceedings can order the property, or sale proceeds thereof, to be deposed of as he thinks fit. For a similar power in regard to property in a regular ringuity or trail see $\frac{5}{3}$ (64).

Rance Anandomoyee : Luchman Pershad - Cal L R 264

<sup>1</sup> Karımuddi v Naimuddi 3 C L J. 573 2 Joyanti Kumar Mookerjeet Middleton I L R 27 Cal 785 (5 C) 4 Cal W \
562

Sub section (c)

This new Sub-section males it cle r that the Magistrate has a discretion to issue summonses for the attendance of a witness or the production of a document or other thing. There have been reported cases in which that discretion has been recognised and the principles which should guide the Magistrate have been laid down See note above under the heading Course of inquiry '

Sub section (10)

The legislature has now definitely had it down that nothing in S 145 shall be deemed to be in derogation of the powers of a Magistrate to proceed under S 107 This is a point that has repeatedly been considered by the High Courts, and most of the cases dealing with it are still applicable in so far as they lay down the principles which should guide a Magistrate to a decision whether he will take action under 5 145 or under 5 107

Magistrates should recollect that they should proceed under S 145, rather than take security to keep the peace where the subject matter of the dispute lilely to caus a brench of the peace is the possession of land or water as defined in S 145 (2) and that except upon the clearest grounds that the person proceeded against is a wrong-door they should not in proceedings to take security to keep the peace find that he is a wrong-door and not in possession of the subject matter in dispute In such proceedings, such an issue of the fact of actual possession e nnot be tried between the di puting parties as they are not both of them parties to those proceedings in one reported ease, such proceedings have been set aside as bad a

This ruling was followed in a later case2 in which the dispute related to a fishery right and proceedings under S 107 were again set aside. In so far as these decisions proceeded on the argument that the words of S 145 (1) are mandatory- he shall male an order in writing '-they lose some of their force, because Sub-section (10) has been deliberately inserted to meet this argument But in the earlier case no reference is made to the language of S 145 in the reported judgment. Another ease has laid it down that when the dispute which is lifely to cause a breach of the peace relates to the possession of land the the Magistrite has a discretion to proceed either under S 107 or under S 1453 In this case the learned Judges of the Madras High Court were not prepared to say that they would have taken the same view as the Calcutta High Court in Dolegobind Choudhry v Dhann Khan! The Madras decision was followed in a later Calcutta cases the same view was taken by the Allahabad High Court's Finally the question was considered by a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court which had down the law which has now been adopted. It has been held that there is no conflict between S 107 and 145 that the fact the dispute concerns lind does not deprive the Wagistrate of his discretion to act under S 107 and that when a Magistrate has proceeded under S 107 his com petence to take action subsequently under S 145 and the propriety of taking such action will depend on the circumstances of the case, namely, whether a lil elihood of a breach of the peace continues or not. The competence of the Ungistrate to proceed under $ 107 against persons not in possession must depend upon whether as against those persons the conditions specified in the section have been established. All the cases on the point were cited in arguments

Dolegobind Chowdhry v Dhanu Khan I L R -5 Cal 559

mp v Thakur Pande I I R

<sup>34</sup> All 449 Emp v Abbas I L R 39 Cal 150

CRAP XII Sec 145

before the Court, but the learned Judges who constituted the full Bench did not refer to any of them in the course of their judgment

A Magistrate is competent to proceed under $ 145 after he has taken action under 5 107 if the circumstances so require? Where there was a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace, between the traders who frequented a particular market and the agent of the owner of the market as to who should receive certain market dies, it was held that the circumstances did not warrant an order under $ 145, and that $ 107 was the more appropriate section under which to proceed. For further cases on this point see note above under healing. In respect to the possession of what property

Discretion necessary before proceeding under s 145

Magistrates should be most careful before they take proceedings under S 145 The law now gives them the fullest powers provided that they act eith jurisdic tion for it is unly in a case in which a Ungistrate has acted authorit jurisdiction that it is open to a Court of Revision to take cognizance of his proceedings But Magistrates should always bear in mind that the primary object of an un scrupulous person in fomenting i dispute so as prima facie to form sufficient ground for proceedings under $ 145 is, with an insecure title, to obtain a sum mary order in his Livour and thus to put an adversary to a disadvantage in liti gation which he desires to promote, and in which he will be in a better position as a defendent with the burden of proof on the other side, to prove his little

It is in the discretion of a Magistrate to institute proceedings under S 145 He cannot be directed to do so by the District Magistrate 3 or by the Sessions Judget or by the High Court's

There are numerous Acts which give Revenue Officers and Courts jurisdiction to settle disputes relating to the possession of land arising between landlord and tenant, or relating to the boundaries of such land —

Fur Byson see Beng Reg VII of 1822 S 14 Cl 11, in respect to a Revenue Officer mailing a settlement Beng Act V of 1875 S 41, making a revenue survey Beng Act VII of 1876, Ss 55, 56, in proceedings for the regis tration of mutation of names of proprietors of estates

I r MADRIS see Mad Reg 111 of 1816

Lir Bounts see Barn Act II of 1006, $ 5, in respect to Mambildars

For the United Provinces see Act XIX of 1873, S 144

for the Punjin see Act AVI of 1887, S 50

If a decree has been passed by a Civil Court between the disputing parties the Magistrate is not competent to interfere with its operation. He is bound to maintain possession given under it by which any dispute regarding it has been finally determined and it is then the Magistrate's duty to treat the decree holder is the owner of that land and to give him every protection in the use and enjoy ment of it. If a dispute regarding possession of such land again arises, the point for his decision is in the first instance whether the decree covers the land which is the subject of dispute. If he finds that it does, he should then maintain the decree holder in possession, but if he finds that the land is other land, he should try and find out who is in de facto possession. If the fact of possession is not clear but extremely doubtful, the subject of the dispute may be attached until a connetent Civil Court shall have determined who ought to be in possession

l Basmab Charan Vajhi I L R 39 Cal 469 I Tmp v Ram Lochai I L R 36 All 43 Aalash Chandra Fala Kenjabe an I L R 24 Cal 391 (s c) : Cal \ \ \ \ \ 393 O Emp t Gobind Chandra Das I L R 20 Cal 520

There would never be an end to litigation if the Magistrate did not keep in force

the decision of a Civil Court regarding land 1

When in a sile in execution of a decree possession was given to the auction purchaser and a dispute arose between him ind the judgment-debtor, it is for the Magistrate only to inquire whether the property in dispute prised by the decree and sile and whether possession under it had been juden. Where the deferted judgment debtor persists in resisting possession and is thus delying the authority of the first local court he should be told that he is a tresposser and he should in accession be bound over to leap the piece. So less when under the Land Registration Not a party is declared to be in possession, it is not competent to a Magistrate under 5 145 to declare and maintain the possession of modifier party. The principle to be followed is that when the rights of the particle have been determined by a competent Court, the dispute is at an end, and it is the duty of the Magistrate to maintain the rights of the successful party.

In connection with this subject the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 S. 74 and Order XVI rules p 103 may be referred to Iliese relate to the course to be tall on when the execution of a d tree for posses on of land is obstituted for resisted by a person out the judgment-debit r 180 when such person has disjuisted the right of the decree helder to disposses him and 180 when a purch isser of immose able property in execution of a decree is resisted or obstructed to obtaining possession and these encitments confer on a Civil Court imple powers to deal with such matters. A Magistrate should therefore 185 that from interfering in disputes regarding claims to possess land in such cases referring the parties to the Civil.

Court and taling if necessary a bond to keep the peace

It will thus be seen that it has been determined that when a title has once been declared between certain parties by a decree or order of a competent Civil Court the Vargistrate's duty is to maintain it if necessary by binding over the party, who thus tries to oppose it, to keep the pence. His proceedings under S 145 are to be taken only when there is a bone fide dispute the title and right to possess under it being innection in order to present a brench of the pence. The jurisdiction of a Criminal Court is confined to cases of possession. It is beyond its province to inquire into and a section titles to Innied property.

But a Mag strate's jurisdiction is not ousted by the fact that a suit is pending the grant of the land in dispute under S 0 of the Specific Rehef Act, 1877.

Not is a High Court justified in setting aside the proceedings because on the date.

of their initiation there was a subsisting order under $ 144 5

A Magairate sorder under S. 145 is only of temporary duration to return a person in possession of certain land until extend therefrom in the course of law, and it is passed without reference to the ments of the claims of any of the parties to a right to possess the subject of dispute. (Sub-section 4) It is therefore the duty of a Magairate to maintain the order of a competent Court which may have determined and declared the right of either of the parties in possession and this would be especially in respect to an order in a possessory action under the Specific Relief Act 1877 S o in which possession may have been given without reference to title, is much as no a suit in which the right to possession by tritie of title may have been found and declared. A Magairate sorder under S 145 would probably be also subject to one p seed by a Criminal Court under S 522 of this Code on conviction of a person of an offence by which dispossession has been caused by criminal fourth.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Rai Mohun Roy t Wise 16 W R Cr 24 Gulraj Varwari t Sheik Bhattoo I L R 3° Cal 796

if pre Chatraput Singh 5 Cal L R 200
2 free Bhola vath Ghosh 7 Cal I L R
516
7 Noore Ind App -83 (8 c)

зΝ.

Proceedings under 8 145 in an inquiry within the terms of the definition, and therefore if the Magnetrite who has instituted such proceedings, or who has hard or recorded the whole or an part of the evidence, or sees to exercise jurisdiction therain or its succeeded by mother Magnetrite who has or everyease such purisdiction, the Magnetrite set succeeding may jet on the evidence so recorded by his producesor or partly recorded by his producesor or partly recorded by his producesor or partly recorded by the may resumman the witnesses and recommend the inquiry. (5-350)

A District or Sub-divisional Alignstrate may under $5.55 transfer or withdraw my such a section in Magnetial sub-enhanted from him to the major such as himself or him in refer it for inquiry to my other such Migistrate competent to inquire into the simil.

Disabellence of an order presed by a Majestrate under this section would be punchible under $1.85. Penal Cook Vaperan purchising from one against whom such an order was presed and with knowledge of such order was held to have been rightly punched for disabellence thereof by disturbing the possession of the prix in whose fromer that doesn't presed.

Reusson

In the Code of 1888 is requirable encircled Subsection (3) of $435 lend down that proceedings under Chapter VI were not proceedings within the meaning of third section. This Subsection his new been reported by Act XVIII of 1923 with the result that proceedings under this Chipter has once again become subject to the revision of jurisdiction of the High Courts. During the period following 1898 the High Courts considered whether they find power under $130 of the Indian High Courts & 1800 is revise proceedings under this Chapter, the Calcutti High Court bidd that it had the power though it used it rarely, the Villebach High Court took the opposite ties 4.

The feregoing note indicates virious grounds on which the High Courts would be likely to interfere in the cuercise of their new powers of revision. A Viguarite his no juresdition to review a final order passed by himself.

under 5 145 5

146 (1) If the Vigistrate decides that none of the parties

Prover to attach subs was then in such possession, or is unable to set of dispute stits I unuself as to which of them was then in such possession of the subject of dispute he may attach it until a competent Court has determined the rights of the parties thereto, or the parties.

Provided that the District Magistrate or the Magistrate who has attached the subject of dispute may withdraw the attachment at any time if he is satisfied that there is no longer any highlood of a breach of the peace in regard to the subject of dispute

(2) When the Magistrate attaches the subject of dispute, he may, if he thinks fit, and if no receiver of the property, the subject

<sup>1</sup> Sans Chandra Panday e Rajendra Auram I I R 22 Cal 818

Golnk Chandra Palat Kahcharan I L R. 13 Cal 175

c) 3 Cal W \ Cal W \ 461.

L. N. -5 An. 55/
 Maharaj Tewan, I. L. R. 26 All. 141. Thingai Singh, I. L. R. 31 All. 150
 Parthat Charan, Roy I. R. 35 Cal. 330

of dispute, has been appointed by any Civil Court appoint a receiver thereof, who, subject to the control of the Magistrate, shall have all the powers of a receiver appointed under the Code of Civil Procedure

Provided that in the event of a receiver of the property, the subject of dispute being subsequently appointed by any Civil Court, possession shall be made over to him by the receiver appointed by the Magistrate who shall thereupon be discharged

Sch V to 3 gives a form of a warrant of attachment under this section If a Magistr to not being empowered by law in that behalf passes any order under this Chapter his proceedings are void 5 30 (1)

5 140 h is been intended in two respects by Act No XVIII of 1973, S 29. In the first place Sub-section (1) implied that once the Magistrate had attached the subject of dispute the attachment must remain until the rights of the prittes hid been determined by a competent Court even though the parties might settle their differences by a compromise among themselves. The provide which has been idded to sub-section (1) now on libes the District Mignitation. the Migistrate who has ordered the attachment to release the property from attichment if he is sitisfied that there is no longer any likelihood of a breach of the peace in regard to it. The power is conferred on the District Magistrate because he is primirily responsible for the muntenance of order and peace in his district for similar powers granted to him on the same ground see Ss 124 and 125

In the second place the Lode did not contemplate the case where a receiver might have been ilready or might subsequently be appointed by a Civil Court The section now makes it clear that in the former case the Magistrate will not have power to appoint a receiver and in the latter case a receiver appointed by the Migistrite will hand over possession to the Civil Court's receiver, and will be discharged

In attrehment can be only of the property actually in dispute, so when a portion of the property the subject matter of the cise under S 145 was admit tedly in possession of one of the parties, the Magistrate could not attach it 1

 Under S (4) proviso after he has taken proceedings under that section a Magistrate can in a case of emergency, at any time attach the subject of dispute pending his decision on the possession of iny of the parties

Where it was found in respect of certain rooms in dispute that each party had a key the matter could not be brought onder S 146 because the Magistrate was not unable to find which party was in possession, and he had not found that neither was in possession

A Wigistrate after notices issued under 5 145 to two parties finding himself unable to determine which of them was in possession attached the property in dispute under 5 146 Upon this a third party represented that he, as landlord had taken possession on the death of the person to whom it had been leased. The Magistrate observed that the death of a holder of a tenure which is not trinsferable, does not necessarily imply assumption of possession by the land lord and he apparently inferred that the landlord's possession was without colour of Liw and he held that the attachment under 5 146 signified that the Govern ment stepped into the position of the late owner as trustee and was bound to DIV rent for the tenure. The High Court held that it was the duty of the

<sup>1</sup> Rakhal Das Singh : Rajah Sheo Preshad 24 W R Cr -1 Davin Manaipad Weir 774 See also Rajendra Narain Roy v Mohammad Arzu mind 9 C W N 887 (S c) I C L J 331

alh

Magistrate to have withdrawn his order under S 146 if he found that the land lord was actually in possession of the lind, and his order was set aside 1

A Magistrate can attach property only on the ground that he cannot satisfy himself as to which of the parties is in possession, and not on his hability to decide upon the rights of the parties. He is neither called upon, nor empowered, to consider the question of rightful possession *

Similarly when the parties were in dispute in regard to the possession of certain lands of which they give evidence of receipt of rent from the cultivating ryots, and the Magistrate found that each party was in receipt of rent from some of the ryots it was held that the lands could not be attached under S 1463

A dispute regarding possession of a temple can be properly dealt with under 145 and a Magistrate is justified in attaching such property under S 146 But such attachment does not necessarily mean that the temple should be closed altogether 4

A Magistrate cannot disregard a decree of a Civil Court in execution of which possession has been given to one of the parties. But for the enactment of the proviso to Subsection (1) an order of ittachment under S 146 would ordinarily be removed only by a decree of a Civil Court in a suit for possession by declaration of title to the linds attiched. The application of the law of limitation to such a case has been consider d ir several cases in respect to the date of the possession of the plaintiff is iffected by his order of attrchment After attichment under 5 146 i soit for dimiges by one of the parties will not be against the other in consequence of the non-cultivation of the lands, is this was not due to his act?

An order under Bengal Survey Act 1875 S 41, is a determination by a competent Civil Court within the terms (1 5 146 which a Magistrate is bound to follow by releasing lands from attachment 8

The High Court in revision cannot interfere with an order of a Magistrate relating to the management of lands under attachment 9

Order XL of the Lirst Schedule of the Code of Crist Procedure 1908, contains the law regarding Receivers

In two reported cases16 the High Court has in revision set aside orders under 5 145 and substituted for them orders under S 146 attaching the property in dispute. These cases were under the Code of 1882 and are again applicable now that revisional jurisdiction has been restored to the High Courts

Initiation of proceedings under S 145 is a necessary preliminary to an order of attachment under 5 146 When there was no such preliminary proceeding the order of attachment was without jurisdiction 11 Where the Magistrate passed in order under $ 146 only on the written statements of the parties and without taking evidence the High Court set it aside 11

<sup>1</sup> In re Joykissen Mookeriee 24 W R Cr 40

In re Sanganbaswa 7 Bom L Rep 18
Rajendra Naram 9 Lat W N 887 (sc) 1 Cal L J 331
Sandara Pandaram Weir 776

Reid v Richardson I L R 14 Cal 361 Katras Jherriah Coal Co v Sibkrishta Das, I L R 2- Cal 07 Contra See Millar t Ra endra 2 Cal W \ 6 o

<sup>11</sup> Aziz ud-din : Lmp . All L J 149 12 holka hoer : Huneswar Tewari I L R 31 Cal S4

The Magistrate cannot say that he is unable to satisfy himself whether either and if so which of the parties is in possessen so is to justify an order of attach ment under 5 146 when he has never made the slightest effort to do so 1

In Beneat, the following instructions have been issued by the Board of Resente

Collectors to whom wirrints of attachment of linds by order of a Magas trate under S 146 ire issued in the form given in Sch V, to Will of the Code of Criminal Procedure, will minuge the linds in the same minner is other lands under their charge. They will collect the rents but keep them in deposit on behalf of the Court by which ittrehment was made to be eventually paid by order of that Court or of the Civil Court to the parties in whose favour the Civil Court may adjudicate. In order however to avoid retention of the causes for an indefinite period under his charge, the Collector will at the end of each financial year report to the Court under whose order the attachment was made, that the lands are still under his charge and suggest that such steps as are possible may be taken with a view to his being relieved of this charge on an early date. No periodical reports or returns of my such property are required by the Board of Revenue is the Collector acts is an officer of the Criminal Court and not in subordination to the Board of Revenue

147 (1) Whenever my District Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate of Magistrale of the first class 18 District concerning rights of use of im- satisfied from a police report or other informamoveable property, etc tion, that a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace exists regarding any alleged right of user of any land or water as explained in section 145, sub-section (2) (whether such right be clumed as an easement or otherwise), within the local limits of his jurisdiction, he may make an order in writing stating the grounds of his being so sitisfied and requiring the parties concerned in such dispute to attend the Court in person of his plender within a time to be fixed by such Magistrate and to put in written statements of their respective claims, and shall thereafter inquire into the matter in the infine provided in section 145, and the provisions of that section shall, as far as may be, be applicable in the case of such inquity

(2) If it appears to such Magistrate that such right exists, he may make an order prohibiting any interference with the exereise of such right

Provided that no such order shall be made where the right is exercisable at all times of the year, unless such right has been exercised within three months next before the institution of the inquiry, or where the right is exercisable only at particular seasons or on particular occasions, unless the right has been exercised during the last of such seasons or on the last of such occasions before such institution

Mansar Alig Matjullah 12 Cal W N 896 Sheobalak Raig Bhagwat Pande I L R 40 Cal 105 (s c) 16 Cal W 1052 Ben Man 1897 Part II P 188.

SEC 147 (3) If it appears to such Magistrate that such right does not exist, he may make an order probabiling any exercise of the alleged nght (4) An order under this section shall be subject to any subsequent decision of a Civil Court of competent imisdiction

If any Vingistrate, not being empowered by law in that behalf, passes an order under S 147 it is void S 530 (1)

The following comment was made on S 147 as originally enacted in the Code of 1898 -

'The drafting of this section in modification of the previous law is unfortunate, for, as it runs, the section is unintelligible. The dispute must be concerning the right of use of any land and water, and it must also be one that is likely to cause a breach of the peace, and if, after an inquiry on the lines of S 145, it appears to the Angistrate that such right exists, he may male an order permitting such thing to be done or directing that such thing shall not be done. But there is no reference to or description of, the thing which may be done or which may not be done. The explanation seems to be that, in amending 5, 146 of the Code of 188: which described the dispute to be concerning the right to do or prevent the doing of anything in or upon my tangible immovable proper, those words were struck out, the intention being, as also in S 145 to express the subject of dispute in clearer language than the expression tangigle immovable property, and to adopt the language of $ 532 of the Code of 1872. But in taking the former part of that section, the latter part of 5 147 of the Code of 1882 was allowed to stand and was re-enacted in this Code, although it was altegether imappropriate to its context 1

The form of an order under S 147 given in Sch V (24) is more explicit, but that would not supply a meaning to the terms of the law which it is framed to supplement not to explain

CHAP XII

An inquiry under S 147 should be conducted as provided by S 145, but although a Magistrate must be atisfied from materials before him that a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace exists concerning the right of use of any land &c , the law does not require that he shall as under $ 145, record an order in writing before he takes proceedings. He must bowever be satisfied upon materials before him 2 and make parties to the proceedings all persons concerned in the matter in dispute and not the contending parties only. This is the rule laid down by a I'ull Bench of the Calcutta High Court in reference to a parallel case under S 145 But when a right elumed has been found, the proceedings are not bad because the persons from whom this right was derived were no parties 5 Still it would not be binding on such persons if the right claimed had been disallowed

In considering reported cases on this subject it should be noted that it was not until the Code of 1882 that the jurisdiction of Magistrates in matters coming within this section was restricted to cases in which the dispute was likely to cause a breach of the peace. This alteration was important in its effect, for under the Code of 1872 it was held! that where a private right was set up against in order under S 537 of that Code (corresponding with S 133 of this Code as well as of the Code of 1882) the Migistrale should make no order under that section, but should proceed under $ 532, so that the party cluming such private

See Pasupati Nath Basii t Nando I al 5 Cal W N 67, Lalit Chandra Neogi t

Tarını Persad, 5 Cal W N 335 2 Millar t Rajendra 2 Cal W N 670, See Kalı Kissen Tagore v Anund Chunder,

I L R 23 Cal 557

Dukhi Mullah i Huway I L R 23 Cal 55

Duhder Nath Senv Rundyd I L R 57C4, 875. (8 c) 6 Cal L R, 379, Luckhee
Aarant Ramkumar I L R, 15 Cal 564 seep 570

right should have an opportunity of having the matter rused by him duly inquired into and determined. But under the amendment of $52 of the Code of 1872 made by $5.147 of the Code of 1882 and re-enacted in this Code, a Magistrate can no longer determine such a matter unless it arises in a dispute likely to cause a brench of the peace.

S 147 has now been re-drafted by Act to WIII of 1973, S 30 pute which gives the Magistrate jurisdiction must still be one which is likely to cause a breach of the peace and it must be regarding any alleged right of user of any land or water as explained in Section 145 sub-section (2) attempt has also been made to remove the difficulties created by decisions raising doubts as to the applicability of the section to rights not resembling easements or to rights acquired by contract. The specific reference to rights of way has been omitted masmuch as it had been suggested that it might, by implication, exclude negative easements from the scope of the section. The orders which the Magistrate may pass as a result of his findings in the case have been clearly defined in Sub-sections (2) and (3), and finally Sub-section (4) makes it clear that the order is subject to a subsequent decision of a competent Civil Court The procedure in the inquiry must be that laid down in S 145 that is to $35, it must commence with an order in writing stating the grounds on which the Magistrate is satisfied that a dispute exists which is likely to cause a breach of the peace and the parties must be called upon to put in written statements Sub sections (7) and (9) will also apply to the inquiry. The rulings cited in the note to S 145 as to the contents of the initiatory order and the rights of the parties to invoke the assistance of the Court in securing the production of their evidence are applicable to inquiries under S 147

The object of such procesdings

This is to settle a dispute regarding a claim in restraint or derogation of the ordinary rights of property on land or water but only when such dispute is likely to cause a breach of the peace. Such cases are mostly regarding a claim to a right of way out to a right to water for purposes of irrigation. (A right of way under dispute and made the subject of proceedings under S 147 need not be a public right as in a matter dealt with under S 133 ante.) Disputes of the latter class nearly always lead to semius riots and loss of life for the deprivation of water means destruction of crops upon which the inhibitants of a ullarge depend for their existence. In matters dealt with under S 147, the burden of proof is on the person malling the claim because it is in restraint of ordinary proprietary rights. A man is entitled to cut a bund on his own land for the flow of water to which another is entitled.

But in order to establish his right to an order under 5 147, the charant must show that he has exercised his right within three months before institution of proceedings under that section or, when such a right is exercised he only at particular seasons or on particular occasions that he has exercised at during the last of such seasons or occasions before the institution of the proceedings. The fact that the parties have set up a claim to the right of user at all times would not prevent a Magistrate from finding that they have the lesser right only at particular seasons or on particular occasions<sup>2</sup>, but this must be distinctly put in issue so as to enable the opposite party to show that such right does not exist or has not been exercised within the time prescribed by the proviso to $5.47\square$

The right claimed should have been exercised as a matter of right and with out interruption except as set out in the proviso 3

* Mad H Ct Pro Jan 4 1869 4 Wad H C R App *4 Weir 783

<sup>1</sup> Hari Monan Thakur t Kissen Sundan I L R 11 Cal 52

I right of not or a right to the flow of water across the land of another, is a right to the use of land within the meaning of S 147,1 so is a dispute regarding the right to fish in a phil. The obstruction of a dram into which the sewage of certain premises fall is within the scope of the section 3

The interruption must be of a right exercised, so the putting up of gates to present the use of a road between sunset and sunrise cannot be objected to, unless it be proved that the right of passage has been used during such times

S 147 does not enable a Magistrate to make a purely declaratory order 4

I right to the exclusive performance of certain religious service in a mosque is one which comes within 5 147 but the Calcutta High Court has declined to follow these cases But a Magistrate cannot forbid certain persons from taking part in worship and other religious ceremonies in certain temples, as the right to perform such ceremonies is a trivial question of mere dignity or privilege 7

Because the person claiming a right of way which has been obstructed has another means of ingress and egress to his house is no sufficient reason why a Magistrate should decilne to consider the claim . Nor should a Magistrate re fuse to consider a matter properly within S 147 merely on the ground that a Civil Court has refused to grant an injunction to restrain one of the parties in exercise of the right in dispute. The refusal to grant an injunction is not neces sarily on the ground of proof of the right obstructed. It may be on the ground that the party has fuled to prove that his eval rights might be so affected as to call for a restrictive order and the Magistrate might, nevertheless, come to the conclusion that a prohibitory order was necessary for the preservation of the peace *

When the matter in dispute is one which is not open to adjudication by a civil Court it cannot be made the subject of a proceeding under $ 147. The proper course is for the Magistrate to bind down the contending parties to keep the

It was held that a Magistrate could not determine under S 147 a right arising out of a contract between the parties such as the right of a tenant in build on land occupied by him in which he is opposed by his landlord 10 but his decision would now probably be held to be obsolete

But where a tenant of agricultural land enclosed it with a wall instead of a hedge, which act was lifely to cause a breach of the peace it has been held that the section is wide enough to include a case like this where the user is by the person in possession, although it would be proper for the Magistrate to take security from the person from whom the breach of the peace is apprehended 11

As in a proceeding under S 145 (see note thereunder) 2 Wagistrate is bound to take evidence. He cannot act summarily in such a matter 13 nor can he pass his final order merely on inspection of the locality. An order under

In re Troylukho Nath Bose 5 W R Cr 58

Maharaja of Burdwan t Chairman Darjeeting Hun cipility I L R 5 Cal 194.

Kunji Chek I L R 11 Mad 323 Toyluckonauth Si car 2 W R Cr 64

Subba Nayak i Trincal I L R 7 Mad 460 i Emp i Ganpat Kalwar 4 Cal W N. 779

<sup>1</sup> Mad H C Pro Feb 18 1874 Weir (2nd Ed) 415 416 (15 Fd) 318 4 Mad. II C R 24 App

Dukhi Mullah # Halway I L R 23 Cal 5

&lt;sup>1</sup> Maharaja of Isiruwani samanani (s. c.) 4 Cal. L. R. 34 <sup>1</sup> Muhammad Masalar t. Kunji Chek. I. L. R. 29 Mad. 323 In re. Pandurang Cosindi, I. L. R. 24 Bom. 527 hader Batcha. I. R. 29 Mad. 337 <sup>1</sup> Gir ram Ghosal t. Lai Behari Das. I. L. R. 37 Cal. 578 <sup>2</sup> In re. Almaram Narahan Parab. I. L. R. 14 Bom. 25 See however Musalar t. Cheb. I. R. 71 Mad. 323

&quot; Arunachallam v Chidambaram 15 Vad L J 13 In re Alfred Lindsay I L R 4 Mad 121.

S 147 made without inquiry was set aside under S 15 of the Indian High Courts Act 1861. This could now be done in the exercise of the Court's ordi nary powers of revision under the Code

But if on proof of service of his order passed under S 145 (1) instituting proceedings under S 147 one of the parties does not appear, there is no reason why after taling the evidence of the party present, the Magistrate should not pass final orders in the matter

The matter in dispute was a right claimed to graze cattle on certain lands When proceedings were tal en under S 147 the same question was under adjudi cation in a trial in which certain persons claiming this right were charged with mischief Proceedings were idjourned to await the result of the trial in which the right was disallowed. The proceedings under S 147 should have ended as ne further investigation was necessary after the right of the parties had been judicially ascertained 2

If it be found that one of the parties is entitled to the use of water in a water course the Magistrate should order that exclusive possession should not be tal en by another party who has obstructed the water-course, and he should also order

the removal of the embankment obstructing it 2

But S 147 contemplates orders directed to the parties and does not enable a Magistrate to enforce his orders through the agency of the police, so an order to the police passed some time after the termination of the proceedings, directing the removal of a bund is without jurisdiction . But this case was again con sidered by the Calcutta High Court in two later cases 5 in the latter of which it was held that where the Magistrate had allowed five days for compliance with his order directing one party to male openings in an all and the order was not complied with he was justified in ordering the police to see that the obstruction was removed Proceedings under S 147 are now again subject to revision by the High Court (See Act No VIII of 1923 S 116 repealing Sub section (3) of S 435)

148 (1) Whenever a local inquiry is necessary for the purposes of this Chapter, any District Magistrate Local mounty or Sub divisional Magistrate may denute any Magistrate subordinate to him to make the inquiry, and may furnish him with such written instructions as may seem necessary for his guidance, and may declare by whom the whole or any part of the necessary expenses of the inquiry shall be paid

(2) The report of the person so deputed may be read as evidence in the case

(3) When any costs have been incurred by any party to a proceeding under this Chapter Order as to costs Magistrate passing a decision under section 145, section 116 or section 147 may direct by whom such costs shall be paid, whether by such party or by any other party to the proceed ing, and whether in whole or in part or proportion. Such costs

Doulat Kore v Siva Pershad Pandit 10 Indian Cases 615 Ambica Prosad Singh

I L II. 39 Cat 560

may include any expenses incurred in respect of witnesses, and of pleaders' fees, which the Cout may consider reasonable

The fact that S 145 permits a superior Vagistrate to depute a Magistrate subordinate to limit to make a local inquiry does not prevent such Magistrate from himself holding such inquiry.

A local inquiry under this Chapter can be held only by a Magistrate,2 and .

his report under 5 145 is evidence in the case. See not to 5 145 ante

The Ungistrate's instructions regarding a local inquiry to be held by a subordin ite Ungistrate should not relite to any question of possession which should be decided only on evidence tiken by himself. The inquiry should rather be directed to some matter which cannot be proved by oral evidence at the trial.

When an inquiry under 5 148 is held it becomes part of the proceedings in the case, and the party affected by it is entitled to be made acquirinted with the result of it ind to have in opportunity of rebutting the deputed Wigistrate's report, if he thinks necessary to do so 4

Costs

A Vigistrite should exertise a re-sonable discretion in "secsing the costs to be paid by in unsuccessful party. He is not bound to make such pirty pay ill costs that my have been incurred by the opposite party but only such as were reasonably incurred in playing his case before the Vigistrate. For instance, it would not be re-son-tible for a Vigistrate to order an unsuccessful party to pay the fees of several Coursel or Visible engaged make as when one or two would have been sufficient. This is the rule in ensing cost in Civil Courts, and this practice should be followed.

It wis held that tranching expenses for bringing a pleader from a distance should not be allieved. But though this was disapproved the Citatta High Court held that it had no power is a court of Revision to interfere? But this case is obsolute in two respects. Proceedings under Chipter VII have now become [b] the repeal of 5 435(3)] subject to the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court, and 5 448 has been inneded formerly it was confined to costs incurred. If or witnesses, or pleaders fees, or both. Now any costs may be warded, and may include? In geographies incurred in respect of witnesses, and of pleaders fees, which the Court may consider reasonable. These words are clearly intended to be filturationed in the evaluation.

Damages on account of crops injured can not be given is costs. An order for costs under $\Sigma_{14}$ should be pissed at the time of pissing the final order on the cise. But it may be passed on in application subsequents made without delay and lifer notice to the other side, and it must be passed by the Vigistrate who passed final orders on the cise. If however the issessment of the amount arise fore reserved for consideration the order computing the order for costs may be passed by his successor in office.

Costs may be recovered as if they were fines S 547

Rai Mohim Roj v Prosonno Chandra 5 Cal W N 686 Uma Churn Santra v Bem Madhub 7 Cal L R 352

In re Bukunt Kumar 3 Cal L R 134 See also Arumuja Govindon 1 L. R 31

Mir Dhunoo : Brown 21 W R Cr 25

judd

Mad

U Si ZIC JU , D DAR E ARUL , NO COM

CHAPTER XIII

Preventivi Action of the Police

This Chapter describes the preventive retion of the police. To it may be idded 5 54(1), cl records which enables my police-offeer, without an order from a Magistrate and without a warrant, to arrest any person having in his possession without I wiful excise any implement of house breaking. An officer in charge of a police stitution can also under 5 55 arrest or cause to be arrested in person found taking precautions to concert his presence under circumstances which ifford reason to beheve that he is tall ing precautions with a view to commit a cognizable offence also suspicious or reputed bad characters is described therein.

149 Every police officer may interpose for the purpose of preventing, and shall, to the best of his ability, prevent the commission of my cogmzable offence.

A cognizable offence is one for which i police officer may in accordance with Sch II of this Code or under my law for the time being in force, arrest without warrant—S A(f)

If a cognizable offence cannot in the opinion of the police-officer be other use prevented he can under S 151 arrest in person designing to commit it without orders from a Magistrate or without warrant

S 54 (1) cl v empowers a police-officer to arrest any person who obstructs him in the execution of his duty

- 150 Every police officer receiving information of a design to commit any cognizable officeres shall communicate such information to the police-officer of whom he is subordinate, and to any other officer whose duty it is to prevent or take cognizance of the commission of any such offence
- At police officer knowing of a design to commit any Artest to prevent cognizable offence may arrest, without orders from a Magistrate and without a warrant, the person so designing, if it appears to such officer that the commission of the offence cannot be otherwise prevented

A police officer can also arrest my person obstructing him in the execution of his duty  $[S, S_4(i), cl, v]$

152 A police officer may of his own authority interpose to prevent any injury attempted to be committed in his view to any public property, moveable or immoveable, or the removal or injury of any public landmark or bnov or other mark used for margation

These acts are punishable under Ss 431 434 Penal Code. If such anjury or removal be done in opposition to the police-officer, he can, under S 54 cl v.

arrest the offender, and as the offender can be arrested without a warrant for all the offences mentioned, except for that punishable under S 434, Penal Code, if any of these acts be committed in the sight of a police-officer, he can immediately arrest the perpetrator otherwise he should proceed under S 24, Act V of 1869

- 158 (1) Any officer in charge of a police-station may, withInspection of weights out a warrant, enter any place within the limits of such station for the purpose of inspecting or searching for any weights or measures or instruments for weighing, used or kept therein, whenever he has reason to believe that there are in such place any weights, measures or instruments for weighing, the such as the su
- (2) If he finds in such place any weights, measures or instruments for weighing which are false, he may seize the same, and shall forthwith give information of such seizure to a Magistrate having jurisdiction.
- S 153 does not apply to the Police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay [S 1(2) (a)], nor to the Police in the town of Madras inasmuch as the matter has been specially provided by Mid Act IIII of 1888 and this Act would apply, as S 1(9) of the Code declares that nothing contained in the Code shall affect any local or special law in force Similar powers are given in Calcutta by Bent Act IV of 1806 S 56 and in Bombay by Bom Act IV of 1902 S 54

PART V.

INFORMATION TO THE POLICE AND THEIR POWERS TO INVESTIGATE

Police officers superior in rank to an officer in charge of a police station may exercise the same powers throughout the local area to which they are appointed as may be exercised by such officer within the limits of his station ($ 551)

CHAPTER XIV

It has been held by a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court that, with the exception of S 155 no part of this Chapter applies to the Police in Calcutta, and the same rule has been applied to the Police in the town of Bombay 2. See S. 1 (2) which declares that in the absence of any provision to the contrary nothing in this Code shall apply to the Police in the towns of Calcutta and

S 155 so far as it applies to the police in the town of Bombay, has been specifically reneated by Bom Act IV of 1992

Every information relating to the commission of a Information in cogni cognizable offence if given orally to an officer in charge of a police-station, shall be reduced to writing by him or under his direction, and he read over to the informant, and every such information, whether given in writing or reduced to writing as aforesaid, shall be signed by the person giving it, and the substance thereof shall be entered in a book to be kept by such officer in such form as the Local Government my prescribe in this behalf

The information here referred to is the first information of the offence by whomsoever given on which the investigation commenced 5 It not unfrequently happens that such information is given by a village police-officer or by some other person who is himself unaequainted with the facts reported except on heresay, and the police-officer does not record this information as required by S 154 but after some interval of time records as the first information the statement of an eye witness or some person cognizant himself of the occurrence That is not the information contemplated by S 154 The first information is not a statement made in the course of an investigation which only satisfies the Police that an offence has been committed. The careful and accurate record of the information given under S 154 is most important in the subsequent proceedings for it is used to show the manner in which the occurrence was first related and especially in regard to the persons alleged to have committed the offence, and such a statement can be used under Ss 157, 158 of the Evidence Act, to corroborate or impeach the testimony of a witness who may have given The rule laid down in S 162 is moreover broken by the irregular practice described

The first information is always a valuable piece of evidence at a trial not as substantive evidence but to corroborate or contradict the evidence of the person who gave it 4

&lt;sup>1</sup> O Emp v Nilmadhub Mitter I L R 15 Cal (F B) 595 <sup>1</sup> O Emp v Visram Babaji I L R 21 Bom 495 <sup>3</sup> K Emp v Bhut Kath Ghose 7 Cal W N 345 <sup>4</sup> Autor Singh 17 Cal W N 1213

The police-officer would under 5 157 commence the investigation on the information already given to lam which is the information continuity to S 154, and therefore any statement subsequently recorded to a statement mate by a person in the course of that investigation, and falls within the terms of S 162, and it must not be signed by the person in hin! It, it can it be used as evidence except as specially set out in the provise to 5 162 Set, where in in formation given by a chowkeed or the policeofficer proceed d to the sp I and to k down in writing the dying declaration of the wound I Jersen, it was held that that was not first information, the statement of the characteristic belong the first information of the offence

A first information is the first given of the commission of an effence n a statement recorded by a police-officer when, after in investigation, he has satisfied himself of the truth of the information on which he has total A statement so recorded cannot be regarded as a first information and it is true. tically a violation of 5 162. It cannot represent the account of the accounting originally given, and it must always be upon to the sup him of partilling originally given, and it must analyze or a constraint of a nitaling what has been discovered up to that days of the installation, and a t what was known to the informant and fold by him to the Pollic 1 Information to garding the commission of an offence given to a public arreint who gave it to an officer in charge of a police station is information given under 5 154 of the Code and if false renders the person giving it hable to punishment miler 5 1821

An information respecting in offence when made to or lift lief ire a pulle officer is not theregeable with my fee under the Court Lees Act, 1870 5 10.

An information to a police-officer should not be mide on with M. H. Is filse, it cannot be made the subject of a charge under 5 193, Penal Code, but it might be an offence under 5 182 or S 2114

Statements made under 5 154 or 5 155 ire privileged, they cannot be used as evidence, or made the foundation of a charge of defamition a

The wilful giving of filse information with intent to a mise a public servent to use his lawful power to the injury of mother person is an offince punishable under S 182, Penal Code

No Court shall take cognizance of an affence punishable under 9 180 or 182. Penal Code, except on the complaint of the public servant conterned or of some public sers int to which he is subordinite-5 195 bust

Reduced to writing, read over to and signed by the person giving it

The signiture may, if such person be unable to sign his name, be made by his mark "Sign" shall, with reference to a person who is unable to write his name, include 'mark" General Clauses Act (\sqrt{s} of 1617), S 3 (52)

If the person giving the information shall refuse to sign the statement made by him, when required by the police-officer to do so, he shall be punished with simple imprisonment which mis extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both -5 180, Penal Code

(1) When information is given to an officer in charge of a police station of the commission within the In formation in nonlimits of such station of a non-cognizable cognizable cases offence, he shall enter in a book to be kept as aforesaid the subs-

<sup>1</sup> K Emp t Daulut Kunjra 6 Cal W N 921 2 Emp v Kumpu Kuki i Cal W N 551 (554)

Ionnulagada Venkatrayuda I L R 28 Mad 565 overruling as obsolete Q v Peri

annam, I. L. R., 4 Mad. 241 *Q. v. Bonomaly Sahat 5 W. R. Cr. 32, Q. r. Subbanna 1 Mad. H. C. R. 30, Sahk Roy, I. L. R. 6 Cal. 552, (s. c.) 5 Cal. L. R., 255, Malappa Reddi, Limp, I. L. R., 27 Mad. *Empt. Parwari, I. L. R., 41 Mal. 311

tance of such information and refer the informant to the Magistrate

- (2) No police-officer shall investigate a non-cognizable case in the vithout the order of a Magistrate of the first or second class having power to try such case or commit the same for trial, or of a Presidency Magistrate
- (3) Any police officer receiving such order may exercise the same powers in respect of the investigation (except the power to arrest without warrant) as an officer in charge of a police-station may exercise in a cognizable case

Information respecting any offence when presented, made or laid to or before a police-officer is not chargeable with any fee under the Court Fees Act,

1870, S 19 cl xvi

A police-officer should record only the substance of information regarding non cognitable officere, that is an offence for which he cannot arrest without warrent [S is (n)], and he should refer the informant or complainant to the Magistrate On complaint of facts constituting such in offence made to him, a Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate, and any other Magistrate of the first class specially empowered on this behalf, can take cognizance of such offence, unless under some special provision of law (e.g. Ss. 195 et. seq.) his jurisdiction is barred except on complaint in writing and after examining the complainant he can order a police investigation (See also S 202) and in such a case the police can then exercise the same powers as in a cognizable case, except the power to arrest without warrant

A Magistrate of the third class cannot order a police investigation of a non this behalf erroneously and in good faith orders a police-officer to investigate a non cognizable officer, his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being so empowered (S 529)

Nor can a Magistrate of the third class order a local investigation to be held for the purpose of accertaining the truth or falsehood of a complaint, but he may himself be directed by a superior Magistrate to hold such an investigation (S 202)

It has been ordered that the Commissioner of Police, Madras, shall not, as a Presidency Magistrate, exercise the powers conferred on a Presidency Magis trate by S 155 (2) 1

A police-officer can arrest without a warrant a person for a non-cognizable officer only when it has been committed in his presence by a person who refuses to give his name and residence, or gives a name and residence which the police-officer has reason to believe is false (9 57)

S 157 embles a police officer to abstrum from investigating a cognizable offence, if the offence is not of a serious nature and any person is necised by name, or if, in his opinion, there is no sufficient reason for investigating the same. But in such a case he is bound to record the reasons for so abstaining from in visigation and at the sime time he is bound to send a report to the Magistrate who is empowered to take cognizance of such offence on a police report, that is, to a Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate, Bod duistional Magistrate of any other Magistrate specially empowered on that behalf ($5.190). In such a case the report of the police-olderer would necessarily come before a Magistrate whereas in a non-cognizable case, under $S. 155, there would be no such report. The Magistrate would consequently take reginarance of a non-cognizable offence only

<sup>1</sup> Mad Govt , July 15 1891 , Rules & No 218

CHAF XIV Szo 156

on a complaint [See S. 4(h)] or on information received from any person other than a police-officer or upon his own I nowledge or suspicion that such officece has been committed-[S 190 (r) (c)]

The investigation by the police of a nen-cognizable affence should be ordered rarely and only in exceptional cases. I from their nature a Magistrate should seldom take cognizance of such affences except on complaint and a Magistrate is bound to form his own opinion on evidence given before him of ficts constituting such an offence. If however on examination of the complainant, the Magistrate is not satisfied of the truth of the facts stated in the complaint, he can, under S 202 order a police investigation otherwise he should not delegate to the Police a duty imposed on himself to try the complaint

- (1) Any officer in charge of a police-station may, withinto out the order of a Magistrate, investigate any cognizable case which a Court having jurisdiction over the local area within the limits of such station would have power to inquire into of try under the provisions of Chapter XV relating to the place of inquity or trial
- (2) No proceeding of a police-officer in any such case shall at any stage be called in question on the ground that the ease was one which such officer was not empowered under this section to investigate
- (3) Any Magistrate empowered under section 190 may order such an investigation as above-mentioned

The extension thus given to the powers of the police to investigate any connizable case beyond their local jurisdiction is important

Thus, an officer in charge of a police station, within whose local jurisdiction n person to who has been charged with being a thug or with being i thug and committing murder or with ducoity, or with ducoity with murder, or with having belonged to a gang of dacoits, or with having escaped from custody, may investigate the offence, although it may have been committed beyond his local jurisdiction (5 181) So also with regard to 1 theft if any of the property stolen was possessed by the thief, or by any person who received or retrined it, know has possessed in the place of the commission of the cognizable offence is doubtful, or the offence has been committed partly in his and partly in another local jurisdiction ($ 182), or the cognizable offence has been committed in the tuurse of performing a journey or voyage and the offender or the person against whom, or the thing in respect of which, that offence was committed, passed through or into his latel jurisdiction in the course of that journey or topage through to mis but my miss of receiving stolen property, it would seem that the offence must have been committed in British India—See flote to 180-183

Sub-section (2) protects the proceedings of a police-officer out of his ordinary local jurisdiction against an objection taken only on that ground with the object of preventing an interruption of the course of an investigation S 531 gives a similar pretection to the result of in inquire, trial or other proceeding held similar prefection in the result of in impairs, and to some processing held termentally beyond the local jurisdation of a Court provided that such error has not in feet oversioned a future of juristice provided that such error Sub-section (j), which is new, embles a Virgistrate to order the investigation of a cognizable offence of which he may have taken cognizance under S 100 otherwise than on a police report of the facts constituting such offence. Such Vingistrate would be a District Magistrate Sub-divisional Magistrate or any other Magistrate specially empowered on that behalf by the Local Government or by the District Magistrate (See S. 190 and Sch. 1V). A Magistrate is also empowered under S. 159 to order an investigation into a cognizable offence regarding which the police-officir may under S. 157 have abstained from holding an investigation. But such Magistrate must be a Magistrate within the terms of S. 100, that is a Migistrate empowered to take cognizance of an offence on a complaint or a police report of facts constituting such offence.

Procedure where cog.

Procedure where cog.

Procedure where cog.

The state of the commission of an offence which commission is considered.

he is empowered under section 156 to investigate, he shall forthwith send a report of the same to a Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of such offence upon a police report, and shall proceed in person, or shall depute one of his subordinate officers not being helow such rank as the Local Government may, by general or special order, prescribe in this behalf to proceed, to the spot, to investigate the facts and circumstances of the case, and, if necessary, to take measures for the discovery and affect of the offender

Provided as follows -

(d) when any information as to the commission of any such offence is given against any person by name and the case is not of a senious nature, the officer in charge of a police-station need not proceed in person of depute a subordinate officer to make an investigation on the spot,

(b) if it appear to the officer in charge of a police-station

Where police-officer that there is no sufficient ground in charge sees no sufficient ground for investigation in the shall not investigate the case

(2) In each of the cases mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of the points to sub-section (I), the officer in charge of the police-station shall state in his said report his reasons for not fully complying with the requirements of that sub-section, and, in the ease mentioned in clause (b), such officer shall also forthwith notify to the informant, if any, in such manner as may be prescribed by the Local Government, the fact that he will not investigate the case or cause it to be investigated.

See notes under the preceding section

If the investigation is held by a subordinite police-officer, the result must be reported to the officer in charge of the police-station (S. 1(8))

The words "not being below such rank as the Local Government may, by general or special order, pre-cribe in this behalf" were inserted by Act No XVUI of 1023, 5 32. They enable Local Governments to restrict the practice of deput

CHAP XIV RULES AS TO INVESTIGATION BY THE POLICE SECS 168 159

ing hend constribles to conduct investigations where sub-inspectors are available for the purpose, or to confine investigations by head constables to those officers of particular grades

The same imending Act has also mide an addition to sub-section (*) which requires this oliter in-charge to nonly to the person giving information the fact that he will not investigate the case when he refrains from doing so in the ground that cause (b) of sub-section (t) presents him from doing so. The informant is thereby put in a position to make a complaint to a Magistrate if so advised.

S 157 of the Code of Criminal Procedure requires that immediate intimation of every complaint or information preferred to an officer in charge of a police-station of the commission of a cognizable offence shall be sent to the Magistrate having jurisdiction but it should if the Local Government so direct, be submitted through such superior is it may app int in that behalf [S 158].

The object of this provision is obvious and it involves more than a mere technical compliance with the law. The Magistrate is primarily responsible for the condition of the district as regards repressible crime and he is not it liberty to divest himself of thit responsibility or to relax that supervision over crime which the law intends that he should evertise. It is his duty to know and consider each cognizable case as soon after its occurrence as possible. He should not rest content with reading the challen when the case comes up for trial, but he should watch the virious steps taken by the police and advise them in all cases whenever it may be necessary.

Moreover it is for the Magistrate by the continuous study of diaries, to acquaint himself with what is going on of the salient and special kind referred to in the Code as matters for his attention and possible interference. It is for the police to keep the Magistrate constrintly informed of them.

S 15) declares how a Magistrate should proceed on receipt of such a report

158 (1) Every report sent to a Magnetiate under section 187 shall, if the Local Government so directs, be submitted through such superior officer of police as the Local Government, by general or special order appoints in that behalf

(2) Such superior officer may give such instructions to the officer in charge of the police-station as he thinks fit, and shall, after recording such instructions on such report, transmit the same without delay to the Magistrate

For orders issued by Local Governments under this section see the various provincial Manuals

159 Such Magistrate, on receiving such report, may direct working the first an investigation or, if he thinks fit, at once westigation or preliminary inputs to him to proceed, or depute any Magistrate subordinate to him to proceed, to hold a preliminary inquiry into, or otherwise to dispose of, the case in manner provided in this Code

Unless the Magistrate thinks it necessary to proceed under S 159, he may dismuss the case on a police report that there is no sufficient ground for an investigation. But if a complaint is made to him, the Magistrate is bound to proceed as set out in S 200 and to examine the complainant

<sup>1</sup> Orders issued by the Punjab Government

The terms of S 150 are not elearly expressed The subordinate Magistrated to be directed to proceed to hold a preliminary inquiry into or otherwise to dispose of the case in manner provided in this Code.

In order to ascertum the meaning of the expression 'preliminary inquiry,' it will be well to trace the course of legislation. The Chapter corresponding to Chapter VIII of this Code in the Codes of 1861, 1872 and 1882, on the same subject was headed of preliminary inquiry into eases trable by the Court of Session.' The expression 'preliminary inquiry' in S 135 of that Code, which corresponds to S 159 of this Code therefore elerity referred to an inquiry into such cases or an inquiry as defined by Codes of 1872 and 1882 which reented the law of Criminal Procedure. But in the Codes of 1872 1882 and 1898 the word preliminary was not reproduced in the headings of those Chapters. It would therefore seen that the word has been retained per incurrent and that 'a preliminary inquiry under S 150 is an inquiry under Chapter XVIII.

The words' or otherwise dispose of the case' seem to favour this construction.

An inquiry includes every inquiry other than a trial under this Code by a

Magistrate or Court S 4 (k)
An investigation under S 159 can be held only on a report submitted within the terms of S 157

The Code gives no authority for proceedings by n subordinate Magistrate terminating in n report to a superior Magistrate except in a matter dealt with under S 202 that is when after examination of a complainant the Magistrate is not satisfied in respect of the truth of such complaint and abstans from sisting process for the attendance of the accused until an investigation had been made into the matter complained of In such a case n Subordinate Magistrate may be directed to hold such investigation and to report the result thereof If therefore n case is on n Police report made over under S 150 to a subordinate Magistrate it would seem that he is required to dispose of it as provided by the Code for the Magistrate receiving the Police report can take cognizance of the offence so reported [S 100 (1) (a)] and the order under S 150 to a Magistrate subordinate to him would have the same effect as an order under S 192 (f) transferring the case to him for inquiry or trail

It too often happens that before regular judicial proceedings are held a Magistrate directs a preliminary inquiry to be held by a subordinate Magistrate and acts on such report. There is no authority for such an order and for such a proceeding unless it be a matter within S 202. It is calculated only to relieve the Magistrate of the duty of deciding on evidence given before himself which is imposed in him by law.

On the other hand the delay thus interessed before regular proceedings are held must senously harass the winesees and parties concerned by putting them to unnecessary excesse and inconvenience if they are required to appear again at the regular trial. The practice is therefore objectionable in every point of time.

A subord rate Magistrate to whom an order under S 150 lines been directed should be most careful to act strictly as a judicial officer for if he shows any inclination to act as a detective or shows biss towards the prosecution objection will investably be tall on to his holding further proceedings and the case will be removed to some other Court. There are instances in many reported cases to this effect.

The position is clearly indicated by Phear, J -

"The Deputy Magistrate states "In this as in that case, I was the chief

<sup>1</sup> Mouli Durzi 4 Cal W N 35 Kmidherin Lal All W N 1899 p 87 Emp 1 Abdul Radhanath I L R 32 All 30

actor and investigator. I have in this as in that, to separate, and, so far as in me lies, to banish from the record, and if if were possible, from my own recollection facts which f have seen and known and confine myself strictly to the evidence of the record. In fact I have to do that most difficult of all things—to, as it were change my identity and speak write, and thirk, not in the first, but third person.

What was the particular obligation under which the Deputy Magistrate supposed himself to have liboured and which constrained him to change, as he says, his identity, it is perhaps difficult to understand. It has been held by this Court and is accordant with the general principles which govern the conduct of an English Court of Criminal Justice, that while a person is no necessarily disqualified from presiding as a Jugman, upon an inquiry into or investigation of facts because he may have been himself a witness of some of the facts which are the subject of the inquiry or investiga tion, if he does do so he so far from being under any such obligation as that which the Deputy Magistrate seems to have referred to is bound to state to the prisoner or other person concerned or made known to him so far is he can what ire the fiets which he himself observed which he himself can bear testimony. And moreover the prisoner, which is being tried by a Judge in this situation, have angly if he thinks it desirable, to cross-examine the Judge who under these circumstances and to this extent, must be viewed as a witness and his evidence should be recorded. It is quite erroneous in our opinion to suppose, on the contrary, as the Deputy Magistrate appears to have supposed that he was bound to keep out of sight altogether the part which he had played in the matter and to pretend (we cannot use any other word than that) that he knew nothing about the facts excepting so much as the witnesses told him in Court. It is always dangerous for any man in whose right conduct others are concerned to set up and endeavour to carry out I fiction such as this It is most specially dangerous for a Judge who is under the grave responsibility which attaches to the office of a Criminal Judge, to attempt anything of the kind. The Deputy Magistrate of he thought it right, as he did, to take upon himself the duty of trying the prisoners in this case, ought to have made no pretence whatever of any sort he ought to have frankly avowed and openly stated in this Court all the part which he had taken and facts which he had observed and made his own evidence a part of the record in the case The awl wardness of a Criminal Judge being the principal witness in the case which he has to try, is no doubt most apparent, this however, is a reason for his declining to try the ease, not for his endeavouring to assume an unreal character

The proceeding if held by a Magistrate, would not be an investigation within the terms of the definition given in  $S \downarrow (l)$  but would be an inquiry (ii) or a tinal. The nature of the proceedings held by a subordinate Magistrate would apparently depend on the terms of the order passed by the Magistrate who received the Police report 1

If a Magistrate acting under S 159 holds an inquiry at the place of the sileged occurrence, and records the statement of an accused person, he should be most careful to observe the requirements of Sc 164 and 364 read with S 344, as otherwise any stitement so obtained may be rejected as inadmissible in evidence? But when a Magistrite is conducting a preliminary inquiry under S 159 it is not obligatory on him under S 145 to record in writing a confession made to him and such confession may be proved by the oral testimony of the Magistrate?

O Beliary Singh 7 W R Cr 3
Q Emp t Bharab Chunder Chuckerbutty 2 Cal W N ~o.

<sup>1</sup> Tangedupalla Pedda Obigudu t King Emp I L R 45 Mad 230

160 Any police officer making an investigation under this Police-officer's power to Chapter may, by order in writing, require the order of the control of th

winesses within the limits of his own or any adjoining station who, from the information given or otherwise, appears to be acquainted with the encumistances of the case, and such person shall attend as so required

Every person so ordered in writing to attend is bound to do so, but not otherwise. In no case can a police-officer compel a witness by force to attend before him or to detain him b

Disobedience should be reported to the Magistrate by whom it is punishable under S 174 Pen il Code But no Court cin take cognizance of such an offence without the written compliant of the public servant concerned or of some public servant to whom he is subordinate (S 194). Police officers when requiring the attendance of railway employees should send simmediate information to the Head of the Department under whom such persons are serving. Probably in such a case the rule land down in S 72 would be followed.

A Magistrate is not competent to issue a warrant for the arrest and production of a person to be examined by the Police in an investigation 2

The terms of S 160 do not empower a police officer to summon a person to answer the complaint so as to make him liable to punishment if he fails to attend. They do not upply to an accused person

If it is a cognizable case, the police officer should obtain his attendance under rirest, and it the offence be ballible such person should be released on ball (5, 490), and the police officer has a discretion to release him on bail even if the offence be not ballable—See S 497

When it is necessary to examine women, the Police should examine them nt the residences of such women 5

- 181 (1) Any police-officer making an investigation under this Chapter or any police-officer not below such nesses by police and a set the Local Government may, by general or special order, presente in this behalf, acting on the requisition of such officer may examine orally any person supposed to be acquainted with the facts and erreminationes of the case
- (2) Such person shall be bound to answer all questions relating to such case put to lum by such officer, other than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him to a criminal charge or to a penalty or forfeiture

The words inserted in sub-section (1) by Act No VVIII of 1923 S 35, en the the police-officer making an investigation to depute a subordinate not below a specified rank to examine witnesses in the cise. The person who gives information of a cognizable offence at the police station is bound to sign his statement when reduced to writing (S 154), but no other statement, if reduced to writing shall be signed by the person making it (S 167). An examination by a police-officer should not be on oath or afternation.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Purshotam Vanama Bom II Ct March 26 1896 <sup>2</sup> Q Emp 1 10 200 ($ 0) 1 C W N 154 <sup>3</sup> Bom H

Q Emp

<sup>. 1 27</sup>

The person under examination by the police "shall be bound to answer all questions relating to the case put to him by such officer," under S 161 of the Code of 1852 he was bound to mawer truly. The words of sub-section (2) are those of section 119 of the Code of 1872, in which it should be observed that the word 'truly' I'dd not appear. It has ecordingly been held, as it was held under S 119 of the Code of 1872, that if such a person answers falsely, he is not guilt of the offience of intentionally giving false evidence as defined in S 191, Penal Code, for he is not bound by any express provision of the law to state the truth a 'He cannot, therefore, be convicted under S 192 Penal Code, on an alternative charge of having made false statements either to the Police, or to a Magistrie when such statements in contradictory and irreconcible a

It should be noted that in S 175, the corresponding section in regard to an interestigation of the nature of an inquest, any person who appears to be so acquainted with the facts of the case may be summoned, and he shall be bound to attend and to ansace truly all questions other than of an incriminating nature. There is in such a case an obligation on such a person to tell the truth, and if he states falsely he would commit the offence of intentionally giving false existence as defined in S 191, Penal Code. The reason for this difference appears to be the nature of the matter under investigation is well as the fact that such investigation cannot be held by any police-officer deputed for that purpose (S 174). Such an investigation, except in the Presidences of Fort St. George (Vladris), and Bombry, can be held only by an officer in charge of a police-stittion or by some other police-officer specially empowered by the Local Government on that behalf in those Presidences, the investigation can be made by the head of the village who is bound to report the result to the nearest Magistrate to hold on inquests (S 174). S 175, however would not apply to an investigation held by the head of a village, as power under it is given only to a police officer proceeding under S 174.

As to the use to be made of a statement made in the course of an investigation and reduced to writing see S 162 and note thereunder

A statement made by an accused person cannot be reduced to writing by a police-officer when, on information received the police-officer should have arrested a person, and in fact did afterwards arrest him. It is improper for such police-officer to take down his statement in writing under S 161, as if he were a writines?

162 (1) No statement made by any person to a police officer in the course of an investigation under this

Statements to police not to be signed, use of such statements in evidence

Chapter shall, if reduced into writing, be signed by the person making it; nor shall any such statement or any record thereof, whether in a police-diary or otherwise, or any part of such statement or record, be used for any purpose (save as hereinafter provided) at any inquiry or trial in respect of any offence under investigation at the time when such statement was made

Provided that, when any witness is called for the prosecution in such inquiry or trial whose statement has been reduced into

&lt;sup>1</sup> Emp t Kassım khan I L R., 7 Cal, 121 (s c) 8 Cal L R 300, Q Emp r Sankarahınga I L R 3 Mad 544 <sup>2</sup> Chınna Ramanına Goud I L R., 31 Mad 508

Q Emp : Appgadu I I R. 23 Mad 544 note; Q Emp r Sankaralınga I L R. 23 Mad 544 Q Emp : Judo Dw I L R 27 Cul 205 (s c) 4 Cal W N, 129

writing as aforesaid, the Court shall on the request of the accused, refer to such writing and direct that the accused be furnished with a copy thereof, in order that any part of such statement, if duly proved, may be used to contradict such witness in the manner provided by section 145 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 When any part of such statement is so used, any part thereof may also be used in the re-examination of such witness, but for the purpose only of cyplaining any matter referred to in his cross-examination

- "Provided, further, that, if the Court is of opinion that any part of any such statement is not relevant to the subject-matter of the inquiry or trail or that its disclosure to the accused is not essential in the interests of justice and is inexpedient in the public interests, it shall record such opinion (but not the reasons therefor) and shall exclude such part from the copy of the statement farmished to the accused"
- (2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to apply to any statement falling within the provisions of section 32, clause (1), of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872

This section has been amended every time the Code of Criminal Procedure has come under revision. The Lowndes Committee in their report made in 1916 gave the following history of the section as it stood at that time.—

'Under the original Code of 1861 (section 145), a Police officer could evan mine potential witnesses and reduce their statements to writing, but the uniting was not to be part of the record or used as evidence. The Code of 1872 maintained the above provisions merely adding (section 191) that no person when examined by the Police should be bound to answer incriminating questions. The only material change made by the Code of 1882 (section 162) was that, instead of the provision that the statement when so reduced to writing should not be used as evidence it was provided that no statement made by a witness if reduced to writing should be used as evidence against the accused, thus making it clear that the provision in question was intended for the benefit of the accused.

The new section did not lay down in terms that the accused might not use the written record of a winness statement for the purposes of his defence, and indeed it rather suggested that he was entitled to do so Accordingly cases occurred in which the excused demanded to see the statements which the police had taken down, in order that he might use, for the purposes of his defence, in thing thru appeared therein to his sub-airties, and the Cilcutta High Court under that he was entitled to do so The All-thod High Court, on the other hand held that the writings in effect formed part of the police-diary, and were therefore privileged from impection, and this was the position which stood to be dealt with when he Amending Act of 1858 was under consideration. There was evidently a good deal to be vaid in both sides as will appear from the report of the Select Committee on the Bill which is quoted in extenso below. The Bill is introduced proposed to adopt the All-habid view, and put statements of witnesses when recorded by the police under section 16 on the same footing as police-diarries and would only allow them to be used to the same extent as such diarries under section 172, i.e., in effect enerting that the accused should not have access to them at all unless the Police officer used them for the purpose of refreshing his memory, in which case the accused would be entitled to see them and cross-examine on them

The present section 165 which was embodied in the Act of 1898, was the result of a compronuse in the Select Committee whose report was in the following terms—

 Clause 162 — This clause, as drafted proposed to affirm the decision of the Allahabad High Court, which was in conflict with the decision of the Calcutta High Court The Governments of Bengal, the North Western Provinces, Madras Bombay and Burnia and most of the authorities consulted approve the decision of the Allahabad High Court, but the question involved (namely, whether the accused is entitled to inspect statements taken down by the police under section (61) is full of difficulty. In the first place it is essential in the interests of public justice that the sources of police information should be kept secret. If the names of informers or detectives and the nature of their information be disclosed, the detection of crime would be seriously crippled. In the second place it is unfair to a witness that his cyidence should be discredited on the strength of an alleged statement made to a police man which he may have had no opportunity of verifying or correcting. Such statements must necessirily be often taken down hurriedly and may be incorrect by copied out. They are not taken down as depositions or with regard to the rules of evidence, but merely to aid the police in the course of their investigation. But, in the third place, it may be most important for the accused to show that a witness called for the prosecution is telling a story substantially different from that which he told when first questioned by the police. We have en demoured to reconcile these conflicting interests by reverting to the language of the Codes of 1861 and 1872 and adding a proviso com pelling the Court on the application of the accused to refer to such statements and then empowering it in its discretion to allow him to have comes of them. We then provide for the mode in which these statements are to be used It is clear that a witness ought not to have his credit impeached on the strength of a statement alleged to have been made to a police man unless and until it is shown that he has made that statement "

The result was not along ther a happy one it will be noticed that the section denis mushy with the strings and ensets that it shall not be used as sydence with a proviso that the Court may in its discretion direct the use of the furnished with a copo of it—presumbly only in order that the necessary when the second when the something in the writing which may help his defence—and goes on to say that the streement (i.e. what the writines said to the Police officer) may be used in the ordinary course to impeach the credit of the winness, thoughing that for this purpose it must be duly proved.

It seems deer that all that the smeadment of 185% intended to effect was to mile it clear that he accused hid no right to call for or est he record of any stiements tall en down by the police under section 161, unless the Court thought that in the interests of justice he should be allowed to fit did not purport to deal with and his left untouched the further question which and or not a strement much by a winess under section 161, as apart from the written record of the strement might be used by the prosecution for the purpose of corroborating one of their winesses under section 157 of the Eudence Act, and this is at all events one of the principal difficulties with which we have to delay not seen to the control of the purpose of the principal difficulties with which we have to

But though the written statement may not be used in evidence, its contents may be made evidence by the examination of the Police officer to whom it was made and he may refresh his memory by referring to it "Used as evidence"

therefore means the putting in of the written statement as documentary evidence in the case. This view of the section was more or less consistently taken by the Courts The proviso as it stood till amended by Act No XVIII of 1923 34 was also the subject of careful analysis

155 of the Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) declares in what ways the credit of a witness may be impeached. Amongst those it is necessary only to mention

(3) By proof of former statements inconsistent with any part of the evi dence which is hable to be ontradicted " so that before his credit can be im peached the former statement imputed to him must be proved S 145 of the same Act while declaring that a witness may be cross examined as to previous statements made in writing or reduced into writing and relevant to the matters in issue without such writing being shown to him or being proved provides that if it is intended to contradict him by the writing his attention must before the writing can be proved be called to those parts of it which are to be used for the purpose of contradicting him It will be for the Courts to declare whether S 145 relates to a statement reduced to writing under S 162 of the Code or whether the previous statements mentioned in it are only state ments made by the witness in writing or reduced to writing by him and are not statements reduced to writing by a police officer or any other third person. And next it will have to be determined whether the terms of the proviso, that "the Court may then if the Court thinks expedient to do so in the interests of justice direct that the accused be furnished with a copy thereof" contemplate that such copy shall be given only at that stage of the proceedings and ant otherwise

If however the police officer who reduced such a statement to writing is examined as to the statement made to him he can refresh his memory by refer ring to it while under examination (Evidence Act 1872 S 150) and, if he does so the adverse party if he so requires it may require it to be produced and shown to him and may cross examine the police witness upon it-(S 161)

It has however been held that as there is nothing in S 162 which limits the prohibition of the use of a statement recorded by a police-officer under it, as evidence to the matter of the charge which is actually under investigation when the statement is made it extends also to the use of such a document against the person who is alleged to have made that statement. So it could not be used as evidence against that person when under trial for intentionally giving false evi dence before the Magistrate as showing that previously he had made a contradic tory statement to the Police. It is not admissible under S 35 of the Evidence Act 2 The written statement might be inadmissible in evidence but the fact that a person made such a statement might be proved by other evidence

The law on this subject and the value of a statement reduced to writing by a police-officer have been thus explained --

. The object of a trial in every case is to ascertain the truth in respect of the charge made. For this purpose it is necessary that the Court should be in a position to estimate at its true worth the evidence given by each witness and nothing that is calculated to assist it in doing so ought to be excluded unless for reasons of public policy the law expressly requires its exclusion Bearing this in mind let us see how the case stands here

It is complained in this case that the accused were not permitted to elicit from witnesses for the prosecution that they or some of them had before made statements inconsistent with their evidence before the first-class Magistrate This is admitted by the first-class Magistrate, whose reason for so refusing permission we shall presently consider. When it is intended to throw discredit upon the evidence of any witness for the prosecution, nothing is more common in practice than for the Counsel for the defence to prove, if it can be proved, that that witness has previously made statements inconsistent with his evidence at the trial When this fact is satisfactorily established, the Court cannot but regard the evidence of such witness with suspicion, and the fact is established by the evidence of any one to whom such statements were made, or in whose presence and hearing they were made. But the first-class Wagistrate is of opinion that if the statements are mide to a police min, who chooses under 5 119 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1872, to reduce them to writing they are by that section rendered inadmissible, and cannot be proved by the evidence of witnesses to whom or in whose hearing they were made. If the section were capable of no other construction than the one the Magistrate has put upon it, we should be bound to adopt that view though thereby the criminal Courts and counsel for the defence should be deprived of one of the modes of testing evidence adduced for the prosecution. But we are of opinion that the Magistrate has mis understood the meaning of that section which runs thus -

<sup>1</sup> Taj Khan I L R 17 All 57 Mathu Kumari Swami Pilla 35 Mad 397 Paldee Koeri i King Fmp 6 Pat L J 241 Emp v Hannarddi I L R 39 Bem 58 1 Isab Mandal v Q Emp I L R 28 Cal 348 (s c) 5 Cal W N 65, K Fmp v Nikanta I L R 35 Mad 247 (274), See also Fanindra Moban Banerji I I R 36 Cal 281 (s c) 13 Cal W N 197 Market Banerji I I R 36 Cal 281 (s c) 13 Cal W N 197 Market Banerji I I R 36 Cal 281 (s c) 13 Cal W N 197 Market Banerji I I R 36 Cal 281 (s c) 13 Cal W N 197 Market Banerji I I R 36 Cal 281 (s c) 13 Cal W N 197 Market Banerji I I R 36 Cal 281 (s c) 13 Cal W N 197 Market Banerji I I R 181 Market Banerji I I I I R 181 Market Banerji I I I I

An officer in charge of a police station, or other police-officer making an investigation may extinuite ortily any person supposed to be acquainted with the facts and circumstances of the case and may reduce into writing any statement mide by the person so examined

' Such person shall be bound to answer ill questions relating to the case put to him by such officer other than questions criminating himself

"No statement so reduced into writing shall be signed by the person making it, nor shall it be treated as part of the record or used as exidence (These are the terms of the Code of 1872, 5 119 which were modified by the Code of 1821, So 101, 162, and were differently expressed in the Code of the St. So 101, 162, and were differently expressed in the Code of the St. These modifications however do not make this judgment the less applicable.)

The meaning of the section, so for as it has reference to the point we are now considering, is this now consucring, is this

"A police-officer may examine any person acquainted with the facts of the case

"He is not bound to reduce into writing any statement made by that person though, if he wishes to do so, he may reduce it into writing

"If he does so such written statement shall not be treated at the trial as part of the record or as evidence, which means that though at may be used by the police-officer to ad him in his investigation, it is not to be used by the prosecution as evidence to establish the accused a smilt

In our minds it is clear, from the wording of the section itself, that when a person male or attenment to a polecoofficer which is not 'reduced into writing' by him, such statement is not madanisable in evidence under this section, since it does not profest to provide for with case. The police-officer may, therefore, be questioned as to such statement by the Coursel for the defence, is itso my other person who may have beard it made. And it is equally clear this when it is 'reduced mino writing' the section does not say that the police-officer, or such other person, shall not be liable to be questioned as to it, or bound to strate the truth when so questioned, but that the 'statement reduced into writing' (that is the writing itself) shall not be 'used as evidence'. Consequently, the police-officer and such other person, if any, notwithstanding S ing of the Criminal Procedure Code, continue as liable to be questioned with regard to such statement as they were before its enrutinent, and may, Luder S 159 of Act I of 1872, make use of such writing itself when it had down in

S 155 of that Act, that the credit of a witness may be impeached

of former statements inconsistent with any part of his evidence which is liable to be contradicted and which has ilways been the rule of evidence both in England and in India is thus left untouched by the subsequent enactment of S 119 of the Code of Criminal Procedure This view of ours though it might at first sight seem opposed to 5 gi of the Evidence Act is not in reality so, as the statement made to the police-officer is not a matter required by law to be reduced to the form of a document so is under that section, to exclude oral evidence thereof from the mouth of the police-officer or such other person

Such being our view on this point, we are of opinion that the Magistrate was wrong in not permitting the accused to show, by eliciting answers to that effect in cross-examination that the witnesses for the prosecution, or some of them had previously made statements inconsistent with their evidence in Court'

This case was considered and approved? The objection was raised that the Magistrate refused to require a Police witness to refresh his memory from the stitement reduced by him to writing under S 162 It was pointed out that there was no authority for compelling a witness to refresh his memory from any document unless that document is either in the possession of the party who desires to put it to the witness or is at least such as he can insist on having produced This is a document (a part of a police diary) which the law expressly declares that the defence has no right to see. This was approved by the Allaha bad High Court But it was also held' that a Police witness, who had with him in Court such statements was bound to produce them when required to do so by the occused. It was also held that these statements would be admissible in evidence and that they are not a portion of the diary, and are not protected by any enactment. The case of hah Churn Chunari was not refer red to though the object for which these statements were required was the sume in both cases vi to insist on requiring the Police witness to refrash his memory from them and thus to enable the occused to obtain possession of the statements reduced to writing under S 162

It seems to have been too broadly laid down that these statements were admissible in evidence for though what a witness may have previously stated to the police-officer or indeed any other person may be evidence the written note made by the Police would not be evidence and it would have to be proved first that a statement was made and next that it was reduced to writing

The procedure to be adopted in applying S 160 was again considered by the Calcutta High Court in a judgment to the following effect 4 -

When a witness whose statement has been taken down in writing by the Police appears before the Court for examination and the accused desires to make use of that statement for the purpose of testing the credit of the evidence he is about to give he should ask the Court to refer to such writing and, if necessary to give him a copy of it. This is really the only way of securing the use of such statements. If this practice were adopted the result would be that such statements which might be really necessary for the defence would rarely be kept out of the record and no question would be raised subsequently before another Court whether the accused has been prejudiced by his being improperly deprived of an opportunity to refer to such statements. The High Court next observed that although the pleader of the accused might ask the investigating police-officer whether a witness had not made certain statements to him at vari ance with the evidence that he had given it would be of little use if as in the case before it, the police-officer does not remember what was said and declines to refresh his memory from his diary in which the examination of the witness was entered and it is very doubtful whether the police-officer could refresh his memory unless the writing was already in and had been put to the witness who is alleged to hive made the statement which it is sought to show that he has varied. It is not the proper time after all the witnesses for prosecution have been eximined for the accused to rist the Court to eximine the pole-cofficer and, on this being refused they cannot ripply to have him summoned as a witness for the defence or to produce his drivines. No doubt the Magistrate might at that stage of the case peruse the dianes and if he found it expedient in the interests of justice to make use of any statements entered therein to impeach the credit of witnesses viried examined he might re-cull the witnesses, and after furnishing the recused with copies of such statements have permitted further cross-examination but this would be a most unusual and highly inconvenient practice which nothing could justify but the clearest conviction in the mind of the Magistrate that a miscarriage of justice would otherwise result.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Emp & Kalı Clium Chinari I L R 8 Cul 154 (8 r.) 10 Cal L R 51 <sup>2</sup> Q Emp t Vannu I L R 10 All 390 (108) (F B) <sup>3</sup> likao Khan t Q Emp I L R 16 Cal 610 <sup>4</sup> Dadan Guzi I L R 33 Cal 1023

The practice here I'ud down is however open to this objection that the accused should first stuisfy the Magistrate that the investigating police-officer has taken down in writing any statement made to him by a witness or entered it in his diary and ordinarily this would be unlinoun to him except by the examination of the police-officer or the witness himself and therefore it could be followed only when the accused is possessed of such information

The danger of relying on statements reduced to writing by the Police Las been pointed out 1. Such statements are recorded by the Police in a most hapha zard manner. Officers conducting an investigation not unnaturally record what seems in their opinion material to the case at that stage and omit many matters equally material and it may be of supreme importance as the case develops Besides that in most cases they are not experts I what is and what a not evi dence. The statements are recorded often turriedly in the midst of a cread and confusion subject to frequent interruptions and suggestions from bystanders Over and above all they cannot be in any sense termed depositions for they are not read over to nor are they signed by the deponents. There is no guarantee that they do not contain much more or much less than what the witness has said The law has safe guarded the use of them and it never can have been the intention of the Legislature that as in this case copies should have been without question as a matter of course made over to the accused or their counsel. It is obvious that such statements if used at all should only be used after proper proof of them and of the circumstances under which they were recorded, and under the direct sanction of the presiding Judge

Sub section (2)

A dying declaration made to an investigating police-officer under the present law may be taken down in writing it may be signed by the person making it, and it may be used as evidence. The police-officer or some other person must however be extinented to prove the stratement made and he must state what the deceased said to him. The written statement purporting to be a dying declara to may be used to refresh his man may, but it is not evidence in itself like a deposition made to a judicial officer by a witness who has since died and cannot therefore be again extinuing. (See Evidence Act 187 S 32)

The Legislature has now re-emeted the whole section. The words "used as undered have been replaced by the words used for any purpose at any inquiry it rim! in respect of any offence under investigation at the same time when such statement was made and the first previso now makes it clear that there can be no question of corroborating a wateress or contradicting a defence witness by oril testimony regarding a statement made to a police-officer, for neither the statement or any record thereof shall be used.

O Emp : Nasıruddın I L R 16 All o-Lmp v Samıruddın I L R 8 Cal, 211 (s c) 10 Cal L I 11

The Court is now obliged, when so requested by the accused to refer to the writing, and to supply him with a copy. At the time when the amending Bill was under discussion in the Legislature in 1923 it was pointed out that if a copy of the whole statement had to be given the police might be seriously ham pered in their investigation of other cases, for a witness often makes one state ment to the police in respect of a series of offences under investigation at the same time. The Legislature has therefore provided that the Court may exclude from the copy given any part of the statement when it is of opinion that such part is not relevant to the subject matter of the inquiry or trial or that its disclosure to the accused is not esential in the interests of justice and is in expedient in the public interests. It is to be noted that mere inexpediency in the public interests will not justify the withholding of a copy, even in such a case the copy must be given unless the Court is also of opinion that the disclosure of that portion of the statement is not essential in the interests of the accused The word and after interests of justice " cannot be read as

- (1) No police officer or other person in authority shall 163 No inducement to be offer or make, or cause to be offered or made, offered any such inducement, threat or promise as is mentioned in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, section 24
- (9) But no police-officer or other person shall prevent, by any eaution or otherwise, any person from making in the course of any investigation under this Chapter any statement which he may be disposed to make of his own free will

The following sections of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) are of importance in connection with this section -

S 24 A confession made by an accused person is irrelevant in a criminal proceeding, if the making of the confession appears to the Court to have been caused by any inducement, threat or promise, having reference to the charge against the accused person proceeding from a person in authority, and sufficient, in the opinion of the Court, to give the accused person grounds, which would appear to him reasonable for supposing that by making it he would gain any advantage, or avoid any evil of a temporal nature in reference to the proceedings against him

S 25 No confession made to a police-officer shall be proved as against a person accused of any offence

S 26 No confession made by any person whilst he is in the eustody of a police-officer, unless it be made in the immediate presence of a Magistrate, shall be proved as against such person

Explanation -In this section 'Magistrate does not include the head of a Village discharging magisterial functions in the Presidency of Fort St George or in Burma or elsewhere, unless such headman is a Magistrate exercising the powers of a Magistrate under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882 (1898) (Amendment enacted by Act III of 1891, S 3)

S 27 Provided that when any fact is deposed to as discovered in consc quence of information received from a person occused of any offence, in the custods of a police-officer, so much of such information, whether it amounts to a confession or not as, relates distinctly to the fact thereby discovered, may be

Su even if ornaments connected with an offence have been produced under the influence of an improper inducement by the police, evidence as to their production is admissible i

Lmp i Misri I L R 32 All 592 F B Jandraya Mudah I L R, 26 Wad 38

S 28 If such a confession, as is referred to in S 24, is made after the impression caused by any such inducement, threat, or promise has, in the opinion of the Court, been fully removed, it is relevant

S 29 If such a confession is otherwise relevant, it does not become irrelevant merely because it was made under a promise of secrecy, or in consequence of deception practised on the accused person for the purposes of obtaining it, or when he was drunk, or because it was made in answer to questions which he need not have answered whatever may have been the form of those questions or because he was not warned that he was not bound to make such confession, and that evidence of it might be given against him

Person in authority

The same words are to be found also in S 24 of the Evidence Act. It will be for the Court in each case to consider whether the person who may have offered or made or may have caused to be offered or made such an inducement, threat or promise is a person in authority over the person who may have confessed under such an influence. A trivelling juditor in the service of a Railway Company was held to be a person in authority over a booking-clerk of the same Company, so that in consequence of an inducement offered by him, the confession of the booking-clerk was held to be inadmissible as evidence. The test would seem to be had the person authority to interfere with the matter, and any concern or interest in it would be sufficient to give him that authority, as a travelling auditor, it was his business to report to the authorities of the Company, and he had it in his power to represent the matter in any light that he might think proper. In Middis a Monigar is a person in authority?

Where an inducement is held out to a prisoner to make a confession, by telling him that he will be better off if he makes a confession, he may be induced, if he knows that circumstances are strong to lead to a presumption of guilt, to make a confession though he is innocent. There may be no objection to telling a prisoner that he had better tell the truth but that is very different from telling a min that he had better confess when you do not know whether he is innocent or guilty a

- (1) Any Presidency Magistrate, any Magistrate of the Power to record state- first class and any Magistrate of the second m n s and conf ssion class specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government may, if he is not a police-officer record any statement of confession made to him in the course of an investigation under this Chapter of at any time afterwards before the commencement of the inquiry or trial
- (2) Such statements shall be recorded in such of the manners hereinafter prescribed for recording evidence as is, in his opinion, best fitted for the circumstances of the case. Such confessions shall be recorded and signed in the manner provided in section 364, and such statements or confessions shall then be forwarded to the Magistrate by whom the case is to be inquired into or tried
- (3) A Magistrate shall, before recording any such confession, explain to the person miking it that he is not bound to make a

&lt;sup>1</sup> Navroji Dadbhai 9 Bom H C R 358 <sup>2</sup> Thandraya Mudaly, 1 L R, 26 Mad 38 <sup>3</sup> Queen t Nabadwip Chandra 1 H I R 15 (O Cr.)

confession and that if he does so it may be used as evidence against him and no Magistrate shall record any such confession inless, upon questioning the person making it, he has reason to believe that it was made voluntarily and, when he records any confession, he shall make a memorandum at the foot of such record to the following effect -

"I have explained to (name) that he is not bound to make a confession and that, if he does so, any confession he may make my be used as evidence against him and I believe that this confession was voluntarily made. It was taken in my presence and hearing and was read over to the person making it and admitted by him to be correct, and it contains a full and true account of the statement made by him

(Signed) A B,

Magistrate '

Explanation -It is not necessary that the Magistrate receiving and recording a confession or statement should be a Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case

A Magistrate acting under S 164 must not be also a police-officer

In Madras a village Magistratel and a village Munsil's may act under S 164 But a village headman cannot for, as a village servant, he is employed on police duties 1 nor can a village headman unless he is a Magistrate exercising the powers of a Magistrate under the Code of Criminal Procedure, and not merely exercising some special powers of a Magistrate under a local law (Act III of 1891 S 3) The same rule applies to heads of villages in Burma and elsewhere-(Ibid)

In Bouss a patel is a police-officer and cannot therefore, act under S 154 4

S 164 relates to two distinct matters 21 the recording-

(1) of a statement made by a person who is regarded as a nitness (see sub section 2)

(2) of a confession of guilt

Both of these could before the amendment of this section be recorded by any Magistrate not being a police-officer in the course of an investigation, that is, n proceeding for the collection of evidence conducted by n police-officer or by any other person (other than n Mag strate) who is authorised by a Magistrate on this behalf [S 4 (b)] and before the commencement of an inquiry or trial, that is before the commencement of judicial proceedings. If judicial proceedings have commenced, the investigation would no longer be in progress. S. 164 would not apply

So a statement cannot be recorded under S 164 when a case is under inquiry

by a Magistrate under S 202 5

Hitherto all Magistrates were authorised to record statements and confes sions under S 1(4 but by the amendment made by Act VIII of 1923, S 35

Samp Pan I I R - Wad 287 (S C ) West 48 (s c) Weir 796

the power is taken away altogether from Magistrates of the third class and it can only be exercised by such Vingistrates of the second class as are specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government. At the same time amend ments have been made in sub-section (3) and the Magistrate before recording a confession is now required to explain to the person about to make it that he is not bound to make a confession and if he does so it may be used as evidence against him. The memorandum to be signed by the Magistrate has been elaborated so as to cover all the requirements of the sub-section

The word statement in S 164 is not limited to a statement by a witness but includes too that made by an acused and not amounting to a confession Such statements must be recorded in the manner laid down and cannot be proved orally by the recording Magistrate when not so recorded I

If a confession is found to be filse in parts namely as to the justifying motive for an offence it does not follow that the rest of it relating to the commission of the offence must be rejected 1 prosecution may contradict any part of the statement of the accused person given in evidence and if sufficient grounds exist the Court may accept the meriminatory and reject the exculpatory portions 2

The confession of the person under trial is obviously the best evidence possible, and this has from ages past been accepted as a legal axiom. But a confession must be columnary and not obtained by any inducement, threat or promise having reference to the charge against the accused person proceeding from a person in authority and sufficient in the opinion of the Court to give the accused person grounds which would appear to him reasonable for suppos ing that by minking it he would grun any advantage or avoid any evil of a temporal nature in reference to the proceedings against him [Evidence Ax. 5 2.4] So with the object of further protecting a person making a confession from such influences it line been also declared that no confession made to a Police-officer shall be prived as against a person accused of any offence (Ibid S 25) and also that no confession made by any person whilst he is in the custody of a Police-officer unless at be made in the immediate presence of a

Magistrate shill be proved as evidence (Ibid S 26)
S 164 of the Code timpowers a Magistrate to record a confession in the course of an investigation that is while a person is in the custody of the Police or at any time afterwards before the commencement of the inquiry or trial, that is before judicial proceedings have been taken. It also declares how such a confession shall be recorded. The object is to secure that it shall be volun thrily mide and that it accurately and properly represents what has been said Every care should be taken to observe the law in this respect so as to ensure the idmissibility of a confession, for, although provision has been made to provide some remedy for neglect to comply with the directions in regard to the recording of a confession by enabling any Court before which it is tendered or has been received in evidence to take evidence that the statement recorded was "duly made, (S 533 post) there must always be some reluctance on the part of such Court to rely upon such evidence, and a failure of justice may thus be crused. So where the accused person when first placed before the Magistrate did not offer to make any confession, but after being remanded to Police custody under S 167 and five days later made a confession which was recorded by the Ungistrate under S 1(4 the confession was rejected as unreliable 3

S 164 it will be observed enables any Magistrate of the classes mentioned in sub-section (1) to record a confession although he may not be competent to hold the inquiry or trial and so it often happens that the confession is recorded by a Magistrate who takes little interest in the matter through inexperience or carelessness from the feeling that his duties are somewhat mechanical because he is not likely to act further as a judicial officer. But the great importance of a careful performance of this duty cannot be too strongly impressed upon all Magistrates, and in their desire to enforce this the several Local Governments have issued very stringent orders

Legal Remembrancer v Lalit Mohan Singh Roy I L R 40 Cal 167
Pulin Tanti v Emp I L R 40 Cal 873
Fmp v Kamjan huki 16 Cal W N 551

It is to be remembered that ordinarily a police officer making an arrest without a warrant is bound to send the person arrested without unnecessary delay before a Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case (S 60), and if he is holding an investigation he may not detain him in custody for a longer period than in all the circumstances of the case is reasonable. Such period, except under a special order from a Migistrate obtained under S 167, ought not to exceed twenty-four hours (S 61) The strict observance of this rule is of the highest importance in reference to the weight to be given to a confession obtained while in natice custody

Among the executive orders issued by Local Governments and High Courts the following may be cited to illustrate the importance which is attached to a full understanding of their duties in the matter of confessions by the Magistracy and the Police If a person is ready to make a confession he should be taken to the highest Magistrate, short of the District Magistrate, who can be reached within a reasonable time. A Police-officer should realise that a confession is not the final but an initial stage of an investigation, and that it is his duty to make every effort to obtain corroborative evidence in proof of the statements made in the confession, for experience has amply shown that a confession is not necessarily true and reliable. A confession may moreover be rejected in the course of the inquiry or trial and in that case if no other evidence is forthenming which was procurable there will be a failure of justice !

Confessions voluntarily made and properly recorded though retracted before the trial commences are admissible in evidence against the accused?

The object being to ensure as far as possible that confession is being voluntarily made, and for that purpose to remove any influence likely to affect a person making it, all Police-officers, specially any Police-officer connected with the investigation, or in whose custody he may have been brought before the Magistrate, should be excluded at the time of the recording of the confession The fact that such precautions have not been taken may not render a confession inadmissible in evidence, but the Court might not attach much weight to it, and if there is evidence showing misconduct on the part of the police this may induce the Court to reject it as unreliable unless it be in some way corroborated by substantial evidence. Where it appears that there were no preenutions taken to relieve the person making a confession from the influence of the Police so as to ensure that the confession had been voluntarily made and the Magistrate had omitted to attach to the confession the memorandum required the Calcutta High Court refused to admit it in evidence 3

Before the recent amendment to sub-section (3) the Madras High Court had required that before a confession was recorded it should be explained to the accused that he was under no obligation to answer any question put to him and he should be warned that it was not intended to make him an approver and that anything he said will be used against him. But the fact that he has not been so warned does not make his confession inadmissible in evidence

(Evidence Act I of 1872, S 29)
It has also been laid down by executive order that the Magistrate should carefully watch the demeanour of the person both before and while he makes the statement confessing his guilt. The accused should also be asked how long he has been in the custody of the Police This was also held by the Bombay High Court, which added that if there is no record of the fact, ie, how long the

<sup>1</sup> Babu Lal, I L R . 6 All 400

Guja Manjhi v King Emp 2 Pat L J 80

Q Emp. v Bhairab Chunder Chakrabatts, 2 Cal W N. 702

Emp t. Naravan, I L R 25 Bom 543.

accused lind been in police custody the Court should send for the Virgistrate and satisfy itself on the point. If the accused permits it his body should be examined for the purpose of incert uning whether he exhibits any mark of personal injury and in the event of such examination revealing prima facie grounds for suspect ing violence the Vigistrate should have the accused person examined by a medical officer

How a confession should be recorded

Although S 164 permits a confession to be recorded by a Magistrate not competent to deal with the inquiry or trial of a particular offence it has been the rule to require that it should be recorded as far as possible by a Magistrate of experience and not by a Magistrate of the lowest classes. The Punjab Chief Court has required the Magistrites deed no cases to bring to the notice of the District Magistrate any case in which a confession has been recorded without adequate reison by a Magistrate of a lower class than the first. Some of the executive instructions forbidding lower class all igistrates to record confessions are now rendered obsolete by the amendments made in sub-section (3). In the United Provinces it has been ordered by the High Court that in dannity cases and other serious crimes confessions should be recorded by the District Magis trate or by an Furopean Magistrate of some standing in whitever part of the district the crime may have been committed and that as a general rule confes sions should be recorded only by a Magistrate of the first class at headquarters or by a Sub-divisional Magistrate

Unless the Mag strate upon questioning the person maling a confession has reason to believe that it is being made voluntarily he must not record it. The Madras High Court has ordered that if a Magistrate has a doubt whether the accused is going to speak voluntarily he may if he thinks fit remand him to a sub-jail before recording his confession or statement and in such eases care should be taken that he is not subjected to any interference or undue influence by the police the investigating Police-officer not being allowed to see him except in the presence of the Magistrate It is not sufficient for the Magistrate before recording the confession to note that the accused was made to understand that he should make his statement voluntarily and that he was given time to satisfy himself and make his statement voluntarily. Where the Magistrate on being examined admitted that he had not asked the accused whether he was making it voluntarily there was a defect which was not cured by S 533 and the con fess on was not admissible in evidence? Although it is most desirable that a Ungistrate should make a memorandum of inquiry showing what steps he has tal en to satisfy himself fully that the accused is confessing coluntarily a con fession otherwise duly recorded is not inadmissible in evidence merely because no such memorindum has been mide (Umar Din ). Croun 1 L R, 2 Lah 12)) But where an inquiry is to the voluntary character of the confession is made by the Vagistrate not at the commencement but at the end of the statement of the accused the defect is merely one of form. The Courts must ensure against the reception of evidence not strictly admissible. Statements to the verifying Vingistrate when not recorded in the manner provided by S 164 are in dmiss ble and cannot be proved orally by the Magistrate a

A confession should be recorded in the manner provided by S 364

S 3(4 requires that the examination of an accused person shall be recorded-

(a) in full including every question put and every answer given (b) in the language in which he is examined or if that is not peacticable in the language of the Court or in English and requires that such examination shall be shown or read to him or if he dies not under stand the language, interpreted to him with liberty to him to explain or add to his answers that it shall be signed by the accused and by the Ungistrate and that the Magistrate shall certify, and that as the examination proceeds he shall record under his own hand a me morandum thereto which he shall sign

I farid t Crown I L R 2 Lah 325
Pulit Tanti v Lmp I L R 40 (al 873
Ametuddeen Ahmed v Imp I L R 45 Cal 55

In the language in which it is made.

This is of the highest importance so as to obtain the exact words and expres sions used in order to ascertain what a confessing prisoner meant to say An order of the Local Government under S 357, directing evidence to be recorded m English does not affect the language of recording a confession. So, if an in terpreter be used because the language used is not the language of the Louri, or understood by the Magistrate the confession should be recorded in the language in which it is so interpreted it is, by the process of reinterpretation there is danger of inaccuries in the rendering of the words used. If an interpreter be employed unless he is an official interpreter of the Court he must be sworn (See Ouths Act (\ of 1873) $ 3 and note $ 543 post) If the confession is made in a language intelligible to the Magistrate, and he is unable himself to record it in that language, and no ministerial officer can be obtained for that purpose the law has been sufficiently complied with if the Magistrate records it under his own hand

Ordinarily it should be recorded in the language in which the accused was examined The object in view is to obtain the nords used by the accused, and by this means to learn the meaning of what he may have said. The fact that the Local Government may under S 357 have empowered the particular judicial officer to take down evidence of witnesses in his own mother tongue, cannot affect the terms of $ 364 If it is not practicable to record an examination in the language in which it is made, it may be recorded in the language of the Court ir in Luclish. This would be for instance when the examination is in a languige unlinown to the Court and conducted through an interpreter, or, in the case of a confession recorded under S 164 out of Court when the Magistrate 18 unable himself to tale it down in the language in which it has been made and no ministerial officer or other person is present or available who is competent to do so a but when a Presidency Magistrate recorded in English a confession made in Maratla although when examined under $ 533 the Magistrate admitted that it could have been taken down in Marathi by a subordinate of his Court, it was held that this was an arregularity but it was admitted as the irregularity had not intured the accused in his defence *

If an interpreter is employed the examination should be recorded in the language in which it is communested to the Court by the interpreter $

Where a confession recorded under S 164 was not taken down in the language in which it was made in accordance with 5 364 it was held to be madmissible notwithstanding that the Magisterie was under 5 533 examined and deposed to the statement having been made for it was held that by reason of S of of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) no evidence could be given in proof of such a matter except the document itself, which was in existence and forth coming. The correctness of this prince has been doubted in a case which d not depend on that point? and it has also been dissented from ! It has been pointed out that 5 533 expressly allows such evidence to be taken so as to make a state

Valmbillee I L R 5 Cal 826 Q Imp v Sagal Samba Sagao I L R. Jal

Iai Narayan Ras I L R 17 Cal 862
 Lalchand I L R 18 Cal 549 Visram Babaji I L R, 21 Bom 495 . Q Emp v Raghu I L R 23 Bom 221

SEC 164

ment made by an accused admissible as evidence notwithstanding S 91 of the Evidence Act (1 of 1872) and that that section of the Code is intended to apply to all cases in which the directions of the I'w have not been fully complied with

So where a centission or examination of the accused had been taken down in English when it could and should have been recorded in the semacular in which it was made evidence was taken under S 533 from which the Court was satisfied that it had been properly in dears recorded, and it was idmitted.

Interpretation of examination as recorded

If a confession or examination of an accused is interpreted, it should be recorded in the Inguing, and words in which it is comminicated to the Court, for if a second trinslation be made, and the statement be recorded as so understood the accuracy which the law contemplates is made more remote. The object of the law in requiring, that ordinarily such a statement shall be recorded in the language of the person making it, is to represent the very words and expressions used so as to ensure accuracy and prevent misconstruction of what is said.

Every question put and every anwer given to be recorded in full

This is of great importance for a stitement made in answer to a question put may have a different menning it considered without that question. Also the questions put should not be of the nature of a cross-examination, nor should the be put with the object of getting the accused to incriminate himself or others under trial with him?

But where the confessions were recorded in narrative form and without any questions and inswers it was held that they were properly admitted in evidence as it was not shown that the presences had been prejudiced. Where the confessions as recorded omitted to give the questions put but the memorandum mide by the "lighter set them out it was held that the omission was immaterial to the sense and meaning of the presoner's statement whether they were recorded or not? I the mere absence from the record of any questions put does not in itself and a statement madmissible. Nor does the fact that it may have been chained in inswer to question which need not have been cheaned in the way to the conference of the presoner's the presence of the presoner's properties.

A concession visual not only be voluntary but it should be expressed in the words of the person making it the questions put being with the object of making it complete and more intelligible. The Calcutta High Court have accordingly severely condemned the procedure of a Magistate who recorded a confession with the assistance of a statement previously taken by the investigating Police-officer?

He shall be at liberty to explain or add to his answers

The original record should not be altered or amended. An explanation or addition should be separately recorded

The record shall be signed by him and the Magistrate

If the person cannot write, he should affix his mark which is equivalent to a signiture General Clauses Act \( \cdot \) of 1897, S 3 (52) A thumb-impression

Weir 820

) i Cal I R i Fekooliahato

I L. R. 14 Cal. 539

*Impr v Sagrumbar 12 Cal L. R. 120

*Radhe Halvar 7 Cal W. \ 220 (223) Joggivan Ghose 13 Cal W. \ 861 (886)

(5 C) 9 Pat L. J. 661 (679)

is not a signature. When an accused is able to write, his thumb impression will not male the confession admiss ble. The Magistrate should also affix his signature to a confession as well as to the certificate required by S 164.

The reason for requiring the signature of an accused person to the record of use confession us probably to furnish a new and strong rest whether the confession was voluntity and free from controlling influences and to afford him a form pentientiac—an ultimate opportunity,—before the first completion of the record of indicating that the confession was not voluntary, or was made under improper influence (if such were the case) and also an additional opportunity of denying the accuracy of the record of that confession. The error of the Magistrate in omitting to ask such a person to sign huming regard to the probable intention of the Legislature in requiring the signature of the accused was held to be of such a nature as may have seriously prejudiced her, and therefore this im perfect record of the confession was not admitted in evidence against her? §S 533 of this Code since enacted would now provide a remedy for such an omission.)

Memorandum at foot of the record-S 164 (3)

Thus is of the lughest importance. It need not be in the Magistrate's hand with it must be at the foot of the record and signed by him. The omis son to attach such a memorandum must necessarily induce the Court, before which such confession is tendered or has been produced in evidence, to regard the proceedings of the Magistrite as hving been both hastily and carefastly conducted and when there was evidence showing grave doubt whether the confession was soluntarily made the Court rejected it, and would not take evidence to supply omission 4

The fact that this certificate has been made does not present another Court before which the case may come judicially from considering whether the confession was voluntarily made upon evidence to show the contrary. The length of time that the accused has been lept under duress or custody by the Police before he confessed is important evidence in this respect.

Statement.

A statement recorded under S to 1 is not necessarily a statement made by an accused person. It may be that of a variness in the case under investigation as for instance, the statement of a person dangerously wounded or otherwise in danger of death whose evidence it might be of importance to obtain and preserve. A discretion is left to the Magistrate as to the manner in which it is to be recorded so lung as it is recorded in one of the manners hereinfire prescribed for recording evidence that is as prescribed by Ss. 355.263. The witness should be examined on onth —Oaths Act, Vol. 1873. S. But if he is a Hindoo or Vahomedan or five an objection to mixing an outh, he shill instead of an outh mixe an affirmation (Act. Vol. 1873. S. 6). Forms of ouths and affirmations are given in the note to S. 359 boat. If falsely made the witness making the statement is punishable under S. 193 Penal Code*

S 164 does not is in the case of a confession provide that a statement made by a vitness shall be volunturally made, but it is the duty of a Migistrate in taking such a statement, in the course of an investigation, that is, before the

Lalanandu Pal I L R 32 Cal 550

Reg t Bat Ratan 10 Bom 160

Reza Hoosain 8 W R 55

accused and all the witnesses are sent in with the final report (S 173) by the Police, to satisfy himself in this point, and, if a witness is sent in by the Police, to satisfy himself that it is necessary to take his statement before the inquiry or or trial has actually commenced. Unless some necessity be shown to his satisfaction, he should abstain from acting under S 164, and more especially if he is not competent to hold the inquiry or trial. When the person was senously wounded and likely to die, such a necessity would exist. The Police are not competent to send in custody an unwilling witness for the purpose of having his statement recorded, so that his statement may be fixed when it becomes necessary to examine him afterwards in judicial proceedings,3 for that would alone show that the statement was made under undue pressure which would throw doubt on its truth and deprive it of any weight as evidence. So where a witness was kept under surveillance for several days before he was examined by a Magistrate, it would be impossible to say how far any of her statements then recorded, and afterwards retracted at the Sessions trial, can be accepted as voluntarily made or true and such statements cannot therefore be properly admitted under S 289 in evidence at the trial 2 So also a Magistrate is not justified in taking the statements of witnesses sent in by the Police while the investigation is still being held on the ground stated that " there is every chance of their being guined over Such preceedings have the appearance of a desire on the part of the Police to have recorded unwilling or it may be untrue, evidence obtained under some pressure, so as to bind these persons, who up to that time have been under their influence and thus to prevent them from afterwards making voluntary statements and possibly telling the truth, without risk of being prosecuted for perjury The law (S 162) declares that a Police-officer shall not record any statement made to him by a person under examination by him. Its object is defeated, if while a Police-officer cannot himself record such a statement, he can indirectly do so by placing certain persons before a Magistrate and perhaps a local Magistrate not competent to deal with the case judicially, and thus to get their statements recorded. The Police-officer had no authority to place these witnesses before the Magistrate and they did not appear voluntarily he thought that these persons could be gained over he should have completed the investigation without delay, and thus have obtained the evidence of these witnesses in a regular manner 3 In another case 4 in which certain persons were sent in by the Police to have their statements as witnesses recorded by the Magistrate under S 164, as otherwise their evidence might be lost ', the High Cour tin condemning such proceedings has pointed out that, though the law does not require that the Magistrate should as in the case of confessions record that the statements had been voluntarily made, it is important that there should be an equal safeguard in the case of statements by witnesses. The Mag strate should have abstraced from recording such statements unless he had some assurance that the witnesses attended voluntarily. In that case at the Sessions trial a statement so recorded was retracted by the witness who denied its truth stating that it had been made in consequence of ill treatment at the hands of the Police The Sessions Judge nevertheless under 5 288 treated that statement as evidence in the case under trial. It was also pointed out that it was impossible to say which of these statements was true so as to enable relatince to be placed on one rather than on the other 1 as there was no corroboration of the statement which the Sessions Judge had received under S 288

Such statements or confessions shall then be forwarded, etc. The Magistrate or Court before whom or which such statement or confession shall come shall presume that the document is genuine that any statement

O Emp v Jadub Das I L R 7 Cal 95 (s c) 4 Cal W V 1 9

Bajrang Lall 1 Emp 4 Cal W 49

Emp v Nurs Sheikh I L R 9 Cal 483 (s c) 6 Cal W 506

K Emp 1 Bhut Vath Ghose 7 Cal W 345 (346)

Q v Wannalla 1 F I R Vpp 8 5 C 1 W R Cr 40

is not a signature. When an accused is able to write, his thumb impression will not male the confession admissible. The Magistrate should also affix his signa ture to a confession as well as to the certificate required by S 164

The reason for requiring the signature of an accused person to the record of his confession is probably to furnish a new and strong test whether the confession was voluntary and free from controlling influences and to afford him a locus penstentia-in ultimate opportunity,-before the final completion of the record of indicating that the confession was not voluntary, or was made under improper influence (if such were the case) and also an additional opportunity of denying the accuracy of the record of that confession. The error of the Magistrate in omitting to ask such a person to sign, having regard to the probable intention of the Legislature in requiring the signature of the accused was held to be of such a nature as may have seriously prejudiced her, and therefore, this im perfect record of the confession was not admitted in evidence against her 2 (S 533 of this Code since enacted would now provide a remedy for such an omission )

Memorandum at foot of the record-S 164 (3)

This is of the highest importance. It need not be in the Magistrate's hand writing a but it must be at the foot of the record and signed by him The pmis sion to attach such a memorandum must necessarily induce the Court, before which such confession is tendered or has been produced in evidence, to regard the proceedings of the Magistrate as having been both hastily and carelessly conducted and when there was evidence showing grave doubt whether the con fession was voluntarily made the Court rejected it and would not take evidence to supply omission 4

The fact that this certificate his been made does not prevent another Court before which the case may come judicially from considering whether the con-fession was voluntarily made upon evidence to show the contrary. The length of time that the accused has been lept under duress or custody by the Police before he confessed is important evidence in this respect

Statement

A statement recorded under S 164 is not necessarily a statement made by an accused person. It may be that of a witness in the case under investigation as for instance the statement of a person dangerously wounded or otherwise in danger of death whose evidence it might be of importance to obtain and preserve A discretion is left to the Magistrate as to the manner in which it is to be recorded so long is it is recorded in one of the manners hereinafter pre seviced for recording evidence, that is no prescribed by $5. 335,595. The witness should be examined on orth —Oath's Act, \(\nabla et a. \nabla f 1873 \) $5. $But if he is a hindoo or \(\nabla h - \nabla et a - \nablae - \nabla et a - \nabla et a - \nabla et a - \nabla et a - \nabl

S 164 does not us in the case of a confession provide that a statement made by a witness shall be aduntarily made, but it is the duty of a Magistrate in taking such a statement, in the course of an investigation that is, before the accused and all the witnesses are sent in with the final report ($ 173) by the Police, to satisfy himself in this point, and, if a witness is sent in by the Police, to satisfy himself that it is necessary to take his statement before the inquiry or or trial has actually commenced. Unless some necessity be shown to his satisfaction, he should abstain from acting under S 164, and more especially if he is not competent to hold the inquiry or trial. When the person was seriously wounded and likely to die such i necessity would exist. The Police are not competent to send in custody in unwilling witness for the purpose of having his statement recorded so that his statement may be fixed when it becomes necessary to examine him afterwards in judicial proceedings," for that would alone show that the statement was made under undue pressure which would throw doubt on its truth and deprive it of any weight as evidence. So where a witness was kept under surveillance for several days before he was examined by a Magistrate it would be impossible to say how far any of her statements then recorded and afterwards retracted at the Sessions trial, can be accepted as voluntarily made or true and such statements cannot, therefore, be properly admitted under S 288 in evidence at the trial? So also a Magistrate is not justified in taking the statements of witnesses sent in by the Police while the investigation is still being held on the ground stated that "there is every chance of their being gained over. Such proceedings have the appearance of a desire on the part of the Police to have recorded unwilling or it may be untrue, evidence obtained under some pressure, so as to bind these persons, who up to that time have been under their influence and thus to prevent them from afterwards making voluntary statements and possibly telling the truth, without risk of being prosecuted for persury. The law (S 162) declares that a Police-officer shall not record any statement made to him by a person under examination by him. Its object is defeated if while a Police-officer cannot himself record such a statement, he can indirectly do so by placing certain persons before a Magistrate and perhaps a local Magistrate not competent to deal with the case judicially, and thus to get their statements recorded. The Police-officer had no authority to place these witnesses before the Magistrate and they did not appear voluntarily. If he thought that these persons could be gained over, ' he should have completed the investigation without delay, and thus have obtained the evidence of these witnesses in a regular manner a In another case, an which certain persons were sent in by the Police to have their statements as witnesses recorded by the Magistrate under S 164 as otherwise "their evidence might be lost", the High Cour tin condemning such proceedings has pointed out that, though the law does not require that the Magistrate should, as in the case of confessions, record that the statements had been voluntarily made, it is important that there should be an equal safeguard in the case of statements by witnesses. The Magistrate should have abstrained from recording such statements unless he had some assurance that the witnesses attended voluntarily. In that case at the Sessions trial a statement so recorded was retracted by the witness who denied its truth stating that it had been made in consequence of ill treatment at the hands of the Police The Sessions Judge nevertheless under S 288 treated that statement as evidence in the case under trial. It was also pointed out that it was impossible to say which of these statements was true so as to enable reliance to be placed on one rather than on the other,5 as there was no corroboration of the statement which the Sessions Judge had received under S 288

I Lalanandu Pal I L R 32 Cal 550 Reg t Bai Ratan 10 Bom 166 Reza Hoosain 8 W R 55

Such statements or confessions shall then be forwarded, etc.

The Magistrate or Court before whom or which such statement or confession shall come shall presume that the document is genuine, that any statement

O Emp v Jadub Das 1 L R 27 Cal 205 (5 c) 4 Cal W N 129
2 Bajrangi Lall t Emp 4 Cal W N 49
2 Emp t Nurs Sheikh I L R - 9 Cal 483 (5 c) 6 Cal W 506
4 K Emp t Bhut Nuth Ghose 7 Cal W 345 (346)
Q t Amanulla 1 B 1 I yp N (5 c) 1 W R Cr 40

as to the circumstances under which it was taken purporting to be made by the person signing it is true and that such evidence, statement or confession was duly taken (Evidence Act, 1872, S 80) In such a case therefore a Court is bound to regard such facts as proved unless or until they are disproved (Ibid S 4)

It not unfrequently happens that a statement or confession recorded under 164 is retracted or denied at the inquiry or trial, and an allegation is made that it was made under undue influence or pressure on the part of the Police If proper precautions have been taken by the recording Magistrate as already indicated in the note there will be little difficulty in dealing with such an imputa tion. This subject has been also dealt with in the note to S 287 bost

When a person has under S 164 confessed to a Magistrate and he is examined at the inquiry or trial, he should not be asked if he made that con fession. The Court is to be satisfied that the confession was made, and that should under S 80 of the Evidence Act be presumed. Undoubtedly great care is required in testing such a statement, but experience shows that a man, who has made a perfectly free and voluntary confession, is so astonished, in his presage through several Courts, that people seem not to believe him, that he at last retracts 1

Conduct of a police investigation after confession recorded

The tendency of the Police is to rely entirely upon confessions recorded under S 164, instead of inquiring how far the statements made are true and can be corroborated by the reliable evidence of witnesses. The less confessions are relied upon the better standing alone, they do more harm than good 2. It rarely happens that a confession voluntarily made is absolutely true and reliable, for there must nearly always be an inclination on the part of the confessing prisoner to minimise the part he himself took in the commission of the offence, and to make another the principal offender. So also a confession regarding the commission of an offence against property, eg dacoity ($ 305, Penal Code), is often of little value if it does not disclose what has become of the property carried off, for ordinarily the confessing prisoner must be well informed of that, and, as was remarked by Straight J at continually happens that while the Police have been occupying themselves in getting a confession, many of the traces of the crime which if once followed up would have produced valuable proof, have disappeared

The following observations of Permeran CJ on the duty of Magistrates and Sessions Judges in respect to receiving confessions recorded under S 164, which are retracted at an inquiry or trial are important -

"In a very large number of cases there is reason to believe that miscarriages of justice occur, because no trouble is taken by the Judges to use the means which are provided to enable them to ascertain whether or not confessions, which have been made and afterwards retracted, are true or false

"The prisoner made a confession which is corrobarated in various ways and which is in all probability true, but he afterwards retracted it and charged the Police with misconduct. As no step was taken to test the truth of such charge, it would probably not be safe to act on the confession alone, and, without it, there is no evidence to convict the prisoner. The duty of the Judge on the trial was to have examined the police diaries, and to have himself examined the Police-constable in whose charge the case was from the beginning, with the view, not to ascertain what the prisoner said, but under what circumstances, and under what pressure, he made the various statements which he has made, and, had he done so, the exact value of the confession would have been ascer-

v Mad II Ct Pr Dec 15 1871 7 Wad Jur 136 * Ben Pol Man p 378 * O Fmp r Babu Lal I L R 6 All 509 (F B) * Kamunand All W N 1885 p 221

tined and it would have been possible either to acquit or convict the prisoner without fear of impastee but as the case has been tred, neither of these courses can be taken with anything like safety. It appears to be well known that the Polec are in the high of extorting confessions by allegal and improper mean, and great blime is cut on the Polece for doing so. In my opinion the blime does not rest so much with the Polece as wiff the Magistrates and indees.

The Police are ignorant men and must rely for their instructions upon the officials whose duty it is to test the value of their work. They find that con-fessions obtained by them are constainly retracted, and themselves charged with torturn and griss mis induct. They find that no inquiry is made of them as to the truth of such charge, but that they are merely hold that they must obtain convictions. Under these circumstances, it would appear certain that they should think their conduct, pury web bit the judges, and should preserve in it.

For various reasons it seldom happens that the police investigation is completed when the accused person is sent to the Magistrate within the extreme period twenty four hours after his arrest (S 61) and if he has confessed and is willing to give information likely to lead to the discovery of further evidence his presence may be necessary at the investigation. In such a case the Magistrate to whom the accused person has been forwarded may, from time to time, authorise his further detention in police custody as he may think fit, for a term not exceeding fifteen days on the whole. But he is bound to record his reasons for so d ing (S 167 and note theremoter).

Remedy provided to correct neglect to record a confession properly.

This Lode attribes more importance to substance than to form, and while providing for the manner in which various acts should be performed in order to prevent a failure of justice from some neglect or failure to conform strictly with its directions in this respect, it enables a Court before which such a reach has come to take evidence to supply what has been left undone so long as it is possible without prejudice to the person under trial

's s 5.3 embles a Court before which a statement of an accused person is tendered or has been received in evidence, to take evidence that the person duly made the statement recorded if it finds that any of the provisions of $ 164 or $ 364 have not been compiled with by the Angistrate recording such statement, and it further declares that notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Evidence Act 1872, $ 94, such statement shall be admitted if the error has not injured the accused as to his defence on the inertical.

By this means a Court is enabled to peetent a failure of justice which might result from confession purporting to have been recorded under S. (a) being inadmissible evidence because through the curlesciness of a Magastrie, the fairns presented by those sections have not been duly observed. But though the mischerous consequence of such carelessiness may thus be werted, the Magastrie is highly to censure for the trouble, inconvenience and expense which he has caused. The cases in which S 533 has been applied, are stated in the note to that

Distinction between confession under S 164 and an

A confession recorded under S 164 is made in the course of an individual of the translation, that is, when the offence is under investigation by the Police and the trace his not been pixed before a Majoritte on termination of that investigation by the submission of his final report by the investigation police officer (S 168-170). A confession recorded as an extination of the accused under S 364 would be in the course of jud call proceedings taken by a Majoritrite, either in an inquiry or trail and after the mitter is no longer in the hands of the Police. S 342 requires a Majoritrite at any stage of an inquiry or trail, to put questions to an accused for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circum stances apearing in evidence against him in which case the examination would be recorded as directed by that section and 5 364 Reported cases show that Magistrates and Sessions Judges have commenced judicial proceedings before them by so questioning an accused before there was any evidence requiring an explanation from him. Such proceedings have been condemned as contrary to law being of an inquisitorial nature and unfair to the accused, since they would have the appearance of an attempt to obtain evidence against him out of his own mouth by pressure of cross-examination. But it would be otherwise if an accused being brought before a Court voluntarily expresses his wish to enaless his guilt or to male a statement of the part he had till en in the commiss on of the offence under inquiry or trial. The law does not expressly provide for such a case, which would not come within S 164 for the reasons stated It would seem therefore that such a confession or statement would be recorded under 5 164. The judicial officer should however explain the position by recording the circumstances under which he was called upon to act, that is, that he his cird it the valuntity wish of the accused. He should be careful to record any question that he might put to the accused such questions should be only to make the confession or statement intelligible, and not be of the nature of a cross examination. The terms of 5 364 should also be strictly observed

For the same reason a confession recorded by a Magistrate who has under 202 been deputed to inquire into the matter of a complaint does not come within S 164 and consequently it is not admissible as evidence under S 80 of the Fridence Act. But its substance can be made evidence through the evidence of the Ungistrate who took it

The High Court has been called upon to determine whether a confession recorded has been taken under S 164 or under S 342 and S 364. It has been held that where a Magistrate had jurisdiction to take proceedings on a Police report [S 190 (b)] a confession recorded by him may be regarded as the commencement of in inquiry or trial held by him and that, in that case it would have been recorded not under S 164 but under S 364 2 A Tall Bench of the Cilcutta High Court has also held that when a confession was recorded before the police investigation was concluded by a Magistrate who was competent to hold the induir and did hold the induiry it was not recorded under S to but under S 144 and that the act of the Magistrate terminated the investigation But in a cree decided under this Code this case was distinguished and was not followed. The prisoner was placed before the Magistrate because he had stated that he was prepared to make a confession and the case was still under investigration But under the authority of the Full Beach case (a) it was contended that the confession was recorded under S 364 because the Magistrate who recorded it held the inquiry and committed the prisoner to the Sessions Court It was hancver pointed out that this action of the Magistrate was after the confession had been recorded and could not affect the character of the proceed inds already taken 'in the course of the investigation' still being held "

The Minhabad High Court has held, under the Code of 1887 that 5 164 applies to confessions or statements recorded by a Magistrate other than the Magistrate holding an inquiry preliminary to commitment. It was however found in that case that the Magistrate was competent to hold and was actually holding an inquity preliminary to commitment.

The Bombiy High Court held that only statements of witnesses made to the trying Court can be corroberated in the manner contemplated by $ 157 of the Lydence Act. But the Vidras High Court 1 after considering this ruling held that a statement of a natness recorded under S 164 is admissible to corro borate the statement made by that witness before the committing Magistrate and from which statement he results in the Sessions Court

<sup>1</sup> Sat Narun Tewari I I R 32 Cal 1085 6 Krishnomonee t Timp 6 Cal L R 89 1 Krishnomonee t Timp 6 Cal L R 89 1 5 Cal 954 (5 c) 6 Cat I R 207 7 Cal 407 (4)77 (5 c) 14 Cal W 114 (1130) 387 All 253 1 Bom 599

When a complainant's statement charging another with an offence recorded as a statement under S 164 happened also to amount indirectly to a confession of the complainant's own guilt of some other offence the fact that it was not recorded as a confess on did not render it inadmissible in evidence against the complainant on 1 charge of perjury 2

S 164 does not apply to the towns of Calcult and Bombay because this Code dies not apply to the Police of tho e towns [S 1 (2)] Freept 5 115 no part of Chipter XIV of which is a part applies to the Police of Calcutta? or Bombay 4 See now Is B m Act Il of 130

Confession recorded by a Magistrate in a Native State

If proved such a confession is limisable

Copy of a confession or statement

An ecused person is not entitled to a copy of any statement under S 164 as the Lode dees not provide for this 6

- (1) Whenever an officer in charge of a police-station. or a police officer making an investigation has reasonable grounds for believing that anything necessary for the purposes of an investigation into any offence which he is anthorised to investigate may he found in any place within the hmits of the police station of which he is in charge, or to which he is attriched, and that such thing cannot in his opinion be otherwise obtained without undue delay, such officer may, after recording in writing the grounds of his belief and specifying in such writing, so far as possible, the thing for which search is to be made, seach or cause seach to be made, for such thing in any place within the limits of such station
- (2) A police officer proceeding under sub section (1) shall, if pricticable conduct the search in person
- (3) If he is unable to conduct the search in person and there is no other person competent to make the search present at the time, he may after recording in writing his reasons for so doing require any officer subordinate to him to make the search, and he shall deliver to such subordinate officer an order in writing specifying the place to be searched and, so far as possible, the thing for which search is to be made, and such subordinate officer may thereupon search for such thing in such place

Velbal Kone v King Emp 1 L R 45 Wad 766 following z Weir's Cr Rulings 821

&lt;sup>‡</sup> Re Vaddeta Ramanujamma [ L R 39 Mad 977 ‡ Q Emp v Nimadhab Vitter I L R 15 Cal 595 [F B) ‡ Q Emp t Nirum Habut I L R 1 Bom 495 ‡ Q Emp t Sundar Singh I L R 1 All 595 Q Emp t Nagla Kala I L R

Muthu Syami lyar I L R 30 Mad 466

- (4) The provisions of this Code as to search-warrants and the general provisions as to searches contained in section 102 and section 103 shall, as far as may be, apply to a search made under this section
- (5) Copies of any record made under sub-section (1) or subsection (3) shall forthwith be sent to the nearest Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of the offence and the owner or occupier of the place searched shall on application be furnished with a copy of the same by the Magistrate

Provided that he shall pay for the same unless the Magistrate for some special reason thinks fit to furnish it free of cost.

S 94 enables an officer in charge of 1 police station, not in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay to issue a written order to a person in whose possession or power a document or thing is believed to be, the production of which may be considered to be necessary or desirable for the purposes of an investigation, to attend and produce it or to produce it provided that it is not an unpublished record relating to any affair of State or an official communication or a letter, postcard telegram or other document, or any pircel or thing in the custody of the Post-il or Felegraph unthornies S 165, which is analogous to S 96, enables such Police-officer or any Police officer miling in investigation to search or course search to be made within the limits of the police station, if he has reason to believe that such document or thing will not be produced on such a written order, or when it is mit known to be in the possession of any person (to whom such written order may be directed)

The terms of 5 165 were interpreted in a very restricted manner having been held to limit the power of house search by the Police to search for some specific thing and not to authorise a general search. A nider view of the pawers of the Police was however tallen by the Judicial Committee of the Prixy Council who held that a Migistrate, who may be acting not as a judicial officer, can under S too if present at in investigation, order a general search to be made in smuch is he would have been competent under 5 1/5 to reque a warrant for that purpose 1 the learned Judges of the Calcutta High Court seem to have regarded this as a matter not provided for by the Code

S 165 as amended and re-enacted by Act No XVIII of 1923 S 36, now lays down that the Police-officer shall record in writing his reasons for making the search and that the thing for which search is made shall so far as possible'

be specified in this record

5 if , ilso provides that ordinarily the search shall be made by the Police officer bolding the investigation in person, and that, if that he not practicable, he may, by an order in writing authorise any subordinate Police-officer to make such search. Care should be taken that the order in writing specifies the parti to this required by sub-section (3). The search must be conducted as far a mix be, in accordance with S in 1 ml S ing. The latter section requires (a) that the search shall be made in the pre-sence of two or more respectable inhabitants. of the locality, (b) that a list with particulars of the places of the finding of the articles found shall be prepared in the presence of these persons and signed by them, (c) that the occupant of the house or some one on his behalf shall be allowed to be present at the search and (d) that he shall receive a copy of that list duly signed S 10° declares how entrance into the place is to be obtained if it is closed

A police-officer is competent to act under S 165 only in an investigation into an offence which he is authorised to investigate that is a cognizable offence or if the offence is non-cognizable only if he is authorised by an order from a Magistrate under S 152 (2) to make an investigation

He is justified in exercising his discretion to make a search under S 165 whenever he has reason to believe that an offence has been committed which he is authorised to investigate 1

Sub-section (3) is new. The Police-officer is required under sub-section (1) to record in writing before making a seruch the grounds of his belief a ten reasons for making it is served in an annual sub-ordinate by order in writing to male the search he is again required to record his reasons. Both these records are to be sent to the Migistrite having jurisd ction and the owner or occupier of the place is entitled on application or receive copies for which he must pay unless the Migistrite' for some special reason otherwise directs. It is not easy to conceive the special reasons contemplated possibly poverty would be one.

Searches by night are not illegal and are occasionally unavoidable. When the search can be delayed until dayight without endangering the chance of recovering the property it should be postponed.

Some local and special laws deal also with the subject See Ben Act VII of 1864 S 27 also Mad Act IV of 1889 and Bom Act II of 1890 Also Act VIII of 1882 Ss 15 and 18

Any Police Officer above the rank of a head constable may institute a search for excisable articles liable to confiscation. Ben Act V of 1909 S 70

Police-officers of all grades may without a warrint enter and inspect! any drinking shop gambling house or other place of resort of loose and disorderly characters (Act V of 1861 S 23) (*) any salt works or any warehouse or any premises in which salt is stored (Ben Act VII of 1864 S -3) (3) any shop or premises of licensed manufacturers and retail vendous of excessible articles (Ben Act V of 1909 S 6) Special provision is also made by S 153 of this Code for the inspection of weights and measures

Searches under S 30 of the Ind an Arms Act (VI of 1878) may in Bengal be accordated only in the presence of a Magistrate or police officer not below the grade of Inspector <sup>2</sup> In the D vision of Chittagong this has been extended to police officers not below the grade of Sub Inspector <sup>3</sup>

S to (3) enables search to be made of the person of any one in or about such place if he is reasonably suspected of concealing about his person the actuals for which search is being made.

186 (1) An officer in charge of a police-station or a policethere of the same officer not being below the rink of sub-inspector making in investigation may require an officer may require an officer in charge of another police station, whether in the same or a different district, to cause a scarch to be made in any place, in any case in which the former

1 Narasımlıa Shankar Deshpande I I R 27 Born 590 (105)

Cal Gaz 1878 Pirt II p 850 Cal Gaz 1889 Part I p "3 officer might cause such search to be made, within the limits of his own station

- (2) Such officer, on being so required, shall proceed according to the provisions of section 165, and shall forward the thing found, if any, to the officer at whose request the search was made
- (3) Whenever there is reason to believe that the delay occasioned by requiring an officer in clinic of another police-station to cause a scricli to be made under sub-section (1) might result in evidence of the commission of an offence being concealed or destroyed, it shall be lawful for an officer in charge of a police-station or a police officer making an investigation under this Chapter to scarch, or cause to be searched, any place in the limits of another police station, in accordance with the provisions of section 165, as if such place were within the limits of his own station
- (4) Any officer conducting a search under sub section (3) shall forthwith send notice of the search to the officer in charge of the police station within the limits of which such place is situate, and shall also send with such notice a copy of the list (if any) prepared under section 103, and shall also send to the nearest Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of the offence, copies of the records referred to in section 165, sub-sections (1) and (3)
- (5) The owner or occupier of the place searched shall, on ap plication, be furnished with a copy of any record sent to the Magistrate under sub-section (4)

Provided that he shall pay for the same unless the Magistrate for some special reason thinks fit to furnish it free of cost

See note to S 165 Compare S 84 which is made applicable by S 165 (4) and S 101

Powers under this section hitherto exercisable only by officers in charge of polee stations can now by reason of the amendment made by Act No VIII of 1933 S 37 be exercised by an officer making an investigation, provided he is not below the rank of a Sub Inspector Under S 157 (1) the officer in charge may depute one of his subordinate officers

Under S 157 (1) the others in charge may depute one of his subordinate others not being below such rank as the Local Government may, by general or special order prescribe in this behalf, to proceed to the soot and investigate.

order presenbe in this behalf to proceed to the spot and investigate Sub-section (3) is new, and enables an officer in charge of a police station or an investigating officer to search or cruse a search to be made, beyond the limits of his own jurisdiction whenever there is reason to believe that the dely his adopting the procedure laid down by sub-section (1) might result in the concealment or destruction of evidence. An officer making a search under sub-section (3) must comply with all the requirements of sub-section (4).

Procedure when invest gation cannot be completed in twentyfour hours

there are grounds for beheving that the accusathere are grounds for beheving that the accusation or information is well-founded, the officer in charge of the police-station or the police-officer making the investigation if he is not below the rank of sub-inspector shall forthy with transmit to the nearest Magistrate a copy of the entries in the diary hereinafter prescribed relating to the case, and shall at the same time forward the accused to such Magistrate

(2) The Magistrate to whom an accused person is forwarded under this section may, whether he has or has not jurisdiction to try the case, from time to time authorize the detention of the accused in such custody as such Magistrate thinks fit, for a term not exceeding fifteen days in the whole. If he has not jurisdiction to try the case or commit it for trial, and considers further detention unnecessary, he may order the accused to be forwarded to a Magistrate having such jurisdiction.

Provided that no Magistrate of the third class, and no Magistrate of the second class not specially empowered in this hehalf by the Local Government shall authorise detention in the custody of the police

- (3) A Magistrate authorizing under this section detention in the custody of the police shall record his reasons for so doing
- (4) If such order is given by a Magistrate other than the District Magistrate or Sub divisional Magistrate, he shall forward a copy of his order, with his reasons for making it, to the Magistrate to whom he is immediately subordinate
  - S 38 of the Amending Act No "VIIII of 1923 has made two important changes in S 167. In the first place the duty laid upon the officer in charge of the police station in all cases by sub-section (t) can now be performed by the investigating officer, if he is not below the rank of Sub Inspector. The chief reason for this is clearly to obstate delay. In the second place it is now laid down statutorily that a remand to police custody cannot be ordered by a Magistrate of the third class and can only be ordered by a Magistrate of the second class when specially empowered.

S 167 completes the first stuge of an investigation II it has not been finished within twenty four hours after the arrest of any person and there is good reason to believe that the accusation or information is well founded, the officer in charge of the police station or the investigating officer, if he is not below the rank of Sub Inspector is bound forthwith to send to the nearist Magistrate such person together with a copy of the entries in the diarrest relating to the case. The Magistrate will then be in possession of information upon which he should act He can then excrise his discretion whether be should authorise the further detention of the accused in police custody for purpose of the investigation still in progress. An order for such detention should no be inconsiderately made and merely because the investigating officer applies for it but for some good reason to be recorded by the Magistrate

An application for a remand lo police custody under S 167 must be made, in Bsxoal, personally by the chief police-officer present to the chief Magisterial officer present, that is, at the head-quarters of a district by the District Superintendent, and at a subdivision, by the police-officer in charge of the sub-district, unless this is impossible owing to the absence of one of the officers concerned, or to some other exceptional cause

A remand cannot be granted in the absence of the prisoner The prisoner should be forwarded from a Police station direct to the nearest Magistrate and not to the next superior officer of Police1

The Magistrate is required to record his reasons for such an order. This means that there should be some ground for believing that the investigation will be properly assisted by the presence of the person arrested with the investi gating police-officer Among such reasons, it may be suggested would be that the accoused who has confessed to a Magistrate under S 164 to having com mitted the offence can alone identify others engaged in it or that he is willing to show where stolen property has been concealed, and that owing to the necessity for sending him to the Ungistrate sufficient opportunity has not been given for that purpose. If the real name and residence of an accused cannot be ascertained by the Police within twenty four hours from the time of arrest application should be made for a remand for a time sufficiently long to enable proper inquiries to be made. It should be noted that before an order far detention in police custody can be passed the accused must have been placed before the M gistrate and that the term of the detention is limited. It will be for the Magisrate in each case to consider what the term of such detention should be It should not necessarily be ordered for the full term allowed by law It should be only for what may be necessary to attain the object in view for which the order of remand is desir d2 The nearest Magistrate can order such detention but if he be a Magistrate who has no jurisdiction to inquire into or to try the case he must at once (within twenty four hours) forward a copy of his order with the reasons therefor to the Magistrate to whom he is subordinate that is to the District Magistrate or Subdivisional Magistrate Such Magistrate who is empowered to receive police reports can then deal with the matter. If the nearest Magistrate to whom an accused is sent by the Police has no jurisdiction to inquire into or try the case and considers that no further detention or police custody is necessary or should be ordered he should forward the accused to a Magistrate having jurisdiction S 165 does not authorise a police-officer to detain a person in police-custody for twenty four hours unless such detention is shown to be necessary, for S 61 declares that no police-officer shall detain in custody a person arrested without warrant for n longer period than under all the circumstances of the case is reasonable and the term of twents four hours is fixed as the extreme limit of such detention The term of twenty four hours is the time of custody of a Police officer in the regular force not that of a viltage police-officer (See S 59 and note). If such period has been exceeded the Magistrate should take proper notice of the conduct of the police-officer, and if he is a subordinate Magistrate, he should report it to the superior Magistrate. It constitutes an offence for which the police-off cer is liable to punishment under Act V of 1861, S 29 An order by a police-officer putting a person in the charge of some other person, such as a neighbour, is detention in his custody following executive instructions have been Issued in various The Provinces -

A Police-officer should never apply for an order from the Magistrate for further detention in police eustody on the ground that the prisoner is likely to confess and he should not apply for such an order except upon the following grounds -

I Amir Khan 7 Cal W N 457

8 Kampu Kutti 11 Cal W N 554 (557)

9 Q v Suprosumon Ghosal 6 W R 88 Q v Behars Singh 7 W R 3

9 Q v Behary Singh 7 W R 3 See also Paran Kusin Narasaya v Stuart 2 Msd

(i) that it is necessary to compare the accused person's footprints with the trucks to and from the scene of offence,

(ii) when the occused offers to point out stoken property or articles used in the offence, a weapon or other articles with which the offence was committed, or other evidence of value in the case, and there is reason to believe that the offer is bona fide,

(iii) when it is believed that persons living itong the supposed route taken by the accused person might be rible to identify him, and when it is considered unreasonable to expect such persons to come forward upon the chance of being able to give evidence.

(n) any other good and sufficient special reason, and in considering whether the prisoner should be sent to the Uigisterial lock up or be remanded to the police the Migisterial should be guided according to the opinion formed—

(i) Whether the confession is voluntity or improperly obtained and

 (ii) whether in case of opinion that the confession is voluntary, he considers that the return of the prisoner to the police is of importance to the proper preparation of the case

Before ordering the detention of an accused person in police custody under S 167 the Magistrate must explain in writing 16 what use he intends the presence of the accused in the hands of the Police to be put and will hear any objection which the accused person may have to offer to the proposed

In consequence of instructions from the superior police authorities in BENGAL a practice has been introduced of asking for an order of remand to police custody (5 167) in order that some verification of a confession recorded under S 164 may be obtained from the prisoner at the place of the occurrence, and after an order of remand a Magistrate generally a subordinate Magistrate and not the Magistrate who has recorded the confession, is deputed to accompany the prisoner who remains in custody of the Police This remand is generally ordered although the prisoner has not even stated his willingness or desire to give any further information while in the custody of the Police, but in the presence of the Magistrate, he points out various places where the crime was committed or in progress, and often such information is not new, but has been already obtained and by this means it is sought to corroborate the con fession already recorded, S 27 of the Evidence Act declares that "when any fact is deposed to or discovered in consequence of information received from the person accused of an offence in custody of a police officer, so much of such person accused of an other in custody of a poure officer, so much of sacinformation, whether it amounts to a confession or not, as relates distinctly to the fret thereby discovered may be proved. This prictice has been condemned in several cases. It was remarked (i) that its real object seems to be to add fictitious weight to a confession and to embarrass a judicial officer when he has to determine at the trial whether that confession, which has been repudiated and denied almost immediately after it was made and on the first opportunity when the prisoner was free from all influences, real or imaginary, from the Police, is reliable, was made voluntarily and is a true statement of what actually took place. It should be only when the prisoner admits in his confession a willingness to point out places mentioned by him or to give other information that recourse should be had to such a practice, and then the greatest care should be taken that whatever the prisoner may say or point out is his voluntary act apart from all possible influence of the Police. What is described as the verification of his confession by the accused nearly always relates to matters already known, and must therefore be of little value when the accused is in custody of the Police

If he is a prisoner under conditional offer of pardon, he should not be remanded to police custody and so detained during the whole investigation Such a course raises the greatest suspicion that the Police have so arranged the evidence that he will give under pardon in such a manner as to fit in with the evidence that they may obtain while he is in their custody 1 It was held that a conditional pardon under S 337 could be offered only when an inquiry is before a Magistrate, that is, after judicial proceedings have commenced

But the amendment made by Act No VIII of 1923, S 86 now provides for the tender of a pardon "at any stage of the investigation or inquiry" See

The Local Government, UNITED PROVINCES has commented on the fact that the detention of accused persons by the Police is often authorised by Magistrates on insufficient grounds, and that the duty of requiring the Police to show good and sufficient reasons why the accused should be remanded to their custody is not properly exercised. For example, a remand for the purpose of enabling the accused to point out the place where the stolen property is concealed is reasonable if the accused has voluntarily before the Magistrate offered to conduct the Police to the spot. But it is unreasonable if no such offer has been made and if the object of the Police is really to induce him to make discovery Remand again, for the purpose of allowing the Police to compare the prisoner's footprints with suspicious tracks, or under some circum stances of having him identified would be reasonable. But remand for the purpose of enabling the Police to extract more information of an incriminating nature from him than he has given in his statement would be improper general terms a remand to the Police should be regarded as the exception, and not the rule, and the exception should only be made when the Magistrate believes that certain points in the case cannot be properly investigated unless the Police are allowed the custody of the accused

344 makes similar provision for the remand of an accused person to custody, but this is only in a case under inquiry or trial, and there must be some evidence before the Magistrate before he can act under S 344 A remand under S 344 18 very different from one under S 167 to police custody during a police

In proceedings under S 110 the Magistrate has no power to remand to custody S 167 appies to proceedings under Chapter \IV and not to those under S 110 2

168 When any subordinate police-officer has made any investigation under this Chapter, he shall Report of investireport the result of such investigation to the gation by subordinate police-officer officer in charge of the police-station

S 157 authorises an officer in charge of a police station to depute one of his subordinate officers to make an investigation into a cognizable offence and to take such measures as may be necessary for the discovery of the offender foregoing sections declare how such investigations are to be conducted 5 168 requires that the report of an investigation held by a subordinate police-officer shall be made to the officer in charge of the police station, who will then act as provided by Ss 169, 170, 173 The investigating officer may himself take action under $ 160

The necessity for making such a report will not justify the detention in custody of an accused person for a period exceeding twenty four hours from the time of his arrest

The accused person is not entitled to a copy of such report 3

<sup>1</sup> Amir Khan v K I'mp., 7 Cal W N., 457 2 Re Subbaraya Chetti I L R., 3 Mad., 928 2 Emp v Arumugar, I L R., 20 Mad., 189

169 If, upon an investigation under this Chapter, it appears to the officer in charge of the police-Release of accused station or to the police-officer making the when evidence defi-

investigation that there is not sufficient evidence or reasonable ground of suspicion to justify the forwarding of the accused to a Magistrate, such officer shall, if such person is in custody, release him on his executing a bond, with or without sureties, as such officer may direct, to appear, if and when so required, before a Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of the offence on a police-report and to try the accused or commit him for trial

Every investigating officer can now take action under 5 169 whitever life ronk Hitherto, i.e. prior to the enactment of Act VIII of 1923, 5 3), it was only the officer in charge of the police station who hid the private Sch V (25) contains a form of bond and bull bond with surething

If the accused person is in custody the case must be reported to the Mittle trate, and he can be discharged only on his bond, or on bol, or under the special order of a Magistrate (S 63). If the offence is buildile and be to prenared to give bail he should be released on bul or, if the pollicafficer thinks fit, on his bond without surefies ($ 490) If he is acrus d of a nenbulable offence, he may be released on bail but he shall not be so released if there appear reasonable grounds for believing that he has been pullty of an offence punishable with death or transportation for life (S 417)

If an accused person has been released by the Police on his bond () stay or if and when required, before the Magistrate, the Magistrate on receiving the Police report on completion of the investigation, shall make such order for the discharge of such bond or otherwise as he thinks fit (S 173) (3)

discharge of such bond or outerwise as in turnes of (1/3/13). If after an investigation the police officer reports that the information or complaint made to him is false, the Magistrate is not computent forflowth (1/3/13). order the complainant to be prosecuted A full opportunity should be a sea by the Magistrate to such person to complain to him, so as to have a judately by the Magistrate to such person to compare 11, after suffract turn, re-apidal, complaint 18, after suffract turn, re-apid, complaint is made, there is no reason why the Magistrate aloud not prove the such person. He should not on receipt of a police report call upon such person. such person. He should not on receipt of the But if he was hard proof to show cause why he should not be prosecuted. But if he was proof but the should not be prosecuted. complaint is inquired into by his examination of himself and his winding, and complaint is inquired into by this committee, it has being since it is dismissed, he can be prosecuted. Similarly, it has being y had but that it is dismissed, he can be prosecution should put forward as a wine for thirt there is no reason, why the prosecution should put forward as a wine for the prosecution of the property of the

170 (1) If, upon an investigation under the cooper, it appears to the officer in charge of the police-station that there is sufficient station of Case to be sent to reasonable ground as afore the officer Magistrate when evidence is sufficient shall forward the accused were dialy to

Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of the production upon Magistrate empowered to take consend or comprehence is builable and the accused is a first triber of the offence is builable and the accused is a first property of the offence is builable and the accused is a first property of the consender.

Lalji Gope i Giridhari 5 Cal W N. 106 Q Emp i Ramasımi I L R 24 Mad 321

232

CHAP XIV. Sec. 170

shall take security from him for his appearance before such Magistrate on a day fixed and for his attendance from day to day before such Magistrate until otherwise directed

- (2) When the officer in charge of a police-station forwards an accused person to a Magistrate or takes security for his ap pearance before such Magistrate under this section, he shall send to such Magistrate any weapon or other article which it may be necessary to produce before him, and shall require the complainant (if any) and so many of the persons who appear to such officer to be acquainted with the circumstances of the case as he may think necessary to execute a bond to appear before the Magistrate as thereby directed and prosecute or give evidence (as the case may be) in the matter of the charge against the accused
  - (3) If the Court of the District Magistrate or Subdivisional Magistrate is mentioned in the bond, such Court shall be held to include any Court to which such Magistrate may refer the case for inquiry or trial, provided reasonable notice of such reference is given to such complainant or persons
  - (4) The day fixed under this section shall be the day whereon the accused person is to appear, if security for his appearance has been taken, or the day on which he may be expected to arrive at the Court of the Magistrate, if he is to be forwarded in custody
  - (5) The officer, in whose presence the bond is executed, shall deliver a copy thereof to one of the persons who executed it, and shall then send to the Magistrate the original with his report
  - Sch \ (16) and (27) contain forms of bonds referred to in sub-sections (1) and (a) respectively

Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of the offence on a police report

This would be the District Magistrate or a Subdivisional Magistrate or any Magistrate specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government or by the District Magistrate (S 190 and Seh IV)

When the accused has been brought before such Magistrate, the case may be transferred to any Magistrate subordinate to him who may be competent to hold the inquiry or trial 5 192

S 170 contemplates that the necused and the persons required to attend as witnesses shall appear on the same day before the Magistrate, thus providing for a case in which the investigation has been completed within the twenty four hours from the time of the arrest of the accused, or if he has been remanded to police custody within the time allowed by the order of remand. It, however, seldom happens that what the law thus contemplates is accomplished. The accused are generally forwarded to the Majustrate several days before the investi gation is completed and the witnesses are required to attend, and the accused if often kept in custody during such time without any evidence before the Magistrate that prima facie he has committed any offence. Magistrates and superior police-officers should take serious notice of delay in completing an investigation, for it is often prolonged without any sufficient reason. The evidence obtained by the Police should be sent as found and not kept until the investigation is concluded (1) By this means the Magistrate will at once be in a position to know whether there are sufficient grounds for detaining the accused in custody It not unfrequently happens that only some of the accused persons are sent in, although there is the same evidence against them all. This has been strictly forbidden. The object is apparently to obtain the opinion of the Magistrate on the evidence in what may be termed a test case, and if he finds against the police report the Police will be able in their statistical returns to show a smaller number of persons acquitted or discharged. If however the Magistrate finds that the offence is established proceedings are taken against the other persons accused although they should have been placed before the Magistrate in the first instance. The result is that more than one inquiry or trial is held, the witnesses who are required to attend several times are put to serious incon venience and expense and the time of judicial officers is wasted

Such a practice cannot be too severely condemned and yet it is frequently adopted. It arises from the importance unduly attached to statistical returns showing the proportion of convictions to acquittals and discharges, which is regarded as a test of ment. Thus when there is the same evidence against several persons only some are sent in to the Magistrate so that if those persons are acquitted a smaller number of requirtly are shown. If on the other hand the prisoners are convicted the others can be safely sent in without any danger to the reputation of the police-officer

In Bouns it has been ordered by the High Court that in all important cases of murder and daority it is desirable that the police-officer by whom the investigation has been conducted should be examined as a witness in regard to the circumstances of the investigation Each police-officer should bring with him his diary and also any memorandum of the statement of the witnesses taken down by him under Ss 161 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure An extract from the diary should mannably be attached to the record of the case the memorandum if necessary should not be recorded but should be used by the police-officer to refresh his memory if he is questioned as to the statements made to him by the winnesses

In the POIMS the Police are required to provide for the diet of witnesses up t and inclusive of the dry on which the charge sheet is hinded over to the judicial Court and also the diet of the presoner up to and inclusive of the dry on which he is made over to the judicial lock up. For this purpose District Superintendents of Police receive a permanent advance from the Treasury On presenting the charge sheet the police-officer should move the judicial-officer to pass the sums disbursed in the particular case. The Police will however have nothing to do with the diet of witnesses or of accused persons in cases which are instituted in the judicial Court on the potition of parties or on the motion of the Cour

police-officer

The wording of sub-section (4) is ambiguous "The day fixed" rust mein the day fixed for the appearance of the complianant and witnesses, shough sub-section (2) does not mention the fixing of a day. An amendment of sub-section (2) appears to 1e called for

Complainants and witnesses not to be required to accompany

171 No complainant or witness on his way to the Court of the Magistrate shall be required to accompany a police-officer.

&lt;sup>2</sup> Kodai Kahar 5 W R Cr, 6 or shall be subjected to unnecessary restraint or inconvenience,

Complainants and or required to give any security for his subjected to restaint appearance other than his own bond.

Provided that, if any complainant or witness refuses to Recusant complainant or to execute a bond as directed in section 170, the officer in charge of the police station may forward him in custody to such bond, or intil the hearing of the ease is completed

The police are not competent to send in custody or keep under surveillance on unwilling witness. So when a witness was kept under police surveillance for several days before she was examined by a Magistrate, and at the Sessions trial she repudiated her deposition before the Magistrate, alleging that it was made under pressure of the Police and not voluntarily, it was held that the Sessions Judge could not under S 288 properly admit and rely on the evidence given before the Magistrate<sup>1</sup>

172 (1) Every police-officer making an investigation under this Chapter shall day by day enter his proceedings in the investigation in a diary, etting forth the time at which the information the place or places visited by him, and a statement of the encumutances accort uned through his investigation.

(2) Any Criminal Court may send for the police-diaries of aces under inquiry or trial in such Court and may use such diaries, not as evidence in the ease, but to aid it in such inquiry or trial. Neither the accused nor his agents shall be entitled to call for such diaries, nor shall he or they be entitled to see them nucrely because they are inferred to by the Court; but, if they are used by the police-officer who made them to refresh his memory, or if the Court uses them for the purpose of contradicting such police officer, the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, section 161 or section 115, as the case may be, shall apply.

th some provinces executive instructions have been issued that all reports, under 5 172 shall be sent to a Majastrate through the District Superintendent of Police, or, in his absence through the Assistant District Superintendent of Police or, if there is no such officer, through the sentor Police Inspector If there is no such officer as above mentioned all the station, then the report shall be sent direct to the Majastrate

The uses to which a dury under S 172 should be applied has been explained by Elder C I ?

Butangi Lallir Pmp 4 Cal W \ 49 Q Pmp r Mannu I L R, 19 All 399 See also Syed Alstur Rahim, 10 Ca W N 600

"The power of the Criminal Court to use the special diary is not limited to the use of it for the purpose of enabling the police-otificer who made it to refresh its memory or for the purpose of contradeting lim. The Court may also use the special diary not as evidence of any date, fact or statement referred to in it, but as containing indications of sources and lines of inquiry and as suggesting the names of persons whose evidence may be material for the purpose of doing justice between the Crown and the accused Should the Court consider that any date, fact or statement referred to in the special diary is or may be material, it cannot legally accept the special diary as evidence, in any sense, of such date, fact or statement, and must, in law, before allowing any date, fact or statement established by legal evidence. It is the Court which date, fact or statement established by legal evidence. It is the Court which is entitled to use the special diary for the purpose of seeling for sources and lines of inquiry, and for the names of persons who may be in a position to give material evidence.

"The early stages of the investigation which follows on the commission of a crime must necessarily, in the vast majority of cases be left to the Police, and until the honesty, the capacity, the discrition and the judgment of the Police can be thoroughly trusted it is necessary for the protection of those who are charged with having committed a reinmal offence, that the Magis rate of judge before whom the case is for investigation or for trial should have the means of ascertaining what was the information true false or misleading which was obtained from day to day by the police-officer who was investigating the case, and what were the lines of investigation upon which the police officer acted. A properly kept special diary would afford such information and such information would enable the Migistrate or Judge to determine whether persons referred to in the special diary but not such up as witnesses by the Police should be summoned to give evidence in the interests of the prosecution or of the accused.

It is the absolute duty of Judges and Magistrates to entirely disregard all statements and entries in special diantes as being in any sense legal evidence for any purpose, except for the one solitary purpose of contradicting the police officer who made the special diary when they do afford such a contradiction, and even in that ease they are not evidence of any thing except that such police officer made the particular entry which is at variance with his subsequently given evidence, they are not evidence that what is stated in the entry was trul or correctly represents what was said or done.

But though a Criminal Court may send for the police diaries of a case under industry or trial in such Court, a Sessions Judge is not competent to issue a general order requiring all police diaries in every case committed for trial in his Court should be sent. There should be a specific order in each case? In it is desired to prove any fact stried in a police diary or report, the writer or person from whom the information has been derived should be examined as a witness. The Court can at its own discretion at any stage of the proceedings summon and examine a witness. (S. 340)

The law which was uncertain in several reported cases his been settled by subsection (a) which declares the circumstances under which alone an occused person or his pleader is entitled to see the proceedings of a police investigation. There is no right to obtain copies of a police dary or to see it, unless it is used by a police-officer to refresh his memory, or by the Court to contradict a police officer, in which case it must be produced and shown to the adverse party, if he requires it, and the winters may be cross examined thereupon—[Evidence].

&lt;sup>1</sup> Q Emp v Mannu J L R 19 All 390. See also Syed Abdur Rahim, to Cal W. N. 600.

Act, 1872, S 161) But before a Court can so use a diary, it must call the attention of the police-officer to such parts of it as are to be used for the purpose of contradicting him 1 A witness cannot be required to refresh his memory from any document unless it is in the possession of any party who desires to put it to the witness, or is at least such that he can insist on it being produced A police diary is not such a document unless and until it has been put into the hinds of such party under S 164, Evidence, Act, 1872, as just explained

178 (1) Every investigation under this Chapter shall be Report of Police completed without unnecessary delay, and, as soon as it is completed, the officer in charge of the police station shall—

- (a) forward to a Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of the offence on a police-report a report, in the form prescribed by the Local Government, setting forth the names of the parties, the nature of the information and the names of the persons who appear to be acquainted with the circumstances of the case, and sixting whether the accused (if arrested) has been forwarded in custody, or has been released on his bond, and, if so, whether with or without sureties, and
  - (b) communicate, in such manner as may be prescribed by the Local Government, the action taken by him to the person, if any, by whom the information relating to the commission of the offence was first given
- (2) Where a superior officer of Police has been appointed under section 158, the report shall, in any cases in which the Local Government by general or special order so directs, be submitted through that officer, and he may, pending the orders of the Magistrate, direct the officer in charge of the police-station to make further investigation
- (3) Whenever it appears from a report forwarded under this section that the accused has been released on his bond, the Magistrate shall make such order for the discharge of such bond or otherwise as he thinks fit
- A copy of any report forwarded under this section shall, on application, be furnished to the accused before the commencement of the inquiry or trial;

Provided that the same shall be paid for unless the Magistrate for some special reason thinks fit to furnish it free of cost.

<sup>1</sup> Emp . Kalı Charan Chunarr, I L. R. 8 Cal. 154; (sc) 10 Cal L R. 51.

There is no provision here, as in S 158, for the submission of this report through a superior officer, but in some Provinces executive instructions have been issued to that effect

The Lowndes Committee proposed that in this section and in S 171 the functions of the officer in charge of the police station should be exerciseable by the investigating officer, but these amendments were not adopted Act No WIII of 1923 S 40 has however amended this section. The obligation in abuse (6) to communicate in the prescribed manner the action taken to the first informant and the provision for supplying the accused with a copy of the report ver new. The object of the first amendment is clearly to enable the first informant to approach the Magistrate when the police propose to take no further action if the case is challanged the complainant will be aware of the fact because he will be required to appear before the Court under S 170 (2). The effectiveness of the provision is doubtful, as in many cases the first report is made by a village policeman.

When the police have under S 173 reported a case to be unproved it cannot be made over to a subordinate Magistrate for inquiry and report. Such z course is open only under S 202 when he may be so ordered in respect of the truth of a complaint! If a subordinate Magistrate is competent to deal with the case judicially it can be made over to him for inquiry and trial according.

to the nature of the offence

So also a Magistrate receiving a police report under S 173 cannot instead of taking cognizance of it thimself under S 190 (1) (b), make it over for inquiry and report to an Honorary Magistrate <sup>1</sup>

A prosecution is not legally instituted under S 190 (1) (b) when the report under S 173 does not set forth the nature of the information and the first in formation report under S 154 is equally defective in this respect 3

- Polaco to laquire and report on suicide etc entry in months of the Local Government in that behalf, on receiving information that a person—
  - (a) has committed suicide, or
  - (b) has been killed by another, or by an animal, or by machinery, or by an accident, or
  - (c) has died under circumstances raising a reasonable suspicion that some other person has committed an offence, shall immediately give intimation thereof to the nearest Magistrate, empowered to hold inquests and unless otherwise directed by any rule prescribed by the Local Government, or by any general or special order of the District or Subdivisional Magistrate, shall proceed to the place where the body of such deceased person is, and there, in the presence of two or more respectable inhabitants of the neighbourhood, shall make an investigation, and draw up a report of the apparent cause of death, describing such wounds, fractures, bruises and other marks of injury as may be found on the body, and stating in what manner, or by what weapon or instrument (if any), such marks appear to have been inflicted.

<sup>1</sup> Ablalla Mandel I L. R., 4) Cel 334 2 Long Adaikary, I L. R., 37 Cal. 49.

(2) The report shall be signed by such police-officer and other persons, or by so many of them as concur therein, and shall be forthwith forwarded to the District Magistrate or the Subdivisional Magistrate

(3) When there is any doubt regarding the cause of death, or when for any other reason the police-officer considers it expedient so to do, he shall, subject to such rules as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, forward the body, with a view to its being examined, to the nearest Civil Surgeon, or other qualified medical main appointed in this behalf by the Local Government, if the state of the weather and the distance admit of its being so forwarded without risk of such patterfaction on the road as would render such examination necless

(4) In the Presidences of Port St George and Bomby, investigations under this action may be made by the head of the village, who shall then report the result to the nearest Magistrate authorised to hold inquests.

(6) The following Magistrates are empowered to hold in quests, namely, any District Magistrate, Subdivisional Magistrate, or Magistrate of the first class, and any Magistrate specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government or the District Magistrate

This and the following sections relate to inquests on the occurrence of violent or unnatural deaths. Information must be immediately given to the nearest Magistrate empowered to hold an inquest, that is, to the District Magistrate, Subdivisional Magistrate or any first class Magistrate, or any other Magistrate specially empowered in this behild rether by the Local Government or the District Magistrate.

trict Magistrate (See sub-section (5) and also Sch IV and S 37)

The officer in charge of a police station, or some other police-officer specially empowered by the Local Government in that behalf, shall then himself proceed to the spot and hold an investigation in the manner preserbed, unless he is restrained by some rule prescribed by the Local Government or by any general or special order of the District or Subdivisional Magistrate, and when there is any doubt regarding the cause of death, or when for any other reason he may consider it expedient to do so such police-officer shall send the body to the Civil Surgeon or other qualified medical officer appointed by the Local Government for a post martem examination

If the police-officer suspects that an offence has been committed [See S 174

(1) (c)], the investigation becomes one also under S 157

In Bennat. the matters to be specially noticed by a polico-officer holding an inquest have been described for their information. Head constables, jumor Sub-inspectors subordinate to police-officers in charge of police stations and out posts, have been empowered to act under S 174 (1).

In Boussy, a police-patel is authorised to hold an inquest,1 and all Magistrates have been empowered to hold inquests, provided that they are not Honorary Magistrates, in which case a special order for each Magistrate is necessary, a also all District Superintendents and Assistant District Superintendents of Police 2

In the Punian all Magistrates of the second class have been empowered to to hold inquests 4

See Act V of 1889 S 4 which practically reproduces Ss 174, 175 and 176 of this Code for the law regarding inquests in the town of Madras.

There are vinous orders by the I ocal Governments for the instruction of the Police in sending bodies for post mortem examination and of Medical Officers.

Police in sending bodies for post mortem examination and of Medical Officers in conducting such examinations

The Prisons Act (IX of 1894) Ss 15 and 17 declare the course to be taken on the death of any prisoner

When the corpse of any person who has met with a violent death on a railway premises is sent for post mortem examination it should be sent to the Medical officer whether a Government senant or paid by the Railway who is most accessible. A report should be sent through the Court Inspector to the District Mantstrate and a doubleate to the Medical officer for his information?

Rules have been mide declaring in what cases an officer in charge of a possible station shall not make a personal investigation under S 274 but should report to the nearest Magistrate who should ordinarily hold the inquest

Inquests on Railway accidents

Special rules have been issued for inquests on deaths resulting from railway accidents. The Station Master nearest to the place where such an accident may have taken place or if there be no Station Master the railway servant in charge of the section of the railway is required authout unnecessary delay to give notice of the needent (a) to the Vigistrate of the District (b) to the officer in charge of the police station in the juri-diction of which the accident occurred or to such other Magistrict or police-officer is the Governor General in Council may appoint in this behalf—Act IV of 1890 Ss. $3 and $4. Such information is to be given in writing or by telegraph if possible

S 103 of the Indian Railways Act 1890 declares the punishment for neglect to give such information. The Superintendent of the Railway Police or, in his unavoidable absence, in officer of police should be present at the industry

An investigation may be held by the Radway Police or when there is no

Railway Police by the District Police
If the District Superintendent of Railway Police is unable to hold the investigation it shall be held by a subordinate officer, who in the case of the District

Police would be an Assistant Superintendent of Police

If the Railway Police and the District Police are both present the latter shall carry on any investigation that may be necessary beyond the limits of the premises of the Roilway.

Power to summen by order in writing, summon two or more persons persons as aforesvul for the purpose of the sud investigation, and any other person who appears to be acquainted with the facts of the case. Every person so summoned shall be bound to attend and to answer truly all questions other

<sup>1</sup> Bom Act VIII of 1867 S 11 See also Bom Gaz 1909 Pt I p 1135 2 Pom Gaz 1872 p 13°5 Ibid 1873 p 16

Pom Gaz 1872 P 433
Peng Iol Man
Peng Iol Man
Gaz Ind 1879 Supp P 459

than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him to a criminal charge, or to a penalty or forfeiture

(2) If the facts do not disclose a cognizable offence to which section 170 applies such persons shall not be required by the police officer to attend a Magistrate's Court

See Act V of 1889 for the Land recording inquests in the fown of Madras Non attendance in clarifence to in order of a police-officer is punishable

under 5 174 Penal Code

It should be noted that 5 175 requires that a person examined at an inquest shall inswer terly ill questi ne other than this the answer to which would be incriminating. In ordinary investigations, S. if a imposes no such obligation A person answering falsely at in inquest would therefore be liable to punishment under S +33 Penal Code for int nil nalls giving fals evidence. The refusal to answer quest ons which a person is bound to answer, is punishable under S

170 Penni Code 176 (1) When any person das while in the custody of the trate anto cause of hold inquests shill, and, in any other case mentioned in section 171, cliuses (a), (b) and (c) of sub section (1), any Magistrate so empowered may, hold an inquiry into the cause of deith, either instead of, or in addition to, the investigation held by the police officer, and, if he does so, he shall have all the powers in conducting it which he would have in holding an inquiry into an offence. The Magistrate holding such an inquiry shall record the evidence taken by him in connection therewith in any of the manners bereimfter prescribed according to the circumstances of the ease

(2) Whenever such Magistrate considers it expedient to Power to disinter make an examination of the dead body of any person who has been already interred, in corpses order to discover the cause of his death, the Magistrate may cause the body to be disinterred and examined

The nearest Magistrate empowered to hold suquests—Such Magistrate would be any District Magistrate, Subditist and Vagustrate or Magistrate of the first class or any other Vagustrate specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government or the District Vagustrate 5 174 (5)

It a Magistrate not duly empowered in that behalf erroneously in good faith holds an inquest under S 176 his proceedings are not void merely on the ground holds an inquest under of 170 ms procedures, we not some more of the not being so empowered ($\frac{5}{520}\).

It should be noted that when a person dies while in the custody of the label of the custody of the custo police it is obligatory on the nearest competent Magistrate to hold an inquiry as to the cause of death, in any other case it is left to the discretion of the Magistrate. The Prisons Act (1% of 1894) Ss 15 and 17 declare the course to be taken when a prisoner dies in tail

Sub section (2)

By the Coroners Act IV of 1871, S 11, 7 similar power to disinter corpses is entrusted to the Coroners of Bombay and Calculta

PART VI.

PROCEEDINGS IN PROSECUTIONS

CHAPTER XV

OF THE JURISDICTION OF THE CRIMINAL COURTS IN INOUIRIES AND TRIALS

A-Place of Inquiry or Trial

.The rules laid down in this Chapter in regard to the juri-diction of a Magis trate apply equally to investigations by the Police other than the Police in the towns of Calcutta and Bomby (See S 156) No finding sentence or order of any Criminal Court shall be set aside merely on the ground that the inquiry, trial or other proceeding in the course of which it was arrived at or passed took place in a wrong sessions division, district sub division or other local area. unless it appears that such error has in fact occasioned a fullure of justice-

But where a commitment is made by a Magistrate having no jurisdiction to a Court of Session also having no surjediction at as allegal and as not saved by S 531 nor could the High Court transfer the case to a Court of Session having jurisdiction 1 If however the Court to which the commitment is made had jurisdiction it would be different $

S 156 (2) similarly protects an investigation held by a police officer but without any such reservation, declaring that no proceeding of any police officer in a cognizable case shall at any stage be called in question on the ground that the case was one which such officer was not empowered to investigate

The High Court may order that my offence may be inquired into and tried by any Court not empowered under Ss 177 to 184 (both inclusive) but in other respects competent to inquire into or try such offence-S 526 (1) (i)

The first that the accused has been illegally arrested is not a proper ground for acquitting him if the Court it competent to try him a

If the Court before which a person is brought has jurisdiction to try him it is not for it to inquire how he has been brought there 4 But if the objection is taken when he is placed on his trial and is allowed by a superior Court all subsequent proceedings must be set aside 5. This case may however be distinguished from those just referred to on the ground that it expressly did not purport to decide whether an illegal arrest in foreign territory vitintes an inquiry by a Magistrate into an offence charged against the person arrested when brought before the Court

Assistant Sessions Judge North Arcot v Ramammal I L R 36 Mad , 387

&lt;sup>2</sup> Ganapatty Chetti v Rev. I L R 42 Mad 737 <sup>3</sup> Fmp v Ravalu Lesigadu I L R 26 Mad 124 Emp v Madho Dhobi I L R., 31 Cal 557

Q v Nelson 5 T L R 344 per Cockburn C J K Emp v Vinayati Sarwakar,

I L R 35 Bom 225 Mahomed Yusufuddin I L R. 25 Cal. 20 (se) L R 24 Mad App. 137.

177 Every offence shall ordinarily be inquired into and Ordinary place of tried by a Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction it was committed. nquiry and trial

5 177 relates only to the inquiry or trial in respect to an offence (See 5 4 (0) | Jurisdiction is otherwise provided for in respect of other matters dealt with by 1 Migistrate under this Cod Thus, proceedings for security to keep the peace can be taken by a competent Magnetrate only when the person informed igniss or the place where the Ireach of the prace or disturbance is apprehend ed is within the local limits of the Migistrate's jurisdiction, and unless both are within such jurisdution, such proceedings can be taken only before a Distinct Magistrite or Chief Privilence M gistrite (S ing) and in order for move terrinee of wife or child can be made only by Magistrate In a district when the occused resides ir is no where he lest resided with his wife, or the moth t

of his iftentimente child[S 455 [9]] The Code does not iffect any special jurisdiction or power conferred by any other law now in force (5-1) $5 provides that all offences under the lodar Penil Code shiff be inquired into inditried occording to this Code of Procedure it also provides that all effences under any other law shall be inquired into and trick according to the same provisions, but subjet to any enactment for the time being in force respecting the measure and place of inquiring into and trans such offences $ 177 would therefore, not effect the purisdiction of a Court under the Army Act over British soldiers committing offences. That jurisdiction is, honeser only permissive and therefore when the Coul authorities have got possession of the investigation of the offence, and the Military authorities have not availed themselves of the alternative procedure of trying the offenders by general court martial, the Magistrate is competent to proceed in the manner directed by the Code, unless the Governor General in Council has, under 5 549 essued rules to the contern ! See note to $ 549 fort

Act VIV of 1887 (The Indian Marine Act) 5 45 gives jurisd et in to in an offence under it to the criminal Court in any place where the accused may refren to be Similarly, under the Indian Rule up Act [1] of hispab. 5 [34] (1) and adrinder may be tried in any place in which be may be or which the lacest Government may noully in this behall, as well as in any other place in which he might be fried under any law for the time being in force. The Indian Merchant Shipping Act VI of 1923 S 282 contains an exactly similar proxi sion S 184 of the Code however declares that offences against the Railways Act cray be inquired into or tred in a presidency toke whether they were committed in Such town or not provided that the offender and all the winesses necessary for the prosecution are to be found therein. The indian Ports Art (N of 1889) S 60 (1), gives jurisdiction to a Magistrate of the district or place adjoining the port in which the offence as committed A Presidency Magistrate has, under 12 and 13 Vict. c of S 1, declared by 23 and 24 Vict, c 88 S 1, as well as by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894 S 686 to be applicable to India jurisdiction to try persons for an offence com

mitter in a British ship on the high seas 2

Notwithstanding anything contained in section 177. the Local Government may direct that any cases or class of cases committed for trial in Power to order cases to be tried in different any district may be tried in any sessions sessions divisions † [ division .

Emp v Chief Officer Mushtart I L R . 25 Bom . 636

Provided that such direction is not repugnant to any direction previously issued by the High Court under section 15 of the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, or section 107 of the Government of India Act, 1915, or under this Code, section 526

24 & 25 Vict, c 104 is the Indian High Courts Act here referred to The power of a Local Government under S 178 is restricted to cases or classee of cases commuted for trail in any district within the province. Thus a Loca! Government can order a case to be tried in a specified sessions division but not by any particular Court?

S 527 enables the Governor General in Council to transfer any criminal case or appeal from a Court of one province to a Court of another province

A High Court can under S 536 for any of the reisons specified therein transfer any crim and case or appeal from a criminal Court subordinate to its authority to any other Court of equal or superior jurisdiction which may not ord narily have jurisdiction of the may not ord narily have jurisdiction to deal with it S 538 also confers on certain superior Magistrates the power to transfer any case from any subordinate Magistrate to any other such Magistrate.

Under S 107 of the Government of Ind a Act 1015 which has re-encarded S 1.5 of the Indian High Courts have 1861 a High Court has superintendence river all Courts subject to its appellate jurisdiction and has power to direct the transfer of any suit or appeal from such Court to any other Court of equal or superior jurisdiction S 5 6 empowers a High Court under certain circum stances to transfer a case for inquiry or trail to . Court not empowered under S 177 to 184, (both inclusive) but in other respects competent to inquire into or try such offence. The High Court can also direct that any particular emmindicate miny be transferred to and true before itself. In all cases so transferred by the High Court to itself for trial the trial may if the High Court so directs be by jury (S 267).

Accused trable in district where act is accused of the commission of any offence by reason of anything which has been district where act is done or where course constell, such offence may be inquired into or ensured.

done or where conse ensued, such offence may be inquired into or tried by a Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction any such thing has been done, or any such consequence has ensued

Illustrations

(a) A is wounded within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court X, and des within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court Z. The offence of the culpable homicide of A may be inquired into or tried either by X or Z.

(b) A is wounded within the local limits of the jurisd ction of Court  $Y_i$  and is, during ten days within the local limits of the jurisd ction of Court  $Y_i$  and during ten days more within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court  $Z_i$  unable in the local limits of the jurisdiction of either Court  $Y_i$  or Court  $Z_i$  to follow his ordinary pursuits. The offence of causing greeous burt to  $X_i$  may be inquired into or tried by  $X_i$   $Y_i$  or  $Z_i$ .

<sup>1</sup> Q Imp 1 Nga Tha Moung J L R 10 Cal 643

- (c) A is put in fear of injury within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court X, and is thereby induced within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court Y, to deliver in party to the person who jut him in fear. The offence of extertion ecommitted on A may be inquired into or tried either by N or Y
- (d) A is wounded in the Nitise State of Haroda, and dies of his wounds in Point. The offence of emising As death may be inquired into and tried in Pooms

freept in the twins of Cilotte and Bombis, a polici-officer has the same power to investigate in effence if it be regarded, we have been conferred by 5 171 on Clear to hold in inquiry or trial (5 15t)

Illustration (d) ands also that there is paried etcor in such a case where the offence was committed in a foreign state in altime with Her Majesty, and the consequences which usuad have been in British India, and it provides that proceedings may be taken in British India but it would be necessary that the accused should be in British India b fen such proceedings can be taken

Insthing which has been dine means some act constituting the offence or any part of it and the consequenc which has ensued means some act modify ing er completing the effence. Where in offence, eg, grusous hurt by a fruture of 1 fame his been a minuted in 1 jurisdiction, the fact that it has caused in consequence leadily pain or includity to follow ordinary pursuits for enemes dies (sie > 321 Penal Code) in mother persolution does not make a Court of the litter competent to hold the trial !

So also in regard to in offence and r S 373 Penal Code (the bringing hiring or otherwise obtaining passession of a minor for an immoral purpose) where the girl had been bought in Mizipore and taken to Benares, it was held? that possession of the Lirl in Benures did not give purisdiction to a Court in that district, as an consequence such as is contemplated by S 170 had ensued there

Whire the servint of a Company of Champore, who was in Bengal in charge of certain goods belonging to that Compans, did not result the price of the goods to Campure to the lose of the Company, it was held by FpGE, C I, that the Court at Campion hall jurisdiction to try the offence of criminal breach of trust (5 408 Penal Code) inasmuch as the consequence of the act charged to loss to the Company, occurred in Campore [The cases in the Agra Sudder Court do not appear to have been referred to Jurisdiction would probably be given by S 181] So also a person who posts a letter instigating another to commit an offence, may be tried either in the district in which he posted it or where the consequences of such posting ensued, that is, where the contents of the letter became known 4

The reported cases in the Allahabad High Court have been contradictory in explaining what constitutes in offence by reason of a consequence which his ensued So it has been held that a consequence means something which forms a part and parcel of an offence not something which is the direct result of the act of the offender as to form no part of the offence, and in this view of the law where money had been misropropried at a branch office of a firm the Magistrate within whose jurisdiction the head office was situated had no jurisdiction without proof that olss had been caused to it! But in another case it was held that loss resulting from criminal breach of trust gives the Magistrate of the district in which that loss has been caused jurisdiction to try that offence on the complaint of the person concerned?

<sup>1</sup> Jettabhai Bom H Ct June 21 1906

* Jerzauda Dom 11 t. June 21 1900 Mussammat Jovahn 6 Agra 46 Begum ahas Elaheejan Ibid 136 O Emp v O Brien I L R 19 All 111 O Emp v Sheo Dial Mal I L R, 16 All 329 See also Kalee Dass Mitter, 5 W R Cr. 44

The Calcutta High Court' has held that loss, though a normal result, is not an ingredient of the offences of criminal misappropriation or breach of trust, and not therefore a 'consequence within the meaning of S 179 But this case was not followed by the Bombiy High Court's which held that the word 'consequence bears its ordinary grammatical meaning it is not restricted to a consequence which is a necessary ingredient of the offence. The divergent rulings in this matter indicate the necessity for an amendment of the Code to set doubts at riss!

180 When an net is an offence by reason of its relation to Place of trial where act is offence by reason of relation to other offence or many other act which is also an offence or which would be an offence if the door were capable of committing an offence, a charge of the first mentioned offence may be inquired into or tried by a Court within the local limits of whose purisdiction either act was done

Illustrations

(a) I charge of ab timent may be inquired into or tried either by the Court within the livel limits of whose jurisdiction the abetiment was committed or by the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the offence abetted was committed.

(b) A charge of receiving or retaining stolen goods may be inquired into or irred either by the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the goods were stolen or by my Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction any of them were at any time dishonestly received or retained

(c) A charge of wrongfully conceiling a person I nown to have been kidnapped may be inquired into or tried by the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the wrongful conceiling or by the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the kidnapping toole place

Except in the towns of Cricuita and Bombay, a police-officer has the same power to investigate an offence if it be a cognizable offence as is here conferred on a Court to hold an inquiry or trial-read with S 1 (*) S 156

The term 'act" includes also an illegal omission [S 4 cl (2)]

Illustration (a)

S 108 A of the Penal Code is important

A person abets an offence within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code who in British India abets the commission of any act without or beyond British India which would constitute an offence if committed in British India

Illustrations

A in British India instigates B a foreigner in Goa to commit a murder in Goa. A is guilty of abetting murder."

So also if a British subject in the territories of any Native Prince or Chief.

Ganesh Lal I L R 34 All 487 Langridge I L R 35 All 20 Emp r Ramratan Chunilal 46 Bom , 641

in India, instigates the commission of an offence in British India, he is guilty of abetment of that offence

Thus if D, a British subject, living in Induce, Instigntes E to commit a murder in Romby, he is guilty of abetting murder [S. 4 (t), Penal Code ]

So a subject of an Indian State who in that State abets an offence in British India is little to the jurisdiction of the British Courts when found within their jurisdiction because the offence committed by him has been perfected and completed in British India

Illustration (b)

See S 410, Penal Code, as amended by Act VIII of 1882. S. 9, which gives the definition of " stolen property," d clares that it is immaterial whether such transfer has been made, or the misappropriation or criminal breach of trust has been committed, within or without British India. But though it may be imma terral whether the act by which the property became stolen property was com mitted within or without British India, to enable a Court in British India to try the offence of dishonestly receiving or retaining stolen property, the receiving or retaining or the offence by which the lawful owner was deprived of it must have been committed within its jurisdiction 2

181 (1) The offence of being a thug, of being a thug and committing murder, of dacoity, of dacoity Being a thug or bewith murder, of having belonged to a gang of longing to a gang of dacoits, escape from dacoits, or of having escaped from custody, custody, ele may be inquired into or tried by a Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the person charged is.

(2) The offence of criminal misappropriation or of criminal breach of trust may be inquired into or tried Criminal misapproby a Court within the local limits of whose priation and criminal breach of Irust jurisdiction any part of the property which is the subject of the offence was received or retained by the accused person, or the offence was committed.

(3) The offence of theft, or any offence which includes theft or the possession of stolen property, may bo Theft inquired into or tried by a Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such offence was committed or the property stolen was possessed by the third or by any person who received or retained the same knowing or having reason to believe it to be stolen.

(4) The offence of kidnapping or abduction may be inquired and into or tried by a Court within the local himits of whose jurisdiction the person kid-Kidnapping abduction napped or abducted was kidnapped or abducted or was conveyed or concealed or detained.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Emp v Chhotulal Bahar, I L R, 36 Bom. 524
<sup>2</sup> Q Emp v Kırpal Sırgh I L R, 9 All, 523, Reg v Lakhya Govind, I L R. r Bom., 50; Emp v Sunker Gope I L R, 6 Cal, 307.

See note to S 180 ante

Except in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay, a police-officer has the same power to investigate an offence of it be a cognize the offence as is here conferred on a Court to hold an inquiry or trial—S 156 read with S 1 (2)

Act IV of 189S Ss 3-4 (see note to S 180 ante) and S 188 of this Code are important in connection with this section. They modify or render obsolete several reported cases on this subject.<sup>4</sup>

See note to S 188 post

S is does not apply to an offence commuted by a person who is not a British subject outside British territory but is intended to regulate the jurisdiction of Courts in British India in respect of offences committed in British India S is8 enables a Court to proceed agrio six a Native Indian subject for an offence committed at a place outside British India, but if committed in a Native State, the Court must first obtain the certificate of the Political Agent for that State or, where there is no Political Agent for the sanction of the Local Government. So a Court under this Code has no jurisdiction in respect of a discopy committed in a Native State by one who is not a British subject and also by one who is a British subject but in respect of whom no certificate under S 188 has been obtained But they can both be proceeded against under S 411 Penal Code for retaining stolen property in British India, (see definition of 'stolen property,'' S 410 Penal Code, as amended by Act VIII of 1882 S 0)<sup>2</sup>

The jurisdiction to try the offences of eriminal inisappropriation of criminal breach of trust is governed by S 181 (2) and not by S 179. But see notes to S 179

Place of inquiry or trial where scene of offence is uncertain or not in one district only or where offence is continuing or consists of several acts 182 When it is uncertain in which of several local areas an offence was committed, or where an offence is committed partly in one local area and partly in another, or where an offence is a continuing one, and continues to be committed in more local areas than one, or where it consists of several acts done in different local areas, it may be inquired into or tried by a Court having jurisdiction over any of such local areas

Except in the towns of Calcutti and Bombay, a police-officer has the same power to investigate an offence, if it be a cognizable offence, as is fiere given to a Court to hold an injury or trial ($ 750)

"Local area" as here used is synonymous with a district or sub-division (or a local area to which a Magistrate's jurisdiction may have been limited under S 12), but not to a local area in any Native State or part of British India to

&#x27;See flechar 4 Hom II C R Cr 38 Partau 10 Bom H C R Cr 356 Reg v Ad vigadu I L R 1 Mad 171 See also Reg v Lakhya Govind I L R 1 Horu 50 Emp v Sunker Gope I L R 6 Cal 307 Lmp v Baldaya I L R 28 Aff 37 Q Emp v Abdul Latif I L R 10 Bom

<sup>186</sup> Krishnamachari v Shaw Wallace & Co I L. R 39 Mad, 576, Sambacharas

Emp I L R 44 Cal 912
 Punardeo Narain Singh I L R 25 Cal 858 (1c) 2 Cal W N, 577

which this Code is not applicable 1 S 182 does not refer to an uncertainty where an offence was committed, but to the local jurisdiction of the Court over that spot

A Presidency Magistrate has jurisdiction under S 182 to try the director (residing at Darjeeling) of a Company whose office is at Darjeeling for an offence under 5 32 (4) of the Indian Companies Act, VII of 1913, in respect of his default in filing a list of members with the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies Even if he had not, S 531 cures the defect 2

An offence committed whilst the offender is in the course of performing a journey or voyage may Offence committed on a journey be inquired into or tried by a Court through or into the local limits of whose jurisdiction the offender, or the person against whom, or the thing in respect of which, the offence was committed, passed in the course of that journe, or

Except in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay, an officer in charge of a police strition may without n ord r of a Migistrate, investigate such an offence, if it be a cognitable offence-5 150 read with 5 1 (2)

The journey spot en of in 5 103 must be a continuous journey from one terminus to another in Il its conditions. Where it appeared distinctly from the evidence that the journey a is interrupted it Allahabad both on the part of the complainant and the accused it was held that the Magistrate of Howrah had no jurisdiction to entertain the thirge of an offence which was committed near Allahabad on a journey which was broken by both parties at that place. The Court remarked that the illustration allords relief by giving jurisdiction to the local tribunal at the place where the offender either stops or is made to stop, or at the place where the complainant stops, and that 'this means where either of them first stops or breaks his journey or loyage. The stoppage was also one not due to the nature of the journey uself

So where a railway guard charged with an offence under the Railways Act was removed from the train and detained at a place and afterwards broke analy and continued his journey to Madray it was held that the journey during which the offence had been committed had ended when he was removed from the A halt for a few hours of a boat during which the thelt was discovered is not a stoppage which would prevent the trial being held where it terminated The journey or soyage does not include a part on the high seas or in foreign territory but is confined to one entirely within the territories of British India But see S 188 of this Code and Act 1V of 1898 S 3 If the accused be a person within the terms of those sections he would be subject to the jurisdiction

Where an offence is committed in the course of a journey, the only Courts which have jurisdiction to try the offender are the Courts through or into the local limits of whose jurisdiction the offender, in the course of that journey passed. The journey referred to in the section is the journey which the offender

<sup>1</sup> Bichitranund Dass 1 J R 16 Cal 667 Debegdra Math Das Gupta y Registar of Joint Stock Companies 1 L R 45

Paran 13 B L R App 4 (5c) 21 W R Cr 65

Baow Dalah I I B 450 4 5 W R Cr 45 Cal 490 Malony i Mad H C R 193 193 L R a Bapu Daldi I L R 5 Mad 23 (sc.) Weir 2 Aminulla Serang, i C L J 334

All offences against the provisions of any law for the 184 time being in force relating to Railways, Offences against Telegraphs, the Post-office or Arms and Am-Telegraph

Railway, Post-office and Arms munition may be inquired into or tried in a presidency-town, whether the offence is stated to have been committed within such town or not Provided that the offender and all the witnesses necessary for his prosecution are to be found within such town

The law relating to Railways in India is contained in Act IX of 1890, to Telegraphs, in Act \111 of 1885 as amended by Acts \11 of 1888 and VII and VIV of 1914, to the Post Office, in Act VI of 1898, and to Arms and Ammuni tion, in Act \1 of 1878

Any person committing any offence against the Railway 1ct or any rule made thereunder shall be triable in any place in which he may be, or which the Government may notify in this behalf, as well as in any other place in which he might be tried by the law for the time being in force. Act 1\ of 1890, S 134

For notifications by Local Covernments, under that section see Assum Gazette, 1898 Part II, p 134 and ibid 1901, Part II, p 482 Calcutta Gazette,

1907, p 202, United Provinces Gazette 1906 Part I, p 983

(1) Whenever a question arises as to which of two or more Courts subordinate to the same High High Court to decide. in case of doubt, dis-Court ought to inquire into or try any offence, trict where inquiry or it shall be decided by that High Court trial shall take place

(2) Where two or more Courts not subordinate to the same High Court have taken cognizance of the same offence, the High Court within the local limits of whose appellate criminal jurisdiction the proceedings were first commenced may direct the trial of such offender to he held in any Court subordinate to it, and if it so decides all other proceedings against such person in respect of such offence shall be discontinued. If such High Court, upon the matter having been brought to its notice, does not so decide, any other High Court within the local limits of whose appellate criminal jurisdiction such proceedings are pending may give a like direction, and upon its so doing all other such proceedings shall be discontinued

The difficulty with regard to S 182 was that it left a doubt as to whether one High Court had power to transfer a case to itself from another High Court. or vice versa, or whether one High Court could decide which of two other High Courts could try a particular case The Calcutta High Court had under S 165 ordered the transfer to a Magistrate in Bengal of a case before a Magistrate in the Punjab, that is to say it exercised jurisdiction to transfer a case from outside its local jurisdiction to a court within its jurisdiction 1 A Full Bench has held (Woodroffe, J dissenting) that the High Court is empowered under S 185 of the C P Code to make an order in respect of any inquiry instituted or trial commenced in a court constituted beyond its territorial limits 2

Iliran Kumar Chowdhury, 17 Cal W N., 761
 Charu Chandra Majumdar v Emp. L. L. R., 41 Cal., 595

In this case Woodroffe, J held that S 185 does not deal with transfers of decisions on the ground of mere convenience but dealt with a doubt as to com petency A few weeks earlier the Madras High Court had held that S 185 does not empower a High Court to transfer to a court subordinate to itself within its local jurisdiction a case pending in a court subordinate to the jurisdiction of another High Court, nor does it empower a High Court to decide by which Court such a case shall be tried 1

But the Calcusta High Court had previously held that S 185 did not apply when the doubt was not as to jurisdiction between two courts but whether as a matter of convenience in inquiry or trial should be held in some particular

court 2

The redraft of S 185 made by the amending Act XVIII of 1923, S 43, 13 10tended to remove doubts. In the Statement of Objects and Reasons attached to the Bill it was preposed to make it clear that there was no power to transfer a case to or from a court within the jurisdiction of another High Court Subsection (2) deals with the case of proceedings in respect of some offence instituted in two or more courts not subordinate to the same High Court, and it lays down that the High Court in the local limits of whose criminal jurisdiction the proceedings are first commenced may direct that the trial shall be held in any court subordinate to it, and thereupon all other proceedings will be stayed. But if this High Court upon the malter having been brought to its notice does not give a decision any other High Court within whose jurisdiction the proceeding are pending may give a life direction, that is to say, may direct that the trial shall proceed in a Court subordinate to itself. Where therefore proceedings have been taken in one court only no High Court will have power to make in order under S 185 (2)

186 (1) When a Presidency Magistrate, a District Magistrate, a Subdivisional Magistrate, or, if he 15 specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government, a Magistrate of the first Power to issue Summons or warrant for offence committed beyand local turisdiction elass, sees reason to believe that any person within the local limits of his jurisdiction has committed without such limits (whether within or without British India) an offence which eannot, under the provisions of sections 177 to 184 (both inclusive), or any other law for the time being in force, be inguired into or tried within such local hmits, but is under some law for the time being in force triable in British India, such Magistrate may inquire into the offence as if it had been committed within such local limits, and compel Magistrate s proce such person in manner hereinbefore provided dit e on arrest to appear before him, and send such person to the Magistrate having jurisdiction to inquire into or try such offence, or, if such offence is bailable, take a bond with or without sureties for his appearance before such Magistrate

(2) When there are more Magistrates than one having such lurisdiction, and the Magistrate acting under this section cannot

Mohamed Ghouse Rahousa Salub , Nattu Vellabji I L R , 40 Mad 835
 Rajani Binode Chakrabutty, I L R , 41 Cal , 305 i (s c ) 17 Cal W N , 1257

satisfy himself as to the Magistrate to or before whom such person should be sent, or bound to appear, the case shall be reported for the orders of the High Court

If a Angistrate, not empowered by law erroneously in good fath, issues a preferences under S 188 for the apprehension of a person within the local limits of his jurisdiction who has commutted an offence outside such limits his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on that ground (S 529)

The inquiry held by a Magistrate acting under S 186 is only to satisfy himself that there are primi face good grounds for sending the person believed to have committed the offence to a Magistrate hiving jurisdiction over him Such inquiry should be conducted as prescribed by Chapter XVIII of this Code. The offence must be one traible in British India that is traible by some Court in British India but it need not be triable by first Magistrate either by reason of its being committed within his local jurisdiction or within the special jurist ion created by Ss 177 184 or by any other local or special law.

The offence referred to in S 186 is one trible in British India but still one which cannot be inquired into or fixed within the jurisdiction of the particular Magistrate specified. Thus a Magistrate in Bengal cui on information received act under S 186 in regard to an offence committed in the Panjab he can arrest the person suspected of having committed such offence and hold an inquiry into the matter, but he should send him to a Magistrate having jurisdiction or take a bond for his appearance before such Magistrate and jurisdiction or take a made out against such person. If such person is brought before a Magistrate on a warrant of arrest issued by another Magistrate in British India he would not act under S 186 but he would under that section direct the removal in custody of such person to the Court which issued the warrant of arrest unless the offence be bailable or the warrant bears an endorsement permitting bull and suitable bail is offered (See 180 S 187) An offence regarding the suspected commission of which a Magistrate may act under S 186 may have been committed unthing or subbaul British Ind.

The Indian Extradition Act (VV of 1993) Ss 4 and to declare the course to be tallen by a Magistrate in a case in which a person in British India (that is within his juried ction) is suspected or accused of having committed an officient out of British India for which a warrant for the arrest of such person could be issued or his surrender could be demanded under that Act

The offence may also have been committed on the high seas and beyond the jurisdiction of the Magistrate who may act under S 186

This subject is more appropriately discussed in the note to S. 188 foot. The Magistrate is empowered to arrest and send such person to a Magistrate haring jurisdiction if on inquiry he finds that there is primal face good ground for further proceedings.

Where a Magistrate of a district in British India is also a Political Agent of a Natus State he is competent to issue a warrant of arrest for an offence committed in such district and the fact that he issued such warrant when he was not in that district but in foreign territory does not affect the legality of such warrant?

When a warrant of arrest is executed outside the distinct in whill it was issued, the person arrested shall unless the Court which issued the warrant is within twenty miles of the place of arrest or is nearer than the Masistrate or Distinct Suncentinednet of Police or the Commissioner of Police in a Presidency town within the local limits of whose juried cloud the arrest is made or unless security is then under 5 fo be taken before such Magistrate or Commissioner.

or District Superintendent (S 85) Such officer shall direct his remoral in custody to the Court which issued the warrant, or if the offence be bailable or, direction under S 76 is endorsed on the warrant to take bail, and proper bail is offered, it shall be taken and the bail bond shall be forwarded to the Court which issued the warrant (S 86)

187 (1) If the person has been arrested under a warrant issued under section 186 by a Magistrate Procedure where warrant issued by subordinate Magistrate of District Magistrate, such Magistrate shall sub-the person arrested to the District or Subdivisional Magistrate to whom he is subordinate, inless the Magistrate having purisdiction to inquire into or try such offence issues his warrant for the arrest of such person, in which case the person arrested shall be delivered to the police-officer executing such warrant, or shall be sent to the Magistrate by whom such warrant was issued.

(2) If the offence which the person arrested is alleged or suspected to have committed is one which may be inquired into or tried by any Criminal Court in the same district other than that of the Magistrate acting under section 186, such Magistrate shall send such person to such Court

The latter part of sub-section (i) would probably be subject to S 186 which provides that the Vagastrate, before whom a person has been brought in execution of a warrant of arrest issued by a Vagastrate who had no jurisdiction to execute such warrant shall release such person on bail, if the offence be balable, or if the endorsement on the warrants permuts bail and suitable bail is offered.

Lisbility of British mits an offence at any place without and becommitted out of mother of the limits of British India, or when any British subject commits an offence in the territories of any Native Prince of Chief in India, or when a servant of the Queen (whether a British subject or not) commits an offence in the territories of any Native Prince or Chief in India.

he may be dealt with in respect of such offence as if it had been committed at any place within British India at which he may be found:

Provided that notwithstanding anything in any of the pre-Political Agents to certify fitness of inquiry into charge any such offence shall be inquired into in Bittish India, unless the Political Agent, if there is one, for the territory in which the offence is alleged to have been committed, certifies that, in his opinion, the charge ought to be inquired into in British India, and, where there is no Political Agent, the sinction of the Lecal Government shall be required

Provided also that my proceedings taken against any person under this section which would be a bar to subsequent proceedings against such person for the same offence if such offence had been committed in British India shall be a bar to further proceedings against him under the Indian Extradition Act, 1903 in respect of the same offence in any territory beyond the limits of British India

The words notwithstanding anything in any of the preceding sections of this Chapter were in-creed by Act No VIII of 1923 5 44. As to their effect we note below.

effect see note below.

The Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act 1879 has been repealed by the Indian Extradition Act X of 1393 which contains the law on this sub-

See Indian (I reign Jurisdiction) Order in Council 1902! in respect of the powers of the towern returned in Council in regard to jurisdiction in Native States and territorial waters adjacent thereto and powers which may be conferred under such inthonty on my serving fastel Government.

In a case dealt with under S 189, there should be evidence on the record that the accused is a Native Indian subject, or a British subject or a servant of the king as the case may be "

S 4 of the Pend Code declars that offences such as re described in S 188 of this Code includives yet committed outside Britis India which if committed in British India would be punishable under the Pend Code. It is there for immaterial whethis the tet which forms the subject of the charge in British India is an offence in the country in which it has been committed. Except when river contrary intention appears from the context, words in the Pend Code which refer to jets done extend to illegal onissions, (S 32 Pend Code), and a similar definition is given in the Code of Crainian Procedure [S 4, 4)]. See also General Cliuses Act S 3 (3). If the offence charged has been committed in the territories of a Natus Prince or Chief in India the Magistric cannot act under S 186 unless he has obtained a certificate from the Political Agent of such territory that such charge ought to be inquired into in British India.

Political Agent is defined to be-

(a) the principal officer representing the Government in any territory or place beyond the limits of British India and

(b) np officer of the Government of India or of np Local Government appointed by the Government of India or the Local Government to exercise all or nw of the powers of a Political Agent for any place not forming part of British India under the law for the time being in force relating to Foreign Jurisdiction and Littfulinon—General (Thuses Act 187) $53 (40).

Sunction of the Local Government must be obtained if there is no Political

Ment-S 188 Proviso

A Political Agent can issue a warrant to a District Magistrate for the arrest in British India of a person not being an European British subject who has insmitted on a supposed to have committed on a supposed to have committed on a formal supposed to have committed on a formal supposed to have sometimes of the supposed to have supposed to have and has escaped into or is in British India -India Extradition let, 1903, 5 7 A Magistrate can hamself result a warrant of arrest in such sending immediate information to the Political Agent-(Ibid, 5 ! Governor General in Council or the Lee I Government may order the M to inquire into the truth of the acres men of in offence committed in a State if a requisition is made for the giving up of the person accused w Buttelt India. Macr migrary held the Magistrate is required to report Government which shall pass such orders as it may think fit-(Ibid S the result seems t b that if in effence is committed in a Loreign any Native Indian subject or I urepe in British subject who is in Britis a Magistrate may issue a warrant for his arrist and he may tala evato the stage of the proceedings in which a charge may be drawn under $ S 254 of the Code the word charge" in S 188 Proviso (1) being used se isi 1 But the Magistrate can proceed no further without the certifical Political Agent or il there is no Political Agent, without the sanction Local Government If however 1 \times Indian subject commits an without and beyond the hunts of British India and not in a Loreign S M gistrate can talk eigenvance of the effence and proceed judicially to inquiry or trial. So a Native Indian subject, a sepoy of the Indian tr tried it Agra in a charge if murder committed in Cyprus 3

<sup>1</sup> Gaz Ind 190 Part I p 667 1 Q Pmp t harpal Sangh I L. R 9 Att. 5 ??

If in ilies I warrant has been issued by a Political Agent, the Ilig can interfere but nit otherwise S is of the Extradition Act ousts the tion of the High Court to inquire into the propriety of a warrant ?

If an effecte has been a moutted in a Loreign State, and requisition to the Governor General in Council or any Local Government for the g of the offender in British India, in order for in inquiry into the trut accusation can be made and it will depend on the report after such whether the requisition shall be complied with in regard to the deliverin treused person to such lorrigh State. Unless the person who is it suspected of having committed an effence in a State not being a Forcis is a Native Indian subject in European British subject or a servan Queen the criminal Courts in British India are apparently without jurist

The abetment in British India of in offence to be committed or ci without or beyond British India is an effence under the Penal Code A who in British India instigates B a foreigner in Goa, to commit a ir Got he is guilty of abetting murder-$ 1084, Penal Code

The Foreign Offenders' Act (44 and 45 Vict C 69) supplements th territorial jurisdiction given by S 188 of this Code It enables the ari person who may have committed an effence in any part of the Butts mons in another part in which he may be found and his trail it so provided that the offence is punishable with imprisonment for a term than twelve months

Servant of the Queen,

This forms part of S 4 of the Penal Code is amended by Act 13 S 2 and is explained by Illustration (c) in these terms -

C a foreigner who is in the service of the Puniab Government or murded in Jinind. He can be tried and convicted at any piece in Britt in which he may be found? Similarly D i British subject living in institute E to command a murder in Bombary. D is goilty of abetting in Illustration (d) to S 4 Penal Code as amended

<sup>1</sup> Moham I Buksh Rom H Ct June 15 1905 2 Emp : urmukh ungh I L R 2 All, 218 3 Husem Ally Bom H Ct 1911 14 1905 1ct Rus ell J

SEC 189

It has been held by the High Courts of Madras, Bombay and Allahabad that where the certificate of a Political Agent is necessary, and has not been obtained, the proceedings, and even a commitment made, are null and void for want of jurisdiction

The Chief Court, Punjab,4 has however held that this is an irregularity, not affecting jurisdiction, being curable by 5 537 of this Code

The first provise of S 188 is limited to territorial jurisdiction, and has no hearing upon the question of jurisdiction to try an offence committed on the high seas 3

A British Indian Subject to whom were entrusted three jewels at Vellore, and who pledged two of them at Bangalore (i.e., in a Native State) and mis appropriated the third it Vidras could be tried it Vellore without a certificite under S 1884. This ruling seems to have been brised on the fact that jurisdiction was given by S 179 (18 to this see notes under S 179), and that S 188 is subject to the provisions of Ss 179 184. It is doubtful whether this was the intention of the Code, and any doubt his now been removed by the amendment of S 188 by Act No VVIII of 1923, S 44 which makes it clear that though the earlier sections my confer jurisdiction is certificate or sanction is necessary under S 188 in every case covered by that section

S 188 does not apply to any offence under the Indian Post Office Act, VI 1898, commuted by any officer of the Post Office being employed in any place beyond the limits of Brush India in which posts are established by the Gocroro General in Council or being appointed to sell postrage stamps in any such place

-(Indian Post Office Act VI of 1898, S 57)

At any place in British India in which he may be found

This would mean where such person is present,? and even if he should have been brought there illegally  $^{\circ}$  See note to S 54 ante as to the powers of a Police officer to arrest for such an officee

Proviso II

This applies S 403 of the Code to proceedings against the same person for the same offence which might have been tallen under the Indian Extradition Act (XV of 1903) if any final order has been passed against the same person for the same offence in a Court in British India competent to act

189. Whenever any such offence as is referred to in section less is being inquired into or tried, the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, direct that copies of depositions made or exhibits produced before the Political Agent or a judicial officer in or for the territory in which such offence is alleged to have been committed shall be received as evidence by the Court 'olding such inquiry or trial in any case in which such Court

All , 2<sup>4</sup>
Cr No
218. C

might issue a commission for taking evidence as to the matters to which such depositions or exhibits relate

Ss 503 et seg provide for the issue of a commission to take evidence of witnesses in an inquiry or tiril. A commission can be issued only by a Prise dency Magivitate a District Virgistrie, a Court of Session, or the High Court, when it appears that the examination of a witness is necessary for the ends of justice, and that the attendance of such witness cannot be procured without a amount of delay, expense or moontenance which, under the circumstances of the case, would be unreasonable (S 503).

Under such circumstances a pies of the depositions made or exhibits produced before the Political Agent or judicial officer in a Loreign State would, under the orders of Government, be recentible as evidence

Act V of 1993 5 21 similarly provides that the testimony of any winters may be obtained in relation to any criminal matter pending in any Court or tribunal in any country or place outside British India in like manner is it may be obtained in any civil matter under the provisions of the Code of Code of

For the definitions of British India ' and " India," see General Clautes

Act, X of 1897 S 3 (7) and (27)

B -Conditions requisite for Initiation of Proceedings

Cognizance of of encer by Magistrate of ospecially empowered in this behalf, may take

(o) upon receiving a complaint of facts which constitute such offence.

(b) upon a report in writing of such facts made by any

police-officer,

(c) upon information received from any person other than a police-officer, or upon his own knowledge or suspicion, that such offence has been committed

(2) The Local Government, or the District Magistrate subject to the general or special orders of the Local Government, may empower any Magistrate to take cognizance, under subsection (1), clause (a) or clause (b), of offences for which he may try or commit for trial

(3) The Local Government may empower any Magistrate of the first or second class to take cognizance, under sub-section (1), clause (c), of offences for which he may try or commit for trial.

Sub section (2)

The general or special orders of the Local Government here stated would probably be to control the power of the District Magistrate to empower any sub-ordinate Vlagistrate to take cognizance of an offence under sub-section (i), cl. (a) or cl. (b) S 41 provides that the Local Government may withdraw all or my of the powers conferred under this Code on any person by it or by any officer subordinate to it. Sch. IV. in describing the additional powers (Ss. 37.38) with which provincial Magistrates may be invested sets out such powers as may be given by a District Vlagistrate to a Vlagistrate of any class.

It should be noticed that no special provision is made for investing a Bench of Magistrates with power to take cognizance of an offence that is, to initiate a trial. It can therefore set only in a case transferred to it under S. 192 post unless one of its members has been empowered to act under S. 193 in which case the Bench is declared to have the powers conferred on such Magistrate who is present and taking part in the proceedings as a member of the Bench (S. 15 (2) ontro.)

Jurisdiction

Before a Magistrate can act under S 190 he must not only be empowered by that section or by some authority proceeding from it but he must have local turisdiction over the offence as provided by Ss 177 188 Power to take such action can be conferred on Magistrates of certain classes by the Local Govern ment or by the District Magistrate subject to the general or special orders of such Government-S 190 (2) If any Magistrate not so empowered takes cogni zance of an offence upon a complaint of facts constituting such offence (S 100 (a) or upon a police report of such facts [Ibid (b)] erroneously in good faith, his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being so empowered ($ 520) But if he takes cognizance of an offence under cl (c) with out a complaint or police report his proceedings shall be void ($ 530) After a duly empowered Magistrate takes cognizance of an offence under S 190 and if he has local jurisdiction to deal with it as a judicial officer he may in the distribution of business transfer the case under S 192 to a subordinate Magistrate competent to hold the enquiry under Chapter XVIII or the trial unless the Magistrate elects to hold the further proceedings himself. But it may be that although he may be competent to act because the offender is within his local jurisdiction the Magistrate may be otherwise debarred from acting judicially as for instance if jurisdiction is vested under Ss 177 184 in some other Magistrates in British India or if the offence has been committed in a foreign State (S. 188) In such a case he may inquire into the case but can proceed no further in the trial. The sections of the Code referred to indicate how he should proceed

An offence hiving been taken organizate of by a duly empowered Magistrate it becomes the duty of the Migistrate to whom the case is so transferred to apply the law to the facts proved by the exidence taken by him. If it be a summons cree. [See definition 5 4 (q)] such Magistrate may conveit the accused of any offence tradle as a summons cree. Which from the facts admitted or proved he appears to have commuted whatever may be the nature of the computed nor summons (S 246). If the offence primal face established be a warrant cree. [See definition S 4 (n)] he should proceed under Chapter XVII is for the first of a warrant cree. If however the offence of which cognizance has been taken under S 100 be a warrant cree. If however the Valgatrate may proceed to hold in first or an inquiry inder Chapter XVIII prelimmary to commitment to the Court of Sees on or High Court (See 8 200). In the same way as the Valgatrate to whom a cree has been transferred is not bound to 1 mt his proceed age to the offence organila taken cognizance of under S 100 be is required to

might issue a commission for taking evidence as to the matters to which such depositions or exhibits relate

Ss 503 et seq provide for the issue of a commission to take evidence of witnesses in an inquiry or trial A commission can be issued only by a Presi dency Magistrate, a District Magistrate, a Court of Session, or the High Court, when it appears that the examination of a witness is necessary for the ends of justice, and that the attendance of such watness cannot be procured without an amount of delay expense or inconvenience which, under the circumstances of the case, would be unreasonable (5 503)

Under such circumstances copies of the depositions made or exhibits produc ed before the Political Agent or judicial officer in a foreign State would, under the orders of Government be receivable as evidence

Act VV of 1903 5 21 similarly provides that the testimony of any witness may be obtained in relation to any criminal matter pending in any Court of tribunal in any country or place outside British India in like manner as it may be obtained in any civil matter under the provisions of the Code of Cal Procedure for the time being in force (Act \IV of 1882, Chapter XXV) with respect to commissions and the provisions of that Code relating thereto shall be construed as if the term suit included a criminal proceeding this section shall not apply when the evidence is required for a Court or Iribanal in any State outside India other than a British Court and the offence is of a political character

For the definitions of British India," and "India," see General Clauses Act X of 1897, S 3 (7) and (27)

B -Conditions requisite for Initiation of Proceedings

(1) Except as heremafter provided any Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate, or Subdivisional Magistrate, and any other Magistrate Cognizance of off ences by Magistrates specially empowered in this behalf, may take cognizance of any offence-

(a) upon receiving a complaint of facts which constitute such offence. (b) upon a report in writing of such facts made by any

police officer.

(c) upon information acceived from any person other than a police officer, or upon his own knowledge or sus picion, that such offence has been committed

- (2) The Local Government, or the District Magistrate subject to the general or special orders of the Local Government, may empower any Magistrate to take cognizance, under sub section (1), clause (a) or clause (b), of offences for which he may try or commit for trial
- (3) The Local Government may empower any Magistrate of the first or second class to take cognizance, under sub-section (1), clause (c), of offences for which he may try or commit for trial.

Sub section (2)

The general or special orders of the Local Government here stated would probably be to control the power of the District Magistrate to empower any sub-ordinate Magistrate to take cognizance of an offence under sub-section (i), cl (a) or cl (b) S 41 provides that the Local Government may withdraw all or any of the powers conferred under this Code on any person by it or by any officer subordinate to it. Sch. IV in describing the additional powers (Ss. 37.38) with which provincial Magistrates may be invested sets out such powers as may be given by a District Magistrate to at Magistrate of any class.

It should be noticed that no special provision is made for investing a Bench of Magistrates with power to tike cognizance of an offence that is, to initiate a trial. It can therefore act only in a case transferred to it under S. 192 post unless one of its members has been empowered to act under S. 190 in which cross the Bench is declared to have the powers conferred on such Magistrate who is present and taking part in the proceedings as a member of the Bench (S. 15 (a) onte.)

Jurisdiction

Before a Magistrate can act under S 190 he must not only be empowered by that section or by some authority proceeding from it but he must have local jurisdiction over the offence as provided by Ss 177 188 Power to take such action can be conferred on Magistrates of certain classes by the Local Govern ment or by the District Magistrate subject to the general or special orders of such Government-S 100 (2) If any Magistrate not so empowered takes cogni zance of an offence upon a complaint of facts constituting such offence (S 100 (a) or upon a police report of such facts [Ibid (b)] erroneously in good faith his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being so empowered ($ 529) But if he takes cognizance of an offence under cl (c), with out a complaint or police report his proceedings shall be void (5 530) After a duly empowered Mag strate takes cognizance of an offence under S 190 and if he has local jurisdiction to deal with it as a judicial officer he may in the distribution of business transfer the case under S 192 to a subordinate Magistrate competent to hold the enquiry under Chapter VffI or the trial unless the Magistrate elects to hold the further proceedings himself. But it may be that although he may be competent to act because the offender is within his local jurisdiction the Magistrate may be otherwise debarred from acting judicially as for instance if jurisdiction is vested under Ss. 177 184 in some other Magistrates in British India or if the offence has been committed in a foreign State (S. 188) In such a case he may inquire into the case but can proceed no further in the trial. The sections of the Code referred to indicate how he should procced

An offence having been taken cognizance of by a duly empowered Magistrate it becomes the duty of the Mugistrate to whom the case is so transferred to apply the law to the facts proved by the evidence taken by him. If it be a summons case [See definition $ 4 (8)] such Mugistrate may convict the accused of any offence triable as a summons case which from the facts admitted or proved he appears to have committed whetever may be the nature of the complaint or summons ($ 40). If the offence primal face established be a warrant case [See definition $ 4 (41)] he should proceed under Chapter XVI as for the trial of a warrant case. If however the offence of which cognizance has been taken under $100 he a warrant case to Magistrate may proceed to hold in trial or an inquiry under Chapter XVIII preliminary to commitment to the Court of Session in High Churt (See $200). In the same way as the Magistrate to whom a case has been transferred is not bound to 1 mit his proceedings to the office or grankly taken cognizance of unler $5 too he is required to apply the law to the fiels proved, so as to determine the offence in regard to which he should call upon the accused to make his defence, the linguistrate is entitled to proceed against persons, other than those before the Magistrate, also has instituted the proceedings, who were neither summoned, or mentioned in the information upon which he may have acted under S 190 (t) It is the duty of the Hagistrate to proceed against all those who may be shown by the evidence taken by him to have committed an offence disclosed by the facts ! On a transfor to him of a case in regard to the offence of which a doly empowered Magistrate has taken cognizance, it is the duty of such Magistrate to deal with it completely, both in respect of the offence committed as well as in respect of those who are proved to have committed it 2 It is only when such offence is not trable by him or when it is triable by a Court of Session and he is not empowered to commit to that Court or it is shown that he has no local jurisdiction over the offence, (See Chapter 11 Ss 177 184) that his further action is barred May take cognuance of any offence

258

The Code does not contain my definition or explanation of this expression It indicates the commencement of judicial proceedings in the Criminal Courts by declaring how the authority of a Magistrate shall first be exercised to punish those who may have broken the law by the commission of an offence The Code of Criminal Procedure has divided offences into two classes cogai sable and non-cognizable-and has defined them to be offences for which the Police may or may not arrest authout narrant and it has further more clearly expressed this distinction in Sch II col 3 When the commission of a cognigable offence is made known to or suspected by an officer in charge of a Police Station he is bound to hold an investigation that is, to take proceedings " for the collection of evidence ' (Ss 156 157) and except in the cases specified W the provisos to 6 157 he is required to complete such investigation so as to form sufficient ground for forming an opinion whether there are prima facte sufficient grounds for sending that evidence with the person accused of having committed some offence to a Magistrate for his consideration judicially (8 169) In regard to non-cognizable cases as well as cognizable cases coming nathin the provises to S 157 the Police Officer makes a report to the Magistrate who is at liberty to net as provided in 5 190

Except as hereinafter provided

Ss 195 197 declare that no Magistrate shall take cognizance of certain offences specified therein except on a compluint in writing or with the consent or sanction of some specified public servant. Court or other authority

I S 195 thus excepts-

(a) certain offences being contempts of the lawful authority of public servants (Chapter \ Penal Code),

(b) certain offences under Chapter \(\frac{1}{2}\), Penal Code (false evidence and Offences against Public Justice) commutted in or in relation to any public proceeding in any Court (c) vertain offences under Chapter VIII Penal Code frelating to docu ments) when commutted by a party to a proceeding in any Court in respect of a document produced or given in evidence in such proceed (d) also abetments of or attempts to commit such offences and it regulres

the written complaint of the public servant or Court concerned or of some superior public servant or Court

&lt;sup>1</sup> Bishen Doyal Ru e Chedi Khan 4 Cat W N 560 Chru Chandr Day o Astendra Krishna 4 Cat W N 367 Bishon Doyal Ru e Chedi Khan Ibid 560 Dedar Baish e Sampade Das Molar I L R 4 Cal 1013 t Chedi Khan Ibid 560 Dedar Baish e Sampade Das Molar I L R 4 Cal 1013

II So also S 196 excepts all offences punishable under Chapter VI, Penal Code (Offences against the State), except S 127, or under S 108A, S 153A, S 294A, or S 505 of that Code, unless upon a complaint made under an order of, or under authority from the Governor General in Council, the Local Government or some officer empowered in this behalf by the Governor General in

III S 1964 (inserted by Act No VIII of 1913 S 5) excepts the offence of criminal conspiracy punishable, under S 120B of the Indian Penal Code, unless, in some cases upon complaint made by order or under authority from the Governor General in Council, the Local Government, or some officer empowered by the Government or a Chief Presidency Vagistrate, or District Nagistrate empowered in this behalf by the Local Government, has by order in writing consented to the initiation of the proceedings

IV S 197 excepts all offences in which a Judge Magistrate or public seriant not removable from office without the sanction of a Local Government or some higher authority is accused as such in these cases the previous sance

tion of the Local Government is required

V S 198 excepts offeners under Chapter \lambda \text{\(Crimma\)} Breaches of Contact) and Chapter \lambda \text{\(1\)} of the Penal Code (Defamation) or under S 493 to S 496 (Offences relating to marriage) without a complaint made by some person addressed by such offence

VI S 199 excepts offences under S 497 (\dultery) or S 498 (enticing away a married woman) of the Penal Code without a complaint made by the husband of the woman or in his absence of some person who had charge of her on his behalf at the time when the offence was committed

VII S 132 declares that certain officers and persons specified therein shall not be prosecuted for any act purporting to be done under Chapter IV, in dispersal of an unlawful assembly except with the sanction of the Governor General in Council or of the Local Government as the case may be

VIII A Court may also act summarily in regard to a contempt of Court counted before itself (S 480) and also in respect of a refusal or neglect to produce a document or thing or to absert a question put in examination as a witness (S 485)

1A. Lostly without the certificate of a Political Agent or if there is no Political Agent without the sanction of the Local Government no Magistrate can take cognitance of an offence committed in the territones of any Native Prince or Chief in India by a British subject who is found in British India—(S 188 Prov.)

Several special and local laws also provide that no prosecution of an offence under them shall be instituted except under the sanction or upon the complaint of some specifed officer or authority

On a complaint

A complaint means the allegation made orilly or in writing to a Magistrate, whether has view to his railing action under this Code, that some person, whether known or unknown has committed an offence, but it does not include the report of a police officer-S 4 (h)

S 140 (c) of the Code of 187 expressly provided that "any person acquaint with the facts of the case may make a complaint. This has not been re-enacted but it will probably be accepted where the absence of the person aggreed is accounted for or the offence is of a scroous nature as it is only in regard to offences under Chapter Via or Via of the Penal Code or under S- 403-408 that a complaint of the person affected by the offence is specially required—Ss 105-109 feet.

260

As a general rule any person having knowledge of the commission of an offence may set the law in motion by a complaint even though he may not be personally interested or affected by the offence Except Ss 195 199 there is nothing in the Code showing an intention to confine prosecutions to the persons directly injured 1

If a complainant has no personal knowledge of the fact stated by him the Magistrate before issuing process for the attendance of the accused should satisfy himself upon proper materials that a prim1 facie case has been made out for his taking action2

A complaint it has been held should contain a statement of facts constitut ing some offence and where this was absent the Magistrate could not proceed upon it 3 The report shows that this proceeded upon two considerations, first that in the absence of such information the Vingistrate could not properly proceed, next that the complant should furnish some indication to the accused of the outlines of the case against him. But under the definition a complaint need not be in writing it may be oral except where a complaint in writing is specifically required and the accused is not informed of the case against him by it but by the examination of the complaint on which through the process of the Court he is required to attend the Judicial proceedings to be held. The High Court did not however interfere in the case by reason of S 537 and the fact that the trial had taken place without objection

Under S 200 the Magistrate on receipt of a complaint, is bound to examine the complainants except in the eases referred to in the four provisor to that section. But he may thereafter refuse to proceed further, and may dismiss the complaint if, after considering the complainant's statement in full "there is in his judgment no sufficient ground for proceeding," eg if the acts complained of do not amount to an offence, or if the offence complained of is such that it causes or is intended to cause, or is known to be likely to cause harm which is so slight that no person of ordinary sense or temper would com plain of such harm (Penal Code S oc)

Limitation

This Code provides no limitation of time for the taking cognizance of offences by a Magistrate S 195 required that the complaint in respect of certain specified offences should be made either by or with the sanction of parti cular officers or Courts concerned and it also provided that no such sanction should remain in force for more than six months from the date on which it was given thus requiring that the complaint should be made within six months from the date of the sanction It dd not however require that the sanction shall be obtained within any specified period from the commission of the offence This however has all been altered by the Amending Act of 1923 (see note under 195) Several special and local laws however prescribe certain periods within which offences under them should be prosecuted

Act V of 1861, S 24 declares that it shall be lawful for any police-officer to lay any information before a Magistrate and to apply for a summons, warrant searchwarrant or such other legal process as may by law issue against any person committing an offence

Ss 200-20, describe how a Magistrate should proceed on taking cognizance of an offence on a complaint

<sup>1</sup> In re Ganesh Narayan Sathe I L R 13 Bom 600 Fargand Ah v Hanuman Prasad I L R 18 All 465 Thakut Prosad Singh to Cal W N 1094

Pulin Behari Das 16 Cal W N 1105 (1152)

Umer Alı v Safar Alı I L R 13 All 334

If the offence complained of be a summons case, the Magistrate is competent to dismiss it if the complainant is not present at the day fixed for its trial-

After an accused has been discharged of an offence on a complaint in a warrant case, (See defin S 4) 2 Vingistrate may on a fresh complaint take cognizance of the same offence, notwithstanding that the law (Ss 436-437) may have empowered a superior Court to order that further inquiry shall be made i

A Vagistrate empowered to take cognizance upon receiving a complaint, under S 190 (1) (a) can talle cognizance of complaints under S 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act, 1871, without being specially authorised in that behalf 2

A Magistrate is not debarred by any provision of the Code from taking cognizance of an offence only because another Magistrate has already taken cognizance, and a multiplicity of trials can be avoided by transfer of the cases to one of them 3

A "Committal sheet sent to a Magistrate in accordance with para 12 of the "Instructions issued by the Commissioner of Salt Revenue" for the guidance of officers of the department, containing a definite request to try the accused for the offence set out is a complaint 4

Upon a report in writing of such facts by any police officer,

The redrafting of clause (b) by Act No Will of 1923, S 45, makes it clear that a police report must be in writing before a Magistrate can act on it under thus section

A police report of the facts on which a Magistrate specially empowered to act may take cognizance of any offence would be, when, after investigation a police-officer forwards an accused person for inquiry or trial on sufficient evidence or reasonable ground for suspicion that he has committed a cognizable offence (S 170), or, when a police officer has reported that in his opinion no sufficient evidence or reasonable ground for suspicion exists, and the accused has been released on bail (S 169), or when for reasons reported, a police-officer has abstained from investigating a cognizable case, the complaint having been made to the officer in charge of a police station, and merely entered in his diary ($ 157). or after investigation into a non-cognizable case specially ordered by a Magistrate of the first or second class (S 155)

In such cases the Magistrate, who is competent to take cognizance of an offence upon a police report of facts which constitute such offence (S 190 (1) (b) ), can order that the witnesses and the accused be directed to appear or be brought before him, if he is not satisfied from the proceedings of the Police or the subordinate Magistrate that, for the ends of justice, the proceedings should so terminate The Magistrate can also, in a matter in which the Police have abstained from investigation; direct, under S 157, that an investigation be held

There is also another class of cases in which after investigation, the Police may have reported that the information or complaint made is false. Here the Magistrate can take cognizance of the offence which has been under investigation, or he may take cognizance of the offence constituted by the false information or complaint made. In regard to the latter offence, although the law gives Dwarka Nath, Mondul e. Beni Madhub I L. R. 28 Cal., 652., (e.c.) 5 Cal. N. N., 457 (F. B.) Mir Ahwad Hossan v. Mahomed Askari I L. R., 29 Cal., 726., (e.c.) 6 Cal. W. N., 633 (F. B.) Emp. e. Vripwandas I I. R., 27 Bom., 84, Emp. e. Sheikh Idoo, I L. R., 40 Cal., 71. Sec. also Bipo Sughe v. Lump. 2 Pat. L. J., 34. Emp. e. Vishvanath Vahuu Jokah I L. R. 43 Dom., 42.

 I Lan Satja Bishnu e. Lump. I L. R., 49 Cal., 452.
 I Hang Satja Bishnu e. Lump. I L. R., 19 Ed., 1, 592.

the Magistrate power to proceed, it has become settled law, at least in Bengal that a Magistrate does not exercise a proper discretion in directing the prosecu tion of the informant or complain int immediately on receipt of the police report. It has been pointed out that such a course would tend to put too much power in the hands of the police by attaching too much weight to the report 2 As Vingistrates cannot understand too clearly that remarked by GARTH C J, while the Police perform their proper duty in collecting evidence, it is the function of the Magistrate alone to decide upon the sufficiency or credibility of the If persons are to be prosecuted under S 211 of the evidence when collected Penal Code upon the mere report of a police officer that their complaints are not true the Police are made the judges whether a complaint is true or false Such a delegation of magisterial functions is not contemplated by law person reported against for having given filse information or complaint should be allowed an opportunity of challenging the correctness or furness of that report Such n opportunity is not properly given by placing him on his trial and requiring him to defend himself. If honever no complaint is made after sufficient time llowed for that purpo e there is no reason why the Mag strate should not take proceedings against him. It has been held that when a complaint of an offence is made it is not regularly tried if the complainant is at once required to show cause why he should not be prosecuted for making a false complaint to the Police because after investigation it has been reported to be false A Magistrate so proceeding acts with prejudice against the complainant in consequence of the adverse police report if, under S 202, he at once orders an investigation generally by some subordinate Magistrate, and, on the report of such Magistrate he summarily dismisses the complaint under $ 203 If this course is adopted care should be taken that the complainant has had full oppor tunity of proving his complaint for it too often happens that this is not given to him in proceedings which from their nature are generally summary

In another cases the correctness of the judgment of a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court and the long practice of the Court subordinate to it have been questioned and cases in the other High Courts have been cited as express ing a different view of the law

The cases before the Madras and Bombay High Courts can however be dis tinguished. In these cases the accused had been convicted under S 211 Penal Code of having made a false charge to the Police and on appeal to the High Court it was sought to set aside this com ction on the ground that the Magistrate who had examin d the accused as a compla mant had not given him an opportunity of proving his complaint bit had directed proceedings to be taken against him on the police report that the charge made by him was false. On the evidence the High Courts affirmed the convictions and disallowed the object

292

<sup>1</sup> Q Emp v Sham Lall I L R 14 Cal -W R Cr 44 Ashrol Ah v Emp I L R 5 In re Russick I att Mull ck Cat I R 39 Govt v Karımdad I L R 6 Cal 496 (s. 8 Cal L R 287 tn re Giridt vi Mondul I Wunshi Issur 14 Cal W N 765 See Ilso Emi v Ralha K len I L R 5 All 36

<sup>5</sup> J tu 1/ N 1893 P 111 10 on it has been found that the complaint tould be given any further of portunity after the trial

R 7 Mad and co

I Jogendru Lal Wikerjee (at I J 707 (se) I L R 33 Cal I Rama Sami I I R 7 Mad 292 Emp v Ju bhai Govind I L R 22 Bom 596 Q Emp v Raghu Tewart I L R 15 Att 156

tion fn the case before the Pull Bench of the Calcutta High Court the complainant objected to being proceeded against on the police report and claimed that he was entitled to have his complaint judicially determined

Where a Magistrate upon receiving a police report, does not take cognizance under S 190 (1) (b), but males the case over for inquiry and report to an Honorary Magistrate he acts contrary to law.

in a summons-case, regarding an offence of which the Magistrate has taken cognizance on a police report if he is a Presidence Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class he may for reasons to be recorded by him stop the proceedings without pronouncing any judgment either of acquittal or conviction, and may thereupon release the accused (S 249) Any Magistrate of the second or third class can so act with the previous sanction of the District Magistrate-Ibid

Any Presidency Magistrate District Magistrate or Subdivisional Magistrate or any other Magistrate specially empowered in this behalf can take cognizance of an offence upon a police report of such facts provided that he is competent to try or commit for trial by the Court of Session on a charge of such offence. The Local Governor or the District Magistrate may empower any Magistrate in this

If a Magistrate not empowered by Inn in that behalf erroneously and in good faith takes cognizance of an offence under S 100 (1) (b) his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being so empowered (S 529) S 173 declares that on completion of an investigation the police report "shall set out the names of the parties, the nature of the information etc etc Where the report had omitted to state the nature of the information and this was of "paramount importance to the accused ' who had been arrested upon it the Culcutta High Court quashed the proceedings holding that they had been illegally initiated. The soundness of this judgment may be doubted. It does not appear that the 'information was not recorded under S 154 and was not forthcom ing or that an objection on this account was made at a previous stage of the proceedings and before the case came before the High Court on revision. The omission too could not be regarded as making the proceedings taken void for want of jurisdiction

Upon information not from a police officer or upon his own knowledge or suspicion that an offence has been committed

ff a Magistrate not being duly empowered by law in this behalf takes cognizance under S 190 (1) (c) of an offence his proceedings shall be void

(S 530(k))

A very large discretion is here given to a Magistrate who is empowered to take cognizance of an offence under S 190 (1) (c) The object is to prevent a failure of justice where information of an offence is withheld or the injured party will not complain. Obviously he should act only when some public interest is concerned which demands the punishment of the offender to prevent the repetition of the offence and not where some private injury has been enused, which should form the subject of a complaint to him

So a Magistrate should not interfere where the offence is compoundable-(See S 345) A Magistrate empowered under S 190 (c) can take cognizance of an offence made known to him by a fetter through the post. A Magistrate must act on his own discretion. It frequently happens that information of a valuable character in regard to crime thus reaches a Magistrate, which, if not so conveyed would be withheld altogether. In many cases it would be very landvisable to shut out such information altogether, whereas in others it would be highly indiscreet to take any action upon it? The Magistrate may take cognizance of an offence on an anonymous petition!, but he should be careful not to act without proper and reasonable discretion as the Magistrate may thus act unjustly towards an innocent man at the instance of an enemy who will not disclose himself. It should be noted that although the Local Government or District Magistrate may empower any Magistrate to take cognizance of an offence upon a complaint or upon a Police report, only a local Government can give powers under S ino (1) (c) and such powers can be conferred only on a Magistrate of the first or second class

<sup>1</sup> Abdullah Mandal v Emp I L R 40 Cal 854 2 Lee v Adlikary I L R 37 Cal 40 (50) 14 Cal W N 304 2 Mad H Ct Fro, Sept 70 1790 Werr 833

In what manner a Magistrate should proceed depends on the nature of the 'information knowledge or suspicion" possessed by him that an offence has been committed as well as upon the nature of the offence Ordinarily he would order a police investigation-probably secret-to determine how far the informa tion knowledge or suspicion is founded on prima facie substantial grounds Or if he is so satisfied and has reason to helieve that the offender may escape he may issue a warrant for his arrest. For instance the Migistrate may have some reasons to believe that a man has been murdered whose death may have been hushed up and attributed to some natural cause or some accident or he may have reason to believe that a certain person is in possession of stolen property In either of these cases a duly empowered Magistrate could take cognizance of the offence and order a police investigation. The Magistrate is not bound to disclose the source of the information on which he may have acted (Evidence Act S 125) for in that case much useful information would be withheld as there is a strong prejudice amongst the higher classes against appearing in the Criminal Courts But the Magistrate is nevertheless bound to record the substance of the information There should be some proceeding of the Court for show that a Magistrate has taken cognizance of an offence. So where the District Magistrate had at a police station directed the officer in charge to send in certain persons against whom a subordinate Magistrate had not proceeded in a trial of others concerned in the same offence it was held that proceedings taken in consequence against these persons were without jurisdiction 3 But though 3 Magistrate may set the law in motion on his own personal knowledge the Code expressly gives the accused the person against whom action is taken full opportunity of objecting to his holding the Irial and it requires the Magistrate before any evidence is taken to inform the accused that " he is entitled to have the case tried by another Court and if any of the accused objects to being tried by such Magistrate the ease shull instead of being tried by such Magistrate be committed to the Court of Session or be transferred to another Magistrate (S 191)

The law declares that a duly empowered Magistrate may take cognizance of an offence upon his own knowledge or suspicion that an offence has been In one case however the Calcutta High Court has held that a Magistrate cannot so act upon knowledge acquired by him as Collector in 3 matter in which he is concerned in that capacity inasmuch as he would pract cally be making himself the Judge in his own cause and on that ground the proceedings held were quashed as bad in taw. The same question was considered in another cases in which the tearned Judges differed in regard to the power of a Magistrate acting under S 190 (1) (c) Stephen J one of the judges in the former case, adhered to the opinion already expressed but Carnfull J. dissented on the ground that such a restriction on the powers of a Magistrate

<sup>1</sup> In re Han Naratan Biswas 3 Cal W N C Coc hovever In re Wahesh Chunfe's Ses of the Code of 1850 which is different in its tenns from S 190 (1) (c)

1 Thakur Pershad Singh 10 Cal W N 7

1 This case however proceeded on Thakur Pershad Singh 10 Cal W N 7

1 Thakur Pershad Singh 10 Cal W N 7

1 Thakur Pershad Singh 10 Cal W N 7

1 Thakur Pershad Singh 10 Cal W N 7

1 Thakur Pershad Singh 10 Cal W N 7

1 Thakur Pershad Singh 10 Cal W N 7

1 Thakur Pershad Singh 10 Cal W N 3 Cal 1 1 87

1 Lakhan Narayan Ghore f L R 37 Cal 221 (5 C) 14 Cal W N 589

CEAF XV. SEC. 190

"goes beyond the proxisions of the Code itself the safeguards supplied being sufficient, and there is no adequate reason based on general principles for extending or amplifying them If a Magistrate takes cognizance under clause (c) he is bound under S ign to give the accused an early opportunity for objection and obtaining a trial at the hands of another Magistrate And when a Magistrate is personally interested in a case he eannot try it or commit it for trial without special permission. These provisions follow the statutory rule that a judge shall not be a judge in what is called his own cause, but they draw the line advisedly at trial and commitment and do not go the length of impeding mere cognizance of crime

The Vadras High Court has also dissented from the case of Thakur Pershad Singh holding that the fact that a District Vagistrate, who happens to be also the President of a District Board, receives in the latter capacity information of the commission of an offence by a servant of the Board, does not debar him from taking coencapte of the offence under $5.00 (1) (1)

For orders of Local Governments empowering Magistrates under sub-section (2) and (3) see the various provincial Manuals, and, as regards Upper Burma, Reg I of 1925

Power of Magistrate after proceedings taken under S 190

S 190 relates to the initiation of proceedings in relation to an offence with the object of ascertaining judicially first whether an offence has been committed and it so by whom it has been committed it is the duty of the Criminal Court to apply the law to the evidence taken for the purpose of determining what offence has been proved and this need not be the particular offence regarding the commission of which the proceedings were taken. So in a trial of a summons-case a Magistrate may consect the accused of any offence of that description which from the facts admitted or proved he appears to have committed whatever may be the nature of the complaint or summons. (S 240) and in the trial of a warrant case the Magistrate is required to frame a charge against the accused of an offence which on the evidence for the prosecution and the examination (if any) of the accused he may be pressumed to have committed (Sa 254, 120). The Magistrate is required to apply the law to the facts which in his opinion are established by evidence taken by him.

In the same way the Magistrafe is to proceed against anyone so proved to have committed any offence. Proceedings having been regularly started his duty is to do justice in respect to whatever offence may be proved to have been committed by any person, first of all by obtaining his attendance, and then by hearing the evidence in his presence, and any defence that he may make after the exact nature of the particular offence established has been made known to him.

The requirements of the law in the interests of justice are clear and it is probably for that reason that they have not been more expressly stated

It may be noted that the principle was recognised in S 195 (5), (now re-pealed) which declared that when sanction had been given the Court taking cognizance might frame a charge of any other offence of the nature referred to in the section which was disclosed by the facts. Nevertheless there have been cases in which the principle was apparently lost sight of In one case where the Police sent up only one person, and, on evidence taken the Magistrate issued warrunts for the arrest of others, it was held that he proceeded rigainst them under S 190 (1) (c), and that consequently these persons were entitled to take objection under S 191 to his trying the case against them? In nother case it has been held that in taking proceedings against other persons the Magistrate acts under S 190 (t) (c), because he acts upon his own I nowledge or suspicion that the offence has been committed by these persons also? But cognizince his incredy been ruken of these offences on the complaint and action was taken against these persons on the evidence so the complaint and action was taken against these persons on the evidence sended to the inquiry or trial. To hold this is to regard the matter as having been taken cognizince of not in respect of the effence but of the offenders, and this is not what S 100 contemplates. A complaint is an allegation made orally or in writing to a Wigastrati that some person whether known or unknown has committed an offence and therefore cognizince being taken of the offence committed the Vilgistrate who is holding the angury or trial can, in the same proceedings proceed against all persons shown by the evidence to have committed it. The matter seems to require further consequention

<sup>1</sup> Sundarasan 1 K Fmp I I R 49 Wad 709 1 Har Shunkar v Udaja Shunkar Rom tl Ct Feb 16 1898, (not reported)

The fact that a complainant did not specially mention any offence under any section of the Penal Code does not bring the matter within S 109 (1) (c) of the Code, if the Magistrate has proceeded on the facts stated by the complainant which disclosed the communicion of an offence.

Transfer or commitment on application of accused under sub-section (1), clause (c), of the precedence of an offence under sub-section, the necessed shall, before any evidence is taken, be informed that he is entitled to have the ease tried by another Court, and if the accused, or any of the accused if there be more than one, object to being tried by such Magistrate the case shall, instead of being tried by such Magistrate that the committed to the Court of Session or transferred to another Magistrate.

S 191 enables the accused in such a case to object to being fried by the Magistrate who his of his own monon taken cognition of the offence. The Magistrate is bound to inform the accused that he is entitled to have the case tried by another Court and on such objection being taken before any eithere is talten the case must either be at once transferred to some other Magistrate having jurisdiction to hold the trial or, if it remains in the Court of Magistrate, it cannot be tried by him but it must be committed to the Court of Session or (if may be assumed to have been so intended by the Legislature) fifth the Magistrate finds that no prima face case is established he may dischart the recursed. The Magistrate before whom such objection is token is competent therefore to elect whether he shall transfer the case for trial by another Magistrate of the magistrate forms with the view to committing the case to the Court of Session if in offence be prima fact established. He has no other outloan intermater.

An object on taken on upperl that the Vigistrate did not under S 191 inform the accused that he was entitled to have the case tried by another Court would probably be fart to the convection and a new trial before a competent Court would be ordered. But where there was such an omission on the gard the Magistrate and no objection on this account was taken before the Appellate Court which dismissed the appeal it was under S 537 not allowed when taken for the first time before the High Court on Revision 1 S 530 however declares that, if a Magistrate not being empowered by I'm in this behalf tries an offender, his proceedings shall be void. The correctness of the judgment of the Bombay

<sup>1</sup> Non Mahmut Akand 5 Cal W N 488 See also Khuduram Mukherjeo 9 Emp 1 Cal W N 105

&lt;sup>1</sup> Emp v J 1t Chandra Vizumda I I R 26 Cal 786 (sc) 7 Cal W N 40<sup>1</sup> t D Tmp v Abdul Razzak Khan I I R 21 All 109 Q Tmp v Feliv I L R 2 Mal 148
<sup>4</sup> Fmp v Chedi I L R 28 All 212 (sc) All W N (1905) <sup>25</sup>

High Court seems to be open to doubt

In some recent cases it has been held that where a Magistrate takes cogni zance of an offence on his own personal I nowledge he is bound to inform the accused that he is entitled to have the case tried by another Magistrate and that onussion to do this is more than a mere irregularity which makes a subse quent conviction illegal 2

A District Magistrate upon a statement made to him not upon oath and not signed by the informant had four persons arrested and tried and convicted them Held that the trial was bad if he was acting on complaint he should have examined the informant on oath and if he was acting under S 190 (1) (c) he should have complied with the provisions of S 191 which he did not do 3 The principle of S 190 (1) (c) read with S 191 though applicable to offences only, is also applicable to cases of a miscellaneous character. When a Magistrate proceeding under S 110 remarked in his judgment that it was impossible for him to remove from his mind the impression of certain circumstances which had come under his personal observation it was held (ordering a re trial) that the Magistrate should have not trad the case himself

192 (1) Any Chief Presidency Magistrate, District Magis-Tran f r of cas s by trate or Sub divisional Magistrate may transfer any case of which he has taken cogni-Magastrate zanco, for inquiry or trial to any Magistrate subordinate to him

(2) Any District Magistrate may empower any Magistrate of the first class who has taken cognizance of any easo to transfer it for inquiry or trial to any other specified Magistrato in his dis-triet who is competent under this Code to try the accused or commit him for trial, and such Magistrate may dispose of the case accordingly

S 192 provides for the distribution of business at any place when a Magis trate has taken cognizance of an offence under S 190 where there is more than one Migistrate. The transfer may be of a case of an offence of which a superior Magistrate has taken cognitionate under S 190 S 528 provides for the recall of a case from a subordinate Magistrate after it has been so transferred

S 476 (2) supplements S 192 in regard to prosecutions for certain offences initiated by a Civil Criminal or Resenue Court and enables a Magistrate to act

under'S 192 in respect to the transfer of such cases

There is a great difference between a transfer under S in and one under S 528 The former is by a Magistrate after he has tallen cognizance of a case and generally before juderal proceedings have been taken so as to bring an actused person before him. The latter is after the case has been transferred under S 192 for S 528 enables certain superior Mag strate to withdraw any case from or recall any case ulich he las made over to any Magistrate subordinate to him and the case can then be referred or transferred to some other competent Magistrate. No special notice to an accused person in a case transferred under S 192

<sup>1 7</sup> Pmn 3r 5 3r - 3 7 7 13 J 745 Crown r Muhray 1 3t P L R 1905 (sc) Cr (sc) Cr L J, 45,

in the distribution of business, is necessary. The notice would be the summons requiring him to attend. He could not object to such a transfer except for some reasons personal to the Magistrate and it would be open to him to make an objection to the trial by the Magistrate to whom the cise has been transferred It is otherwise in a case transferre as whom the case are seen and have been given before an order under it is passed.

If a Magistrate, not empowered by law in that behalf, erroneously in good futh transfers a case under S 197, his proceedings shall not be set aside mirely on the ground of his not being so empowered (S 529)

Powers of transfer were given under S 27 of the Code of 1872 The Code of 1882 did not re enact this section, but contained S 192, as it now appears in this Code sub-section (2) of which enables a District Magistrate to empower a Magistrate of the first class to transfer a case of which he has taken cognitante and Schedule IV in dealing with this subject does not contain this amongst the powers with which a local Government can invest a subordinate Magistrate The power has been conferred only on a District Magistrate It is therefore a matter for consideration whether orders issued by the Local Governments under the repealed Code of 1872 remain in force in regard to Magistrates appointed under the Codes of 1882 and 1898 Set S 2 (2) and note

The transfer of a case can only be to a Magistrate competent to hold the inquiry or trial under his ordinary powers under this Code or under any local or special law If a Magistrate is not competent under his ordinary powers to inquire info or try the offence the transfer of the case to him will not empower him to do so Schedule II declares what offences under the Penal Code are triable by Magitrates of the several classes and the last part of it deals generally with offences under other laws but some of these laws declare that offences under them shall be treed only by a Manager than the state of the same of th be tried only by a Magistrate of a certain class, and this special jurisdiction is not affected by this Code-See S 1 (2)

A case cannot under S 192 be transferred to a subordinate Magistrate for inquiry and report A superior Magistrate can under S 159 direct a preliminary inquiry to be made by a subordinate Vingistrate only when he requires such inquiry to be made on the place of the alleged occurrence 2 On complaint made the District Magistrate is not competent without withdrawing the case to his own Court under S 528 to suspend issue of process and direct an inquiry to be made by some Magistrate subordinate to him 3

Cases which must be transferred : 1

There are certain cases which a Magistrate must transfer to another Magis trate as he is himself not competent to try them (5 487) So also the accused is entitled to require that, if the Magistrate has taken cognizance of the offence otherwise than on a complaint or a police report it shall not be tried by him There are other cases which it is undesirable that a Magistrate should try either because from his personal knowledge of the facts he is one of the witnesses or because he has some strong interest in the result S 556 declares that no Magistrate shall except with the permission of the Court to which an appeal lies try or commit for trial any case to or in which he is a party of personally interested

Teacotta Shekdar v Ameer Majee I L R 8 Cal 303 (sc) 10 Cal L R Umrao Sineb v Fakor Chand I L R 3 All 749 Emp v Sadashiv Narayan Joshi I L

R 22 Bom $49

*4 Mad H C R App 40

*1 hamuck Jha v Pythuk Mand I L R ~7 Cat 79% Gotapdy Sheikh v Q Emp
Bod 970 Mod Sireh v Mahabr 4 Cl W R 242

*Q v Bholanth Sen I L R 2 Cal 23 (sc) 25 W R C 57

Section 190 (1) (c) read with S 191 applies only to offences, but the principle is applicable to cases of a miscellineous character 1

A Magistrate's powers to punish for contempt of his own Court are limited to a fine not exceeding two-hundred rupces and if he considers that such purish ment is insufficent he is required to send the case to another Magistrate having jurisdiction-(Ss 480-482)

There is also a special jurisdiction under this Code in a case in which the accused is an European British subject-See Chapter \\\111 In such a case the proceedings can be held only by a District Magistrate or Presidency Magis trate or a Magistrate who is a Justice of the Peace and also a Magistrate of the first class and an European British subject (S 443) Any Magistrate who is otherwise qualified to take cognizance of an offence is not debarred from exercising such power merely because the offence may have been committed by an European British subject h may ssue a process for the appearance of such an accused person what should be made returnable before a competent Magis trate-(S 445)

Powers of a Magistrate after transfer

A Magistrate who has taken cognizance of an offence (S 190) may have issued process for the attendance of certain persons or the police report on which he has acted may have sent in certain persons as those only against whom there is, in the opinion of the Magistrate or the investigating police-officer sufficient evidence or reasonable ground (S 170) but when in the inquiry or trial which takes place after a transfer the evidence shows that other persons are shown to have committed the offence the Magistrate has jurisdiction to proceed against them He has jurisdiction to hold judicial proceedings over the offence of which the Magistrate has under S 100 taken cognizance and therefore to proceed against all persons shown at the inquiry of trial to have committed that or any other offence disclosed by the evidence to have arisen out of the occurrence for in drawing up a charge it is his duty to apply the law to the facts which are in his opinion prima facie established It is the offence not the offenders of which cognizance has been taken under S 190 and his powers to deal with that offence are not limited2 unless it be an offence for the prosecution of which some special authority for sanction be necessary eg under Ss 195 et seq. Where no reservation is made in the order transferring a case to another Magistrate, it should be concluded that the whole case has been made over a After a transfer under S 192 a District Magietrate is not competent to issue process against persons said to be concerned in an offence in a case before another Magistrate for trial even though that Magistrate may have declined to proceed against them. His proper course is to withdraw the case to his own Court, and then he can so act 4 But if the other Magistrate has discharged these persons the District Magistrate is inder S 436 competent to order a further inquiry against them 5 and it has been held that by refusing to proceed against them he has discharged them see note to S 416 post-

If however the Virgistrate should find that the offence is not triable by him but by some superior Magistrate he should submit the case with a report explaining its nature to a Ving strate to whom he is subordinate or to some other Magistrate having jurisdiction (S 346) If a subord nate Magistrate has jurisdic-

Godhan Ahir i K Fmp 4 Pat I J 7

"Bishen Dov'd Rai i Chedi Abin 4 Cal W N 560 Golspeli Sheikh I L R 27
Cal 970 See also Arion Sheikh 7 Cal L J 240 Dedar Bukch I L R 41 Cal 1013
Ajab Lal i Fmp I I R 32 Cal 782 (se ) 9 Cal W N 810 See also Jharu

Joe J. Ch. L. J. S. Ch. L. J. Ch. L. R. 27 Cal 970 Moul Sinch r. Mahabir 4 Cal W. 242 A)cm Mahmal Akandi. Q. Fimp. 5 Cal W. 488 Radhabullav Roy e. Benode Rehard I. R. 30 Cil. 440 See also Ajab Lal e. Fimp. I. L. R. 32 Cil. 782, (5 C.) G. Cl. M. N. 242

1 Moul Singh e. Mahabir 4 Cal W. N. 242

tion to try the offence, and is of opinion that the accused is guilty and should receive a punishment which he is not computent to inflict, he should record his opinion and forward the case to the Magistarte to whom he is subordinate, and such Magistrate can then deal with the case (5 349)

Where the Sessions Judge ordered further inquiry to be made into a conplaint which had been dismissed, and the District Vigistrate ordered the inquiry to be held by Mr k a first class Magistrate, the latter was competent to inquire, and if he found a prima face case made out to try and dispose of the case himself 1

Sub section (1)

A Chief Presidency Magistrate District Magistrate or Subdivisional Magistrate may transfer any case of which he has taken cognizance, for inquiry or trial It should be noted that it is a case, not an inquiry into or trial of an offence only, of which such Magistrate has taken cognizance, so he would be competent to transfer a case under Chapter (Public 1 under Chapter \11 (disputes regarding immovable under Chapter VIII (Security for keeping the peace or for good be haviour) a or as all these cases are inquiries within the definition of that term [S 4 (k)] but the linguistrate to whom such a case may be transferred must be competent under his ordinary powers to deal with such a case So no proceed ings to require a person to give security to keep the peace can be taken except by a Chief Presidency or District Magistrate, unless both the person informed against and the place where the breach of the peace or disturbance is apprehended are within the local limits of the Magistrate's jurisdiction-[S 107 (2)] But if a subordinate Magistrate is competent to deal with a case under S 107, that is if he is a Subdivisional Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class, the District Magistrate can after taking proceedings under S 107 (2) transfer it to such Subordinate Magistrate 1 If however the person called upon to show cause against an order under S 133 applies to the Magistrate to appoint a jury (S 135) the case must remain before the Magistrate who made the order, as he alone can appoint the jury and consider their report

Sub section (2)

A Magistrate empowered under sub-section (2) can transfer a case to any other specified Magistrate in his district who is competent to try the accused or commit him for trial. These words indicate that the power so conferred relates only to cases regarding offences for which inquiries or trials may be held, and not to inquiries regarding matters which do not relate to an offence as defined in S 4 (0). But if a Magistrate not empowered by law in this behalf errore ously in good faith transfers a case under S 192, his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on that ground (S 5:29).

Cognizance of of or by only other law for the time being in force, no Court of Session to the cognizance of only offence as a Court of original

i Ram Barai Singh v Ram Pratap Rai 5 Pat L J 47 Ram Krishna Roy 10 Cal W N

l 350 Munna I L R 24 All al L J 1777 29 Cal 389 (s c ) 6 Cal W N Emp I L R 31 Cal 350 Lolit ) 5 Cal W N 749 Satis Chandrs jurisdiction unless the accused has been committed to it by a Magistrate duly empowered in that behalf

(2) Additional Sessions Judges and Assistant Sessions Judges shall try such cases only as the Local Government by general or special order may direct them to try, or as the Sessions Judge of the division, by general or special order, may make over to them for trial

The words 'in the case of Assistant Sessions Judges in sub-section (2) were omitted by Act No VVIII of 1923, S 46 The effect of the omission is that whereas Additional Sessions Judges could only try such cases as they were directed by the Local Government to try, they crit now have cases made over?

to them by the Sessions Judge

S 193 declares the ordinary original jurisdiction of a Court of Session. It can ordinarily take cognizance of an offence only on a commitment made by a Magistrate duly empowered in that behalf. The term 'Court of Session' refers to that class of Courts (See S - %), and it therefore includes the Courts of a Additional Sessions Judge and an Assistant Sessions Judge. The Sessions Judge, as the principal Judge of such Court, has, under sub-section (2), the power of distributing the business of that Court subject to general or special orders by the Local Government.

The object of restricting the powers of a Court of Session to hold a trial only on a commitment is to secure in the case of a person charged with n grave offence, a preliminary inquiry which should afford him the opportunity of becoming acquainted with the circumstances of the offence imputed to him so as to make his defence! The Court of Session too is thus placed in a position to try the case without interruption

By whom Commitments may be made to a Court of Session

A Presidency Magistrate District Magistrate, Subdivisional Magistrate, Magistrate of the first class, or any Magistrate of the second class empowered by the Lord Government is that behalf, is competent to commit to the Court of Session (S 206)

The power of the Court of Session to charge a person with any offence referred to in S 195 (such offences may be generally described for this purpose as penjury or forgery of different degrees) and commutated before itself or brought under its notice in the course of a judiciant proceeding and to commit, admit to bail and try such person upon its own charge has disappeared with the repeal of S 47?

A Civil or Revenue Court can, under those circumstrances, inquire into such an offence, and commit and hold to buil an accused person provided that the offence is trable exclusively by the High Court or the Court of Session, or which in its opinion should be tried by such Court (S 478)

A Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may order the commitment of an accused person improperly discharged by an inferior Court, if the offence is triable exclusively by the Court of Session (S 437)

On the hearing of an appeal from a consection, a Sessions Judge or Additional Sessions Judge may order the accused to be committed for trial [S 423 [b]], or if he is of opinion that an accused person has been improperly discharged of an offence triable exclusively by the Court of Session he may order such person to be arrested and committed for trial [S 437].

&lt;sup>1</sup> Mutirakal Kovalagatha r Q. I I R 3 Mad 351. Kishore Lal Rai Chowdhurv 13 Cal W. N 530

Except as otherwise expressly provided by this Code

A Sessions Court is empowered to act without a commitment in some casts. For instance, Ss 480-482 enable it (1s also all Courts) to act summanly in the pect of offences under Ss 175, 178, 179, 180, 228 of the Indian Penal Code, constituting what are termed 'contempts of Courts,' committed in its were of presence and S 45, gives all Courts, including a Court of Session, summary jurisdiction in the case of a witness or person called upon to produce a document or thing and refusing without reasonable excuee, to answer such questions a are put to him or to produce any document or thing in his possession or post which the Court requires him to produce

A Sessions Judge who has held that a witness giving evidence under conditional pardon has not complied with the conditions is not competent at once to try him. He can hold a trial only after commitment made by a competent Court. He should therefore order such a case to be laid before a competent Magistrate with his own opinion, so that, that Magistrate may act in accordance with law!

Except as provided in Ss 480 and 485 n Sessions Judge cannot try any person for any offence referred to in S 195, committed before himself or in contempt of his authority or brought under his notice in the course of a judicial proceeding (S 487)

How far commitment made is valid

A commitment once made under S 213 or S 214 by a competent Magistrale, or by a Cwil or Revenue Court unders 478 can be quashed by a High Court only, and only on a point oil law (S 215) and if a commitment is made a Court of Session or High Court by a Magistrate or other authority not competent to do so, such Court may accept the commitment if it considers that the accused has not been injured thereby, and no objection was made on that ground during the inquiry and before the order of commitment, otherwise such Court must quash the commitment and direct a fresh inquiry by a competent Magis trate (S 532)

An objection to a commitment on the ground that the inquiry has been held in a wrong local area is not valid unless the error has in fact occasioned a failure of justice (S 531)

But a commitment made to a Sessions Court not having jurisdiction is ille gal, the High Court has no power to transfer the case to a Sessions Court having jurisdiction and the commitment must be quashed 2

Sub section (2)

Under S 409 appeals to the Court of Session can be heard by an Additional Sessions Judge, but only in such cases as the Local Government may, by general or special order, direct, or as the Sessions Judge may make over to him. The addition of the proviso to S 409 makes it clear that the word "cases" in S 101 (2) is not intended to include appeals. It had been so held 3

Section 438 (2) also declares that an Additional Sessions Judge shall have and may exercise all the powers of a Sessions Judge under Chapter XYXII as a Court of Revision in respect of any case which may be transferred to him by general or special order of the Sessions Judge.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Bipro Das 10 W R Cr 43 Q Fmp v Rama Tewan J L R 15 Mad 35<sup>2</sup> Q Emp v Jagat Chandra Mahi I L R <sup>22</sup> Cal 5, See also Q Emp v Bhau I L R 32 Bom 493

Assistant Sessions Judge North Arcot v Ramanimal I L R 36 Mad 387 Emp v Abdur Razzak I L R 37 All 286

194 (1) The High Court may take cognizance of any offence cognizance of off-upon a commitment made to it in manner hercinafter provided

Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to affect the provisions of any letters patent granted under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, or the Government of India Act, 1915, or any other provision of this Code

(2) (a) Notwithstanding anything in this Code contained Informations by Ad the Advocate Geheral may, with the previous variet Garral and the Governo General in Council on the Local Government, evaluate to the High Court, against persons subject to the jurisdiction of the High Court, informations for all purposes for which Hei Majesty's Attorney-General may exhibit informations on hehalf of the Crown in the High Court of Justice in England

(b) Such proceedings may be taken upon every such information as may lawfully be taken in the ease of similar informations filed by Her Majesty's Attorney-General so far as the circumstances of the ease and the practice and procedure of the said High Court will admit

(c) All fines, penalties, forfeitures, debts and sums of money recovered or levied under or by virtue of any such information shall belong to the Government of India

(d) The High Court may make rules for carrying into effect the provisions of this section

35

A commitment to the High Court would be made by a Presidency Magistrate of the towns of Calcutta Madras or Bombay (S 206)

Section 447 (2) which required European Brilish subjects charged with offences punishable with death or transportation for life 10 be committed to the High Court has now disappeared (see the Criminal Law Amendment Act, XII) of 1923, S 27) For the purposes of the trial in Rangoon of any person under the provisions of Chapter XXIII, which is new, references to the Sessions Judge are to be construed as references to the High Court at Rangoon (S 445)

The High Court may order that an accused person may be committed for finel by reset [5 356 (s) 461], and as south case the treat may be by pary [S 356 (s) and S 357), or under the same procedure as if the trail had been by a Court of Sesson—S 536 (s) S 531 upplies to a commitment made by a Magistrate who has no local pura-daction over the offence charged, and S 533 to a commitment made by a Magistrate or other authority who is not empowered to make such commitment. These sections are explained in the note to S 193

Where a Chief Fresidency Nagastries committed to the High Court a person accused of murder outside the city of Vadres, it was held that the irregulants, if any, in the Magistrate's proceedings was cured by $5,31, and that even if the High Court had no jurisdiction on its original side to try the case, an order could be mide ander $5,36, and no norder was made accordingly.

Clause 24 of the Letters Patent of the High Courts, under 28 and 29 Vict., c 15 gives the High Courts extraordinary original criminal jurisdiction over all persons residing in places within the jurisdiction of any Court subject to their superintendence, and authority to try at their discretion any such persons brought before them on charges preferred by the Advocate General, or by any Magistrate or other officer specially empowered by the Government in that behalf, and of 29 empowers them to direct the transfer of any criminal case or appeal from any Court to any other Court of equal or superior jurisdiction, or also to direct the preliminary investigation (inquiry) or trial of any criminal case by any officer or Court otherwise competent to investigate (inquire) or ir; it

S 333 post enables the Advocate General at any stage of any trill before a High Court to enter a nolle prosegui

195 (1) No Court shall take cognizance-

(a) of any offence punishable under sections 172 to 188 of the Indian Penal Code, except on the com plaint in writing of the public servant con P as ecution for can tempt of lawlu autho cerned, or of some other public servant to rity of public servant whom he is subordinate.

(b) of any offence punishable under any of the following sections of the same Code, namely, sections 193, 194, 195, 196, 199, 200, 205, 206, Pro ecu ion for ce tara off nces agai st publi just e 207, 208, 209, 210, 211 and 228, when such offence is alleged to have been committed in, or in relation to any proceeding in any Court except on the complaint in writing of such Court or of some other Court to which such Court is sub ordinate, or (c) of any offence described in section 463 or punishable under section 471, section 475 or section 476 Pros cition for cer of the same Code, when such offence is alleged tain offences rela ng to docume to giv a in to have been committed by a party to any proevidence ceeding in any Court in respect of a document produced or given in evidence in such proceeding, except on the complaint in writing of such Court, or of some other Court to which such Court is subordinate "

(2) In clauses (b) and (c) of sub section (1), the term "Court ' includes a Civil, Revenue or Criminal Court, but does not include a Registrar or Sub Registrar under the Indian Regis

fration Act, 1877

(3) For the purposes of this section, a Court shall be deemed to be subordinate to the Court to which appeals ordinarily lie from the appealable decrees or sentences of such former Court, or in the case of a Civil Court from whose decrees no appeal ordinarily lies, to the principal Court having ordinary original civil purisdiction within the local limits of whose purisdiction such Civil Court is situate

Provided that-

(a) where appeals he to more than one Court, the Appellate

CEAP XV SEC 195

Court of inferior purisdiction shall be the Court to which such Court shall be deemed to be suhordinate. and

(b) where appeals he to a Civil and also to a Revenue Court. such Court shall be deemed to be subordinate to the Civil or Revenue Court according to the nature of the case or proceeding in connection with which the offence is alleged to have been committed.

(4) The provisions of sub section (1), with reference to the offences named therein, apply also to criminal conspiracies to commit such offences and to the abetment of such offences, and attempts to commit them

" (5) Where a complaint has been made under sub-section (1), clause (a), hy a public servant, any authority to which such public servant is subordinate may order the withdrawal of the complaint and, if it does so, it shall forward a copy of such order to the Court and, upon receipt thereof by the Court, no further proceedings shall be taken on the complaint "

The amendments made in this section and in S 476 by Act No AVIII of 1923, Ss 47 and 128, are among the most important amendments made in the Code by that Act The reported cases show that there was constant and great difficulty in giving effect to the provisions of S 195 The difficulties arose for the most part from the fact that the section enabled private individuals to obtain sanction to prosecute for offences connected with the administration of justice The procedure was unsatisfactory in that it enabled a vindictive and revengeful person to hold a sanction over the head of the accused for a period of six months, and even to indulge in black mail. Though S 195 provided for the making of complaints by the public servant or the Court concerned as a matter of practice complaints were very rarely if ever lodged. In the same way complaints were not made by Courts under S 476. The Court sent the case for inquiry or trink to the nearest Magistrate of the first class, and such Magistrate Ithen proceeded. 'as if upon complaint made and recorded under S 200
So far as S 195 15 concerned sanction has entirely disappeared Before a Court can take cognizance of any of the offences mentioned in the section there must be a complaint in writing by the public seriant or the Court concerned or by other public seriant or Court to which he or it is subordinite Sections 195 and 476, 4765 and 476B are now complementary to one another, the latter sections laying down the procedure to be followed by a Court in making the complaint required by S 195.

The amendments now made render a considerable volume of case law on the subject obsolete. It will no longer be necessary to decide for instance whether sunction given to one person can be used by another, what will be the effect of want of sanction, what is the nature of the inquiry, if any, which a Court should make before granting sanction, and whether an application under old sub section (6) for the revocation of a sanction granted or the grant of a sanction refused is more than to an appeal or to an application in revision S 476D now lays down a definite law in regard to appeals in this matter, and S 476 provides for an inquiry in the discretion of the Court. There was also some doubt as to what would be the effect on an inquiry into or trial of an offence mentioned in S 195, of the preferring of an appeal against the decision of the Court in the case in the course of which the offence had been committed S 476 (3) now lavs down that when it is brought to the notice of the Magistrate 276 inquiring into or trying the offence that an appeal is pending against a decision arrived at in the judicial proceedings out of which the matter has arisen he may if he thinks fit at any stage adjourn the hearing of the case until such appeal is decided. At the same time there is a considerable amount of case law on S 193 which will still be applicable and the following notes refer to such rul-The considerations which it was laid down should guide the Court in deciding whether to grant or withhold sanction will still guide them in deciding whether to make a complaint or not. In the rulings quoted the references to sanction have been maintained but they may be assumed to be references to complaints except when the contrary is asserted The offences specified in S 195 are (1) certain contempts of the lawful author ity of public servants (Chapter \ Penal Code) (ii) false evidence, and offences ngainst public justice (Chapter \1 Penal Code), (iii) offences relating to docu ments (Chapter VIII Penal Code) S 193 prevents a Court from taking cognizance of any of such offences committed under the circumstances specified save on complaint made by the public servant or Court concerned or by some superior public servant or Court The reason is made clear by the character of these offences In regard to the first class in clause (a) which are contempts of the lawful authority of public servants the offence does not concern a private individual but is against the authority of some public servant and therefore it is obvious that except on the complaint of such public servant or of some superior orbits. superior public servant no action should be taken in respect of such offences on the complaint of private persons it should be noted that in respect of some of the offences specified that is offences under Ss 177 178 179 180 Penal Code (also under S 228) if they are committed in the view or presence of a Civil Criminal or Revenue Court that Court has summary jurisdiction to deal with them ($s 480 481 484)

In respect to the classes of offences specified in clauses (b) and (r) they must have been committed in some matter before a Court and therefore unless such Court or some superior Court shall consider that such an offence should form the subject of an inquiry or trial proceedings should not be taken

The provisions of sub-section (i) with reference to offences named there apply also to criminal conspiracy to commit such offences and to abetiments and nttempts (sub-section (4)) But a charge of abetment or attempt might be framed if such offence be disclosed in the evidence taken in proceedings on a complaint alleging only the substantine offence The former sub-section (5) specific deals and the substantine offence The former sub-section (5) fically dealt with this matter enabling the Court taking cognizance after sanchon had been given to frame a charge of any other offence referred to in the section which is disclosed by the facts. In this respect the Magistrate will now pre sumably be guided by the ordinary law (Ss 210 and 254)

The offence described in S 463 of the Indian Penal Code is forgery definition there given is used in a comprehensive sense. It is therefore referred to in clause (c) so as to include exery kind of forgery and thus to include an offence under S 467 Penal Code (the forgery of a valuable security) etc. The obsert of required security.

The object of requiring sanction before judicial proceedings could be taken on a complaint of the commission of any of the offences specified in clauses (b) and (c) was to restrain the exercise of private spite and to defeat the private ends of individuals and also to promote the interests of public justice by protecting parties against useless and groundless criminal prosecutions by disappointed and hostile suitors or partes to proceedings already taken in a Civil or Crim nal Court 2 If it were possible that a private party could complain of such an offence without a sanction from the Court concerned and thus compel a Magis

I Tulje I L R, 12 Forn 36 Thou Shah 14 Cal W. N 479 Assistant Sessions
Judge of Arcot 22 Mad L J 141
Ram Prosad Roy t Sooba Roy 1 Cal W N 400 In re Chundra Kant Ghose
Cal W N 2 Vatrias Pathwayson W 200 A 10 144
6 All 114 Cal W N 3 Vasteva Putharanya, Wen 819 In re Goun Sahar I L R 6 All 114

trate to take cognizance of it by judicial proceedings against a person accused, there might be serious embarrassment in the proceedings held by the Court in which such offence is alleged to have been committed. The person accused, if a party to such proceedings would find himself unable properly to defend himself and at the same time to carry on the proceedings before the Civil Revenue or Criminal Court and so an improper advantage would be gained, and there would be no real guarantee that the complaint would be substantiated If again a party to a suit could complain so that proceedings might be taken in a Criminal Court against a person who had given evidence against him in another Court on the ground that he had intentionally given false evidence, while that case was under trial he would be in a position to deter others from giving similar evidence and the administrate n of justice would be seriously obstructed by an unscrupulous litigant. So it has been held that the proceed ings in respect of which the alleged offence has been committed must have terminated before the Court to which an application for sanction has been made can grant it 1

So also when before sanction had been granted an appeal had been prefer red involving the decision of Indings of facts which were open to serious doubt and were connected with the offence the sanction was revoked as ill advised at that stage of the proceedings. It was pointed out that the proper course to have taken was to await the conclusion of the litigation and then to move the Court of Appeal to take such action as might be necessary in the ends of

But ordinarily there is a right of appeal in all cases decided by a Civil or Revenue Court and in all cases in which a Criminal Court may have convicted the accused In the last mentioned class of cases the final decision of the appellate Court is delivered without much delay. But in Civil or Revenue cases there must always be considerable delay if only from the fact that the law generally gives a second appeal and it has been felt that if proceedings in a Criminal Court relating to proceedings in such cases are to be suspended until the judgment of the last Court of Appeal, there is little prospect of a successful prosecution or even a fair trial in the Criminal Court

Ordinarily criminal proceedings on a sanction granted under S 195 should not go on during the pending of civil litigation. But there cannot be an invariable rule, it would save in exceptional cases be reasonable to order proceedings to be stajed. Every case must depend upon the circumstances under which the offence was committed how far the evidence by which it is sought to prove it is connected with the I tigation still pending and other con ditions as well as the time at which an objection on this account is taken (See S 537 Explanation) So where on the complaint of the Court on proceed ings taken under S 476 the accused had been committed for trial by the Court of Session the High Court on revision refused to interfere although civil I tightion on the same matter was still before the Civil Court 5

The above rulings are still to a certain extent applicable for the purpose of guiding a Magistrate in the exercise of the discretion given to him by S 476 (3) to adjourn the hearing of a case until the appeal in the judicial proceedings out of which the matter has arisen has been decided

If a complaint regarding any of the offences mentioned in S 195 is made by a private person the Magistrate is not competent to take cognizance of the

Deoi: I L R 18 Bom. 581

In re Shri Nana Maharaj I, L. R. 16 Bom. "o Sahiram Agriwalla e Jitan Kamur, 5 Cal. W. N. 251 Shekhi hatub Ah. i. Fmp. 3 Cal. W. A50 Gomanony Sapur O, Emp. 3 Cal. W. N. 58 In re Chundra haat Choes 3 Cal. W. N. 3 Bishoo Bank, 16 W. R. Cr. 77 Empr. Januari I. L. R. 5 All. 357 Ram Procad Molla 13 Cal. W. N. 1034 Shen hana, Maharaj I. L. Bid Bom. 25 M. 10 Bom. 25 W. N. 1034 Shen hana, Maharaj I. R. 16 Bom. 25 W. 2011 I. I. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha I. L. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools I. I. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha I. L. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. I. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha I. L. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. I. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha I. L. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. I. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha I. L. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. I. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha I. L. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. I. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha I. L. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. I. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha I. L. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. I. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. I. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. II. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. -6 Wad. 100 Dools II. R. 18 Bom. 35 W. Mahafe Filha II. R. 18 Bom. 35 offence, and should return the complaint (S 201) A Magistrate cannot take cognizance of such an offence under S 190 (1) (c), upon his own knowledge or suspicion, though he can himseff make a compfaint thereof, if he is competent to do so under S 476, or S 476A A commitment made without valid sanction was contrary to law, as the committing Magistrate was without jurisdiction to take cognizance of the offence ?

Where a complaint is made in writing under $ 476, ie by a Court, or under S 195(1) (a) by a public servant, the provisions of S 200 are waived and the complaint need not be examined [see proviso (11) to that section ]

Who is competent to make a compfaint

in the case of clause (a)-Contempt of lawful authority of public servants -where the public servant directly concerned refrains from making, or reluses to make a complaint a complaint can be made by some other public senant to whom he is subordinate," and when a complaint has been made under subsection (1) by a public servant (10 either by the public servant concerned, or by his superior) any authority to which he is subordinate may order the with drawal of the complaint and the Court on receipt of the order will abandon the proceedings (sub-section (5) Thus if a constable, who has been obstructed in the discharge of his public functions did not make a complaint under S 186 a Sub Inspector to whom he was subordinate might do so, and thereupon the Superintendent of Police might order the nithdrawal

It has been held by the Calcutta? and the Lahore' High Courts that for the purposes of S 1)5 (1) (2) (and presumably also for the purposes of sub section (5) ) that a police-officer is not the subordinate of the District Magit trate But the Allahabad High Courts relying on Sec 4 of the Police Act 1861 held that the Superintendent of Police is the subordinate of the District

Magistrate for the purposes of Sec 195 (1 )(a)

In the case of clauses (b) and (c)—offences against public justice, and offences relating to documents given in evidence—it is primarily the Court before which the proceedings are pending in relation to which the offence is committed that has power to make the complaint "Court" is defined in subsection (2) The substitution of includes for means in this sub section by Act No VVIII of 1923 S 47 indicates that the definition is not intended to be exhaustive in fact it has not been so interpreted in the past. It has been held that a District Judge hearing in election petition under Bombay Act III of 1901, S 22 6 a Collector acting under Ss 69 and 70 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, VIII of 1883 an Income Tax Collector and a Mamlatdar holding an inquiry under Chapter VII, Rombay Act \ of 1879 * 18 a Court within the meaning of S 195

It is the 'Court' before which, and not the Judge before whom, the alleged offence has been committed, that can take action under S 195 (1) (b) and (c) A change of incumbent does not after the constitution of the Court But where an Assistant Collector who had tried a recent suit was put in charge of another sub-division in the same district, the transfer did not deprive him of jurisdiction to grant sanction in respect of the forgery of a document

Emp v Narotam Das I L R 6 All 98

'Amason Lali v O Emp I I. R 27 Cal 45° (sc) 4 Cal W N 59
'Rhanas Singh v Airpa Singh I I. R 4 Lah 130
'Chhote Lal v Chhedi Lal I I. R 45 All, 135 ace also Emp v Shib Sagh I

Chinote but a Ch

330 Crmp e Aarayan Canpaya I L R 39 Bom 300 Crmp e Aarayan Canpaya I L R 39 Bom 300 Crmp e 16 Cra App XII (se) Weir 837 Karum Bakah Panj Ree 1879 p 88 Rales & 54

tendered in evidence in the suit 1 and where a subdivisional Magistrate before whom an application for sanction was pending was transferred to another subdivision of the same district he could proceed to pass orders on the application 2

A second class Magistrate, having no power to commit to Sessions, cannot be considered as the successor to the Court of a first class Magistrate, who had that power, in respect of proceedings for sanction to prosecute for perjury committed in the course of an inquiry before the first class Magistrate, who was subsequently transferred a lt was held in the case that the District Magis trate had power to grant sanction as he was one of the officers on whom devolved the disposal of committal cases

The Mideas High Court helds that an order under 5 144 was a judicial and not an administrative order and where a Sub-divisional Magistrate refused to sanction a prosecution under S 188 for disobedience of his order and sanction was granted by the District Magistrate an appeal lay to the Sessions Judge

under S 195 (7) of the Old Code

A Magistrate acting under S 145 is therefore not subordinate to the Dis trict Magistrate within the meaning of S 195 and where the Magistrate was transferred before application was made for sanction to prosecute in respect of disobedience of his order under S 145 the District Magistrate could not enter-

trum an application for sunction 3

Where a District Magistrate issues a search warrant in consequence of the receipt of information of the possession of ellicit arms he acts as a Court, though the information may have been given and the warrant issued under the Indian Arms Act 1878 and if he gives sanction for the prosecution of the informant under 5 18° an appeal his to the Sessions Court 5

Where the Court primarily concerned does not make a complaint a complaint may be made by a Court to which such Court is subordinate a definition of this expression see sub-section (3) The superior Court is not the one to which an appeal might he in the proceedings in the course of which the offence was committed but the Court to which appeals ordinarily lie Sub section (3) as amended by the Act of 1923 does not purport to alter the law It sometimes happens as in the case of a Subordinate Judge that an appeal

hes both to the Court of the District Judge and to the High Court the right of appeal depending on the value of the subject matter of the suit. So also an appeal against a conviction by an Assistant Sessions Judge lies both to the Court of Sess on and to the High Court the right of appeal to either of such Courts depending on the sentence of imprisonment passed (S 408) In each of these instances the inferior Court that is the Court of the District Judge or Court of Session would be the Court referred to in (b) and (c) rather than the High Court But in the Punjab it was held that, under S 195 (7) a Sessions Judge has no jurisdiction to interfere with an order of a District Magistrate according such sanction ?

Provision is also made where an appeal lies to a Revenue Court and also to a Civil Court as under various Rentlans Subord nation in such a case does not depend on the right of appeal in the particular class of ease

Provision is also made in respect of a Court of final jurisdiction whose orders may not be open to appeal such as a Court of Small Causes Here the principal local Court of ordinary original jurisdiction would be the Court refer red to Such Court in a pr sidency town would be the High Court, and elsewhere it would be the Court of the District Judge. Whether it be regarded as a Court from which no appeal hes or not, would seem to be immaterial in the case of the Court of a subordinate Magistrate or a Bench of Magistrates holding a summary trial because the Court of the District Magistrate noud be the principal local Court of original jurisdiction, as well as the Court to which appeals in other cases would ordinarily be sent, the Court of Session has ordinarily no original jurisdiction except on commitment made to it (S 193)

<sup>42</sup> Cal 667

<sup>102</sup>

A Joint Magistrate hearing an appeal from the decision of a third clas Magistrate by transfer from the District Magistrate cannot take action in respect of perjury committed before the third class Magistrate, either as a Court of first instance or is an appellate Court 2

Withdrawal of complaint

The withdrawal of a complaint made by a public servant is provided for by sub section 3 which has already been referred to It is to be remembered that S 476 his no connection with complaints by public servants as such under S 195 (1) (a) It supplements S 195 (1) (b) and (c) by providing a procedure and S 476 B provides for the withdrawal of a complaint made by a Court. The withdrawal will in this case be the result of an appeal. The appeal les to the Court to which the Court which made the complaint is subordinate within the meaning of S 113 (3) The appellate Court must give notice to the parties

The case law laying down the grounds on which sanction granted should be revoked under 5 195 (b) of the old law is applicable also to the withdrawal of complaints

Sanction should not be revoked merely on the ground that there was delay in applying for it a

Withdrawal of a complaint does not necessarily imply that an application for it may not be renewed. If a complaint has been withdrawn on the merits there would clearly be no reconsideration of the order of withdrawal But if it has been withdrawn because for example it was premature, the appellate Court might consider an application for renewal

Complaint made by superior Court

So far as a public servint is concerned the law is contained in S 195 (1) (a) itself a complaint may be made by some other public servant to whom the public servant concerned is subordinate. See note above as to who is competent to exercise this power In the case of a Court 1 complaint may be made by a Court to which the Court primarily concerned is subordinate (S 195 (1) (b) and (c)) This is elaborated by S 476A the superior Court maj exercise the power referred to in any case in which the original Court has neither made a complaint nor rejected an application for maling a complaint. If there has been a rejection of an application then the superior Court can deal with the matter as a Court of appeal under S 476B and cun itself make a complaint

A superior Court should not make a complaint except for some special reason unless application has already been made in the first instance to the Court directly concerned 4

&lt;sup>1</sup> Kompella Anantharam Ayya 41 Mad 787 In re Anant Ramchandra Lothkar I. R. 11 Bom 438 Sadhu Lall e Ramchantra 7 Cal W. N. 114 Eroma Variar e Emp I L R ~ 6 Mad 656 (F B) overning Q Emp e Substava Pilla I L. R. 18 Mad 487.

<sup>487.</sup>Kompella Anantharam Ayya 41 Mad 767.

Kompella Anantharam Ayya 4

&lt;sup>4</sup> In re Raja of Venkataguri 6 Mad H C R 92 (5 c) Weir 837 Shibpershad Chuckerbutty 17 W R Cr 46 Budh Ram v K Emp 56 Panj Rec (1905) Cr

In. or in relation to, any proceeding

A document must actually have been produced in Court in the suit before action can be taken under 5 195 (1) (b) 1 But where a document was called for by a party to a proceeding under 5 145, was brought into Court, and referred to by the pleader in his argument and by the Magistrate in his judgment it was produced within the meaning of S 195 (1) (c) 4 A document produced by a party to a dispute before a police-officer making an inquiry, and attached by him to his report, is not produced 3

Grounds for making a complaint

It is by no means in every case in which a party fails to prove his case that the Judge, who has decided against such party, is justified in exercising the power given to him by this section. So long as it is a case in which there is any possible doubt, or in which it is not purfectly certain that the Judge's decision must be upheld in the event of there being an appeal in the civil suit, the Judge acts indiscreetly and wrongly, if the moment he has given judgment in a civil suit, he exercises the power given to him by this section. At the same time it, in the course of a civil trial, the Judge has before him unmistakable proof of a criminal offence, and if, after the trial is over, be, on consideration, thinks it necessary to proceed at once, of course it may be right to do so Judges should, however, bear in mind that criminal prosecutions are frequently suggested by successful hugants merely to prevent an appeal in the civil suit, and they should be careful not to lend themselves to this too readily. They should also recollect that, when they proceed to make a complaint, (by reason of action taken under 5 470 post), the responsibility rests on the Judge entirely, such a prosecution being a very different thing from a prosecution instituted on the complaint of a private party and wrongly sanctioned by the Court under the old law 4

A Court granting sanction in respect of the offence of perjury should exercise a judicial discretion, and it will not do so unless it considers with reference to the evidence available and the other circumstances whether a prosecution is desirable in the public interests and if it merely satisfies itself that a prima facie case has been made out a

The record must show that a court has exercised its own judgment on the facts proved before it before it grants sunction. So a Magistrate cannot sanction a prosecution for making a false complaint to the Police (S 211 Penal Code) merely on the police report * No sanction is necessary under S 19, (1) (b) to prosecute an informant under S 211 of the Penal Code when a false charge has been made by him only to the Police, but if he subsequently prefers a complaint to the Magistrate praying for judicial investigation sanction of the Court is necessary ! Though a Court should not accord sanction to prosecute for bringing a false complaint mercil on tile strength of a rolle report, yet it tile report is basen' upon a judgment of a Court in a counter-case in connection with the same matter in which his defence was exactly the same as his complaint and so found to be false there is sufficient material for the Court to give sanction * The record should enable a superior Court to satisfy itself that sanction

&lt;sup>1</sup> K v Munusamy Mudahar I L R 45 Mad 9°8

*Nalani Kanta Laha I L R 44 Gal 1002

*Nalani Kanta Laha I L R 44 Gal 1002

*Janardhan Thakur 5 Pat L J 135

*O v Banjoo Lal I L R 1 Cal 490 Kodarnath Dass v Mohesh Chunder, I, L R 16 Cal 602 I Bansary Shala I L R All 114

*O Lap 1 Sangar Shala I L R All 114

*O Lap 1 Shell Beat I L R 10 Mad 19°8

*Q Lap v Shell Beat I L R 10 Mad 15 J 1 (B)

*Tayebulla v Emp I L R 43 Cal 1152 Howar e Ananda Lall Mulleck I L R 4, 4 Cal 1600

*Re Narayana Navan, I L R 13 Mad 1044

has been properly granted," and this has generally been held to mean that there is evidence re establishing a prima facre case against the accused, and that the interests of justice require that he should be prosecuted 2 It has been held that the evidence should also show a strong probability of conviction, in order to ensure the saleguard provided by law against vexitious or frivolous prosecutions of parties before a Court and of witnesses attending and giving evidence in Courts of Justice in discharge of a public duty imposed on them by law? It is doubtful whether in requiring this safeguard the object of the law has not been lost sight of To require this would in many cases be to demand an extra judicial preliminar, inquiry, for in the original case it would not be possible to contradict a witness who may have spoken falsely, although the Court before which such evidence has been given may have good reason to believe that it is false. This view seems in some manner to be borne out by former sub section, (5) which enabled a Court which had taken cognizance of an offence, after sonction given in respect of it, to frame a charge of any other offence referred to in 5 195 which was disclosed by the evidence. So also old sub-section (4) declared that a sanction need not name the accused person. One object of 5 195 is to present the intervention of proceedings in criminal Courts, so as to obstruct and defeat justice in cases under trial before other Courts. and if a Court to which an app aution is made is satisfied that no objection on this account exist,, and that there is good reason also for believing that prime facis there are good grounds for a complaint of the offence, it would seem that it can properly, make a complaint

The previous law declared that sanction should be given by the public servant or the Court concerned, and it was held that the necessity for sanction to prosecute presupposes an application for it, and where there was no such application a Court should not take upon itself to grant sanction. So for as the Court is concerned under the new law S 476 seems to make it clear that the Court can take action or 's own motion without waiting for application to be made to it asking it to lodge a complaint. Where an application is made it should emanate only from the party concerned or affected by the offence The Court should not entertain an application made by one who is not a party to the proceedings in which the offence was committed or otherwise concerned as in the case of one whose name has been forged on a document put in evidence in a case in which he was no party. No proserution for the uffence of giving false evidence in respect of the statement made by a person to whom or predon has been granted under 5 337 or 5 338 can be entertained without the sanction of the High Court (5 339 (3)) But where a parton has been dendered and the Public Prosecutor certifies that in his opinion the pendered and the Public Prosecutor certifies that in his opinion the pendered and the Public Prosecutor certifies that in his opinion the pendered and the Public Prosecutor certifies that in his opinion the pendered and the Public Prosecutor certifies that in his opinion the pendered and the Public Prosecutor certifies that in his opinion the pendered and the Public Prosecutor certifies that in his opinion the pendered and the Public Prosecutor certifies that in his opinion to be a person of the pendered and the Public Prosecutor certifies the pendered and the pend accepting such tender has not complied with the condition on which it was made such person can be prosecuted for the offence itself for which the pardon was offered (S 339(1))

Under the previous law of sanction undue and unexplained delay in applying for sanction was a good ground for refusal of sanction, and a complain find to be lodged within o months of the sanction, unless the time was, for good cause shewn extended by the High Court. Under S. 476 a Court can act on application made to it or on its own motion, and where application was made

&lt;sup>1</sup> Riedarnath Das v Mohesh Chunder I L R 15 Cal 66: Fampapati Sastri v. Subba, I L R 23 Mad, 210 <sup>4</sup> In re Cauri Salan I L R 6 AR, 114

&lt;sup>1</sup> Dr. or Fare Austramined, I L R <sup>26</sup> Mad <sup>116</sup>, Ramprosad Roy v Sooba Roy, I Call W N or Haperam Sarma I L R <sup>20</sup> Cal, 474, Banaran Das I L R ,18 All, 2131 Muliar Ah Shelk to Call W N <sup>25</sup> Call W

Chandra Kant Chose 3 Cal W N 1 Rati Iha 16 Cal L J. 509 Halwant Singh v Umed Singh J L R, 18 All, 203, Mad H Ct, Pro Jan 9, 4871, Weil, 356

some considerable time after the alleged offence and been committed, and the Court had taken no action itself, it would require a reasonable explanation of the delay, before consenting to male a complaint. But it was held that sanction should not be revoked merely on the ground that there was delay in applying for it and this would be equally applicable in the case of withdrawal of a complaint (S 476B)

There was formerly a variation between the language of S 195 and that of S 476 The former section referred to an offence committed in or in relation to any proceeding in any Court while the latter section referred to an offence committed before the Court or brought under its notice in the course of the judicial proceedings. The language of S 192 has now been adopted in both sections

Appeals

The law as to appeals is now laid down in S 476B. Where no application has been made to a Court to lodge a complaint and there has been no refusal there is of course no appeal the superior Court can in such a case exercise the powers conferred on the original Court by S 195 (1) Where a complaint has been lodged or where a Court has refused to make complaint an appeal lies to the Court to which the original Court is subordinate within the meaning of S 105 (3) and the superior Court can if it allows the appeal direct the with drawal of the complaint or itself make a complaint as the case may be Notice must in either case be given to the parties concerned

The question whether an application made under S 195 (b) of the old law was an appeal and whether the authority dealing with it had power to call for further evidence was several times discussed by the High Courts 2. The matter is now more clear $ 476B provides for an appeal and the Court dealing with the appeals will have the ordinary powers of an appellate Court in this respect It is true that $ 428 which gives powers to a criminal appellate Court to take or call for further evidence relates only to appeals under Chapter XXI but the Courts would probably follow the analogy though the Madras High Court held that the power given by S 428 must be limited to appeals under that Chapter 3

Revision

Under the old law revisional powers were exercisable because S 195 re quired orders to be passed namely orders granting sanction. There was some doubt whether there could be revision of proceedings taken by a Court under S 476 of the old law. Under S 476 as it stood a Court passed an order send ing a case for inquiry or trial to a Magistrate. But even so a Full Bench of the Madras High Court held that the High Court as a Court of Revision had no power to interfere with an order pissed under $\frac{1}{4}\text{For This ruling with a given before the Code was amended so as to require a Magnetate to proceed as if upon complaint made and recorded under $ 200" But whether the order of the Magistrate under S 476 was treated as an order or as a complaint under the old law it is now quite clear that in every case a formal complaint in writing has to be lodged and there can therefore be no revision by the High Court of the proceedings of a Criminal Court under Ss 376 476A or 476B Appeals are provided for by S 476B. In any case the High Courts consistently deprecated proceedings which amounted to a second appeal in cases of this nature

¹ Framii Ardeshi Bom II Ct Nov 10 1895 Bhimacauda Bom II Ct June II 1896 **Subbasin o Fimp II R 44 Mad 47 Rama Aiyar I L R 30 Mad 311 Krishna Reddy t Emp 31 Mid 90 **Krishna Reddy t Emp I L R 33 Mad 90 **Erashol Athan t A Fimp I I R, 35 Mad 98

General

Another question that was much debated under the old law was whether the Court proposing to grant sanction should give notice to the person concerned Ss 476 and 476A do not settle this point the former section leaves it discretionary with the Court to male "such preliminary inquiry, if any, as t thinks necessary and the last sentence of S 476A makes this procedure applic ble t proceedings under that section also As the law still requires an notice most of the rulings on this point, indicating the circumstances in which notice should issue and an inquiry should be made will still be applicable for the purpose of guiding Courts in the exercise of their discretion in the matter The following cases are relevant in this respect. In so far as the rulings by down that when a Court made an inquiry in sunction proceedings, it should not take evidence on outh they are obsolete they proceeded on the fact that the natural ways are supported to the courts were the court ways. inquiry was not a judicial proceeding recognised by the Code

Procedure on application for sanction

The law does not require notice to the party concerned before sanction is g ven ! Sanction is merfely the removal of the obstacle to making a complant so as to enable a Magistrate to take cognizance of the offence notice is given by the process issued to answer the accuration. But when such party was present at the proceedings in which the offence was affeged to have been committed and on intumation that suction to prosecute him would be applied for he asked that he might be heard before vanction was given it was held that this opportunity should have been given to him s Sanction is not necessarily bad if given without notice to the accused. A Court may and on application for sanction made to it ought to male an inquiry in order to obtain evidence to satisfy itself that there are substantial grounds for the apply cation. The granting of sanction must proceed upon some evidence upon sales the order can be mide So when the succes or of the Judge who had held the trial in which the elleged offence was committed granted sanction contrary to the opinion of his predecessor the sanction was revoked because it had been granted without hearing the opposite private. A Virgistrate cannot sanct on a complaint of traking a false complaint to the Police (S 211 Pend Code) on a notice reserved. a police report of an investmention into the offence so reported to be false the law requires that he should exercise his own judgment on facts proved to h m But the Calcuta High Court held that sanction is not necessary in such a case as the offence is not within the terms of S 105 (1) (b) masmuch as it is not ' committed in or in relation to any proceeding in any Court '?

A Full Bench of the Madras High Court also drew a distinction between sanction given in a case in which there had been an order of acquittal or dis charge and one summarily dismissed without hearing evidence on a police report holding that in the former case it would not be inappropriate to give notice to the persons concerned to show cruse before sanction is given white in the latter notice is absolutely necessary

<sup>58 (</sup>F B) Manour Ram v Behan to Mad 232 (F B) In re Govindo

<sup>16</sup> Cal 661

(F B) O Emp t Motha I I R 20 Mad 330 Shashi Kumar Dey o Shashi Kumar I L R 19 Cal 345 See also In re Raou Sakhatam 7 Bom I Rep 732 (5 c) 2 Cr

I J 611
Pampapati Sastri v Subba I L R 23 Mad 210
O Emp v Sheik Beari I L R 10 Mad 222 (F B)
Putram Rudas v Mahomed Rasem 3 Cal W N 33 Jagat Chandra Mozemdar
V C Emp I L R 26 Cal 266
V C Fmp v Sheik Beari I L R 10 Mad 232 (F B)

The Allahabad High Court has approved that case, but has held that although sanction is not bad for want of notice notice is desirable.

It may be sometimes necessary to hold some inquiry before sanction is given there is no rigid rule of law making it imperative. But when the case has been dispo ed of without my evidence as on an nipplication for fore closure under the repealed Bengal Regulation XVII of 1806 or in default of prosecution by the plaintiff who has produced a dead alleged to have been forged sanction should not be given unless the Court was satisfied by some evidence that no offence had been committed?

No sanction is necessary for pro-ecution on account of a false statement made in a departmental inquire, 4 or in a preliminari inquirit made on a police report? Nor is any sanction necessary in regard to proceedings on a complaint made to the Police and not jud crilly declared to be false as the alleged offence has not in the terms of clause (b) been committed in or in relation to any proceeding in Court! But if the Vigostrate has examined the complaint in such a case and after taking evidence has dismissed the complaint or dischirged the recused a sanction under $6.00 is necessary? If an inquiry be held in a case in which the materials before the Court are not sufficient to show a primal face case due notice to the parts concerned should be given. The case is entirely different from one in which sanction is given to a complaint regarding an offence committed during judicial proceedings and to be proved by evidence in such proceedings for there what has taken place is sufficient notice?

The most common class of cases which comes before the Court relates to a prosecution relating to making a false complaint or laying false information to the Police. Such mutters generally arise out of a police report made after an investigation to the effect that in the opinion of the investigating officer, the complaint or information made is falle and the Magistrate himself takes action in the matter. The general rule laid down in reported cases is that the Magistrate should not at once proceed on such a police report. To do so would be to attach too much importance to the opinion expressed by the police-officer which generally would be unried. It is the dath of a police-officer to collect evidence but it is the function of a Magistrate alone to decide upon the sufficiency of the evidence when so collected.

The struction of the Insolvence Court is necessary for the prosecution of offences relating to the mixing and using of folse documents filed in that Court although the offence of forgers was complete before the commencement of the proceedings?

Where a complaint of a false endorsement on promissory notes was made to a second class Magastrate and was transferred to a first class Magastrate but before the transfer a suit on the forged promissory note was filed the

¹ Man∘ar Ram r Behars I L R 18 All 358 Inavat Ali r Mohar S n≈h All W N (toust) 237 ($c.) 2 Cr L I 505

Baperam Surma e Goun Nath I L R - o Cal 4-4 Surjya Hanani e K Emp.
6 Cal W N 205

Chandre V F B 6 Cal 340 see also Shashi

rati Sastra r Subba Sastra,

I L R 3 Mad 210

*Govt r Kannaduk Khan I L R 6 Cal 496 (sc) 7 Cal L R, 467 In re Chool bang Telec 2 Cal L R 315 Radha Kishan I L R 5 Ml 36 Q Emp r Ganwaran

I I R. S All 35 A Beardsill & Co I L. R 37 Mad 107 See also Emp r Bhawin Das I L. R 38 All 169

sanction of the Civil Court was held to be necessary before the Magistrate could take action on the complaint 2

The Allahabad High Court held that the Appellate Court equally with the Court of first instance has power to sanction the prosecution in respect of the document filed or evidence recorded in the original suit 2 The Madras High Court dissented from this ruling holding that the offence of perjury is not recommitted in the Appellate Court by the production of the record or otherwis in appeal so as to entitle the Appellate Court to grant sanction as an original Court Those rulings turn on the question whether the perjury was committed in or in relation to proceedings in the Appellate Court's But it would seem that under S 476A if the original Court neither makes a complaint itself nor rejects an application for the making of a complaint the Appellate Court if it was the Court to which appeals from the original Court ordinarily lie, would have power itself to make a complaint

No sanction is required when the actual offence charged does not require sanction under S 195 though the facts alleged disclose an offence for which sanction is necessary under that sanction 4

Where an application is made for the making of a complaint and on the day fixed the applicant does not appear the Court should not dismiss the application but should either put it aside for the appearance of the applicant or deal with it on its merits 5

After it has been dismissed the Court eannot review its order nor ean a superior Court grant sanction because the lower Court has neither refused nor given sanction 5 S 476B has now taken the place of S 195 (6) Under either state of the law this opinion seems to be open to serious doubt. It is to be noticed that S 476A does not really add anything to the law, it merely lays down a procedure for the superior Court when they intend to exercise the poner conferred on them by S 195 (1) powers which they have always had over if the order dismissing the application in default be regarded as final it eannot be regarded but as an order refusing to give the sanction or make the eomplaint applied for If it be regarded as a refusal to consider the matter there is no reason why it should have the force of res judicata and thus be find

It is the duty of the Court to which an application for sanction has been made to consider first whether with regard to the judicial proceedings in which the alleged offence was committed the application should be entertained that is whether the act on of the Crim nal Court for the trial of that offence is likely to operate injur ously on further proceedings in the original matter out of wheh it arose Whether in fact sanction should not be withheld until their final determination and not solely where on the merits before it there is a reasonable probability that a conviction will result *

There may be circumstances connected with the merits of the matter under consideration which may require the Court to exercise its discretion before grant ng sanction for instance in regard to the offence of perjury the mere fact that contradictury statements have been made may not in itself be good ground for granting sanction for or making a complaint. The eircumstances under which the statements were made may be such as in some degree to account for them and to show that a prosecution would tend to defeat rather than promote the ends of sustice?

&lt;sup>1</sup> Re K Parameswaran Nambudri I L R 39 Mad 677 <sup>2</sup> Bhadesar Tiwari v Kanta Prosad I I R 35 All 00 Tukatla Tukadu I L R 41 Mad 787 n I L R 37 Mad 43 R 32 Bom 203 7 N 330 (314) See also Ishri Pershad I L R 1 Cal 450 Kah Charan Lal 12 Cal W N 3 W N, 767

The Court to which complaint is made is not limited to taking cognizance only of the particular offence compluned of or in respect of the person indicated in the complaint. There is a distinction between taking cognizance of an offence, and after cognizance has been tillen proceeding against the person shown by the evidence to have committed it. The Magistrate who has taken cognizance of an offence with jurisdiction has jurisdiction to deal with the entire case? But the Allahabad High Court has held that in such a case sanction is necessary?

Where in offence under 5 500 of the Penil Code is also in offence under S 211 and the Court has refused anothen to presecute under the latter section process should not used under the firmer section on the application of a private person

196 No Court shall take commance of any offence punishable under Chapter VI or IXA of the Indian

Prosecution for off against the Penal Code (except section 127), or punishable State under section 108A, or section 153A, or section 294A, or section 295A, or section 505 of the same Code, unless upon complaint made by order of, or under authority from, the Gos einor General in Council, the Local Government, or some officer empowered by the Governor General in Council in this behalf

Chapter VI of the Indian Penal Code relates to offences against the State S 127 relates to the receipt of property with knowledge that the same has been taken in war against an Asi til puwer in illiance or at peace with the Queen or by depredations on the territories of such power

S 1084 5 1531 S and were all enacted by Act IV of 1898

S 1083 declares that a person who in British India abets the commission of any act without and beyind British India which if ecounitted in British India would constitute an offence abets that effence within the meaning of the Penal Code

S 153A relates to the promoting of enmity or hatred between classes

S 294A chiefed by Net NAVII of 1870 relates to the keeping of a lettery office or publishing proposals regarding lotterus

S sos relates to the mil in s of statements rumours or reports with intent to cause or lil ely to cause mutiny or public mischief

Chapter INA of the Indian Penal Code (enacted by the Indian Offences and Enquiries Act, VVIV of 1920) deals with offences relating to elections, viz bribery undue influence personation, illegal payments and the like. A false statement made in the course of the hearing of an election petition would come under 5 195 of this Code and a prosecution therefore would require a complaint by the Flection Commissioners who would undoubtedly be held to be a 'Court" for the purposes of that section 1

This is another instance of offences of which a Magistrate cannot take cognizance without the complaint specified. The terms of S 196 are absolute, and any preceedings held withing such authority would be without jurisdiction, for such a defect cannot like the vant of sanction under $ 105 by cured by $ 537 Ner does the I w provide any special remedy if there has been any irregularity in this respect

See also S 132 under which the sanction of the Governor General in Council or the Local Government is necessary to the prosecution of any person for an net purporting to be done under Chapter IN of this Code in the dispersal if an unlawful assembly

Charn Chandra Das r Naremira Krishna 4 Cal W \ 367
Fmp 1 Hudwar Pil I L. R 34 All 522
Cf 1n re Nanchand Shjochand I L. R 37 Bcm , 365

The complainant need not be examined when the complaint is made in writing by a public serving incling in the discharge of his official duties ($\frac{\pi}{2}\tau_0 \text{proxiso}(\alpha_0)\).

The accused was convicted by the Assistant Sessions Judge in the alternative of theting, or attempting to a minutal dreiny, and, on appeal, the convention of motione were set used on the ground that the facts found constuded an offence under Sale. It is the Print Code (Chapter V), sinction for the proceedation of which had not been extended to 90 of this Code. On appeal by the Government of Bombay a motion in which of the Code of the Government of Bombay a motion in structure, holding this when the facts found constitute a may also will be a minural affence, the refusal of the Government as structure the presentant for the minural The sentence passed in this case was considered a punishment for the minural The sentence and able for the minural officine were involupted in the processing structure, for a subordinate Court could not properly select for trial by itself a unitary officine within its jurisdiction. See note under Sale provides by the facts found, which was beyond its jurisdiction.

There is no legal proof that the Local Government has ordered or authorised a prossecution where the refer we contained in a letter, purporting to be issued by the Chief Secretary but for the Chief Secretary and a Diputh Secretary, not in his official capation of the European Chief Secretary and the European Chief the Little and Diputh Secretary and the European Chief the Little and Diputh Secretary and the European Chief the Little and Diputh Secretary and Diputh Se

An order of the licil Government directing a certain person to complain against certain named persons under S 124A Penal Code or any other section found to be applicable to the cise in respect of certain articles, which were not specified in a newspaper was hald to be sufficient authority under S 196 of this Code. It was observed that if any particular articles or the dates of the stress of the newspaper. issues of the newspaper had been specified, the person authorised to complain would have been limited to them but the object of the order was to gite the widest latitude in selecting the matter to be complained of It is desirable that orders under 5 196 should be expressed with the greatest particularity, but the terms of the order were neurincless held to be a sufficient compliance with the law 3. This ease time afterwards on application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council before the Chef Justice and two Judges of the Bombay High Court, who observed that theu, h the complaint must undoubtedly contain the articles complained of so as to give information to the accused of the charge against him there was nothing in the Code that the written order to make a complaint (if a written order is required) should specify the exact article in respect of which the complaint must be made 4

The Calcutta High Cent has disapproved of this case, holding that an order inder S 196 must expressly state the particular offence for which complaint is made. It is not competent to the Gavernment to delegate to any officer belt in person the controlling power or discretion that S 196 implies. The question whether action should be talen under Chapter VI of the Penal Code is not than a matter of his considerations of poles arise and these can be determined only by the authority specially designated. An order conferring authority to mike a complaint of officies under certain specified sections of the Penal Code.

I O Fmp t Anent Purmik I L R 25 Bom 90 See also Q Emp t Gundy's I I R 13 Bom 502 which proceeds on the same principle

Bom 147 per Struckey J and Canda

CHAP XV. SEC. 196

or any other section was accordingly held to be bad except in regard to the specified sections 1

The Madras High Court has held that S 196 only requires that the com plaint should be made upon authority from the Local Government, and not that the actual complaint must be expressly authorised by the Local Government 2 A Bench of the same Court dissented from the Calcutta High Court's ruling in the case of Barindra Lumar Ghose holding that the authority given by the Local Government was valid under S 196 where it sent a telegram to the District Magistrate expressly authorising the Public Prosecutor to file a complaint under S 124A Penal Code but the telegram added that the Public Prosecutor might act in this authority immediately if the District Magistrate should think it desirable and that the complaint prepared should be submitted at once to the Government for supplemental sanction 3 In this case Napier J, held that S 196 is a disenabling section, and should not be construed with the strictness applicable to an enabling section

The same case later came before a Special Bench which held that whereas the telegram had been signed. Madras, which is the telegraphic name of the Chief Secretary to the Madras Government there was no presumption as to the person by whom it was sent and in the absence of proof it could not be held that the telegram was sent by the authority of the Local Government It was also held that this might be a fit case for the appellate Court to admit additional evidence on the point to supply the defect in formal proof of the sanction but on being informed in Court that the sanction was not the act of all the members of the Local Government the Court declined to order fresh evidence to be taken and set aside the conviction and sentence. It seems that there may have been a miscarriage of justice in this case owing to the insis tence on technicalities. The act was one of the Local Government or in other words of the Governor in Council It does not seem to have been pointed out to the Court that under S 49 of the Government of India Act 1915

(2) A Governor may make rules and orders for the more convenient transaction of business in his executive council and every order made or act done in accordance with those rules and orders shall be treated as being the order or the act of the Governor in Council" The provisions of this section in this respect have not been altered by the amending Statutes IX and A George V, Chapter 101 If therefore the sanction granted in this case was granted in accordance with rules made it was the act of the Local Government

But although Government may under S 106 authorise the making of a complaint care should be taken both in the terms of the order and in the complaint to avoid objection in the subsequent proceedings. So where the charge set out that the accused combined with persons known and unknown the accused were entitled to know the names of the known persons although they might be charged with conspiring with persons unknown. The charge was accordingly on object tion taken amended at the trial Where however the complaint omitted to mention the name of one of the accused although he was mentioned in the order on which the complaint was made it was held that he could not be tried not withstanding that he was mentioned in the examination of the complainant on which process was asked for and issued The Court drew a distinction between a complaint and an application for process holding that the application for process does not fall with a the definition of complaint given in the Code S 106

&lt;sup>3</sup> Bunnara Kumar Ghose I L R. 37 Cal 465 [471] [5 C] 14 Cal W MI14 (1127) See also Sham Khan Pany Rev. 1850 C No. 16 C. Chadambaram Palla I Emp. I L R. 3. Mad. 17 Varadarajula Nadu I L R. 42 Mad. 180 4 Caradarajula Nadu I L R. 42 Mad. 180 5. "Emp. I Lalt Volona Chakravatti J Cal. W N. 98

however requires the sanction of certain authorities to the making of a complant before a Magistrate can take cognizance of it, and after judicial proceedage have been taken through either an inquiry or a trial, the Magistrate is book to proceed against those who from evidence taken are shown to have committed the offence. His sanction apparently is not specially restricted by 5 196 S 230 too is important in connection with this subject

Prosecution for certain classes of criminal CONSDITACY

198A No Court shall take cognizance of the offence of criminal conspiracy punishable under section 120B of the Indian Penal Code-

- (3) in a case where the object of the conspiracy is to com mit either an illegal act other than an offence, or a legal act by illegal means, or an offence to which the provisions of section 196 apply, unless upon complaint made by order or under authority from the Governor-General in Council, the Local Gov ernment or some officer emponered by the Gover nor-General in Council in this behalf, or
- (2) in a case where the object of the conspiracy is to com mit any non cognizable offence, or a cognizable offence not punishable with death, transportation or rigorous imprisonment for a term of two years or upwards unless the Local Government, or a Chief Presidency Magistrate or District Magistrate empowered in this behalf by the Local Government has, by order in writing, consented to the initia tion of the proceedings

Provided that where the criminal conspiracy is one to which the provisions of sub-section (4) of section 195 apply no such con rent shall be necessary

This section was inserted by S 5 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act VIII of 1913, which created the offence criminal Law Amenium.

S 120A of the Penal Code defines the offence as follows - when two or more persons agree to do or cause to be done-

(1) an illegal act, or

(2) an act which is not illegal by illegal means, such an agreement is des g nated a criminal conspiracy Provided that no agreement except an agreement to commit an offence shill amount to a criminal conspiracy unless some act besides the agreement is done by one or more parties to such agreement in oursurnce thereof

Explanation —It is immaterial whether the illegal act is the ultimate object of such agreement or is merely incidental to that object Consent in writing of the authorities specified in 5 196A is not necessary to a prosecution for criminal conspiracy to commit a non cognizable offence in cases to which S 195 (4) applies 1

The words "not punishable with death, etc.," relate only to the term "cognizable offence"

Section 1964 does not apply to 1 pro ecution for abetment by conspiracy punishable under S 109 of the Penal Code 2

The complainant need not be examined when the complaint is in writing and is made by a public seriant in the discharge of his official duties (S 200 proviso (aa))

196B In the case of any offence in respect of which the provisions of section 196 or section 196A apply, a District Magistrate or Cliné Presidency Magistrate may, notwithstanding anything contained in those sections or in any other part of this Code, order a preliminary investigation by a police officer not being below the rank of Inspector, in which case such police-officer shall have the powers referred to in section 155, sub-section (3)

This section is new, and was introduced by the amending Act, No. XVIII of 1921, S. 49. The reason for the enactment of this section was that S. 196 laid down that no Court could take cognitizate of any offence specified therein except upon compliant from one of the authorities mentioned Inasmuch as all the offences mentioned in the section are non-cognitable the investigation of these cases was hampered. The police could not investigate without an order from a Magistrate, and a Magistrate could not order an investigation without taking cognitance, thus a compliant had to be lodged before there had been a full investigation. The original amending Bill of 194 proposed to remedy this by an amend ment of S. 196, which would have had the effect of Isying down that a Court should not 'proceed to the trial of 'any of the offences specified unless the prosecution had been sanctioned by one of the authorities mentioned. The later Bill, which became law as Act No XVIII of 1932 however, left S. 196 and 196A, unaltered, and inserted S. 196B, which enables a District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate, notwithstanding anything contained in the Code, to order a preliminary investigation in the case of any of the offences referred to in those two sections by a police-officer not below the rink of Inspector and such police-officer will ithen laws the powers referred to in S. 155 (2), 1 e., 11 the powers (except the power to arrest without unternet) which an officer in chinge of a police-stration may exercise in the investigation of a cognizable case (See Chapter XVIV).

197 (1) When any person who is a Judge within the meanprosecution of ing of section 19 of the Jackon Panal Code, or Judges and public when any Magistrate, or when any public serservants vant who is not removable from his office save by or with the sanction of a Local Government or some higher authority, is accused of any offence alleged to have been committed by him while acting or purporting to act in the discharge of his official duty, no Court shall take cognizance of such offence event with the previous sanction of the Local Government

<sup>1 1</sup> mp v Thakur Das 1 I R 40 Ml 41 4 Abdul Salım v Γmp, 1 L R 49 Cal, 573

(2) Such Government may determine the person by whom the manner in which, the offence or offences

Power of Govern for which, the prosecution of such Judge ment as to prosecution Magistrate or public servant is to be conduct ed, and may specify the Court before which the trial is to be held

Sub-section (1) previously referred to public servants not removable from office save with the sanction of the Governor General in Council or the Local Government There are public servants who can only be removed with the same tion of the Secretary of State, and who were not covered by the section. The amendment made by 1ct No \III of 1923 $5.50 now affords this class of officers protection. Further, Magistrates acting in certain capacities under the Code eg, when holding inquiries, were not 'Judges' within the meaning of that term, and obtained no protection. They have now been specifically men herout

It is the sanction of the Local Government that is now required in all cases The authority to delegate the power of giving sanction has been removed Finally the law has been amended so as to make it clear that the offences re ferred to are such as have been committed by the Judge, etc., "while acting of purporting to act in the discharge of his official duty"

The power of the Government to specify the Court before which the Judge or public servant shall be tried is absolute and is not subject to the exercise of any general power of the High Court to transfer a criminal case under 5 526, which expressly declares that nothing in that section shall be deemed to affect any order made under S 197 and public servant " are thus defined in Ss 19 and 11 The term Judge of the Penal Code -

292

19 The word 'Judge' denotes not only every person who is officially de signated as a Judge but also every person who is evil or criminal a definitive judgment or a judgment which if not spread against would be definitive judgment or a judgment which if not spread against would be definitive or a judgment which, if confirmed by some other authority would be definitive or who is one of a body of persons which body of persons is empowered by law to give such a judgment

Illustrations

(a) A Collector exercising jurisdiction in a suit under Act X of 1827 15 a

(b) A Magistrate exercising jurisdiction in respect of a charge on which he has power to sentence to fine or imprisonment with or without appeal, is a Judge (c) A Member of a Punchayat which has power, under Regulation VII, 1816 of the Madras Code to try and determine suits, is a Judge

(d) A Magistrate exercising jurisdiction in respect of a charge on which he has power only to commit for trail to another Court is not a Judge 21 The words " public servant ' denote a person falling under any of the descriptions hereinafter following, namely~ "Polic Servant"

First-Every covenanted servant of the Queen,

Second-Every commissioned officer in the Military or Naval Forces of the Queen while serving under the Government of India or any Government, Third-Every Judge

Fourth-Every officer of a Court of Justice whose duty it is as such officer to investigate or report on any matter of law or fact, or to make, authenticate or keep any document, or to take charge or dispose of any property, or to execute any judicial process, or to administer any oath or to interpret, or to preserve order in the Court, and every person specially authorised by a Court of Justice to perform any of such duties,

CHAT XV: SEC 197

Fifth -Every Juryman, Assessor, or member of a Punchayet assisting a Court of Justice or public servant,

Sixth-Every arbitrator or the person to whom any cause or matter has been referred for decision or report by any Court of Justice, or by any other competent public authority, Seventh-Every person who holds my office by virtue of which he is empowered to place or keep any person in confinement.

Eighth-Every officer of Government whose duty it is as such officer, to pre vent offences, to give information of offence to bring offenders to justice, or to protect the public health, safety or convenience

Ninth-Livery officer whose duty it is, as such officer to take, receive, keep, or expend any property on behalf of Government, or to make any survey, assess ment, or contract on behalf of Government, or to execute any revenue process, or to investigate, or to report on any matter affecting the pecuniary interests of Government, or to make, authenticate, or keep any document relating to the pecuniary interests of Government, or to prevent the infraction of any law for the protection of the pecuniary interests of Government and every officer in the service or pay of Government or remunerated by fees or commission for the perform ance of any public duty,

Tenth-Livery officer whose duty it is as such officer, to take, receive, keep, or expend any property, to make any survey or assessment, or to levy any rate or tax for any secular common purpose of any village, town or district, to make, authen ticate, or keep any document for the ascertaining of the rights of the people of any village, town or district

Illustration

A Municipal Commissioner is a public servant

EXPLANATION 1 - Persons falling under any of the above descriptions are public servants, whether appointed by the Government or not

EXPLANATION 2 -Whenever the words public servant occur, they shall be understood of every person who is in actual possession of the situation of a public servant, whatever legal defect there may be in his right to hold that situation

The words 'not removable from his office &c ' refer only to the words ' public servant 12

Many public servants are removable from office without the sanction of Government For instance a police patel,2 a police officer, a ministerial officer of a Court and a subordinate revenue officer A Municipal Commissioner is a public servant, and is not removable from office except by an order of Government. In offence committed by such person in his espacity of Municipal Commissioner is therefore within the terms of S 197 But this exception does not apply to a Municipal Corporation who may be prosecuted without previous sanction 3

A large number of enactments both central and provincial now lay down that certain officials appointed under them shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Penal Code They are too numerous to mention

Nothing is an offence which is done by a Judge when acting judicially in the exercise of any power which is or which in good furth he believes to be, given to him by law ($ 77 Fenal Code)

No Magistrate or police-officer acting in good faith under Chapter IX of this Code, that is in the dispersing of an unlawful assembly shall be deemed to have committed in offence (S 132 ante)

<sup>6</sup> Mad H C R App xx1

Imp t Bhagwan Devry I L. R 4 Bom 357 Emp t Municipal Corporation of Calcutta, I L. R 3 Cal., 755, #### Sanction.

S 197 is absolute in its terms that no Court shall take cognizance of suboffence except with the previous sanction of the Local Government. Proceedings taken in respect of offences coming within S 107 are not cured by S 537, if they are without the necessary author ty Sanction must be in regard to some specific offence The Legislature intended that the authority to grant sanction should tale the responsibility of deciding that there were reasonable grounds for such a procution The delegation of such a power to a subordinate officer (a Collector) to select such charges as he may think to be likely to stand investigation is not a legal sanction under S 1971 When an order of Government sanctioned the proscution of a public servant on such charges as Mr C might be prepared to prefit against him and there was nothing to show that Mr C had preferred any charge against or taken any part in the prosecution of the accused public seriant, the conviction was quashed as without jurisdiction. The Bombay High Court has however held that a sanction granted under 5 106 was a legal sanction though it was expressed in general terms in regard to the offence $ See note to S 196 anti-

And where sanction was given under 5 197 to prosecute two village officials for cheating or for such other offence with which it may be necessary to procute them in connection with obtaining money from ryots' the same Court hed that the sanction was not invalid as the sanctioning authority had applied its mind to the facts of the case and had sufficiently indicated the offences which might be established 4

291

By whom sanction must have been given

Sanction must have been given by the Local Government. All orders of Local Governments delegating power to sanction to subordinate officers are now obsolete and the power of a superior court or authority has likewise disappeared

No notice to the person concerned is necessary before a sanction under S 197 can be given 8

Cases within S 197

The alteration of the terms in which this subject had been expressed in the Codes of 1.61 (S. 167) and 1872 (S. 466) caused some difficults, but it was pointed out that the sanction required by S. 197 relates to the commission of an offence by Judge or public search and the commission of an offence of the commission a Judge or public servant while acting in that capacity, and not to every act committed by a person who may happen to be a Judge or public servant. The offences contemplated by S 197 are only the special offences which may be committed by a public servant in his capacity as public servant, that is, offences which are peculiar to his position as public servant, or in which his being a public servant is a necessary element in the offence. So when a Vagistrate uses defamatory language in Court towards a Pleader, he is not acting as a Magistrate, and cone quently no sanction under S 197 to necessary to a complaint against him of that offence S 197 does not mean that a Judge or public servant is exempt from criminal liability for all acts, amounting to offences done while in his official capacity, unless sanction be obtained it means all offences committed while filling that character' or in other words "while acting or purporting to act in the discharge of his official duty " The recent amendment of the law now makes this clear

It has been also held that where a village Vagistrate separated two combatants

<sup>1</sup> Q Emp r Samavier I L. R 16 Mad 468

*\inaya\lambda Divakar 8 Bom H C R Cr 3*
*\inaya\lambda Divakar 8 Bom H C R Cr 3*
*\inaya\lambda Divakar 10 L R 22 Bom, 112
*\inaya\lambda Divakar 10 L R 43 Bom 147
*\inaya\lambda Laman I L R 43 Bom 147
*\inaya\lambda L R 12 \lambda 54
*\inaya\lambda Divakar 10 L R 25 \lambda 54
*\inaya\lambda L R 12 \lambda 125
*\inaya\lambda Bakar \lambda \lambda \lambda 125
*\inaya\lambda Bakar \lambda \lambda \lambda \lambda 125
*\inaya\lambda Bakar \lambda \lambda \lambda \lambda 125
*\inaya\lambda Bakar \lambda \lambda \lambda \lambda 125
*\inaya\lambda 125
*\inaya\lam

and was charged by one with our ing him hint, sandkin under S 197 was unrecessor 1 It has however, been hed to the one man that a sensition is recessor before a compain can be made again to Magi made I o defining out language towards a winness of a part." (It is case has since been considered and disare med by the same High Court? Where an effect of Government was charged with a breach of the Minnepal Act fir acting without a freeze, sunction under S 107 is unweessary the offerce not being the which could be committed only by a re big servant in a did it involve at one of its elements that it had been committed by a public servant.

It has also been held surfer the Code of 1801 that sampon is necessary for the prosecution of affences which read e to art, on in bir dire by a public servant, that is to acts which would have had no signification except as acid he by public servants.

Previous Sanction.

Proceeding taken without previous sanction where such is required by S. 107 are un hour juried even and un' nor be cared by sarction sub-or only channed." But where a p "c sevant to removable from his office without the surction of Government was comm "ed for mal by the High Court of Bumbay without previous earction under $ 107 it was bed " the authorship language of $ 107 is so strong in requiring a previous since in the lif no sentence has been obtained, there is no jurisdiction will under 5 was the Judge prevding over the Criminal Sestions has power in his discretion to accept a commitment made without such sanction and to proceed with the trial. It does not however, appear that object tion was made before commitment to the proceeding from that case the Court would have been composed to ona hith communitation A Nationalize Paul was noticed of certain offences of which a Court could not take regrizance without previous surction upder 5 for Acting on a Government Resolution and in accordance with the will be of the parties the Mag main committed him for that to the Court of Section Samula armed on the day the order of commitment was made. The commitment was qualled, as the persons proceedings of the Mag traile in the absence of sanction were without jurisdiction?

Any proceeding taken by a Mag trace malacut pressure scream must be regarded as a departmental inquire. So when a public services was charged with taking before and on security he I under orders of Government, the accuration was found to be false, the petitioner would not be currered under $ 211 Peral Code, of making a false charge succe the proceeding held on the inquire were not judi-cial and within the term of that section so a on constitute an offerce under it?

198 No Court shall take cognizance of an offence falling under Chapter XIX or Chapter XXI of the Prosecution Indian Penal Code or under sections 493 to breach of contract, def-496 (both inclusive) of the same Code except amation and off-nes stanut maurate. upon a complaint made by ome person

aggreered by such offence

handa Sami Chetta e Sou Gorndan I L P 23 3'ad 540 In re Gelan Valuemad I L R o Vad 40 Chant'er tag Coate h Emma

* Mm Come Madras r May Bell I L F 5 Mad 15-* Rev r Purcham Lechar - Rom F C R Crl fr Sec also Imp r Labelman

Sakharan I L R Beng and H C R Of Grade R Archin Reary Mai H C R Of Grade R L R Beng A Vern I L R o Beng and H C R Of Grade I L R per A Vern I L R o Beng and
'Emp r Rhanal testa I L R pr Beng tr
'Q Feng r hanwesta I L R pr Beng tr

" Provided that, where the person so aggrieved is a woman who, according to the customs and manners of the country, ought not to be compelled to appear in public, or where such person is under the age of eighteen years or is an idiot or lunatic, or is from sickness or infirmity unable to make a complaint, some other person may, with the leave of the Court, make a complaint on his or her hehalf "

See S 238 (3)

The offences here referred to relate to a Criminal breach of Contract (Chapter XIY), Defamation (Chapter XXI), Deceitfully causing a noman to cohabit with a man under the belief that she is lawfully married to him (S 403). Bigamy (S 494), Bigamy with concealment of the former marriage (S 495), Fraudulently going through a mock marriage (S 496) From the nature of all these offences, it is obvious that a Magistrate should not take cognizance of any of them except on a complaint of some person aggreered as they do not concern any one else, and they do not affect the public interests

The definition of complaint should be borne in mind "Complaint means the allegation made orally or in writing to a Magistrate, with a view to his taking action under the Code, that some person known or unknown has committed an offence, but it does not include the report of a police-officer "-[S 4 (h)]

Person Aggreeved

This must depend upon the nature of the offence and the special circumstances of each case Primarily in a case of defamation or bigamy of a wife the husband is the person aggrieved who shall alone complain to the Mogistrate. But cases may arise in which the complaint may be made by some other person not one who may have some fanciful or sentimental grievance but a grievance such as the law can appreciate It has been held that when the bigamy was that of the wife of a lunatic his father was competent to make a complaint to the Magistrate as a person aggreeved by the offence, being the head of the family whose reputation and status in society was seriously affected ! This ease is now met by the proviso Similarly it has been held by a Full Bench of the Bombry High Court that the husband is competent to complain as the person aggreeved, of defamation by the imputation against the chastity of his wife a

The proviso is new The law did not provide for the ease when the person aggrieved was a parda nashin woman a minor, an idiot or a lunatic, or was from sischness of infirmty unable to make a complaint. In these cases the proviso (inserted by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 3) enables any person, who obtains the leave of the Court to make a complaint. The Courts have already permitted his. and there is a certain amount of case law indicating the grounds on which the Courts should grant leave 2 But S 199A, must be read in this connection as limiting the power to grant leave In the case of minors and lunatics, if the person applying for leave is not a duly appointed guardian, notice must issue to the guardian, if there is one to the knowledge of the Court, before leve can be granted to any other persons

Defamation

In regard to a complaint by an officer of Government of definiation the following order has been acceed by the Government of India — No officer of Government is permitted to have re-course to the Courts for vindi

Daem Sardar 3 Cal L Chhota Lal I L R 25 Bom 151 Gabhayeswan Debi J I Charles Cal 19 Daem Sardar 3 Cal L J 38 Chhota Lal, 1 L R, 25 Bom 15

cation of his public acts or of his character as a public functionary from defama tory attacks upon it as it is for the Government to decide in each case whether the institution of proceedings is necessary or expedient

The Local Government will decide whether the circumstances are such that the Government shall bear the costs of the proceedings civil or criminal or leave the officer to institute the suit or prosecution at his own expense, and in the latter case it will also determine in the event of the matter being decided by the Court in the officer's favour whether he should be recouped by the Government the whole or any part of the costs of the action in connection with this subject 1. (It may be added that all officers of Government have been forbidden without the official consent in writing of the Local Government under whom they may serve, to communicate to the press any explanation or defence of their official conduct " Where in his written complaint to the Magistrate it appeared that the complainant had no intention of prosecuting any person for defamation, but accused certain persons of assault (S 352) and of using insulting language intended to provoke a breach of the peace (S 504) though he referred to definiatory articles in a newspaper published by those persons as the crusc of those offences it was held that this was not a complaint in which the Mag strate could proceed on a charge of defamation. The fact that in his examination, the complainant stated to the Magistrate first disclosing defamation which in the opinion of the Magis trate showed that it was of this offence that he really wished to complain was held not to be sufficient ground for the Magistrate proceeding to take cognizance of that offence 3

A witness cannot be prosecuted for defamation in respect of statements made by him when giving evidence in a judicial proceeding as they are privileged so are his mowers made to questions put by a police officer under S 161 and so is a statement made to a Magistrate conducting a departmental inquiry into the alleged misconduct of a public servant such person being entitled to the same protection no a witness unless such statement has been volunteered. But if a witness has made a statement irrelevant to the matter under inquiry or trial maliciously and not in reply to a question put to him by the pleader examining him he is not protected from prosecution for defamat on 8

When a married woman is defined by an imputation of unchastity the Magie trate may take cognizance of the offence on the complaint of the husband as he is the person agents ed by the offence $

The Calcutta High Court has extended the rule and held that the brother of a Hindu widow who has been defamed and who is living in his house and under his charge may male a complaint of defaming her?

Offences under Chapter XXI Penal Code may be compounded by the person defamed (S 345)

Bigamy (S 494 Penal Code)

The husband is the proper person to complain a tr the person with whom the second marriage has tallen place but not the brother of the husband even if the husband be a lunatic 10

Covt Ind Sept 5 1800 * Covt Ind May 20 1900

*Covt Ind Sept 5: 1800

*O Emp t Deckinandan I I R to All 39

*O Emp t Deckinandan I I R to All 39

Q Emp t Balkershna Vibal Ibal

573 Q Emp t Govand Pibal I L R 19 Nod 35

*Maddar All *Cil L J to 5

*Chellam Nando r Ramystami I L R 14 Usd 370 Chhota Iai v Nathabhai
I L R 14 Sp Bom 151 (F B) Anustha Goundan e h Emp 15 Mal L J 4 (ex)

27 1 3 3 3 5 5 5 5 5 6 5 6 1 M N S (s) L R 1 2 Cal 25 6

<sup>1</sup> Thakur Das Sur e Adhar Chundra 8 Cal W > 515 (sc.) | L R 3 Cal 425 Manjaya a I L R 11 Mad 477 R 12 Manjaya a I L R 11 Mad 477 L R 10 R 11 April 12 R 12 Manjaya a I L R 12 Manjaya a I L R 15 Manjaya a Manjaya

<sup>523</sup> Dep Leg RememIrancer v Sarna habina t L. R -6 Cal 336

The Calcutta High Court has however dissented from this case, holding that no flexible rule could be laid down but that it must depend upon the nature of the offence and the circumstances of each case whether the complanant is a person aggreed within the terms of S 1983 In this case the brother of the lunature might now obtain leave under the proviso

Powers of Court in appeal

By reason of the terms of $ 423 in regard to the powers of an appellate Court it has been held that notwithstanding $5 108 and the fact that no complaint of defamation had been made it was competent to that Court to after the finding and conviction of an accused under $5.18. Penal Code to one of defamation $7. But the terms of $5.108 are—'no Court shill take conjugance et; "which would seem to include a Court of Appeal for, unless that Court had taken cognizance of the offence, it could not convict on a thrige of it. On a complaint of seduction ($408) Penal Code), a Magistrate may inquire into and commit for bigamy ($439). The object of $5.708 is to prevent a Magistrate of his own motion inquiring into casts of marriage, unless the husband or other authorised person complains but once a case is properly before a Magistrate he may proceed against any person implicated $5.000.

No Court shall take cognizance of an offence under section 497 or section 498 of the Indian Penal

Prosecution for Section 497 or Section 498 of the Indian February adultery or enteng a adultery or enteng a adultery or enteng a louder of the Code, except upon a complaint made by the hushand of the woman, or, in his absence, made with the leave of the Court by some person who had care of such woman on his hehalf at the time when such offence was committed

"Provided that, where such husband is under the age of eighteen years, or is an idiot or lunatic, or is from sickness or infirmity unable to make a complaint, some other person may, with the leave of the Court, make a complaint on his hehalf."

See S 238 (2) S 497, Penal Code, relates to adultery, and S 498 to the entering away of a married woman These offences may be compounded by the Person entitled to complain (S 345 bost)

A specific compliant of an offence under S 497 or S 498 of the Penal Code by a person completed under this section is necessary before proceedings can be taken S 238 (3) expressly affirms this

The proviso is new, having been introduced by S 52 of the amending Act No XVIII of 1923. The law his also been altered in that a person having the care of a woman on the husband's behalf will now require the leave of the Court to make a complaint The cases which laid down that no complaint could be lodged in an adultery case on behalf of a minor husband are thus rendered obsolver.

Adultery (S 497, Penal Code)

A complaint of rape does not give jurisdiction to 113 a charge of adultery. It by no means follows as a necessary consequence that because a husband may wash to punish a person who has committed a rape upon his wife, that is, who has had connection with her against her consent, he will desire to continue proceedings

<sup>1</sup> Daem Sard vr 3 Cal L J 38 2 Emp v Gur Naram Prasad I L R 25 All 534 3 In re Ujjala Bevar I Cal L R, 523

when it turns out that she has been a willing and consenting party to the act. The fact that he may be a witness on the complaint of rape will not enable the Magistrate to add an alternative charge of adultery wilhout a formal complaint of that offence

When after the commitment of a woman on a charge of adultery the husband divided it was observed that although it is no doubt desirable that on the death of the husband the aggreed party the charge of adultery should be withdrawn, it cannot be said that the death puts an end to the prosecution. That was a case under the Code of 1861. The offence of adultery is now compoundable (S 345).

The complaint of the husband is not necessary for proceedings in respect of the offence of house trespass to comm t adultery

Seduction of a Married Woman (S 498, Penal Code)

This offence presents very little difference from an offence under S 366, Penal Code (abducting a woman in order that she may be seduced to ill cit intercourse or knowing that she may be seduced to ill cit intercourse). So it has been held by the Calcutta High Court that where the husband has complained of an offence under S 496 a convict on under S 496 may be had if the evidence be such as to justify the conviction of that minor offence and jet insufficient for the graver one for such a cross comes within S 236 of this Code. The intention of the law is to prevent Magistrates from inquiring on their own motion into cases connected with marriage or to tall e any action unless the husband or some other person moves them to do so and this principle has not been contravenid.

This ease has been doubled by the Calcutta High Court 4 and disapproved by the Madras High Court which held that a complant must have been expressly made by the husband of an offence under Signature of the and not on general terms before proceedings can be taken by the Magistrate 3.

But under $ 366 of the Penni Code in a case instituted on a police report where the husband of the woman in giving evidence asl of the court to drop proceedings under $ 360 as he inlended to prosecute the accused under $ 498 the husband was held to have made a complaint for the purposes of $ 199 at 199 and 199 are the purposes of $ 199 at 199

Section 199A applies to this section also. It does not cover all the cases intended to be met by the proviso to S 199 but deals only with cases where the husband is a m nor or a lunate.

199A When in any case falling under section 198 or section 199, the person on whose behalf guardian it complaint is sought to be made is by person extensive that under the age of eighteen years or is a lunatic, and the person applying for leave has not been appointed or declared by competent authority to be the garadian of the person of the sud minor or hundre, and the Court is satisfied that there is a guardian so appointed or declared, notice shall be given to such guardian, and the Court shall, before granting

* Imp t Bhawans Dat I L R 38 Ml -,6

&lt;sup>1</sup> Impress ( Kullu I L R 5 All 233 Clemon Caro ( Emp J L R 29 Cal 15 (sc) 6 Cul W 77 Bangaru Asan I I R 27 Vad 61 Wer 3 5 contra Subz Ab Pan Rec 187 p 3 (for Titrputrick and Lindsav

R 5 3 *Q Lm<sub>1</sub> v Situnath Mandal I L R Cal 2006 (2020) * Nungriu v Emp I L R -7 Mad 61

the application, give him a leasonable opportunity of objecting to the granting thereof

This section was enacted by Act No VIII of 1923, S 53. In providing for the making of a complaint with the lenve of the Court in cases of disability on the part of the person aggreeved the Legislature has recognised the necessity for safeguarding the interests of legally constituted guardians. It is to be noticed however that it is only a guardian of the person to whom notice is to be given when the Court is proposing to give leave to some other person to make a complaint he law does not concern itself with a guardian of the property of the person under a disability. In dealing with applications for leave the Court would certainly inquire, first, if the person applying is a legally appointed guardian, and if not, whether such a guardian exist. If it is not then brought to the notice of the Court that there is a guardian leave given would not be rendered invalid should a guardian appear after the complaint had been lodged.

CHAPTER XVI

OF COMPLAINTS TO MAGISTRATES

This Chapter declares the procedure to be followed by a Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of an offence upon a complaint made to him of facts which constitute that offence—[S 190 (1) (ci)]. It does not relate to the procedure of a Magistrate taking cognizance of an offence on a police report of such facts, or on information received from any person other than a police-officer or upon his own knowledge or suspicion thit such offence has been committed [S 190 (1) (b) and (c). In such cases a Magistrate would proceedings benefit provided in regard to the nature of the case, and the judicial proceedings benefit held (a) whether it is a summons case (Chapter XX) or (b) whether it is a warrant case (Chapter XXI) or (d) whether it is a warrant case (Chapter XXI) or High Court of Session or High Court (Chapter XXIII)

200. ** * * A Magistrate taking cognizance of an Examination of offence on complaint shall at once examine the complainant upon oath, and the substance of the examination shall be reduced to writing and shall be signed by the complainant, and also by the Magistrate

Provided as follows -

- (a) when the complaint is made in writing, nothing herein contained shall be deemed to require a Magistrate to examine the complainant before transferring the case under section 192.
  - [(aa) when the complaint is made in writing, nothing herein contained shall be deemed to require the exaministion of a complainant in any case in which > the complaint has been made by a Comt or by a public servant acting or purporting to act in the discharge of his official duties, ]

ORAT ANI SEC 200

- (b) where the Magistrate is a Presidency Magistrate, such examination in is by on eath or not as the Migistrate in each case thinks ht, and where the complaint is made in writing need not be reduced to writing, but the Manistrate may at he thinks fit, before the matter of the complaint is brought before him, require it to be reduced to weeting
  - (c) when the case has been translerred under section 192 and the Magistrate so transferring it has already examined the complumint, the Magistrate to whom it is so transferred shall not be bound to re examine the complainant

the words 'subject to the provisions of Section 470 have been amitted by the Amending Act No Will of 1933 S 54 which inserted the proviso (aa) A Magistrate acting under S 476 as it should be fore imendment sent the case to the nearest Vintistrate of the first class, and the latter then proceeded is on complaint made to him, now the law requires the Court using under S 476 to male a formal complaint in writing But is before proviso (22) declares that the complainant ared not be examined andted at is difficult to understand how a court" could be examined on oath. Where me reover a public servent mail es a complaint under S 195 (1) (1) he need not be examined. So also a public servant might be acting in the discharge of his official duties in lodging a complaint under authority delegated to him under S and nr S tofA or with the sanction of the Local Government under 5 197 In these cases too no examination of the complainant is necessary, though in every case it would seem that there is nothing to prevent such committeen if the Migistrate tal ing cognizance thinks it desirable

Complaint means the allegation made orally or in writing to a Magistrate, with a view to his taking action under this Code, that some person whether known or unl nown has committed an offence, but it does not include the report of a police officer-S 4 (1), unless the Magistrate at once makes over the complaint, that is the case, under S 192 to a subordinale Magistrate, he is required at once to examine the complainant upon oath reducing the examination to writing except where the complaint itself is made in writing. He will thus escert in the nature of the complaint and whether it amounts to a summing of wirring case. If the person is unlinown, the Magistrate will enlinarily rader police investigation. If he is known the Magistrate will a verpt in a raise to mind within $ 202, issue a process for his allendance

Presidence Mag strate, District Magistrate Sub-divisional Magnetic, or any other Magistrate especially empowered by the Lical Government or the District Magistrati on that behalf is competent to take cognitione of an offence upon a complaint made to him (S 190) If a Majestrit not empented in that behalf errateously in good fight (that is actual with due can and attention S 52, Penal C di) tales cognizance of an effective on complaint, his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being as entry were -(S 5°0)

Is a general rul and person bright I makelige of the commission of offence man set the law in m to n ly a complicate even though he se personally interested or affected by that offence Except Ss 198 199 there is nothing in the Code showing an intention to limit this to persons directly indured.

But if a complamant has no personal knowledge the Magistrate cannot proceed upon his complaint unless it is supplemented by the statement of some person having personal knowledge of the matters forming the substance of the complaint. The proceedings cannot be regarded as upon 'information received by him or upon his own knowledge or suspicion that an offence had been committed as he had held the trial himself which under S 191 he was not committed unless he had given the recised an opportunity to object."

The Magistrate on receiving a complaint should first of all satisfy himself that his jurisdiction is not barred by some special provision of law requiring previous sanction or a complaint made by some particular person or authority before he can act as for instance if the complaint is of any of the offences mentioned in S 142 or Ss 195-199 of this Cole There are also several offences under local or special laws which provide that no prosecution of each offences shall be entertuned without some previous sanction amongst which may b mentioned Act XI of 1878 (The Arms Act) S 19 Act II of 1899 (The Stamp Act) S 70 Act VI of 1898 (The Post Office Act) S 7, Act 11 of 1896 (The Excise Act) S 57 Act I of 1889 (The Metal Tokens Act) S 50, Act VI of 1908 (The Registration Act) S 83 Act VII of 1927 (The Emigration Act) S 28 Bom Act I of 1877 (The Bombay Vaccination Act) S 26, Bom Act IV of 1879 (The Kar ichi Vaccination Art) S o Act \ of 1923 (The Paper Currency Act) If he finds that ne such objection exists on the facts made known to him he can take cognizance of the offence—see S 190 (1) But before he proceeds to deal with the offence judicially or to transfer the case to some other Magistrate under S 192 he must satisfy himself that the offence can under Chapter XV be inquired into or tried by the Local Criminal Courts It may be that the offence should be dealt with jud civily by a Criminal Court in another district (5 187) or the offence may have been committed in a Native State by someone who is within his local jurisdiction in these instances in the ends of justice the Magistrate may issue a warrant to secure the attendance of the accused before a Magistrate dily empowered to act. If either of the parties is an European British subject the Magistrate should bear in mind Chapters XXIII and XLIV A and sections

S 190 empowers certain Mag strates to take cognizance of an offence upon receiving a complaint of facts which constitute that offence A complaint may he made orally or in writing and if made orally the written record of the statement of frets would be contained in the examination of the complainant reduced o writing under S 200 Where it e written complaint set out no facts but merely stated that certain persons had committed an offence spec fied it was regarded by Mool erjea J as a colourable compliance with the Statute so that the Magistrate could not exercise his judgment whether he should issue process for the attendance of the accused But it is on the examination of the complainant which he is bound to make that he so acts and any such omission in the written complaint will be supplied by the examina Moreover a written complaint is notoriously a document not carefully drived by a legal practitioner but by a petition writer of the love t class of hangers-on at a Magistrate's Court. The omission in it of any state ment of fact is presumedly evidence of careless preparation rath r than of any attempted fraud which would be nullified by the examination of the complast Marcover 5 537 declares that no order should be revised on account of any error, omission or irregularity in the complaint has in fact occasioned a failure of justice

OHAP XVI SEO 200

unless it

Court Fees

A petition of complaint of a non-cognizable offence or of wrongful confinement or wrongful restraint shall bear a stimp of eight annas—Act VII of 1870. (The Court Fees Act) Sch. II Art. I and S. 18. And if the complaint of such an offence be not by written petition the complaint is shall pay a fee of eight annas on his examination by a Magistrate that is to say before issue of process. The Magistrate however is competent to remit such payment—Ibid. S. 18.

Exemptions from payment of Court Fees

A complaint of a public servant as defined by the Indian Penal Code and a complaint made to a police-officer, the head of a village or the village police in the Pesdences of Vardars and Bombay are exempted from such payments

A complaint of a cognizable offence unless it be of wrongful restraint or

A complaint of a cognizable wrongful confinement requires no Court fee

If fees for issuing process for the attendance of the accused are not paid within a reasonable time the Magistrate may dismiss the complaint [S 204 (3)]

A Magistrate is bound to receive all complaints whether oral or in writing

A Magistrate to whom a complaint has been made is not competent except under S 201 to return it to the complaining with instructions to present it to another Court having jurisdiction. He is bound himself to receive the complaint and dispose of it according to law unless he transfers it under S 197 to some other Magistrate having jurisdiction.

He can return a complaint only when he is not competent to take cognizance of the offence complained of (S 201) not because another Magistrate is also competent. He may however transfer such a cree to mother Magistrate sub ordinate to him—(S 192). This Code does not apply to heads of villages in the Madras Presidency [S 1 (2)] so a complaint cannot be transferred to the head of a village.

A Magistrate taking cognizance of an offence on a complaint is bound to examine the complainant and thus to hear him. Having done so, he can act in any manner provided by law !

When a complaint is made to a Magistrate the complainant ordinarily undertakes to prove it. It is therefore for the Magistrate to hear the case. It is only when from the facts stated it appears that an investigation by the Police will be likely to obtain evidence of which the complainant may not be possessed that an investigation should be ordered. It should be recollected that a complaint of a cognizable offence can always be made to the Police who have power to investigate it and the law, ($ 157) declares that in some offences of this class the Police may ibstain from holding an investigation. By complaining to a Magistrate directly of a cognizable offence a complument shows that he desires to avoid the inconvenience and delay consequent on a police investigation and if the offence is one which the complainant undertakes to prove an order for a police investigation is both ventious and unnecessary ? If moreover the offence complained of is a non-cognizable offence, an order for police investigation is still more unnecessary. Still it must be recollected that after the examination of the complainant, the Magistrate may after he has recorded his reasons abstain from further action in the nature of judicial proceedings and may either inquire into the case himself or if he is not a Magistrate of the third class direct a previous local investigation to be made by any officer subordinate to him or by

° In re Jankidas Guru Sitaram I L.R. 1° Bom. 161

Umer Ali i Safer Ali I I R 13 Cal 334 Haladhar Bhurup r S I Police Hura 9 C W N 109

a police officer, or by such other person, as he thinks fit for the purpose of ascertaining the truth or falsehood of the complaint (S 202) The object of this is evidently to avoid harassing the person accused by requiring him to attend before the Magistrate when prima facte the truth of the complaint is doubtful

A Vlagistrate may also refuse to take cognizance of an offence complained of if after examination of the complainant, he finds that the act complained of causes or was intended to cause or is I nown to be likely to cause harm so slight that no person of ordinary sense and temper would complain of such harm-(S os Penal Code) See also S 201

Examination of the complainant

The complaint being in order in regard to the payment of Court fees (if necessary) and the offence charged being one within the jurisdiction of the Magistrate he should examine the complainant on oath unless the Magistrate should think proper in the distribution of business at once to transfer the case (S 192) to some Magistrate subordinate to him. In such a case the Magistrate to whom the case is transferred need not re examine if the complainant has already been examined on oath-S 200(c) An exception is made when a com plaint is made by a Civil Criminal or Revenue Court of certain offences com mitted before it or brought to its notice in the course of a judicial proceeding In such a case it is unnecessary to examine the complainant who is some judicial officer under whose order the proceedings have been taken Also when a public servant males a complaint while acting or purporting to act in the discharge of his official duties (cf Ss 195 (1) (a) 196, 196A, 197) he need not be examined (proviso (aa))

The law is not complied with by tilling a petition of complaint as presented and asking the complainant to swear to it and sign it. The substance of the examination is by law required to be reduced to writing and it is obvious that the writing must be and was intended to be distinct from the petition of complaint a

The examination of the complainant is not to be a mere form but an intelligent inquiry into the subject matter of the complaint, carried far enough to enable the Magistrate to exercise his judgment so as to determine whether there is or is not sufficient ground for proceeding

The examination of the complainant is no mere fomality. It is the result of the examination which ought to lead the Magistrate to determine whether he will put the machinery of the Criminal Court in motion by the issue of a process to cause the accused person to appear before him

The preliminary examination of a complainant if properly made will frequently result in the summary dismissal of a complaint and save an innocent person from the trouble and annoyance of appearing at the bar of a Criminal Court In the interests of the public as well as with a view to the rapid des patch of work the careful observance of the law in this particular is incumbent on every Magistrate

The examination of a complainant should be recorded at once that is without delay, and on oath and before issue of process. It must also be signed by the complainant and by the Magistrate

A Presidency Magistrate is not bound to reduce the examination of a com plainant to writing nor is he bound to examine the complainant on oath He may however require a complaint to be made in writing—IS 200 Prov (b)] But if a warrant for the arrest of the accused is issued, it is obviously desirable that the Vingistrate should have before him some sworm exami nation in writing to show the grounds upon which the arrest has been ordered

* Kesri v Muhammad Buksh I L R 18 All 221 per Knox and Blur J J, differ ing from Murphy, I L R o All 666 per Mahmood I

When the complication has been examined, radical proceedings have commerced

On revision the High Court for the Sessions Judge may direct the District Wisistrate by himself or by any of the Magastrales subordante to him to make, and the District Magistrate may himself make or direct any Subordinate Magis trate to made forther mooney and any complaint which has been dismissed under 5 '03 or S '04 (1) (5 436)

A petition implicating the place rep t and priving that the accused be placed on trial is a complaint a

A committed she t sent to Magistrate under the Instructions issued by the Commissioner I Salt Kevenue for the gualance of subordinate officers continuing a definite regress to the Wigistr to to try the accused for offences set cut is a complaint

A recommendation by a place fliter for a prosecution under 5 211 of the Penal Code in a rep rt which duly comes bef re a Magistrate is a complaint for the purposes of S 105 (1) (1) But where a Civil Court prop betructed in the exercise of his daties merely lodged information at the p lice station, there was no complaint and consistions under S 180 Penal C de were set aside 4

The words at once up $ 200 indicate that a complaint multi-reducedly be presented in person 5

If a Magistrate dismisses a compliant without complying with the priva-

sions of $5 200 and 202 his order is illegal 6

A conviction is not vitigle by a Magistrale issuing pricess before examining the complaining if the accused are not shown to have been an any way prejudi

ced by the irregularity

The police took no action iin a report of guesous hurt, and the complainants went to the Magistrate who without examining them summened the arrused after seeing the p hie papers. On the data fixed the accused wire discharged in the absence of the complianants but in the litter appearing later in the day the Magistrate resumm ned the news d and converted them. It was held that the Magistrate's action was inegular but did not situate the while proceedings $

There is nothing in the Code to prevent a Magistrate from entertaining a second complaint after an order of discharge by another Magistrates, or by himself 10

(1) If the complaint has been made in writing to a Procedure by Magis- Magistiate who is not competent to take Irate not compelent to cognizance of the case, he shall return the take cognizance of the complaint for presentation to the proper Court with an endorsement to that effect

(a) If the complaint has not been made in writing Magistrate shall direct the complainant to the proper Court

Gang dhar Prailion + Emt I L. R 43 Cal 1-3 Sadhu Charan R v 11-1 1

Plagi Sahur K lmp rlat L | 5) 3 ( ** Plays Sahur K Imp 1 Lat L J 5)

** Dibu Sughi Fmp 1 I K jo Cu Go see al o Water Chrisph Din Crewi I L (Lah 159 and K Imp 1 S h 1 L R 56 hom 150

** Kahdrek Kurma 1 Imp 1 I R 30 Cul 55

** Abdreyew in D I: 1 I 1 4 Col 10

** Lolenth Pitter 1 I R 30 Cul 63

** Lolenth Pitter 1 I R 30 Cul 64

** Fmp 1 Rivel ne I I 1 1 Put 1 J 50

** Fmp 1 Rivel ne I I 1 N Dearka Nuh Mendal I I P 58 Col 66

** Fmp 1 Rivel ne I I N Dearka Nuh Mendal I I P 58 Col 66

Bijon Singh i I mp + Pit I J 34 Dwarks Nith Wendal I I P +8 Cal Co (S C) 5 Cal W A 45

<sup>14</sup> Mir Almed Il recin 1 I R - 1 Cal 7 ( ( C ) 6 Cal 1 1 \ 13 39

A subordinate Magistrate of the second or third class may be empowered by the Local Government or the District Magistrate to take cognizance of an offence on a complaint made to him (Sch 1V), though him any not be competent to hold an inquiri under Chapter XVIII, or the trial, because he is not competent to commit to the Court of Session or High Court (S 206 and S 44) or to try the offence complained of (Sch II, col 8) But in such a case, he should probably issue process returnable to a competent Magistrate hring jurisdiction to at If however he is without local jurisdiction (Chapter XV) or the complaint has been made without sanction from some particular artifory or person (Ss 11s 19), he should act under S 201, and return the complant

But a refusal to act on this ground is no bar to a subsequent complaint with proper sanction

A Magistrate may also refuse to act on a complaint, if the acts complained of do not amount to an offence but relate to a dispute cognizable only by the Civil Court, or if the offence complained of its such that it causes or is intended to cause or that it is known to be likely to cause, any harm which is so slight that no person of ordinary sense and Jemper would complain of such harm-5 50 Penal Code

202 (1) Any Magistrate, on receipt of a compliant of an Postponement for offence of which he is authorised to take cognizance, or which has been transferred to him under section 192, may, if he thinks fit, for reasons to be recorded in writing, postpone the issue of process for compelling the attendance of the person compliant against, and ether inquire into the case himself, or, if he is a Magistrato other thin a Magistrate of the third class, direct an inquiry or investigation to be made by any Magistrate suboidinate to him, or by a police-officer or by such other person as he thinks fit, for the purpose of ascertaining the truth of falsehood of the complaint

Provided that save where the complaint has been made by a Court, no such direction shall be made unless the complainant has been examined on orth under the provisions of section 200

- (2) If any inquiry or investigation under this section is made by a person not being a Magnetrate or a police-officer, such person shall exercise all the powers conferred by this Code on an officer in charge of a police-station, except that he shall not have power to arrest without warnant
- (2A) Any Magistrate inquiring into a case under this section may, if he thinks fit, take evidence of witnesses on oath.
- (3) This section applies also to the Police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay

the did law certain brighterities could postpone process, if not statisfied as it the truth of a complaint and could inquire into the case themselves, or have a previous local investigation made. Under the new lay any Magistrate can postpone process and make an inquiry himself, or (unless he is a Magnitrate of the third class) can direct in inquiry or investigation (not merely a Leal investigation) to be made by a subordinate Magistrate or a police-officer or other person It is not only when the Magistrate is not satisfied as to the truth of a complaint that he can take ction under the section. Indeed it is difficult to see how a Vigistrate could ever be satisfied after reading a complaint, and examining a complainant of whom he I nows nothing that the complaint was true. But at the same time action is I len, for the purpose of ascertaming the truth or lalschood of the complime. As the new section is worded there is nothing in it to require the compliminat to be examined before the Magnitrate proceeds to male an inquity himself, but in view of the provisions of 5 200 which requires the complainant to be examined at once on cognizance being taken, there is probably no change in the law in this respect. A Magnetrate receiving a complaint and proceeding to inquire into it could hardly be said not to have taken cognizance. No direction i.e. fur an inquiry or investigation by a Magistrate, police-officer or other person can be mide when the complaint has been made by a Court 10 under 5 195 (1) (b) or (c) But in such a case the Magistrate can postpone process and make in inquiry himself. As to the effect of the introduction of the word inquiry int the section see note below The new sub-section ( 1) now makes it clear that a Magistrate inquiring into a case under this section can take evidence on oath it will be seen that a Majorithe of the third class counts order a local investigation under subsection (1) but he may be directed by a superior Magistrate to hold one

S \(\frac{1}{2}\), which corrisponds tory closely with 5 202, declares that no policeofficer shall investigate a non-cognizable case without the order of a Magliss rate of the first or second class having powe to try such case or commit the same for trial or of a Presidency Maggistrale Under 5 350 (b) If any Magliss trate, not empowered by law to order the Police under 5 350 (b) If any Magliss trate, not empowered by law to order the Police under 5 350 (b) If any Magliss officers, erroricusly in good fulli, passes such an order 5 350 (b) If any Magliss not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being the proceedings shall exclusion of all Magistrates of the third class is remarkeable set they may in plaint, and yet. In Agustrate so empowered cannot be empowered by a twinter of fact, a Magistrate of the third class is remarkeable case they may be a supported by the competency of sentence (See 5 3).

their powers of sensing templatinal a Magistrate is bound to examine the templatinant, on receiving templatinal and to reduce his examination to writing unless he transfer it. Less v and ther ladgestrate in which case, that Magistrate is shadle examine the templatinal taking further proceedings (S. 200). If he finds, that he has no finds that he take of the offence complained of the solid return the templatin for presentation to a complete Court (S. 201) or (a) he can survey distinct the complaint for resons to be recorded (S. 201) or (b) he can survey distinct the templating the templating the templating the templatinal templating the templatinal templating the templating the templating the templating the templating and the survey of the process to a complaint (S. 201) and the process (S. 201) and the process necised on a day lives for complete to dismiss a complete with the complement! See rulings cited under 5 no. 2 the literature for permit the accused person to submit a report or submit to him

<sup>1</sup> Salya Charan Ghose r Chairman Utterpara Manarat 1 Ical W N r nath Mahato 4 Cal W \ 305 Haladbar Bhump r S I B 1 11/12/20 W

version of the matter under complaint before taking action on the complaint

would be to put him in possession of information likely to influence him in the trial and behind the back of the complainant 1

When without examining a complainant, the Magistrate ordered an investi gation and on the police report refused to act in the ease, and the complainant asked for a judicial inquiry, it was held that it could not be refussed. After the accused has appeared on service of process and witnesses are in attendance a Magistrate is not competent to stay proceedings and order a local investiga tion. He is bound to proceed with the trial 3

A Magistrate cannot make a complaint over to a subordinate Magistrate for inquiry without examining the complainant 4

After he has examined the complainant a Magistrate cannot suspend further action and report the matter for the orders of the District Magistrate, because that officer directed that he should do so when a complaint is made of the class of offence complained of Such a direction is illegal 5 But if he has not suspended his proceedings and has proceeded either under S 202 or 204 there seems to be no reason why he may not report the matter to the District Magis trate who is then at liberty, for reasons to be recorded by him, to withdraw the case for trial by himself or to transfer it to some other Magistrate competent to hold the trial (S 528)

A Magistrate is bound to record his reasons for postponing issue of process for the attendance of the person complained against, so as to show that he has exercised a reasonable discretion, and in this respect to satisfy the High Court as a Court of Revision 7 The failure of a Magistrate to record his reasons is an irregularity and unless it has in fact occasioned a failure of justice, it is not a sufficient ground for setting aside an order dismissing a com plaint after local investigation *

When the matter complained of is merely a private fraud a Magistrate might be justified in refusing to listen to a complainant who is used as a tool by persons seeking to set justice in motion from a corrupt motive but when the offence is against a public interest in so far as it affects the purity of the administration of justice, the truth of the complaint and the amount of evidence of crime it discloses are alone to be considered and not the absence of personal injury to the complainant and the fact of his being a mere instrument in the hands of others. The Magistrate should not allow himself to be influenced by considerations altogether apart from the facts adduced by the complainant in support of the charge. It is not for the Magistrate to consider the motive which may have sufficient as the consider the motive consideration of the charge of the motive consideration of the charge of the motive consideration of the charge of the consideration of the charge of the consideration of the charge of the which may have influenced the complaint It is rather for him to consider whether prind facie a trustworthy compliant of an offence has been made against the accused

It is irregular to dismiss a complaint for the reasons that there was grown delay in filing it and that the charges seemed to be made for ulterior and Improper motives 10 Such circumstances are not revelant at that stage

&lt;sup>1</sup> Satya Charan Ghose v Chairman Utterpara Municipality 3 Cal W 17 Budds Nath Singh i Muspratti L R 14 Cal 141 <sup>1</sup> Kuding Sahai i Budhan I L R 29 Cal 410

Ramkant Sircar v Jadab 21 W R Cr 44 See also Sadagopacharyar v Ragavi

I L R 9 Mad 252

* Valhadeo Singh v Q Emp I L R 27 Cal 921

* Fan Busan Banerice 10 Cal W N 1086

* Baidya Nath Singh v Muspratt I L R 14 Cal 141 Q Emp v Kanappa Pilla I L. R 20 Mad 387

Inoniry or investigation.

An investigation includes all the proceedings under this Code for the collection of evidence conducted by a police officer or by any person (other than a Magistrate) who is authorised by a Migistrate in this behalf (S 3 (1)) It may be noted that the word inquiry which also has a special definition was nor used until the Code was amended in 1923. The result was a want of definitiveness in respect f the character of the proceedings if the investigation was to be conducted by a Magistrate. The investigation, if conducted by a police officer or s me other person (not a Magistrate or police officer) clearly cannot be judicial that is t say any person examined cannot be examined on onth The new use of the wird inquiry implies that an inquiry under this section by a Magistrite would be judicial (cf. S. 159). The Calcutta High Court had held that an investigate n under S 202 of held by a Macistrate was judicial and that consequently he could take action under $ 476 if he found the complaint to be false! The amendment of the section places the character of the proceedings beyond doubt

A subordinate Magistrate holding a local inquiry under S 202 is not com petent to examine the accused and record his statement as the accused has not been proceeded against and is therefore not before him as such Any statement to recorded is n t recorded under 5 164 or $ 364 and is therefore not admissible as evidence under S So of the Evidence Act in a trial subse quently held. It may if relevant, be proved by oral evidence to have been made !

The necused should not be made a party to a proceeding under S 202 or by allowed to cross examine the prosecution witnesses or to adduce evidence for

If a Magistrate after examining the complainant is not satisfied that process should issue he can order a police investigation and if thereafter he is dissatisfied with the materials he can personally make a further inquiry and take evidence but he cannot direct an inquiry by another Magistrate The Allahabad High Court however seems to have held that under S 200 a Magis trate may either inquire himself, or direct in inquiry or investigation. He cannot combine the two procedures and if after commencing an inquiry himself he directs an investigation and suffers his mind to be influenced prejudically to the occused by the results of the investigation his proceedings will be vitinted a This dictum is contained in the order of the Sessions Judge referring the ease in revision it is not clear from the report whether the High Court Judge (Lindsay I) agreed. He mushed the proceedings "for the reasons given" by the Sessions Judge

A Magistrate is competent to proceed against accused persons not named in the original complaint where complicity in the offence is disclosed by evidence taken under S 200 and he talkes cognizance against such persons under cl (a) and not cl (c) of S 190 (1) 4 A direction under S 201 for the police to investigate a cognizable case dies not dob in them from exercising their powers of arrest and investigation? When a Magistrate after filling cognizance makes an order to investigate not nuthorised by law, such order does not vitrate the proceedings

The practice of indiscriminately ordering police investigations on complaints made especially in non cognizable cases has been generally condemned 1

A complaint against an officer of the Police should not be referred to his superior officer for investigation 3

The law does not prevent a Magistrate who has held an investigation under S 20° from proceeding to hold the trial. It is only when he has taken an active part in the arrest of the occused or in the collection of evidence, that he is disqualified under S 336 from trying the accused the disqualifying interest resulting from a purely official connection with the initiation of proceedings. See however S 556 of this Code amending the previous law and declaring that a Magistrate shall not be deemed to be a party to or personally interested, within the meaning of that section in any case by reason only that he is concerned therein in a public capacity or by reason only that he has viewed the place in which an offence is alleged to have been committed or any other place in which any other transaction material to the case is alleged to have occurred and made an inquiry in connection with the case

The Magistrate before whom a complaint is made or 203 Dismissal of com to whom it has been transferred, may dismiss the complaint, if, fafter considering the state ment on oath (if any) of the complument and the result of the investigation or inquiry (if any) under section 2021, there is in bis judgment no sufficient ground for proceeding. In such case he shall briefly record his reasons for so doing

S 203 was not clearly expressed, and the amendment made by Act No WIII of 1923 S 56, still leaves room for ambiguity. The words "the statement on oath (if any) mean the statement except where such statement is not required under the provisos to S 200. The section however enables a Magistrate sum marily to dismiss a complaint if after examining the complainant, there is in his judgment no sufficient ground for proceeding but he is required to state briefly his reasons for passing the order If the Magistrate has, under S 20°, ordered an investigation he should in the presence of the complainant or his pleader consider the report of such investigation together with the examination of the complainant and he can then dismiss the complaint for reasons recorded by him

The dismissal of a complaint under S 203 is not an acquittal so as to bar subsequent proceedings (S 403 explanation) A superior Court, such as the High Court, the Sessions Judge or the District Magistrate may order further inquiry to be made into any complaint which has been dismissed under S 203 (S 436)

The question has arisen whether, until such an order has been obtained an order of dismissal is not a bar to further proceedings on a complaint made to that or any other Magistrate and it was so held in several reported cases by the Calcutta High Court These cases have been considered by a Full Bench of that Court the effect of which his been to hold conclusively that there is no such bar and that a Magistrate competent to talle cognizance of an offence on a complaint of facts which constitute such offence (S 190 (1) (a) can act on a fresh complaint made to him notwithstanding that no order setting uside the order of discharge and ordering further inquiry under S 437 may have been passed 5

&lt;sup>1</sup> In re Jankidas Guru <sup>2</sup>ituram I L R 12 Born 161 <sup>2</sup> Haladhar Bhomp 1 <sup>2</sup> I Pohce Hura 9 C W N 199 Q Fmp 1 Kanappa Pilla

| L. R. 20 Mad 357 |
| L. R. 20 Mad 357 |
| Aning's Chunder Singh p. Bissi Madh I. L. R. 24 Cal. 267 Brui Midhab Rey |
| B. Ree Singh 17 W. R. 2 |
| L. R. 20 Cal. 26 (8 c.) 6 Cal. W. N. R. 23 Cal. 267 (8 c.) 5 Cal. W. N. 45" |
| Cuptands I. I. R. 27 Rom. 86 |
| Cuptands I. I. R. 27 Rom. 86 |
| Cuptands I. I. R. 27 Rom. 86 |
| Cuptands I. I. R. 27 Rom. 86 |
| Cuptands I. I. R. 27 Rom. 86 |
| Cuptands I. I. R. 27 Rom. 86 |
| Cuptands I. I. R. 27 Rom. 86 |
| Cuptands I. I. R. 27 Rom. 86 |
| Cuptands I. R. 28 Rom. 86 |
| Cuptands II R. 28 Rom. 86 Rom. 86 Rom. 86 Rom. 86 Rom

p 86

The same opinion has been expressed by a Full Bench of the Madras High Court! The Allahabad High Court has held that the Court which dismissed the complaint was competent to proveed on a fresh complaint? but it has also held that, though that Court may do so another Court of coordinate powers was not competent as it was contrart to sound principles that one Magistrate of co-ordinate jurisdiction should in effect and substance deal with as if it were an appeal or a matter for revision a complaint which had been dismissed by a competent tribunal of co-ordinate jurisdiction should be only the successor in office may do so office may do so office may do so

The fact that the District Magistrate may have refused to order further inquiry under $4.37 (see non $8.47) into a very dismissed under $2.20 does not prevent the Magistrate who piesed the order from proceeding to its it on the application of the computation.

Before dismissing a cas on receipt of a report of an investigation held under Sociated Majorithal should give the complainant an opportunity of showing cause against an order for dismissal on such report.

A Migistrate cannot on the report of a Subordinate Magistrate and without himself examining the complaining distincts the complaint and order the complainant to be provedured under S 211 Pend Code 8

Her complaint made and issue of warrant the Magistrate of the District is not competent to withdraw the case to lies own file to suspend the warrants and to dismiss the complaint on the ground that in his executive capacity he had previously made some inquiry into the matter out of which the complaint arose and that on information so gained, he was of opinion that the complaint ought to be rejected After issue of process the tiral ought to go on in due course, according to the procedure prescribed by the Code unless something arises to show that the Valg strict who had saused the process land from some cause in other, made a wrong exercise of his discretion. The Magistrict of the district mught to liase proceeded with the case from the stage at which he found it and by nit doing so he was held to have committed an error. His order was necord imply set value?

S 203 requires that if a Magistrate dismisses a complaint he "shall briefly record his remons for an doing." Such an order would not be a judgment within the terms of S 26. Where a Magistrate had omitted to record his reasons for such an notice it has been held that "the order was altogether bad and without juried choin" and a further inquiry was ordered. S 537 which seems to cover such a matter was not referred to

In reason proceedings before the High Court based on the ground that the District Mingstrate had improperly a complaint to his own Court the High Court instead of resuming the case to the file of the original Court quished the proceedings on the grounds that there was little reason to suppose that the offence complained of would be substantiated and that the dispute was reminently one for determination by the Caul Courts. "The practice of taking to the Crimmal Courts for the purpose of a prelimmary skirmsh, disputed claims intolling questions of raths and title about which the parties may intell claims in the high parties may intell about which the parties may intell courts for the purpose of a prelimmary skirmsh, disputed claims intolling questions of raths and title about which the parties may intell

&lt;sup>3</sup> Emp v Chuna Kahuppa Counden I L R aq Mad 12C overrulug Yuhomed Ablul Mennan I L R a8 Mad 255 Umadan All W N 1895

\ N 193

ra # Sanyas

Cal 114 (SC) 7 CAL W \ 5 S T R Cr -8 (S C) to B L R 26 Ap

The re Rawhoo Primmle to W R Cr -8 (S C) to B L R 26 Ap

Born H Cf Varich 12 1851 Sec also S 240

Munitind him Sirear I L R 40 Cal 41

ligibly and with perfect good faith take opposing views is in our opi nion much to be deprecited 1 "

A Magistrate has no jurisdiction to dismiss a complaint under S 201 without complying with the requirements of the law laid down in Ss 200 and 2022

Gross delay in filing a complaint and the Magistrate's opinion that the charges seemed to be made for ulterior and improper motives are considerations not relevant to the question as to whether there are sufficient grounds for proceeding on order of dismissal for these reasons is irregular and liable to be set aside?

A Presidency Magistrate may dismiss a complaint under S 203 without examining the complainant 4

A verification on oath of a complaint before a Magistrate is sufficient com pliance with the provisions of $ 200 to enable the complaint to be dismissed under

A complaint cannot be dismissed without compliance with the requirement if

S 200 as to the examination of the complainant a

It is not necessary for the setting aside of an order of dismissal under S *03 where the accused has never been called upon to appear that notice to show cause should be given to him?

Where a Sessions Judge ordered further inquiry under S 436 and forwarded the case and order to the District Magistrate " for information and compliance" and the latter ordered a judicial inquity to be held by Mr K, a first-class Magis trate Mr h had jurisdiction to try the case himself after holding an inquiry and finding a prima facie case to be made out $

Police report that the information to the Police is not true

The course to be taken by a Magistrate on receipt of such a report is not specially set out in this Code This Chapter which relates to complaints to a to such a matter, the definition of "com Magistrate does not relate plaint " specially declares that st does not include the report 4 (h)] A Magistrate duly empowered on that behalf police-off cer ΓŚ under 5 190 (b) can take cognizance of an offence on such report but if he does not think proper to do so and the accused has been admitted to bail by the investigating police-officer (Ss 169 and 497) an order from a Magistrate discharging him from bail is necessary On a report made by a police-officer that the complaint made to him is false a Magistrate cannot properly direct the com plaining to be prosecuted under S 211 Penal Code, for making a false complaint He should rather hold his hand so as to give the complainant an opportunity of appearing before him for the purpose of having his complaint heard. To act summarily on a police-report would be to attach too much weight to it to the prejudice of the complainant It is the duty of the police-officer to collect evidence but it is the function of a Magistrate alone to decide upon the sufficiency of the evidence when so collected (See note to S 195) Where on a police report after an investigation held on information given of an offence committed that it was false, the District Magistrate directed an inquiry to be held by a Subordinate Magis trate who confirmed that report the District Magistrate was not competent

Amnt Mahu v Emp I L R 46 Cat 854
*Inkentth Patrs I L R 30 Cal 923
*Ganga Red is I I R 8 Mad 412
*He Velb Nattan I I R 35 Mad 666
*Q Imp v Murph I I R 9 All 666 Re Vela Nattan I L R 37 Mad 666
*Q Imp v Murph I I R 9 All 666 Re Vela Nattan I L R 37 Mad 666
*Q Imp v Murph I L R 9 Cal 921
*Colon Mathematical Colon Colon

All 138 following Angan v Ram Pirbhan I R 15 Cat 608 See also Sheo Sarain Singh

<sup>4</sup> Pat L. J. 456
*Rom Ratus Singh. 4 Pat L. J. 47 See also Han Charan Goraut V. L. R. 3*
Cal 68 and Minadeo Singh. 9 O Fent. I. J. R. 27 Cal. 921
*Cost v. Kanmada Khan I. L. R. 6 Cal. 466 fc. 2. J. Cal. L. R. 467

to act under S 476, so as to make a complaint of the making a false accusation, because the matter had not been brought to his notice in the course of judicial proceedings. (If he had himself held the mquir, it would have been otherwise).

This Chapter contains the procedure in regard to proceedings on complaint to a Magistrate, after process his been issued, the trial will proceed under summary procedure, or as a summon-case, or as a warrant case, or, if it is a Sessions case,

under Chapter XVIII

If a case has been transferred, under $ 197 to a Subordinate Magistrate, after examination of the complainant he is not bound to re examine the complainant before issue of process under $ 204 [S 200, Prov (c)]. He can proceed on the examination already recorded.

CHAPTER XVII

OF THE COUMPACEMENT OF PROCEEDINGS BEFORE MAGISTRATES

204 (1) It, in the opinion of a Magistrate taking cognizance of process ance of an offence, there is sufficient ground to proceeding, and the case appears to be one in which, according to the fourth column of the second schedule, a summons should issue in the first instance, he shall issue his summons for the attendance of the accused. If the case appears to be one in which, according to that column a warrant should issue in the first instance, he may use a warrint, or, if he thinks fit, a simmons for causing the accused to be brought or to appear at a certain time before such Magistrate or (if he has not jurisdiction himself) some other Magistrate having jurisdiction

(2) Nothing in this section shill be deemed to affect the provisions of section 90

(3) When by any law for the time being in force any process-fees or other fees are payable, no process shall be assued until the fees are paid, and, if such fees are not paid within a reasonable time, the Magsetiate may dismiss the complaint

If a case has been transferred under 5 192, to a Subordinate Magistrate, after examination of the complaintuit, he is not bound to re-examine the complainant before issue of process under S 204 [52 204, Fox (c)]. He can proceed

on the examination already recorded

It is a very common fult amongst Vigistrites to issue process against only some of the persons recursed on the evanuation of a complainint, although there is no reason on such examination for distinguishing between them. There can be no justification of such a practice, and it is objectionable from every point of view. It occasionally linguish that after considering the first proceeded against, proceedings are taken against others. The witnesses are thus required to attend more than once, and the time of the Court is wasted, on the other hand if, after ligibly and with perfect good faith take opposing views is in our opi nion much to be deprecated 1 ?

<sup>1</sup> Haibut Khun t I'mp, 10 Cal W N 30 1 Bishen Doyal Rai t Chedi Khan 4 Cal W N 560

A Magistrate has no jurisdiction to dismiss a complaint under S 203 without complying with the requirements of the law laid down in Ss 200 and 2023

Gross delay in filing a complaint and the Magistrate's opinion that the charges seemed to be made for ulterior and improper motives are considerations not relevant to the question as to whether there are sufficient grounds for proceeding

an order of dismissal for these reasons is irregular and liable to be set aside A Presidency Magistrate may dismiss a complaint under S 203 without

examining the complainant 4

A verification on eath of a complaint before a Magistrate is sufficient com pliance with the provisions of S 200 to enable the complaint to be dismisssed under S 203 5

A complaint cannot be dismissed without compliance with the requirement of

S 200 as to the examination of the complainant $

It is not necessary for the setting aside of an order of dismissal under S 203 where the accused has never been called upon to appear that notice to show cause should be given to him ?

Where a Session's Judge ordered further inquiry under S 436 and forwarded the ease and order to the District Magistrate " for information and compliance, and the latter ordered a judicial inquiry to be held by Mr K a first class Magistrate Mr K had jurisdiction to try the case himself after holding an inquiry and finding a prima facte case to be made out a

Police report that the information to the Police is not true

The course to be taken by a Magistrate on receipt of such a report is not specially set out in this Code This Chapter which relates to complaints to a Magistrate does not relate to such a matter, the definition of "com plaint " specially declares that it does not include the report of a 4 (h)] A Magistrate duly empowered on that ſŚ under 5 100 (b) can take cognizance of an offence on such report but if he does not think proper to do so and the accused has been admitted to hall by the investigating police-officer (Ss 169 and 497) an order from a Magistrate dis charging him from bail is necessary On a report made by a police-officer that the complaint made to him is false a Magistrate cannot properly direct the companion of the complaint made to him is false a Magistrate cannot properly direct the complaint made to him is false a Magistrate cannot properly direct the complaint of the plainant to be prosecuted under S 211 Penal Code, for making a false complaint He should rather hold his hand so as to give the complainant an opportunity of appearing before him for the purpose of having his complaint heard To act summarily on a police-report would be to attach too much weight to it to the prejudice of the complainant. It is the duty of the police-officer to collect evidence but it is the function of a Magistrate alone to decide upon the sufficiency of the evidence when so collected (See note to S 195) Where on a police report after an investigation held on information given of an offence committed that it was false the District Magistrate directed an inquiry to be held by a Subordinate Magis trate who confirmed that report the District Magistrate was not competent

I Ameri M ) or Tone T T To

Ganga Reddy I I R 38 Mad 512

Velu Nattan I I R 35 Mad 606 17 Cal W N 525 Satta Charan Chose 17 Budhnath Mahato 1 Cal W W N 199

<sup>18</sup> following Angan v Ram Pirbhan I 5 Cat 608 See also Sheo Sarun Singh

<sup>4</sup> Pat L J 456

*Ram Brais Singh 5 Pat L J 47 See also Ham Charan Gorait I L R 3*
Cal 68 and Mahadeo Singh v Q Fmp I L R 27 Cal 221

*Govt v Karimdad Khan I L R 6Cal 496 (s. C.) 7 Cal L R 467

to act under S 476, so as to make a complaint of the making a false accusation, because the matter had not been brought to his notice in the course of judicial proceedings. (If he had himself held the inquiry, it would have been otherwise)!

This Chapter contains the procedure in regard to proceedings on complaint to a significant to a superstructure of the procedure of the procedure, or 15 % uniformers, or 15 % uniformers,

under Chapter VIII

If a case has been transferred under $ 190 to a Subordinate Magistrate, after examination of the complainant he is not bound to re-examine the complainant before issue of process under $ 20, [$ 200, Prov (c)]. He can proceed on the examination already recorded

CHAPTER XVII

OF THE COUNTYCEMENT OF PROCEEDINGS BEFORE MAGISTRATES

204 (1) If, in the opinion of a Magistrate taking cognizance of an offence, there is sufficient ground for proceeding, and the case appears to be one in which, according to the fourth column of the second schedule, a summons so the attendance of the accused. If the case appears to be one in which, according to that column a warrant should issue in the first instance, he may use a warrant, or, if he thinks fit, a summons for causing the accused to be brought or to appear at a certain time before such Magistrate or (if he has not jurisdiction himself) some other Magistrate baving jurisdiction.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the provisions of section 90

(3) When by any law for the time being in force any process fees or other fees are payable, no process shall be issued until the fees are paid, and, if such fees are not paid within a reasonable time, the Magistrate may dismiss the complaint.

If a case has been transferred, under S 197, to a Subordinate Magistrate, after evamination of the complaintint, he is not bound to re-examine the complainant before issue of process under S 204 [S 204, Pros (c)]. He can proceed

on the examination already recorded

It is a very common full amongst Wighstrites to issue process against only some of the persons accused on the exumitation of a complainint, although there is no reason on such examination for distinguishing between them. There can be no justification of such a practice, and it is objectionable from every point of view. It occasionally happens that, after consistion of those first proceedings are taken against others. The witnesses are thus required to attend more than once, and the time of the Court is wisted, on the other hand if, after

llaibut Khan v Emp, 10 Cal W N 30 Bishen Doyal Rai v Chedi Khan, 4 Cal W N, 560

the coviction of some of the accused, proceedings are dropped, the guilty may escape If the Magistrate has reason to believe that the matter complained of has been exaggerated, he is bound to show this from a careful examination of the complainant

The process to be issued for the attendance of the accused should be regulated by the entry in Sch 11, col 11, in regard to the offence complained of, but a dis cretion is here given to the Magistrate to issue a summons, instead of a narrant of arrest in the first instance S 90 declares that a Magistrate may issue a warrant of arrest instead of a summons, for reasons to be recorded in writing (1) if, either before the issue of summons, or after issue of the same, but before the day fixed for his appearance, the Magistrate sees reason to believe that the accused has absconded, or will not obey the summons, or, (2) if, on proof of service of summons in time for the appearance of the accused in accordance therewith the accused fails to appear and no reasonable excuse is offered for such failure A process is ordinarily for attendance before the Magistrate issuing it Provision is made for attendance before another Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case of a Magistrate issuing the process who has no jurisdiction to hold judicial proceedings. This might be on complaint against an European British subject before a Magistrate not competent to hold proceedings against such person (See S 20A)

No process can issue unless the necessary fees have been paid, and if, after an order for the issue of process, such fees are not paid within a reasonable time, the Magistrate may dismiss the complaint If the complainant does not take out process against all the persons accused any one of them may appear volunturily and insist either that the complaint against him shall be proceeded with or dismissed 1

The scales of fees for processes to compel the attendance of persons accused in non cognizable cases are prescribed under the Court Fees Act (VII of 1870)

S 20, cl 11, under which the High Courts have power to make rules

It may be observed that some of the rules issued apply to processes in cognizable cases. The Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) S 20, cl 11 however, gives power to prescribe such fees only in non cognizable cases

The High Court Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may order further inquiry to be made into any complaint which has been dismissed under S 204

(3) for non payment of court fees ($ 436)

S 31 of the Court I ces Act VII of 1870 which made it obligatory on the Court convicting an accused person of a non-cognizable offence to order the accused, in addition to any sentence passed to pay to the complainant any court fees which may have been paid by him was very commonly ignored and the provision has now been repealed by S 163 of the amending Act No VIII of 1923 S 153 of that Act has however introduced a new section 546A into the Code which leaves it in the discretion of the Court to direct the payment by the accused of such fees This new section also enables the Court to award simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding thirty days in default of payment of the fees S 547 l ys down that any money (other than a fine) payable by virtue of an order made inder this Cod, the method of recovery of which is not expressly provided for shall be recoverable as if it were a fine, as to which see Chapter XXVIII

205 (1) Whenever a Magistrate assues a summons, he mry if he sees reison so to do, dispense with Magistrate may disthe personal attendance of the accused, and pense with personal attendance of accused permit him to appear by his pleader

<sup>1</sup> In re Lakshman Govind Nargude I L R 26 Born 552

(2) But the Magistrate inquiring into or trying the case may. in his discretion, at any stage of the proceedings, direct the personal attendance of the accused, and if necessary, enforce such attendance in minner hereinbefore provided

It is not only in summons cases that a Magistrate may dispense with the personal attendance of the accused and permit him to appear by his pleader, but in all cases in which he may issue a summons and S 204 gives him a discretion to issue a summons even in a warrant case 1

Where a Magistrate allowed an accused person who had been arrested for an offence under S 4 o of the Penal Code to appear by pleader, the subsequent conviction of the accused was set aside? The report of this case does not show that a summons had not been issued in the first instance, but presumably such was the case

The latter part of S 203 which enables a Magistrate to direct the personal attendance of the accused in an inquiry or trial seems also to show that a per onal attendance is not indispensable even in an inquiry or trial if summons

was issued in the first instance

In the case of purdah women a Magistrate should dispense with personal attendance until he has before him some legal and satisfactory evidence indicating that some or all of them have committed a breach of the criminal law. It would then be time to require them to appear 3

The privilege of purdah ladies to be exempt from personal attendance has been well considered by STRYIGHT J where the ladies were required to attend as witnesses and the same principle is applicable in cases in which they are accused in petty cases and especially in any case before the charge is prima facie esta blished -See note to S 503

S 353 lass down that all evidence taken under Chapters VIII (inquiring into cases triable by the High Court or Court of Session) XX (Summons cases) XI (Warrant cases) XII (Summary trials) and XIII (trials before High Courts and Courts of Session) shall be taken in the presence of the accused or, when his personal attendance is dispensed with in the presence of his pleader So it has been held that the High Court has power under S 353 to dispense with the attendance of the accused during the Sessions trial the Calcutta High Court directed parda nashin lad es to appear by pleader both in the Magis trate's and Sessions' Courts subject to their having to appear in Court to hear sentence in case of conviction 5 and the Madras High Court has held that a Sessions Judge has power to dispense with the personal attendance of an accused during the Sessons trail "Pleader" used with reference to any proceeding in any Court means a pleader or a mushitar authorized under any law for the time being in force to practise in such Court, and includes (1) an advocate a vakil and an attorney of a II gh Court so authorised and (2) any other person appointed with per mission of the Court to act in such proceeding—S 4(r)

If personal attendance be dispensed with the accused should be represented by an agent who should be provided with a mukhtamamah bearing a stamp of eight annus and in such case a recognizance bond if deemed necessary should also be taken from him and not from the agent, the accused being bound under the terms of the recognizance to appear either in person or by agent and if the agent has neglected to appear when the case is called on the recognizance bond

Busumoti Adhikarani e Budram Kalita I L. R 21 Cal 598

Abdul famil v K Fmp I L R 2 Pat 793
In re Rahim Bibi I L R 6 All 50
Fmp v C W King 14 Bom L R 66
Raj Rajeshwan Devi I R 7 Cal W N 1248
Kundaman Devi I R 45 Wad 350

the coviction of some of the accused, proceedings are dropped, the guity may If the Magistrate has reason to believe that the matter complained of has been exaggerated, he is bound to show this from a careful examination of the complainant

The process to be issued for the attendance of the accused should be regulated by the entry in Sch II, col IV, in regard to the offence complained of, but a dicretion is here given to the Magistrate to issue a summons instead of a warrant of arrest in the first instance S go declares that a Magistrate may issue a warrant of arrest instead of a summons, for reasons to be recorded in writing (1) if, either before the issue of summons or after issue of the same, but before the day fixed for his appearance, the Magistrate sees reason to believe that the accused has absconded or will not obey the summons, or, (2) if, on proof of service of summons in time for the appearance of the accused in accordance therewith the accused fails to appear and no reasonable excuse is offered for such failure

A process is ordinarily for attendance before the Magistrate issuing it Provision is made for attendance before another Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case of a Magistrate issuing the process who has no jurisdiction to hold judicial proceedings. This might be on complaint against an European British subject before a Magistrate not competent to hold proceedings against such person (See S 29A)

No process can issue unless the necessary fees have been paid, and if after an order for the issue of process such fees are not paid within a reasonable time, the Magistrate may dismiss the complaint

If the complainant does not take out process against all the persons accused any one of them may appear voluntarily and insist either that the complaint against him shall be proceeded with or dismissed 1

The scales of fees for processes to compel the attendance of persons accused In non-cognizable cases are prescribed under the Court Pees Act (VII of 1870)

S 20, cl 11 under which the High Courts have power to make rules

It may be observed that some of the rules issued apply to processes in cognizable cases The Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) S 20 cl 11 however gives power to prescribe such fees only in non cognizable cases

The High Court, Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may order further inquiry to be made into any complaint which has been dismissed under 5 204

(3) for non payment of court fees (S 436)

S 31 of the Court I ces Act VII of 1870 which made it obligatory on the Court convicting an accused person of a non cognizable offence to order any accused, in addition to any sentence passed to pay to the complainant court fees which may have been paid by him was very commonly ignored and the provision has now been repealed by S 163 of the amending Act No of 1923 S 153 of that Act has however introduced a new section 546A into the Code which leaves it in the discretion of the Court to direct the payment by the accused of such fees This new section also enables the Court to award simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding thirty days in default of payment of the fees S 547 lays down that any money (other than a fine) payable by virtue of an order made under this Code, the method of recovery of which is not expressly provided for, shall be recoverable as if it were a fine, as to which see Chapter XXVIII

205 (1) Whenever a Magistrate issues a summons he may if he sees reason so to do, dispense with Magistrate may dis the personal attendance of the accused, and pense with personal attendance of accused perinit him to appear by his pleader

(2) But the Magistrate inquiring into or trying the case may, in his discretion, at any stage of the proceedings, direct the personal attendance of the accused, and if necessary, enforce such attendance in manner hereinbefore provided

It is not only in summons cases that a Magistrate may dispense with the personal attendence of the accused and permit him to appear by his pleader, but in all cases in which he may issue a summons and S 704 gives him a discretion to issue a summons even in a warrant case i

Where a Magistrate allowed an accused person who had been arrested for an offence under S 400 of the Penal Code to appear by pleader, the subsequent conviction of the accused was set aside. The report of this case does not show that a summons had not been issued in the first instance but presumably such was the case.

The latter part of S 205 which enables a Magistrate to direct the personal attendance of the accused in an inquiry or trial seems also to show that a personal attendance is not indispensable even in an inquiry or trial, if summons

was issued in the first instance

In the case of purdah women a Magistrate should dispense with personal attendance until he has before him some legal and satisfactory evidence indicating that some or all of them have committed a breach of the criminal law lit would then be time to require them to appear?

The privilege of purdah lad es to be exempt from personal attendance has been well considered by Structur J where the ladies were required to attend as witnesses and the same principle is applicable in cases in which they are accused in petty cases and especially in any case before the charge is prima facie esta.

blished -See note to S 503

S 353 lavs down that full evidence taken under Chapters XVIII (inquiring into cases traible by the High Court or Court of Session) XY (Summons cases) XII (Warrant cases) XVII (Summons raise) and XVIII (trails before High Courts and Courts of Sess on) shall be taken in the presence of the accused or, when his personal attendance is dispensed with in the presence of the accused or, when his personal attendance of the accused during the Sessions trail 4 the Calcutta High Court directed parada mathin lade so to appear by pleader both in the Magis trate's and Sessions' Courts subject to their having to appear in Court to hear sentence in case of conviction 5 and the Madras High Court has held that a Sessions Judge has power to dispense with the personal attendance of an accused during the Sessions trail 4

"Pleader" used with reference to any proceeding in any Court means a pleader or a multitre utilizated under any law for the time being in force to practise in such Court and includes (1) an advocate a visibil and an attorney of a High Court so authorised and (2) any other person appointed with per miss on of the Court to act in such proceeding -5 4(r)

If personal attendance be dispensed with the accused should be represented by an agent who should be provided with a mulhitarmamb bearing a stamp of eight annas and in such case a recognizance bond if deemed necessary should also be taken from him and not from the agent the accused being bound under the terms of the recognizance to appear either in person or by agent and if the agent has neglected to appear when the case is exilled on the recognizance bond.

ought to be held forfeited, and the accused made hable for the payment of the penalty. The Magistrate has however no authority to secure the attendance of the agent by a bond 2

Where the personal attendance of the accused has been dispensed with and the sentence is one of fine only or he is acquitted, judgment may be pronounced in the presence of his plender S 366 (2) But before such a person can be considered and fined it will probably be necessary to obtain attendance in order to obtain a proper pile to the offence charged

CHAPTER XVIII

OF INQUIRA INTO CASES TRIABLE BY THE COURT OF SESSION OR HIGH COURT

S 207 declares in what cases the procedure prescribed in this Chapter shall be followed

An inquiry under this Chapter is a judicial proceeding preliminary to a commitment to the Court of Scssion or High Court

If the Vingustrate finds that there are sufficient grounds for committing the accused person for trail a charge is drawn (S 210) and the case is committed for trail to the Court of Sesson or High Court as the case may be (S 21). If in his opinion there are no such grounds the Magistrate will either discharge the accused or if he finds that the offence primi facre established is one which should be tried by a Magistrate the course of the proceedings is changed and a trail is held (S 200).

Offences trable by a Court of Session are set out in Sch II, col 8 Some of these are exclusively trivible by a Court of Session, others trable also by a Magistrate Whether a Magistrate in this latter class of excess should commit to the Court of Session or hold the trial himself would depend upon the character of the offence whether it is aggraated by the circumstances under which it was committed or by the bad character imputed to the accused or by the fact that such offences are previous, and call for a more severe punishment that the Magistrate can impose In a case of theft, the amount of property chole is a very proper point for consideration in determining this question

A commutation would be made to a High Court ordinarily by a Presidency Magistrate for an offence for which a commutation would be made to a Court of Session by a Magistrate outside a presidency town.

The special provisions of the Code which required European British subjects.

to be committed in certain cases to the High Court have disappeared Sec. Chapter XVIII That Chapter deals with priticular classes of cases in which both European and Indian British subjects are concerned (5 443) and where a decision has been arrived at in a warrant-case that the provisions of the Chapter should be applicable the Magneratic (unless he discharges the accused under S 203 or S 233) is bound to commit for trial to the Court of Sesson whether the case is exclusively trable by that Court or not (S 440). The Sessions Judge has now full powers of centence in regard to European British subjects, since that he has not the power to sentence to win upping and that he can sentence to penal serviculae and not to transportation (S 34A).

Treept is otherwise expressly provided by the Code or b) any line for the time being in force no Court of Session shall take cognizance of any offener is a Court of original quividition unless the accused his been committed to it by a Mag strate duly empowered on that behalf (S 1931). The High Court may take cognizance of any offence upon a commitment made to it, and also upon information exhibited by the Advocate General with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council or the Local Gos mment (S 104 (2))

CRAP XVIII. SEC 206

- (I) Any Presidency Magistrate, District Magis-Power to commit trate Sub-divisional Magistrate or Magisfortial true of the fust class, or any Magus trate [not being a Magistrate of the third class] empowered in this behalf by the Local Government, may commit any person for trial to the Court of Session of High Court for any offence triable by such Court
- (2) But, save as herein otherwise provided, no person triable by the Court of Session shall be committed for trial to the High Court.

This section was formerly subject to the provisions of S 443 which laid down that in an inquiry into or trial of any charge against an European British away that in an inquiry into or trivior in triving quarter in Enrope and tendest was a District. Magistrate harvest must be a Justice of the Perce, and (unless he was a District Vigistrate) a Anjustrate of the first class and an European British subject. Section 443 has now disappeared along with many other provisions for a special procedure in the case of European British subjects. See notes to Chapters XVIII and XVIIV A of this Code, and Act No XII of 1923 The section has been further amended by Act No VIII of 1923 S 57, Viggistrates of the shird class can no longer be empower ed to commit for trail as heretofore. Majustrates of the first class have the power suo ragore. Majustrates of the second class must be specially empowered. by the Local Government

A commitment to the Court of Session can be made by a Civil or Revenue Court for an offence referred to m S 193 and committed before itself or brought to its notice in the course of a judicial proceeding provided however that such offence is triable exclusively by the High Court or Court of Session or one which in its opinion should be trad by such Court ($478)

An inquisition made by a Coroner has the effect of a valid commitment to the High Court in its original criminal jurisdiction when the High Court has recepted such commitment 1

Sub section 2

See note at the head of this Chapter as to cases which may be committed to the High Court Proceedings can be talen before a High Court otherwise than on a commitment, on an information had before it by the Advocate General with the sunction of the Governor General in Council or the Local Govern

Magistrates exercising jurisdiction in the city of Rangoon when commit ting prisoners for trial shall commit them to the High Court?

For the purpose of the trial in Rangoon of any person under the provisions of Chapter XXVIII references to the Sessims Judge shall be construed as references to the High Court at Rangoon (5 448).

Object of an inquiry before commitment

The object of the law, in providing the inquiry shall be held by a Magistrate before the accused goes a 1 prevent the commitment a by a su

the Court of Session, is to net of cases in which there is no reasonable ground for convictor. This provision of the law is calculated on the one hand, to save the subjects room the prolonged anverty of undergoing trials for offences not brought home to them, and, on the other hand, to save the time of the Court of Session from being wasted over cases in which the charge is obviously not supported by such evidence as would justify a conviction. The power so given to (Vlag strates) extends to the weighing of evidence and the expression sufficient grounds for committing? (S = 10 post) must be understood in a wide sense. This discretionary power should be exercised with due cau ton there is nothing in the law which prohibits the discharge of the accused even though the evidence against him consists of witnesses who state themselves to be eje witnesses but whom the Magistrate entirely discretions? Where the evidence is doubtful it is not for the Magistrate to give the accused the benefit of the doubt. The weighing of the evidence of witnesses in regard to improbabilities or apparent discrepances is properly the function of the Court having jurisdiction to hold the trial. The Magistrate should commit leaving it to the Court of Session to determine its. slue?

Emp v Joreshwar P But Act \I of to.

The jurisdiction of a Court of Sees on is restricted to cases committed for trial by it presumable to secure in the case of a person charged with a grave offence a preliminary insperior to solid afford him the opportunity of being acquainted with the circumstances of the offence a scribed to him and so enable him to make his defence.

Commitment made by a Magistrate not duly empowered

A commitment once made by a competent Magistrate cun be quashed by the high Court only and only on a point of law (S 215) If a commitment is made by a Vig strate not duly empowered in that behalf and during the inquer and before the order of commitment is bection was made to the jurisdict of such May, strate the Court of Session must quash the commitment and drect a fresh inquiry to be made by a competent Magistrate. If the commitment been made without objection then the Sessions Court may after prepaid of the proceedings accept the commitment. It it considers that the accused has not been injuried thereby otherwise it should quash the commitment and direct a fresh inquiry by a competent Magistrate (S 32).

No proceeding entence or order of an Criminal Court shall be set at demonstrate to the ground that the inquiry trail or other proceeding in the court of which it was arrived at or present took place in a wrong sessions dustion distinct subdivision or other local area unless it appears that such error has no fact occasional a failure of justiens (S 51). This would not therefore necessarily make a commitment bad in Iwa so as to require the II gh Court to quark it (S 52).

Procedure in in deformal procedure shall be adopted in unnuries a procedure in in the force Majustrates where the case is trible commitment countries and the following procedure shall be adopted in unnuries where the case is trible commitment. Court or in the opinion of the Magis inte ought to be tried in such Court

See note at the head of this elapter for an explanation of the offeners' regarding which inquiries under the procedure shall be held "Ought to be tred by such Citt'. This means a case in which the

"Ought to be tried by such Cart." The means a case in which is sentence which the Magistrate is competent to pass is insufficient shough the

*Lachman r Jush I L R 5 MI the Bas Parenti I L R 5 Form 1(5)
1 the r Futter I I R 6 All 9(7) O Fup r Namder Satesji I L R 51

Bom 572 Fup e Satistandes I I R 27 Bom 84 Lachman ; Jush I I R 64

161 Rash Pehra I al Mandal r Cal 6 N 117

*Muticaki hoodingstha 1 O I I P 2 MI 1351

SEC. 208

offence may be triable by him (Sch v col 8) Thus, defamation (S 500, Penal Code) is an offence triable by the 'ourt of Session or a Magistrate of the first class and punishable with simple impressioner for two years or fine or both. The extreme sentence of imprisor and is within the powers of a Magistrate of the first class, but he can sure ir to fine only to an amount not exceeding one thousand rupees (S 33), while as there is no limit to a sentence of fine by the Court of Session I there is, no limit to a sentence of fine beyond his powers should be passed the case ought to be tried by the Court of Session, and he should hold an inquiry under Chipter XVIII and commit But whereas the offence of colimitally custing, hurt (S 33 Penal Code) is triable by find and he can pass the exterior sentence, he is not competent to commit, and although death may have been caused by the hurt, if he commits only on a charge of hurt, there is nothing to justify the commitment or to show that, in his opinion the case ought to o raid by the Court of Session Such a commitment has been set isside, the Magistrate being directed to proceed according to lan ' See also S 347 post

- 208. (1) The Magistrate shall, when the accused appears raking of evidence of is brought before him, proceed to hear the produced complainmet (it any), and take in manner hereinafter provided all such a denice as may be produced in support of the prosecution of on behalf of the accused, or as may be called for hy the Magistrate
- (2) The accused shall be at liberty to cross-examine the witnesses for the prosecution, and in such case the prosecutor may re-examine them
- (d) If the complainant or officer conducting the prosecution, process for pro- or the accused, applies to the Magistrate to duction of further issue process to compel the attendance of any vituess or the production of any document or thing the Magistrate shall issue such process unless, for reasons to be recorded, he deems it unnecessary to do so
  - (1) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to require a Picsidency Magistrate to record his reasons

This section provides for the communement of an inquiry. A Magistrate is competent to postpone the commencement of an inquiry, if, from the absence of a witness or any other reasonable cause, it becomes necessary or advisable to do so, by an order in writing staining in reasons therefor, on such terms as he may think fit, and for such time as he may consider reasonable, provided that the accused person is not run inded to custody for a term exceeding fifteen days at a time (S. 344).

An inquiry before i Migistrik, in which certain persons are accused of an offence usually proceeds upon a police repair under S. 270 made after an investigation, when those against whom the investigating police-officer considers that there is sufficient evidence or reasonable grand for proceeding are placed before a Magistrate. The inquiry then commerce as as to out in S. 208. But the evidence then taken may show that others who have not been sent in by the police have committed or be in some way, connected with the commission of, is no reasonable ground for conviction. This provision of the law is calculated, on the one hand, to save the subjects from the prolonged anxiety of undergoing trials for offences not brought home to them, and on the other hand, to save the time of the Court of Session from being wasted over cases in which the charge is obviously not supported b such evidence as would justify a conviction The power so given to (Magistrates) extends to the weighing of evidence and the expression sufficient grounds for committing" (S 210 post) must be understood in a wide sense. This discretionary power should be exercised with due cau tion there is nothing in the law which prohibits the discharge of the accused even though the evidence against him consists of witnesses who state themselves to be eye witnesses but whom the Magistrate entirely discredits 1 Where the evidence is doubtful it is not for the Magistrate to give the accused the benefit of the doubt. The weighing of the endence of witnesses in regard to improbabilities or apparent discrepancies is properly the function of the Court having jurisdiction to hold the trial. The Magistrate should commit leaving it to the Court of Session to determine its value?

318

The jurisdiction of a Court of Session is restricted to cases committed for trial by it presumably to secure in the case of a person charged with a grave offence a preliminary inquiry which vould afford him the opportunity of being requainted with the circumstances c the offence ascribed to him and so enable him to make his defence 3

Commitment made by a Magistrate not duly empowered

A commitment once made by a competent Magistrate can be quashed by the High Court only and only on a point of law (S 215) If a commitment is made by a Magistrate not duly empowered in that behalf and during the inquity and before the order of commitment objection was made to the jurisdiction of such Magistrate the Court of Session must quash the commitment, and direct fresh inquiry to be mide by a competent Magistrate If the commitment has been mide without objection then the Sessions Court may after perusal of the proceedings accept the commitment fit considers that the accused has not been injured thereby otherwise it should quish the commitment and direct a fresh inquiry by a competent Magistrate (S 512)

No proceeding sentence or order of any Criminal Court shall be set as de merely on the ground that the inquiry trial or other proceeding in the course of which it was arrived at or passed took place in a wrong sessions distinct district subdivision or other local area unless it appears that such error his in fact occasioned a failure of justice ($ 531). This would not therefore next such make a commitment bad in law so as to require the High Court to quantities.

It (5 215)

The following procedure shall be adopted in inquiries 207

before Magistrates where the case is triable Procedure in inexclusively by a Court of Session or High quirles preparatory to commitment Court or in the opinion of the Magis ought to be tried 'n such Court

See note at the head of this chapter for an explanation of the offences regarding which inquiries under this procedure shall be held

"Ought to Ie tried by such Cert" This means a case in which the sentence which the Magistrate is competent to pass is insufficient though the

Lachman e Judy I I R 5 All 161 Bai Parvati I L R 16 Ben 173 Re 11 Tattu i Futtu i I R 5 All 161 Q Fmp t Namdet Satvy I I R 541 Ben 172 Fmp t Namet Satvy I I R 541 Ben 172 Fmp t Namet Satvy I I R 541 Ben 172 Fm 184 I Lechman t Judy I I R 541 Stutter Satvy I I R 541 Stutter Satvy I I R 541 Stutter Satvy I R 541 Satvy I Satvy I

Cast XVIII. INQUIRY INTO CASES TRIABLE BY THE COURT. SEC. 208

offence may be triable by him (Suh ' col 8). Thus, defamation (S 500, Penal Code) is an offence triable by the ' wart of Session or a Magistrate of the first class and punishable with simple impressiment for two years or fine or both. The extreme sentence of imprisor wint is within the powers of a Magistrate of the first class, but he can sent-ence till no only to in amount not exceeding one thousand rupees (S 3), wince as there is no limit to a sentence of fine by the Court of Session. If there is no limit to a sentence of fine by the Court of Session, and he should hold an inquiry under Chipter, ViIII and commit But whereas the offence of voluntarily clasing hurt (S 333 Penal Code) is triable by him and he can pass the extreme sentence he is not competent to commit, and sithough death my have been caused by the hurt, if he committed in an although death my have been caused by the hurt, if he committed in on a charge of hurt, there is nothing to justify the commitment or to show that, in his opinion the case ought to be cred by the Court of Session. Such a commitment has been set uside the Magistrate being directed to proceed according to law ' See also S 347 Post

208. (1) The Magistrate stall, when the accused appears Taking of evidence of its brought before him, proceed to hear the produced complainant (it airs), and take in manner hereinafter provided all such a tunce as may be produced in support of the prosecution of behalf of the accused, or as may be called for by the Magistrate.

- (2) The accused shall be at liberty to cross-examine the witnesses for the prosecution, and in such case the prosecutor may re-examine them
- (d) If the complanant or officer conducting the prosecution, Process for pro. or the accused, applies to the Magistrate to duction of further issue process to compel the attendance of any writtens or the production of any document or thing the Magistrate shall issue such process unless, for reasons to be recorded, he deciment unincressary to do so
- (4) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to require a Presidency Magistrate to record Lis reasons

This section provides for the commencement of an inquiry. A Magistrate is competent to postpone the commencement of an inquiry, if, from the absence of a witness or any other reasonable cause, it becomes necessary or advisable to do so, by an order in writing stating it reasons therefor, on such terms as he may think fit, and for such time as he may consider reasonable, provided that the accused person is not remainded to custody for a term exceeding fifteen days it a time (S. 344).

An inquiry before a Magistria in which certain persons are accused of an offence usually proceeds upon a police report under S. 170 made after an investigating gation, when those against whom the prestigating police-officer considers that there is sufficient evidence or resonable actual for proceeding are placed before a Magistriae The inquiry then commerce as as et out in S. 26. But the evidence then taken may show that off er who have not been sent in by the police have committed of be in some wax connected with the commission of.

Sec. 208

the offence under inquiry, and doubt has been raised in some reported cases! how far the Magistrate holding the inquiry is competent to proceed against them without some special order authorising him to do so. To restrict his action seems to impose a serious impediment in the course of justice, by requiring the observance of the form of tal ing cognizance of an offence described in S 190 This amounts to holding that the taking cognizance of an offence means also taking cognizance of the offence as then made known in respect of those alleged or suspected to have committed it as if the recording against others consti tuted a fresh inquiry or trial requiring the authority already granted to be renewed Such a view of the law is requiring more than the law requires for judicial proceedings upon a sanction under 5 193, which need not name the recused persons

But it has been also field that the Court which had jurisdiction to deal with an offence is competent to act igainst all who may appear from the evidence to have committed it and that no other Magistrate can do so unless by an order under S 528 a case has been transferred to him $

Conduct of the prosecution

No person other than the Advocate General, Standing Counsel, Government Solicitor Public Prosecutor or other officer generally or specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf shall be entitled to conduct the prosecution on an inquiry. But the Magistrate inquiring into a case may permit the prosecution to be conducted by any person other than an officer of Police below a rank to be prescribed by the Local Government in this behalf (5 495) If any private person instructs a pleader to prosecute the Public Prosecutor shall con duct the prosecution and the plender so instructed shall act therein under his directions (S 493)

Duty of the prosecution

It is the duty of the prosecution to bring before the Court all persons who are alleged or are known to line I nowledge of the facts constituting the offence charged ' If all persons who prove their connection with the transactions connected with the prosecution re not called a thout sufficient cause being shown the Court may properly draw an inference adverse to the prosecution. The only thing that can relieve the prosecutor from calling such witnesses is a reasonable belief that if called, they will not speal the truth The Allahabad High Court in 1 Iuli Bench has 140 considered this matter, and has held that a Public Prosecutor should not refuse to call and put into the witness box for crossexamination a truthful witness returned in the calendar as witness, merely be cause the evidence of such witness might in some respects be favourable to the defence II the Publ. Prosecutor is of opinion that a witness is a false wainess or is likely to five false testimons if Jut into the nitness-box he is not bound to call that witness or tender him for cross-examination. In cases in which pri oner is undefended in a Sessions trial the presiding Judge should look at the deposition of any witness appearing in the calendar as a witness for the Crown and not called on behalf of the Crown or lendered for cross examination in order to ascertain whether he should not himself take action under S 510 of the Cod of Crimin it Procedure 1882 and examine such witness himself

See Jhrur II a 3 Cal I I 87

"Moul Sage A Cat W 2 22 Golardy Sheikh I I R 27 Cal 970 (e.e.) 4 Cal

"N 827 Jhunnuck Jha I L R 27 Cal 988

"Lamp Ram Arha Lull L R 10 Cal 1070

"Dhunnuck Sad I L R 8 Cal 1211 Lamp had Province Distribute I L R

"Dhunnuck Sad I L R 8 Cal 1211 Lamp had Province Distribute I L R

Cil 245 Q Emp. v Stanton I L.R. 44 Att 5 4 Q Emp. v Bankhan ii I L. R. 15 All 6.

Q Emp. v Hurga t L. R 16 All 84 (s.e) All W \ 1891 P 7

CHAP XVIII SEC 2(8

Defence

Every person accused before a Criminal Court may of right be defended by a pleader (5 340). For the definition of pleader, see 5 4 (r)

The Complainant (if any)

If the Magistraix has taken cognizance of an offence on a complaint [S 190], the compianiant is obviously the first person to be examined, so that the accused may know the case for which he has been required to attend the Court. The previous examination of the complainant under S 200, on which process was issued, is not evidence against the accused in six than not been taken in his presence, but it may be used for purposes of cross-examination. Unless the offence is compoundable [S 345] a complainant has no control over the proceedings and is regarded only as a winess. If the offence is compoundable and it is compounded by one who is himself, or with the permission of the Court, competent to compound it the compounding has the effect of an acquittal (S 343) [6]. No offence trable exclusively by a Court of Session is compoundable of Court, and the compoundable without special permission of the Court are only offences under S 497 (adulters) and Ss 500, 501 and 502 (defamation).

There are however, other offences compoundable only with the permission of the Court, eg. offences under Ss 324 325, Penal Code, which are also triable both by a Court of Session and a Magistrate

Evidence that may be produced in support of the prosecution

If there has been a complaint such evidence would ordinarily be produced by the complainant. If however there has been a police investigation, the wif nesses would be bound over by the Police to appear before the Magistrate holding the inquiry [S 170 (2)] S 210 contemplates that the Magistrate should have taken all the evidence produced before him, or which he may have called for S 347, however, declares that if, on an inquiry before a Magistrate, it appears to him at any stage of the proceedings that the case is one which ought to be tried by the Court of Session or High Court, he should commit the accused if he is empowered on that behalf. This has been interpreted to enable a Magnetate to commit without taking all the evidence referred to in 5 288 (t) and (t), and without examining the accused 1 It has, however, been held that under the terms of $2 10 a Magnetate is bound to take all the evidence produced before him and to examine the accused before he discharges the accused2 or commits. That case was distinguished because S 347 was not taken into consideration. As to the amendment recently made in S 347 see note under that section Whatever may be the powers conferred by section 347 they should be very rarely exercised, for by committing an accused person, without a thorough and complete inquiry, much injustice may be done, and the Court holding the trial may be seriously embarrassed while the accused may have strong grounds to complian at being commutted for trial without being heard, so as to have an opportunity of satisfying the Magistrate that he should be discharged

In a complant under S 342 Penal Code, after hearing the prosecution-withesses pind examining the accussed the Magnetrate framed a charge Under S 359, Penal Code without asking the accused whether they had evidence to produce, and an application made by them for the summoning of certain wit nesses was rejected. It was held that the action of the Magnetrate was Illegal and that the opminiment must be quashed 4.

C - D ++ R - U C+ A -

Except however in cases regarding offences which may be compounded by the party immediately affected, the Magistrate has a responsibility to see that the ends of justice are not defeated by the remissness of the complainant, and he is bound to summon any person as a witness or to examine any person in attendance if his evidence is essential to a just decision of the case, (S 540) Inquiries under Chapter XVIII would however nearly always be in cases in which there has been a police investigation, and in such cases, the evidence in support of the prosecution would be sent in by the Police with the final report of the investigation under S 173, See Ss 170 and 171.

Adiournment

A Magistrate is competent to adjourn an inquiry in the same way as he can postpone it. See S 344 and note can postpone it See S 344 and note

Sub section (3) leaves it to the discretion of the Magnistrate to adjourn an inquiry so as to enable the prosecution of the accused to obtain the attendance of witnesses or the production of a document through the process of the Court, but if the Magnistrate refuses to grant such process, he is bound to record the reasons for his order

Course of the inquiry

The accused person has the right to cross examine the witnesses for the prosecution. No time is stated when this should take place, as in the trial of a witnesses elections 25 and 257) probably because the position of an accused in an inquiry is different from that in a trial. A Magistrate should, at the end of the examination of each witness, ask the accused if he desires to cross-examine if he declines to do so, the witness may be discharged from further attendance. But if the accused in timates that he reserves his right of cross-examination until the close of the evidence of the prosecution, the Magistrate should exertish fam on recognizance to attend on such date as may be fixed, if an adjournment appears to be necessary. The least possible inconvenience to such a winness should be the object in view.

How the evidence is to be taken

The witnesses must be examined on oath or affirmation—Oaths Act (\ of 1871), Ss 4-8

Evidence in an inquiry should be recorded in manner provided by Ss 356-66. If the evidence is given in a language not understood by the accused, and be it present in person, that is to say his personal attendance has not been excused, if shall be interpreted to him in open Court in a language understood by him, and if the accused appears by pleader, and the evidence is given in a language other than the language of the Court and not understood by the pleader, it shall be interpreted to the pleader in such language (S 361).

The interpreter shall be bound to state the true interpretation of such evidence (S 543), and an oath or affirmation shall be administered to such interpreter, unless he is an official interpreter of the Court—Oaths Act (X or 1871).

All Magisterial officers shall, in the examination of prosecutor's wintessend also of the accused, record in each deposition or statement the following particulars, which are indispensably necessary for the future identification of the parties examined, i.e., the name of person examined, the name of his or her father (and, if a married woman, the name of her husband), the religion, easter profession, and age of the party or witness and the village and pergunnah in which he or she resides?

CHAP XVIII SEC. 209

When two persons are recused of different offences committed in the same transaction, the case against both should be as on an inquiry, although a sen tence within the jurisd cition of the Magistrate may be sufficient as against one of them. They should not be tried by different Courts 1

The accused shall be at liberty to cross-examine

It not infrequently happens that if an accused person is defended in an inquiry, the pleader declines to cross examine at that stage of the case and reserves his right until the trial before the Court of Sess on In such a case this should be recorded on the proceedings so that it may not afterwards appear as if he had not been given an opportunity to cross examine. When a witness for the prosecution ded before the Sessions trial and his deposition before the Magistrate at the inquiry was under S 33 of the Evidence Act tendered as evidence it was not admitted on the objection taken that the accused had had no opportunity to cross-examine the witness. The High Court relied on a practice which was stated to be general 'not to cross examine the prosecution witnesses unless at the conclusion of the case when the charge is drawn up the accused thinks it north while to defend himself in the first Court and under the Code of Criminal Procedure get the charge cancelled by cross examining the witnesses and entering upon his defence. But if from the first he takes no such action although it is clear that he has the right to do so it can hardly be said that he has hid the opportunity to cross eximine. The High Court also relied upon the fact that the record showed that the deposition was read. over and admitted to be correct and did not show that the accused were asked then and there if they wished to cross examine It was also remarked that ' it would be a sound principle for the committing Court to bring to the notice of the defence that t is their duty to cross examine if they desire to do so d rectly the evidence is given 2 This judgment seems open to criticism

209 (1) When the evidence referred to in section 208 with sections (1) and (3) has been taken and not be discharged lie has (if necessary) examined the accused for the purpose of embling lum to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him, such Magistrate shall, if he finds that there are not sufficient grounds for committing the accused person for trial record his reasons and discharge him, unless it appears to the Magistrate that such person should be tried before lumself or some other Magistrate in which case he shall proceed accordingly

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent a Magistrate from discharging the accused at any previous stage of the case if, for reasons to be recorded by such Magistrate, he considers the charge to be groundless

Examination of the accused

See note to S 210

Discharge

The order of d scharge contemplated by S 209 is during an inquiry into an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session which if prima face established

* Ibrahim 17 Cal W N 229

84

would be committed to that Court If there are not sufficient grounds for com mitting the accused but the evidence establishes an offence triable by a Mag's trate and one for which he can on conviction pass an adequate sentence he can proceed as on a trial of a warrant-case under Chapter XXI

If an accused person has in the opinion of the Sessions Judge or the District Magistrate been improperly discharged of an offence triable exclusively by the Court of Session such officer may order him to be committed for such offence or may direct the inferior Court to inquire into any other offence which the evidence may show to have been committed by the accused ($ 437) and in the case of a discharge of any other offence the High Court Sessions Judge of District Magistrate may order further inquiry to be made (S 430)

In order to ascertain whether there are sufficient grounds for committing the accused for an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session the Mag strate may weigh the evidence and if he discredits it, or if it does not justify a conve tion he should discharge the accused 1 But where the evidence if believed could sustain a conviction he should commit? He should not discharge the accused because the evidence may be doubtful. In such a case, he should not give the accused the benefit of the doubt but should leave it to the Session Court at the trial to determine what weight should be given to the evidence

An order of discharge does not operate as an acquittal so as to har further proceedings (S 403) A Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may order further inquiry to be made or may order the accused to be committed for trial of any offence which is trible exclusively by the Court of Session (Ss 436 and 437) Any Magistrate who is competent to take cognizance of an offence (S 190) end however take fresh proceedings and issue a process against the accused without the order of such Court setting aside the order of discharge But in that cast the evidence must be taken de novo unless it appears to the Mag strate that such person should be tried before himself or some other Magistrate s

The Local Government under S 206 can empower a Magistrate of the second class to commit to the Court of Session Such a Massistrate is competent to commit a case notwithstanting that the offence fe g robbery under 5 Penal Code) may under Seh 11 col 8 be triable by the Court of Sess on and also by a Magistrate of the First class a But it will be for him to cons det whether there are sufficient grounds, to committing the accused rather than send him for trial by a Magistrate of the first class as provided by $ 446. The has apparently gives him a discretion but ordinately he should commit for the the measure of punishment which to his opinion should be awarded so as to render commitment unnecessary be not recepted by the Magistrate of the first class the result will be that he has interposed much delay and inconvenience which might have been avoided

A Magistrate is not competent to send a case which has been under inquire by him to a Magistrate exercising special nowers under 5 go Instead of committing it for trial by the Court of Session?

i Inchrian r. Insta I I R 5 All 161 In re Kulvan Sinch J I P at All 264. Harbun Sinch e Fuke Das 7 Cul W h 77 Du Parcett, I I P 35 Rom 165 Fep r Gannyt I al I I R 46 All 517

O Prite & Number Satsayt I I R 11 Born 372 Mondu i Crown I I

Trith e Frite I I. R. 26 All 361 Fmp e Largivandas I I. R. 27 Bom 51
Harlans Spich i Takir Das 7 Cl. W. N. 27
Mir Abrad Hoven e Mahamel Askari I I. R. 20 Cai, 726 (S. C.16 Cai, W. h.
(3) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Company Mahamel Askari I I. R. 20 Cai, 726 (S. C.16 Cai, W. h.
(3) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Company Mahamel Askari I I. R. 20 Cai, 726 (S. C.16 Cai, W. h.
(3) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Company Mahamel Askari I I. R. 20 Cai, 726 (S. C.16 Cai, W. h.
(3) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Company Mahamel Askari I I. R. 20 Cai, 726 (S. C.16 Cai, W. h.
(3) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Company Mahamel Askari I I. R. 20 Cai, 726 (S. C.16 Cai, W. h.
(3) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Company Mahamel Askari I I. R. 20 Cai, 726 (S. C.16 Cai, W. h.
(3) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Company Mahamel Askari I I. R. 20 Cai, 726 (S. C.16 Cai, W. h.
(3) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Company Mahamel Askari I I. R. 20 Cai, 726 (S. C.16 Cai, W. h.
(3) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(4) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(4) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(5) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(6) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(7) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(7) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) [P. 1] Frita Spick of Cai, W. h.
(8) I R 27 Tues

ILR 311 • Fn e SI v

The fact that a Vagustrate has proceeded under S 209 (t) to hold a trial for a minor offence arising out of a case before him shows that he has come to the conclusion that there were no sufficient grounds for committing him on a charge of a major offence traible exclusively by a Court of Session and such a course amounts to an order of discharge for that offence so as to enable a superior Court under S 437 to consider whether it should not order a commitment or an inquiry to be made in respect of that offence?

Sub section 2

S  $\,$  253 (2) gives the Magistrate the same discretion in the trial of a warrant case

When charge is to examination (if any) being made, the Magis be framed trute is satisfied that there are sufficient grounds for committing the accused for trial, he shall frame a charge under his hand, declaring with what offence the accused is charged.

(2) As soon as such charge has been framed, it shall be read and explained to the accused and a copy thereof shall, if he so requires, be given to lim free of east

Sufficient grounds for committing the accused for trial

Whether such grounds custs or not is the test whether the Magnitrate should discharge or commit the accused for trial. It is munifiest that these words are not identical with grounds for consisting since tailen in that sense they would enable the Mag strate variably to superside the Court of Session to which the cogn zance of the case for actual trial belongs. The Magistrate ought to commit when the evidence is enough to put the accused on his trial and such a case obviously arises when witnesses make statements which if believed would sustain a conviction. The weighing of their testimony in regard to improbabilities and apparent discrepancies is properly a function of the Court having jurisdiction to try the case?

Where the charge was one of culpable homicide which was amply established by the evidence a Magistrite exercising special powers under S 30 should not convict of culpable homicide not amounting to murder, but should ruther commit the case for trial on the charge of murder for by convicting if the lessor offence he assumes the functions of the Court of Session and him self decides on a question of fact which he should rather leave for the decision of the Court of Session?

A Magistrate is not competent to commit a case to a Court of Session merely because the parties wish, and because a Government Resolution directed it 4

He must proceed on entirely judicial considerations

But it is the duty of the Mag strate to consider the evidence and to deter mine whether there are sufficient grounds for committing like accused, that is

<sup>1</sup> Week Dat TTD a Ma e g

Form 37° Reg v Maha Singh 3 All H C 5000 84 Lachman v Junin I L R

I C 50m 84 Lachman v Jush I L R

*Gurdit Singh Panj Rec 1891 p 8 Mangal Singh Panj Rec 1891 p 1 Emp v Paramananda I L R 10 Cal 85 Emp v Gundya I L R 13 Bom 502 *Emp v Bhimanj Venkanj I L R 42 Bom 172,

whether there are reasonable grounds for a conviction 1 No doubt in doing so the Magistrate assumes a great responsibility, but it is one imposed on him by S 210 The Magistrate should consider whether on the evidence before him it is probable that a conviction will result from a trial in the Court of Session? Where the evidence is such that it could not reasonably be believed manifestly it would be useless for the Magistrate to commit It is always open to a supe rior Court to order further inquiry or a commitment (Ss 436-437), if in its opinion the accused has been improperly discharged

There may be no sufficient grounds for committing the accused for inal by the Court of Session or High Court if the offence prima facie proved is one triable by a Magistrate or if although the offence is one triable by the Court of Session or Magistrate the facts established show that it is not aggravated and the punishment which a Magistrate can impose is adequate. In such a case, the Magistrate should not discharge or commit but he should place the accused for trial before himself as Magistrate, or before some other Magistrate and the proceedings should be held accordingly under Chapter XXI, that is on trial as a warrant-case S 346 provides for this

Examination of the accused

When an accused person wishes to make a statement the Magistrate is bound to record it 3 The law (S 342) declares that the Magistrate may examine the accused at any stage of the inquiry without previously warning him but only for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in evidence against him and adds " and (the Magistrate) shall for the purpose aforesaid question him generally on the case after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined and before he is called upon for his defence" This has been held to make it obligators on a Magistrate to examine the accused before committing him to the Court of Session an omission to do so is an irregularity which does not affect the val dity of the commitment unless it has occasioned a failure of justice 4 See S 215 which declares that a commitment once made can be quashed by the High Court onh and only on a point of lan

The Calcutta H gh Court issued the following orders on this subject -Although the Code of Criminal Procedure does not make it imperative on a Mag strate to extend on criminal procedure does not make it imperations a Mag strate to extend on accused person at any stage of the inquiry before committing him to stand his trial at the Court of Session the Court limbs it necessary to impress upon all Mag strates the expedence of the general adoption of this course at some stage or other of the inquiry in those few and except onal cases in which the guilt of an accused may be beyond reasonable doubt the practice in force may be pennitted without risk but insmuch as by S 200 it is discretionary with a Magistrate to discharge or to commit an necused person necording as he finds that the evidence is in his opin on suff cent for his conviction by the Court of Session or otherwise it is obvious that the truth of any ordinary case will be best elected and obscure points will be cleared away by any explanat on that an accused may wish to give when after hearing all the evidence against him or at any other time in the discretion of the Magistrate he may be subjected to an examination before the Magistrate on points requiring clue dat on it being clearly explained to the accused that It is at his option to answer such question or not. The Court however desire to explain that in Issuing those directions they in no way sanction any precredings of an inquistorial nature $

<sup>**</sup> Lachman e Juda I I R s All 161 In re Kalvan Snoh I I R 21 All 61 Ilarhans Snoh e Talki Das y Cal W N 27 Bul Presell I I R as Rom 162 Fmn r Gantrat Lai I I R 46 All 517 ** Harbans Snoh e Talki Das - Cal W N - In re Abdul Gaffort to C I R 51 ** O Tmp r Prodra Tevun I I R 23 Mad 646 ** Cal I I I I I July 28 1864.

And in a reported case,1 the following observations were made.-

In a case of murder especially there can be no doubt that it is the duty of the Magistrate to silt every fact bearing on the case, in order to ascertain whether the accused is guilty or innocent, and to examine the accused on the facts which bear against him. One of the points of the evidence in this case which led to presumption of the accused s guilt was, that he had been absent about the time the murder was committed. His statement as to where he was at that time should have been recorded, and this should also have been thoroughly inquired into It is not sufficient to say that the accused might bring witnesses to prove his innocence at the trial. It is possible the accused may not know the names of the witnesses, and if the witnesses can give evidence in his favour to exculpate him, he should not be committed. A long time elapses before a trial at the Session comes on, and witnesses cannot then give as clear evidence, more especially as to time and duty, as when the facts have only lately occur Every inquiry should have been made previous to commitment to ascertain, not only whether there was presumption of the guilt of the accused, but also whether he was innocent. It is the duty of the Police and the Magistrate, not only to bring the parties suspected of being guilty to trial, but also to ascertain whether those suspected can clear themselves from the crime of which they are accused There is a clause in the Procedure Code which empowers Magistrates to commit without inquiry into the defence of the accused. The discretion given by this clause is much abused. It may be applied in certain eases, but in a serious charge of murder, when the life of the accused is at stake, this elause should not be acted upon, because no certainty of the accused a guilt can arise until his defence is negatived, and proof that his defence is false is frequently very strong evidence in favour of the prosecution. If the result of the inquiry into the defence leaves the matter in doubt, it is the duty of the Magistrate to commit, and to leave the Sessions Court to decide which is the true story.

The careful examination of an accused is specially necessary when he is undefended, as by this means alone a Magistrate can learn what his defence is, so as to assist him so far as possible by cross-examining the witnesses for the prosecution By this means, facts in his favour, if there is any truth in the story told by the accused, will be brought out or doubt thrown on the evidence of witnesses for the prosecution. But in undertaking this duty the Magistrate should be most careful not to subject an accused person to anything like crossexamination, or of an inquisitorial nature, a Magistrate is permitted by law to examine an accused person only for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in evidence against him. He cannot properly commence his proceedings by examining the accused person, unless such person intimates his desire to confess or make a statement

An accused person should, therefore, not be examined when the evidence is not sufficient to charge him with the offence 2 or merely for the purpose of filling up a gap in the evidence," or supplementing it when it is defective 4

the examination of an accused person should be recorded with strict observance of the rules laid down in S 364 as a disregard of them makes it inad-missible as evidence at the trial, unless any omission has been corrected by the examination of the Magistrate who recorded it (S 533)

Commitment

Having satisfied himself that there are sufficient grounds for committing the accused for trial, the Magistrate is not at once to commit He is required to frame a charge under his hand declaring with what offence the accused is charged. The charge is then read and explained to the accused, and, if he so recurres, a copy is to be given to him free of cost

<sup>1</sup> O v Kishto Doba 14 W R Cr 16 3 Shama Sunkar Biswas 10 W R Cr 25 Cal 1 B L R short notes

Basanta Kumat Ghattak I L R 26 Cal 48 Virabudra Goud, 1 Mad H C R, 199, Reg v Diaz 3 Bom H C R Cr 51; In re Chinibas Ghose I Cal L R 436

S 213 declares how and when a commitment shall be made

Alter a Magistrate has framed a charge of an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session he allowed the witnesses for the Prosecution to be recalled and cross-examined by the accused and on the evidence so obtained he cancelled the charge and discharged the accused on the ground that there were no sufficient grounds for committing him to the Court of Session. On objection taken the Calcutta High Court held that he was competent to do so.

Charge

Sch V (28) contains various forms of charges

The lees payable on a copy or translation of a charge furnished to an accused uder $ 210 have been remitted 2

A charge is a statement that every legal condition required by law to constitute the offence charged was fulfilled. It shall state the offence with which the accused is charged and, if the law, which creates the offence, gues it a specific name the offence may be described in the charge by that name. But it the law does not give the offence any specific name, so much of the offence must be stated as to give the occused notice of the matter with which be it charged. The law and section of the law, against which the offence is said to have been committed must also be mentioned in the charge (5 2*1).

Ss 233 239 deal with joinder of charges with respect to offences and persons accused in the same proceedings. See notes thereunder

211 (1) The accused shall be required at once to give in Late of witnesses for orally or in writing, a list of the persons (if defence on trial

any) whom he wishes to be summoned to give evidence on his trial

(2) The Magistrate may, in his discretion, allow the ac-

at a subsequent time, and, where the accred committed for trial before the High Court, nothing in this section shall be deemed to preclude the accused from giving, at any time before his trial, to the Clerk of the Crown a further list of the persons whom he wishes to be summoned to give evidence on such trial.

After having read and explained the charge to the accused at its the duly of the Magistrate to call upon him to give in at once, orally or in wrining a list of the persons whom he wishes to be summoned to give evidence at the trial 1 libe. Magistrate may in his discretion summon and examine any winess to attend and give evidence at the trial 1 the he thinks that only witness is included in or delay, or ol deferuing the ends of accused to satisfy him that the exidence of such witness is

Magistrate may reluse to su

1 Jogendra Nath Mukherji 16 1 110 (114) Covt Int 1866 Part I p 401 refusal) or he may before summoning him require the deposit of the expense of obtaining the attendance of the witness and all proper expenses (S 216, Proviso) The recused is at liberty to reserve his defence and to bring his own witnesses to the trial if he does not require the assistance of a process from the Court for that purpose. But if when called upon to give a list of the wit nesses, the accused declines to do so, he cannot compel the Magistrate after commitment to issue summons for any witnesses on his behalf. The Sessions Judge mas in his discretion cause any witnesses to be summoned for the accused on application made during the trial and he is bound to procure their attendance if he considers that their exidence may be material 1. A committing Magistrate is not justified either in law or in common fairness, in forcing the accused to disclose the names of his intended witnesses or what those witnesses would be called to prove In accused is entitled when before the committing Magistrate to reserve his difence and to refuse to disclose the names of the witnesses whom he intends to call at the Sessions trial A Magistrate is, under 5 211 (1) bound to require the accused to give a list of the witnesses he desires to call. It is not enough to ask him "Have you may evidence?" a

S 216 declares how the Magistrate should proceed if he thinks that a person in the list of those whom the accused wishes to be summoned to give evidence on the trial is included in the list for the purpose of secretion or of defeating the

ends of justice

212 The Magistrate may, in his discretion, summon and examine any witness named in any list given trate to examine 53 5 in to lum under section 211 Witnesses

This is a discretion that should be rarely exercised, for the inconsiderate exam nation of witnesses cited for the defence at the trial may seriously prejudice the accused person and may also unnecessarily harass the witnesses if they are re quired to attend for a second time at the trial S 213 (2), enables a Magistrate, after hearing the witnesses for the defence, to cancel the charge and discharge the accused if he is satisfied that there are not sufficient grounds for committing him It is for the person impugning the Magistrate's order under S 212 to satisfy the High Court that a judicial discretion has not been used, before that Court will interfere with that order 4

213 (1) When the accused, on being required to give in a list under section 211, has declined to do Order of commitso, or when he has given in such list and the witnesses (if any) included therein whom the Magistrate desires to examine have been summoned and examined under section 212. the Magistrate may make an order committing the accused for trial by the High Court or the Court of Session (as the case may be), and (unless the Magistrate is a Presidency Magistrate) shall also record briefly the reasons for such commitment

(2) If the Magistrate, after hearing the witnesses for the defence, is satisfied that there are not sufficient grounds for committing the accused, he may cancel the charge and discharge the accused.

O Emp v Shakir Ah I L R 19 All 562 2 Q Emp v Har Govind Singh I L R 14 All 242 2 Emp v Kondi Raghu 7 Bom L Rep. 723 4 In re Rudra Singh, I L R, 18 All 380

frame a tharge under his hand declaring with what offence the accused is charged The charge is then read and explained to the accused, and, if he so requires, a copy is to be given to him free of cost

S 213 declares how and when a commitment shall be made

After a Magistrate has framed a charge of an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session he allowed the witnesses for the Prosecution to be recalled and cross examined by the accused, and on the evidence so obtained he cancelled the charge and discharged the accused on the ground that there were no suffi cient grounds for committing him to the Court of Session On objection taken the Calcutta High Court held that he was competent to do so I

Charge

Sch V (28) contains various forms of charges

The fees payable on a copy or translation of a charge furnished to an accused uder S 210 have been remitted 2

A charge is a statement that every legal condition required by law to constitute the offence charged was fulfilled It shall state the offence with which the accused is charged, and if the law, which creates the offence, gives it a specific name, the offence may be described in the charge by that name But if the law does not give the offence any specific name so much of the offence must be stated as to give the accused notice of the matter with which he is charged The law and section of the law, against which the offence is said to have been committed must also be mentioned in the charge (5 221)

Ss 233 239 deal with joinder of charges with respect to offences and persons

accused in the same proceedings. See notes thereunder

(1) The accused shall be required at once to give in orally or in writing, a list of the persons (if List of witnesses for any) whom he wishes to be summoned to defence on trial give evidence on his trial

(2) The Magistrate may, in his discretion, allow the aceused to give in any further list of witnesses at a subsequent time; and, where the accused Further list is committed for trial before the High Court, nothing in this section shall be deemed to preclude the accused from giving, at any time before his trial, to the Clerk of the Crown a further list of the persons whom he wishes to be summoned to give evidence on such trial.

After having read and explained the charge to the accused it is the duly of the Magistrate to call upon him to give in at once, orally or in writing, has of the persons whom he washes to be summoned to gave evidence all uses that I he Magustrate may in his discretion summon and examine any winter to named in this list (S 212) But he is bound to summon such witnesses to attend and gue evidence at the frail of the case be committed for trail, unto the thinks that any winess is included in the list for the purpose of version or delay, or of defeature the order to the purpose of versions. or delay, or of defeating the ends of justice in which case he may require the accused to satisfy him that there are reasonable grounds for believing the the evidence of such witness is material and, if he is not so satisfied and Magistrate may refuse to summon such witness (recording his reasons for such refusal), or he may before summoning him require the deposit of the expense of obtaining the attendance of the with se and all proper expenses (5 216, Proviso) The necused is at liberty to reserve his defence and to bring his own nitnesses to the trial if he does not require the assistance of a process from the Court for that purpose. But if when called upon to give a list of the witnesses, the accused declines to do so he cannot compel the Magistrate after commitment to issue summons for any witnesses on his behalf. The Sessions Judge, may, in his discretion cause any witnesses to be summoned for the accused on application made during the trial and he is bound to procure their attendance if he considers that their evidence may be material. I committing Magistrate is not justified either in I'm or in common fairness, in forcing the accused to disclose the nam s of his intended witnesses or what those witnesses would be called to prove. In necused is entitled when before the committing Magistrate to reserve his defence and to refuse to disclose the names of the witnesses whom he intends to call at the Sessi ns trial 3 \ Vagistrate is, under S 211 (1), bound to require the accused to give a list of the witnesses he desires to call It is not enough to rek him. If we you any evidence? 1

<sup>1</sup> Jogen Ira Nath Mukleryi 16 Cal W N 1155 Surjya Narun Singh 5 Cal W N

<sup>110 (114)</sup> Govt lat 1886 Part l p 401 Cd Il Ct Rules &c p 58

S 216 declares how the Magistrate should proceed if he thinks that a person in the list of those whom the accused wishes to be summoned to give evidence on the trial is included in the list for the purpose of sevation or of defeating the

ends of justice

212 The Magistrate in it in his discretion summon and examine my witness named in any list given Power of trate to examine sans in to him mider section 211 witnesses

This is a discretion that should be rarely exercised for the inconsiderate examination of witnesses cited for the defence at the trial may seriously prejudice the accused person and may also unnecessarily fraces the witnesses if they are re quired to attend for a second time at the trial $ 213 (2) enables a Magistrate, after hearing the witnesses for the defence to cancel the charge and discharge the accused if he is satisfied that there are not sufficient grounds for committing him It is for the person impugning the Magistrate's order under S 212 to satisfy the High Court that a sudicial discretion has not been used, before that Court will interfere with that order 4

(1) When the accused, on being required to give in Order of commit- a list under section 211, has declined to do so, or when he has given in such list and the witnesses (if any) included therein whom the Magistrate desires to examine have been summoned and examined under section 212, the Magistrate may make an order committing the received for trial by the High Court or the Court of Session (as the case may be), and (unless the Magistrate is a Presidency Magistrate) shall also record briefly the reasons for such commitment

(2) If the Magistrate, after hearing the witnesses for the defence, is satisfied that there are not sufficient grounds for on mitting the accused, he may cancel the charge and day! the

the accused

Q Emp v Shakir Ah I L R 19 All 502
 Q Emp v Har Govind Singh I L R 14 All 242
 Emp v Kondi Raghu 7 Eom L Rep 723
 In re Rudra Singh, I L R, 18 All 380

If it should so happen through the carelessness of the Magistrate that a commitment is made without a charge or on an erroneous or imperfect charge, S 226 provides that the omission or error may be corrected The commitment is not necessarily bad. A Magistrate cannot commit the accused without taking all the evidence that he is prepared to offer. unless he acts under S 216, Pro 2

The reasons for the commitment should set out with exactness the proof and the manner in which the offence has been established.2

Where the offence for the trial of which a commitment is made is triable by the Magistrate as well as by the Court of Session he is bound to state his reasons for the commitment. An omission to do so was regarded as an ille gality and not an irregularity which could be cured by S 537, because it appear ed from the evidence that the case was one which should not have been committed3

A commitment is made to the Court of Session or High Court, when the case is triable exclusively by such Court or, in the opinion of the Magistrate holding the inquiry is one which ought to be tried by such Court (S 207) Schedule II, col 8, shows what offences are exclusively triable by a Court of Session Where an offence is there entered as triable also by a Magistrate, the Magistrate has a discretion whether he should commit or hold the trial himself, and this of course depends upon the nature of the offence committed, whether the evidence shows that it was committed under circumstances of aggravation or by a person of bad character, or by an old offender, and also whether, from the prevalence of the particular offence a severe punishment is necessary as a deterrent in other words, whether a sentence, which should be passed, is one that the Court of Session is alone competent to pass A commit ment to the High Court can ordinarily be made only by a Presidency Magistrate who should be guided by the same considerations. A commitment to the Court of Session is, however, not illegal on a charge for an offence, which is declared by Sch II, col 8 to be triable by a Magistrate only, for, although the maximum sentence of imprisonment that can be passed may be within the Magistrate's power, if there is no limit to the amount of fine by which the offence is punishable, as the Magistrate's powers in this respect are limited, the commitment may be made to obtain a sentence of fine in a higher amount by the Court of Session 4 It is probably for this reason that Seh II, eol 8, declares that cases of defamation (5s 500 502 Penal Code) are triable by a Court of Session as well as by a Magistrate of the first class

Offence committed by a lunatic

When the accused person appears to be of sound mind at the time of the inquiry, ind the Virgistrate is satisfied from the evidence given before him that there is reason to behave that the accused committed an act, which, if he had been of sound mind would have been an offence, and that he was, by reason of unsoundness of mind, incapable of knowing the nature of the act or that it was wrong or contrary to law, the Magistrate shall proceed with the case ind if the ccused ought to be committed to the Court of Session or High Court send him for trial before the Court of Session or High Court, as the cise may be ($ 469)

S 464 declares the course to be talen by a Magistrate who in the course of an inquiry or trial finds that the accused is of unsound mind and consequently incopoble of making his defence and S 463 prescribes the course in such 2

case for the Court of Sessions after commitment

Lmp ; Muhammad Hadi I L R 26 All 177 following Q Emp p Ahras i

<sup>1</sup> L R o All 264

1 hodd hahar 5 W R Cr 6

2 hond w hanji Sund 1 L R 35 Bom 114 Q Emp v Kvyemullah 1 L R

24 Cal 429 (s c) i Col W 444

O I.mp v hasemullah Mandal I L R 24 Cal 429

CHAP XVIII SEC 213

dumb

The fact whether by reason of uncoundness of mind, the accused has, by reason of S S4, Penal Code, committed no offence, is to be tried by such Court and is not to form the ground for an order of the Magistrate discharging the accused, and the accused if requitted for this reason (See S 470), will not be released, but will be kept in confinement in a lunatic asslum or in safe custody in accordance with the rules made by the Local Government under the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912 (S 471)

341 declares the course to be talen if the accused, though not insane, cannot be made to understand the proceedings taken e.g. if he is deaf and

Commitment

A Magistrate should not commit merely on the confession of the accused person It is his duty to make full and careful inquiry into the alleged offence, and to record the evidence of the witnesses. The whole and not merely a part of the evidence should be ready at the trial. There are many reported cases showing that confessions are often retracted at the trial, and therefore other evidence should be forthcoming to establish the offence charged! The High Court in such a case directed the Magistrate to proceed under S 219 by taking the full examination of persons acquainted with the facts 1

When an offence falls under two sections of the Penal Code the one general and cognizable by a Magistrate the other specifying aggravated circumstances and cognizable by the Sessions Court only the jurisdiction of the Magistrate is not necessarily ousted. The Magistrate must determine whether he will dispose of the ease under the general section or commit the accused to the Court with a discrect regard to the gravity of circumstances of the peculiar case 2 If it be found that the Vingistrate has improperly discharged the accused of such offence the Sessions Judge or the District Magistrate can direct him to be committed to the Sessions Court (S 437)

Where death appears to have resulted from injuries voluntarily inflicted by the party accused a Magistrate ought to be very exreful and not take it upon himself to absolve the accused from the graver charge of culpable hornicide or murder, and convict him of hurt or grievous hurt only unless it is quite clear that there is not sufficient evidence to warrant a commitment to the

Sessions Court on such charge 3

When several persons are charged with offences of various degrees, arising out of the same act or transaction, all implicated therein against whom sufficient evidence is forth-coming should be committed to the Court of Session, if any of the accused is charged with an offence beyond the cognizance of a Magis trate, or one which in the opinion of the Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case, ought to be tried by the Court of Session The term "transaction" here used must not be understood to apply to a rot in which different parties are concerned not having the same "common object". Thus, when a not is charged, and the Magistrate is about to commit the contending parties for trial, not only should separate charges be drawn up against each party, but separate trials should be held, since the offences of each party are distinct and separate Similarly, a separate trial should be held on each charge of "giving false evi dence" although the statements forming the basis of the charge may relate to the same subject matter. Two persons cannot be joined in one indictment of

Mahadu valid Vithobr. Bom. H. Ct. Cr. Rul. Feb. 27, 1806
 Mad. H. Ct. July, 12, 1871. Wert, 701. Warch 18, 1868. Wert 759
 Cal. H. C. Rules. & L. I. Funo. Purmanneada I. L. R. 10 Cal. 85, (s. c.) 13
 Cal. L. R. 375. O. Emp. v. Gandys. I. L. R. 13, 197m. 30°. Gurdit Pun, Rec. 1891.
 See note to S. 30 and S. 210
 *Durzoolla Khan. n. W. R. Cr. 33. Hovem. Bulsh. t. Tmp. I. R. 6 Cal. 96, (s. c.) 6 Cal. L. R. 521. Q. Emp. v. Chandra B. nurva. I. L. R. 20°. Cal. 537

this offence because the offences may have been committed in the same judicial proceeding 1

Under section 239 the following persons may be charged and tried together as the Court thinks fit and the provisions of Ss 221-238 shall apply to such charges -

(a) persons caused of the same offence committed in the course of the same transaction.

(b) persons accused of an offence and persons accused of abetment or of an attempt to commit such offence (c) persons accused of more than one offence of the same kind within the m in f ect n 24 committed by them jointly within the period of twelve months

(d) persons accused of different offences committed in the course of the same transaction

(e) persons accused of an offence which includes theft extortion or criminal misappropriation and persons accused of receiving or retain ing or assisting in the disposal or concealment of property possession of which is alleged to have been transferred by any such offence com mitted by the first named persons or of abetment of or attempting to commit any such last named offence

(f) persons accused of offences under sections 411 and 414 of the Indan Penal Code or either of those sections in respect of stolen property the possession of which has been transferred by one offence and

(g) persons accused of any offence under Chapter \ll of the Indian Penal Code relating to counterfest coin and persons accused of ony other offence under the said Chapter relating to the same coin or of abet ment of or attempting to commit any such offence

A Magistrate having committed a person who appeared before him by agent ($ 203) the Calcutta High Court held that the commitment was not necessarily illegal but as the agent had not been required to give in a list of the witnesses whom he wished to have summoned for his principal the Court d rected the Magistrate to male the demand? But when one of the accused s ibsent who the proceedings are held at which the order of commitment is male the order is illegal?

If the offence is compoundable after committal the compounding may be allowed by the Court to which the commitment has been made, and it will then operate as an acquittal of the accused (S 345)

Sub section (2)

This enables a Magistrate to cancil the charge and discharge the accused instead of committing him if after hearing the witnesses for the defence of otherwise he is satisfied that there are no sufficient grounds for committing him So where on a trial of a warrant-case in which after hearing some of the evidence the Magistrate was of opinion that the offence could not be adequately punished by him (S 254) but should be committed to the Court of Session and he continued the proceedings by taking evidence for the prosecution notwithstanding that in exercise of his discretion under S 254 he had framed charge, it was held that the accused were not prejudiced by this, and that, not withstanding that a charge had been framed the Magistrate would not be bound to commit but was competent to d scharge the accused if he found that there were not sufficient prounds for committing him

<sup>1 3</sup> Mad II C R app xxxii (s c) Weir 891 Chand Khan All W N 1881 F

In te Surya Narain Singh 5 Cal W. N. 110 In te Surya Narain Singh 5 Cal W. N. 110

A Magistrate may under $ 216 proviso for sufficient reasons to be recorded by him refuse to summon witnesses cited for the defence S 208 does not affect his discretion. But he cannot refuse to examine them if present in Court? If the Wast trate has made an order of commitment he is not competent to try the accused for a minor offence by cancelling the charges of offences beyond his jurisdiction *

The weighing of the testimony of witnesses in regard to improbabilities and apparent discrepancies is properly a function of the Court having jurisdiction to try the case. But the Magnetrate as not chilged to commit if there is a prima facie case made out by the prosecution evidence if he disbelieves the evidence and considers himself able to show that the witnesses are unworthy of credit and a fortiers when after bearing some of the defence witnesses he forms the opinion that they are reliable and rebut the case for the prosecution,4 or their evidence renders it so incredibl or unreliable that a conviction will not follow he is justified in discharging the iccused under 5 213(2)

After a Magistrate has discharged an accused of an offince triable exclusively by the Court of Session the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate ean order the accused to be committed for trail if in his opinion the accused has been improperly discharged (S 437) and in any other case for a similar reason such officer can order a further inquiry to be held (5 436)

[Person charged outside presidency-towns jointly with European British subject \ Repealed by 4ct VII of 1923 S 10

This section provided that when an European British subject was being committed to the High Court any other person jointly charged with him should also be committed to the High Court instead of to the Court of Session provision is no lenger necessary inasmuch as the new law enables. Sessions Judges to in all offences igainst European British subjects

See Act All of 19 3 and notes under Chapter AMIII of this Code A commitment once under mider section 213 by a

Quashing commitments under section 213 or 214 competent Magistrate or by a Civil or Revenue Court under section 478, can be quashed by the High Court only, and only on a point of law

Although a High Court can quash a commitment as above described only on a point of law it can exercise its ordinary powers as a Court of Revision and quash a commitment made under an order of a Sessions Judge or a District Magistrate under S 436 (see now S 437) on the ments of the case $

Competent Magistrate

A Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate, Sub-Divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class are competent to commit, and any other Magis

Sess Judge of Combatore v Kangaya Mantradiyar I L R 36 Mad 321 Makaral Dis 2 Cal L J 33 n

<sup>**</sup> Makaral Dis 2 Cal L J 33 n

** O Emp v Namdev Satvajs I L R 11 Bom 372 Reg v Maha Singh 3 All

** O Emp v Namdev Satvajs I L R 27 Bom 84 Lachman v Juala I L R

5 All 161, Fattu v Fattu I L R 26 All 564

** Dharam Singh I L R 37 All 335

** Sulhahman A Abul Hadi I L R 44 All 57

** Sulhahman A Abul Hadi I L R 34 All 57

Rash Beharn Mandi 12 Cal W N 117 (6 c) 6 Cal L J 760 Kalugava Bapiah

1 L V a ** Mash

I L R 27 Mad 54

trate other than a Magistrate of the third class may be empowered by the Local Government in that behalf (S 206) Unless it has in fact occasioned a fulure of justice, a commitment made on an inquiry held in a wrong district, subdivision or other local area cannot be set aside only on that ground (S 531) If a commitment is made without a charge, the Sessions Court or, in the case of a High Court the Clerk of the Crown may frame a charge ($ 20)

Under S 337 a conditional pardon may be tendered to an accomplice so as to obtain his evidence at the inquiry or trial, and if it be found that such person has not complied with the condition on which the tender was made, he may be tried for the offence in respect to which the pardon was so tendered or for any other offence of which he appears to have been guilty in connection with the same matter, provided that no prosecution for the offence of giving false et dence in respect of such statement shall be entertained without the sanction of the High Court (Ss 337 and 339) It has been held that such a person cannot be proceeded against until the trial of the other accused against whom he has appeared as a witness has been terminated, and that his commitment for trial simultaneously with the others is illegal. The Sessions Judge has no power himself to direct the trial of such a person or to try him at once with the others for except as otherwise specially provided a Sessions Court cannot tale cognizance of an offence unless the accused has been committed to it bi a Magistrate duly empowered in that behalf (S 103) 2 See S 532

Where the conditional pardon tendered to an necused person was forfeited and he was committed to the Sessions Court for Irial with others charged with the same offence the commitment was quashed, because he had not had an opportunity of cross-examining the witnesses I twis doubted in another case whether the commitment might also have been quashed because the approve was committed for trial simultaneously with others whereas he should have been committed after their trial

The High Courts in those cases however held that the accused "had been injured" hecuse in inquiry hal not been held before he was committed and the Sees ons Judge enuld not tale cognizance of the offence because the eve had not been committed to his Court (5 193)

Where the Magistrate on a Police report that the case under investigation was false proceeded under $ 4-6 and committed the case for trial the commit ment was quashed on the ground that it was without jurisdiction inasmich as he was not competent to act under S 426 $

Commilments not quashed

Insufficience of extlence against the accused is no ground for quashing 1 commitment. The test to decide whether a commitment is proper or not is this assuming that the whole of the evidence t ling against the accused is true there is case which a Judge at a trail could leave to the Jun? If there is no evidence on which a jury could consict then the commitment is wrong

O Emp 1 Blau 1 1 R 23 Bom 193 Q r Petamber Di soter 14 W R 10 O r Bijno Dass 10 W K 43

<sup>1</sup> O Emp e Junt Chanles Mah I I R 22 Cal 50 O Emp e Runa Tesa" R 15 Mai 342

O Emp r Buj Narala Man I I R ao Alt 520 Bit see Bi tiban | I P 20 All 24

O Emp e Rama Saml I I R of Wal 3or (304) See also Arunaclellam | L

R 11 Mad "Amiji Sural I L R 48 Bem 114 Top 1 Maji Sural I L R 48 Bem 114 Coket Bentul 1 W R Cr 8 secondry Shooler Ram o Cut W 8 fo Chantra Kumu Master 2 Cul I J 4 Josepha'r Chose 5 Cal W 8 411 Shooler Ram 9 C W 8 819

A commutment made by a Magistrate on a charge of an offence declared by Schedule 11 col 5 to be exclusively triable by hint and not by the Court of Session is not necessarily illegal for although the maximum sentence of improviment may be within his jurisdiction, his power of sentence as to fine is limited and it might be fund that a greater fine than he could pass was the proper punishment.

Where there are counter charges of riot, one of which resulted in homicide, and the Mag strite committed both cases, although the charge under S. 143. Penal Code was in one crise of an offence cognizable solely by a Magistrate, the High Court refused to quash the commitment as it was not illegal, and the Magistrates discretion should not be lightly interfered with Separate trials of each of the contending parties in the Sessions Court should however be held

216 When the accused has given in any list of witnesses Summons to wit messes for defects for trial, the Magistrate shall summon such anter unter appeared before himself, to appear hefore the Court to which the accused has been committed

Provided that, where the accused has been committed to the High Court, the Magistrate may, in his discretion, leave such witnesses to be summound by the Clerk of the Crown, and such witnesses may be summound accordingly

In refusing to summon a witness cited by a person who has been committed from that, the Alagistratic is bound to show that the necused has lailed to satisfy him that the evidence which such wintess is required to give is maternal. To state that the reasons assigned for requiring the attendance of the witness were insufficient does not show that the evidence is not maternal. It is not for the Nagistrate to inquire generally into the nature of the defence, and then to abstain from summoning the witnesses cited by the accused. A Magistrate can require the accused to satisfy him that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the evidence of a witness is maternal, only if he has reason to believe that the witness is 'cited for the purpose of vexation or delay or of defeating the ends of justice.'

In re Rata of Kantit I L R 8 All 668

Q Emp v Keyemullah I L R 24 Ctl 429 (c) I Cal W N 414
 Behan All W N 1850 1 236
 Benonath v Rajcoomar Singh I L R 3 Cal 573 (c) 2 Cal L R 62

trate other than a Magistrate of the third class, may be empowered by the Local Government in that behalf ($ 206)

Unless it has in fact occasioned a fulure of justice, a commitment made on an inquiry held in a wrong district subdivision or other local area cannot be set aside only on that ground ($ 531)

If a commitment is made without a charge, the Sessions Court or in the case of a High Court the Clerk of the Crown may frame a charge ($ 26)

Under S 337 a conditional pardon may be tendered to an accomplice so 33 to obtain his evidence at the inquiry or trial, and if it be found that such person has not complied with the condition on which the tender was made, he may be tried for the offence in respect to which the parden was so tendered or for any other offence of which he app ars to have been guilty in connection with the same matter provided that no prosecution for the offence of giving false ell dence in respect of such statement shall be entertained without the sanction of the High Court (Ss 337 and 339) It has been held that such a person cannot be proceeded against until the trial of the other accused against when he has appeared as a natness has been terminated and that his commitment for trial simultaneously with the others is illegal. The Sessions Judge has no power himself to direct the trial of such a person or to try him at once with the others for except as otherwise specially provided a Sessions Court cannot tal e cognizance of an offence unless the accused has been committed to it by a Magistrate duly empowered in that behalf (5 103)2 See S 532

Where the conditional pardon tendered to an accused person was forfetted and he was committed to the Sessions Court for trial with others charged with the same offence the commitment was qurshed because he had not had an opportunity of cross examining the witnesses It was doubted in another case whether the commitment might also have been quashed because the appoint was committed for trail simultaneously with others whereas he should be been committed after their trail 4

The High Courts in those cases however held that the accused had been injured " because an inquiry had not been held before he was committed and the Sessions Judge could not take cognizance of the off nee because the ere had not been committed to his Court (S 193)

Where the Magistrate on a Police report that the case under investigation was false proceeded under $ 476 and committed the case for trial the commit ment was quashed on the ground that it was without jurisdiction insmuch at he was not competent to act under S 476 5

Commitments not quashed

Insufficiency of evidence against the accused is no ground for quarking commitment. The test to decide whether a commitment is proper or not is this assuming that the whole of the evidence telling against the accused is true is there a case which a Judge at a trial could leave to the jury? If there is no evidence on which a pury could convict then the commitment is wrong

O Comp 1 Blast 1 L R 23 Bom 493 Q v Petunber Dhoolee 14 W R 10 Q t Bijno Dass to W R 43

Ut injun Dies in W. R. 43 O Tune e Just Chen Ira Wah I I R. 22 Cal 50 Q Imp v Rama Teats I L. R. 15 Mai 1822 I L. R. 15 Mai 1822 O All June e Bu Illan I I F. 40 All 520 Bit see Bi Illan I I F.

<sup>29</sup> All 24 O Imp e Rama Sami I I R 24 Wal 321 [324] See also Arnnachellam t L R 31 Mad 272

<sup>**</sup>Imp r Nanji Sumi I L R 39 Rom 114
**Gokul Bundari 1 W R Cr 8 nec contr. Sheobux Ram a Cil W N 8 a **Chan Ira Kumur Mister 2 Cal L J 16
**Incolux Ram a C W N 829

A commitment made by a Magistrate on a charge of an offence declared by Schedule 11, col 8, to be exclusively trable by him and not by the Court of Session is not necessarily illegal, for although the maximum sentence of im prisonment may be within his jurisdicton, his power of sentence as to fine is limited, and it might be found that a greater fine than he could pass was the proper punishment.1

Where there are counter charges of riot, one of which resulted in homicide, and the Magistrate committed both cases, although the charge under S 143, Penal Code, was in one case of an offence cognizable solely by a Magistrate, the High Court refused to quash the commitment as it was not illegal, and the Magistrate's discretion should not be lightly interfered with 2 Separate trials of each of the contending parties in the Sessions Court should however be held.

When the accused has given in any list of witnesses under section 211 and has been committed Summons to witnesses for defence for trial, the Magistrate shall summon such when accused is comof the witnesses included in the list, as have mutted not appeared before himself, to appear before the Court to which the accused has been committed

Provided that, where the accused has been committed to the High Court, the Magistrate may, in his discretion, leave such witnesses to be summound by the Clerk of the Crown, and such witnesses may be summoned accordingly

Provided also, that if the Magistrate thinks that any witness is included in the list for the purpose of Refusal to summon veration or delay, or of deleating the ends of unnecessary witness unless deposit made justice, the Magistrate may require the accused to satisfy him that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the evidence of such witness is material, and, if he is not so satisfied, may refuse to summon the witness (recording his leasons for such refusal), or may before summoning him require such sum to be deposited as such Magistrate thinks necessary to deliay the expense of obtaining the attendance of the witness and all other proper expenses

In refusing to summon a witness cited by a person who has been committed for total, the Alagistratit is bound to show that the accused has failed to satisfy him that the evidence which such witness is required to give is material state that the reasons assigned for requiring the attendance of the witness were insufficient does not show that the evidence is not material 3. It is not for the Magistrate to inquire generally into the nature of the defence, and then to abstain from summoning the witnesses cited by the accustd A Magistrate can require the accused to satisfy him that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the evidence of a witness is material, only if he lias reason to believe that the witness is "cited for the purpose of vexation or delay or of defeating the ends of justice 15

And all other proper expenses

This enables a Magistrate to require the deposit before summons is issued, not only of the expense of obtaining the attendance of a witness, such as, process fees or the cost of his travelling, but of professional fees, if the witness is an expert, such as, a medical man or a professional engineer

- 217 (1) Complainants and witnesses for the prosecution Bond of complainant and defence, whose attendance before the ants and witnesses and witnesses and who appear before the Magistrate, shall execute before him and binding themselves to be in attendance when called upon at the Court of Session or High Court to prosecute or to give $\epsilon$ dence, as the ease may be
- (2) If any complainant or witness refuses to attend before the court of Session or High Court, or execute the bond above directed, the Magistration of Session of High Court is required, when the Magistrate shall send him custody to the Court of Session of High Court, as the case may

It will be the duty of the Magistrate, in order to prevent hardship and nesses are detention to such persons, so to arrange the coming on of eases be the Court of Sussion that such partitive may not be brought from their hobotore they are actually required, they should have written notice of the spe date on which their attendance will be necessary, and it should be carefully planned that failure to attend will be severely dealt with 1

A Magistrate cannot require recognizances for the attendance at the Sessi or High Court of witnesses cited for the defence who have never appeared

fore him

Witnesses should be bound over to appear not as a matter of course on the day of the Sessions, but on a convenient day fixed in communication the Sessions Judge with reference to the number of cases committed

Dut in Bombay it has been ordered that in commitments to the High Co witnesses should be bound over to attend on the first day of the Session

218 (1) When the accused is committed for trial, in Commitment when Magistrate shall resue an order to such persue to be notified as may be appointed by the Local Government in this behalf, notifying the commitment, and stating offence in the same form as the charge, unless the Magistrate satisfied that such person is already aware of the commitment and the form of the charge; and shall send the charge, the record of the inquiry and a charge, etc., to be weapon or other thing which is to be produced in evidence, to the Court of Session or (which session or the commitment is made to the High Court to the Clerk of the Crown or other officer appointed in this behalf by the High Court (2) When the commitment is made to the High Court and any part of the record is not in English, an English translation English translation of such part shall be forb- forward d to the High Court warded with the record

CHAP XVIII SEC 219

The proceedings in the inquiry being now complete, the record and the exhibits are to be forwarded to the Court before which the trial is to take place

Notice is also to be given to the officer appointed to conduct the prosecution In every trial before a Court of Session the prosecution shall be conducted by a Public Prosecutor -(S 270)

The Governor-General in Council or the Local Government may appoint, generally or in any case or for any specified class of cases in any local area, one or more officers to be called Public Prosecutors

The District Magistrate or subject to the control of the District Magis trate, the Sub-Divisional Magistrate may in the absence of the Public Prose cutor, or where no Public Prosecutor has been appointed appoint any other person not being an officer of Police below such rank as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf to be Public Prosecutor for the purpose of any case-(5 492) If any private person instructs a pleader to prosecute any person the Public Prosecutor shall conduct the prosecution and the pleader so instructed shall act under his directions (S 493)

Sch V No 27 contains a form of notice of commitment by Magistrate to the Government Pleader

Ordinarily the Sessions Judge fixes the date of the trial and communicates the same to the District Magistrate

The various High Courts have issued instructions for the guidance of committing Magistrates and Courts of Session in regard to the bringing to trial of eases committed

(1) The committing Magistrate or, in the absence of such Magistrate, any other Magistrate Power to summon empowered by or under section 206 may, if supplementary witnesses he thinks fit, summon and examine supplementary witnesses after the commitment and before the commencement of the trial, and bind them over in manner herein before provided to appear and give evidence

(2) Such examination shall if possible be taken in the presence of the accused, and, where the Magistrate is not a Presidency Magistrate, a copy of the evidence of such witnesses shall be given to the accused free of cost

Formerly it was only the committing Magistrate who could record supple mentary evidence under this section By the amendment made by Act No XVIII of 1923 S 60 the power may now be exercised in the absence of the committing Magistrate by any other Magistrate empowered to commit for trial. The amendment made by the same section in sub-section (2) requires a copy of the evidence taken to be given to the accused as a matter of course and not only when the accused asks for it

S 219 shows that a Magistrate may, even after commitment but before the commencement of the trial exercise the powers given to a Court by S 540 to summon and examine any person as a witness or recall and re examine any person already examined, if his evidence appears to be essential to a just deci sion of the case 1 After the commencement of the trial, the Magistrate ceases to have any jurisdiction over the case and can no longer act judicially

A witness so examined not in the presence of the accused person, must attend before the Court of Session or High Court

If he should die, or cannot be found or is incapable of giving evidence or is kept out of the way by the adverse party, or if his presence cannot be obtain ed without unreasonable delay or expense his deposition so taken before the Magistrate will not be evidence before the Court of Session or High Court of it has not been taken in the presence of the accused, because he has not had an opportunity to cross examine him (Evidence Act, (1 of 1872) S 33), every endeavour should therefore be made to examine all such witnesses in the pre sence of the accused person

By notification under the Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) S 35 copies of the evidence of witnesses given to an accused person under S 219 of the Code are exempt from Court fees 2

If additional evidence is recorded under S 219 an opportunity should be given to the accused to cite witnesses to meet such evidence a

Until and during the trial, the Magistrate shall, sub ject to the provisions of this Code regarding the taking of bail commit the accused by warrant Custody of accused pending trial to custody

If it is a bailable offence (see Sch. II. Col. 5) the Magistrate should admit the recused to bail unless he thinks fit instead of taking bail to discharge him on executing a bond without sureties for his appearance (S. 496), but if a person is recused of a non-bailable offence he shall not be released on bail if there are researched. there are reasonable grounds for believing that he is guilty of an offence punish able with death or transportation for life (S 497) The High Coart or sensor Court may, however, in any case direct that any person may be admitted to but or that the bail he reduced (S 408)

CHAPTER XIX

OF THE CHARGE

"Charge " includes any head of charge when the charge contains more heads than one—S 4 (c)

Λ 'charge' may be defined to be a written document containing the defined to be a written document co cription of the offence, which the Court either in an inquiry or trial of a war rant case, finds primd facie proved by evidence before it to have been committed by the accused so as to require him to defend himself

The fact that a charge is made is equivalent to a statement that every legal condition required by law to constitute the offence charged was fulfilled in the particular case S 221 (5)

The object of a charge is to inform the accused of the nature of the office.

The law, as confor the commission of which he is before a criminal Court. The law, as contruned in the chapter, does not require that the acts or omissions constitutes

Govt Int 1886, Put I Cal II Ct Rules to p 50 Peels Malton t Sheo Dyal I I R ( Cal 71)

Deela Malton Steo Dyal I I R 6Cal 711 (s c) 8C L R "

such offence shall be set out in all their divide but it requires that it shall be set out in such terms that the accused may be able to learn what is imputed to him, and it should be noted that when it accused is called upon to plead to a charge, it must be read and explained to him—{5s 255 and 271}. Such explanation if properly given should supily the details of the offence which may not be set out in the charge and if the accused is properly examined for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstruces appearing in the evidence against him {5 34} there exist be that roome is especially increasing which the accused person is undefined or when it is sought to impleate the accused for acts committed not by himself but by others with whom he was associated the for instances of this reference may be made to sections 34 35 37, 149 of the Indian Penal Code

S 223 of this Code and its Illustrations give instances in which particulars should be given of the manne in which the alleg d offence has been committed

In the trial of a summons eigen no formal charge need be framed ($2.42) but the accused shall be ask if a slow cause why he should not be connected of the offence of which he is a cused the particulars of that offence being stated to him. In a warrant-case after the cydence for the prosecution has been taken and the ccused has been examined or at any previous stage of the case if the Magistrate is of opinion that there is ground for presuming that the accused has committed an offen which the Magistrate is competent to try and which can be ad quelety purshed by him a charge shall be framed. $2.44

In an inquiry a charge is framed if after hearing the evidence and after the examination (f any) of el accused the Magistrate is satisfied that there are sufficient grounds for committing him for trial to the Court of Session or High Court S 210

Form of Charges

Charge to state offence

221 (1) Every charge under this Code shall state the offence with which the necused is charged

- (2) If the law which creates the offence gives it any specific offence may be described in the offence may be described in the offence may be described in the offence may be described in the
- (3) If the law which erectes the offence does not give it any specific name, so much of the definition of the offence must be strided as to give the accused offence must be strated as to give the accused notice of the matter with which he is charged
- (4) The law and section of the law against which the offence is said to have been committed shall be mentioned in the charge
- (B) The fact that the charge is made is equivalent to a statement that every legal condition required by law to constitute the offence charged was fulfilled in the particular case

<sup>1</sup> Behari Mahton I L R II Cal 106

(6) In the presidency-towns the charge shall be written in English; elsewhere it shall be written either Language of charge in English or in the language of the Court (7) If the accused having been previously convicted of any offence, is hable, by reason of such previous conviction, to enhanced punishment, or to Previous conviction

when to be set out punishment of a different kind, for a subsequent offence, and it is intended to prove such previous conviction for the purpose of affecting the punishment which the Court may think fit to award for the subsequent offence, the fact, date and place of the previous conviction shall be stated in the charge li such statement has been omitted, the Court may add it at any time before sentence is passed

Illustrations

(a) A is charged with the murder of B This is equivalent to a statement that A's act fell within the definition of murder given in sections 299 and 300 of the Indian Penal Code, that it did not fall within any of the general exceptions of the same Code, and that it did not fall within any of the five exceptions to section 300, or that, if it did fall within exception I, one or other of the three provisos to that exception applied to it

(b) A is charged, under section 326 of the Indian Penal Code, with volunt tarily eausing grievous hurt to B by means of an instrument for shooting This is equivalent to a statement that the case was not provided for by section 335 of the Indian Penal Code, and that the general exceptions did not apply to it (c) A is accused of murder, cheating theft, extortion, adultery, or criminal intimidation, or using a false property mark The charge may state that A committed murder, or cheating, or theft, or extortion, or adultery, or entitle nal intimudation, or that he used a false property-mark, without reference per the definitions of those crimes contained in the Indian Penal Code, but the sections under which the offence is punishable must, in each instance, be re ferred to in the charge (In respect of a charge of cheating, see also S 223 III (b), which shows that in a charge of that offence, the manner in which it was committed should be set out )

(d) A is charged, under section 184 of the Indian Penal Code, with intento the landing of the landing Fenal Code, with another the landing obstructing a sale of property officed for sale by the lawful authority of a public servant. The charge should be in those words

Sub section (7)

S 310 provides a special procedure for the trial in the Court of Session and High Court of a case in which the accused is charged with an offence committed after a previous conviction of any offence

It is not the punishment to which, by reason of a previous conviction, person has become liable, but the additional punishment which the Court is competent to award by reason of this that is here dealt with Thus II the accused person has been pressurely consisted of an offence punishable, under Chapter All of the Indian Penul Code (Offences relating to coin and Government Manual) or Chapter All of the Indian Penul Code (Offences relating to coin and Government Manual) or Chapter All of the Indian Penul Code (Offences relating to coin and Government Manual) or Chapter All of the Indian Penul Code (Offences relating to coin and Government Manual) or Chapter All of the Indian Penul Code (Offences relating to coin and Government Manual Penul Code (Offences re ment stamps) or Chapter XVIII (offences against property), with imprison ment for a term of three vers or upwards and he is again convicted of any like offence so punishable under either of those Chapters, he is subject to an enhanced punishment beyond that to which he is liable for that offence viz, to transportation for life or to imprisonment for a term which may extend to ten

vears (S 75, Penal Code)

The "punishment which the Court may think fit to award" is affected in these instances because, the Court by reason of a previous conviction can pass a sentence more severe or award a different punishment. It should be noted that the fact that a person may thus become liable to a more severe or a different punishment does not give the Court power to order such punishment over and above its ordinary powers

Evidence should be forthcoming to prove the previous conviction charged, and there should also be evidence identifying the accused as the person so convicted, unless this is admitted by the accused person S 511 of this Code declares how a previous conviction may be proved

(1) The charge shall contain such particulars as to the time and place of the alleged offence, and the person (if any) against whom or the thing time, place and person (if any) in respect of which, it was committed, as are reasonably sufficient to give the accused notice of the matter with which he is charged

(2) When the accused is charged with criminal breach of trust or dishonest misappropriation of money, it shall be sufficient to specify the gross sum in respect of which the offence is alleged to have been committed, and the dates between which the offence is alleged to have been committed, without specifying particular items or exact dates and the charge so framed shall be deemed to be a charge of one offence within the meaning of section 234

Provided that the time included between the first and last of such dates shall not exceed one year

It is only when the accused is charged with criminal breach of trust or dishonest misappropriation of money that the particular items or exact dates on which the offence was committed need not be stated So a general charge under S 477 A Penal Code (falsification of accounts). not specifying the particular entries in the accounts falsified, was held to be had 1 Where the charge states criminal breach of trust in respect of an aggregate sum of money the whole of which was wrongfully dealt with within a period and exceeding one year the more fact that the items composing that sum are specified and may be more than three in number will not render the charge obnovious to S 234 and not within S 222 (2)2 Nor will the fact that evi dence is available as to the various items of which the aggregate sum charged was composed render a charge which does not specify those items objectionable 3

<sup>1</sup> Q Fmp v Mil Lil Lalin I L R 26 Cal 560 fs C) 3 Cal W N 412 Raman Bel an Das t Emp I 1 R 11 Cal 722 Fmp t Kalls Prassed I L R 38 Ul 42 Fmp Colornal al I R 23 Ul 23 fs Cal 6 Samroddin Sarar e Nhotzna W N 51 (5 Cil 1 R 3 Cul 105 fs Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I I R 1 Cul 105 fs Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I I R 34 Ul 60 Emp t Ishtan Khun I I R 33 All 66 21 Emp v Ishtaq I L R 33 All 69 24 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 24 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 24 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 24 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 25 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 25 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I L R 34 Ul 65 26 Emp v Ishtaq Ahmal I I R 25 Ul 64 Ul

Section 272 (a) clearly admits of the trial of any number of acts of breach of trust committed within one year, as amounting only to one offence it dispenses with the necessity of amplification, but does not prohibit enumeration of the particular items in the charge But when the series of such acts ex tend over more than a year, the joinder of charges is illegal 2

S 222 15 not intended to apply only to cases where there is a general defi ciency in an account and the prosecution is unable to specify the particular items of the deficiency. There is no such limitation expressed and a limitation which its language does not support cannot be read into it 3

S 222 (2) Is meant to apply to the case of an agent or subordinate whose duty it is merely to receive sums to money from time to time and to account for them It is not suitable to the case of an agent whose duties require him to spend money as well as to receive it 4

When the nature of the cases is such that the particulars mentioned in sections 221 and 222 do not When manner of give the accused sufficient notice of the matter offence with which he is charged, the charge shall must be stated

also contain such particulars of the manner in which the alleged offence was committed as will be sufficient for that purpose

Illustrations

(a) A is accused of the theft of a certain article at a certain time and place The charge need not set out the manner in which the theft was effected

(b) A is accused of cheating B at a given time and place. The charge must set out the manner in which A cheated B

law infringed

(c) A is accused of giving false endence at a given time and place. The charge must set out that portion of the evidence given by A which is alleged to (d) A is accused of obstructing B, a public servant, in the discharge of his public functions at a given time and place. The charge must set out the manner in which A obstructed B in the discharge of his functions

(e) A is accused of the murder of B at a given time and place. The charge nted not state the manner in which A murdered B (f) A is accused of disobeying a direction of the law with intent to save B from punishment. The charge must set out the disobedience charged and the

A charge of being a member of an unlawful assembly (S 142, Penal Code) should specify the common object of such assembly, as without this information the accused is seriously prejudiced in his defence. It has also been held that an omission to state the common object of an unlawful assembly is an irregularity which does not necessarily make a conviction bad. That depends upon whether such omission has mished the occused and so occasioned a failure of justice, fact which must be shown to the satisfaction of the Ceurt of Revision. The examination of the accused and his defence are generally the best indications of this But in a somewhat inalogous case, it was field that a charge of lurking

<sup>1</sup> Imp : Datto Humint 7 Rom I Rep (3)
5 Dhaigilhoy r Asimat in 11 Iu Rec (67) 1995
5 Tiems : Fmp I I R 20 Vol 555
5 Timp v Vil in Singh I I R 15 Vol 555
5 Timp v Vil in Singh I I R 15 Vol 555
6 Timp v Vil in Singh I I R 15 Vol 16 Sec al 5 Kn | return | I | R 30 Cal 5 Vol 10 V Budhu o Cal W 5 500 house trespass (5-45t, Penal Code) need not specify the intenti n with which the criminal trespies (5 44t) was committed and that having regard to the nature of the charge and defence set up even if this were an irregularity, it did not pre rudice the necused in his defence and was therefore curable by S 537 of this Code 1

In every charge words used in describing an offence shall be deemed to have been used in the sense Words in charge taken in sense of law attached to them respectively by the law under under which offence which such offence is punishable is punishable

Sch V (8) contains f rms of charges of several offences which will serve to explain the meaning of these sections

Sections 221-224 d clare what a charge shall contain. The object to be borne in mind is sufficiently to inf rm the accused person of the offence for which he is under trial so that he may have a fair and proper opportunity of meeting the charge and defending himself. A charge shall first of all contain such parti culars as to the time and I to of the alleged offence and the person (if any) in respect of whom it was committed as are reasonable sufficient to give the accused person notice of the matter with which he is charged [s "22 (1)] and it shall also state the law and section of the law against which the offence is said to have been committed [S 221 (4)] If the law ere ting the offence gives it a specific name, the charge may describe it by that name only [S 221 (2)] otherwise so much of the definition of the offence must be stated as to give the accused notice of the matter with which he is charged [S 221 (3)] Thus in offence may be stated as theft (S 379 Penal Code) or house breaking by night (S 455) without describing what constitutes such offence. But if an aggravated form of such an offence is charged it must also be set out in the charge as for example theft in a building ($ 180) or by the accused being a servant in respect of property in possession of his master (S 381) or house breaking by night in order to commit an offenee (which should be specified) punishable with imprisonment (S 457) The fact that a charge is made is equivalent to a statement that every legal con dition required by law to constitute the offence charged was fulfilled in the parti cular case-[S 221 (5)] This is explained by illustrations (a) and (b) to S 221 Thus, it would be equivalent to a statement that the accused was not of unsound mind when he committed the offence (S & Penal Code) or that he did not act in exercise of the right of private defence (S 96) or that he did not act under grave or sudden provocation (S 300 exception 1 S 325, and S 335) S 105 of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) is to the same effect. It declares that the burden of proving the existence of such circumstances shall be on the person accused of the offence and the Court shall presume the absence of such circumstances

5 224 demands special attention for it frequently happens that difficulties arise before a Court of Apocal or Revision because the charge sets out the speci fic name of the offence without giving sufficient particulars so as to give proper notice to the accused of the manner in which it is said to have been committed A common instance of this is when the accused is charged with being a member of an unlawful assembly (S 142 Penal Code) The definition of that offence (S 141) shows that it may be committed in many ways. The accused is entitled to be informed of the manner in which it is alleged that he committed this offence This moreover is especially necessary where it is sought to make the accus d hable for acts committed by others with whom he was associated 2 (See Se 34 32 37 149 Penal Code) (See also note to S 223 ante)

<sup>1</sup> Balmakan l Ram r Ghanasamrum I L R 22 Cal 391 2 Behan Mahton J L R 11 Cal 106

Section 222 ( ) clearly admits of the trial of any number of acts of breach of trust committed within one year, as amounting only to one offence It depenses with the necessity of amplification, but does not prohibit enumeration of the particular items in the charge. But when the series of such acts is tend over more than a year, the joinder of charges is illegal 2

S 272 is not intended to apply only to cases where there is a general defi ciency in an account and the prosecution is unable to specify the particular stems of the deficiency There is no such limitation expressed and a limitation which its language does not support cannot be read into it a

S 222 (2) is meant to apply to the case of an agent or subordinate whose duty it is merely to receive sums to money from time to time and to account for them. It is not suitable to the case of an agent whose duties require him to spend money as well as to receive it 4

When the nature of the cases is such that the particular lars mentioned in sections 221 and 222 do not When manner of give the accused sufficient notice of the matter committing offence with which he is charged, the charge shall must be stated

also contain such particulars of the manner in which the alleged offence was committed as will be sufficient for that purpose

Illustrations

(a) A is accused of the theft of a certain article at a certain time and place The charge need not set out the manner in which the theft was effected

(b) A is accused of cheating B at a given time and place. The charge must

set out the manner in which A cheated B

(c) A is accused of giving false exidence at a given time and place. The charge must set out that portion of the evidence given by A which is alleged to (d) A is necessed of obstructing B, a public stream, in the discharge of his public functions at a given time and place. The charge must set out the manner in which A obstructed B in the charge must set out the manner in which A obstructed B in the charge must set out the manner in which A obstructed B in the charge must set out the manner in which A obstructed B in the charge must set out the manner in which a charge must set out the manner in the charge mu

in which A obstructed B in the discharge of his functions

(e) A 15 accused of the murder of B at a given time and place. The charge need not state the manner in which A murdered B (f) A is accused of disobeying a direction of the law with intent to save f from punishment. The charge must set out the disobedience charged and the law infringed

A charge of being a member of an unlawful assembly (S 142 Penal Codt) should specify the common object of such assembly, as nathout this information the occused is scriously prejudiced in his defence. It has also been held that an omission to state the common object of an unlawful assembly is an Irregulant which does not necessarily make a conviction bad. That depends upon wheth such omission has misled the accused, and so occasioned a failure of justice fict which must be shown to the satisfacts n of the Court of Revision 4 th examination of the recused and his defence are generally the best lad cataoner of this But in a somewhat malog us case, it was held that a charge of luthing

* Imp r Date If numer 7 Dom 1 Rep 633
* Divergil Boy r Kartinki in rad 1 mij Rec (Cr) 1995
* The max r Jmp 1 R o Mad 1535
* Timp v Mahan Sangt 1 R 1 M 1535
* Timp v Mahan Sangt 1 R 1 Cd 6 Scales Australia 1 1 R 33 Cal 5
* Timp v Mahan 1 R 1 Cd 6 Scales Australia 1 1 R 33 Cal 5
* Timbur Mahan 1 R 1 Cd 6 Scales Australia 1 1 R 33 Cal 5
* Timbur 9 Cd 1 M 5 599

house trespass ($ 456, Penal Code) need not specify the intention with which the criminal trespass ($ 441) was committed, and that having regard to the nature of the charge and defence set up, even if this were an irregularity, it did not prejuded the necused in his defence and was therefore curable by $ 537 of this Code!

224 In every charge words used in describing an offence words in charge shall be deemed to have been used in the sense attached to them respectively by the law under which offence is punishable.

Sch. V (28) contains forms of charges of several offences which will serve to explain the meaning of these sections

Sections 221-224 diclare what a charge should contain. The object to be borne in mind is sufficiently to inform the accused person of the offence for which he is under trial so that he may have a fair and proper opportunity of meeting the charge and defending himself. A charge shall first of all contain such particulars as to the time and place of the alleged offence, and the person (if any) in respect of whom it was committed as are reasonably sufficient to give the accused person notice of the matter with which he is charged [s 222 (i)], and it shall also state the law and section of the law against which the offence is said to have been committed [S 221 (4)] If the law creating the offence gives it a specific name, the charge may describe it by that name only [S 221 (2)] otherwise so much of the definition of the offence must be stated as to give the occused notice of the matter with which he is charged [S 221 (3)] Thus an offence may be stated as theft (S 379 Penal Code) or house brinking by night (S 455) without describing what constitutes such offence. But if an aggravated form of such an offence is charged, it must also be set out in the charge as for example theft in a building (S 380), or by the accused, being a scream in respect of property in possession of his mister (S 381), or house-breaking by night in ender to commit an offence (which should be specified) punchable with impresonment (S 457). The fact that a chirge is mide is equivalent to a statement that every legal con dition required by law to constitute the offence charged was fulfilled in the parti cular case-[S 221 (5)] This is explained by illustrations (a) and (b) to S 221 Thus, it would be equivalent to a statement that the accused was not of unsound mind when he committed the offence (S 84 Pen il Code) or that he did not act in exercise of the right of private defence (5 %) or that he did not act under grave or sudden protocation (5 300, exception 1, 5 35, and 5 315). Suggest that the burden private defence the declares that the burden of proving the existence of such circumstances shall lie on the person accused of the offence, and the Court shall presume the absence of such circumstances

S 223 demands special attention, for it frequently happens that difficulties arise before a Court of Appeal or Revision because the charge sets out the specific name of the offence without gaing sufficient particulars so as to give proper notice to the accused of the manner in which it is vaid to have been committed A common instance of this is when the accused is charged with being a member of an unlawful assembly ($\frac{1}{2}$, Penril Code). The definition of that offence ($\frac{1}{2}$, 41) shows that it may be committed in many way. The accused is entitled to be informed of the manner in which it is alleged that he committed this offence This increaser, is especially necessary where it is sought to make the accused hable for acts committed by others with whom he way associated 2 (See. Ss. 34, $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{

Balmakan I Ram ( Ghanasamram I L R 22 Cal 391,
 Behan Mahton I L R 11 Cal 106

No error in stating either the offence or the particulus required to be stated in the charge, and no Affect of errors omission to state the offence or those particu lars, shall be regarded at any stage of the case as material, unless the accused was in fact misled by such error or omission, and it has occasioned a failure of justice

Illustrations

(a) A is charged under section 242 of the Indian Penal Code, with his ng been in possession of counterfeit com having known at the time when he became possessed thereof that such coin was counterfest,' the word "fraudulently" being omitted in the charge. Unless it appears that A was in fact misled by this omis sion, the error shall not be regarded as material

(b) A is charged with cheating B and the manner in which he cheated B is not set out in the charge or is set out incorrectly A defends himself, call witnesses and gives his own account of the transaction The Court may infer from this that the omission to set out the manner of the cheating is not

(c) A is charged with cheating B, and the manner in which he cheated B is not set out in the charge. There were many transactions between A and B and A had no means of knowing to which of them the charge referred, and offered no defence The Court may infer from such facts that the omission to set out the manner of the cheating was in this case a material error

(d) A is charged with the murder of Khoda Baksh on the 21st January 1882 In fact the murdered person a name was Haider Baksh and the date of the murder was the 20th January 1882. A was never charged with any murder but one, and had heard the inquiry before the Magistrate which referred exclusively to the case of Haidar Baksh The Court may infer from these facts that A #35 not musted and that the error in the charge was immaterial

(e) A was charged with murdering Haider Baksh on the 20th January 1831 and Khoda Baksh (who tried to arrest him for that murder) on the 21st January 1882 When charged for the murder of Haidar Baksh he was tried for the murder of Khoda Baksh The witnesses present in his defence were witnesses in the case of Haidar Baksh The Court may infer from this that A was misted and that the error was material

S 232 declares that an Appellate Court or the High Court, as a Court of Reference under Chapter XXVII or Revision may in such a case order a new trial upon a charge framed in whatever manner it thinks fit but if the Court is of opinion that the facts of the case are such that no valid charge could be preferred against the accused in respect of the facts proved, it shall quash the conviction

Where the accused were charged with rioting with a specified commen object (Ss 142 and 147 Penal Code) they cannot be convicted of that offence committed with another common object that being an offence in respect of which they have hid no opportunits of defending themselves? But in a little case it has been hald a common of the common object. case it has been held that although in a charge of rioting the common object should be stated omiss on to do so is not material unless the accused was misled by it and it has occasioned a failure of justice?

The examination of the accused and his defence will generally show how far an objection of this ground has any foundation. A charge of an offence

Rahimuddi v Asgar Ali 5 Cal W N 31 Pares Nath Sircar e Emp 2 C L ) 1 Budhu v Musst Lachmania 9 Cal W 3 300

under S 1243, Penal Code, not setting out the speeches said to be seditious is defective, but such defect does not in view of Ss 225 and 537 of this Code vitiate the proceedings and objection on this ground ought to be taken as early as possible i

When any person is committed for trial without a 228 charge or with an imperfect or erroneous Procedure on comcharge the Court or, in the ease of a High without charge or with imper-Court the Clerk of the Crown, may frame a feet charge charge, or add to or otherwise after the charge.

as the case may be having regard to the rules contained in this Code as to the form of charges

Illustrations

: A is charged with the murder of C A charge of abetting the murder of C may be added or substituted

2 A 15 charged with forging a valuable security under section 467 of the Indian Penal Code A charge of f brigating false evidence under section 193

mny be added

3 A is charged with receiving stelen property knowing it to be stolen During the trial it incidentally appears that he has in his possession instruments for the purpose of counterfeiting coin 1 charge under section 235 of the Indian Penal Code cannot be added

There are several sections of this Code on the same subject S 537 de clares that, subject to the provisions hereinbefore contained no finding sentence or order passed by a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed or aftered under Chapter XXVII (that is on a reference for confirmation of a sentence) or on Appeal or on Revision on account of any error, omission or irregularity in the charge, unless such error, omission or irregularity has in fact occasioned a failure of justice, and in determining whether any error, omission or irregularity has occasoned a failure of justice the Court shall have regard to the fact whether the objection could or should have been raised at an earlier stage in the proceedings

(1) If any Appellate Court or the High Court in the exercise of its powers of revision or of its powers under Chapter \\VII is of opinion that any person connected of an offence was misled in his defence by the absence of a charge or by an error in the charge it shall direct a new trial to be had upon a charge

fringed in whitever manner it thinks fit ($ 232(1))
(2) If the Court is of opinion that the facts of the case are such that no v I d charge could be preferred against the accused in respect of the facts proved it shall quash the conviction {S 232 (2)}

(i) No finding or sentence pronounced or passed shall be deemed invalid

m rely on the ground that no charge was framed unless, in the opinion of the Court of Appeal or Revision a failure of pistice has in fact been occasioned thereby (S 535(1))

(2) If the Court of Appeal or Revision thinks that a failure of justice has been occusioned by an omission to frame a charge, it shall order that a charge he framed and that the trad be recommenced from the point immediately after the framing of the charge (5 535 (2))

It will thus be seen that the Code contemplates that substance rather than form should be considered by a Court of Appeal or Revision, and that the first consideration shall be whether the accused has had a fair trial, that is, whether an error or omission in a matter of form, such as the preparation of a complete charge or a trial without any charge at all, has in any way so prejudiced

<sup>1</sup> Chidambaram Pillai v Fmp ! I R 32 Mrd 3

the accused so as to affect the result that is whether it has in fact occasioned a failure of justice This will nearly always appear from the record itself So if from the examination of the accused or from his defence it is shown that the facts constituting the offence were made known to him, and that he endead oured to explain away those facts or to meet the accusation that he was con cerned in the transaction so as not to be responsible for what took place it can hardly be said that he has been prejudiced by an error, omission or irregularity in a charge or by the want of a charge or that he can justly complain that he has not been fairly tried. It, however, he has been in any way misled the proceedigs cannot be maintained and wiles, on considering the evidence for the prosecution the Court is of opinion that it does not establish any offered against him a new trial must be ordered. The order passed in such a case is generally that the trial shall be opened before the same Magistrate by the framing of a proper charge to be followed by the procedure set out in this Code To re examine in chief all the witnesses for the prosecution would be only an unnecessary waste of public time as well as inconcemence to those witnesses unless the accused is entitled to have them recalled for purposes of cost examination (Ss 256 257) The effect of an error in a charge on the proceedings subsequently taken is discussed in the note to S 537 post

A charge does not mean only the indictment ' Charge includes any head of charge when the charge contains more heads than one-S 4(c)

S 226 relates to a commitment made without a charge or with an imperied or erroneous charge and it enables the Court of Session in a case committed to it or the Clerk of the Crown in a case committed to the High Court, to from a charge (where there has been no charge) or to add to or otherwise alter the charge (when the charge in respect of which the commitment has been mide in imperfect or erroncous? The powers so given would be subject to the rule regarding joiner of charges (See Ss 233 et seq) The illustrations to the section shows that a house of the section shows that a section shows that a house of the section shows that a section shows the section shows that a section shows the section shows the section shows the section shows that a section shows the section shows the section shows t section show that a charge of an offence so added must be of an offence compate to that on which the commitment has been made and that the powers given by S 226 are subject to the rules and down. This is shown by the illustration expectally by illustration (i). It should be borne in mind that the first rice is according to the control of t set out in S 233 that " for every distinct offence of which any person is accused there shall be a separate charge and every such charge shall be tried separately Freeprions are honever made in favour of the conditions set out in Ss 234 235 236 and 23). Of these sections section 235 is the most important in general practice Sub-section (i) declares that if in one series of acts so connected together as to form the same transaction more offences than one are committed by the same person he may be drug d with and (ried at one rate cutting the same person he may be drug d with and (ried at one trail for earn such offence. Thus S 226 declares in Illustration (i) that a person charged with a purpose may also doors. with a murder may also be charged with abetting it but Hustration (3) should be the constraint of the charged with abetting it but Hustration (3) should be the constraint of the charged with a murder may also be charged with abetting it but Hustration (3) should be charged with a murder may also be charged with abetting it but Hustration (3) should be charged with a murder may also be charged with a murder may also be charged with a merchanic manner of the charged with a murder may also be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (3) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (3) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (3) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (3) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (3) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (3) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (3) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (3) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (3) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with a meeting it but Hustration (4) should be charged with the meeting it that the possession of instruments for the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of counterfeiting coin cannot be abled to a state of the purpose of the pur be udded to a charge of receiving stokin property I nowing it to be st fen fr such offences do not form part of the same transaction

The words 'without a charge include a case in which there is no charge of an officee on which the Sessions Judge or Clerl of the Criwn min that that the prisoner should be tried on the evid not in the record. But a charge under trial before a Sees ans Court for High Court) on commitment to it cannot be amended or all a court for High Court) on commitment to it cannot be amended or all a cannot be b amended or alled to average with reference to the immediate subject of the presention and communent V Ref. not covered by the charge before the Centre cannot be each the control of the charge before the Court cannot be made the subject of an additional Charge "

It will be for the Court to consider whether the new createred or added

<sup>1</sup> Bajmakun i Ram # Glansamram I I R g Cal 331 Reg r Arpanna Sultanna II R & Ben no

Brentra Lat Bha furi I I R 3 Cat (sa 18 Cal W N - %)

change is falled a prejudice the natured in the defence or the procedure in the conduct of his case of the trains presented with and in such case, it may adjourn the trail for unbounded is man be native train 2.99. A change may be differed or added it as the I have judgment as pronounced, or the verdet of the judgment is pronounced, or the verdet of the judgment is returned or the judgment.

227 (1) Any Court to explicit on add to any charge at any court may after time before independent is pronounced, or, in the charge thing before the Court of Session or High Court before the verdict of the just is returned or the opinions of the issessure it expressed.

(2) Every such alteration or addition shall be read and explained to the accused

Charge includes int bold of this, when the charge contains more heads than one—S  $_{\pm}(\epsilon)$

Sub section 1

in ldhtin i a charge

S 227 enthes a Cutt a still the fig. The addition to a charge would probably be subject a fix principle, so out on the Illustrations to S 236 and explained in the preceding note. This probably supersides as obsolete the case of Q Ling a 15ph subhain Mendre 1 1 R 8 Born, 200, in which Sanctary C I, and Barris I had the under S 23 of the Code of 1882 a charge of another offence could not be from d the tenth, as it was not an alteration of the charge, and that consequently such a law did not provide for an addition to a charge, the trial could not be high the nile new charge.

This case was disapproved by Sirkhith J. The prisoner was committed on charges under Se 497 and 471 Penil Code Sirkhith, J. directed the Clerk of the Crown to add a charge of filmenting filse evidence under S 193, Penil Cod of the Crown to add a charge of filmenting filse evidence under S 193, Penil Code It was objected that the Court was not competent under S 227 to add a fresh charge on which the prisoner had not been committed for trail, and that it could only after existing charges the authority of the Bombay High Court in the above case being cited Sirkhith expected the objection, holding that he was not bound by the decision of the Bombay High Court, and agreed with the minority (Scuri, J) A similar course was (then by Tenner, 2 If the principle contained in the Illustrations in S 226 be adopted, the trail could not be now held under an addit charge of such an offence which is not cognite to the offences under which the prisoner was being fixed.

Where the present a is consisted on a charge, under S. 202, Penal Code, of omitting to give information which he area bound in give regarding a murder, and the Cassons Judge inded a charge under Sc rop and 201 of abetting and the causing of distipper and that the consistent was lilegal, as there was no evidence before the committing Vagestrale to support the charge. The proper course, it was pointed out was to have postponed the train and sent the record to the Vagestrate with a suggestion that he chould consider whether there were or were not grounds for anything and anything after a charge against the prisoner of a more arrous character than that an which he had been committed. The High Court observed that it as it he object of Sc 193 in restricting the powers of a Sessions Court, except in cases under Sc 477, 478 and 480 (of this Code), to secure for a present anyther of anything of a present anything when you have of the secure for a present anything the size of a Sessions.

O Fmp t Gordon I I R 9 All 525 (s c ) All W N 1887 P 155 Queen t Wans Ah N W P H C R 1871 P 337

, ..

.

him the opportunity of being acquainted with the circumstances of the offence imputed to him and enable him to mal c his defence 1

A Sessions Court is not a Court of original jurisdiction and though vested with large powers for imending or adding to charges can only do so with refer ence to the immediate subject of the prosecution and commitment and not with regard to a matter not covered by the indictment 2

An exception to S 227 is made by S 221 (7) in respect to a charge of previous conviction which if omitted in the trial, may be added 'at any time before sentence is passed This is explained by S 310 which provides a spec procedure for the trial of such a charge to take place after the accused has been convicted of the substantive offence under trial, the object of a charge of a pre vious conviction being for the purpose of affecting punishment to which the ac cused by his conviction on the trial has become hable. If the addition of charge is such as is lifely to prejudice the accused or the prosecutor if the trail were to proceed the Court may adjourn the trial for such period as may be necess irv (S 220)

(b) Alteration of a charge

includes withdrawal by the Sessions Judge of a charge added by him to the charge on which commitment was made a

An application to amend a charge should be considered at once alen if depends on evidence tilen by the Magistrate in the inquiry held by hm is should not remain over until the end of the trial, so that the Sessions Judge may determine whether it is sustainable on the evidence talen in h. Court

Where the charge is expressed in vague terms, the prosecution must be limited to the particular state in which it has once been understood at the iral 50 where the iccustd 1 police officer, was charged under S 217 Pend Cod with having knowingly disobesed a direction of the law, and it was not stated what such direction was or what his conduct was it was held that he could not be consided of having allowed stolen property to be returned to the owner to liush up the effence, but that he should be convicted rather of having d sibered the direction of the law in not seizing the stolen property and in allowing it to be restored to the owner a

Where the accused had been extradited for dacoity committed in British Ind 1 and had been committed to the Court of Session on a charge of that offence it was held that the Sessions Judge was competent under S 227 to after the charge and under 5 38 to connet on a charge of theft although the accused could at have been extradited for theft. This was because the Court land jurisd ct on the second court of the second court and the second court in the second c hold the trial and under $ 238 was competent to convict of a minor (figure included in the charge of the offences of decoity on which the trial was made But if previous sunction is necessary for the prosecution of an offence which forms the subject of a new or altered or added charge, such sanction must have been obtained before such charge can be made unless sanction has been already obtained for a prosecution on the facts covered by the original and new or altered or added charge-($ 230)

If the charge framed or alteration or addition made under section 226 or section 227 is such that trial may proceeding immediately with the trial is not immediately after alteration likely, in the opinion of the Court, to prejudice the accused in his defence or the prosecutor in the conduct of the tlad 351 (* c) Weir 8%0 2 (* c) 8 Cal W % ~84 351 14 ัร′ ว

case, the Court may, in its discretion, after such charge or alteration or addition has been franked or made, proceed with the trial as if the new or altered charge had been the original charge

Although 5 227 permits the attention of a charge by striking out one of its heads before judgment is prenounced, it does not wirrint such a course for the purpose of correcting, an ill glady one communited 5 it was not competent to the Court of 5 son, but n pronouncing judgment, to strike out one of the charges for more than three officies entirely to 5 234 after the accused had pleaded to these charges and the case for the prosecution was closed. One of the objects of 5 234 is to prevent emberrassment at the accused by a multi-placity of charges and the inschief closed by such a contraction of the law cannot be cured by such an amendation in detail a stage of the proceedings after the mischief may have been done. The contact in and sentence were accordingly set used 5 11 does not appear for the quote that the accused had suffered any embarras ment swains, that the charge had been amended before he entered on his defence, and if this work is a could have asked for a new trial or an adjournment of the relative S 22.)

229 If the new or deried or added charge is such that when new trial proceeding immediately with the trial is likely, may be directed or in the opinion of the Court to propulate the trial suspended court on the prosecutor as aforesaid, the Court may either direct new trial or adjoint the trial for such period as may be necessary.

S 227 and cat's the stood of the proceedings within which charge may be altered or added to it a chal It is before the conclusion of the trial. This, in a trial of a warrant c schedure. Magastric would be before judgment is propounced and in a trial before the Court of Session or High Court before the very ct of the judy is returned or in the Court of Session, before the opinions of the assessions are expressed. S 366 declares in whith manner a judgment shall be pronounced and S 369 declares that, save as otherwise provided by the Code, or by my other law for the time being in force, or, in the case of a Chartered High Court, by its I etters Patent, no Court shall, after

vided by the Code, or by my other has for the time being in force, or, in the case of a Chartered High Court, by tis Letters Patent, no Court shall, after signing its judgment after or revise the same, except to correct a clerical error 5-540 gives a Court discribed in my stage of a trail to the further eight dence if such evidence up arts to it essential to the just decision of the case 5-227 (2) requires that my literation or addition to a charge shall be read

S 227 (2) requires that any afteration or addition to a charge shall be read and explained to the secured thus re-centering the procedure in S 255 in the trial of warrant cases and in S 271, in trials before a Court of Session or a High Court After this, the trial should proceed as on the new, altered or added charge in respect of the case for the defence the evidence already taken for the prosecution being still evidence on that charge the prosecution and the necused hiving the right to receil or resummon and examine, with reference to such alteration or addition, any witness who may livine been examined and also to call any further witness whom the Court may consider material—[65 221)

Discretion is given to the Court by S 228 to proceed as if such charge had been the original charge S 223 enables the Court to direct a new trial, or to adjourn the trial, if it considers that proceeding immediately with the trial is likely to projudice the accused or the prosecutor.

In determining whether an alteration or addition to a charge during trial has prejudiced the accused in his defence, it should be considered whether, fooling at the nature of the alteration made and the line of defence set up, prisoner has been prejudiced on the ments that is to say, if the case against the prisoner has been presented to the jury (or the Court of Session sitting with assessors) in a different manner from that in which it would otherwise have been presented In such a case the Court should, under $ 220 either direct a new trial or adjourn the trial for such period as may be necessary. The law has been altered since this case so as to permit an amendment of the charge, but it will still remain for consideration whether a charge of an offence not cognate to those origin illy charged and therefore not covered by the facts given in evidence, can be idded is part of the same trial?

Stay of proceed-ings if prosecution of offence in alterred charge require previous

If the offence stated in the new or altered or added charge is one for the prosecution of which pre vious sanction is necessary, the case shall not be proceeded with until such sanction is ob tained, unless sanction has been already ob

Sanction tuned for a prosecution on the same facts as those on which the new or altered charge is founded

Though > 115 his ben amended by Act No WIII of 1923 so as to ft quire i implant instead of previous sanction in respect of the offences men tioned in this section between cognizance can be taken, no corresponding amindment has been made in S 230. This section therefore has ceased to have the great beiring on S 195 which it previously had. The provisions of the Code which require previous sinch it previously had The previsions (Code which require previous sinch in are Ss 132 and 197 S 1964 (2) spend uf consent, but for the purposes of S 230 no distinction would probably the drawn between this and previous sanction 5 537 no longer provides a safeguard an the case of want of previous sanction, as it stood before amend ment by Act No XVIII of 1923 it only referred to a want of the eanet on re quired by S 195, and did not cover Ss 132 196A (2) and 197

S 195 (5) which declared that, when sanction had been given in respect of in offence, the Court could frame a charge of any other offence mentioned in 5 195 and disclosed by the facts has disapp ared the provision is practical the same is that contained in the latter part of $ 230 No new samelion

would be necessary a

The sections which now require a complaint from some particular authenty er prom b fere i Court can take cognizance of an offence are Sc 105; 1/2 not (t) no mil tro, On a compliant of rape made by the hubband it as not cumptent to the (our to there the charge to one of subtlets ($\frac{470}{470}$). that is in offence of which no Court can take eignizance except on the con plant of the hush mil or in his absence, by some person having charge of the woman on his tehalf, and no such complaint of that offence had been mad The commissioner that the husband was a witness for the prosecution in the case cannot be regarded as amounting to the institution of a compliant of alult ry. It hy no means follows as a necessary consequence that because a his hind min wish to punish a min who has committed rape upon his wife, the is who has had connection with her against her consent, he will wish to contime proceedings when it turns out that she has been a willing and con sonting party. The consiction for idult ry was accordingly set aside 4 But the case of a complaint by a Court or authority would not be on the sime footing in this respect as a complaint by a private person aggreized to

<sup>1</sup> Reg 1 Givin he Handre C Bem H C R 7 Server 6 Ill and Material Konstigation Q I 1 R 3 Mat 151 (c. c) Meir 890

Profulls Chandra Sen c Emp I I R. 30 Cal Gos Emp Call II R 5 Ml 233 Chemon Gam : Emp 6 Cal II S for the former case the Court could from a charge of any offence disclosed by the endence, though that offence was not specifically mentioned in the complaint See note under S 105

Whenever a charge is altered or added to by the Court Recall of witnesses after the communecement of the frial, the prowhere charge altered secution and the record shall be allowed to recall or re-summon, and examine with relicione to such alteration or addition, any witness who may have been examined, and also to call any further witness whom the Court may think to be material.

It is for the Court to determine whether my further witness that the precedence or record on the standard mental adjournment of the proceedings.

- 232 (1) If any Appellite Court or the High Court in the Effect of material exercise of its powers of revision or of its powers under Chipter XXVII is of opinion that any person convicted of in offence wes misled in his defence by the absence of a charge or by on error in the charge at shall direct a new rulal to be had upon a charge friend in whatever manner it thinks fit
- (2) If the Court is of opinion that the lacts of the case are such that no valid charge could be preferred against the accused in respect of the facts proved at shall quash the conviction

Illustrati n

A is consisted of an offence under action 1/0 f the Indian Penal Code apon a charge, which omis to state that he Inew the evidence which the corruptly used or attempted to us as true or ground was folso or threshild. If the Court think is typicable that V had such knowledge, and that he was maled in his defence by the omission from the charge of the statem at that the had ut, it shill direct a new trail upon an inmode charge, but if it appures probable from the proceedings, that V had no such I mowledge it shall quick the con-

Chipter NVII relates to cases submitted for confirmation of a sentence of death

No finding or sentence shall be invided merely on the ground that no charge we frimed unless in the opinion of the Court of Appe to or Revision i fulure of justice his been occisioned thereby. If the Court of Appe to receive thinks that fulure of justice his been occisioned by an envision to frame a sharge it shall order the charge to he framed and the trial to be recommenced from the joint immediately their the framing of the charge — Sentimenced

The front the point immediately lifer the fruming of the charge ~ $ 555.

Where the accused had been consisted of an offence under $ 211. Penal Code instead of identinent of that offence the High Court on revision refused to interface as the sentince was appropriate, and he had not been projudiced?

to interier is the sentitive wis appropriate. Where certain persons were charged and consisted by a Magistrate of not ing (S 147 Penal Code) and gravous hurt (S 335) under the terms of S 149 Penal Code) and pravous hurt ($ 335) under the terms of S 149 Penal Code and the Sessions Judge on appeal set used the consistion of rotting and convicted them of voluntrally causing gravous hurt, his order was set aside by the High Court, on revision, and a new trial ordered, on the ground that they had never been charged with cruising grievous hurt but had been made liable for grievous hurt, crused by others, under circumstances set out in 5 1491

When the charge is that a man had soluntarily caused hurt with a dao he cannot be convicted of having committed that offence with a lather?

Joinder of charges

Great care must be taken in the strict observance of Ss 230 239 in regard to joinder of charges in the same trial whether of offences or as against the of more accused persons for it has been held by their Lordships of the Judical Committee of the Prity Council, that where the law forbids a trial to be held in regard to charges of several offences of the same kind, it is not an irregulanty cumble by S 537 but is an illegality vitating all the proceedings, and the same rule must be applied to a misjoinder in the trail of several persons simultant ously who should have been separately tried (See S 230) In that case, contrary to S 234 the trial was held on charges of more than three offences of the same Lind committed within the space of more than twelve months, and the accused was convicted. The case was then heard by a Full Bench of the Madras High Court on a certificate granted by the Advocate General under £ 26 of the Letters Pritent, and it was held that though the indictment was bad for misjoinder, the Court was competent to deal with the case on the evidence in regard to the chings upon which the trial might and should have been held. On these charges the prisoner was convicted and sentinced

On appeal their Lordships of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council set aside the conviction and entence holding that disobedience to an especial provision of law as to a mode of trial is not a mere irregularity, but on illegal ity, for when the Code positively innets that such a trial as had taken place shall not be permitted the contravention of the Code cannot come within description of error, omission or irregularity within the terms of 5 537

The series of sections relating to punder of charges commences (5 13) with a declaration that for every distinct offence of which any person is according there shall be a separate charge and every such the irge shall be tried separately

except in the cases mentioned in Ss 214 235 236 and 239
S 234 permits joinder of charges if more offence than one of the same land provided that there are not more than three offences and provided also the these offences have been communited within the space of twelve month from first to the last of such fiences S 236 illows joinder of charges of exercioffences, when I single act it series of its libe word act including an illegionission—5 4(2) renders it doubtful which of these offences the facts proved will constitute that is to say, when the Court is unable to apply the lan to the facts printed so as to determine which of such offences has been communed 5 237 supplements 5 23 5 23 33 18 specially important. The essente of the section is whether the zets which form the subject of the trial an so connected as to from the same transaction. The illustrations explain its meaning have been several reported cases which in set int in the note in $ 215) deals with joinder of charges against more than one person, and declare to a what circumstances they may be charged in I tried to gettier, leaving it however to the Court to decide what to the Court to decide whether it is not proper in the interests of justee the such persons should not be charged and true separately. The essure of the section file section are the charged and true separately. The essure of the section like section 235 is that the effences (whether of the same land it d the have been committed in the same transietion a person charged with an officer and another with abetment of er attempting to commit at being will a its terme

Resembling it Cal W. N. 1077. Staff Chanles Moitre 17 Cal W. N. 61 Suterhannia Majara h Imp. 1 1 R. 25 Wal (1. (s. c.) 5 Cal W. N. 11 P. 25 Wal (1. (s. c.) 5 Cal W. N. 12 P. 13 Wal (1. (s. c.) 5 Cal W. N. 12 P. 13 Wal (1. (s. c.) 5 Cal W. N. 13 Wal (1. (s. c.) 5 Cal W. N. 14 Wal (1. (s. c.) 5 Cal W. 14 Wal (1. (s. c.) 5 Cal ( c) 1 R 281 1.257

But a misjoinder of charges either in regard to offinces or persons, though it may be fatal to the validity of proceedings on a trial will not make a commitment illegal for it is the duty of th Sessions Judge holding the trial, if he thinks it necessary to frame charges and to try the offences charged, or the persons charged separately (See S -10)

For every distinct offence of which any person is ac-Separate charges for cused there shall be a separate charge, and every such charge shall be tried separately, exdistinct offences cent in the cases mentioned in sections 231, 235, 236 and 239

Illustration

I is recused of a theft on one occusion and of causing grievous fourt on another occusion. A must be separately charged and separately tried for the theft and crusing grievous hurt

S 233 lays down the general rule that any person accused of more than one offence shall be separately tried for each offence. The exceptions are set out in the following sections 234 335

The law so expressed refers only to the joinder of charges of offences not to the joinder in the same trial of charges against several persons 5 239 deals with that subject. The joinder of charges of two or more offences committed on two different dates is an illegality which cannot be carred under $ 537 a unless it is within the terms of S 234 or S 235.

The following offences under the Penal Code have been held to be distinct offences for which there should be separate trials -

Framing an incorrect document as a public servant with intent to cause injury (S 167) and forgery of a register kept by a public servant (S 466). Dishonestly receiving stolen property (S 411) and habitually dealing with stolen property (S 413) 4

It was previously held that when the same offence has been committed against several persons, as for instance, three robberies committed on the same night in three different houses, there should be separate trials a But the law in this respect as laid down in this case firs now been altered by the amendment in $ 234(t), introducing the words "whether in respect of the same person or not "

In these cases the joinder of charges was considered. But when two distinct offences were joined and made the subject of one charge it was held to constitute an illegality, the proceedings were accordingly set aside and a new trial ordered. Where three persons complained of having been cheated in the collection of their rents and these acts were made the subject of one charge, the High Court refused to interfere regarding it as in freegularity because the offences were properly triable together under S 234 and the accused had not been prejudiced. It was said to be a defect not of misjoinder but of duplicity (See Achbold on Pleading Fd 1910 p 76) The case of Subrahmania Ayyar (I I R 26 Mad 61) is now the governing case on the question of misjoinder of charges and hardly a case on this point comes before the High Courts in which it is not considered. It has been applied

Poe however Manavala Chetty I I R 29 Mad 569

Johan Subarna v K Emp 2 C I J 618

Jemp v Steenath Kur I L R 8 Cal 450 (s e) 10 Cal L R 421

Tmp t Uttom Fondon I I B 2 C 1 6 (s e) 10 Cal L R 421

Itwaree Dome 6

(s c) All W N 1892 p 95 Gut Mahomed Sir N II

<sup>570 (</sup>s.c.) 2 Cal L. J. 618 Asgar Ali Biswas I. R. 40 Cal 846 (s.e.) 17 Cal W. N. 827

to most of the following cases, though in some of the cases individual Judges have followed all its implications with some reluctance, for instance it day bere debated whether it is an authority for holding that in no case can a majorider or a failure to try charges separately be an irregularity within the meaning of $5.37 in this case it was held by the Court that there was an illegal joint trial where on a single complaint of two offences of cheating for Brink of Midras in connection with certrum bills of exchange, and also yet false representation as to the amount of his assets the Magistrate heard the prosecution evidence without discriminating between the two offences, and though the frames separate charges and ilso numbered them as separate calculated cases when the witnesses came to be cross examined he lost sight of the distinction and allowed cross examination indiscriminately in respect of both charges.

The Calcutt's High Court held (Coxe J with reductince) that the trail and illegal where a single charge was friend under S 400 Penal Code of trains of breach of trust in respect of a total sum of 50 mnns 6 pies to wit, a sum of 4 mnns 6 pies collected from B between certain dates in on 15cm, and a sim of 6 mnns collected from B between certain dates in on 15cm, and a sim of 6 mnns collected from B between other dates in the same year. The fash is now provided for this case by an amendment of S 234 which makes the clear that the offences which may be joined in one trail under this stem need not have been committed in respect of the same person. So there and other cases to the same effect are now obsolete. In some casts it was held that a single charge relating to three offences of the same kind is defecting from multiplicity and not for misjoinder and the tri I is not bad unless the neural new been prejudiced?

A charge of criminal breach of trust can be tried under S 23, (i) at the same time with one of falsification of accounts made to concert the mapping pration as part of the same transaction and two sunconnected charges of singuition made can be tried at one trail under S 234 but a charge of criminal breach of trust criminal better than the control of the same tried with one of falsification relating to a separate transaction.

The illegrility of joining in one head of charge several offences committed in the same transaction, which could have been tried together under $-25 if not one with vitrates the whole trial $-25 if not one

The Cilcuttu High Court has held that S 233 applies to Sessions tases A joinder of three charges under S 409 Penal Code, with three under A joinder of three charges under S 409 Penal Code, with three under A 479A of the same Code refruing to different transactions is not narranted by any exceptions provided in the Code of Criminal Procedure is illegal and it should be a first three transactions of accounts made to coner a single defaleation c in the trad to content to single defaleation c in the trad to torciter?

It has been no need out that in the case of Subralimania Ayyar S 215 man not applicable and so where two charges were tried negatist the accurate an acting in concert made separate representations to two sets of persons present it the same time and place and so cheated them it was held that though their should have been as mans charges as there were persons cheated the direct hand occasioned no future of justice and the trial was been as one and the trial was trial under the direct.

was legal under Ss 235 and 239 and 420 Penal Code of conspirely to chest a A charge under Ss 220B and 420 Penal Code of conspirely to chest a person by decesting him by means of 22 documents and so dishonestly hidsing him to pay different sums of money to 22 different persons is a charge of

Pulle Prosecutor r And n Konn I I R 30 Mal 527 (per Napier J)

teget the Heeraer Emp t I R 40 Cet 84f Musu Snghr Emp 41 Cet ff 18

<sup>1 624</sup>

<sup>712</sup>

one offence only, the conspiracy, and such a charge is not bad under $ 233 as containing 22 distinct offences in one count !

(1) When a person is accused of more offences than 234

one of the same kind committed within the Three offences of same kind within space of twelve months from the first to the last of such offences, whether in respect of the year may be charged together same person or not be may be charged with,

and tried at one trial for any munber of them not exceeding three

(2) Offences are of the same kind when they are punishable with the same amount of pum-liment under the same section of the Indian Penal Code or of any special or local law,

"Provided that, for the purpose of this section, an offence mushable under section 379 of the Indian Penal Code shall be deemed to be an offence of the same kind as an offence punishable under section 380 of the said Code, and that an offence punishable under any section of the Indian Penal Code, or of any special or local law, shall be deemed to be an offence of the same kind as an attempt to commit such offence, when such an attempt is an offence

A trial held on charges of mere offences than permitted by $ 334 is contrary to law ind is bad 2

This section has been amended by Act No WIII of 1923 S 62, by the introduction of the words whether in respect of the same person or not." The Courts had generally held that this wis the intention of the Iwa, though the contrary view had been taken particularly in earlier cases

The offences which may be charged in one trial must be offences of the same kind, i.e., punishable with the conic amount of punishment under the same section of the Indian Penal Code or of in special or local law. This definition has been sudened by the proviso, added by Act No. VVIII of 1923, S 62, and it is now had down that offences under 58 379 and 380 of the Penal Code are of the same kind, and that any offence is of the same kind as an attempt to commit that offence

In the following cases trials have been held to have been invalidated by reasons of the provisions of S 234, where several persons were tried jointly for offences under Ss 147 and 325 Penal Code, committed on one day, and for offences under Ss 147, 323 and 342 of the same Code committed on the next days, where at the same trial there were three charges under S 408, and one under S 477A of the Penal Codes, where there were cumulative charges under

Emp'i Rechan Pande I L R 38 All 457 Emp r Babu I al 4 Pat I J 200
 Subedar Ahri i Emp I L R 43 Cal 13 Sri Bhrawan Singh i Emp 13 Cal W N 507 In re Etaja Rao i D Mad L J 234.
 107 In R 18 All 18 Roo I N R 1 4 1 477 Nanda Kumar Sirkir i Emp 11 Cal W N 1128 In Volumed I Emp 11 R 46 All 448
 1 Imp r D vitti Lal I I R 46 All 44 MI 540

Ss 411 and 414 Penal Code 1 In the last case it was held that the error could not be corrected by the Magistrate stating in his judgment that the charg's might have been randly framed in the alternative under 5 236 nor by his proceeding only on the charges legally triable and dropping the rest. The sink ing out of charges should be done before the end of the trial, and the accused should be given an opportunity of making his defence on the charges as amended person (where it first occurs) in 5 234 is not confined to the It is for the trial Court to determine whether the trial should singular number be joint or not where a single offence is charged, if a joint trial would prepare dice the accused there should be separate trids. As to joinder of persons se $ 239

S 234 does not apply to a single charge under S 401, Penal Code, of belonging to a gang of persons associated for the purpose of habitually commit ing theft between 1911 and 1917, the charge relates to one offence, the gol of which is association

Although S 227 permits a Court to alter a charge at any time below judgment is pronounced still a charge which is illegal by reason of its bent contrary to S 234 cannot be altered when the ecused has pleaded to it and the ease for the prosecution is closed, because the mischief which the law intended to prevent—the embarras ment of the secured by a multiplicity of charges m iy hive been crused 4

More than three statements alleged to have been falsely made in one dy, tion may be charged in the same trial because they form one aggregate case of giving false evidence and thus form part of the same transaction. They do not constitute separate offences to be separately punished

S 234 is frequently applied to offences connected with matters relating in p is ments of mones eg criminal breach of trust or dishonest mis upproprial of money in connection with it 5 2 2 (2) should be read under which it chirge of such an offence may specify the gross sum in respect of which the offence is alleged to have been committed without specifying particular it me of exact dates provided that the time included within the first and last of such dites shall not exceed one year. So in a trial on a charge so framed but which ilso specified the various items exceeding this number it was held a list in proceedings were regular and within the terms of S 234, and not contrary to the leading case before the Prist Council in respect to misjoinder, in which is offences charged extended over a period b yourd one year and were more in new by thin whit could be tried at one trial

But though 5 234 hints the number of offences of the same had not which in iccured person may be charged and tried in one trial it does not not that he may not be tried in mother trial for other offences. This is clear from 5 235 III (d)? Suite in mother trial for other offences. This is clear of breach of trust or created in the is charged in the terms if 5 222 (1) with ring of breich of trust or criminal misappropriation of month in respect of a gross surface the without specifical the control of a gross surface. without specifying the particular items in respect of which or the exact dates on which such in offence his been committed it min be diabted whether the seems and committed with such in offence relating to a particular sum and committed with the period covered by the general charge of many a trial has been held. See S 403 post

Chetto Kalwar t Imp ILR 49 Cul 555 Kallysh I rasud Varma t K Emp 3 Pat L 3 124 Katem Ah e Emp I I R 47 Cul 154 Thomas I I R 29 Mad 569

<sup>804</sup> see also Mai H Ct Ma) 1 1871 254 Fmp r Ishtin Umni I f

- When the iccused was trad on third's, under S. 471, Penal Code of dishonestly using elsen receipts which he knew to be forged documents, and it was found that these receipts were used, that is, presented to the Court, on three iccessins it was held that only three thoughts been committed, and that prosequently there was no missionder.
  - S 34 does not upply where several persons are jointly accused?
- 235. (1) If, in one series of rets so connected together as Trial for more than to form the same trinsaction, more offences than one an committed by the same person, he may be charged with, and tried at one tiril for, every such

  - Tence
- (2) If the acts alleged constitute in offence falling within offence within two or more spirite definitions of my law in fact to the time being by which offences are defined or pumshed the person accused of them
- the time the time tring it with interest are the person accused of them may be charged with and tried it one trial for, each of such offences
- (3) If several acts, of which out or more thin one would by constituting when commend a different offence stituting when combined a different offence on the combined of them may be charged with, and third by such acts when combined, and for any offence constituted by any one, or more, of such acts
  - (4) Nothing contained in this section shall affect the Indian Penal Code, section 71

Illustrations

le sub section (1)-

(a) A rescues B, a person in lawful custody, and in so doing causes grievous liurt to C, a constrible in whose custedy B who A may be charged with, and convicted of, offence, under sections 225 and 333 of the Indian Penal Code

(b) A commits house breaking by day with intent to commit adultery, and commits in the house so entered adultery with Bs wife. A may be separately charged with, and controlled of, offences under sections 454 and 497 of the Indian Penal Code

(c) A entrees B, the wafe of C, away from C, with intent to commit adulters with B, and then commits adulters with her. A may be separately charged with, and convicted of, offences under sections 498 and 497 of the Indian Penal Code

(d) A has in his possession veveral scals knowing them to be counterfeit and intending to use them for the purpose of committing seasoral forgeries punishable under section 460 of the India Penal Code A may be separately charged with, and convicted of the possession of each seal under section 473 of the Indian Penal Code

(e) With intent to cause injury to B, A institutes a criminal proceeding

O Fmp | Raghu Nath Das I | R 20 Cul 413 Budhai Sheikh | Tarap Sheikh 10 Cal W N 32

Car XIX

Rec 23a

against him, knowing that there is no just or lawful ground for such proceed ing, and also falsely accuses B of having committed an offence, knowing that there is no just lawful ground for such charges. A may be separately charged with and convicted of two offences under section 211 of the Indian Penal Code

- (f) A, with intent to cause injury to B, falsely accuses him of haves committed an offence, knowing that there is no just or lawful ground for s charge On the trial A gives false evidence against B, intending theoly in cause B to be convicted of a capital offence. A may be separately charged with and convicted of, offences under sections 211 and 194 of the Indan Penal Code
- (g) A, with six others commits the offences of rioting, grievous hurt and issaulting a public servant endeavduring in the discharge of his duty as such to suppress the riot 1 may be separately charged with, and convicted of, offences

under sections 147 325 and 152 of Indian Penal Code
(h) \ threatens B C and D at the same time with injury to their persons with intent to cause illum to them A may be separately charged with and connected of each of the three offence under section 506 of the Indian Pend Code

The separate charges referred to in Illustrations (a) to (h) respectively mil be tried at the same time to sub section (2)-

(i) A wrongfully strikes B with a cane. A may be separately charged with and convicted of offences under sections 323 and 352 of the Indian Penal Cod

(1) Several stolen sacks of corn are made over to A and B, who know the are stolen property, for the purpose of concealing them A and B thereupon voluntrally assist each other to conceal the sacks at the bottom of a grain of A and B may be separately charged with and convicted of, offences under sections 411 and 414 of the Indian Penal Code

(h) V exposes her child with the knowledge that she is thereby likely to cluse its death. The child dies in consequence of such exposure. A way of separately charged with, and convicted of offences under sections 317 and 304

of the Indian Penal Code

(f) A distincestly uses a forged document is genuine evidence, in order to conviet B i public servint of an offence under section 167 of the Indian Final Code \ mi) be separately charged with and convicted of offences under as tions 471 (rend with 466) and 106 of the same Code

te sub section (1)-(m) A commits robbery on B and in duing so voluntially causes hard to him A may be separately charged with and convicted of, offences under sec tions 323, 39 and 304 of the Indian Penal Code S 71, Penal Code should be read with this section in determining the set iences to be passed -

Where in thing which is in offence is made up of parts, any of which part is itself an offence, the effinder shall not b punished with the punishment of more than one of such his efficies unless it be so expressly provided with the punishing is an office of the control of the co nisthing is an offence filling within two or more separate definitions of set has in fac for the time being by which offences are defined or punished of when several acts. when several acts, if which one or more than one would by itself or themselver constitute in office, constitute, win combined a different office, effort shift not be punished with a mire severa punishment than the Cost which this hum could award for any one of such affected

Illustrations

(a) I gives 7 ffty stroles with a stick. Him I may have committed the of the blow a bole of the blows which make up the whole besting. If A were hable to possible of for every blow, he might be imprisoned for fifth years one for each blow he is hable only to one punishment for the whole benting

(b) But if while I is besting Z I interferes and A intentionally strikes Y, here, as the blow given to I is no part of the act whereby A volunturally causes hurt to L. I is liable to one punishment for voluntarily causing hurt to Z, and to another for the blon given to 1

S 235 it should be noted relates only to the joindur of charges of offences committed by the same person and except in its reference to $ 71, Penal Code, in sub-section (a) it does not deal with the sentence to be presed on the charges of the offences mentioned in the illustrations 5 33 is important in rela tion to the subject of the sentence which may be passed in a trial in which on a joinder of charges the accused may be expected of more than one offence and S 35 lile S 235 (4) specially provides for the operation of S 71 Penal Code S 35 enables a Court to pass a second sentence in the same trial which may be in excess of the ordinary powers of the Court, and it thus enhances the ordinary limits of sintence which can be passed by a Magistrate under S 32 The distinction between S 71 Penil Code and S 35 of this Code is shown by the explanation to S 35 The former deals with separable effences, the latter with distinct offences S 77 Penil Code declares that when anything which is an offence, which is mide up of parts of which in part is itself an offence, the offender shall not be punished with the punishmet of more than one of such of his offences unless it be so expressly provided. Thus where an off nce is made up of component parts of which each is itself an offence the offence in the aggregate min become a ters beinous offence. Is instances of this culpable homicide and discust may be mentioned for these in their component parts constitute many less serious offences S 35 of the C de requires that only one sentence should be passed for such an offence and that for purpose of sentence such offences shall not be broken up into their component parts. The latter part of 5 71 Penal Code priceeds on the sime principle.

The difference between Ss 334 and 335 has been considered (1) and it was observed that S 235 eeems to apply to a case in which the different offences are parts of one transaction and not to a series of similar offences committed on different dates

So as to form the same transaction-Sub section (1)

Proximity of time combined with intention and similarity of action and result are elements for consideration in determining whether the alleged facts form the same transaction? The illustrations to sub-section (1) refer either to cases when different offences which may be tried together, form parts of one continuous series of acts [Ills (a) (b) and (c)] or to cases when several distinct offences are committed at the same time, [Ills (d) (g) and (h)] or to cases in which, though an interval of time may have clapsed between the several offences the same specific criminal intent is common to them all-[Ills (e) and (f)] So the members of a police force who had combined to maltreat persons in the course of an investigation might be dealt with under S 235 for a series of oppressive acts of which they were guilty in prosecution of their common object but in all such eases it would be necessary to consider carefully whether the alleged acts were as a matter of fact so connected in one series as to form essentially and strictly the same transaction? But where the identity of cir cumstance is impaired by the difference of time place and persons present, the fact that all offences charged are said to have occurred in one police investigation conducted by different policemen who did not act together, seems to show that

<sup>1</sup> Gopaluni Narrsauva Weir 802

O Emp v Vauram I L R 16 Bom 414 (424)
O Emp v Fakirapa I I R 15 Bom 491 (497) per Birdwood J

against him, knowing that there is no just or lawful ground for such proceed ing, and also falsely accuses B of having committed an offence, knowing the there is no just l'inful ground for such charges. A may be separately charge with and convicted of two offences under section 211 of the Indian Penal Code

- (f) A, with intent to cause injury to B, falsely accuses him of hairs committed an offence, knowing that there is no just or lawful ground for us charge On the trial, A gives false evidence against B, intending thereby to cause B to be convicted of a capital offence. A may be separately charged with and convicted of, offences under sections 211 and 194 of the lides Penal Code
- (g) A, with six others commits the offences of rioling, grievous hurt and assaulting a public servint endeavouring in the discharge of his duty as such to suppress the riot A may be separately charged with, and conjected of, offeness

under sections 147, 325 and 152 of Indian Penal Code

(h) \ threatens B \ C \ and D \ at the same time with injury to their persons with intent to cause clarm to them. A may be separately charged with connected of each of the three offences under section 506 of the Indian Peal Code

The separate charges referred to in Illustrations (a) to (h) respectively may be tried at the same time to sub section (2)-

(i) A wrongfully strikes B with a cane A may be separately charged with and convicted of, offences under sections 323 and 352 of the Indian Penal Col

(j) Several stolen sucks of corn are made over to A and B, who know the are stolen property for the purpose of concealing them A and B thereped voluntarily assist each other to conceal the sacks at the bottem of a grangil A and B may be separately charged with, and convicted of, offences under sections 411 and 414 of the Indian Penal Code

(1) A exposes her child with the knowledge that she is thereby likely 1) cluse its death. The child dies in consequence of such exposure. A may be spongately characteristic that the child dies in consequence of such exposure. separately charged with, and convicted of, offences under sections 317 and 34

of the Indian Penal Code

(i) A dishonestly uses a forged document is genuine evidence, in order to con viet B a public servint of an offence under section 167 of the Indian Peul Code \ may be separately charged with and connected of offences under $2 tions 471 (read with 466) and 196 of the same Code to sub section (3)-(m) A commits robbery on B and in doing so voluntirily causes har D him A may be separately charged with and convicted if, offences under sec tions 323, 392 and 394 of the Indian Penal Code

5 71, Penal Code should be read with this section in determining the tences to be passed -

Where mything which is in offence is made up of pirts any of which part of iself an offence it. "" is itself an offence the offender shall not be punished with the punished in more than one if such his offences unless it be su expressly provided with the punished to the such his offences unless it be su expressly provided unathing is an offence. Litton makes in the surveyers by provided and the punished of and unathing is an offence. unithing is an offence I ding within two or more separate definitions of an law in first for the time being by which offences are definition or punished or where several acts in which offences are defined or punished where several acts in which where several acts of which one or more than one would by uself or therebythere an offence a constitute an offence constitute an offence constitute. constitute in offence, constitute, who combined a different offence, the continue is offence, constitute, who combined a different offence that the first continue is the continue of the continue is the continue of the cont of ndr shill not be punished with 1 m re-sever punishment than the Cord which it is him could swind for my one of such offences

Illustrations

(a) A gives 7 fity stroles with n stek. Here A may have committed by effecte of voluntarily causing hurt to 7 by the whole beating and also be established in the beating and also be established. of the flows which make up the whole besting and also be the flows which make up the whole besting. If A were liable to pumphened for every blow, he might be imprisoned for fifty years, one for each blow. But he is liable only to one punishment for the whole be ting

(b) But if, while \ is beating & \ interferes, and \ intentionally strikes Y, here, as the blow given to Y is no part of the act whereby A voluntarily causes hurt to Z, A is liable to one punishment for volunturily causing hurt to Z, and to another for the blow given to 1

5 235, it should be noted, relates only to the joinder of charges of offences commutted by the sum person and except in its reference to $ 71, Penal Code, in sub-section (4) it does not deal with the sentence to be passed on the charges of the offences mentioned in the illustrations. S 35 is important in relation to the subject of the sentence which may be passed in a trial in which on a joinder of charges the accused may be consicted of more than one offence, and S 35 like S 235 (4) specially provides for the operation of S 71, Penal Code S 35 enables a Court to pass a second sentence in the same trial which may be in excess of the ordinary powers of the Court, and it thus enhances the ordinary limits of sentence which can be passed by a Magistrate under S 32 The distinction between S 71 Pen il Code and S 35 of this Code, is shown by the explanation to $ 35. The former de its with separable offences, the latter with distinct offences $ 71. Penal Code declares that when anything which is an offence, which is made up of parts of which any part is itself an offence, the offender shall not be punished with the punishmet of more than one of such of his offences unless it be so expressly provided. Thus where an offence is made up of component parts of which each is itself an offence the offence in the aggregate may become a very hemous offence. Is instances of this, culpable homicide and discoits may be mentioned for these in their component parts constitute many less serious offences. S 35 of the Cade requires that only one sentence should be passed for such an offence and that for purpose of sentence such offences shall not be broken up into their component parts. The latter part of S 71 Penal Code proceeds on the same principle

The difference between Ss 234 and 235 has been considered (1) and it was observed that S 233 seems in apply t a case in which the different offences are parts of one transaction and not to a series of similar offences committed nn different dates

So as to form the same transaction-Sub section (1)

Proximity of time combined with intention and similarity of action and result are elements for consideration in determining whether the alleged facts form the same transaction ! The illustrations to sub-section (1) refer either to cases when different offences, which may be tried together, form parts of one continuous series of acts, [Ills (a), (b) and (c)] or to cases when several dis tinet offences are committed at the same time, [Ills (d) (g) and (h)] or to cases in which, though an interval of time may have clapsed between the several offences the same specific criminal intent is common to them all-[Ills (e) and (f) So the members of a police-force who had combined to maltreat persons in the course of an investigation might be dealt with under S 235 for a series of oppressive acts of which they were guilty in prosecution of their common object, but in all such cases, it would be necessary to consider carefully whether the alleged acts were as a matter of fact, so connected in one series as to form essentially and strictly the same transaction? But where the identity of circumstance is impaired by the difference of time place and persons present, the fact that all offences charged are said to have occurred in one police-investigation conducted by different policemen who did not act together, seems to show that the sets did not form parts of the same transaction 1. Still the fact that offeness may have been committed at different times does not necessarily show that they may not be so connected as to form the same transaction within the terms of S 235 The occasions may be different, but there may be a continuity and a community of purpose. The real and substantial test is whether several offences are so related to one another in point of purpose, or of cause and effect or of principal and subsidiary acts as to constitute one continuous action. To constitute community of purpose the mere existence of some general purpose or design will not be sufficient. The purpose in view must be something particular and definite. There is no continuity of purpose where each act is a conpleted act in itself and the original design is accomplished so far as that att i concerned So where a company is formed with the object of defruiding the public distinct acts of embezzlement committed in the course of several very to not form part of the same transaction by reason of such general objett?

<sup>1</sup> Gopaluni Narranya Weir 892 • O Imp o Vantam I L R 16 Bom 414 (424) • O Imp i Fakitapa I I R 15 Bom 491 (497) per Birduood J

So also the trial was not illegal in which the accused was charged (i) with his ing in his possession steady plates for the purpose of counterfeiting a trade make (5 485 Penal Code) (2) with having on the same date certain articles for sile bearing a counterfeit trade mark S 486 Penal Code) and (3) with having two days previously sold certain articles bearing a counterfeit trade mark (5 to Penal Code) as there was a community and a continuity of purpose n the possession and sale the possession of the instruments was the cause the possession and later the possession of the instruments was the cause the possession and later the p session and sale of the articles was the effect and both the possession and sale had one intention and aimed at one result?

In another case the trial was held to be illegal for misjoinder in which the persons were charged with being dishonestly in possession of property stolen by the sam act (S +11 Penal Code) who had received the articles at different times and without any connection with one another 4

A robbers and a murder committed some hours later and at a considerable distance from the place of the robbery though both committed by the same persons cannot properly form the subject of the same trial But such an int gularity would not necessarily make the entire trial void. Nor can tun entire trial void. riot in which each of the contending parties was charged with that offence be tried together. A fight between two parties was charged with the of the same trans ction within $ 235. There would moreover be a misjo not of persons contrary to 5 230 the offence of noting committed by each part Leng different in respect of their common object "

Offences under S 170 Penal Code (falsely personating a public servant and in such character d ing an act under colour of his office) and S 383 (con mitting extert on) have been hild to form part of the same transaction because but for the personation the iccused would not have been in a position to commit the act of exterion complained of ?

The expression "same transaction has been held not to be applicable to cases in which the alleged offences are separated by distinct intervals of time of place and must be prived by distinct evidence. It would be an overstrain of of the law to apply S and to several different thefts committed on different day and at different places by members of a gang of theres who were all out of the same marrouding expedition. If in any case and of the accused is Teleto be bewildered in his defence by having to meet many disconnected charges or the prospect of a fair trial is likely to be end ngered by the production of a mass of evidence directed to many matters, and tending, by its mere accumulation, to induce an undue suspicion against the accused, the propriety of combining charges may well be questioned, even if their could legally form the subject of the same trail.

<sup>1</sup> O Imp r Takitaja I I R 15 Bom (a) (col for Jardist J Chorigo B Venkatedri I I R 33 Mai 502 Francis Sherudah dalubha I I R 33 Mai 502 Francis Sherudah dalubha 1 I R 27 Bom 135 Secution from r Sanatis Strategic I C I W No. 23 Francis Sherudah I I R 20 B m 40 Francis Shekik Bayus W R Cr 47 Durrolla 9 W R Cr 33 C Francis Shekik Bayus W R Cr 43 Francis Shekik Bayus W R Cr 44 Francis Shekik Bayus W R Cr

When in recuing a person from arrest one of the rescuers committed their by snatching away some elethes the offences could not be joined and tried together?

Where of the persons charged with rating some are shown to have caused simple hurt the latter can be tried for and consisted of both affences?

Where the recuest, string in concert made separate representations to two sets of persons present at the same time and place, and so cheatful them, the joint trial was legal inasmuch as the transaction was the same, the misrepre sentation being the same on each case and in parsurance of the same computers.

Abduction is a continuing offence and when four persons abducted N on the National Continuing offence and when four persons abducted N on the persons took her to across place and on the 7th July N one of the original abductors, took her away and handed her our to other persons, there was community of purpose between M and the other abductors and all of them could be tred together for the offences committed on the 7th July and therester?

Where one accused seized a woman with the intention of laving illicit intercourse with her and was made do be thusband, and the second accused thereupon appeared and assaulted the husband in the absence of proof of con-munity of purpose a joint trial was illegal "

Under S 235(1) a charge of enuminal breach of trust of a sum of money could be tred at the same time as one of falsification of accounts made to conceal the act of misappropriation as part of the same transaction. But three charges of criminal breach of trust and one of falsification to conceal the offences cannot be tried together.

If the joint trial of two offences is contrary to the express provisions of the law, their joinder vitiates the whole trial and the defect is not condinued by the fact that the accused was not prejudiced *

Sub section 2

The offences stated in the Illustrations are distinct and separato inflences not necessarily connected with one mother or such that in combination, they would constitute a different offence. That forms the subject of sub-section (3) The object in view is to provide for every possible phase of the case which may be disclosed by the evidence at the trial. The illustrations sufficiently show this

Sub section 3

Although the several acts each constituting an offence and in combination continuing a different or a graver offence may be separately charged, it is generally undesirable to charge them separately, especially in a tital by jury, as it tends to direct attention from the graver offence charged, for under $\circ 2\text{ as the finding or verdict may be delivered on a numor offence compeled in such charge, if the facts found do not in all respects constitute the graver offence

T T T2

mp v Jethalal Harlochand I L 30 Bom 49 followed 8

ag Subrahmania Ayyar I L R.

charged So, on a charge of culpable homicide amounting to murder the redu may be one convicting the accused of culpible homicide not amounting t murder, if any of the facts constituting the exceptions to the former offence of out in S 300 Penal Code are found, a conviction in such a case might em be of grictous hurt. The illustrations to S 238 further explain the meaning of this sub-section

When in the course of the commission of an offence, of the kind mentioned in 5 195, other offences which may prove the subject of separate thanges under 5 235 and to which 5 195 does not apply, are committed, a Court can take cognizance of the latter offences, without sanction for a complaint) under S in

S 71 Penal Code, saved

This reference concerns merely the measure of punishment to be imposed on conviction of several offences on charges framed in accordance with 5 23 It is sometimes more convenient to priss sentence for tach of a series of the cach are constituting in offence useff instead of converting and passes settlence for the controlling and passes the controlling and sentence for the graver offence which such offences when combined constitute But S 71, Penal Code, provides that in such a case, the offender shall not be punished with a more severe punishment than the Court which thes had cold award for any one of such offences. So when a person is charged with a consisted of voluntially crusing grievous hurt to the same person, (1) by fraction of a tooth and (2) by permanent disfiguration of his face, each of which input constitute grievous hurt as defined in S 120. Fenal Code, the prossborent limited as above stated

The punishment for an offence is generally provided for by the lax sh b defines or creates it. The power of a Court to mand punishment is openly declared by Ss. 31.34 and 34A of this Code, and S. 35 enhances such or where a Court at the same real contract. where a Court at the same trial convicts a person of two or more differences (See not to 5 as a second seco offences (See not to 5 35 ante)

If a single acts or series of acts is of such a nature that it is doubtful which of several offence ful what offence has the facts which can be proved will constitute been committed the recused may be charged with having core mitted all or any of such offences, and any number of such charge may be tried at once, or he may be charged in the alternation with laying committed some one of the said offences

Illustrations

(a) A is accused of an act which may amount to theft, or rectning standards, to criminal breach of land property, or criminal breach of trust or cheating. He may be charged at their, recessing stoken around theft, receiving stokin property, criminal breach of trust and chroning or may be charged with having committed theft or receiving stolen property of criminal breach of trust and chroning or deciminal breach of trust or checking.

(b) A states on oath before the Magistrate that he saw B hat C with a clay Before the Sessions Court. A states on oath that B never has C. A. and C. Charged in the alternative and charged in the alternative and consected of intentionally guing false caller although it cannot be proved which of these contradictory statements and the false contradictory statements and the provided of the contradictory statements and the provided of the contradictory statements.

The distinction between $ 216 and $ 235(1) should be noted former, it is the application of the first to the facts that is doubtful state $ 336(1) refers to the computation of the facts that is doubtful state. S 35 (1) refers to the commission of a series of acts each of which other separately continues a definition of a series of acts each of which other separately constitutors at distinct offence

S 236 only authorizes a charge in the alternative where it is of several offences the facts which can be proved will constitute, now a may be any doubt as to the facts which constitute one of the removal offence. Thus, where the Judge was of opinion that there were gradienting the accused with root with a common object other than the target the prosecution, his proper course was not to amend the charge, by a separate head on which a separate head on which a separate head to taken?

The illustrations sufficiently explain the meaning of S 237 In promite case put in illustration (a) it may be observed that it is often $C_{27-1}$ if distinguish between these offences. Provision is thus made quants a fewer justice in consequence of the wint of a proper charge. So $77(3) 124 per justice in consequence of the wint of a proper charge. So $77(3) 124 per justice in consequence of the wint of a proper charge. So $77(3) 124 per justice in consequence of the wint of a proper charge. So $77(3) 124 per justice in the conviction is under the Indian Perul Code and it is 2 per justice in the conversation of the prints of the symmetry of the symmetry can be provided to the configuration of the Penul Code provises to the such a case the offender shall be punished for the offence for which the laws of the provise to the provise that it is the symmetry of the symme

Where the Appellate Court affirmed the lower Court's findings of last bar differed as to the offence which the frets constituted it could affirm the superior of appropriate (or reduce or after it) aftering the offence of which the arrangement of the country of

Illustration (b)

This settles the law which was it one time uncertain in consequent some contradictory reported cases. A person may be charged and converted an intentionally giving false evidence on two statements made to two Courts where contradictory and irreconcilable, although it may not be proved which of the statements is false. Each of these contradictory statements should be separate charged as constituting the offence of intentionally giving false evidence, and distributed as the some attempt made to prove that one of these statements are false. There should also be a charge in the alternative form [Sch. V, 21].

(11) (a) to provide against a failure to prove that either of these statements is false.

It does not follow as a necessary consequence that a person has committee person, because he has made two contradictory and irreconcitable statements on coath. There are cases in which he might very honestly and consentiatively swear to a particular fact from the best of his recollection and belief, and fired swears to a particular fact from the best of his recollection and belief, and fired swears to the reverse without meaning to swear falsely either time. But such a person of the reverse without meaning to swear falsely either time. But such the gradeness as to the circumstances, under which then be considered together with the evidence as to the circumstances, under which the statements were made.

The two false statements may have been made in the same deposition, and the deponent may be convicted thereon on an alternative charge it is not mecessary that they should have been made on two different occasions.

When the statements alleged to be contradictory have been elected in crossexamination, it must be shown that they were so made as to indicate an intention to give false evidence. There should appear some motive on the part of the witness inducing him to make such a false statement.

Lich of the strenents should be such that a charge of intentionally giving The evidence may be made upon it. So where it appears that one of the statements was made in a proceeding which the Magistrate was not competent to

Wafadar Khan v Q Emp I L R 21 Cal 955

Ct March 23 1904
037 Per Wilson and Tottenham II
In re Munn Buksh 3 Cal W N 81

hold by examining the accused on oath, a charge on contradictory statements is bad 1 Similarly an alternative charge cannot be made when one of the state ments asleged to be false was made to the Police and the other to a Magistrate

If the contradictory statements have been made in different Courts sent tion to the prosecution must be given by each of such Courts, or expressly by some Court superior to them both See Ss 195 and 230 and notes thereto Sanction of the High Court is necessary to the prosecution of a person who under conditional pardon is alleged to have intentionally given false evidence

A person cunnot be convicted of intentionally giving false evidence on contradictory and irreconcilable statements made by him when a witness made conditional pardon after that pardon has been withdrawn, unless sanct on of the High Court has been obtained [S 339 (3)] But my statement made by him may be used as evidence against him for the particular offence to which the conditional pardon may have related

(1) If, in the case mentioned in section 236, the ac cused is charged with one offence, and it ip pears in evidence that he committed a different offence for which he might have been charged charged with onoffence he can be under the provisions of that section, he may convicted of another be convicted of the offence which he is shown to have committed although he was not charged with it

Illustration

A is charged with theft It appears that he committed the offence of charged broads mind breach of trust or that of receiving stolen goods. He may be consisted of cruminal breach of trust or that of receiving stolen goods. He may be consisted to the constant of cruminal breach of trust or that of receiving stolen goods. of criminal breach of trust or of receiving stolen goods (as the case ma) b) though he was not charged with such offence

Here again there is a finding of certain facts constituting an offence is a finding of certain facts constituting an offence is the application of the law to the facts so found that is here provided for, so this for want of a specific house of the facts so found that is here provided for the facts for want of a specific charge there should not be a failure of justice. These fact must however have been made known to the accused so that he may have bed a full opportunity of explaining them or of showing that they are not established

Sub-section (2) has been transferred to S 238 in which it is obviously more appraish placed by the evidence or false appropriately placed

On a trial for abetment of and attempt to commit eriminal breach of fruit it was held that the prisoner might and should have been consisted of attempt to cheet and abstract of the to chert and obetment of that offence the High Court held that though the legal character of the acts done by the accused might well be considered an Tre our the cyclence given would apply to the one offence as to the other from the cyclence given would apply to the one offence as to the other from the control of the other from the cyclendary to the other from the oth prisoners had been acquitted by the Sessions Judge of the charge before though he found though he found facts ufficient to consict them of attempt and alternate the origin. cheating, a new trial was ordered by the High Court on the appeal by the Government 3

Thus a record But such offences must form part of the same transaction

* Han Churn Singh : 1 mp 4 Cal W > 249 Q I'mp * Bharma S L R 11 Non 702

R to Bom 124

* Reg. | Rymalina | Instantia to Bom | H.C. R. | Seenlin Q. I'mp r Appa Co. a Mentre I. I. R. & Bloom | 1000 tana Mentre I I R R Bom 200

charged with decoity cannot be convicted of dishonestly receiving stolen property of any article not shown to be part of the property then stolen.

But though on a charge of an offence the accused may be consisted of having attempted to commit it, he cannot be consisted of abetiment, because the facts constituting an abetiment are not necessarily included in those constituting the substantite offence.

Nor can the High Court so consict an appeal a

If the frees to be found constitute different offences and the trial has been by jury the High Ceurt on russ on will not a liter the charge and finding and affirm the consistion. Thus where the jury consist of of bettnent of a mock marriage with dishonest and fraudulent intention the High Court refused to after the finding to one of abetiment of bermin.

See S 23° for the course to b taken 13° a Court of Appeal Revision or Reference when a per on has been convicted without a charge or on an erroneous

charge

An acquitted of offences under S 3% and S 411. Penal Code charged in the alternative bars is subsequent trial for an offence under S 54A of the Calcuta Police Act (Ben. Act 1) of 1867 in respect of the same act or series of acts which formed the subject of the previous trial because there might have been a conviction under S 212.5

In recused charged with an effence under $ 100 Fenal Code may be convected of an offence under $ 540 f fleen Act IV of 1866 though not charged therewith because under $ 326 that offence might have been charged in the alternative with one under $ 380 Penal Code

Where an accused has been charged only with murder and convicted thereof and on appeal the High Court is to use the conviction it cannot after the conviction to one under the sections of the Penal Code dealing with offences against property?

238 (1) When a person is charged with an offence conmental model of several particulars a combination included in offence of some only of which constitutes a complete charged minor offence, and such combination is proved,

but the remaining particulars are not proved, he may be convicted of the minor offence, though he was not charged with it

- (2) When a person is charged with an offence and facts are proved which reduce it to a minor offence, he may be convicted of the minor offence, although he is not charged with it
- of the minor offence, although he is not charged with it (2A) When a person is charged with an offence, he may be convicted of an attempt to commit such offence although the
  - (3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorise a attempt is not separately charged

. .

.

Jowelta Bom H Cl Sept to 1800 See also Gost of Bengal v Mahaddi I L R 5 Cal 817 Q Emp v Appa Subhana Vendre I I R 8 Bom 200 Q Emp v Stanath Vandal I L R 22 Cal 1006 * Reg v Chand Nur 11 Bom. H C R 241

<sup>13</sup> Mad 264

&lt;sup>2</sup>
45 Cal 727 (3 c) 22 Cal W N 199
5<sup>C4</sup>
Waller ν Crown I L R 4 Lah 373

Sub section (3)

The offence referred to in S 198 are offences relating to a criminal breach of contract, definition, deceiffully causing a woman to cohabit with a man useful the behef that she is married to him, bigniny, bigniny with concealment of the former marriage, traudulently going through a mock marring. The complain of some person aggreed by such offence is necessary to proceedings before a Magnetice Adultery and entening away a married woman are the offence is ferred to in S 199. The complaint of the husband of the woman or, we ferred to m S 199. The complaint of the husband of the woman or, we force of some person who had care of her on his behalf at the time that the offence was commutted is necessary before proceedings can be taken by a Magnetizer.

239 The following persons may be charged and tried to what persons may gether namely be charged jointly

(a) persons accused of the same offence committed in the course of the same transaction.

(b) persons accused of an offence and persons accused of abetment or of an attempt to commit such offence.

(c) persons accused of more than one offence of the same kind within the meaning of section 231 committed by them jointly within the period of tuche months.

(d) persons accused of different offences committed in the course of the same transaction.

(e) persons accused of an offence which includes theft, extortion, or eliminal misappropriation, and persons accused of receiving of retaining, or assisting in the disposal or concentment of, property possession of which is alfeged to have been transferred by any such offence conduited by the first-named personor of abetiment of or attempting to commit any such list-maned offence.

(f) persons iccused of offences under sections 411 and 44 of the Indian Pen d Code or either of those sections in respect of stoken property the possession of which has been transferred by one offence; and

(4) persons accused of any offence under Chapter XII of the Indian Penal Code relating to counterfeit con and persons accused of any other offence under the said Chapter relating to the said coin, or of afset ment of or attempting to compute any such offence, and the provisions continued in the forestr part of this Chapter shift, so far as may be, upply to all such charges do important amendment of this section has been made by Act 8, Will of 1993 S 15 S 23) previously had down that the only persons who make be tried jointly were persons accused of the same offence or of different offences committed in the same transaction, or persons accused of the original offence and those charged with ibstructs of or itempt to commit that offence. The consequence was that the Courts were consequently called upon to determine whether certain offences had been committed in the same transaction, and there have been divergent rulings on this point. The Legislature has now elaborated section 21) and has counterited a large number of cases in which a joint trial will be legal. To some exent the intendments made give effect to the case law laid down, in other respects they render the ease law obsolete

Clauses (a) (b) and (d) embody the provisions of the old section. The other

clauses are new

Under clause (c) there can be a joint smal of persons accused of more than one offence of the same kind committed by them jointly within the period of twelve months. An offence is of the same kind when it is punishable with the same amount of punishment under the same section of the Penal Code, or of any special or local law, with a special proviso that offences under 54 379 and 380 of the Penal Code are of the same kind, and that an attempt to commit an offence is of the sam kind as the offence itself

Clause (e) introduces much that is new Hitherto the question whether the thief and the receiver could be jointly tried depended on whether the two offences could be regarded is parts of the same transaction. The Calcutta High Court held that in certain cases not only could the thiel and the receiver not be tried jointly! but also that the receiver of different articles which were the proceeds of the sam offence could n t be tried together

The Allah thad High Court held that in the obsence of evidence clearly disassociating the recept if st len property from the theft the two offences could b considered as parts of the same trinsiction and could be tried together? Also that a person who stule two separate articles from different places and the two receivers of those articles could be reed jointly 4

But clause (e) goes much further than these latter rulings. It is not only in cases of theft that the thief and the receiver can be tried together, but in the case of all offences which include thelt, extortion, or criminal misappropriation Robbery and dacoity are offences which include theft, so that receivers of property stolen in a dacoity can be tried jointly with the actual dacoit. This had already so been held. But in many of these cases the joint trial was up-held on the ground that by reason of certain connection between the thieves and the receivers, or by reason of the shortness of time which elapsed between the two offences, or for some other reason, it was possible to hold that the theft and the receipt were part of the same transaction. In fact S 239 as it stood did not justify a joint trial unless this could be so held. In these cases as the law is now amended the question whether the offences form part of the same transaction will no longer arise

Clause (f) merely elaborates Chuse (e) by miking it clear that the receiver and the person who assists in the concealment or disposal of stolen property the possession of which has been transferred by one offence can be tried jointly

Clause (g) provides that persons accused of any offence under Chapter XII of the Indian Penul Code relating to counterfeit coin or of the abetment of or attempting to commit any such offence can be tried jointly when the offences relate to the same coin

The last clause of $ 230 which lays down that the preceding provisions of the Chapter shall apply to all charges where there is a joinder of persons, is

ŀ

Oln Bhusan Adhakara v Tmp I J R 46 Cal 741
 Abdul Mard v Emp I L R 33 Cal 1256
 Emp v Bhuma 35 AB 311
 Emp v Anwir 44 AB -76
 Lmp v Alandeo Frasand I L R 45 AB 223

Sub section (3)

The offence referred to in S 198 are offences relating to a criminal breach of contract diffunction decentfully causing a woman to cohabit with a man used the belief that she is married to hum bigramy bigramy with concealment of the former marriage fraudulently going through a mock marriag. The complete of some person aggreered by such offence is necessary to proceed gips belief of Migstrut. Adultery and enticing away a married woman are the offence ferred to in S 199. The complaint of the husband of the woman or in the school of the some person who had enter of her on his behalf at the 1 me that the offence was committed is necessary before proceedings can be taken by a Magstrute.

239 The following persons may be charged and tried to What persons may gether namely be charged country

- (a) persons accused of the same offence committed in the course of the same transaction
- (b) persons accused of an offence and persons accused of abetment or of an attempt to commit such offence
  - (c) persons recused of more than one offence of the same land within the meaning of section 234 committed by them jointly within the period of twelve month
  - (d) persons accused of different offences committed in the course of the same transaction
- (c) persons accused of an offence which includes theft extortion of eliminal misappropulation, and person accused of receiving of ictaining or issisting in the disposal or conceniment of property possession of which is alleged to have been transferred by an such offence committed by the first named persons or of thetment of or attempting to commit any such last named offence
  - (f) persons accused of offeners under sections 111 and 414 of the Indian Penal Code or either of those section in respect of stokin property the possession of which has been transferred by one offence, and
- (4) persons accused of any offence under Chapter AI of the Indian Penal Code relating to counterfeit con and persons accused of any other offence under the said Chapter relating to the same com, or of akt ment of or attempting to commit any such offence and the provisions contained in the former part of this Chapter shall so the same to be a set of the commit any such offence.

shill so far as may be apply to all such charges.

In important amendment of this section has been in do by tet a classification of 133 Sec. Sec. 233 previously half down that the only persons who me be tried jointly were persons recused of the same offence or of different offences committed in the same transaction, or persons occused of the original offence and those charged with ibetment of or utempt to commit that offence consequence was that the Centres were conseantly called upon to determine whether certain offences had been committed in the same transaction, and there have been divergent rulings on this point. The Legisliture has now cluborated section 231 and has enumerated a large number of cases in which a joint trial will be legal. To some extent the up adments made give effect to the case law laid down, in other respects they render the case law obsolete

Clauses (a) (b) and (d) embod) the provisions of the old section The other

clauses are new

Under clause (c) there can be a joint trial of persons accused of more than one offence of the same kind committed by them jointly within the period of twelve months. In offence is of the same kind when it is punishable with the same amount of punishment under the same section of the Penal Code, or of any special or local law with a special proviso that offences under 5s 379 and 380 of the Penal Code are of the same kind and that in its mpt to commit an offence is of the same kind as the offence itself

Clause (e) introduces much that is new. Hitherto the question whether the thief and the receiver could be jointly tried depended on whether the two offences could be regarded as parts of the same transletion. The Calcutta High Court held that in certain cases not all could the thiel and the receiver not be tried jointly! but also that the receiver of different articles which were the proceeds of the sam offence could not be tried together?

The Allahabid High C are held that in the absence of evidence clearly disassociating the receipt of at his property from the theft the two offences could b considered as parts of the same transaction and could be tried together? Also that a person who stok two separate articles from different places and the two receivers of those articles could be tried jointly 4

But chase (a) goes much further than these latter rulings. It is not only in cases of theft that the thief and the receiver can be tried together, but in the case of all offences which include theft, extortion, or criminal misappropriation Robbers and dagony are offences which include theft, so that receivers of property stolen in a dacoity can be tried jointly with the actual dacoit. This had already so been held. But in many of these cases the joint trial was up-held on the ground that by reason of certain connection between the thieves and the receivers, or by reason of the shortness of time which elapsed between the two offences, or for some other reason, it was possible to hold that the theft and the receipt were part of the same transaction. In fact S 239 as it stood did not justify a joint trial unless this could be so held. In these cases as the law is now amended the question whether the offences form part of the same transaction will no longer arise

Clause (f) merely elaborates Clause (c) by making it clear that the receiver and the person who assists in the concealment or disposal of stolen property the possession of which has been transferred by one offence can be tried jointly

Clause (g) provides that persons accused of any offence under Chapter VII of the Indian Penal Code relating to counterfest coin or of the abetment of or attempting to commit any such offence can be tried jointly when the offences relate to the same com

The last clause of S 239 which lays down that the preceding provisions of the Chapter shall apply to all charges where there is a joinder of persons, is merch repeated from the old section. The preceding sections relate to a jorda of charges against the same person in the same trial, and the provisions as to joinder of charges and joinder of persons must be read together

<sup>1</sup> Ohi Bhusan Adhikan v Emp I J R 46 Cal 741 2 Abdul Mand v Emp I L R 33 Cal, 1256 2 Emp v Bhima 38 Ali 311 4 Emp v Annar 44 Ali 276 3 Emp v Anhadeo Frasard I L R, 45 Ali, 223

It is to be noted that there is nothing mandatory about S 239 Even with i joint trial of more persons than one is legal the Court has discretion to if such persons separately

The meaning of the expression "in the same transaction" has been expland in the note to 5 235, and the case law on the point will still be applicate unless the circumstances are covered by one or other of the new clause ( (c) (f) and (g) of S 239

Several persons committing several nuisances of the same description carrel be charged and tried together! Nor can be contending parties in a case of rioting be tried together. The offence committed by each is different because they have each acted with a different common object, and they have not too

muted offences in the same Iransaction 2

Persons charged with having intentionally given false evidence at the same trail c innot be regarded as having committed the same offence, or to have committed efficies in the same transaction. They should, each of them, be separately tree A he by a witness is none the less his own particular he, because obs-witnesses hive about the same time told the same lie and it is his own and of mother's lie that can alone be used against him or be the subject of a prosecution on that account 4

The following rulings will still hold good -A joint trial of persons charged with offences under Ss 147 and 375 Penal Code, committed on the 24th Januar and with offences under Ss 147 323 and 342. Penal Code committed on the 25th Jinurry is illegal Wiere the recused persons acting in concert mide separate representative where the recused persons acting in concert mide separate representatives. to each of two a ts of persons at the same time and place and thereby cheated them, the offences were committed in the same transaction, and a joint mil was legal s

A charge under S 120B, and S 420 Penal Code, of conspirary to that between certain dates may be legally joined with individual charges of other distinct offences committed in pursuance of the conspiracy by different member on different dates. The discretion of the Court to Its accused persons upon is n t imprigarily exercised by hiding a joint trial in conspiring cases.

A charge of crimmal c aspuracy to manufacture arms under S 120H Pers. (ad rend with 5 (1)(i) of the Arms let (NI of (878) may be tried to nith white street of offenses and of the Arms let (NI of (878) may be tried to nith white street of offenses and of the NI of (878) may be tried to nith white street of offenses and of the NI of (878) may be tried to nith white street of offenses and of the NI of (878) may be tried to nith white street of offenses and of the NI of (878) may be tried to nith white street of the NI of (8 thirties of offences und r Ss 19 (f) and so of the litter Act committed in for surner f the object of the conspignes

Six persons accused of having been jointh concerned in carrying out a six temate swindle can be jointly charged for three effences of cheating comme

It should be noted that the words whether in respect of the same perse

<sup>1</sup> I ihranki Red li i Q. I. I. R. 5 Ma I. 20. (s. c.) Weir 900. 4 Dirzolla Khan 9 W. R. Cr. 33. Hossen Buksh e. Imp. I. I. R. (Cal. 9). (. R. Cal f R 521 Ita bat Panj Rec 1891 p 47 D Finp e Clandra Ilhusa 1 L R

Jobal 537 14 on Panj Rec 1891 p 47 D 1 mp e Camuna (1872)

Visit H C R App xxxx (s c) Weit Sot Chand Khan All W 201

1 R All 203 Din Doyal All W 21885 p 29 Sathu Sheikh r Q Emp I L F 10 Cal 405

Ad 405 .

* Whataj Weser 7 B 1 R App 6' (s.e.) 16 W R Cr 47 .

* Fmp. Pattu Lad 46 All 5' .

* Kallash Chan fra I al e 1 mp. I 1 R 4' Cal 712 .

* Addid Salin v I mp. I 1 R 49 Cal 523 .

* Addid Salin v I mp. I 1 R 4 Cal 1153 . * Imp r Beet an Panle I I R 35 All 457 or not" which now appear in S 234 have not been repeated in S 239 (c), but they may presumably be taken to be part of the definition of ' an offence of the same kind'

Where in respect of two persons charged with cheating their is clear proximity of time and space clear continuity of action and sufficiently specific con-

munity of purpose a joint trial is legal a

Where one man seized a woman with the intitution of raping her and was attracked by her husband and a second and thrid man thereupon appeared and assaulted the husband in the absence of proof that the three accused were acting assaulted the husband in the absence of proof that the three accused were acting in execution of a common design a joint trail was illegal?

A joint trail of the author of a book alleged to contain defamility matter under 5 soo Penal Code, and of the partie runder 5 soo and out Panal Code.

is illegal when the conviction of the printer under S 500 could not be sustained and there was no evidence of a conspirince. 3

A joint trial cannot be held if one person charged with an offence such as theft and of others charged only with rescuing him from lawful custod, if In cases coming under chaise (e) it must be borne in mind that when it is sought to join charges of more than one offence of the same land alleged to have been committed by more than one person all the accused against whom charges are so joined must be concerned in all the offences charged. If any one of them is not concerned in one of them there would be a misjoinder.

It has been held's that a misjonder of parties in the same trail though contrary to S 233 is only an irregular ty and therefore not necessarily fatal in the validity of the trail if it can be brought within S 537. That case however proceeded on the judgment of a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Churt's which was afterwards overruled by the Prix Council's on that it is obsolete as it is contrary to the rule laid down. A misjonder is therefore fairly to proceedings in the trail for it is contrary to law and therefore an illegal ty and not an irregularity which can be dealt with under S 537. But see note to S 233.

But a commitment made on a major nder of charges of offences which should be tried separately or in respect of persons contains to S 230 does not affect the validity of the proceedings in the inquiry. The judgment in the Pray Council refers only to a trial. The Court to which such commitment has been made is competent to hold separate trials and should do sn?

Withdrawal of remaining charges on the constitution has been had on one of syveral charges on the complainant, or the officer conducting the moscention may, with the consent of the Court, withdraw the remaining charge or charges, or the Court of its own accord may stay the inquiry into, or trial of such charge or charges. Such withdrawal shall have the effect of an acquittal on such charge or charges unless the conviction be set as all court (subject to the order of the

I Com Madha I omn I I D 7 Rom v n

L J 11

o Cal 159

&lt;sup>7</sup> Subramania Ayyar v O Emp I I R 25 Mad 61 (* c.) 5 Col W N 866 (8 c.) L R 28 I A 257 <sup>8</sup> In re Cov ndu I I R 6 Vad 502 Nallun Chenchiah I L R 4° Mad 511

Court setting aside the conviction) may proceed with the inquiry into or trial of the charge or charges so withdrawn

Section 240 it should be noted, is general, and not, like the corresponding section (459) of the Code of 1872, restricted in its ipplication to trials before

High Court or Court of Session

Chapter \\\\!tl relates to Public Prosecutors S 495 of which empowers a Wignerate to permit any person, other than an officer of Police below a rack to be prescribed by the Local Government in this behalf with the previous sare tion of the Governor General in Council, to conduct a prosecution But to officer of Palice shall be p rimited to conduct a prosecution, if he has taken are part in the investigation into the offence in respect to which the accused is large prosecuted 5 414 further provides that a Public Prosecutor, with the consti if the Court may withdrive from a prosecution in a case tried by a just before the return of the verdet and in other cases, before the judgment is presented. It also declares that if a withdrawal is made before a charge has been fared the occused shall be discharged and if after a charge has been framed or when n i charge is required he shall be acquitted

After the jury has consisted the accused of the offences charged the sions Judge cannot allow the charge regarding any of those offences to be

379

S 345 provides for the compounding of certain offences some by the percent affected by their commission and others with the permission of the Court before which any prosecution for the particular offence is pending. But if the accurhas been committed for trial or his appeal against his conviction is prided the leave of the Court before which the case for the time being is must be obtained. The obtained. The composition of an offence has the effect of an acquitted also permits a complainant with the least of the Magistrate to withdraw a summons-case at any time before the final order in it is passed

Proceed with the inquiry or trial

This contemplates that such proceedings should be held by the same Carl If they are held by a different Magistrate they should be regulated by a nd the accused may regues the nameses to be ri beard

CHAPTER XX

OF THE TRIM OF SUMMONS-CASIS BY MAGISTRATES

A summons-cree is a cree relating to an affence not punishable with design realism or another second transportation or impris ament for a term exceeding six months -See 5 a

A summons-case is nearly always on a complaint. The complainant harris then examined (5 200), and process issued for the attendance of the accord (S 201) Chapter \(\frac{1}{2}\) declares the procedure for the attendance of the order of the trail of the day of the ed I r the appearance of the received the compta near does not appear, the Algorithm that the compta near does not appear, the Algorithm that the compta near the Algorithm that the compta near the compta near the Algorithm that the compta near the compta trate shall acquire the acquired that so for some reas in he thinks proper to all bethe beiring of the case to some other dis-($ 247)

Procedure in sammons cares.

The following procedure shall be observed by Magistrates in the trial of one

10005-03505 A summons-case may also be tried in a summary was Is the District Machine Anny Magnetistic of the Country of th trate, any Magnetate of the first class specially empowered in this behalf is to

I hatharya li lia Bora II Ct April 8 1836

Local Government, and my Bench of Magistrates invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the first class and similarly empowered—(5 260)

Certain summonse uses specified in S 260 are also treable summarily by a Bench of Magistrate invised with the powers of a Magistrate of the second or third class, specially empowered in this lichalf by the Local Government—(S 26)

In none of such summers trads need the evidence of the witness be recorded at the first 1 pull first in the case a judgment must be recorded embodying the substance of the evidence (S. 44) and in all summers trads, certain particulars set out in S. 13 must be out red in such form as the Local Conterment in a first-fixed set, (a.d.). In the respects the procedure prescribed for summers cases must be followed—(S. 61) Som warrants uses are also tradble summerly and in such trads evidence must 1 for rd d is in summons cases treed indeed this Chapter—(S. 52).

When a person is necessed of its effective which may be tried tog their, one of which as a summinuscess and the their a surrange is the trial should be under the procedure prescribed for the graver offence !

242 When the accused appears or is brought before the Substance of accusation to be rated which he is accused shill be sated to him, and he shill be asked if he has not cause to show why he should not be convicted but it shall not be necessary to frame a formal charge.

S 247 provides for the ourse to be traken if the complainant dies not appear. When a Vigistrate issues a summer he may if he sets resum to do so, dispense with the personal attendance of the necessed and permit him to appear by pleidar but he may in the dieser ton at mosting of the proceedings, direct the personal attendance of the not used and if necessary inforce his attendance.

-(5 203) Sec also 5 3401

(a) the life is bout to be put on his livel, do to the offence or feels constituting the offence with the commission of which he is accused. Where earling the offence with the commission of which he is accused. Where cert in persons had been brought before the Vigoterite for other purposes while he was in cump and these circumstances were not made known to them, they were released as hiving been unproperly onvicted #

If a complimant, it my time before a final order is passed in my ease under this Chapter, studies the Vigostrate that there are sufficient grounds for permitting him to withdraw his compliant, the Magistrite may permit him to withdraw his compliant, the Magistrite may permit him to withdraw it, and the Vigostrate shall thereupon acquait he accused (S 248) Offence currently for compliant to the complex of the composition of an abetiments of or attempts to commit such offences, and the composition of an observation of these offences has the effect of an acquatital of the accused (S 348). The consent of the Magistrate is not necessary as an other summons-cases to the with any of the complaint.

The use of the expression "before the accused as called on for his defence" in $ 344, and the fact that the same expression occurs in $ 250, in connection with trials in warrantersee and in $ 250, in connection with trials in Sessions cases, and the absence of any such expression in Chapter XV, show that the provisions of $ 342, requiring the Court to examine the accused generally

Rajnarain Koonwar v Lala Tamoli I L. R. 11 Cal. gr

on the case after the examination of the prosecution witnesses, do not apply to summons-cases <sup>1</sup> But a contrary view has been taken by the Bombay High Court <sup>2</sup> and the Calcutta High Court <sup>3</sup>

In an inquiry under Chapter VIII, where security is required for keeping the peace, the procedure is to be the same as that Inid down in this Chapter for the trial of summons-cases (S 117(2)) So in such an inquiry it is not a compliance with the provisions of S 242 as so applied to ask the accused whether he is willing to execute the bonds required or whether he wishes for further inquiry.

Conviction on admission of truth of shall be recorded as nearly as possible in the words used by him, and, if he shows no suffi cient cause why he should not be convicted, the Magistrate may

By requiring that an admission shall be recorded as nearly as possible in the words used by the accused, it is evidently contemplated that the admission of all be record d in the language used by the accused (tingle 5 [1] best in regard to the recording of the examination of an accused person

It was previously obligatory on a Magistrate to convict where the received admitted his guilt, and showed no sufficient cruse against his conviction But the word "mry" has now been substituted for "shall" by Act No XAVIII of 1933 S 6 This is a reversion to the Code of 1872 If the Magistrate does not convict he proceeds under S 244, in which a consequential amendment has been mode.

been made. When the occused admits that he has committed the offence of which he is accused that is, pleads guilty, and he is convicted accordingly, there is no appear against a conviction by any Presidency Argustrate of a Magistrate of the first class, except as to the extent of kighty of the sentence (S. 412). An appeal would consequently he against such a conviction by a Magistrate of the second to third class on the merits.

An accused person cannot be so convicted of an offence which is a narrant case. The procedure set out in S. 25, applies only to summon cases in the trial of a narrant-case the offence must be proved and the accused must be called upon to plend to the charge before he can be called upon for his deference (S. 25). He cannot be examined under S. 342 except to explain circumstance appearing in evidence against him, and his would be after some evidence for the prosecution had been taken. An admission obtained under S. 243 in such a case would not be evidence against him.

Procedure when no nutre the preceding section, or if the accused under the preceding section, or if the accused does not make such admission, the Magistrate shall proceed to hear the complainant fact shall proceed to hear the complainant take all such evidence as may be produced.

 $<sup>^{1}</sup>$  P nowamy Odivar 1 1 R 4  $^{\prime}$  Mid 75  $^{\prime}$   $^{\prime}$  Int r G S ternander 1 1 R 45 Bom 67z. Emp r Guidijan 1 t R 4 Bom 441

Gultari fial c Pmp t L. R. 42 Cal. 1075

Palamappa Asars r Pmp, I I R. 34 Mad. 13

Chnois, is in t L. R., 2) Mad. 378

in support of the prosecution, and also to hear the accused and take all such evidence as he produces in his defence

- "Provided that the Magistrate shall not be bound to hear any person as complainent in any case in which the complaint has been made by a Court
- (2) The Migistrate may, if he thinks ht, on the application of the complaniant or accused, issue a summons to any witness directing him to attend or to produce any document or other thing.
- (3) The Magistrate may, before simuloning my witness on such application, require that his reasonable expenses, mourred in attending for the purposes of the trial, be deposited in Court

Livers person before any transmit trust may if right be defended by a pleader—(5-340). Ungestrate is bound to examine all the witnesses who may be tendered for the prosecution, and ilso this whom the occused may produce He has a discretion to idji urn trial by an order in writing stating his reasons therefor (5 344) If he thinks lit in application if the complain into the Magistrate may issue process to compet the attend nee of any witness or the production of any document or other thing and before he issues such processes a Magistrate may require that the reasonable expenses of such additional witness shall be deposited in Court. On Inlure to deposit such fees, the Magistrate cannot summarily dismiss the cise. He should rather proceed to deal with the case on such evidence as mis have been recorded 3 5 204 (3) does not apply to such a case. If an adjournment is granted for that purpose, the occused may reserve his defence until such further evidence his been til en ur if he so desire it, h may require the Magistrate to talle the evidence of his witnesses who may be present. It may be inconvenient for the accused to be put to the expense of again bringing his witness As on the upplication of the complainant, so on the application of the acused the Magnetrate may assur process to compel the attendance of a witness, or the production of a document or thing Complain ants are, however, expected in summons-cases to bring their own witnesses or to apply for a summons to procure their altendance in sufficient time for service to be made before the day fixed for the attendance of the accused person so as to enable them to attend after such service on that day the summons served on an accused person in a summons case generally requires him to bring his with no see. The accused is accordingly as a rule expected also to apply in proper time before the trial if he requires a process to compel the attendance of a witness for his defence. The matter calls for the exercise of discretion on the part of a Magistrate because the late service of a summons on an accused person may often give him no proper opportunity to obtain the attendance of witnesses for his defence at the hearing of the case

If on service of summons on a witness, he does not appear, the Magistr te

16 ~ 1 1 ..... 17

may be called upon to enforce his attendance. There is no discretionary posts given by 5 244 to refuse to do so $

All witnesses shall be examined on oath or iffirmation in the form pre-crited by the High Court -Indian Onths Act, (\ inf 1573) 5 5-md, unless the Man's trite is a Presidency Magistrate, he shall, make a memorandum of the sub-tance of the evidence of each witness to the examination proceeds. Such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Magistrate with his own hand and shall term part of the record and if the Magistrate is presented from making such from rindum, he shall cause it to be made in writing from his dictation in open Court and he shill sign the since and such memorindum shill form part of the record -5 352) 5 362 provides for the course to be taken by a Presidency Mogarish

(1) If the Magistrate upon taking the evidence n ferred to in section 244 and such further ex dence (if any) as he may, of his own motion, Acquittal cause to be produced and (if he thinks fit) examining the accused, funds the accused not guilty, he shall record an order of acquital

(2) Where the Magistrate does not proceed in accordance with the provisions of section 349 or acc tion 502, he shall, if he finds the accord 5 itence guilty, pass sentence upon him according to law

5 540 compowers a Virgistrate at my stage of a trial to summon in prosen is a withers, or to exturne in the second in affect of a real to summoned as a witness and to recill and re-examine any person aircidy examined

See Chapter VVI, 55 300-372 for the rules regarding the delivery and recording of judgments

If the personal attendance of the reused has been dispensed with the Mage trate may pass judgment, if it be all acquittal, or if the sentence is of fine party of the presence of his pleider-15 366) It in requiting the accused the Vigistrite is satisfied that the accusual ignited from in false, and rather friedous or verticus, the Mogistrate my, his discretion by his order of requited call upon the complement to show cause why he should not be ordered to pix companition to the recused-15 25%

If the leaved his been consided of a nin-countrible effects the Court mar in addition to the genuity imposed on him erder him to repay to the complexed the fee paid on his application or polition we eight dunias, or the same amount pal on his ex min dion (Court Lees Act 1870 S 18), and when the complete is his pind fees for serving processes, also the intount pind therefit ($ 55 t) all such fees are to be ratherd as of the surface imposed by the Court of the accused to be an entitled to fine the Wagistrie may when pay making in out the whole the court of the court o judgin nt, ord r the whole or any just of the fine recovered to be applied (3)? defr of the expenses properly memorial by the presentation, and (b) in remperetion for the injury emped by the offene committed where substantial company tion is, in the Magnetett e claim in recoverable by a trial suit in his man pens dring is 6 ma fide purcheer of stelen property in the soft theficele when the property is restored to the rightful owner ($ 545)

The re-drift of sub-section (2) contains a more accurate statement of the last than the cld subserver is 5 grad do with the case where c M performs of second or third class thinks he camer pass a sufficiently severe summer. which case he forwards the accused to the District M Assistate or a Subdain as Mar istrate

<sup>1</sup> Dumar Month: Digambar Day C Cal M. N. 515 Davist angle Bonds Bellat I L. R. in Cal. Lat.

Under S 56x, in convicting the accused in a summons-case, a Magistrate has a discretion to abstain from passing entence. If such Magistrate is of the third class or of the second class and not specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf, he must either pass a natione, or submit the proceedings to a Magistrate of the first class or Sub-divisional Magistrate for orders—(5 562 (x)). Any Court may, in certain circumstances instead of sentencing the accused, re lease him after due admonstron (5 562 (x)).

In the case of certain convictions executive orders have been issued to the following effect -

Whenever any Government officer is judicially convicted of any offence, a copy of the decision should be sent to the head of the department in which he is employed, in order that such action is may be deemed proper may be taken at

Whenever any person serving under Government in the Military Depart ment is convicted in a Crim nal Court information should be given to the Officer comminding the regiment or corps to which he belongs, and if the person convict of be serving under the Government of India in th. Military Department a copy of the conviction and sentence should be forwarded to that Department.

Whenever any officer enlisted soldier or sepoy is sentenced in any Criminal Court to a fine of Rs 200 or upwards or to imprisonment otherwise than in default of paying a fine not amounting to Rs 200 the Court should propine motu send a copy of its final order to the superior of the person consisted

If a recruit of the Native army is sentenced by any Criminal Court to imprisonment for any term exceeding three months a report should be sent to the Officer commanding the Resene Centre

248 A Magistrate may, under section 243 or section 245, Finding not limited by complaint or summons.

more than Chapter which from the facts admitted or proved he appears to have committed, whatever may be the nature of the complaint or summons

Section 246 shows that the proceedings in a trial of a summons-case are not limited to the offence complained of or entered in the summons to the accused It gives a Magistrate discretion to proceed in regard to any other offence primal face established by the evidence for the prosecution, but if the Magistrate thinks proper to do so, he should proceed as set out in S 242 and state to the accused the particulars of such offence, so as to enable him to show cause why he should not be consisted of such offence and if he does not admit it, to make his defence, otherwise this may be made ground for objection to any conviction of such offence before a Court of Appeal on Revision

247 If the summons has been issued on complaint, and mappearance of upon the day appointed for the appearance of the accused, or any day subsequent thereto to which the hearing may be adjourned, the complainant does not appear, the Magistrite shall, notwithstanding anything hereinheiore contained, acquit the accused, unless for some reason he thinks proper to adjourn the hearing of the case to some other day:

Provided that, where the complainant is a public servant and his personal attendance is not required, the Magistrate may dispense with his attendance, and proceed with the case

It should be noted that S 247 applies as a rule only to a summonscase Such cases are mostly instituted on complaint, and for this reason, as well as on account of the petty character of the case, the appearance of the complanant at all stages of the trial is required, unless it has, by a special order, been depensed with Probably if he is represented by a pleader [S 4 (r)] his persons appearance will not be regarded as indispensable, for a discretion is given to the Migistrate in enforcing the penalty for the neglect of a complainant to apper Wheo the complainant is absent on the day fixed for the attendance of the wt nesses for the defence the Magistrate should not deal with the case summarity under S 247 unless the appearance of the complainant has been specially it quired at that adjourned hearing for he has done all that was necessary for he to do to establish his case. So also an acquittal because the complument at having been directed to attend was absent on the date solely fixed for d larg of judgment is illegal 2 Uoless the order is passed on the day regularly fixed for the hearing it is illegal and a millity and is no bar to the renewal of the trial 3 The trial had been completed and the proceedings adjourned for the hearing of arguments the complainant being absent on the day fixed the Mactrate acquitted the accused. The Calcular High Court refused to interfere en revision 4

Where a complainant was present in the Court of a Magistrate who had previously dealt with the case in the belief that it would be heard by him and the case was talen up without the knowledge of the complainant by the Cref Presidency Magistrate who acquitted the accused under $ 247 the end of requittel eight to be set uside

A Magistrate is not bound to wait until his Court is about to close on the dry fixed for trial before he proceeds under S 247 An order passed that it made and signed cannot be reconsidered and resolute-(S 369) If it is a order of requitt it and it has been inconsiderately passed it can be set and by the High Court as a Court of Revision on reference under $ 438 or 6 mit n orde to that Court? A further inquiry cannot be ordered under as the accused is acquitted

S 25) the corresponding section in the trial of a warrant-case, leaves if the the discretion of the Magistrite to discharge the accused if the complainant is i else instituted upon a complaint is absent and the iffence may be lawfure compounded under S 345 post

Unless the order for adjurnment has been made in the presence and hearing of the confluent (or of his plender) a Magistrate is not competent to il prethe complaint fir d fault of the appraisince of the complainant # 50 also where an in little a hourament of the trid wis mall without notice of any part cular that fixed from continuous and in consequence of the absence of the continuous con compluent on the divon which it was resimed the accused was required unit S 247 the order was set asile as illegal?

An adjournment can be granted by the Magistrate holding a trial under $ 341 fest, which limits the period of an adjournment to ffreen days, in the case of an order rimin high in necessary to custath. But in the trial of a summers when the account of the summers with when the recursed wind a ribrarily le not in custody but on ball, the period should be no short as recursed wind a ribrarily le not in custody but on ball, the period should be as short as possible having regard to the character of the case

<sup>1</sup> Weir on

Weir fort | Weir fort | R | A | C4 | 87 | Cinch Chan its Day | L | R | A | C4 | 87 | Cinch Chan its Day | L | R | A | C4 | N | S | C4 | N | C4 | N

ft is open to doubt whether S 247 applies at all to a case where the complannant has died, and an acquittal under 5 247, where the complainant had died and the son appeared and asked to be allowed to continue the prosecution was set aside t

Where in a trial for offences under 55 352 and 504 Penal Code, the Magistrate discharged the accused owing to the absence of the complainant, it was held that in such a trial the procedure to be followed must be that of a warrant-case, and the discharge of the accused did not amount to an acquittal under $ 247 of the offence under S 132 Penal Code, and there was no bar to a fresh trial for the same offence 2

403 lays down that a person who has been tried for an offence and acquitted cannot be tried ig in for the same offence. The Madras High Court held that the provision in 5 403 that a fresh trial is not barred unless the accused has been ' tried ' does not limit the effect of in order of requittral under S 247, and so when a case was disposed of under 5 247 the complimant and accused both being absent, the order was a bar to further precedings?

But in a later Madras case this ruling was dissented from It was held that some meaning must be attached to the word tried in S 4034 In a still later case, there was a difference of opinion as to which was the correct view, and on the case coming before Wallis C J under S 429, he held that the rule of English I'm requiring the accused to have been true as well as acquitted in order to bir further proceedings, embodied in 5 403 is applicable to the statutory acquittals introduced into the Cod 1 c 5- 494 247 and 345 which are intended to bur further proceedings will then the accused can be said to have been tried or not. This was a case where a notice procedure entired under S 494, had been followed by an requited. The karned (had Justice said that if sections 403 and 494 had been originally enacted at me and the same time he would have found it very difficult to c me in that conclusion S 403 was first enacted as S 32 of the Lode of 1861, the proximons contained in S 494 first appeared as S 61 of the Code of 1872, and he thought that here, the legislature introduced a fresh form of statutory acquittal intended to hise the sam operation as an acquittal in accordance with the English rule now embodied in S 403. The same argument would apply to acquittals under S 247 The Allahabad High Court (per Ryves ] ) took the same view 6

If a complainant, at any time before a final order is passed in any case under this Chapter, satisfies Withdrawal of com plaint. the Magistrate that there are sufficient grounds for permitting him to withdraw his complaint, the Magistrate may permit him to withdraw the same, and shall thereupon ac-

It should be noted that this section applies only to summons-cases? A complaint of a summons-case can be withdrawn under S 248 only with the permission of the Magistrate. If the proceedings in a warrant case have been instituted on complaint and on the day fixed for hearing the complainant is absent.

quit the accused

Jomeso Sahu : Pet L J 26;
Rughavala Nanker I I R 41 Mad 227
Staggalapu Fastayya I L R 34 Mad 23;
Gaggalapu Fastayya I L R 34 Mad 23;
Buryarting to follow Panchu Singh,
4 Cal W N 36 and Behau Das Ghosh * K Emp 7 Cal W N 493 and Kedar Nath
Biswas 7 Cal W N 711
*Kotayya I L R 40 Mad 977
*Dudekuk Lal Sahb I L R 30 Mad 976
*Dudekuk Lal Sahb I L R 45 Ml 36 following also Emp # Bhawani Prasad, Weekly
Natar 2007

Notes 1885 p 43 In re Ganesh Narayan Sathe, I L. R 13 Bom, 600

ſŧ

(4) Where an order for payment of compensation to an a cused person is made in a case which is subject to appeal urdi sub-section (3), the compensation shall not be paid to him below the period allowed for the presentation of the appeal has elaped, or, if an appeal is presented, before the appeal has been decided and, where such order is made in a case which is not so subject to appeal, the compensation shall not be paid before the capital tion of one month from the date of the order.

(a) At the time of awarding compensation in any sulquent civil suit relating to the same matter, the Court shall take into account any compensation paid or recovered under this section

There was some difficulty in giving effect to the provisions of S 250 25 FT viously framed the final order for the payment of compensation had to be cluded in the judgment, together with the reasons for the order, and the delay of judgment had to be postponed while the Magistrate called upon the compaant to put furward any objection be might have to the making of the order Louis the new section, is unended by let No VIII of 1923, 5 bg, the Majotrate, a his order of discharge or acquait it calls upon the complanant if he is present to show cruse forthwith why he should not be ordered to pay compensation, and complain int is not present directs a summons to be issued to him to apar re-Thus the man case will be disposed of, and the compensation inquiry will take place separately. This is not the only change made in the section by the amending Act of 1923. In the first place, while the hand of fir rupics has been maintained in the case of third class Magistrates, other last Iritis are now empowered to mard compensation up to one hundred cupre Secondly under the old law the Magistrate had to find that the necessital sate "Problems and secutions before he awarded compensation, under the relaw the finding must be that the accusation was " false and either involved versious So in necessition in respect of an act covered by S 95. Proof (4) and cat causing slight form) would no longer be a ground for awarding empiration if the accusation was a second or a ground for awarding empiration if the accusation was pensation if the neusation was true, it might be Irivolous but not false

A lull Bench of the Calcutta High Courts had held, "that the words Intoke or sextnous, in 5 250 include a false accusation, and enable a Magistrate to give components to a person accused of in offence which has been found by be fally, thus our ruling some cases to the contrary, this had been feed by the Allahabed High Court? It had been held by the Bombay High Court? that I can which to false must be sexulous though it may not be from and therefore it would and therefore it would come within 5 250, but it had also been held in a more case, tollowing the Calcutta cases which have now been over-ruled by the Bench of that Court, that compensation cannot be given to a person lay y premied

The Vindras High Court pointed out that, before giving compensation units S 250 on account of a complaint found to be false, the Magistrate is board in consider whether, on grounds of public policy, the Complainant should not be proved for an offence und r 5 211, Pen'll Cole, and that it is the day of

Plent Wathub Kurru i Kumul Kumut I L. R., 30 Cal. 123. (e.c.) 6 Cal W. See Alikhan e Misan I I R. v. W. i

<sup>79)</sup> See Alikhan r. Hivan I I R. 21 Mal. 217.
Thrij r. Landesh Franci I L. R. 25 Mt. 512. See contra per los v. J. Landesh Franci I L. R. 25 Mt. 512. See contra per los v. J. Landesh Franci I L. R. 25 Mt. 512.

Singh, 1 L. R., 34 All. 354

* Bai Atha, Born H. Ct. Jan 23, 2003

* O Emp. v. Sakar Jan Mahorned, I. L. R., 22 Born., 934

a superior Court on revision to consider whether such discretion has been pro-persy exercised:

Thirdly, whereas the old law allowed no appeal against an order of a Magis trate of the first class awarding compensation there is now an appeal if the amount awarded exceeds lifty rupees and finally whereas compensation awarded in cases not subject to appeal was formerly payable at once the payanin must now be held over for one month. Pre-sumably that p rind is considered to give the complainant a sufficient opportunity to apply in revision it will be open to the revision court to order a stay of execution.

The provision that compensation shall be recoverable as a fine has been omitted but the law is unchanged as the matter is now covered by 5 547

Former sub-section (3) has been expanded and re-cast and is brought in as new sub-section (2C)

Any person causing a police-officer to arrest another in a presidency town may be ordered by a Magistrate to pay compensation not exceeding fifty rupees to the person arrested for his loss of time and expenses if there was no suffi cient ground for causing the arrest—(5 553).

Although 8 750 appears in Chipter VV (relating to the trial of summons cases by Magistrates) its terms show that it applies also to warrant-cases. It guess a Magistrate power to order a complanant to pay compensation to the accused when the Magistrate discharges the accused and is satisfied that the accusation against him was false and either functions or versitions and an order of discharge cannot be passed in a case triable by a Magistrate except in a warrant-case—(5 253).

Any case instituted by complaint or upon information given to a police officer or to a Magistrate

These words do not attogether correspond with S 190. It is evidently contemplated that the person who sets the law in motion either by a complant [S 4 (h]) or by information to a police-officer or to a Magistrate its responsible if his complaint or information is found on a trial to be fulse and fiviolous or vexticus (such an information to a Magistrate would be a complaint). It would be only in respect of an information regarding a cognizable case that a picke report (Ss 157 168 170) would be made to a Magistrate for in respect of a non-cognizable case the police-officer would only enter the substance of the information in a book, kept at the police-station and refer the informant to the Migistrate—(S 155)

Some action must have been taken against the accused person before compensation can be awarded to him for unless he has been required to appear he will not have been put to any inconvenience or expense so as to entitle him to compensation from the Magistrate So where a complaint was summarily dissurranged under S 203 without the issue of any process for the intendance of the recovered compensation reside that he next section.

Where the Magistrate discharged the accused after examining only some of the complainant's writnesses and swarded compensation though the complain ant in showing cause, asked to have the rest of his witnesses examined, the order was not illegal but one that should be made in very exceptional curcumstances?

The offence must be trible by a Magistrate. Before 1898 it was open to doubt whether a Magistrate could award compensation in a case tribble by a Court of Session.

An order for compensation is not illegal when a Magistrate tries the accused for an offence under a less serious section of the Penal Code though really the

In re Tammi Reddi I I R 37 Mad 59

Bhagu an Singh I L R 29 MI 137
Appulanarasayya Bhukta 0 Emp I L R 44 Mad. 51
Het Ram I I R 40 MI 615

offence falls under a more serious section which is beyond his competence, and is triable exclusively by the Court of Session 1 When a Magistrate allows a complaint to be withdrawn, he cannot a a compensation to the accused. The remedy left to the accused would be by s in the Civil Court The withdrawil of the complaint may possibly be one of the terms of m agreement between the parties on which the offence, if compoundable, has been compounded (5 345) Th Virgistrate may lodge a complaint against the complanant for intentionally giving false evidence or instituting a false case was intent to injure An award of compensation is no ground for doning such a prosecution but if the Magistrate thinks that, by the order of fine presed sufficient punishment has been imposed, he can refuse to procen An informant as well as a complainant, is held liable for a frivolous or very ous complaint, so that a servant might be liable for a complaint made on leaf of his master or a Karkini who gave information on behalf of a Sub-Judge ! would however be necessary in such a case to show knowledge on the part of the particular informant and not merely that he was an agent who set the Com-in motion. But where a peon with permission of a Municipality, changed a person with committing a nuisance which was dismissed as lavolous and was tions and was ordered to pay compensation to the accused the High Court of a Court of Keyls n r fused to interfere holding that an executive body care authorise a servint to male a wrong complaint and screen him from the 180 penalty the case il Keshav lakshman was distinguished, the complist that case having been preferred by a Judge acting judicially in another case it was held that a poon of a Cail Court on whose report the proceed of sent taken could not be ordered to pay compensation since the Munsil, act of cially was the real complainant

The question has been raised how far a police-officer giving information of the commission of an effecte which has been found by a Magistrate to be to tolous or a value can under $ 250 be ordered to give compensation to be caused person. The Delica $1.20 accused person. The Police Act (V of 1861) S 24 declares that it shall be be ful (r any police off cer to by any inferention before a Magistrite, and it is th fir i summing warrant search warrant or other legal process as my law issue in finite any person committing an offence. Such information with be a compliant within the definition in S 4(h) of this Codes S 251 reports a case instituted by complaint or upon information given to a police offer the which the Magneton Colonials. which the Viguetate finds that the recusation was frivilous or verified stated in his however the near the recusation was frivilous or verified at the recusation was frivilous or verified. distinct in his however lean drawn between a case instituted upon information land in the least of the least guen ly a pelecuficer and crawn between a case instituted upon information given to a pre-effect. The former class of a present a poor information given to a present offer. The farmer class of east would be instituted on a comparent of a pose offerer, the latter would be one would be instituted on a comparent by the latter would be one. efficer, the latter would be on a pole report. Another distinction is most in an another distinction in most in the power of a May strate to take a governor of an effect and there would appared by the strate to take a governor of an effect. and there would up provide the same difference also if the offence is a displayeffence, that is an offence for which "a policy effect may arrest "fixed warrant" [5] a (0.1) So it has been best of the effect may arrest "its a (0.1) So it has been best of the effect may arrest each of the effect of th warrant "[5 4 (f)] So it his been held that 5 ago does not apply to a care which a value of the second specific of which a police officer arristed the accused under the Police Act, 1871 5 34 et it was instituted upon information given by a police officer and therefore re-

<sup>1</sup> Mahaganam Venkatrayar 1 I R 45 Mul

Amanut Klan i Leg Rem 148
Q e Rupan Rai ( li I R of fe c) 15 W R Cr o Weir 904 Ad klas ?

Aligan 1 1 R zi Mala 337
See c ntra Cerl yn Lanj Rec 1869 p 31 In ze ke hw Lakstman 1 l 3 3 Ikm 195 deciled under the f tmer law

<sup>10</sup> ma lon II Ct 5 x 11 155

* Bharut Chinfer Sait r Isled th L.I. R. 2. Cal. 450. The Ling r Sait L.I. R. 28 Ism. 150 (f. III). verrutne Q Imp. r. Sait L.I. R. 28 Ism. 150 (f. III). verrutne Q Imp. r. Sait L.I. R. 28 Ism. 150 (f. III). 1 It 22 then 14

within the terms of S 250 1 But it has also been held 2 that this Code does not empower a police officer of his own motion to make any report to a Magistrate in a non-cognizable case. When he lays any information to a Magistrate in such a case, it is a complaint as defined in the Code, and not a police report, and therefore it can be dealt with under $ 250 if the accusation is found to be false and either frivolous or vexatious

It is not necessary that the pers n ordered to pay compensation should be the person who actually give the information to the Magistrate provided that he is the person upon whose information the accusation was made

But where criminal proceedings were started not upon the petitioner's complaint nor upon information given by him to a police-officer or a Magistrate, but upon evidence obtained by the police in an inquiry instituted by them, the petitioner could not be ordered to pix compensation even though his statement was taken along with others during the police inquiry

A Magistrate is competent to pass an order under S 250 notwithstanding that he afterwards committed and even if he had then made up his mind to commit the complainant to talle his trial on a charge of giving false evidence The High Court also referred to an order of 1865 in which compensation was awarded and a prosecution for making a false complaint was also ordered, remarking that whether the Magistrate in making the order in the case before it exercised a proper discretion is a different question in which we need not give an opinion and it did not set iside the order though the trial for giving false evidence resulted in an acquittal It was remarked that "it would no doubt be a matter of regret if the Magistrate and the Court of Session came to opposite conclusions on the same question. But a like result not unfrequently occurs in cases where the decision of a civil suit is followed by a criminal prosecution of one of the parties or of his witnesses, each tribunal comes to its own independent conclusion and the two are no means invariably indentical But a complaint under S 195 the complainant for making a false complaint, is not illegal after he has been ordered to pay compensation 5

A case instituted on a complaint or information must be regarding the commission of an offence. So where the case instituted was to require the accused to give security to keep the pence or for good behaviour com-

Nor in a proceeding under S 28 of the Bombay Public Conveyances Act

Nor can compensation be given in regard to proceedings under the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act VIII of 1850 (repealed with effect from 1st April 1926) as a breach of contract (except for service as provided by Ss 490-493 Penal Code) is not an offence. The complaint must be found to be false and either frivolous or veratious. An exaggeration of the occurence constituting the offence will not necessarily render a complainant liable to pay compen

Ramjeevan v Durgacharan I L R 21 Cal 979 See also Sheobaran Oihs v Nunntonan 3 Cal W N 370 Syed Bahadur Ali v Var Vähomed 7 Cal W N 206 Q Eng.

N. Finn v Sada I L R 26 Rom 130

Emp i Bahawal Singh I L R 40 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 40 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 40 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 40 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 All 79

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Bahawal Singh I L R 20 Bom 130

Entry i Baha

I L R 26 Cal 181

&lt;sup>1</sup> Li Yo Cai 101
<sup>1</sup> In re Govind Hanmant I I R 25 Bom 48 Rikhi Rai 7 All L 1 743 Bindha chal Prasod Hui I L R 36 All 353 Ham Bedan Singh I L R 45 All 363
<sup>1</sup> Q Finp 7 Lakhort I R 15 All 365 (8 c) All-W N 1839 p 114
<sup>1</sup> All Mitha I I R 44 Bom 463
<sup>2</sup> In re Sarup Bhakti 4 Ci W N 53 Jamal Ahmad T L R 41 All 32

offence falls under a more serious section which is beyond his competence, and is triable exclusively by the Court of Session !

When a Magistrate attaws a complaint to be withdrawn, he cannot an a compensation to the accused. The remedy left to the accused would be by in the Civil Court

The withdrawal of the complaint may possibly be one of the terms of a agreement between the parties on which the offence, if compoundable, his ken compounded (S 145) Th Magistrate may lodge a complaint against the compounded plan int for intentionally giving false evidence or instituting a false case and intent to injure An award of compensation is no ground for all doning such a prosecution but if the Vingistrate thinks that, by the order of fine present sufficient punishment has been imposed, he can refuse to prosent An informant, as well as a complanant, is held liable for a frivolous or rest ous complaint, so that a servant night be hable for a complaint made on beta of his master, or a Larkun who give information on behalf of a Sub-Juds" would however be necessary in such a case to show knowledge on the part of the particular informant and not merely that he was an agent who set the for in motion But where a peon, with permission of a Municipality charged person with committing a nuisance which was dismissed as freedows and its tions, and a is ordered to pay compensation to the recused the High Court of a Court of Revision r fused to interfere holding that an executive body ever numbers a sees are to make a wrong complaint and screen him from the se penalty the rise of Keshav Lakshman' was distinguished the complant that case having been preferred by a Judge acting judicially In another reit was held that a peon of a Cavil Court on whose report the proceedings are takin tould not be ordered to pay compensation, since the Munal, acting to tially was the real complainant

The quistion has been rused how fire a police-officer giving information for the commission of an offence which has been found by a Angestrate to be for valous or 1 valous can under $ 250 be ordered to give compensation the accused person. The Police Act ($ of 1861) 5 24, declares that it shall be us ful for any police-offeer to lay any information before a Vigistrate, and to any the for a support to lay any information before a Vigistrate, and to be ply for a summons warrant search warrant or other legal process as may be I sending warring search warrant or other legal process it may be a compliant within the defination in S 4 (h) of the Code S 230 refers to a case instituted by compliant within the defination in S 4 (h) of the Code S 230 refers to a case instituted by compliant within the defination in S 4 (h) of the Code S 230 refers to a case instituted by compliant within the defination in S 4 (h) of the Code S 230 refers to a case instituted by compliant within the defination in S 4 (h) of the Code S 230 refers to a case in the code S 230 refers to a case instituted by complaint or upon information given to a police effect, which the Markets first which the Magnetic finds that the occusation was familiar to version in distinct on less house the second of the familiary of the second of the familiary of th distinct in his bineric fein draun between a ease incitated upon informagiven by a price officer and one instituted upon information given to a proofficer. The larmer class of case would be instituted on a complaint has the officer, the latter would be on a police report. Another distinction is made S up in rightly to the power of a Magistrate to take cognizance of an effection would and then would appeared be some difference also if the offinee is a cognitive offence, that is an offence for which an polici officer may arrest when Whereast "[S 4 (1)] So it has been held that S 250 idees not apply to a care which a police officer account of the second state of the second which a police officer necessed the necessed, under the Pidee Act, 18(1) 5 35 pt it was instituted upon information given to a police officer and therefare pa

<sup>1</sup> Maharanam benkatrayar 1 I R 45 Mrd. - 1

Minut Khin i Leg Rem 145 Q e Rupan Rai 6 h i R 2/ (s c) 15 W R Cr n Weir 90°; (Chip? Align 1.1 R. 31 M. 1.20 M. Rec. 1849. p. 51. In re-level at Landman 1.1. b. 1. See centra Certim Lady Rec. 1849. p. 51. In re-level at Landman 1.1. b. 1. Br. 175 detected unlet the timer thus.

1.1. It is a low 11. 1. S. v. et 4.40.

&quot; Marut Crimber" athe Judy Mr 21 R reCat 400 " h 1 mg r Sale I I P reffem 15 ff lijnverrubor () 1 mg r Sale I IR mund on

within the terms of S 250 1 But it has also been held 2 that this Code does not empower a police officer of his own motion to make any report to a Magistrate in a non-cognizable case. When he lays any information to a Magistrate in such a case, it is a complaint as defined in the Code, and not a police report, and therefore it can be dealt with under $ 250 if the accusation is found to be false and either frivolous or vexatious

It is not necessary that the person ordered to pay compensation should be the person who actually gave the information to the Magistrate provided that he is the person upon whose information the accusation was made

But where criminal proceedings were started, not upon the petitioner's complaint nor upon information given by him to a police-officer or a Magistrate, but upon evidence obtained by the police in an inquiry instituted by them, the petitioner could not be ordered to pay compensation even though his statement was taken along with others during the police inquiry "

A Magistrate is competent to pass an order under S 250 notwithstanding that he afterwards committed and even if he had then made up his mind to commit the complament to take his trial on a charge of giving false evidence The High Court also referred to an order of 1865 in which compensation was awarded and a prosecution for maling a false complaint was also ordered, remarking that whether the Magistrate in making the order in the case before it exercised a proper discretion is a different question in which we need not give an opinion and it did not set iside the order, though the frial for giving false evidence resulted in an acquittal. It was remarked that 'it would no doubt be a matter of regret if the Magistrate and the Court of Session came to opposite conclusions on the same question. But a like result not unfrequently occurs in cases where the decision of a civil suit as followed by a criminal prosecution of one of the parties or of his witnesses, each tribunal comes to its own independent conclusion and the two are by no means invariably indentical. But a complimit under S 195 against the complainant for making a false complaint is not illegal after he has been ordered to pay compensation $

A case instituted on a complaint or information must be regarding the commission of an offence. So where the case instituted was to require the accused to give security to keep the peace or for good behaviour compensation could not be given under S 250

Nor in a proceeding under S 28 of the Bombay Public Conveyances Act

Nor can compensation be given in regard to proceedings under the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act Affi of 1859 (repealed with effect from 1st April 1926), as a breach of contract (except for service as provided by Ss 490-493 Penal Code) is not an offence. The complaint must be found to be false and either frivolous or vexatious. An exaggeration of the occurence constitu ting the offence will not necessarily render a complainant hable to pay compensation. There must moreover have been a complete discharge or acquittal es the inquiry or trial held. So, where the accused was convicted of using engage nal force (S 352, Penal Code), the complainant could not be required to par compensation on the discharge of the accused on the complaint of theft which formed part of the same occurrence ! The order for compensation must b passed by the Magistrate who passed the final order in the case 2. This is clear from the terms of $ 250 of the Cel-

&lt;sup>1</sup> Ramjesvan e Durgacharan I L R 21 Cal 970 See also Sheobatan Oibs v Numoma S Cal W N 370 Syed Bahadur Ali v Nur Mahomed 7 Cal W N 206 Q Fmp r Sakar I L R 22 Bom 94 R. Emp r Sada I L R 26 Bom 159 Emp r Bahawal Sugh I L R 40 All 79 Saruga Prasad Singh v Fmp r Pat L J 106

O v Rupan Rai 6 B L R 296 Adikkan t Alagan I L R 21 Mad 237 contra Shib Nath Chong v Sarat Chandra I L R 22 Cal 586 Bachu Lal v Jagdan Sahai

I L R 26 Cal 181 Bindha chal P

The appellate court has not the power?

Under the old law it was held that it was not a necessary condition for ceilent to the making of an order under S 250 that formal notice should by issued to the accused to show cruse In view of the imendment of section (1) this will no longer be good law It had already been held that an order was bad if made in the absence of and behind the back of the corplainant 5

A village Magistrate, in Madras, that is, the head of a village, is ret a Magistrate competent to pass an order under $ 250, his proceedings being to care the best section of the proceedings being to care the best section of the proceedings being to care the best section of the proceedings being to care the proceedings being the cepted by 5 1 (2) (b) from the operation of this Code *

Form of order for compensation

A Magistrite is bound to state his reasons for finding that the accusated was filed and other fervolous or verations. It is not sufficient that he should record ments his upinion to that effect? An order for compensation ne d no longer form part of the order of requisit or discharge. Where in discharging the recused, the Magistrate directed further inquiry so as to enable the complain int to show cause why he should not be order to priy comprise dron and in those provenings made in order for compression

it was set usidi. *

Whire the Migistrate incorporated in his order of discharge an order dark ing the complainant to show cause why an order for compensation should rebe presed and then adjourned his precedings for that purpose, it was hell the this was in irregularity but that it shall me made the subsequent proceed an without purisdiction as this were part of the case. These cases are met is the initindment of S 250 and are now obsoleti

B fore the direction or order possed is made absolute, the complainant sheed be given in opportunity of making objection that is, showing cause why it she up to be made and the state of not be incle and the Magistrate must consider such objection in his order fr compensation. This should appear on the proceedings. The Magistrate of state in writing his reasons for awarding comp nation, as well as the amount to be used to the account. to be paid to the accused or each of the accused where there are more than each

This is importance to

An Appellate Court is not competent to award compensation, where it has a quitted the account and found that the complaint was false and frivilous or rest tions. The terms of S 250 show that the Legislature intended that cold to Magastrate his whom a case in the first instance is heard can pass an enter fr compensation 5 423 (i) (d) does not consequently empower an Appellate Cod

<sup>1</sup> Mukh Bewar Jhoto Santra I I R 24 Cal 53 t H wed in M hamma 1 4h Kac I I R 40 All /10

* Mahadeo Tewan, All W N 1832, p. 58 Chedir Ram Lat I I R 46 All So

Imp r Pancham I I It 45 Mt 474

| Table | All | Al

* Gartin Evert I L. R., 39 AB 137 Sec also Jugal Robert a Mil That man W N. 1995 p. 214 O Pandurane Sarayan Born H. Ct. Oct. 11, 1601

to pass such an order  $^1$ . Such an order does not come within its power to make any consequential or incidental order (in the appendix as may be just and proper within the terms of  $S=4\pi$ ; (i) (d)  $^2$

When imprisonment can be crdered Sub section (2A)

Under the old section a sentence of imprisonment could not be passed to take effect on non-payment of the compensation as in a sentence of fine on conviction of an offence. It could be presed only if the amount of compensation cannot be recovered. Steps had therefore to be first taken towards recovering it in the same manner as I fine is to be realised, (see Ss 350 357) 3 Nor could an order be passed for impressment if it was not paid within a certain fixed time 4. but the law is changed in this respect. Imprisonment is awardable "in default of payment, and thus is brought on the same footing as imprisonment awardable in default of payment of a fine S 388 had also been considered in this connection, it has been entirely re-cist by Act No XVIII of 1923 S 3 Under the old section it had been helds that S 388 (2) could not be applied to in order under 5 250 apparently becaus an order for compensation is not a fine but is in the nature of dimages for a malicious presecution $ 388 (2) being controlled by sub-section (1) of that section. This was a very doubtful rendering of the section for sub-section (2) began with the words. In any case in which an order for the payment of money has been made on non-recovery of which im prisonment may be awarded and went on to say that the Court might then fellow the procedure laid down in sub-section (i) namely suspend the execution of imprisonment and take a bond from the person ordered to pay. It seems to be clar from this that subsction (2) applies the procedure of subscction (1) regarding fines to cases where in order for payment of money other thin fines has been in do in fact the use of words on non-recovery of which in the sub-section indicites that the legislature had in mind sub-section (2) of 5 252 is it stood before amendment when the words if it cannot be recovered occurred. The recent amendment of 5 388 does not seem to affect that view a power to order payment by instal ments has been introduced but the power to suspend the execution of the sen tence, and to release the offender in security remains and sub-section (2) lays down that the provisions of sub-section (1) shall be applicable also in any case in which an order for the payment of money has been made on non recovery of which imprisonment has been awarded and the money is not paid forthwith. So a court ordering payment of compensation under S 250 can order payment in instalments or in full, and can take the other action described in S 388 (1) The wording of S 388 (2) clearly renders the case of Byravalu Naidu obsolete

Appeal Sub-section (1)

Any order for compensation passed by a Magnetrate of the second or third class is appealable. There is no appeal against such an order of a first class Magnetrate unless the compensation a wired exceeds fifty rupees. The Code does not declare expressly to whom such an appeal should be made, but as it designates the District Magnetrate as the Court to which a person convicted on a trial held by a Magnetrate of either of these classes can appeal (S 407), it may be inferred that that will also be the Appellate Court in a case of compensation under S 250 ordered by second or third class Magnetrate the use of the words "as if such complainant or informant had been convicted on a trial held by such

<sup>1</sup> Balli Pande I L R 28 All 625 Chedi v Ram Lal I L R 46 All 80

Mehi Singh 16 Cal W N 10 (F B) (s c) 14 Cal L J 437 (F B)

ILR 18 All

Mad 12 Lal Mahmul Shuk v Satcown, I L R 28 Cal 164

Magistrate makes this clear Likewise if the order is made by a first clin Angistrate and an appeal lies it will be to the Court of Session under 5 408

If an appeal is made unless it is summarily rejected notice should be send upon the accused as he is the person concerned if the order for compensated be rescind d but, as the Code does not expressly require this if no notice is served the omission does not vitiate the proceedings of the Appellate Court S 250 (4) requires that when an order for compensation is appealable it. compensation shall not be paid until the time allowed for the presentation of the appeal has clapsed or if an appeal has been presented until the appeal has been decided and where the order is made in a case which is not subject to appeal the payment must be delayed for a month

As pointed out above the object of the latter provision is to give the person ordered to pay an opportunity to apply for revision of the order

Undr 5 547 the amount of the compensation is recoverable as if it were a fine see Ss 386 and 387 which provide for the realisation of fines, and Sch 1 Torm \\\VII for the form of warrant to levy a fine

CHAPTER XXI

OI THI TRIM OF WARRANT-CASES BY MAGISTRATIS

A warrant-case means a case relating to an offence punishable with death transportation or imprisonment for a term exceeding six months [S 4[x]] A cise trivile by a Court of Session or High Court is therefore a warranteer Chapter VIII contins the procedure in respect to inquiries b) Magistrate if cases trable by such Courts and Chapter VIII contains the procedure for ina before a Court of Session or High Court on commitments made by Mag strates resulting from such enquiries

When the offence is trible exclusively by a Court of Session (see Sch II Sch II col b) and in such a case it will be for the Vigistrate in the course of the proceedings to determ ne whether he should himself hild the inal or hold an inquiry with the object of committing to the superior Court of the offere be frintly face established. Up to the stage of the proceedings in which the charge is drawn the procedure in the trial of a waterntiers, and in an inquir were under the Code of 1872, the same

There is now a material difference under the present Code. A charge in a warrant-case may be framed by a Magistrate at any stage of the case and before the whole of the case and continues for the whole of the case and continues to the whole of the case and continues to the whole of the case and continues to the case and con the whole of the rudence for the precedion has been recorded and, after the charge has been it mad the Magatrate may proceed to examine the remains witnesses for the greatern and the Magatrate may proceed to examine the remains the contract of the proceed to examine the remains the contract of the greatern than the contract of the proceed to examine the remains the contract of the proceedings. witnesses for the procedution like difference an procedute under the part Code, raised a difficulty. A Magastrate under S 254 framed in charge and the part of the taking the evidence of only some of the winesses fir the prosecution for that this had become for that this had frime facte established the charge, and he then proceeded to established the charge, and he then proceeded to established the charge, and he then proceeded to establish the charge. am ne the other witnesses. In the course of these proceedings he found to an inquiry rather than a trial should be held, as an offence which should be tred by the Court of Sessen hall been shown. Objection was raised before the High Court that the accused had been pripulsed by this precedure, languaged at if after taking all the evidence f it the proceedure, instanta-that no offence had been made out the Magastrate could not discharge but ex-olly commit to the Course of Source only commit to the Court of Sessien. The election was over ruled and it was printed out that the Magistrate might unler S 213 (2) find that there were not sufficient grounds for committing the accused, and cancel the charge d schare

Palaniappa Velan I L. R., 29 Mad 557

the accused 1 (S 233) In in inquiry, the charge is framed only it the close of the evidence for the prosecution though the Magistrate may, even after an order for commitment, but at any time before the commencement of the trial summon and examine supplementary witness (S 219)

Whether the Magistrate should hold an inquiry or trial in such a case, depends upon the nature of the offene, whether the punishment that he is competent to inflict is adequate, or whether the offence has been committed under circumstances of aggravation 1 Migistrate in a case of homicide should not take upon himself to determine the digree of the offence committed, and he should commit rather than convict where the evidence leaves it doubtful whether the offence committed is not culpible homeide or gricious hurt, for, by finding the necused guilty of a lesser offence the Magistrate has usurped the functions of the Court of Session and his found that the act of the accused is within one of the exceptions to 5 300 Penal Code 2

Magistrate is competent in an inquiry to convert the proceedings into a trial, if he is of opinion that an offence within his juri-diction has been i mmitted, and that he can pass an adequate sentence -[5 209 (1) ]

There are also some warrant-cases which a Magistrate duly impowered on that behalf may try summ into (see 5 260) and in such trials the evidence must Of recorded as in summons-cases—(5 355)

Some warrant-cases it should be noted are compoundable with the permission of the Court, and some by the parties concerned with air such permission -(See S 345)

251 The following procedure shall be Procedure in war observed by Magistrates in the trial of warrantrant cases

Every Court should prepare a record of its proceedings on a trial. The High

Courts have issued spicial instructions on this subject

Where the accusation is of two offences one a summons-case and the other a warrant-case the form of trial idopted should be that applicable to the more scrious offence " So where in the trial of an offence which was a warrant-case the Magistrate followed the procedure of a summons case and summarily con victed the accused under 5 243 without tiking in evidence, the conviction and sentence were set aside 4

(1) When the accused appears or is brought before a Magistrate, such Magistrate shall proceed to secution. hear the complain int (if any) and take all such evidence as may be produced in support of the prosecution

"Provided that the Magistrate shall not be bound to hear any person as complament in any case in which the complaint has been made by a Court "

(2) The Magistrate shall ascertain, from the complainant or otherwise, the names of any persons likely to be acquainted with the facts of the case and to be able to give evidence for the prosecution, and shall summon to give evidence before himel such of them as he thinks necessary.

* Surpharus Sigh 5 Cal W N 510 * Trop p Paurtmandt I R 10 Cal 85 I'mp r Gundya I L R 13 Bom 57 Yang to Paurtmandt I R 10 Cal 85 I'mp r Gundya I L R 13 Bom 58 Mangal Singh Pauj Rec 1894 p 1 , In 12 * Rajnarain Koonwar, L R 11 Cal 91 Raghavala Nuckar I L R 41 Mai,

<sup>7&</sup>lt;sup>27</sup> • Chinnapayan, I L R., 29 Mad., 372

The Magistrate has also a discretion at any stage of a trul to summer an person as witness, or to examine any person in attendance though not remoned is a witness or to recall and re-examine any person already examine and it is his duty to summon and to eximine or recall and re examine any sale person if his evidence appears to him essential to the just decision of the cas-(7 540)

When the accused appears

Whenever a Magistrate issues a summons, he may, if he sees fit to d. 50 dispense with the personal attendance of the accused and permit him to appear it pleider, but he cin, it in stige of the proceedings, direct the personal a once of the accused, and if necessary, enforce his attendance -(S 203)

A Magistrate has, under $ 204, discretion in a warrant-case to issue a state mons instead of 1 warrant for the attendance of the accused, and if he may 1 summons, he is competent under 5 205 to dispense with the personal attendance of the accused

If the person il attendince of the accused person be dispensed with be shed be represented by a pleader [see d fin S 4 (7)], who should be provided with a mukhtarn im i ur vik ilutn im i be iring i stamp of eight annas - Court Fees A-4 1870, Sch II, Art to

I very person accused before a Criminal Court may of right be defended by a pleader (5 340)

If the case is instituted on complaint the complainant must be examed after the recused upp irs unless the complaint has been made by a Court was 5 476 The proviso was inserted by Act No AVIII of 1923, 5 70

Prosecution Any Majorite trying my case may permit the prosecution to be conducted by any person other than a officer of Police below a rank to be prescribed to the Local toxernment in this behill but no person, other than the Advert General, Standing Counsel, Government Solicitor, Public Prosecutor (see 5 4 or the efficer generally expectable empowered by the Local Local forement at this behalf, shill be entitled to do so without such permission. An offer the Police shift not be required to Police shift not be permitted to conduct the prosecution if he has taken are pirt in the investigation into the offences in respect to which the accused is proprosecuted (5 495)

What witnesses should be examined.

It generally happens that a warrant-case comes before a Mag strate of I police report after in investigation by the Police (5 173) in which case the appropriate of the policy of the poli nesses are bound our to appear before him. But sometimes the preceding a on a complaint to the Migistrate, and in such cases the witnesses to mound are now it is the migistrate. moned are nom d by the complainant or are produced by him on the date fad for trial

It is the duty of the prosecuten to bring before the Court all period about of the project and affected or are being a second or are being the court and period at a second or are being the court and period at a second or are being the court and period at a second or are being the court and period at a second or are being the court and period at a second or are being the court and period at a second or are being the court and period at a second or are being the court and period at a second or are being the court and period at a second or are being the court and period or are bei are alleged or are kn wn to have knowledge of the facts constituting the reserved. If all one or the facts constituting the reserved. charged. If all persons we move knowledge of the facts constituting to called by the processition with reaction with the transaction are recalled by the prosecution without sufficient cause being shown, the Controperly draw an inference adverse an enterpress of the control of the properly draw an inference adverse to the prosecution. The only thing that can be been as the prosecution. Leve the projection from calling such witnesses is a resonable belief that, if each they will not small the tenth a they will not speak the truth a

<sup>5</sup> Q Emp e Ram Sahai Lall I L R., to Cal 1070 * Dhuno Kasi, I L. R., 8 Cal., 141 , (v c.) 10 Cal L. R. 151

ome come is the table of the mark necessary or advisable to pestpene the comming memory of artistical and necessary or advisable to pestpene the comming memory of artistical and artistical and artistical artistical artistical and artistical ar necessary or advisible to pesspending the writing state of the Court may be order on writing state of the reason to the court may be order on writing state of such terms as the court may be considered to the court may from time to time posture or elseum the one on such time to time posture or each reasonable and me to the reasonable of the contract of the co fit, for such time is it consider reis notificed and make a never of the sed of or custods.

Provided that no Magistrate shall remaind an accused person to coding fifteen days to time. under the section fretrm exceding fiften dips tetim

I this section i.e. c. i.m. and r this section by effouring other than a Higher redering the model to the president fudge or Maintenant Higher shall be in writing signed by the presiding Judge or Makistrate be in writing signed by the presents and the state a surface that the sufficient evidence has been obtained to row a surface that the surface and it specifies the surface and its specifies the Explanation—If sufficient expuring to one of the and the sufficient and suffici that the accused may be estimated by or mind the is errors in the further evidence may be obtained by or mind the is errors in the course of t from the instance of one of the parties a witness has ben summand to the instance of one of the parties a witness has ben summand to the instance of the parties at witness has been summand to the control of the instance of the parties at witness has been summand to the parties of the partie If, it the instance of one or one process are summ ned at a witness and served with process he line i right to call upon the Ceure to can.

his attendance? A Magistrate may find it necessary to visit the place in which the off the purpose to adjourn the protections of the A Magistrate may find it necessary to the purpose to adjourn the protections have been committed and for this purpose to adjourn the protections before the purpose of the may have been committed and not use properties and proceedings belt in this has been considered in several reported cases which are set out in

(1) If, upon taking all the evidence referred to in section 252, and making such examination Discharge of (if any) of the accused as the Magistrate thinks accused necessary, he finds that no case against the accused has been made out which, if unrebutted, would warrant his conviction, the Magistrate shall discharge him

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent a Magistrate from discharging the accused at any previous stage

<sup>1</sup> Q 1 mp t Durga I L R 16 All 84 Bhomar Monshi v Digambar Bre 6 Cal W \ 548

of the case if, for reasons to be recorded by such Magistrate, ! considers the charge to be groundless

All the evidence referred to in S. 252.

That is, "all such evidence as may be produced in support of the preculion" and such witnesses as the Migistrate may think necessary to summe but this is modified by the last paragraph of S 253, which enables a Magistral for reasons to be recorded to discharge the accused at any previous stag of i cisc, if he considers the tharge to be groundless. The Calcutta High Court ha in minicrous cases held that whin a Magistrate concludes a trial without example. ing all the witnesses tendered by the prosecution, he cannot direct the complaant to be prosicuted for making a false complaint under S 211, Pinal Ced But under 5 215 Expl ut of the Code of 1872, then in force, an order of d tharge could not be presed until the evidence of the witnesses for the present had been taken. This is now within the discretion of a Magistrate 5 4 however, provides that before instituting such a prosecution, the Court des trake any preliminary inquiry that may be necessary, and if a Magistrate unit the list terragraph of $ 253 summarily discharges an accused, it will proble he meess its that before directing the complainant to be prosecuted, he should the preliminary inquiry examine whatever witness s may be tendered on bet of that person

Such examination (if any) of the accused.

It would not be necessary to examine an accused if no case was made s against limb the evidence for the prosecution, for the accused is to be examine only for the purpose of enabling turn to explain any circumstances appear in the cyclene against him. A Vigistrate is competent, at any stage of a in without previously warning the iccused to just such questions to him as her consider to be necessary for that purpose—($ 342) The examination of an cused shadd be recorded in accordance with 5, 364

Discharged.

Where only one of two persons seemed was required by precess to all before the Majastrate and the other appeared voluntarily, the Majastrate and the fine two products the control of the not decline to consider the case against both of them by limiting his end r discharge to the accused whom he had required to attend?

An order of discharge is no bar to further proceedings against an accuse (S. 493, Explination)

An order of discharge cannot be made where the accused has not been exed to appear at all 4.

The High Court a Sessions Judge, or District Magistrate, may order for inquiry to be made (5, 43%) cr. if the effence charged is exchangely triable by Court of Sessi n, mist also order the accused to be committed (S 4th Magistrate who is competent to take cognizance of the offence ($ 190) F Pasself take further proceedings without such an order

Garg of Such 2 Cd I R 349

* Takel man (even 1 Nigorde I R of Dom., 55*

* Takel man (even 1 Nigorde I R of Dom., 55*

* Tupe Valerward to class I R in Nidol 541

* Mir Alwald to cur Mal med Waken I I R 20 Cd 72' (e c) Cd W 64

* Mir Alwald to cur Mal med Waken I R 20 Cd 72' (e c) Cd W 64

* Tupe I Cd Risson and also as t De Februs Mansierates Deatherst W 7.

* Loci Mulai I I R 25 Td 73; (e c) 5 Cd W 8 43; (Innatherst 2 Maltinon and I R 27 1 m 4; 1)

* Malerward Loci 53; it Wil 54; (e c) 5 Cd W 8 43; (Innatherst 2 Maltinon and I R 1 R 27 1 m 4; 1)

* Malerward Loci 53; it Wil 54; (e c) 5 Cd M 8; (e

If he considers the charge to be groundless.

If the case is one instituted upon complaint or upon information given to a police-officer or to Magistrate, and the Magistrate discharges the accused, and is of opinion that the accusation was false and either fractions or vexations, he may, by his order of discharge, if the complainant or informant is present call upon him to show cause why he should not be ordered to pay compensation, or if he is not present direct the issue of a summons to him to appear and show cause as aforestud (S 250)

254 If, when such evidence and examination have been taken and made, or at any previous stage of the case, the Magistrate is of opinion that there is goind for presuming that the accessed has committed an offence triable under this Chapter, which such has committed an offence trible under this Chapter, which such Magistrate is competent to try, and which, in his opinion, could be adequately punished by buil, he shall frame in writing a charge against the accused

Sch 1 (28) contains various forms of charges

Or at any previous stage of the case,

S 254 arables a Vigustia to draw up a chirge, not only when the evidence for the prosecution and extunnation (if any) of the accused has been taken, but also at any pretions stage within the conditions of S 254, that is, when a prima face case bas been a stablished quants the accused. This is a power which should be most carefully exercised, for if a charge has been drawn up for an afforce trable both by the Vigustia end the Court of Session, and the Magistrate finds, after taking the evidence for the prosecution, that no offence has been established, the cannot discharge he must vapuli—S 256 (i). In such a case, if the Vigustrate has taken a mistaken view of the evidence, it will be no longer possible for the Court of Session in District Magistrate under S 430 to order further inquiry. Such an error can be corrected only by the High Court as a Court of Revision under S 430, or as a Court of Appeal, or the appeal of the Local Government under S 430 or as a Court of Appeal, or the appeal of the Local Government under S 437 or as a Court of Appeal, or the appeal of the Media at the proper of the court of Session and the stabilished when a strong primar face case has been established.

The object of the law is to require the occused to cross examine the witnesses for the prosecution, if he desires to do so (S 25), without subjecting them to prolonged attendance before the Magistrale, or requiring them to attend again if they have been discharged, in consequence of a delay in closing the case for the prosecution

This object is less likely to be altrined since the amendment of S 256 (see note to that section), moreover if, after the examination of other witnesses, new facts are disclosed, the accused may resonably require the reattendance of witnesses already cross-examined, in order to cross-examine them in regard to such

Charge.

The Charge must state the officoce, if the law gauss the offence a specific name, it may be described by that name only, if it is not given a specific name, so much of the definition of the offence must be stried as to give the accused notice of the matter with which he is charged. The law and section of the law must be mentioned. In the presidency towns the charge must be in English or the language of the Court (S 221). As to charges of presidents of the charge must be considered as the charge must be in English or the language of the Court (S 221).

It is the duty of the Magistrate to apply the law to the facts prima facie proved by the evidence laken, and thus to determine the offence— ith which the accused should be charged. He is not limited to the offence complained cf. unless the offence regarding which he desires to proceed is one of which be cannot take cognizance without the previous sanction or complaint of some special authority or some particular person (See Ss 193-199 ante) If more than one offence is thus proved, it will be for the Magistrate to consider whether having regard to Ss 233 236 ante, these offences should be tried together if superstely, and if more than one person is under trial whether the accused persons should be tried together or separately -(S 239) A charge can be aunit or added to at any time before judgment is pronounced-(S 227) If such new, 1tered or added charge is such that proceeding immediately with the trial is last in the opinion of the Magistrate, to prejudice the accused in his defence, or the prosecutor in the conduct of the case, the Magistrate may adjourn the trial ly such period as may be necessary (S 229), but not for longer than fifteen days, if the accused is in custody (S 344), otherwise the trial may proceed on the altered or added charge as if it had been the original charge—(S 225) Tk prosecutor and the accused shall be allowed to recall or re-summon and example with reference to the alteration of or addition to the charge, any witness who may have been examined and also to call any further witness whom the Mags trate may think to be material-(S, 231)

If in proceedings in regard to an offence as a warrant-case the Magnitude should be of opinion that an offence which is triable as a summons-case is fines facie established, he should frame a charge for that offence, a although in a test of a summons-case no charge is necessary

Competent to try-Adequately punished.

These expressions point to a warrant-case regarding an offence triable both by a Magistrate and by a Court of Session (Sch. 11, Col. 8), in which circumstances of aggranding may he been disclosed by the sudence, making it necessary the tead should be held by the Court of Session rather than by the Magning. In such a case the Magistrate should proceed as in an inquiry (Chapter Vill) rather than with the trial under this Chapter—(See note at the head of the Chapter). Chapter)

A Magistrate may also commit to the Court of Session on a charge of 23 offence not entered in Sch II, Cl S, as trible by that Court although be of pass the full sentence of improvement inwardable for that offence, but etc. he states that he considers that he cannot pass an adequate sentence, because the fire. the fine, 1,000 rupees, (See S 32) which he can award is inadequate

A Magistrate may be competent to try a case, and yet, if he is a Magistrate he second and that class the second and that of the second and third class, he may be unable adequately to punish the oderate by a sentence which be a by a sentence which he can pass. In such a case he should proceed according D 5 349

255. (1) The charge shall then be read and explained to the accused, and he shall be asked whether be Pira. is guilty or has any defence to make.

(2) If the accused pleads guilty, the Magistrate shall record the plea, and may in his discretioon convict him thereon.

If the accused pleads guilty.

It is in the discretion of the Magistrate to convict if the accused please guity, for he may plead kui'ty of a minor offence and not of the gravet ceres

i the oils Ramchan Ira 5 R on 11 C R Cr 110

1 the oils of the re hala bardat I L R ... Cal ... (e. c.) 6 Cal W 5-174

2 C long r leaymout in Standal I L R ... at Cal. 410, (e. c.) 6 Cal W 5-440 Las e thates'es Go asn. I L. H. 41 All. 454 set out in the charge, and it may be necessary notwithstanding such a plea of a guilty to try him for the graver offence

When an accused person has plended guilty and has been convicted by a Court of Session, a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class on such plea, there shall be no appeal except as to the extent or legality of the sentence—(S 412) Consequently on such a connection by a linguistrate of the second or third class, there would be an appeal on the entire case to the District Agostrate (S 407) No inference can be drawn from a plea of guilty if at does not amount to a distinct confession of the charge the charge must be proved 1 An admission which does not admit all the elements of the charge is not a plea of guilty to the charge, as, for instance, on a charge under S 211, Penal Code, where the accused does not admit that in making a false charge he intended to cause injury 2

Where accused persons make statements under S 342 implicating themselves and their co-accused and then plend guilty, the statements can be used

under 5 30 of the Evidence Act, 1872 against the conceused s

In a case where a previous conviction is charged Procedure in case of ninder the provisions of section 221, subsection (7), and the accused does not admit previous convictions. that he has been previously convicted as alleged in the charge, the Magistrate may, after he has convicted the said accused under section 255, sub-section (2), or section 258, take evidence in respect of the alleged previous conviction, and shall record a finding thereon

This is a new section introduced by Act No VIII of 1923 S 71 S 310 provides a procedure in the case of Sessions trials where previous convictions are charged but hitherto there has been no procedure laid down for trials before Magistrates. The obvious reason why in the case of Sessions trials, the legislature laid down a modification of the ordinary procedure and required that the part of the charge stating the previous covictions should not be read out and that the accused should not be asked to plead thereon until there had been a plea of guilty to, or a conviction on, the main charge was that the jury or assessors as the case may be should not be prejudiced against the accused by the knowledge that previous convictions were alleged against him. The same consideration does not apply in Magisterial trials and S 255A, seems to be superflows, it provides for a matter that has not hitherto caused any difficulty It causes delay, in that the Magistrate is now required to record a finding con victing the accused before he proceeds to take evidence as to the previous con victions, where the accused does not admit the same. This amendment renders obsolete the ruling in Dehri Sonar v. Emp., 1 L. R. 50 Cal. 367

(1) If the accused refuses to plead, or does not plead, or claims to be tried, he shall be re-Defence quired to state at the commencement of the next hearing of the case or, if the Magistrate for reasons to be recorded in writing so thinks fit, forthwith, whether he wishes to cross-evamine any, and, if so, wluch, of the witnesses for the prosecution whose evidence has been taken. If he says he doso wish, the witnesses named by him shall be re-cribed, and after cross-examination and re examination (if any), they shall be discharged. The evidence of any remaining witnesses for the prosecution shall next be taken, and, after cross-examination and re-examination (if any), they also shall be discharged. The accused shall then be called upon to enter upon his defence and produce his evidence.

¹ Mad II Ct Pro Dec 14 1871 7 Mad Jur 136 1 Emp ν Gopal Dhanek i L R 7 Cal 96 (s c) 8 Cal L R 471 Q t Sona oollah 23 W R Cr 23 1 Re Bat/Redd i L R 38 Mad 301 di senting from Q Emp ι Lakshmayya Pandaram l L R 25 Mad 491

(2) If the accused puts in any written statement, the Magatiate shall file it with the record

The original section before its recent amendment, did not make it there has long the accused was allowed to make up his mind whether he wished to error his right of recalling witnesses for cross-examination. The Bill as introduced proposed to by it down that he should be required to state forthwith, et, if which is the state of the next hearing of the ray whether he wishes to eross-examine, that is to say he would have been known in exceptional cases only. The legislature his however profund for time in the ordinary case, and has required the accused to make up to mund forthwith in the exceptional cases. It may be reasonable to allow an accused who is not represented by a pleader at the opening stiges, time till the ret whole the amendment of the tim made. By all the profuse of the control of the time and by Act No. Will (f. 19) 6.

72, is likely to lead tow and further delay in the disposal of warranteness and its aboutful whether its in improvement.

The charge having been read and explained to the accused, he is in a protion to know charly the acts or align consens in respect of which he is used tril and he is cutified recordingly to cross-examine the mitnesses who may line speken to them, unless he is informed of the nature of the specific chart to which he is required to answer, the accused is not in a position to deal on what points the radince for the proceeding is material. The proceeding can then common us case by examining the remaining witnesses. The last and constitution of the control of the c die not frivide that the recised may rearise his cross-command unit the witnesses f r the prosecution shall have been examined in-chief It Rent rather to contamplate that the cross-examination shall lake place as each at a has been examined it permits a further cross-examination espressly directly the case found and embodied in the charge, and this would challe the accurate if he has reserved his crossex immali n, to exercise that right at any time 25% permits an accus d to crossex imme the witnesses for the procedure for he has been called up a to plead to the charge. The fact that he may have already cross-examined them illes not enable a Magistrate to depute her of the right a

S 280 is semished completed. It provides among other things of procedure to be followed when a charge his been framed before all the effect of the reservation has been taken. The accused will then be called 470 it for the theoretical been taken. The accused will then be called 470 it feel to the charge, and he may then field qualty [$5.250], in which case, or may be considered, but I may not 1911 failing that is claim to be to 65 be may refuse to feel, or he may not the II in any clauch chromatores a study be required to since whether he wishest to cross-examine any, and 10 shock, all the witnesses for the procedular whose evidence has been taken.

| Lengte Balto Salad | L. R. 2 AB, 253 | Zamuslar Run Tabal | L. R. 27 Cal Profit of the Cal W N 4/0 | lot Cl- " | Rante Baltomar (Cal W N 5) | Little Profit | haumoide (Cal W N 4)

he does so wish such witnesses should be recalled, cross-examined, re-examined and discharged. The that then proceeds with the examination of the remaining witnesses who 'also shall be discharged.' The law thus contemplates that the witnesses already cross-examined shall have been previously discharged. The prosecution being then concluded, the necused is called upon to enter upon his defence and to produce his evidence.

If, under S 257, the accused applies for the attendance of any witness already examined, or whom the accused has had an opportunity of cross-examining and who has been discharged for the purpose of eros examination, the Magistrate is competent to refuse such application unless he is satisfied, that is to say, unless it is shown to his satisfaction that this is necessary for the purposes of justice—(S 257)

If the charge has been altered or added to after cross-examination has taken place, the accused would be ordinarily entitled to claim to have any witnesses re-summoned for cross-examination on frees relating to the charge, for this would be setting up a case different from that under trial to which the cross-examination had been derected [8, 23]. It would not be so, if the new or altered charge related to an offence included in the offence already charged it would not be necessary however to frame a charge of such an offence, for, on the charge of the graver offence the accused might be considered in the minor offence (S 238). A Vargistrate has also a discretion to require that the reasonable expenses incurred by a person cited as a witness by the accused either for examination or cross-examination shall be deposited in Court before issuing summons for his attendance. S "52(2)

The distinction between S 256 and S 257 should be noted. After he has been called upon to plead to the charge the accused should be asked if he wishes to cross-examine any and if so which of the witnesses for the prose cution whose evidence has been taken and if he says that he does so wish they shall be recalled for cross-examination. After this the necused is to be called upon to enter upon his defence S 257 relates to proceed ags after the accused has entered upon his defence and it enables the Magistrate to refuse process to compel the attedance of a witness for the prosecution whose evidence has been taken, for the purpose of cross examination if he has already been cross-examin ed or if the accused has had an opportunity of cross-examining him after the charge has been framed that is to say if on being asked under S aso he has stated that he does not require the witness to be recalled for croses mination. unless he is satisfied that it is necessary for the purposes of justice. It would therefore seem that before he has entered upon his defence an accused is entitled to ask that any of the witnesses for the prosecution shall be recalled for purposes of cross examination. The fact that there has been already some cross examination does not affect the right 1 Nor can the Magistrate under S 256 reluse to obtain the attendance of a witness for cross-examination because in his opinion there has already been sufficient cross-examination #

The Madras High Court held that the accused must be re-examined after the further cross-examination of prosecution wintnesses failure so to examine him is not a mere irregularity within the meaning of S 537, but an illegality which vitates the trial But this decision was almost at once overruled by a Full Bench of the same court which held that where the accused has once been examined in the ordinary course it is not obligatory on the Court to examine him again after the cross-examination of withresses receiled under S 256 But if the cross-examination elicits fresh feets it is desarable, and if the prosecution

..

&lt;sup>1</sup> Zamunia v Ram Tahal I L R 27 Cal 370 (s c) 4 Cal W N 469 Issur Chund

II a Magistrate under S 257 refuses to issue a process for compelling to attendance of a witness, he is bound to record in writing the ground of his ref and this must be within the terms of that section 1. The order of refusal and refer to the case of each witness individually 2

Where a Magistrate refused under S 257, to issue process for the attendance! witnesses for the prosecution for purposes of cross-evanination, but the second having summoned them as witnesses for the defence, the Magistrate refuel is allow the account. allow the accused to cross-examine them as no sufficient reason had been shart under S 145 of the Evidence Act enlitting them to do so, his order was set and The High Court held that the mere fact, that the necused had been compel to trent the witnesses for the prosecution as their own witnesses, did not alter the character and that they should consequently have been allowed to cross-examthe witnesses 3 Such a practice would seem calculated to defeat the object of S 257, for it was not held that the necused had been Improperly refused process to compel the attendance of these witnesses who had been already examined for the prosecution, and they were thus embled to obtain indirectly a cross-examated which the Magistrate was entitled under S 257 to refuse

Refusal to issue a process to a witness for the delence on a ground not in in S 257 is an illegality which cannot be cured by S 537 6

For the purpose of the production of any document, ele

A person so summoned to produce does not become a witness by the produce fact that he produces it and he cannot be cross-examined, unless and unit is called as a subject of is called as a witness - Evidence Act, 1872, S 139

Reasonable expenses Sub-section (2)

These are the reasonable expenses "incurred for the purposes of the inst Compare S 216, the analogous section in an inquiry which enables a Vag trato require such sum to be deposited as he thinks necessary to defray the experience of obtaining the attendance of the witness (cited for the defence), and "all city proper expenses " These would probably include process fees under the Com I ces Act. 1870

(1) If, in any case under this Chapter in which 3 258 charge has been framed, the Magistrate fra the accused not guilty, he shall record an order Acquittal of acquittal

(1) Where in any case under this Chapter the Magistrate does not proceed in accordance with the provisions of section 319 or section 562, he shall Conviction. if he finds the accused guilty, pass sentence upon him according to law. 11, however, before a groung judgment, it appears to a Magisterite, at any a characteristic through the properties of th of the proceedings, that the case is one which ought to be tried by the Court of Sessi n or High Court of the Sessin or thinh Court, and he is empowered to commit, he shall come the accused. If he is not empowered to commit, the Magistrate will submit the car with a little tep et explaining its nature, to now Magnitrate will sufficie to the late to the Magnitrate to whom he is a dark nate, or to such other Wagistrate having Jurislate to whom he is a direct which other was strained having Jurislate in as the District Mag. directs - 54 345 and 347

<sup>1</sup> Speciath Iteral of Emp. 4 Cal. W. N. 241. 9 Log of Purthettam Kara, I. K. R. 27 Hen. 41<sup>4</sup> 9 Log of Purthettam Kara, I. L. R. 27 Hen. 41<sup>4</sup> 9 Speciatra Studies I. J. R. 31 Med. 431.

Sub-section (2) has been redrafted so as to state the law more accurately S 349 deals with the case where the Magistrate cannot pass a sufficiently severe sentence, and S 562 provides for the release of certain convicted offenders on probation, or for di charge after due admonition

Chapter XXII, S 366-37 provides for the recording and delivery of judg ments of acquittal or conviction. Where a complete trial had been held, except that no formal charge had been drawn and the presoner had been requitted, it was held that the mere absence of a formal charge would not prevent the order from operating as an acquittal unless it be shown that the absence of n charge has been in itself the cause of a failure of justice 1 This has been embodied in S 537

When in a warrant-cas the Magistrate proceeds only to try a minor offence constituting a summons-case and aequits the icquittal does not operate as a bar to the trial of the more serious effence? See S 403 post

If a case is regarding two offenes one i wirrant-case and the other a sum mons-case and they are not eight to effences, there should be a separate charge for each. The accus d cann t properly be a my ted without a charge in respect of the offence which is a summ as-case merely because no charge is necessary for the trial of such an offence becaus in such a case the particulars of that offence would be stated to him and he would be called upon to shim cause why he should not be convicted (S 4). It was held that the accused had been misled in his defence by the mode fitted adopted fir in his examination he was called upon only to explain the facts constituting the offence which was a warrant-case 3

In such a case the procedure should be that had down for the trial of warrant-

cases 4 .

If the accused has been sentenced to fine the Magistrate may upon passing judgment order the whole or my part of fine awarded to be applied (t) in defray ing the expenses properly incurred by the prosecution (2) in compensation for the injury crused by the offence committed when substantial compension is in the Magistrate's opinion recoverable by a civil suit and (3) in cases of theft etc. in compensating a bona fide purch is r of st kn prop rty restored by the Court to the person entitled therto ($ 545)

If the person connected is serving under Government in the Military Department information should be given to the Officer commanding the regiment or corps to which he belongs and if he be serving under the Government of India in the Military Department a copy of the conviction and sentence should be for warded to that Department

Whenever any officer, enlisted soldler or sepoy is sentenced to a fine of Rs 200 or upwards or to imprisonment otherwise than in default of paying a fine not amounting to Rs 200 the Court should of its own motion send a copy of its final order to the superior of the person connected

On the application of the head of the department copies of orders acquitting

Government officers of offences shall be supplied fre of charge

When the proceedings have been instituted upon complaint, and upon any day fixed for the Absence of com plainant. herring of the case the complainant is absent, and the offence may be lawfully compounded, or is not a cognizable offence, the Magistrate may, in his discretion, notwithstanding anything herciubefore contained, at any time before the charge has been framed, discharge the accused

7'7

&lt;sup>1</sup> In re Joja Pashau 3 Cal L R 131 <sup>1</sup> Jodu and others All W N 1886 p 260 <sup>1</sup> Hossein Sardari L All Syndari I R 9 Cal 481 (5 c) 6 Cal W \ 509 <sup>1</sup> Rajaaran Koonwar I L R 11 Cal 91 Raglavalu Naicker I I R 41 Mad

Complaint means the allegation made orally or in writing to a Magistrate $ 5 a view to his taking action under this Cod , that some person whether ke ; or and nown has commutted an offence, but it does not include the report of a police officer (5 4 (h)) 5 259 applies only to a warrant-case, which the Vige has taken cognizance of an offence on a complaint to him, (S 190) and et b cases coming before him on a police report after an investigation

5 345 declares that certain offeners may be compounded by certain perset with or without the permission of the Court before which the prosecution of exoffence is pending Sch II, el fe also specifies the offences which are compared Unless the order of adjournment has been made in the presence and fees of the complainant at is not completel for a Magistrate to dismiss a comon defruit of appearance of the complument 1

Hutberto 5 250 could be used only in compoundable cases. But by the 2nd ment made in this section by Act No Will of 1973 5 74 an order of delay may also be assessed when the country and the country and the country also be assessed when the country and the countr my also be presed when the complaint in its beautiful fit of fine in a ter-rable (See S. 4.(f)). S. 250 can only operate up to the time when the charge's framed framed

On the non appearance of the complainant, in a summons case, a Mag's must require the accused unless for some reason be think s proper to adjust hearing of the case to some other day -5 247. But it is not so in a warrante unities the case is compound the cr non-cognizable. The Magistrate should prove with the trial and gass such order as may be proper on the exil are pre-He can discharge the accused in such a case only as proyided by $ 253

Having critical in a warranteerse at the stage to which S 254 april 18 Magnetith is right to frime a charge if he believes the evidence He should be therefore the assertion discharge the necessed under $ 25) merch on the ground that the couples is absent on the day fixed for hearing of the case a

The High Court, the Sessions Judge, or the District Magneticity my off-further inquiry to the made into the case of any accused person who his low-duchtriced—(S. 240). And A. Marier, and S. Marier, a dischire, ed.—(5. 446). And a Vigestrite, who is empetent to take our present the other man members and an appear to the other man members and appear to the other man members and appear to the contract of the other man members and appear to the other members and the other m the effect may newthernding in order of discharge and without at feet for further moutes out to for further inquiry mad by a superior Court take further proceedings and order of discharge is not final ($ 403.)

in a just trial folloners and all which is triable as a summensesse and the other as a warranteesse an erd red discharge in the absence of the certifies discontinue as an acquittal in respect of the efficient rable as a summary and is no hard to feether. and is no bir to further proceedings a

The Count is Dave Dobbil Dav E. L. R. 10 Cal. (7. \maj) valud Si Pari C. C. C. C. L. Dave Dobbil Dav E. L. R. 10 Cal. (7. \maj) valud Si Pari L. C. C. C. C. L. Dave Matarij Darku Bom H. C. Match 3. (8.2) Rev. Committee 1. 4 Cal. M. \( \text{ 20} \)

* Whataip Dirko Bem H. Ct. Mar. 5, 1876.

Shire the all Howener Malomed Askari E. I. R. 27 Cat. 776. (a. 61 Cal. W.)

(3) Like Breven and ask of treathern Monetrates. Destroyeth Model Facet, 1876.

L. R. 28 Cal. 63. (a. 61 5) Cal. W. S. 455 per Like Breven. Chimaly 576 for 8 Sala Garavard L. R. 127 Mar. 130. Imp. r. Aujin mas. 1 L. R. 27 L. 6. H.

(Rachavala Nar ker. 1.1. R. 47 Mal. 7.7)

CHAPTER XXII

Or SEMMARY TRIALS

Chapter XXII does not apply to trials before a Presidency Magistrate 1

260. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Power to ary sum- Code .marily

(a) the District Magistrate,

(b) any Magistrate of the first class specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government, and (c) any bench of Magistrates invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the first class and specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government, may, if he or they think lit, try in a summary way all or any of the following offences (a) offences not punishable with death, transportation or imprisonment for a term exceeding six months; Such offences full within the definition of summons cases see S 4 (v) and(u)

(b) offences relating to weights and measures under sections 264, 265 and 266 of the Indian Penal Code,

(c) hurt under section 323 of the same Code, (d) theft, under section 379, 380 or 381 of the same Code, where the value of the property stolen does not exceed fifty rupees. (e) dishonest misappropriation of property, under see-tion 403 of the same Code, where the value of the property misappropriated does not execed fifty rupees:

(f) receiving or retaining stolen property, under section 411 of the same Code, where the value of such property does not exceed fifty rupees,

(g) assisting in the concealment or disposal of stolen property, under section 414 of the same Code, where the value of such property does not exceed fifty rupees:

(h) mischief, under section 427 of the same Code:

(i) house-trespass, under section 448 and offences under sections 451, 453, 454, 456 and 457 of the same Code:

Abdul Alim Khan, Bom H Ct, Mar 4, 1891,

- (i) insult with intent to provoke a breach of the peace, to der section 501, and criminal intimidation, unit section 506, of the same Code:
- (h) abetment of any of the foregoing offences;
- (f) an attempt to commit any of the foregoing offens, when such attempt is an offence;
- (m) offences under section 20 of the Cattle-Trespass Ad-1871

Provided that, no case in which a Magistrate exercise & special powers conferred by section 31 shall be tried in a summit way

(2) When in the course of a summary trial it appears to be Magistrate or Bench that the case is one which is of a charect which renders it undesirable that it should be tried summarly the Magistrate or Bench shall receil any witnesses who my low been examined and proceed to re-hear the case in mainer propose by this Godo.

(1) fence as denoted by S. 4. (.) includes acts specified in S. 50 of the Cattle Int fact taby).

In this Course, Producers all Magnetrates of the first class, who may be a constant.

here officered is foun Argistria, and itso all Assistant Lummsstoners (its first class, this form invested with mover to act under $1.260). In Manyes every Argistriae of a physical of district exercising part of a M generate of the first class has been vested with the power of hillings of many trade under 5 2002.

If any Vagotenic, not being empowered by law in that behalf, in 4.4.

flender summarity, his proceedings shall be coud-5, 530 (9)

has been been been seen that the first the state of the s full n en a consection he stifte de med the conficcition of control and a monerary for which a summare trial may be held. The conficcition needs of control and a consequence of just of the sections of the a consequence of just of the control have bely that a consequence of just of the december of the bely that a consequence of just of the december of the bely that a consequence of just of the december of the bely that a consequence of just of the workments for a few of the december of the second of the configuration of control and the second of the configuration of control and the second of the configuration of control and the second of t of Centret Act, All of 1831 is trule summerly and there that or a 1.1 The Act his however been repealed with effect from 1st April 126 he ter No III of 190 it is not been repealed with effect from 1st April 126 it is not because an office in declared to be trially summarily that if should be a con-should be so tred rather than under the regular procedure. A discrete his serbe a Megalizate empowered to full such trails to determine in what moves that for such an addition should be full. A function for largest in regula-

<sup>1 311</sup> Gar 1843 h vs lie Cir y 227

* Unit of Hardante Day I L. H., & Cal., M. (Heat Howen, He ed.) Cal. I R. H. overtained In the Metter M. and Chartenopher, 22 M. H. Co., 49 and J. observable & W. H. Co., 49 and J. observable & Adder Sanad & Yand, I. L. H., 49 AU, 241, f. Saning Q. Imp. e. 1014, 1. I. H. et AU.

R. 11 All, 217
Line + Directe L L. 31 Ren. 21 Prop + Ride Solott L L. 15 Ren. of

rials of theft (Ss 379, 3% and 3%, Penal Code), dishonest misappropriation (S (03), receiving or retaining stolen property ($ 411) issisting in the concealment or disposal of stolen property (S 414) In all such cases the value of the property must not exceed fifty rupees, and this must appear on the proceedings-[S 263 There is a further limitation. No sentence of impresonment for a term exceeding three months can be passed in a summary trid-[5 262 (2)] a sentence of fine or whipping can be added to a sentence of imprire rement, 5 260 (2) provides the course to be tak n if in the course of the proceedings, it should appear to the Magistrue that the cose is of a character which renders it undesirable that it should be tried summardy. This would be if the property in one of the offences above stated appears to exceed fifty rupers or if the Magis trate is doubtful whether he should not pass a sentence of imprisonment for a term exceeding three months or il is appears that the case is of a complic deal character and the conviction of the recused may entitl serious consequences tour if the proceedings are likely to lend to a lengthened trial. It not unfrequently happens that a Magistrate on examination of the compilariant assurs process for the attendance of the accused for in offence trible summirily whereis the complaint is of an offence not so trible and there is no reason shown in the proceedings held why the Migistrile should not proceed for the more serious offence complained of The power- conferred in Magistria's under Chipter XXII of the Code of Criminal Procedure were net intended to give them the power of altering an accusation made so as to bring a rase within the provisions of that Chapter Therefore when a complaint of a serious offence one which the Magistrate is not complicate to inquire into summirily has been regularly made, it is the plain duty of the Migistrate to upply the procedure prescribed for such cases, and in a regular and formal trial, either to convict, or requit, or commit for trial the person implicated. The procedure under Chapter VII is to be followed when the preceedings before the Magistrate, that is, the complaint and the examination of the complainant plantly and directly indicate only one of the offences specified is 5 2603 In such a case, therefore even supposing that the Magistrate could properly and legally have brought a case within the provisions of Chapter \\!\! there are very cogent reasons why he should not have done so

Uncre, on the examination of the complainant, the commission of an effence net tribb'e summarily is disclosed and ther are no valid grounds for believing that his statement is exaggerated, the Magistrate is not competent to ignore the graver oftener complained of and to issue process is for a summan case and to hold a summary trial. If he does so his proceedings are void [5 530 (9)] 4. This not unfrequently occurs on a complant of noting where a summary trial is held for some monor offence, e.g., being members of an unfault assembly (S. 143). Penal Codo, or voluntarily causing lutt (S. 343), or criminal trespass (S. 447). offences which are triable summarily

So also where the complaint disclosed the commission of an offence not triable summarily, and the examination of the complainant upon which process issued was not directed to that but related only to the commission of minor offences triable summarily, the conviction and sentence in a summary trial were set uside and a regular trial was ordered on the ground that the examination of the complainant did not show that the graver offence complained of was not committed 5

Harı Gopal Bom H Ct Aug 15 1895, Subramanya Ayyar v Q, I L R, 6

<sup>376</sup> Issur Chunder Mundle v Rohim Sheik 25 W R Cr. 65 2 Chunder Shekhur Thakoor v Nitaloo, 22 W R Cr, 29, Bance Madhub Dass, 23 W R Cr. 3

Kailash Chunder Pal v Joynudda, 5 Cal W N, 252

<sup>5</sup> Bishu Shaik v Saber Mollah, I L. R., 29 Cal., 409: (S. c.) 6 Cal. W. N., 713.

A Magistrate cannot split up an offence into its component parts fr the per pose of giving himself summary jurisdiction. If a complaint of an offere ex triable summirily is made and sworn to, the Magistrate must deal with the renecordingly, unless he is at the outset in a position to show from the exam to x of the complainant that the circumstances of aggravation stated are really exaggeration and are not to be believed. In this case the accused were tred and convicted summarily of being members of an unlawful assembly (S 14) Rea (ode) where is the complaint made and the evidence showed that they were armed with swords and should, therefore, have been tried under S 144 st. The convictions were accordingly set and and could not be tried summarily fresh trials were ordered !

The Bumbry High Courts and the Madras High Courts have however it fused on revision to set uside proceedings of a Magistrate, as without jure tion, in which he had convicted a person of an offence within his juridat although the evid nee showed the enimission of an offence trible only tra Court of Session The distinction between these cases, and cases in which the Magistrate had convicted summarily when the evidence showed the command of in offiner not tribl summarily, would be in the character of the precedlegs held in a summers trait. These cases were however, not consil red by Beniby and Wadris High Courts 11 is therefore doubtful whether the rule should be applied to all cases

On the other hand where one person has been convicted in separate remany trials of thirtien offeners of the same kind committed within two more to it was pointed out that alth ugh this was not illegal, it was undesirable by necused person might thus be satenced to a total period of imprisonment to in excess of the Magistrate's ordinary powers of punishment and without part of punishment and without part of to appeal. The accord should have been trad in the same case for any of three offences and in appealable sentence should have been passed

The mere mentin in the complaint of ins section in the Penal Code ? garding on effence not trible summarily, will not oust the Magistrate's summari purisdiction if the Liets complained of do not disclose any such offence

It is not the complaint of ne which determines the jurisdiction of a Man trate to try a case summarily but the complaint and the subsequent example tin of the compliment under $ 200 tiken together. When a Maksita and certains the chiffers which in alleged to his taken place disclose an offer which is traible aummatib. In can hild a summary trail 8. But if a corporate made of the fines of a which is made of affines of a which is a summary trail 8. But if a corporate which is made of a fines of a which is made of a fines of a which is made of a fines of a which is a summary trail 8. is made of offences of which one is traille summary trail. But it extends to the interest of which one is traille summarily and the other it extends to the interest of the in trialle, the Magastine is not competent to ignore and discard the latter of h 11 a summery trial On the other hand, if the Mag strate in process, under the ordinary procedure finds that the offence established is on the summarily, I can proceed with the treal, under the summary proced in

When an accused is the charged with leaving been prespoils consider the off noe and r Chapter VII Pend Code, he cannot be tried summary as to self-requent effence becomes a different effence from that constituted by the stanling aline. But it is in the discrete of the Magisteric to all sex s

Sak he Direct after (at t. R. 4 Cat. 18. (e.c.) 3 Cat. 1. R. 44 (h. 4 Cat. 1. ) 1. Bestrantiff M. Fon late. Nata Distriction 1. Cat. 1 tencer bar Laba 25 W R Cr 11 Q e tlaten R, in M 55 Sen IV anfan Sn ber charge, as there may be cricumtances in which the Magistrate need not necessarrly advert to the fact of previous conviction so as to affect the sentence

* Q Imp * Rangamans, I L. R., 22 Mat., 453

CHAP, XXIL SEC. 260.

The ordinary case in which S 260 is misapplied is where five or more persons are accused of forcibly cutting and carrying off a crop livre the offence is rioting [S 137, Penal Code) which is not trable summarily, but the trail is nevertheless held under summary procedure for the off nee of theft. So also where wrongful confinement (S 342, Penal Code) which is not triable summarih, and hurt (S 323) are charged and the treal is held under summary procedure only for hurt 2 Appeals in summers triefs are dalt with in S 414 which has undergone deastic amendment. There is an appeal now is every case in which a sentence of imprisonment is presed it is only in case in which a sentence of fine only not exceeding two hundred rupics is passed that there will be no appeal Magistrates however should bear in mind that by erroneously hilding a summary trial they may deprite the accused of the right of appeal is 414) and they by themselves open to rensure for arbitrarily assuming such final jurisdiction I r the purpose of shutting out in appeal and fir a perfunct ry performance of their duties from a desire to reliave illemselves of the labour of moord up the es d nee at length as in the ordinary trial of a warrant-cise. The case marcover cann t be properly dealt with on an appeal should there be one because the earl nee has not been recorded at length is in a case tried under erdinary exceedure. A grave injustice is thus crused and in the end if a fresh treal is ego red by the Court of Revision the parties and their witnesses are put to the in enterior and expense of a second attendance in Court

A Bench of Magistran's empowered to hold summary trials and r 4 260 carnot take proceedings under S 107 to require security to keep the 18 118 11

Procedure in a summary trial under S 250

The precidure in a summiry trial under S 260 may be thus I writed. It should in regard to processes be as in a summons-case rich reintrain cort ing to the nature of the effence under trial and it should be n tid that athirach all summons-cases [S 260 ta)] and mitters coming within the ( ittl ] propers Act, 1671, S 20 [Ibid (ni)] are so triable some of the flences specifically mentioned in S 260 are warrant cases. No formal charge need by framed, but care should be taken to avoid misjoinder of charges of offences in the same trial, as 5 233 applies to a summary trial and it requires that ordinarily each off nee shall be separately tried 4 Against in order passed in a summary trial where no appeal hes (S 414) the evidence need not be recorded (5 203). The provesions of S 355 do not apply to summary trials (Sec S 354)

The examination of the iccused need not be recorded as direct d by S 364 as in an ordinary trial-[S 3(4 (4)] At the conclusion of the trial the Magistrate is required by S 263 to enter certain particulars in such form as the Local Government may direct amongst which, in the case of a conviction, a brief statement of the reasons therefore must be stitled and these reasons should be such as to satisfy the High Court, on Revision, that there are sufficient materials to support the conviction. Where they were not so stitled, the conviction and sen tence were set aside 5

Where the Legislature has in a summary trial, provided a minimum of protection tion for the person affected by the final order, it is absolutely necessary that

&lt;sup>1</sup> Mad H Ct Sept 23 1873 Weir 921

<sup>2</sup> Haran Sheike z Ramdhun 24 W R Cr 21

<sup>3</sup> U v Beblek Pathak 21 W R Cr 21

<sup>4</sup> U v Biswat, 19 Cal I J 53

<sup>4</sup> In te Penjat Singh, I L R, 6 Cal, 379, Q Pmp v Shidgauda I L. R, 18 Bom 99, Han Gopal Bom H C Aug 13 1895, Q Lmp v Mukundi Lal, I L R, 22 All, 189, Laith Johan Sha w Chander Volana Cal W N 23

Angistrates should most strictly observe the scanty formalities prescribed, otherwise it will be impossible for the High Court, as a Court of Revision, or are elements. nutly rity, to exercise the smallest control over proceedings which form the salect of the complaint!

But where the Magistrate had inadvertently omitted to record a "brief sa" ment of his reasons of reconsisting the accused, it was held that the em sa could be r mediad by a statem nt subsequently recorded, and insemuch as in chr respects the requirements of the law find ben complied with, the High Co t relised to interfere in Revision?

The provision of Soliety and 370 are not abrogated by S. 441.

5 414 provides that there shall be no appeal by a convicted person in any care tried summarily in which a Magistrate, employered to act under 5 260, passes I fine not exceeding two hundred supees only

There would thus be in upp if ignise a sentence in such a trial, when i is a combination of involve r more punishments (S 415), or against any senten a Imprisenment of who ping or when the sentence of fine exerciin a hundred rupers. An appeal would be to the District Magistrate against are s nt n + p so st by c B n h of Migistrates invested with powers of a Might

f the second in third class in a summary trial held under S 261-15 407) In every case tried summarily by a Wassirste or Bench, in which an appar hes such Majistrati er Bench shall hel re passing senience, record a judiscent embodying the substance of the explorer and also the particulars mentioned in Such judgment shall be the ents recerd in cases coming within this sect a-S 2/1

The Local Government may confer on any Bench of 261 Migistrates invested with the powers of a Migistrate of the second or third class power to Power to invest Bench of Manistrates try summarily ill or any of the following invested with less power offences

(a) offences against the Indean Penal Code, sertion- 277 278 279, 285, 286 289, 290, 292, 293, 291, 329 331 336 344, 352, 426, 417 and 501;

(b) offeners against Municipal Acts, and the con creares classes of Police Acts which are punishable only with fine, or with impresonment for a term not 15 ceeding one mouth with or without fine; (c) abetinent of any of the foregoing offences;

(d) an attempt to commit any of the foregoing offerer when such attribut is in offence

So 15 and 16 of the Cel mist to lien bee or May elected, the present

Support the Internal Conference to a fundamental fortunation where of a polytopic reservoir is a set under it under the understanding of Support to a contract making the aim sphere in a set to the less that the productions. and the rules fir their gulfine ee . 1 to celevel .

h are a rath or replace estay or during on a police wave

<sup>1</sup> Download of Cal 1 Ht 275 1 Down H + 1 1 1 4 31 1 255

S 283 to rish or negligent conduct with respect to fire or combustible matter,

S 286, to rash or negligent conduct with respect to any explosive substance,

S 280 to wilful or negligent conduct with respect to any dangerous inimal, S 290, to the commission of a public nuisance

S 29, to the sale, &c, of obscene books

S 202, to the possession of obscene books to fir sale

S not to singing &c obscene songs &c to annotance of others,

S 323, to voluntarily crusing hurt without grive or sudden provocation, S 334 to voluntarily crusing hurt on grave or sudden provocition,

S 336, to rashly or negligently ending ring human life or the personal safety of others

S 341, to wrongful restraint

S 352, to assault or criminal force without grave or sudden provocation

S 426, to mischief

S 447, to criminal trespass S 504, to mults intended to provole a breach of the peace

With the exception of offences under S 123 and 504 Penal Code, all these offences are summons-cases and as such would full und r 5 260 (a) of this Code, voluntarily causing that under S 323 is also triable summarily under S 260 (t) and an offence under S 504 is triable summarily under S 260 (f)

A Binch of Mag strites impowered under Sofi to hold summary trials can act only for the trial of the iffences mentioned in S 261. They cannot tall e proceedings in regard to security the period

The Local Covernment may be were Bench of Mrs. striks invested with powers of the second or third class to hold a summary trial for any of the offences enumerated it may also empower a Bench of Magistrices invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the first class to hold summary trials for the offences stated in S 260

Unless otherwise provided by an order of the Local Government, where one of the members of a Bench is a Magistrat of the first class it is deemed a Magistrate of that class-(S 13) A Migistrate of the first class or a Bench of Magistrate invested with the p wers of a Magistrate of the first class if specially embouered by the Local Government to hold summary trials under S' 260 can also so try those mentioned in S 261 because they all come within the terms of S 260 But it would seem that unless so empowered a Magistrate of the first class or a Bench invested with powers of a Magistrate of the first class could not act under $ 261

Procedure in a summary trial under S 261

It is important to be ir in mind that if a trial held by a Bench is adjourned the Bench at the adjourned trial should at is riginally constituted 2. No other Magistrate can sit on that Bench at the adjourned trial a nor can any Magistrate, who has been on that Bench and absent on any hearing rejoin that Bench, on can a Bench resume a trial commenced by mother Bench composed of other Magistrates. The reason is obvious for no Magistrate can properly take part in a trial who has not hims if heard all the evidence. If, however, one of the Magistrates is absent and the other Magistrates who are present and have been

<sup>1</sup> Q z Bebbeke Patrak i W RC 1 1 Q zmp p Basuja I I R 18 Wd 3 p Hurivir Sing z Khega Ojha I L R , 20 Cal 8 po Shumbha Nath Yukur R n kurul 13 Cal L R 12 Danni Takur 18 x un sat I L R 2 Cal 100 t Q zmp 1 Basuj I L R 18 Nat 1 20 I I I I var Singhi Khega Ojha I L R 2 Cal 8 p Shumbha Nath Yukur R nukumul 13 Cal I R 1 Danni Takur 18 x un sat 1 L R 2 Cal 8 p Shumbha Nath Yukur I Khukumul 13 Cal I R 1 Danni Takur 18 x un sat 1 R 1 Danni Takur 18 x un sat 1 R 1 Danni Takur 1 Khuku 13 Cal 8 p Shumbha Nath Yukur I Khuku 13 Cal 8 p Shumbha Nath Yukur I Khuku 13 Cal 8 p Shumbha Nath Yukur I Khuku 13 Cal 1 R 1 Danni Takur 1 Khukur 1 Khuku 13 Cal 1 R 1 Danni Takur 1 Cal 1 Khukur 1 Khu Bhowam Sahoo I L R 23 Cal 144 Ram Sunder De t Rajab Ah I L R 12 Cal 558

Magistrates should most strictly observe the scanty formalities prescribed, other wise it will be impossible for the High Court, as a Court of Revision, or any other authority, to exercise the smallest control over proceedings which form the subject of the complaint !

But where the Magistrate had inadvertently omitted to record a "brief state ment of his reasons for convicting the accused, it was held that the omisson could be remedied by a statement subsequently recorded and masmuch as in other respects the requirements of the law had been complied with, the High Court refused to interfere in Revision #

The provision of Ss 263 and 370 are not abrogated by S 441 3

S 414 provides that there shall be no appeal by a convicted person in any case tried summarily in which a Magistrate, empowered to act under S 260 passes a sentence of fine not exceeding two hundred rupees only

There would thus be an app al against a sentence in such a trial when it is a combination of my two or more punishments (S 415), or against any sentence of imprisonm nt or of whipping, or when the sentence of fine executive bundled two hundred rupees An appeal would lie to the District Magistrate against any sentence p seed by a B neh of Magistrates invested with powers of a Magi trate of the second or third class in a summary trial held under S 261-(5 407)

In every case tred summarily by a Vingstrate or Bench, in which an appeal hes, such Vingstrate or Bench shall before passing sentence, record a judgment of the substrate of the state of the substrate of the sub embodying the substance of the evidence and also the particulars mentioned of Such judgment shall be the only record in cases coming within this section-S 264

Power invest Bench of Magistrates invested with less power

261 The Local Government may confer on any Bench of Magistrates invested with the powers of Magistrate of the second or third class power to try summarily all or any of the following offences -

(a) offenees against the Indian Penal Code, sections 277 278, 279, 285, 286, 289 290, 292, 293, 291, 321 334 336 341 352, 426, 447 and 504;

(b) offences against Municipal Acts, and the conservance clauses of Police Acts which are pumishable only with fine, or with imprisonment for a term not et ceeding one month with or without fine,

(c) abetment of any of the foregoing offences;

(d) an attempt to commit any of the foregoing offence, when such attempt is an offence

Ss 15 and 16 of this Code relate to Benches or Magistrates, their powers and the rules for their guidance

S 277 of the Indian Penal Code relates to voluntarily fouling the water of a public spring or reservoir so as to render it unfit for ordinary use S 278, to voluntarily making the atmosphere noxious to the health of the neighbourhood,

S 279, to rash or negligent riding or driving on a public way,

<sup>1</sup> Q 1 Johns Singh 22 W R Cr 28
2 Dowlat Sing 6 Cal 1 R 273
3 Dervish Hassein 1 L R 46 Mad 253

S 285 to rish or negligent conduct with respect to fire or combustible matter,

S 286, to rash or negligent conduct with respect to any explosive substance,

S 289 to wilful or negligent conduct with respect to any dangerous animal,

S 290, to the commission of a public nuisance. S 292, to the sale &c of obscene books

S 293 to the possession of obscene books &c for sale

becene songs &c to annoyance of others, S *04 to singing &c

S 323 to volunturily causing hurt without grave or sudden provocation, S 334 to volunturily causing hurt on grave or sudden provocation,

S 336 to rashly or negligently endingering himan life or the personal safety of others

S 341, to wrongful restraint

S 352, to assault or criminal force without grave or sudden provocation,

S 426 to mischief

S 447, to criminal trespies

S sou, to inults intended to provoke a breach of the peace

With the exception of effences under S 323 and 504, Penal Code, all these offences are summons-cases and as such, would fall under 5 260 (a) of this Code, voluntarily causing hurt under $ 323 is also triable summarily under $ 260 (c) and an offence under 5 504 is trible summirily under 5 260 (f)

A Bench of Magistrates emp wered under S -64 to held summary trials can act only for the trial of the offences mintioned in S 261. They cannot take proceedings in regard to security to keep the peace !

The Local Government may empower a Bench of Magistrates invested with powers of the second or third class to hold a summary trial for any of the officies courserated it may also empower a Bench of Magistrates invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the first class to hold summary trials for the offences stated in S 260

Unless otherwise provided by an order of the Local Government, where one of the members of a Bench is a Magnetrate of the first class, it is deemed a Magistrate of that class—(S 12) A Magistrate of the first class, or a Bench of Magistrate invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the first class if specially empowered by the I ocal Government to hold summary trials under 5 260 can also so try those mentioned in S 261, because they all come within the terms of 5 260 But it would seem that unless so empowered, a Magistrate of the first class or a Bench invested with powers of a Magistrate of the first class could not act under 5 261

Procedure in a summary trial under S 261

It is important to bear in mind that if a trial held by a Bench is adjourned the Bench at the adjourned trial should sit as originally constituted 2. No other Magistrate can sit on that Bench at the adjourned trial a nor can any Magistrate, who has been on that Bench and absent on any hearing rejoin that Bench,4 nor can a Bench resume a trial commenced by another Bench composed of other Magistrates 5 The reason is obvious for no Magistrate can properly take part in a trial who has not himself heard all the evidence. If, however, one of the Magistrates is absent and the other Magistrates who are present and have been

Og Bebbek Patrak, 21 W. R. Cr. 1°
O Emp e Raspipa I. R. 18 Med 301 Hartwer Sing e Khega Ojha I. L. R., 20 Cal. 870, Shumbhu Aath Strater R mknimd 13 Cal. L. R. 21°
Damn Thakur I Howam Sal. I. R. 21°Cl. 10 L. R. 21°Cl. 10 Emp e Basapin I. L. R. 18 Val. 191 Hardwar Single & Khega Ojha I. L. R., 20°Cl. 18 70. Shumbhu Sahi Saylar R. Rushamad 13 Cal. 1 R. 21. Damn Thakur i

Bhowam Sahoo I L R 13 Cal 134 Ram Sunder De v Rajab Ah I L R 12 Cal 559

present throughout the trial are sufficient in number to properly constitute a Bench they can proceed with the trial 1 This is the case law on the subject, which has been given effect to by the enactment of S 350A, which lays down that no order or judgment of a Bench of Magistrates shall be invalid by reason only of a change having occurred in the constitution of the Bench in any case in which the Bench by which such order or judgment is passed is duly constituted under Ss 15 and 16 and the Magistrates constituting the same have been present on the Bench throughout the proceedings (S 350A)

In respect of the summary trial of any of the offences specified in S 261 except hurt and insult to provoke a breach of the peace (Ss 323 and 504 Penal Code), (in regard to the offences under Ss 323 and 504 Penal Code, it shall be as in warrant cases) the procedure in regard to process shall be as in a summons. case—(S 262) Before passing sentence in such a trial, the Bench shall record a judgment embodying the substance of the evidence, and also the particulars

mentioned in S 263 and this shall be the only record-(S 264)

(1) In trials under this Chapter, the procedure pres cribed for summons-cases shall be followed in Procedure for sumsummons-cases, and the procedure prescribed mons and warrant cases applicable for warrant-cases shall be followed in warrant cases, except as heremafter mentioned

(2) No sentence of imprisonment for a term exceeding three months shall be passed in the case of any con Limit of imprison viction under this Chapter

The provisions of Chapter XXV as to the recording of evidence (except 5 353) do not apply to summary Irials (S 354)

Sub-section 2

The limit of the term of a sentence of imprisonment in a summary trial is here declared li the Magistrale or Bench considers that a longer sentence of imprisonment should be passed, the trial should be held as in a warrant-case or a summons-case, according to the nature of the offence

But 1 sentence of fine up to the powers of the Magistrate or Bench 600 5 32), or a sentence of whipping can be passed or added if the offence is so punishable

the limit of imprisonment refers only to the substantive sentence, not to an alternative sentence of imprisonment in default of payment of fine Solutary imprisonment (S 73 Penal Code) can form part of the sentence of imprisonment A configuration and the sentence of imprisonment and ment 3 A confiscation under the Excise Act (VI of 1856) S 49 can be ordered in a summary trial It merely follows on the conviction, and it does not form part of the punishment for the offence 1 If the accused is acquitted or discharge ed and the Bench is satisfied that the accusation is false and either frivolous of regations, an order for compensation can be passed-($ 250)

In eases where no appeal lies, the Magistrate of Bench of Magistrates need not record the evi Record in cases where there is no appeal dence of the witnesses or frame a formal charge, but he or they shall enter in such form as the Local Government my direct the following particulars.

i karuj jona Nidan i Chairmun Madura Municipality, 1 L R 21 Mad. 246
i Lmp i Asghar Ali I L R 6 Ali 61
i Lmp i Annu Shun I L R 6 Ali 83
i Imp i Badanath Dav I L R 3 Cal., 366 (F E) (8 c) i Cal L R 442

- (a) the serial number
  - (b) the date of the commission of the offence;

(c) the date of the report or complaint,

(d) the name of the complament (if any).

(e) the name parentage and residence of the accused; (f) the offence complained of and the offence (if any) proved and in cases coming under clause (d), clause (c) clause (f), or clause (g) of sub-section (1) of section 260, the value of the property in respect of which the offence has been committed.

(a) the plea of the accused and his examination (if any).

(h) the finding, and, in the case of a conviction, a brief statement of the reasons therefor,

(i) the sentence or other final order, and

(i) the date on which the proceedings terminated Where no appeal lles

No appeal lies in iny case tried under S 260 against a sentence of fine only not exceeding two hundred rupees (S 414). An appeal lies in every other case

If sentence has been passed in a summary trial held under S 261 by a Bench of Magistrates invested with powers of a Magistrate of the second or third class, or singustrates invested with powers of a magnetate of the second or triff class, an ppcal would lie it in District Vigostrict ($ 407), in other appealable cases tried by the District Vigostrict or other Magnetate of the first class, to the Court of Session—($ 408) Unless otherwise provided by an order of the Local Government, where one of the members of a Bench is a Magistrate of the first class it is deemed a Magistrate of that class (S 15) and a trial by such a Bench would not be under S 261, but under S 260, and a difficulty might arise if the Bench were not specially empowered to act under S 260

If the Magistrate is unable, at the commencement of the trial, to determine wheher the proper sentence to be passed will be appositable or not he must make a memorandum of the substance of the evidence as it is given, and such memo random must be kept and form part of the record !

Section 263 (A)

In these cases as well as in eases coming under the other clauses of S 260, except under clause (a), the evidence must be recorded as directed by S 355

Section 253 (r)

No provision is made for the manner in which the examination of an accused person in a summary trial in which no appeal lies is to be recorded, except that it is not to be recorded as in a regular trial ($3.64), probably it would be recorded in the same manner as evidence is recorded in such a trial, but the examination should be only for the purpose of enabling the necused to explain

any circumstances appearing in evidence against him-(S 342)
Where the offence under trial under Chapter VII is a warrant-case, although no formal charge need be framed, the prisoner should be called upon to plead to a definite charge of the offence which may be mide verbally, his plea

cunnot however be recorded

In cases tried under S 262 (1) by the procedure for warrant-cases the words

<sup>1</sup> Satish Chandra Mitra 1 L R 48 Cal 2%

if any in cl (g) are inapplicable and in this respect S 263 is governed by S 342 and there must be on examination of the accused 1

But if the case is a summons case tried summarily, the provisions of $ 342 requiring the Court to examine the accused generally at the close of the prosecution case are not applicable 2

Section 263 (h)

To enable a Court of Revision to judge whether there are sufficient materials to justify a conviction and sentence in a summary trial a Magistrate should set out his reasons so as to show that he has considered each of the ingre dients necessary for the conviction. Where they were not so stated the conviction was set as de a The defect may however be remedied by a statement of th reasons subsequently recorded 4

In a trial under this Chapter, under a procedure in which the Legislature has provided a minimum of protection for the person affected by the order it is absolutely necessary that Magistrates should most strictly observe the scanty from ties prescribed otherwise it will be absolutely impossible for the Hgb Court as a Court of Revision or for any other authority, to exercise the smallest control over proceedings which may form the subject of complaint s

In all warrant cases tried under S 260 where there has been no conviction the final order should invariably show whether the accuesd has been discharged or acquitted the test being whether after hearing the evidence for the procutton the Court has called upon the accused to plead to a defin te charge of the offence or no 6

If the accused is convicted of a non-cognizable offence the Court may in addition to the penalty imposed upon him order him to repay to the compla nant the fee paid on his application of petition or the same amount paid on his eximination and when he has paid fees for serving process also the amount had therefor all such fees that the serving process also the amount had be paid therefor all such fees should be real sed as if they were fines imposed by the Court Se 5461 and 547 Amongst the offences ment oned in S 261 (a) offences under Sq 278 323 334 35° 426 Penal Code are non-cognizable offences - re Sch II col 3)

Whenever any Government officer is jud early convicted of any offence copy I the decision should be sent to the head of the department in which he is employed in order that such action as may be deemed proper may be tak if

Whenever any person serving under Government in the Mil tary Depart ment is convicted in a Criminal Court information should be given to Officer commanding the Regiment or Corps to which he belongs and if the person be serving under the Government of Inda in the Military Department copy of he conviction and sentence should be forwarded to that Department

Whenever any officer, enlisted soldier, or sepoy is sentenced by a Criminal Court to a fine of Rs ago or warls or to impreson in otherwise the following a fine not serve the fi default of paying a fine not am unting t ks 200 the Court should profe motu send a copy of its final order to the superior of the person convicted

(I) In every case tried summarily by a Magistrate of Bench in which an appeal lies, such Magistrate Record in appealable cases.

or Bench shall before passing sentence, record

<sup>1</sup> Malomel Hossan r Fmp I I R 41 Cal 743 Mai -66 (F B)

O Fmp : Sh lganda I L R 18 Form 189 Inht Wol in Salai Chunter Whom 97 0 T Cal n Ira Narun ( Cal W N 40 Dawlat Sing (Cal I R 773 Or Johnie Singh 22 W R Cr 29 Panj lik Cir p 733

CHAP XXII SEC. 265

a judgment embodying the substance of the evidence and also the particulars mentioned in section 263

(2) Such judgment shall be the only record in eases coming within this section

In which an anneal lies

See note to S 261 ante

Il ere are several reported cases in which the judgment in a summary trail has been defective and the High Courts have tal en different views of the course to be taken

These however were before S 537 which was first enneted by the Code of 188 and has been re-enacted in this Code it will be for the Appellate Court to consider in each case whether any error omission or irregularity in a judg ment has in fact occasioned a falure of justice. The Calcutta High Court has held that if the Sessi ns Judge on appeal was unable with the aid of the Mag trate's finding t form an independent judgment as to whether the prisoner had committed the offence or not it was his duty to have acquitted him. The Allahabad High Court and the Chief Court Punjab have however held that that the Sessions Judge should have required the Magistrate to repair the defect by recording a judgment in which the substance of the evidence should be fully emboded if necessary by re-examining the witnesses for that purpose or that he should have ordered a new trial

- (1) Records made under section 263 and judgments Language of record recorded under section 264 shall be written by the pie iding officer, either in English or in and judgment the language of the Court, or, if the Court to which such presiding officer is immediately subordinate so directs, in such officer's mother tongue
- (2) The Local Government may authorise any Bench of Magistrates empowered to try offences sumauthorised to employ maily to prepare the aforesaid record or judgment by means of an officer appointed in this behalf by the Court to which such Bench is immediately subordinate, and the record or judgment so prepared shall be signed by each member of such Bench present taking part in the preceedings
- (3) If no such authorisation be given, the record prepared by a member of the Bench and signed as aforesaid shall be the proper record
- (4) If the Bench differ in opinion any dissentient member may write a separate judgment

&lt;sup>3</sup> Kheraj Mullah : Janab Mullah : r B L R 33 (s c) 20 W R Cr 13 <sup>3</sup> Emp : Karun Sugh I L R r All (80 <sup>3</sup> Bakku Panj Rec : 1874 p 3

CHAPTER XXIII.

OF TRIALS BEFORE HIGH COURTS AND COURTS OF SESSION

No Sessions Court shall ordinarily take cognizance of any offence as a Court of original jurisdiction unless the accused person has been committed to it by a Magistrate duly empowered in that behalf (5 103) that is to a District Magistrate a Subdivisional Magistrate a Magistrate of the thref class) specially empowered by the Local Government (8 206), but it may try a case regarding certis offences which has been committed to it for trial by a Civil or Retenue Comprovided however that such offence is triable exclusively by the Court of Session—(5 478) or a case in which the accused has been improperly discharged by a Vagistrate of an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session and the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate has ordered the commitment of the necosit

4 —Preliminary

266 In this Chapter, except in sections 276 and 807, and the fined in Chapter XVIII, the expression "High Court of Court" means a High Court of Judatine established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, or the Government of India Act, 1915, and includes the Chief Courts of Outland Sind, the Court of the Judacial Commissioner of the Control Provinces, and such other Courts as the Governor-General in Court in may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare to be High Courts for the purposes of this Chapter and of Chapter XVIII

The Courts specified here are the same as those specified in S 4 (i) in the Court for the purposes of proceedings against Furgoral definition of High Court for the purposes of proceedings against Furgoral British subjects and persons jointly charged with them in other cases 1 has court in the highest court of criminal appeal or revision or where so such court is established by law, such officer as the Governor General in Cardon and the court is established by law, such officer as the Governor General in Cardon and Cardon a

Trials before High 287 All trials under this Chapter before court to be by jury; at light Court shall be by jury; at left and, notwithstanding anything herein contained, in all creminal cases transferred to a High Court under this Code or under the Letters Patent of any High Court established under the High Court's Act, 1861, or the Government of India Act the trial may, if the High Court so directs, be by jury

Yease can be witheran by a High Court for trill by itself by an east passed under S 254, or the Governor General in Council may direct the tradity of any particular section.

of any particular criminal case from one High Court to another [8, 527], the decimal for the References in Chapter WIII to the Sessions Judge shall be decimal for the English of the the References of the trail in Rangson of any person under the provisions of the Chipf to be references to the High Court at Rangson. The provision of the References in which Turopean British subjects required Sessions Judges to transfer cases in which Turopean British subjects were concerned (eld section 449) has now disappeared.

C (AF XAIII TRIALS BLFORE HIGH COURTS AND SESSIONS COURTS 415 SEC 268

The Indian High Courts Act 1861 is 24 and 25 Vict c 104, and the Government of India Act, 1915 is 5 and 6 Geo V c 61

Trials before Court of Session to be by jury or with assessors.

268 All trials before a Court of Session shall be either by jury, or with the aid of

Ordinarily a trial befor a Court of Session is with the aid of assessors It is only when an order has been passed by the Local Government under S foo that the trial would be by jury

269 that the trial would be by jury

S 536 provides for dealing with trials erroncously held by jury instead of with the aid of as esssors and tice versa. They are not necessarily invalid.

In the Burma Frontier Districts any Irral before a Court of Session, sauwhere the Local Government otherwise directs may at the discretion of the presiding ludge be without jury or resessors (See Reg I of 1935, Sch Cl I)

In a trait with assessors the court consists of the Judge plus the assessors, and if the Judge records evidence after discharging the assessors there is a material irregularity vittating the trial !

269 (1) The Local Government may, by order in the offication of the control of th

(2) The Local Government, by like older, may also declare that, in the case of any district in which the trial of any offence is to be by jury, the trial of such offences shall, if the Judge, on application made to lum of of his own motion, so directs, be by jurors summoned from a special may list, and may revoke or after such order.

(3) When the accused is charged at the same trial with several offences of which some are and some are not triable by , he shall be tried by jury, for such of those offences as are triable by jury and by the Court of Session, with the aid of the purors as assessors, for such of them as are not triable by jury

the previous stration of the Governor General in Council formerly required for an order under sub-section (t) is no longer necessary (see the Devolution

Act, \\\VIII of 1920 S 2 and Sch 1) Particular class of offences

11.5 does not necessarily refer only to the classification of offenees contained in the Penal Code or in the Code of Criminal Procedure, e.g., balable offenees, aniable offenees of Criminal Procedure, e.g., balable offenees on the Code of Criminal Procedure, e.g., balable offenees of Criminal From the Code of Criminal From the Code of Criminal From the Code of Criminal State of Criminal State of Criminal State of Criminal Criminal From the Code of Criminal Tribes, or against women or against public property would afford reasonable ground for a classification of Criminal Cr

<sup>1</sup> Q Lmp v Ram Lal I L R 15 All 136 Emp v Jassukh I L R 43 All 125

ficution, and so would offences connected with an outbreak directed against a certain section of the community 1

Sub-section 3.

If any offence triable with the aid of assessors is tried by jury, the trial shall not on that ground be invalid. If an offence trable by a jury is tweed with the add of assessors the trial shall not, on that ground only, be invalid unless the objection is taken before the Court records the finding-S 336, and see note thereunder

A Sessions Judge has under S 230 a discretion to try simultaneously cases regarding different offences connected in the same transaction, and consequently he can, in one trial try such offences, some of which may be triable by jury and others with the aid of assessors taking a verdict from the jurors, and the opn of

of all the same persons as assessors But when in such a trial the Sessions Judge did not take the opinions of all the jurors as assessors, (S. 300) the consistion and sentence were set as de A. Sessions Judge after he has erroneously taken the verdict of the jury of A. Charten of an offence net tradition. tharge of an offence not triable by jury but with the assistance of the assistance o connot correct his mistake by treating that verdict as opinions delivered his assessors 6 The Bombay High Court has however refused to interfere in such a fave with the verdict holding that the accused should have interposed at the full court of the c so as to require the opinions of the jurors to be taken as assessors individually in regard to the offence so triable and that not having done so it was ten late for him to object and a Full Bench of that Court has held that the appeal in such a case is only on a point of law (5 418), as the trial had been held by fues .

Special Jury.

In Bengal, the Sessions Judges, to whose Courts trial by jury has been extended, (see anti-) have been empowered to hold trails by jurturs summent from the special jury list of offences punishable by death or of any other effects trails by in 7 trable by jury ?

In Madras, a discretion has been given to Sessions Judges to hold trials by special juries for offences for which trial by jury has been ordered by the Local Government *

416

Trial before Court of Session to be con-ducted by Public

270 In every trial before a Court of session the prosecution shall be conducted by Public Prosecutor

Prosecutor Public Prosecutors are appointed by the Governor General in Council or like Local Government generally, or in any case or for any specified class of cases in any local area-$ 492

If a private person instructs a pleader [S 4 (r)] to conduct the prosecutor the Public Prosecutor shall conduct the prosecution, and the pleader so instructed shall act under his direction-S 493

* Q Emp 1 Sami I 1 R 13 Mad 426 Rama Krishna Reddi r Emp 1 L B

<sup>26</sup> Mad 508

Rama Krishna Reddi e Emp 1 1 H 25 Vlad 598

Surja Kutmi, I L. R. 25 Cal. 555
Find a Mayong Bechar I L. R. 33 Bom. 4.3
K. Emp. a Parbin Shunkar I L. R. 25 Bom. 680 Emp. a Mayong I L. R.

N. Emp. a Parbin Shunkar I L. R. 25 Bom. 680 Emp. a Mayong I L. R.

<sup>33</sup> lv m 4°3 Cal Gar 1807 Part I p 478

* Mad Rules &c , No 83

In the absence of the Prosecutor or where no Public Prosecutor has been appointed the District Magnetiute or subject to his control, the Sub Divisional Vigotrate in a apoint in this prison not being an officer of Police below such rank as the Local Government may prescribe, to be the Public Prosecutor for the purpose of any rise (S. 492)

B -Commencement of Proceedings

A Sessions Judge has no power to quively a contantment made to his Court by a competent Magnetrie or by a Cult Court or Revenue Court under S 478. That can be done by the High Court only and only on a point of law [8 215]. But if a ammitment be made by a Magnetrie or other unbortly purporting to exercise powers which were not so conferred the Sessions Judge may, after perusal of the proceedings accept the commitment of the considers that the accused has not been injured thereby unless during the inquiry and before the order of commitment objection was so made on behalf of either the accused or the proceed too to the jurisdiction of the Magnetrie of such objection was so made, he shall quash the commitment and direct a fresh inquiry by a competent Magnetrie—S 531. No order of any Criminal Court of an order of commitment, shall be set aside on the ground that the acquiry in the course of which it was passed tools place in a wrong sessions division district subdivision or local area, unless it appears that such error has in fact occasioned a future of justice—S 531, and note to S. 23.

Any Public Prosecutor may with the consent of the Court, in cases tried by jury befine the return of the verdiet and in other cases before judgment is pronounced withdraw from the prosecution of any person, and upon such with drawal if it is made after a charge has been frimed, he shall be recutifed

(S 494)

271 (1) When the Court is ready to commence the first, commencement of the accused shall appear or be brought before it, and the charge shall be read out in Court and explained to him, and he shall be asked whether he is guilty of the offence charged, or claims to be tried

(2) If the accused plends guilty, the plea shall be recorded, and he may be convicted thereon

If the accused is charged with having been previously convicted so as to aggravate the charge of the substantive offence the charge stating the previous conviction shall not be read out as duritted by $271$. It must be reserved until the accused has been convicted of the subsequent offence, or the jury or the assessors have delivered their verdict or opinion—See S 310

When any person is committed for final without a charge or with an imperfect or enroitous charge, the Court or, in the case of High Court, the Clerk of the Crown, may frame a charge, or add to, or otherwise alter the charge as the case may be—[S 226]. The Court may also alter any charge at any time before the verdict of the jury is returned, or the opinions of the assessors are expressed, every such alteration being read and explained to the accused (S 227), and may either proceed with the trial [S 228], or direct a new trial, or adjourn the trial for such period as may be successary (S 229), but whenever a charge is altered after the commencement of the trial, the prosecutor and the accused shall be allowed to recall or re summon, and examine, with reference to such alteration, any witness who may have been examined—[S 231].

A Sessions Judge is not competent to return a case for trial by the Macris.

trate who has committed it to the Court of Session. He should rather try the case himself, and if, in his opinion, it should have been tried by the Magistrate,

he should point out the error in commitment

At each periodical Session, all persons awaiting trial shall be brought before the Judge in open Court, and, if the Government prosecutor is not prepared to go to trial in any particular case, he should be required to show cause, properly supported, why the accused should not be acquitted and released, the accused himself being also heard in answer to such cause shown S 344 declares that if, from the absence of a witness or any other reasonable cause, it becomes necessary or advisable to postpone the commencement of any trial or to adjourn it, the Court may, by order in writing stating the reasons therefor, postpone or adjourn the same on such terms as it thinks fit, and for such time as it considers reasonable, and may by a warrant remand the accused, if in custody Every order made under this section by a Court other than a High Court shall be in writing signed by the presiding Judge S 144 Sessions Judges are reminded that trials must not be too lightly postponed. It shall always be borne in mind that a further detention of an accused person in jail for perhaps two months if in itself no trivial infliction, and is only justified when there is appriently god case against the prisoner and when the Judge is satisfied that, for the ends of justice, it is necessary to postpone the trial

A Sessions Judge is not authorized to postpone, to a subsequent Sessi fi cases of which he has received notice before the commencement of the Session next ensuing, on the ground that the number of days which he has assigned for that particular Session have been filled up The number of days devoted to Sessions duties must depend upon the number of cases committed in due time All commitments of which he receives timely notice before the commencement of a Session should be disposed of at that Session, unless of eourse, there is

some good reason for postponement in a particular instance 1

Charge shall be read out and explained

This should appear on the face of the proceedings

Sub-section 2.

The accused person should plead to the charge by his own mouth, and not through his pleader 2

If the accused pleads guilty, it is of the highest importance to show that the charge has been properly explained. Thus where the accused pleads guilty is stating that he did kill A. B., as charged, it would not amount to pleading guilty and the state of the state o of the murder of A B, because the mere killing or enusing the death of A B would not up and because the mere killing or enusing the death of A B would not in itself constitute that offence Before the accused can be so convicted, it must be shown that he admitted that he intended to cause the death of A B, or did so with a knowledge such as is described in S 300 Penal Cides

No inference can be drawn from a plen if it does not amount to a distinct confession of the charge, the charge must be proved So, where the prisoner admitted that he had killed his wife, but added that at the time he was not in his right mind, a Judge should proceed to hold a regular trial 5 So where the accused has stated that he had killed his wife in consequence of finding her in an act of adulters on the previous day, he cannot be contacted as if he had plended guilty . It is the duty of the Court to try whether the provention disclosed as vocation disclosed was sufficiently grave and sudden so as to reduce the offence

<sup>11-- 6 15</sup> ル (* c) 8C L R, 471 In re Gopal Dhanuk I L. R 7 Cal 9 II R 9 Mad , 61 , (s c) Weir, 93 , Garrage

fad Jur 136 " Netai Luskar v Q Emp. I L. R., 11 Cat. 410

If the prisoner plends guilty to a specific charge, he cannot, on such a convicted of any other offence. Thus if he plends guilty to a charge of reaches he cannot be convicted of the lesser offence of capable homicale not amounts, to murder. If there are circumstances given in evidence before the committee Magistrate which apparently reduce the offence the Sessions Judge, in exercise of his discretion should hold the trial and take the serdict of the tury !

Plea shall be recorded

This does not contemplate that the accused shall be examined at Irreth except to explain his plea

He may be convicted thereon,

If the prisoner pleads guilty and the evidence before the committee Magistrate raises great doubt whether, at the time of committing the offence, Ir was, by reason of unsoundness of mind inerprible of knowing the nature of the act charged or that he was doing what was wrong or contrary to law, the Sessions Judge should not convict on that plea he should proceed with the trial recording the evidence and taking the verdict of the jury or the opini as of the assessors 3

So also if the prisoner pleads guilty to the charge of a minor effence, he should not necessarily be convicted of that offence. It may be sometimes proper sary to proceed with the trial as for instance when a person is account of I size intentionally given false evidence by making statements which are come of one of the other and he may plead guilty of living falsely made one a tappage Here the two statements may be both false, and because the present appleaded gults to one charge he should not of necessity be nequitived company and present the Looking to the special nature of such charges the prisoner out of the allowed to elect which statement he shall admit to be false the fact thanks and be tried as under S 272 it is optional with the Court to do of

So also if in a trial for murder, the prisoner pleads guilty of end eide not amounting to murder or voluntarily causing grievous I n, r. y r. Prosecutor may with the consent of the Court, withdraw from the practice in which ease such withdrawal if consented to will result in an ung sal ef fie charge (S 240)

ge 15 240 ]

If the accused person pleads guilty, he may be convicted then a start If the accused person pieaus gaint, he may be dealing a fact of the thing to be tried (S 272) the prisoner confesses in the course of the thin, the sessions Judge cannot eon ict him on such confession without tak to the tribut Sessions judge cannot content including that confession should be less bit to the of the jury an the evident. This would also apply to the assessed with the first fan

S 30 of the Evidence Act, I of 1872 declares that when must be than S 30 of the Exidence Act, and a confession made 17 and thin one are being tried for the same offence, and a confession made 17 and the first one are being tricu to the some other of such persons is your flench persons affecting h mself and some other of such persons is your the fauri persons affecting a meet time some confession as against such tisy the truth as my take into consideration such coursesons to make the person who made it. It not infrequently from ne well as against the person who made it. It not infrequently from that ne person committed for trial by the Court of Session who has no feet that infreperson committed for trial by the Court or persons and the state of the act of the state of the others. If he is considered and admissible at the trial of the confession is madmissible at the trial of the confession is madmissible at the trial of the confession is the confession is the confession in the confession in the confession is the confession in the c end, and his confession is monatored. But it has happened if I r le is no longer being jointly tried with them. But it has happened if I r le is no decretion to allow the confession. Judge has considered that he has a discretion to allow the water that he has a discretion to allow the water that he has a discretion to allow the water that he was to find a ground discretiful [t] on the second discretiful [t] [t] on the second discretifu Judge has consider I that he had be only if the accused play that I till on proceed. Such discretion would be only if the accused play that I till on the second such discretion will be used to be accused by the second such as the second such of a loser degree of the offence charged and this was not a fifth in con-

I Mad H Ct Sept 14 1881 Weir 9 8

* Emp v Vaimbilee I I R 5 Cat 8 6 Q * Cheyi p.- 7 All H C *

case himself, and if, in his opinion, it should have been tried by the Magistrate, he should point out the error in commitment

At each periodical Session, all persons awaiting trial shall be brought before the Judge in open Court, and, if the Government prosecutor is not prepared to go to trial in any particular case, he should be required to show cause, properly supported, why the accused should not be acquitted and released, the accused himself being also heard in answer to such cause shown S 344 declares that if from the absence of a witness or any other reasonable cause, it becomes necessary or advisable to postpone the commencement of any trial or to adjourn it the Court may, by order in writing stating the reasons therefor, postpone or adjourn the same on such terms as it thinks fit, and for such time as it considers reasonable, and may by a warrant remand the accused if in custody Even order made under this section by a Court other than a High Court shall be in writing signed by the presiding Judge S 344 Sessions Judges are remained that trials must not be too lightly postponed. It shall always be borne in model to the following the state of the that a further detention of an accused person in juil for perhaps two months is in itself no trivial infliction, and is only justified when there is apparelly sed case, against the prisoner, and when the Judge is satisfied that, for the ends of justice, it is necessary to postpone the trial

\ Sessions Judge is not authorized to postpone, to a subsequent Session cases of which he has received notice before the commencement of the Session next ensuing on the ground that the number of days which he has ass gned for that particular Session have been filled up The number of days devoted to Sessions duties must depend upon the number of cases committed in due tum All commitments of which he receives timely notice before the commencement of a Session should be disposed of at that Session, unless of course, there is

some good reason for postponement in a particular instance 1

Charge shall be read out and explained

This should appear on the face of the proceedings

Sub-section 2.

The accused person should plend to the charge by his own mouth, and not through his pleader 2

If the accused pleads guilty, it is of the highest importance to show that the charge has been properly explained. Thus, where the accused pleads guily by stating that he did kill A B, as charged, it would not amount to pleading 50 fthe murder of A B. of the murder of A B, because the mere killing or causing the deals of A B would not in the least of the deals of the deal A B would not in itself constitute that offence Before the accused can be to convicted it must be shown that he admitted that he intended to cause the dath of A B, or did so with a knowledge such as is described in S 300, Penal C e

No inference can be drawn from a plen if it does not amount to a said confession of the charge, the charge must be proved $

So, where the prisoner admitted that he had killed his wife, but added that at the time he was not in his right mind, a Judge should proceed to hold a regular trial 3

So where the accused has stated that he had killed his wife in consequence of finding her in an act of adultery on the previous day, he cannot be conseid as it he had pleaded guilty. It is the duty of the Court to try whether the program disclosed was a sufficient to the court of the Court to try whether the program disclosed to the court of the Court to try whether the program of the Court to try whether the program of the Court to try whether the program of the Court to try whether the program of the Court to try whether the court to try whet vocation disclosed was sufficiently grave and sudden so as to reduce the offence

<sup>17-- 0-15</sup> 7 Cal 96 (s c) 8 C L R, 471 5 Cal 826 In re Gopal Dhanuk I L. R 7 Cal of Emp. I L R 9 Mad, 61, (8 c) Weir 93, Garaje

Mad II Ct Pro, Dec 14 1874 7 Mad Jur 136 Q v Cheyt Ram 5 All H C R 110 Setai Luskar v Q Emp, I L R., 11 Cal., 410

If the prisoner plends guilty to a specific charge, he cannot, on such plen he convicted of any other offence. Thus if he pleads guilty to a charge of murder, he cannot be consicted of the lesser offence of culpible homicide not amounting to murder. If there are circumstances given in evidence before the committing Magistrate which apparently reduce the offence the Sessions Judge, in exercise of his discretion should hold the trial and take the verdict of the jury t

Plea shall be recorded

This does not contemplate that the accused shall be examined at length except to explain his plea

He may be convicted thereon.

If the prisoner pleads guilts and the evidence before the committing Magistrate raises great doubt whether at the time of committing the offence, he was, by reason of unsoundness of mind meapable of knowing the nature of the act charged or that he was doing what was wrong or contrary to law, the Sessions Judge should not convict on that plea he should proceed with the trial, recording the evidence and taking the verdict of the jury or the apinions of the assessors 2

So also if the prisoner pleads guilty to the charge of a minor offence, he should not necessarily be convicted of that offence. It may be sometimes neces sary to proceed with the trial as for instance when a person is accused of having intentionally given false evidence by making statements which are contradictory one of the other and he may plead guilty of having falsely made one statement Here the two statements may be both false, and because the prisoner has pleaded guilty to one charge he should not of necessity be acquitted of the other Looking to the special nature of such charges the prisoner ought not to be allowed to elect which statement he shall admit to be false, the fact should rather be tried as under S 272 it is optional with the Court to do so a

So also if in a trial for murder, the prisoner pleads guilty of culpable home cide not amounting to murder or soluntarily causing griesous hurt, the Public Prosecutor may with the consent of the Court withdraw from the prosecution. in which case such withdrawal if consented to will result in an acquittal of the

charge (S 240)

If the accused person pleads guilty he may be convicted thereon without choosing jurors or assessors. If however, after plending not guilty and claim ing to be tried (S 272) the prisoner confesses in the course of the trial, the Sessions Judge cannot convict him on such confession without taking the verdict of the jury. All the evidence including that confession should be laid before the jury for their verdict. This would also apply to the assessors where that form of trial is adopted

S 30 of the Evidence Act I of 1872, declares that when more persons than one are being tried for the same offence and a confession made by one of such persons affecting himself and some other of such persons is proved, the Court may take into consideration such confession as against such other person as well as against the person who made it. It not infrequently happens that a person committed for trial by the Court of Session who has made such a confes sion, pleads guilty when placed before the Sessions Court on his trial with others. If he is convicted and sentenced on his plea of guilty, his trial is at an end and his confession is madmissible at the trial of the others, for he is no longer being jointly tried with them. But it has happened that the Sessions Judge has considered that he has a discretion to allow the trial of all of them to proceed Such discretion would be only if the accused pleader guilty to a cho ge of a laser degree of the offence charged and this was not ac ented by the Public

<sup>1</sup> Mad H Ct Sept 14 1881 Weir 928
1 Imp v Namhlee I R 5 Cat 825 Q v Cheyt Ram 5 All H C R 110
2 N R C C L No 73

Prosecutor in that case the Sessions Judge cannot convict on the plea of guilty The trial does not terminate until the accused has been connected or requitted The question whether under such circumstances his confession would be admissible as against others committed for trial with him has arisen in several reported cases? in which it has be in held that it could not b properly held that accused who confessed before a Magistrate and had pleaded guilty before the Sessions Court was under trial with others so as to make that confession and admissible under S 30 Evidence Act, against them

If the accused refuses to, or does not plead, or if he claims to be tried, the Court shall proceed to choose jurors or assessors as hereinafter direct or claim to be tried

ed and to try the case Provided that, subject to the right of objection hereinalter

Trial by same jury or assessors of several offenders in succes

SIOT

mentioned, the same jury may try, or the same assessors may aid in the trial of, as many accused persons successively as the Court thinks

If the prisoner plends not guilty he must be tried, he ennot be consided at once on a contess in made to i Magistrate 2. If there is no evidence slide for the presentation that for the prosecution the prisoner should be called upon to plend to the charge and if he pleads not guilty the Judge should instruct the jury or assessors that they are bound to find him not guilty. The accused person should not be examined by the Sessions Judge simedately after the has been called upon to plend if his plea he not guilty. An examination under this Code is for the please of the pleas purpose of enabling the accused to explain any circumstance appearing in the dence against him and therefore he cannot be examined before there is any evidence before the Court which he may be called upon to explain -See 5 34

When the accused person makes no answer to the inquiry whether he s guilty or has any defence to male, it should be ascertained whether he is obther nately mute or dumb, extends to mane, it should be ascertained whether are mute or dumb, extends to the Det 11 he be found to be obstrately it be the plet of not guitty should be recorded and the trial should proceed. It is be found to be dured to the country of the country o be found to be dumb ex valuatione Der an inquiry should be made as to whether the same, or instantone Der an inquiry should be made as to whether the is same, or instantone or incapable of being tired. If found same a plea of some guilty should be recorded and the trial should proceed but if found to be flushed the proceedure laid down in Chapter XXI should be followed. See also $ 34.

The offence of causing hurt or grievous hurt punishable under Ss 324 375 and 335 I P C, which are all trible by a Court of Session ma) with the permission of that Court of the trial be for any such offence before it be con pounded by the person to whom the hurt was caused and so may an abetment of nttempt to commit such an offence. The composition shall have the effect of an acquittal (5 345)

Proviso

This means that the trial should follow that just held, that is that at the conclusion of one trial, the same jury or the same assessors may proceed to try the accused in the next case. Where there were two trials in which the contending parties were the accused in each case the Sessions Judge was not competent to adjourn the first trail at its conclusion, and, without taking a verdict of the jury in that case to proceed with the same jury to try the second case, and at the conclusion of that mal to sum up simultaneously in both cases 1

I Q Emp 1 Pahuji I R 19 Bom 195 Venkalasami t Q I L R 7 Wat 102 Q Tmp r Lakstmayya Pandarun I I R 22 Mai 401 Q Imp 1 Patha I L R 17 All 52 Q Tmp r Patha I I R 32 Mai 401 Q Imp 1 Patha I L Paracellin R 50 Q Imp r Ciusa Paracellin R 50 C R 479 4 Mai I I C R 40p xxxxx (s c) Weir 94<sup>8</sup> • Sh De 3 Agra 85 • Sh De 3 Agra 85

(1) In trials before the High Court, when it appears to the High Court, at any time before the commeneement of the trial of the person charged, tamable charges. that any charge or any portion thereof is clearly unsustainable, the Judge may make on the charge an entry to that effect "

(2) Such entry shall have the effect of staying proceedings upon the clarge or portion of the charge, as the Effect of entry case may be

The High Court cannot as a Court of Revision interfere with an entry made under S 273 - S 439 But it is not no nequital or a bar to further proceedings - S 403 Explin

In a Sess ons trial the Public Prosecutor may, with the consent of the Court at any time withdraw from the prosecution of any person and if a charge has been framed he shall be acquitted—($\( 494\)). A case regarding an offence which is compoundable may be compounded with the leave of the Ses sions Judge holding the trial (5 345 (5))

C -Choosing a Jury

(1) In trials before the High Court the mry shall Number of jury consist of nine persons

(2) In trials by pury before the Court of Session the jury shill consist of such uneven number, not being less than five or more than nine, as the Local Government, by order appliesble to any particular district or to any particular class of offences in that district, may direct

Provided that where an accused person is charged with an offence punishable with death, the jury shall consist of not less than seven persons and, if possible, of nine persons

As a rule all trials before a High Court are by jury, it is only when a High Court acts in exercise of the discretion given by S 267 that a trial would be held otherwise S5 312 318 provide for the preparation of a list of jurors for such Court and for summoning jurors

There has been a change of the law here The old law allowed the number of the jury, fixed by the Local Government to vary from three to nine. The section has been amended by Act No XII of 1923 S 13, and the minimum number is now five while in capital cases the minimum shall be seven, and if practicable the jury shall consist of nine persons. For the most part under the old law Local Governments had fixed five as the number of jurors

The jurors for the trial must be of the number directed by Government under S 274 A trial held by a greater number was declared to be illegal as the Court was not properly constituted and the error was not curable by S 5373

S 276 proviso thirdly formerly referred to the presidency towns only Thi has been amended by Act No AVIII of 1923 S 77, and the provision for select tion of jurors from the special jury list applies to all trials before H gh Courts sitting at their usual head quarters in cases punishable with death or in wh h a Judge of the High Court so directs

(1) In a trial by jury before the High Court or Court of Session of a person who has been found under Jury for trial of the provisions of this Code to be an European European and Indian or Indian British subject, a majority of the British subjects and others jury shall, if such person before the first juror is called and accepted so requires, consist, in the ease of an European British subject, of persons who are Europeans or Americans and in the case of an Indian British subject, of Indians

(2) In any such trial by jury of a person who has been found under the provisions of this Code to be an European (other than an European British subject) or an American, a majority of the jury shall if practicable and if such European or American lefore the first juror is called and accepted so requires, consist of persons who are Europeans or Americans

This section was substituted for the old section by the Criminal Lan Amend ment Act Aff of 1923 S 14

For a claim to be dealt with as an European British subject find an Bn h subject European or American see Chapter XLIVA The application of the provisions of this section to a person not entitled to its benefits does not invalidate the trial if such person does not object Rejection t on of a clam to be dealt with as a member of one of the particular classes mentioned forms a ground of appeal againsts the sentence (S 5 8A (1)) but a certain cases the claim shall be deemed to have been waved (S 528B)

The jurors shall be chosen by lot from the persons 276 summoned to act as such in such manner a the High Court may time to time by rule Jurors to be chosen by lot. direct

Provided that—

first, pending the issue under this section of rules for any Court, the practice now prevail practice Existing ing in such Court in respect to maintained the choosing of jurors shall be followed, secondly, in case of a deficiency of persons summoned the number of purors required may, persons not sum moned when el gible with the leave of the Court, le chosen from such other persons as may be present thirdly, in a trial before any High Court in the town which trials before special is the usual place of sitting of jurors. such High Court.

- (a) if the accused person is charged with having committed an offence punishable with death, or
- (b) if in any other circ a Judge of the High Court so directs, the jurys shall be chosen from the special jury list hereinafter prescribed, and fourthly, in any district for which the Local Government has declared that the trial of certain offences may be by special jury, the jurors shall, in any case in which the Judge so directs, be chosen from the special jury hist prescribed in section 325

The term High Court used in this section is is defined in S 4 (f), is this section together with S 307 is excepted by S 266 from the more limited meaning generally applied to it throughout this Climpter H may therefore mean the highest Court of Crimital Appeal or Revision in a focal area and not necessarily a Chartered High Court or a Chief Court.

The reason for this probably is that the matter provided for is not judicial and part of a Irial, and so might b dealt with by a High Court not within this definition

Subject to the right of objection, the same jury may try as many accused persons successively as a Court may think fil-(S 272)

- 277 (1) As each juror is chosen, his name shall be called aloud, and, upon his appearance, the necused shall be asked if he objects to be tried by such juror
  - (2) Objection may then be taken to such juror by the accused or by the procedutor, and the grounds of objection to jurors. (citing shall be stated

Provided that, in the High Court, objections without grounds objections without grounds stated shall be allowed to the number of eight on behalf of the person or all the persons charged

- 278. Any objection triken to a juror on any of the following grounds, if made out to the satisfaction of the Court, shall be allowed
  - (a) some presumed or actual partiality in the juror;
  - (b) some personal ground, such as alienage, deficiency in the qualification required by any law or rule baying the force of law for the time being in force, or being under the age of twenty-one or above the age of sixty years,
  - (c) his having by habit or religious vows relinquished all eare of worldly affairs;
  - (d) his holding any office in or under the Court;

424

CHAP XXIII Seq 284

(e) his executing any duties of Police or being entravied with police duties.

(f) his having been convicted of any offence which, in the opimon of the Court, renders him unfit to serve on the jury , (g) his inability to understand the language in which the evidence is given or when such evidence is inter preted the language in which it is interpreted, (h) any other cucumstance which, in the ommon of the Court, renders lum improper as a juror (1) Every objection taken to a junor shall be decided by the Court, and such decision shall be record Decision of object tion

ed and be final (2) If the objection is allowed, the place of such jurer shall be supplied by any other puror attending in ole lucat against whom dunce to a summons and chosen in manner provided by section 276, or if there is no such objection allowed other juror present then by any other person present in the Court whose name is on the list of purers, or whom the Court considers a proper person to serve on the jury Provided that no objection to such more or other person b taken under section 278 and allowed

(1) When the jurors have been chosen, they shall ap-280 point one of their number to be fort Foreman of Jury man (2) The foreman shall preside in the debates of the jury, deli ver the verdiet of the pury, and ask any information from the Court that is required by the pury or any of the incors

(3) If a majority of the jury do not, within such time as the Judge thinks reasonable, agree in the appointment of a foreman he shall be appointed by the Court

When the foremen has been appointed, the purors shall be sworn under the Indian Oaths Act, 1679 Swearing of Jurors (1) If, in the course of a trial by jury, at any time before the return of the verdict, any puror, front any sufficient cause, is presented from attend Procedure when jurge ceases to attend. ing throughout the trial, or if any juror absent himself, and it is not preciseable to enforce his attendance, or if it appears that any juror is unable to understand the language of which the evidence is given, or, when such evidence is interpreted the language or when the language of the language the language in which it is interpreted, a new mirer shall be added or the jury shall be discharged and a new jury chosen

(2) In each of such cases the trial shall commence anew

Failure to attend without sufficient cause rinders a juror ilable to a fine not exceeding one hundred Runces-S 332

Unable to undertand the languages &c

This has been interpreted to include the ease of a jurior who was deaf and partly blind. When this became known to the Sessions Judge, he stopped the trial and recommenced a fresh trial with another jury !

In one case only has it ben considered whether Ss 282 and 283 exhaust the circumstances in which a jury can be discharged and the trial be commenced The Calcutta High Court held (pr Bucklash and Cusing J. J.), that a Sessions Judge has inherent power before the verdict, to discharge the jury for misconduct or other similar and sufficient ground, but the power is not to be used unless the Judge has satisfied himself, by such inquiry as in the circums tances he can adopt, that reasonable grounds exist for exercising it 2. To argue otherwise would involve 'the proposition that whatever the stage of the trial may be, however gross the misconduct of the jury, and however patent to everybody concerned it may appear there is no remedy, but that the trial must continge to run its course to its conclusion, when it is submitted, it will be open to the presiding Judge to submit the case to the High Court under section 307 So fireged a procedure would only bring the administration of justice into disrepute ' The point had arisen in another case,2 but was not decided as the Advocate-General had entered a nolle proseque

The Judge may also discharge the mry whenever Discharge of jury the prisoner becomes meapable of remainin case of sickness of ing at the bar DESSONET

A trial may be adjourned if from the absence of a witness or any other reasonable cause the Sessions Judge considers it necessary or advisable to do so, stating in an order in writing his reasons for doing so, but the Sessions Judge cannot on account of the absence of a witness discharge the jury and direct a fresh trial to be held. Such an order was set aside, and the Sessions Judge was directed to proceed with the trial from the stage at which he had discharged the jury 4

D -Choosing Assessors

284 When the trial is to be held with the aid of assessors, not less than three and, if practicable, four shall how Assessors be chosen from the persons summoned to act chosen

as such The law does not, as in the case of jurors, provide for objections being made to an assessor. The choice of jurors is by lot, but of assessors it is entirely with the Sessions Judge who, in the exercise of this power, should pay every consideration to any reasonable objection raised The same assessors may aid in the trials of as many persons successively as the Court thinks fit -S 272 For special provisions in regard to assessors where European British subjects are under trial see S 284A Where one of two assessors, summoned to assist in a trial, was absent on the day the trial opened, and the Judge ordered another person not on the official list of assessors to act as assessor, the trial was illegal

I Q. Emp v Virasamı I L. R. 19 Mad. 375 * Rahım Shekh v Emp. I L. R. 30 Cal. 372 * Emp. v Oh Muhammad 7 Cal W N. xxxx * Puttaswamy Anandapya Bom. II Ct., Nov. 29, 1902 * Emp. v Man Singh, I L. R., 33 MH. 370. Balak Singh v K. Emp., 3 Pat. L 1. 141.

284A Assessors for trial of European and Indian

(1) In a trial with the aid of assessors of a person who has been found under the provisions of this Code to be an European or Indian British subject, if the European or Indian British subject British subjects and others accused, or, where there are several European British subjects accused or several Indian British subjects accused

all of them jointly, before the first assessor is chosen so require, all the assessors shall, in the ease of European British subjects, be persons who are Europeans or Americans or, in the case of Indian British subjects, be Indians

(2) In a trial with the aid of assessors of a person who has been found under the provisions of this Code to be an European (other than an European British subject) or an American, all the assessors shall, if practicable and if such European or American be fore the first assessor is chosen so requires, be persons who are Europeans or Americans

This section is new, and was introduced by S 16 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 111 of 1923, "an Act to provide for the removal of certain existing discriminations between European British subjects and Indians in creating minal trials and proceedings" Under the Code prior to amendment S 430 lad down that where the accused was an European British subject he could in a trial with assessors, before the first assessor was appointed, claim to be tried by a mixed jury, not less than half of the members of which should be Europeani or Americans, or, instead of claiming a mixed jury, could require that not less than half the assessors should be Europeans or Americans, if there were several Europeans jointly accused they could jointly require that not less than half the assessors should be Europeans or Americans

The new law places European British and Indian subjects on the same for ing S 284A must be read with Chapter XLIVA which enables a claim to made by an accused person to be dealt with as an Furopean British subject of an Indian British subject, as the case may be When the claim is allowed under that Chapter then the accused can receive the benefit of S 2841 that is to say, an Furopean British subject can claim for if there are more than one accused, all of them can jointly claim) that all the assessors shall be European British subjects, while an Indian British subject can make a like chim 5 millarly Furnments (who are and a subject can make a like chim larly Furopeans (who are not British subjects) and Americans can claim

like privilege

for similar provisions in regard to trial by jury see $ 275 and for procedure where persons of different nationality are jointly accused see $ 2851 Where a claim is made under $ 2864 Where $ claim is made under S 284A, by a European, American or Indian respective persons jointly accused who are not Europeans, American or Indians respective? can claim a separate trial

(I) If, in the course of a trial with the aid of ac es sors, at any time before the finding, and Procedure when assessor is, from any sufficient cause, prevent assessor is unable to attend. ed from attending throughout the trial, or absents himself, and it is not practicable to enforce his attendance, the trial shall proceed with the aid of the other assessor of assessors.

(2) If all the assessors are presented from attending, or absent themselves, the proceeding shall be staved, and a new trial shall be held with the aid of fresh assessors

The trial must commence with the Court properly constituted by the choosing of assessors competent and sufficient in number to aid in the trial. So where in the course of the trial it became known that one of the two assesors was so deaf as to be incapable of understanding the proceedings, the proceedings were quashed and a new trial was ordered, on the ground that the trial had been neld practically with only one assessor! Similarly, when after two assessors had been chosen and before further proceedings the attendance of one was excused as he was ill a re trial was ordered as it was field the trial had been with only one assessor for it had not been commenced before the attendance of the other assessor had been dispensed with 2 An assessor failing without lawful excuse, to attend after an adjournment of the Court after being ordered to attend is linkle by order of the Court of Session to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees or in default of recovery of the fine imposed to be imprisoned by the order of the same Court in the Civil Jul for the term of fifteen days, unless such fine is paid before the end of that term -S 332 The law contemplates the continuous attendance of one assessor at least

Where this had not been observed in fresh trial was ordered a

If an assessor is absent during any part of the trial, he cences to be an assessor and cannot afterwards set as such.4 When one assessor was absent during the trial and afterwards resumed his place and delivered his opinion on the entire evidence BESSON and BHAISHYAM AVYANCER II held that this was an irregularity which was not shown to have in fact occasioned a failure of justice and was therefore cured by S 537 Davies J held contra, that the conviction was bad as it had been obtained it a trial held with two assessors one of whom was not present during part of the trial and therefore it was not held by a competent Court * The minimum number of assessors is now three (S 254)

DD -Joint trials

285A In any case in which an European or American is ac-

Trial of European or Indian British subject or European or Ameri can jointly accused with others

ensed jointly with a person not being an European or American, or an Indian British subject is accused jointly with a person not being an Indian, and such European, Indian

British subject or American is committed for trial before a Court of Session, he and such other person may be tried together, but if he requires to be tried in accordance with the provisions of section 275 or section 281A and is so tried, and the other person accused requires to be tried separately, such other person shall be tried separately in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter

&lt;sup>1</sup> Mad II Ct Pro July 22 1869 Q Emp 1 Babu Lal I L R 21 All 106 <sup>2</sup> Q Emp 1 Bustiano I L R 15 Bom 514 K Emp 1 Jayram I L R 25 Bom

Q Emp t Muhammal Mahmul Khan I 1 R t3 All 337
 K Emp v Mes eruddi i Shikdar ( Cul W N 715
 K Emp t Tirumil Red li 1 I R 24 M d 523

This section was inserted by Act No All of 1923, S 17 It supplement Ss 275 and 284A If under these sections a claim has been made by a persor of one nationality to be tried by a specially constituted jury or by assessors of his own nationality, a person jointly accused, who is of a different nationally may claim a separate trial for claims to be dealt with as an European of Indian British subject, or as an European (other than a British subject) or American see Chapter XLIVA The words found under the provisus of this Code which occur in Ss 275 and 284A refer to a claim preferred and admitted under that Chapter If no claim has been admitted Sa 275 and 244 do not come into operation the delaw as to a claim to be tred separable to the company of the separable to the separable was contrined in S 45 which has been repealed

E Trial to close of cases for Prosecution and Defence

(1) When the jurors or assessors have been chosen Opening case for the prosecutor shall open his case by reading from the Indian Penal Code or other law the description of the offence charged, and stating shortly by what en dence he expects, to prove the guilt of the necused

(2) The prosecutor shall then examine! Examination

witnesses.

Various orders have been assued by the High Courts in regard to the property ation of an order sheet or a record of the proceedings of a Court during a trail If the incused is charged with having been previously convicted so at the The trate the substantine offence charg I that part of the charge stating it president consistent shall not be read out in Court as direct d by 200 urt the accused his been convicted of the subsequent offence or the jury delivered at delivered their verdet, or the opinions of the assessors have been recorded

All witnesses shall be examined on outh or affirmation in the form preserved (S 210)

by the High Court-Indian Onths Act (\ of 1873) S 5

The evidence of each witness shall be taken down in writing in the language of the Court by the Sessions Judge or in his presence and herring and under his personal direction and superintendence and shall be signed by him when the evidence of such witness is given in English the Sessions Judge may be it down in that language with his own hand and unless the accused b familiar with Inglish or the language of the Court is English on authenticated trially tion of such evidence in the language of the Court shall form part of the regard.

When the evidence in the language of the Court shall form part of the or the

When the evidence is given in a language which is not the language of the Court or English the Sessions Judge may take it down in that language or cause it to be tallen down in that language and a translation in English or the language of the Court shall form part of the record

In cases in which the cyclone is not taken down in writing by the Sess hi Judge he shall as the examination of each witness proceeds make a recommendation of the substance examination of each witness proceeds make a recommendation dum of the substance of what such witness proceeds make and such memorandom shall be written and s good by the Sessens Judge with his own hand and shall form part of the record

If the bessions Judge is prevented from making a memorandum as above required he shall record the revion of his mability to make it-5 356

Under S 357, the I ceal Government may direct that the evidence of sh nesses given before a Sessions Judge may be taken down by him in English Evidence shall not ordinarily be taken down by him in the form of question and wer, but in the form of question has niswer, but in the form of a narrative But a Sessions Judge may in a discretion take done discretion take down or cause to be taken down, any particular question or answer—S 359

As the evidence of each witness so taken down is completed, it shall be read over to him in the presence of the accused, if in attendance, or of his pleader, if he appears by pleader, and shall, if necessary, he corrected. If the witness debits the correctness of any part of the evidence, when the same is fend over to him the Sessions Judge may instead of correcting the evidence, make a memorandum of the objection mad to it by the witness, and shall add such remarks as he thinks necessary

If the evidence is taken down in a language different from that in which it has been given and the witness does not understand the language in which it is taken down the evidence so tallen diwn shill be interpreted to him in the language in which it was given or in a language which he understands-5 360

S 361 provides for the interpretation of evidence given in a language not understood by the accused or his pleader

The witnesses must be examined orally if present. The pleader for the defence cannot consent to have the evidence before the Magistrate read without any formal examination in-chief to be followed by a cross-examination A new trial however was not ordered as the prisoner had not been prejudiced through the course has ng been erroneously suggested by his legal adviser. It is the duty of the Sessions Judge to examine all the witnesses sent up by the committing Magistrate unless he has good and sufficient reason, on the representation of the Public Prosecut r or some other person charged with the prosecution to believe that any witness has come into the Court house with the determination to give false evidence? If the pressoner is undefended the Ses sions Judge is bound to load at the deposition of any witness appearing on the calendar as a witness for the Crown and not called on behalf of the Crown or tendered for cross-examination in order to ascertain whether he should not himself take action under 5 540 of this Code by eathing the witness himself 3

It is the duty of the Prosecutor to bring before the Court all persons who are alleged or are known to have knowledge of the facts constituting the offence charged If all persons, who are proved to be connected with the transaction, are not called by the Prosecutor, without sufficient cause shown, the Court may properly draw an inference adverse to the prosecution. The only thing that can relieve the prosecution for calling such witnesses is a reasonable belief that if called they will not speak the truth A Public Prosecutor should not refuse to call and put into the witness box for cross examination any truthful witness, mercly because the evidence of such witness might, in some respects, be favour able to the defence If a Public Prosecutor is of opinion that a witness is a false witness or is likely to give false evidence if put into the witness box, he is not bound to call that witness or to tender him for cross-examination

The Public Prosecutor cannot demand as of right that any person shall be called as a witness who has not been examined by the committing Magistrate either before commitment or, under S 219 after it. But the Court may call and examine such a witness if it considers it to be necessary in the ends of iustice 7

All the persons who are alleged or are known to have knowledge of the facts ought to be brought before the Court and examined ft is not a good reason for not calling witnesses or tendering them for cross-examination, that the police officer who had charge of the case before the Magistrate did not wish them to be examined, and the Magistrate had nevertheless proceeded to examine them !

| Subbis Q Imp I L R 9 Mad 83 (s c) Wer 934 | Q Emp : Bankhandi I L R 15 All 6 (s c) All W N 1892 P 114 | Q Emp : Driga I L R 17 All 84 (s c) All W N 1894 P 7(F B) | Q Emp : Ram Saha: Lall I L R 10 Cal 1070 Ram Runjan Ray : Emp 1 1 R 42 Cal 422

Cal 1-1 (s c) to Cal L R 151 All 81 (s c) All W N 1894 p 7 O Imp v

R 14 VII 212

The jurors or assessors may put any question to the witnesses through t by leave of, the Judge, which the Judge himself might put, and which he con siders proper -Evidence Act, 1 of 1872, S 166

Examination of accused before Magistrate to be evidence

287 The examination of the accuse duly recorded by or before the committing Magistrate shall be tendered by the prosecutor and read as evidence

The examination of an accused person may be either in the course of the inquiry before the committing Magistrate for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in evidence against him (S 342), or state ment or confession coluntarily made by him to a Magistrate before the com mencement of the inquiry and in the course of an investigation by the Police-(5 164)

From the use of the words "by or before the committing Magistrate 5 287 would not apply to a statement or confession recorded under 5 164 by another Magistrate But such statement or confession would, nevertheless be recurable in evidence if put in as it should be

The words committing Vagistrate men the Magistrate who held the inquiry on the proceedings of which the commitment was made. So where the Magistrate who held the inquiry passed an order of discharge and a supersit Court under S 436 (now 437) ordered a commitment it was held that S 25 was not inoperative 2

Whenever any document is produced before any Court purporting to be a statement or confession made by any prisoner or accused person, taken on accordance with I'my, and purporting to be signed by any Magistrate, the Court shall pressure that the details. shall presume that the document is genuine that any statements as to the circums i nees under which it was taken, purporting to be made by the person age it, are true, and that such statement or confession was duly taken - Endence Act I of 1872 S 80

S 24 of the Evidence Act I of 1872, lays down that a confession caused by an inducement threat or promise proceeding from a person in authority in incleant. In a Bombay case, the question arose whether a statement duly mental and the proceeding from the processing the pro corded by the committing Vigistrate which amounted to a confession was gaterned by S 287 of this Code or by S 24 of the Evidence Act. There was the Court pointed out, some difficulty in reconciling the two provisions in the case of a statement amounter the last and Art of a statement amounting to a confession to which S 24 of the Evidence Att applied The point was not decided as the Court found that the appeal not entitled to succeed upon another and independent point, the Court assumed that for the purposes of the crise, S = 87 governed the statement On the we's twould seem that the imperative provisions of S = 87 must press and that S = 24 must press from the statement of S = 87 must press from the following the course of S = 87 must press from the course 24 must refer to confessions made outside the course of the inquiry or trial The Court would be entitled to attach very little in portance to the statement if it were shown that it was made as a result of an inducement, threat or promise but it would be a statement, and therefore endence it might also be argued that the Endence Act is a general provide and must give way to the special provision contained in the Code. It is noted able that the provisions of S 288 are now made subject to the Evidence Act

The statement, so for 25 it relates to a previous conviction must not be put in 4 (See S 310)

O Fmp t Run Sabai Latt I L R to Cal 1070 The Sessions Judge of Mangalore I I R 31 Mad 40

Fmp t lakira Appaya I I R 40 Bom Teka Ahira K Imp 5 Pat I J -of

CHAP XXIII SEO 287.

If the accused before the committing Magistrate says that he does not wish to make a statement, but afterwards sends in a statement and asks to have it put on the record, it is admissible under S 287.1

Duly recorded

The rules Ind down for recording such an examination are set out in S. 364 in regard to a statement or the experience of an inquiry, and in Ss. 164, 364 in regard to a statement or confession made to a Magistrate in the course of an innestigation by the Police, and before the cummancement of an inquiry. The formalities so required should be most circluity observed by Magistrates. The formalities so required should be most circluity observed by Magistrates. The statement of a person under trail is offern the most important evidence against binn, and if it has not been duly recorded it is ordinarily not admissible in evidence under S. 35, S. 33, declares how the Court should proceed if a confession or other statement of an accused person so tendered under S. 289, is found not to have been duly recorded.

If any Court, before which a confession or other statement of an accused person record of under S ifsq et S 3gs a tendered in evidence, finds that the provisions of such sections have not been fully complied with by the Magistrate recording the statement at shall take each nee that such person duly made the statement recorded and netwithstanding mything contained in the Indian Evidence 2ct, S of such statement shall be admitted if the error has not injured

the accused as to his defence on the merits-5 533

But though a remedy is thus privided aguist a failure of justice arising from the circlessness of a Magistrite in not complying strictly with Ss. 164 and 3th it occasionally happens that it leads the Court which has this evidence before it, there on the trial, in on appetit or on revision to regard it in an unfavourable hight to the prosecution, and in spite if a vidence their under S. 333 to correct an error, it is sometimes inclined to refuse to attach the weight to such evidence which, if the statement or confession had be on duly recorded, it would have been entitled to ricence—(See notes to Ss. 164 and 364). The incressity moreover for thus correcting the inexcusable critesisness of a Magistrate by taking evidence und r. S. 333 causes dely in the trial and waste of salurable time as well as expense in behaving such evidence. Too much stress cannot, therefore, be attached to the careful observance of their duties by Magistrates in recording such statements, or confessions.

Shall be tendered by the prosecutor

It is not optional with the prosecution to tender is evidence the examination of the accused person before the committing Magistrate. If it is not put in, the Sessions Judge is bound to call for it and to require it to be put in?

The High Courts have given the following directions in regard to it

It should be put in and rend as n prit of the case for the prosecution before the accused person is called upon to enter on his defence. It should be detached from the record of the prefuminary inquiry and attached to that of the trial, and marked as an exhibit a note to the effect that this has been done being entered on the record.

Th examination of an accused tendered in evidence should, if it is recorded in a vernacular, be accompanied by a translation into English

Value of the examination of an accused as evidence

(1) As against himself.

The statement may amount to a confession of guilt, or may only be an explanation of the circumstances appearing in evidence against the accused, in which case it would amount to a statement of the defence

&lt;sup>1</sup> Chidambaram Pillat ν Emp I L R, 32 Mad 3 (15)
<sup>2</sup> Q ν Sheikh Meher Chand, 13 W R Gr. 63, Q Emp ν Rama Tevan, I L R, 15 Mad, 152.

wish them to be examined, and the Magistrate had nevertheless proceeded to examine them ! The jurors or assessors may put any question to the witnesses through or by leave of, the Judge, which the Judge himself might put, and which he con siders proper —Evidence Act, 1 of 1872, S 166

Examination of accused before Magistrate to be evidence

The examination of the accused duly recorded by or before the committing Magistrate shall be tendered by the prosecutor and read as evidence

The examination of an accused person may be either in the course of the inquiry before the committing Magistrate for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in evidence against him (S 342), or state ment or confession voluntarily made by him to a Magistrate before the con mencement of the inquiry and in the course of an investigation by the Police

From the use of the words ' by or before the committing Magistrate 5 287 would not apply to a statement or confession recorded under S 161 by another Magistrate But such statement or confession would, nevertheless, be recenable

The words commuting Magistrate mean the Migistrate who held the inquiry on the proceedings of which the commutant was made. So where the Magistrate this held the magnetic process of the Magistrate who held the inquiry passed in order of discharge and a super fourth modern of discharge and a super fourth modern of the super fourth modern of the super fourth modern of the super fourth modern or Court under $ 436 (now 437) ordered a commitment it was held that $ 29

Whenever any document is produced before any Court purporting to be a statement or confession made by any prisoner or accused person them accordance with low accordance with low court was not inoperative a accordance with law, and purporting to be signed by any Magistrate, the Court shall presume that the document is genuine, that any statements as to the circumstance under the document is genuine, that any statements as to the circumstance under the document is genuine. i nees under which it was taken, purporting to be made by the person explin it, are true and that such statement or confession was duly taken -Exidence

5 24 of the Fridence Act I of 1872, bys down that a confession court Act, I of 1872, S 80 by an inducement threat or promise proceeding from a person in authority to receivant in a Bembay case? the question arose whether a statement duly man corded by the committing Magistrate which amounted to a confession are control by $2.87 of this Code or by $5.24 of the Evidence Act. There was the Court pointed out some definition. Court pointed out some difficulty in reconciling the two provisions in the ele of a statement amounting to a confession to which 5 24 of the Endent to applied The point was not decided as the Court found that the appeal not the court found that the appeal not that the appeal not the court found that the appeal not the appeal not that the appeal not that the appeal not the appeal not that the appeal not the appeal entitled to succeed upon mother and independent point, the Court assumed that for the purposes of the case, S 287 governed the statement On the statement on the nould seem that the case of the it would seem that the imperative provisions of S 287 must prefail and that S 24 must prefail and that 24 must refer to confessions made outside the court of the inquiry or trial The Court would be entitled to attach very little in portance to the statement if it were shown that it was made as a result of an inducement, threat or promise, but it would be a statement, and therefore element. It must also be according to the control of dence It might also be argued that the Prodence Act is a general proise and must give way to the special provision contained in the Code. It is not a able that the provision of a contained in the Code. able that the provisions of S 288 are now made subject to the Evidence Act

The statement, so f r as it relates to a previous conviction must not be got (See S 210)

in 4 (See S 310)

<sup>1</sup> O Imp e Ram Salar Lall I L R 10 Cat 1070

* The Sessions Judge of Mangalore I I R 31 Mad 40

Fmp i Jakira Appiya I I R 40 Bom 220 Teka Aliri h I'mp 5 Pat I J "of

If the accused before the commuting Magistrate says that he does not wish to make a statement, but afterwards sends in a statement and asks to have it put on the record, it is admissible under S 2871

Duly recorded

The rules had down for recording such an examination are set out in S 364 in regard to an examination in the course of an inquiry, and in Ss 164 364 in regard to a statement or confession made to a Magistrate in the course of an investigation by the Police and before the communicament of an inquiry formalities so required should be most cirefully observed by Magistrates statement of a person under treal is often the most important evidence against him, and if it has not been duly recorded it is ordinarily not admissible in evidence under S _87 S 533 declares how the Court should proceed if a confession or oth r statement of in accused person so tendered under S 287 as found not to have been duly recorded

If any Court before which a confession or ther statement of an accused person record d under 5 164 cr 5 364 is tendered in evidence finds that the provisions of such sections has not been fully complied with by the Magistrate recording the statement at shall take evid not that such across duly made the statement recorded and a twithstanding inything contained in the Indian Evi dence Act, S qu such statem at shall be admitted if the error has not injured

the accused as to his defence on the merits-$ 533

But though a remedy is thus provided against a fullure of justice arising from th carelessness of a Magistrate in not complying strictly with Ss 164 and 304 it occasionally happens that it leads the Court which has this evidence before it, either on the trial, or on appeal or on revision to regard it in an unfavourable light to the prosecution and, in spite of evidence taken under S 533 to correct an error, it is sometimes inclined to refuse to attach the weight to such evidence which, if the statement or confession had been duly recorded ' it would have been entitled to receive—(See notes to Ss 164 and 364). The necessity moreover for thus correcting the inexcusable carelessness of a Magistrate by taking evidence under S 533 causes delay in the trial and waste of valuable time as well as expense in obtaining such evidence. Too much stress cannot, therefore, be attached to the careful observance of their duties by Magistrates in recording such statements or confessions

Shall he tendered by the prosecutor

It is not optional with the prosecution to tender as evidence the examination of the accused person before the committing Magistrate. If it is not put in, the Sessions Judge is bound to call for it and to require it to be put in 2

The High Courts have given the following directions in regard to it It should be put in and read as a part of the case for the prosecution before the accused person is called upon to enter on his defence. It should be detached from the record of the preliminary inquiry, and attached to that of the trial, and marked as an exhibit, a note to the effect that this has been done being entered on the record

Th examination of an accused tendered in evidence should, if it is recorded in a vernicular, be accompanied by a translation into English

Value of the examination of an accused as evidence

(1) As against himself.

The statement may amount to a confession of guilt, or may only be an explanation of the circumstances appearing in evidence against the accused, in which case it would amount to a statement of the defence

<sup>1</sup> Chidambatam Pillai v Emp, I L R., 32 Mad. 3 (15) 2 Q v Sheikh Meher Chand, 13 W R Cr., 63. Q Emp v Rama Tevan, I L R., 15 Mad , 352.

The statement made by an accused person must be taken in its entirely. It a case in which the only evidence against the prisoner was his statement this accompanied the decords for a short distance, but turned back almost inner directly, and had nothing to do with the decorts and did not even know that such an offence was in contemplation it was held that this amounted to no evidence against him and he was required.

The examination of an accus d person by a Magistrate during an inquiry is ordinarily made under S 364, and it is declared by Sec 342 to be for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in the exidence against him But it constantly happens that an accused is sent in by the police during the investigation being held by them for the purpose of making a confession to be recorded under S 164 which he afterwards retracts or denies, stating that it has been improperly obtained by him There are several reported eases on this subject which have been referred to in the note to S 164 But a responsibility is thrown in the Sessions Judge in dealing with such evidence. The mere fact that a confession has been retracted will not make it inadmissible in evidence ago not the accused But before a Court can act upon such a confession, it must be safe fied as to its truth It is unsafe to rely and act upon a retracted confession unless upon a consideration of the whole of the evidence in the case the Court is in the position to come to the unhesitating conclusion that the confession is true is therefore generally considered to be unsife to found a conviction on a retracted confession which is not corroborated by credible independent evidence

It cannot be laid down as an absolute rule of law that a confession made and subsequently retracted by a prisent cannot be accepted as evidence of a guilt without independent corroborative evidence. The weight to be given by such a confession must it is clear depend upon the circumstances under which the confession was originally given and the circumstances under which it was retracted including the revisions given by the pressure for his retrieval obvious that a confession in itself reasonable and probable must be greater than the recognition of the results more than once and retracted only at a late stage in the proceedings, have greater weight attached to it than a confession made once only and retracted after short interval. There are other circumstances which may go to diminish or to increase the weight that should be attached to a confession. The circumstance under which the emfessions were originally made and the fact of their repetition a few days later are circumstances which should be brought to the attention of the jury The question which should be put to the jury with regard to such con lessions is not whether they are corroborated by independent evidence, but ale ther hiving regard to the circumstances under which they were made and the treumstraces under which they were retracted, having regard to all the arrun stances connected with the confessions whether it is more probable that the eriginal confessions, or the statements made before committing Magistrate in consistent with or modifying them, were true ?

The mere subsequent retriction of a confession which has been duly recorded and certified by a Magistrate under S 164 is not enough to make it appear in the been unlawfully obtained. To require as a criterion of admissibility mattice proof that a duly recorded confession was free and voluntary would not be consistent with Ss 21 and 22 of the Evidence Act 4. A Court might full besidate to say in a particular case that it was proved that a confession his been improperly obtained and jet it might be in a position to say that each been improperly obtained and jet it might be in a position to say that each been improperly obtained and jet it might be in a position to say that each been increased in the time of the confession may be rejected on well founded conjecture, there must be something before the Court on which such

see also Sheikh Boodhoo 8 W R Cr 3*

<sup>78</sup> 83 Q Emp v Gangia I L R, ±3 Ren

<sup>316</sup>

conjecture can rest 1. When a person has been in police custody and has made a confession, it is important that, before recording it under S 164. that is, before judicial proceedings have commenced and while the police investigation is being held, the Magistrate should ascertain how long the accused has been in such custods. If there is no record of that fact, it is the duty of the Sessions Judge before holding the confession to be relevant, under S 24 of the Evidence Act, to send for the Magistrate to satisfy himself on subject 2

A confession made by an accused person is prelevant in a criminal proceed ing if the making of it appears to the Court to have been caused by any induce ment, threat or promise having reference to the charge against the accused per son, proceeding from a person in authority and sufficient in the opinion of the Court to give the accused person grounds which would appear to him reason able, for supposing that by making it he would gain any idvantage or avoid any exil of a temporal nature in reference to the proceedings against him-See Exidence Act (1 of 1872) S 24 If such a confession is made after the impression coused by any such inducement threat or promi e has in the opinion of the Chut been fully remixed it is relevant-5 ab

The mere fact that a prisoner pleads not guilty and denus that he has made the centession to the Magistrate which is on the record of the inquiry stating that it was made under police terture is not enough to put the Sessions Judge on inquire. The Judge has their to decide wh ther it has been improperly obtained and if on weighing ill the circumstances the prisoner's denial and the probabilities it appears to him that there are grounds for believing that the confession has been improperly obtained no matter how true it may be, he must exclude n

Where misconduct on the part of the Police in the investigation is proved, it is not safe to rely on a confession which has been retracted unless it is corroborated, and if there are suspicious circumstances before him, and an allegation made that the confession was extorted by the Police it is the duty of the Ses sions Judge to examine all the police-officers who came in contact with the pri soner for the purpose of ascertaining how they dealt with him and what led to the making of the confession 5

Every case of this kind must be decided upon its own circumstances and not upon the amount of cred bil to which was attached in other cases to confessions made If a Judge believes that a confession made by a prisoner and subs quently withdrawn contains a true account of that prisoner's connection with the crime he is bound to not so far as that prisoner is concerned on that confession Where a confession is not supported by the evidence of witnesses, the Judge must examine it very carefully to see whether it gives those details which indicate that it is a natural narrative of what took place in the presence of the man making it, and is not at variance with evidence in the case which is believed, and is not a mere parrot like repetition of a story put into the man's mouth 6

A conviction on a confession subsequently retracted is not however had in law, if the Court is satisfied that it was voluntarily made and is true? But it is unsafe to rely and act upon a confession which has been retracted, unless, after consideration of the whole evidence in the case, the Court is in a position to come to the unhesitating conclusion that the confession is true . Where there are two contradictory statements, the difficulty is to ascertain which of the statements is the truth and the responsibility of relying on either statement is very great. In one case 2 the Bombry High Court, on the appeal of Goren ment against an order of requitt-1 convicted two persons who had retarded confessions which had been recorded under S (4) as the evidence showed that these confessions were voluntarily made and were corroborated by other evidence. The corroborated evidence should not be that of a witness whose evidence taken 1 of 1 in the committing Magistrate, has under S 288 been treated as evidence in the Sessions trial, because his subsequent statement at that trial has not been accepted as reliable 3 nor can the confession of one prisoner be properly under corroborate the confession of another,4 though it may be taken into consideration under S 30 of the Evidence Act, if they are being tried jointly for the same offence.

<sup>1</sup> Q Emp : Basvanta I L R 25 Bom 168 Reg v Balvant 11 Bom H C R

&lt;sup>2</sup> Q Emp v Narayan I L R 25 Bom 543 <sup>3</sup> Bhega Kompladas Bom H Ct Aug 24 1906, per Beaman J

<sup>**</sup> Of the Polyakar I R 1 R 24 1900, per accusan J 25 per

When the trial is held by jury it is most important that the Sessions Jofe, should most carefully lay before the jury all the facts bearing on it in regarding them to consider the evidence of a confession made to a Magistrate, but after wards retracted—(See note to S 297, post) For further cases on this point seriote to S 161.

(1) As against others also under trial

When more persons than one are being tried jointly for the same offinite and a confession made by one of such persons affecting himself and some other of such persons is proved the Court may take into consideration such confer is a against such other persons as well as against the person who makes such confession.

Explanation - Offence as used in this section includes the abetment of or attempt to commit the offence -Evidence Act (1 of 1872) S 30

The persons must all be under trial jointly for the same offence trace explain at to S 30 of the Fudence Act supra) in order to permit the Court to tale into consideration a confession made by one of them affecting himstell as all as some other of such persons. Such a confession is in itself not sufficient who consider another 8 it is infected with the infirmity inherent in the evidence of an accomplice and moreover it is not made on each nor rate be tested or explained by cross-camination. A confession must be sufficed to implicate the person making it before it can be taken into consideration against nother person.

When a woman confessed that she had put poison in food cooked by her which caused the death of the person who ate it adding that a man under that with her had given it to her, and exculpating herself by stating that she had received it as a means to restore her husband's affection and this was accepted.

21.3) yet Kernan J p 307 (s c) 4 Cal W \ 2 0

so Q Emp 1 Rangi I L R

I'mp v Krisinabnal iv

4 N Magne 1 W R Cr 24 Emp v Ashooloob 1 I R 4 Cal 483 Reg v Budbe

4 N Marku I L R 1 Bom 475 Nasin i K I'mp I L R 28 Cal 689

7 Q v Belat Ah 19 W R Cr 67 (c 2) to B L R 453 Q v Baileo Chorder

2 N W R Cr 43 Q v Chunder Ibuttacharjee 24 W R Cr 42 Noor Bus 1

25 W R Cr 43 Q v Chunder Ibuttacharjee 24 W R Cr 42 Noor Bus 1

26 Cal 270 (c c) 7 C L R 384 I'mp v Days Navau J L R 6 Bom 285 I'mp v

Chingli L R 2.All 444 Q I'mp v Jagrup 1 L R 7 All 646 Q Emp v Reps

Bowas 1 L R 10 Cal 370

by the Court, her statement was not received under S 30 Evidence Act, as against the man, as it did not amount to a confession of her own guilt 1 ff it be intended to take into consideration against other persons a confession made by one tried jointly with them for the same offence, it should not be recorded in their absence and behind their backs, so that while they are deprived of the right of crossexamining the person making such confession they should not even know what he has said to implicate them. So when the Sessions Judge examined in turn each of the prisoners under trial in the absence of the others, and convicted them each munk on what had been said by the others, such state ments were held to be inadmissible?

If a person tried jointly with others for the same offence has confessed and pleads guilty at the trial, his confession cannot be admitted as against others. unless the trial proceeds against him, and this is not permissible merely for that purpose 1 See note to S 271

The evidence of a witness duly recorded in the presence of the accused under Chapter XVIII may, in the discretion of the presiding Judge, if such preliminary Induita admissible. witness is produced and examined, be treated as evidence in the ease for all purposes subject to the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872

This section enables the presiding Judge at a trial before a Sessions Court or High Court, after a witness has been eximined to treat as evidence on the trial the evidence given by that witness before the committing Magistrate in the presence of the accused

It may be used for the defence as well as for the prosecution, and not merely for purposes of contradiction 1 If the commitment has been made by order of the District Magistrate under S 436 or S 437 of a person charged by a subordinate Vingistrate, S 288 does not become inoperative 3 In the same case it was held that the words 'committing Magistrate' meint the Magistrate who held that the words 'committing Magistrate' meint the Magistrate who held from the words 'I has now been made clear by the substitution for these words of the words 'under Chipter XVIII 'by Act XVIII of 1923, '5 78, that evidence taken under $ 210 is also contemplated, if recorded in the presence of the accused

5 288 is intended to provide for the contingency that may arise when a willness is produced at the trial who holds back information and evidence, and tells a different story from that told in the inquiry before the Magistrate 5

A statement brought in under S 288 should not be read out to the witness before the defence has had an opportunity to cross examine him?

S 288 leaves it to the discretion of the Judge to treat the evidence of a witness duly taken before the committing Magistrate as if it had been given before him, but the weight to be given to this evidence is to be determined by the jury or assessors who with him constitute the Court holding the trial . A judge is not competent arbitrarily to base his judgment solely on evidence given before the committing Magistrate, and to prefer that evidence to evidence given before The consequence of such a course would be to dispense with the taking of evidence in the Sessions Court for if the Court could properly come to a verdet against the prisoner upon the evidence given before the Magistrate by witnesses, who before that Court denied that evidence and showed themselves to be unwerthy of belief a fortion the Court could found its judgment upon the evidence g ra before the Magistrate in those cases where the witnesses afterwards confirm that evidence by the testimony which they give at the trial. There must be substan tial materials rightly before the Court and reasonably sufficient to guide its judg ment either from the evidence of such witnesses or of other witnesses before that Court on which it can safely hold that the original statement was worthy of belief 1 some substantial fact conclusively proved as can enable the Judge to 51) with confidence that the evidence given before the Magistrate is true as opposed to what was said before himself 2. It is not competent to a Court to convict solch on evidence given before a Magistrate which und r S 288 has been treated at evidence on the trial 3 It is settled law that, unless there is something to show the truth of the first statement made by a witness it should not be accepted in preference to a statement made at the trial that is to say there should be some thing to corroborate the statement on some material point Where a winess at the Sessions trial dened the truth of her evidence given to the committed Magistrate stating that it had been obtained under compulsion and there are no one substantive fact established to enable the Judge to say with confidence that such evidence was true as opposed to what was said before himself it was reject ed as unreliable a The corroboration of evidence admitted under S 288 cannot be by the corroboration of evidence admitted under S 288 cannot be by the confession of the accused before the Magistrate which he has retricted and denied at the trial because before that confession can be safely relied upon it must itself be corroborated by some evidence $

&lt;sup>1</sup> Shahoter Ma 18 Cal L. J. 590 <sup>3</sup> In re Chandra Nath. Sark ir I. L. R. 7 Cal. 65. Emp. v. Lakshman Bala. I. L. R.

If at the trial the presiding Judge finds the statements of witnesses in his own Court differ materially from those previously made by the same winested it is his duty to examine them as to the discrepancies and if he has nighted to do so the Harb Court of the Harb Court o to do so the High Court on appeal will order a new trial on the ground that there has been a misuse of the Sessions Judge's discretion which may have count a failure of just ce? The Judge is bound to put to the witnesses he proposed to control of the failure of just to control of the failure of just to control of the failure to contrade t by ther former statements the whole or such portions of ther depositions as he intends to rely upon in his decision so as to afford them an opportunity of explaining their meaning or of denying that they had made any such statement Before a Judge can under S 288 treat as evidence the department of a new term of a ne tion of a witness taken before the committing Magistrate on which in who or in part to form his judgment he is bound to let his intention or the possibility that he may do so, he known to the that he may do so, be known to the accused and the prosecution in order to all it

<sup>10</sup>

R Cr 40 per PHEAR J ochi I L R 21 All 111 ochi I L R 21 All III R Cr 49 (per Morkis I)
2 Emp v Bharmappa 1129 95 (s c) 4 Cal W

r 49 Q Emp r Dan Sabi ined in Dwarks Kurmi I L Mad 1°3 Q Emp r Jexti 3 1895 Nimal Das I L R

<sup>14</sup> An 44)

4 Q Fmp v Jadub Das I L R 27 Cal 295 [p 305] (s c) 4 Cal W \ 19 Q Fmp v Jadab Das I L R 27 Cal 295 (p 305) (s c) 4 Cal W \ 129 Q Fmp v Jadab Das I L R 27 Cal 295 (s c) 4 Cal W \ 129 Q Fmp v Isrmal Das I L R, 22 Alt, 445

4 Q Fmp v Bharmappa I L R 12 Mad 123

4 Arjun Megha 11 Bom II C R 281 per West J

9 Q Fmp v Dan Sabal, I L R 2 Alt 860

Q Emp v Dan Sahar, I L R 7 All 862

CHAR XXIII SEO 288

them an opportunity for testing such statement by cross examination or otherwise dealing with such statement as part of the case which may be taken into consideration 1

The fact that a witness at the Sessions trial tells a story different from that told by him before the Magistrate does not render him a hostile witness so as to entitle the prosecutor to cross-examine him. The proper inference to be drawn from such contradiction is, not that the witness is hostile to this side or to that, but that he ought not to be believed unless supported by some satisfactory evidence ?

Duly recorded in the presence of the accused under Chapter \\ III

Thus, a statement of a witness recorded under S 164 of this Code would be inadmissible. But although it may not be treated as indepedent evidence at the trial, it may be used, under S 145 of the Lydence Act, to contradict the

Whenever any document is produced before any Court purporting to be a record or memorandum of the evidence or of any part of the evidence given by a witness in a judicial proceeding or before any officer authorised by law to take such evidence and purporting to be signed by any Judge or Magistrate or by any officer as aforesaid, the Court shall presume that the document is genuine, and that such evidence was duly till en-Fyidence Act (I of 1872) 5 80. Whenever it is directed by this Act that the Court shall presume a fact, it shall regard such fact as proved unless and until it is disproved-Ibid 5 4

The alternative for the High Court in such a case is to order a new trial on the ground that there has been a misuse of the Sessions Judge's discretion, which may have caused a failure of justice, but a new trial will not be ordered except in a special case 5

An accused is entitled to have an opportunity to cross examine a witness before his evidence can be used against him. So, when the Magistrate on the inquiry had refused to allow a cross-examination it was held that the evidence has not been duly recorded so as to make it admissible under 5 288 at the Sessions trial. To deny the accused the right to cross-examine would be to deprive him of any benefit of being present when that evidence was being taken s

If the Sessions Court nets in accordance with $ 288 it should incorporate with the record of its own proceedings the particular evidence taken by the committing Magistrate. Any vernacular deposition so admitted in evidence shall be translated into English and a copy of such translation fairly written, shall be incorporated with the record, and each translation so made shall be written on a separate sheet of paper (Culcutta H Ct Rules)

Evidence not taken in presence of accused when admissible

If it is proved that an accused person has absconded and that there is no immediate prospect of arresting him the Court competent to try such person or to commit him for trial for the offence complained of may, in his absence, examine the witnesses (if any) produced on behalf of the prosecution and record their depositions. Any such deposition may, on the arrest of such person, be given in evidence against him on the inquiry into, or trial for, the offence with which he is charged, if the deponent is dead or incapable of giving evidence, or

I Jawahir A W N 1886 p 256 fer FDGE C J Kala hand Sirca v Q Emp I L R 13 Cal 53 ALmuddin v Q Emp I L R 23 Cal 361 See however O r N 8 2 12 2 3 Cal 361

stated 6 Cal san, 53

his attendance cannot be secured without an amount of delay, expense or incon venience which, in the circumstances of the case, would be unreasonable S 512 (1) 5 512(2) enables the High Court to direct a Magistrate of the first class to hold an inquiry and examine witnesses concerning an offence punishable with death or transportation for life committed by some person or persons unknown and it further provides that depositions so taken may be given in evidence against any person subsequently recused of the offence of the deponent is dead or incre able of giving evidence or beyond the limits of British India

Similarly the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1925 S 9 provides that when the statement of any person has been recorded by a Magistrate (the section does not require it to have been recorded in the presence of the accused) it may be admitted in any trial before Commissioners under the Act, if such person is dead or cannot be found or is incapable of giving evidence, and the Com missioners are of opinion that such death disappearance or incapacity has been caused in the interests of the occused (There was a similar provision in the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1908, S 13 since repealed) So also the cit dence taken under a commission issued under Chapter AL of the Code and in the absence of the accused person "may subject to all just exceptions, be red in evidence in the case by either party and shall form part of the reord if it satisfies the conditions prescribed by Section 33 of the Indian En dence Act 1872 may also be received in evidence at any subsequent stage of the case before another Court (S 507) S 509 expressly makes the deposi tion of a Civil Surgeon or other medical witness taken on commission under Chapter L admissible in evidence although the deponent may not be called as a witness Similarly under S 189 copies of depositions made or exhibits produced before a Political Agent or a judicial officer in territory beyond British findin or in the territory of any Native Prince or Chief in India, in which an offence may have been committed are receivable as evidence at the subsequent inquiry or trial, provided that the Court might have issued a commission for the taking of the evidence, and also that the directions of the Local Govern ment to such an effect have been obtained

Statement made by the accused as a witness under conditional pardon (5 337)

The question has been rused whether, if such witness has at the trail withdrawn evidence so given before the Magistrate, it is admissible against those under trial fn two cases the Calcutt High Court declined to decide this point, because the prisoner was undefended and it was found that even if such deposition were admissible, it was not reliable to prove the charge under trial In another case, Straight, J, stated 'For my own part, f confet that I entertain the gravest doubts as to whether S 288, was ever intended to be applied to the case of an approver, who has made a deposition before the Magistrate, but in the Sessions Court withdraws it in toto, upon the personal tree that it is the sessions to tion that it was not a voluntary but an enforced statement. Even if S 288 his any applicability, the Judge would have exercised a sounder discretion had be discarded the statement altogether It was not the case of a witness guide evidence before him inconsistent with or contrary to a former statement made to the committing Magistrate, on the contrary, he admitted his deposition but declared that it was brought about by the coercion of the Police At any rate, the proper course would have been to call his attention to the vancus passages of his deposition senatum before using it to contradict him

The Allahabad High Court has since held a that there is nothing in the previous rulings of the Court when would make the statement of the approximate before the Magistrate, which was retracted at the Sessions trial, inadmi-

&lt;sup>1</sup> Joyudee Pramanick 7 Cal L R 66 Nanha v Fmp 13 Cal L R 3 <sup>-6</sup>
<sup>8</sup> Nirmal Das, I L-R 22 All 445
<sup>8</sup> Q Emp v Soneju I L R 21 All 175

sible under S 288 In another case, the Calcula High Court held that such evidence was inadmissible under S 288, because, after retracting his former statement, the approver witness had not been offered to the prisoner under trial for cross-examination. But no opinion was expressed whether, but for this defect, the evidence was admissible Procedure examination of witnesses for prosecution.

289 (1) When the examination of the witnesses for the prosecution and the examination (if any) of the accused are concluded, the accused shall be asked whether he means to adduce evidence

(2) If he says that he does not, the prosecutor may sum up his case, and if the Court considers that there is no evidence that the accused committed the offence, it may then, in a case tried with the aid of assessors, record a finding, or, in a case tried by a pury, direct the jury to return a verdict, of not guilty

(3) If the accused, or any one of several accused, says that he means to adduce evidence, and the Court considers that there is no evidence that the accused committed the offence, the Court may then, in a case tried with the aid of assessors, record a finding, or in a case tried by a jury, direct the jury to return a verdict, of not guilty

(4) If the accused, or any one of several accused, says that he means to adduce evidence, and the Comt considers that there is evidence that he committed the offence, or if, on his saying that he does not mean to adduce evidence, the prosecutor sums up his case and the Court considers that there is evidence that the accused committed the offence, the Court shall call on the accused to enter on his defence

The recused and not his pleader should be taked whether h wishes to adduce evidence 2

This section marks the close of the case for the presetution. The not to S 286 explains how the examination of witnesses in a sessions trial shill be conducted and recorded

After the examination of the witnesses for the defence, the Sessions Judge recalled one of the witnesses for the prosecution and examined him. The proceed ings were quashed and a fresh trial was ordered, because the prisoner had had no opportunity of making a defence or calling evidence with reference to the fresh evidence admitted lifter the prisoner had concluded his defence, but where evidence so received was evidence of which the prisoner had full notice, it was held that the tregularity was not one which had or could have, occasioned a failure of justice, and, therefore the High Court would not interfere

The Court may at any stage of a trial without warning the accused put such questions to him as it considers necessary for the purpose of enabling him

&lt;sup>1</sup> Q I'mp r Jagat Chamler Mah I I R → Cal 50 * Mad Rules &c

Q t Assanoolida 13 W R Cr 15 O v Sham Kishore Hatlar 13 W R Cr af

1 Pmn 4-0

to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him, and shall for that purpose question him generally in the case after the witnesses for the presecution have been examined and before he is called upon for his defence. The accused may refuse to answer such questions but the Court and the jury (if iny) may draw such inference from such refusal as a think is just—(5 342) The examination of an accused is especially necessary when he is not defended at the trial, so as to obtain any explanation that he may be inclined to give regarding circumstances appearing in the evidence agunst him

The examination (if any) of the accused

The question whether the provision in S 342 requiring the Court to examine the neutral generally before he is called on for his defence are mandatory in regard to Sessions trials and the effect of the words (if any)" in S 289 have been discussed A single Judge of the Allahabad High Court expressed the opinion that S 342 was imperative in a Sessions trial but the Court con doned its violation and upheld the conviction. In Bombay a Division Bench expressed doubts but following an earlier cases and in view of special tirems stances ordered a retrial The Caloutta High Court helds that it is not of gatory to examine the accused in Sessions trial, S 289 makes the examination optional

The matter was considered and the authority on the point discussed at some length in a case which came before the Patra. High Court <sup>5</sup> The appeal as the control of the patra is originally heard by Mullick and Sultan Ahmed, JJ Mullick J held that the mandatory provisions of the latter part of S 342 did not apply to Sessions that the followed the ruling of the Calcutta High Court in Khudiram Bose, and C L L gibbs to Sessions that the followed the ruling of the Calcutta High Court in Khudiram Bose, and C L L gibbs to Sessions that the Court in Khudiram Bose, and the C L L gibbs to Sessions that the Court in Khudiram Bose, and the C L L gibbs to Sessions that the Court in Khudiram Bose, and the C L L gibbs to Sessions that the Court in Khudiram Bose, and the C L L gibbs to Sessions that the Court in Khudiram Bose, and the C L L gibbs that the Court in Khudiram Bose, and the C L L gibbs that the Court in Khudiram Bose, and the C L L gibbs that the Court in Khudiram Bose, and the C L L gibbs that the Court in Khudiram Bose, and the C L L gibbs that the C (9 C L J 55) but relied to a considerable extent on the words " the exam nation (if any) occurring in S 289 (i) He considered that where it is clear that the Court has not ascertained what the defence of the accused is the fa lure to question him is fatal to the trial But he argued that where the Court is already in possession of his defence failure to prepare a proper record is an irregularity curible under section 537. Sulfan Ahmad J. took the opposite view. He nd d. in the first place on a Madria case. The point however does not seen to be a been actually in the control of the cont been argued in that case and it was assumed without consideration that Say applies to Sessions trials. The case was referred to Junia Prasad J who see the same sien as Sultan Ahmad J. He explained away the words "the exmand atton (i any) occurring m S 286 (i b) sying that they refer to any certaing m S 286 (i) by sying that they refer to any certain under the frest portion of S 342 and that they there is portion of S 342 and that the stage here contemplated is made in the stage that the stage here contemplated is made in the stage when the recused is called upon to care on his defence. As a material for the stage when the recused is called upon to care on his defence. As a matter of fact all that intervenes is the summing up of the case by the Prosecutor Juda Prassad J also rehed on the fact that the west "the examination (if any)" occur in S 253 which relates to traits of wires the behavior of the prosecutor of the pros cases in which there has never been any question that the examination of inaccused is obligatory. This argument appears to over look the fact that 5 isl deals solely with discharge and that it is open to the Magistrate to discharge the appropriate to the Magistrate to the Appropriate to the Magistrate to the Appropriate the A ue is solely with discharge and that it is open to the Magnurate to discharge the accused without making any examination. The words "fill any) tired in S. 253 are appropriate and are not parallel to the same words in S. 264 fill where the accused is not discharged S. 254 comes into operation and the soft William), do not occur in that section. The learned Judge also relied at the "fill any) of the relief with the examination of the accused was also also relief at the three termination of the accused was chloridered. that the examination of the accused was obligatory in trials under that sector

This is open to doubt. It has been held that the words " (if any) " in S 263 (c) have reference to summary trials in summons-cases and that in such cases the examination of the accused is not obligatory. On this point see note to S 242 Juala Prasid, J thought that the case of Khudiram Bose v Emperor might be distinguished on the ground that in that case the accused had admitted his guilt and had been examined in detail before the committing Magistrate These circumstances do not however seem to have influenced the judgment of the Court which decided the case. The matter therefore remains doubtful, but on the whole it appears that the weight of authority is in favour of the proposition that the obligatory portion of S 342 is applicable to trials in the Sessions Court

If the Court considers that there is no evidence that the accused committed the offence

This does not mean what the Sessions Judge may consider to be no trustworthy or satisfactory evidence. It is for the jury or assessors to determine the value of evidence, and it is not for the Sessions Judge to interfere with the performance of the duty imposed upon them by law!

So after taking all the direct evidence in the case the Sessions Judge is not competent to stop it by asking the jury if they wish to hear more evidence, and b) this means to obtain the opinion of the jury that they do not believe it. No final opinion as to the falsehood or sufficiency of the evidence for the prosecution ought to be arrived at by the Judge or jury until the whole of the evidence is before them and has been considered 2

If, however the evidence if believed does not amount to proof the case should not be laid before the jury as a verdict of guilty cannot be sustained

But the case cannot be withdrawn from the Jury the Judge should direct them to return a verdict of not guilty *

The prosecutor may sum up his case

It is not intended by this to exclude the assistance of a ' pleader" for this purpose when such assistance has been accepted by the Public Prosecutor or other officer conducting the prosecution (See S 493) With the permission of the Court any advocate or valued may address the Court in English when one of the pleaders on the opposite side is acquainted with that language, or whenever the senior of such pleaders or his client consents to it 5

To enter on his defeuce

There is nothing in the law which prohibits a written defence, if presented it should be received (See S 256 which expressly allows this in a warrant-case) Sessions Judges should put on record any statement that the accused person may make on his being called upon to enter upon his defence and, if no statement be made by the recused the fact should be noted by the Judge? If he does not voluntarily make any statement and declines to answer any question put by the Court, the fact should be noted, and when there is nothing else to show the nature of the defence a note of the address (if any) to the Court should be recorded The record is not complete unless it shows the nature of the defence set up 1 For further notes on this see S 342

Nunna Lai I. L. R. 10 Ali 414 Shadulia Howladar v. Emp. I. L. R. 9 Cal, 875 ° Q. v. Huroo Shaha 16 W. R. Cr. 20 Cal, 9 Cal, 9 Cal v. R. 10 Cal, 10 Cal

Agra Sud Ct Cir 6 1863 In re Gopal Hajjam 15 W R Cr 16

290. The accused or his pleader may then open his case, stating the facts or law on which he intends to Defence rely, and making such comments as he thinks necessary on the evidence for the prosecution. He may then examine his witnesses (if any) and after their cross examination and re-examination (if any) may sum up his case

Every accused person may of right be defended by a pleader-S 340 There is nothing in the law which prohibits a written defence, if presented it should be recrued! A Sessions Judge should put on record any states? that the accused person may make on his being called upon to enter upon h defence, and if no statement be made by the accused, the fact should be noted by the Judge Under S 256, if the accused person, in the trial of a warrant case before a Magistrate, puts in any written statement, the Magistrate is bound to file it with the record

If the accused makes any statement in his defence, it should be recorded If he does not voluntarily make any statement and declines to 2-sact of question put by the Court the fact should be noted, and when there is noting else to show the nature of the defence, a note of the address (if any) to the C should be recorded. The record is not complete unless it shows the nature the defence set up 2

If, after evidence for the defence has been recorded the Sessons July finds it necessary to take evidence on any further point for the prosecution is bound to gae the prisoner an opportunity of giving his defence and of call fresh evidence on the point to which the case for the prosecution has been to opened a but if the prisoner has had notice of the point on which the vide. is taken, any such irregularity, as an omission, is immaterial it is, hower a grite irregularity to allow a witness to be examined on behalf of the prove tion after the prisoner has made his defence, funless such witness is a witness to contradict any new case set up by the prisoner), and under ordinary thrusstances this would be sufficient ground for a new trial s

One accused person may cross examine a person called for his defente of another accused person in the same trial when the two defences are where p

each other $

Although one of the occused may not be examined as a winess in the brobecause S 312 (4) declares that 'no oath shall be administered to an access, still if he has a right to demand to be tried separately from the other access, and thus is allowed, he can be called. and this is allowed, he can be called as a witness for the defence as he is to longer on tectused in those proceedings S 342 (4) refers to a person over some the Court is then exercising jurisdiction as an accused person.

The accused shall be allowed to examine any mines 291 not previously named by him, if such write Right of accused is in attendance, but he shall not, except as to examination and summoning of provided in sections 211 and 231, be entitled witnesses. of right to have any witness summoned, offer

31

Madad Alı Khan 2 Agra 356

R Cr 3/ n 213 (219) see also Q l'mp r Vios l'e

than the witnesses named in the list delivered to the Magistrate by whom he was committed for trial

It is the duty of the Session Judge to secretin who the witnesses are whom the accused wishes to examine. Where this was not done, and, after the prisoner had been connected and sentenced by a Sessions Judge sitting with assessors, the prisoner represented that he had desired to call witnesses whom the Magistrate should have summoned but had omitted to summon, the conviction and sentence were set aside and the Sessions Judge was directed to give the prisoner an opportunity of calling those witnesses who, if necessary, should be summoned. The High Court remarked that, if the Sessions Judge had acted in accordance with law, the omission would have been deseavered and the trial adjourned?

A Sessions Judge is bound to postpone a trial in which a witness summoned for the defence is absent especially if he be a material witness, and the case cannot be satisfactionly decided in his absence. But the Sessions Judge should first call upon the accused to state the grounds of his defence.

Under S art the accused is required, after the charge has been read and explained to him, at once to give in, orally or in writing a list of the persons (if any) whom he wishes to be summoned to give evidence on the trial, and the Magistrate in his discretion may allow him to give on any further list of witnesses at a subsequent time. The accused may also, at any time before his trial before a High Court, give to the Clirk of the Crown a further list of witnesses whom he wishes to have summoned.

S 231 declares the right of the accused to recall and re-summon any witnesses examined, when a charge has been altered by the Court after the commencement of the trial

A Sessions Judge can at any stage of a trid summon any person as a witness, or extraine any person in attendance, though not summoned as a mines, or recall and re-examine any person already extamined, and the Court shall summon and examine or re-call and re-examine any such person, if his evidence appears to it essential to the just decision of the case -(S 54) So that the Sessions Judge can summon any person named for the defence though such person may not have been previously named, provided that he is satisfied thirt such evidence is essential to the just decision of the case, but the prisoner under trial is not contided as a right to require such witness to be summoned.

It is not the duty of the prosecutor to call a witness called as a Court witness on a previous trial whose evidence he does not believe 5

1 26 0 1

Prosecutor sight of 292 The prosecutor shall be entitled to reply—

(a) if the accused or any of the accused adduces any oral endence; or

(b) with the permission of the Court, on a point of law; or

(c) with the permission of the Court, when any document which does not need to be proved is produced by any accused person after he enters on his defence

Provided that, in the case referred to in clause (c) the reply shall, unless the Court otherwise permits, be restricted to com ment on the document so produced

This section has again been amended. In the Code of 1882 the right of reply accrued when any of the accused had stated, when questioned under 5 289, that he meant to adduce evidence The Code of 1898, as originally enacted gave the right of reply when the accused or any of them adduced any evidence. There was also some doubt whether the production of documentary endeance gave the right of reply to the prosecutor Thus it was held that, even where an recused, in the cross examination of a witness for the prosecution, had produced a document which was no part of the case committed for trial, the prosecutor was entitled to reply 1 But in a later case it was pointed out that S 29 mu! be read with S 289 and gave a right of reply only when evidence was adduced after the close of the case for the prosecution 2. The section has now heen es borated by Act No WIII of 1923 S 79 There is now an absolute right of reply where oral evidence is adduced, and there is also a right of reply with the permission of the Court on a point of law, and when a document not requir ing prent is produced by an accused after entering on his defence, in the fact case the prosecutor is confined to comment on the document, unless the Count allows him further latitude

Where the Counsel for the accused adduced as evidence depositions of wi nesses taken by the committing Magistrate who had also been examined at the trial before the High Court Geidt J held that this was an application to ha for the exercise of his discretion under S 288, and that it was not within 5 % so as to entitle the prosecutors to reply 3

(1) Whenever the Court thinks that the jury or View by jury or assessors should view the place in which the offence charged is alleged to have been com assessors. mitted, or any other place in which any other transaction material to the trial is alleged to have occurred, the Courts shall make an order to that effect, and the jury or assessors shall be conducted 10 a body, under the care of an officer of the Court, to such place, which shall be shown to them by a person appointed by the Cond.

(2) Such officer shall not, except with the permission of the Court, suffer any other person to speak to, or hold any commu meation with, any of the jury or assessors, and, unless the Court otherwise directs, they shall, when the view is finished, be im mediately conducted back into Court

The Calcutte High Court condemned the proceedings of a Sessions Jude who permitted the assessors in a trial to visit the scene of the alleged of the without adopting the precautions provided by S 293, and ordered certain of the witnesses to attend witnesses to attend witnesses to attend witnesses. witnesses to attend with the assessors, at the same time pressing upon the late the necessity of orally examined the same time pressing upon the late. the necessity of orally examining the witnesses, if they deemed proper to do so, if the presence of the accused who would be present ff a Sessions Judge should desire to visit the scene of the alleged occurrent of the offence under the trial, he should give notice to the parties, and should proceed thither with the assessors, and not after they have delivered their opinions, and the case has closed and awais delivery of the judgment. Where this course had been taken, it was declared to be ill advised and to be altogether without authorits 1

&lt;sup>1</sup> Emp v Bhashar Balwant f L R 30 Bom 421 Emp v Hayfield I L R 14

Emp e Sreenath Mahaputra 1 L R, 43 Cal, 426 Q v Chuttenlharee Sing 3 W R Cr, 59 4 Oudh Behari Narain Singh, 1 Cal, 1 L, R, 143

As to a local inspection by the Judge see S 539 B, which gives effect to the view just cited

294 If a paror or assessor is personally acquainted with any revelunt fact, it is his duty to inform the When jurge or Judge that such is the case, whereupon he assessors may be evamined may be sworn examined, cross examined and re-examined in the same manner as any other witness

The term ' relevant fact used here is to be found throughout the Lyidence

Act, So a et seg which declare what are relevant facts

In the same way the Judge can be examined as a witness in a trial held before himself it was remarked by Norman J.—No doubt it is extremely inconcinent that a Judge sitting without 1 jury, should try a case in which lie himself is the complainant and principal witness. I should have no doubt that if he has any personal or pecuniary interest in the subject of the charge he is disqualified from traine it. But if that is not the case if the Judge in making the complaint has acted merely in discharge of his duty as a public officer, I think we must say he is not incompetent to try the case. In the same case, after eiting the English cases it was said. I think it is pretty clear that a person has a right to ask to have the evidence of the Sessions Judge, who is trying him taken on a point which he thinks makes in his favour"

295 If a trial adjourned, the jury or assessors shall attend at the adjourned sitting, Jury or assessors to attend at adjourned and at every subsequent sitting, until the conclusion of the trial

If from the absence of a witness or any other reasonable eause, it becomes necessary to adjourn any trial the Court may if it think fit by order in writing stating the reasons therefor from time to time adjourn the same on such terms as it thinks fit, for such time as it considers reasonable, and may by a warrant remand the accused to custody-S 344

A Sessions Judge is bound to postpone a case in which a witness summoned for the defence is absent especially if he be a material witness and the case cannot be sitisfactorily decided in his absence a

A Sessions Judge cannot for the absence of a witness discharge the jury and direct that a fresh trial be held 3

Failure on the part of a juror or assessor to attend after an adjournment of the Sessions Court after being ordered to attend renders the juror or assessor liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees or in default of recovery of the fine by attachment and sale of his moveable property to imprisonment by order of the Court in the Civil Jul for the term of fifteen days unless such fine is paid before the end of such term - S 332 If however the trial is held by the High Court, a juror hable to fine as for a contempt and on default of payment, to imprison ment for a term not exceeding six months in the Civil Jail, until the fine is paid-S 318

&lt;sup>1</sup> Q v Wookda Singh 13 W R Cr 60 (s c) 4 B L R 15 Q v Ishian Dutt 6 B L R App Exercus (s c) 15 W R Cr 34 Q v Rajnarain Mytec 18 W R Cr 20, Q v Jumiruddau 23 W R Cr , 58 Fanjuddi v Emp I L R 47 Cal 7, 5 <sup>1</sup> Pularwany Anandappa, Bom II Ct Nov 27 1902

Looking up jury as to keeping the jury together during a tral before such Court lasting for more than one day, and subject to such tules, the presiding Judge may order whether and in what manner the jurors shall be kept together under the charge of an officer of the Court, or whether they shall be allowed to return to their respective homes

Γ -Conclusion of Trial in Cases tried by Jury

Charge to jury and the prosecutor's reply (if any) are concluded the Court shall proceed to charge the jury summing up the evidence for the prosecution and defence, and laying down the law by which the jury are to be guided $z_{00}$ enacts that the Judge shall only charge the Jury when the case for the defence and the prosecutor's reply are concluded "When the Judge be d'arguments and took verdicts as regards certain accused and subsequently herd arguments and took verdicts as regards certain accused and subsequently the verdict must be taken collectively upon charges triable by jury even where the jury may be sitting as assessors to try other charges triable by assessors A jury may not be asked to reconsider its verdict, the questions that may be asked are limited by S 303.1

The Court of Session in trials by jury, shall record the heads of the charts to the jury - S 3/7 proviso. In Madras, it has been ordered that it should be invariably stated whether the accused or any of them was defended by a pleat and the should be sh

It is not necessary that a statement of the Judge's direction to the Judge's descent of the Judge state of the Large of the Charge of the Large of the Lar

There should appear on the record some statement that the law beams on the charge under trial has been explained to the jury 3. The heads of the charge to the jury should sufficiently show to the Appellate Court that the series of the statement of the pury should sufficiently show to the Appellate Court that the series of the case under it all the should be such as to enable the jury to apply it to the facts of the case under it all should be such as to enable the Appellate Court to decide whether the jury the school of the Penal Code applicable to the case is not an explanation of the law under the fundance of the jury the school of the fundance of the jury the school of the fundance of the jury the school of the jury the jury the jury the jury the jury the jury the jur

When the Judge in explaining S 100 Penal Code, om is mention of the apprehension of greeous hurt though the whole section is read to the jury there is a misdirection? So also there is a serious misdirection when the proper que

&lt;sup>1</sup> Public Prosecutor v Midul trameed I L R 3 Mid 585 T Amindra Mohan Banerjee I L R 36 Cal 281 (8 c) 13 Cal W N 197 (6 c) a Cal L J 199

tion for the jury is the existence of a right of private defence, for the Judge to refer to S 300, Exception 2, Penal Code, and to ask the Jury to consider whether such right was exceeded 1

In considering how far a misdirection in a charge to a Jury vitiates the proceedings so as to demand a fresh trial $ 537 should be borne in mind which declares that no finding or sentence of a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed by a Court of Appeal Revision or Reference on account of any mis direction in any charge to the Jury, unless such misdirection has in fact occasioned a failure of sustice

An omission to state correctly to the jury what was alleged to be the common object of an unlawful assembly does not vitiate the verdict, if such omission has not prejudiced the accused in their defence? But where the Sessions Judge omitted to point out that certain of the prisoners under trial were not originally accused and that they were not mentioned until eighteen days afterwards, there was a misdirection and the verdict in respect to these accused was set aside a

The heads of the charge should not be subjected to minute criticism should be looked at as a whole to consider any objection of misdirection 4. When the High Court on appeal is called upon to say whether or not a Judge has done his duty in addressing a jury on the facts it must look at the summing up as a whole to see whether the case has been furly before them 5. On an objection tal en in app al that in summing up to the jury the Sessions Judge had omitt d to range the evidence for the defence the High Court rend that evidence, and found that the prisoner had not been prejudiced by the omission and that, if it had been noticed the Sessions Judge would have had to point out to the jury that the witnesses were not in accord with i'm another that their statements were dis crepant and that the evidence of the principal witness was wholly unreliable The High Court added moreover we know that the prisoner was defended by Counsel, and though particular points may not have been alluded to in the Judge's charge to the jury we have little doubt that they were made and properly made, much of by the prisoner's Counsel It is not therefore to be assumed that these points were absent from the minds of the jury in considering that verdict. It is impossible for a Judge in summing up to go into every particular of the evidence It is only necessary to direct the attention of the jury to the important and salient ponts in the case

It is not a misdirection to omit to point out to the jury specifically, the exact evidence against eich of the accused when the Judge has discussed the whole of it and has told them to be satisfed as to the guilt of and to return an independent verdict against each of the accused ?

A proper summing up is understood to be a full and distinct statement of the evidence on both sides with such advice as to the legal bearing of that evidence and the weight which properly attaches to the several parts of it as a sound judic al discretion would suggest. If every defect were to be regarded as ground for setting aside a verdict of guilty, it is clear that the door of escape would be open wide to criminals

The danger is however guarded against by S 537 of this Code which declares that subject to the provisions contained in the previous sections of the Code no finding sentence or order of a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed or altered by a Court of confirmation appeal or revision on account of any misdirection in any charge to a jury unless such misdirection has in fact

<sup>1</sup> Muhammud Yunus v Emp I L R 50 Cal 318
1 Rahimat Alı v Emp 4 Cal W N 196
1 Eun Tu v Q Imp I I R 11 Cal 10
1 Q Emp v Bharrab Chunder Chuckerl utty 2 Cal W N 702 per MCLEAN C J O Dunp w Dinariau Chibiare Chickeri Busy 2 Can M (1) w Nim Chin M Moskerjee 20 W R Cr 41 per Markhy J in re Roci a Mahado I L R 7 Cal 42 (s c) 9 Cat L R 278 Sunaranda v Emp I L R 10 Cal 369 (s c) 9 Cat L R 278 Fattehchand Vastachand 5 Bom H C R Cr 85 (96) per Sargent J

be allowed to return to their respective homes

296 The High Court may, from time to time, make rules as to keeping the just together during a trial before such Court lasting for more than one Looking up jury dry and subject to such rules, the presiding Judge may order whether and in what manner the purors shall be kept together under the charge of an officer of the Court, or whether they shall

F -Conclusion of Trial in Cases tried by Jury

297 In cases tried by jury, when the case for the lefence and the prosecutor s reply (if any) are conclud Charge to jury ed the Court shall proceed to charge the jury summing up the evidence for the prosecution and defence, and laying down the law by which the jury are to be guided

237 chacts that the Judge shall only charge the Jury when the case for the defence and the prosecutor's reply are concluded When the Judge Feard arguments and took verdiets as regards certain accused and subsequently heard arguments and tool verd ets as regards others the procedure was irregular. The verd et must be t kin collectively upon charges triable by jury even where the jury may be sitting as assessors to try other charges triable by assessors A jury may not be asked to reconsider its verdict the questions that may be slid are limited by S 303.

The Court of Session in trials by jury, shall record the heads of the charge to the jury -5 367 proviso In Madras it has been ordered that it should be interested to their shall be a shader invariably stated whether the accused or any of them was defended by a pleader

It is not necessary that a statement of the Judge's direction to the jury should be reduced to writing before delivery but it should represent with about accurrey the substance of the charge so as to enable the High Court in the event of an appeal to see distinctly whether the case was fairly and properly before the true and stated whether the case was fairly and the the phreed before the jury and it should be written as soon as possible after the charge of the Jury has been actually delivered and when the facts of the rast are in the mind of the Judge 2 There should appear on the record some statement that the law bean's on the charge under trial has been explained to the jury? The heads of the charge to the jury should sufficiently action to the jury? The heads of the charge to the jury should sufficiently action to the jury should sufficiently action to the jury should sufficiently action to the sure should sufficiently action to the jury should sufficient to the jury should suffic charge to the jury should sufficiently show to the Appellate Court that the Sess fit Judge has explained to the jury the law relating to the particular offence charged so as to enable the unit to continue to the particular offence charged so as to enable the jury to apply it to the facts of the case under trail a should be such as to enable the case under trail and the such as to enable the case under trail and the such as to enable the case under trail and the such as to enable the case under trail and the such as to enable the case under trail and trail and trail and trail and trail and trail and trai should be such as to enable the Appellate Court to decide whether the referee been properly laid before the been properly laid before the jury so Merely to read out to the jury the sections of the Penal Code anglestic to the pury so the penal code anglestic to the pury the sections of the Penal Code anglestic to the pury the sections of the Penal Code anglestic to the pury the sections of the Penal Code anglestic to the pury the sections of the Penal Code anglestic to the pury the section of the Penal Code anglestic to the Penal of the Penal Code applicable to the case is not an explanation of the law sufferent for the guidance of the case.

When the Judge in explaining S 100 Penal Code omits mention of the reliens on of greeous their their cient for the guidance of the jury * apprehens on of grievous lurt though the whole section is read to the jury is a misd rection? So also there is a serious misdirection, when the proper que-

I annotation custor Widul Humeed I I R 36 Val 585 (see) 13 Cal W N 197 (bel I J 199 )

<sup>9</sup> Cal I J 199 1 Inru Mandal v O Emp I L R 25 Cal 561 4 Abbas Penda v O Emp I L R 25 Cal 7361 [5 c] 2 Cal W N . 484

O v Kasım Shaikh 23 W R Cr 32 Srl Prosad Muser v Emp 4 Cal W N 193 * Muhamma | Yunis # Emp I L. R. 50 Cal 318

tion for the jury is the existence of a right of private defence, for the Judge to refer to S 300, Exception 2, Penal Code, and to ask the Jury to consider whether such right was exceeded 1

In considering how far a misdirection in a charge to a fury vitiates the pro ceedings so as to demand a fresh trial $ 537 should be borne in mind which declares that no finding or sentence of a Court of competent sursidiction shall be reversed by a Court of Appeal, Revision or Reference on account of any mis direction in any charge to the Jury, unless such misdirection has in fact occasioned a failure of justice

An omission to state correctly to the jury what was alleged to be the common object of an unlawful assembly does not vitiate the verdict, if such omission has not prejud ced the accused in their defence 2 But where the Sessions Judge omitted to point out that certain of the prisoners under trial were not originally accused, and that they were not mentioned until eightien days afterwards, there was a misdirection and the verdict in respect to these accused was set aside a

The heads of the charge should not be subjected to minute criticism should be looked at as a whole to consider any objection of misdirection 4. When the High Court on appeal is called upon to say whether or not a Judge has done his duty in addressing a jury on the fiets it must look at the summing up as a whole to see whether the case has been fairly before them 5 On an objection tal en en appeal that in summing up to the jury the Sessions Judge had omitted to rit i the evidence for the defence the High Court read that evidence, and found that the prisoner had not been prejudiced by the omission and that, if it had been noticed the Sessions Judge would have had to point out to the jury that the Witnesses were not in accord with one another that their statements were dis crepant and that the evidence of the principal witness was wholly unreliable The High Court added moreover we know that the prisoner was defended by Counsel, and though particular points may not have been alluded to in the Judge's charge to the jury he have little dubt that they were made and properly made, much of by the prisoner's Counsel It is not therefore to be assumed that these points were absent from the minds of the jury in considering their verdict. It is impossible for a Judge in summing up to go into every particular of the evidence It is only necessary to direct the attention of the jury to the important and salient ponts in the case 4

It is not a misd rection to omit to point out to the jury specifically, the exact evidence against each of the accused when the Judge has discussed the whole of it and has told them to be satisfied as to the guilt of and to return an independent verdict against each of the accused 3

A proper summing up is understood to be a full and distinct statement of the evidence on both sides with such advice as to the legal bearing of that evidence and the weight which properly attaches to the several parts of it as a sound judy al discretion would suggest. If every defect were to be regarded as ground for setting aside a verdict of guilty, it is elear that the door of escape would be open wide to criminals #

The danger is however guarded against by S 537 of this Code which declares that subject to the provisions contained in the previous sections of the Code no finding sentence or order of a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed or altered by a Court of confirmation appeal or revision on account of any misdirection in any charge to a jury unless such misdirection has in fact

I Muhammad Yugus # Emp I I R 50 Cll 318
Rahamat Ait # Emp 4 Cal W N 196
Rahamat Ait # Emp 4 Cal W N 196
Pelu Tu # 0 Fmp I I R 11 Cal 10
0 Emp # Bharab Chunder Chackerbutty 2 Cul W N 702 per McLean C J
0 V N Thorth Mookerge 20 W R Cr 42 per Markey ]
In re Rocha Mahato I L R 7 Cal 42 ($ c) 9 Cal L R 278
Samarudi # Emp I I R 40 Cal 307
Tattechand Vastachand 5 Bom II C R Cr 85 (96) per Sargent J

The High Court may, from time to time, make rules 296 as to keeping the pury together during a trisl Looking up jury before such Court Insting for more than one day, and subject to such rules, the presiding Judge may order whether and in what manner the jurors shall be kept together under the charge of an officer of the Court, or whether they shall be allowed to acturn to their respective homes

F - Conclusion of Trial in Cases tried by Jury

297 In cases tried by jury, when the case for the lefence and the prosecutor's reply (if any) are concluded the Court shall proceed to charge the jury Charge to jury summing up the evidence for the prosecution and defence, and laying down the law by which the jury are to be guided

5 2)7 enacts that the Judge shall only charge the Jury "whea the case for the defence and the prosecutor's reply are concluded." When the Judge I arguments and took verdicts as regards certain accused and subsequent heard arguments and tool verdicts as regards others, the procedure was irregular The verdet must be taken collectingly upon charges trailed by jury even where he jury may be sitting as assessors to try other charges trailed by assessors to try other charges trailed by assessors as the processor of the processors to try other charges trailed by assessors to try other charges trailed by the cha Jury may not be asked to reconsider its verdict, the questions that may be asked are limited by S 30.12

The Court of Session in trials by jury, shall record the heads of the charge to the jury -- S 307, proviso In Madris, it has been ordered that it should be invariably sparted whether the meaning that it has been ordered that it should be invariably sparted whether the meaning that it is should be invariably sparted whether the meaning that it is should be invariably sparted whether the meaning that it is should be invariably sparted whether the meaning that it is should be invariably sparted whether the meaning that is should be invariable sparted whether the meaning that is should be invariable sparted whether the meaning that is should be invariable sparted whether the meaning that is not sparted whether the meaning that it is not sparted whether th invariably stated whether the accused or any of them was defended by a pleader

It is not necessity that a statement of the Judge's direction to the jury should be reduced to writing before deliver, but it should represent with still accuracy the substance of the charge, so as to enable the High Court, and the court of the charge, so as to enable the High Court, as the court of the charge of the charge, so as to enable the High Court, as the court of the charge of th event of in appeal, to see distinctly whether the case was furly and propelly and propelly the before the jury, and it should be written as soon as possible side the charge of the jury has been activitied. charge of the just has been actually delivered and when the facts of the care

are in the mind of the Judge 2

There should appear on the record some statement that the law bearing on the charge under true has been explained to the jury's The heads of the charge to the jury should sufficiently show to the Appellate Court that the Sest in Judge has explained to the jury the law relating to the particular offence charge as it to enable the unit of the particular offence charge. so it to entile the jury to apply it to the facts of the case under it id. The should be such as to entile the jury to apply it to the facts of the case under it id. The should be such as to entile the Appellate Court to decide whether the entire been properly laid before the jury 8. Merely to read out to the jury the selection of the Penal Code ambedded to the control of the Penal Code ambedded to the control of the Penal Code ambedded to the purpose of the Penal Code applicable to the case is not an explanation of the law succept for the random of the law success for law success for the law success for the law success for the law

When the Judge in explaining S 100 Penal Code, omits mention of the apprehension of grievous hurt, though the whole section is read to the judy, that is a misdirection. So also, there were is a misdirection? So also there is a serious misdirection, when the proper que

Public Prosecutor v Abdul Hameed I I R 36 Mad 585 Fanindra Mohan Banerjee I L R 36 Cal, 281, (s. c.) 23 Cal W N 197 (s. c.) 9 Cal L J 199

tion for the jury is the existence of a right of private defence, for the face t refer to S 300, Exception 2, Penal Code, and to ask the Jury to cres for a large such right was exceeded 1

In considering how for a misdirection in a charge to a Jury affairs the teceedings so as to demand a fresh trial S 537 should be being in mad a trial clares that no finding or sentence of a Court of competent pain tree it. reversed by a Court of Appeal, Revision, or Reference, in court of art to direction in any charge to the Jury, unless such musdirection has in fact occasional a failure of justice

An omission to state correctly to the jury what was alleged to be the erobject of an unlawful assembly does not vitrate the verdict, if such im it a las not prejudiced the accused in their defence But where the best of faller omitted to point out that certain of the prisoners under trial were pit erge, r accused, and that they were not mintioned until eighteen days afterwards there was a misdirection, and the verdict in respect to these accused was set applied

The heads of the charge should not be subjected to minute criticism should be tooked at as a whole to consider any objection of nusbrieti no Wien the High Court on appeal is called upon to sit whether or n ta Judge has die his duty in addressing a jury on the fiets it must had it the summing on the whole to see whether the case has been furly before them? On in therety a till n en appeal that, in summing up to the jury the Sissions Julie to coming in rotat the evidence for the defence the High Court read that entire a god for that the prisoner had not been prejudiced by the amission, and the of the of the been noticed, the Sessions Judge would have had to part our to the 7 th 15 been noticed, the ressions your with one another, that their it is party rate the crepant, and that the evidence of the principal witness was sir view it. The High Court added moreover we know that the prisoner yet delegate The High Court agues Counsel, and though particular points may not have been allul 11, in the last that they were made Counsel, and though particurar journal charge to the jury, we have brilled doubt that they were mile, and they charge to the jury, we have counsel it is not, therefore, to be much of by the prisoner's Counsel It is not, therefore, to be any of the nurse in considerate th much of by the prisoner's comment.

points were absent from the minds of the jury in considering the state. It is possible to the minds of the jury in considering the state. It is points were absent from the summing up to go into every particular of the impossible for a Judge in summing up to go into every particular of the interest of impossible for a judge in summing the pury in the importance of the judy in the importance of the second is in the case.* It is not a misdirection to omit to point out to the jury specific It is not a misdirection to omit to point out to the jury specific It the accused, when the Judge list the list is It the accused. It is not a misurection to ended the ludge his dry and the codence against each of the accused, when the ludge his dry and the second to be considered as to the guilt of and to see evidence against each of the accused which the find of and in set rough for yet, it and has told them to be satisfied as to the guilt of and in set rough for the accused net against, each or the standard of the a full and different summing up is understood to be a full and different summing up to understood to be legal legicles. A proper summing up is unoccasion to the legal begins of the sides, with such advice as to the legal begins of the several north of the evidence on both sides, with some more than the several parts of the experiment of t and the weight which properly musices to the weight which properly discretion would suggest. If every delect were to be received at a green for discretion would suggest it every were that the door of the grown to getting aside a verdict of guilty, it is clear that the door of the grown to good wide to criminals.

The danger is, however, guarded against by S 507 of ti. Col-which declares that, subject to the provisions contained in the provisions contained in the provisions of the contained of the con declares that, subject to the provisions of Court of companies of the Code, no finding, sentence or order of a Court of confirmation, appeal and the sentence of the confirmation, appeal and the confirmation of the confirmation Code, no finding, sentence or orus. ... appeal or instruction shall reversed or altered by a Court of confirmation, appeal or instruction shall be reversed or altered by a Court of confirmation, appeal or instruction shall be reversed or altered by a Court of confirmation, appeal or instruction of the confirmation of the con reversed or altered by a Court or community of the property of any must rection in any charge to a jury unless table to property has to feel the property of the second of any must rection in any charge to a jury unless table to property the second of any must rectify the second of any must rectified the second of any

Muhammad Yunus v Emp J I R 50 Cal. 318
Rahunat Alı v Fmp 4 Cat W N. 196
Leu Tu v Q Emp J I R 11 Cal. 10
Q Emp v Bharab Chander Chuckerbutty, 2 Cal v
Q Emp v Bharab Chander Chuckerbutty, 2 Cal v
Q v Nim Chand Wookerjee 20 W R Cr. 41 pr 114; 172, pr 1 W
I n re Rochad Myhato I L R, 7 Cal. 42 (5 1 2) (1 1 2) 27
Samaraddi v Emp J L R 40 Cal. 367
Samaraddi v Emp J L R 6 Cal. 367
Samaraddi v Emp J L R 7 Cal. 42 (5 1 2) (1 1 2) 27
Samaraddi v Emp J L R 6 Cal. 367
Samaraddi v Emp J L R 7 Cal. 42 (5 1 2) (1 1 2) 27

occasioned a failure of justice. A verdict should not therefore be set aside in every case in which there has been an erroneous or defective summing up It was the intention of the Legislature to provide protection to the innocent but not chances of escape for the guilty. When the finding and conviction are objected to on the ground that the Judge did not properly direct the jury as to the degree of weight which ought to be given to the evidence the Court of Appeal is not hard to send the case back for a new trial. If that Court is of op mon that the en dence could not in any proper view of the case, support a conviction, it would be worse than useless to send back a case for a new trial in order that the jury may have an opportunity of convicting on such evidence on a proper summing A failure of justice is provided against by allowing the Court to order a new trial whenever upon appeal it is satisfied that there has been a falure of just ce The question to be considered is not whether, upon a proper sum ming up of the whole evidence a jury might possibly give a different verdet but whether the legitimate effect of the evidence would require a different vender If the evidence is such that the High Court would have affirmed the convet if If the trial had been before the Judge and assessors it ought not to set as de a verdict by a jury merely because the Judge had not given proper caut on or advice to the jury as to the weight which they might properly give to the evidence It would be improper to order a new trial if the evidence is wholly insufficient to support any conviction against the prisoner! The opinion of the Full B ach of the Calcutta High Court in that case was therefore that the verd et and conviction ought not to be set aside if (notwithstanding a misdirection) the Court be of opinion that the verdict was warranted by the evidence and that upon that evidence it would have upheld the conviction on appeal if the trial had been by the Judge with the aid of assessors instead of by jury

Misdirections

It is not sufficient that the Sessions Judge should tell the Jury that the lab been placed before them in the addresses on either side. The respons bit yof laying down the law for the guidance of the jury rests entirely with the Judge A new trial was consequently ordered. But in summing up a Sessions Judge is entitled to have regard to the elaboration or still with which the rival contentions have been placed before the jury by the advocates (or pleaders) on both side still in doing so he should not our to metally in call the attention of the jury to matters of prime importance especially if they favour the accused person merely because they have been discussed by the advocates On this gound it was held that there had been a most rection and a new trial was ordered.

But it is not necessary that the Judge should refer to every possible port in favour of the accused it is sufficient if le deals with the more important onces and does not unduly press his own views on the facts on the judy. The charge must be read as a whole and it is not necessary to repert the direct in as to the necessity of the corroboration of an accomplice every time a reference is made to his evidence.

It is the duty of the Sessions Judge to call the attention of the jury to the different elements constituting the offence charged and in deal with the extensive by which it is proposed to make the accused Irable. An omission to do so amount to a misdirection 1. So also where statements made by some of the arcad which do not amount to confessions so as to incriminate them though the purport to Incriminate others also under trial the Sessions Judge is bound to tell the jury that they must not consider these statements except as against those who made them. An omission to do so amounts to a misdirection i

I Elahi Bux B I R Supp Vol 450 F B (1 c) 5 W R Cr 80 (pp 90-92) followed in Tattechand V stachand 5 Bom H C R Cr 85 Q Emp r Ramel andra Got of larshe 11 P 2 U m

<sup>379</sup>

"It is no doubt useful because it cases time, thit the Judge should state to the jun in the narrative form so much of the facts as are admitted by both sides. But when he has reached this point, it is best that he should explain distinctly the issues of fact that it remains for the jury to determine, having regard to that part of the case which is admitted and to the charges upon which the prisoners are fried, and having made the jury understand these issues, the more conceinent mode of summing up for to adopt is to present to the jury, as clarly and impartially as he can, a summary of the swidence and the considerations and inferences to be drawn from the evidence as they berr both on the negative and affirmative sales of each of these issues it is impossible, of course, for any Judge to state every item of evidence or to draw the attention of the jury to every fact which has been deposed to but he can, without difficulty, give them a summary of the leading points of the evidence and the considerations and inferences to be drawn from it on the one side or the other.

"The Judge may, if he thinks fit under the list chuse of S 298, at the same time, express to the jury he own opinion on the facts, but that is a very different thing from that which the Judge has done in this case. The Judge has not simply expressed his opinion and then left all the evidence furly before the jury, on the one side and on the other, for them to judge, of it by the and of his opinion, if they choose to wait themselves of it. But he has endeavoured from the first to the last to persuade the jury to take a princular view of the firsts and of the inferences from the evidence which he has himself taken and drawn, and indeed he has left them no loophole for thing any other view. Thit is not in accordance with the Code, but it is a course calculated in the mofussif to withdraw altogether from the jury the actual decision of the case?

Where the Judge in expressing his own opinion omits to tell the Jury that they are entitled to form their own conclusions on matters of fact there is a nusdirection *

Where several persons are under trul together on evidence which is not the same against all, the evidence against each should be clearly and carefully placed before the jury, and their attention should be prominently drawn to the considerations by which they may be properly guided in estimating its value. To tell the jury generally that they have the approver sevidence, without pointing out as regards each of the accused what the corroborative evidence is, is to give the lury no guidance at all.

An omission to tell the Jury that the statement of one of the accused is not evidence against another is a misdirection s

57

An ommission to call the attention of the Jury to the fact that the original witnesses of the prosecution had been abandoned that two of them had given evidence for the defence, and that the witnesses examined for the prosecution were new witnesses, is a misdirection which requires that a new trial shall be field 4

Where the common object alleged in the charge was to take possession of the complainant s land and assault him ind both sides asserted evelusive possessions and an attack by the opposite party, the Judge was not wrong in asking the Jury to consider as an afternative an intermediate state of facts, viz., that the complainant's party went to exist the accused's party and was driven back, and that the titer then followed and "assaulted the former?"

i Jaju Framanik I L R 5 Cal 711 (5 c) 2 Cal W N 369 1 G 5 Rajcomar Bone 10 B L R 36 App (6 c) 15 W R 711 per Pitera I Sourneda Albra 10 Cal W N 153 Mahammad Yunus I L R 50 Cal 318 2 (6 c) 6 Cal W N 533 Mahammad Yunus I L R 50 Cal 318

To omit to lay down the law for the guidance of the Jury is more than a misdirection. It is a failure to comply with an express provision of the law and consequently it does fall within S 537 1

Summing up as to the evidence of an accomplice

Carclessness in a summing up in this respect has been made the subject of many reported cases

Under S 114 of the Evidence Act (1 of 1872), the Court may presume that an accomplice is unworthy of credit unless he is corroborated in material particulars But it is also declared that in considering whether this maxim applies to the particular case before it, the Court may also have regard to such a fact as the following -A crime is committed by several persons A, B, and C, three of the criminals are captured on the spot and kept apart from each other Each gives an account of the crime implicating D, and the accounts corroborate each other in such a manner as to render previous concert highly improbable-Evidence \ct (1 of 1872) S 114, 111 (b)

133 also declares that an accomplice shall be a competent witness again t an necused person and a conviction is not illegal merely because it proceeds up a the uncorroborated testimony of an accompliee So their I ordships of the Juden Committee of the Privy Council said (in 1835) "It is no doubt the practice of judges when the testimony of an accomplice is not confirmed to recommend the jury not to give credit to his testimony. At the same time it is to be obsered that if the jury, notwithstanding that recommendation, believe the testiment of the accomplice, the want of confirmation is not a legal objection to the verber

The law and the practice of our Courts has been thus stated seems to be that the legislature has laid it down, as a maxim or rule of evid ner resting on human experience that an accomplice is unworthy of credit against an accused person 1 e so far as his testimony implicates an accused person, unl s he is corroborated in material particulars in respect to that person, that it is the duty of the Court, which in any particular case has to deal with an accomplete testimony, to consider whether this maxim applies to exclude that testimony or not, in other words, to consider whether the requisite corroboration is furnish ed by other evidence or facts proved in the case, though at the same time Court may rightly, in an exceptional ease, notwithstanding the maxim and if the absence of this corroboration, give credit to the accomplice's testimony against the accused, if it sees good reason for doing so, upon grounds other than to tu speak, the personal corroboration '

Now, in the case of a trial by jury, it is the function of the jury to age! tain the facts upon the evidence before them, and for that purpose to be found by the law which is applicable, and it is in all cases the duty of the Judge to point out to them that I'm (S 298 Criminal Procedure Code) It was, therefore in the present case, the duty of the Judge to by before the jury, substants to the effect and one that the effect and to the effect just set out, the principles relative to the reception of an accomplete testimony, which the Legislature sanctioned by the Indian Fudence Act, and we think the Judge was wrong in telling the jury that this case was one in a bed no custion or instruction from him was needed on this head. It is in aff case, when in a complicity to the statement of the state when an accomplice's testimony is admitted, incumbent on the Judge to inferior the jury of the results of the law bearing on this point, substantially as we have just endeavoured to explain, 12 though when cases of that description have submitted to the Judges after trial, it has been usual to recommend a pardon

The proper course is to inform the jury (a) that there is no rule in faw protest the consistent of the consistency of t biting the conviction of an ellender upon the uncorroborated evidence of an ellender upon the upon the uncorroborated evidence of an ellender upon the plice, and (b) that, as a rule of practice, it is considered unsafe to convict upon

Marivalayan I I R 30 Mad 47
 Pooneakoti Moodaliar v The King, 3 Knapp 348 (356) Or Sulhu Mundul, 21 W R Cr. 69 See also Rama bin Babaji, Rom 11 Ct. june 30, 1889

such evidence, and then to point out circumstances, if any, in the particular case for relying upon the evidence 1

The Judge ought, in his charge, to direct the jury that the corroboration of an accomplice or accomplices ought to be that which is derived from unimpeach able or independent evidence as distinguished from that derived from the earlier statements of the same accomplice or the statements of other accomplices, and to point out the danger of convicting any one of several prisoners charged at the trial about whose identity as one of the persons committing the crime, the accomplice's testimony is not corroborated. The accomplice often knows all the circumstances and may speak truly about them and yet may put some innocent man in his own place or that of some other guilty person 2

If a Judge instead of advising a jury not to convict upon the mere uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice were to advise them to convict upon such evidence, or were to tell them that the uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice given under a tender of pardon was admissible and that it was for them alone to form their epinion upon it that a consistion founded upon such evidence would be legal and that such evidence with ut corroboration might be noted up in with as much a fety as that of any other witness, the error in the direction would form a gild ground of appeal.

But the charge must be rold as a whole and it is not necessary for the Judge to repeat to the Jury the direction as to the necessity of corroboration of an accomplicee every time any reference is made to his evidence

The amission to crution the jury not to accept the approver's evidence unless corroborated is a misdirection requiring the reversal of the verdict 5 Where the Judge told the jury net to convict on the evidence of a particular witness if satisfied that he was an accomplice adding that he was not an accomplice it was held that the substantial effect was that as the witness was not an accomplice his evidence was entitled to as much weight as that of a perfectly independent and unpremidiced witness. It was therefore held that as he was an accomplice this constituted a misdirection in fact though not in

The Bombry High Court on the authority of Reg v Stubbs 7 has held that such an omission dies nit constitute an error in law and on this ground the appeal was rejected. This case however became abs lete by the amendment of the law in the Code of 1872 S 283 which recognised misdirection to a jury as a ground on which a finding or sentence could be reversed or altered on appeal if such error or defect had occasioned a failure of justice, either by affecting the due conduct of the prosecution or by prejudicing the prisoner in his defence S 424 of this Code after describing the powers of a Court of Appeal declares that a Court of Appeal shall not after or reverse the verdict of I jury, unless it is of opinion that such verdict is erroneous owing to a misdirection by the judge or to a misunderstanding on the part of the jury of the law as lad down by him and $ 537 declares that no finding, sentence or order of a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed or altered on appeal or revision on account of any misdirection in any charge to a jury, unless such misdirection has in fact occasioned a failure of justice

The Calcutta High Court has invariably followed the rule laid down by the Fult Bench and held that misdirection is an error in Jaw, and is therefore a

<sup>1 4</sup> Mad H C R App vu (s c) Weir 538
* Emp v Genu Gopal Bom H Ct Feb 24 1896
* Liah Bus B L R Supp Vol 459 F B (s c) 5 W R Cr 80
* Abdul Salm v Emp i L R 49 Cal 573
* O Limp v Arunugam i L R 19 Cal 642
* O Limp v Arunugam i L R 19 Cal 642
* 24 L J Mag Ca* to I Dear Cr Cas 55
* Craubun Dhoroju 6 Bom 6 I Dear Gr Cas 55
* Craubun Dhoroju 6 Bom 6 19 Ce 5 W R Cr 80
* Flah But B L R Supp Vol 459 (c 5 5 W R Cr 80

good ground of appeal But misdirection is not in itself fatal, unless it be found to have in fact occasioned a failure of justice (see S 537 of this Code)

If, however, notwithstanding being properly directed in this respect, the jury convicts on the uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice, there is no error of law on which an appeal will be to the High Court 1 Where there has been a conviction in a trial with assessors the Calcutta High Court in dealing with the facts on appeal has, in such cases, generally held that it is not safe to rely upon uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice, and has, therefore, acquitted the

Opinions have varied as to the nature of the evidence necessary to corroborate the evidence of an approver so that it is impossible to state any hard and fast rule

It may be observed that the Fudence Act, 1872, S 114 lays down that the Court may presume (Illustration (6)) that an accomplice is unworthy of melt unless he is corroborated in material particulars and S 4 of the same A1 declares that whenever it is provided by the Act that the Court ' may presume, a fact it may either regard that fact as proved unless and until it is disproved or may call for proof of it The practice in England is the same as that in India in respect of the diff of a Judge in dealing with the uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice in his charge to the jury and it is regarded as a settled practice not to convict a person except in very exceptional circumstances upon the uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice of and although the practice in strictness rests only to the districtness of the last of the la discretion of the Judge at the trial it has obtained so much sanction from legil authority that it describes all reverence of law 14 lt has consequently been held that it is not the law that a prisoner must be acquitted in the absence of corroborative evidence for the evidence must be had before the jury in rach No doubt it is the practice to warn the jury that they ought no to convict unless they thint that the evidence of an accomplice is comborated but there is no power to withdraw the case from the jury for want of comborntive evidence, and there is no power to set a ide a verd of that ground

So where in India in a trial held with the aid of assessors a Sessions ludge has t art both a ludge and jury it has been held by the Madris ligh four that the proper discretion in considering the evidence of an approver is always to bear in mind that it is trinted evidence, to scrutinize it with the utmost car to accept it with the greatest caution and to consider it in the light of the circumstances in which it is given and in the light of all the other circumstance Then if you believe it Ju in the case of which evidence is legally admissible may act on it, even if there is no corroboration in the strict sense of the word The view that a Court cannot act on the evidence of an approver unless at it corroborated would lead to the result that a Court could not act on such endere when that evidence stood alone, although the Court was entirely satisfied the the evidence was true. This is not the law 's

Similarly the law has been stated to be that there is no absolute rule it has that a consistion on the evidence of an accompliced is bad, but there is an established rule founded on the judicial experience of generations and requires some corroboration by some untainted evidence, and that this should be on some material particular pointing not only to the crime but to the parti contion of the accused in that crime !

It is sufficient if the evidence is confirmators of some of the leading circumstances of the story of the approvers as against the particular prisoner, so that the Court may be able to presume that they have told the truth as to the rest. The true rule on the subject of the corrob ration of the evidence of approvers probably is that if the Court is satisfied that the witness is speaking the truth in some material part of his testimony in which it is seen that he is confirmed by unimperchable evidence there may be just ground for believing that he also speaks truth in other parts as to which there may be no confirm ation. So where the prisoners were charged with having belonged to a gang of dacouts, and the evidence of the approvers was corroborated in that they came a in possession of property the proceeds of one or more decoities spoken to, but not of all the damutes alleged to have been committed by the gang it was held that there was sufficient extroboration to extract them of that offence 2

There should be correburation such as adds to the approver a evidence against the particular prisoners, and this is not complied with when there is no evidence apart from that of the accomplice which identifies the prisoner with the commission of the offence with which he is charged-nothing which distinctly goes to prove that he was in any was connected with commission of the principal offences. Facts which do not show the connection of the prisoner with the commission of the offences with which he is charged are no corroboration in the sense in which the word is used in such cases, although they may tend to show that certain portions of what the accomplice says are true !

The corroboration should be from sources independent of the approver relat ing to facts which implicate the prisoner in the same way as the story of the approver does 4

The corroboration should be derived from unimperchable or independent evidence as distinguished from that derived from the statements of the same accomplice or the statements of other accomplices and the jury should be told of the danger of convicting any one of several prisoners charged at the trial about whose identity, as one of the persons committing the crime the accomplies testimony speak truly about them and jet may put some innocent man in his own place or that of some other guilty person 5

As a general rule Courts ought not to consict upon an accomplice's testi individual prisoner as the person or one of the persons who participated in the offence and juries ought to be so advised and directed 6

ft is obvious that it is unnecessary and unreasonable to require that the evidence of an approver should be confirmed in every particular. If such evidence were forthcoming there would be no need for the evidence of an informer, or to offer a conditional pardon to an occused person to obtain his evidence?

A confession made by an accused person affecting himself and another person both being tried for the same offence may be taken into consideration as against

Sar Monia 18 Cal W N 550

9 v Kalachand Doss 11 W R 21

9 v Kalachand Doss 11 W R 21

9 v Nawab Jan 8 W R Cr 19 (p 26) per Macpherson J see also Jamiruddi
Masalli v Emp I L R 29 Cal 782

<sup>**</sup>Q v Bykuntah Banerjee 10 k R Cr 17

Emp v Genu Gopil Bom H Ct Feb 24 1896 Q Emp v Krishnabhat J L R, 10 Cal 1970

1 L R 10 Cal 1970

**Nahu I L R 1 Bom 475 Q Emp r Bepta Biswas I L R 10 Cal 1970 Emp v

Palavasam West I L R to Bom 319 Reg t Bud? Q Emp v ILR SAH 306 Q Emp v P

such other person [Evidence Act (I of 1872, S 30)]1 but such confess on is no evidence which can be properly used to corcoborate the testimony of an approver

It may not be altogether out of place to state that, in appeals heard ago ast sentences passed in trials held with the aid of assessors, in which it is open to the Appellate Court to consider the entire evidence on which the appellant was convicted the High Courts have shown the greatest disinclination to rely on the uncorroborated evidence of an approver and they have, even on revi 1007 set aside convictions on such evidence on the ground that it is unreliable. There are however some reported cases,3 in which the High Courts have consided on the uncorroborated evidence of an approver

Summing up as to the value of a confession retracted at the trial

There is no rule that a retracted confession cannot be treated as evidence against the person who made it, unless corroborated in material particulars by independent reliable evidence The jury should be asked to consider not whether it is corroborated by independent evidence (though if there is any, it should be placed before them) but rather whether, having regard to the cr cumstances under which it was made and retracted and all other circumstances connected with it it is more probable that the confession is true or the statement retracting it 5

It does not follow because a confession made by an necused person is subtequently retracted and there is little or no evidence on the record to support it that therefore the confession should be rejected as untrue or unreliable. The eredibility of a confession is in each case to be determined by the Court accord ing to the eircumstances of the particular case, and if the Court is of op nion that the confession is true and was voluntarily made, the Court is bound to att for as the person who has made it is concerned upon such belief. Where a conference to person who has made it is concerned upon such belief. fession is not supported by the evidence of witnesses the Judge must examine it very enrefully to see whether it gives those details which indicate that it is a natural narrative of what took place in the presence of the person making it and is not at variance with any evidence in the case which is believed and that it is n t a parrot lil e repetition of a story put into his mouth.

I confession must be dealt with like any other piece of evidence and acted on only if it is helieved to be true? The Court must be satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that the confession is true and this nee saity is greater when it has been withdrawn. It is therefor unsafe to rely up n a retracted confession unless upon consideration of the who evidence in the case the Court is in a position to come to the unhesitating con clus in that the centees n is true. If there is no correborative evidence site the contradictory statements of the prisoner remain and doubt exists which sale ment is true and the confessional statements cannot be safely re ed upon

When a confession is retracted by the accused on the ground that it was induced to the property of other confession is retracted by the accused on the ground that it was induced to the confession in the confession in the confession in the confession is retracted by the accused on the ground that it was induced to the confession in the ed by torture or other improper means and the accused has marks of violence on his body, it is the proper course for the Judge to take evidence about the circum

CIN V ver which seems effen 6 - 1 3 11 11 1 r to which was

e Asan Mult k

<sup>2</sup> Cal W > (72 Reg r Rama Sami Palayachi I L R t Mad , 304 Q Emp r Golandia

Reg r Ruma Sumi Palayachi I L R i Mad., 304 Q I R i Ald 1 528 per Froze C J 4 Q Emp r Gangia I I R 23 Bom 316 6 Q Emp r Raman I I R 23 Mai 83 6 Q Fmp r Raman I I R 24 Mai 83 7 Hilya Dagi Bhi Born H CC Teb 17 1894 9 Q Fmp r Mitabur I I R 18 MI 71 1894 9 Q Fmp r Rumin I L R 18 MI 72 1894

stances before admitting such confession in evidence, and it will then be the duty of the Judge under S 20S to determine whether it is admissible in evidence having regard to S 24 of the Fyidence Act 1

The question has arisen how har a retracted confession may be used as evi dence against other persons tried jointly for the same offence with the person who made it S 30 of the I vidence Act, 187*, declares that ' when more persons than one are being tried jointly for the same offence, and a confession made by one of such persons affecting himself and some other of such persons is proved the Court may take into consideration such confession as against such other person as well as against the person who makes such confession. If such a confession be retricted at the trial and its truth denied by the person who made it, it should carry no weight against any person other than the maker, for he has hed on one or the other occusion. The fullest corroboration would be necessary in such a case, fir more than would be demanded for the sworn testimony of an accomplice on oath 2. But the Allahabad High Court his relived this very salu thry rule to a dangerous point, for it has held that although as against the maker his confession even if retracted may form ground for his conviction without any corroboration, although some corroborative evidence may be necessary before the retracted confession can be used as evidence against others tried jointly for the same offence, that corroboration need not of itself be sufficient for their conviction OD if 4

See also note to S 287 for other cases on this subject

298 (1) In such cases it is the duty of Duty of Judge. the Judge-

- (a) to decide all questions of law arising in the course of the trial, and specially all questions as to the relevancy of facts which it is proposed to prove, and the admissibility of evidence or the propriety of questions asked by or on behalf of the parties, and, in his discretion, to prevent the production of inadmissible evidence, whether it is or is not object ed to by the parties,
- (b) to decide upon the meaning and construction of all do cuments given in evidence at the trial,
- (c) to decide upon all matters of fact which it may be no cessary to prove in order to enable evidence of parti cular matters to be given .
- (d) to decide whether any question which arises is for humself or for the jury, and upon this point his decision shall bind the jurors
- (2) The Judge may, if he thinks proper, in the course of his summing up express to the jury his opinion upon any question of fact, or upon any question of mixed law and fact, relevant to the proceeding

Butapabin Dasapa Bom H Ct Dec 3 1894
 Yasin I L R , 28 Cat 689
 Emp v Kehn, I L R , 29 All 434

Illustrations

(a) It is proposed to prove a statement made by a person not being a witness in the case, on the ground that circumstances are proved which render endence of such statement admissible

It is for the Judge, and not for the jury, to decide whether the existence of those circumastances has been proved

(b) It is proposed to give secondary evidence of a document, the original of which is alleged to have been lost or destroyed

It is duty of the Judge to decide whether the original has been lost or destroved

A Judge should merely by down the law and sum up the evidence on both sides. He should not in his charge to the jury, discuss objections rused by the counsel for the defence. His charge should be confined to a summing up of the evidence showing how the law applies to it 1 If in the course of his summing up, the Sessions Judge expresses to the jury his opinion on any question of fact or upon any question of mixed law and fact he should be most careful at the same time, to explain to the jury that it is for them to decide all questions of fact. Where, therefore, the Se's 16 Judge told the jury that there was no doubt " regarding certain facts, which it was the duty of the jury to determine, he withdrew from their consideration matters which they alone could entertain. He may express his own opinion but he must then leave all the evidence fairly before the jury to judge of it by and and of his own opinion if they choose to avail themselves of it But he must not endersour to persurde the jury to take the particular saw of the facts and of the inferences from the cyclence which he has himself taken so as to leave them to loophole for taking any other view, such a course is calculated to withdraw from the jury the netural decision of the case ? It is a misdirection to put to the jury and to leave it to them to determine whether a confession to a Magistrate and how much of a confession to the police are admissible It is the duty of the jury only to determine the value of the eve

dence after the Judge has decided as to its admissibility $ Where in approver alleged to have forfeited the pardon accepted by him under 5 337 is put on his trial the Judge must try the question of forfeiture at n preliminary issue and lake the verdiet of the Jury thereon 5

It is the duty of the pary-Duty of jury 299

- (a) to decide which view of the facts is true and then to return the verdiet which under such view ought according to the direction of the Judge, to be re
  - turned: (b) to determine the meaning of all technical terms (other than terms of law) and words used in an unusual sense which it may be necessary to determine, who ther such words occur in documents or not;
  - (c) to decide all questions which according to law are to be deemed questions of fact;

Panchu Das I L. R. 34 Cal 609
Amiruddin Ahmed I L. R. 45 Cal 557

&lt;sup>1</sup> Q r Nibokisto Ghose S W R 37 per Macriterson J Q r Ramgipal Dhur 10 W R Cr 7 Mengra Budhi 1 R m 11 Cl March 21 1803 See also Q Lmp r Bepta Riswas 1 L R 10 Cal 970 Ofet Wallah 18 Cal W Na. 180 Or Rajcoomar Bose 10 B L R 36 App . (39) . 19 W R Cr. 71 (73) per Pheas J.

Shashi Rajbanshi v Lmp., I L R., 42 Cal. 856

(d) to decide whether general indefinite expressions do or do not apply to particular cases, unless such expressions refer to legal procedure or unless their meaning is ascertained by law, in either of which cases it is the duty of the Judge to decide their meaning

Illustrations

(a) A is tried f r the murder of B

It is the duty of the Judge to explain to the jury the distinction between murder and culpable him all and to tell them under what views of the facts to ought to be consisted of nurder or of culpable homicide or to be acquitted it is the duty of the jury in decide which view of the facts is true and to return a verict in accordance with the direction of the Judge whether that direction is right or wring, and whether they do or do not agree with it.

(b) The question is whether a person entertained a reasonable belief on a particular point -whether work was done with reasonable skill or due dil gence

Eich of these is a question for the jury

In a case of giving false evidence by making two contradictory statements, it is unnecessary for the jury to state which of the two statements is false, but it is sufficient for them to find whether the allegations made in the charge are prived  $^{\rm i}$

300 In cases tried by jury, after the Judge has finished Retirement to conline charge, the jury may retire to consider their verdict

Except with the leave of the Court, no person other than a purer shall speak to, or hold any communication with, any member of such jury

The verdict of the jury is withded if after their retirement a juror without the fewe of the Court speaks to or holds communication with a period who is not a juror. The Court need and inquire into the subject matter of the conversation or communication?

301 When the jury have considered then verdict, the foremen shall inform the Judge what is their verdict, or whit is the verdict of a majority at the verdet so delivered is not clear, S 303 enables the Judge to ask such questions as are necessary to ascertain what it is S 303 also gives the Judge a discretion to require the jury to reconsider their verdict if it is not an unanimous verdet. Under S 304 a wrong verdet delivered by accident r m stake may be corrected by the jury before or immediately after its recorded.

Delivery of verdet.

The verdict of a majority

This may be by a bare majority of the juriors if they differ that is, practically the verdict of one jurior. But see S 30, in regard to a verdict in the High Court.

<sup>1</sup> Q v Mahome I Ilumayoon Slab 13 B L R 3 4 (s c) 21 W R Cr 72 per Full Bench of nuc Jidges (Iurux and Jackson JJ dass) 4 Ben Madhab Kundu v Emp 1 L R 46 Cal 207

When the verdict finding the accused guilty of an offence under thal has been declared, the Sessions Judge should not stop the foreman from adding to it. He may say something tending to show that the jury have not properly understood the case, and this will require the Sessions Judge to recharge the Jury, or he may recommend the prisoner to mercy 50, where, in convicting the prisoner of rioting, the foreman stated that the jury found that the lands and crops in dispute were theirs, and the Sessions Judge owing to his interruption did not hear thus but passed the extreme sentence provided by law for that offence, a new trial was ordered, because the jury seemed to regard the case set up by the prosecution as not established or untrue, and it was there fore for them to consider and find whether the prisoners, who were not the aggressors, had or had not exceeded the right of private defence of their property 1

By such an interruption, the Session Judge may prevent the foreman from adding to the verdict a recommendation to mercy for the consideration of the Judge in passing sentence

If the jury are not unanimous, the Judge may re quire them to retire for further consideration Procedure After such a period as the Judge considers lury differ reasonable, the july may deliver their verdict, although they are not uhanimous

The Judge may not ask the Jury to reconsider a unanimous verdict merely because he disagrees with it

(1) Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, the jury 303 shall return a verdict on all the charges on Verdict to be given which the accused is tried, and the Judge may cach charge ask them such questions as are necessary to Judge may question Jury ascertain what their verdict is.

(2) Such questions and the answers to Ouestions and Answers to be recorded them shall be recorded.

See Ss 237 and 238, under which on charges for certain offences a verder convicting the accused of other offences not expressly charged may be returned.

Where the verdict is in ambiguous terms, the Sessions Judge is bound to a-certain what the jury really meant their verdict to be 2 This meaning should not be acertained by conjecture or inference

So when, in the trial of three persons, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in respect of two, and added that the third necused was "Kom doshi is little or less guilty), the Sessions Judge should have refused to accept such verdict and should have required the jury to give a proper verdict, by mean of questions put to them 2

It is only when the jury are not unanimous or when, from the nature of the verdict delivered, its purport is vague or uncertain ($ 303), that the Judge is competent to refrain from receiving it. So when the jury control the accused on the control of the con the accused on the second head of the charge, and acquitted hum on the first and the Judge required them to re-consider their verdict, it was held that was bound to receive the verdict ! The jury are not bound to find a simple verdict of guilty or not guilf

They may find a special verdict, a string of acts to which the judge should apply the law. The jury are at liberty to deliver their verdict in whatever form they think fit, and if that finding is not exhaustive as to the facts in issue which go to make up the charge or charges it is the duty of the Judge to put such questions to them as shall elicit a complete finding !

Narayar Chunga t 1 mp 1 1 R 30 Cal 485 K Emp t Cludghan Gossan 7 Cal W N 135 Q v Joy Kisto Gossamee 7 W R Cr. 22

(2) When a person is charged with an offence consisting of several particulars, a combination of some only of which constitutes a complete minor offence, and such combination is proved but the remaining particulars are not proved, he may be convicted of the minnr offence, though he was not charged with it

(2) When a person is charged with an offence, and facts are proved which reduce it to a minor offence, he may be convicted of the minor offence although he is not charged with it-(5 238)

So, in a trial on a charge of culpable homicide amounting to murder (S 300, Penal Code), the jury may return a verdict of guilty of culpable homicide not amounting to murder (5 304) or of grieveus hurt (5 325) or of hurt (S 323) although none of these offences are expressly charged

A jury may, under certain circumstances return a serdict in the alternative, that is, when the verdict is one convicting the accused under the Penal Code and it is doubtful under which of two sections or under which of two parts of the same section of the Code the General File they my distinctly express the same and return a verdict in the alternative (compare $3.07.6) and $2.26, and see illustrations to S 236) or the verdict may be one consicting him of an offence which the accused is found to have committed although he was not charged with it,2 provided that the circumstances are such as would bring the charge under S 236 (See illustrations to S 237)

But under all circumstances, the jury, if so inclined to act, should ask for and obtain the instructions of the Judge

The Judge may ask them such questions, etc.

It seems doubtful how fir a Sessions Judge may put questions to the jury as to the reasons for the verdict delivered. In one case a Coucit C 1 and Bireit I, ordered a Sessions Judge to be informed that he ought not to do so, but in another case ' Macriii RSON and GLOVER JJ, remarked ' The Judge never took the trouble to ascertain on what ground it was that the jury arrived at the verdict which they gave and in another case 5 PitFAR and Morris II, made the following observations 'It is only when it is necessary to ascertain what the verdict of the jury really is, that the Judge is justified in putting questions to the jury. Unless a necessity of this kind truly exists the questions are not justified in law. No doubt the Legisliture thought that it would be very dangerous to give the Sessions Court the power of cross examining the jury after they had delivered their final verdict with a view to show that the conclusions at which they had arrived were not logical. or were inconsistent, or in order to provide materials upon which the Judge might be en bled afterwards to di pute the finality of the verdict this instance, it does appear from the answer which the foreman returned on being asked to give the verdict of the jury on the first charge, that there was at the time some lurking uncertainty in the minds of the jury themselves in regard to their verdict ind we thind that this uncertainty in their minds made itself apparent to the Judge and that therefore, on the whole, the questions which were put by him were rightly put within the discretion vested in him by S 263 (now S 303 of this Code) This being so, there was no

Q P Hard Pressed Gamp Iv S B I R 557 (s c) 14 W R Cr 59 Sec also C Emp v Machaevra I R 11 Bron 735 Sec Gost of Branch Vistad B I R 5 Cal 871 (s c) 6 Cal L R 349

Q v Meajan Sheikh o W R Cr 50

O t Udya Changa zo W R Cr

O t Udya Changa 20 W R Cr 73 Q v Sustiram Mandal 21 W R Cr x Abdul Hamid I L R, 32 Cal 759 verdict delivered and there could have been no verdict formally recorded until the last of the questions was answered, it is very clear that upon the finding of the facts which the in wers of the jury talen together disclose, the verdict ought to have been a verdict of guilts on the first charge names the charge of murder "

In mother case a Markon J expressed his opinion that a jury should be be quest oned by a Judge as to the grounds on which their conclusion is based PRINSEP J however differed approxing of the case last mentioned and observing that such a cure would enable the Judge to decide whether a case should be submitted to the High Court. This matter has been discussed by the Bombay High Courts by Junbaie and Camba JI who differed

JARDINE J relied upon the rule had down in S 303 which enacts the English Ish Im as stated by Bh kburn J in these terms. It is the duty of the Judge to take care that the verdet of the jury is not imperfect and if the jury have omitted completely to answer the question left to them 'as when their find's is asked for an certain points in evidence constituting the offence charged by ought to point ut the omission and have it corrected. But once a good send is given the case is res indicata funless the Judge disagrees with the rend and under S 30" of the Code refers the case to the High Court) It is not fr the purpose of knowing the opinions of the jurors on particular questions of fact but for the purpose of making the meaning of the veril of certain that $ 30 enables a Sessions Judge to ask the jury questions regarding a veriet del cent JURDINE J therefore refused to consider the answers propounded after del very of the complete verdict. Canby I on the other hand remarked that there is no distinct provision in the 120 preventing the Sessions Judge from akme the jury a single question when once a plan unambiguous verdict has been delivered the questions referred to in S 303 being only such as are necessary to recerting what the verdict is and that in a case (such as that before him) depend ing upon the inferences to be drawn from two or three facts neither principle nor statute forbid the Ses ions Judge from asking the jury to state a ping concrete finding on those facts. The responsibility thrown on the Se one Judge by S 107 to determine whether it is neces are to express desgreenent with the verdict of the jurors is relieved by a clear and concise idea of the ground of the real of Super C J who heard the case in consequence of the different of opn on between these learned Judges in respect of the order to be pared on the reference under section 30 expressed no opinion on this point's

In another case in which the jury returned a verdict acquitting the account of an offence under S 232 Penal Code but convicting him of an offence under S 233 and the Sessions Judge questioned them regarding their reasons for the verdice of acquitted and on their answer explained the law requiring them to reconsider their verdet which was then returned for conviction the Bondar High Court refused to consider that fresh verdet but the verdet and sentence for the other offence was affirmed on appeal. It was observed that S 334 observed the S 334 observed that S 334 observed that S 334 observed that S 334 observed that S 334 observed the S 334 viously contemplates cases where the verdet delivered is not in accordance what was a safety and what was really intended by the jury. There was no accident or mistake in the delivery of the verifict. The mistake was in their misunderstanding the last and if such a mistake resulted in an erroneous verdict it can be corrected by the Sessions Judge referring the case to the High Court under S 307 and at these are to the referring the case to the High Court under S 307 and at these are to the High Court under S 307 and at the case to t there was no amb gut to in the unanimous verdict of not guilt, the only course left was to refer the case

In one case the Calcutta High Court seem to have held that the See 15 Judge should have invited the jury to express the r opinions on which they formed their verdict, so as to enable them to reconcile their apparently inconsistent verdict, acquitting one of the accused and convicting another, before he referred the case under $ 307 to the High Court. The opinion of Davies J., in Emp. Chelan 1 L. R. 23 Med. 91, was quoted with approval, but the reported cases to the contrary in the Calcutta High Court were not referred to 1 The same matter was again considered on an objection taken that, before referring the case under S 307 the Sessions Judge had not taken the opinions of the jurors so as to enable the High Court to deal with the case, but it was held that 'the opinion if thi Jidge and the jury in $ 307 was equivalent to the opinion of the Judge and the verthet of the jury and that however desirable it might be in such a case to ascert in the grounds of the verdict, the law has not so expressly provided "

<sup>1</sup> Emp r Mikhun Kumar r Cal L R 275 7 O Emp r Dala Ana I L R 15 Rom 45 2 O Emp r Dala Ana I L R 15 Rom 45

* Emp v Kondiba I L R 23 Bom 41°

In a Patna case the Court held that when the Judge intends to refer a case under S 307 he should ascertain and record the reasons for the opinions of the jury, (it is noticeable that under $ 307 the High Court is required to give due weight to the opinions of the jury) and the mere fact that such opinions have not been ascertained and rec rded dies not absolve the High Court from its duty to examine the evidence in the case and to form its own judgment after giving due weight to the views of the Judge and the jury as to the guilt or innocence of the accused

The Madras High Court has held a fellowing former decisions of the same Court,5 that the Judge is not entitled to question the jury as to the reasons for their verdict even if he intends to make a reference to the High Court under S 307 But in the later case it was also decided that if the Judge had put such questions to the jury his action was not improper or a sufficient ground for not accepting the reference 4

Where the jury has returned a plain simple verdict of not guilty," though it may be erroneous but not ambiguous the duty of the Judge is to receive and record it without and ing aim questions about it. The High Court refused to consider the answers given by the pury because the Judge had no authority to put the questions which called forth the answers !

So also where the verdict was not guilty " the Sessions Judge cannot put questions to the jury to obtain their opinion on some portions of the evidence in order to determine whether he should refer the case to the High Court under 5 307 1

If a Sessions Judge though disagreeing with the jury, decides in the exercise of his discretion not to refer the case under $ 307, because he is not clearly of opinion that it is necessary for the ends of justice to make a reference, his fulure to do so will not be a ground for interference by the High Court on appeal *

Where, in a trial of rape the jury found that the prisoner "did the act with consent, the Judge should have applied the law to the facts so found, and should have accepted the verdict as one of acquittal. It is only when the jurors are not unanimous that the Judge may require them to retire for further consideration. This course is ilesirable when the verdict is that of a bare

&lt;sup>1</sup> K I'mp t Annada Charan Thakur 9 Cal L J 638 (s c) I L R 36 Cal 629 <sup>2</sup> Tarapado Naskar 18 Cal W N 615 (s c) 17 Cal I J 522 Emp t Chellan,

<sup>11</sup> R 29 Mal 91

Finj Buulotan Singh ( Pat L J 264 Subbish Theyan I L R 43 Mad 244 Subbish Theyan I L R , 30 Mad 469 Public Prosecutor r Abdul Hameed,

I L. R. Jo Med. 353.

I L. R. Jo Med. 353.

In e. Dhunum Keez I J. R. 9 Col. 33 (6 c.) 11 Cal. J. R. 169.

I Top v. Askul Hamid I L. R. 32 Cal. 759. Emp v. Stranadu I L. R. 30 Mad.,

Eran Khan t Emp I I R 50 Cal 658

O Emp v Madhavrao, I L R, 19 Bom , 735.

majority that is, of three to two, when there are five jurors. If the verdet 5 vague or uncertain in its meaning or effect the Judge may ask the jury such questions as may be necessary to ascertain what their verdict means Thus if the verdict is one convicting of culpable homicide not amounting to murder as the punishment for that offence varies with regard to the intention or know ledge with which the act of causing death was committed (S 304 Penal Code) the Judge should ask such questions as may enable him to ascertain the exact nature of that offence found to have been committed. If he does not do so the verdict of the jury must be taken to have found that the lesser form of the offence had been committed. Then the jury by a majority consided the accused of culpable homicide not amounting to murder and for the purpose of determining the measure of the sentence they were asked to consider the nature of that offence within the terms of S 304 Penal Code and when they found that the accused intended to cause death and the jury then returned that they were unan mously of opinion that the accused was gully of morder it was held that the second verdet was merely that the jury found the accused guilty under the first part of S 304 Penal Code and that they had no post to re consider the entire case. It was not an erroneous verdict delivered by accident or mistake such as would entitle the jury to re-consider it (S 304) nor had the Sessions Judge required them under S 302 of this Code to the consider their first verdict 2

When jury is not unanimous the Sessions Judge should either accept the verdict or require them to retire for reconsideration. He should not inquire on which side the majority is so that if it coincides with his own opinion he my accept it A further consideration might result in the majority then exist a becoming the minority's But if from the form of the verdict delivered the Sessions Judge is satisfied that the jury has misunderstood the charge on which they had to find it is his duty to proceed under S 303 and to ask them such duestions as are necessary to ascertain what their verdict is Until this is done there is no verdict delivered and no verdict ought to be recorded until the last of the questions has been answered. Thus where the jury returned a verdict of guilty of network generally on a chirge of network of much the Judge refused to necept the verdict and on inquiry necessarily that the Judge refused to necept the verdict and on inquiry necessarily that the jury were under a misapprehension of the charge against the prisoner accordingly amended the charge and directed the jury to reconsider the verhelt. Similarly where the jury returned a verhel of not guilty of murding but guilty of culpable homeide not amounting to murder and on quel in the luttle assessment of the culpable homeide not amounting to murder and on quel in the luttle assessment of the culpable homeide not amounting to murder and on quel in the luttle assessment of the culpable homeide not amounting to murder and on quel in the luttle assessment of the culpable homeide not amounting to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to murder and on quel in the culpable homeide not amount to the culpable homeide not a put the Judge recentained that the jury had not understood the nature of the offence but had found facts amounting to murder it was held that no verice had been delievered in the first instance and that on the finding of facts the Judge should have recorded a verdet of guilty of murder 5

So also where the Judge directed the jury to give a clear verdet in repet so also where the Jidge directed the jury to give a clear verdet in red of the offences under Ss 147 148 304 326 and 325 Penil Code and iter returned a verdict of guilty under S 147 against some and guilty under S 148 against the rest and that none were guilty under S 149, the verd of a 148 against the rest and that none were guilty under S 149, the verd of a 148 against the rest and that lunder section their sections and the lunder section their sections and the lunder sections and the section their sections and the lunder sections are sections. complete, and the Judge was justified an putting questions to ascertain their verdet under the other sections and a subsequent verd of guilty under Ss 36 149 was legal in this case Sammasov C J suggested that their several accused were heart to the section same to the suggested that their several accused were heart to the suggested that their several accused were heart to the suggested that their several accused were heart to the suggested that their several accused were heart to the suggested that their several accused were heart to the suggested that their several accused were heart to the suggested that their several accused were heart to the suggested that their several accused were heart to the suggested that their several accused were heart to the suggested that their several accused the suggested that their several accused were the suggested that their several accused the suggested that their several accused the suggested that the suggested that their several accused the suggested that the suggeste several accused were being tried on several charges it would be convenent toler the results. take the verdict against each accused upon each charge separately

O v Ameer Khan 6 B L R 86 App note (s e) 12 W R Cr 35 Chundal Vithal Bom H Ct Nov 21 1898 Hurry Chuin Chuckerbitty t Tmp I L R 10 Cal 140 (s c) 13 Cal L R

<sup>358</sup> O Emp v Appa Subbara Mendre I L R 8 Bom 200
 O v Sustram Mandal 21 W R Cr 1
 Fran Khan t Fmp I L R 50 Cal 658

304 When by accident or mustake a wrong verdict is delivered, the jury may, before or immediately shall stand as ultimately amended

SPHE Statements of individuals jurges dictionands to timed to support an applicution to set aside a verbit after it has been recorded and acted upon are in

adms ille to show h w the verdict was arrived it

Where after the venture we have a trien the Judge citled further defence wines es who had been given up and then addressed the jury again and took a second verdet, the seen of verdet was a mility and a retrail was ordered.

Verdict in High Court when to prevaid as many as six are of one opinion and the Judge agrees with them, the Judge shall give Judgment in accordance with such opinion

(2) When in any such case the pity are satisfied that they will not be unanimous, but six of them are of one opinion, the foreign shall so inform the Judge

foreman shall so inform the Judge

Discharge of jury in (3) If the Judge disagrees with the maofter cases. (3) If the Judge disagrees with the majority, he shall at once discharge the jury

(4) If there are not so many as six who agree in opinion, the Judge shall, after the lapse of such time as he thinks reasonable, discharge the jury

In a trial before a Court of Session, the verdict of a jury may be that of any majority, even of a majority of three to two

Verdet in Court of her Judge does not think it necessary to exestimate when to prevaid unions or of a majority of the jurors, he shall give judgment accordingly

(2) If the accused is acquitted, the Judge shall record judgment of acquittil. If the accused is convicted, the Judge shall inless be proceeds in accordance with the provisions of section 562, pass sentence on him according to law.

Sub section (2), as amended by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 80, now states the Liw more occurrete). S 502 (Nes the Court power to release certain conwicted offenders on probation of good conduct instead of sentencing to punishment, or to release after due admonition

If sentence of death is prissed, the proceeding shall be submitted to the High Court, and the sentence shall not be executed unless it is confirmed by such Court—S 374

Because the Sessions Judge does not agree with the verdict of the jury occurrency the accused, is no valid reason for his passing a nominal sentence

<sup>1</sup> Imp v Harkumar Burman Roy I L R 40 Cal 693 sec also Owen v Wurburton, 1 B & B 3 6 Burgass v Langley 5 M G 7- Q v Murphy L R. 2 P C 535 1 Lyne v Crown I L R. 4 Lah 382

By doing so, he usurps the function of the jury. Unless he thinks proper to refer the case, under S 307, it is the Judge's duty to pass a sentence adoquate to the offence of which the prisoner has been convicted. It is not in every case in which the Sessions Judge may differ from the verdict that he should abstant from giving effect to it and refer the case to the High Court under S 307. It must be 'clearly of opinion that for the ends of justice' he should be so See S 307.

If the prisoner is acquitted, no warrant of release or infimation to the jal authority is necessary. The prisoner is entitled to be discharged from custoff immediately on judgement of acquittal being pronounced, and, if there is further charge pending against him, his further detention is illegal. It is for the just sufficient in whose custody the prisoner was until the irril was concluded, to satisfy themselves of the result of the trial, and no formal warrant.

or release need be sent by the Court to the Superintendent of Jail

Copy of the sentence or order should be communicated to the District Magistrate and by him to the Superintendent of Police

If the person convicted is straing under Government in the Military Department information should be given to the Officer Commanding the regiment of corps to which he belongs and if he be serving under the Government of India in the Military Department, a copy of the conviction and sentence should be forwarded to that Department.

Whenever any officer enlisted solder, or sepoy is sentenced to a fine of Rs 200 or upwards or to imprisonment otherwise than in default of paying a fine not amounting to Rs 200 the Court should, of its own motion, send a copy of its final order to the superior of the person convicted If the person is tonced is a reservist of the native army, a report should be sent to the Offier Court in the control of the court of the court

A copy of the decision should be sent to the head of the department is which he is employed, whenever any Government scrvant is judicially connected of any offence

On the application of the head of the department copies of orders acquiring Government officers of offences shall be supplied free of cost

mences small be supplied free

Payment of jurors

For the rules passed on the subject, see note to S 331 post

Appeal

When a trial is by jury, an appeal lies on a matter of law only, except it law (S 418). A Court of appeal cannot alter or reverse the vertuct of a jurille (S 418). A Court of appeal cannot alter or reverse the vertuct of a jurille sit is of opinion that such verdict is erroneous owing to misdirection by the Judge or to a misunderstanding on the part of the jury of the law 18 lad down by him [S 423 (2)]. See notes to S 423 and S 537.

Procedure where services of the jurors, on of a majority of the services of opinion that it is necessary for the ends of justice to submit the case accordingly, recordingly and, when the verdict is one of acquittal, stating the offence which he considers to have been committed and in such case, if the accused is further charged under the provisions of section 310, shall proceed to try him on such charge as if such verdict had been one of conviction

Fran Khan v Emp I L R 50 Cal, 658

(2) Whenever the Judge submits a case under this section, he shall not record judgment of acquittal or of conviction on any of the charges on which such accused has been tried, but he may either remaind such accused to custody or admit him to bail

(3) In dealing with the case so submitted, the High Court may exercise any of the powers which it may exercise on an appeal, and subject thereto it shall, after considering the entire evidence and after giving due weight to the opinions of the Sessions Judge and the jury, acquit or consist such accused of any offence of which the jury could have convicted him upon the charge framed and placed before it, and, if it convicts him, may pass such sentence as might have been passed by the Court of bession.

In considering, the numerous reported a set sel ting to references to the High Court made by Session Judges because this have disagreed with the verifiest of juries, the changes in the law mude from time to time by the various Codes, and the terms of the law under which cash of these cases was deeded should be carefully noted, as these changes have mide many reported cases obsolete. These have consequently not been referred to in the notes to this section.

The Code of $50, did not provide for such a reference. The verdict of the Jury was under that Code final, bug it was either an unanimous verdict or a verdict by an absolute majority not as it might be in succeeding Cours, the verdict of a bare majority, that is of one juror vilo as it were, could give the Casting vote in a verdict. Thus out of a jury consisting of five persons, four were necessary to constitute a verdict, out of a jury of seven, five, and out of a jury of time a x—C de of thost, a 328). On a distingnement amongst the juriors without such a majority the juriors were discharged and a new trial was held—(S 351). An uppeal lay only on a point of law (S 408) and proceedings resulting in such a verdict were open to revision only on a point of law—(S 403).

In its results, this system was found to have been unsatisfactory, so the law was amended by the Code of 1872. It declared that if the Court does not think it necessary to dissent from the verdet of a majority of the jurors, it shall give judgment accordingly but it added if the Court disagrees with the verdet of the jurors or of a majority of such jurors, and considers it necessary for the ands of justice to do so it may submat the case to the High Court held light court shall deal with the case so referred as with an appeal, but it may convict the accused person on the facts and, if it does so shall pass such sentence as might have been passed by the Court of Session —(S 263)

This was amended by Act VI of 1874 S 21, which made the law run thus — If the Court disagrees with the verdict of the jurors or of a majority of the jurors on all or any of the charges on which the prisoner has been tried 6c (as in the passage aiready quoted from S 263 of the Code of 1874, the words in thate bung inserted). There was a further amendment in these terms

The High Court shall deal with the case so submitted as it would deal with an appeal but it may acquit or convict the accused person on the lacts as well as law vishout relevence to the particular charges on which the Court of Session may have disagreed with the verdict, and, if it convicts him shall pass such sentence as might have been passed by the Court of Session An appeal lay, as under the Code of 1872, only on a point of law against a conviction in a trial by jury ($ 271) if it appeared to the High Court hat there had been a material error in any judicial proceeding of any Court subordinate to it," it was empowered, as a Court of Revision, "lo pass subjudgment, sentence or order thereon as it thought fit"-(S 297) The verd ct of a jury might thus be that of majority consisting of one juror

The Code of 1882 made no alteration in the law regarding what might constitute the verdict of a jury, and, in respect of the cause of a disagreement on the part of the Sessions Judge with a verdict so as to necessitate a reference to the High Court, it merely declared that the Sessions Judge must disagree so completely that he considers it necessary for the ends of justice to submit the case to the High Court,' and it further declared that, in dealing with the case so submitted, the High Court may exercise any of the powers which it may exercise on an appeal, but it may acquit or convict the accused of any offence of which the jury could have convicted him upon the charge framed ind placed before it, and if it convicts him, may pass such sentence as m ght have been passed by the Court of Session"-(S 307)

The powers of an Appellate Court which could be exercised on such a reference were made larger than those under the former Codes, for it 1825 made clear that they were not those which could be exercised as on apprai from a consistion in a trial by jury that is, only in a matter of law though in appeal in a case tried by jury was still restricted to a mitter of law (S 418) The powers of an Appellate Court were also considerably enlarged, as a comparison between S 423 of the Code of 1882 and the corresponding sections of the former Codes will show and the High Court was empowered in revision to exercise all the powers which were thus vested in it as a Court of Appel except that it could not on revision convert a finding of aquittal into one of conviction.

conviction (See S 439)

The terms of S 307 of the Code of 1882 were modified by Act \111 of 1896, S 3, so as to make the law as it is originally set out in S 307 of the Code of 1898 It will be observed that, by this modification, the disagreement of the judge with the verdict of the jury was emphasised It was to be such a to igreement that he is clearly of opinion that it is necessary for the ends of justice to submit the case to the high Court" Act VIII of 1896, S 3, also modified by terms of S 307 of the Code of 1882 in respect of the powers to be exertised by the High Court in a case so referred to After the words of Section 30 of that Code, which declared that the High Court may exercise any of the poxest which it may exercise on an appeal, it made the law rin thus "And, subjet thereto, il shall, after considering the entire evidence, and after grung weight to the opinions of the Sessions Judge and the jury, acquit or comed. In the Code of 1898, S 307 has been re enacted in those terms

The Section has now been further amended by Act No XVIII of 1973 S 81, but not in such a manner as to make any material change in the law The amendments make two points clear first that it is only the case of the particular accused in respect of whom the Judge disagrees with the reflection of the submitted of the case of t which will be submitted to the High Court, and secondly that, before submitting the core mitting the case, the judge should arrive at a finding as to any previous continuous charged. The lutter amendment is necessary in order to enable the High Court to pass a suitable sentence forthwith if it convicts the accused

The course of legislation and the terms in which the law is now expressed in S 307 of this Code thus show, that it was intended to prevent the finally of a verdet of the jury given to it by the Code of 1861, b) enabling the Sessions Judge to interpose by refusing to record and act upon that error, if he thought that if he thought that it would cause a failure of justice, and in such a case of

<sup>1</sup> See Emp v Babar Alı Gazı I L R 42 Cal , 789

refer the proceedings to the High Court, and to require the High Court to deal with the entire case, even on its ments on matters of fact, after giving due weight to the opinions of the Sessions Judge and jury. It is clear that it was not intended as it has been held under the former Codes that a verdict of the jury should not be disturbed unless it could be shown to be perverse or clearly or manifestly wrong. Due weight is to be given to the opinion of the Sessions Judge as well as to that of the jury, and, therefore without fully considering the evidence at the trul the High Court could not form its own opinion whether the verdict is wrong or the opinion of the Sessions Judge disagreeing with that verdict is wrong! When a verdict is not unanimous, the weight to be given to it would be considerably diminished by the dissentient opinion of the Sessiens Judge. In a trial held by jury it is only when a reference has been made by the Sessions Judge under 5 307, and in a case r ferred for confirmation of sentence of death that it is open to the High Court to consider the case on its merits, for in such a case it is the duty of the High Court to determine whether that sen ence should be confirmed and carried into execution. In a case submitted for confirmation of a sentence of death the responsibility is with the High Court, and it would be impossible for the High Court adequately to do its duty without dealing with the entire case. The High Court is bound to go into the ficts. In a case so before it, the High Court has on the facts not only found that the offence is of a lesser degree than culp able homicide amounting to murder, but it has even acquitteds the accused against the verdict of the Jury—(See S 376)

The result of legislation seems to be that unless the Sessions Judge ac cepts it, the verdict of a jury in a Sessions Court outside a presidency town has no longer the ordinary force of a verdict of a jury, and that if the Sessions Judge disagrees with a verdict and submits the case to the High Court the determination of the case lies with the High Court after full consideration of the evidence and after giving due weight to the opinions of the Sessions Judge and of the jury

When the verdict is clear and unambiguous as a verdict of not guilty he Sessions Judge 14 n t competent to 1st the jurors questions to obtain their opinions on some portions of the evidence so that he may determine whether he should report the case to the High Court under $ 307 $

Where the Sessions Judge after delivery of the verdict questioned the jury regarding it the High Court held that he acted without jurisdiction and refused to consider the answers so obtained in a reference under $ 307 1 for further cases discussing the powers fig Sessions Judge when he intends to submit a ease under $ 307 see note to $ 303

A case can be submitted under S 307 and by the Sessions Judge who has held the trial. He is empotent to act for this purpose even after he has vacated office *

In submitting a case to the High Court under S 307 because he disagrees with the verdice the Sessi ns Judge should state of what offence the accused should in his ipinion be convited? and also set out in his reference on what portion of the evidence or on what faces disclosed by the evidence the prisoner should have been convicted. He is also bound to limit himself to matters faid before the pury. Thus he cannot rehe on police reports which have not been put in evidence at the treal and considered by the jury *

<sup>1</sup> Fmp r I vall t I R 21C at 1 8 (8 c) 6 C at W N 253
2 Q u Jaffar W 10 W R Cr 57
4 Q 1 Ramboud Chucket tutty 0 W R Cr 19
4 I mp v Abdi Hannd t t R 3 Cat 759
5 Emp v Strandt i t R 30 Mad 469
5 Dif Wihomed Sheah Cat L J 48
7 Fmp v Shake Rac t 1 R 3 Cat (3 (8 c) 2 Cal L R, 204
8 K Lmp 1 Bhutant (h 8 c 7 Cat W N 343
8 K Lmp 1 Usub Dra t L R 27 Cal 20 5 (8 c) 4 Cal W N 229

Where, on his own showing in his charge to the jury, the evidence is so open to hostile criticism as to justify the jury in regarding it with suspcion the Sessions Judge does not exercise a proper discretion in referring the cast under S 307 i

Nevertheless the report shows that the case was dealt with on its ments

Where the Sessions Judge recorded that he saw no reason for not accept ing the verdict of the jury and adjourned the trial to pass sentence, he was not competent to reconsider the ease and to refuse to accept the verdict referring the case to the High Court under S 307 The High Court refused to consider the reference and directed the Sessions Judge to pass sentence 2

It is not for the High Court in a reference under S 307, after reading the letter of reference and the Judge's charge to the jury, to abstain from exama ing the case on its ments unless it can be shown that the verdict of the just was unreasonable. To do so ould not be "giving due weight to the opnions of the Sessions Judge and jury "S 307 (3)

If the Judge agrees with the unanimous verdict of the jury he cannot submit a case under S 307 on the ground that he thinks that the verdict 818

In a case under S 397, Penal Code, it is open to the jury to convict under S 326 of that Code, though the offence is only triable by assessors, and in a reference under S 307 of this Code the High Court could convict under S 326, Pen I Code 5

Under S 307 the High Court has very full powers to re-open all matters in connection with a verdict of acquittal by a jury with which the Judge hi disagreed It should however only interfere where a jury has arrived at a verdict which is perverse or clearly and manifestly wrong. Where the jury has given a verdict which is not perverse and is not elearly and man festh wrong, the verdict should not be interfered with although it is perfectly potsible to form a not unreasonable opinion contrary to the opinion taken by the surv 4

When on charges under Ss 302 and 302/34 Penal Code, the Judge agree with the jury that it is doubtful whether the accused committed the effects by his own hand and submits the case under S 307 on the ground that he doubt has been been been submitted. agrees with the verdict as to whether the accused neted together in furtherance of the common intention the High Court should not, even if it has juried choo to do so, deal with the question whether the accused committeed the offene personally 7

A case coming before the High Court under S 307 is not heard by that Court in its original eriminal jurisdiction, but as a Court of Reference in extreme of its powers under S 28 of the Letters Patent which are co-extensive with its appellate jurisdiction a In a case referred under S 307, it is for the Government who ask for a conviction to begin when the reference is heard by the High Court a Where the Judges of the High Court hearing a case referred under S and differ in opinion, the procedure laid down in S 429 should be followed, and the ease should be referred to a third Judge 10

<sup>1</sup> K Emp : Chidghan Gossain 7 Cal W N 135 O Emp v Mojahur Rahman 4 Cal W N 683 L J 638 10 C) J L R 36 Cal 629 . 662

Emp v Panna Lal I L R 46 All 265

IIIZZ TARD Sxcs 308-309

The Vindras High Court had held that in view of S 310 an accused person, more case the Sessions Judge intended to submit under S 307 could not be asked to plead to a charge of a previous conviction, and that it would be only after he had been found guilts by the High Court that the charge of the pre-vious consistion could be tried. The amendment of S 307 has rendered this case obsolete

G -Re-trial of lecused after Discharge of Jury

308 Whenever the pary is discharged, the accused shall be detained in custody or on bail (as the case may be), and shall be tried by another jury, Re trial of accused after discharge of jury unless the Judge considers that he should not be retried, in which case the Judge shall make an entry to that effect on the charge, and such entry shall operate as an acquittal Jury is discharged

This would be under 5 282 on the absence of one of the jurors, or for the incapacity of any juror to understand the proceedings or the trial, or under S 283, when the prisoner becomes incapable of remaining at the bar, or, under 5 305, in a trial before a High Court where the verdict is not that of the prescribed majority of the jurors, or if it be of such majority and the presi-ding Judge disagrees with the majority. But it is doubtful whether the dis charge of the jury under $ 283 would require a fresh trial before another Jury, see note to S 283 S 497 (1) declares that a person occused of a non-bulable offence shall not be released on bail, if there appear reasonable grounds for believing that he is Sulty of an offence punishable with death it with transportation for life.

The Public Prosecutor may with consent of the Court withdraw from a prosecution, in which case, if the withdrawal is after the charge has been framed, the prisoner shall be acquitted (S 494)

Payment of Jurors

See note to $ 341 post for the orders of Government in this respect

H -Conclusion of Trial in Cases tried with 4 sessors,

- 309 (1) When, in a case tried with the aid of asses ors, Delivery of opinions of assessors the case for the defence and the prosecutor's reply (if any) are concluded, the Court may sum up the evidence for the prosecution and defence, and shall then require each of the assessors to state his opinion orally, on all the charges on which the accused has been tried and shall record such opinion, and for that purpose may ask the assessors such questions as are necessary to ascertain what their opinions All such questions and the answers to them shall be recorded
  - (2) The Judge shall then give judgment, but in doing so shall not be bound to conform to the opinions Judgment. of the assessors.

<sup>1</sup> Emp v Kandasami Goundan, I L R 30 Mad , 134

CHAP XXIII Sec 309

(3) If the accused is convicted, the Judge shall, unless he proceeds in accordance with the provisions of section 562, page sentence on him according to law

This section has been amended by Act No XVIII of 1923 S 82 In the first place it now makes it clear that the opinions of the assessors must cover every charge on which the accused has been tried secondly it is specifically provided that for the purpose of recording the opinion of an assessor the Judge may ask such questions as are necessary to ascertain what the opai on is all such questions and answers must be recorded mended now states the law more occurately S 562 empowers the Court to release certain convicted offenders on probition of good conduct instead sentencing them to punishment Compare S 289 If the accused says that he does not mean to adduce evidence the prosecutor may sum up his case and if the Court considers that there is no evidence that the accused committed the offence, it may then in a case tried with the aid of assessors record a finding of not guilty-5 289 (1) Sub section (3) provides similarly for such a case if the accused says that to means to adduce evidence

The Court may sum up

No provision is made for any record of such summing up, as in a case ind by jury ($ 367) It has been pointed out it is not necessary to preserve an record of the discussion between the Judge and the assessors, for in a trade held there is an appeal on the facts and the Appellate Court can examine the discussion of the facts and the Appellate Court can examine the grounds of the finding of the Judge and the assessors The real object of appointing issessors is to assist the Court and the discussion and statement of points by a Judge sitting with assessors cannot be said to be otherwise than a furtherance of the object of getting the best assistance for its proper ad judication of the case 1

But any questions asked for the purpose of ascertaining what the assessor opinion really is and the answer thereto must now be recorded (Sub-section The object of summing up the evidence in a tiral held with the 1d is

resessors is to enable the Judge in a long or intricate case to place the evidence before them in an intelligible form so as to assist them in arriving a reasonable conclusion not to give the Judge an opportunity of express his own op nion in emphatic terms on every single matter put in evidence in the face of the very decided op nion expressed by the Judge the 1 earlier cannot otherwise than be very much embarrassed in forming an independ at opinion of their own 2

When the accused is charged at the same time with several offences of which some are and some are not trible by jury he shall be tried by ju such of those offences as are trable by jury, and by the Court of Session 61 the and of usesses for the first of the and of usesses for the first of the aid of issessors for such of them as are not triable by jury (Sect. 1), all If these charges form the subject of the same trial the verdict of the jury or the be taken in respect of such charges as are triable by Jury and the opnous of the same persons as assessors in respect of the other charges. The opinions of the upress as assessors in respect of the other charges. the jurors as assessors' should be taken where the opinions of only some had been taken the conviction was set aside as it was an irregularity not curbe by S 537

Opinion of each assessor

The record of the opinion of each assessor should appear at the comment of the undergoes of the comment of the ment of the judgment of the Sessions Judge It is not sufficient that the resistance should contain a mere regular of the sessions for the second sufficient that the resistance is not s should contain a mere verdict of guilty, or not guilty or proven or not priven

&lt;sup>1</sup> O t Amirudd n 7 B L R (3 (s c) 15 W R Cr 15 <sup>2</sup> Shedulla Howladar v Emp I L R 9 Cal 875 (s c) 12 Cal L R 50<sup>6</sup> <sup>6</sup> O Imp r Sami I L R 13 Mad 426 <sup>6</sup> Ramakrishna Reddi t Emp I L R 26 Mad 50<sup>8</sup>

what the High Court requires, is, not only the result arrived at by each assessor studied on Sessions trial, but, if possible, the resons by which each assessor strike on a Session studied of the opinion. While avoiding or problems, Sessions Judges should be erreful to be intelligible and precise in recording such opinions. This is more particularly necessary when the Judge differs from the assessors?

The unions of the assessors have no legal valulity such as the verdict of a jury. Their weight depends in the reison and sense by which they are supported. The Judge should, theirlon, obtain and separately record the opinion of each assessor, and should insite and encourage eich assessor to make his opinion more than a bare opinion on the case, stating the view that the assessor takes of the facts and the considerations (in brief) on which his opinion is founded?

Where the assecsors were not which or given an opportunity to give their independent opinions on the case, but were required to answer a number of questions, and on their answers their opinion was recorded by the Sessions Judge, a new trial was ordered. It was pointed out that the Sessions Judge had no power to question the assessment subject to the property of th

In so far as this decision laid down that there can be no questions until the opinion has been recorded it is probably not in accordance with the new law. The section now provides that, for the purpose of recording the opinion the Judge, may ask questions. This is not the same thing as the asking of questions to cluudate an opinion aftered recorded. The proper printice would be to ask the opinions, and if these opinions are not clear to ask supplementary questions. But as the questions and answers have to be recorded it would objiculty be not only comeinent but necessary to law the original opinion also recorded. The amendment is probably intended to give effect to the law fauf down in a Calciuta case.

Consequence of not recording opinions of assessors

It has been held that when a judgment of acquittal is recorded, it is not necessary to record the opinions of the assessors. But in another case, I the conduct of the prosecution or projudice the prisoner in his defence, so as to be a sufficient ground for interference on revision. In another case, the observation of the suspection of the suspection of the suspection of the suspection was regarded as hairing occasioned a failure. I justice and a new trial was ordered because the hairing occasion and a failure. I justice and a new trial was ordered because the widence in the case which he exhibited to be unsatisfactor, intrustivation or introductive. I but Judge non-squeenly proceeded the programment of the suspection of th

<sup>1</sup> Cal H C Cr 4 June - 3 1865 Rules & C 24 All H C C O 15 of 1865 Bk
Cr p 17

1 R Cr 6 Q e Bushmo Anen 1b d 21

1 R 41 Cal 350

1 L

1 L

1 L

1 All (ro See broacter Perma Krishma Redd): Emp,
1 L

1 L

1 All (ro See broacter Perma Krishma Redd): Emp,
1 L

1 All (ro See broacter Perma Krishma Redd): Emp,
1 L

1 L

1 All (ro See broacter Perma Krishma Redd): Emp,
1 L

1 L

disbelieves) that the necused committed the offence, the Judge in recording a finding of not guilty need not take the opinions of the assessors 1

The matter is however different where the necused has been consisted in such a case, a statement of the opinions of the issessors is of the greatet importance when the case comes before a Court of Appeal or Revision When such opinions had not been recorded the case was returned in order that they might be obtained and recorded 2 A similar order was passed where the ep nions recorded were incomplete, and did not enable the Court to determine on which of the charges the accused were convicted. So also, where the Ses as Judge convicted on evidence talen after the assessors had been di charged a new trial was ordered . The Sessions Judge is bound to form his opin on on the evidence taken at the trial, aided by the opinions of the assessors

In connection with this subject, the terms of S 537 should be borne in mind, no finding, sentence or order passed by a Court of competent jurisd et on shall be reversed or altered on appeal or revision on account of any error on sion or irregularity in the judgment or other proceedings during the trial unles such error, omission or irregularity has, in fact, occasioned a failure of just re

Ss 336-373 provide for the form of a judgment its delivery and other part culars. If sentence of death is passed, the proceedings shall be submitted to the High Court and the sentence shall not be executed unless it is confirmed by such Court—S 374. When the recused is sentenced to death by a Sescon Judge such Judge shall further inform him of the period within which it washes to named by a country of the period within which it washes to named by a country of the period within which it washes to named by the period within which it washes to named by the period within which it washes to named by the period within which it washes to named by the period within which it washes to name a period within which washes to na wishes to appeal his appeal should be preferred -S 371 (3)

If the prisoner is requitted no warrant of referse or intimation to the jal nuthorities is necessity. The prisoner is entitled to be discharged from cust of immediately on judgment of acquittal being pronounced, and if there is further charge and are the further charge and are the further than the further charge pending against him, his further detention is illegal. It is for the pail authorities, in whose custody the prisoner was until the trial was concluded to satisfy themselves of the result of the trial and no formal warrant of release ordered by the Court to the Superintendent of the Jail is necessary

On application made by the liead of the department copies of order acquitting Government bifficers of diffences shall be supplied free of sharp similar orders have been according to the supplied free of and the sample of the supplied free of the sample o Similar orders have been passed regarding communication of orders com class persons in the Military service of Her Majesty and others See note to S 23 PAINFAL OF ASSESSORS—See note to S 331 post for the orders of Government

In the case of a trial hy a jury or with the aid of asses sors when the accused is charged with an offence and further charged that he is by rel Procedure in case of son of a previous conviction hable to enhanced previous conviction punishment or to punishment of a different kind for such subquent offence, the procedure prescribed by the foregoing provi sions of this Chapter shall be modified as follows, namely

(a) Such further charge shall not be read out in Court and the accused shall not be asked to plead thereto, nor shall the same be referred to by the prosecution or any evidence adduced thereon unless and until

<sup>1</sup> Reg v Parvati 7 Bom H C R Cr 82 1 Q v Mussumat Vina Nuggerbhatin 3 W R Cr 6 Q v Matam Val 2 v M R Cr 3; 4 Q Lunp v Ram Lal I L R 15 Alt 136 (s c) All W N 1893 F 59

Dewan Singh v Q Emp , I L R 22 Cat , 805

- (i) he has been convicted of the subsequent offence, or
- (ii) the jury lave delivered their verdict, or the opinions of the assessors have been recorded, on the charge of the subsequent offence
- (b) In the case of a trial hold with the aid of assessors, the Court may in its discretion, proceed or refrain from proceeding with the trial of the accused on the charge of the previous conviction

IS 310 has been remodelled by Act No XVIII of 1973 S 83 but the redrafting makes no maternal alteration in the law l

There would thus procurally be two separate trials in such a case one of the substantive offence of which the accused is charged the other of a previous conviction charged as an aggression of that effence. But it would be necessary to proceed on the sec nd p rison of the charge only if the necessed has been convicted of the subsequent offence that is of the offence for which he was committed for trial. The object of the law in keeping back a charge of a previous conviction is to prevent any prejudice in the minds of the jury or assessors in the trial of the subsequent charge

S 511 post provides special means of proving a previous conviction

If there is no evidence to prove the charge of a previous conviction the Sessions Judge cannot ask and examine the accused in order to obtain an admission from him. An accused person can be examined only to explain fairy circumstance appearing in evidence against him ($ 342) 1

S 75 Penal Code enables : C urt to enhance the sentence to which a person convicted of an offence punishable under Chapter VII (relating to coin and Government stamps) or Chapter VII (against property) with imprisonment for three years or upwards has been previously convicted of such an offence

The record shall invariably show that reference to a previous conviction was not made until the accused had been convicted of the subsequent offence?

The Madras High Court had held that the accused cannot be called upon to plead to a previous conviction where the Sessions Judge has determined to refer the case under S 307 to the High Court I ecruse he disagrees from the ver dict of the jury a S 307 as now framed renders this case obsolete. It requires the Sessions Judge to try the charge of previous conviction before submitting the case. It is presumed that the High Court will not be prejudiced by knowledge of the accused's intecedents and so the High Court, in case it convicts is in a position to gress sentence forthwith

Where, in a trial by jury, the prisoner was called upon at the same time to answer a charge of theft and also one of having been previously convicted. the irregularity was condemned but the conviction was not set aside as the evidence of the theft was so clearly proved that the verdict of the jury could not have been influenced by the irregularity 6

As to the precedure in warrant-cases see S 255A which renders obsolete the ruling in Dehri Sonar v Emp I L R 50 Cal 367

<sup>1</sup> Yasın t K Emp 1 1 R 28 Cul 689 Basanta Kumart Emp 1 1 R 26 Cal.

&lt;sup>2</sup> Kristo Belary Dass & Fmp 12 Cal L R 555 <sup>3</sup> Kandasami Coundan l L R 30 Mad 134 <sup>4</sup> Bep n Belari Shaw & Emp 13 Cal I R 110

Notwithstanding anything in the last foregoing sec 311

When evidence of previous conviction may be given

tion, evidence of the previous conviction may be given at the trial for the subsequent offence, if the fact of the previous conviction is relevant under the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act. 1872

The following portions of the Exidence Act (i of 1872) relates to this section -

Facts showing the existence of any state of mind such as intention knowledge, good faith negligence, rashness, ill will or good will towards any particular person or showing the existence of any state of body or bod ly feel ag are relevant when the evidence of any such state of mind or body or body feeling is in issue or relevant

Explanation II -But where upon the trial of a person accused of an offence the previous commission of an offence is relevant within the meaning of the section the previous conviction of such person shall also be a relevant fact

Mustration

(b) A is accused of fraudulently delivering to another person a counterfet coin, which, at the time he delivered it, he knew to be counterfeit

The fact that A had been previously convicted of delivering to another perion as genuine a counterfeit coin knowing it to be counterfeit is relevant - 3 14

Evidence of previous convictions is not admissible to prove the state of mad of the accused when the charges are under ss 325 395 and 402 Penal Code1 So in a trial for an offence under S 400 Penal Code, (belonging to a gost of persons associated for the purpose of habitually committing deceit) the previous conviction of the accused of dacoity was held to be relevant under this section 3

In criminal proceedings, the fact that the accused person has a bad character is irrelevant unless evidence has been given that he has a good character in which case it becomes relevant A previous conviction is relevant as evident of bad character - (Evidence Act I of 1872, S 54 as amended by Act III of 1891 S 6)

J -I 1st of Jurois for High Court and summoning Jurors for that Court

312 The High Court may prescribe the number of persons Number of special whose names shall be entered at any one time iuries in the special juiors list

Provided that no definite number of Europeans or of Ameri cans or of Indians shall be so prescribed The expression "High Court" used in this Chapter, except in 5 276 and

S 307, means a Chartered High Court and also the Courts of the Judicial Com missioners of the Central Provinces Oudh and Sind—(S 260)

The amendment of this section (by Act No XII of 1973, S 18) gives greater all the statusty and definitely gives to the High Courts the power to presente that the number of special jurors. The rules of certain High Courts provided that the

L R 27 Cal 139 and Emp t Naba Kumar Patentk r Cal W N 146
R 17 Cal 139 and Emp t Naba Kumar Patentk r Cal W N 146
R 17 Cal W N 146
R 27 Cal 139
R 27 Cal 139

special luror's list should contain the names of two hundred Europeans and two I undred non Lumpeans. The power to do this has now disappeared, the object of the proviso being to secure that the list should include all persons qualified to whatever nationality they may belong. As to qualifications, see S 325

- 313. (1) The clerk of the Crown shall, before the first day of April in each year, and subject to such rules List of common and as the High Court from time to time prescribes. special jurors. prepare-
  - (a) a list of all persons hable to serve as common mrors.

(b) a list of persons hable to serve as special inrois only

(2) Regard shall be had, in the preparation of the latter list, to the property, character and education of the persons whose names are entered therein

(3) No person shall be entitled to have his name entered in the special jurors' list merely because he may have been entered in the special jurors list for a previous year

(4) The Governor General in Conneil or the Local Government in the case of the High Court at Port William in Bengal, and, in the ease of other High Courts, the Local Government, may exempt any salaried officer of Government from serving as a juror.

The Clerk of the Crown shall, subject to such rules as Discretion of officer aforesaid, have full discretion to prepare the preparing lists said lists as seems to him to be proper, and there shall be no appeal from, or review of, his decision

For the definition of Clerk of the Crown,' see S 4 (e) In the case of the Calcula High Court the Local Government has now concurrent powers of exemption with the Government of India, by reason of the amendment made in sub-section (a) of the Devolution Act, XXXVIII of 1920, 5 2 and Sch 1

- (I) Prehimmary lists of persons hable to serve as common priors and as special jurges, respectively signed by the Clerk of the Crown, Publication of lists preliminary and rev sed shall be published once in the local official the fifteenth day of April next after their Gazette before preparation
- (2) Revised lists of persons hable to serve as common jurors and special phors, respectively, signed as aforesaid, shall be published once in the local official Gazette before the first day of May next after their preparation
- (3) Copies of the said lists shall be affixed to some conspicuous part of the Court-house

Number of jures to said, there shall be summoned in pressum on a the town which is the usual place of dency-towns who are hable to serve on special or common juries respectively as the Clerk of the Crown considers necessary

- (2) No person shall he so summoned more than once in an amount of the number cannot be made up without him
- (3) If, during the continuance of any sessions, it appears supplementary sum—that the number of persons so summoned is not sufficient, such number as may be necessary of other persons hable to serve as aforesaid shall be summoned for such sessions

Ss 315 and 316 provided for the number of jurors to be summoned without the presidency towns but the same amendments have been make here as in 5 276. The criterion now is whether the High Court is sitting if the town which is its usual place of sitting. In S 315 a discretion as to be number of jurors to be summoned has been left to the Clerk of the Cronn (4d No. XVIII of 103. S. 84).

Summoning jures tention to hold stitings at any place outside the presidency-towns.

ginal criminal jurisdiction, the Court for the exercise of its me shall, subject to any direction which may be given by the frequency towns, and the manner hereinafter prescribed for summoning jurors to the Court of Session at such place to any direction which may be given by the frequency to the manner hereinafter prescribed for summoning jurors to the Court of Session

See S 335

Military jurers, the said Court of Session shall, if it thinks needful, after communication with the commissioned and non-commissioned officers in Her Majesty's Anny or Air Force resident within ten units of its place of sitting as the Court considers to be necessary to make up the juries required for the trial of persons charged with offences before the High Court as a aforesaid.

(2) All officers so summoned shall be hable to serve on such puries notwithstanding anything continued in this Code; but no such officer shall be summoned whom his commanding officer desires to have excused on the ground of ingent official duty, or for any other special official reason

Ordinarily all persons in Her Majests's Army are exempt from liability to serve as jurors-S 300 (g)

Any person summoned under section 315, section 316 Fadure of jurors to or section 317, who, without lawful excuse, attend. fuls to attend as required by the summons, or who, having attended, departs without having obtained the permission of the Judge, or fails to attend after an adjournment of the Court after being ordered to attend, shall be deemed guilty of a contempt, and be liable, by order of the Judge, to such fine as he thinks fit, and, in default of payment of such fine, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months in the civil jail Provided that the Court may in its discretion remit any fine or imprisonment so imposed

If a trial is adjourned the jurors shill illend at the adjourned sitting and at every subsequent sitting, until the conclusion of the trial -S 295

K-List of Jurors and Assessors for Court of Session, and Summoning Jurors and Issessors for that Court

319 All male persons between the ages of twenty-one and sixty shall, except as next hereinafter mention-Liability to serve as ed, be hable to serve as jutors of assessors at jurors or assessors any trial held within the district in which they reside, or, if the Local Government, on consideration of local circumstances, has fixed any smaller area in this behalf, within the area so fixed

The following persons are exempt from hability to Exemplians serve as jutiors or assessors namely --

- (a) officers in civil employ superior in rank to a District Magastrate,
  - (b) salaried Judges.

until the fine is paid

- (c) Commissioners and Collectors of Revenue or Customs,
- (d) police officers and persons engaged in the Preventive Service in the Customs Deputment,
- (e) persons engaged in the collection of the revenue whom the Collector thinks fit to exempt on the ground of official duty
- (f) persons actually officiating as priests or ministers of their respective religions.

- (g) persons in Her Majesty's Army or Air Force, except when, by any law in force for the time being, they are specially made liable to serve as jurors or ussessors.
- (h) surgeons and others who openly and constantly prac tise the medical profession.
  - (1) legal practitioners (as defined by the Legal Practi tioners Act 1879) in actual practice,

(1) persons employed in the Post-office and Telegraph

Deputments.

(h) persons exempted from personal appearance in Court under the provisions of the Code of Civil Proce duie, sections 640 and 641. (1) other persons exempted by the Local Government from liability to serve as muois or assessors, the terms of S 320 are exempt from liability,' not 'incapable' as in the Codes of 1861 and 1872 The right to exemption should be claimed and established (1.1861 and 1872)

lished (see S 324)
In Bengal Barristers at law practising out of Calcutta have been exempted the Bengal also officers of the Currency Department, also certain officers of the Bengal Nagpur Railway s of the Darjeeling Himahyan Railway, and of the Assam

Bengal Railway 5

In Madras all persons residing outside an area the radius of which shall be fixed at twenty miles from the place where trials before the Sessions Court are held in districts where there is no Railway communication have been even ple from liability to serve as jurors or assessors at any trial held in the district in which they reside But persons reseasors at any trial held in use a Table 19 which they reside But persons residing in districts where there is Table 20 communication shall be liable to serve if the journey to the town where the Sessions Court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is distanced to the court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is situated from the town or village in which they res de does not exceed a distance of the court is situated from th exceed a distance of fifty miles by rail and ten miles by road or water in the districts of histin Godneri and Malabar this radius has been extended to fif miles in the cases of such towns or villages as are in direct communication water with the Sessions station?

In Madras the holders of various offices have been exempted from labin to serve as jurors or assessors #

In the Panjas certain persons have been exempted under S 320 8 In British Brays all persons living at a distance of more than ten miles from the place where trials before a Court of Session are held lace been exempted 19

In cl. (b) salaried Judges only are exempted. This will make honoran of stipendiary Manufacture and a second of the salaries and salaries are salaries and salaries and salaries are salaries and salaries and salaries are salaries are salaries and salaries are salaries are salaries and salaries are salaries and salaries are salaries are salaries and salaries are salaries and salaries are salaries and salaries are salaries are salaries and salaries are salaries and salaries are salaries are salaries are salaries are salaries and salaries are salaries are salaries are salaries and salaries are salari non superdiary Magnetrates who are Judges (See definition Penal Code Subbut not salaried Judges Inbb to a selected Judges) but not salaried Judges liable to serve as jurors or assessors CI (i) is also are

&lt;sup>1</sup> Cal Gat 1888 Part l p 733 Man Vol II p 83 <sup>2</sup> Cal Gat 1896 Part l p 796 Man Vol II p 83 <sup>3</sup> Cal Gat 1895 Part l p 831 Min Vol II p 83 <sup>4</sup> Cal Cat 1895 Part l p 831 Min Vol II p 83 <sup>4</sup> Cal Cat 1895 Part l p 598 Man Vol II p 83 <sup>4</sup> Cal Gat 1895 Part l p 1275 Man Vol II p 99 <sup>5</sup> Cont Mud 1884 Mud Index & Mo 91 <sup>5</sup> Cont Mud 1889 Rules & Mo 91 <sup>5</sup> Cont Mud 1896 Part Rules & Mo 91

* Mal Rules to No 88 * Pinj Covt Nov 15 1886 Bk Cir Vol I p 75 18 Gar 1893 Part I p 154

Cate XXIII Sees 3°1 3°4

321 (1) The Sessions Judge, and the Collector of the dis Lat of juriers and triet or such other officer as the Local Government appoints in this behalf, shall prepare and make out in alphabetical order a list of persons liable to serve as juriors or assessors and qualified in the judgment of the Sessions Judge and Collector or other officer as aforestid to serve as such, and not hiely to be successfully objected to under section 278 clauses (b) to (h), both meliusic

(2) The list shall contain the name place of abode and quality or business of every such person and if the person is an European or an American the list shall mention the race to which he belongs

322 Copies of such list shall be stuck up in the office of the Collector or other officer as aforesaid and and of the District Court houses of the District Magistrict and of the District Court and extracts therefrom in some conspicuous place in the town or towns in or mar which the persons named in the extract reside

323 To every such copy or extract shall be subnomed a notice stating that objections to the list will be heard and determined by the Sessions Judge and Collector or other officer as aforesaid at the Sessions Court house, and at a time to be mentioned in the notice

- Revision of 1st.

  Judge shall sit with the Collector or other officer as aforesaid and shall at the time and place mentioned in the notice nearest the last and hear the objections (if any) of persons interested in the amendment thereof and shall strike out the name of any person not smitable in their judgment to serve as a jurior or as an assessor or who may establish his right to any exemption from service given by section 320 and insert the name of any person omitted from the list whom they deem qualified for such service
- (2) In the event of a difference of opinion between the Sessions Judge and the Collector or other officer as aforesaid the name of the proposed juror or assessor shall be omitted from the list
- (3) A copy of the revised list shall be signed by the Sessions Judge and Collector or other officer as aforesaid and sent to the Court of Session
  - (4) Any order of the Sessions Judge and Collector or other officer as aforesaid in preparing and revising the list shall be final

- (5) Any exemption not elumed under this section shall be deemed to be waived until the list is next revised
- Annual rev on of (6) The list so propared and revised shall be again levised once in every year
- (?) The list so revised shall be deemed a new list, and shall be subject to all the jules hereinhefore contained as to the list originally prepared
- In the case of any district for which the Local Gov ernment has declared that the trial of certain Preparation of list offences shall if the Judge so direct be ly of spec al jurors special jury, the Sessions Judge and the Collector of such dis trict or other officer as aforesaid shall prepared in addition to the revised list hereinbefore prescribed, a special list containing the names of such jurous as are borne on the revised hat and are in the opinion of such Sessions Judge and Collector or other officer as aforesaid, by reason of their possessing superior qualifications in respect of property, character or education, fit persons to serve as special jurors Provided always that the inclusion of the name of any person in such special list shall not involve the removal of his name from the revised list nor relieve him of his liability to serve as an ordinary juror in cases not tried by special ıurv

Compare S 269 under which the I ocal Government may make such dybration and may also give the Sessions Judge discretion on application made is him or of his or motion to direct that attrial to be held by juriors summoned from a special jury 1 st. and it also empowers the Local Government to revoke or after such order.

326 (1) The Sessions Judge shall ordinally seven do at Datiet Magistre hast before the day which he may from the to summor purers and to time fix for holding the sessions, send a satisfactor.

letter to the District Magistrate requestion in the said special list as seem to the Sessions Tudge to be needed for trials by jury and trials with the aid of assessors at the said sensions, the number to be summoned not being less than double the number required for any such trial and including where any the number required for any such trial and including where any the number and the number required for any such trial and including where any the number and accused person is an European or an American, as many Europeans or Americans as may be required for the purpose of classification.

(2) The names of the persons to be summoned shall k

CRAF TXIH JUPORS AND ASSESSORS IN COURTS OF SESSION 481

drawn by lot in open Court, excluding those who have served within six months nuless the number cannot be made up without them; and the numes so drawn shall be specified in the said letter.

(3) Where the accused requires and is entitled to be tried under the provisions of section 275, there shall be chosen by lot, in the manner prescribed by or under section 276, from the whole number of persons returned the juris who are to constitute the jury until a jury containing the proper number of Europeans or Europeans and Americans or of Indians, as the case may be, has been obtained.

Provided that, in any case in which the proper number of Europeans or Americans cannot otherwise be obtained, the Court may, in its discretion for the purpose of constituting the jury, summen any person evoluded from the list on the ground of his being exempted under section 320

(4) Where, under the provise to sub-section (3), the Court proposes to summen as a jurie any person in His Majesty's Army, the provisions of section 317 shall apply in like manner as they apply for the purpose of the summening of military juries for a trial under section 316

The list words of sub section (1), from 'and including were added by Act No VII of 1923 S 19 Directions to this effect had generally been given by High Courts Sub sections (3) and (4) were added by the same enactment. They provide for the special case covered by S 275 where the accused having claimed to be treated as belonging to a particular class (See Chapter VLIVA) requires a majority of the jury to be of his own class

Sch V (32) gives the form of precept to a District Magistrate to summon jun re and assessors

The exact number of assessors (and jurors) to be summoned at each Session is left to the discretion of the Court of Session whose aim should be to render the duty of sitting on Sessions trails as little onerous as possible by abstaning on the one hand, from requiring the attendance of more persons than may be reasonably necessary, and providing on the other for a change of assessors after the trail of every third or fourth ease (Nadara H C t rules)

No assessor should be summoned too frequently. When juriors or assessors are summoned, the notice should be sent to them in a regular and formal manner, and they should be treated with consideration and respect. (Bombin H. Ct.)

In Bendat, the following order has been passed in regard to payments to jurous or assessors attending a Court of Session

The District Magistrate shall order payment on the part of Government to implicit summoned to intend his Court and the Sos in Judge shill deep payment to my juror or assessor summoned to intend hi. C urt. (f. in dish allowance for the drys of attendance at Court only of in L less than one rupped and not exceed inglike ruppers, in the crise of my juror in assessor who my paymently on my nating for such allowance and provided that the distance between the usual residence of the juror or assessor and the Court house which he attends exceeds five mides.

officer as aforesaid in preparing and lesising the list shall be final

- (5) Any exemption not claimed under this section shall be deemed to be waived until the list is next revised
- deemed to be waved until the list is next revised.

  Annual revision of (6) The list so prepared and revised shall be again levised once in every year.
- (7) The list so revised shall be deemed a new list, and shall be subject to all the rules hereinbefore contained as to the list originally prepared
- In the case of any district for which the Local Gov ernment has declared that the trial of certain Preparation of list offences shall if the Judge so direct be ly of special jurors special jury, the Sessions Judge and the Collector of such dis triet or other officer as aforesaid shall prepared in addition to the revised list hereinbefore prescribed, a special list containing the names of such jurois as are boine on the revised list and are in the opinion of such Sessions Judge and Collector or other officer as aforesaid, by reason of their possessing superior qualifications in respect of property, character or education, fit persons to serve as special jurors Provided always that the inclusion of the name of any person in such special list shall not involve the removal of his name from the revised list, nor relieve him of his liability to serve as an ordinary juror in cases not tried by special jury

Compare S 269 under which the Jocal Government may make such dybration and may also give the Sessions Judge discretion on application made him or of his own most on to direct thirt a test to be held by jury 3 all be held; jurors summoned from a special jury 1 st and it also empowers the Local Government to revoke or alter such order

326 (1) The Sessions Indge shall ordinarily, seven days at the same of the day which he may from the to summer purers and to time fix for holding the sessions, each letter to the District Magistrate requests.

letter to the District Magistrate requestion in the summon as many persons numed in the said revised in the said special list as seem to the Sessions Judge to be needed for trials by jury and trials with the sid of assessors at the essions, the number to be summoned not being less than double the number required for any such trial and including when any accused person is an European or an American, as many Europeans or Americans as many Europeans or Americans as many for the purpose of charge in the propose of the trial of the purpose of the said of

(2) The names of the persons to be summoned shall be

CEAR XXIII JURORS AND ASSESSORS IN COURTS OF SESSION. 481

drawn by lot in open Conrt, evaluding those who have served within six months unless the number cannot be made up without them; and the names so drawn shall be specified in the said letter.

(3) Where the accused requires and is entitled to be tried under the provisions of section 275, there shall be chosen by lot, in the manner prescribed by or under section 276, from the whole number of persons returned the juryors who are to constitute the jury until a jury containing the proper number of Europeans or Europeans and Americans or of Indians, as the case may be, has been obtained.

Provided that, in any case in which the proper number of Europeans or Americans cannot otherwise be obtained, the Court may, in its discretion for the purpose of constituting the jury, summon any person evoluded from the list on the ground of his being exempted under section 320

(4) Where, under the proviso to sub-section (3), the Court proposes to summon as a pinor any person in His Majesty's Army, the provisions of section 317 shall apply in like manner as they apply for the purpose of the summoning of military jurors for a trial under section 316

The 1st words of sub section (t), from 'and including' were added by Act Mil of 1923, S 19 Directions to this effect had generally been given by High Courts Sub sections (1) and (4) were added by the same enactiment. They proude for the special case covered by S 275, where the accused having claimed to be treated as belonging to a particular class (See Chapter \LIVA) requires a majority of the jury to be of his own class

Sch V (32) gives the form of precept to a District Magistrate to summon lururs and assessors

The exact number of assessors (and purors) to be summoned at each Session is left to the discretion of the Court of Session, whose rum should be to render the duty of sitting on Sessions trials as little onerous as possible by abstancing, on the one hand, from requiring the attendance of more persons than may be reasonably necessary, and providing, on the other, for a change of assessors after dis trail of every third or identificates (Waferias K. C. Turles)

No assessor should be summoned too frequently. When jurors or assessors are summoned, the notice should be sent to them in a regular and formal manner, and they should be treated with consideration and respect. [Bombw 11] Ct.)

In Bengat, the following order has been passed in regard to phyments to jurors or assessors attending a Court of Session

The District Magistrate shall order proment on the part of Government to mpy jurors auminoned to ittend his Court, and the Secsions Judge shall order payment to any juror or assessor summoned to attend his Court, of a daily allowance, for the days of attendance at Court only, of not less than one rupeed, and not exceeding five rupees, in the case of any juror or assessor who may apply early to making for such allowance and provided that the distance between the usual residence of the juror or assessor and the Court house which he attends exceeds five miles

In the Panjue every person summoned as juror or assessor to attend at an Court of Session, if his residence be more than five miles distant from the Cort to which he is summoned, is entitled to his bona fide travelling express an exceeding the railway fare to and from the Court where the journey can be performed by rail. If such person be detruned by the Court for more than one day, he shall be entitled to subsistence allowance for the whole term of his attendance at Court at a rate not exceeding five rupees per diem. It is left to the discretion of the Court to determine the class by rail to the fare of whole a witness is entitled, or, if he is unable to travel by rail, the amount of his best fide travelling expenses to and fro

Similar orders have been passed in British Burns

In the UNITED PROVINCES on application made by a person summoned as 2 more or assessor stating that the distance between his usual residence and the Court house which he has been summoned to attend covers five miles the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate shall order payment according to rable and down

Power to sammon to be summoned at other periods than the another set of jurers period specified in section 326, when the num

or assessors

ber of tirds before the Court renders the att dance of one set of jurors or assessors for a whole session opposive, or whenever for other reasons such direction is found to necessary

328 Every summons to a juror or assessor shall be form and contents writing, and shall require his attendance at juror or assessor, as the case may be, at a transport of the content of t

Sch \ (33) gives the form of summons to a juror or recessor

When Government or Railway servart may be a Railway Company, the Court to serve as a jurer assessor is in the service of Government or a Railway Company, the Court to serve which he is so summoned may evenise his after ance, if it appears, on the representation of the bend of the of in which he is employed, that he cannot servo as a jurior of assor, as the case may be, without meconemence to the public

Court may excuse any juror or assessor from attendant at any particular session

(2) The Court of Session may, if it shall think fit, at i conclusion of any trial by special jury, divided to the proof of twive again shall not be summoned to serie again jurors for a period of twelve months

- CHAP XXIII JURORS IND ASSESSORS IN COUPT OF SESSIONS 483
- 231 (1) At each session the said Court shall cause to be made a list of the names of those who have attended as juriors and assessors at such session
- (2) Such list shall be lept with the list of the jurors and assessors as revised under section 324
- (3) A reference shall be made in the margin of the said revised list to each of the names which are mentioned in the list prepared under this section
- 332 (1) Any person summoned to attend as a juror or as a session who without lawful excuse fails assessor who without lawful excuse fails to attend as required by the summons or who tained the permission of the Court or fails to attend after an algournment of the Court of feeling ordered to attend shall be liable by order of the Court of Session to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupces

(2) Such fine shall be levied by the District Magistrate by attachment and sale of any movable property belonging to such jurer or assessor within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court making the order

(3) For good cause shown the Court may remit or reduce any fine so imposed

(4) In default of accovery of the fine by attachment and sale such puror or assessor may by order of the Court of Session be imprisoned in the civil rail for the term of fifteen days unless such fine is paid before the end of the said term

A similar provision is made by S 318 for the non attentance or absence of a puror in a trail before a High Court. If a trail is adjourned the jurors or assessors shall attend at the adjourned siting until the conclusion of the trail—S 29,

An order fining an assessor (or juror) is not appealable. But for good cause she in the C rt may rem to red ce any fine so mposed—S 33 (3)

L -Special Processions for High Courts

Power of Advecate
General to stay prose cut on the Court on behalf of Her Majesty, that he will not further prosecute the defendant upon the charge, and therempon all proceedings on such charge against the defendant shall be stayed, and he shall be discharged of and from the same. But such discharge shall not amount to an acquittal unless the presiding Judge otherwise directs.

After such a discharge proceedings may be taken under S 1901

- Tome of holding every High Court shall hold sittings on such days and at such convenient intervals as the Chief Justice of such Court from time to time appoints
- 335 (1) The High Court shall hold its sittings at the place strangs of helding at which it now holds them, or at such other place (if any) as the Governor General in Council in the ease of the High Court at Fort William, or the Local Government in the ease of the other High Courts, may direct
- (2) But it may, from time to time, in the ease of the High Court at Fort William with the consent of the Governor General in Council, and in all other eases with the consent of the Local Government, hold sittings at such other places within the local limits of its appellate jurisdiction as the High Court appoints.
- (3) Such officer as the Chief Justice directs shall give notice Notice of attings beforehand in the local official Gazette of all sittings intended to be held for the exercise of the original eriminal jurisdiction of the High Court
- The High Court may direct that all European Britch European and persons liable to be tried by it all of British under section 214, who have been committed for trial by it within certain specified district or during certain specified periods of the year, shall be tried at the ordinary place of sitting of the Court, or direct that they shall be tried at a particular place named.

<sup>1</sup> In re Gour Surum Dass, 8 W R Cr., 83

CHAPTER XXIV.

GENERAL PROVISIONS AS TO INQUIRIES AND THIALS

337. (1) In the case of any offence triable exclusively by the High Court or Court of Session, or any Tender of na don to offence punishable with imprisonment which may extend to ten years, or any offence punishable under section 211 of the Indian Penal Code with imprisonment which may extend to seven years, or any offence under any of the following sections of the Indian Penal Code, namely, sections 216A, 369, 401, 435 and 177A, the District Magistrate, a Presidency Magistrate, a Sub-divisional Magistrate or any Magistrate of the first class may, at any stage of the investigation or inquiry into, or the trial of the offence, with a view to obtaining the evidence of any person supposed to have been directly or indirectly concerned in or privy to the offence, tender a pardon to such person on condition of his making a full and time disclosure of the whole of the enenmstances within his knowledge relative to the offence and to every other person concerned, whether as principal or abettor, in the commission thereof

Provided that, where the offence is under inquiry or tial, no Magistrate of the first class other than the District Magistrate shall exercise the power height conferred unless he is the Magistrate making the inquiry or holding the trial, and, where the offence is under investigation, no such Magistrate shall exercise the said power unless he is a Magistrate having jurisdiction in a place where the offence might be inquired into or tried and the sanction of the District Magistrate has been obtained to the exercise thereof of the District Magistrate has been obtained to the exercise thereof

(1A) Even Magistrate who tenders a pardon under subsection (1) shall record his reasons for so doing, and shall, on application made by the accused, furnish him with a copy of such record:

Provided that the accused shall pay for the same unless the Magistrate for some special reason thinks fit to furnish it free of cost."

(2) Every person accepting a tender under this section shall be examined as a witness in the Court of the Magistrate taking cognizance of the offence and in the subsequent trial, if any.

(2A) In every case where a person has accepted a tender of pandon and has been examined under sub-section (2), the

be stayed, and he shall be discharged of and from the same But such discharge shall not amount to an acquittal unless the presiding Judge otherwise directs

After such a discharge proceedings may be taken under S 1901

- 334 For the exercise of its original eriminal phrisdiction.

  Time of holding every High Court shall hold sittings on such strongs and at such convenient intervals as the Chief Justice of such Court from time to time appoints
- Place of helding at which it now holds them or at such other sittings place (if any) as the Governor General in Council in the case of the High Court at Fort William, or the Local Government in the case of the other High Courts may direct
- (2) But it may, from time to time, in the case of the High Court at Fort William with the consent of the Governor General in Council, and in all other cases with the consent of the Local Government hold sittings at such other places within the local limits of its appellate jurisdiction as the High Court appoints
- (3) Such officer as the Chief Instice directs shall fine neutre beforehand in the local official Greetic of all sittings intended to be held for the exercise of the original criminal jurisdiction of the High Court
- Place of European subject and persons hable to be tried by it under section 214, who have been committed for during certain specified periods of the year, shall be tried at the tried at the continuity place of sitting of the Court, or direct that they shall to tried at a particular place named

<sup>1</sup> In re Gour Surum Dass 8 W R Cr 83

CHAPTER XXIV

GENERAL PROVISIONS AS TO INQUIRIES AND TRIALS

337 (1) In the case of any offence triple exclusively by Teader of padon to the High Court or Court of Session, or any offence of padon to the High Court or Court of Session, or any offence punishable with impusonment which may extend to ten vers, or any offence punishable under section 211 of the Indian Penal Code with imprisonment which may extend to seven years, or any offence under any of the following sections of the Indian Penal Code, namely, sections 216A, 369, 401, 435 and 177A, the District Vigistrate a Presidency Wiggistrate, a Sub-divisional Magistrate or any Magistrate of the first class may, at any stage of the investigation or inquiry into, or the trial of the offence, with a view to obtaining the evidence of any person supposed to have been directly or indirectly conceined in or Pivy to the offence, tender a pridon to such person on condition of his making a full and true disclosure of the whole of the encumstances within his knowledge relative to the offence and to every other person conceined whether as principal or abettor, in the commission thereof

Provided that, where the offence is under inquiry or trial, no Magistrate of the first class other than the District Magistrate shall exercise the power hereby conferred unless he is the Magistrate making the inquiry or holding the trial, and, where the offence is under investigation, no such Magistrate shall exercise the said power unless he is a Magistrate having jurisdiction in a place where the offence might be inquired into or tried and the sanction of the District Magistrate has been obtained to the exercise thereof

(1A) Every Magistrate who tenders a pardon under subsection (1) shall record his reasons for so doing, and shall, on application made by the accused, furnish him with a copy of such record

Provided that the accused shall pay for the same unless the Magistrate for some special reason thinks fit to furnishing for cost."

(2) Every person accepting a tender under this see be examined as a witness in the Court of the Magistra cogmizance of the offence and in the subsequent trial

(2A) In every case where a person has accept the pardon and has been examined under sub-sub-be stayed, and he shall be discharged of and from the same B such discharge shall not amount to an acquittal unless the p siding Judge other wise directs

After such a discharge proceedings may be taken under S 1961

- 334 For the exercise of its original eriminal jurisdict ratings of holding every High Court shall hold sittings on days and at such convenient intervals. Chief Justice of such Court from time to time appoints
- Place of hiding at value it now holds them, or at such sittings.

  Council in the case of the High Court at Fort William, Local Government in the case of the other High Courts.
- (2) But it may, from time to time in the case of the Court of Fort William with the consent of the Governor the Council, and in all other cases with the consent of the Government, hold sittings at such other places within the limits of its appellate inresolution as the High Court application.
- (3) Such officer as the Chief Instice directs shall an Notice of sittings beforehand in the local official Gazet the original criminal jurisdiction of the High Court
- Place of tist of Subjects and persons highly to be the Subjects and persons highly to be the Subjects and persons highly to be the Subject of during certain specified periods of the year, shall be to ordinary place of sitting of the Court, or direct that it tried at a particular place named to tender a pirdon and does so, there is an inquiry within the menning of S 337, and the tender of the pirdon was valid. These crees are now rendered obsolete by the amendment made in sub-section (i) under which it is now lawful to tender a pardon "at any stage of the investigation or inquiry into or the trial of the offener.

<sup>1</sup> In re Gour Surum Dass 8 W R Cr. 83

SEC 333 Cars ZZ11

Subsection (2) under the cld law laid down that every person accepting a tender should be examined as a witness in the case." He new law ends that he shall be examined as a witness in the Court of the Magistrate talong cognitance of the effence and in the subsequent trial if in). The Magistrate is now required in every area, unless he discharges or acquits the accused, to commit him for trial and thus the law requires that though the approver my have indicated quite clearly by his examination before the Magistrate that he will not support the ease for the prosecution when it comes on for trial, yet he must be examined as a wintess in the Court of Session.

Under the old law (sub section (4)) a Vargistrate who had tendered a pardon was precluded from trying the case himself Sub-section (4) apparently referred to a case in which the recurstion was of an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session, but which in the course of the inquiry the exidence showed to be one triable by a Vargistrate. In such a set there would have been a triable to another Valegistrate living purediction. Certain cases not triable ordinarily by a Vargistrate might have been transferred to the District Magistrate if he were inserted with special powers under 5 g. The law now however is different It provides for a pardon in certain asses that are triable by Vargistrates, but whatever the nature of the ease the Magistrate is required to commit the case for trial by the Court of Session.

The law still requires that every Magistrate tendering a pardon shall record his reasons for rod doing. It has been he'd that if he omits to do so the proceedings are not vituated unless the omission has prejudiced the tocused or where the considerations before the Magistrate before the tendered the pardon were such as might be properly considered as offening sufficient grounds for his action that in itself justifies his order.

If any Magistrate, not empowered by law in this behalf, tenders a pardon under S 337 erroneously in good faith, his proceedings shall not be set uside merely on the ground of his not being empowered (S 120).

In areas where the Fronter Crimes Regulation is in force (i.e. British Baluchist in and the districts named in S i (3) of the Regulation) S 337 is applicable in the case of any offence (Reg III of 1901, S 7, in which an amend ment appears to be rendered necessary by the amendments in S 337)

Condition of pardon tendered.

The only condution is that a full and true disclosure of the whole of the circumstances within the knowledge of the person to whom pardon is tendered shall be made. The principle is laid down in Hindsor v. The Queen (L. R., i. Q. B., i.i.), i.e., that the law should be so administered that the temptation to an accomplice to strain the truth should be as slight as possible. So a condition cannot be made with the person to whom pardon is rendered that he should confess to have been present when the death occurred, and to have personal knowledge of the circumstances under which the alleged offence was committed? How far a person who has accepted a conditional pardon is liable to prosecution for another offence connected with the commission of the offence for which the pardon was tendered and accepted, has been carefully considered by STRAIGHT

The subject h s also been exhaustively discussed by PLACOCK C J2

Who may be examined as witnesses without conditional pardon

The tender of pardon is to be made to "any person supposed to have bear directly or indirectly concerned in or privy to the offence under inquiry, that is, to a person who is being proceed against or might be proceeded against for the offence, with the object of thus obtaining his evidence which, if he were under trial, could not otherwise be obtained, and which, for fear of consequences to himself without such an inducement of protection to himself, he would act give There is no law or principle which prevents a person who has been suspected and discharged for want of evidence being afterwards admitted as a n toes for the prosecution without a pardon, which if offered he would probably have rejected, for it would have ruined lum nor is it necessary that he should have been acquitted, for on the evidence against him, he could not have been properly committed for trial 2 So an accomplice is often a witness in the case weight to be given to such evidence and the manner in which it should be placed before the jury in his summing up by the Sessions Judge are discussed in the note to S 297 ante. But a Magistrate cannot examine as witness except under conditional pardon as provided by S 337, a person accused in judicial proceedes before him as evidence against a co accused. To do so would be contrary to S 342 which declares that no oath shall be administered to an accused person Evidence so given is not relevant 4

Where a Magistrate examined, as a witness under conditional person accused before him of an offence for which a pardon could not be effort and then held the trial and connected solely on his statement, the consist on an existence were set aside on the ground that the statement was not admiss by the evidence, and therefore there was no evidence against him? He may leave to examined as a witness though an accompliee, but there must be criminal proceedings at that time against him. If he is accused of an offence for who before he can be examined as a witness in a case regarding an offence for who before he can be examined as a witness in a case regarding an offence for who before he can be examined as a witness in a case regarding an offence for who before he can be examined as a witness in a case regarding an offence for who before he can be examined as a witness in a case regarding an offence for who before he can be examined as a witness in a case regarding an offence for who is a state-set of the control of th

if a person has been merely accused of an offence, but has not been preceding against, he is a competent witness? In one case the Calcutta Heb Calcu

79 , (s c) 5 W. R Cr 80

inta I 1 R 1 Bom (10 Per<sup>24</sup>)

2 (4 c) 5 Cil I J 2 R Cr 44

Beharce Lal Bose 7 W R Cr 44

v Hanmanta I I R 41 Bon 4

o Cal L R 553

Offences in respect of which pardon may be tendered

Sch 11, col S shows which are the offences exclusively triable by the High Court or Court of Session. As for the other offences see note above

Sub-section (4), which has now been repealed, contemplated tender of a pardon in a case which frime sere appeared to be tribble exclusively by the High Court or Court of Session, but which in further development of the evidence appeared to be a case triable by a Magistrate. It is doubtful whether any material change of the law has been made in this respect. If it the time the pardon was tendered it appears that the offence under investigation or inquiry was one of those mertianid in sub-section (i) the tender of pardon would remain valid and the evidence forthe opprover would be admissible though a night lib sequently appear that the effince had been exaggerated and that only a mino offence had been committed in resp et if which a pardon could not be tendered The case will be concred by S 529 (g) which declares that if any Magi trate not empowered by law in this behalf erroneously in good faith (i.e. acting with due care and attention) tendered a pard in his proceedings will not be set uside merely on the ground of his not being so empowered and it has been held that these terms do not merely refer to the powers vested in a Magistrate but to the prop r exercise of powers in the particular case. But it was held in that case that the evidence given by the approver was irrelevant

Stage at which pardon may be tendered

This is now at any stage of the investigation or inquiry into or the train of the offence. It would therefore be competent for a Police officer investigating an offence to send an increased person in with a recommendation that he should be tendered a pardon though he had not otherwise made any report in the case to the Magistrate. But the Magistrate tendering the pardon in such cases must in the first place hive jurisdict in in a place, where the officince might be indured into or tried and he must also obtain the sanction of the District Magistrate. If the offence is under inquiry or tend no Magistrate of the first class other thin the District Magistrate shall exercise the power infless he is the Wagistrate inslung the inquiry or holding the trail.

Value of evidence given under conditional pardon

An accomplice shall be a competent witness against accused person and a conviction is not illegal mently because, if proceeds upon the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice—Act I of 1872 (Lyidenc Act) S 133. But S 114 of the same Act provides, that the Court may presume the existence of any fact which it thinks likely to have happened regard being, hid to the tamp a course of natural exists human conduct and public and private bit incess in their relation to the first of the particular rise and the fill wins, appears, as an illustration (b) to that section—"The C urt may Insume that in accomplice is unnorthy of credit, unless he is ever brated in miteral jurisuals in a complice is unnorthy of credit, unless he is ever brated in miteral jurisuals.

It has been the innerest practice of our C urts and Judges to require some corroboration of the evidence of an accomplice or a writers groung evidence under conditional pardien as it has been considered to be ensufe to come at solely on such evidence. The inture of such covers britton and the dust of a Sessional Judge in living before the jury the evidence of an accomplice or witness und reconditional pardien, have been discussed in the inter to S > 7.

Sub section (2)

There has been a change in the law in this sub-section Formerly sub-section (*) required that a person accepting a pardon should "be examined as a witness in the case." There we same dubt inhehr this meant that the approver must in every case to examined in the Sections Count when the case was committed to that Court. It had become however fairly well settled law that examination in the inquiry was sufficient to satisfy the requirements of sub-section (2), where evidence had been gien before the committing Magistrate under conditional pardon, and the witness retracted his evidence before the commitment the fact that he had not been examined in the Sessions Court was held not to be in violation of S 137 (2) as he had already been examined in the Magistrate's Court 1 But the law is now settled the approver must be examined in the Court of the Mag strate taking cognizance, and in the subsequent trial, if any " Closely linked with this matter was the question as lo the stage at which a pardon might be forfeited and the ipprover put on his trial for the offence for which he had been parlioned or for persury. As to this see notes to Ss. 220 and 230A

Sub section (2A).

Whenever a pardon s tendered in a case the Magistrate before whom the proceedings are pending (whether he is the Magistrate who tendered the paid a or not) must commit the accused for Irial, unless he decides to discharge of acquit This is not quite the same thing as the old law which laid down that a Magistrate who had lendered a pardon and examined the person accept of it should not try the case himself

Sub section (3).

The meaning of the sub-section is that the approver shall not be set at liberty until the judicial proceedings pending against the accused are terminated For the purposes of the sub-section it is immaterial whether the proceeding are finished by a Magisterial order of discharge, or by an order of acquittal after trial a

General.

A Local Government has no power to tender a conditional pardon to an accomplice for the purpose of his being examined as a competent witnes ak in others accused with him An accomplete is a competent witness the national accused and under trial in the same case of the is an accused and the control of the withdraw and the withdraw and the control of the withdraw and the withdraw sanctions the withdrawal of the prosecution (S 494) there must be a far. order of discharge, otherwise his position is still that of an accused a particular of the property of the pro where a Local Government by notification declared that no prosecution was be instituted against a subordinate Judge suspected of receiving bribes and too persons came forward and gave evidence, it was held that though they undoubted! undoubtedly accomplices there could be no objection to the admissibility of the evidence, whatever effect the circumstances in which the evidence needs of might have upon its credibility. In in inquiry into an offence of murder if the principal accused absconded a pardon can be validly tendered to he accused who can be examined under the provisions of 5 512 procedure to be followed where a person is to be prosecuted for the flence fe which he has been pardoned see Se 339 and 3394 and notes thereto

At any time after commitment, but before judgment Power to direct is passed, the Court to which the commitment is made may, with the view of obtaining on tender of pardon the trial the evidence of any person supposed to have been direct h or indirectly concerned in, or privy to, any such offener

O Inp., Rimarami II R 24 Mad 322

I mg irtya Satabat Khan I I R 37 Bom 14' Banu Si Khi Emp I I R 33 Cal 1353 Fmp v Har Frasad Bhargawa I I R 45 AB 226 Re Digiso Baj t I I R 4' Bom 1.0

tender, or order the committing Magistrate or the District Magistrate to tender, a pardon on the same condition to such person.

Prevision is here made to enable a Court of Session or High Court, to which a case has been committed for trial, to obtain at the trial the evidence of any person supposed to have been a narmed in air pracy to any such offence as a nitness under conditional parden, which it should direct the committing Magis trate to tender Read with $ 337, the offence should be, one or other of the offences referred to in that section. The tender of conditional pardon must be made before judgment is passed. This expression may be differently interpreted. On the one hand, it may be held to mean before the verdict of the jury is delivered or the opinion of the assessors is recorded, on the other hand, it mus be held to mean delivery of the judgment by the Sessions Judge, if he accepts the verdict of the jurors or a majority of the jurors, and then gives judgment in accordance therewith (5 306), or, in a case tried with the aid of assessors, after he has recorded their opinions, and then given his own judgment-(S 309) But in one case a retrial was ordered where the Judge after taking the verdict called further witnesses. This was not however a case in which there was any question of tendering a pardon

A pard n so effered would cover not only the offence then under trial, but any other offence relating to the same transaction which might be subsequently charged that is any other offence relating to the same first as constituted that offence or ny part of that offence A prisoner confessed to certain offences before the Migistrite of Bonnes and was thereupon sent in custody to Calcutta that the Police might obtain evidence against his accomplices. He was examined as a witness under conditional pirdon before a Magistrate in Calcutta in procerding, against such persons, but they were discharged because the evidence was insufficient. It was held that as the conditional pardon had not been with drawn or forfested he was not liable to be prosecuted at Benares in relation to the same transaction. It is immaterial whether all the offences were triable by the same Court 3 (See also S 339 for the circumstances in which a man can be tried for the effence in respect of which pardon was so tendered or any other offence of which he appears to have been guilty in connection with the same matter)

Because a person to whom conditional pardon has been tendered has confessed to the offence he can still be regarded, within the terms of S 338, to be "supposed" to be concerned in it Se 337 and 338 refer to a person who has not been convicted 4

(1) Where a pardon has been tendered under section 337 or section 338, and the Public Prosecu-Commitment of pertor certifies that in his opinion any person who son to whom pardon has been tendered has accepted such tender has, either by wilfully concealing anything essential or by giving false evidence, not complied with the condition on which the tender was made, such person may be tried for the offence in respect of which the pardon was so tendered, or for any other offence of which he appears to have been guilty in connection with the same matter :

<sup>1</sup> Q Emp v Sadhec Krsal I L R 10 Cat 936
1 Lyne v Crown I L R 4 Lah 382
2 Cmp v Ganga Charan I L R, 11 All 29
4 Q Emp v Kallu I L R, 7 All, 160, (8 c) Alt W N, 1884 p 14

Sec. 339 1. Provided that such person shall not be tried jointly with any of the other accused, and that he shall be entitled to plend at such that he has complied with the conditions upon which such tender was made, in which case it shall he for the prosecution to prove that such conditions have not been complied with

(2) The statement made by a person who has accepted a tender of pardon may be given in evidence against him at such trial.

(3) No prosecution for the offence of giving false evidence in respect of such statement shall be entertained without the sanction of the High Court.

This section has now to be end with S 3391, and for the procedure to be followed in trying a person for the offence in respect of which he has accepted a and note to the latter section

The Court trying under section 339 a person 339A who has accepted a tender of pardon Procedure in trial of person under sect on shall-339

(a) if the Court is a High Court of Court of Session, before the charge is read out and explained to the accused under section 271, sub-section (1), and (b) if the Court is the Court of a Magistrate, before the evidence of the witnesses for the prosecution is taken. ask the accused whether he pleads that he has complied with the conditions on which the tender of the pardon was made

(2) It the accused does so plend, the Court shall record the plea and proceed with the trial, and the jury, or the Court with the and of the assessors, or the Magistrate, as the case may ke, shall, before judgment is passed in the ease, find whether or pot the accused has complied with the conditions of the pardon, and if it is found that he has so complied, the Court shall, notwith strinding invilling contained in this Code, pass judgment of scauittal.

The law was silent regarding the Court or nutherny by whose order the person who had not complied with the conditions of pardon might be tree, at well is rigarding the time at which such eater might be made. The bade of the continuity in time at which such ender might be mide. He were the first such order could be pursued by the Unitariate trial or its the Court of season before judgment had been good trial or its the Court of season before judgment had been good trial or its the Court of Sektrence in Keysia it was then we received at that the power to ender proceedings of a present half recentled a mind of a present the court of the wh hil accepted a pard n wis one to be exercised with judicious of fig. n injudicious use of the power might lead to sensus consequences the Code 1878 as crigitially passed it would seem in the absence of any limit of time in regard to proceedings to be taken against such a person that they might be taken whenever it was discovered that he had given false evidence M rester t was a first thought that until a conditional pardon had been firfeited by ording first unit in proceedings should be taken against the approver In later cases h wever it has held that no formal withdrawal of the order of pardon was necessiry 1

The question is a which to suit had power to forfeit a pardon and to direct proceedings t be then is unst in the ver was frequently discussed but all rulings on the subject in now rendered the lete by the amendment made in S 33) which requires a certificate from the Public Prosecutor a condition precedent to the trial f in par ver la was also held that the approver need not have been examined in the Sessi no Court in order that his pardon might be forfeited *

This is no lenger be d I'm (r sub-section (2) of S 337 now requires that the approver shall be examined in the subsequent trial, if any " In some cases the Courts held that it was allegal to put the approver into the dock, to recommence the trial and try ham pointly with the co accused a But for the most part it was held that he should be separately tried, and the unfairness of trying him at once with the other pristners was explained in several cases 4

The right for in prover to ruse is a preliminary plea in bar of his trial that he had a milled with the conditions on which pardon had been tendered to him was rec gnised s

In some cases it was laid down that the question of the forfeiture of the pardon should be tried exparately. In there that the question of the forfeiture and the guilt of the upprover in regard to the offence in respect of which he had been pardoned might be tried together

The amendment made in S 339 by Act No WIII of 1923, S 87, and the insertion of 5 33.1 by 5 88 of the same Act, settle practically all the difficulties that have arisen in regard to this matter. In the first place before there can be a prosecution of an approver for the offence in respect of which the pardon was tendered, or for any other offence of which he appears to have been guilty in connection with the same matter, there must be a certificate by the Public Prosecutor that in his opinion the approver has either by wilfully concealing anything essential or by giving false evidence, not complied with the conditions on which the tender of pardon was made. The Courts therefore cannot suo motu take action. If they thought action should be taken against an approver their proper course would be to direct the attention of the Public Prosecutor to the case

It is now definitely laid down that the approver shall not be tried jointly with any of the other accused. He will also be able to plead at his trial that he has complied with the conditions upon which the tender was made, and if he dies so the burden of proving that the conditions had not been complied with will be upon the prosecution

The law now requires that there shall be a definite finding as to whether the condition of pardon had been complied with or not. If the approver has been committed for trial the trial court at the very commencement before it asks the accused to plead to the charge must ask him whether he pleads that he has complied with the conditions. If the trial is in the Court of a Magistrate the same question must be put before the evidence of the witnesses for the prosecution is tallen. If the accused pleads that he has complied with the conditions the plea must be recorded and the trial will proceed and before judgment is passed in the case there must be a finding by the Court on this plea If the finding is in favour of the accused there must be an order of acquittal

&lt;sup>1</sup> Fmp t Sabar Akunji l L R 42 Cul 756 Shashalu Rajbanshu t Emp 42 Cal, 836 Emp v Khush I I R 33 M 305 1 M 305 1 Magnasun Naclata t Tmp 1 l R 33 Wal 51 1 Magnasun Naclata t Tmp 1 l R 33 Wal 51 1 Magnasun Naclata t Tmp 1 l R 33 Wal 51 1 Magnasun Naclata t Tmp 1 l R 37 Bom 140 Shashalu Rajbanshu t Emp, I L Emp t Intri Schibat Kham I l R 37 Bom 140 Shashalu Rajbanshu t Emp, 1 C C from t Walt 1 I R 1 Magnasun 1 L R 20 All 329—contra Mutrabat Kown lagathu t Q I l R 1 M 1 354 Q Fmp t Jyat Chandra Mah I I R 22 Cal, 30 Q v Bipt Div 19 W R Cr 13 Q Fmm v Bhun I L R 23 Rom 493 (cc. however, the Im 1 B 1 I R 23 Rom 175 Tterrov J Dub) Q Emp v Sadru L R 1 J 1, 330 t tunnachel now Fmp I L R 31 Mad, 272 Emp v Khush I L R, 33 M 1 305

Where an approver is put on trial under S 339 the statement made by him as a witness can be used against him. There should be evidence that he was the person who made that statement. But he cannot be tried for giving false evidence in respect of that statement without the sanction of the High Court \ complaint could not therefore be made by a Court under 5 4th A charge of giving false evidence might be made in the alternative if he has made contradictory statements which are irreconcilable, but the sanction of the High Court would be necessary in regard to the statement made under the conditional pardon and a complaint would be necessary by the Court before Which the other statements were made

Value of evidence given before Magistrate under conditional pardon but retracted at the Sessions trial

Under S 288 the evidence of a witness duly taken in the presence of the accused before the committing Magistrate may in the discretion of the presding Judge be treated as evidence in the one if the winters is produced and examined. The question has arisen whether the evidence given by a winter the conductor of the product of the conductor of the conducto before the committing Magistrate under conditional pardon and retracted at the sessions trial can be received under S 288. The subject generally is discus of in the note to S 288 ante

The evidence of such a witness recorded by the Magistrate can be taken into consideration under 5 2883 but the prisoner should be allowed to craft examine the witness and in the earlier reported cases however, doubt sat expressed whether such evidence was admissible Such evidence honers w ild in itself be of little value her use it is the evidence of an accomp of and therefore it would require corroborat on before it could be safely accept to consict an accused person 5 See note to S 207 It is moreover setted law (see note to $ 288) that unless there is something to show the truth of the first statement made by a witness it should not be accepted in preference to the statement made in the Sessions Court *

Application to the High Court for sanction should be made by motion and not by letter 7

There must be evidence that the statement was made by the part out person under trial *

Imj 13 Call R 3" In re

Q Imp 1 ÷ ģ

t Cal W N 12 No

note to 5 +54 <sup>1</sup> Mag strate of Bushee All W. 1833 p. 12. O Fmp. t. Manick Chandra Sa. A. I. R. 14Cal. 49. Imp. e. Nallava fu. I. L. R. 3. Mad. 47.

* Q Lmp. v. Durga Sonar I. L. R. 11Cal. 550.

340 (1) Any person accused of an offence before a CriRight of person minal Court, or against whom proceedings against whom proceedings are instituted under this Code in any such by defended and his competence be a pleader

(2) Any person against whom proceedings are instituted in such Court under section 107, or under Chypter X, Chapfer XI, Chipter AII or Chapter XXVI, or under section 552, may offer hunself as a wifness in such proceedings.

This section as amended by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 89, now makes it quite clear that the right to be defended by fleader extends to all persons against whom proceedings are instituted under this Code in a Criminal Court, and thus renders obsolete various rulings on the subject! Proceedings may be taken in a criminal court under various parts of the Code, e.g. Chapters VIII, X, XI, XII, XIII, and Ss 230 and 552

In connection with this section the amendment of the definition of "pleader" in fact to practice in a criminal Court is now a pleader, and no longer requires the permission of the Court to appear

The Legal Practitioners Act (XVIII of 1879), S 9, declares that every mukhter holding a certificate issued by a High Court under S 7 may apply to be enrolled in any Criminal Court mentionel therein and situate within the same limits, and, subject to such rules as the High Court may from time to time make on this behalf, the presiding Judge shall enrol him incordingly, and there fore he may (subject to the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure), appear, plead and act in any such Criminal Court and any Court subordinate thereto

A "plender" also includes "any other person appointed with the permission of the Court to act in such proceeding." Courts should not lightly deprive necused persons of legal and

Some of the High Courts have given directions that when any Magistrate commits an accused person to tale his trial on a charge of murder, he shall indique whether the accused his sufficient means to engage professional assistance at his trial, and, if he finds that he has not, he shall report to the High Court or Sessions Judge as the case may be, who shall appoint an advoate or valued to undertake the defence, and cause such advocate or valued to the depositions and of the extraination of the accused and of any other document it is intended to use against him. The committing Magistrate's report that the accused it possessed of sufficient means to engugle coursed does not affect the discretion given to the Sessions Judge to appoint coursel to defend the accused, if he is undefended at the commencement of the Session When, in any case referred to High Court for the confirmation of a capital sentence, that Court may consider that the appointment of an advocate or valued on behild of the accused is describle, it is empowered to engage the requisite professional assistance.

The Court Fee's Act (VII of 1879) Sch II, Art in requires that every multiturisms or vialulationed when presented for the conduct of any one cross to any criminal Court other than a High Court, or to a Magistrate, shall bear a straing fee of eight aimage, and, if presented to the High Court, fact rules of the court flow rules of the court f a stamp fee of eight annas, and, if presented to the High Court Lia rupes.

The Madras High Court has held that when an advocate or attorney of the

Hirananda Ojha v Imp , o Cal W N . ofa

High Court or authorized pleader (including a munsiff's pleader) appears in defence of an accused person under $ 340 no tal alutnama is necessary?

No party has the right to be heard either personally or by pleader before any Court when exercising its powers of revision provided that the Court, may it thinks fit when exercising such powers, hear any party either personally or by pleader and that nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect S 349 para (which declares that no order shall be made by the High Court, as a Court of Revision to the prejudice of the accused, unless he has had an opportunity of being heard either personally or by pleader in his own defence) -S 440

Sub-section (2) is new So far as proceedings under Chapter \\\VI nere awards the use of the word ' accused ') But apart from this there was no pro-usion of the Code which enabled a person against whom proceedings were this to tender lumself as a natness. The Indian law still falls far short of the English fan on the subject but the amendment made in this section by he No VIII of 1923 S 89 may be considered to be a beginning. The new to draws a distinction between proceedings in which a demand is made for security to keep the pence and in treceedings for the mintenance of kind in the latter case the person called upon to show can behaviour cannot tender lumself as a witness. Chapter \ deale with publ 53 sances Chapter VI with temporary orders in urgent cases of nuisance or appe hended danger Chapter III with disputes as to immosable property, Chapter Will with the maintenance of wises and children and S 552 with the point to restore abducted females

Procedure where accused does not unit stand powed not

341 If the accused, though not meane, cannot be made to understand the proceedings, the Court my proceed with the inquirs or trial, and, in the case of a Court other than a High Court, if such inquity results in a commitment or if such trial results in a conviction, the proceedings shall be for warded to the High Court with a report of the circumstance of the case, and the High Court shall pass thereon such order as the thinks fit

When the occused person is from unsoundness of mind incapable of unor standing the proceedings the Court of that of a Magistrate should proved under S 464, and, if a Court of Session or High Court, under S 465

Where the accused is reported dumb but is also reported to have understand the proceedings S 34r does not upply The proceedings were presented returned to the Magistrate? Though great caution and diligence are necessary in the trial of a deal and dumb person yet if it be shown that such person had sufficient intell gare?

understand the character of his criminal act he is liable to punishment in a summary trial (S 260) as the record did not show that any attention heen made to find any attention had been made to find out whether the accused had any friends or religious accus on the communicate with him the consistion has set uside and free proceedings were ordered s

<sup>7</sup> Val App xs Pro Nov 23 1874 Wetr 951 Pro March 28 1879 Wetr 95 See Emp v Rosselv I. L. R. 5 Bom 267 Dady Rom H. Ct. May 16 1991 Emp v a Docat and Dad Accessed I. L. R. 40 Bom 598 Ason, Bom II. Ct. Sac. 30 1996

The following judgment was delinered under S 341 -

"The accused is, as the Deputy Migistrite states, both deaf and dumb, and is unable to underst and the proceedings in the case." The Migistrate, however, says little his stratified for in the mini schemenium and action that he did understand what I e wis charged with the use breaking, and that he, being a very old offender in this particular crums cught to have been dealt with under S 75. Penal Code and have been committed the Sessions.

"I presume that the Magnetrate's finding as to the accused's being able to understand the nature of the proceedings brought against him, must be taken as conclusive the Deputy Magnetrate's statement notwithstanding, and that S 341, Code of Criminal Procedure will not apply

"If that be so the matter would come under the provisions of S 348, Code of commal Procedure for the incused is stitled by the Migistrate to have been me less than even times personally convited of an offence under Chapter AVII, Penal Code purishable with three years regorous imprisonment, and he should ordinarsh have been committed to the Sessions, there being no question as to the extent of the Magarite's power under S 34 of the Code

"Under S 439 Code of Criminal Procedure, this Court can act as a Court of Reisson, and under this section it appears to me that the order of Deputy Magistrate convicting the accused should be quashed, and the Deputy Magistrate be directed to commit the prisoner for first to the Sessions Court."

In another case, several persons were tried and consisted by the Court of Session for committing house breaking one of whom slone was deed and dumb, and unable to understand the proceedings, or to plead to the charge. The High Court held that on the facts established by the evidence, there could be no doubt that this man was guilts of the offence charged, but the case was returned to that this man was guilts of the offence charged, but the case was returned to the Uagisterie to obtain some means of communicating with the deef and dumb prisoner thin ugh his relutions or issociates, for the purpose of conveying notice to him that he was given a further opportunity of being heard in the matter. The termination of this time is ilso reported a the prisoner being convicted and sentenced.

In another case 4 the High Court directed the accused a deaf and dumb person, to be adminished and discharged such a person not being one to whom penal discipline could be properly applied.

In another case the effence being a petty one the High Court, accepting the reference, sentenced the necessed to simple imprisonment for the period already undergone.

The accused who appeared to be domb and was alleged to be deal, was convicted of offences under $8 254 and 380 of the Indian Penril Code, by the Chief Presidency Migistrice Bombys, who, under $8 334 of the Crimmal Procedure, which is a proceedings for the orders of the high Court with a report that, in his opinion the accused was not deal, as he was able to mike signs in reply to the remarks addressed to him by the unterpreter, and was aware of the nature of the proceedings against him. The High Court called on the Magistrie to state his view of the conduct of the dumb accused in the commission of the offence and to take some evidence regrating the previous history and hights of independing and did in fact unifierstand, the inture of the proceedings stating also whether he understood the purport of the evidence garm by the wintesses and that the might call wintesses in his defence. The Magistrie was also directed to give the accused a further opportunity of being heard in the matter of reference by notice, in such manner as the Magistrate should think best adapted to effect the purpose of the reference The Chief Presidency Magistrute thereupon reported that he six no reason to doubt that the accused was perfectly aware, that, in the commission of the offence, with which he was charged he was committing an offence, that the mother of accused stated he had always been deaf and dumb that accused had been previously convicted and that in expert who communicated with the accused, by signs, in the presence of the Magistrate stated that he considered coused fully understood the nature of the proceedings against him. The Magistrate further added that in the course of these communications the prisoner went through the details of the commission of the offence in pantomine and according to the expert admitted committing the The High Court passed a offence in the manner alleged by the prosecution sentence of one year's imprisonment on the two charges I

1 ~

If there is no conviction, S 341 of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not apply

While the complainant and his witnesses were being examined the accused showed that he was dumb, and thereupon the Magistrate without framing a charge but expressing an opinion that the accused was guilty referred the case under S 341 The High Court noticing that the trial was imperfect as no charge had been framed refused to treat the mere opinion expressed that the accused was gulty as tantamount to a conviction, and returned the case for d sposal to the Magistrate directing him to come to a definite opinion, whether the accused could be made to understand the proceedings, and if he came to that opin on to proceed with the inquiry or trial and, if the same resulted in a comm tment or eonviction to forward the proceedings under S 341 with a report of the circum stances of the ease 3

If there has been a commitment, the High Court has a discretion to pass an order under that section in a reference made to it under S 341 and without a Sessions trial No benefit will be hi ch to result to the accused from such a trial The Legislature seems to have contemplated that there should be a find ng bi a Mag strate either by what is termed a conviction or a commitment that print fine that is to say on the evidence for the prosecution an offence has been committed and that the accused though not insone cannot be made to under stand the proceedings. In that c so however, the accused was found to have killed a noman when he was by reason of unsoundness of mind incapable of I nowing that he was doing what is wrong and contrary to law and the cree was reported under S 471 post for the orders of the Local Government's Magistrate would not be competent to ronvict where the offence established not triple only by the Court of Session or High Court He would comm t which as in a conviction for an offence trible by him would amount to a finding against the accused which apparently is contemplated by S 341 to enable the High Court to deal with the case

(1) For the purpose of enabling the accused to explain any eircumstances appearing in the evi Power to examin. dence against him, the Court may, at any stage of any inquity or trial, without previously waining the accused put such questions to him, as the Court considers necessary, and shall, for the purpose aforesaid, question him generally on the case after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined and before he is called on for his defence

<sup>1</sup> Emp v Reuben Box II Ct July 5 1891 2 Emp t Somir Box 11 L R 27 Cal 368 (s c) 4 Cal W N, 421

- (2) The accused shall not render himself hable to punishment by refusing to answer such questions, or by giving false answers to them; but the Court and the jury (if any) may draw such inference from such refusal or answers as it thinks just
- (3) The answers given by the accused may be taken into consideration in such inquiry or trial, and put in evidence for or against him in any other inquiry into, or trial for, any other offence which such answers may tend to show he has committed

(4) No oath shall he administered to the accused

Object of examination of accused

The examination of an accused is declared by S. 34 to be for the purpose of milling him to explain any circumstances appearing on exidence against him It should, therefore tile pince only after the precedings on an inquiry or trail have been held and evidence taken, and not as a preliminary proceeding and lefore any evidence has been recorded? Where the accused has been examined before any evidence had been tichen, which he could be called upon to explain the proceedings were declared to be illegal and the examination wis admitted in evidence? You can a Sessions Judge commence a trail by examining the accused in regard to evidence taken in the inquiry?

The object is not to fill up a gop in the evidence for the prosecution but to emble the accused to explain any fast appearing in evidence "grains" him 4 and such cannination is particularly necessary, if the accused is undefended 5 The law allows a Court, not the compliantin to put questions to the accused 4 The examination should be, streetly limited to the purpose stated in S 342? Where there was no evidence of an essential fact eveney that had been obtuined in the examination of the accused it was not admitted and the accused was acquitted. These rules apply equally to the Sessions Court Answer releved from

These rules apply equally to the Sessions Court. Answers received from the accused in an examination contracting these principles are inadmissible against the accused in the Sessions trial?

A Magistrate should not examine an accused person when he is satisfied that the evidence does not disclose any proper subject of a criminal charge against him. 18

(io)

O Emp t Hawthorne 1 L R 13 All 345 Q Emp t Sagal Samba Sajao I L mp t Bhatrab Chunder Chuckerbutty, r 8 Cal W > contra -- \arayan, ip t Behari Lall Bose 6 Cal L R 431 49 Reg i Dinz 3 Bom 11 C R 15 Mohdeen Abdul Kader Emp I 4 Lah 55

O Emp t Kaman lu 1 L R to Mad 121 (123)
O Emp t Hargobind Singh I L R 14 All 21 (8 c) Ml W 1697 p 83

S lasta I L R -S Cal,

also directed to give the accused a further opportunity of being heard in the matter of reference, by not ce, in such manner as the Magistrate should think best adapted to effect the purpose of the reference. The Chief Presidency Magistrate thereupon reported that he saw no reason to doubt that the accused was perfectly ware, that, in the commission of the offence, with which he was charged, he was committing an offence, that the mother of accused stated he had nlways been deaf and dumb that accused had been previously convicted, and that in expert, who communicated with the accused, by signs, in the presence of the Magistrate stated that he considered iccused fully understood the nature of the proceedings against him. The Magistrate further added that, in the course of these communications, the prisoner went through the details of the commission of the offence in pantomine and, according to the expert, admitted committing the The High Court passed a offence in the manner alleged by the prosecution sentence of one year's imprisonment on the two charges 1

If there is no conviction, S 341 of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not πρρίγ

While the complainant and his witnesses were being examined, the accused showed that he was dumb, and thereupon the Magistrate without framing a charge, but expressing an opinion that the accused was guilty, referred the case The High Court, noticing that the trial was imperfect as no charge under S 341 had been framed, refused to treat the mere opinion expressed that the accused was guilty as tantamount to a conviction, and returned the case for disposal to the Magistrate directing him to come to a definite opinion whether the accused could be made to understand the proceedings, and, if he came to that opin on to proceed with the inquiry or trial, and, if the same resulted in a commitment or conviction, to forward the proceedings under S 341 with a report of the circum stances of the case 3

If there has been a commitment, the High Court has a discretion to pass an order under that section in a reference made to it under S 341 and without a Sessions trial No benefit will be likely to result to the accused from such a tral The Legislature seems to have contemplated that there should be a finding by Magistrate either by what is termed a conviction or a commitment, that prid facte that is to say on the evidence for the prosecution an offence has been committed and that the accused, though not insane, cannot be made to under stand the proceedings. In that case however, the accused was found to have killed a woman when he was by reason of unsoundness of mind inespile of knowing that he was doing what is wrong and contrary to law, and the case was recorded united to the way to be supported to the way to be was reported under S 471 post for the orders of the Local Government's and Magistrate would not be competent to convict where the offence established not triable only by the Court of Session or High Court He would commit which as in a conviction for an offence triable by him would amount to a find and against the accused which apparently is contemplated by S 341 to enable the High Court to deal with the case

(1) For the purpose of enabling the accused to ex plain any circumstances appearing in the evi-Power to examindence against him, the Court may, at any stage of any inquity or trial, without previously warning the accused, put such questions to him, as the Court considers necessary, and shall, for the purpose aforesud, question him generally on the case after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined and before he is called on for his defence

&lt;sup>1</sup> Emp Reuben Bon H Ct July 5 1891 <sup>2</sup> Bom H Ct Jan 7 1 207 <sup>3</sup> Q Emp Somir Bowra I L R, 27 Cal 368 (s c) 4 Cal W N, 421

- (2) The accused shall not render lumself hable to punishment by refusing to answer such questions, or by giving false answers to them, but the Comt and the mry (if any) may draw such inference from such refusal or answers as it thinks just.
- (3) The answers given by the accused may be taken into consideration in such inquiry or trial, and put in evidence for or against him in any other inquiry into, or trial for, any other offence which such answers may tend to show he has committed
  - (4) No oath shall be administered to the accused.

Object of examination of accused

The examination of an accused is declared by S 342 to be for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing on evidence against him It should, therefore t ke place only after the proceedings on an inquiry or trial have been held and evidence taken and not as a preliminary proceeding, and before any evidence has been recorded! Where the accused has been examined before any cyclence had been taken which he could be called upon to explain, the proceedings were declined to be illegal, and the examination was admitted in condense. Nor can a Sessions Judge commence a trial by examining the accused in regard to evidence taken in the inquiry 3

The object is not to fill up a gap in the evidence for the prosecution, but to enable the accused to explain any fact appearing in evidence against him. and such examination is particularly necessary, if the accused is undefended. The I'm allows a Court, not the complyment, to put questions to the recused. The examination should be, strictly limited to the purpose stated in S 342.7 Where there was no evidence of an essential first, except what had been obtained in the examination of the accused, it was not admitted, and the accused was acquitted a

These rules apply equally to the Sessions Court Answers received from the accused in an examination contravening these principles are inadmissible against the accused in the Sessions trial?

A Magistrate should not examine an accused person when he is satisfied that the evidence does not disclose any proper subject of a criminal charge against him 10

<sup>1</sup> Q Emp v Hawthorne I L R 13 All 345 Q Emp v Sagal Samba Sajao I L. R, 21 Cal 642 (656)

R, 21 Cal. 642 (656)

Q Emp v Viran I L R 9 Mad 224 Q Emp v Bhairab Chunder Chuckerbutt), 2 Cal W N 702 K Emp t Rajam Kanto Koer 8 Cal W N 22 contra—Narayan, Bom H Ct. Nov 2 1893

<sup>689</sup> D.vv D.3al: Crown I L R 4 Lah 58
* Re Abbulla Ravithan I L R 30 Mad, 270
* In re Shama Sankar Biswas, I B L R 16 Short Notes ' (5 c) 10 W R Cr, 25

A Magistrate has no right to attempt to effect damaging incriminating admissions from a person against whom he has issued process, for the purpose of using them afterwards as evidence against him, I nor can he subject the accused to a severe cross examination on points entirely outside the matter under trial and relating to the defence of another person with the apparent object of convicting him out of his mouth of false statements, and then to prejudice himself in respect of the matter with which he is charged,2 nor can the Magistrate in examining an accused cross examine him in regard to the part supposed to have been taken by the other prisoners 3

When accused should be examined

S 164 enables a Magistrate to record a statement or confession made by a person but only in the course of an investigation held by the Police, or at any time afterwards, and before the commencement of the inquiry or trial, and such confession must be volunturily made, and so certified by the Magistrate That section contemplates an offer by the person to make such statement or confession not an examination because the Magistrate thinks proper to take that course (see note to S 161 ante)

When, however the evidence for the prosecution has been concluded and a case against the accused has been prima fice established, it is the duty of the Magistrate to give him on opportunity of explaining facts appearing in evidence igainst him with the view of ascertaining how he can meet or rebut that evidence and this is more especially necessary when he is undefended The following instructions on this subject have been issued by the Calcutta High Court

Although the Code of Criminal Procedure does not make it imperative on a Magistrate to examine an accessed person at any stage of the inquiry, before committing him to stand his trial at the Court of Session the Court that's it necessary to impress upon all Magistrates the expediency of the general adoption of this course at some stage or other of the inquiry. In those few and exceptional cases in which the guilt of an accused may be beyond reasonable doubt the practice in force may be permitted without risk, but inasmuch as it is distre tionary with a Magistrate to discharge or to commit an accused person, accord ing as he finds that the evidence is in his opinion sufficient for his convet of by the Court of Session or otherwise, it is obvious that the truth of any ord nary case will be best elicited and obscure points will be cleared away by any ex planation that an accused may wish to give, when, after hearing all the evidence against him or at my other time in the discretion of the Magistrate he may be subjected to an examination before the Magistrate on points requiring elucidation it being clearly explained to the accused that it is at his option to answer such questions or not The Court however, desires to explain that, in issuing these directions, it in no way sanctions any p ecceedings of an inquisitorial nature

The Calcutta High Court expressed itself more fully on the same subject-Many Magistrates are too hasty in making commitments, or rather that they do not make the thorough inquiry which they ought to make previous to con mitment In a case of murder, more especially, there can be no doubt that it is the duty of the Magistrate to sift every fact bearing on the case in order to ascertal whether the accused is guilty or innocent, and to examine the accused on the facts which bear against him One of the points of the evidence in this case which led to presumption of the accused's guilt was that he had been absent about the time the Cod r Mad II 1 Q Em CR ion s

In re Chimib * Emp

O Em Cal H Ct July *8 1864 Q v Kishto Doba 1; W R. Cr, 16.

murder was committed. This statement as to where he was at that time should have been recorded, and should also have been thoroughly inquired into. It is not sufficient to say that accused might bring witnesses to prove his innocence at the trial It is possible the iccused may not know the names of the witnesses. and if the witnesses can give evidence, in his favour to exculpate him, he should not be committed. A long time clapses before a trial at the Sessions comes on, and witnesses cannot then give as clear evidence, more especially as to time and date, as when the facts have only lately occurred. Every inquiry should have been made previous to commitment to ascertain, not only whether there was presumption of the guilt of the accused, but also whether he was innocent. It to the duty of the Police and the Wagistrate, not only to bring the parties suspected of being guilty to Irial but also to ascertain whether the suspected can clear themselves from the crime of which they are accused is a chuse in the Procedure Code which empowers Magistrates to commit without inquiry into the defence of the accused. The discretion given by this clause is much abused. It mis be applied in certain cases, but in serious charges of murder, when the life of the accused is at stalle this clause should not be acted upon, bee use no certainty of the accused a guilt can arise until his defence is nigatived and proof that his defence is false is frequently very strong evidence in facur of the prosecution. If the result of the inquiry into the defence leaves the matter in doubt, it is the duty of the Magistrate to commit, and leave the Sessions Court to decide which is the true story

It has been very appropriately observed that an 'unrestrained right of interrupting is ilso very apt to produce insidious and catching questions. Instead of a cool and impartial attempt to extract the truth, the examination becomes a contest in which the pride and ingenuity of the Magistrate are arrayed against the crution or experions of the accused and every construction will be given to his answer that may fix upon him imputation of guilt 1

The latter part of sub-section (2) is in accordance with the Evidence Act (I of 1872), S 114, III (h), which declares that the Court may presume that if a person refuses to answer a question which he is not compelled to answer by law, the answer if given would be unfavourable to him. It is therefore especially incumbent on judicial officers to act strictly within the terms of 5 342 so as to limit the examination of an occused person to the purpose of enabling him to explina any circumstances appearing in evidence against him, for otherwise, a refusal to answer an incriminating question improperly put might be taken into unsideration against an accused

There has been considerable discuss on as to whether the mandatory pro visions of the latter part of sub-section (1) apply to trials in the Sessions Court in view of the wording of S 289 (2) For reference to the rulings on this point see note to $ 289. As to whether the same provisions apply to summons cases and to summary trials of summons-cases see note to Ss 242 and 63. That they do apply in the case of warrant-eases tried summarily there can be no doubt. It is perhaps regrettable that the recent opportunity was not taken by the Legislature of removing the d ubts that have arisen in regard to this section which has been left unchanged by the amending Acts of 1923. These doubts line arisen not only in regard to the points mentioned above but also whether various degrees of non-e-mplance with the provisions of the section are mere irregularities curable by $ 537, or illegalities vitinting the trial. The Madras High Court has held severaling a decision of the same court of a few months earliers that a failure to examine the accused again after prosecution watnesses

<sup>1</sup> Livingstone's Works Vol I p 355 see Whitley Stokes Anglo-Indian Codes 3 of 11 p 20

* Mohamad Hossain | Emp I L R 41 Cal 743

* Varisai Rowther t K Emp I L R 46 Mad 449

* In re Madura Muthu Vannam I L R 45 Mad, 820

A Magistrate has no right to attempt to elect damaging incriminating admissions from a person against whom he has issued process, for the purpose digital them afterwards as evidence against him, nor can he subject the accused to a severe cross examination on points entirely outside the matter under trail and relating to the defence of another person with the apparent object of consting him out of his mouth of false statements, and then to prejudice funself in respect of the matter with which he is charged, nor can the Magistrate in examining an accused cross examine him in regard to the part supposed to hat been taken by the other prisoners?

When accused should be examined

S 164 enables a Magistrate to record a statement or confession made by a period but only in the course of an investigation held by the Police or at significant and the statement of the inquiry or irial, and such confession must be coluntrially made, and so certified by the Magistrate But section contemplates an offer by the person to make such statement or confess of not an examination because the Magistrate thinks proper to take that course-(see note to S 164 unite)

When however, the evidence for the prosecution has been concluded and a case against the accused has been prima fire established, it is the duty of the Magistrate to give him an opportunity of explaining facts appearing in evidence ignish him with the view of ascertaining how he can meet or rebut that e dear and this is more especially necessary when he is undefended. The following instructions on this subject have been issued by the Calcutta High Court

Although the Code of Criminal Procedure does not make it imperative on a Magistrate to examine an occused person at any stage of the inquiry, before committing him to stand his trial at the Court of Session, the Court thinks it necessary to impress upon all Magistrates the expediency of the general adoptor of this course at some stage or other of the inquiry. In those few and exceptional cases, in which the guilt of an accused may be beyond reasonable doubt the practice in force may be permitted without risk, but inasmuch as it is distritionary with a Magistrate to discharge or to commit an accused person, according to the first person and the first person according to the first person acco ing as he finds that the evidence is in his opinion sufficient for his consist of by the Court of Session or otherwise, it is obvious that the truth of any ord nary case will be best elicited and obscure points will be cleared away, by any of planation that an accused may wish to give when after hearing all the evidence against him or at any other time in the discretion of the Magistrate, he may be subjected to an examination before the Magistrate on points requiring elucidation it being clearly explained to the accused that it is at his option to answer such questions or not The Court, however, desires to explain that, in issuing these directions, it in no way sanctions any p occedings of an inquisitorial nature

The Calcutte High Court expressed itself more fully on the same subject

'Many Magistrates are too hasy in making commitments or rather that they do not make the thorough inquiry which they ought to make previous to commitment. In a case of murder, more especially, there can be no doubt that it is that yof the Nagistrate to sixt extry fact beauing on the case, in order to ascertant whether the accused is guilty or innocent, and to examine the accused on the fact which beer against him. One of the points of the exidence in this case which led against him. One of the points of the exidence in this case which led in the presumption of the accused's guilt was that he had been absent about the time the murder was committed. His st tement is to where he was at that time should have been recorded and should do have been thoroughly inquired into. It is not sufficient to say that accused might from witnesses to prove his innocence at the trial. It is possible the excused may not know the names of the witnesses, and if the wines is an action in his for ur to exculpite him he should not be committed. A link time of yes left re a trial at the Sessions comes on, and witnesses cann tallian give with an exidence an re especially as to time and date as where the lacts for the lacts occurred livery inquiry should have been made previous to committee in a secretion, not only whether there was presumption of the guilt fathe reused but also whether he was innocent. It is the duty of the Police and the Magistrate not only in bring the parties suspected of being guilty t trial but less o recert un whether the suspected can clear themselves from the crime of which they are accused is a clause in the Procedure Code which empowers Wagistrates to commit without inquire into the defence f the recused. The discretion given by this clause is much abused it my be applied in certain cases but in serious charges of murder, when the life of the accused is at stake this clause should not be acted upon because a certainty of the necused a guilt can arise until his defence is negatived, and prix I that his defence is false is frequently very strong evidence in layour of the ir ceuti r. If the result of the inquiry into the defence leaves the matter in dailt it is the duty of the Magistrate to commit, incl leave the Sees ns Court to decide which is the true story "

<sup>1</sup> Q Emp v Hawthorne I L R 13 All 345 In re virabudra Gaud t Mad il 6 Cal 96 (s c) 6 Cal L R 51 R 25 Cal 689

It has been very appreprintely abserved that an "unrestrained right of interrogating is lasters pt to produce insidious and catching questions. Instead of a cool and impartial tempt to extract the truth the examination becomes a contest in which the pride and ingenuity of the Magistrate are arrayed against the caution or evasions of the iccused and every construction will be given to hs answer that may fix upon him imputation of guilt 12

The latter part of sub-section (2) is in accordance with the Evidence Act (I of 1872), S 114 III (h) which declares that the Court may presume that if a person refuses to answer a question which he is not compelled to answer by law. the answer if given would be unfavourable to him It is therefore especially incumbent on judicial officers to act strictly within the terms of S 342, so as to limit the examination of an accused person to the purpose of enabling him to explan any circumstances appearing in evidence against him for otherwise, a refusal to answer in incriminating quest on improperly put, might be taken into consideration against an accused

There has been considerable discussion as to whether the mandatory provisions of the latter part of sub-section (1) apply to trials in the Sessions Court in view of the wording of S 289 (2) for reference to the rulings on this point see note to S 289. As to whether the same provisions apply to summons cases and to summary trails of summons-cases see note to Ss 242 and 263. That they do apply in the case of warrant-cases tried summarily there can be no doubt. It is perhaps regrettable that the recent opportunity was not taken by the Legislature of removing the d ubts that have urisen in regard to this section. which has been left unchanged by the amending Acts of 1923. These doubts have arisen not only in regard to the points mentioned above, but also whether various degrees of non-compliance with the provisions of the section are mere irregularities cur ble by $ 537, or illegalities vitiating the trial. The Modros High Court has held a everral ag a decision of the same court of a few months earliers that a failure to examine the accused again after prosecution witnesses

Livingstone's Works Vol I p 355 see Whitley Stokes' Anglo Indian Codes. Vol II p 20

Nolamad Hossain v Emp I L R 41 Cal 743
Nolamad Hossain v Emp I L R 46 Mad 449
Arisa Rowther t K Emp I L R 45 Mad 820

In re Madura Muthu Vannain I L. R. 45 Mad . 820

have been recalled for further cross examination does not vitiate the inal unless the accused have been prejud ced. All courts have held that the law in its terms requires the examination of the accused to be made after the examination cross examination and re-examination of the witnesses.

The following are the litest rulings of the High Courts on the point -

The putting in of a written statement by the accused does not absole the court from the duty of carrying out the provisions of S 342 1

The examination of the accused fiter the examination in-chief of some of the prosecution witnesses and again after the cross-examination of only some of such witnesses is not a compliance with S 34° and the conscion is illegitationally assumed to the stage when, without compliance with the section, the Magistrate calls upon the accused for his defence, and there should be a restrial from that part But S 342 does not apply to an inquiry under S 117, and an omission to examine the accused at the close of the prosecution case is an irregularity corred by 5 537, when he has not been prejuded by the omission to

On the other hand different views have been tal en in other High Courts In Allahibad it has been held that where one witness for the prosecution was examined after the accused statements had been taken the trial has not vitinted as the evidence of the witness added nothing material to the prosecution case 3 In a Lahore case most of the witnesses who had already been cross examined at length were recalled for further cross examination after the accused had been examined, the High Court held that though it may be des rable that the accused should be given an opportunity to add an additional explanation 5 34 conveys no peremptory direction to that effect where the witnesses had already been cross examined and even if there is such a direction the omiss of was covered by S 537 In a Patna Case also the High Court refused to interfere in revision where the accused were not examined but filed written statements at the stage, and also after the examination of the defence witness And the same Court held that where the accused had already been examined at the ordinary stage and thereafter an alteration is made in the charge or a new charge is added it is not incumbent on the court to reexamine the accused each though some of the witnesses have, after the alteration or addition been recalled and examined a

Sub section (3)

Under S 287 the examination of the recused duly recorded by or before the committing Magistrate shall be tendered by the prosecutor and read as evident at the Sessions trial. It can also be used as evidence against h m in any other trial?

Under S 30 Evidence Act I of 1872 when more persons than one are be fit treed jointly for the same offence, and a confession made by one of such persons affecting himself and some other of such persons is proved the Court may take

Ah Foong v Emp I L R 46 Cal 411 Marahar Mi Emp I L R 50 Cal 2 Dan Ah 518 Marahar Mi Emp I L R 50 Cal 518 Gulran Lair Emp I L R 50 Cal 518 Gulran Lair Emp I L R 50 Cal 518 Gulran Lair

Emp 1 L R 30 car 35 Emp 1 L R 30 car 35 Pramatha Nath Mukherjee I L R 50 Cal 518 Dibakanta Clatterjee I L I

<sup>50</sup> Cal 959 4 Rend I I be and 1 985

Baldeo Koetı v K Emp, 6 Pat L J 241

into consideration such confession as against such other person as well as against the person who makes the confession. So where in a statement made under S 342 certain accused a niessed and implicated their co-accused and further pleaded guilty under 5 255 (1) it was not necessary to try the conceused separately to enable the confirm us to be used against them!

How the examination of an accused should be recorded.

This is provided for by a 364 per the requirements of which must be strictly observed as attacking the examination will not be admissible in evidence in a trial by the Court of Session or High Court for, in the words of S 288 it will not have been didy see aded. In order, however to prevent a failure of justice if the Court holding the trial, or a Court of Appeal or Revision, finds that, in respect to a statement purp remit to be recorded under 5 364, any of the provisions of that section have not been complied with by the judicial officer recording that statement it shill take evidence that such person duly made the statement recorded, and such statement shall be admitted, if the error has not injured the accused as to his defence on the ments -(5 533)

The Calcutta High Court has ordered that the examination of an accused shall contain his or her name, that of his or her father (and if a married woman, that of her husband) the rebut no easte, profession, and age of the accused person, and the village or pergunn i in which he or she resides. An examination under S 342 should be recorded in the manner directed by S 364

In the United Provinces and Othit the examination of an accused person should be recorded on a prescribed printed form which contains particulars for identification a

No oath shall be administered to the accused.

See note to $ 337 ante. This has been made the ground for refusing to admit the evidence of an accumplice tal on without conditional pardon who is still an reused pers n that is a person wer whom a Criminal Court is evereising jurisdiction, and who has not been discharged acquitted or consisted of the offence regarding which he is so made a witness and examined on cath. Sub-section (4) does not apply to in accused in another trial. So where the person under trial for abetment cited as a witness for his defence the person accused of the substantive offence who had beer convicted but not sentenced, the case having been referred to a superior Magnitude under $ 340 for sentence, he was entitled have bin examined and $ 342 (4) was no but $ 11 applies only to an accused person then under trial Similarly, where several accused persons one of whom was an European British subject, were committed together for trial and the Europe in British subject claimed to be tried by a mixed jury, on which the others claimed to be separately tired, it was held that the European British solutions as intitled to call the other prisoners as witnesses for his defence, as they were not then under trial, and therefore not within 5-342 (3).

S 342 (4) applies only to persons liable to punishment. It does not apply to a person called upon to show cause against an order under S 133, who can be examined on outh and is liable to prosecution for an offence under S 103, Penal Code, if he makes a false statement "

&lt;sup>1</sup> R t Bati Reddi, I I R 38 Vad 302 dissenting from Q Emp 1 Lakshmayya Pandaran I I R 22 Vad 491 <sup>1</sup> Cir 10 Sept 17 1864 Rules & Vol II p 124 see also Bom II Ct. Dec 27

<sup>1872</sup> Gaz 1873 D 20 1872 Gaz 1873 D 20 All Rules & C No 36 (1) Q I mp + Tirbem Sahai I L R, ~0 All, 426, Lmp + Durant I L R 23 Bom 213 Hira Aanda Ohh, 2 Cal L J - 23

See also S 340 (2) The Oaths Act, A of 1873, S 5 and S 342 (4) of this Code apply only to the accused actually under trial at the time. Such person mot be sworn as a witness for, or against, the co-accused. But when persons are tried separately each one though implicated in the same offence is a cum petent witness at the trial of the other!

Where an appellant made a false statement in his petition of appeal and was called upon by the Magistrate to whom the appeal was preferred to verify the allegations in the petition of appeal on solemn affirmation, and dd so he could not be convicted under S 181 and S 182, Penal Code 2

I person seeking in revision to have his conviction set uside cannot tender an affidavit in support of his application and if he does so cannot be prosecuted in respect of false statements contained therein a And where false statements were made in an affidavit by an accused person applying for transfer of his case under S 528 he cannot, or at least ought not to, be prosecuted in respect of false statements contained therein . But these three cases were considered in a Lahor cases in which it was held that S 342 (4) refers only to the administering of an outh to the accused in respect of the statement made by him under sub sect on (1) and does not preclude him from making an affidavit in support of an application for transfer The learned Judge added that there would not seem to be any bar to the accused being prosecuted in respect of any false statement in the affi davit but this point did not really arise

Except as provided in sections 337 and 338, no in 343 fluence, by means of any promise or threat or No unfluence to be otherwise, shall be used to an accused person used to induce dis to induce him to disclose or withhold any closures matter within his knowledge.

Sections 337 and 338 excepted from the operation of this section relate to the evidence of a person supposed to have been directly or indirectly concerned if or privy to an offence under inquiry or trial obtained and tallen under condition

With this section Ss 24 28 and 29 of the Evidence Act (I of 1871) should be read -

A confession made by an accused person is irrelevant in a crim and protecting if the miling of the confession appears to the Court to have been caused by a inductment, threat or promise having reference to the charge against the accused person proceeding from a person in authority and sufficient in the opinion of the Court to give the accused person grounds which would appear to him reasonable for supposing that by making it he would gain any advantage or stood and advantage or stood and advantage or stood any advantage or stood and advantage or stood advantage or or avoid any evil of a temporal nature in reference to the proceedings again him-S 21

If such a confession is made after the impression caused by any such inducement threat or promise has, in the opinion of the Court been fully removed it is relevant—S 28

If such a confession is otherwise relevant, it does not become irrelevant merels because it was made under a promise of secrecy or in consequence of a decept of practised on the accused person for the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he not drunk or because the control of the purpose of obtaining it or when he can be a control of the purpose of the control of t drunk or because it was made in answer to questions which he need not have

Akhoy Kumar Mookerjee v Emp I L R 45 Cal 720 following Rev t Artist der Bom H Ct R l and Emp t Durant I L R 23 Bom 213 L R 12 Mad 45: Cmp t Bundent Singh I L R 22 Mad 45: Cmp t Bundent Singh I L R 28 All 33: Sunder

enswered, whatever may have t in the firm of thise questions or because he was not warned that t in a bound t make such confession and that evidence of it might be given t in t him t t t t t

A statement mall by an acculingers in under conditional pardon, in a case in which such pard in circle in the legally tendered to him, was for this reason held to be underseable.

344 /1) T Power to postpore or adoun preced

(7) If from the absence of a witness or any other reasonable cruse it becomes necessary or advantage with the commencement of, or adjourn any inquiry or trial, the Court may,

if it thinks fit by order in writing stating the reasons therefor, from time to time postpone or adjourn the same on such terms as it thinks fit for such time as it considers reasonable, and may by a warrant remand the accused if in custody.

Provided that no Magistrate shall remand an accused person to custody under this section for a term exceed-in efficien days at a time

(2) Every order made under this section hy a Court other than a High Court shall be in writing signed by the presiding Judge or Manstrate

Explanation—If sufficient evidence has been obtained to Reasonable a sefar rules a suspicion that the accused may have committed an offence, and it appears likely that further evidence may be obtained by a ternand this is a reasonable cause for a remand

Cf the Indictable Offences Act, 1848 (11 and 12 Vict C 42) S 21

This section it should be noted relates to the postponement of the commencement or the adjournment of en inquiry or trial and when this is found necessars for reasons to be recorded in writing the Court may by a warrant remand the accused it in custods. If the accused is on but he will be required to attend on the day fixed in the order passed. Spath does not relate to an order for remand to police custods while the matter is under investigation for that is specially prevised for bits 5 (7). It contemplates a remand to Jul. 3.

Inquiry or trial before a Magistrate

In a summons case of on the day fixed for trial, the complainant does not appear the Manustrate shall acoust the accused unless for some reason he thinks prepare to advant the hearing of the case to some other day, an exception being made if the complainant is a public servant, and his personal attendance is not required—8.

A smally processing sense in regard to the absence of the compolational in a warranteers which may be lawfull compounded or in which the offence is not cognizable except that it is left to the descretion of the Magistrate whether he should terminate the proceed new in discharging the accused—S 250.

The terms of the sections of the Codes of 1861 and 1872 were differently expressed regarding the power of a Magistrate to adjourn an inquiry or trial and

Tmp t Ashgar Ab I I R 2 All 760 I Io re Krishnaji Pandurare Joelekar I I D 23 Pem 32

to remand an accused to custody. They contemplated that, before such an order was passed, there was some exidence against the presoner which would justify an adjournment of the proceedings (Code of 1872, S 104, expin ), and the liw was so declared in several reported cases S 344 of the Code of 1882, which has been re enacted however, provided for the postponement of the commencement of an inquiry or trial. The necessity for some evidence being recarded before a remand to cus only could be ordered no longer exists and the cases under those Codes are therefore obsolete. The order in writing, which must give the reasons for such rem nd must however show that the postconement or adjournment was on account of the absence of a citness or for some other reasonable couse If evidence is available but is not recorded, and it is expected that other evidence will be obtained remaind may be ordered. This may appear from the police report and divries sending the accused in custody (S 167), of the final rejort of the investigation (S 171) It is often very desirable to postpone the commencement of an inquity for a short period in order that when commenced it may be held without interruption and conflucted in such order in regard to the examination of witnesses as may best set out the facts to be given in evidence The accused have a right to have the evidence recorded at its early a perof of possible and the fact that there is or may be a great body of evidence f themman against them is not a good ground for detention for an inordinate period but they are not entitled to be admitted to bail merely because for this reason the commencement of the trial has been deferred

On the first occasion that accused persons are produced it is not necessify for fully into the charge it is end northly sufficient to show he to endence of an officer of the Pelie in that the Police are in possession of information with the helicus to be reliable that an officer has been committed and that the accused persons were concerned in its cominist on. But where the operation are brought up after a remand some direct evidence of the connection of the necessity with the crime should be required to justify the Mustainte in refusing built and with the crime should be required to justify the Mustainte in refusing built and with the crime should be required to the production of implicating profit.

A Mag strate is linkever not just fed in remanding an access when the studence fallen is not sufficient for the foundation of a charge and fecuse the expected that after some time and by the day of industry some expected that after some time and by the day of industry some expected that

When any person accessed of a non-habile offence is arrested or detend without warrant is an offere or charte of a pole estation or appears to be until before a Court to make the cleased on tall but be shall not be released if there anothe reasonable grounts for below not that the last bone of an offence run shall be at his draft or transporters at for 16. But if it anothe is such officer or Court at any stage of the invest orthon one are with the area on a reasonable strained for below or that the area of the investment of the area that the area of the investment of a nor half of the last bone are not reasonable at strained for below or that the area further inour visites have all the recurs of shall need at a history to train a further inour visites have a for the appearance as learn after the area of a form of the area of a norm of sold or infirm person accused of a non-half of a first that a person under the area of scheen teason or a norm of sold or infirm person accused of a non-half be offence may be released on his of sold.

When the proceedings have been completed and not an accused cerean the decision of the case or his commitment to the Court of Session should not be deferred merely because the principal offenders have not been apprehended 1 After repeated adjournments the absence of the principal incused and the desirability of a point trial are not sufficent grounds for a further postponement.

<sup>1</sup> Manikam Malaki O I L R 6 Mad 61 fe ch Meir 066 2 Pontinsani Chetti , O I I R 6 Mad 69 fe ch Weir 962

Profit in Chetti, O I I R 6 Mad 79 Is c) Well 902 R Cr 55 In re Mathuranath Chuckerbutty 9 B L R 354 (8 c) 17 W R Cr 55

SEC 344

In any case in which a examination has been assued for the examination of any witness, the inquiry, trial, or other proceeding may be adjustined for a specified time reas naby sufficient for the execution and return of the commission -5 305 In such a case, it may so be pien that in adjustination of more than the filteen days allowed in 5 34, may be a cessirs, and this is specially provided for But the adjurnment should be for a specified time reisonably sufficient for the execution and return of the commission (5 505)

Or any other reasonable cause-view of the place of the occurrence, etc

It may sometimes be necessary for a Mightrate to adjourn an inquiry or trial to enable him to visit the ptice at which the effection may have been cummitted. The Code now expressly prevides for this in a new section 519B post S 293 provided, and still province I r a visit of inspects it by a july or issues ra, and that an inspection by a Judge or M gistrite was also contemplated is patent from the Laplanation to S 200 nlich las down that a Judge or Magistrate shall not pe decmed . In any by reason cells that he has viewed the place in which an offence is alleged to have been committed or my other place in which any other trinsaction material to the case is alleged to have created and inide an inquiry in connection with the case. Under 5 331b the Judge or Migistrate may visit, not only the scene of the alleged offence but Iso inverther place "which it is in his opinion necessary to view fir the party so of properly appreciating the evidence given it such inquiry or it il. But he must give muce to the parties, and must without unnecess ry delly record a memorandum of any relevant facts observed, which shall form pirt of the record, and a cop of which shall be available to the prosecution and the defence

A local inquiry is expressly provided by S 145 for cases under Chapter XII, but these are proceedings not connected with the commission of in offence

Before the enactment of $ 5,9B the High Courts had considered the matter and, in their desire not to embiries the a cused, hid introduced a precedure the observance of which sometimes crused difficulties. In one case belo e the Calcutta High Court,3 the Migistrate, after notice to the parties, in their presence inspected the scene of the occurrence to ascertain whether four pas for the disposal of refuse, and also a hin, said to be used as a citile slied, existed these being matters in dispute regarding which contributors evidence had been given STEPHEN J held that a Magistrate may visit the scene of an alleged i courrence in order to test the evidence he has hard on a questionable fact which has been raised before him and that he was justified in acting on the opini as formed on what he had seen Woodioite, J contra held that a judgment is I mited to the materials placed before it by the pieties in Court and that by this means only can its correctness be tested by the Appellate Court and he referred to the finding of the Magistrate, after his inspection that the hot was too small to held ent'e on which, in his opinion an opportunity should have been given to show that this was incorrect. CHATTERIFE I was of the a me opinion, observing that no man can be convicted except upon evidence which he has had an oppuramin of testing by crossexamination and control cting by rebutting evidence. The grounds up it which the majority of the learned Judges in that case based their decision are open to some criticism. It may be observed that the objections applied to the opin on to remand an accused to custody. They contemplated that, before such an order was passed, there was some evidence against the prisoner which would justify an adjournment of the proceedings (Code of 1872, S 194, expln), and the law was so declared in several reported cases 5 344 of the Code of 1882, which has been re enacted however, provided for the postponement of the commencement of an inquiry or tral. The necessity for some evidence being recorded before a remaind to cus ody could be ordered no longer exists, and the cases under those Codes are therefore obsolete. The order in writing, which must give the reasons for such remaind must however, show that the postponement or adjournment was on account of the absence of a ariness or for some other reasonable cause If evidence is a utable but is not recorded, and it is expected that other eithere will be obtained, remand may be ordered. This may novear from the police report and dirries sending the recused in custody (S 167) of the final report of the investigation (S 173) It is aften very desirable to postpone the comments ment of an inquiry for a short period in order that, when commenced it may be held without interruption and conducted in such order in regard to the examination of witnesses as may best set out the facts to be given in evente The accused have a right to have the evidence recorded at is early a perof of possible and the fact that there is or miv be a great body of evidence f them of against them is not a good ground for detention for an inordinate permy bat they are not entitled to be admitted to bad merely because for this reason the commencement of the trial has been deferred

&lt;sup>1</sup> 3 W R 21 Cr I et No -95 <sup>5</sup> Billinghurst <sup>1</sup> Mech I I R <sub>49</sub> Cal 182 <sup>6</sup> Biabbon Sheik I L R <sub>37</sub> Cal <sub>1</sub>340 (s c) 14 Cal W N <sub>4</sub>22 <sup>5</sup> (s c) 11 Cal L J - 335

SEC3 J 4

On the first occasion that accused persons are produced it is not necessary to go fully into the clarge it is ordinarily sufficient to show by it exidence an officer of the Pelev into the Polec are in possession of information shift they believe to be reliable that no offence has been committed and that the believe to be reliable that no offence has been committed and that the accused persons were concerned in its commission. But where the excused persons are horoight up after a remand some direct evidence of the concerned to the accused up that the production of implicating production and with each remand the necessity for the production of implicating production of implicating production of implicating production of implicating production.

A Mag strate is however that justified in remaining an accused when the evidence tall on is not sufficient for the foundation of a charge and breast the expected that after some time and by the dat of moury some extense to be obtained. That is no reasonable ground for an order of remaind.

When any person are send of a non-buildble effects is arrested in defined without warrant by an officer in charge of a nole estation or appears of a brought before a Court he may be released on both but he shall set be released of there appear reasonably required for help and the both of an offere run in the lata bear given of an ofference much shall be the such offerer of Cert at any state of the most earlier in our set and side to such offerer of Cert at any state of the most earlier in our set and side case may be that there are not reasonable securing for helps at that the reasonable required for the country of any ofference of the country of the state of the reasonable required for the foreign of the country of

(S 407)

When the preceedings have been committed against an accused permit the decision of the case or his commitment to the Court of Session should not be

<sup>2</sup> Manikam Milalis O I I R 6 Mad 63 Is c) Wer as6
2 Poonusan Chettis O I I R 6 Mad 69 Is c) Weir 962

Poonus n Chetti, O I I R 6 Mad (o (s c) Weir 962 R Cr 55 In re Mathuranath Chuckerbutty, 9 B L R 354 (s c) 17 W R Cr 55

SEC 344

deferred merely because the principal offenders have not been apprehended t After repe ted adjournments the absence of the principal acused and the desirability of a joint trial are not sufficent grounds for a tur her prospenement."

In any case in which a commission has been issued for the examination of any witness, the inquity, trial, or other preceeding may be idjustrated for a specified time reas naby sufficient for the executation and return of the commission -5 500 In such a case, it may so be pien that in adjustament of more than the filteen days allowed in 5 th, may be n cessure and this is specially provided for But the adjournment should be for a specified time reisonably sufficient for the execution and return of the commission (5 505)

Or any other reasonable cause-view of the place of the occurrence, etc.

It may sometimes be necessary for a Manistrate to adjourn an inquity of trial to enable him to visit the place at which the effence may have been commuted. The Code now expressly precides for this in a new section 530B post. S 231 provided and still provides her a visit in impact, if by a pirty or assessors, and that an inspection by a 10 lag or A legistric was also contamplied in patient. from the Lyplination to 5 330 which live diwn that a Judge or Magistrate shall not be decmed personally interested , in any by reason city that he has viewed the place in which an offence is alleged to have been committed, or any other place in which any other trinsaction material to the case is alleged to have recurred and made an inquiry in connection with the case. Under S 33 ill the Julge or Migistrate may visit, not only the scene it the affected offence but ilso any other place "which it is in his opinion necessary to view I'r the purpose of properly appreciating the evidence given at such inquiry or trial. But he must give notice to the parties, and mist without unnecess ry delig record a memorandum of any relevant facts observed which shall form part of the record, and a crp. of which shall be available to the pre-coution and the defence

A local inquiry is expressly provided by S 145 for cases under Chapter XII, but these are proceedings not connected with the commission of an uffence

Before the engetment of S 5,9B the High Courts had ennsidered the matter and, in their desire not to emb truss the accused, hid introduced a procedure the observance of which sometimes crused difficulties. In one case before the Calculta High Court,2 the Mignifrite, after notice to the parties, in their presence inspected the scene of the occurrence to ascert in whether har pits, for the disposal of refuse, and also a hut, said to be used as a cattle shell, existed, these being matters in dispute regarding which contradictory evidence had been given STEPHEN J held that a Manistrate may visit the scene of an alleged occurrence in order to test the evidence he has board on a questionable fact which has been raised before him and that he was justified in acting on the upinions formed on what he had seen Wood our J contra held that a judgment is I mited to the materials placed before it by the parties in Court and that by this means only can its correctness be tested by the Appellate Court and he referred to the finding of the Magistrate, after his inspection, that the hut was too small to held cattle on which, in his opinion an opportunity should have been given to show that this was incorrect. CHATTERIFE J was of the same opinion, observing that no man can be onvicted except upon evidence which he has had an opportunity of testing by crossexamination and contradicting by rebutting evidence. The grounds upon which the majority of the learned Judges in that case bised their decision are open to some criticism. It may be observed that the objections applied to the opin on

<sup>13</sup> W R 21 Cr 1ct No -95

Billinghurst, Meil I I R 49 Cal 182

Babbon Shenk I L R, 37 Cal, 340 (5 c) 14 Cal W N, 422 (5 c) 11 Cal L, J. 335

formed by a Magistrate from a local inspection are not applicable to the result of a similar inspection by the Jury or Assessors in a Sessions trial ($ 293) and the Magistrate in a trial held by him would in the determination of such matters of fact represent a jury or assessors in a Sessions trial. A judicial officer is expected to apply his other senses than those derived from hearing oral evidence He may be called upon to form conclusions from the manner in which a wanes may give his evidence or to exercise his sense of scent in regard to some article before him and his opinion on such matters would not be open to contradiction. Moreover, if an appellate court should think that such an oppor tunity should be given it is competent under 5 42b to tale additional evidence The reported cases of the Calculta High Court seemed to require that a Magistrate should place upon record for the information of the parties concerned the result of his local inspection, so that they might have an oppor tunity of contradicting it, and the legislature has now provided for But it might be argued that such contradiction would rarely have an effect on the mind of the Magistrate and it would only lead to what would mean any criticism of his conclusions It would put him reply to in a false position if it were possible to require him to receive further evidence on the subject and there seems to be no reason why he should in this respect be placed on a lower footing than the Jury or Assessors in a Sessions trial it is also worthy of notice that although the Code (S 9) enables a Local Goremment to declare 'as to what place or places a Court of Session shall hold its sitting it nowhere fixes the place at which a Magistrate's court is held and the reason for this is obvious, for in India a Magistrate, especially a District or Sub-divisors Magistrate, is required to spend some time in each year on tours of impression and their courts consequently cannot be stationary like Courts of Sassion Under such a system there is no reason why a Magistrate should not conduct an inquiry or trial at the place of the occurrence of the particular offence making it temporarily the seat of his Court Any objection that might exist to a local inspection by a Magistrate would then disappear. This complexion of the sign ation has apparently escaped notice. The first reported case on the duties of a judicial officer who himself makes a view of some place connected with a matter before him seems to be a civil suit in which it was said that it is very de fact that judicial officers conducting local investigations should place upon record the results of their investigations as soon as they are completed so that the parties may have an opportunity of seeing what the facts are which the judgest officers consider to be established by the local investigations and because it's ed not been done the order under appeal was set aside. But the position indicate officers of the position of the judicial officers, Civil and Criminal, and the law regulating their proceeds, ure so different that the same rule is not applicable to then both It should be noted that a Judge cannot, under S 539 B, make a local inspection unless the jury or assessors are allowed a view under S 293. The Legislature in enached S 539 B has to a large extent given effect to the views of the Courts in the matter.

Sessions trials.

Trials must not be too lightly postponed by Sessions Judges It should be borne in mind that a further detention of an accused person in jad for perby two months is in itself no trival infliction, and is only justified when their represently a good case arguinst the prisoner, and when the Judge is satisfied for the ends of justice it is necessary to postpone the trial.

for the ends of justice it is necessary to postpone the trial.

A Sessions Judge is not authorised to postpone to a subsequent date crue

A which he has received notice before the commencement of the session per ensuing, on the ground that the number of days that he has fixed for that part cru

<sup>1</sup> Jos Cooma te Bundhoo Lal. I I R 7 Cal 363

se si ns have been fined up The number 1 days devoted to sessions duties mu t depend tis n n t i in duc time. All commitments of which timely filtre ii t t c ti c mincreciment I a session should be tried at that it t course be e is senie good reason for postponement in particul ( t) (t ruls)

Wh n a train a sees in re-another, there should be a Viitteii rd d i 1 11 t tier may conveniently be made to the S 5 u l is pliature on the warrant of comn tment unu i ter is be ught to, the words- Remanded until VI 1 MI III C

Where i dj urnm iit so as to obtain the evidence d two with w a prived t be too ill to travel and the other who was not ser a a I the Sessions Judge refused the application, on the grad 1 e e ce of these witnesses would in no case earry much neight a disja k to the same facts as other ' witnesses of just as much in and that discredited, and that consequently the . . applicati i ie ses id defeat justice it was held on appeal that they were I will a evidence, if believed, the whole case against the accused must a 11 that it was not open to the Sessions Judge to decide on the credit to be it iched to their evidence before he had had an epportunity of he ring it. The Sessions Judge was accordingly directed under S 428 to take that evidence and to certify the same to the Appellate Court 1

If a tri l be all rn d the jurous or assessors shall attend at the adjourned sitting and at every subsequent sitting until the conclusion of the trial -S 295 So, when itr l . ly I on tit I the absence of a witness, the Sessions Judge is n t competent to discharge the jury and to direct a fresh trial at the next Sess us by n it r july But another Sessions Judge cannot resume it on the evidence already taken. The Court must be the Court as constituted before the adjournment. The consent of the parties will not prevent the necessity for a fresh trul's For the same reason, when the Sessions Judge vacated office bef re delivering judgment, his successor cannot deliver judgment But see S 559

On such terms as it thinks fit

So, an order of adjournment or postponement may be made conditional on the payment of a special sum of money as compensation for the expenses by the eppos te parts 6

And where a person who was not the complainant, but was represented in the case by pleader joined the police in an application for adjournment he could be directed to pay the costs of the adjournment *

But costs should only be ordered to be paid to the opposite side where the circumstances are exceptional and where for some reason the ordinary method of conducting criminal cases must be departed from So where a party had applied for the transfer of a case, and then aslied for an adjournment, the circumstances were normal and he should not be required to pay costs?

O I'm a Virsent I I R to Mal 3rd

* Putassamu Bom H Ct Nos no too

&#x27;h [m: 1 51] re- 1 [ ] '' 100m 50 0 ( R chound Dra-sq W P C re-4 Sea Press I P d I ro (Cat W \ 18 Wall ura Pr sad [ L R , ... $ M], -0-, * Sannas (Rudum) to [ L P | 10 Mai 1130 'I a re Abdul Pabliman [ ] R 42 Bom -54

formed by a Magistrate from a local inspection are not applicable to the result of a similar inspection by the Jury cr Assessors in a Sessions trial (S 293) and the Magistrate in a trial held by him would in the determination of such matters of fact represent a jury or assessors in a Sessions trial. A judicial officer is expected to apply his other senses than those durined from hearing oral evidence He may be called upon to form conclusions from the manner in which a wines may give his evidence or to exercise his sense of scent in regard to some article before him and his opinion on such matters would not be open to contradiction Moreover, if an appellate court should think that such an oppor tunity should be given it is competent under $ 425 to take additional evidence The reported cases of the Calcutta High Court seemed to require that Magistrate should place upon record for the information of the parties concerned the result of his local inspection, so that they might have an oppor tunity of contrad cting it and the legislature has now provided for But it might be argued that such contradiction would rarely have an effect on the mind of the Magistrate and it would only lead to what would mean his reply to any criticism of his conclusions It would put hm in a false position it it were possible to require him to receive further et dence on the subject and there seems to be no reason why he should in this respect by placed on a lower footing than the Jury or Assessors in a Sessions tral It s also worthy of notice that although the Code (5 9) enables a Local Government to declare as to what place or places a Court of Session shall hold its sting it nowhere fixes the place at which a Magistrate's court is held and the reach for this is abvious, for in Ind a a Magistrate, especially a District or Sub-dy, on Magistrate, is required to spend some time in each year on tours of inspection and their courts consequently cannot be stationary like Courts of Session Under such a system there is no reason why a Magistrate should not conduct inquiry or trial at the place of the occurrence of the particular offence mixing it temporarily the seat of his Court. Any objection that might exist to a local inspection by a Magistrate would then disappear. This completion of the nu ation has apparently escaped notice. The first reported case on the dit es of judicial officer who himself makes a view of some place connected with a matter before him seems to be a civil suit in which it was said that it is very de into that judicial officers conducting local investigations should place upon read the results of their investigations as soon as they are completed so that the parties may have an opportunity of seeing what the facts are which the judical officers consider to be established by the local investigations and because this bill not been done the order under appeal was set aside But the post of judicial officers, Civil and Criminal and the law regulating the r proceeds, are so different that the same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that a fuller same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that a fuller same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that a fuller same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that a fuller same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that a fuller same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that the same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that the same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that the same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that the same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that the same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that the same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that the same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that the same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that the same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that the same rule is not applicable to them both It should be noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable to the noted that the same rule is not applicable the noted that the same rule is not applicable the noted that t noted that a Judge cannot, under S 539 B make a local inspect of under the Judge cannot, under S 539 B make a local inspect of under the Judge cannot, under S 539 B make a local inspect of under the canton of the Logislature in canton S 539 B has to a local counts in the S 539 B has to a local counts in th S 539 B has to a large extent given effect to the views of the Courts in the matter

Sessions trials

Trivis must not be too lightly postponed by Sessions Judges It houd be borne in mind that a further detention of an accused person in just for perhaps two months is in itself no trivil infliction, and is only justified when there apparently a good case against the prisoner and when the Judge is satisfied to for the ends of justice it is necessary to postpone the trivil

A Sessions Judge is not authorised to postpone the trial a subsequent date rise of which he has recrued notice before the commencement of the second reensuing on the ground that the number of drys that he has fixed for this particular.

sessions have been filled up. The number of days devoted to sessions duties must depend upon the communities of which timely receible to the first the commencement is a session should be tried at that session, in so I course there is some good reason for postponement in particular ins neces (Car H Ct rules)

When I case is a mine of it mill it session to mother, there should be a vinten order of or a different file for may conveniently be made by the Sessins Jude 1 and its significance on the warrant of commitment under which the process is to ught up, the words- Remanded until (Mad H ( russ)

Where the accused half and unmount so as to obtain the evidence of two witnesses, who was proved to be to all to travel and the other who was not served a more many and the Sessions Judge refused the application, on the greand that the excess 1 these witnesses would in no case earry much weight and it I would speak to the same facts as other "witnesses of just as much in [ 1 x w iii I have discredited, and that consequently the application was in ie as and defeat justice," if was held on appeal that they were the name of the whole case against the accused must rat, and that it was not open to the Sessions Judge to decide on the credit to be intached to their exidence before he had had an epportunity of heiring it. Inc Sessions Judge was accordingly directed under S 428 to take that evidence and to certify the same to the Appellate Court !

If a trial be adj urn d the jurois or assessors shall attend at the adjourned sitting, and at every subs quent sitting until the conclusion of the trial -S, 295. So, when a trial is later I on account of the absence of a witness, the Sessions Judge is not a mpetent to discharge the jury and to direct a fresh trial al the next Sessions by in their pury? But another Sessions Judge cannot resume it on the evidence already fallon. The Court must be the Court as constituted before the adjournment. The consent of the parties will not prevent the necessity for a frish trial a For the same reason, when the Sessions Judge vacated office bef re delivering judgment, his successor cannot deliver judgment But see S 559

On such terms as it thinks fit

So, an order of adjenishment or postponement may be made conditional on the payment of a special sum of money as compensation for the expenses by the epposite party

And where a prison who was not the complainant, but was represented in the case by plender grand the police in an application for adjournment he could be directed to pay the costs of the adjournment *

But costs should only be ordered to be paid to the opposite side where the circumstances are exceptional, and where for some reason the ordinary method of conducting criminal cases must be departed from So where a party had applied for the transfer of a case, and then asked for an adjournment, the circumstances were normal and he should not be required to pay costs !

<sup>1</sup> O Finp Virtuers I I R to Vad 3.75

Thirmsum, Pom H Ct Van 20 1000

Virtue Virtue Van 1 T R Pom 5.1

O : R thought De 2.3 W V Ct 20

Sea Tree I Red for red W V 12

Supress Rudomi in I L P 10 Vad, 1110

Supress Rudomi in I L P 1, 42 Bom . 254

I ne voldet Rehman I I P 1, 42 Bom . 254

Offence

Persons by whom offence may be compounded

S. 350 specially provides for the ccurse to be taken in an inquiry or tral in which the Magistrate ceases to exercise jurisdiction after having recorded the whole or part of the evidence

345. (1) The offences punishable under the sections of the Compounding offen. Indian Penal Code specified in the first two columns of the table next following may be compounded by the persons mentioned in the third column of that table:—

Sections of the Indian Penal Code

applicable

Littering words, etc., with deliber ate intent to wound the religious	298	The person whose religious feel ings are intended to be wounded feelings of any person Causing hurt	323 334	The person to whom the hurt is
Wrongfully restraining or confining any person	341, 312	The person restrained or connec
As ault or use of criminal force	352 355 358	The person assaulted or to whom cruminal force is used
Unlawful compulsory labour lischef, when the only loss or damage caused is loss or damage to a private person	374 426, 427	The person compelled to labour The person to whom the loss or damage is caused
Criminal trespass Criminal breach of contract of service	447 448 490, 491, 492	The person in possession of the property trespassed upon The person with whom the offender has contracted
Adulter, Enticing or taking away or detaining with a criminal intent a married woman	497 498	The husband of the woman
Printing or engrasing matter knowing it to be defamatory	200	The person defamed.
2	, 3 <sup>02</sup>
of the peace	501	The person insulted
Criminal intimidation, except when the offence is punishable with im	206	The person intimidated
prisonment for seven years Act caused by making a person believe that he will be an object of divine displeasure	80 <sub>c</sub>	The person against whom the offence was committed following may, with the permission of the Court before which any prosecution for such offence is pending, be compounded by the persons mentioned in the third column of that table:—

Offence •	Sections of the Indian Penal Code applicable	Persons by whom offence may be compounded
Voluntarily causing hurt by danger ons weapons or means	124	The person to whom hurt is caused
Voluntarily causing grievous hurt	3-5	Ditto
Application of the second	175	Ditto
	33*	Pitto
•
	138	Ditto
sonal safety of others	ļ
Wrongfully confining a person for three days or more	343	The person confined secret confining a person in	346	Ditto
Assault or criminal force in attempt	357	The person assaulted or to whom ing wrongfully to confine a person Dishonest musappropriation of pro-	403	the force was used The owner of the property mis
perty Creating	, , ,	appropriated
Cheating a person whose interest	417	The person cheated
	418	Ditto
	1
CHESTING IV DIFFORSTION	419	Ditto
delivery of property or the making	420	Ditto Valuable security
dischief by injury to work of senga	430	The person to whom the loss or wild by wronginily diverting water		damage is caused when the only loss or damage caused is loss or damage to a louse-trespass to commit an off	450	The person in management of it
	13'	The person in possession of the house trespassed upon with imprisonment Jsing a false trade or property mark a raise trade or property mark	48z	The person to whom loss or ounterfeiting a trade or property	483	injury is caused by such use
mark used by another	407	The person whose trade or pro- perty mark is counterfeited
nowingly selling or exposing or	486	Ditto possessing for sale or for trade or manufacturing purpose goods	l marked with a counterfeit trade or property mark
larrying again during the lifetime	404	The husband or wife of the person of a husband or wife	509	so marrying
1	309	The woman whom it is intended to insult or whose privacy is intruded upon name at	i privacy of a woman

512 CHAP XXIV CODE OF ORIMINAL PROCEDURE. SEC 345 (3) When any offence is compoundable under this section, the abetment of such offence or an attempt to commit such offence (when such attempt is itself an offence) may be compounded in like manner

(4) When the person who would otherwise be competent to compound an offence under this section is under the age of eighteen years or is an idiot or a lunatie, any person competent to contract on his behalf may with the permission of the Court

compound such offence (5) When the accused has been committed for trial or when he has been convicted and an appeal is pending, no composition for the offence shall be allowed without the leave of the Court to which he is committed, or, as the ease may be, before which the appeal is to be heard (5A) A High Court acting in the exercise of its powers of revision under section 439 may allow any person to compound any offence which he is competent to compound under this section (6) The composition of an offence under this section shall have the effect of an acquittal of the accused with whom the offence has been compounded

(7) No offence shall be compounded except as provided by this section.

Of the offences specified in S 345 (1), those under Ss 334 341, 352, 358 447, 490, 491 and 492, Penal Code, are summans cases

The others are 426, 447, 490, 491 and 492, Penal Code, are summons cases warrant cases Of the offences specified, all, except those under Ss 497, 501 and 502, Penal Code, are triable exclusively by a Magistrate

An offence under S 508 Penal Code, has been added to the list in subsection (1) by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 90 The compounding of an offence means that the person against whom such offence has been committed has received some gratification not necessarily of a pecuniary character, to act as an inducement for his desiring to abstant from prosecution S 345 legalises what otherwise would be an offence under S 215 or 214, Penal Code, as the exception to the latter section specially exempts their operation any case in which the offence may be lawfully compounded. compounding of an offence is different from the withdrawal of a complaint to a Magistrate, which is permissible only in a summons case and by application to the Magistrate holding the trial who is required to satisfy himself that there are sufficient grounds for permitting the complainant to withdraw it (5, 48) It would be a sufficient ground if the offence were compoundable and the field that it had been compounded was stated in the application to withdraw the complaint When a warrant case has been instituted on complaint and the conplainant is absent on the day fixed for the hearing the Magistrate may, in the discretion, discharge the accused, if the charge has not been framed and the offence is compoundable -S 259, or if it is not cognizable (ibid)

Where the complainant notwithstanding a written statement to the Dutrid Superintendent of Police holding an investigation that "I will not carry on the case" on certain specified conditions, proceeded to prosecute it before the Manistrate and it did not appear how this agreement was arrived at, or that its terms were explained or made known to him, it was found that there was no valid act of compounding so as to invalidate the trial subsequently held! It is for the accused to prove that the offence was compounded and that therefore, the trial ought not to have proceeded. Compounding is more than a mere promise to withdraw a prosecution It supposes an agreement by which the parties have settled their differences and in the more usual acceptance of the term implies that the presecutor has received some consideration or gratification for dropping the presecution. Uthough the provisions of the Contract Act may not apply, the proof of any agreement must be similar to that which the Court requires for the proof of the agreement which is in issue. Unless it appears that the parties were free from influence of every kind and were fully aware of their respective rights, it would be impossible to give effect to a so called arrangement or com position 2 Compare S. 161 214 Penal Cede

The composition of an offence within the terms of S 345 has the effect of an acquittal of the coused and when the Court has been informed of such composition and is satisfied that the person so entitled has comp unded the offence it is bound to requit \ Magistrate has no discretion in the matter, and if he nevertheless proceeds with the trial it is illegal 4. The Magistrate should pass orders at once on such an application presented by a person com petent to compound an offence which is compoundable without his permission If such an offence is then under trial he should not postpone his order to can sider whether he should not add a charge of an offence not compoundable. Where the Magistrate has satisfied himself that the complainant who was competent to compound the offence and had presented an application to do so understood what she had consented to but he did not then and there as he should have done negut the accused, he could not afterwards consider an application to withdraw this application because the complainant had changed her mnd +

Where the offence charged mischief causing damage to corps the private property of a village mahar was compoundable, the Magistrate could not refuse to act upon a petition by the complainant internating that he had commounded it The fact that the complament was a village maker would not make his personal property, the property of the public or even of the mahar community generally?

If the offence be not compoundable, the Magistrate is not competent to allow it to be compounded and to discharge the accused. He was accordingly directed to proceed with the inquiry a

It is the offence which may be compounded not the case as against particular persons proceeded against. So where the offence has been compounded with one of the accused against whom process was issued the Magistrate is not compretent to issue process and proceed against the other accused a

Sub section (2)

The list of offences compoundable with the permission of the Court has been considerably expanded by Act No VIII of 1923 S 90 of the offences specified those under Se 133 418 410 420 430 and 494 Penal Code are triable by a

&#x27;Murray o O Emp I I R 21 Cal 201 per Prinsep J 'Murray o O Emp I I R 21 Cal 201 per Trevelyan j 'Ram Gopal All W '1886 p 16-'Corrie All Wh 1885 p 16-'Corrie All Wh 1881 p 25' 'Mahomed Isman' j Faryadd 1 C W 54°

* Kusum Rews t Bechn Bews 3 Cri W

* Kusum Rews t Bechn Bews 3 Cri W

* In re Motram I I R 22 Bom «So

* Asmal Hossen Bom II Ct Sept 8 190**

* Chandra Kumas Form

Chandra Kumar r Tmp 6 Cal W N 1-6

Court of Session as well as by a Magistrate, the others are only triable by Magis trate, (See Sch 11, col 8)

An offence under S 211, Penal Code (false charge of an offence to injure) cannot be compounded It is an offence against public justice regarding which no complaint can be made without sunction under S 195 of the Court in which the offence has been committed. The fact that the offence falsely charged has been compounded is no conclusive answer to the charge under S 211 1

No compensation can be awarded in regard to the complaint of an offence which has been compounded as the accused has not been discharged or acquitted by an order of a Magistrate a

Sub section (4)

By Act No XVIII of 1923 S 90, the words "under the age of eighteen years have been substituted for a mino; and the permission of the Court is now necessary before an offence can be compounded under this sub-section This is desirable for the interests of a person competent to contract on behalf of a minor, idiot or lunatic, might often be immical to those of the latter

Sub section (5)

An offence which is compoundable may with the leave of the Court in which it is pending for trial or on appeal, be compounded, but not otherwise

Sub section (5A)

This is new, and settles a matter which has been the subject of conficting rulings in the High Courts For the most part the Courts held that they had in revision proceedings, no power to allow an offence to be compounded. The Allahabad High Court (though not consistently) took the opposite view Rulage on the subject were discussed in a Calcutta case a

Sub section (6)

Here too a doubt has been removed. It had been held that as it was the offence which was compounded the Magistrate was not competent after com position with one of the accused to issue process and proceed against the other accused and that compounding with one involved the acquittal of all s had more recent cases took the opposite view. The later view is the one which the Legislature has now given effect to

General

It is now not only in a compoundable case that the absence of the complain ant may involve the discharge of the accused the same result may follow if the offence is not cognizable (S 250)

The compounding of offences mentioned in S 345 (1) is lawful even if it takes place before a complaint is filed and once a composition is arrived at it has the effect of an acquittal so as to bur the trial of the offence?

A composition arrived at is complete as soon as it is made and has the effect of an acquittal though one of the parties later on resiles from the com promise and no statement or petit on recording the compromise is filed in

O Emp v Atar Alı I L R 11 Cal 79

Ravji Ramji Bom H Ct July 26 1894
Akshoy Singh I L R 43 Cil 1143
Chandra Kumar v Emp 6 Cal W N 176

* Chandra Kamar Das Trans Cal W No 76

* Chandra Kamar Das Trans Cal W No 76

* Chn v Alibhai Abdul I L R 45 Bom 346

* Mithua Naick v Fmp 1 L R 45 Bom 346

* Line v Alibhai Abdul I L R 45 All 483

* Ram Kishen v Crown 1 L R 14h 169

* Lah 169

Kumaraswami Chetty, I L R, 41 Mad, 685

Szo 346. Court 1 An offence may be compounded at any time before sentence is passed, and a Magistrate cannot refuse to accept a compromise presented to him while he is writing his judgment 1 It is only the persons mentioned in the last column of the tables in the section who can compound a where the accused had assaulted a man with the result that he died it was not competent to the deceased's widow to compound the offence with the accused though the offence charged was one under S 325,

Penal Code 3 346 (1) If, in the course of an inquiry or a trial before a Procedure of Pro Magistrate in cases which he cannot dispose of CEAP XXIV.

Magistrate in any district outside the presidencytowns, the evidence appears to him to warrant a presumption that the case is one which should be tried or committed for trial by some other

Magistrate in such district, he shall stay proceedings and submit the case, with a brief report explaining its nature, to any Magistrate to whom he is subordinate, or to such other Magistrate, having jurisdiction, as the District Magistrate directs

(2) The Magistrate to whom the case is submitted may, if so empowered, either try the case himself, or refer it to any Magistrate subordinate to hun having jurisdiction, or commit the accused for trial

This might arise in the court of a Magistrate of the second or third class where the accused was in Luropean British subject claiming to be tried as such, and the offence charged was punishable otherwise than with fine not exceeding fifty rupees (S 29A), or where the Magistrate himself was not empowered to commit (S 206) of S 347 (2)

The proceedings should be stayed, and the case submitted with a brief report explaining its nature to a Magistrate competent to deal with it-Compare S 445 So also, when the offence committed is apparently one which is not triable by the particular Magistrate (Sch 11, Col 8), or one in which it appears he is in some way personally interested (S 556), or which he is declared to be otherwise incompetent to deal with-Ss 337, 482, 487 But if the offence under inquiry is one regarding which the Magistrate is competent to commit to the Court of Session, he cannot after taking the evidence, stay proceedings, and submit the case to a superior Magistrate exercising special powers under S It is his duty to commit to the Court of Session or to discharge the accused under S 200 He may have no jurisdiction to hold the trial, but he is em powered to deal with the case as in an inquiry 5 346 does not apply to such a case 4

The Magistrate to whom a case has been submitted under S 346, or to whom it has been referred is bound to pass an independent judgment upon the facts as they appear to him from the evidence taken. He must not take the facts as found by another Court 5 A Magistrate cannot assume jurisdiction over a case by ignoring certain facts charged and proved which constitute an offence beyond his jurisdiction. Thus,

&lt;sup>1</sup> Mahomed Kanni Rowther I L R 39 Mad 946
<sup>2</sup> Aslani Meah I L R 45 Cal 817
<sup>3</sup> Emp v Rahmat I L R 37 All 419
<sup>4</sup> Amir Khan v K Emp 7 Cal W N 45<sup>4</sup> Mad H C Pro May 20 1869 Weir 968

he cannot try a case as of theft when that theft is accompanied with an act consti tuting an offence which is beyond his jurisdiction 1 But if he has so acted, he has not acted without jurisdiction, though he may not have acted with proper discretion and this depends upon the punishment awarded and whether it is adequate 3

Commit the accused for trial

The superior Magistrate to whom a case is so submitted can commit the accused for trial on the proceedings held by the subordinate Magistrate's But he cannot return the case to the subordinate Magistrate 4 when.

(1) If in any inquiry before a Magistrate, or in any trial before a Magistrate before signing judg ment, it appears to him at any stage of the after commencement of inquiry or trial Magistrate finds case proceedings that the case is one which ought to be tried by the Court of Session or High should be committed Court, and if he is empowered to commit for trial, he shall commit the accused under the provisions hereinbefore contained

(2) If such Magistrate is not empowered to commit for trial, he shall proceed under section 346

S 209 enables a Magistrate to proceed as on a trial when, on an inquir an offence is prima facie established, which does not require that the case should be committed for trial by a Court of Session or High Court The words 'stop further proceedings,' the exact significance of which was not apparent, have been omitted by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 91

At any stage of the proceedings

(t) In any inquiry

S 210 provides that when, upon such evidence being taken, that is all such evidence as may be produced in support of the prosecution or on behalf of the accused, or as may be called for by the Magistrate, and the examination of the accused (if any be made) the Magistrate is satisfied that there are sufficient grounds for committing the accused for trial, he shall frame a charge, and shall make an order comm ring the accused for trial by the High Court of Court of Session—(S 213) S 347, how-ver, enables a Magistrate duly empowered under S 206 to commit, if it appears at any stage of the proceedings that the case if one which ought to be tried by the Court of Session or High Court, and it has been held, that a Mag strate can thus commit without hearing the whole of the It has, however, been held to the contrary, that a Magistrate is not competent to commit until and after he liad taken all such evidence as the secused produced before him for hearing That case was distinguished, because S 347 had not been taken into consideration. Whatever may be the view taken of S 347, a Magistrate would meur a very grave responsibility if he commited without a complete and thorough inquiry, and without hearing not only the evidence for the prosecution, but all that the accused might desire to 519 and

&lt;sup>1</sup> Vid H Ct Pro Jan 5 1866 Weir 965 Heid Pro Oct 26 1885 Weir <sup>667</sup>,
<sup>2</sup> Q Emp v Gundya I L R 13 Bom 502 K Emp v Ayyan I L R 24 Vid.

<sup>675.</sup> Kamuni Bourini 12 Cal W N 136

Rui ottur Hampanna I L R 44 Mad 846

All acthory Frami Petit Bom H Ct Aug 30 1898

Jeel pp Ahmadi I L R 20 All 264

teduce on his own behalf to rebut that evidence. An examination of the course of legislation shows that it was not until the Code of 1882 that such powers were conferred on a M gistrate in regard to an inquiry. The corresponding sections of the Codes of 1861 and 182 canabled a Mag strate at any stage of the proceedings of a trial to stop further proceedings as for a trial and to proceed as conducting an inquiry in a cest triable by the Court of Session. See S. 256 of the Code of 1863 and S. 221 of the Code of 1872.

(2) In any triat

The objections just stated would apply equally if proceedings in a trial were suddenly closed and the accused were committed for trial by a Court of Session or High Court

Before signing judgment

I hat is to say, before the completion of the trial by the conviction or acquit tail of the accused person, which, under S 403 would be a bor to further proceedings. The judgment in every trial shall be pronounced, or the substance of such judgment shall be explained in open Court, in the presence of the parties, unless their personal attendance has been dispensed with and the sentence is one of fine only, in which case it may be pronounced in the presence of the pleader of the accused—S 466 it shall be dated and signed by the presiding officer in open Court in the time of pronouncing in—S 367.

Save as provided in S 369 no Court, when it has signed its judgment, shall after or review the same except to correct a clerical error

Compare S 227, which enables any Court, that 15, a Magistrate, to alter or odd to any charge at any time before judgment is pronounced. The stage of the thal is however sufficiently indicated, and the time expressions will probably be regarded as synonymous

If the subordinate Magistrate be empowered to make commument to the Court of Session, and the offence be triable by the Magistrate of the district, or the Court of Session, he should refer the case to the Magistrate of the district, or ruher than hold a prehiminary inquiry and commit it to the Court of Session, since this latter procedure though strictly legal, should as much as possible, be avoided as it tends unnecessarily to occupy the more valuable time of the Sessions Jude<sup>1</sup>

In cases trable by a Magistrate or by the Court of Sussion, the accused person should be committed for trial only when the Magistrate finds, from aggravating circumstances, that a lagher punishment is required than he can award.

Where death appears to have resulted from injuries inflicted by the party ictived a Magisterite ought to be very careful and not to take it on himself to besolve the recused of the graver charge of culpable homizede or murder, and connect only of hurt or greeous hurt unless it is quite clear that there is no sufficient evidence to warrant a commutment to the Sessions Court on such charge.

So also where the evidence showed that an offence beyond the jurisdiction of the Migistrue hind been committed the Calcutti High Court set uside the explication of the management of the evidence and so to withdraw cases from the cognizance of the proper thound. The Bembu and Vidras High Courts would not interfere in review a although from the existence of circumstances of aggravation the Migistrue Audit in the committed as the hind jurisdict with hold the

<sup>1 2</sup> W IV 19 Cr Let No 200

2 Cal II Ct Gr o 5 cpt 6 1560 Rulet &c. 21 Gopinath Shaha 1 Cal L. R. 1411
see also Fmp r Paramananda I L. R. 10 Cal $5

2 Cr Ramiohal Sing 5 W R Cr &c.

2 Cr Ramiohal Sing 5 W R Cr &c.

trial, the sentence was adequate and the prisoner had not been prejudiced. It is not a question of jurisdiction, because the Magistrate acted within his jurisdiction but whether he had exercised a proper discretion 1

A Magistrate should exercise his own discretion in deciding whether, in a case triable by himself as well as by the Court of Session, he should commit, or whether justice will not be fully satisfied by the sentence which he is competent to pass. The amount of property stolen is a very proper point for consideration in determining the question, and due weight should be given to every other cir-cunistance of aggravation *

518

Where several persons are charged with offences of various degrees, arising out of one act or transaction, all implicated therein, against whom sufficient evidence is forthcoming, should be committed to the Court of Session if an offence beyond the cognizance of a Magistrate, or one which, in the opinion of the Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case, ought to be tried by the Court of Session, be chargeable against any of the accused

S 239 however declares that such persons may be charged and tried together or separately as the Court thinks fit, thus leaving it to the discretion of the Court concerned

348 (1) Whoever, having been convicted of an offence punishable under Chapter XII or Chapter XVII persons

previously convicted of offences against coinage, stamp law or property of the Indian Penal Code with imprisonment for a term of three years or upwards, is again accused of any offence punishable under either of those Chapters with imprisonment for a term of three years or upwards, shall, if the Magistrate before whom the case is pending is satisfied that there are sufficient grounds for committing the accused, be committed to the Court of Session or High Court, as the case may be, unless the Magistrate is competent to try the case and is of opinion that he can himself pass an adequate sentence if the accused is convicted Provided that, if any Magistrate in the district has been in vested with powers under section 30, the case may be transferred to him instead of being committed to the Court of Session

(2) When any person is committed to the Court of Session, or High Court under sub-section (1), any other person accused jointly with him in the same inquiry or trial shall be similarly committed, unless the Magistrate discharges such other person under section 209.

The redrafting of this section by Act No XVIII of 1923 5 92, has made no change in the law But sub section (2) is important in that it definitely lars down that all of the accused in the case, who are not discharged must be committed The Magistrate cannot convict some and commit others

The last portion of S 348 (1) gives a discretion to a Magistrate himself to sentence an old offender, if he is of opinion that he can pass an adequate

nigmp v Gundya I L R . 13 Bom . 502 h Emp v Aygan 1 L R 24 Msd . 4 Ct Pro , July 23 1866 Weir 700

sentence The terms of S 348 of the Code of 1882 apparently gave a Magistrate no option but to commit to a superior Court

Chapter All of the Indian Penal Code deals with offences relating to Coins and Government Stamps, and Chapter XVII with offences against property It should be noted that the offender need not have been pursued with impresonment for three years and aparads but the offence for which he was convicted must have been so pursushable

S 75 Penal Code, makes a person so convicted liable for each subsequent offence to transportation for life or to impresonment of either description for a ferm which may extend to ten years. Much necessarily depends upon the nature of the previous conviction or convictions as well as of the offence then before the Magnitarite, and also the internal between the date of expiry of the last sen tence and the commission of that offence.

If it is intended to prove a previous conviction for the purpose of affecting the punishment which the Court is competent to award the fact the date and the place of the previous conviction shall be stated in the charge. If such statement be omitted the Court may add it at any time before sentence is passed -S 221 (7) S 255A prescribes the procedure to be followed in such a case in a Magistrate's Court S 310 provides a special procedure for the trial of such charges in the High Court or Court of Session and S 511 (b) provides special means of pioxing a previous conviction. Unless the previous conviction be specified n the charge as required by S 221 it cannot be used for the purpose of enhancing the sentence. The accused will thus be able to deny and disprove the allegation that he has been previously con When there is no evidence of a previous conviction is not competent to endeavour to obtain it by examining the accused can be examined only for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circum stances appearing in evidence against him (S 142) In a case referred under S 348 if the District Magistrate considers that the case should be committed to the Court of Session he should himself commit. He should not return the case to the subord nate Magistrate with a direction to commit $

Where the accused lind been previously convicted under S 494 Penal Code, and was charged before a Sub-Magnerate under S 414 Penal Code at is lilegal for the latter to convict him and then commit to the Court of Session for the purpose of the award of an enhanced punishment.

Proviso

The enables a Subord rate Magneties to transfer a case to a Magneties with a law been invested with special powers under Sign pastend of committing it to the Court of Session. It is however only in cases within Signs, that it is the court of Session. It is however only in cases within Signs, that it is considered by the session of the court of Session in the bear of the session to the offences within the session of the ses

• Pel Sellandi I I P 38 Wad 542 • Amir Khan v K Emp "- Cal W N 45-

<sup>10</sup> r Rajecomar Bose to W R Cr 41
11 sin v K Fmp 1 1 R 4C4 680 Basanta Kumar Glattal v Q Fmp 1

I R Cal 40 CITINDA I L R 9 Mad 3 C Frep. ( Havis Tellapo I L R 10 Rom 106

ciently severe

Procedure Mazistrate

when cannot pass sentence suffi

349 (1) Whenever a Magistrate of the second or third elass, having jurisdiction, is of opinion, after hearing the evidence for the prosecution and the recused, that the recused is guilty, and that he ought to receive a punishment different in kind from, or more severe than that which such Magistrate is em powered to inflict or that he ought to be required to execute a bond under section 106 he may record the opinion and submit his proceedings and forward the accused to the District Magis trate or Subdivisional Magistrate to whom he is subordinate

(1A) When more accused than one are being tried together and the Magistrate considers it necessary to proceed under sub section (1) in regard to any of such accused, he shall forward all the accused who are in his opinion guilty to the District Magistrate

or Sub divisional Magistrate

(2) The Magistrate to whom the proceedings are submitted may, if he thinks fit examine the parties and recall and examine any witness who has already given evidence in the case, and may call for and take any further evidence, and shall pass such judg ment, sentence or order in the ease as he thinks fit, and as is according to law

Provided that he shall not infliet a punishment more severe than he is empowered to inflict under sections 32 and 33

Sub-section (1A) was inserted by Act No XVIII of 1923 S 93 The object of several recent amendments of the Code on these lines is to secure that a single court shall deal with a case as a whole and so to hold divergent or inconsistent decisions See the amendments m de in Ss 124 (3A) 348 (2) 408 (6) and 4154

An exception to the rule is however to be found in S 307

To bring a case with S 339 (b) the trial must have been held by a Magnetistic of the second or third class having jurisdiction (ii) such Magnetistic must be company that the amount of the second or third class having jurisdiction (ii) such Magnetistic must be open that the amount of the second or third class having jurisdiction (iii) such Magnetistic must be open to the second or the second opinion that the accused is guilty, that is be must convict of the offence under trial and (ii) he must also be of opinion that he cannot properly sentence the accused that is that sentence should be passed either more severe than he can pass or be of a punishment different in kind which he cannot award or that in addition to the sentence that might be passed either by him or by some other Magistrate the accused should be bound over under S 106 to keep the pear la such a case after recording h s opinion which should include his find are the charges under tral, the Subordinate Magistrate should submit his proceed no and forward the necused to the District Magistrate or, if he is within a subdivision to the sub-divisional Magistrate to whom he is subordinate. An order from a superior Magistrate directing a subordinate Magistrate to send up 1 cm under S 349 is ultra vives as this is a matter within the discretion of the sibordinate Magistrate. But any Chief Presidency Magistrate Distinct Mag ordinate Magistrate and Magistrate and withdraw any case from or recall any owners to be made one of the control of which he has made over to any subord nate Magistrate and may inquire into try any such case himself or refer it for inquiry or trial to any other such Mag the competent to inquire into or try the same. The reasons for such an interference must however be recorded in writing—($ 528). There would be a difference of proceedings taken in a case submitted under S 349 and in a case withdrawn under S 530 at the former, it is discretional with the superior largistrate to re-open the unit, he can pass judgment and sentence in the proceedings taken before the subordinate Magistrate but in a case withdrawn under S 528, the inquiry or thal before another Magistrate must be held ae novo

A similar procedure is provided by S 602 for a Magistrate of the second or the class, when, after convicting a person of certain ouences, and no previous conviction is proved, the Augistrate for certain reas in specified therein, thinks that instead of being sentence of once, the accused should be released on a bond to appear and receive sentence when called upon and, in the meantime to keep the peace and be of good behaviour, and he cannot busself pass such order.

Punishment different in kind.

Such as whipping, when the subordinate Magistrate is not competent to award such punishment—(S 32) If a subordinate Magistrate finds that the accused, a jouthful offender, should be sent to a Reformatory School, and he is not competent to make such order, he could, after convicting the accused, but without passing sentence, submit his proceedings and forward the youthful offender to the District Magistrate who is empowered to deal with the case—Act VIII of 1897, S 8 and 9 See also Madras Act IV of 1920, S 5, Bengal Act II of 1922, 5 5, and Bombay Act VIII of 1924, 5 6

More severe punishment.

If the subordinate Magistrate be empowered to commit to the Court of Scrion and the offences be triable by the Magistrate of the district or the Court of Session, he should refer the case to the Magistrate of the district rather than hold a preliminary inquiry and commit it to the Court of Session, since this latter procedure, though strictly legal, should, as much as possible, be avoided, as it tends unnecessarily to occupy the more valuable time of the Sessions Judge 1

As the superior Magistrate "may pass such order in the case as he thinks fit and as is in accordance with law," he may commit to the Court of Session; the superior Magistrate has a discretion to deal with the case. The finding of the subordinate. Magistrate is not binding on him, for he can acquit and if the subordinate Magistrate is empowered to commit, though he be only of the second class, the District Magistrate is still competent to commit to the Court of Session on the proceedings before him, or he can return the case, so that the subordinate Magistrate may commit 4 This however is doubtful.

To be required to execute a bond under S. 108

The iccused must have been consisted of one of the offences specified in S 106 before an order under this section requiring him to execute a bond to keep the peace can be passed. But a subordante Angastrate who is not competent to pass an order under S 106 crannot counts, and pass sometime and then refer the case in order that such an order may be passed. S 340 contemplates that the entire proceedings shall be before the superior Angastrate, who is, b subsection (a), required to "pass such judgment or order as he thinks fit and is according to law").

<sup>1 2</sup> W R, 19 Cr Let No 299
1 In re Chinomarigadu, I L R, 1 Vid, 289, (5 c) Weir 970, Empr Abdalls,
I L R, 4 Bom, 210

Abdul Wahab v Chindin, 1 L. R., 13 Cil., 303.

Q Emp r Chandra Goela, 1 L. R., 54 Cal., 335 but see contra Po-nusamy Nadan.

I L R. 36 Mad. 470.
Nahmudi Shekh 1 L R. 22 Cat, 622 Rehmuddi Houladar I L R. 15 Cat, 1993

522

٠,,,

Cr 31

Sub section (2).

The superior Magistrate to whom proceedings have been submitted has a discretion to re-open the trial held by the subordinate Magistrate, or he can on those proceedings pass such judgment, sentence, or order in the case as he thanks fit and as is in accordance with law He is not competent to transfer the case to another Magistrate he must dispose of it himself! He cannot return the proceedings to the referring Magistrate on the ground that in his opinion that Magistrate is competent to pass an adequate or proper sentence," nor can be return the proceedings directing the subordinate Magistrate to commit, if he is himself empowered on that behalf. A commitment so made is, however, valid though the practice is irregular.

But where a Subdivisional Magistrate receiving a case under S 349 transferred it to a first class Magistrate, who committed, the commitment was quashed. The superior Magistrate is himself competent to commit on proceedings to

But on proceedings held by a subordinate Magistrate and submitted to a superior Magistrate under S 349 such Magistrate can convict only of an offence over which the subordinate Magistrate has jurisdiction that is, an offence which he was competent to try So when the subordinate Magistrate held the trial on a churge of an offence under S 460 Penal Code (criminal breach of trust, which was trible by him the District Magistrate was not competent, on the evidence so recorded to come ct under S 460 (criminal breach of trust by a polic servant, &c) as the subordinate Magistrate had no jurisdiction to hold a final of that offence As soon as the District Magistrate came to the conclusion that the graver offence had been committed he should have held that the second class Magistrate had no jurisdiction to hold the trial and he should have proceed accordingly to hold a fresh trial or inquiry for the graver offence I flower the subordinate Magistrate was competent to commit the superior Magistrate than committed to the case before him?

In proceedings taken by a superior Magistrate under S 349 the accused a entitled to be present and to be heard in his defence.

Proviso

It should be noted that although the superior Magistrate to whom precedings have been submitted by a subordinate Magistrate under 5 349 is competent to commit, he cannot inflict a punishment more severe than he can inflict as Magistrate of the first class. The object is to prevent a Magistrate who may be vested with special powers under 5 30 from passing a sentence such as reserved in 5 34 in exercise of such powers. Such a sentence can be passed only in a trial held by such Magistrate event in the rase of an old offender with the terms of 5 348 which my have been referred to such Magistrate.

<sup>1</sup> O v Velayudəm I I D ar a o Mada 177 (5 c) Weir or philir Dayal I L R 26 A

Dayal I L R 26 A Chards
Q Emp V:
Gowals I L R 14 tom 156

LI Vina) ak Aarayan Arte I L R 35 Bom 750 1 259 fs c) Weir 970 Imp r Abdalla 1 L I 1 Bom 196

Cal 305 - Reg v Ragha Naranji 7 Bom H C. R

350 (1) Whenever any Magistrate after having heard and

Conv ct on or com m tment on evidence partly recorded by one Mag strate and partly by another recorded the whole or any part of the evidence in an inquiry or a trial ceases to exercise miris diction therein and is succeeded by another Magistrate who has and who exercises such jurisdiction the Magistrate so succeeding may act on the evidence so recorded by his predecessor or partly re corded by his predecessor and partly recorded by lumself or he may resummon the witnesses and recommence the inquiry or trial

Provided as follows -

- (a) in any tird the accused may when the second Magis trate commences his proceedings demand that the witnesses or any of them he re summoned and re heard
- (b) the High Court or in cases tried by Magistrates subordinate to the District Magistrate the District Magistrate may whether there he an appeal or not set iside any conviction passed on evidence not wholly recorded by the Migistrate before whom the conviction was held if such Court or District Magistrate is of opinion that the accused has been materially prejudiced thereby and may order a new inquiry or trial
- (2) Nothing in this section applies to eases in which proceedings have been stayed under section 346 or in which proceed ings have been submitted to a superior Magistrate under section 349
- (3) When a case is transferred under the provisions of this Code from one Magistrate to another the former shall be deemed to cease to exercise purisdiction therein and to be succeeded by the latter within the meaning of sub section (1)
- Act No VIII of 1923 S 94 has made two add tons in this section. The ords added to sub-section (2) make t clear that nothing in the section applies to ords added to sub-sect of (2) mine it clear that the sub-section (3) is new of case submitted to "super or Vings starte under $5.349. Sub-section (3) is new and settles a doubt as to whether $350 upplied when a case is transferred under the Code from one May strate to amother. The Courts had generally held that the section did apply in such in case (1) but a contrary view had been taken. The effect of a change in the constitution of a Bench of Mag strates is now dealt with separately in $ 3504 S ago refers only to inquiry or trial partly held by a Magistrate who has specified office, and it declares the course to be taken by his successor. It applies to a case in which the High Court has ordered the proceedings to be re-opened from a certain stage, if the Magistrate who held those proceedings has vacated his office.)

Pal woundy Goundan F Emp I I P a Mad at Mobah Chardra Sabar Fmp I L R 35 Cal 457 Emp r Ram Das I I R 40 All 307 Emp r Narbea I I R 40 All 415 "Q Emp r Angun (1880) All W N 140

"Inquiry' includes every inquiry other than a trial conducted under the Code by a Magistrate or Court—S 4 (k) S 350 applies to an inquiry that is any inquiry, and is not limited to an inquiry preliminary to commitment it would apply to inquiries in miscellaneous matters under Part IV, Chapters VIII good behaviour to suppress public murances, &c, to determine disputes regarding simmoneable property likely to cruse a breach of the pence as well as to a preliminary inquiry under S 476 before the making of a complaint.

But for the purpose of S 350 proceedings under S 107 rec. 1 trial and being transferred 4 by reliminary inquiry by a Magistrate into a case trable evolvanely by a Court of Session is not a "trial" before 1 charge is finance within the meaning of S 350(1) (e). But control has been held that for the purposes of S 150 the trial cannot be said to commence only when the charge is framed.

A Magistrate who has heard all the evidence, and then by reason of hand agord that charge on transfer ceases to possess local jurisdiction cannot complete the field by delivery of judgment before his denarture or by forwarding a writer judgment to his successor to be delivered by him $7.50 enables a Magistrate to decide a case on evidence recorded by his predecessor but not to deliver a judgment written by him?

A Magistrate of the first class is subordinate to the District Magistrate (S. 17) and therefore it would seem that under S. 150 a District Magistrate can set as a consistent of the circumstances see find although the appeal would not be to him but to the Sessions Court. This he been not ced in considering the relative position of these two officers in matters of revision.

An application by an accused person to have the witnesses resummoned and the heard may be made at any time before the proceedings before the search and the case is called on An application to have certain witnesses summoned before such proceedings have commenced in not the commencement with a the terms of proviso (a) so as to present an application afterwards made to have the

The fact that a Magistrate who has commenced a triel has been reappointed under another designation in the same district does not disqualify him form holding the further proceedings to complete it. He brings the same and to to the case though his local jurisdiction may be changed 18. But if he has ceised to

47

Gomer Sirda w Q Fmp I I R 25 Cal 861 (5 c) 2 Cal W N 465
Buroda Kant Roy w Korimuddi 4 Cal L R 457 Gura Charan Sen w hal nath
23 W R Cr 67 O Emp w Hurnath Chubo 24 W R Cr 52
Anu Sheikh I L R 37 Cal 812

Elachuri Venkatachinnayya i K Emp I L R 43 Mid 511

following Empress v Anand Sarof

anal ha I L R 8 Mad 1 12 Cul 473 [Full Brace] 12 Cul W N 465 exercise jurisdiction by vacating office to another Magistrate, he is not competent to itsime a trial commenced by aim while holding that office 1

Proviso (b)

All Magistrates in a district tie subordinate i the District Magistrate (S. 17) Consequently a District Magistrate can act under proviso (b)

A District Magistrate can thus set as do i c nyiction by a Magistrate of the fields though an appeal in such a case would be only to the Court of Sessions

Provisos (a) and (b) refer nly to a trial and not to an inquiry

350A No order of judgment of a Bench of Magistrates shall be invalid by reason only of a change hiving occurred in the constitution of the Bench by which such order or judgment is passed is duly constituted under sections 15 and 16 and the Magistrates constituting the same have been present on the Bench throughout the proceedings

This section has been inserted by Act No VIII of 1923 S 95. It gives effect to the vew of the law on this subject almost universally taken by the Courts. See note to S 16

- 951 (1) Any person attending a Criminal Court, although medical court attending of off into under arrest or upon a summons, may be enders attending detained by such Court for the purpose of unquiry into or trial of any offence of which such Court can take engineering and which, from the evidence, may appear to have been committed, and may be proceeded against is though be limb been curested or summoned
- (2) When the detention takes place in the course of an inquiry under Chapter VIII, or after a trial has been begun, the proceedings in respect of such person shall be commenced afresh and the witnesses re heard

In the same way S 91 declares that when any person for whose appearance it arrest the officer presiding in any Court is empowered to issue a summons or warrant is present in such Court such officer may require such person to execute 1 bond with or without surfaces for his appearance in such Court

352 The place in which any Criminal Court is held for the purpose of inquiring into or trying any offence shall be deemed an open Court, to which the purpose of inquiring into or trying any offence which the purpose of inquiring into or trying any offence shall be deemed an open Court, to which the next property of the place in which any Criminal Court is held for the purpose of inquiring into or trying any offence which is the place in which any Criminal Court is held for the purpose of inquiring into or trying any offence which is the purpose of inquiring into or trying any

Provided that the presiding Judge or Magistrate may, if he thinks fit, order at any stage of any inquiry into or trial of any particular case, that the public generally, or any particular person shall not have access to or be or remain in, the room or building used by the Court

<sup>1</sup> Emp + Anand Sarup 1 L. R 3 All. 363

The transaction of public business at the private residence of a Magistrale has been forbidden (Cal. H. Ct. rules)

CHAPTER XXV

OF THE MODE OF TAKING AND RECORDING EXIDENCE IN INQUIRIES

In certain districts of Upper Burma the Local Government may by rules prescribe the record to be made in cases tried by village officers exercising Magnetical powers of the third class and the manner of disposal of such record (See Reg 1 of 1925 Sch el VI)

By taken in presence of the accused, or, when his personal attend

nnce is dispensed with, in presence of his pleader

The Chapters specified relate to inquiries into cases triable by the Court of Session or High Court, to trials of summons and warrant-cases to summy trials, and to trials before High Courts and Courts of Session

Among exceptions to this general rule may be noted evidence taken under commission under Chapter \L the parties being permitted to forward introgatories relevant to the issue through the Magistrate or Court issuing the commission also the examination of witnesses recorded on proof that this such also absorbed, and there is no reasonable prospect of arresting him dead of deposition being evidence on the inquiry or trial if the deponent in dead of incapable of giving evidence or il his vitendance cannot be procured wheel in amount of delay, expense or inconvenience which under the creation of the case would be unreasonable—5 512 To these inst noes miv be added cases under S 512 (2) in which however evidence can be taken in the special order of a High Court An appellate Court may also direct that indicational evidence required by it be taken in the absence of the accessed or be pleader, but ordinarily it should be taken in the absence of the accessed or be pleader, but ordinarily it should be taken in the absence of the accessed or be pleader, but ordinarily it should be taken in the absence of the accessed or be the control of the cases and the control of the cases and the case of the accessed or be pleader, but ordinarily it should be taken in the absence of the accessed or be the control of the case of th

Presence of the accused etc

This is indispensable "except as otherwise expressly provided".

When the evidence of witnesses had in ther exminition inchef bed taken in the absence of the accused and afterwards read over to the accused so that they might cross examine it was held to be inadmissible, and the control on and sentence were set aside 1.

For a similar reason a new trial was ordered because the Sessions folds had read over to the jury the evidence given by witnesses at a former trial of other persons for the same offence, and after the witnesses had admitted the correctness of their depositions, had allowed a cross-examination. The consent of the personer, under trial, or of his pleader, will not cure this irregularity, for such a course cannot give the look or manner of a witness, his hesitation his doubts his variation of language or his precipitatey, his calimness or consideration. It is the dead body of the evidence without its spirit which is supplied when given openly and orall by the ear and eye of those who receive it 1

<sup>3</sup> All Meah v Magistrate, Chittagong 25 W R Cr 14

Where however this had been done at the request of the pleaders of the accused, the High Court refused in revision to interfere on the ground that it was an error of procedure which had not occasioned a failure of justice or projud ced the accused. Where also the evidence obtained by cross examination was sufficient to establish the correctness of the conviction, the H ph Court on revision refused to interfere

But where in two cross-cases the evidence for the prosecution in each case was treated as the evidence of the defence in the other case, and this was done with the consent of all prities and their counsel, there was an illegality in the procedure which could not be covered by S 537 4

Under S 203 whenever a Magistrate issues a summons he may, if he sees reason so to do, dispense with the personal attendance of the accused and permit him to appear by his pleader. But the Magistrate before whom the case comes may at any stage require and enforce the personal attendance of the accused

Under S 5404 which is new, where there are more accused than one, if the Judge or Migistrate is satisfied for reasons to be recorded that any one or more of the accused is or are neupable of remaining before the court he may, if such accused is represented by a pleader, dispense with his attendance and proceed with the inquiry or trail, and if the accused is not represented by pleader or if the Court thinks the personal attendance of the accused is necessary it must either adjourn the case, or order that the case of the absent accused be taken up or tred separately

There is still no definite provision of the Code embling a Sessions Court, where there is a single accused, to dispense with his personal attendance. But it has been suggested that there is an inherent power, recognised by the words when his personal attendance is dispensed with in S 353, to do this For

354 In inquiries and trials (other than summary trials) and interesting outside presidency towns and trials Code by or before a Magistrate of the without presidency towns. Sessions Judge, the evidence of the witnesses shall be recorded in the following manner cases on this point see note to S 205

S 362 provides for the manner in which evidence should be recorded by a Presidency Magistrate

Record in summons eases tried before a Magistrate other thrin a Presidency Magistrate, and in eases of Record in summons cases and in trails be first and second class Magistrates

Record in summons reses of the offences mentioned in sub section (1) of section 260, eluves (b) to (m), hoth inclusive, when tried by a Magistrate of the first or second class, and in all proceedings under

R Cr. 3 Attorney General of \ t W R 1864 Cr p r haure
Or Cr

section 514 (if not in the comes of a trial), the Magistrate shall make a memorandum of the substance of the evidence of each witness as the examination of the witness proceeds

(2) Such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Magistrate with his own hand, and shall form part of the record

(3) If the Magistrate is prevented from making a memoran dum as above required, he shall record the reason of his mability to do so, and shall cause such memoraudum to be made in writing from his dictation in open Court, and shall sign the same, and such memorandum shall form part of the record

 $5\,$  362 declares in what manner evidence should be recorded by a Presidency Magistrate

The cases of the offences mentioned in sub-section (1) of S 260, classs (i) to (m) both inclusive, when tried by a Magistrate of the first or of the second class may be tried summarily by a Magistrate of the first class if he is specify compt wered in this behalf by the Local Government otherwise the evidence shoots be recorded by such Magistrates and also by Magistrates of the second class if the manner provided by S 355 Proceedings under S 514 are for forfeiture of a bond

In inquities regarding security to keep the peace, the evidence should be recorded as in summons cases—5 117 also in cases regarding the maintenant of wives and children—5 483 (6)

Chapter \ (Ss 135-166) of the Indian Evidence Act (1 of 1872) prescribes the manner in which the examination of witnesses should be conducted

Ordinarily, in a case provided for by S 355, the record of the evidence consistency of a memorandum taken by the Magistrate is bound to make a memorandum of the sustance of each witness A Magistrate is bound to make a memorandum of the stance of the evidence of each witness as the evamination of the witness proceed this is not complied with by a mere statement that a writness deposes the same as the last! The practice of preparing the memorandum of evidence from the recorded depositions of the witnesses after their examination is illead. Want of time examine the evidence of the calcutta High Court has ordered that, when it may appear a Magistrate that a witness is giving false evidence, so that criminal proceedings are I kely to be necessary, the Magistrate should take down at length the evidence of the particular witness. A full record of the evidence in the vernacular is of the particular witness. A full record of the evidence, but this precause will serve to obviate any doubt regarding the accuracy of the Magistrate should serve to obviate any doubt regarding the accuracy of the Magistrate should serve to obviate any doubt regarding the accuracy of the Magistrate should serve to obviate any doubt regarding the accuracy of the Magistrate should serve to obviate any doubt regarding the accuracy of the Magistrate should serve to obviate any doubt regarding the accuracy of the Magistrate should be accuracy of the stance of the evidence where the commitment rests wholly or mainly on that not

Forms for recording the depositions of witnesses have been prescribed by burnous High Courts, in which rertain particulars regarding each witness should be recorded for purposes of description and identification

Evidence recorded in accordance with the provisions of Ss 355, 356 or 37.7 and admissible in subsequent trials before Magistrates, when recorded under bird Act No 1V of 1902, S 33, Madras Act V of 1882, S 59, Regulation V of 1898, S 35, and similarly, if taken in the presence of the accused when recorded under Act VIII of 1878, S 71.

Cr. p 18 U Byha Valad Surjim 1 Bom H C R, 91 Q v. Muttee Nushyo W R 1654

- 356 (1) In all other trials before Courts of Session and Magnstantes (other than Presidency Magnstance outside deary towns XII and XVIII, the evidence of each witness shall be taken down in writing in the language of the Court by the Magnstrate or Sessions Judge, or in his presence and heating and under his personal direction and superintendence, and shall be signed by the Magnstante or Sessions Judge
- (2) When the evidence of such witness is given in English, English the Magistrate or Sessions Judge may take it down in that language with his own hand, and, unless the accused is familiar with English, or the language of the Court is English, an authenticated translation of such evidence in the language of the Court shall form part of the record
- (2A) When the evidence of such witness is given in any other language, not being English, that the language of the Court, the Magistrate or Sessions Judge may take it down in that language with his own hrud, or eaties it to be taken down in that language with his own hrud, or eaties it to be taken down in that language in his personal direction and superintendence, and an authentiented translation of such evidence in the language of the Court or in English shall form part of the record
- (3) In case in which the evidence is not taken down in writing by the Magistrate or Sessions Judge, lie shall, as the evanination of each writers down by the Magistrate or Judge himself interest of Judge himself interest of Judge himself interest of Judge himself interest of Judge with bis own hand, and shall form part of the record.
- (4) If the Magistrate or Sessions Judge is prevented from making a memoraidum as above required, he shall record the reason of his mability to make it

Sub-action (rA) is new, irrning been enricted by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 96. It is not mandatory, it on-bles evidence to be taken down in the language in which it is given, thus aiming at givener accuracy.

Thus, except in cases provided for by S 355, or otherwise specially provided for, (Ss 11, 48), the evidence in all truls and inquiries before Magistriate (not Presidency Magistriate) should ordin in be taken down in the language of the Court, unless x is given in Inglian S 357, however, enables the Local Government to authorise any bessions Judge or Magistriate to take down the evidence in the Linglish Impaginge, and this into been very generally ordered. It should be noted that neither S 36 nor S 337 relates to the examination of accused person, for the recording of which special proxime is made by S.

tive-5 359

5 362 provides for the manner in which evidence should be recorded by Presidency Magistrate The term witness includes a complainant who is a witness in the case

Evidence recorded under this section shall ordinarily be in the form of nan A Sessions Judge (and a Magistrate) is bound to make a memorandum of t deposition of each witness as the examination proceeds, this is not complied wi

by a mere statement that a witness deposes the same as the last 1

The practice of preparing the memoranda of evidence, required by $ 356, for the recorded depositions of witnesses, after their examination, is contrary to lin

Want of time cannot be accepted as a valid excuse for not recording a mem randum of the evidence

The examination of complainants and witnesses should contain the name the person examined, and of his or her father (and, if a married numan the name of her husband), the religion, caste, profession and age of the deponent, at the village and pergunnah in which lie or slie resides

Forms have been prescribed by various High Courts for the recording of if dopositions of witnesses in which similar particulars are required

The Code does not require that a deposition shall be signed by a witness Still it is desirable that such signature shall be obtained, though it need not b taken to a deposition not recorded in the language of a witness

The following rules have been issued by the CALCUTA HIGH COLET for the examination and record of the evidence, of witnesses -

(a) Every witness shall be examined viva voce in open Court

- (b) A Magistrate or Judge shall not be engaged in any other business whill the examination of a witness is going on, or whilst any documentar, evidence is being read
- (c) II, after the examination of a witness has commenced, the Magistrali or Judge is compelled to attend to any other business, the examination of the witness shall be suspended as long as such other business it being attended to
- (d) The examination of a witness shall not be interrupted for the purpose of enabling the Magistrate or Judge to attend to other business unless such business is of an urgent nature
- (e) It shall be the duty of every Appellate Court subordinate to the figh Court to examine the memorandum of the evidence made by the subordinate Court, and to report to the High Court cases in which is shall appear that the above rules have not been strictly and properly attended to
- (f) The evidence of every witness shall invariably be recorded in the presence of the officer who may decide the case, except in the cases provided for by section. for by sections 349 and 350 of the Code of Criminal Procedure in which the re-calling and re-examination of the witnesses is opiocal with the superior Magistrates No more than one deposition should be written on each sheet (and on only one side of the paper)
- (g) After the examination of autnesses has commenced, the trial or prelimi nary inquiry under Chapter XVIII of the Code of Criminal Procedure should be proceeded with until all the witnesses in attendance have been examined those for the prosecution being first eximined, and it any witness be detained for a longer period than two days the Wager trate should record a memorandum stating the reasons of such detention

&#x27;Reg : Beha valad Surpm 1 Bom ti C R 91 Q 1 Muttee Susbyo W R-1644

- (h) When it is deemed necessary to adjourn the hearing of a case, the adjournment shall be for as short a time as possible, and no person accused of any offence, shall be remanded to custody for any period exceeding fifteen days—(S 344 Cr P C)
- (i) Every Sessions Judge and Magistrate shall sit daily and punctually at the hour appointed for the opening of his Court unless prevented by circumstances which are to be recorded in the proceedings of the Court

The following rules have been issued by the Citter Court Punjub -

Magistrates should bear in mind the strious exils arising from undue detention of witnesses. In no p int of criminal administration perhaps does the action of our Criminal Courts press more hearth, upon the public and in no matter does reform appear to be more imperitively called for

In some districts it has been found that the Magistrates do not enter a uniness as present until the day on which the case may be made over to them by the Magistrate of the district. Delays between the arrival of the uninesses and the emmentement of the inquiry by the Magistrate are very frequent and often unnecessarily great and it is obvious that if this period be not taken into account in the returns they full to show the true state of the case as to the period of detention and the resulting inconveniences to the witnesses.

When deln in the examination of witnesses has been animaderted on it has been frequently urged that the witnesses have not appeared before the Magistrate on the day and hour at which by their recognizances they were bound to appear, in consequence of their detention by the Police at the head-quarters of the district I such detention occurs it must be because Magistrates of districts on teverate that control over the police officers of their districts with which they are invested by law

Magnitudes of districts should must on cases sent on by the Police being brought before Magnitudes having jurisdiction by the hour at which witnesses are pledged to ittend. The processons of the Code of Crim nal Procedure in reference to the appearance of parties and witnesses before the Magnitude having jurisdiction after investigation mentioned in S. 170 guard carefully against delay and should be strictly addressed to

The Court therefore finds it necessary to lay down the following rules on the subject --

I -- In police-cases where recognizances are taken by the Police for the wit nesses appearance the date entered in col 2 of the witnesses register (date of rrival) shall be the date entered on the recognizance (5 170, Code of Criminal Procedure) The natnesses in such cases ord flarily arrive on the day fixed or before it and when any witness does not arrive on such date this should be explained in the column of remarks and the actual date of arrand entered in col 2. But ordinarily the date of arrival will be checked by the date mentioned on the recognizance which is filed with the record. In checking the register therefore the Magistrate should turn up a few cases and compare the dates in the register with the dates in the recognizances filed with the case and if any discrepancy exists which is unexplained in the column of remarks the official who keeps the register should be called to account. As a necessars consequence Sundays and holidays will be included in calculating the period of detention, and where any considerable delay has resulted from the intervention of holdars, this should be explained in the column of remarks, but Magistrates should make special efforts to dismiss all witnesses on attendance on the day preceding a helday

- II —Similarly in cases where the witness appears on a summons issued from the Magistrate's Court the date entered in color of the register should be the date mentioned on the summons as that of his appearance. The same cleck will apply
- 111 1 register in the preserved form shall be kept in every Mag strates. Court by one of the officials of the Court is should be in malled by the Magistrite every week.
- IV —Where delay has occurred and any considerable part of it is on ing to the case hiving been detained in the Court of the Magistrate of the district an explimation to that effect should be entered in the column of remarks.
- V—The Magistrate of the district should check every month a few of the districts kept up in the Courts of his subordinates and on the quarterly statement of the attendance of witnesses he will certify that he has done so adding remarks as to the result of his exam ration. If the certificate is omitted when the quarterly statement is received by the Commissioner that officer should send back the statement in order that th om sign may be supplied.

The provisions of sub-section (1) are mandatory. Sub-section (3) apples only where evidence has been recorded in accordance with sub-section (1) but not personally by the Magistrate. So where in proceedings under S. 145 the Magistrate did not take down the evidence himself nor was it taken down in his presence and hearing and under his personal superintendence nor signed by his but he made a memorandum of the evidence and signed it there was no compliance with S. 356 and the order passed in the proceedings was bad!

Sub section (4)

An inribility to comply with S 356 should be a physical inability

B57 (1) The Local Government may direct that in any Language of record district or put of a district or in proceedings before any Court of Session, or before any Magnetiate or class of Magnetiates the evidence of each winess shill, in the cases referred to in section 356, be taken down by the Sessions Tudge or Magnetiate with his own hand and in his mother tongue, unless he is prevented by any sufficient reson from taking down the evidence of any witness, in which case lessibility record the reason of his inability to do so, and shall case the evidence to be taken down in writing from his dictation in open Court

(2) The evidence so taken down shall be signed by the Sc sions Judge or Magistrate, and shall form part of the record

Provided that the Local Government may direct the Se sun's Judge or Magistrate to take down the evidence in the English language or in the language of the Court, although such language is not his mother tongue

&#x27; Sadananda Mandal I L R 42 Cal 381

Orders under this section have been passed in every province, and it is now the exception rather than the rule for 1 Urgestrate not to be empowered. The drives of Vagastrates who do not understand English is rapidly disappearing.

For the particulars to be given in respect to the identification of witnesses under examination, see note to $ 3.56

In depositions in which there may be any doubt as to the exact meaning of any expression used and in which a doubtful expression has an important bearing on the offence with which a prisoner is charged the Calcuta High Court's suggested the expediency of transcribing in Roman characters the words actually used, in order that the Court may be in a position, on the matter coming before it, without ferro effort to determine their exact signification, and in consequence to give to them their due and proper weight. Should an instance occur in which a foreign language is used or in which the evidence may be delicated in addict to which the fulge may be unaccustomed an interpreter should be employed in the manner presented by Se. 46x and 3x1 of this Code. See also S. 3x5 (2x1)

- 358 In cases of the kind mentioned in section 355, the Magistrate may, if he thinks fit, take down the traits in cases und revidence of any witness in the manner provided in section 356, or, if within the local limits of the lurisdiction of such Magistrate the Local Government has made the order referred to in section 357, in the manner provided in the same section
- 859 (1) Evidence taken under section 356 or section 357 shall not ordinarily be taken down in the form of question and answer, but in the foim of a narrative
- (2) The Magistrate or Sessions Judge may, in his discretion, take down, or cause to be taken down, any particular question and answer

Oaths or affirmations shall be made by all witnesses, that is to say, by all persons who may livefully be examined or give, or be required to give, evidence by or before any Court or person having by I've nuthority to examine such persons or to receive evidence—Oaths Act (\( \) of 1873) S \( \) S

Where the witness is a Hindu or Mahomedan, or his an objection to making an oath he shall instead of an oath, make an affirmation in every other case, the witness shall make an oath—the witness shall make an oath—the discovery of the states of the states

- S 7 empowers a High Court to prescribe the forms of oaths or affirmations S 8 empowers a Court to tender a special form of oath or affirmation, in certain cases
- S 13 provides that no omission to take an oath or make an affirmation, no substitution of any one for any other of them and no irregularity wheter in the form in which any one of them is administered shall invalidate any proceeding or render inadimensible and wideless whitteer, in or in respect of which such omission is substitution or irregularity took place, or shall affect the obligation of a witness to state the truth.
- Firms of onths and affirmations have been issued by the various High Courts.

  The name of the official who administers the eath or affirmation should be noted on the deposition. (Allahabid rule.)

360 (1) As the evidence of each witness taken under see tion 356 or section 357 is completed, it shall Procedure in regard be read over to him in the presence of the lo such evidence when accused, if in attendance, or of his plender, if he appears by pleader, and shall, if necessary,

be corrected.

completed

534

(2) If the witness demes the correctness of any part of the evidence when the same is read over to him, the Magistrate of Sessions Judge may, instead of correcting the evidence, make a memorandum thereon of the objection made to it by the nitness, and shall add such remarks as he thinks necessary

(3) If the evidence is taken down in a language different from that in which it has been given, and the witness does not understand the language in which it is taken down, the evidence so taken down shall be interpreted to him in the language in which it was given, or in a language which he understands

Ss 356 and 357 here referred to sufficiently show how the evidence of a witness should be taken in trials before a Court of Session, or, in warranterset, be taken in the presence of the necused, or when his personal attendance is dispensed with in the presence of his pleader

It is mandatory not directory, the omission to conform to the law in this respect may render the evidence madmissible both against the accused as well as against himself if he be prosecuted for guing false evidence. So where he deposition had not been "read over to him," as required by S 360(1) but here been given over to him to read, it was held that it was inadmissible in evident and an order under S 476 directing the wilness to be prosecuted for giving file evidence was set uside 3

It is specially important that it should appear either on the face of a deposition, or that evidence should be forthcoming that the terms of S 360 were unduled by the state of the state o may not be present at the trial, in the Court of Session

So under S 509 the deposition of a Civil Surgeon or other medical mines taken and attested by a Magistrate in the presence of the accused may be gue in evidence in any inquiry, trail or other proceeding under this Code though the deponent is not called as a witness. The Calcutta High Court has according required that there should be attached to such deposition a certificate under the signature of the Magistrate that the law has been compiled with in this repet for, although a Court and the law has been compiled with in this refet for, although a Court may presume that judicial cases have been complied with in this case for, although a Court may presume that judicial cases have been regularly formed, (Fudence Act, 1872 S 114 all, (c) still in a crimmal case in shall the prosecution must prose exery step of its case it is not proper or experience to be act on a presument of the court of the cou to not on a presumption that the requirements of the law in this respect have been complied with

&lt;sup>1</sup> Lolish Chunder Mukerice v. K. Fino. 1.1. R. 46 Cal. 045.

*See Kanart Tinathan Chetts. 1.L. P. -9 Mad. 108. Meterdax. Nath West. 1.L. P. -9 Mad. 108. Meterdax. No. Cal. M. V. S. 2. Back 1. Cal. M. V. S. 2. Cal. M. V. S. 2. Cal. 1. P. 22 Cal. M. V. S. 2. Cal. 1. P. 22 Cal. M. V. S. 2. Cal. 1. P. 23 Cal. M. V. S. 2. Cal. 1. P. 24 Cal. 1. Cal. 1. P. 11 Cal. 1. Cal. 1. Cal. 1. P. 11 R. 12 Cal. 1. Cal. 1

Cal 129

So also the evidence of a witness duly taken in the presence of the accused before the committing Magistrate may, in the discretion of the presiding Judge if such witness be produced and examined, be treated as evidence in the case-(S 288)

Under the Evidence Vet (1 of 1672) S 33 the evidence given by 1 witness in a judicial proceeding or before any person authorised by I'm to take it, is relevant for the purpose of proving in a subsequent judicial proceeding or in any later stage of the same judicial proceeding, the truth of the facts which it states when the witness is dead or cannot be found, or is incipable of giving evidence or is kept out of the was by the adserse parts, or if his presence cannot be pro-cured without an amount of delay or expense which under the circumstances of the case, the Court considers unreas mable. Provided that the proceeding was between the same parties or their representatives in interest, that the adverse party in the first proceeding had the right and of portunity to cross examine that the questions in issue were substantially the same in the first as in the second proceeding

Explanate n -A criminal trial or inquiry shall be deemed to be a proceeding between the prospector and the occused within the menning of this section -Evidence Vet (1 of 1872) S 33

It is therefore of vital importance to show, on the face of the deposition or the proceedings, that the witness was examined in the presence of the accused, If it be desired to use a statement, made by him on a previous occasion as evi dence in a subsequent judicial proceeding

5 80 of the Evidence Act declares that whenever any document is produced before any Court, purporting to be a record or memorandum of the evidence, or of any part of the evidence given by a witness in a judicial proceeding or before any officer authorized by law to take such evidence or to be a statement or confes sion by any prisoner or accused person taken in accordance with law, and pur porting to be signed by any Judge or Magistrate, or by such officer as aforesaid the Court shall presume that the document is genuine that any statements as to the circumstances under which it was taken purporting to be made by the person signing it, are true and that such evidence, statement or confession was duly taken

Sub section (3)

This is intended for the protection of a witness only. So when the evidence was recorded in English a language not understood by the witnesses and read over in that language the irregularity did not affect the valid ty of the conviction because one of the prisoners and the plender for all the prisoners understood ling is and raised no objection. But where the deposition of a witness on which a charge of giving false evidence was made had not been read over to him he was acquitted as it was held that that deposition was inadmissible in evidence

361 (1) Whenever any evidence is given in a language not understood by the accused, and he is pre-Interpretation sent in person, it shall be interpreted to him evidence to accused th open Court in a language understood by hun

or his pleader

(2) If he appears by pleader, and the evidence is given in a language other than the language of the Court, and

In re Okhoy humar 7 Cal L R
In re Mayadeb Gossami 1 L R 6 Cal 762 393

360 (1) As the evidence of each witness taken under section 356 or section 357 is completed, it shall be read out to large in the presence of the to such evidence when completed tion 356 or section 357 is completed, it shill be rend over to him in the presence of the accused, if in attendance, or of his pleuder, if he appears by pleuder, and shall, if necessars,

be corrected

(2) If the witness denies the collectness of any part of the culdence when the same is lead over to him, the Magistrite of Sessions Judge may instead of concering the evidence, make a memorandum thereon of the objection made to it by the witnes, and shall add such remarks as he thinks necessary

(3) If the evidence is taken down in a language different from that in which it has been given, and the witness does not understand the language in which it is taken down, the evidence to taken down shall be interpreted to him in the language in which it was given, or in a language which he understands

Ss 336 and 337 here referred to sufficiently show how the evidence of a witness should be taken in trials before a Court of Session or, in warnatush before a Magistrate S 353 also requires that the evidence of each witness had be taken in the presence of the accused or when his personal attendance if the personal intendance in the personal witness of the personal behavior of the personal of the

It is mandatory not directory the omission to conform to the law in the spectrum of the evidence inadmissible both against the accused as set as a gainst himself if he be prosecuted for gring false evidence. So that he deposition had not been read over to him as required by $\frac{3}{3}60(1)$ bits been given over to him to read it was held that it was indimissible in evidence had an order under $\frac{3}{4}76$ directing the witness to be prosecuted for $\frac{3}{2}96(1)$ set of the conformal of the prosecuted for $\frac{3}{2}96(1)$ set of the conformal of the c

It is specially important that it should appear either on the face of a defortion or that evidence should be forthcoming that the terms of S 360 are strate observed if it is desired to use the evidence of a witness given in an inquiry also may not be present at the trial in the Court of Session

So under S soo the deposition of a Chil Spurgeon or other med call at the class and attested by a Magistrate in the presence of the necused may be a faction and intested by a Magistrate in the presence of the necused may be deponent is not called as a witness. The Calcutta High Court has received deponent is not called as a witness. The Calcutta High Court has received assignature of the Magistrate that the law has been compiled with in this region although a Court may presume that jud call a lets have been regularly per for although a Court may presume that jud call a lets have been regularly per formed (Evidence Act 1872 S 114 III (e) still an a crim not case in which the prosecution must prose every step of its case at it into proper or exposer to act on a presumption that the requirements of the law in this report just been compiled with 4.

1 7 1 3 CL 1 = 3f

&quot; Tup IIR 46 Cal 055
P -8 Mad 308 Moberdra Nath Viser I
I R 37 Cal 808 is closed I I fee
S Cal W N 1222 is cll I P 25 Cal 10
Ml 720 Kachah Harir Q Imp I L R 4

obvious S 370 (1) describes what particulars should be recorded in a judgment in such a case. The Code dies declare in what manner evidence should be recorded by a Presidence Vagastrale in other cases, but 5, 370 declares what a Presidence Magistrate should record in his judgment, whether of conviction or of accusted, in other trials

Sub-section (23) now requires a Presidency Magistrate to male a memorandum of the substance of the examination of the accused in appealable cases the is not otherwise required to a mply with the provisions of $ 364-see subsection (4) of that section

Where a note of the evidence taken by the Presidence Magistrate showed nothing upon which the occused could have been legally convicted, and there was nothing in the juliament of any said reson whis the consistion should be supperted it was set uside by the High Court on revision?

Where I Presidence Manistrate recorded only a few sentences of the crossexamination the High Centt compared notes taken at the trial by a local pleader to satisfy itself as to the incompleteness of the record?

When a Sessions Judge or Magistrate has recorded the evidence of a witness he shall also record such Remarks iomarks (if any) as he thinks material ics-Witness. pecting the demeanon of such witness whilst under examination

Where the Magistrate recorded that the witness was unable fully to give his endence owing to his week state of health the Sessions Judge was competent to mention this fact to the jurs, as probably accounting for certain omissions in this evidence, but leving a to the jurs to lorm its own opinion on the mitter?

- (1) Whenever the accused is examined by any Magis-Examination of actrate, or by any Court other than a High Court sed how recorded. established by Royal Charter or the Chief Court cused how recorded. of Oudh or the Chief Court of Sind the whole of such examination, including every question put to him and every answer given by him, shall be recorded in full, in the language of the Comt or in English and such record shall be shown or read to him, or, if he does not understand the language in which it is written, shall be interpreted to him in a language which he understands, and he shall be at liberty to explain or add to his answers
- (2) When the whole is made conformable to what he declares is the truth, the record shall be signed by the accused and the Magistrate of Judge of such Court, and such Magistrate of Judge shall certify under his own haml that the examination was taken in his presence and hearing, and that the record contains a full and true account of the statement made by the accused

Fanjab Singh I R 6 Cal 57, Nacoob I L. R 13 Cal 272 Emaman 1 Fung I L R 31 Cul 93; 4 Al Foong 1 Imp I L R 46 Cal 422 2 Q 1 Rysochoolib 12 W R, 57.

understood by the pleader, it shall be interpreted to such pleader in that language

(3) When documents are put in for the purpose of formal proof, it shall be in the discretion of the Court to interpret as much thereof as appears necessary

Where the services of an interpreter are required by any Criminal Counfor the interpretation of any evidence or statement, he shall be bound to state the true interpretation of any such evidence or statement, he still be made of any such evidence or statement - $543. An oath or affirmation shall be made by every interpreter of questions put to and evidence up, witnesses, unless he is an official interpreter of any Court after he has entered on his duties - Oaths Act, (1 of 1873) $ 5

A sworn interpreter is required only when the witness is deposing in a language of which the Judge or jury are ignorant 1

When the evidence recorded in English was not interpreted to the winess to the accused so as to be understood by them, the conviction and sentence were set aside But it has been doubted whether this would so materially prejudite the necused that a Commitment made on such evidence must necessarily be set at let

(1) In every case tried by a Presidency Magistrate in 362 which an appeal lies, such Magistrate shall Record of evidence either take down the evidence of the minesee in Presidency Magis with his own hand, or cause it to be taken trate s Courts down in writing from his dictation in open Court All enders so taken down shall be signed by the Magistrate and shall form part of the record

(2) Evidence so taken down shall ordinarily he recorded in the form of a narrative, but the Magistrate may, in his discretion, take down, or cruse to be taken down, any particular que tion of answer

(2A) In every case referred to in sub-section (1), the Magnetical trate shall make a memorandum of the substance of the examination tion of the accused Such memorandum shall be signed by the Magistrate with his own hand, and shall form part of the record

(3) Sentences, unless they are sentences of imprisonment ordered to tun concurrently, passed under section 35 on the star occasion shall, for the purposes of this section, be considered one sentence "(4) In cases other than those specified in sub-section (1) it shall not be necessary for a Presidency Magistrate to record its evidence or frame a charge "

This section has now been imended so as to make it clear that the workers and to are investible and a section has now been investible and a section when the section has now been investible and the section has now been investible and the section has now been investigated to a section has not a section h referred to any paperalible see S 411. The necessity for a complete record in obvious 5 370 (1) describes what perticulars should be recorded in a judgment in such a case. The Code does declare in whil mainer evidence should be recorded by a Presidence Magistrate in other cases, but 5, 370 declares what a Presidency Magistrate should record in his judgment, whether of conviction or clacquittal in other trials

Q : Mudun Mundle 16 M R Cr 71

· Q. c. Issue Rant. S. W. R. Cr., 63 In re Mahesh Chunder Banerlee, 13 W. R. Cr., 1 (7) (5 c.) 4 B. L. R. App. 1 15

Sub-section (23) it was a quites a Presidence Magistrate to make a memorandom of the substime of the examinate n of the accused in appealable cases He is n t therwise region I to a mply with the provisions of S 364-see subsection (4) of that section

Where I is to of the evaluate taken by the Presidence Magistrate showed nothing upon which the usused could have been legally convicted, and there was nothing in the pillment of my valid it ison why the conviction should be supperted it was set usult to the High Court on revision !

Where a Presidence Majistrate recorded only a few sentences of the cross examination the High I and compared notes taken at the trial by a local pleader to satisfy itself is to the incompleteness of the record?

363 When a Sessions Judge or Magistrate has recorded the evidence of a witness he shall also record such Remarks ing demeanour of remarks (if any) as he thinks material res-Witness. pecting the demeanon of such witness whilst under examination

Where the Magistrate recorded that the witness was unable fully to give his evidence owing to his work stalt of health, the Session. Judge was competent to mention this fact to the jury is probably accounting for certain omissions in that evidence, but leaving it to the jury to form its own opinion on the matters.

- (1) Whenever the accused is examined by any Magis-Examination of ac- trate, or by any Court other than a High Court cused how recorded. established by Royal Charter or the Chief Court of Oudh or the Chief Court of Sind the whole of such examination, including every question put to him and every answer given by him, shall be recorded in full, in the language of the Court or in English : and such record shall be shown or read to him, or, if he does not understand the language in which it is written, shall be interpreted to him in a language which he understands, and he shall be at liberty to explain or add to his answers
- (2) When the whole is made conformable to what he declares is the truth, the record shall be signed by the accused and the Magistrate or Judge of such Court, and such Magistrate or Judge shall certify under his own haml that the examination was taken in his presence and hearing, and that the record contains a full and true account of the statement maile by the accused

<sup>1</sup> Panjab Singh | L. R. 6 Cal. 579 | Nacoob I L. R. 13 Cal. 272 | Fmamin 1 L. R. 37 Cal. 933 | Ah Leong | 1 mp. I | R. 46 Cal. 411. | Q i Rvockoollah 12 W. R. 54.

538

- (3) In cases in which the examination of the accused is not recorded by the Magistrate or Judge himself, he shall be bound, as the examination proceeds, to make a memorandum thereof m the language of the Court, or in English, if he is sufficiently acquainted with the latter language and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Magistrate or Judge with his own hand, and shall be annexed to the record If the Magistrate or Judge is imable to make a memorandum as above required, he shall record the reason of such mability.
- (4) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to apply to the examination of an accused person under section 263, or in the course of a trial held by a Presidency Magistrate

At a Sessions trial the examination of the accused duly recorded by or before the committing Magistrate shall be tendered by the prosecutor and read as cvidence-(S 287)

S 364 relates to the examination of an accused person and it declares in what manner such an examination shall be conducted and recorded

S 164 enables a Magistrate to record any statement or confession made to him during the course of an investigation, or at any time afterwards before the commencement of the inquiry or trial and it declares that such confession shall be recorded and signed in the manner provided in $ 364

S 342 supplements S 364 It enables the Court, thus including a Vagotrate, at any stage of any inquiry or trial to examine the accused for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against

So fir as the manner of recording of a confession made before an inquiry or trial or of an examination of the accused in the course of an inquiry or trial there is little difference except that in the former the law requires some guirantee that the confession was made voluntarily it imposes upon a Nigatrate the duty of satisfying himself by proper inquiry that such a confession was made voluntarily and it requires him also to attach to such a confession a memorindum signed by him which amongst other matters is to the effect that he believes it to have been so made. The law imposes no such precrution in the case of a confession made during an inquiry or trial though of course the presiding judicial officer should be careful to satisfy himself in this respect for confession is irrelevant if the making of it appears to the Court to have been caused by an inducement, threat or promise, having reference to the charge against the accused person proceeding from a person in authority and eufficient, in the opinion of the Court to give the accused person grounds which would appear to him reisonable for supprising that his making it, he would gain any advant ign or would invest of a temporal nature in reference to the proceedings against him -Evidence Act (1 of 1872) S 24

Too much importance cannot be given to the strict observance of all the formulation set cut in S 3/4 Careless emissions have not unfrequently caused great difficulty and have sometimes caused failures of justice to did the law has now provided that if any of the provisions of either S 164 or S 144 have not been complied with by the Waystrate recording the statement the Court of original appellate or revisional jurisdiction before which a confession of recorded is tendered in evidence, or has been received in evidence shall take evidence that dence that the accused person duly made the statement recorded and it lumber declares that such statement shall be admitted, if the error has not injured the accused as to his defence on the merits-(5 433). But the necessity to take such evidence is caused only by the errelessness of the Magistrate and it involves an expenditure of time and expense and inconvenience to all concerned in such proceedings, for which he is responsible

Object of the examination of an accused

An accused may be examined at any stage of an inquiry or trial, but only for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstance appearing in evidence against him and it is the duty for Court for this purpose to question him gene rally on the case after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined and before he is called on for his defence. An accused person is not bound to answer any questions put to him but the Court and the jury may draw such inference from such refusal or answers as it thinks just-(5 312) So an accused person cannot properly be examined at the commencement of an inquiry or trial and before any ev dence has I een taken I r there is nothing before the Court which he can be called upon to explain ! When the accused was examined by the Mag's trate before there was ex dence on the record which he could have been called upon to explain, the examination was not admitted in evidence. The exam nation should be streth him ted to the purpose stated in $ 3.12 8 nor should an accused be examined unless the Court is satisfied that the evidence discloses the com m ssion of an offence by him 4

For further discussion of this subject see note to $ 342

Every question put and every answer given to be recorded in full

This is of very great importance for a statement made in answer to a question put may have a different meaning if considered without such question. The questions put should not be of the nature of a cross examination nor should they be put with the object of getting the accused to incriminate himself or others under trial with him s

But where the confessions were recorded in narrative form and without any questions and answers it was held that they were properly admitted in evidence as it was not shown that the prisoner had been prejudiced. Where the con fession as recorded omitted to give the questions put but the memorandum made by the Magistrate set them out it was held that the omission was immater al for the questions were of such a nature that it was perfectly immaterial to the sense and meaning of the prisoner's statement whether they were recorded or not? The mere absence from the record of any questions put does not render a statement unadmissible. See also note to S 242

Language in which examination shall be recorded

Ordinarily It should be recorded in the language in which the accused was examined. The object in view is to obtain the words used by the accused and ty this means to learn the meaning of what he may have said. The fact that the Local Government may under $ 357 have empowered the particular judicial officer to take down evidence of witnesses in his own mother tongue cannot affect the terms of $ 364 If it is not practicable to record an examination in the

<sup>1</sup> Q Emp Hawthorne I L R 13 AR 345 Q Emp t Sagal Samba Sajao I L R

<sup>21</sup> Cal Gaz

1 O Imp v Viran I L R 9 Mad 224

2 O Imp v Hargoblad Singh I I R 14 All 242 (s c) All W N 1802 p 83

3 O Imp v Bahan Sankar B was 1 B I R 16 Short Notes (s c) 10 W R Cr 25

3 Imp v Behan Lall Bose 6 Cal L R 41 In re Virabudra Gaud 1 Mad H C
R 100 Q Imp v Hawthorne I I R 14 M 345

1 616

1 616

<sup>618</sup> note (s c) r Cul I R r Fekoo Mahto

language in which it is made, it may be recorded in the language of the or in English This would be for instance, when the examination is in a l age unkown to the Court and conducted through an interpreter, or in the of a confession recorded under S 164 out of Court when the Magistrate is u himself to take it down in the language in which it has been made an ministerial officer or other person is present or available who is competent so! But when a Presidency Magistrate recorded in English a confess on in Mirathi although when examined under S 533 the Magistrate admitted it could have been taken down in Marathi by a subordinate of his Court it held that this was an irregularity, but it was admitted as the irregularity had injured the accused in his defence?

If an interpreter is employed the examination should be recorded in language in which it is communicated to the Court by the interpreter 3

Where a confession recorded under S 164 was not taken down in the k age in which it was made in accordance with S 364 it was held to be missible notwithstanding that the Magistrate was under S 533 examined deposed to the statement having been made for it was held that by reaso S of of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) no evidence could be given in prot such a matter except the document itself was in existence and was forthcom The correctness of this opinion has been doubted and it has also been dist from a 1t was pointed out that S 533 expressly allows such evidence to taken so as to make a statement made by an accused person ndm ss bl evidence notwithstanding S 91 of the Evidence Act 1872 and that 5 51 intended to apply to all cases in which the direction of the law had not fully complied with

So where a confession or examination of the accused had been taken d in English when it could and should have been recorded in the vernicula which it was made evidence was taken under S 533 from which the C interesting that it had been made as recorded and it was accordingly admit

Record of examination if interpreted

If a confession or examination of an accused person is interpreted it sh he recorded in the language and words in which it is communicated to the Col for if a second translation be made and the statement be recorded as thus the sented the accuracy which this contemplates is more remote. The object of law in requiring that ord namely such a statement shall be recorded in the language of the person making it is to represent the very words and express n i d as to ensure accuracy and to prevent misconstruction of what wa a !

Explain or add to his answer

Compare S 560 (2) in regard to the examination of a witness

Snb section (2)

The record that is the examination should be signed both by the accu and by the Magistrate or Judge before whom it was made and in add to A certife this such officer is required to make the certificate described

<sup>O Emp v Razai Mia I L R 22 Cal 817 Bachanna All W N 1801 P 55
O Emp t Visram Babaji I L R 21 Bom 495
Cmp t Vaimbillee I I R 5 Cal 826 Q Emp v Signl Samba Sajio I L al 647</sup>

<sup>21</sup> Cat. (20 pm) c Jail Warayun Ras I L R 17 Cal 862 (20 pm) c Jaichand I L R 18 Cal 549 Q Emp w Virram Babaji I L R 21 Bom c Q D Fmp r Ragbu I L R 23 Bom 221 (1 Bachana All W N 1801 p 53 Q F Anta All All W N 1801 p 53 Q F Anta All All W N 1801 p 53 Q F Anta All All W N 1801 p 54 Q Fmp c Sacil Samba Sajao I L R 21 Cal 642 (660)

different in some respects is required by 5 164 to be attached to a confession recorded under that sects in. The signature of an accused person who is unable to write should be made In his mark. [See General Chaises Act, 1897, S 3 152)]. The certificate need not be written by the Magistrate or Judge. It must be under his hand, i.e., signed he him?

The absence of a certificate is not fatal, but before receiving an examination so recorded a Court is laund to take evidence to satisfy itself that such statement was duly mide!

Where the arcused admits the correctness of his statement recorded under 5 364 he is bound to sign, and his refusal to sign amounts to an offence under S 180, Penal Code 2 But under the Code of 1872 it had been held! that the provision requiring the accused to sign was directory and not mandatory and that he could not be convicted in respect of his refusal

Sub section (3)

It is the examination as recorded not the memor indum made simultaneously by the Magistrate or Judge, which is evidence in the inquiry or trial. But in one cree the Memorandum was u ed for the purpose of showing the nature of the questions put which were entired in it and were omitted in the examination 5

Sub section (4).

5 263 here excepted relates to summary trials. The reference to trials by Presidency Magistrates is new

Form of examination

The following firm has been prescribed by the Calcutta High Court 6 years taken before me The examination of aged about Magistrate of the class at on the day of

M) name is

My father's name is

I am by caste and by occupation Wy home is at Mouzib Thannah

District 1 reside at and similar information has been required by the BOUBAY HIGH COURT? and by the ALLSHARAD HIGH COURT !

Every High Court established by Royal Charter and Record of evidence the Chief Courts of Oudli and Sind shall, from In High Court time to time, by general rule, prescribe the manner in which evidence shall be taken down in cases coming before the Court, and the evidence shall be taken down in accordance with such rule There has been an amendment here (see let No XVIII of 1923 S 99)

Hitherto it was in the discretion of the High Courts to make rules prescribing the manner in which evidence should be till en down it is now compulsors on the High Courts to make such rules

Rezzia Hossein 8 W R 55

<sup>1</sup> Rezna Hossein 8 W R 55
1 Yiyankatra Srinivan 7 Boom 50 Cr Cu
1 Finp 1 Umar Khan 1 L R 19 All 1919
1 Imperativa 1 Sirsepa 1 R 4 Boom 15
1 Jitu Mava 1 J R 8 Cu 4 R note
1 Cat H Ct Rules etc 10 H 131
1 Boom Caz 1871 p 20 Bk Cr p 36
1 All Rules & No 36 ()
1 All Rules & No 36 ()

language in which it is made it may be recorded in the language of the Court or in English This would be for instance when the examination is in a langu age unknwn to the Court and conducted through an interpreter, or in the tase of a confession recorded under S 164 out of Court when the Magistrate is unable himself to take it down in the language in which it has been made and ro ministerial officer or other person is present or available who is competent to do so 1 But when a Presidency Magistrate recorded in English a confess on midin Marithi although when examined under $ 533 the Magistrate admitted that it could have been taken down in Marathi by a subordinate of his Court it was held that this was an irregularity but it was admitted as the irregularity had n t injured the accused in his defence

If an interpreter is employed the examination should be recorded in the language in which it is communicated to the Court by the interpreter $

Where a confession recorded under S 164 was not taken down in the language in which it was made in accordance with $ 364 it was held to be invimissible notwithstanding that the Magistrate was under S 533 examined and deposed to the statement having been made for it was held that by reman of S 91 of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) no evidence could be given in proof of such a matter except the document itself was in existence and was forthcoming. The correctness of this opinion has been doubted and it has also been descated from It was pointed out that S 533 expressly allows such evidence to be taken so as to make a statement made by an accused person adm ss ble as evidence notwithstanding S 91 of the Evidence Act 1872 and that S 50 " intended to apply to all cases in which the direction of the law had not been fully complied with

So where a confession or examination of the accused had been taken down in English when it could and should have been recorded in the vernacular which it was made evidence was taken under S 533 from which the C ort and satisfied that it had been made as recorded and it was accorded) admitted?

Record of examination if interpreted

If a confession or examination of an accused person is interpreted it should he recorded in the language and words in which it is communicated to the Court for if a second translation be made and the statement be recorded as thus represented to the recorded as t sented the accurrey which this contemplates is more remote. The object of the law in requiring that ordinarily such a statement shall be recorded in the language of the person making it is to represent the very words and expression 1 ed s as to ensure accuracy and to prevent misconstruction of what wa end

Explain or add to his answer

Compare S 560 (2) in regard to the examination of a witness

Snb section (2)

The record that is the examination should be signed both by the accused and by the Magistrate or Judge before whom it was made and in addition this such officer is required to make the certificate described

64 (660)

<sup>1</sup> O Emp t Razai Mia I L R 2 Cal 817 Bachanna All W 1591 P 55 2 O Emp t Visram Babaji I L R 21 Boon 495 2 Emp v Vaimbillee I L R 5 Cal 826 Q Emp t Sagal Samba Sajao I L R

<sup>21</sup> Cal 642

O Fmp : Jai Narayan Rai I L R 17 Cal 86°
Laichand I L R 18 Cal 549 O Emp t Visram Babaji I L R 21 Bod 6°

different in semi-respects is required by $ 114.11 be ittached to a confession recorded under that sects in The saniture f in secured person who is unable 1) write should be much by his mark | See General Clauses Act 1897 S 3 (52) | The certif are need not by written by the Manistrate or ludge it must be under his hand it signed he him!

The absence f i certificate is 0 t fat il but before receiving an examination so recorded a C urt is bound to take evidence to satisfy itself that such statement was duly made a

Where the accused admits the correctness of his statement recorded under 5 364 he is bound to sign and his refusal to sign amounts to an offence under S 180 Penal Code 3 But under the Code of 1872 it had been helds that the provision requiring the iccused to sun was directors and not mandatory and that he could not be convicted in respect of his refusal

Sub section (3)

It is the examination as recorded not the memorandum made simultaneously by the Magistrate or Judge which is evidence in the inquiry or trial. But in one care the Memor indum was used for the purpose of showing the nature of the questions put which were entered in it and were omitted in the examination 8

Sub section (4).

5 % here excepted relates to summary trials. The reference to trials by Presidency Magistrales is new

Form of examination

The fullowing form has been prescribed by the CALCUTTA HIGH COURT $ The examination of nged about years, taken before me, Magistrate of the class at on the day of

My name is

My father's name is

and by occupation I am by easte My home is it Mouzah , Thannah 1 reside at

and similar information has been required by the Boulaw High Court and by the MANIARAD HIGH COLRY

Every High Court established by Royal Charter and Record of evidence the Chief Courts of Oudh and Sind shall, from In High Court time to time, by general rule, prescribe the manner in which evidence shall be taken down in cases coming before the Court, and the evidence shall be taken down in accordance with such rule

There has been an amendment here (see Act No AVIII of 1923 S 99) Hitherto it was in the discretion of the High Courts to male rules prescribing the manner in which evidence should be lalen down, it is now compulsors on the H gh Courts to make such rules

REZHA HOSSEIN 8 W R 55

TANASTRA STRINKAY 7 DON 50 CT CA

F. JANASTRA STRINKAY 7 DON 50 CT CA

F. JANASTRA STRINKAY 7 DON 50 CT CA

F. JANASTRA STRINKAY 1 DR 4 A 197 All 307

I JIN MAN A 1 1 R 8 CAI 678 note

CAI 11 Ct Rules ctc Vol 11 134

F. Bom Giz 1571 p. 20 118 Ctr p. 36

All Rules & No. 36 (4)

All Rules & No. 36 (4)

CHAPTER XXVI

Or the Judgment

The rules continued in this Chapter shall apply, so far as may be practicable to the judgment of my Appellate Court other than a High Court-S 424

(1) The judgment in every trial in any Criminal 366 Court of original jurisdiction shall be pro-Mode of delvering nonnced, or the substance of such judgment iudzment.

shall be explained .-(a) in open Court cities immediately after the termination of the trial or at some subsequent time of which notice shall be given to the parties or their pleaders, and

(b) in the language of the Court, or in some other language which the accused or his pleader understands

Provided that the whole judgment shall be read out by the presiding Judge, if he is requested so to do either by the prosecution of the defence

(2) The accused shall, it in custody, be brought up, or, if not in custody, be required by the Court to attend, to hear judge ment delivered, except where his personal attendance during the tiral has been dispensed with and the sentence is one of fine only or he is acquitted, in either of which eases it may be delivered in the presence of his pleader

(3) No judgment delivered by any Common Court shall be deemed to be invalid by reason only of the absence of any party or his pleader on the day or from the place notified for the delivery thereof, or of any omission to serve, or defect in serving on the puties or their pleiders, or any of them, the notice of such

div and plice

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to hmit in any way the extent of the provisions of section 537

The terms of $ 367 show that the word judgment' is used in this Chapter means e judgment ef consiets n or requited and not in order of discharge of the dismiss Vol a complaint. When a Magistrate helding in inquire di charge the accused because, in his opinion, there are not sufficient grounds for committing him, or considers the charge to be groundless, 5 209 requires may be small record his reasons for our so See also S 253 in regard to an order of discharge in a warrant case, when the charge is found to be groundless. Similarly, when a compount is sommarily dismissed by a Aragistrate, he is required by sec. 203 briefly to record his reasons for so doing by specially providing how such orders should be recorded, it would seem that they are not intended to be within Chapter XXVI, or regarded as matters requiring judgments

Whether Ss 300 and 371 apply to a final order under S 145 or not the Magistrate must give reasons for his order, and a retrial was ordered where the final order merely stated that a certain number of witnesses was examined, pleaders heard, and the iral and documentary evidence was considered in the light of the arguments ?

5 366 provides for the manner in which a judgment shall be delivered The following section declares what a judgment shall contain $ 366 requires that the presiding Judge shall explain the judgment in open Court either in the language of the Court or in some other language which the accused or his pleader understands. But, if so required either by the prosecution or by the defence, he is required to read the whole of it. It is thus shown that the judg ment must be completely written when it is pronounced or explained. A sentence or an order of acquittal passed before judgment has been written is there fore illegal. In Judge, at the conclusion of the evidence in a case, some of which may not to be quite distinct in his mind owing to the length of the trial, might pass sentence on a person, and find it afterwards impossible to put on paper good reasons for having convicted him, or, on the other hand, he might direct that the accused be set at liberty, and find it impossible afterwards honestly to put on paper good reasons for the acquittal The law wisely requires that the reasons for the decision shall accompany the decision, and shall not be left to be subsequently inserted or recorded 3 So, where the judgment had not been completed when sentence was passed, it was held there were good grounds for requiring that a new trial should be held, for it would be impossible for a judicial officer, before a judgment had been finished, to be quite certain whether, upon a further consideration, he will not arrive at a conclusion different from that originally formed, and it would be most dangerous to allow a sentence to be passed and a judgment setting out the reasons for the conviction and sentence to be afterwards written out Still it was also held that masmuch as that case was heard by the Sessions Judge on appeal on the ments, it could not he said that the irregularity on the part of the Magistrate had occasioned a failure of justice so as to demand a new trial. The matter was considered under 5 537, and this objection was disallowed by the Calcutta High Court on

The Allahabad High Court strongly condemned the omission of a Sessions Judge to write his judgment until several days after he had pronounced sentence, but nevertheless the case was heard, and the accused was acquitted on the merits 5 The Madras High Court held that to write and deliver a judgment

Bhuban Chandra Hazra I L R 49 Cal 187
Damu Senapati v Sridhar I L R 21 Cal 121 Q Emp v Hargobind Singh,

I L R 14 All 242 O Emp v Hargobind Singh I L R 14 All 242 (273) (5 C) All W N 1892.

p 83 * Damu Senapati v Sridbar I L R 21 Cal 121, per Prinser and O Kineaty, JJ (Trevelyas J ds.) See also Tilak Chandra Sarkar v Baisagomoff I L R, 23 Cal, O Emp v Hargobind Singh I L R. 14 All. 242

some days after the accused had been convicted and sentenced is more than an irregularity. It vitiates the entire proceedings. A new trial was ordered.

But in a later case a Lull Bench of the same High Court held that, where at the end of a trial the Sessions Judge wrote a document headed "Judgment setting forth the opinions of the assessors and added his own opinion agreeing with them that the accused were not guitty and acquitted them, and on a lard date he wrote and prefixed to that document; a fuller and detailed judgment though such course may be an error in procedure it is a mere irregularity covered by S. 537.

When a Magistrate died without recording his judgment, but the sentences were entered on the back of the depositions, and the accused were committed to custody under warrants addressed to the jador, the High Court held that this omission was no doubt, an irregularity, but it was an irregularity which the circumstances of the case possibly rendered unavoidable. It was, morrover, not one which could seriously prejudice the accused, for the accused were duly convicted on trials regularly held, their conviction was not affected by the Magistrate's omission to record a complete judgment, nor was their right of appeal, assuming that their sentences were appealable, taken away by the absence of a complete judgment.<sup>3</sup>

This case has been approved by the Bombay High Court, which thought tunnecessary to interfere in revision in a case in which the Magastrate had died after passing sentence, but had left no written judgment.

Where judgment had not been delivered until several days after the order of acquittal had been passed and the accused had been discharged from custofy, the Allahabad High Court, on appeal of Government, set aside the order of acquittal, and ordered a retrial 8

Sub-section (2)

S, 205 enables a Magistrate, when he issues a summons, to dispense with the personal attendance of the accused, and to allow him to appear by pleader, but he may, at any stage of the proceedings, direct the personal attendance of the accused, and if necessary enforce it See also S 540A.

5 424 declares that, unless the Appellate Court otherwise directs, the accused shall not be brought up or required to attend to hear judgment delivered.

Sub-section (4).

S 537 declares that no finding, sentence or order passed by a Court of competent jurnsdiction shall be reversed or altered under Chapter XVIII tending tion of sentence), or on appeal or revision, on account of any error, cursion or irregularity in the judgment, unless such error, omission or irregularity has in fact occasioned a faiture of justice.

1867. (1) Every such judgment shall, except as otherm?

Language of judg. expressly provided by this Code, be written ment, contents of by the presiding officer of the Court or from judgment.

the detation of such presiding officer in the language of the Court, or in English; and shall contain the Point or points for determination, the decision thereon and the reason.

Bandanu Atchayya, I L. R. 27 Mad , 237 ad , 913

for the decision and shall be dated and signed by the presiding officer in onen Court at the time of pronouncing it and where it is not written by the prosiding officer with his own hand every page of sich judgment shall be signed by him

- (2) It shall specify the offence (if any) of which and the section of the Indian Penal Code or other law under which the accused is convicted and the punishment to which he is sen tenced.
- (3) When the conviction is under the Indian Penal Code and it is doubtful under which of two sections or unler which of two parts of the same section of that Code the offence falls the Court shall distinctly express the same and pass judgment in the alternative
- (4) If it be a judgment of acquitted it shall state the offence of which the accused is acquitted and direct that he he set at liberty
- (5) If the accused 1 convicted of an offence punishable with death and the Court sentences him to any punishment other than death the Court shall in its judgment state the reason why sentence of death was not passed

Provided that in trials by jury the Court need not write a judgment but the Court of Sossion shall record the heads of the charge to the jury

(6) For the purposes of this section an order under section 118 or section 123 sub section (3) shall be deemed to be a judgment

Except as otherwise expressly provided

An except on has been made in regard to judgments in summ ry trials. In regard to the contents of a judgment and its preparation in summary trials see Ss 263 264 265 also in regard to a judgment of a Presidenty Ming strate see 5 370

Written by the Presiding Officer &c

The Local Government may author se any Bench of Mag strates empoy ered to try offences summarly to prépare a record or judgment by means of an officer appointed in this behalf by the Court to which such Bench is immediately sub-ordinate (that is by the District Mag strate or if the Bench is in a sub-division by the Sub-divisional Mag strate) and if no such author zation be given the record prepared by a member of the Bench and signed by each member present tilling part in the poecedings shall be the proper record—(S 26).

In some provinces it had been ordered that certain courts might so nitipe rie but that every page of the record must be signed and all corrections nitiated S 367 as now amended by Act No NVIII of 1923 S 100 now permits of a judgment being dictated. The Calcutta High Co it had held that a judgment could not be dictated but that it was an irregularity which could be dealt with by S 537 1

546

Language

A judgment should be written in the language of the Court or in English S 265 declares that the Court to which the presiding officer of a Bench holding a summary trial is immediately subordinate, that is, the District Magistrate or Subdivisional Mogistrate (S 57), may direct that it shall be recorded by him in his mother tongue

The Local Government may determine what, for the purposes of this Code shall be deemed the language of each Court within the territories administered by such Government-S 558

Where the Local Government has notified that Katthe shall be the language of the court a judgment cannot be written in the Persian character and in the Urdu language But the irregularity is within S 537

Contents of a judgment

A strict observance of the law in this respect is important for there have been numerous cases in which the High Court has interfered on revision because the judgment did not show the point or points for decision and the decision thereon This is especially necessary in the judgment of a Court of Appeal A judgment should always be so expressed as to satisfy the High Court on resion that the lower Court has thoroughly considered and dealt with the particular case on its merits whether the judgment be that of a Court of first instance or of appeal If the judgment is that of a Magistrate it should show on the face of it the powers exercised by such Magistrate Whenever by reason of the previous conviction of an accused an enhanced sentence is passed the date of such conviction the sentence then passed and the offence should be stated in the judgment

It is the duty of an appellate Court to look into the evidence for the defence and after dealing with it to come to a decision thereon though counsel for the appellant may have practically ignored it in his arguments $

Defective judgment

S 537 declares that no finding sentence or order passed by a Court of con petent jurisdiction shall be reversed or altered under Chapter \VII (for co firmation of sentence), or on appeal or revision, on account of any error on sion or irregularity in a judgment unless it has in fact occasioned a falure of justice and S 366 (4) declares that nothing contained in that ection shall be construed to limit construed to limit in any way the extent of the provisions of S 537 matter in connection with the passing of a sentence or order of acquited below completing the judgment has been discussed in the note to S 366 ante might be reported again. all the reported eases of omissions and irregularities in respect to the related of a judgment relate to judgments of Appellate Courts, to which S 44 declare that the rules contained in this Chapter shall apply so far as may be practically

Where the Sessions Judge connected the accused, but gave no reason to differing from the opinions of the assessors it was held to be an Irregularian which did not vitiate his finding 4 Where an Appellate Court merely rejected an appeal without specificing the points for determination, its decis on thereon and the reasons therefor a reheard

Manik Lai Mullick 4 Cal I J 411 Dhanukdhari Sagh 4 Cal I. 1 *32 Fidor Hossen 1 Fmp I I R 10 Cal 3*6 Rec. Ball Busan C Bom II C R Cr 55 of the appeal was ordered t (But if an appeal is summarily rejected a formal sudgment need not be recorded-See note to S 421 fost)

The following have been held not to be proper judgments of Appellate Courts and a re hearing of the apocals was ordered -' It is urged that the evidence is quite untrustworthy, and that the decision should be reversed. The depositions have been gone through and commented on at reasonable length. The Court finds no ground for interference 12 " I see no reason to distrust the finding of the I ower Court 5

"I do not find reason to interfere on behalf of any of the appellants "

'If believed the prosecution evidence is sufficient for the conviction I decline to interfere $

"After hearing the arguments of the pleader for the appellants and examin ing the record, I am of opinion that the Lower Court had ample grounds for convicting the necused of riging I do not consider the sentence to be too Severe $

"The affray was a faction fight between members of two parties with which the society of Dhunshi seems to be split up. There is no good reason for doubting the Magistrate's finding that the two appellants took part in the affray and that the party to which they belonged were the aggressors ?

After reading the evidence and Fearing the learned Counsel for the appel lant and the learned Government Pleader I am convinced that the Deputy Magistrate has decided the case rightly The appeal is dismissed

The following judgment was held not to comply with S 367 I have heard the pleader for the appellant. He has dealt with the points only which are dealt with in the judgment. In my opinion the appellant has been rightly consicted Appeal rejected 14

The following judgment was on the other hand considered to be a sufficient judgment -"I have persued the record and see no reason for interfering with the find ng of the District Magistrate." (The sentence was then reduced in con sideration of the age of the appellants)

It was held that there was no necessity from any point of view for writing one word more than what was written by the Sessions Judge on appeal, the case being a perfectly clear one in which there could be no two different opinions arrived at to

It has also been held that a judgment is not an invalid judgment merely because its form does not exactly comply with all the requirements of S 367 The objection must be a substantial objection. So where the judgment of the Appellate Court showed that the Sessions Judge appreciated the points which the prosecution had to establish and that he had clearly in view the only point for determinat on viz the cred bility of the evidence of the witnesses for the prosecu tion and he expressed himself on that point he sufficiently complied with S 367 in stating that the Magistrate was guite right to believe the evidence. That evidence as set out in the judgment of the Mag strate established the particular offence of which the appellants had been convicted and it was not contended

Uttam Panj Rec 1876 p 9 IIO 289

Farkan v Shomesher I I R 2- Cal 241 See also Cirish Myte O Emp I

I R 23 Cal 420

R 23 Cal 420
'In re Shwappa I L R 14 Bom 11
'Ginsh Myte t O Emp I L R 23 Cal 420
'Dalip Singh t Cro II L R Lah 428
'O I'mp t Prindeh Bhat I I R 19 All 506 (I' B)

nor did it appear, that any other point was raised at the hearing of the appeal or submitted for determination 1

When the judgment of an Appellate Court is in the nature of a stereolyped one, which might answer for any case, it is not in accordance with Si 307 and 424 But where the judgment, though not a long and elaborate one, affords a clear indication that the Court duly considered the evidence, it is a good judgment 2

It would be for those who contend that a judgment is not a proper judgment so as to have "in fact occasioned a failure of justice" (S 537) to show that there were points raised for the determination of the Appellate Court on which no decision was given or reasons stated. The fact that an objection was set out in the petition of appeal does not show that it was necessarily taken in the course of argument before the Appellate Court nor is it the duty of an Appellate Court to do more than consider the arguments raised at the hearing of an appeal An Appellate Court is not competent to remand a case because the Court of first instance has not recorded a proper judgment. Its duty is to decide the case under appeal on its merits. The orders passed in the cases mentioned in the preceding notes were passed by the High Court on revision

Judgment of conviction.

The offence of which the law under which the occused is convicted and the sentence passed should be stated in a judgment S 562 enables n Court inder certain circumstances, instead of passing sentence on a person convicted of any of certain offences to direct that he be released on entering into a b nd to appear and receive sentence when called upon and in the meantime to be of gred hehaviour A special procedure is provided f such Court be a Mag strate of the th m class or a Magistrate of the second class not specially empowered on the hehrif S 167 (1) enables a Court to pass tudement in the alternative whenever In a consiction under the Penal Code it is doubtful under which of two ections or of two norts of the same section the offence falls. This supplements 5 216 which declares that if a single act or sense of acts is of such a nature that I is doubtful which of several offences the facts which can be proved will constitute the accused may be charged with having committed all or any of such effence and any number of such charges may be tried at once or he may be charged in the alternative with having committed some one of the said offences

The would seem to show that the accused should be convicted of certain act constituted up offence when from the nature of such acts it is do biful what offence they constitute. The first illustration to S 236 and cates this -

A is accused of an act which may amount to theft or received the property or criminal breach of trust or cheating. He may be charred with theft reces not stolen property crim not breach of trust and cheat no or he mat he charded with has not committed theft or receiving stolen property or commit breach of trafet or chest no

It cometimes hanners that on the ex dence it is clear that the accused has not mitted some narte lar offense h f if a derbif I what note he has committed constituted that offence. For instance where a girness has made two contra deterviond preconnitable statements and on the evidence at the trial of doubtful which of sich statements is false so as to constitute the offence of intent onally a vinit false en dence. That he is in its of it ch offence is established. by the fact that one of these statements must be felse but it is doubtfit as of these of them constitutes the offence. It has been usual in such a case to enter in a

<sup>1</sup> Robin 441 · O Fmn 1 T R 20 Cal 153

In re Keem ddi 1 Col W & 169
Dumi Senontic Stehne I L R 21 Cal 101 (135)
Tara Chind Singh I I R 32 Cal 1069 separate head of the charge each of such contradictory statements as constituting the offence, and also another head charging him with having committed the offence by reason of his hiving made these two statements one of which must be false and if the evidence does not establish which of these is false, to convict him on the charge in the alternative. The law recognizes such a charge, for a form of such charge is given in Sch. V. No. 28 (11) (4) and that he may be convicted on such a charge is shown by Illustration (b) to S. 236 which runs thus ---

A states on onth before the Magistrate that he saw B hit C with a club Before the Sessions Central A states on onth that B never hit C A may be consisted of intenti pulls army false evidence, although it cannot be proved which of these contradictors statements was false

But still such a case does not strictly speaking come within S 367 (3) if the same offence is committed by different acts. The matter was considered by a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court Coton C J and nine ludges and it was held that a convition on an alternative charge of intentionally giving false evidence on two contradictory and preconcileable statements was good although the jury had not found which of that Iwo statements was false. The High Co rts of Madrast and Allahahada line interpreted the law in the same way. The High Court of Bombass has held that there cannot be an alternative charge in such a case and therefore no consistion on mere control et on. Since that case however 5 236 of the Code of 18 8 and illustration(b) have been enacted so as apparently to render that case obsolete

The offence of intentionally giving false evidence is sometimes aggravated by the intention of the offender leg. Se toa 195 Penal Codel. In sentencing an accused for such an offence on controd ctors and arreconclable statements one of which may constitute the addrevated form I offence it e remark should be raid to S 72 Penal Code which declares that in all cases in which judgment is given that a nerson is guilty of one of several offences seec fied in the filling ment but it is doubtful of which of these offences he is go live the offender shall be our shad for the offence for which the lowest punishment is provided if the same punishment is not provided for at all

Sub section (5).

The responsibility rests with the Sessions Teldre to decide whether there are excumstances of extenuation sufficient to 1 s fy the infliction of a nun-shment less than death. He should not therefore mass sentence of death and refer the case to the High Court with a recommendation to mercy

Heads of the charge to the fury

This must be construed reasonably and mist be held to include such a statement on the part of the Sessions Tidde as will enable the Appellate Court to decide whether the exidence has been eronerly to dibefore the invite the for there has been a misd rection in the charge. The heads of the charge should he written as soon as note the after the act at delient of the charge and when the facts are in the mind of the live? It they need not be reduced to writing before delivery 8 See note to S 207 in which the cases on this subject are set out

<sup>1</sup> O v Mahomed Humayoon (c c) 12 R L R 324 21 W R Ct 70

R + Palans Chatts 4 Mad H C R 51 O Fmp + Ch let I L R 7 All 44 O Fmp v Mucana I L R 18 Bom 37

Mad Rules &c No 66 O v Kasim Shaikh 23 W R Cr 3*

&#x27; Fanindra Mohan Banerji 18 Cal W A 197

Onl H Ct Rules to p 33

Sub section (6)

This is new Some such saving words as 'so far as may be' seem to be required. Order under Ss 118 and 123 (3) are judgments neither of convictor nor requitful. It is only sub-section (1) that can be strettly applied to them

- Sentence of death sentence of death the sentence of death sentence shall direct that he be hanged by the neck tall he is dead
- (2) No sentence of transportation shall specify the place to Sentence of trans which the person sentenced is to be trans portation

  ported

Sentenced to death

Sch V (34) gives the form of a warrant of commitment to ja l under sentence of death

When the Court of Session passes sentence of death the proceedings shall be submitted to the High Court, and the sentence shall not be executed until it so confirmed by the High Court—S 324

When the accused is sentenced to death by a Sessions Judge such Judge shall further inform him of the period within which if he wishes to appeal his appeal should be preferred—S 371 (3) The period is seven days from the difference—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch 11 Art 150

In Madras in order to prevent delay whenever at a Sessions that a present is centenced to death two copies of the Sessions Judge's judgment shall be sent to the Superintendent of the jud for the use of each prisoner sentenced and a prisoner sentenced to death is entitled to obtain a copy of the Judge's letter of reference to the High Court for confirmation of that sentence

Transportation

Except as provided by Act IV of 1898 S 4 in amending S 1248 enasted by Act XVVII of 1898 S 5 the Penal Code does not prescribe transportation for a term of years or otherwise than for 1 fe as the punishment for any offered S 59 however declares that in every case in which an offence is punishable with imprisonment for a term of seven years or upwarfs it shull be competent to the Court which sentences such offender instead of awarding sentence of improonment to sentence the offender to transportation for a term not less thin seven years and not exceeding the term for which by that Code such offender is liable to imprisonment.

The proper form of passing a sentence of transportation for a term of years in accordance with S 59 Penal Code is in sentencing the prisoner to record that under that his such sentence of transportation is awarded instead of imprint under that his such sentence of transportation is awarded instead of imprint the prisoner sentence of transportation is awarded instead of imprint transportation in a warded instead of imprint transportation is awarded instead of imprint transportation in the prisoner sentence of transportation is awarded instead of imprint transportation for a term of years in the prisoner transportation for a term of years in the prisoner transportation for a term of years in the prisoner to record in the prisoner transportation for a term of years in the prisoner to record in accordance with S 59 Penal Code is in sentencing the prisoner to record in accordance with S 59 Penal Code is in sentencing the prisoner to record in accordance with S 59 Penal Code is in sentencing the prisoner to record in accordance with S 59 Penal Code is in sentencing the prisoner to record in accordance with S 59 Penal Code is in sentencing the prisoner to record in accordance with S 59 Penal Code is in sentencing the prisoner to record in accordance with S 59 Penal Code is in sentencing the prisoner transportation in a sentencing the prisoner transportation is a sentencing to the prisoner transportation in the prisoner transportation is a sentencing to the prisoner transportation tr soment simple or rigorous as the case may be (Calcutti High Court Roller).

The Governor-General in Council is empowered to appoint places in In-lin to which persons sentenced to transportation may be sent and its the duty of the Local Government to make arrangements for the removal of make arrangements for the removal of make arrangements.

The Court passing in sentence of transportation shall forthwith forward is warrant to the jul in which the person so sentenced let—(5.3%). The place which he is to be transported is not to be specified in the sentence or wards. The Governor-General in Contact may from time to time appoint places and Pittlish Inda to which persons sentenced to transportation shall be sent the Local Government or some officer duly authorised on this behalf by the Local Government shall give orders for the removal of such persons. The places so appointed except when sentence of transportation is passed on a present already undergoing transportation under a sentence previously passed for another offence. See note to S 383 for the orders so passed

Src 369.

369. Save as otherwise provided by this Code or by any court not to alter other law for the time heing in force or, in the light Court established by Royal Charter, by the Letters Patent of such High Court, no Court when it has signed its judgment, shall alter or review the same, except to correct a clernal error.

This section has been amended (Act No AVIII of 1923 S 101), and it is now clear that a High Court has no inherent right to alter or review its judgment, it can only do so when the law or its Letters Patent so permit

Save as otherwise provided

Under S 395, which is one of the exceptions to the rule laid down in S 369 a sentence of whipping may be revised if it cannot be executed, either wholly or partially, and the Court may, at its discretion, either remit such sentence, or in lieu thereof, or in lieu of so much of the sentence of whipping as was not executed, sentence the offender to imprisonment for any term not exceeding twelve months or to fine not exceeding five hundred rupees which may be in addition to any other sentence for the same offence

S 484, which is another exception to S 369, relates to the discharge of one convicted summarily of contempt of Court, and the remission of the punishment awarded, on his submission to the order or requisition of the Court, or an apology made to its satisfaction. See also S  $38^2$

As another instance of an alteration of a sentence may be added the case of a positful offender, a boy who has been convicted of any offence punishable with transportation and imprisonment, and who, at the time of such conviction, was under fifteen years of ags. S to of the Reformatory Schools' Act (VIII of 1857), declares that the officer in charge of a prison in which a youthful offender is confined, in execution of a sentence of imprisonment, may bring him, it he has not intrained the age of fifteen years, before the District Magistrate within whose jurisdiction such prison is situate, and offer inquiry into the question of his age, and ifter taking such evidence (if any) as may be deemed increasily as may be (S ii) and if such youthful offender appears to the Magistrate to be a proper person to be an inmate of a Reformatory School, he may direct that instead of undergoing the residue of instanctions of the same immatuous as are preservible by under S 8 that is for a period which shall be subject to the same immatuous as are preservible by under S 8 that is for a period which shall be subject to the same immatuous as are preservible by under S 8 that is for a period which shall be subject to the same immatuous as are preservible by or under S 8 that is for a period which shall not be less than three or more than seven years)—S 10

High Court

Clause 26 of the Letters Patent of the Culcutta Madras and Bombay High Courts runs as follows

And we do further ordain that on such point or points of law being so reserved as aforesaid, or on its being critified by the said Advocate General that, in his judgment there is an error in the decision of a point or points of law decided by the Court of original criminal jurisdiction, or that a point or points of law which his or his been decided by the said Court shall be further considered the said light Court shall have full power and authority to review the cive, or such part of it as may be necessary and finally determine such of original jurisdiction, and to pass such judgment and sentence as to the said High Court shall seem right "

Clause 19 of the Letters Patent of the Allahabad, Patna and Lahore Hgh Courts, and C'ause 26 of the Rangoon Letters Patent, give a similar power of review in cases in which a point of law is reserved

The High Court can under S 382 order the execution of a sentence of death passed on a woman found to be pregnant to be postponed and may commutthe sentence to transportation for life

The Code of 1861 was silent on this subject. The matter was considered in 1866 by a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court, and it was held that where a judgment has been recorded, no Criminal Court can review it. If an erroneous judgment has been delivered the proper course is to apply to the Local Government for relief 1 S 464 of the Code of 1872 accordingly declared that when a judgment or final order has been signed by the Judges in open Court at the time of pronouncing it it cannot be reviewed by the Court which gives such judgment or order an exception was, however, made by the Code of 1882 and re-enacted by S 369 of this Code But it has nevertheless been held that the law does not confer on a High Court the power to review its own judgment in criminal case 2

A judgment of the High Court is not complete until it is sealed in accord ance with its rules and up to that time it may be altered by the Judge or Judge concerned and where no judgment has been pronounced and a rule granted for purposes of Revision has been discharged in default of appearance the Hgb Court is competent to consider the case 4

The High Court has no power to review an order passed in its criminal appellate jurisdiction rejecting an appeal summarily, or an order dismissing an application for revision made by an accused person *

The only remedy against any error in an order passed in appeal by a Bench of the High Court is by petition to the Local Government, the authority with whom alone rests the discretion either of executing the law or of commuting the

The reservation expressed in S 369 is sufficiently accounted for be the power of review given to the High Court by S 434, in a trial held in exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction, when a point of law has been received:

Other Courts

The term judgment as used in this Chapter is shown by S 367 to mean cally a judgment of consistion or acquitted. It does not include an order of discharge of ir order dismissing a complaint 5 369 is therefore no bar nit order by a Magistrate taking fresh proceedings in a case in which the actual has been discharged or the complaint has been dismissed. It has board teen held by Ranide, J, that the principle laid down by S 359 in respect of

<sup>1</sup> Q r Godai Raout B L R 446 (Supp Vol.) (s.c.) 5 W R Cr 61 L R 11 Cr 20 Emp r Durşi Charan I L R 7 All 672 In re Gibbons I L R 14 Cr 0 Emp r Durşi Charan I L R 7 All 672 In re Gibbons I L R 46 Mid 141 O Emp r 1 Cox I I R 16 Mid 142 O Emp r Laht Twan I L R 21 All 177 Fmp r Cobind Sahal I L R

<sup>38</sup> All 134

Hibbitty Molan Roy so Cal L J 80

Rajab Ah: Fmp I L R 46 Cai 60.

Fmp c Gobul Salas I R 3 Sali 114

Mohun Albe Sun Bom II Ct Sejt 12 18-95

O Emp I Pox I I R to Bom 176 Q Imp v Duga Chama I L R

Darit Nath Monlutt Beni Midhub | I R 25 Cal 652 (666) (c c) 46 W \ 45 (666) Fr Persister J Mir Abwal Hossen i Mahomel Askin I I | Cal 26 Cal W X 633 per Mariras C J and Persister J judgments applies to final orders which are of the nature of judgments, and this was applied to an order refusing to send to a Foreign State property seazed in execution of a search warrant, which was reseased by the Magistrate and withdrawn?

After a judgment his been signed, it cannot be altered. On finding that he has passed an illegal sentence, a Vagistrate may, if the prisoner is suffering projudice direct the judic to suspend execution and keep the prisoner in detention until the orders of the High Court are received on his reference, but the period of such detention should not exceed that of the imprisonment avoraded:

Execution of a sentence of whipping which could not be passed should be suspended and reference made to the High Court for revision 3

But any officer in charge of a prison doubting the legality of any warrant sent to him for execution or the competency of the person whose official seal and spirature are affired thereto to pass the sentence and issue such warrant shall refer the matter to the Local Government by whose order on the cass such officer and all other public officers shall be guided as to the future disposal of the prisoner—Prisoner's Act III of 1900 S 17

After pronouncing judgment a Sessions Judge cannot after the date from which the sentence is to run as the sentence is a part of the judgment and S 399 forbids any alteration of a judgment after it has been signed 4

Where an accused person was committed to the Sessions Court on two charges, and was convicted and sentenced on the first charge and the trial then went on the second charge and another sentence was prassed it was held that the subsequent proceedings on the second charge were invalid for when judgment was pronounced on the first charge the trial was complete and the judgment could not be altered or reviewed.

But under S 148 (3) a Magistrate who makes an order under S 145 will out any direction as to costs can order the same subsequently and such order is not an alteration or review within the meaning of S 369 4

It has been held by the Madras High Court that when an appeal has been rejected in consequence of the non appearance of the appellant's pleader, and an adequate excuse was subsequently given to the satisfaction of the Court it was competent to the Court to re heir the appeal. It was however added that such a power should be sparnight used? But this case his been considered and disapproved by the Bombay High Court. The order of the Sessions Judge in zeporal thus passed acquisiting the appellant was however not set aside on reusion as there was no reason for holding that it was wrong on the merits and no motion had been made by the Government to set it aside.

The same considerations which prevent a Court from altering or reviewing a judgment after it has been signed upply equalty to all final orders such as in order refusing to send to a Folitical Agent books seized under a warrant saud under S of

In re Hanlal Huch IIR 22 Bom 949
Inne Tukaram Ramjee Bom H Ct Aug 29 1878
O v Poran Mal W R Cr 49 Mad H Ct Pro Nov 13 1873 Weir 983

f C R App vvix
3 following Mahomed Mashim I L

S) per Ranade J but see contra Cal 652 (660) (s c) 5 Cal 11 \

Instead of recording a judgment in manner hereinbefore provided, a Presidency Magistrate shall Presidency second the following particulars trate's judgment

(a) the senal number of the ease:

(b) the date of the commission of the offence,

(c) the name of the complainant (if any),

(d) the name of the accused person, and (except in the case of an European British subject) his parentage and residence,

(e) the offence complained of or proved,

(f) the plea of the accused and his examination (if any),

(q) the final order.

(h) the date of such order, and

(1) in all cases in which the Magistrate inflicts imprison ment, or fine exceeding two hundred rupees, or both a brief statement of the reasons for the con viction

An appeal lies to the High Court against a sentence passed by a Pres denot Magistrate of imprisonment for a term exceeding six months or of fine exceeding ing two hundred rupees (S 411) and probably for this reason a brief statement of the reasons for such a conviction is necessary S 162 moreover require that, in such a case the Presidency Magistrate shall either tale down the evidence of the witnesses with his own hand or cause it to be taken down in writing from his dictation in open Court. All esidence so taken shall be sand hy the Vigistrate and shill form part of the record Evidence shall ordinarily recorded in the form of a narrative, but the Magistrate may in his discrete a tale diwn reuse to be talen down any particular question or answer

It is not sufficient for a Presidency Magistrate to record that the offence is proved for that mrs necessarily be inferred to be his opinion from the fall that he has convicted the iccised. The law contemplates something further 1

Where the note of the evidence taken showed no evidence upon al chile accused could have been legally convicted and there was no statement of art valid reason on which the constant could be supported the central of the constant could be supported the central of the constant consistion" in such a manner that the High Court on revision min whether there were sufficient materials before him to support the consisting

When the record of any proceeding of a Presidency Magistrate is called it by the High Court on Revision the Magistrate may submit with the record statement setting forth the grounds of his decision or order and any facts all he thinks material to the he thinks material to the issue and the Court shall consider such statement before overruling or setting uside the said decision or order-(5 411)

But S 441 iloes not abrogate the terms of S 263 or S 370, though the a Bench of Presidence Majestrates submitted their reasons under 5 441, excompliance with S 370 (i) was no ground for interference

*Nathbur Ghose r. Provash Chandra I. I. R. 27 Cal. 461 (< C) 4 Cal. W. A. *
In re Panjah Singh. I. L. R. 6 Cal. 559 In re Nacoob. I. I. R. 13 Cal. 573 Framus I. R. 13 Cal. 574 Province I Decrease I Bussan. I. I. R. 46 Mad. 253

A Presidence Magistrate man, if he thinks fit, refer for the opinion of the High Court any question of Ira. which arises in the hearing of any case pending before him, or may give judgment in such a case subject to the decision of the High Court on such reference, and, pending such decision, may either commit the accused to jud, or release him on buil to appear for judgment when called upon - S 433

371 (1) On the application of the accused, a copy of the judgment, or, when he so desires, a translation Copy of judgment, etc to be given to accused on anylicain his own language, if practicable, or in the language of the Court, shall be given to him without delay Such copy shall, in any case

other than a summons-case, be given free of cost

(2) In trials by jury in a Court of Session, a copy of the heads of the charge to the jury shall, on the application of the accused, be given to him without delay and free of cost

(3) When the accused is sentenced to death by a Sessions Judge, such Judge shall further inform him of sararest to de t the period within which, if he wishes to

appeal, his appeal should be preferred

In exercise of the powers conferred by $ 3, of the Court Lees Act (VII of 1870), the Governor-General in Council has remitted the fees chargeable on a copy or translation of a judgment in a case other than a summons-case, and a copt of the judge's charge to the jury given under $ 371 to an accused person, and also of a judgment in a summons case when the accused to whom It is given is in jail

See $ 548 and note on the same subject

An application for a copy of a judgment or order, or the heads of the Judge's chaige to the jury, must be made on a paper hearing a stamp of one anna - Court Fees Act, 1870, Seh II, Art 1 (a)

In order to aid Appellate Courts in determining whether appeals are barred by limitation, every Cr min il Court shill cause to be endorsed on every copy of a judgment, order or charge to a jury furnished under S 371-The date on which the copy was applied for

The date on which it was ready for delivery

The date on which it was delivered

The Sessions Judge or officer in charge of the Jul should affix his signature to the application or to the envelope in which it is transmitted. This will afford sufficient proof that the application really emanates from the person sentenced Every reasonable facility consistent with the requirements of the law should be given to prisoners who consider that thes have been impush de are desirous of appealing to a superior Court (Mad H Ct Rules)

To prevent un authorised alternts us being made the dates should be written in fetters in a distinct handwriting and each endorsement shall be signed by some responsible officer of the Court on the date to which it refers (Born Rules)

Sub section (3)

The period within which an appeal should be preferred from a sentence of death passed by a Sessions Judge is seven days from the date of the sentence, Limitation Act, 1877, Sch 11, Art 150

5 721B of the repealed Code of 1872, enacted by Act VI of 1875, S 22 required the Sessions Judge in such case to delay the transmission of the relet ence to High Court for a reasonable time, not exceeding seven days so as to allow the appeal and the reference being made at the same time. This has not been re enacted in the present Code

In every sessions division, in which the Court of Session and the office of the District Magistrate are located at one and the same station, one of the clerks of the District Magistrate's office shall be permitted to take copies of the judgment of the Sessions Court (for communication to the committing officers) in trials which have resulted in the acquittal of the accused. In the sessions divisions of Ganjam, Chingleput and North Malabar, where the Sessions Courts are not so located copies of such judgments may be made by the copyist-establishment attached to such Court and paid for by the District Magistrate (Vac Govt Order)

The original judgment shall be filed with the record of 372 proceedings, and, where the original is re-Judgment when to corded in a different language from that of the be tra islated Court, and the accused so requires, a translation thereof into the language of the Court shall he added to such record.

In cases tried by the Court of Ses Session sion, the Court shall forward a copy of its to send capy of find finding and sentence (if any) to the District ing and sentences to Distin A l'astrate Magistrate within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the trial was held.

At the close of each session, the Sessions Judge should return to the District Magistrate the calendar of accused persons submitted by him, safet filling up col 9 so as to show the orders of the Court of Session passed with respect to each person entered in it (Cal H Ct Rules) At the conclusion of every trial, the Court of Session shall communicate

the result to the committing officer for his information (Bom rule) Sessions Judges should give every facility to Magistrates and District

Superintendents of Police for inspecting the records of cases in their Courts and for the preparation of copies by a clerk sent by the District Magnitude care being taken that the records are not removed from the Judges office who the Divisional Commissioner requires the record of a crim nal trial in order to satisfy himself whether Government should be moved to prefer an asked against an original or appellate judgment of acquittal, the Sessions Judge should comp'y with the requisition (Cal H Ct Rules)

CHAPTER XXVII

OF THE SUBMISSION OF SPATENCES FOR CONFIRMATION

374. When the Court of Session preses sentence of death, the proceedings shall be submitted to the High to the form of Session preses sentence of death, the proceedings shall be submitted to the High Court, and the sentence shall not be executed unless it is confirmed by the High Court.

When a Court of Session passes a sentence of death, the Sessions Judge shall further inform the person so sentenced of the person (seven days from the date of sentence Art 150 of Sch 11 of the Limitation Act) within which, if he wishes to appeal, his appeal should be preferred [S 371 (3)], and he should record that he has so informed the presoner

Sch V, No 34, provides a special form of warrant of commitment to jult on the passing of a sentence of death by a Sessions Court subject to confirmation of the High Court

The particulars of the evidence and the Judge's remarks should be embodied in a letter to the Registrar, and an English translation of the whole of the evidence should be submitted i

In the United Provinces, the proceedings should be submitted to the High Court with a letter in the form prescribed

are submitted, the High Court thinks that a further inquiry to be made or additional evidence to be taken make such inquiry or taken such inquiry or taken such inquiry or take such evidence to be taken upon, any point bearing upon the guilt or innocence of the convicted person, it may make such inquiry or take such evidence itself, or direct it to be made or taken by the Court of Session

(2) Such inquiry shall not be made, nor shall such evidence be taken, in the presence of jurors or assessors, and, unless the High Court otherwise directs, the presence of the convicted person may be dispensed with when the same is made or taken

(3) When the inquiry and the evidence (if any) are not made and taken by the High Court, the result of such inquiry and the evidence shall be certified to such Court.

This section is similar in its terms to S 428 relating to appeals which has been extended by S 439 to cases before the High Court on revision

The Sessions Judge will instruct the Government Pleader to appear on better that an appointment of an Advocate or Vakul on behalf of the procused is dear able, he has been empowered to engage the requisite professional assistance (Mad Rules)

<sup>1</sup> Mad H Ct, Pro Aug 5 16 1882

CHAP AXVI 5ECs 372, 373

5 721B of the repealed Code of 1872, enacted by Act XI of 1875, S 22, required the Sessions Judge in such case to delay the transmission of the reference to High Court for a reasonable time, not exceeding seven days, so as to allow the appeal and the reference being made at the same time. This has not been re-enacted in the present Code. In every sessions division, in which the Court of Session and the office of the District Magistrate are located at one and the same station, one of the clerks of the District Magistrate's office shall be permitted to take copies of the judgment of the Sessions Court (for communication to the committing officers) in trials which have resulted in the acquittal of the accused. In the sessions divisions of Ganjam, Chingleput and North Malabar, where the Sessions Courts are not so located, copies of such judgments may be made by the copyist-estab lishment attached to such Court and paid for by the District Magistrate (Vad Govt Order).

872. The original judgment shall be filed with the record of proceedings, and, where the original is re-Judgment when to corded in a different language from that of the be translated Court, and the accused so requires, a translation thereof into the language of the Court shall be added to such record.

373. In cases tried by the Court of Session, the Court shall forward a copy of its Session to send copy of findfinding and sentence (if any) to the District ing and sentences to Magistrate within the local limits of whose District with the contracts jurisdiction the trial was held.

At the close of each session, the Sessions Judge should return to the District Magistrate the calendar of accused persons submitted by him, after filling up col 9, so as to show the orders of the Court of Session passed with respect to each person entered in it (Cal H Ct Rules)

At the conclusion of every trial, the Court of Session shall communicate the result to the committing officer for his information (Bom rule)

Sessions Judges should give every facility to Magistrates and District Superintendents of Police for inspecting the records of cases in their Courts and for the preparation of copies by a clerk sent by the District Magistrate care being taken that the records are not removed from the Judges office the Divisional Commissioner requires the record of a enimal trial in order to satisfy himself whether Government should be moved to prefer an appear against an original or appellate judgment of acquittal, the Sessions Judge should comp's with the requisition (Cal II Ct Rules)

CHAPTER XXVII

OF THE SUBMISSION OF SINTLACLS FOR CONFIRMATION

374 When the Court of Session passes sentence of death, sentence of death, the proceedings shall be submitted to the High Court, and the sentence shall not be executed unless it is confirmed by the High Court

When a Court of Session passes a sentence of death, it e Sessions Judge shall further inform the person so sentenced of the person (seven days from the date of sentence Art 150 of Sch 11 of the Limitation Act) within which, if he wakes to appeal this appeal should be preferred [S 371 (3)], and he should record that he has so informed the presoner

Sch V, No 34 provides a special form of warrant of commitment to julion the passing of a centence of death by a Sessions Court subject to confirmation of the High Court

The particulars of the evidence and the Judge's remarks should be embodied in a letter to the Registrar and an English translation of the whole of the evidence should be submitted.

In the United Provinces the proceedings should be submitted to the High Court with a letter in the form prescribed

375 (1) If, when such proceedings are submitted, the High Court thinks that a further inquiry to be made or additional staken upon, any point bearing upon the guilt evidence to be taken or innocence of the convicted person, it may make such inquiry or take such evidence itself, or direct it to be made or taken by the Court of Session

(2) Such inquiry shall not be made, nor shall such evidence taken, in the presence of juriors or assessors, and, unless the High Court otherwise directs, the piesence of the convicted person may be dispensed with when the same is made or taken (3) When the inquiry and the evidence (if any) are not made and taken by the High Court, the result of such inquiry and the evidence shall be certified to such Court

This section is similar in its terms to 5 428 relating to appeals which has been extended by S 439 to cases before the High Court on revision

The Sessions Judge will instruct the Government Pleader to appear on behalf of the prosecution where he may desire it, and, when he may consider that an appointment of an Advocate or Vakid on behalf of the accused is desirable he has been empowered to engage the requisite professional assistance (Mad Rules)

<sup>1</sup> Mad H Ct Pro Aug 5 16 1882

HYZZ TAHS SEC- 376 378

Power of High Court to confirm sentence or annul conviction

376 In any case submitted under sec tion 374, whether tried with the aid of assessors or by jury, the High Court-

(a) may confirm the sentence, or pass any other sentence warranted by law, or (b) may annul the conviction, and convict the accused of any offence of which the Sessions Court might have convicted him, or order a new trial on the same or an amended charge, or

(c) may acquit the accused person

Provided that no older of confirmation shall be made under this section until the period allowed for preferring an appeal hay expired, or, if an appeal is presented within such period, until such appeal is disposed of

In a case submitted for confirmation of a sentence of death, the High Court is bound to bo into the fiets although the consiction was by the serdict of ? jury, and it may equit the prisener, if he has been convicted on evidence which is insufficent 1 ormerly there convicted at the same trial, who apperiod against sentences of transportation for life were not entitled to appeal except on a point of law (S 416), and the High Court could not on their appeals con sider the findings of fact 3

But the law has now been changed by the amendment of S 418, and every person convicted in the case may appeal on a matter of fact as well as a matte of law

Confirmat on or new sentence to o signed by two Judges

377 In every case so submitted, the confirmation of the sentence, or any new sentence or order passed by the High Court, shall, when such Court consists of two or more Judges, he made, passed and signed by at least two of them.

378 When any such case is heard before a Bench of Judges and such Judges are equally divided in opinion, I rocedure in case the case with their opinions thereon, shall be of difference of opi laid before another Judge, and such Judge, ncin

after such hearing as he thinks fit, shall deliver his opinion, and the judgment or order shall tollow such opinion

The same provision is made by S 423 for a similar contingency on the hearing of an appeal and 5 479 has been applied by 5 439 to cases heard on reas on

Where a case has been referred to a third Judge at is the duty of that Judge to express and act upon the opinion at which he has definitely arrived and act necessarily to hold that the opinion of one Judge in favour of an acquital state prevail 4

379 In cases submitted by the Court of Session to the High Court for the confirmation of a sentence Procedure in cases of death, the proper officer of the High Court submitted to High Court for confirma-shall without delay after the order of confirmation or other order has been made by the High Court, send a copy of the order under the seal of the High Court and attested with his official signature to the Court of Session

S 38t declares the course to be 1 then In the Sessions Judge on receipt of the order made by the High Court The order of the High Court should within twenty-four hours of its receipt be summunicated to the Superintendent of the Jail in which the prisoner is confined to be mide known to him (Mad Rules)

Where proceedings are submitted to a Magistrate of the first class or a Subdivisional Magistrate as Procedure in cases submitted by Magis-trate not empowered provided by section 562 such Magistrate may to act under section thereinon pass such sentence of make such 562 order as he might have passed or made if the case had originally been heard by him and if he thinks further inquiry or additional evidence on any point to be necessary, he may make such mourry or take such evidence himself, or direct such enquity or exidence to be made or taken

It supplements S 562 under which a Vingistrate of the first class or a Magistrate of the second class spendly empowered in this behalf may instead of sentencing a person c next d for the first time of any of certain specified offences to minishment direct that he be released on entering into a bond to appear and receiv sentence when called upon within a specified time not exceed ing three years and in the meantime keep the peace and he of good behaviour In such a case before a Magistrate who is not competent to male such an order, he may submit his proceedings to a competent Magistrate who will deal with the case under 5 380 5 380 seems to be out of place in this Chapter

CHAPTER XXXIII

Or Execution

When a sentence of death passed by a Court of Ses-381 sion is submitted to the High Court for con-Execution of order furnation such Court of Session shall, on repassed under section 376 ceiving the order of confirmation or other order of the High Court thereon, cause such order to be carried into effect by issuing a warrant or taking such other steps as may be necessary

If the sentence of death is confirmed, a warrint in the form given in Sch. V. (15) should be issued to the jailor. There should be a separate warrant for each person so sentenced A copy of such warrant should be sent at the same time to the District Magistrate for his information 1

Execution of sentence of death

The date for the execution of a sentence of death must be fixed by the Sessions Judge and stated in the warrant issued to the Superintendent of the ja!

In Brygal, it has been ordered that such a warrant shall fix a time for exe cution of the sentence at an interval rot less than fourteen or more than twenty one days from date of issue of the warrant " If a person under sentence of death shows symptoms of insanity which in the opinion of the Medical officer, are rot feigned or require observation report should at once be made to Government execution being deferred until receipt of the orders on that report 5

Superinterdents or 1 eepers of certain jails have been empowered under let V of 1893 to carry into execution sentences of death passed by certain specifed officers having jurisdiction within the Tributary Mehals of Orisea 4

In Madras at has been ordered by Government that a sentence of death shall not be carried into execution by the officer in charge of a jail until the sixteen h day after the receipt from the Court of Session of the warrant issued under $ 181 after confirmation of such sentence by the High Court and that in cases from the Ganjam Vizagapatam and Canara districts such sentence shall not be carried into execution until the twenty second day after the said date?

In Bounay it has been ordered that the warrant addressed in the julier shall specify that the execution is not to be earned out until a day therein named which shall be at least fourteen days from the date of the order of confirmat on of sentence 4

In the United Provinces unless it may be otherwise specially directed in the order of confirmation, the date fixed by the Session Court in its marrant for the execution of a sentence of death confirmed by the High Court shall not be less than fourteen or more than twenty one days from the date of the seed of such warrant. And when the date so fixed has expired in consequence of the poet ponement of execution by an order of Government, and the warrant is returned to the Court with a certificate to that effect, the judge si all if the Government has refused to interfere with the execution of the sentence of death issue warrant in the same form as before fixing another date for the execution when shall not be more than seven days from the date of the issue of such narrant in the Pasian the date for execution of a sentence of death should be fact not less than fourteen or more than twenty-one days from the date of the ice of of the warrant?

Similar orders have been issued by the Local Government of Assault

When the officer in charge of a jul is a Civil Singeon or Chief Veder Officer no Magistrate need attend to witness execution of a sentence of death unless the Commissioner or Magistrate of the District should think it describe but when the officer in charge of the jul is of no special rank the Mag dre or n subordinate deputed by him should be present at the execution 10

<sup>1</sup> All Rules to

* Cal II Ct Rules &c

* Beng Jail Rules " Cal Gaz 1804 Part I p 750 Wan Vol II p 111

Govt Order May 23 1873 Bom H Ct Cir

* All Rules *c

Pani Bk Cir 10 Bene Covt Cir.

A Magistrate of the first class or Superintendent or Assistant District Superintendent of Police should be present at the execution, and should countersign the return of execution to the Court of Session 1

Notice of the day fixed for execution should be sent by the Superintendent of the jail to the District Virgistrate on the previous day, so that he may himself be present or appoint a Joint Magistrate or Assistant Magistrate to be present Warrants for the execution of capital sentences should be addressed to the officer in charge of the jul, but it is necessary that the execution should be superintended by the Vingistrate or some Magisternal Officer deputed by him for that purpose The officer in charge of the jail should communicate with the Magistrate of the district and take his orders as to details

In exercise of powers under the Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act (VVI of 1879) the following orders have been passed -If sentence of death be passed by a British Court beyond the limits of British India, and such Court should consider that there is no suitable place for the confinement of the prisoner under such sentence or that there are no suitable appliances for his execution in a decent and humane manner it shall I sue its warrant for execution of such sentence to the Superintendent or I ceper of a jail in British Index prescribing, as nearly as may be, the place in which execution of such sentence is to be carried out jail shall be such as the Governor General in Council, or the Local Government authorized in that behalf, may by general or special order direct. A special form of narrant is prescribed

Any other sentence

Sch V (16) gives the form of warrant after commutation of sentence of death

If a woman sentenced to death is found to be pregnant, the High Court shall order the execution Postponement of capital sentence of the sentence to be postponed, and may, if it on pregnant woman thinks fit, commute the sentence to transportation for life

This is an instance of a case contemplated by S 369 in which the High Court, after signing or passing judgment, may alter or review the same

In such a ease, the Sessions Judge is competent only to direct postponement of the execution of the sentence until further orders of the High Court The Madras High Court limited the postponement of execution of sentence of death, until such time after the delivery of the woman as was necessary to obtain its further orders. The Court further directed the delivery of the woman to be reported with the least possible delay, and to be accompanied with a statement of the opinion of the medical officer of the tail as to the date on which the prisoner would be able to undergo the sentence passed on her

Sch V (16) gives the form of marrant after a commutation of sentence of death

Where the accused is sentenced to transportation or Execution of sen tences of transporta tion or imprisonment imprisonment in cases other than those provided for by section 381, the Court passing the sentence shall forthwith forward a warrant in other cases to the pul in which he is, or is to be, confined, and, unless the accused is already confined in such fail, shall forward him to such jail with the warrant

Bom Govt Order

562

CHAP XXVIII Sec 383

Sch V (29) gives the form of a warrant of commitment on a sentence of imprisonment passed by a Magistrate

A separate warrant shall be assued in respect of each person

No sentence of transportation shall specify the place to which the person is to be transported -S 368 (2)

The Madras High Court has issued the following orders on this subject All warrants or orders addressed to Officers in charge of Central or District Jails by Judicial or Magisterial officers shall, whenever practicable, be prepared in the English Madras language In every case in which two or more persons are jointly charged and convicted of an offence before a Court of Session or Magistrate it shall be necessary to issue a separate warrant or order for the commitment to prison of each person under the sertence passed upon him Orders or warrants directing the release of a prisoner should be addressed to the offcer in charge of the rul and be sent direct to him When the prisoner is requitted after trial by a Sessions Court, it is not necessary to send a form of warrant of release to the Superintendent of the Jal. It has been ordered by the CALCUTTA HIGH COURT that a Register of Warrants in the following form shall be kept by Sessions Judges -

Register of Warrants
1	2	3	4	5	6
Name of pri soner,	Date of sen tence	Term of 1m prisonment	Date on which the imprisonment would ordinarily terminate	Date on which the warrant is returned as executed by the jail authorities	REMARKS

The following rules are in force in Bombay -The Court which passes sentence of transportation or imprisonment shall endorse on the back of the warrant with which it forwards

Bombay the convect to jail the following particulars -

Age of the convict His caste

Place of residence

Opinion of the assessors (where the trial has been conducted with the aid of 744643015) If at the trail any pressous ennert on has been established the following particulars shall also be given -

Name of the offence of which the consist was presiously consisted

Sentence passed upon him Date of said sentence

Name and designation of traing authority

Under the Prisoners Act, III of 1900 S 32, the Local Government may appoint places within the Province to which persons under sentence of tack şe tintî n shali ke sent

384 Every warrant for the execution of a sentence of Direction of war- imprisonment shall be directed to the officer rant for execution in charge of the jail or other place in which the prisoner is, or is to be, confined

Warrant with whom to be lodged 385 When the prisoner is to be confined in a jul, the warrant shall be lodged with the julior

A separate warrant shall be issued in respect of each person

The following provisions of the Prisoners Act, III of 1900 are relevant—Officers in charge of prisons outs de presidency towns are competent to give effect to any sentence or order or warrant for the detention of any person passed or issued by any Court or tribunal acting under the authority of the Local Government—S is

A narrant under the official signature of such Court or tribunal shall be sufficient authority for holding any prisoner in confinement, or sending any prisoner for transportation in pursuance of the sentence passed upon him —S if

Any officer in charge of a muson doubting the legality of any warrant sent to him for execution or the competency of the person whose official seal and signature are affired thereto to pass the sentence and issue such warrant, shall refer the matter to the Local Government, by whose order on the case such officer and all other public officers shall be guided as to the future disposal of the presence.

Pending any such reference the prisoner shall be detained in such manner and with such restrictions or mit gat one as may be specified in the warrant—S 17

386 (1) Whenever an offender has heen sentenced to pay a fine the Court passing the sentence may take action for the recovery of the fine in either or both of the following ways that is to say.

it may-

(a) issue a warrant for the levy of the amount by attachment and sale of any moverble property belonging to the offender,

(b) issue a warrant to the Collector of the District authorising him to realise the amount by execution according to civil process against the moveable or ammoveable property or both of the defaulter

Provided that if the sentence directs that in default of payment of the fine the offender shall be imprisoned, and if such offender has undergone the whole of such imprisonment in default, no Court shall issue such warrant inless for special reasons to be recorded in writing it considers it necessary to do so

(2) The Local Government may make rules regulating the manner in which warrants under sub-section (1), clause (a), are to be executed and for the summary determination of any claims made by any person other than the offender in respect of any property attached in execution of such warrant.

(3) Where the Courts issue a warrant to the Collector under sub-section (1), clause (b), such warrant shall be deemed to be a deeree, and the Collector to be the decree-holder, within the meaning of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and the nearest Civil Court by which any deeree for a like amount could be executed shall, for the purposes of the said Code, be deemed to be the Court which passed the decree, and all the provisions of that Code as to execution of decrees shall apply accordingly

Provided that no such warrant shall be executed by the arrest or detention in prison of the offender

This section has been considerable elaborated by Act to VIII of 17 S 102 The doubts as to whether a fine could be levied by proceeding again the immoveable property of the offender, either before or after his death are t. " set at rest

The Calcutta High Court held, that although under the Code of Crimal Procedure only moveable property belonging to the offender is liable in satisfaction of a fine under the terms of S 70 of the Penal Code, after his death any perper't which would be legally liable for his debts would be liable to the payment of a fine remaining unpoid at his death the restriction as to the distress and sale to moveable property continuing only during the life time of the offerder! To Bombay High Court and the Punjab Chief Court declined to follow this h 12-5 that the law provided for the distress and sale of moveable property cals and there was no way by which immoveable property could be made liable for a fine But though the liability of immoveable property belonging to a person sentenced to fine to satisfy the sentence might arise after his death if the feacould not be realised by distress under the Code of Criminal Procedure it mg be realised by suit 5

The lan non lays down that the Court may (a) issue a warrant for the attachment and sale of the moveable property of the offerder, or (b) isre warrant to the Collector authorising him to realise the amount of the fee to execution according to the process against the moveable or immoves of the offender or both and in such case the Collector will proceed as if he will be botter of the offender of the collector will proceed as if he will be botter of the collector will proceed as if he will be botter of the collector will proceed as if he will be botter of the collector will proceed as if he will be botter of the collector will proceed as if he will be botter of the collector will proceed as if he will be botter of the collector will proceed as if he will be botter or the collector will be a supplied to the collector the holder of a decree for the amount and the decree can be executed by are of the methods had down by the Code of Caul Procedure (see Act 1 of 100 Part II, and the First Schedule Order VII) save that execution shall not be had by the arrest or detention in prison of the offender (See Order XI Rules 30-31 and 3-40) Where the offender has undergone the whole of the imprisonment awarded in default of parment a warrant for the real salor of the fine will not be issued except for special reasons to be recorded in writing

The Local Government s given power to make rules as to the ruserer! which warrants for the attachment and sale of moveable property are in the cuted and f r the settlement of claures to the property attached preferred by che parties

Warrant

There should be no delay in the leng of a fine. It should not be deferred an the result of an appeal is known nor can the appellate Court order a loant Co to aboth a from usung a warrant. But if the sentence is one of fee or to a ser ence of imprison ment on default of pass int I is been passed the Court may suspend execute 1 of it sentence if imprisonment in I release the offender on terms as set out in S. se.

<sup>14</sup>W R / Cr Let No 4/8

Wreat le properts. I il mean pr perts of evers description except immoveable

Property—General Chases Act (A of 1807) $ 3 (34)

Immoreable property shall include land benefits to arise out of land and there attached to the earth of permanenth fastened to anothing attached to the contin-It I s 1 (s).

No distress under the Code shall be deemed unlawful nor shall any person in lengths same be deemed a trispasser on account of any defect or want of form in the same as consistent with of distress or other proceedings relating thereto—S css

387 A warrant assert under section 386, sub-section (1)

Effect of such war clause (a) by any Court may be executed with in the local limits of the jurisdiction of such court and it shall authorise the attractment and sale of any such property without such limits when endorsed by the Di trut Millistrate or Cluef Presidency Magistrate within the local limits of who courisdiction such property is found

See S 5.28 as t the protection given to a person malling a distress in execution of warr not to realize a fine

- 388 (1) When an offender has been sentenced to fine only and to imprisonment in default of payment of the fine and the fine as not paid forthwith the Court may—
- (a) order that the fine shall be parable either in full on or before a date not more than thirth data from the date of the order, or in two or three instalments of which the first shall be payable on or before a date not more than thirth data from the date of the order and the other or others at an interval or at intervals as the case may be of not more than thirth days and
- (b) suspend the execution of the sentence of imprisonment and release the offender on the execution by the offender of a bond with or without sureties as the Court tunks fit conditioned for his appearance before the Court on the date or dates on or before which payment of the fine or the instalments thereof as the case may be is to be made and, if the amount of the fine or of any instalment as the case may be is not realised on or before the latest date on which it is payable under the order the Court may direct the sentence of imprisonment to be carried into execution at once
- (2) The provisions of sub section (1) shall be applicable also in any case in which an order for the payment of money has been made on non recovery of which imprisonment may be awarded

and the money is not paid forthwith; and, if the person again t whom the order has been made, on being required to enter into a bond such as is referred to in that sub section, fails to do so, the Court may at once pass sentence of imprisonment

Sub section (1).

Important amendments have been made here by Act No XXXVII of 1923 S 3 The section refers only to the case where a sentence of fine only is awarded with a sentence of imprisonment in default. Formerly the section enabled the Court merely to suspend the execution of the sentence of imprisor ment for fifteen days on the offender's executing a bond to appear The Court is now given power to direct payment of the fine by two or three instalments at intervals of not more than thirty days, and where it orders payment in fil to allow thirty days for payment in either ease it can suspend the execut a of the sentence of imprisonment on the offender's executing a bond to appear on the date or dates fixed for the p ment of fine or the instalments as the ease may be in default of payment of the fine or any instalment, on the fixed date the sentence of imprisonment may be ordered to take effect at once

The Code makes no provision for the reduction of the alternative sentence of imprisonment where only a portion of the fine is paid or realised during the interval allowed by S 388

S 69, Penal Code, however, declares that if, before the expiration of the term of imprisonment in defau t of payment of a fine, such a proportion of the fine be paid or levied, that the term of imprisonment, suffered in default t payment is not less than proportional to the part of fine still unpaid, the imprisonment shall terminate The alternative sentence of imprisonment passed on a person sentenced to fine would, on his default to make payment of the fi amount of the fine, be said, but, when it is executed, the term of the imprisonment would be reduced under the terms of S 69, Penal Code if any portion of the fine has been paid or realised

Orders have been assued by some of the High Courts to ensure that presores whose fines are thus pad in part set the benefit of a proportional reduct on d the sentence

Sub section (2).

This provides for a different class of case Sub-section (i) deals with a case in which a sentence of imprisonment is passed to take on defaut if proment of a fine, where the sentence is one of fine only, and it enables a Comto suspend immed the execution of the sentence of inn only, and it embers on the person sentenced in opportunity to pay the fine. Sub-section (s) deals #2 inv case in which an order to pay mency has been passed under a law six declares the sentence of the person of the sentence of the declares that sentence of imprisonment shall be passed only if the fac is rerecoverable. To arrive at this stage of the proceedings necessarily some in must be taken to ascertain whether the fine is recoverable from moreable property belonging to the person n whom the sentence or order had been party Such a case might he where a complainant has been ordered under to pay a certain sum of money to a person against whom a frivolous or response on a constitution has been made. See also S 553 for a similar case before a person against an order to a person against a person against a person as person accuration has been made. An order for costs under S 145 if not compled with, mise of come under this sub-section, also an order in a maintenance-case under and an order for payment of fees under $ 5464

Under S 547 any money (they than a fire) payable by alriue of armore in the under the Code for which no special method of recovery is provided as

The Malras High Courts has however doubted whether S 388(2) applies case in which an order for compensation has been passed under S 250, appai because, insemucl as an order for compensation is in the nature of dar and not a fine it does not come within S 388(2), which is cont by sub-section (t) and relates only to cases in which an order for fine has passed the issue of a narrant to recover the amount being contemplated however the person against whom the order line been made, states that he no property against which the warrant can be executed, the object of Issu warrant seems to be an unnece sars formalits. As to this case, see note to S

Sub-section (z) provides for the appearance of the person against who order for payment of money has been made to receive sentence of imprisor should the fine not be recovered, by enabling the Court to require him to ex a bond for his appearance on some specified day

Every warrant for the execution of any sentence be issued either by the Judge or Magist Who may issue war who passed the sentence, or by his succe rant

Any officer in charge of a prison doubting the legality of any warrant to him for execution or the competency of the person whose official seal signature are affixed thereto to pass the sentence and issued such warrant, refer the matter to the Local Government by whose order on the case such c and all other public officers shall be guided as to the future disposal of presence—Act V of 1874, S 18

When the accused is sentenced to whipping only, sentence shall, subject to the provisions Execution of sen section 391, be executed at such place and t tence of whipping only as the Court may direct

The Whipping Act (IV) of 1909, declares for what offences sentent whipping may be passed as a sole or an additional punishment. That Act force in the whole of British India inclusive of Baluchistan and the So Pargannas, it has also been declared to be in force in the Angul Di (Reg IIf of 1913, S 3), and the Arakan Hill District, (Reg I of 1916, S 2

The Local Government may extend S 6 of the Whipping Act to Frontier District or any wild tract of country within its jurisdiction for punishment of any person for any offence punishable under the Indian I Code for three years and upwards in heu of any other punishment for v he may be hable Act IV of 1909, S 6

So it has been declared to be in force in the Bhamo, Myitkina Ruby A and Upper Chindwin Districts, and the Hill districts of Arakan,2 and to men of certain hill tribes in Upper Burma *

Under S 5 of the Whipping Act the Governor General in Council specify any other offence punishable with imprisonment as one for whi juvenile offender, abetting committing or attempting to commit such offence, be punished with whipping in lieu of any other punishment to which he be liable. Offences have accordingly been specified 4

<sup>1</sup> In se Byrus da Nadu I L R 26 Vid 1° 2 Burms Gaz 1909 Pt I P 5/2 3 Burms Gaz 1922 Pt I 7 220 4 Gaz of India 1

and the money is not paid forthwith; and, if the person again t whom the order has been made, on being required to enter into a bond such as is referred to in that sub-section, fails to do so, the Court may at once pass sentence of imprisonment

Sub section (1).

Important amendments have been made here by Act No XXXVII of 1933 S 3 The section refers only to the case where a sentence of fine only s awarded, with a sentence of imprisonment in default. Formerly the section enabled the Court merely to suspend the execution of the sentence of improvement for fifteen days on the offender's executing a bond to appear The Cour is now given power to direct payment of the fine by two or three instalmer's at intervals of not more than thirty days, and where it orders payment in f to allow thirty days for payment in either case it can suspend the executsa of the sentence of imprisonment on the offender's executing a bond to appear on the date or dates fixed for the payment of fine, or the instalments as the case may be in default of payment of the fine, or any instalment on the first date the sentence of impresonment may be ordered to take effect at once

The Code males no provision for the reduction of the alternative sentence of imprisonment where only a portion of the fine is paid or realised during the interval allowed by S 388 S 69, Penal Code, however, declares that if, before the expiration of the term of imprisonment in defaut of payment of a fine, such a proportion of the fine be paid or levied that the term of imprisonment, suffered in default of payment is not less than proportional to the part of fine still unpaid, the inprisonment shall termin te The alternative sentence of imprisonment passe on a person sentenced to fine would, on his default to make payment of the fu amount of the fine, be valid but, when it is executed the term of the Imprisonment would be reduced under the terms of S 69, Penal Code if any portion of the fine his been paid or realised

Orders have been issued by some of the High Courts to ensure that prisoners whose fines are thus paid in part get the benefit of a proportional reducted if the sentence

Sub section (2)

This provides for a different class of case Sub-section (t) deals with a case in which a sentence of imprisonment is passed to take on defact ( payment of a fine where the sentence is one of fine only, and it enables a Comto suspend immediate execution of the sentence of imprisonment, so 35 to 50 the person sentenced in opportunity to pay the fire Sub-section (a) deal and case in which an order to pay mency has been passed under a law and declares that contents. declares that sentence of imprisonment shall be passed only if the facilities recoverable. To arrive at this stage of the proceedings necessarily some and must be taken to ascert in whether the fine is recoverable from morease property belonging to the person on whom the sentence or order had been passed such a case midd to a passed or the person of the pe Such a case might be where a complainant has been ordered under to pay a certain sum of money to a person against whom a frivolous or retains necusation has been made. See also S $53 for a similar case before a President Mag state. An order for costs under S 145 If not compled with, mg to come under this sub-section, also an order in a maintenance-case under section under the property of the complex of t and an order for payment of fees under 5 546A

Under S 547 may money (other than n fine) payable by virtue of any relative male under the Code for which no special method of receivery is pressed as he receserable as if it were a fine

is decided in the same way as in the case of a sentence of whipping in addition to imprisonment

Where a sentence of whipping only is passed by a Presidency Magistrate there is no appeal (5 41) but even in this case the accused can defer the attention of the sentence for fifteen days by furnishing ball, in the meantime he might apply in resision, but it is improbable that he could obtain a decision on his application within fifteen days, and 5 391 does not allow the Court to defer the infliction of the punishment further.

In addition to imprisonment

All sentences of imprisonment and whipping are apperlable—S 415 But see S 411 and note in regard to such a sentence If passed by a Presidency Magistrate Act IV of 1908, S 5, declares for what offences such a sentence and be passed—See note to S 390 ante, as to place of execution of such sertences

Postponement of execution of sentence of whipping.

Execution of a sentence of whipping cannot be postponed except as provided by S 391. Where it had been postponed until expery of the sentence of imprisonment, the order was set node is importante and incapable of being executed?

The term of the postronement a to gue the prisoner an opportunity to appeal against the sentence passed. If he does appeal, execution of the sentence must be deferred until the receipt of the order of the Appellate Court confirming the sentence. If, however, the sentence of imprisonment has expired before receipt of the order of the Appellate Court, the prisoner must be released, and the sentence of a hipping will become inoperative, for the law provides no means for obtaining the attendance of the person so sentences.

Sub section (2).

IN BEACAL 1 sentence of whipping shall be executed in the presence of the Superintendent of the juil and Medical Officer or Medical subordinate and where the sentence is of whipping only, it shall not be executed at the juil except at the Presidency or Alipore Julis

Snb section (3).

Whipping as an additional sentence is inappropriate when the sentence of impresonment is fer a term less than three months. Such a term also canables the Appellate Court to hear the appeal before capity of the sentence of impresonment. If there is deay in bearing the appeal beyond the term of the sentence of impresonment, the sentence of whipping will become importance, for the prisoner will then have been released, and there are no means of enforcing his attendance to receive such sentence.

392 (1) In the case of a person of, or over, sixteen years Mode of inflicting of ago, whipping shall be inflicted with a light ratan not less than half an inch in diameter, in such mode, and on such part of the person, as the Local Government directs; and, in the case of a person under sixteen years of age, it shall be inflicted in such mode, and on such part of the person, and with such instrument, as the Local Government directs.

Hur Chandra : Jafer Ali 20 W R Cr 72

ž0

(2) In no case shall such punishment Limit of number of exceed thirty stripes, and, in the case of a tripes person under sixteen years of age, it shall not 'xceed fifteen stripes.

The Whipping Act IV of 1909 refers to juvenile offenders as follows -

"Any juvenile offender who abets, commits or attempts to commit-(a) any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code, except offences specified in Chapter VI and in Sections 153A and 505 of that Code and offences punishable with death, or

(b) any offence punishable under any other law with imprisonment which the Governor General in Council may by notification in the Gazette of India specify in this behalf

may be punished with whipping in heu of any other punishment to which he may or such offence, abetment or attempt be imble

Explanation -In this section the expression 'juvenile offender' means an offender whom the Court after making such inquiry (if any) as may be deemed necessary, shall find to be under sixteen years of age, the finding of the Court in all cases being final and conclusive -"Act 4 of 1909 S 5

See also note under 5 390 ante in respect of the punishment of juvenile offenders with whipping for offences specified under Clause (b) above

Any juvenile offender who commits any offence which is not punishable under the Indian Penal Code with death, may, whether for a first or any other offence, be punished with whipping in lieu of any other punishment to which he may for such offence be hable under the said Code-Whipping Act (VI of 1864), S 5 Act III of 1895, S 6, declares that the expression "juvenile offender " here used means an offender who, in the opinion of the Court, is under sixteen years of age, the decision of the Court on such matter being final and conclusive

It should be noted that sixteen years is the limit of age of a juvenile offender in regard to whipping as a punishment, but fifteen years is the limit for such n person so as to bring him under S 399 of this Code and the Reformatory

Schools' Act (VIII of 1897)

S 390 relates to the pinee and time at which sentence of whipping is to be executed (See note ante) S 392 declares that the whipping shall be inflicted with a light ratin not less than half an inch in diameter, and in such mode and en such part of the person, as the Local Government directs, except that, in the case of a person under sixteen years of age, it leaves it to the Local Government to prescribe the instrument

No sentence of whipping shall be 393 Not to be executed y instalments executed by instalments and none of the following persons shall be punishable with whip-Exemptions ing (namely) .--

(a) females:

(b) males sentenced to death, or to transportation, or to penal servitude, or to imprisonment for more than five years; (c) males whom the Court considers to be more than fortyine years of age.

Persons holding a respectable position in life, or the honest labouring poor when driven by sheer necessity to grain-pillering or similar offence, should pet be sentenced to whipping, but it is an appropriate punishment in the case of other criminals in the lower order of society, especially those who take advantage of seasons of public trouble to prey upon their neighbours (Alfalabado orders)

394 (1) The punishment of whipping shall not be inflicted unless a medical officer, if present, certifies, or,

Whipping not to be inflicted if offender not in fit state of health

if there is not a medical officer present, unless it appears to the Magistrate or officer present, that the offender is in a fit state of health to undergo such punishment

(2) If, during the execution of a sentence of whipping, a stay of execution medical officer certifies, or it appears to the

Magistrate or officer present, that the offender is not in a fit state of health to undergo the remainder of the sentence, the whipping shall be finally stoomed.

The Governor-General of India in Council has notified that he considers that the presention of having a medical officer present at the time of the influction of the punishment should be observed in every instance when principally

A Medical Officer cannot before the influence of whipping certify that a person under such sentence is fit to undergo only a lesser number of stripes than that ordered by the sentence. But when he has done so and the Mighstrate has in consequence had only the lesser number of stripes inflicted, the Magistrate cannot under S 395 award imprisonment in Ileu?

Procedure if punishment cannot be inflicted under section

In any case in which, under section 394, a sentence of whipping is, wholly or partially, prevented to from heing executed, the offender shall be kept section in custody till the Court which passed the sentence can revise it; and the said Court may, at its discretion, either remit such sentence, or sentence the offender in lieu of whipping, or in lieu of so much of the sentence of whipping as was not exemted, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding twelve months, or to a fine not exceeding five lumified runees, which may be in addition to any other punishment to which he may have been sentenced for the same offence.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorise any Court to inflict imprisonment for a term or a fine of an amount exceeding that to which the accused is liable by law, or that which the said Court is competent to inflict.

S 105, as amended by Act No XVIII of 1923. S 105, now enables a Court to sentence an offender to fine, if he cannot suffer the sentence of whipping originally passed Formerly a Court could not do so *

Where a sentence of whipping passed in addition to imprisonment could not be executed, because the Medical officer certified that the prisoner was not in fit state to undergo it, it was held, that sentence of fine could not be passed in its place but that the sentence of imprisonment also passed should be enhanced. It would now be otherwise

The Public Prosecutor I I R at Mad, 84
O Fmp t Sheedin I I R 11 All acs (s e) All W N, 1889 p 93

Where however the sentene of imprisonment inleady passed is the extreme sentence within the powers of the priticular Magistrate and sentence of whiping is also passed which is presented from being executed the Magistrate cannot in lieu of the sentence of whiping pass an additional sentence of imprisonment in excess of powers conferred by Signary and the sentence of imprisonment in excess of powers conferred by Signary and the sentence of the whiping added to the other sentence which the sentence in substitution of the whiping added to the other sentence which the sentence in this view is chillengeal le for if such a Vagistrate in addition to the sentence of imprisonment passed can sentence to whiping and that sentence cannot be carried out, the law declares that he may in heu of whiping sentence the offender to imprisonment such sentence would be no part of the substantice sentence of immirrisonment originally passed bit as a special case in addition to it and the law in no way declares that the power to pass such sentence in imprisonment shall be affected by the aggregate term that the Vagistrate is competent to pass. If this were so the offender would escape pun diment which cannot have been contemplated as the result of his phaseful disability.

It seems desirable that the intention of the law should be made clear but as the Legislature has a transition of the run ries of the ruling in  $Q \mid Fmp \mid s$  Ram Baran Sing! that ruling will probably be followed

- B96 (1) When sentence is passed under this Code on an except of senses or whipping, shall, subject to the provisions on the information of imprisonment penal servitude or transportation shall tall effect according to the following rules, that is to exa-
- (2) If the new sentence is severer in its kind than the sentence which such convict was undergoing when he escaped, the new sentence shall take effect immediately
- (3) When the new sentence is not severer in its kind than the sentence the convict was undergoing when he escaped the new sentence shall take effect after he has suffered imprisonment penal servitude or transportation, as the ease may be, for a further period equal to that which at the time of his escape, remained unexpired of his former sentence.

Fxplanatian -For the purposes of this section-

- (a) a sentence of transportation or penal servitude shall be deemed severer than a sentence of imprisonment
- (b) a sentence of imprisonment with solitary confinement shall be deemed severer than a sentence of the same abscription of imprisonment without solitary confinement, and

&lt;sup>2</sup> Mad 11 Ct Pro. jan 9 18~9 Wer 993 <sup>2</sup> O Imp e Ram Baran ~ reh I I R 21 Mil 25

CRAP XXVIII

- (c) a sentence of rigorous imprisonment shall be deemed severer than a sentence of simple imprisonment with or without solitary confinement
- S 224, Penal Code, provides the punishment for an escape or an attempt to escape from any custody in which a person is lawfully defained for any offence for which he is charged or has been convicted such punishment being in addition to what he may be liable for such offence or for which he is convicted
- S 376 relates to the execution of a sentence on an escaped convict, not on a person who has escaped from the custody in which he may have been detained while under trial

Transportation

A sentence of transportation may be for life or for a term of years. The Pennl Code declines certain offences to be punishable with transportation for life—(See also Seh 11 col 7 of this Code). It does not except in the case of Ss 121 and 124). Penal Code expressly provide that any offence shall be punishable with transportation for a term of years but S 50 provides that, when a Court prises sentence of impresonment for a term of seven years or upwards it may convert that sentence to one of transportation for not less than such term and not exercting that for which the defender is include to impresonment.

Penal servitude

This is a punishment which can be imposed only on an European or American—See S (6, Penal Code, and provise encied by Act XXVII of 1870 S 3, also Act XXIV of 1855 so far as it has not been repealed by Act V of 1871 See 180 S 314 of this Code

Solitary confinement

S 73 of the Penal Code as amended by Act VIII of 1882, S 5 and S 74 provide for sentences of solitary confinement

Imprisonment, rigorous or simple

The law difining an offene sets out the punishment for committing it, such as the term of imprisonment and its character—(See also Sch 11 col 7 of this Code) it should be noted that where the law declares that an offence shall be punishable with imprisonment, without stating whether it shall be rigorous or a simple it may be either—(See General Clauses Act (V of 1897) S 3 (26)

Sessions Judges and Megastrates in Bengal have been directed to specify In a warrant of sentence falling within S 305 the date from which the sentence to take effect, whicher is once or after the lapse of a period equivalent to a portion of the prisoners original sentence which remained unexpired at the date of lus escape the date in which the outginal sentence of which the currency was intervined by the rescale will eye to being clearly shown?

The following course should be taken on arrest of a convict who is believed to have escaped from the penal settlement at Port Blair—The Police having arrested a person upon the charge of having escaped will apply to the Magistrate before whom the accused has been brought for an adjournment to enable them to ascertim, whether a warrint has been received from Port Blair for his recaptive. Inquiry should be mide at the Home Department of the Government of India if no warrant has been received by the Police of the province in which the connect has I een arrested. And in all cases of escape by a life-connect the Superintendent of Pirt Blair, or other Migistrate briving jurisdiction as soon as the fact of escape is known should lissue a warrant christing him with having committed an offence under 5 224, Penal Code, to the Chief of the Police of its place but that the sentence of imprisonment also passed should be enhanced? It would now be otherwise

<sup>1</sup> Cal H Ct Cir 9 July 15 1873

Where however the senten e of imprisonment already passed is the extreme sentence within the powers of the particular Magistrate and sentence of whipping is also passed which is prevented from being executed the Magistrate cannot in leu of the sentence of whipping pass an additional sentence of imprisonment under S 393 No sentence of imprisonment in excess of powers conferred by S 32 can be passed as a substantive sentence which the sentence in substitut on of the wh pping added to the other sentence forms 1 The correctness of the view is challengeable for if such a Magistrate in addition to the sentence of mprisonm nt passed can sentence to whapping and that sentence cannot be carried out the law declares that he may in heu of whaping sentence the offender to impresonment such sentence would be no part of the substant te sentence of imprisonment originally passed but as a special case in addition to it and the law in no way declares that the power to pass such sentence of imprisonment shall be affected by the aggregate term that the Magistrate is competent to pass. If this were so the offender would escape punishment whele cannot have been contemplated as the result of his physical disability

It seems describle that the intention of the law should be made clear but as the I egislature has not amended the law in view of the ruling in Q Emp v Ram Baran Singh that ruling will probably be followed

(1) When sentence is passed under this Code on an 398 escaped convict such sentence, if of death fine or whipping, shall, subject to the provisions tences on escaped convicts hereinbefore contained take effect immediately and, if of imprisonment penal servitude or transportation shall tal c effect according to the following rules that is to say -

- (2) If the new sentence is severer in its kind than the sen tence which such convict was undergoing when he escaped the new sentence shall take effect immediately
- (3) When the new sentence is not severer in its kind than the sentence the convict was undergoing when he escaped, the new sentence shall take effect after he has suffered imprisonment penal servitude or transportation as the case may be, for a further period equal to that which, at the time of his escape, remained unexpired of his former sentence

- Explanation -For the purposes of this section-(a) a sentence of transportation or penal servitude shall be deemed severer than a sentence of imprisonment
  - (b) a sentence of imprisonment with solitary confinement shall be deemed severer than a sentence of the same description of imprisonment without solitary con finement, and

&lt;sup>1</sup> Mad II Ct Pro Jan 9 1879 Weir 993 <sup>2</sup> Q Fmp v Ram Baran Singh I I R 21 All 25

- (c) a sentence of rigorous imprisonment shall be deemed severer than a sentence of simple imprisonment with or without solitary confidement
- S 224, Penal Code, provides the punishment for an escape or an attempt to escape from any custedy in which a person is lawfully detained for any offence for which he is charged or has been conjected such punishment being in addition to what he may be liable for such offence or for which he is conjected
- 5 396 relates to the execution of a sentence on an escaped convict, not on a person who has escaped from the custody in which he may have been detuned while under trial

Transportation

A sentence of transportation may be for life or for a term of years. The Penal Code declares certain offences to be punishable with transportation for life—(See also Sch 11 col 7 of this Code). It does not except in the case of Si 121A and 124\text{Penal Code, expressly private that any offence shall punishable with transportation for a term of sears but S 59 provides that, when a Court private sentence of impresonment for a term of seein years or upwards it may convert that sentence to one of transportation for not less than such term and not exceeding that for which the offender is inhibit to impresonment

Penal sorvitude

This is a punishment which can be imposed only on an European or American—Sec 9. 46, Penal Code, and provisos enseted by Act XVII of 1877. S 3 also Act XXIV of 1855, so far as it has not been repealed by Act V of 1871. Sec also 5 also 6th Code of the Code of

Solitary confinement

S 73 of the Penal Code, as amended by Act VIII of 1882, S 5, and S 74 provide for sentences of solitary confinement

Imprisonment, rigorous or simple

The law diffiring an offence sets out the punishment for committing it such to the term of impresonment and its character—(See also Sch II, col 7 of this Code). It should be noted that where the law declares that an offence shall be punishable with impresonment, without stating whether it shall be rigorous or simple if may be uther—(See General Clauses Act (X of 1897) S 3 (26).

Sessions Judges and Magisterites in Bengal have been directed to specify, in a warrant of sentence falling within S 306, the date from which the sentence to take effect, whether at once or after the tapse of a period equivalent to a portion of the prisoner's original sentence which remained unexpired at the date of his escape, the date on which the original sentence, of which the currency was interrupted by the escape, will expire being clearly shown?

The following course should be taken on arrest of a convex who is believed to have escaped from the penal settlement at Port Blair.—The Police having arrested a person upon the charge of having escaped will apply to the Maghstrote, before whom the accused has been brought, for an adjournment to enable them to ascertan whether a warrant has been received from Port Blair for his receiver. Inquiry should be made at the Home Department of the Gorenment of India if no warrant has been received by the Police of the province in which the connect has been arrested. And in all cases of escape by a life-convex, the Supenintednet of Port Blair, or other Migistrate having jurisdiction as soon as the fact of escape is known should issue a warrant charging him with having committed an offence under 5 224, Penal Code, to the Chief of the Police of trate at the Andamans who issued the warrant, the Province or Administration in which the convict is known, or is likely to be found, and he should also forward a warrant forthwith to this department If the warrant is forthcoming, the Magistrate, by whom the case is being inquired into, will decide whether there is any reason why the accused should not be removed in custody under Ss 85, 86, Criminal Procedure Code, to the Magis-

Whipping.

When separate sentence of imprisonment with whipping are passed to take place consecutively, execution of the sentences of whipping cannot be deferred, except as permitted by S 301 It is moreover doubtful whether a second sentence of whipping can be passed 1

When a nerson already undergoing a sentence of imprisonment, penal servitude or transportation Sentence on offenis sentenced to imprisonment, penal servitude der already sentenced for another offence or transportation, such imprisonment, penal servitude or transportation shall commence at the expiration of the imprisonment, penal servitude or transportation to which he has heen previously sentenced, unless the Court directs that the subsequent sentence shall run concurrently with such previous sentence:

Provided that, if he is undergoing a sentence of imprisonment, and the sentence on such subsequent conviction is one of transportation, the Court may, in its discretion, direct that the latter sentence shall commence immediately or at the expiration of the imprisonment to which he has been previously sentenced Provided, further, that where a person who has been senteneed to imprisonment by an order under section 123 in default of furnishing security is whilst undergoing such sentence sentenced to imprisonment for an offence committed prior to the making of such order, the latter sentence shall commence immediately.

A second sentence passed on a person who is undergoing a sentence takes effect in the order in which they were presed, but, when such sentence is one of transportation, the Court has a discretion to direct that it shall take effect at once In that case, on expiry of the term of transportation, the prisoner would undergo the remaining portion of the first sentence The terms of S 307 formerly indicated that, in whatever order, they were passed, the two sentences so passel should be consecutive - (See S 398 (1)) It was only when two sentences were passed in the same trial that the Court might direct that they shall be concurrent-(See 5 35) But the Court is now given power to direct that a subsequent sentence shall be concurrent with a former one, by the amendment made in this section by Art No XVIII of 1021, S 106 Bt the sum section the second provise has been added which makes it clear that where n person who is undergoing imprisonment in default of furnishing security to keep the peace or be of good behaviour, receives a sentence of imprisonment for an offence committed previously the latter sentence will take place at once. See note to S 121 It had already been held that the sentence under S 123 was not a sentence of imprisonment within the meaning of $ 307"

<sup>1</sup> lagannath, Bom II Ct. Nov 27 1902 Tmn r Vishnu Balkrishna, I L R. 37 Bom. 178 Markandar Gendar K Fm? 1 1 Pat I. J. 212 Josh Kannigan r Fmp, I L R. 31 Mid. 315

- A Magistrate is competent to direct that a sentence passed by him shall take effect after the expry of a sentence in foreign ferritory, that being the only time when it could take effect 1
- It the first sentence is set uside on appeal or revision, the second sentence which is to take effect on expiry of the first, commences at once It is immaterial whether that sentence has been executed or set aside by a superior authority 1
- (1) Nothing in section 396 or section 397 shall be Saving as to sections held to excuse any person from any part of the punishment to which he is liable upon his former or subsequent conviction
- (2) When an award of imprisonment in default of payment of a fine is annexed to a substantive sentence of imprisonment, or to a sentence of transportation or penal servitude for an offence punishable with imprisonment, and the person undergoing the sentence is after its execution to undergo a further substantive sentence, or further substantive sentences, of imprisonment, transportation or penal servitude, effect shall not he given to the award of imprisonment in default of payment of the fine until the person has undergone the further sentences or sentences
- (1) When any person under the age of fifteen years is sentenced by any Criminal Court to impri-Confinement sonment for any offence, the Court may direct youthful offenders in reformatories that such person, instead of being imprisoned m a criminal jail, shall be confined in any reformatory established
- by the Local Government as a fit place for confinement, in which there are means of suitable discipline and of training in some branch of uscful industry or which is kept by a person willing to obey such rules as the Local Government prescribes with regard to the discipline and training of persons confined therein
- (2) All persons confined under this section shall be subject to the rules so prescribed
- (3) This section shall not apply to any place in which the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897, is for the time being in force.
- The Reformatory Schools Act, VIII of 1897 was originally in force throughout British India ( except in the Punjab and Coorg but it has since been extended to those terr tories by notifications under S 1 (3) of the Act 1 It is also in force in the North West I rontier Province, in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), in the Arakan Hill District, the Sonthal Pargannas, the Angul District, and i Q Emp v Venkataram Jetti I L R 20 Vad 444 k Emp v Klandya Bom II Ct 30 1890 Panjab Gaz Ext. 2 Oct 1993 Coorg Gaz 1903 Pt I p 26 Gaz of India 1910 Pt II P 1101 Burma Lawa Act XIII of 1893

Reg 1 of 1916 5 2 Reg VIII of 1872 Reg III of 1913 5 3

576

British Baluclustru<sup>2</sup> But the provisions of the Act, except S 15, have eessed to be in force in Madras (Vad Act IV of 1922) the Act is not in force in Bengal in areas where Beng Act II of 1922 is in force, and its provisions have been modified in Bombry (Born Act MHI of 1924)

S 399 is, therefore in force only in these excepted territories or districts to which the Code of Griminal Procedure may have been extended, and the Reformatory Schools Act, 1876, would still be in force in such of these territories or districts to which it might have been extended, notwithstanding the general repeal of that Act in respect of British India by the Act of 1897

A youthful offender Irible to detention in a reformatory school is defined to be a boy who has been convicted of any offence punishable with transportation or imprisonment, and who at the time of such conviction was under fifteen years of age,—S 4 (a) Reformators Schools Act, 1897

In Bombay the age is sixteen (Bom Act VIII of 1924, S 4)
Under S 8 (3) of the Reformatory Schools Act 1897, the Local Government may make rules for—

(a) defining what youthful offenders should be sent to Reformatory Schools having regard to the nature of their offences or other considerations

nd

(b) regulating the periods for which youthful offenders may be sent to such schools according to their ages or other considerations.

And the Courts are required to act subject to such rules—S 8 (1)

And the Courts are required to act subject to such rules—S 8 (1)
The following rules have accordingly been made —

I Youthful offenders, whom the Court or the District Magistrate, as the case may be, does not think fit to discharge after due ad monition or to deliver to their parents, guardian or nearest adult refative on the execution of a bond for good behaviour

under S 31 of the Act, should, subject to the next following rule, be sent to a Reformatory School, if they are consisted of offences against property, or an other offence showing dishonesty or deprayity. (i) in all cases, when they have been previously convicted of any such offence, and (2) on first convictions, when a brief term of imprisonment is considered in undesirable and inadequate punishment or they are without proper priented or other control, or there is reasonable cours for supposing, that they are being truned to, or are likely to relapse into, crime

II Youthful offenders should not be sent to a Reformatory School when they are convicted of an unnatural offence, or have, on a previous conviction, undergone imprisonment in a jail for more than six months, or are seriously deformed or of well intellect or subject to epileptic fits or other well marked nerrous disease

III Youthful offenders should be sent to a Reformatory School for not less than seven years when they are over that age, unless, in the latter case, they shall attain earlier the age of eighteen

IV The foregoing rules shall not, however, debar the authorities having the control and management of a Reformatory School from recommending to the Government the discharge, under the provisions of S 14 of the Act, of any youth full diender who, in their opinion, may safely and with advantage to himself be released before the expiry of the full term for which he was sent to the Reforma

In the United Provinces

(1) No person may be ordered to be detained in a Reformatory School, unless

(a) he is a male, (b) he is under the age of 15 years,

(1) we is miner the ige of 15 years

1 Reg II of 1913 8 3 1 Cal Guz 1889 p 226 Cal II Ct Rules &c pp 69 70 1 All Man 300

- (c) he is convicted of ar offence (as defined in the General Clauses Act, 1807 S 3) punishable with transportation or imprisonment.
  - (d) he is actually sentenced to transportation or imprisonment, and
  - (e) he is of a class declared by the rules made by Government, under
- 2) Before ordering detention in a Reformator, School, the Court must pass a substantive entener, of transportation or imprisonment, and such sentence should, in view of S 12, Act VIII of 1897, not be a nominal but an adequate punishment for the efferice. The Court has no power to direct detention in a Reformator, School either without a substantive sentence of transportation or imprisonment, or in addition to such a sentence, but must order that the offender, instead of undergroung the sentence imposed, shall be detruined in the Reformatory.
- School

  (3) The period, for which the Court may order the detention in a Reformatory School of youthful offenders admissible under the Act and rules must not be less than three years nor more than seven years. The following table shows the period of detention in the case of boys between the ages of 9 and 14 who alone should a signal rule, be sent to the Reformatory School —

Age of youthful offerder

9 Years

10 Years

11 Years

12 Years

Ditto
Ditto
Ditto and not more than sx
13 Years

14 Years

Ditto and not more than sx

- I our years

  1 The most proper subjects for reformatory treatment are those who are without proper priental or other control, and who have committed an offence or
- offences rigainst property

  2 As a rule, no boy should be sent to a Reformatory School, on a first conviction, unless there is reasonable cause for supposing that he is being trained up
- to, or likely again to lapse into, crime

  3. As a rule, it is not desirable to end boys to a Reformatory School before they have completed their ninth, or after they completed their fourteenth, year of are.
- 4 No boy belonging to any of the undermentioned tribes, whether such tribes have or have not been formally proclimed in these provinces under the Criminal Tribes Act, 1871, should be sent to a Reformatory School. The tribes are —

Aherjah Doms
Berjahs Haburahs
Baurlahs Kanjars
Barwars Nats
Bhutus Cananrahs
Daleras Sansahs

Other boys, who appear to be habitual offenders should be sent (if at all) at early stage in their career, being less amenable to reforming influences as they approach the age of 15

tiney impriorate the age of the second to a Reformatory School who has been convicted 5. No boy should be sent to a Reformatory School who has been convicted of an unnatural offence, or whose antecedents afford reasonable grounds for assuming habitual immorality.

6 A youthful offender convicted of murder should not ordinarily be sent to a Reformatory School 1

In Upper Burns (except the Shan States) and in Lower Burns -1

<sup>1</sup> All-Man p 311 1 Burma Gaz 1897 Part I pp 60 and 301

- If (a) either of the youthful offender's parents is a habitual criminal, or
- (b) the youthful offender is destitute, or
- (c) circumstances under which the youthful offender is convicted indicated a general corruption of moral character, or (d) the youthful offender having been once previously convicted is again
- convicted of a similar offence, then the period for which he may be sent to a Reformator, School shall not be
- less than.

  (i) if he is not over ten years of age, seven years,
  - (ii) if he is over ten and not over thirteen years of age, five years,
- (iii) if he is over thirteen years of age, such period as may bring him to the

The period for which a youthful offender, whose case does not fall within the above rule, may be sent to a Reformatory School shall not be less than. (i) if he is over ten years of age, five years, (ii) if he is over thirteen years of age, three years

In Assan .--

578

- Rule I No boy shall be sent to a Reformatory School on a first conviction (except as provided in Rule III), if under ten years of age, for a less period than live years, it over ten, for a less period than three years, unless he shall sooner attain the age of ib
- RULE 11 On a subsequent conviction for a similar offence, a boy under ten years of age shall not be sent to a Reformatory School for a less period than seven years, if over ten, for a less period than five years, unless be shall sooner attain the age of 18

RULE III A first conviction may bring a boy under Rule II

- (1) if he belongs to a criminal tribe within the meaning of Act XXVII of 1871, Sec 2.
- (2) if either of his parents is a habitual criminal.
- (3) if he is destitute, and
- (4) if the offence of which he is convicted is one arguing great depravity;
- A B The word deprayity here means a general corruption of morals spart from the specific erminishity of the particular act I Youthful offenders whom the Court or the District Magistrate, as the
- case may be, does not think fit to discharge after due admonition, or to deep to their parents or nearest adult relatives on the execution of a bond for good behaviour, under S 11 of the Act, should, subject to the next following risk, or sent to Reformatory School, if they are convicted of offences against property or any other offences showing dishonesty or depearative, (1) in all cases, when they have been previously convicted of any such offence, and (2) on a first conviction, when a brief term of imprisonment is considered an understable and madequate punishment, or they are without proper parential or other control, or there is reasonable cause for supposing that they are being tranned to, or likely to relapte into, effinct.
- 11 Youthful offenders should not be sent to Reformatory School when they are convicted of an unnatural offence, or have, on previous conviction, undergone imprisonment in a jail for more than six months, or are seriously deformed, of of weak intellect, or subject to epileptic fits or other well-marked nervous disease.
- 111 Youthful offenders should be sent to a Reformatory School for not less than seven years when they are under eleven years of age, and for not less than five years when they are over that age, unless, in the latter case, they shall attain earlier the age of eighteen

<sup>4</sup> Gar Ind , 1895, Part I, p. 507 . Assam Gar , 1895, Part 111, p 840

CEAP XXVIII

IV The forego ng rule shall not however debrt the authorities having the control and management of a Reformatory School from recommenting to the Government the discharge under the prosisions of S 14 of the Act of any youthful offender who in the repinion may safely and with advantage to himself be released before the expire of the full term for which he was sent to the Reformatory School 19.

S 15 of the Reformators Schools Act 1897 provides that the Governor General in Council may be general or special order direct that any Reformatory School saturated in one province shall be available for the reception of youthful offenders of rected to be sent to a Reformatory School by a Court or Magistrate in any other province

Youthful offenders may he otherwise dealt with

s S62 of this Code enables a Court other than a Magistrate of the third class or a Magistrate of the second class not specially empowered by the Local Government on the behalf instead of sentencing a first offender at once to any punish ment for certain offences to direct that he be released on executing a bond with or without sureties for a period not exceeding there years to appear and receive sentence when called upon and in the mentume to keep the peace and be of good behaviour and it also provides that any Magistrate not competent to pass such an order may refer such a case to a superior Magistrate who will deal with it under S 380 ante.

Under the same section (sub-section (1A)) in the case of certain offences of a trivial nature the Court may having regard to various circumstances release

the accused after due admonition

S at of the Reformatory Schools Act 1897 similarly gives a discretion to a Country content of the Schools of th

Consequently Court may not under $ 562 or under the Reformatory Schools Act 1807 S at rather than under $ 509 at the case of a youthful offender te instead of sentencing him to improsoment or ordering his detention in a Reformatory School

S 5 of the Whipping Act (VI of 1864) also declares that any juvenile offender that is a boy who in the opinion of the Court is under staten years of age who comm is any offence which is not punishable by the Indian Penal Code with death may whether for a first er any other offence be punished with whipping in lieu of any other pun shment to which he may for such offence be I able under that Code and S 192 arties specially provides for the execution of such a sentence.

Under S is of the Reformatory Schools Act 1897 no Court or Majistrate shall alter or reverse on appeal or revision any order with respect to the age of a wouthful offender or the substitution of an order for detention in a Reformatory

School for transportation or imprisonment

The protect on only extends to the lawful exercise of the discretion vested in 2 Court or Mag strate to substitute in certain cases an order of detention in Reformatory School for an order of transportation or impresonment. It does not affect the power of a Court to consider the propriety or legality of any sentence passed on a youthful affender in substitution of which an order for his detention in a Reformatory School was passed. So a sentence of impresonment was aftered to one of whipping and consequently the substituted order of details in a Reformatory School could not be carried out and become

<sup>1</sup> Assam Car 1889 Part I p 180

<sup>2</sup> O Emp v Hori I L R 21 All 391 (404) per BANERII I 2 Reagut v Courtney I L R 28 Cat 423 (5 c) 5 Cal W V 271

In order to bring a case within S i6 of the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897 the order must be one which could be passed under Ss 8 9 or 10, otherwes it is not a legal order, and can be set asade by a Court of Revision So when the youthful offender belongs to a class not within the rules passed under S 8 of the Act 1 or belongs to a tibe which is especially exempted by such rules, the order for his detention is an illegal order and can be set aside? So also when without passing any sentence of umprisonment the Magistrate had ordered the detention of the youthful offender in a Reformatory School the order was set aside as contrary to law?

An order for detention in a Reformatory School should state the time of such detention and to enable a Court to do that some inquiry is necessary to determine the age of the youthful offender although if the age is understated the Lord Government may direct his removal if he has attained the maximum age of eighteen years. So when the term of detention was indefinite the Magistrate was directed to mend his order 6.

Return of warrant on execution of sen tense which the sentence has been fully executed, the officer Return of sen execution of sen Court from which it issued, with an endorsement under his hand certifying the manner in which the sentence has been executed.

If the sentence be one of both imprisonment and whipping a certificate of the execution of the whipping should be endorsed on the warrant at the time of inflicting that punishment, but the warrant should be retained until the sentence of imprisonment has been undergone.

CHAPTER XXIX

Or Suspensions, Remissions and Commutations or Sentences

401 (1) When any person has been sentenced to punish Power to suppend ment for an offence, the Governor General in fune, without conditions or upon any conditions which the person sentenced accepts, suspend the execution of his sentence or remit the whole or any part of the punishment to which he has been sentenced.

(2) Whenever an application is made to the Governor General in Council or the Local Government for the suspension or remission of a sentence, the Governor General in Council or the Local Government, as the ease may be, may require the presiding Judge of the Court before or by which the conviction was had or confirmed to state his opinion as to whether the application should be granted or refused together with his reasons for such opinion and also to forward with the statement of such opinion a certified copy of the record of the trial or of such record thereof is exists."

- (3) If any condition on which a sentence has been suspended or remitted as in the opinion of the Governor General in Council or of the Local Government as the case may be, not fulfilled the Governor General in Council or the Local Government may cancel the suspension or remission, and thereupon the person in whose favour the sentence has been suspended or remitted may if at large he arrested by any police officer without warrant and remanded to undergo the unexpired portion of the sentence
- (4) The condition on which a sentence is suspended or remitted under this section may be one to be fulfilled by the person in whose favour the sentence is suspended or remitted or one independent of bis will
- (4A) The provisions of the above sub-sections shall also apply to any order passed by a Criminal Court under any section of this Code or of any other law, which restricts the liberty of any person or imposes any hability upon him or his property
- (5) Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to interfere with the right of His Miyest, or of the Governor General when such right is delegated to him, to grant pardons, reprieves respites or remissions of primishment
- (5A) Where a conditional pardon is granted by His Majesty or, in virtue of any powers delegated to him, by the Governor General, any condition thereby imposed, of whatever nature, shall be deemed to live been imposed by a sentence of a competent Court under this Code and shall be enforceable accordingly
- (6) The Governor General in Council and the Local Government may, by general rules or special orders, give directions as to the suspension of sentences, and the conditions on which petitions should be presented and dealt with Several amendments have been made in this section by Act No VVIII of 1923 S 107. The prois on for the forward ag of a cert field copy of the record by the Presd ng Judige required to furn sh Government with his opinion is new So also is sub-section (4A). Order restricting the liberty of the subject (other than orderies of imprisonment) are us ally passed by an executive authority and not by a Crim nat Court in such a case the order can be reversed or modified by a superior authority. An order of a penal nature which would come with in the new sub-section is one under S 565 see also Ss 133 144 and 145. The amendment made in sub-section (5) is necessitated by the fact that it has been the practice of late to delegate His Majesty's prerogative of pardon to the Governor General Sub-section (6) deals with conditional pardons

It will be seen that the powers of the Governor General in Council and of the Local Government under this section are concurrent

The Prisoners Act III of 1900 S 21, empowers the Governor General in Council to grant to any convict ventenced to be kept in penal servitude a Leens to be at large within British India or in such part thereof as in such license is expressed and upon such conditions as to the Governor General in Council seem fit and Ss 22-27 contain the law for the revocation of such license and the course to be taken on breach of any of the conditions thereof

Any Court established under the twents fourth and twenty fifth of Victoria chapter one hundred and four 'that is a Chartered High Court) may, in any case in which it has recommended to Her Majesty the granting of a free pardon to any convect permit him to be not I berty on his own recogn zance—The Prisoners Act III of 1900 S 3

Sub section (2)

If the presiding Judge of the Court before or by which, the conviction was that is the Sessions Judge he should forward his opinion through the High Court for it has nearly always happened that such conviction has been before the High Court on appeal and the opinion of the High Court is therefore also describe?

In the Pursus applications under S 401 should be submitted to the Government through the Chief Court in order to prevent the possibility of that Court hearing in appeal a case in which Government has remitted or committed the pursuashment.

Sub section (6).

This will enable rules to be made for a suspension of a sentence of death where the Lecal Government has refused to interfere and application is afterwards male to the Governor General in Council as well as to provide generally for postponement of execution of a sentence until the orders of the Governor General in Council or of the Local Government shall have been received on an application made to it under 5 and 402 (1) The Governor General in Council or the Lord Pewer to commute Government, may without the consent of the puranthment person sentenced, commute any one of the following sentences for any other mentioned after it —

death, transportation, penal servitude, rigorous imprisonment for a term not exceeding that to which he might have been sen teneed, simple imprisonment for a like term, fine

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect the provisions of section 54 or section 55 of the Indian Penal Code

Ss 54 and 55 of the Ind an Penal Code confer similar powers on the Corernment of India or the Government of the place with a which the offender shall have been sentenced with respect to the commutation (S 55) a sentence of death to any other punishment under that Code and (S 55) a sentence of

Nad Rules to Panjab Bk Cir

SECOND TRIAL 583

transportation for life to imprisonment, rigorous or simple, for a term not exceeding fourteen years

Sub-section (2) was inserted by Act No VIII of 1923, S 108

Under the Prisoner's Act 111 of 1900 S 21, the Governor General in Council may grant to my connect centenced to penal scrittude a license to be at large within British India, or in such part thereof as in such a license is expressed, during such portion of his term of servitude and upon such conditions, as to the Governor-General in Council seem fit

CHAPTER XXX

OF PREVIOUS ACQUITTALS OR CONVICTIONS

408 (1) A person who has once been tried by a Court of competent jurisdiction for an offence and connected or acquitted of such offence shall, not to be tried for while such conviction or acquittal remains in force, not be hable to be tried again for the same offence, nor on the same facts for any other offence for which a different charge from the one made against him might have been made under section 236, or for which he might bave been convicted under section 237

- (2) A person acquitted or convicted of any offence may be afterwards tried for any distinct offence for which a separate charge might have been made against him on the former trial under section 235, sub-section (1)
- (3) A person convicted of any offence constituted by any act causing consequences which, together with such act, constituted a different offence from that of which he was convicted, may be afterwards tried for such last mentioned offence, if the consequences had not happened, or were not known to that Court to have happened, at the time when he was convicted
- (4) A person acquitted or convicted of any offence constituted by any acts may, notwithstanding such acquittal or conviction, he subsequently charged with, and trued for, any other offence constituted by the same acts which he may have committed, if the Court by which he was first tried, was not competent to try the offence with which he is subsequently charged
- (5) Nothing in this section shall affect the provisions of section 26 of the General Clauses Act, 1897, or section 188 of this Code.

Explanation —The dismissal of a complaint, the stopping of proceedings under section 249, the discharge of the accused or any entry made upon a charge under section 273, is not an acquittal for the purposes of this section

Illustrations

(a) A is tried upon a charge of theft as a servant and acquitted. He cannot afterwards, while the acquittal remains in force, be charged with their as a servant, or, upon the same facts, with theft simply, or with criminal breach

(b) A is tried upon a charge of murder and acquitted. There is no charge of robbery, but it appears from the facts that A committed robbery at the time when the murder was committed, he may afterwards be charged with, and tries for, robbery

(c) A is tried for causing grievous hurt and convicted. The person injured afterwards dies. A may be tried again for culpable homicide

(d) A is charged before the Court of Session and convicted of the culpable homicide of B A may not afterwards be tried on the same facts for the murder of B

(e) A is charged by a Magistrate of the first class with, and convicted by him of, voluntarily causing hurt to B A may not afterwards be tried for voluntarily causing grievous hurt to B on the same facts, unless the case comes within paragraph 3 of the section

(f) A is charged by a Magistrate of the second class with, and convicted by him of, theft of property from the person B A may be subsequently charged with, and tried for, robbers on the same facts

(g) A, B and C are charged by a Magistrate of the first class with, and convicted by him of, robbing D A, B and C may afterwards be charged with and tried for, dacoity on the same facts

S Sti declares how a previous conviction or acquittal may be proved

In order to bar the trial of any person already tried, it must be shown-(i) that he has been tried by a competent Court for the same offence or one for which he might have been charged or convicted at that trial, on the same facts, (a) that he has been convicted or acquitted at the trial, (iii) that such conviction or acquittal is in force

An objection on this ground may be taken at any time during the inquiry of

S 403 refers only to a second trial, and bars it if it comes within the terms of that section This does not affect the powers of a Court of Appeal or Revision in the same proceedings, as those proceedings are only a continuation of the same trial. So an appellate Court, which is competent to after the proceeding maintaining the sentence can do so by finding the spell-fut guilty of an offered of which he has contrary to the evidence, been acquitted in a trial in the Sessions Court with assessors, and a Sessions Judge on appeal can also order a new trial on the same charge 5

Where certain persons were acquitted by a jury of murder and were convicted of a minor offence and an their appeal, a new trial was ordered by the High Court, it was held that, although there had been no appeal by Government against the acquittal, it was no bar to the new trial 4

Satis Chandra Das Boses Q Emp I L R 27 Cal 172 (5 c) 4 Cal W N. 166 Krishna Dhan Mandal t Q Emp I L R, 22 Cal 377

Tried by a competent Court.

This would be a Court competent to hold a trial of such an offence (Chapter III and Sch II, col S) and to hold such trial by reason of local jurisdiction (See Chapter XV)

There must have been a previous trial in which some final order has been passed, that is, of conviction ir acquited. This is indicated by the explanation to S 403 So when, after an investigation, the Police reported that theft (a cognizable offence) had not been established, and the Magistrate passed an order directing the offence to be struck off the list of reported offences, it was held that such order could not affect the subsequent trial of another non cogniz able offence regarding which no proceedings had been taken. The Magistrate rould not take cognizance of that offence on a police-report but only on a comflaint, and he had not done so !

The Court must have jurisdiction to try both offences. This is shown by illustrations (f) and (k), a Mag strate of the second class in the former is not competent to try the offence of robbers, nor a Magistrate of the first class to tr) the offence of dagotty - (See Sch 11, col 8)

Similarly, if previous sanction or complaint by some authority. Court or person is necessary (5s 19, 19)) before proceedings can be taken, a conviction or acquittal without such sanction or complaint will be without jurisdiction 3

If a person has been sequetted by a Court without jurisdiction, the proceedings are void and lie im being in prosecuted for the same offence before a competent Court The acquittal is no bar, nor is it necessary to obtain an order setting it aside 4

On the same facts for any other offence for which a different charge might have been made under S. 236.

The illustrations to 5 403 sufficiently explain this. A second trial cannot be held for an offence of the same kind constituted by the same facts as those which formed the subject matter of the previous charge, nor for theft or receiving stolen property, or criminal breach of trust or cheating, if, on the same facts, the accused has been convicted or acquitted by a competent Court of either of such offences "—See S 236 III (a) But he can be tried afterwards for another offence committed in the same transaction which does not necessarily form part of the offence previously charged. Thus, he can be afterwards tried for robbery committed at the time when murder was committed although he may have been acquitted of the murder if he was not also at that trial charged with the roberry [III (b)] So also, when a person was tried for manufacturing and selling exciseable articles without a license under the Excise Act (Ben Act VIII of 1878), he could afterwards be prosecuted for an offence under the Merchandise Marks' Act, although all these offences were committed in the same transaction. they were distinct offences, and could, under S 235 of the Code, form the subject of district charges and be tried together or separately

This case was distinguished in a later case in which it was held that an acquittal of offences charged in the alternative under Ss 380 and 411, Penal Code, bars a subsequent trial for an offence under S 54A of the Calcutta Police

&lt;sup>1</sup> Govt of Bombay v Shidapa I L R 5 Bom 405 <sup>2</sup> Varankuttı v Chiyamu I L R 7 Blad 537 (c c) Wei 997 <sup>3</sup> Q Emp v Jiwan I L R 3 All 107 In re Samsuddin, I L R, 22 Bom, 711, <sup>4</sup> Q Emp v Husein Gaibu i L R 8 Bom 307 <sup>5</sup> Bep Leg Remeintrancer v Hakim Bottath 10 Col W, No. 1031,

O Emp v Croft I L R 33 Cal, 174

586

Act, (Ben Act IV of 1806) in respect of the same Act, the case falls within both 5s 236 and 237 1

Illustration (c) comes within ub section (3), and turns upon the fact that the person injured by the griceous hurt for which the accused was convicted ded after that trial, so that no charge of murder could have been made at that trial (See 5 179 as to jurisdiction to try such an offence if the grievous hurt was committed in one local jurisdiction and the death took place in another) if death had taken place before the trial for causing grievous hurt and was known to the Court to have happened, a second trial for that offence could not have been held-(See Ill d)

Where there is no cytdence that articles stolen from several persons were received on different dates, the dishonest receipt of the same is a single offence under 5 411, Penal Code, and a person tried on a charge in respect of some or the articles, cannot be tried on a similar charge in respect of other articles of which he was in possession on the same date?

Where the accused was charged with murder and also with culpable homicide not amounting to murder and was acquitted of murder, it was held that there was no bar to his subsequent trial for culpable homicide since there had been no legal verdict on that charge. If there had been no charge of that offence le could not have been tried for it as it was a minor offence included in the charge of murder on which he might, under 5 237, have been convicted without a separate charge 3

The principle has been applied to persons not under trial but concerned in the commission of an offence which on the trial of others ended in their acquittal on the ground that the case was false. Until that order of acquittal, declaring the facts on which the prosecution proceeded were false, was set aside on the appeal of Government the Magistrate was not competent to take proceedings against others for the same offence a

The accused was tried with others by the Court of Session with the aid of assessors and acquitted of abetment of dacoity. It was held that he could not afterwards be tried on the same facts on a charge of dishonestly receiving stolen property The fact that this offence was triable by jury did not affect his hability The Court of Session was in both cases competent to hold the trial The words not competent to try mean had not jurisdiction to try !

Where the accused were acquitted of mischief on the ground that the tree in respect of which the offence was committed was their own property, they could not afterwards be tried for theft of the same, for, on the same facts, they might have been convicted of both offences *

Several constables were convicted of roting. Two of them had been previ ously tried and acquitted on a charge of wrongful confinement for having arrested some persons in the course of the rioting, held that this was no bar to the second trial, the true test is not so much whether the facts are the same in both trials as whether acquittal on the first charge necessarily involves an acquittal on the second charge $

<sup>(5 6) 22</sup> Cal W N 199 511 Q Lmp v Makhan I L.R 15 594

As an explanation of Illustration (e), it may be said that the conviction was had while the injured person was still suffering from the injuries received and before the expiry of twenty days from the commission of the offence, during which time it was afterwards shown that he was unable to follow his ordinary pursuits so as to make the offence crusing grievous hurt

Or for which he might have been convicted under S 237.

The illustration to S 237 explains this S 237 also shows that a person comicted, or acquitted, of an offence cannot afterwards be tried on a charge of attempt to commit that offence

Exception.

Where the accused had been acquitted on a charge under S 400. Penal Code. (belonging to a gang of persons associated together for the purpose of habitually committing dacoity), and evidence was then given that they joined in a dacoity committed at Komba, but they were not charged with that offence, it was held that this was bar to their being afterwards tried for having committed this dacoity, for, although the same basis of facts furnished evidence in both cases, the charge of dacoity did not come within S 236 or S 237 of this Code. In which case alone subsequent trials are barred by 5 403 1

While such conviction or acoustial remains in force.

This would mean so long as the conviction or acquittal has not been set aside by a Court of Appeal or Revision. The fact that the Governor General in Council or the Local Government may have remitted the whole of the punishment would not have the effect of setting aside the conviction, so as to enable a Court to hold a second trial A Court of Appeal (S 423) or of Revision (S 430) is competent to set aside a conviction and sentence and to order the accused be re tried by a Court of competent jurisdiction subordinate to it or to be committed for trial

A preliminary charge sheet under S 107 was withdrawn by the police before the parties therein mentioned were ordered to appear. This was no bar to the bringing of a fresh charge under the same section against some of those nersons though the Magistrate had endorsed on the former charge sheet that the accused were acquitted "Neither on order of descharge nor of acquittal can properly be made in a case where the accused has not been directed to appear at all " In the same case it was also held that an order under S 115 to proceedings against the same parties under $ 107

But the Madras High Court in a later cases reconsidered the matter in a case where the Public Prosecutor had in a summons case withdrawn from the prosecution before the accused had been served and the accused had been acquitted; and Wallis C I held that there was a bar to a fresh trial. For a further description of this case see note to $ 247

When a conviction is set aside and a re-trial ordered, the whole case is reopened, and the accused must be tried again on all the charges originally framed 4

Sub-section (2)

See notes to S 235 and S 35
but it must be a distinct offence. So, where a person was convicted under Act Bit it must be a distinct the secretary and second that the subsequently secretary a post-letter and on appeal the consiction and sentence were affirmed he could not be subsequently convicted

<sup>1</sup> Subhedar Krishnappa Bom H Ct Ian 16 1899 2 In re Muthla Moopin I I R, 35 Mid 315 T 2 Re Dudekula I al Sahib I I R, 46 Mad 976 4 Nazimuddin 1 Emp I I R, 46 Cal, 163

under the same section of fraudulently making away with the same letter on the same occasion. Although either act is punishable under that section as an offence without evidence of the other still as it appeared that both acts were connected and formed substantially a part of the same criminal transaction, and the evidence with reference to such act was as necessary and material on the first charge as it was on the second the prisoner must be considered to have been tried and in peril in respect of the whole transaction as one offence on the first charge. There was in fact no part of the evidence upon which the second conviction took place which was not properly evidence on the first charge 1. See a case mentioned above in which offences under the Excise Act and under the Merchand sc Marks Act were held to be distinct offences though committed in the same transaction

Where the accused was acquitted by the Session Court on a charge of abet ment of forgery in relation to a document under Ss 457 and 109 Penal Code it was held that there was no bar to his being tried again for using the forged document as genuine under S 471 Penal Code. The case was not one contem plated by S 236 that is to say a case where upon the facts proved it was doubtful which offence they constituted. It came under S 403 (2) it came also under S 401 (4) innsmuch as no sanction had been given under S 195 at the time of the first trial for a prosecution under S ari Penal Code 3

Sub-section (3)

This is explained by Illustrations (c) and (e)-See also the above note

Sub section (5)

The General Chaises Act (\ of 1807) S 26 provides that where an act or omission constitutes an offence under two or more enactments, then the offender shall be liable to be prosecuted and pun shed under either or any of those enact ments but shall not be liable to be pun shed twice for the same offence. So a person cannot be consicted of fraudulently secreting a post letter and afternaeds of fraudi lently making away with the same letter on the same occasion a nor could be he consicted of any of the offences set out in the Ind an Registration Act (111 of 1877) S 82 and afterwards of the same offences under the Penal Code committed on the same occasion nor of a nu sance under a Local Municipal Act and afterwards of committing a public nuisance under the Penal Code consti tuted by the same act. But if an act constitutes an offence under a local Act and is also an offence under the Penal Code he is lable to be proceduted and pun shed under either law for either of such offences S 72 Penal Code provides that if a person is found gulty at the same trial of one of several specifed offences under the Penal Code but it is doubtful of which of such offences he is guilty he shall be punished for the offence for which the lowest pun sl ment is provided. If the same pun shment is not provided for all. But this section applies only to offences under the Penal Code though probably the same principle will be applied to other cases $ 183 deals with offences committed without or beyond British Ind a by a native Indian subject and by a British subject or servant of the Q een (whether British subject or not) in the territories of any native Prince or Chief In India and it enables the Courts of British Ind a to try such persons for such offences although they may be also liable to trial in another Court but it also provides that such proceedings which would be a bar to subsequent proceedings against such person

<sup>1</sup> Delapati Ran 1 Mad H C R 83 (s c.) Weir 996

J 47 but see Chamit superseded by s 25 for the same offence, if such offence had been committed in British findia, (e.g., S 403 of the Code or S 26 of the General Clauses Act of 1807) shall be a bar to further proceedings under the Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act XXI of 1870 (See new Act XV of 1901) in respect of the same offence in any territors beyond the 'imits of British India If therefore any of such persons has been convicted or acquitted by a Court in British India of such an offence, he cannot be proceeded against for the same offence under that Act

Explanation

None of the orders here specified can be regarded as constituting an acquittal

The dismissal of a complaint is a summary order. It may be passed by a Magistrate under S 203 if after the examination of the complainant and con sidering the result of any investigation which he may have thought proper to order he considers that there is no sufficient ground for proceeding or if the complainant does not within a reasonable time pay process or other fees payable by him-[5 -04 (1)] In both of these cases the High Court, the Sessions Judge or the District Magistrate may order further inquiry to be mide-(S 436) An order may however be summarily passed without a complete trial terminating the proceedings which is expressly declared to have the effect of an acquittal as, for instance in a summons case on the absence of the complainant (S 247) or if the complanant is allowed to withdraw his complaint (5 248) or if the offence is compoundable and it is compounded by the person immediately concerned in some offences without and in other offences only with the permission of the Court before which the prosecution is pending and under such circumstances the order has the effect of an acquittal (S 345) S 249 enables Magistrates for reasons to be recorded to stop proceedings at any stage in a summons case instituted otherwise than upon a complaint [See S 190 (1) (b) and (c)] without pronouncing any judgment either of acquittal or conviction

There is nothing in the Code to prevent a Magistrate from entertaining a second complaint when he has himself passed an order of discharge in he absence of the complainant 1 or when an order of discharge has been passed by another Court <sup>2</sup>

The discharge of an accused is an order passed by a Court without calling upon the accused to plead to the charge of an offence. It is an order passed by a Magistrate either in an inquiry irto a case triable only by a Court of Session or High Court or in a warrant-case triable by himself. In the former case, the Magistrate would not be competent to convict or acquit the accused. But in both of such cases an order of discharge may be passed if the Magistrate finds that there is no case made but against the accused (S 253) or that there are not sufficient grounds for committing him for trial by the Court of Session or High Court-(Ss 200 and 213) in a warrant case before a Mag strate and also in a tral before the Court of Session or High Court if the accused has pleaded not guilty to the charge he sentitled to be acquitted. He cannot be

5 273 enables a High Court at any time before the commencement of the trial that is before the accused has been called upon to plead to the charge to stry proceedings if the charge appears to the presiding Judge unsustainable

To the instances given in the explanation to $ 403 may be added the following -

At any stage of any trial before a High Court and before the return of the verdict the Advocate General may if he thinks fit inform the Court on behalf of

Mr Ahwad Husain I L R 29 Cal 726
Dwarka Nath Mondal I L R 28 Cal 65° B 100 Singh v K Emp 2 Pat L 1.

Her Majesty that he will not prosecute the defendant upon the charge; and thereupon all proceedings upon such charge against the defendant shall be stayed, and he shall be discharged of and from the same But such discharge shall not amount to an acquittal unless the presiding Judge otherwise directs—S. 333

A somewhat similar provision is made by S 404, which enables any Public Prosecutor with the consent of the Court, in cases tried by jury before the return of the verdict, and in other cases before judgment is pronounced, to withdraw from the prosecution of any person. If such withdrawal is made before a charge has been framed, the accused shall be discharged; if after a charge has been framed, or where no charge is required, the accused shall be acquitted

So also, S 240 provides that where a person has been convicted on one out of everal charges framed against him and the complainant or officer conducting the prosecution, with the consent of the Court, withdraws the remaining charge or charges, such withdraws! shall have the effect of an acquittal on such charge or charges, unless the conviction be set aside, in which case the inquiry or trial of the charge or charges, on withdrawn may proceed

S as also provides that when a jury is discharged in a trial before a High Court, that is, when six invors out of nine do not agree in opinion and the ludge disagrees with the majority or when there is no such majority and the Judge considers that there should be no trial, he shall make an entry to that effect on the charge, such entry operating as an acquittal

There has been considerable divergence of opinion as to whether an acquittal under S 247 has the same effect as an acquittal after trial on the merits, so at to har a fresh trial on the same facts. For discussion of the rulings on this point see note to S 247,

The following remarks made by Peacock C J, are important in connection with this section:

"When a former conviction or accountal is set up as a bar to a subsequent trial the Court before which the second trial is held has nothing to do with the evidence given on the former trial, except for the ourpose of ascertaining whether the offence which forms the subject of the first trial, is the same as that which forms the subject of the second charge If the offence is the same, the former conviction or occultal is a bar to the second trial whether the second Court considers that the former consistion or acquitted was warranted by the evidence given at the first trial, or not If the offence is not the same, the former conviction or acquitted is no har to the trial upon the second charge notwithstanding the evidence given in the two cases is the same and the Court whether the same as that which tried the prisoner for the first offence or a different Court, is bound to apply its own judgment to the evidence before it and to give a verdict according to its own conviction upon the evidence adduced. It appears to me that two distinct offences cannot be converted into one such offence by reason of any evidence which the prosecutor may think fit to adduce upon the trial for one of them. For instance, upon an indictment for murdering A, it would be no answer that the prisoner had been acquitted upon a trial for murdering B unless it could be shown that the two charges related to the same person under different names. If It were shown that A and B were two different persons, as for instance, that A was a man and that B was a woman no amount of proof as to what esidence was given on the trial for the murder of A could show that the offences were one and the same, so as to render the acquittal as to A a bar to the charge of murdering B "

<sup>1</sup> Q r Dwarkanath Dutt r W. R 25, see also O r Mussamut Itwarya, 22 W.

PART VIL

OF APPEAL, REFLECTE AND REVISION.

CHAPTER XXXI

OF APPEALS.

Water the Frontier Crimes Regulation is in force, 11, in certain districts of the North West Frontier Province, and in British baluchistan, no appeal lies against any sentence passed under any of the provisions of the Regulation-(Keg III of 1901, 5 48)

Under the Code of 1872, it was held that an appeal may be presented by any person authorised by the appearant to do so, not necessarily by a pleader of the Court 1 5 419 of this Code, however, declares that every putition of appeal shall be presented by the appoilant or his pleader, but if the appellant is in fail, he may present his petition of appeal to the other in charge of the jail, who shall thereupon forward such petition to the Appellate Court-5 420. Such presents tion to the officer in charge of the jail is, for purposes of limitation, equivalent to the presentation to the Appellate Court Pleader, as defined by S 4 (r), means a pleader or Mukhtar authorised under any law for the time being in force to practise in the Court, and includes

(i) an Advocate, a Valul, and an attorney of the High Court so authorised. and (ii) any other person appointed with the permission of the Court to act in such proceeding, so that it would seem that, unless the appellant is in iail, a petition of appeal must be presented by the Appellant or some professional man. except under permission of the Appellate Court

The following periods of limitation are prescribed by Act 1\ of 1908, Sch 1, for the presentation of Criminal appeals -

From a sentence of death passed by a Sessions seven days from the date of sentence Art 150 Judge

Against a sentence or order appealed against, presented to the High Court sixty days from the date of sentence or order Art 155 thirty days as above in Art 155

. Art. 154

Lo any other Court From an order of acquittal

six months from the date of the order appealed against Art 157

Unless the appellant satisfies the Court that he had sufficient cause for not presenting the appeal within the prescribed period, it shall be dismissed -S 5

If the Court is closed on the last day in which an appeal may be presented.

it may be presented on the day that the Court re-opens-S 4 In computing the period of limitation, the day from which such period is to be reckoned shall be excluded, also the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the sentence or order appealed against .- S 12

In re Subba Aitala I L R., I Mad . 304 O Emp v Lingaya I L R. 9 Mad, 258 In re Jhabbu Singh, I L R., 10 Cal. 642

404. No appeal shall lie from any judgment or order of a Criminal Court except as provided for by this otherwise Code or by any other law for the time being no appeal provided, to lie ın force.

This Chapter generally declares what sentences or orders are appealable But there are other provisions of this Code which also give the right of appeal

Thus, S 486 provides specially for an appeal against a sentence summarily passed by a Court, under 5 480 or 5 485, for contempt of Court to the Court to which decrees or orders are ordinarity appealable from such Court

So also S 250 allows an appeal against an order for compensation to be paid by a complainant or informant, which has been passed by a Magistrate of the second or third class, or against a similar order passed by any other Magistrate, where the amount of compensation awarded exceeds fifty rupces

S 476B provides for an appeal in cases dealt with under Ss 476 and 476A

An order under Ss 517, 516, or 519, regarding the disposal of properly before a Criminal Court, may be considered by a Court of Appeal solely with reference to such order, although no appeal may have been preferred in the case in which such order was passed a for it may often happen that the question of the propriety of such an order may in no way concern the convicted person. Such an order may be passed when the accused is acquitted or discharged, and application should be made to the Court of Appeal before an application for revision can properly be made to the High Court * If the person convicted appeals, and he is concerned with such an order, the Appellate Court can, under 5 423 (d), make any amendment or any consequential or incidental order that may be just or proper, and this would cover an order in respect of the matters dealt with by Ss 517, 518 or 519 The Court of Appeal would probably be the Court to which an appeal would ordinarily he from a judgment or order of the Court which passed the order under these sections

No Court on appeal is competent to alter or reverse any order passed with respect to the age of jouthful offenders or the substitution of an order for detention in a Reformatory School for transportation or imprisonment Reformatory Schools Act, 1897, S 16 See note to S 399 ante But this does not prevent an Appellate Court from considering the propriety of the conviction on which such order depends 4

Appeal from order rejecting application restoration attached property

Any person, whose application under section 89 for the delivery of property or the proceeds of the sale thereof has been rejected by any Court may appeal to the Court to which appeals ordinarily he from the sentences of the former Court.

S 89 relates to the appearance of a person whose property has been attached or sold in consequence of its being supposed that he has absconded or is concealing himself to avoid execution of warrant of arrest. Such a person, on his appearance within two years from the date of the attachment, and no proof that he did not so abscond or conceal himself, or that

O Emp : Ahmed I L. R. 9 Mad 448 (s.c.) Werr 1126

Mitchell: Joggesur Mocha, I L. R., 3 (al. 379 (s.c.) 1 Cal. L. R., 339

I mp r Mambar Baha, I L. R. 2 All., 76

Reasut v Churtney, I L. R. 2 S Cal., 443 (s.c.) 5 Cal. W. M. 221

he had no notice of the attachment sufficient to enable him to attend within the specified time, is entitled to obtain restoration of the property, or, if it, or any portion of it, has been sold, the nett proceeds of the sale after deducting the costs of attachment An appeal lies against a refusal to comply with such an application

Any person who has been ordered under section 118 406 to give security for keeping the peace or for Appeal from order requiring security for good behaviour may appeal against such keeping the peace or for good behaviour

(a) If made hy a Presidency Magistrate, to the High Court;

(b) If made hy any other Magistrate, to the Court of

Provided that the Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, direct that in any district specified in the notification appeals from such orders made by a Magistrate other than the District Magistrate or a Presidency Magistrate shall be to the District Magistrate and not to the Court of Session

Provided, further, that nothing in this section shall apply to persons the proceedings against whom are laid before a Sessions Judge in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2) or subsection (3A) of section 123

A drastic change in the law has been made in this section by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 109 Formerly there was no appeal against an order requiring security for good behaviour, passed by a District Magistrate or Presidency Magistrate, and appeals against such orders passed by any other Magistrate lay to the District Magistrate. There was no appeal against an order requiring security for keeping the peace. Now there is an appeal in every case, except where the order is one made by Sessions Judge under S 123, the appeal will he to the High Court where the order has been made by a Presidency Magistrate, and to the Court of Session in every other case, in the latter case the appeal may be heard by an Additional Sessions Judge, if the Local Government has so directed, or if the appeal has been made over to him by the Sessions Judge. But the Local Government may direct that in any specified district appeals from order of subordinate Magistrates shall be to the District Magistrate instead of to the Court of Session Orders under Chapter VIII cannot be made by Magistrates of the second or third class

The second proviso, excepting cases in which a Sessions Judge passes an order under, S 123, gives effect to the view formerly taken of the law 1 The appeal from an order by an Additional District Magistrate will lie to the Court of Session unless the local Government has issued a notification under the first proviso, in which case the appeal would lie to the District Magistrate

It is the duty of an Appellate Court, on an appeal from an order requiring security for good behaviour, to look into the evidence for the defence, and to come to a decision thereon, though counsel for the appellant may have ignored it in his arguments

&lt;sup>1</sup> O Emp t Chand I han I L R o Cal 788 <sup>2</sup> See Mahendra Bhumij t Emp I L R 48 Cal 874 <sup>3</sup> Fidoi Hossein t Emp I L R 48 Cal 376

<sup>75</sup>

An Appellate Court dismissing an appeal summarily is not bound to write a judgment, but an appeal from an order requiring security for good behaviour is distinguishable from an appeal against a conviction of an offence, and in such cases the appellate court should not dispose of an appeal otherwise than by a judgment, showing that he has applied his mind to a consideration of the evidence, and of the pleas raised for the defence, both in the original court, and in the memorandum of appeal 1

Apart from such powers as he may have as an Appellate Court the District Magistrate has power under S 124 in certain circumstances to order the release of a person imprisoned for failure to give security, and under 5 125 to cancel any bond executed under Chapter VIII by order of any Court in his district not superior to his Court

406A Inv person aggreed by an order refusing to accept Appeal from order or rejecting a surety under section 122 may refusing to accept or appeal against such order,rejecting a surety

- (a) if made by a Presidency Magistrate, to the High Court,
- (b) if made by the District Magistrate, to the Court of Session, or
- (c) if made by a Magistrate other than the District Magistrate, to the District Magistrate

This section is new having been inserted by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 110 S 128, as amended by the same Act, now lays down a definite procedure to be adopted by a Magistrate who is proposing to reject a surety, as to which see note to that section. An order of rejection is appealable, if made by the District Magistrate, to the Court of Session, and if made by any other Magistrate, to the District Magistrate. In this case also the question may arise as to which will be the appellate court in the case of orders passed by an Additional District Magistrate The Calcutta High Court held under S 406, that the appeal against an order requiring security would be to the District Magistrate, and the arguments used in that case would seem to apply equally to an appeal against an order passed under S 122

(1) Any person convicted on a trial held by any Magistrate of the second or third class, or any Appeal from sen person sentenced under section 319 or in res tence of Magistrate of pect of whom an order has been made or a the second or third class sentence has been passed under section 380 by a Sub-divisional Magistrate of the second class, may appeal to the

District Magistrate

(2) The District Magistrate may direct that any appeal under this section, or any class of such appeals, shall Transfer of appeals be heard by any Magistrate of the first class to first class Magissub ordinate to him and empowered by trate

Local trovernment to hear such appeals, and thereupon such

Emi Lal Belan t I 1 34 Alt 31 5 4 8 fahen ha Bh mij Imp l I R 44 Cal 5 4

appeal or class of appeals may be presented to such subordinate Magistrate, or, if already presented to the District Magistrate. may be transferred to such subordinate Magistrate The District Magistrate may withdraw from such Magistrate any appeal or class of appeals so presented or transferred

In add tion to appeals given under this Chapter, S 486 declares that any person sentenced, under S 480 or S 483 summarily for contempt of Court may appeal, and it also provides specially to whom such appeals shall lie

If any Magistrate not being empowered by law in that behalf decides an appeal his proceedings shall be void-S 530 (r) Certain orders are made specially appealable, e.g. by Ss 250 405 406 515 520-See note to S 423 (c)

A case dealt with under S 349 and here referred to would be when a Magistrate of the third class having jur sdiction to hold the trial is of opinion that the accused is guilty but that the sentence which he can pass is inadequate The case would in a sub-division be then referred to the Sub-divisional Officer. and if that officer is of the second class and convicts the sentence would be appealable under S 407 as if it had been passed in a trial held by him

An order is made or a sentence is passed under S 180 where under S 162 a Magistrate of the third class or a Magistrate of the second class not specially empowered to act under S 562(t) convicts an accused and sends the case to a Magistrate of the first class or a Sub-divisional Magistrate in order that action may be taken under that section A Rench of Magistrates vested with powers of the second class representa-

a Magistrate of that class with n S 407 and an appeal lies to the District Magistrate against a sentence passed by it but it is not so if under special orders of Government a Bench of Magistrates each of whom exercises such powers is empowered to exercise conjointly as a Bench powers of the first class Sub section (2) enables an appeal to be made either to the District Man strate

or to another Magistrate duly empowered to hear such appeals

A Magistrate specially empowered by the Local Government to hear appeals is not the Court to which appeals ordinarily lie within the meaning of S ros(1) so as to be competent to make a complaint under S 476 in reference to certain offences mentioned in S 195°

An appeal lies under S 407 against an order passed under S 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act 1871 as an act punishable under it is an offence as defined n S 3 (0) 3

A Sub-div sional Magistrate hearing an appeal has power under S 520 to pass orders regarding the disposal of property in respect of which an offence has been committed either at the time of disposing of the appeal or so soon thereafter that the order may be treated as part of the appeal proceedings

As to the Appellate Court's powers in regard to compromises see S 345(5) A Court hearing appeals under S 407 can make an order under S 106 See S 106(3) as amended

S 407(2) places no restriction on the power of the District Magistrate to withdraw appeals and he is competent to withdraw part heard appeals $

O Dmp i Naravanasami II Ro Mad 16 sc. Ner 1001 Sadhu Iali Ram Churn II Ro Ocal 304 sch. Col. W. 114 Froma Variar II Ros Mad 66 coternia o O Dmp. Subarano Piliu II Ros Mad Ariar I I K 20 Vid 656 overruin O Imp
47 Inre Subbamma I I R 20 Mad 124
Ponnusami I I R 20 Mad 316
Arunachala Thevan I I R 46 Mad 516
Alagu Ambilan Emp I I R 31 Mad

CHAP XXXI CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE. SEC 403 Any person convicted on a trial held by an Assistant

Sessions Judge, a District Magistrate or other Appeal from sentence of Assistant Magistrate of the first class, or any person sen-Sessions Judge or Magistrate of the first tenced under section 349 or in respect of whom an order has been made or a sentence has been passed under section 380 by a Magistrate of the first class, may appeal to the Court of Session

Provided as follows --

(a) [Repealed by Act XII of 1923]

(b) when in any case an Assistant Sessions Judge or a Magistrate specially empowered under section 30 passes any sentence of imprisonment for a term exceeding four years, or any sentence of transportation, the appeal of all or any of the accused convicted at such trial shall he to the High Court; (c) when any person is convicted by a Magistrate of an offence under section 124A of the Indian Penal Code the appeal shall he to the High Court Where there are two Sessions divisions and two Sessions Judges holding their Courts in one and the same district, an appeal lies to the Judge of the Sessions Division within which the trial has been held, not of that within which the offence may have been committed !

A sentence passed under S 349 here referred to would be in a case tried by a Magistrate of the second or third class having jurisdiction and submitted by him to a superior Magistrate of the first class because he cannot pass an adequate sentence

An order is made or a sentence is passed under S 380 where under S 562 a Magistrate of the third class or a Magistrate of the second class not specially empowered to act under S 562(1) convicts an accused, and sends the cate to a Magistrate of the first class or a Sub divisional Magistrate in order that action may be taken under that section

An order awarding compensation and repayment of fines, etc., under S 22 of the Cattle Trespass Act 1871, is appealable under S 408, the compensation awarded is not a fine, and consequently the restrictive provisions of S 413 do not appls *

Proviso (a)

Proviso (a), which gave an European British subject the option of appealing either to the High Court or the Court of Session has been repealed by Act No XII of 192, S 23

Proviso (b)

An Assistant Sessions Judge and a Magistrate specially empowered under S 30 may pass any sentence authorised by law, except a sentence of death r of transportation for a term exceeding seven years, or of imprisonment for a term exceeding seven years—Ss 31(3) and 34 If the sentence passed by either of such officers is one of imprisonment for a term exceeding four years, or is one of transportation, it is appealable only to the High Court, against any other sentence subject to S 413 an appeal lies to the Court of Session

Nalis Ambu Poduval I I R, 30 Mad 136
Barthof Duming Rodriks I I R 46 Bom 58

Discertion 40S must be rend subject to the limitations expressed in S 423 and the insertion of the work of all or my of the accused convicted at such trial by Act No NIII of 1073 S 1022 makes it clear that the right of appeal exerciseable by a person who has received an appealable sentence carries with it a right of appeal also have no other person convicted in the trial whose sentence fit it stood alone would not have been appealable and even though the one accused who receives a sentence exceeding four years does not appeal, the other accused all have the right of appeal to the High Court. It had already been so held? See 348 S 448.

There was considerable difference of opinion as to the meaning of the term aggregate sentences in $3.3(3). Erriter cross held that it applied to concurrent as well as consecutive sentences? Later it was generally held that aggregate sentences as used in $3.3(3) applied only to consecutive and not concurrent sentences when therefore in Assistant Sessions Judge passed concurrent sentences and the whole term of imprisonment to be served by the connict did not exceed four years the appeal lay to the Sessions Judge and not to the High Court 4. The amendment now made in $3.3(3) makes it clear that the latter is the right wew. It is now "the aggregate of consecutive sentences" passed at one trial which is to be treated as a single sentence for the purpose of determining to which Court the appeal lies.

Proviso (c)

S 124A of the Penal Code was enacted by Act IV of 1898, S 4—S 126 ante power and the community of the Commun

Appeals to Court of Sessions Judge shall be heard by the Session how heard Sessions Judge or by an Additional Sessions Judge

Provided that an Additional Sessions Judge shall hear only such appeals as the Local Government may, by general or special order, direct or as the Sessions Judge of the division may make over to him

The proviso added by Act No VVIII of 1923, S 211 provides specially for appeals, and male set no longer necessary to rely on S 193(2) and to hold that "cases" in that section includes 'appeals 'Under that section, prior to its amendment in Additional Sessions Judge could try no case except under the orders of the Lord Government

i Pi eku Ji v Q Emp. 4 Pet L. J. 433 i Fmp. i Jul Smgh I I. R. 38 All 494 Bepun Behary Dey i Emp. 15 C. W. N. 734 Abdul Khalek v E. Emp. 17 Cal

W 1 72 Shabijan t I'mp 17 Cal W N 820 Emp 1 Tulsi Ram L L 35 All., 154 Gur Sahay Ram v Q Emp 3 Pat L J 138

Any person convicted on a trial held by a Sessions Judge, or an Additional Sessions Judge, may Appeal from sent ence of Court of Ses appeal to the High Court

An appeal also lies to the High Court in a case in which an Assistant Sessions Judge or a Magistrate, specially empowered under S 30, passes any sentence of imprisonment for a term exceeding four years, or any sentence of transportation also against a sentence passed by a Magistrate for an offence under 124A of the Indian Penal Code (S 408 Prov), also against a sentence of imprisonment for a term exceeding six months or a fine exceeding two hundred rupees in a trial held by a Presidency Mag strate-(S 411)

Any person connected on a trial held by a Presidence 411 Magistrate may appeal to the High Court if Appeal from sen tence of Presidency the Magistrate has sentenced him to imprison Magistrate ment for a term exceeding six months or to fine exceeding two brundred runees No appeal lies from a sentence of six months' imprisonment and fine of two hundred rupees by a Presidence Magistrate. The combination of these sentences is not declared by S 415 to admit an appeal as in sentences passed by other Magistrates 1

S 35(3) of this Code declares that, for purposes of appeal the aggregate of consecutive sentences presed under that section in a case of conviction for several offences at one trial shall be deemed to be a single sentence

Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained where an accused person has pleaded guilty and has been convicted by a Court of Session or any No appeal in certain cases when accused Presidence Magistrate or Magistrate of the first pleads guilty class on such plea, there shall be no appeal except as to the extent or legality of the sentence

To bring a case within S 412 the accused must have pleaded guilty and been convicted on such plea by Court of Session a Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class (a District Magistrate is a Magistrate of the first class) (S 10) that is to say he must have pleaded guilty to a charge of an offenter in a Sessions trial or a warrant-case or in a summons-case, or summary trial and so admitted that he committed the offence of which he was accused (5 247) and he must have been convicted on that plea

Where an appeal is allowed in a case in which the accused person has pleaded guilty the Court should satisfy itself that such plea was properly made after the nature of the offence was explained and understood by the person under trial to as to amount to a confession of guilt and this is conclusive evidence ogainst

At the hearing of an appeal in such a case by a person convicted by one of the Courts mentioned in S 412 the Appellithe Court will have to consider the sentence as distinguished from the conviction itself on the ground that the sentence is beyond what the circumstances of the case required or that the sentence is illegal as not authorised by law. The plea of guilty is regarded as a water of the right to appeal except as to the severity or legality of the sentence

<sup>1</sup> Scheng O Fmp I L R 16 Cal 7 9 Secalso In the matter of Motheram Datas and another I I R 2 Mnd 10 O Fmp 1 Hart Savha I I R 20 Hom 145 4 Kalu Doson, I L R 22 Bom 750 7 mp v Jatar N Talab I L R 5 Bom. 85

413 Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained,
No appeal in petty there shall be no appeal by a convicted person in cases in which a Court of Session passes a centence of imprisonment not exceeding one month only, or in which a Court of Session or District Magistrate or other Magistrate of the first class passes a sentence of fine not exceeding fifty rupees only

Explanation —There is no appeal from a sentence of imprionment pissed by such Court or Magistrate in default of payment of fine when no substantive scutence of imprisonment has also been passed appeal where a Court of Session or the District Magistrate or any Magistrate of any Magistrate of the first class passed a sentence of imprisonment not exceeding one month only, or of fine not exceeding fifty rupees only, or of whipping only. Now there is always an appeal against a sentence of whipping and also against a sentence of imprisonment unless it is a sentence of a second or or of session. In regard to a sentence of fine only the law is unchanged by a Court of Session. In regard to a sentence of fine only the law is unchanged.

In UPPER BLRMA (not including the Shan States), there is no appeal in any case in which a District Magistrate or Court of Session passed a sentence of imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or of fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or of whipping or of all or any of those punishments combined—(Reg I of 1925, Sch el vii) But this does not apply to an appeal by an European British subject—(Ibid xiii)

Sentence.

Month shall mean a month reckoned according to the British calender—General Clauses Act (\( \) of 1897), \( S \) 3(33) Separate consecutive sentences of imprisonment passed in the same trial must be considered in the aggregate in determining the right of appeal—(S 3,4) and S 415)

An order under S 31 of the Court Fees Act directing the accused to pay the complanant the Court fee paid on the petition of complaint is no part of the sentence so as to confer the right of appeal against a sentence not otherwise appealable ! (See now S 556A)

The amendment in S 35(3) makes it clear that concurrent sentences cannot for the purposes of appeal be taken collectively, thus giving effect to the law load down in several cases?

Formerly there was a difference of opinion as to whether a person who received a non-appealable sentence derived any right of appeal from the fact that a co-accused tried jointly with him received a sentence which was appealable blost of the earlier cases held that no such right of appeal was conferred.

In a Patna case there was a difference of opinion between the two Judges who constituted the Court 4

u Mul App

balekı K.Emp 17 C W

om H C R Cr 35 Reg 1 1872 7 Mad H C R 060 Pro Feb 20 1879

Pheku Jhat K Imp 4 Pat L. J 435

In an Allahabad case Piccor, J, held that all persons convicted in one trial had a right of appeal if one appealable sentence was passed 1

But later in same year KNON J, dissented from this 2

The matter has now been made perfectly clear by the insertion of S 415A If an appealable sentence is passed at all in any trial all persons convicted at that trial have a right of appeal whether the person against whom the appeal able sentence was passed appeals or not

Where a Magistrate passed a non appealable sentence and afterwards at the request of the accused added to it so as to make it appealable, the Sessions Judge was bound to hear the appeal on the ments of the case irrespective of an object tion is to the legality of the amended sentence?

An order awarding compensation and repayment of fines, etc., under S 22 of the Cattle Trespass Act, 1871, as appealable since the compensation awarded is not a fine and consequently the restrictive provisions of S 413 do not apply

Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, there shall be no appeal by a convicted person in any case tried summarily in which a Magissummary convictions

trate empowered to act under section 260 passes a sentence of fine not exceeding two hundred rupees only

See note to S 413 in regard to the larger final powers of sentence conferred on District Magistrates in Upper Burma

There has been a change of the law in this section. Formerly there was no appeal in a case tried summarily where a sentence of imprisonment not exceeding three months only, or of fine not exceeding two hundred rupees only, or of whipping only, was passed Now, by the amendment made in this section by Act No XII of 1933 S 25, there is an appeal in every case tired summarily except where the sentence is one of fine only not exceeding two hundred rupees

S 414 bars appeals only in the case of certain sentences. So under S 408 an appeal will lie to the Sessions Judge from an order under S 562 passed in 2 summary trlaf $

An appeal may be brought against any sentence referred to in section 413 or section 414 by Proviso to sections 413 and 414 which any two or more of the punishments therein mentioned are combined, but no sentence which would not otherwise be hable to appeal shall be appealable merely on the ground that the person convicted is ordered to find security to keep the prace Explanation - A sentence of imprisonment in default of payment of fine is not a sentence by which two or more punishments are combined within the meaning of this section S 35 (3) also declares that for purposes of appeal the aggregate of consecutive sentences passed under that section in the case of convictions for several offences at one trial shall be deemed to be one single sentence

Imp : Lal Singh I L R, 38 Alt 305
 Imp v Husan Khan I I R 39 Alt 203
 Imp v Husan Khan I L R 48 Bom 41
 Barthol Duming Rodriks I L R 46 Bom 58
 Imp v Hira Lal I L R 46 Alt 828

The exception made in regard to an additional order under S 106 to find security to keep the peace would seem to show that the addition of a consequential or incidental order does not affect the right of appeal if such order is not itself appealable.

The retention of a reference in this section to S 414 appears to be an oversight, the reference is meaningless as one sentence only is now mentioned in

5. 414

415A Notwithstanding anything contained in this Chapter,

Special right of ap peal in tertain cases one trial, and an appealable judgment or order has been passed in respect of any of such persons, all or any of the persons convicted at such trial shall have a right of appeal.

This is new, having been inserted by Act No VIII of 1923, S 114 A doubt is thus removed which his long troubled the Courts See note to S 413. The right of appeal granted by this section arises whether the person against whom an appealable sentence is passed fodges an appeal or not for orders that are anoncalable, see 58 360, 460%, 407 and 408.

For the purpose of appeal the aggregate of consecutive sentences passed in case of convictions for several offences at one trial shall be deemed to be a single sentence -5 33(3). Concurrent sentences cannot be taken collectively for the purpose of justifying an appeal 1

416. [Saving of sentences on European British subjects.]
Omitted by $ 25 of Act XII of 1923.

Before the repeal of this section nothing in sections 413 or 414 applied to appeals from sentences passed under ofd Chapter XXXIII on European British subjects, and under provise (a) to 5 408 (also repealed) an European British subject had the option of sppealing either to the Court of Session or to the High Court.

417. The Local Government may direct the Public Proseof severnment in case from an original or appeal to the High Court of acquital passed by any Court other than a High Court.

If the District Magistrate considers that an appeal should be preferred by Government against an order of acquittal, he should submit a brief narrative of the facts of the case with his own reasons to the Commissioner along with all the original records and police diaries connected with the ease

District Magistrates should bear in mind that the Government is unwilling to exercise its right of appeal in petty or unimportant cases, and that it will not exercise it merely because the judgment to be set aside is not in accordance with that of the lower Court. The Magistrate must show that the recorded evidence clearly warranted a conviction, and that an avoidable failu e of justice has taken place—(U. P. Govt Order).

An appeal under S 417 includes an appeal from an order of an Appellate Court acquitting the appellant

A special limitation of six months is provided for the presentation of such an appeal—Act 157; Sch II of the Limitation Act, 1877.

<sup>1</sup> Suknandan Singh v h. Emp. 17 C L J. 392 Abdul hhalek v K Lmp. C W.N., 72 Azir Sheikhu Emp. I L R., 40 Cal. 631.

The Sessions Judge should send to the Divisional Commissioner any record of a criminal trial that he may require to satisfy himself whether Government should be moved to direct an appeal against an original or appellate judgment of acquittal 1

It is ordinarily sufficient that the Public Prosecutor or other officer appointed by covernment should have in opportunity of taking copies of the record. But it exceptional cases, in which Government may consider it essential to see original documents, such documents may be given into the possession of the officer appointed by Government to receive them under such precautions for securing their safe keeping and return as to the Court may seem necessary.

A clear statement of the circumstances which are considered sufficient to justify an appeal, with the point or points on which it should be preferred, should be sent to Covernment for consideration 4

Where the Local Government appeals from an order of acquittal in a capital case, it is undesirable that the late of the accused should be discussed and determined while he is at large S 427 accordingly provides that where an appeal against an acquittal is presented under S 417, the High Court may issue a warrant directing that the accused be arrested and brought before it or any Subordinatt Court, and the Court before which he is brought may commit him to prison pending the disposal of the "appeal, or admit him to bail

If the appeal is against a verdict of acquittal by a jury, it would be only on a point of law 4. But see ss. 44) and 4.18 (2)

An appeal lies under S 417 against a verdict or an order of acquittal on any of the charges under trial though there may have been a conviction on another charge. So, where the jury found the accused not guilty of murder, but guilty of culpable homicide not amounting to murder, the Local Government was competent to appeal against the order of acquittal on the charge of murder appeal was accordingly heard, and the accused was convicted of murder and sentinced to death 4

In considering an appeal by Government against an order of acquittal, it is not for the High Court to say whether, if it had been trying the case, it might not have taken a view opposed to that of the Lower Court I hat is not the test to be applied to determine such an appeal. While the High Court fully recog nizes the necessity for the existence of such powers in the Local Government in this country it is equally clear that those powers should be most sparingly enforced, and in respect of pure questions of fact, only in those cases where, through the incompetence, stupidity or perversity of a subordinate tribunal, such unreasonable or distorted conclusions have been drawn from the evidence as to produce a positive miscarriage of justice. It is not because a judge or Magistrate has taken a view of the case in which the Government does not coincide, and has acquitted the accused persons, that an appeal from this decision must necessarily prevail, or that the High Courts should be called upon to disturb the ordinary course of justice by putting in force the arbitrary powers conferred by S 417 The doing so should be simited to those instances in which the lower Court has so obstinately blundered and gone wrong, as to produce a result mischievous alike to the administration of justice and the interests of the public. The Sessions Judge, in the present case, has had the witnesses before him and had consequently the best opportunity of judging their truth, and he appears to have conducted the inquiry with cure and patience, and to have weighed and

Covernment of Bengal Cir 19 March 19 1875

Government of Bengal v Parmeshur Mullick I L R, 10 Cal, 1029 See 85 418

and 423 (2)
Lmp v Judoonath Gangooly I L R . 2 Cal . 273

The Sessions Judge should send to the Divisional Commissioner any recor of a criminal trial that he may require to satisfy himself whether Governmen should be moved to direct an appeal against an original or appellate judgment t acquittal 1

It is ordinarily sufficient that the Public Prosecutor or other officer appointe by Government should have an opportunity of taking copies of the record But i exceptional cases, in which Government may consider it essential to see origin; documents, such documents may be given into the possession of the officer appointe by Government to receive them under such precautions for securing their saf keeping and return as to the Court may seem necessary

A clear statement of the circumstances which are considered sufficient t justify an appeal, with the point or points on which it should be preferred, shoul be sent to Government for consideration 4

Where the Local Government appeals from an order of acquittal in a capit case, it is undesirable that the fate of the accused should be discussed and deter mined while he is at large & 427 accordingly provides that where an appet against an acquittal is presented under 5 417, the High Court may issue warrant directing that the accused be arrested and brought before it or an Subordinate Court, and the Court before which he is brought may commit his to prison pending the disposal of the appeal, or admit him to bail

If the appeal is against a verdict of acquittal by a jury, it would be only o a point of law " But see ss 44) and 418 (2)

An appeal lies under S 417 against a verdict or an order of acquittal on an of the charges under trial, though there may have been a conviction on anothe So, where the jury found the accused not guilty of murder, but guilt of culpable homicide not amounting to murder, the Local Government wa competent to appeal against the order of acquittal on the charge of murder. Th appeal was accordingly heard, and the accused was convicted of murder an sentenced to death 4 in considering an appeal by Government against an order of acquittal, it i not for the High Court to say whether, if it had been tiying the case, it migh not have taken a view opposed to that of the Lower Court that is not the tes to be applied to determine such an appeal. While the High Court fully recog nizes the necessity for the existence of such powers in the Local Governmen in this country, it is equally clear that those powers should be most sparingly enforced, and, in respect of pure questions of fact, only in those cases where through the incompetence, stupidity or perversity of a subordinate tribunal, such unreasonable or distorted conclusions have been drawn from the evidence as b produce a positive miscarriage of justice. It is not because a judge or Magistrati has taken a view of the case in which the Government does not coincide, and has acquitted the accused persons, that an appeal from this decision must neces sarily prevail, or that the High Courts should be called upon to disturb the ordinary course of justice by putting in force the arbitrary powers conferred by S 417 The doing so should be imited to those instances in which the lower Court has so obstinately blundered and gone wrong, as to produce a result mis chievous alike to the administration of justice and the interests of the public The Sessions Judge, in the present case, has had the witnesses before him, and had consequently the best opportunity of judging their truth, and he appears to have conducted the inquiry with care and patience, and to have weighed and

<sup>1</sup> Cal II, Ct Cr. I January 12 18 77, Rules, & e p 101.

**Government of Bengal Cr. 19 March 19, 1875

**Government of Bengal er Farmeshur Wulhek, I L R, to Cal, 1029

**Section 1 Company and 423 (2)
Lmp v Judoonath Gangooly, I L R, 2 Cal, 273

other evidence in the case, and to determine whether it is such that the not upon it reasonably find the prisoner guilty. (See note to S, 423)

S 418 must be read with S 449, which provides an exception here laid down. In cases in which an European and an Indian Bri are concerned, and the procedure laid down by Chapter XXXIII is f appeal hes to the High Court on matter of fact as well as on a matt Sec S. 449(1) and note

Sub-section (2).

This sub-section was inserted by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 115 the anomaty which previously existed that a High Court acting u could consider the facts of the case as regards the accused person death, but could not look into the facts in an appeal by a second ac who had been awarded a lesser punishment in the same trial

Petuton of appeal. Please appeal shall be made in the form of in writing presented by the appellan the Court to which it is presented otherwise directs) panied by a copy of the judgment or order appealed aga in cases tried by a jury, a copy of the heads of the chargunder section 367.

Presentation of petition of appeal.

"Pleader' means a pleader or a mukhtar authorised under any time being in force to preatise in the Court, and includes (a) an a and an atticrney of a High Court so authorised, and (b) any other per with the perimistion of the Court to act in such proceeding [S. 4 (r)] an appeal be not presented by the appellant or his pleader, it is left tion of the Court to allow it to be presented by an authorised open his behalf. Cise note at the head of this Chapter. But if the appell and he is consequently unable to present his appeal in person, he it to the officer in charge of the paid, and such officer shall forw proper Appellate Court-(S. 400). It so presented, it is exempte fee. (Act VII of 1870, S. 10, d. vail; otherwise if presented to or Court of Session, it must been a stamp of eight annas, or, if p High Court, of thee Rephez-Ilbui, Soc. 11, Art. 1 (b) and (c)]

Presentation of an appeal by post is not a proper presentation deposit of a petition of appeal in a petition-box, for it may have bee by a person who could not legally present it. Presentation by the appellant's pleader when the petition has been signed by the pleas, 419. But it is not properly presented when presented by a pelerk of the pleader, over whose conduct or actions he has no controller of the present of the present of the pleader, over whose conduct or actions he has no controller or the present of t

SEO 420.

The fullest opportunity should be given to persons to execute powers of attorney to whomsocver they please and without reference to the mode or circumstances under which they might be influenced to do so.<sup>1</sup>

The Appellate Court has a discretion to receive an appeal unaccompuned by a copy of the judgment or order appealed against. Where injustee might result from a strict compliance with the law, a proper discretion should be excreised But in such a case, before 'earning the appeal, the Court should have before it the judgment or order appealed against, which it can obtain by sending for the judgment or order appealed against, which it can obtain by sending for the record. Where three persons convicted of the same officine and at the same trial presented by their pleader one joint petition of appeal accompanied by one copy of the judgment, and the District Magistrate, the Court of appeal, accepted the appeal as only by the appellant who had obtained this copy of the judgment, and the appeal as time barred, it was held that he had not exercised a proper discretion under S. 419. The bearing of these appeals was accordingly ordered.

The time requisite for obtaining a copy of the *entence or order appealed against shall be excluded in computing the period of limitation prescribed for an appeal—(Act I \( \) of 1963, \( \) 5 12)

Copies of judgments, and of the heads of the charge to the jury shall, on his application, be given to an accused person free of cost-(S 371)

In an appeal presented under S. 419

There shall be posted up in the Appellate Court, in a place accessible to the public notice of the day appointed for considering the petition of appeal, in order to afford the appellant or his pleader a reasonable opportunity of being heard in support of the same, such notice shall be posted up two days at least before the day so appointed, unless the appellant or his pleader consents to a shorter notice, or distenses with a notice?

An appellant has the privilege of an accused person, and cannot be examined on oath as to a statement made in his petition of appella In such a petition, an appellant stated that the Magistrate had declined to summon his witnesses, and on being required to make the statement on solemn aftirmation, he was procecuted for giving false evidence. It was held that he could not be so proceeded against 4 bee also 5 343 and note.

420 If the appellant is in jail, he may present his petition procedure appellantin jail same to the officer in charge of the jail, who shall thereupon forward such petition and copies to the proper Appellate Court

A petition of appeal presented by a person under duress or restraint of any Court or its officers is exempt from stamp duty—Court Fees Act, 1870, S 10. cl xvii

Officers in charge of jails are required to give all proper facilities to prisoners for drawing up petitions of appeals or for getting them drawn up by other prisoners, or by their legal advisers or friends. It is, however, no duty of the jail establishment to draw up such petitions.

P 42

OFFICE OF CHIMINEL PRODUCER.

Ps in 200- 621 -Green that in all a all a reports a the hin is published of years so min ion is promin on m Conta or appert from a prisone or put to present in the others as charge of

and the first artist at the propose America Court, a who lil the commenced "that utilized

I a ur uppet a he fright Curry Lubir, a shi a an a cost bear an nurs men 13 in Suprement to the gir mit the graviter appealing his is - m mate and the one at test to then a mesmer of the petuton, or, I I there are that the me has been arrived by the agent much appear in and extract to presented number of days. This is to explain server is mutandis appealed to the Course who show the themmers en the Suprem erdent of to the premate to minimore flores the wall be to wed for the expensarice of ء س ما مان دالي in trianti

Will at Type . . Court has dismissed an appeal mubout bearing the upped in a present and it is at emperis preved to the sausfacts to of that Court this on adequite et and has been made for the preader's mon-appearance, it is up to the Apper a Court to reshear the appeal on its meres buch a power should be sport to a state of the ever $ 3) everts which declares that no bould after this a state of the every stable as or everyone a speed judgment, except to toren a nittle estat areas at another the ser ences or orders of Sessions Judges should be form, less and on the Registrar of the High Court, intimution of the fact built at the gives in a prewrited form to the Judge, whose sentence or order to displace against, but only in appeals where the sentence or order to that displace the sentence or order to that displace the bessions Judge should, as a general the to ward the secord to the High Court, but where public inconvenience would that I on this, he hould in the first instance forward a copy of his reasons for musing or parmy such sentence or order stating at the same time why the critical so and has not been sent. But where the order is not appealable, no accord much be sent unless specially called for A petition not presented in time, or not accompanied with the requisite copies, should not be forwarded, but should be re would to the petitioner with an endorsement by the officer in charge of the ful sh wing the date of presentation. The presentation of an appeal to the effect in charge of the fail to be forwarded to the proper Appellate Court Is, for purposes of impitation, equivalent to a presentation to the Court.

in Mauras, the officer in charge of the Jail, in forwarding a petition of appeal, is required to certify that the appellant has been informed that, if he intends to appoint a pleader, an appearance must be put in within seven days from the date on which the petition may reach the Appellite Court.

The Prisons Act (IA of 1894), S 60 (q), enables the Local Government, subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, to make rules consistent with that Act for regulating the transmission of appeals and jetitions from prisoners, and their communications with their friends

(1) On accorning the potition and copy under section Summary dismissal 419 or section 120, the Appellate Court shall of appeal peruse the same, and, if it considers that there

<sup>1</sup> Q Lmp v 1 mp 194 1 1 R 9 Mad , 258

Mad 11 Ct . Cro. Aup 19, 1814

The Direct Country of the State Country of the State Country of the State Country of State Country, and the State Country of State Country, and the State Country of State Country of State Country, and the State Country of State

Cat II Ct. Rules &c. '
Cat II Ct. Rules &c.'
I U Lmp v Lingaya i L II. 9 Mad , 258
d ll Ct Pro, Nov 11, 1084, War, App, V

ufficient ground for interfering, it may dismiss the appeal .rılv

Provided that no appeal presented under section 419 shall be issed unless the appellant or his pleader has had a reasonable rtunity of being heard in support of the same

(2) Before dismissing an appeal under this section, the Court v call for the record of the case, but shall not be bound to do so.

S 421 deals with appeals presented (1) by the appellant or his pleader. brough the officer in charge of the juil in a bich the appellant is confined he former class of appe is the appellant or his pleader must have a reasonable rtuni y of being heard 1. This is given either by notice in eich case, or by a ral order for the hearing of appeals within a certain specified time from their intation (See infra.) Where however an appeal is presented through the r in charge of the july he appellant is nearly always unrepresented. No e of the day of hearing need be given to such an appell int, unless he is sented by a plender Prisoners appealing from jul should be made clearly nderstand that their appeals are libble to be summarily dismissed, and that, ey wish in be heard an ppearance must be put in within a limited time speed forwarded from 14 I shall be summarily rejected until seven days have ed after its receipt and in forwarding a petition of oppeal, the officer in ge of the jail should invariably certify that he has informed the oppellont that. intends to appoint a pleader an appearance must be put in within that But if the appeal is to be heard i of ce under S are must invoriably be n to the appellant even if he is in 1211 2

Similar orders are in force in the United Provinces 4

In the Panial a certain number of days have been fixed from the date of ipt of an oppeal to the High Court niter which it will be heard, the period g regulated by the district in which the Lower Court is situate, and Sessions ges and Magistrates have been di exted to fix the number of days for their ective Courts a If however the appeal is not heard on the day so fixed, and petition has been presented by the appellant or his pleader, the Court should notice to such person of the day on which the appeal will be heard *

Personal appearance of appellant,

It is not competent to an Appellate Court to order a convict under sentence ppear in Court 1 But it has been held confra by the Madras High Court that e is nothing in the law to indicate that it was intended to deprive appellants pply to be heard in person if he is in juil at the same station ( were in jail of the opportunity of heing heard on their appeal. A prisoner

May dismiss the appeal summarily,

335

e note to S 4-3 post regarding the duty of an Appellate Court in hearing an

* Fall Lis Cit vol 2 p 262

* Antonne Jose Blom H Ct Sep 4 1869 See also Q Emp v Pohpi I L. R., 13
171 (178) [[7] R] Manovon J dis Kotina Butchayya, Weir 1003

608

That same CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE. SEO 421 -

Presentation to the officer in charge of the jail is for purposes of limitation equivalent to presentation in Court 1

If an appeal from a prisoner in jail be presented to the officer in charge of the jail to be forwarded to the proper Appellate Court, it should be countersigned by that officer.2

If it is an appeal to the High Court, Lahore, it should in all cases bear an endorsement by the Superintendent of the jail that the prisoner appealing has either intimated that he does not wish to be heard in support of his petition, or, it he does so wish that he has been informed that his agent must appear in and a within the prescribed number of days. This rule applies mutatis mutandis to appeals to other Courts, who should communicate to the Superintendent of the jails concerned the number of days that will be allowed for the appearance of the prisoners pleader 3

When an Appellate Court has dismissed an appeal without hearing the appellant's pleader, and it is afterwards proved to the satisfaction of that Court that an adequate excuse has been made for the pleaders non appearance, it is open to the Appellate Court to re hear the appeal on its merits. Such a power should be sparingly used 4. See however 5. 369 contra which declares that no Court, other than a High Court, shall alter or review a signed judgment, except to correct a clerical error

Petitions of appeal against the sentences or orders of Sessions Judges should be forwarded direct to the Registrar of the High Court, intimation of the fact being at once given in a prescribed form to the Judge, whose sentence or order is appealed against, but only in appeals where the sentence or order is not final. On receipt of this notice, the Sessions Judge should, as a general rule, forward the record to the High Court, but where public inconvenience would arise from this, he should in the first instance forward a copy of his reasons for making or passing such sentence or order stating at the same time why the original record has not been sent. But where the order is not appealable, no record need be sent unless specially called for A petition not presented in time, or not accompanied with the requisite copies, should not be forwarded, but should be returned to the petitioner with an endorsement by the officer in charge of the juil showing the date of presentation. The presentation of an appeal to the officer in charge of the juil to be forwarded to the proper Appellate Court is, for purposes of limitation, equivalent to a presentation to the Court !

In Madras, the officer in charge of the jail, in forwarding a petition of appeal, is required to certify that the appellant has been informed that, if he intends to appoint a pleader, an appearance must be put in within seven days from the date on which the petition may reach the Appellate Court *

The Prisons Act (IV of 1894), S 60 (9), enables the Local Government, subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, to make rules consistent with that Act for regulating the transmission of appeals and petitions from prisoners, and their communications with their friends

(1) On receiving the petition and copy under section Summary dismissal 419 or section 420, the Appellate Court shall of appeal peruse the same, and, if it considers that there

Q Lmp t Lmga)a I L R 9 Mad 258
Mad II Ct Pro Aug 9 1864
Mad II Ct Pro Aug 9 1864
Mad II Ct Pro Aug 9 1864
Man IB Ct I Vol 2 pp 260 261
Man IB Ct I vol Nov 7 1873 7 Mad II C R XXIX App (c s) 9 Mad Jur, Ct Ct II Ct Nov 7 1873 7 Mad II C R XXIX App (c s) 9 Mad Jur, Ct Ct II Ct Rules Ac p 41 Ibad Vol II 153 Bom Bk Ctr, p 46
Cal II Ct Rules Ac p

nd, in cases of appeals under section 417, the Appellate shall cause a like notice to be given to the accused

Appellate Court acts under S 422 when it is splisfied that there are considering the case. The law accordingly provides that the round thall and after not ce to the appellant or his pleader and also to such is th Government may appoint in this behalf, of the time and place hen be appeal and where the appeal is against an order of 1 (5 e must be given to the accused who ordinarily would be at ınd se the High Court which alone would hear an appeal sue a warrant and direct the accused to be arrested a۳ ome subordinate Court who may commit him to )ur nen... he appeal or admit him to bail -($ 427)

Benau District — s have been appointed officers to whom notice of to the Court of Session snall be given? except that on a oppeal by a semplone convicted of negligence in connection with a Railway accident, should be invariable given by the Appellate Court to the Manager of the an appeal against an order passed by a Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta of the notice under S 422 should be sent to the Commissioner of Police of the fogal Remembrancer (See Cal. H. Cr. Rules).

Madras the Public Preservor (S. 402) is the officer to whom notices of to Sessions Court should be given. The District Magistrate is the proper to direct whether there should be a formal appearance in support of a on.

e Agent and Manager of Railways in Madras are officers to whom notice tals against connections for Railway offences should be given 3 and the Forest Officer in regard to appeals against convictions of Forest offences 4 Bonnay District Mag strates have been so appointed 3 and forms have restribed for such notices! The Paylan notice of the time and learning of an appeal should be given to tried Magnitrate in the case of all anneals other than these which lie to that or to a specially empowered Magnitrate! and in every case in which a vermionce that be been consisted of an offence as such notice must be given Head of the Railway administration as well as to the District Magnitrate in the Crystack Products notice of appeal to the High Court or Court of

should be sent to the D stret Mag strite 11 general notice posted in the Court house that appeals would be heard for ion only on the first Court day after presentation of an appeal does not 1 appellant a reasonable opportunity of being heard 32

1 appearant a reasonate opportunity on the officer appointed is only an interest and does not render the proceedings void 13

ority and does not train an anneal under S saz enly on some of the grounds of in the petition the appellant is entitled to be heard on the whole case 16

al Gar 1881 Part I p 200
"novemment of Beneral April 11 1891
Iad Car 1887 Part I p 30 Man, p 118
Id Car 1887 Part I p 30 Man, p 118
I Rober & Ko 126
I Rober & Ko 126
I Rober & Ko 127
Gar Sp 1871 P 182 Man p 187
Gar Sp 1871 I p 182 Man p 187
Gar Sp 1871 I p 187 Mk Cir Vol I p 267
1891 Part I p 187 Mk Cir Vol I p 267
1891 Part I p 19 Mk Cir Vol I p 267
1893 Part I p 10 1 181 p 19
1893 Part I p 10 1 181 p 19
1893 Part I p 10 1 1894 P 194
L R NSd II I p 10 1894 P 194

m 1 I R R 24 Cal 406

CHAP SEC

Where the appellant in person presented 1 is petition of appeal wheigned on his behalf by a pleader, it should not have been summarily divithout reasonable notice to the pleader to appear 1.

An Appellate Court is not competent to dismiss an appeal summarily there was no appearance for the appellant either by pleader or in person fr appellant was content to leave the admission or rejection of his appeal determined by the Sessions Judge, that officer is bound to peruse the reco

The Sess ons Judge should consider whether there was sufficient gre Interfering which would imply a judicial consideration of the merits of the

The Judge in summarily dismissing an appeal is not bound to judgment. Such power should be exercised sparingly and with great and reasons, however concise, should be given for the order. The justicular should show clearly that the Judge has perused the record, and has allo appellant an opportunity of being heard. But though it may not be nece write a judgment in the form prescribed by S. 367, or anything like advisable for those Courts whose orders may be challenged by an application to record something which may be a guide for the Court a revision.

An appellate Court cannot dismiss some of the grounds of appeal su and restrict the appellant to other grounds. Such an order of admission appeal is not contemplated by S 472 °

Where a petition of appeal had been presented through the Superior of the Joil and while it was still undisposed of a second petition was p through Coursel, and the Court dismissed the first appeal summarily a on the strength of that order dismissed the second appeal, a readmission appeal was ordered?

But where the appeal through the Superintendent of the Jail had be aidered and dismissed, she appellant could not thereafter present an appeal Counsel is 422 If the Appellate Court does not dismiss the summarily, it shall cause notice to be given as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf, of the application of such officer, furnish him with a copy of the given application.

Q Emp : Nannhu I L R 17 All 241
O Emp v Ram Varain I L R 8 All 514 per Brodhurst J Q Emp t ?

Q Emp : Nannhu I L R 17 AH 24:

O Emp v Ram Naraun I L R 8 AH 514 per Brodhunst J Q Emp : 1 L R 17 AH 24: F D : Mad Rules & C No 15;

Mad Rules & C No 15;

Raman R Fmp ardar v Na 18 AH 24 F D : Mad Rules & C No 15;

Mad

and, in cases of appeals under section 417, the Appellate rt shall cause a like notice to be given to the accused

The Appellate Court acts under S 422 when it is satisfied that there are considering the case. The law accordingly provides that the groun al shall and after notice to the appellant or his pleader, and also to such er as f Il Government may appoint in this behalf of the time and place the appeal and where the appeal is against an order of he h ittal. tice must be given to the accused who ordinarily would be at case the High Court which alone would hear an appeal :, a y issue a warrant and direct the accused to be arrested 75t/ br or same subordinate Court who may commit him to of the appeal or admit him to bail -(5 427) n pe ~_

In Beyon. D ... strates have been appointed officers to whom notice of all to the Court of an shall be given a cycept that, on an appeal by a nag employee convicted of negligence an connection with a Railway accident, es should be invariable given by the Appellate Court to the Manager of the way concerned.

In an appeal against an order passed by a Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta py of the notice under S 422 should be sent to the Commissioner of Police also to the Legal Remembrancer (See C.H. Ct. Rules)

In Madras the Public Prosecutor (S 402) is the officer to whom notices of als to Sessions Court should be given 3. The District Magriting is the proper on to direct whether there should be a formal appearance in support of a iction 4.

The Agent and Manneer of Ruhams in Madras are officers to whom initice ippeals against convictions for Railway offences should be given indifferent rectrict to appeals against convictions of Forcet offences. In Bounay District Magistrates have been so appointed, and forms have preserbed for such notices.

In the Payin notice of the time and learing of an appeal should be given to District Magistrate in the case of all anneals other than those which lie to that er or to a specially empowered Magistrate? and in every case in which a vary employee has been convicted of an offence as such notice must be given he Head of the Railway administration as well as to the District Magistrate? In the Crystax, Payince of appeal to the High Court or Court of ion should be sent to the District Magistrate?

general notice posted in the Court house that appeals would be heard for sinn only on the first Court day after presentation of an appeal does not in appelling a reasonable opportunity of bong heard 19

fere omission to serie not ce of appeal on the officer appointed is only an farity and does not render the proceedings void 13

court cannot admit an appeal under $ $22 only on some of the grounds ned in the petition, the appellant is entitled to be heard on the whole case 14

Cal Gar 1883 Part I p 200
Covernment of Beneal April 11 1891
17 2 - 90- Part n 30 Man p 118

(1) The Appellate Court shall then send record of the case, if such record is now Powers of Appelin Court. After perusing such rem late Court in disposing of appeal. hearing the appellant or his pirrier appears, and the Public Proscentor, if he appears, and of an appeal under section 417, the accused, if he are Court may, if it considers that there is no sufficient in interfering, dismiss the appeal, or may-

(a) in an appeal from an order of acquittal, rece order and direct that further inquiry be = that the accused be retried or committee? as the ease may be, or find bim guilty ?: sentence on him according to law;

- (b) in an appeal from a conviction, (1) revere the and sentence, and acquit or discharge the ? order him to be retried by a Court of on jurisdiction subordinate to such Appellate ( committed for trial, or (2) after the finding taining the sentence, or, with or without the finding, reduce the sentence, or, (3) without such reduction and with or withou ing the finding, alter the nature of the but, subject to the provisions of section W section (3), not so as to enhance the same ;
- (c) in an appeal from any other order, after or such order:
- (d) make any amendment or any consequential i dental order that may be just or proper,
- (2) Nothing herein contained shall authorize the C alter or reverse the verdict of a jury, unless it is of opini such verdict is erroneous owing to a misdirection by the or to a misunderstanding on the part of the jury of the laid down by him.

There is only one restriction on the ordinary powers of a Court v it cannot enhance the sentence under appeal 5, 423 (b) 1

Sand for the record,

Where the record of the Services trial had been lost, the High ! appeal, ordered a new trial." In calling for records there is no reason why the florelone lindge of address the particular Maplatrate, with whom the particular Maplatrate, with whom the particular Maplatrate, 1 O Emp : Jabanulla I L R , 23 Cal , 9/51 fi ti bi ( ) in ha | 1 i r li na | U 27 Cal , 1/2 | Schlmat Singh, All W N 1889, p 551 sley ( ) intinal : | Raine, All W li ention of the District Magistrate. But every in cases of urgency, or when w sanctions a different course, all precedings of the Sessions Court addressed. Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate shall be sent to that trate through the District Magistrate. In regard to cases so excepted, a of the precedings of the Sessions Court should be sent to the Magistrate mediant to the District Magistrate.

<sup>117</sup>

Hearing of an appeal.

ecomplainant cannot claim the right to be heard as a respondent to defend inviction under appeal. It is a matter left in each case to the discretion of he hearing of an appeal cannot by the notice given under S 422, be ted to any ground selected from the petition of appeal, it is open to all rounds taken 4 If the Crown is heard in support of the judgment the int is cut fled to the right of reply 5

he appellate court is bound to go through the record and dispose of the length merit and annot also as an appellate for the problem or his plender. But where the appellate court disposes of an animal state of the problem of the pro be Calcutta Blob Court for White I has expressed liself in the following "The sound rule to apply in trying a criminal appeal where questions of editect are in issue is to criside whether the conviction is right, and in espect a criminal appeal differs from a civil one. There the Court must be used before reversing a finding of fact by the Lower Court that the finding ang.

an appeal from a conviction it is for the Appellate Court, as it is for the Court to be satisfied affirmatively that the prosecution case is substantially and that the full of the appellant has been established beyond all reasonable

To hold that unless reasonable ground is given to the Appellate Court forming from the lower Court the Appellant must necest its findings of its to approach the case from a wrong standpoint? It is the duty of the re-Court to arrive at a enclusion for itself from the evidence on the lastered so fur as it might be by such reasons and conclusions as were it in the indement of the oriental Court and not, as a Court hearing exists to consider that the appellan was bound to show to the Court that the tent under appeal was wrong is n mother case 11 it was stated.—It seems to us that, because the Sessions did not find that there were still earn interals on the record to consider that the Magkartie was entirely wrom be therefore "affirmed his decks on Judge ought to have judged as best he could from the materials placed than a the Magistrate's written judgment whether or not, as a matter after personners had committed the offence of which they had been convicted

Mad Rules &c No 141 Mad Rules &c No 142 App. 43 (sc) Welr, 1011

15 - see also Kanchan Mallick, 18

v N, 1215 Kanchan Mallik v Emp. I L R, 42 Cal 3-4 Milon Khan v Sagai Report I L R 21 Cal 347 Kiheraj Mullah v Janab Mullah, 11 B L R, 33 (5 c) 20 W R, Cr, 23

On reading the Sessions Judge's judgment, it seems pretty clerunable, even with the aid of the Magistrate's finding of fix independent judgment is to whether the prosense hid committed not. That being so, it was his duty to have nequitted them is which came before him, whatever its shape, was not sufficent satisfy him that the presoners had been rightly convicted, he concurred them.

And in another case,3 the judgment was in these terms. "Th strictly right when, with reference to certain arguments based upon t of the case, he says, that, as an Appellate Court, he has to look a as at stands, and it would be a departure from the duty of an App he rejected the evidence which the Denuty Magistrate, with full the defects pointed out against it, accepted, unless that evidence bad. Such a view of the functions of an Appellate Court is error No doubt an Appellate Court is bound to presume the decision of original jurisdiction to be correct until the contrary is shown, and beyond all doubt that an Appell to Court is bound to give every reas to the conclusion which the original Court has arrived at upon a qu ing upon evidence. But the Appellate Court is also bound precisely way as the Court of first instance to test the evidence extrinsical intrinsically. In determining the value of the evidence it is not er Appellate Court to ent, as the Judge savs in this case 'I find no i evidence per se and it must be allowed to prevail but the Court = my opinion, also to inquire, as thereughly as the Court of first inst i the prohabilities arising from all the surrounding circumstances of such as to justify a reasonable mind in coming to the conclusion that is worthy of credit. This precrution is ronhere more necessary country. It is true that there is no presumption of periors against or but it has been sufficiently confirmed by a long course of experience that be more dangerous than to act upon such testimons without testing -both instrinsically and extrinsically "

In a case before the Allahahad High Court's a different op a pressed. The Sessions Judge on hearing the appeal in this case state reading through the evidence with care, he could find no very elecut believing one side rather than the other, and that, such being ! considered that he was bound to accept the conclusions arrived at he this who, having seen and heard the witnesses had necessaris a better of judging of their relative ered bility. (This was exactly the postil-in Kherai Mullah v. Ianah Mullah vi B. I. R., 22 (e. c.) 20 W. F. tioned above, in which the Calcutta High Court held that the Soi should have acquitted) In revision It was contended that the See should have formed an independent judement on the evidence and ... could not do so he should have given the appellant the benefit of the was observed that this was in effect holding that the appellant should Court that there are good reasons for interfering and that in this having been shown the consiction should be aftirmed, and it was he thus dealing with the roperly the Indee was not in error but had fcourse prescribed by the Criminal Procedure Code: for In m the p Se 421 and 422 t is change that an appellant is not precisely in the sa before an Appellate Court has he is before the Court Irvine him heatisty the Court that there is sufficient ground for interfering with of conviction and if no e efficient ground is shown it is the duty of the Court not to interfere. At does not neper from this take his there was not to interfere. was summarily dismissed, or was dismissed after minission; but this

<sup>1</sup> Goomanee 17 W. R. Cr. 50 Emp v Sajiwan Lai. I L. R. 5 Atl., 386,

ir XXXI

material v to affect the view expressed by the Allahabad High Court, as to the cf a Court hearing a criminal appeal.

declare that—

Siget to the previous end hereinbefere contained no finding, sentence, or order

Ex a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed or altered on appeal

It a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed or altered on appeal proclemation order judgment or other proceedings before or during trial, are inquire or other proceeding under this Code, or the crisis on to reason to the state of the crisis on to reason to the state of the crisis on to reason the state of the crisis on the state of the crisis of the critical crisis of the critical crisis of the critical criti of the contract of to ter se any first of Intols of assessors in accompance with et any misd rection in any charge to a just wiess such an error omission irregularity, or misdirection has in fact occa-

whenton —In determining whether any e ror, omission or irregularity has noted a factor of justice the Court shall have regard to the fact whether jection even it or should have been raised at an earlier stage in the proceed

Start and notes in regard to the law relating to the judgment of [ref] is Court

High C urt has no power to review its own order dismissing a criminal it and enfiring the conviction and sentence.

District Magnetizate hearing an appeal from a decision of a Bench of two wars Magneta es is justified where the judgment is signed by one Magistonle is returning it to be signed by the other Nagistrate.

(a) Appeal from an order of acquittal

This clause it will be observed relates only to a High Court to which alone goeal against an order of acquittal lies 2 on appeal to Government les to the High Court against an order of acquittal a by an Appellate Court as well as by a Court of original jurisdiction—See if the appeal be in a case in which the trial was by juty, it shall lie on a fee of taw only. The alleged several of a sentence shall for the purposes a fee of taw only. The alleged several to be a matter of law—(S 448). But when the appeal appeal, he deemed to be a matter of law—(S 448). But when the appeal appeal, he deemed to death submitted for confirmation by the High Court is bound to deal with the case on the metric, the "44" is the High Court is bound to deal with the case on the metric, the said will not be confired to matters of law, and others sentenced in the same to other purulments will be enabled to appeal on a matter of fact as well as matter of law as

There has been some difference of opinion in the reported cases regarding the on of a High Court on an appeal against an acquittal preferred by ome of a High Court on an appeal against an acquittal preferred by ome of the state of the property in determining PALMARAD HIGH COLRY has held that the test to be applied in determining px31 by the Government against the acquittal of some of the accused is as applied in hearing the oppeals of others who had been convicted at the trial, for that would have been an inaccusted and inappropriate test as to to them. In considering an appeal by Government against an order of to them in the trial, the court to the thigh Court to try whether, if it hid been trying the trial, it is not for the High Court to trying the trial, it is not for the High Court to trying the trial, it is not for the High Court to trying the trial part of the Lower Court. That it might not have taken a view opposed to that of the Lower Court.

Fmp v Kate I L R 15 AN 1A1 217 Enp v Gopal Das I L R 14 AN 217 Enp v Gopal Das I L R 14 AN 217 Enp v Gopal Das I v N 14 AN 21 AN 21

the same limitations. The High Court is bound to decide such an appeal, and has no discretion to refuse to interfere if it considers that the judgment of the Lower Court is wrong. No doubt in all crises of appeals the Judges of a Court of Appeal are naturally very eautious in interfering with the judgment of a Judge and assessors before whom the witnesses were examined both on the ground that a Court before whom witnesses were examined both on the ground in all criminal eases the accused is entitled to have the additional ground that in all criminal eases the accused is entitled to have the additional ground that which may arise in the case but, after giving the accused every benefit which he can derive from such a decision in his favour if the High Court is still of opinion that he is guilty of the offence with which he is charged there is no discretion as to whether the Court should find him multy or not.

The Bosmay High Court's has expressed its approval of the view taken by the Calcutta High Court of the action of an Appellite Court in hearing an appeal against an acquittal in preference to that expressed by the Allishabad High Court

These eases related to appeals against orders of acquittal passed in trials held by a Court of Session. In an appeal against an acquittal by the Sessions Judge on appeal it was contended that he should have convicted the accused of an offence not specified in the charge the High Court refused to interfere though it was of opinion that this might have been done by the Sessions Judge for the accused would not have been prejudiced in their defence and the conviction might have been allowed to stand for the offence of which they were guilty. The High Court, however observed that in such a matter of discretion it would be a wrong thing in re-establish the conviction even if so doing were legal. The proper course would be to order a new trial but the exercise of the High Court's dis cretion in such a matter requires that it should be satisfied that the case is of sufficient consequence to justify its action under this very exceptional section of the Code 3 S 421 (a) of this Code since passed declares that in an appeal from an order of acquittal the Appellate Court may order that the accused be re tried. If a Court of Revision sets aside an order of acquittal it cannot convert such order into one of conviction at may however pass any other order specified in S 423 (a) (See S 439) and therefore may order a re trial

In a trial for chetting in which the prisoner was acquitted the High Court on the appeal of the Government held that he might have been consisted in attempt and abetiment of that offence and ordered a retiral allough in the petition of appeal this objection had not been taken for it was held that the accused had not been unfairly prejudied and had not asked for time on the ground of surrous?

In mother case however it was held that it would not be proper for the High Court to consider an ipperal by Government against an acquittal on a ground not taken on the objections urged in the petition of appeal. It is for the Court to taken on the objections urged in the petition of appeal. It is for the Court to take the court of the court to the petition of the period to the ground be sustained, but it was not open for consideration whether a charge for another offence was the variety of the consideration was taken on that point?

But it his also been held on an appeal against in order of acquital that, all ough the grounds on which it are based the erroneous and unsound it may be maintained on a proper consideration of the facts upon other grounds  $^{*}$

Where on an erroneous view of the law the Sestions Judge on appeal aged tied the occused the High Court on the appeal of Government set aside the

.....

Cal 4% See however Contra Dep 66 in which this case was not referred r s c) We

<sup>4</sup> Reg v Ramajirav Jirbajjirav i Bom H C R i 5 O Emp v Karigowda I L R 19 Bom 51 (68) 6 Dep Leg Rememtrancer I ijati ilah Khan 10 cal

11 14 me He few I had not beer heard by the Sessions Judge on the merits. 111 . 11 if if at appeal was ordered 1 a definition for revision against an appellate order of acquittal by a if it is the Madris High Court held that it should not interfere where the to the appreciation of evidence or where there is no potent itt tie defert in the order which has resulted in grave injustice

Where the acquittal is by verdict of a jury

for arreal in such a case would be only by Government (S 417) and only on m n atter of lan (S 418) It would also be only to a High Court (S 417) S 423 I , reserver declares that nothing contained in that section shall authorise the fruit t after or reverse the verdict of a jury unless it is of opinion that such vertet is erronecus owing to a misdirection by the Judge or to a mis-understand str / en the part of the jury of the law as laid down by him. It sometimes I arens that the ground of appeal is that the Sessions Judge has admitted as reference what is not legally admiss ble that is irrelevant and in so placing it before the jury has been guilty of misd rection. But no finding sentence or order rassed by a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed or altered on appeal on account of any misdirection in a charge to a jury unless such misdirection has fact occasioned a failure of just ce [S 537 (d)] In several cases the High rt has interfered when it has found that in consequence of inidmissible evi ce being laid before the jury the accused has been prejudiced in the trial he question has then arisen when the verdict is set uside on this ground what nder should be passed S 167 of the Evidence Act of 1872 (which re-marind Act II of 1855 S 57) declares that the improper admission or reperil n f evidence shall not be ground of itself for a new trial or reversal of a decision in my same if it shall appear to the Court before which such ellicts n is r lad if it list pendently of all evidence objected to and admitted there was eiff lent and the to justify the decision or that if the rejected evidence is Ale n received is county no to have varied the decision but in considering on he flen , it Court must assume the functions of a jury at the trial On this present in the state the Calcutta High Court refused to go into the exaliner in I deside the first the Calcuta et git court received as go into a work? If I is High to in a side of a case held for the Judged Lommittee of the Pray C in ill a signed from High S util Wales. In discordingly ordered a new trul. S util Wales of the Action of the Pray C in ill a signed from High S util Wales.

1872) was not apparently referred to or cens lerel view of the law has not been accepted by an ther Bin hief the same ourt and has been disapproved by the High Courts of 11 dies and vi In the former case it was held that it wis not in a cord a with course taken by the Full Bench of the Calcutta III, h Curt of a with the practice in the High Court of Bombay 14 and it was held that once the verdict of a jury is out of the way there is no restriction on if powers of the Court to deal a jury is one of which it has complete serian in any of the ways it wided by with the case of which is not compare senting in any of the ways 10 miles by S 423 and that nowhere does the law lay down that when the verder of the purt a set aside the Court must necessarily direct a new trial On consideration pure a set assue the consideration of the evidence one of the prisoners was requitted and a new trial of two others

Chos

LR 19 B n 749

are alse O I mp 1 Hurribole Chunder

Courts

The Allahabad High Court referring to the case of Hafadar khan v. Q-Emp held! that it is not open to the Appellate Court to substitute its own finding for that of the jury and to conket the acused of the offence of which the jury have acquitted them, or of some cugnate offence substantiated by the evidence when was before the jury and in this respect an appeal under S qib must be distinguished from a reference under S got

The Bombay High Court in disapproving of the case of Il afadar Khan, which tollowed a case before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council on an appeal from New South Wales," held that that authority was inapplicable to the practice in Courts in India which was based on Indian enactments (the Indian Evidence Act, 1 of 1572, S 167, the previous Act of 1855, and Ss 423 (d) and 537 of the Code of Criminal Procedure), and it also relied on several reported cases if the High Courts in Inoia which had declared the law to the contrary Still, hough the practice has been to consider the evidence on the record if the verdict if the jury is set aside, the High Courts have not invariably passed the final order on it They have done so after determining whether there shall be a new trial, for, as pointed out so far back as 1866, by Peacock C J, in delivering he judgment of a I ull Bencit, in some cases it may be necessary (to order a new trial) where evidence is improperly rejected, or, for other reasons, the Appellate Court is unable to form a correct opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the appellants. But when the finding and conviction are objected to upon the ground that the Judge did not properly direct the jury as to the degree of weight which ought to be given to the evidence, this Court, sitting as an Appellate Court is not necessarily bound to send the case back for a new trial If the Lourt is of opinion that the evidence could not, in any proper view of the case, support a conviction it would be worse than isseless to send the case back for a new trial In determining whether the verdict ought to be set aside, and a new trial granted for a defective summing up of the evidence, the whole question to be considered is, not whethe, upon a proper summing up of the wife evidence, a jury might possibly give a different verdict, but whether the legitimate effect of the evidence would require a different verdict.

It was not however until 1874 that Act XI of that year, amending the Code of 1872, expressly gave an Appealage Court the power to order a new trial in an appeal against an acquittal as well as a signist a confiction

An appellate Court, in setting aside an acquittal or conviction in a trial by An appendix court, in accordingly consider the evidence which has been or can be properly, will accordingly consider the evidence which has been or can be properly brought against the accused, and determine whether it would justify a re-trial brought against the accused, and with any reasonable prospect of a conviction if it is, in its opinion, insufficient, with any reasonance prospect of the reasons stated by Peacock C J, in Elahee Buksh's case If the verdict be set aside for misdirection, it must also be because such misdirection has in fact occasioned a failure of justice be The introduction of the words 'm fact, by the present Code, it has been observed, is to emphasise the duty of the Court to go into the merits has been observed, is to emphasise the duty of the would be impossible to determine whether misdirection has occasioned a failure of justice without consi dering the evidence 1 It may be mentioned that in the Code of 1872 (S 283), the words "has occasioned a failure of justice" were explained by the addition affecting the due conduct of the prosecution or by prejudicin he prisoner in defence and that, in S 537 of the Codes of 1882 and 1 words been omitted, though this explanation seems to have ted by order and as the appeal had not beer heard by the Sessions Judge on the merits. a re hearing of that appeal was ordered 1

In an application for revision gainst an appellate order of acquittal by a Magistrate the Madris High Court held that it should not interfere where the question is one as to the appreciation of evidence or where there is no patent error or defect in the order which has resulted in grave injustice $

Where the acquittal is by verdict of a jury

The appeal in such a case would be only by Government (S 417) and only on a matter of law (S 418) It would also be only to a High Court (S 417) S 423 (2) moreover declares that nothing contuned in that section shall authorise the Court to alter or reverse the verdict of a jury unless it is of opinion that such verdict is erroneous owing to a misdirection by the Judge or to a mis understand ing on the part of the jury of the law as laid down by him. It sometimes hannens that the ground of appeal is that the Sessions Judge has admitted as evidence what is not legally admissible that is irrelevant and in so placing it before the jury has been guilty of m sd rection But no finding sentence or order passed by a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed or altered on appeal on account of any misdirection in a charge to a jury unless such misdirection has in fact occasioned a falure of just ce [S 517 (d)] In several cases the High Court has interfered when it has found that in consequence of inadmissible evidence being laid before the jury the accused has been prejudiced in the trial question has then arisen when the verdict is set aside on this ground what should be passed S 167 of the Evidence Act of 1872 (which re-enacted I of 1855 S 57) declares that the improper admission or rejection of evidence Il not be ground of itself for a new tral or reversal of a decision in any case I' shall appear to the Court before + I th such objection is raised that inde pendently of all evidence objected to ar admitted there was sufficient evidence to justify the decision or that if the rejected evidence had been received it ought no to have varied the decision but in considering such evidence the Court must assume the functions of a jury at the trial. On this ground in one case ? the Calcutta High Court refused to go into the ev dence and decide upon the facts the Criedital right court returned by the Print Courted The High Court relied on a case before the Jude al Committee of the Print Courted on appliant from New South Wales 4 and accordingly ordered a new trial S 167 of the Evidence Act (1 of 1872) was not apparently referred to or considered That view of the law has not leen accepted by another Bench of the same

Court nnd has been disapproved by the High Courts of Midras nd yr In the former case at was held that it was not in accordance with course taken by the Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court or with the ractice in the High Court of Bombay 10 and it was held that once the verdict of a jury is out of the way there is no restriction on the powers of the Court to deal with the case of which it has complete seein in any of the ways provided by S 423 and that nowhere does the law lay down that when the verdict of the jury is set aside the Court must necessarily direct a new trial On consideration of the evidence one of the prisoners was acquitted and a new trial of two others

<sup>1</sup> Govt of Bengal r Gokool Chunder Chowdhury 24 W R Cr 41 H (1894) A C 57 (s c) 2 Cal W N 360 I L R 19 Bom 749 2 see also Q Emp 1 Hurnbole Chunder R 358

Code

The Albahabad High Court referring to the case of Hajadar khlan v. Q. Emp. that it is not open to the Appellate Court to substitute its own finding for of the jury ind to convex the accused of the offence of which the jury have nitted them, or of some cognate offence substantiated by the evidence when 'kfore the jury, and in this respect an appeal under S. 416 must be distin

I from a reference under S 307 e Bonibay High Court in disapproxing of the case of Il aladar Khan, followed a case before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council on an from New South Wales, held that that authority was in applicable to the in Courts in India which was based on Indian enactments (the Indian e Act, 1 of 1572, 5 167, the previous Act of 1855, and 5s 423 (d) and 537 "Code of Criminal Procedure), and it also relied on several reported cases High Courts in Ingia which had declared the law to the contrary Still. the practice has been to consider the evidence on the record if the verdict jury is set aside, the High Courts have not invariably passed the final on it they have done to after determining whether there shall be a rial, for, as pointed out so far back as 1866, by Pescock C J. in delivering dement of a lul Beach, 'in some cases it may be necessary (to order w trial) where evidence is improperly rejected, or, for other reasons, the ellate Court is unable to form a correct opping as to the guilt or innocence he appellants. But when the finding and conviction are objected to upon ground that the Judge did not properly direct the jury as to the degree of the which ought to be given to the evidence, this Court, sitting as an Appellate et, is not necessarily bound to send the case back for a new trial If the is of opinion that the evidence could not, in any proper view of the case. it a conviction, it would be worse than useless to send the case back for trial. In determining whether the verdict ought to be set aside, and a rial granted, for a defective summing up of the evidence, the whole question rail granted, for a defective summing up of the evidence, the whole question (considered is, not whether, upon a proper summing a just of a just might possibly give a different year, ut whether the legitimate take of the evidence would require a different verdict.

It was not however until 1574 that Act M of that year, amending the Code 1872, expressly gave an Appellate Court the power to order a new trial in an all against an acquittal as well as against a conviction

An 'typellate Court, in setting aside an acquitted or conviction in a trial by will accordingly consider the evidence which has been or can be properly ghi against the accused, and determine whether it would justify a restraint a many reasonable prospect of a conviction If it is, we not order a new trial for the reasons stated case If the verdict be set aside for such maddrection. This in fact occasione ust also be justified to the reason of the reasons that the restriction of the reasons that the reasons that the reasons the reasons that the reasons the reasons that the reasons that the reasons the reasons the reasons the reasons the reasons the reasons that the reasons the

(d) The introduction of the words "in fact, n observed, is to emphasise the duty of the Co anterfering in consequence of insurections" it is whether insufferection has occasioned a failure of he evidence? It may be mentioned that in the Cool get the duty of the prosecution or by prejudicing get the duty conduct of the prosecution or by prejudicing

" and that, in S 537 of the Codes of 1882 and 1898, mitted, though this explanation seems to have been hamen.

order and as the appeal had not beer heard by the Sessions Judge a re hearing of that appeal was ordered t

In an application for revision gainst an appellate order of a M guitrate the Madra. High Court held that it should not question is one as to the appreciation of evidence or where there error or defect in the order which has resulted in grave injustice?

Where the acquittal is by verdict of a jary

The upperl in such a case would be only by Government (S. 417) a matter of I in (S. 418). It would also be only to a High Court (S. 418) the would also be only to a High Court (S. 418). It would also be only to a High Court (S. 418). It would also be only to a High Court (S. 418). It would also be only to a High Court (S. 418). It would also be only to a High Court (S. 418). It would also be only to a High Court (S. 417). It would also be only to get the court (S. 417). It would also be only to get the court (S. 417). It would also be only to get the court (S. 417). It would also be only to a High Court (S. 417). It would also be High Court (S. 417). It would also be only to a High Court (S. 4 of appeal is that the Sessions Judge has a diminishle that is irrelevant and it so guilty of misd rection. But no finding senten jurisd tion shall be reserved or a creat rection in a charge to a jury unless each mise falure of just ce 15 537 (d)) In several cases, when it has found that in consequence of massing the jury the accused has been prejudiced in their arises when the reduct is set as de on this passed S 167 of the Eudence Act of 182 (which is red declares.

passed 5 107 of the Evidence Act of 1872 (which r 5 c7) declares

d of itself to th

the improper admiss on or revention of the thick was sufficient to the such object on is reased the admitted there was sufficient of all er the

geted endence had been received in monthing such evidence the fat the hal On this ground in his girm to see the fat the hal On this ground in his girm to see except the fat t

the law has not been accepted by another. Bench of the most has been disapproved by the High Courts of Y.

the former case n was held that it was not n taken by the Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court or n to the High Court of Hombay n and it was held that once the is out of the was there is no restriction on the powers of the Court to the case of which it has complete sexim in any of the ways provided and that nowhere does the law my down that when the verdict is see aside the Court must necessarily direct a new trail On consideration of the court must necessarily direct a new trail.

Salger en

cr Cho idhury -; W R Cr 41

, Mad 304
; I R 21 Cal 53;
of N 6 Wales I R (1894) \ C 53

of N 7 Wales I R (1894) \ C 53

iter I L R 25 Cal 711 (c) 2 Cal W \ 369

iter I L R 76 Wal 2

, Cob nd Harshe I L R 10 Boy 749
, I L R 12 Cal 642 200 100 Q Pmp c Hurnhole Chu
, (s) c| -1 W R Cr 46

12 lbl 3 g Bom II C R 353

The Alanabad High Curt referring to the case of Bo'Llr khann Q Emphekil that it i not eye to the Appell to Court to substitute its own hading I've that of the jurn and to owner the arcused of the difference which the jurn have occur ted them or of some organic effects the familiary had in this respect an appeal under 5 415 must be distinctly bell from a reference under 5 500 to bell from a reference under 5 500.

The Bembay High Court in disappressing of the case of Illatudar Aban which toward a cree before the judicit Conmutee of the Privy Council on an great from Yen South Wies hill that that authority has introducible to the practice in Courts in Irdia which was based of Indian enactments (the Irdian Entience Act, I fire a to the prevaits let fire and Se 4.1 (d) and 217 of the Code of Crim nal I rocoding) and it is relied on several referred cases of the High Courts in Inqua which had declared the law to the expirary but, th uch the prictice has been to on ider the evidence on the record if the verdict of the jury is set ande the High Court have not invariable passed the final error in it. Then have dive to after determining whether there chall be a new trial, fir as to nied out so far buch as 1800, by Peacock C J, in delivering the mament of a but beach in sine case it may be necessary its order a ren trial) where evidence i in properly rejected or fix other reasons, the Appellate Court is unable to firm a correct it in it as it the guilt or improcesses of the age ante by when the reduce and connets a are objected to green the ground that the Jura did not properly wreat the jury as to the degree of weight which light a be went the concere the Court tung is an Appeliate Court i n i necessari brand i se d the ie back for a new trial. If the Court is I wan that the extende and r in an proper wer of the case, s part a against a a mad be more than use so a send the case back for a ren trial In de erm any whether the verdet ough t be set aside, and a nen trail gran ed I r a defects e un r no up of the endence, the whole question to be a needered a r t mbethe up a proper commune an of the er dence a jun maht po hi gie a different surder, bu ntether the legitimate effect I the evidence a will require a concrent vertice ?

It was not however until 1974 that Act Moof that year, amending the Code of 1977 express house an Appendix Court the power to order a new trial in an appeal and t an argustal as well a una a consent a

An Inge are Chart in enting a sile in any tial or occurrent in a trial by jun, will a wirdingh an ider the expense which has been or can be properly brought agant the accured and delermine whether it would justify a restrial with any reas rate property at a a myrether If it as in its opinio insufficient it wal n wer a new it al f the reasons caled by Perrock C. J. in Elakee bakaha case If the verdet be a as de l'a madirett, a, it must also be becase the madrectic has in far vestired a faitre of rustice -5 51" (1) The in round a fithe winds in fart by the present Code, i has been observed to to emphasse the dant of the Court to go in a the ments before in erfering in an sequence if modured as It would be impossible to determine whe her mind rect in he were a red a far use of justice with ut constdering the end noe. It may be ment and that in the Cale of 19 (8 4) the words has occase ned a failure of ju are were explained by the addition by affecting the due comment of the presecution or by projudicing the prisoner in his defence and that in a fithe Codes of the and the these words have been control though this expansion seems to have been accepted by the Courts.

<sup>1</sup> Emp. r Ikram etch I L. A. 19 kJ 14 see also Nacha Shekh r Emp. a

order and as the appeal had not beer heard by the Sessions Judge on the merits, a re hearing of that appeal was ordered.

In an application for revision against an appellate order of acquittal by a lagistrate the Madria High Court held that it should not interfere where the question is one as to the appreciation of evidence or where there is no patent error or defect in the order which has resulted in grave injustice.

Where the acquittal is by verdict of a jury

The appeal in such a case would be only by Government (S 417) and only on a matter of law (5 418) It would also be only to 1 High Court (5 417) $ 423 (2) moreover declares that nothing contained in that section shall authorise the Court to alter or reverse the verdet of a jury unless it is of opinion that such verdict is erroneous owing to a misdirect on by the ludge or to a mis understand. ing on the part of the jury of the law as laid down by him. It sometimes happens that the ground of appeal is that the Sessions Judge has admitted as evidence what is not legally admissible that is reclevant and in so placing t before the jury has been guilty of m soirection. But no finding sentence or passed by a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed or altered on appea on account of any misdirection in a charge to a jury unless such misdirection in fact occas oned a fulure of just ce [S 517 (d)] In several cases the Hig Court has interfered when it has found that in consequence of inadmissible ev dence being lad before the jury the accused has been prejudiced in the tr The question has then arisen when the verdict is set aside on this ground nrder should be passed S 167 of the Evidence Act of 1872 (which re Act II of 1855 S 57) declares that the improper admission or rejection of evi shall not be ground of itself for a new trial or reversal of a decision in any if I shall appear to the Court before which such objection is raised that in pendently of all evidence objected to and admitted there was sufficient evi to justify the decision or that if the rejected evidence had been received it no to have varied the decision but in considering such evidence the C must assume the functions of a jury at the trial. On this g th Calcutta High Court refused to go into the evidence and whether or not the coused had been rightly convicted. The a case hel re the Jude at Committee of the Pray Council South Wales and accordingly ordered a new trial S if

That view of the law has not I cen accepted by anoth High Court's and has been disapproved by the High C Bombay? In the former cave "it was held that it was the course taken by the Full Bench of the Calcutta II practice in the High Court of Bombay?" and it was I a jury is out of the way there is no restriction on the with the cave of which it has complete seizm in a S 423 and that nowhere does the law by down it jury is set aside the Court must necessarily direct a coff the evidence one of the prisoners was nequited and was ordered.

(1 of 1872) was not apparently referred to or considered

(1891 C) (1891 C) (1990 C) (19

It may be ordered when the Appellate Court considers that a proper trial has not been held because much necessary evidence has not been admitted and much documentary evidence not established, and that a full and complete inquiry into the real fact was advisable

An Appellite Court has no power to enhance the sentence although it may be that on a freeh trial 'n more severe sentence may be passed but that is no reason why the power to order a re-trial given without any restriction except the evercise of a proper discretion should be limited!

Where in speal the Sessions Judge set as de a conviction and sentence, on the ground that the Magistrate had no jurisd from because the offence was triable exclusively by a Court of Session but passed no order regarding fresh proceedings it was held that there was no bar to the Magistrate committing the accused for trial by the Court of Session and session Judge in setting ande a conviction as without jurisdiction has omitted to order a retrial he can do so subsequently?

It may be pointed but that S 427 of the Code of 1861 and S 284 of the Code of 1872 both limited the power of an Appellate Court to order a new trial to a case in which the appellant had been convicted of an officine not triable by the Court by which the conviction was had. The law was modified and enacted by the Code of 1882 as it now appears in S 423 of this Code.

Or to be committed for trial

An order hy an Appellate Court setting aside a conviction and sentence by a Magistrate and ordering the appellant to be committed is not limited to the case of an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session and therefore beyond the jurisdiction of the Magistrate A District Magistrate as a Court of appeal. can in setting aside a conviction and sentence by a subordinate Magistrate direct him to commit to the Court of Session 8 Nor is it affected by the provisions of S 423 which declare that an Appellate Court shall not enhance the sentence An order to c mmit does not necessarily amount to an enhancement of the sentence even if t results in the trial for an offence of which the appellant may have been acquitted by the Magistrate 6. The appellant by appealing brings the whole case b ore the Court of appeal and as the law empowers the Appellate Court to alter the finding there is no reason why it should not have the power to find the appellant guilty of an offence which it considers to be established reerely because the Court below has acquitted him of that offence, and found him guilty of some other offence 7 But the offence must be one for which the accused was charged or might nave been charged in the trial that is relating to the same transaction. So where the accused had been convicted of murder, and on their ippeal had been acquitted of that offence the High Court refused to order a trial for dishonestly receiving stolen property (S 411 Penal Code) as the accused was never charged with that offence and it was not one cognate to the offence of murder, or one which was connected with it so as to form the same transac tion 8-(S 235 of this Code)

<sup>1</sup> Satish Chandra Das Bose I L. R 27 Cal 172 (SC) 4 C W N 166

* Udul Ghami Emp I L R 20 Cal 412 [8 c] 6 Cal W N 640
*In re Rami Reddi I L R 3 Mad 49
*O Emp ! Abdul Rhiman I L R 16 Bom 580 dissenting from O Fmp r

Sukha I LR 8 All 14 also Satish Chandra Das Bose I LR 27 Cal 172 4 Cal W N, 166

Misri Lal v Lachmi Naram I L R 23 Cal 350 In re Rami Reddi I L R,

J Man 45 Sukha I L

ORAF XXXL

SEC 423

When the Appellate Court set asid- a conviction and sentence on the ground that the Magistrate was without jurisdiction to hold the trial, but did not order fresh proceedings to be taken for the commitment of the accused, the Magistrate was competent without such order to hold an inquiry and commit.3

When the Magistrate convicts of an offence which he is competent try, the Sessions Judge is not competent on appeal to set aside the conviction and sentence, and direct the accused to be committed for an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session on the ground that the proceedings are void under S 530 He should not direct the commitment to be made in such a case unless he is of onimon that the accused has been prejudiced or that the sentence 14 inndequate (See note to S 530 post-" Tries an offender ')

(2) Alter the finding.

The finding cannot be altered so as to consict the accused of a graver offence than that with which he was charged unless an opportunity be given to him defending himself against a charge of such offence

Under S 238 (2), when a person is charged with an offence, and facts ace proved which reduce it to a minor offence he may be consisted of the minor offence though he is not charged with it - (See illustrations to 5 238) So also under S 236, if a single oct or a series of acts is of such a nature that it is doubtful which of several offences may be proved and the accused is charged with one offence and it appears in evidence that he committed a different offence of which he might have been so charged he may be convicted of the offence he is shown to have committed although he was not charged with it (S 237)

When the recused a charged with an offence in a case within S 236 he may be convicted of having attempted to commit that offence, although he is not separately charged with it-(S' 237)

So also where the accused had been convicted of cheating whereas the facts

fourd constituted criminal breach of trust, the consistion and sentence were maintained 4 Where certain acts are proved constituting an offence and the Court has m's pplied the law by convicting the accused on a charge of an offence other than that for which he should have been properly charged on proof of the commission of those acts and notwithstanding the earch, the accused has by his defence en deavoured to meet the accusation of the commission of those acts understanding the charge to mean an offence arising out of and made up of those acts his con viction for the offerce which those acts properly constitute may be maintained if the accused has not oven prejudiced by the alteration of the finding. The error is one of form rather than of substance, and the alteration by an Appellate C urt of the charge or finding to one of a more serious offence would not necessitate a new trial expressiv on a charge of the offence. So, where the High Court on appeal found that the accused, who had been charged with and convicted of an attempt to commit an offence, had, by the acts found, committed the offence, and the accused has known the acts with the commission of which he was charged, and he has endeavoured to show that they were not committed by him and that, if they were committed he was in no way responsible for them, and has failed the High Court refused to interfere on appeal

So also where the appellant was convicted of abetment of an offence, whereas on the facts found and proved he was guilty of committing the offence itself, the High Court refused to interfere on revision

It is not a universal rule that in no case can an Appellate Court convect an accused if the intent, when he was charged only with the principal offence. But it is discretionary with the Appellate Court to allow such fresh charge being tried in total.

(3) Alter the nature of the sentence but not so as to enhance it

An order to commit the appellant for trial is not an enhancement of sentence trial would be held by another Court which my acquit the accused and, even if he is connected the sentence will not necessarily be in excess of the fermic sentence. On the other hand the estinction here imposed means that the Appellate Court shall not have the power to enhance the sentence under appeal posed in a trial held by another Court. This power was given by the Code of 1872 but was withdrawn by the Code of 1882. The cases on this subject are given in a previous portion of this note.

The extent to which an Appellate Court his power to alter a finding has been much discussed by the High Court, the min question being whether the power is limited to eases to which sections 237 and 238 cm be applied. In the first place, it is now seitled livin that the fact that the accused have been acquitted of a particular offence in their trial does not by reason of $\begin{array}{c} 400 \text{ bar the accused have been acquitted of a particular offence in their trial does not by reason of $\beta 400 \text{ bar the Appellate Court from convicting them for that offence because the appeal is not a second trial but merely a continuation of the first trial $\beta$. This case is further referred to below

In one case before the Madras High Court it was held that the power of an Appellate Court under S 423 to after a finding must be used in accordance with the provisions of Sx 237 and 2383 In that case it was held that the Appellati Court could not requit the appellant of the offence of which he had been convicted and convict him of the sheament of such offence. Shorthy afterwards a Bench of the same High Court, without making any reference to this case, held that there is n thing in 5 4 3 (b) (*) to re trict the finding which may be altered to a finding ul conviction, and the Court indicated its opinion that the Sessions Judge as an Appellite Court might have altered a convection under S 325 Penal Code into one under S 147 Penal Code 4 And again a Bench of the same High Court a little later without maling any reference to the case of Padmanabha Parlikannary took a contrary view and held that the power of an Appellate Court to alter the finding while maintaining the sentence is not confined to cases falling under Ss 227 and 228 "The finding which an Appellate Court may alter under 5 423 (b) may retate either to an offence with which the accused was apparently charged in the lower court or to one of which he might be convicted without I distinct charge. In cases not falling under Ss 227 and 228 of the Cole of Crimin it Precedure no doubt the Appellate Court cannot convict a person of an offence with which he was not charged in the first court, but where he has been charged and the first court has recorded a finding on the charge, there is no reason for holding that the Appellate Court can not after the finding. There is obviously no injustice in doing so 12 Where the Sessions Judge acquitted the accused of an offence under S 40°, Penal Code, the High Court held that even if there was a repugnancy in the Judge's finding it had power to after the finding of acquittal under S 399 into one of conviction thereunder maintains semience 4

There is no doubt that an Appellate Court can alter the finding to a confor an offence included in the offence of which the appellant has been con-

Golla Hanumappa: Lmp 1 L R 35 Mad 243 Ramesh Chandra Banerjee Lmp, I L R 41 Cal. 3

See ilso S 237 and Hiustration So in an appeal in a trial held by Jury the High Court would not alter the finding to a conviction for another Jury the ringu count a finding of different facts such as a verdict convicting of abetment of a traudulent and dishonest mock marriage to one of abetment of bigamy. And it has been held that the alteration of the finding must be of an offence charged, or of some cognate offence, and not of an offence which should powerer charge to subject of a new and separate charge to on appeal a conviction of rioting cannot be altered to a finding of house-trespass

Where the Sessions Judge on appeal acquitted the accused of the offence of which they had been consisted by the Magistrate, though he might properly have allowed the convictions and sentences to stand for the offences of which they were manufestly guilty, on the conclusion that he might have properly arrived at that the accused were not prejudiced in their defence by this course, the High Court, on the appeal of Government against the order of acquittal, did not consider it to be necessar) to order a new trial The discretion to make such order requires that the Court should be satisfied that the case is of sufficient consequence to justify the exercise of such exceptional powers. In a similar case, the High Court of Bombay on the appeal of the Local Government ordered That case was tried under the Code of 1872 ft has been held that the fower given to an Appellate Court to alter the finding maintaining the sentence is rrespective of any condition imposed in respect of the power of a Court is sale cognizance of that offence so on an appeal against a conviction of in flence under > 10 Penal Code in proceedings taken with proper sanction under S 193 of this Code, it was held the lacts found did not amoun' to that offence, but disclosed the commission of delamation (Ss 499 and 500 Penal ( whe ad although S 138 of this Lode declares that no Court shall take cognizance I defamat a except upon a complaint made by some person aggreed by that offence and no such complaint had been made the finding was altered to one of convictin of defamation. On revision, the High Court held that although 5 423 did not limit the power of an Appellate Court to after a finding or prescribe any preliminaries to its taking cognizance of an offence ther than that for which the Court of original jurisdiction hid convicted the Let diture did not contemplate the imposition upon the Appellate Court of the restrictions imposed by it upon the Court of original jurisdiction. The correct ness of this view of the law is pen to doubt on the ground that the jurisdiction of an Appellate Court in regard to the proceedings under appeal is only that of the Court of original jurisdiction from which it is defined. In civil cases, it has been held by the Judeni Committee of the Privy Council that an appeal is a continuation of the trial of the suit, and this has been held by the Calcutta and Madras High Courts in respect of a Criminal appeal

Where the Sessions Judge convicted of an offence under S 306 Penal Code (griceous four ty a dangerous weapon) and acquated of an offence under S 148 (rioting armed with a deadly weapon) the Calcutta High Court on the appe 1 of the prisoners aftered the finding to one of consiction under 5 148 holding that the acquittal was no bar except to further proceedings whereas an appeal is only a continuation of the same proceedings !

So also where the accused were acquitted on a charge of heing members of an unlikeful assembly with the common elect of resisting arrest, and were

<sup>3</sup> Sheikh Mim iddir 10 Cal W 🥆 1 lakub Alia Lettu Tlak c t 1 R 30 Cal

Cost I brater 7 Mad H C R 110

<sup>4</sup> Reg i Ramjino Jislajeso za Bém H C R 1 2 Lmp v Cur Narus Irisud I i R 25 All 534 4 Q tmp v Jalandla I i R 23 Cal 4 5 6 7) & Balli Reg h t I R 32

<sup>3121 119 (122)</sup> O Emp 1 falaniffs, I L R . 141 975 her also Appanes I L R 34 Mad 545 (ella Hanun appa l I lt 15 Mad 243

convicted unit r S 323, Penal Code, the Appellate Court could alter the conviction to one rioting with the common object mentioned 1

In Urrre Birus (not including the Shan Sittes), Appellate Courts have been empowered to enhance sentences under appeal Provided that if the appeal is from the sentence of a Magastrate of any class the Appellate Court shall not influct a greater punishment than might have been influcted by a Magastrate of the first class—Reg 1 of 1973. Seb. cl. xx. But this does not apply to appeals by European British subjects—Ibid. Seb. cl. xx.

For powers of enhancement in the Santhal Pargams see Reg. V of 1893 S 4 (1) in Fritch Baluchiston see Reg. VII of 1895, S 15. In the North West Frontier Province the power to enhance, conferred by Reg. VII of 1901, S 11 has been repealed by Reg. III of 1923, S 2.

In enhancement of a sentence would be an alteration by which its severity to increased. Where there is an addition to a sentence, either by increasing the term of imprisonment or the amount of fine, there can be no doubt that there has been an enlancement. The alteration of a sentence here provided for is havever something different from a mere reduction of it, since that is otherwise provided for The High Courts on revision have, therefore, always taken into consideration whether by an alteration by the Appellate Court of the sentence under appeal that sentence has been made more severe as a punishment so as to amount to an enhancement. So where the Magistrate in addition to a sentence of imprisonment passed a sentence of whipping which was contrary to law, and the appellate Court in setting aside the sentence of whipping substituted for 1 a sentence of an additional term of imprisonment, that sentence was held to be an enhancement of the sentence which was legally passed and it was set aside. Nor can an Appellate Court after a sentence of fine to one of imprisonment 2 Where however the sentence was one of fine only, which the Magis trate was not competent to pass for the offence, and on appeal that sentence was set aside and a sentence of imprisonment was passed, it was held to be an enhancement of sentence and it was pointed out that the proper course was to let the conviction stand and to refer the case to the High Court for revision 4 The correctness of this seems open to doubt, because the enhancement of a sentence pre supposes that the sentence was a legal sentence

Where the Magistrate convicted the accused of two offences, theft [$5 376, Penal Code) and mischied by killing cattle & £ £ 420, and pressed separate sentences of imprisonment for each offence and the Appellate Court convicted the accused only of the latter offence, it was held that it was not competent to maintain the entire sentence as a consolidated sentence $$^5$ 53 enables a Court to sentence a person convicted at one trial of two or more distinct offences to the several punishments presembed for such offences which the Court is competent to inflict and it also declares that for the purposes of appeal aggregate sentences so passed in the case of convictions for several offences at one trial shall be deemed to be a single sentence. Whether this would have any affect in such a case as that just mentioned, or whether $$5$$ in this respect relates only to the right of appeal, has not been considered. The vide course would undoubtedly be to pass a full entience for each offence directing that all the sentences shall run concurrently [$$5$ 15$ (1)], and this would free the Appellate Court from any embarrassment in regard to the proper punishment for the offence if it maintains the conviction for only one offence

V R Cr., 7 Q Emp v Lachmi Kant I L

R, 10 Au, 3001

Chandalayada Ramanappa Weir 1018 Mad H C Pro, Jan 19 1884

O Emp v Hanma I L R 22 Fom 760 See also Ramaan Kunjra r
lawan, I L R 24 Cal 316 Paramaswa Pillai I L R 30 Mad 48

If however, in considering such a case, the High Court on revision is of opinion that such an enhanced sentence passed by an Appellate Court is the proper punishment for the effence, it can pass it as its own sentence. There is no such limitation of the nowers of the High Court as a Court of revision

The Sessions Judge on appeal altered a sentence of rigorous imprisonment for nine months to one of ricorous imprisonment for six menths of fine of one thousand rupees, or in default of payment to further imprisonment for three months. It was held by the Bombay High Court on revision, that if the caswere treated as one of fact only, then the objection of the applicant for revision that the alteration of the sentence amounted to an enhancement, might alone be sufficient to show that the altered sentence was more severe than the original one. since it depended upon the circumstances of the accused, and as a general rule. a sentence ought not to be so altered except when the Court expressly purports to mitigate it in this manner, which would almost always be at the instance of the recursed person himself. The Court, however, had to deal with the ease as involving a point of law, and, looked at in that light the Court could not uphold the contention of the applicant. A sentence of fine is always considered lighter than a sentence of imprisonment. A sentence therefore of a fine of Rs 1,000 would not be so severe as a sentence of 3 months' rigorous imprisonment, and the substitution of the former for the latter would not be an enhancement. The sentence of 3 months' rigorous imprisonment in default of payment did not make the whole sentence of imprisonment larger than it was before $

This case has been considered by the Calcutta High Court a which held that it was impossible to determine as a general rule what is or is not an enhancement of a sentence, when a portion of a sentence is altered on appeal to a pinnishment of lesser degree of severity. To after a sentence within the terms of $ 423 is not restricted to passing a sentence of a lesser degree of punishment, so as to prevent an Appellate Court from altering the nature of the sentence in part leaving the sentence of the unaffered part unchanged. There is nothing to prevent an Appellate Court from altering a portion of a sentence under an appeal so long as it does not thereby enhance the same. The principle on which the judgment of the Bombay High Court proceeded was not approved for at may be that the fine imposed in substitution for a portion of a sentence of imprisonment may be so heavy as to make the altered sentence really an enhancement of the riginal sentence. It is also undesirable in determining such a matter that the alternative term of imprisonment imposed in default should be taken into consderation. That is not the real sentence, but a sentence that under certain cir-cumstances, may be made the sentence. In each case, it would be for the Court o' resision to consider whether the effect of the alteration amounts to an enhance ment of the sentence

The Allahal at High Court has, however, held that, when the Appellate Court altered a sentence of four months' regorous imprisonment to one of three m nils' to reus impris ment with a fine of ten rupees or in default to six works further rigorous imprisonment, it enhanced the sentence, for the result must be that if the fine were not paid the persons sentenced would have to undergo practically four member and two weeks' rigorous impresonment instead of imprisonment for four months as in the original sentence. This ease was confilered by the Calcutta High Court and desperoved on the ground that the alternative sentence of imprisonment on default of payment of fine is not the real sentence, but a sentence that under certain circumstances has be made the sentence

t In re Arpin Cheik I I R, 24 Cal 317 note O Emp r Changan Iagannath I I R 27 Bom 419 See also Bhaktharatealu National I B to Mail 103

Raht al Raja r Kitimete Perrete Perchad I I R ay Cal 175 10 Fmp r libri, I I R 17 All 67

Where the Magistrate passed sentence of aix months rigorous imprisonment, which was in appeal altered to a sentence of four months with fine, or in default to two months further imprisonment, the Allbabbad High Court held that this amounted to an enhancement of sentence, because, after expry of the term of imprisonment, the appellint was still hable, under S. 70 Pend Code, to payment of the fine, and he would thus have undergone the full term of imprisonment as imposed by the Vagistrate and still be liable to payment of the fine? This case is also open to the objection taken by the Calentra High Court as above stated, and it might so happen that the person so sentenced by withholding payment of the fine would make the sentence an enhancement of the sentence originally passed.

The Bombay High Court has in another case held that when a sentence of three months' rigorous imprisonment was altered on appeal to one of two months' rigorous imprisonment and fine of thirty rupees, or in default to one months rigorous imprisonment, there was no enhancement of the sentence whether the fine is or is not paid

(246).

These cases are however of little importance, hecause the High Court, before which an objection is taken that on Appellate Court has in modification of sentence enhanced it by the sentence which it has passed in modification of the sentence under appeal, has, on revision, full power to pass any sentence provided by law, and can make the sentence objected to its own sentence, if it be considered appropriate?

Where the Magistrate in convicting two persons ordered them to pay in equal shares the Court-fees paid by the complainant, (Court Fees Act, 1870, 5 31), and on appeal, one of these persons was acquitted, the Appellate Court was competent to direct that the full amount of the Court Fees should be paid by the rerson whose conviction was offirmed. This was held to be no enhancement of sentence, as this ofder was no part of the sentence, but was a penalty to which he was liabel, and which the Appellate Court was bound to Impose 4. But when the sum which the person convicted was ordered to pay the complainant for evenses incurred represented the amount paid as Court fees, though it was not expressly stated in the order, the Appellate Court was not competent in dismissing the appeal to order payment of the Court fees. It was apparently on this ground that the ease last cited distinguished the ease, although in passing sudement it was distinctly stated that an order for the payment of the Court fees was an integral part of the sentence. It seems doubtful also whether an order for payment of Court fees is not a consequential or incidental order within sub-section (1) (d) so as not to form part of the sentence, and therefore to be regarded as an enhancement of sentence if nassed by an Annellate Court

But an order of confiscation under S 54 of the Indian Forests Act (VIII of 1878) is not incidental on a conviction under that Act; it is regarded as a punishment in addition to the sentence passed  $^{8}$

S 403 is no bar to the alteration by an Appellate Court of the finding in a case without interference with the sentence, although the appellants were ac quitted of that offence by the original Court ** See note to S 403 and cases stated

<sup>1</sup> K Imp v Sagwa I L R , 23 All , 497

* Unreported case mentioned in Q Emp : Chagan Jagannath I L R 23 Bom . 439

In re Arpin Sheik, I L. R. 24 Cal , 317 Note
In re Vemuri Sheshanna I L. R. 26 Mad , 42r See also Karuppana Pillai, I L.

<sup>4</sup> In re Vemuri Sheshanna I L. R. 20 Mad, 421 See 4180 Karuppana Pilal, I R. 20 Mad, 188

4 O Emp t Tangavelu Chetti, I L. R. 22 Mad, 153 Mad H. C. R. App. 28

4 Annudd; Sheikh I. O. Emp, L. L. R. 450 See also F F Nathu Khan, I I

Amuddi Sheikh i O Emp, I. L. R., 450 See also F F Nathu Khan, I L. R., 441, 477 C Emp & Jabanulla I L. R., 23, "Golla F L. R., Mad, 243

Subject to the provisions of S 106 &c

Under S 106 (3) of this Code an Appellate Court may order a person con virted of any of certain specified offences to execute a bond to keep the peace fr a period not exceeding three years If in confirming a sentence under appeal the Appellate Court should add an order under S 106 it does not enhance the sentence. If however the conviction upon which such an order is passed and the sements is passed and ilenently is set uside on appeal or otherwise the bond's executed shall become void-S 106 (2)

(c) Appeal from any other order

That is an appeal from an order not being of acquittal or conviction. These are very exceptional cases, as no appeal lies from any order of a Criminal Court as provided for by this Code or by any law for the time being in force-(S 404) Such orders would be -

I An order rejecting an application under S 89 for restoration of property which has been placed under attachment in consequences of the applicant abs conding or concealing himself to avoid execution of a warrant of arrest or for the proceeds of a sale held thereafter (S 405)

11 An order under S 118 to give security for keeping the peace or for gond behaviour (S 406)

III An order under S 122 requiring to accept or rejecting a surety (S 406A)

IV An order under S 250 for the payment of conpensation (S 250(2))

V An order under S 514 (S 515) VI An order under S 562 read with S 360 (S 407 and 408)

VII An order rejecting an application under Ss 476 or 476A (S 476B)

(d) Make any amendment or any consequential or incidental order

The powers of a Court of Appeal to make such an order would depend upon the power conferred by law on the Court before which the trial was held to make it and this is limited to matters regarding which a Court is expressly empowered to make an order There is no inherent power in a Court to make such an order. So on a conviction for wrongful restraint by erecting a hut or other means of obstruct on an order cannot be issued for removal of the obstruction *

The power of an Appellate Court to make 'any consequential or incidental order' to the order under appeal has been considered by a Tull Bench of the Calcutta High Court in regard to the power to pass an order for compensation to the accusel for a frivolous or veratious complaint (S 250). It was held that the terms of S 423 (1) (d) " cannot be construed so liberally as to embrace any and every ancillary order which is capable of being described as consequent al or incidental Otherwise an Appellate Court affirming for instance a convic tion of kidnapping a woman might add and enforce a direction that the offender should pay her by way of maintenance a monthly allowance. But see contra per Full Bench 1

It would seem therefore that "consequential or incidental" orders within the purview of the provision must fall under one or other of two heads

First there are orders which follow as a matter of course being the necessary complements in main order passed without which the latter would be incomplete or meffective Such are directions as to the refund of fines realised from acquitted appellants or on the reversal of acquittals, as to the restoration of e mpensation paid under section 250, and for these no separate authority is needed

(S C ) 14 Cal L J 467

&lt;sup>1</sup> Mohini Mohan Chowdhury I L R 31 Cal 691 (sc) 8 Cal, W h 53° overrul in Debendra Chandra Chondhury 3 Cal W M 432 W hh 15 magh 1 Maspal Khandn I L R 39 Cal 137 (sc) 16 Cal W W 10

Secondly, there are orders which, though ancillary in character, require more than the support of a Criminal Court's inherent jurisdiction, and could not be passed without express authority

An order mulcting a complainant to compensate an accused for having been frivolously or vexatiously charged seems to fall under the second head. It does not necessarily follow or irise out of an order of discharge or acquittal, and it is not, per se an order consequential or incidental" thereto I or the issue primarily before the Court is whether the accused has been proved to be guilty or not, and the question whether the complaint against him was merely frivolous or vexations is another matter importing fresh considerations. The making of an award for compensation would, consequently, seem to need express authority, and an order therefor is not consequential or incidental" to an order of discharge or requited, unless the discharging or acquitting Court has, allunde, power to make it. In an original Court it is, by virtue of section 250, consequential or incidental ' to an order of discharge or acquittal made there, but it is not mont a like order passed on appeal

If this be so, then the clause can be relied upon only if It be sufficient to extend to in Appellate Court, to be exercised by it, mulatis mulandis, the special power given to an original Virgisterial Court alone by section 250. But it falls short of this. It does not invest an Appellate Court with authority to make any order which ought to have been given or made" by the Court below nor does at life section 106, confer upon Appellate Courts " the same as Courts of original jurisdiction. It does not amplify the powers of Appellate Courts but what it does is to modify the exhaustive character which, without it, section 423 (t) would apparently have, and so to prevent any conflict between its special provisions and the general provisions of, eg. section 517 or section 522

It was therefore held by a majority of the Iuli Bench that an Appellate Court was not competent to pass an order under $ 250 of the Code granting compensation for a frivolous or vexatious complaint when it has not been granted by a Magistrate in dismissing the complaint?

An Appellate Court may dismiss the appeal affirming the conviction and sentence, but may set uside an order under S 106 requiring the appellant to give security for keeping the peace, or set aside or make an order under S 522 resturing possession of immoveable property to a person found to have been dispissessed by criminal force by the appellant, or set uside a sentence, and pass an order under S 562 directing the release of the appellant on his entering into a bond to appear and receive sentence when called upon, or pass an order directing the appellant to repay Court fees paid by the complainant to or order that the whole or any part of a fine passed to be applied in defraying the expenses of the prosecution or in compensation for injury caused by the offence committed (S 545) But when, in convicting the accused of wrongful restraint (S 341, Penal Code) by creeting a wall so as to block up a right of way used by the complainant, the Magistrate also directed the accused to remove the obstruction, the order was set uside on appeal, the conviction and sentence being affirmed. and on revision, this modification of the Magistrate's order was reversed on the ground that the Court cannot make an order which would make the entire proceedings infructuous and absurd That ease was however considered by a Full Bench and overruled It was then held that the powers of a Court in regard

Mehi Singhi I L R 39 Cal. 157 (sc) 16 Cal W N 10 (sc 14 Cal L J 457
 Abdul Wahed 1 Amiran Bibli J R 30 Cal 724
 Gourhan Gope v Alay Gopma J L R 29 Cal 724 (sc) 6 Cal W N 713
 Emp v Birch I L R All 306
 In re Venur Sheshana I L R 26 Mad 421
 Karuppana Pillai I L R 29

Mad 188 Debendra Chandra Chowdhury v Mohini Mohan 5 Cal W N 432

· ·· .

• ..

to making any consequential or incidental order are limited to those conferred by the Code, and that as there was no power expressly given to pass such an order, it could not be passed <sup>1</sup>

A consequential or incidental order, e.g., under Ss 106, 522, or 545 would necessarily be inoperative, if the conviction on which it is based be set aside on appeal

The question whether the High Court has power to direct passages to be expunged from a judgment was fully considered by the Allahabad High Court in a case coming before it on revision. The judgment of the Court dealt with previous cases in which such a direction had been made but pointed out that in all of the cases it seemed to have been assumed that such a power existed, and in none of the cases did the court direct itself to the question whether it had any authority to pass such an order, or whence it derived that authority, but it appeared that in each of the cases there was an appeal before the court The judgment of the Allahabad High Court quoted at length from the decision of the Calcutta High Court in Mehr Singh v Mangal Khandu cited above, and in the end held that the "amendment' contemplated by S 423 (1) (d) is only an amendment of an effective order of the courts below. and that where the order of the lower court was one of acquittal the High Court had no authority to direct amendment of the judgment of the lower court by the expunction of certain passages which commented unfavourably upon the credibility or character of a witness. The Court suggested that the matter was one for the consideration of the Legislature. It has not however been provided for

Sub section (2).

This is somewhat in the nature of a proviso limiting the powers of an Appellate Court in regard to is interference with the verdict of a jury by altering or reversing it. An Appeal in such a case is by S. 418 declived to be on a matter of law only and the "alleged severity of a sentence shall for the purpose of this section be deemed to be a matter of law." and a "misdirection by the judge" or "a misunderstanding of the law as laid down by him" here brought under the same category. But S. 517 further declares that no appeal on account of any misdirection in any charge to a jury unless such misdirection has in fret occasioned a failure of justices.

In the foregoing note many reported cases have been set out showing how the High Courts have dealt with appeals in such cases, and note to S 27 contains many instances of misdirection which need not be repeated. It is however of importance that the observations of the Judges in England forming the Court of Crimmal Appeal in such cases should be seried in connection with this subject.

We cannot prit from this case without molang some observations which may, we trust be of service with reference to the prictice of this Court As appears from the judgment which has just been delivered the case for the appellant was conducted by making a minute and critical examination, not only of every part of the summing up but of the whole conduct of the trial. Objections were raised which if sound, ought to have been taken at the trial Probably no summing up, and certificially none that attempts to deal with the incidents as to which the cudence has extended over a period of 20 days, would fail to be open to some objection. To quote Lord Esher's words in Abrath v. The North Eastern Railway Company, 11 Q B D —" It is no misdirection not to tell the turn everything which mucht have been told them. Again, there is no misdirection unless the lidge has told them something wrong or unless what he has told them would make wrong that which he has told them, would make wrong that which he has left them to understand Non-direction merely is not misdirection, and those who allege misdirection must show that something wrong was said or that something was said which would make wrong that which was left to be understood. Leery summing up must be regarded in the light of the conduct of the trial and the questions which have been raised by the counsel for the prosecution and for the defence respectively. This Court does not sit to consider whether this or that phrase was the best that might have been chosen, or whether a direction which has been attacked might have been fuller or more conveniently expressed or whether other topics which might have been dealt with on other occasions should be introduced. This Court sits here to administer justice and to deal with valid objections to matters which may have led to a miscarriage of justice. Its work would become well nigh impossible if it is to be supposed that regardless of their real merits or of their effect upon the result, objections are to be raised and argued at great length which were never suggested at the trial and which are only the result of criticism directed to discover some possible ground for argument 1

<sup>1</sup> Mohini Mohan Chowdhury r Harendra Chandra I L R 31 Cal 691 (sc) 8 Cal W N 533

So also in another case Lord Alverstone C J, in delivering the judgment of the Court, said -

It was important to beir in mind that every summing up was to be considered from the point of view of the conduct of thic case in the Court below Omissions of themselves did not import to insiderections. An omission could only be regarded as a misd rection when the jury was misled. "Where the heads I the charge to the jury old not set out the facts of the ease, what the evidence was and what was the nature of the defence, a re trial was ordered."

For instances of hill-direction see note to S 297 anie and also the first part of the note to S 423 under the heading "where an acquittal is by verdict of a jury

The rules contained in Chapter XXVI as to the judgdiagram of Subor.

Appeliat
Court

The rules contained in Chapter XXVI as to the judgment of a Criminal Court of original jurisdiction shall apply, so far as may be practicable, to the judgment of any Appellate Court other than a High Court

Provided that, unless the Appellate Court otherwise directs, the accused shall not be brought up, or required to attend, to hear judgment delivered

See note to 5 367 for instances in which the re-hearing of appeals was ordered on the ground that a proper judgment had not been recorded by the Appellate Court

These orders were all passed by the High Court as a Court of Revision, as the Court was unable to deal with the case for want of information such as would be supplied by a proper judgment. But an Appellate Court is contented to dispose of the appeal on the evidence on the record, and is interferen not competent to remand a case in order that the lower Court should write a proper ludgment?

Where the judgment of an Appellate Court is in the nature of a stereotyped where the pudgment of any case it is not in accordance with Ss 367 and 444. But where the judgment though not a long and elaborate one, affords a clear indication that the Court duly considered the evidence, it is a good judg ment 1 S 367 declares that a judgment shall contain the point or points for determination, the decision thereon and the reasons for the decision

A Court shall not issue a judicial order by telegram *

Notwithstanding the terms of S 369 which prevent an Appellate Court, after signing its judgment, from altering or reviewing it except to correct a clerical error, signing is a subsequent order, remedy an omission to order a new trial, when it has merely set aside the proceedings as held without jurisdiction, without making such order 3

(1) Whenever a case is decided on appeal by the High Court under this Chapter, it shall certify its judgment or order to the Court by which High Court on appeal to be the finding, sentence or order appealed against certified to lower Court was recorded or passed If the finding, sentence or order was recorded or passed by a Magistrate other than the District Magistrate, the certificate shall be sent through the District Magistrate

(2) The Court to which the High Court certifies its judgment or order shall thereupon make such orders as are conformable to the judgment or order of the High Court, and, if necessary, the record shall be amended in accordance therewith

S 425 applies only to cases heard on appeal by a High Court

In all cases in which a fresh warrant of scritence has been issued, the warrant shall be returned to the Court issuing it when it has been fully executed and with an endorsement thereon to the effect 4

Whenever the sentence is reversed reduced or suspended by the High Court, the order of the Court shall be issued in duplicate, and it Madras shall be the duty of the Court of Session or Magistrate receiving the same to transmit one to the Superintendent or keeper of the tail to which the person or persons under sentence were committed, and retain the other duplicate and place it on the record of the case

When a case is decided on appeal, or revised by the High Court, the Court nr Magistrate to which the High Court certifies its order will proceed under the provisions of Ss 425 or 442 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, to issue, when necessary, a fresh warrant or order to the railor On the rejection by the High Court of an appeal or application for revision from a prisoner in jail being communicated to the Court by which he was convicted, such Court is at once to cause intimation of the decision to be given to the prisoner

In cases referred by the Court of Session for the confirmation of a sentence of death by the High Court, the High Court will send a copy of its order to the

&lt;sup>1</sup> Kasımuddı v Emp t Cal W N 169

* All Rules &c., No 7
* In re Ram: Redd: 1 L R 3 Mad 48: (sc) Weir 308
* All Gaz 1880, Part II, p 1210 B K Cir P 38

CHAP XXXI Szc. 426

Court of Session which will then issue warrants in the officer in charge of the jail, as provided in S. 381 of the Code of Comman Procedure, (this would apply generally to all such cases because where noise is submitted for confirmation there is nearly always also an appendi

Sub section (2).

In giving effect to the judgment or order of the High Court, the Court of which it is certified should if it in on was modified a sentence passed less to warrant within the terms of Sc 187 196. If it is an order not in the proceedings of the trial for an offence it should communicate it to the parties concerned, and, in such other manner as may be necessary, proceed to carry it mit by such orders as may be conformable to it.

Execution of order passed by a Court of appeal not a High Court

S 373 declares that in all cases tried by the Court of Session, the Court bail forward a copy of its finding and sentence (if any) to the District Magistrate within the local limits of whine jurisdiction the trial was held, and S 424 declares that the rules contained in Chapter XVVI (who includes S 373) as to the judgment of a Criminal Court of original jurisdiction shall apply so far as practicable to the judgment of an Appellate Court other than a High Court, so that the course to be talled by a Court of Session as an Appellate Court In this respect would be that indicated by S 373.

Orders have been issued by the various High Courts and Llocal Governments to ensure that the orders of Appellate Courts are promptly and effectively carried out and that appellants in juil get early information as to the fate of their appeals

- 426 (1) Pending any appeal by a convicted person, the Appellate Court may, for reasons to be recorded there pending appeal Re'esse of appellant on the sontence or order appealed against be suspended and, also, if he is in confinement, that he be released on bull or on lies own bond
- (2) The power conferred by this section on an Appellate Court may be exercised ilso by the High Court in the case of any appeal by a convicted person to a Court subordinate thereto
- (3) When the appellant is ultimately sentenced to imprisonment, pend scritting or transportation, the time during which he is so released shall be excluded in computing the term for which he is so sentenced

Suspended.

The suspension of a sentence means relevation of its severity, that is merely the detention of the person under sentence in safe existedy—outling him into the same position as a prisoner remanded by a Magastrate. The High Court or Court of Session may in any case, whether there be an appeal against a conviction or not, direct that any person be admitted to bail—(S 498).

When a sentence is suspended pending an appeal, the order of the Appellate Court shall be sent to the superintendent or keeper of the Madras jail to which the person or persons under sentence was or were committed. When the sentence is suspended by the High Court.

order of the Court shall be issued in duplicate, and it shall be the duty of the Court of Session or Magistrite receiving the same to transmit one to the said superintendent or keeper forthwith and retuin, the other duplicate and place it on the record of the case

If, after the sentence is suspended, the appeal is dismissed, the order of the Court dismissing the appeal and annuling the order of suspension shall in like manner be transmitted to the said superimendent or keeper

When a Court orders that execution of a sentence be suspended, it shall certify us order to the Court by which sentence was passed and if it e appellant is in jail, to the officer in charge of the Jall for communication to him and for report that necessary action has been taken

Released on Bail

The terms of the bail may be specified by the Appellate Court, but they are openerally left to the Court of first instance which is in a better position to be informed of the ciferometries of the appellant Chapter XXXIX, which relates to buil, does not apply it appeals but the directions therein contained are appropriets See S. 498

On his own bond

Chapter VLII relates to the execution of bonds for appearance before a Court

427. When an appeal is presented under section 417, the Arrest of accused in appeal from acthe accused be arrested and brought before it the accused be arrested and brought before it the accused by arrested and brought before it.

or any subordinate Court, and the Court before which he is brought may commit him to prison pending the disposal of the appeal, or admit him to bail

417 relates to an appeal by the Local Government against an order of acquitist in such a case it is manifestly undescrible that the accused should be at large during the hearing of the appeal.

There is no eppeal against an order of discharge or the dismissal of a complaint but S 417 enthles a Sessions Judge or District Magistrate to order the commitment of a person who have been improperly discharged of an offence exclusively triable by a Court of Session, and S 436 provides for an order for further inquiry in all cases in which the excused have been discharged or a complaint has been summarily dismissed

S 427 empowers the High Court to issue a warrant for the arrest of a person who his been acquited when in appeal has been presented by the Local Government against this and it also provides how after his arrest such person should be dealt with 428 (1) In dealing with any appeal under this Chapter,

Appellate may take culture turther further evidence to be necessary, shall record its reasons, endered in the such evidence itself, or in betaken of the control of the control the Appellate Court is a High Court, by a Court of Session or a Magistrate.

<sup>1</sup> Sec O Emp r Gobardhan, I L. R. 9 All. 528

- (2) When the additional evidence is taken by the Court of Session or the Magistrate, it or he shall certify such evidence to the Appellate Court and such Court shall thereupon proceed to dispose of the appeal
- (3) Unless the Appellate Court otherwise directs, the accused or his pleader shall be present when the additional evidence is taken but such evidence shall not be taken in the presence of purors or assessors
- (4) The taking of evidence under this section shall be subject to the provisions of Chapter XXV as if it were an inquiry

When the Appellate Court directs further evidence to be taken by the lower Court it cannot take recognizances from the appellant to appear before such Court 1.

Such evidence would ordinarily be taken in the manner prescribed by $ 356. An Appellate Court is competent to issue in commission for the examination of a witness under any of the circumstances specified in $ 503.

The additional evidence which an Appellate Court may take or direct to be taken must be regarding his corner which formed or under Ss. 345 237 or 35 238 of the Scode could have formed the subject of the trial. An Appellate Court eannot require the appellant to verify his statement regarding what has been stated to have taken place in the Magistrate's Court and try him for intentionally giving false evidence in that verification. A errim rall appeal is a continuation of the criminal case and except so far as there is any provision to the contrary the appellant has the privilege of an accused. He cannot be examined on oath nor can he be examined except for the purpose of explaining any cir cumstances appearing in evidence against him —[5, 342] b.

But a contrary view has been taken. See note to $ 342

The Code of C vil Procedure (Act V of 1908) Order VLI rule 27 gives the amp power to a C vil Court of opport is is here given to a C rimini Court by $4.98 and hike $4.98 it requires the Court to record its resons for the same in civil eases it has been repeticely pointed out by the Judic al Committee of the process of the same in civil eases it has been repeticely pointed out by the Judic al Committee of the process of the same in civil eases it has been repeticely ease to the court of the stricts address to the same of the process of the same in civil ease process. The same in civil ease is the same in the same in exercising the powers here given outside the categories of the same in exercising the powers here given outside the exercised only under very exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the every exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the every exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the every exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the every exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the every exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the every exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the every exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the every exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the every exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the every exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the every exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which after taking all the exceptional circumstances and not in a case in which all the exception of the exception of any intervent and the exception of the exception of any intervent and the exception of the exception of any intervent and the exception of the exception of any in was not taken of the omission, the object of the law being the prevention of a guilty person's escape through such circlessness or ignorance, or the vindication of the character of the accused person, where for some carelessness or ignorance the Vlagistrate has omitted to record circumstances essential to the cluedation of truth. But the Bombay High Court' has taken a different view of the law, and refused to interfere where the accused hid been exonerated by a Migistrate under Ss. 161 and 116 of the Penil Code of hebring the taking of an illegal gratification by a public seriant on the ground that there was no evidence that such person was a public seriant and the Appellate Court had required additional evidence to be taken and on it the High Court affirmed the conviction dismissing the appeal.

,

1 713

In a case before the Madras High Court where there was lack of proof as to the publication of a hold there was a difference of opinion among the Judges constituting the Bench. Sundama Arvam J held that the power to summon additional evidence could not be used for the purpose of remedying the negligence of the prosecution. Pluturs: J observed that the record showed that the trial court had taken a mistaken wew that a prima facie case of publication had been made out, and that the prosecution acting in this view had refrained from putting in evidence and Benson J before whom the case came remarked that the prosecution had deserted to put in evidence and that the Magistrate had prevented them from doing so and he therefore directed additional evidence to be taken.

Where in a prosecution for sedition sanction for the prosecution was conveyed in a relegion signed "Madras" the Madras High Court held that it was a fit in a relegion signed additional evidence to show that the sanction was the act of the Local Government, but declined to admit the additional evidence on the apparently wrong ground that on act of a single member of the Government was not the act of the Government For fuller note of this case see S 196

The Allahahad High Court has held that where the prosecution has had ample opportunities to produce evidence, and has done so, and the entire evidence falls short of sustaining the charge, it will not direct further inquiry to be made or additional evidence to be taken?

The High Court has power to direct a lower Appellate Court to rehear an appeal after taking addition I evidence.

Where a District Magistrate under S 407 withdraws a part heard appeal from a subcrdinate Magistrate at is not obligators on him to examine witnesses summoned by the subordinate magistrate?

A Session Judge in appeal sending a case back to the Magistrate for further evidence set aside the consistence and activated a terral from the point at which the additional exidence should have been taken and be directed the Magistrate to record a fresh decision on the evidence already recorded and on the additional evidence. After taking the additional evidence the Magistrate again convicted the necused who again preferred in appeal which came before a different Session Judge, who had succeeded the other. At the request of both parties the Sessions Judge disregarded the additional evidence and on consideration of the original evidence discussed the appeals. It was held, per Chamira C. J. that it was not necessary for the High Court to water a certail by the Magistrate, even if the first Sessions Judge's order was illegal, and not merely an irregulanty. The ordinary course to take would be to set aside all proceedings subsequent to that order, and to direct the Sassions Judge to record a judgment on the origin if ordence, but us his successor had already done this it was unnecessary to return the cree to limit. Justa Prasto, J held that the order of the first Sessions Judge wis whully illegal, but agreed that in the circumstances the accused had not been prejudeed?

<sup>9</sup> W R Cr 31

It should be noted that 5 533 requires an Appellite Court to table at dense that an appellitt mide in confession which may live been tendered or received in evident, when it finds that such confession has not been recorded in accordance with 5 164, or 5 364 of this Code S 540 moreover empowers a Court, at any stage of an inquiry, trial or other proceeding, to summon and examine any person as a witness, or to receil and re-examine any person, if his evidence appears to it essential to the just decision of the case

Ine evidence if taken by another Court should be certified to the Appellate Court. This does not mean that such Court shall express any opinion on it, or reer of any judgment as the case then stood in the record. That is the duty of the Appellate Court. But if, in any evidence so taken, a witness appears to have intentionally given false evidence, the Magistrate may take proceedings acount thin for that offence.

The law is not as it was expressed in S 171 of the Code of 1861, and, therefore, there is no right of app of against the judgment of an Appellate Court on addition if evidence taken under its order 4

429 When the Judges composing the Court of Appeal ate equally divided in opinion, the case, with their opinions thereon, shall be laid before another Judge of the same Court, and such Judge, after such hearing (if any) as he thinks

ht, shall deliver his opinion, and the judgment or order shall follow such opinion

Who a case is laid before another judge in consequence of a difference of

When a case is laid before another Judge in consequence if a difference of opinion amongst the Judges composing the Court uf Appeal, he may consider the entire case, and is not restricted to the point of difference, and the judgment or final order follows his opinion which need not necessarily in all respects be that of the majority of the Judges?

430 Judgment and orders passed by an Appellate Court upon appeal shall be final except in the cases provided for in section 417 and Chapter XXXIII

5 417 provides for an appeal on behalf of Government to the High Court, against a judgment of acquittal passed by an Appellate Court Chapter XXXIII relates to Revision

Save as otherwise proyided by this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, or, in the case of a High Court established by Royal Charter, by the Letters Patent of such High Court, no Court when it lias signed its

Gajanand Thakur v h Lmp, 1 Pat L J 99

<sup>. 64</sup> per I tel Be judgment, shall alter or review the same, except to correct a clerical error

5 369, see note thereto To bring an order of an Appellute Court within 5 430, it is not necessary that the order should have been passed on the merits S 430 applies to all orders of an Appellate Court upon the appeal So, where an appeal had been dismissed as not having been prosecuted within the time fixed by the law of limitation, it was not competent for the Appellate Court to re-consider its order and hear the appeal

The Charters of the High Courts of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Allahabad Patra and Lahore also conter powers of revision (superintendence) which can be exercised in respect of judgments and orders of an Appellate Court upon

appeal

Appeal to His Majesty in Council

Hiere is no right of appeal to His Majesty in Council but special leave to appeal may be granted in exceptional cases. In one case their Lordships of the Privy Council have explained the state of the law in the following terms

The powers of his Majesty under his Royal authority to review proceedings of a criminal nature, unless where such power and authority have been parted with by statute, is undoubted. Upon the other hand, there are reasons both constitutional and idministrative, which make it manifest that this power should not be lightly exercised. The over ruling consideration upon the topic has refer ence to justice itself. If throughout the Empire it were supposed that the course and execution of justice could suffer serious impediment, which in many cases might amount to practical obstruction, by an appeal to the Royal Prerogative of review on judicial grounds then it becomes plain that a severe blow would have been dealt to the ordered administration of law within the King's Dominions

Il use views are not new. They were expressed more than 50 years ago by Dr Lushington in his judgment in the Queen , Mukery, (9 Moore, 165). and Lord kingsdown, in the case of the Falkland Islands Company v The Queen (1 Moure N S, 312), stated the matter compendiously in these words, "It may be assumed that the Queen has authority by virtue of her Prerogative to review the decisions of all colonial Courts, whether the proceedings be of a civil or criminal character, unless her Majesty has parted with such authority. But the inconvenience of entertaining such appeals in cases of a strictly criminal nature is so great, the obstruction which it would offer to the administration of justice in the Colonies is so obvious, that it is very rarely that applications to this Board similar to the present have been attended with success. Their Lordships desire to state that in their opinion the principle and practice thus laid down by Lord kingsdown still remain those which are followed by the Judicial Committee there have been various important cases in recent times to which, naturally, reference his been in ide. The first is the case of Re Dillet (12 A C, 459) Lord Watson there observed that 'the sule has been repeatedly laid down and has been invariably followed that her Majesty will not review or interfere with the course of criminal proceedings unless it is shown that by a disregard of the forms of legal process or by some violation of the principles of natural justice or otherwise substantial and grave injustice has been done"

Not a Court of Criminal Appeal.

The present case brings prominently before the Board the question of what is the sense in which those words are to be interpreted. If they are to be laterpreted in the sense that wherever there has been a misdirection in any criminal case, leaving it uncertain whether that misdirection did or did not affect the jury a mind, then in such cases a miscarriage of justice could be affirmed or assumed, then the result would be to convert the Judicial Committee into a Court of Colonial Empire. Their Lordships are clearly of opinion that no such proresumm is sound. This Committee is not a Court of Criminal Appeal in general be stated that its practice is to the following effect -It is not guided by its own doubts of the appellant's innocence or suspicion of his Built not interfere with the course of criminal law unless there has been such an interference with the elementary rights of an accused as has placed him outside of the pale of regular law, or, within that pale there has been a violation of the natural principles of justice so demonstratively manifest as to convince their Lordships first, that the result arrived at was opposite to the result which their Lordships would themselves have reached, and secondly, that the same opposite result would have been reached by the local tribunal also if the alleged defect or misdirection had been avoided. The appeal in Dillet's case has been referred to, and their Lordships do not think that its authority goes beyond those propositions which have now been enunciated

<sup>1</sup> O Emp v Bhimappa, I L. R 19 Bom 732 Vaithmuthu Pillai 8 Cal. L. J . 365

Their Lordships were referred to the dicta of Judges and the rules set up with report to the procedule of the Court of Criminal Appeal in England, but they are not the rules adopted by this Board, which, as aiready stated, is not a Court of Criminal Appeal. And the authority of these decisions, which apply to a different system, a different procedure, and a different structure of principle. must stand out of the reckoning of any body of authority on the matter of the procedure of this Board in advising his Majesty!

In another case then Lordships said -

Their functions are not to sit as a Court of Criminal Appeal and it would be contrary to their constitutional duty to assume that position. A Court of Cerminal Appeal can to into questions of evidence and questions of procedure and can deal with the case on the same footing as an ordinary case of appeal their Lordships functions are limited by the principle laid down in Dillet's case (12 App Cas, 54)) to something much more narrow, vie this that if they find that what has been done has been grossly contrary to the forms of justice or violating fundamental principles, then they have power to interfere

So in a very early case there Lordships said -

It must be assumed that the Queen has authority by sirtue of ler prerogative to review the decisions of all Colonial Courts, whether the proceedings be of a Civil or Criminal character, unless Her Majesty has parted with that authority But the inconvenience of entertaining such appeals in cases of a strictly Criminal nature, would be so great, the obstruction it would offer to the administration of justice in the Colonies is so obvious that it is very rare that application (for leave to appeal) similar to the present have been attended with succese 3

In another case their Lordships, having regard to the mischievous consequences which would follow on admitting a right to appeal, declined to advise Her Majesty regarding it and contented themselves with expressing their opinion on it relying on the local authorities in Ind a to give effect thereto

The rule upon which applications for leave to appeal are dealt with has been laid down in these terms Her Majesty will not review or interfere with the courst of judicial proceedings unless it can be shown that by disregard of the forms of legal process, or by some violation of the principles of natural rustice or otherwise, substantial and grievous injustice has been done."

<sup>2</sup> Amold v Andrews April 8 1914 2 Chiford v K Emp 28 Cal W N 374 (5 c) 19 Cal L J 107 Falkland Islands Co v the Queen 1 Moore P C (1 s) 312

* Joy Kissen Mookerica 9 Moore Ind App 169 (169 1924)

1 Joy Kissen Mookerica 9 Moore Ind App 169 (169 1924)

12 In re Dillet 12 Appeal Cases 490 (467) See also Burch v K Emp 13 Cal L. J.

12 Childred v K Emp 18 Cal W N 334 (8 c) 19 Cal L. J. 107 Exparte Mairne
L R 20 Ind App 90 (8c) I L R 15 All 310

So also in another case it was said by Lord Haldane L. C ..-The King in Council does not review criminal proceedings as a rule but only in the most exceptional cases He does not as a Court of Appeal sit to hear cases in error, still less does he review the weight of evidence. He does not even review the question as to whether there ought to have been a finding that there was no evidence, so long as the natural forms of justice have not been violated or some gross scandal occurred 1

The same view has been consistently taken in numerous other more recent cases

Every appeal under section 417 shall finally abate on of ap- the death of the accused, and every other appeal under this Chapter (except an appeal peals from a sentence of fine) shall finally abate on the death of tho appellant

An appeal by the Local Government under S 417 against an order of acquittal obviously must abate on the death of the accused person. Every other appeal, except an appeal against a sentence of fine, also finally abates on the death of the appellant, probably because the sentence under appeal can be no longer executed It is otherwise in regard to a sentence of fine which, under 5 70, Penal Code, is not discharged on the death of the offender until after six years from the passing of such sentence, or until the expiration of the sentence, if it is a sentence of imprisonment for more than six years. In such a case, after the death of the appellant, the appeal would probably be conducted by his heir or legal representative. The Bombay High Court has refused to consider the appeal of a deceased person under sentence of fine, on the ground that it depended on appreciation of evidence, and that the judgment appealed against was not one of the kind in which the High Court uses that jurisdiction as a general rule. The petitioner was refurred to the Governor-General in Council for redress

It was however, pointed out in another cases oy the same High Court, that, although an appeal may have abated at the death of the appellant, the representatives of the deceased are not without the means of obtaining justice, for they can bring their grievances to the knowledge of the High Court, which will if a prime facie case for interference be shown call for the record with a view to revision and rectification

S 431 was applied by the Chief Court, Panjab, to a petition for revision where the petitioner had died before it came on for hearing

Bir khan Dec 1917 1913 see also Armstrong v the King Dec 18, 1913 in re Nabishah I L R 19 Born 714 Inp v Dongan Andan L R 2 2 Born 564 (568)

<sup>4</sup> hbarana Pamam Panj Rec, 1894 p 30

CHAPTER XXXII

OF REFERENCE AND REVISION.

A Presidency Magistrate may, if he thinks fit, refer for the opinion of the High Court any ques-Reference by Pretion of law which arises in the hearing of any Magistrate sidency to High Court case pending before him, or may give indgment in any such case subject to the decision of the High Court on such reference and, pending such decision, may either commit the accused to jail, or release him on bail to appear for judgment when called upon

In making a reference under this section the Presidency Magistrate should distinctly formulate the questions of law which he refers for opinion !

(1) When a question has been so referred, the High Court shall pass such order thereon as it Disposal of case thinks fit, and shall cause a copy of such order according to decision of High Court to be sent to the Magistrate by whom the reference was made, who shall dispose of the ease conformably to the said order.

(2). The High Court may direct by Direction as to costs. whom the costs of such reference shall be paid.

At the hearing of a reference so made, the prosecution must begin, as it lies on the prosecution to make out that on the facts found any offence has been committed 3

The special provision for costs in this case indicates that the High Court has no jurisdiction to grant costs in criminal cases where the Code makes no express provision therefor,3 compare also $ 488 (7)

434. (1) When any person has, in a trial before a Judge of a High Court consisting of more Judges Power to reserve than one and acting in the exercise of its questions arising in original jurisdiction of High Court original criminal jurisdiction, been convicted of an offence, the Judge, if he thinks fit, may reserve and refer for the decision of a Court consisting of two or more Judges of such Court any question of law which has arisen in the course of the trial of such person, and the determination of which would affect the event of the trial.

(2) If the Judge reserves any such question, the person convicted shall, pending the decision thereon, Procedure when he remanded to jail, or, if the Judge thinks fit, question reserved

<sup>1</sup> Easwara Iyer, I L II 30 Mad 686 3 O Fmp v Haradhan I I II 19 Cat 380 (385) 3 Sankaralinga Mudaliar, I I II 45 Mad 913 (F IS)

be admitted to but, and the High Court shall have power to review the case, or such part of it as may be necessary, and finally determine such question, and thereupon to after the sentence passed by the Court of original jurisdiction, and to pass such indigment or order as the High Court thinks fit

This is in accordance with the terms of S of the Letters Patent of 1865 constituting the High Court of Calcutts S 26 further provides that the Advicette General may certify that there is in his judgment an error in the decision of a point or points of I in decided by the Court of original criminal juris diction or that a point or points of I in should be further considered on which the High Court shall proceed as set forth in the last part of S 434 of the Code The Letters Patent of the other High Courts are similar in this respect

So also the Advecte General might certify in regard to a case tried by a Special Bench of the High Court appointed under the Criminal Law Amendment Act 1008 since repealed a

It is completely a matter of discretion with a Judge whether he should reserve for consideration by the High Court a point of law—Letters Patent of Colcutts High Court 1865 S 25. The statement of the Judge who presides at a trial is to what has taken place at it is conclusive. Neither the affidavits of bystanders nor of jurners nor the notes of counsel nor of short hand writers are admissible to controver the notes or statement of the Judge's.

Where on such a certificite it is found that there has been a misd rection in the charge to the jury or evidence has been improperly admitted and lad before the jury for their consideration or improperly rejected and therefore not placed before the jury the question has been rised whether the High Court is not bound to order a new trial or whether it does not become it duty to consider the case on its merits on the evidence. The I'v dence Act (I of 1872) S 167 elegators that the improper admiss on or rejection of evidence shall not be ground of itself for a new trial or excession of evidence whill not be ground of itself for a new trial or excession and incomposition of the confidence objected to and admitted there was sufficient evidence to justify the decision or that if the rejected evidence had heen received, it ought not to have varied the decision

In case in which the Judge of the High Court presiding at the Criminal Sessions at Bomban reserved and referred for the decision of the High Court the question whether he had properly admitted as evidence against the prisoner as confession made by him and the High Court held that it was not admits ble as evidence at was held by Sarkers C. I and Greek J. (Braze I. dis) that under S. 25 of the Letters Patent as well as under S. 167 of the Evidence Act the High Court was bound to consider the case on its ments to determine whether independently in the confusesion improperly admitted as evidence there was sufficient evidence in justify the decision, and the consistion and sentence were affirmed.

A smilin spin on has been expressed by the Calcutta High Courts in a case coming before it on a certificate of the Advocate General where it was argued that S 167 of the Fridence Act does not apply to eriminal cases and next that it never as intended by the Legislature that a case tribble by a jury and of the facts of which a jury are alone the proper judges should be virtually retried by any Court not consisting of a jury. It was held that the Evidence Act apples to all judical proceedings and that the proper Court to decide upon the sufficience of the evidence to support the consistion is the Court of Review and not the Court below and it was further pointed out that this is indicated by $7.26 of the Letters Paten (per Guerii C. J.) Povintra J., expressed some doubt whether proceeding under $7.17 of the Pridence Act alone the High Court on review is the proper Court to consider the sufficiency or insufficiency of the evidence relating to a vertice. The High Court then considered the case on the evidence reports, but ted at the trial and affirmed the consistent.

Cal 207 (sc) 25 W R Cr 36

In a later case a which came before the Calcuta High Court on a certificate by the Advocate General under S 26 of the Letters Patent that Court after holding that some evidence had been improperly received considered the ease on its merits. The emisicilon was quished and the prisoner was acquitted

The same quest on was recepted in a case? Which came before the Calcutt high Coart in appeal in which the Sessions Indee had must preceded the nurse in regard to a statement impropored used as evidence against the accused. The High Coart of Interest for the cases ment oned in this note in to S. 16° of the Fix lence Act, but no a constriction of S. cay of this Code, and on consideration of the fact that the jury were the sole indices of matters of fact hell that the High Coart was not competent to consider the case on its ments but was bound to order a new trail to be held. It was observed that in hold inferrate would be that minimal to hold in that a nopeal tool in other that from the verd ct of a jury in the face of S. 438 which limits such an appeal to a matter of two only and that the feedsalute intended nevertheless to one the High Coart the same powers in respect to an appeal from the verd ct of a lury set this in respect of a judgment by the Sessions ludge in a trail with assessors. The case of Makin v. Attorney General for N. S. Balest before the Privy Council of N. S. Wales it was held that the ludge had ammorphily admitted evil new which was not admiss ble and it was held by the Judgen Ormmittee of the Privy Council that a new trail must be ordered because "substantial wrond would be done to the a cused if he were deprived of the verifiet of face of the Court founded meetly upon the personal of events of the Court founded meetly upon the personal of events of the Court founded meetly upon the personal of the Court founded meetly upon the personal of events of the Court founded meetly upon the personal of the Court founded meetly upon the personal of events and the court before it.

There has been considerable difference of opinion regarding that Cons. and point may be considered as at least unsettled in the Calcutta Hart Court unless the decision of the five Judges in O' Hard's case be arrepted. The creek has been approved of and followed, and it has also been disapproved All these cases came before the High Courts on appeal. It has also been disapproved in a case which came before the High Court on a reference under S 307 made because the Sessions Judge disapproved of and refused to accept, the verdict of the jury 3 The High Courts of Madras and Bombay have held that the law stated by the Privy Council does not apply to India, where the Courts proceed under special enactments the Indian Psidence Act I of 1872 S 167 and S 537 and S 423 et (d) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, which propound a law different from that settled in England in another case which came before the Calcutta High Court on a certificate from the Advocate General it was held that evidence had been improperly admitted but as the Court was satisfied that the facts sought to be proved by this evidence were amply proved alunde at declined to interfere. In that case however, Makin v. Attorney-General N. S. It alex and the cases which followed it, were not referred to See note to S 423 under the head "When the acquittal is by serdict of a

(1) The High Court or any Sessions Judge or District Magistrate or any Subdivisional Power to call for Magistrate empowered by the Local Governrecords of inferior ment in this behalf, may call for and examine Courts the record of any proceeding before any inferior Criminal Court situate within the local limits of its or his jurisdiction for the nurpose of satisfying itself or himself as to the correctness, legality or pronticty of any finding, sentence or order recorded or nassed, and as to the regularity of any proceedings of such inferior Court, and may, when calling for such record direct that the execution of any sentence be suspended and, if the accused is in confinement, that he be released on bail or on his own bond pending the examination of the record

Explanation -All Magistrates, whether exercising original or appellate jurisdiction, shall be deemed to be inferior to the Sessions Indge for the purposes of this sub-section and of section 437

- (2) If any Subdivisional Magistrate acting under sub-section (1) considers that any such finding sentence or order is illegal or improper, or that any such proceedings are irregular he shall forward the record, with such remarks thereon as he thinks fit, to the District Magistrate
  - (4) If an application under this section has been made either

Alı Fakır t O Emp. I L R 25 Cai 220 Bıru Mandal v Q Emp. I L R 25 Cai, 56 ... Son al C in C O Em

<sup>730</sup> Taju Pramanik t.

to the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate, no further applica-

Considerable changes have been made in this section by Act No VIII of 1923 S 110. The power is direct the suspension of a sentence or release on ball which an Appellate Court already had under S 426, is new in cases of resision. Under the Explanation to sub-section (i) it is clear that a Sessions Judge can take up in revision cases heard by Magistrates acting as Appellate Courts. On this point there was some difference of opinion 1.

The next important change is the omission of sub-section (3) which laid down that orders under Ss. 143 and 144 and proceedings under Chapter VII and S. 176 were not proceedings, within the meriang of S. 435. The Calcutta High Court had however dealt somewhat freely in resision with these excepted proceedings, holding that the powers given them by their Letters Patent were not affected by S. 435 in respect of orders purporting to be passed under the provisions mentioned but really passed without jurisdiction.

But in one case the Court went further and indicated that the power of the High Court under S 107 of the Government of India Act, to interfere in cases under S 143, was not confined to questions of jurisdiction alone, but might be exercised when the Magistrate has acted with illegality or material irregularity, and a party his been prejudiced thereby 3.

The Allahabad High Court however declined to interfere with an order under S 145 passed without jurisdiction. And it had been held that if the attention of a Sessions judge or Magistrate was drawn to the fact, on the representation of a party that an order passed under any of the provisions of the Code formerly excepted was illegal he should report the matter to the High Court, so as to relieve the party from the expense of moving the High Court.

In so far as the above cases dealt with the point as to whether the High Court has jurisdiction to interfere in cases under S 145, etc., they are obsolete But some of the cases also indicate the grounds on which the High Court will be prepared to interfere with such proceedings, and to that extent they are still applicable. The Madras High Court held' third an omission to set forth in a preliminary order the grounds of the Magistrate's opinions does not affect the Magistrate's jurisdiction. But the Lahove High Court' in a case in which most of the authorities were discoved held that where there was an omission to record a preliminary order the whole proceedings were without jurisdiction.

An Additional Sessions Judge can exercise all the powers of a Sessiona Judge under this Chapter in respect of any case transferred to him by that (flicer—5 430(s) But see note to that section

&lt;sup>1</sup> Khamir Sheikh v Emp 14 Cal Abayeswari Debi v Sidheswari charjee v Carr Stephen I L R, 19 C

un Pal v Ramkumar, bullubh Narain Singh

In Madres, in the Punjue, and in Urier Burne (not including the Shan States),3 all Subdivisional Magistrates line been empowered to art under S 435 in regard to proceedings of any subordinate Court [5 17 (2)] within the local limits of their purisdiction, but only to report to the District Magistrate A Subdivisional Magistrate, even if so empowered, cannot do more than call for the record of a proceeding before a Court subordinate to him and he may, in cases mentioned in S 435 (1), forward the record with his opinion to the District Magistrate The District Magistrate may then, if he thinks fit, report the case under S 438 for the orders of the High Court under S 410

Inferior Criminal Court.

This expression is equivalent to a subordinate Criminal Court It was probably used so as to make the proceedings of a Magistrate open to revision by a Sessions Judge, to whom he is inferior, but not subordinate [5 17 (5)] This has now been made clear by the Explanation-All the Magistrates in a district are both inferior and subordinate to a District Magistrate 4

A District Magistrate cannot make a reference to the High Court questioning

the propriety of an order by the Sessions Judge "

Powers to be exercised in such cases

A Court should act at all times, not merely in matters coming up in Court on the application made, but also in matters coming to the knowledge of the particular official on reliable information

Conversation held with an officer employed on famine-duty was considered to be infomation on which setion could be taken But, if the applicant for revision has the right of appeal, the High Court can not act, but will refer him to the exercise of the right before the proper Court ' S 439 (5) which is new declares that where, under this Code an appeal lies, and no appeal is brought, no proceedings by way of revision shall be entertained at the instance of the party who could have appealed The High Court can interfere with an order passed by a Magistrate in an interlocutory stage. The words used in S 435 of the Criminal Procedure Code are very general, and empower the High Court (Sessions Judge, District Magistrate, or duly empowered Subdivisional Magistrate) to send for the record of a case, not only when it wishes to satisfy itself about the correctness of any finding, sentence or order but also as to the regularity of any proceedings in subordinate Courts 8

The petitioner who applied for revision of an order dismissing his case died while his petition was before the Chief Court, Punjab It was held that the principle laid down in regard to an appeal by a person who is dead (S 431) should be applied, and that the application must abote. The Court could, however, act on revision without a petition and of its own motion, whereas on appeal it must be moved by an appellant

Where a Court of Session or District Magistrate has jurisdiction, the High Court will not act as a Court of Revision, save on some special ground shown, unless a previous application has been made to one of the lower Courts Where there is no such concurrent jurisdiction, no special rule exists regarding the

Panj Gaz 1883 p 52

Mad Gas 1883 Part I p 13 Man p 118

* Reg v of 1892 Sch el 5 and el 12 * Q Emp v Laskarı I L R 7 All 853 (sc) All W N 1885 p 257 Opendro dmanabha I L R 8 Mad

John Francis Lobo I L R

* Weir 1032

Weir 1032 Mohar Singh All W N 1886 p 295 Nageshappa Pai Bom H Ct June 17 1895 Chandi Pershad v Abdur Rahman I L R 22 Cal 131 Choa Lai Dass Anant Pershad, I L R, 25 Cal 233

Khazana Panjam Panj Rec, 1894 p 39

necessity of any such application to have been made before the High Court is Sessions Judge or District Magistrate does not prevent the action of the High Court under 5 439 for 5 435 gives a High Court the same powers as these officers, and S 439 declares that it may act in revision suo motu

Nevertheless the High Courts have become more and more reluctant to interfere where no attempt has been made to move the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate But where the High Court has moved itself under 5 435 (1) and has issued a rule it will not discharge the rule solely on the ground that no application his been made to a lower court a

The powers to be exercised after cilling for a record of any proceeding under S 435 are expressed, in respect to a Sessions Judge or District Magistrate in Ss 436, 437 and 436, and il a High Court in Ss 437 and 439

The High Court or a District Vagistrate, in a case tried by a Magistrate subordinate to him can also, under S 350, Prov (b), whether there be an appear or not, set aside any conviction passed by a Magistrate on evidence not wholly recorded by him, if such Court or District Magistrate is of opinion that the accused has been materially prejudiced thereby, and may order a new inquiry or trial

In Upper HURMA (not including the Shan States)

(t) The District Magistrate may, in any case, in which he has himself called for, or Subdivisional Magistrate has forwarded to him the record of a proceeding of a Migratrate of the second or third class pass such order in the case as he thinks fit.

Provided that he shall not pass a severer sentence for the offence, which, in his opinion, the accused has committed, than might have been passed for such offence by the Magistrate who tried the case and that no order is passed to the prejudice of the accused unless he has had an opportunity of showing cause against tt

(2) The Local Government may, at any time by notification in the official Gazette, direct that this section shall cease to be in force in any district with of efrom a date to be specified in the notification-Reg I of 1925 Sch, cl viii bthis does apply to European British subjects-Ibid, Sch. cl xiii

Sessions Judges and District Magistrates are at liberty to comment or are ccedings called for under 5 435, even though there may not be suffici in gri for submitting such proceedings to the Client (High) Court for revision

Where the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897, is in force, S 16 die each to the nothing contained in this Code shall be construed to authorise and Magistrate to alter or reverse, in appeal or revision any order passing to the age of a youthful offender or the substitution of an order for any of a Reformatory School for transportation or imprisonment. But a flow if the or revision is still competent to consider the legality or propriets o and a consider the legality or propriets or sentence on which the order for detention in a Reformation (See note to S 399 ante)

Criminal proceedings are bad unless they are conducted at many if they are substantially bad in themselves the defect nil si consent of the prisoner It is the duty of Magistrates are to follow the procedure provided by law, and there is s and it is their intention if departure from that procedure, and thus attempting to protect themselves against the consequences of such departure by getting the accused to say that he consents to it. There would be an end to an procedure if such an assent were held to warrant mitteral and important irregulanties. I An objection of want of jurisdiction my be taken for the first time even before the High Court as a Court of Reission. The consent of an accused cannot cure a detect in the jurisdiction. A prisoner on his trial can consent to nothing.

Panj Bk Cir Vol 1 p 269

Emp v Reolah I L R 14 Cal 88, 'ce ala,' 'I L R 14 Bom , 34 Emp v Abdus Sol nan I L R 25 Emp v Abdus Sol nan I L R 25 Cal 84 Emp v Abdus Sol nan I L R 25 Cal 84 Emp v Abdus Sol nan I L R 25 Cal 84 Emp v Abdus Matlab I L R 20 Cal 407 Emp v Mataria Cal 84 Emp v Mataria Cal 85 Cal 86 Cal 86 Emp v Mataria Cal 86 Cal 86 Cal 86 Emp v Mataria Cal 86 Cal 86 Cal 86 Emp v Mataria Cal 86 C

A Court should be loath to interfere in resiston on behalf of a person convicted in a criminal case if that person is an adult and of ordinity intelligence, when that person lumself, in no way, contests the propriety of his conviction. In this case the persons completed refused to recognise the existence of any Court established by British authority in India.

But a person accused before a Wagistrate can, if he is an Luropean British subject, waive his right to be deaft with as such See S 52b B

There was some difference of opinion as to whether the High Courts in revision could allow the composition of an offence. The power is now expressly conferred by 5–345 (5A)

For further discussion of the powers exerciseable by the High Courts in revision, see rote to 5 439

Sub section (4)

A person desiring to apply for recision, where the application can be made either to the bessions Judge or District Magistrate, will have to elect to whom he should apply, tor, it an application to made to and rejected by one of these officers, it cannot be renewed by a second application to the other. So a Sessions Judge cannot review an order passed by a District Nagistrate under S. 437 refusing to order further inquiry to be made. I The proper course would be to move the High Court. Similarly in regard to revision by the High Court, where a sentence or urder is appealable, and no appeal is brought, no proceedings by way of revision shall be untertained at the instance of the party who could have appealed in the reason for this prohibition is to avoid a conflict between the orders of officers having concurrent jurisdictions, and the reason applies equally to cases in which either of them may have acted soo motif.

But where a District Magistrate reluses to call for records and order committal while a case is still under inquiry before an inferior Magistrate, the Sessions Judge is not subsequently debarred from ordering committal after the accused has been actually discharged?

436. On examining any record under section 435 or otherwise, the High Court or the Sessions Judge our may direct the District Magistrate by himself or by any of the Magistrates subordinate to him to make, and the District Magistrate may himself make, or direct any subordinate

Candi Appa Razu I L R 43 Mad 477

Magistrate to make, further mours into any complaint which has been dismissed under section 203 or sub-section (3) of section 204, or into the case of any person accused of an offence who has been discharged:

Provided that no Court shall make any direction under this section for money into the case of any person who has been discharged unless such person has lead an opportunity of showing cause why such direction should not be made

It should be noticed that the positions of Ss 436 and 437 have been inverted by Act No Will of 1923 S 117 profably because the order now adopted appeared to the Legislature to be more natural. In the notes to this section and to the following section, as well as elsewhere throughout the Code the new numbering has been adopted even when citing rulings on the sections as they stood before amendment, so as to avoid confusion

The proviso is new It corresponds with proviso (a) to $ 437 It is clearly desirable that a person who has gone through an inquiry should be given an opportunity to show that the order of discharge was right. The requirement of notice does not apply in the case where a complaint has been dismissed under Se 201 or 204 because in these cases the person against whom the proceedings are taken has never been before the Court. This amendment renders numerous cases obsolete to it gives effect to the law laid down by at least one High Court.

A second amendment has been made in this section by the substitution of the words "any person necessed of an offence" for the words 'any necessed person."

The Courts had generally held that this section could not be applied to proceedings where there was no accusation of an offence such as proceedings under Ss 107 110 133 145 and it had been helds that "discharged" must be read as equivilent to discharged within the meaning of Ss 209 253 and 259 and that the section did not apply to a discharge under S 119 But a contrary view had been taken on the ground that the word accused meant a person over whom a court is exercising jurisdiction and a District Magistrate was held competent to order further inquiry in proceedings under S in These doubts are now set at rest S 437 applies to cases where there has been a discharge of a person accused of an offence (as to the definition of which, see S 4 (0))

An Additional Sessions Judge may exercise the powers of a Sessions Judge under $ 436 in respect of any case transferred to him by that officer-$ 438 (-) But see note to that section $ 436 supplements $ 437 by enabling the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate to direct further inquiry to be made into the case of any person who has been d scharged and not as in $ 437 only of an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session. An order of discharge may be passed in a warrant case that is a case celaing to an Genre pun shable with death. transportation or imprisonment for a term exceeding six months,  $[s = 4 \ (u)]$  If the offence be triable by a Magistrate or Court of Session (Seh V col. 8) the trial would be inder Clapter XXI and the order of discharge would be passed under S 253 II the offence be triable exclusively by the Court of Session (Sch V col 8) the proceedings would be on an inquiry held under Chapter XVIII and the order of discharge would be passed under S 200 or

Angan v Ram Prblan I I R 3, All 78 Hare Days Sanval : Santulla I I. R 15 Cal 608 Emp v Liagat Husan 40 Atl 138 Fmp : Abdul Latif I L R 40

All 416

* Emp r Abdul I atif I I R 40 All 416

* Velu Jayı Ammal I L R 33 Mad 8c

* Q Fimp r Mutasaddı I L R 33 Mad 8c

* Q Fimp r Mutasaddı I L R 21 All 107 Sec also Emp r Udaı Raj Singh,
I L R 44 All 69t Q Fimp r Rattil All W N 1899 203 Fimp r Kharga I I R

$6 All 147

S 21) (2) Such an order would not operate as an acquital in bar of further proceedings relating to the same offence (S 49), explanation) unless a conviction or requitted for an ther offen e still in force, has been made on the same first, for which he different clarge might have been made under S 25, for for which he might have been consisted under S 27. But a conviction or requitted is no bar to his trail for any other offence constituted by the same acts of the Court which he life first irral was not competent to by the offence with which he is subsequently charged S g 1 See illustrations (f) and (g). If the offence be to further proceedings for that offence S 45 they privide for a further inquiry into a complaint which has been summarily dismissed under S 203, when the Migistrate after examination of the complainant and considering the result of any linestigation that mis have been made under S 205 finds that there are no sufficient grounds (f preceding or under S 304 (3) if any Court fees payable process have been issued requiring the attendance of the accused to answer the complaint made to the Magistrate

S 437 makes no express provision for a further induiry into an offence triable except and though from its terms the Sections Judge or District Magistrate may instead of directing o fresh inquiry order him (the accused) to be committed for trial? As it preparently contemplates the existence of such a power, and S 436 is taken in its terms so as to give certain superior judicial officers power to direct further inquiry into all cases in which an accused may have been discharged.

It is not in its ordinary acceptation restricted to the mere taking of evidence, but includes also a consideration of its effect in relation to the complaint forming the subject of Inquiry. The term "further inquiry" therefore signifies as well a fresh consideration of the effect of the evidence already recorded as a supprementary inquiry upon fresh evidence. The words further inquiry and fresh inquiry. The everonymous?

An order decting the commitment of an accused who has been ducharged by a Ungistrate or committing such a person can be passed only in respect of an offence (virble evolutively by a Court of Session (see S. 437) unless the cast is before. Court of Apperl [See S. 427 (1) (6)] or on resiston before the High Court (S. 4,0). If a Sessions Judge or District Magistrate is satisfied that, on the evidence taken there is a clear case for charging and trying the accused who has been discharged of an offence not triable evolusively by the Court of Session, and there is no reason for desiring further Vagisterial examination, he should not direct further inquiry to be mide, but should not fret ease for the orders of the High Court. a shall court alone is competent to set aside a finding of fact on revision.

In a more recent case, a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court has held that, notwithstanding an order of discharge fresh proceedings may be taken by the Magistrate who passed that order, or by any other Magistrate competent to take cognuance of the offence, without my order from a superior Court 4 If such action be taken by another Magistrate at will probably be necessary to hold a fresh inquiry that is to take the exidence de novo

It is now clear that S 436 does not apply to miscellaneous proceedings under the Code such as those under Ss 107, 110, 133 and 145. But though under matambi,

j inatar

S 436 a fresh inquiry cannot be undered in such cases where the subordinate court has distinct to make a final order, the District Magistrate may however take frest proceedings on fresh information or even on the same information Nor done S 436 apply to a cise in which a Wigistrate has refused to proceed against some of the persons occused if in offence before the Police, as they have never been before lum, and had not therefore been discharged. The proper course for the District Magistrate to talle would be to withdraw the case under 5 528 and deal with it in he evidence, as, in the exercise of his discretion, he thought fit, not to order a further inquirs under $ 416.3 But when the Magis trate had issued warrants for the arrest of other persons in the same case, and then declined to take further proceedings it was held that this operated as a discharge so as to enable the District Magistrate to act under S 437 4

In the trial of a summans case only one of the accused appeared, and he was acquitted under S 247 because the complainant did not appear at the trial. The District Magistrate under S 436 proceeded against the other accused, but it was held that he was not competent to do so, as S 416 did not apply to such a case. Whether he could have done so otherwise was not considered probably hecause it was a petty case. Where a Magistrate proceeded on a police report made after an investigation only against the prisoners sent up for trial, and accounted them on the ground that he disbelieved the evidence, the District Magistrate was not competent as against this finding of fact, to proceed under S 436 against them so long as the acquittal was in force and not set aside on the appeal of the Local Government .

Proceedings may be taken without an order under S 437

fn none of the cases mentioned in S 437 does the order amount to an acquittal, so the order terminating the proceedings in these cases is no bar to fresh proceedings being taken as there has been no trial by a competent Court ($ 403) But a Magistrate taking fresh proceedings except und r $ 437 must be competent to take cognizance of the offence ($ 100). The Magistrite who not a judgment under Chapter \\VI and therefore his action would not be barred by S 360. It is not necessary that such an order should be set aside by an order under S 417.7 The fact that the District Magistrate may have refused to order a further naury will not present a Magistrate who has summarily dismissed i c se in consequence of the absence of the complainant from holding trial on a fresh complaint. (The same principle would be applicable to a complaint demissed under S 204 or S 204 (3) But from the petty character of in offence so dealt with the ' urt should besitate before reviving such a case)

Where two persons were in trial before a second class Magistrate for offences under Ss 307 and 323 Penal Code, and the Magistrate discharged one, and

<sup>1</sup> O I'mp : Iman Mondai & L R 27 Cal 662 (Sc) 6 Cal W N 163 2 K Fmp v Fyaruddin 1 I R 24 Att 148 Fmp t Chinna Kahappa Gounden.

I L R 29 Mad 126

<sup>1</sup> L 1, 27 Mahmad, Akand v K 1 mp. 5 Cal W N 488

4 Monl Sungh v Mahbur 4 Cal W N 442 See also Krishna Reddi v Subbamma,
1 I R 24 Mad 146 See also Emp v Chima Kalappa Goundan I L R 29 Mad 126
Grish Chandac Ghose v Emp I L R 29 Cal 457 (5 cl Cal W N 63)

4 Panchu Singh v Umor Wahomed 4 Cal W N 49) Kedar Nath Biswas v Adhin

4 Bishun Das Ghosh v K Emp 7 Cal W N 49) Kedar Nath Biswas v Adhin

Manji Ibid 711 n. . . . . . .

against the other framed a charge under S 323 omitting to 533 amitting about the offence under S 307, the effect was equivalent to a discharge in regard to that offence, and further inquiri could be ordered under S 4364

The Madras High Curt held following earlier decisions, that a District Magistrate cannot take action under 5 436 to set aside an order of discharge on the ground that in his opinion the lower court firs not properly appreciated the evidence and that in such a case his proper course is to refer the matter to the High Court. But a heach of the same court shortly afterwards dissented from this same.

S 446 contemplates that in the case of the dismissal of a complaint under S 204 the revisional juried clinn of the District Magistrate can be invoked freespective of the consideration whether the dismissal is legal or illegal 4.

By whom further inquiry may be ordered

An order for further inquire may be made by the High Court, or the Sections Judge or the District Magnetrate—S 436. The High Court of Allthobad refused an application for an order under this section when a lower court has concurrent jurisdiction helding that it should be first made to the lower court? If may of the accused persons have been discharged by a Magnetrate in a case in which others have been consisted on a trial held by the Sessions Judge who is in a better position than the District Magnetrate to determine on the facts whether such order should be passed. As he took no notice it was held that he considered that no further inquiry and no further proceedings against the other accused were necessary. A District Magnetrate is not completed to order further inquiry to be held when his predecessor in office has refused to make such order.

If an application for further inquiry has been refused by the District Magis trate it cannot properly be granted by the Sessions Judge (See S 415 (4)). The proper course for the Sessions Judge in such a case is to refer it for the orders of the High Court?

See note to  $\P$  447 for cases in which further action may be taken as on a discharge or otherwise

A Sessions Judge or District Magistrate who has ordered further inquiry under S 46 is not competent to "dd to his order a direction to commit if the evidence leads to the conduct of the customer that it is possible for two years to be taken of the conduct of the customer like for the subordinate Magistrate to exercise his own discretion in such a matter on every case before limit. If such officer is satisfied that on the evidence risken there is a clear case for charping and trying the accused and there is no reason for latther Magisterial examination he should refer the case under S 448 for the orders of the High Court! If however the offence is frable evidensiely by a Court of Session an order for gQ Emp v Balasınnatamb.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Sheo Naram Singh I L R 44 AM 128 See also Krishna Reddi v Subbamma I L R 24 Mad 136

<sup>1</sup> Lakshminarasappa I L R 31 Wad 133 following Q Emp t Amir Khan I L

-

<sup>30</sup> All 216

Hari Dass Sanyal v Santulla I L R 15 Col 608 (621) Lakshminarasappa I L

HARR ANNI DE0 451

commitment can be made under 5 436 It is not competent to a Sessions Judge in his order for further inquiry to direct that it be hold by any particular Magis trate. The discretion to the selection of any Magistrate seems to have been left to the District Madistrate #

Meaning of further inquiry.

Lurther inquiry in 5 436 and fresh inquiry in 5 437 are used as meaning the same thing they mean an inquiry such as has miscarried, an inquiry leading up to a charge or discharge, and this includes not micrely the taking of evidence. but the consideration of that evidence and the conclusion to charge or d senarge the accused. An order for a new inquiry is one superseding that which has already been held and it may intount to an order directing either an additional investigation of the facts or a reconsideration of the evidence by the Magistrate whose order is set uside or a new inquiry before another Alagistrate, and amongst other sufficient reasons for such an order are the omission to take evidence which ought to have been taken, the discovery of fresh evidence, mistakes of law, illfullty or irregularity in the proceedings and the incorrectness of the first finding a

An order for further inquiry into a complaint which has been summarily quantished under 5 203 or 5 204 (3) means in the first case issue of process for the appearance of the accused and a trial, and in the second, a fresh opportunity to the complainant to pay process lees or other fees payable on payment of which the ril will proceed

If the order is directed to the Magistrate who has already held proceedings in the case, they can be resumed from the stage at which the order of discharge was passed But if the case comes before another Magistrate, they must be recommenced, and all the evidence must be taken de 1000 similarly, when the order for further inquiry directs an inquiry by another Magistrate. The final order in the case cannot be based on evidence taken by another Magistrate, except under the circumstinues stated in 5 450 4

Where the order for further inquiry is in reference to a complaint which has been summarily dismissed under 5 203 or S 204 (3), it is of little consequence by whom the proceedings are renewed, as no evidence against the accused will have been taken

Although ordinarily it is not desirable that an order for further inquiry under 437 should discuss the evidence in detail and give elaborate reasons for it, because that might prejudice the subsequent proceedings, it should set out enough to show that the order is a proper one. So, where no reasons were given the order was set aside a

When, on examining the record of any case under order section 435 or otherwise, the Sessions Judge or to District Magistrate considers that such case is comm maent triable exclusively by the Court of Session, and that an accused person has been improperly discharged by the inferior Court, the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may cause him to be arrested, and may thereupon, instead of nirecting a fresh inquiry, order him to be committed for trial upon the matter of which he has been, in the opinion of the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate, improperly discharged

In re Chundt Churn Dhuttacharjes I L R to Cal 297 1 Harn Dass Sanyal v Santulla I L R 15 Cal 668 (pp 620 621) FULL BEN. II I Harn Dass Sanyal v Santulla I L R 15 Cal 668 (pp 620 621) FULL BEN. II I bollowed by Q Lmp v Bislamantamba I L R 14 Mad 314 (pp 336 341) Dhanus v Chifford I L R 15 Hom 376 Q Lmp v Chotu I L R 9 All 32 (pp 50 53) Full BENCH Kada valad hum Bom H Ct, May 4 1899 Nimest Sahab Nort, Plan Rec 1898 p 49

O Emp v Hasnu I L R. All. 367 (sc) 3 Cal L. J. 43

Provided as follows -

- (a) that the accused has hid an opportunity of showing cause to such Judge or Magistrate why the commitment should not he made:
- (b) that if such Judge or Magistrate thinks that the evidence shows that some other offence has been committed by the accused, such Judge or Magistrate may direct the inferior Court to inquire into such offence

It should be noted that S 437 does not apply to proceedings before a Presidency Mag strate Nor to proceedings under 5 107 4

An Additional Sessions Judge may exercise the powers of a Sessions Judge under S 437 in respect of any case transferred to him or under the orders of that other -5 438 (2) See note to that section

The cases referred to in S 437 are regarding offences which in the opinion of the Sessions Judge or District Alagistrate, are triable exclusively by the Court of Session (Sch V, col 8), in which the accused has been improperly discharged by an inferior Court, that is, by any Magistrate, for the District Magistrate is a Court inferior to the Court of Session, and such order, if passed by a District Magistrate, would be dealt with by a Sessions Judge under S 437 A Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may cause the accused who has been improperly discharged to be arrested. If the offence is bailable, the accused should be admitted to bail 'f on consideration of the evidence, the Sessions Judge or the District Mag strate is of opinion that it shows that some other offence, that is to say, an offence not triable exclusively by the Court of Session, has been committed by the occused he may direct the inferior Court to inquire into such offence S 436 enables the High Court, Court of Session or District Magistrate to direct further inquiry to be made into the case of any person who has been discharged, and the terms of that section are wide so as to apply even to a discharge of an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session 5 437 contemplates the existence of such powers, as it provides that the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may, mstead of directing fresh inquiry, order the accused to be committed for trial,

So where notice had been issued on the accused to show cause why he should not be committed on a charge of an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session, it was held that a further inquiry could be ordered under S 436 into a case regarding such an offence. The mere fact that notice may have been issued only to show cause why the accused should not be committed would not prevent an order being made for further enquity rather than for commitment Commitment could have been made, and the further evidence, which it was sought to be obtained on the further inquiry, might be tendered at the trial in the Sessions Court, but it was evidently thought that in order to make the case clearer,

 <sup>1</sup> Emp v Roshan Singh I L R 46 All., 235
 2 Emp v Lashkari I L R 7 All 853 (sc) All W N, 1885 p 257 Opendro Nath Ghosev Dukhin Bewa I L R 32 Cal 473 Inte Padmanabha 1 L R 8 Mad , 18
 2 Emp v Priya Gopal I L R 9 Bom 100 See now Explanation to 5 435 (t)

evidence should be first taken and this being in favour of the accused, it could not be made ground of an elijection or his belialf.<sup>1</sup>

If a further inquirit or fresh inquirit [for the terms are synonymous] be made it is within the discretion of the Magistrate making it to determine whether there are sufficient grounds for committing the soused or whether, if he has jurisdiction over the offence established, he should try the accessed as in a warran cise, or discharge him (See Ss. 200. 200. 233, and 254). A District Magistrie (or Sessions) judge] directing further inquirit to be made his no legal authority to fetter this discretion of the Magistrie holding such inquiry. The powers of the Sessions Judge and District Magistrie under Ss. 4,6,4 tyremin, fig. in their opinion, the accused lass been improperly discharged in this further inquiry, and if the recursed is a four ited as it is warrant-case, and appeals, the Appellate Court may order him to be committed [S. 4,3 (ii [6)] or, if there is no appeal, the matter can be deal with 1 is the High Court. a court of Resission under S. 430.

Improperly discharged

Ss 209 210 give a Magistrie- holding an inquiry a discretion whether he should commit a case to the Court of Session for trial and leave him to not no his opinion or whether on the evidence lefore him there are or are not sufficient grounds for committing the accused. If he should find that there are not sufficient grounds it is his duty to record his reasons and discharge the accused unless he considers that the accused should be tried before himself or some other Magistrate if r some minor offence. S. 437 (formerly S. 456) enables the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate to deal with such a case as a Court of Revision, and if it spears that there are sufficient grounds for a trial, to direct his committal or a fresh inquiry regarding that or some other offence. The notes to Ss 200 and 200 set out cases on that subject.

Where a Magistrate after a careful consideration of the case for the prosecution be shound that it wish is within 61 credit and that it would be a more waste of the time of the Sessions Court to commit a case, the duty falls on the Sessions Judge to weigh that evidence and not to order a commitment unless he finds that it is prima face sufficient for a consistency.

Where no formal order of discharge of an offence traible exclusively by a Court of Session may have been possed and the Magistrate may have convicted or acquitted of an offence triable by him the question has arisen whether action can be taken under $ 437, to order commitment if the evidence prima facte establishes that off ace or to order a further inquiry into it. The order of conviction or acquittal if in force would be no bur to further proceedings if the Magistrate was not competent to try the offence for which it is contemplated to order further proceedings to be taken [S 403 (4)] This would be if that offence be triable exclusively by a Court of Session not if it be triable also by the Magistrate (Sch V, col 8) The fact that no formal order of discharge had been passed is immentered for the effect of the Magnetrate's final order operates as a discharge of that offence by his declining to talle action in respect of it 5 for it has been held that when a Magistrate declines to charge an accused with no offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session and proceeds to try him of an offence triable by himself his order amounts to a discharge, and the Sessions Judge has juris diction to act under S 437 The Judges WHITE C J SUBRAHMANN ANAR and coordingly inerruled a pievious case and differed from another case

<sup>1</sup> O Frup r Manicuddin Mundul I L R 18 Cal 75 2 Hari Dass Sanyal Santulla I I R 15 Cal 608 (119

O Pmp t Munisami I I R 15 Mad 30

Bai Parvati I I R 35 Bom 163
 Ilan Dass Sanyali Santulla I I R 15 Cat 608
 Krishna Reddi t Subbumma I I R 24 Mat 136

O Imp t Hanumantha Reddi I I R 23 Mad 223

١

1 Ra anath D não

on the Colontia High Court! In these cases it was held that there had been no order of discharge so is to give the Sessions Judge jurisdiction under S 437, the Majostrute hiving icted within his jurisdiction to hold a trial as he was competent to do

But where a Majistrate took cognizance of a case on a Police charge sheet charging the accused with offences under $8 354 and 337, Penal Code, but making no charge of raye and the pro-cention did not take for a charge to be framed of the latter offence, the District Majistrate could direct a committal on a charge of rape since the proceedings of the subordinate Majistrate did not amount to an order of discharge of the major offence.

The District Magistrate cannot set usude an order of discharge on the ground that in his opinion, the subordinate Magistrate has not properly appreciated the endence. He should refer the case to the High Court, because that Court alone is competent in such a case to set aside a finding of facts. But this case was not I likewed by the came High Court shortly afterwards.

A District Magistrate should come to a finding on the evidence that an accused person has been improperly discharged before he orders a commutal. It is not enough that he should form an opinion that the charge is of such a nature that it should be considered by the Court of Session.

An order by a District Magisterite refusing to call for records and commit to the Sessions an accused person while the charge against him is still under inquiribefore an inferior Magistrate is not an order refusing to revise an order of discharged as Sessions Judge may order committal after the accused has been actually discharged 8.

Proviso (a).

Munifestly it would be unfair to proceed aguinst an accused who has been discharged, without notice to him, so is to give him opportunity of showing cause why a commitment or a fresh or further inquiry should not be made. A commit ment made without such notice is bad." But when the trial has been held without any objection on this ground and the omission has not occusioned a failure of justice, the High Court on revision will not interfere." (See S. 283 of the Code of 182 and of this Code)

If the notice be to show cause why the necused should not be committed, it is competent to the Sessious Judge or District Negistrate without fresh notice to order that further inquiry be held? But in making such no order there is no authority also to fetter the judicial discretion of the Miguittate to whom it is directed as to whether he should not commit on the evidence taken 19

The District Magistrate after examination of the record ordered the arrest of the accused person, who had been discharged by a Subordinate Magistrate, but, on his showing case why he should not be committed for trial by the Court of Session discharged him. The Sessions Judge nowever, considered that the evidence wirrested a commitment, and under S. 438 reported to the High Court for orders. The High Court held that, as the Sessions Judge exercised concurrent unstable with the District Magistrate under Ss. 435, 437, there was no sufficient

```
R 41 Mad 98 >

Cand 3 to R - I T - V - V - V - Weir 1036 I re Bundhoo,

Weir 1036 I re Bundhoo,

U Linp v Manniadi I L R 18 Cal 75

Denn t Munisam I L R 18 Mad 30
```

reason for it to consider questions of fact. The record was accordingly returned to the Sessions Julge for orders 1 But see 433 (4) of this Code, since enacted, which declares that when an application under that section has been made either to the Sessions Judge or District Ungistrate (to act in revision), no further appli cation shall be entertuned by the other of them. But this is no bar to the exercise by the High Court of its powers of revision under S 430

Proviso (b).

This shows that the terms of the section in regard to the powers to order commitment to be made are not intended to affect the general powers of the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate to order a further inquiry, if, in such a case, the evidence shows that some other offence not exclusively triable by a Court of Session has been committed. In such a case an inquiry may be ordered, and it is left to the discretion of the Magistrate to whum such order is directed to commit or convict of any offence proved which is triable by himself and also by the Court of Session Proviso (b) does not however prevent a Sessions Judge or District Magistrate from ordering further enquiry into an offence triable exclusively by the Court of Session where the accused has been improperly discharged, and such an order can be passed on notice calling on the accused to show cause why he should not be committed, and without a fresh notice, if it should appear that an order for further inquiry rather than of commitment should be made 2 S 427 decimies that a Sessions Judge or a District Magistrate may anstead of directing a fresh matter order the accessed to be committed for trial upon the matter of which he has been improperly discharged

Magistrate on being asked to frame a charge of an offence triable ex clusively by a Court of Session declined to do so on the ground that there was no direct evidence of it, and he proceeded to try the accused for an offence triable by him and eventually acquitted them. The Sessions Judge, notwithstanding the acquittal, under S 437, directed the Magistrate to commit for the offence triable exclusively by him The Madras High Court declared that order to be in accord ance with law, holding that the order of the Magistrate declining to proceed in respect of the graver offence amounted to an order of discharge, masmuch as he could not act under the concluding part of 5 209 (1) until he had discharged the accused under the previous part of it, and held that the Sessions Judge acted within his jurisdiction under 5 437 In a case before the Calcutta High Court which was disapproved, it was held that, in proceeding to try an offence which he was competent to try the Magistrate had not passed an order of discharge in respect Sessions Judge to act under S 437 . The refusal of a Magistrate to proceed against certain persons mentioned in the report of the investigating police-officer was in effect an order discharging them. But until he has refused to act, a District Magistrate is not competent to proceed under S 436 *

Cause him to be arrested

If the offence is bailable, (Sch II, col 5) the accused should on his arrest be released on bail—(S 496). If the offence is not bailable, when brought before a Court, he may be released on bail, if there are not reasonable grounds for believing that he has been guilty of an offence punishable with death or with

* Emp v Kalu Bom H Ct Jan 9 1896

9 Lenp v Mahuradin Mundel I L. R 18 Cal 75

9 Lenp v Mantradin Mundel I L. R 24 Mad 236

* Bajananth Pandey v Gaurikanta I L. R 26 Cal 633

* Moul Singh v Mahabir 4 Cal W N 242

4 Apab Lalv Emp I L. R 3 * Cal 783 (s c ) 9 Cal W N 8 to and the noted therein in the Cikutti High Court? In these cises it was held that there had been no order of discharge so is to give the Sessions Judge jurisdiction under S. 437 the Magistrite living icted within his jurisdiction to hold a trial as he was competent to do.

22

But where a Magistrate took regainment of a case on a Police charge sheet charges the accused with offences under 5s 354 and 323. Penal Code but making no charge of rays, and the prosecution did not ask for a charge to be framed of the latter offence, the District Magistrate could direct a committal on a charge of rape, since the proceedings of the subordinate Magistrate did not amount to an order of discharge of the major offence.

The District Magistrate cannot set aside an order of discharge on the ground that in his opinion, the subanhate Magistrate has not properly appreciated the evidence. He should refer the ease to the High Court, because that Court alone is competent in such a case to set aside a finding of facts. But this case was not I flux of the term high Court shortly afterwards.

A District Magistrate should come to a finding on the evidence that an accussed person law been improperly discharged before he orders a commutal. It is not enough that he should form an opinion that the charge is of such a nature that it should be considered by the Control Session.

An order by a District Magistrate refusing to call for records and commit to the Sessions an accursed person while the charge against him is still under injurity before an inferior Magistrate is not an order refusing to revise an order of discharge and a Sessions Judge may order committal after the accused has been actually discharged.

Proviso (a).

Munifestly it would be unfair to proceed against an accused who has been disanged, without notice to him, so as to give him opportunity of showing cruse why a commitment or a fresh or further inquiry should not be made. A commit ment made without such notice is bad? But when the trail has been field without any objection on this ground, and the omission has not occasioned a failure of justice the High Court on revision will not interfere? (See S. 283 of the Code of 187; and 5 537 of the Code of 1882 and of this Code)

If the notice be to show cause why the recused should not be committed it is competent to the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate without fresh notice to order that further inquiry be held. But in making such an order there is no authority also to fetter the judicial discretion of the Magistrate to whom it is directed as to whether he should not commit on the evidence taken 10.

The District Magistrate after examination of the record ordered the arrest of the accused person, who had been discharged by a Subordinate Magistrate, but, on his showing cruse why he should not be committed for trial by the Court of Science, discharged him. The Sessions Judge however, considered that the evidence warranted a commitment, and under 5–438 reported to the High Court for orders. The High Court held that, as the Sessions Judge exercised concurrent jurisdiction with the District Magistrate under Ss 436, 437, there was no sufficient

Weir 1036 I re Bundhoo

Baijanath Pandey v Gaurikanta I L R 20 Cal 633 Sessions Judge of Combatoret Murappa Goundan I L R 41 Mad 98°

noted therein

reason for it to consider questions of fact. The record was accordingly returned to the Sessions Judge for orders. But see 433 (4) of this Code, since enacted, which declares that when an application under that section has been made either to the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate (to act in revision), no further application shall be entertained by the other of them. But this is no bar to the exercise by the High Court of its powers of revision under S. 439

Proviso (b).

This shows that the terms of the section in regard to the powers to order commitment to be made are not intended to affect the general powers of the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate to order a further inquiry, if, in such a case, the evidence shows that some other offence not exclusively triable by a Court of Session has been committed. In such a case an inquiry may be ordered, and it is left to the discretion of the Magistrate to whom such order is directed to commit or convict of any offence proved which is triable by himself and also by the Court of Session Proviso (b) does not however prevent a Sessions Judge or District Magistrate from ordering further enquiry into an offence triable exclusively by the Court of Session where the accused has been improperly discharged, and such an order can be passed on notice calling on the accused to show cause why he should not be committed, and without a fresh notice, if it should appear that an order for further inquiry rather thin of commitment should be made $ $ 437 documes that a Sessions Judg or a District Magistrate may, instead of directing a fresh migury order the accused to be committed for trial upon the matter of which he has been improperly discharged

In Magistrate, on being asked to frame a charge of an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session, declined to do so on the ground that there was no direct evidence of it, and he proceeded to try the accused for an offence triable by him, and eventually acquitted them. The Sessions Judge, notwithstanding the aequittal, under S 437, directed the Magistrate to commit for the offence triable exclusively by him The Madras High Court declared that order to be in accord ance with law, holding that the order of the Magistrate declining to proceed in respect of the graver offence amounted to an order of discharge, masmuch as he could not act under the concluding part of 5 209 (t) until he had discharged the accused under the previous part of it, and held that the Sessions Judge acted within his jurisdiction under $\(^2\) 437 In a case before the Calcutta High Court which was disapproved, it was held that, in proceeding to try an offence which he was competent to try, the Vagistrate had not passed an order of discharge in respect of an offence triable exclusively by the Court of Session so as to enable the Sessions Judge to act under 5 437 The refusal of a Magistrate to proceed against certain persons mentioned in the report of the investigating police officer was in effect an order discharging them " But until he has refused to act, a District Magistrate is not competent to proceed under S 436 *

Cause him to be arrested.

If the offence is bailable, (Sch. II, col. 5) the accused should on his arrest be released on bail—(S. 496). If the offence is not bailable, when brought before a Court, he may be released on bail, if there are not reasonable grounds for believing that he has been guilty of an offence punishable with death or with

Emp v Kalu Bom H Ct Jan 9 1896 - 75 136 1 1932 1 19

660

transportation for life (5 497). So, if the order be one for commitment on a charge of a non-bulable officae, the accused cannot be released on ball, except tide special orders of the High Centr or the Court of Session (S 498), but if the order be for fresh or further angury, it would be for the Magistrate to consider whether in his opinion sufficient grounds are shown for releasing the accused or ball

May order him to be committed for trial.

A Sessions Judge connot direct committal for offences not tripble exclusively by the Court of Session !

This order would ordinizely be directed to the Migistrate who has discharged the accused. On receipt of such an order, the Migistrate should proceed as unrected by So 211 et seq.

A Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may however himself commit without the intervention of the Magistrate who field the inquiry? A District Magistrate may also commit, although he may have taken no part in the inquiry?

This order to the Magistrate to commit should be one on which he could det Do, if the differe for when commitment is ordered to lorgery, the order still specify the document considered to have been torged, and also any particulars in riginal to which it was forged. I he commitment ordered should be for clette, with which it was forged. I he commitment of should be for in the police report of the investigation held) or specified in the warrant of arrest, or specified in a formal charge framed by the Adagistrate holding the inquiry Otherwise the accused might be committed.

At the conclusion of the case for the prosecution, that is to say, after he has taken all the evidence that may be forthcoming, and after examination of the accused he has enabled the accused to explain any circumstances appearing in evidence against him, if the Magistrate finds that there are not sufficient grounds for committing the accused person for trial, he shall record his reasons, and discharge him of that offence ($2.05). Amongst these grounds are a consideration while the arrived at in the trial by the Sessions Court Before directing a commitment under $4.450, it is the duty of the Sessions Judge to consider the reasons recorded by the stigistrate for this order of discharge, for, without doing so, he cannot had that the accused has been improperly discharged. He is bound to consider whether the Magistrate has taken a correct view of the evidence in holding that it was unreliable, and by so doing he cannot he said to be prejudging the case at the Sessions trial, because that trial would proceed on evidence taken at trand not on evidence taken by the Magistrate?

The fact that a commitment may have been made by an order under Ss 437 does not prevent the High Court on revision from considering the propriety of that order as such a case does not come within S 215 f

Effect of order of discharge on fresh proceedings by Magistrate

The explanation to S 403 declares that an order of discharge is not an acquittal for the purposes of that section, that is, it is no bar to a trial for the same offence, nor on the same frets for any other offence for which a different obarge might have been made under $275 but resh proceedings may be taken by the Magistrate who passed the order of discharge, or by mother Vagistrice, without any order in a super or Central traded that he is competent to take cognizance of the offence? (See $5.99) but, where the Wignest ret proceeded on an order for further inquiry made by the Sessions Judge without pursidiction, and after taking evidence connected the accused, the High Court on rousion refused to interfere level the trade of the case and retry the accused and he took fresh evidence and convicted the accused. In whatever may the Wagistrate was set in motion on the second occasion there we are free much of the accused. If the order of the Session Judge for further inquiry was essential to the action of the Magistrate in again taking up the case the order being set usuel, the other proceedings would at the best of some

Revision.

S 215, which declares that a commitment can be quashed by a High Court only and only on a point of law, is no bar to the exercise of its ordinary powers if recision by a High Court of an order of commitment under S 437. As it refers only to commitments made otherwise than by an order under S 437. A High Court is therefore competent it consider an order passed under S 437 on its mentis and has considered the propriety of such an order by a Sessions Judge on on ideration of it evidence which the Vigistrate hid disbelieted $ 50 also, where the Magistrate under S 200 discharged the accused because in his opinion there were not sufficient grounds for committing him for trait, inasmuch as he did not believe the evidence the Sessions Judge cannot order the commitment without considering the evidence which he had not as, in his opinion, the value of the evidence should be considered by the jury *

438 (1) The Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may,

Report to High if he thinks fit, on examining under S 435 or court otherwise the record of any proceeding, report for the orders of the High Court the result of such examination, and when such report contains a recommendation that the sentence be reversed or altered may order that the execution of such sentence be suspended, and, if the accused is in confinement, that he be released on hald or on his own bond

(2) An Additional Sessions Judge shall have and may exercise all the powers of a Sessions Judge under this Chapter in respect of any case which may be transferred to bim by or under any general or special order of the Sessions Judge

Additional Sessions Judge Sub sec (2)

An Additional Sessions Judge may be appointed by the Local Government to exercise jurisdiction in one or more Sessions Courts (S 9) S 438 (2) declares

Mir Ahwad Hotsein v Mahomed Askari I L R 29 Cal 726 (s c) 6 Cal W 633 Emp v Chinna Lalappa Goundan I L R 29 Mad 126 overruling v Devama I l R I Bem 64 d 543 koo Goala 8 W R Cr 61

Muthiah Chetty I L R 30 Mad

that such an officer shall have and may exercise all the powers of a Sessions Judge under this Chapter in respect of any case which may be transferred to him by or under any general or special order of the Sessions Judge. These would be cases under S 446 or 417

As regards the powers of Additional Sessions Judges to deal with appeals see S 400

Report for orders of the High Court

An examination under S 435 of the record of any proceeding is for the purpose of stufstying the Sessions Judge, District Magistrate or specially empowered Sub divisional Officer is to the correctness, legality or propriety of any finding sentence or order, recorded or passed, and as to the regularity of the proceedings. The teport to the High Court by the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may be the result of such examination, but S 436 enables a report to be made without it. This may be when the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate is satisfied from authenticated copies of the proceedings that an error has been committed which should be corrected without the delay necessarily resulting from sending for the record

In Urrea Bi wu, not including the Shin States, the District Magistrate may, in it is in which he his culled for, or where a Sub dissional Magistrate as forwarded to him, the record of a proceeding before a Magistrate of the second or thrid class, piess with order in the case as he thinks fit—

Provided, that he shall not pass a severer sentence for the offence which, in his opinion, the accused has committed than might have been passed by the Magistrate who trued the case, and that no order shall be made to the prejudice of the accused, unless he has laid an opportunity of showing cause against it—
Reg I of 1925 Sch., cl. viii. But notwithstanding anything in the Code, as finding, sentence, or order shall not be altered or reversed on appeal or revision on account of any irregularity of procedure, unless the irregularity has occasioned a failure of justice—Judy, Sch., el. xii.

A Magistrate has a discretion which he should exercise before reporting a case under S 438 to the High Court He is not bound to report every case in which he may detect an error, if a punishable offence has been committed, and a proper punishment has been inflicted, he should abstain from further proceedings unless from any irreguluisty, a failure of justice has been caused.

So, where the recommendation would be merely to alter the conviction of an offence to another cognate offence, no report should be made.

Before reporting a case under S 438 for the orders of the High Court, the Court of Session or District Magistrate should bear in mind the terms of S 537

In a case where an oppeal hes by the Local Government against an acquittal the High Cour will not set aside an acquittal on a report by a District Magistrate or Sessions Jud.e under 5 438 3

In cases where the High Court has concurrent revisional jurisdiction it will not ordinarily interfere in cases in which the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate might have been moved to report under S 438, and neither was so moved 4

1 17 1 - 01 4

264 I 44 Cal 703

R 451 18adh I Pat L J, Mandal I L R.

<sup>44</sup> Cai 703 *Imp Abdus Sobhan I L R 36 Cai 643 Shafaquatullah I L R 30 Ali, 116 Emp i Kalicharan 24 Ali W N 233 Q Emp v Chavan Dayaram I L R, 14 Bom 311 Q Emp v Reclain 14 Cai 887 Bipin Behari Mukherjee v K Emp, 1 Pat L J 302 Rash Behari Saha, I L R 48 Cai .534

Caar, XXXII SEC, 438

A District Magistrate is not competent to invoke the High Court, as a Court of Revision, because he disapprose of the orders prised by the Sessions Judge as a Court of Appeal, and because he cuisiders that the Sessions Court on appeal has wrongly reduced a sentence prised by a Magistrate subordinate to him, and because the Sessions Judge has refused to sanction a prosecution for guing false evidence. For where the Sessions Judge has under S 123 refused to confirm the order of the District Magistrate, and has discharged the person required to gue security and he present Magistrate to report to the High Court under S 48 real with S 415 refuses only to a proceeding before an inferior Court & It would be contrary to every principle to allow a District Magistrate to report against an order of the Sessions Court in a matter regarding which he is subordinate to that officers.

A Magistrate cunnot under S 435 send for a record of a proceeding before a Sessions Judge (See S 435 (t) Fixlination). The words "or otherwise" in S 438 were never intended to give a Magistrate the power to question the property of a judgment or sentence by a superior Court."

The proper course to be taken by the District Magistrate under such circumstances is to submit a brief narrative of the facts of the case, with his reasons for considering that in application for reasons is desirable, to the Commissioner along with all the original records and police diaries connected with the case. A certified copy of the judgment should also be forwarded. He should communicate with the Public Prosecutor, and unite his assistance to move the High Court in repart of to the

If the Magistrate wishes to examine for this purpose the record of a case decided by the Sessions Court before he submits such report, he should apply to the Commissioner to obtain it so him from the Sessions Court 8

Except when delay should be avoided the explanation of the Court whose proceedings rave been expanded should be called for and submitted to the High Court with the report mide under $ 438 (2)

The following orders have been passed in respect of the form in which reports under S 438 should be made --

'References under 5 438 shall always be accompanied by the records of Carcuts

Court

Sill July 1863

No 18 I herewith transmit the record of the High Court date them be stated—

The record of the High Court with the following report 'there will then be stated—

ist-A brief analysis of the case

2nd-The order of the lower Court

3rd-In what particular portion of that order the Court making the reference considers an error on a point of law to exist

R 26 Mad 275

Zor Singh I L. R.

All, 146

All Man, p 6

All Rules &c No 69 Mailandir Taripulla I L R 8 Cal 644

In re David 6 Cal I R 245 Greene v Delanney 24 W R Cr 27 Emp t.
I R 29 Cal 9r
R ~8 All 91

4th-The grounds upon which the order of the Lower Court should be reversed

Unless there be any particular reason why delay should be avoided the explan storn of the Lower Court should be called for and accompany the reference.

The Court do not think it necessars to enter into any details of the particular occasions on which such references should be made to them, or to define culti occisi ns en which such references should be mide to them, or to define what descriptions of grive irregularity of procedure undue severity of punishment. Ac may give rise to a reference to them

It is deemed sufficient to enj in the exercise of a sound discretion in making these references to the Court so the trienther important error and omissions may escape correction not the time of the Court be needlessly engrossed by matters not demanding their interference. 1

All references under S 438 of the Code of Criminal Madras High Court Procedure by a Magastrate with full powers should be submitted to the High Court through the Magastrate of the district unless justice would be defeated by the delay

The District Magistrate earnor refuse to refer to the High Court a case in which a Sub-divisional Magistrate doubts the legality of the sentence of a sub-ordinate Magistrate.

A reference under S 438 should contain the opinion of the officer referring the proceedings and the grounds upon which such opinion is based (also the explanation of the Magistrate which should be obtained through the District Magistrate)?

A copy of the proceedings if in English or il in Vernacular an English translation, must be sent up with all cases referred to the High Court under S 4362

All references under S 418 are to be accompanied by the referring officer's opinion by the record of the case and by a statement of the crse in English giving thay high Court and by a statement of the case in English giving —

I A brief abstract of the case

11 The sentence or orders of the lower Court and the name of and powers exercised by the Magistrate passing it

111 The particular portion of the sentence or order in which an error on a point of law is believed to exist

1\ The grounds upon which the order of the lower Court should be reversed or modified

V A statement (where appropriate) showing how much of the sentence the accused has undergone and if he has been sentenced to fine or whipping whether the fine has been realized or the whipping has been undicated. The fact of the reference and a copy of the terms should be communicated by the Court mailing it to the lower Court.

The report should contain a brief analysis of the proceeding shall indicate Allahabad High the portion of the finding sentence or order recommended Court for revision and shall state the grounds upon which in the opinion of the Court making the report the finding sentence or order should be reversed set aside or modified when such report is made by the District Magistrate he shall make his report and send his record through the Court of Session 11 the case be one in which an appeal lies to the Court of Session such report should not be made

<sup>1</sup> Cal H Ct Rules &c pp 49 50 8 Mad Rules &c No 171 (10)

Mad H Ct Feb 20 1864 Dec 14 1866 July 1 1869 Bom Caz 1873 P 71 Bk Cir P 47

until the period of limitation of art appeal has expired, and the Sessions Judge shall in forwarding the report and record state -

(i) whether an appeal has been presented, and if so, with what result

(ii) whether the period of limitation for an appeal has expired !

All references submitted to the Chief Court, Punjan, under this section are to be accompanied by the referring officer's opinion, by Puniab Chiel Court the records and a statement of the case in English, ening-

1st-A brief abstract of the case and-The sentence or order of the lower Court, and the name of, and powers exercised by, the Magistrate passing it

3rd-The particular portion of the sentence or order in which an error on a point of law is believed to exist

4th-The grounds upon which the order of the Lower Court should be reversed or modified

It should also be noted how much of the sentence the accused has undergone, and if he has been sentenced to fine or whipping, whether the fine has been realized, or the whipping has been inflicted *

Copy of a reference to the High Court under S 448 made by a Sessions Judge regarding the proceedings of a subordinate Vagistrate should, on his application, be given to the District Vigistrate 3

Sending for records for inspection.

The orders issued by the various High Courts on this subject vary

Records of decided cases should be retained in the record rooms of the Courts to which they pertain or of the superior Court of Bengal Assam ti - district, and shall not be allowed to pass out of the custody of the officers of such Courts, except when required by superior judicial authority It is niproper and auconvenient that records of the Courts of justice should be sent to other public efficers or functionaries. If a reference to their conterts is required, the proper procedure is ordinarily to obtain copies of such papers District Magistrates are however bound to comply with all requisitions for records made by Sessions Judges with regard to any ease appealable to them, or referable by them to the High Court, whether decided by the District Magistrate or by ony other Magistrate in the district District Magistrates also should render any explanation which the Sessions Judge requires from them, and obtain and submit any explanation which the Sessions Judge may require from subordinate Magistrates 3

It is irregular for a Sessions Judge to forward the original record of a Sessions trial to a District Magistrate for perusal He should not permit original records of his Court to leave his custody except in accordance with the express provisions of law. Any person not legally competent to demand production of the original, whether an official in the Government service or a private individual should, if he wishes to examine a record, be required to apply for and obtain certified copies in accordance with the rules made on that behalf 6

If the D strict Magistrate desires to obtain the record of a Sessions trial to determine whether an application for revision of an order United Provinces should be made, he should apply to the Commissioner to obtain it for him from the Sessions Court ?

<sup>1</sup> All Rules &c No 60

Panj Bk Cr. p 290
Mad Rules &c \ o 168
Cal H Ct Rules &c p 100
Cal H Ct Rules &c p 48

Mad Rules &c No 166

All Man p 6

636

Suspension of sentence. Release on bail or on personal bond.

On receipt of a report under S 438 the Calcutta High Court always considers the explanation of the officer whose order is called in question, and if no explanation has been obtained it asl's for one, but it is not open to any officer to supplement his judgment by this mems. See however S 441 post which enables a Presidency Migistrate in a case in which his order is before the High Court on revision, to submit with the record a statement setting forth the grounds of his decision or order and any facts which he may consider material to the issue, and the High Court shall consider such statement before overruling or setting iside the said decision or order !

It should be noted that such power is conferred on a Sessions Judge and District Magistrate only when such officer has in his report to the High Court, recommended that the sentence be reversed or altered. Such officer cannot exercise this power on in application for consideration of a case but only after consideration and report made

No judicial order should be communicated by telegram? When a Court orders that execution of a sentence be suspended at shall certally its order to the Court by which sentence was passed and, if the applicant is in fail, to the officer in charge of the jul for communication to him and for report that necessary action has been taken?

The natural effect of suspending a sentence of rigorous imprisonment is to relax the severity of the sentence and to cause the prisoner s mple detention in custody The same effect follows by suspending a sentence of simple imprison ment, the prisoner whose sentence is so suspended being placed in the position of a person under trial *

- 439. (1) In the case of any proceeding the record of which High Court's powers has been called for by itself or which has been reported for orders, or which otherwise comes to its knowledge, the High Court may in its discretion, exercise any of the powers conferred on a Court of Appeal by sections 423, 426, 427 and 428, or on a Court by section 338, and may enliance the sentence, and when the Judges composing the Court of Revision are equally divided in opinion, the case shall be disposed of in minner provided by section 429
- (2) No order under this section shall be made to the prejudice of the accused unless he has bad an opportunity of being heard either personally or by pleader in his defence.
- (3) Where the sentence dealt with under this section has been passed by a Magnetrate acting otherwise than under section 34, the Court shall not inflict a greater punishment for the offence which, in the opinion of such Court, the accused has committed,

¹ Abho, Chrun Daw I L R 25 Cal, 62 x (s.C.) 2 Cal W N 289 Baidaya Nath Majumdar I L R 25 Cal, 242 (s.C.) 6 Cal W N, 471 Madha Sudan Das 7 Cal W N, 899 Ramanath Kalapahar 2 Cal L J, 252 d (259) per Ukunknykz J ¹ All Ricks 2 N, VA

All Riles &c No 71
All Rules &c No 70
Mad Rules &c No 147

than might have been inflicted for such offence by a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class

(4) Nothing in this section applies to an entry made under section 273, or shall be deemed to authorise a High Court to convert a finding of acquittal into one of conviction

- (5) Where under this Code an appeal hes and no appeal is brought, no proceedings by way of revision shall be entertained at the instance of the party who could have appealed
- (6) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, any convicted person to whom an opportunity has been given under sub-section (2) of showing cause why his sentence should not be enhanced shall, in showing cause, be entitled also to show cause against his conviction

Powers of the High Court on revision

The High Court is debarred by S 435 (3) from considering under S 430 orders made under Ss 143 and 148 and proceedings under Chapter VII and S 176 but if such orders or proceedings are without jurnsdiction the High Court will set them aside in exercise of its powers under S 15 of the Charter Act For cases see end of this note

The sections enumerated in S. 430 give the High Court on revision all the powers which can be exercised by a Court of Appeal. There is however some distriction. As a Court of Revision, the High Court can enhance a sentence, as a Court of Appeal it cannot towner a finding of requiting into one of conviction. As a Court of Appeal in an appeal against an order of acquittal the High Court cannot convert a finding of requittal into one of conviction. As a Court of Appeal in an appeal against an order of acquittal the recursed guilty and pass sentence on him according to law. In such a case, the High Court as a Court of Resiston can only reverse the order of requittal and direct that further inquiry be made, or that the accused be retard or committed for trial. It cannot convert a finding of acquittal into one of conviction. S. 430 (4)

Two amendments have been made in this section by Act No XVIII of 1923 S 119 The reference to S 105 in sub-section (1) has been omitted on account of the provisions of Ss 105 and 476 S 105 no longer provides for the giving of enection for certain prosecutions by an Appellate Court or for the revocation of a sanction already given A complaint by the public servant in Court con cerned has replaced the requirement of sanction. Under S 195 (5) a superior authority can order the withdrawal of a complaint made by a public officer sub ordinate to him this power would not now be exerciseable in revision by the High Court Under S 476A a superior court may make a complaint where the inferior court has neither made a complaint sno mote nor rejected an application made to it for the making of a complaint this would be a power exerciseable by the High Court where such Court is the superior court within the meaning of S 105 (3) but the rewe would be exercised under S 4764 and not under S 139 Under S 476B where the inferior court has made a complaint, or has rejected an application for the making of a complaint the superior court can entertain an appeal, and can direct the withdrawal of the complaint, or itself make a complaint as the case may be. This again would where the original court is subordinate to the High Court within the menning of S 195 (3) be a power exerciseable by the High Court in appeal under S 476B not in revision under S 430 No power is given to the High Court to exercise in revision under S 430 (t) the powers of an Appellate Court under S 476B It would therefore seem that under the Code the High Court cannot in revision interfere with an order of the original court making or refusing to make a complaint, 10 any case its power to do so would be barred by S 439 (5), since an appeal lies under S 476B Agun the power of nn Appellate Court to make o complaint itself, where no ction had been t len in the original court, is derived from $ 476A, it is a power which can be exercised whether an appeal is lodged in the proceedings out of which the complaint arises or not and there would seem to be no revision of any order made by a Superior Court under S 476A, an appeal will lie under S 476B Nor can there be any interference by way of revision with the making of a complaint, or with an order for withdrawal of a complaint, by an Appellate Court under S 476B The making of a complaint by the Appellate Court is not an order, the withdrawal of a complaint would be by order, but it would not be an order against which an appeal lies under the Code, and would not therefore be covered by S 423 (1) (c) Nor could the High Court in revision rely on S 423 (1) (d) for the purpose of interfering with an order under S 470B The High Court might and would interfere in any of these cases where a court had acted without jurisdiction or illegally The second amendment made in S 439 is the addition of sub-section (6), as to which see below

- S 423 to the powers of an Appellate Court to reverse the finding and sentence, and requit or discharge the accused or to order him to be re tried by a Court of competent jurisdiction, or committed for trial to after the finding minimizing the sentence or with or without ottering the finding to reduce the septence or alter the noture of the sentence or to often or reverse on order, not a conviction or sentence.
- S 426 to the suspension of a sentence or order, and to the release of an appellant on bail or on personal recognizance,
- S 427, to an order for the arrest of on occused person on an appeal from an order of acquittel
  - S 428 to the taking of odditional evidence
  - S 338 to an offer of conditional pardon
- In addition to the powers of revision conferred by S 439 powers given by S 237, S 246, S 330 Prov (b) S 437 and S 320 should be noted for thes sections expressly confer powers of revision in regard to the particular matters therein referred to S 437 embles o High Court to order further inquiry into a complaint summarily demissed or into a case in which the accused has been discharged S 232 declares that if the High Court, on revision is of opinion that only person connected of an offence was misted in his defence by the absence of a charge or by an error in the charge it shall direct a new trial to be had upon a charge framed in whatever manner it thinks fit, or, if it is of opinion that no valid charge could be preferred against the accused in respect of the facts proved, it shall quach the convoction
- S 345 (5A) enables a High Court, acting in the exercise of its powers of revision under S 439 to allow any person to compound any offence which he is competent to compound under the former section
  - S 300 enables a Magistrate to resume an inquiry or trial commenced by his predesessor in office, and it declares that he may act on evidence recorded by his predesessor, or partly recorded by his predesessor and partly by himself, but it also provides that the High Court may set aside any conviction in such proceedings if it is of opinion that the accused has been materially prejudiced thereby, and may order a new inquiry or trial—Proviso (8) S 350 declares that any Court of Revision may direct that an order under S 317, S 318 or S 519 may be stoyed pending consideration by it, and may modify, annul or alter such order. These orders relate to the disposal of property before a Court, and also (S 519) to an order for payment of the purchase money to an innocent purchaser of stolen property by the owner on restoration of it to him S 443 (a)

enables a Court of Appeal to "make an amendment or any consequential or incidental order that may be just or proper," and as on revision the High Court has all the pawers under S 423 it would seem that it could, in exercise of these boxers and a specially empowered by S 520

There was some doubt as to whether a High Court in the exercise of its revisional powers could allow the composition of an offence. These doubts are now set at rest by the concernent of S 345 (5A). But where a person dies of murnes his widen is not competent to compound with his assulants.

A High Court in revision has also power to order an accused person who has been connected to furnish security for keeping the peace S 106(3)

The words the record of which has been called for by itself" are not limited to cases in which the High Court nets zuo motu' and the words "or which has been reported for orders' do not imply that a report under S 438 might be made by in inferior court with respect to the proceedings of superior court."

It will be observed that a High Court can act as a Court of Revision either on a report made under S 438 or wheneve any proceeding his come to its knowledge which appears to call for the exercise of such powers. It acts on such a report or on being moved by some one concerned in such proceeding or of its own accord. It has been stitled to be the practice of the Bombby High Court that when one plusible good point of law is shown to it it will send for the record and proceedings and in order to save time it will leave it to the petitioners to argue at the hearing such other points of law and proceeding as may be raised by the petition. But under S 440 no party has any right to be heard either person ally or hy pleader before any Court when exercising its powers of revision. It is a matter left to the discretion of such Court.

The right of a private party to move the High Court on revision has been con Seered in several reported cases which are set out in a later portion of this note (See also S. 440 and note). The terms of S. 430 which empower a High Court at its discretion to exercise its powers of revision whenever a matter calling for its interference 'comes to its knowledge seem to place no restriction except as provided by sub-section (5) even in respect of enhancing a sentence in a case tried by a Presidency Majistrate or a provincial Majistrate in exercise of his ord naw powers (Sub-sec 3) and under S. 430 the High Court can allow a party to appear before it personally or by pleader

But under sub-section (2) no order shall be made to the prejudice of the accused unless he has had an opportunity of being heard either personally or by

pleader in his own defence

Revision of an order of acquittal or conviction, consideration of a case on its merits

As a Court of Appeal the High Court can consider an order of acquittal only on the appeal of the Local Government—S 47? But as a Court of Revision it is competent to consider an order of acquittal passed either by a Magistrate or by the Sessions Judge as a Court of original or appellable jurisdiction 4 either on the report of a Sessions Judge or District Magistrate under S 438 or whenever it may otherwise come to its knowledge. It can so not even on the application of a private prosecutor 8

There are many reported cases on this subject and in considering these it should be borne in mind that until the Code of 1882, S 439 of which is in the

```
Emp (Rahmat I L R 37 All 419
Kamal Kutty I L R 36 Mad 275
```

respect the same as S 430 of this Code of 1898, power was not given to the High Court, on revision to emisder on its ments a ease in which a final order of conviction or required had been presed, unless an error on a matter of law was fained. The issult of these eases may be briefly stated to be that no hard and fast rule can be I hid down each ease must be dealt with on the particular facts disclosed on it? The High Court can excress its own discretion, whenever it considers it necessary to interfere as a Court of Revision in the ends of justice.

The principles on which the High Courts will not are now furly well settled by a long course of rulings. It has in the first place been made a rule of practice that the High Courts will ordinarily refuse to entertain an application in revision where the applicant might have gone in the first place to the District Magistrate and the Sessions Judge 1 and that Sessional budge 5 and that should be so whether the lower courts have power to grant the relief or not 3. But it is not an invariable rule, and where the High Court has issued a rule it will not discharge it solely on the ground that an application had not been first mide to a lower court 4.

It has also been generally laid down that in esses of acquittal in which the local Government can appeal (S 17) the High Courts will not ordinarily wheteve either on the application of practic parties? or on report from a District Magistrite or Session's ludge under $\frac{2}{428}\text{*-cecpt on the ground of the exceptional requirements of public justice? They will not do so where they could not interfere without practically hearing the ease on the evidence as an appeal in order to be stuffed that the opinion of the referring court is correct $\frac{1}{2}\text{ in all these cases the High Courts have plainly expressed an opinion that they had power to interfere

It has also been held that the High Court will not in revision interfere with an order of acquittal where the question is one of the appreciation of evidence, or where there is no patent error or defect in the order which has resulted in grave injustive.

If in connection with an order of discharge a question arises as to the appreciation of evidence, the order should be set aside by the lower court under S 436 but the c se should be referred to the High Court which alone is competent to set aside such a finding <sup>19</sup>

When a condition is set aside and a retiral ordered the whole case is expended and the accused must be tried again on all the charges originally framed the provisions of S 403 in that respect do not apply 104. This decision was given in an appeal case but the principle would seem to apply equally to a retrial ordered in revisions.

The High Court has no power under S 435 to set aside an order of the lower appellate Court merely on the ground that the appellant's counsel was unavoidably presented from being beard <sup>10</sup>h

100

<sup>1</sup> Keshab Chunder Roy v Akhit I L R 22 Cat, 998 Sharii Ahmad v Quab il Smeh I I R 43 Att 497 Rash Behari Saha I L R 48 Cal

<sup>423</sup> the pre

* Hrishikesh Mandal I L R 44 Cal 703 Re Sintu Goundan I L R 38 Mad

<sup>1029</sup> <sup>7</sup> In re Faredoon Cawasji Parbhu I I R 41 Hom 560 In re Mogal He<sup>ar</sup> I L R 42 Mad 4 109 Promatha Nath Harat I L R 47 Cal 813 Vellayanambalum I L R 39 Mad 505

d 505 Hrishikesh Mandal I L R 44 Cal 703 Vellayanambalam I L R 39 Mad 505

<sup>89</sup>

CHAP XXXII SEC 439

The High Court can revise an utder passed by a Magistrate under S 161(2) of Bomby Act IIf of 1901,1 or under S 2, para 1, of Act XIII of 1829 latter let is repealed with effect from a April 1926)

S 537 has a most important bearing on the exercise of powers of revision It declares that no finding, sentence or order passed by a Court of competent turisdiction shall be reversed or aftered on revision on account (a) of any error, omission or irregularity in the complaint, summons, warrant, charge, proclamation, order, judgment or other proceedings before or during trial, or in any inquiry or other proceedings under this Code, or (b) of the omission to revise any list of mirors or assessors in accordance with

S 324, or (c) of any misdirection in any charge to a jury unless such error, omission, irregularity, want or misdirection has in fact occasioned a failure of justice Explanation - In determining whether any error, omission, or irregularity in any proceeding under this Code has in fact occasioned a failure of justice, the Court shall have regard to the fact whether the objection could and should have been raised at an earlier stage of the proceedings

Where the Magistrate in a summary trial acquitted the accused without examining all the witnesses for the prosecution, his order was set aside by the High Court on revision 3 A Magistrate cannot refuse to allow an accused person, when put on his defence, to recalf the witnesses for the prosecution to be cross examined by him 4 Where the Magistrate in convicting the accused of rioting shot ed in his judgment that he had been influenced by the evidence in a counter case arising out of the same eccurrence, the High Court considered the evidence apart from this, and aequitted a

S 440 declares that party has a right to be heard either personally or by pleader before any Court when exercising its powers of revision, and as the Code does not allow an appeal from an requittal except at the instance of the Local Government, it follows that a private prosecutor has no right to move the High Court to consider on revision such an order, for that would be to allow him to appeal where the law gives the right of appeal only to the Local Government, which has not thought proper to exercise it 1 he power of a High Court to consider, on revision, an order of acquittal was limited under the Code of 1861 to a matter of law (Ss 402 405), and under the Code of 1872, to the occurrence of a material error in the judicial proceedings of a Court subordinate to it (S 297) But the Codes of 1882 and 1895 (S 439), placed no such restriction, and a High Court is now competent to consider any case on its merits. Still, although the High Court can, in its discretion, consider a case on its merits as well as on a matter of law, there must appear on the face of the judgment or order or of the record some ground purporting to show that the evidence ought to be examined to see that there has been no failure of justice. Where no such ground appears the practice has been to family interference on revision to matters of law? The power to go into questions of fact is, on revision, exercised only when it is found to be necessary in the interests of justice a

The High Court on revision will consider the merits of a case where the

In re Dinbhu Jijibhai I L R 43Bom, 864
 I'mp v Devappa Ramppa I L R 43 Bom 607
 Sreenath Yundle v Seeram Rajput 24 W R Cr 62 Gangoo Singh 2 Cal L R,

<sup>389</sup>

* Belilios v Q, to W R Cr 53

Keshab Chunder Roy v Akhil L R 22 Cal 998
 Emp v Chedi Rai 7 Cal L R, 142 Thandvan t Perianna I L R, 14 Mad 363 Heera Baiv Iramii I L R 15 Born 349 O Emp v Ala Bakhsh I L R 6 All , 484 Keshab Chunder Roy v Akhil I L R 22 Cal , 98

Nobin Krishija Mookerjee v Rassick I L R 10 Cal , 1047

judgment of the lower court is manifestly defective and the findings are insufficient to support a conviction 2

It is not limited to a consideration of whether there was evidence to justify the finding of the lower Court of it appears that a large amount of attention has been directed by that Court to an irrelevant matter so is to affect its judgment on the evidence on the real issue under trial," or when there is no evidence against the recused," or when the conviction is supported mainly by evidence which is irrelev nt, or where the lower Court has totally misconceived the evidence, and come to an obviously wrong conclusion. Where evidence has been admitted which was irrelevant, the High Court proceeded to determine how far it affected the merits of the judgment of the lower Courts, holding that it was necessary to consider the evidence in the case to judge how for the conclusions of fact arrived at were correct. So also, where a conviction depends upon the uncorroborated testimon) of accomplices the High Court will, on revision, examine the record to satisfy itself that that evidence is of such unimpeachable character as to justify a Court relying upon it? The High Court however will not interfere on revision on the ground that there has been an error in the appreciation of evidence It would not be justified in setting aside a consistion merely because the view taken of the evidence is unsustainable or because some fact which ought to have been found has either not been found or has been found anothers. The High Court is competent under S 43) to after any finding and confirm a conviction when it considers it to be in the interests of justice.

I hough the High Court in revision has, where it sets aside a consistion of a mipro offence, discretion to convict of a mipro offence it will not do so unless the circumstances require at 10. In the Labore High Court it has been held that it is not the practice of the Court to enhance the sentence when the original sentence has been undergone, but this will be done in exceptional circumstances as when the sentences imposed by the trial court were grossly inadequate by a The limitation imposed by sub-section (3) on the powers of enhancement disregards the limitation on the powers of sentence of the trying magistria as laid down in $ 3.248.

The Bombay High Court has declared that its practice is to consider the facts of nesse on revision only on exceptional grounds. The controlling power of the High Court is a districtionary power, and it must be exercised with regard to all the excunstrances of each particular case. The discretion ought not to be crystillated as it would become in the course of time, by one Judge attempting to prescribe definite rules with a view to bind other Judges in the exercise of that discretion. These discretions like all other judgeal discretions, ought to be left

Bom 197 Q Emp r Vaganlal

Jagat Singh I L. R i Lab.

&lt;sup>433</sup> <sup>12</sup> Q Emp v Shekh Sabeb Badrudin I L R S Bom 197 Q Emp v Chagan Days ram I L R 14 Bom 331 (34 ) Bhawoo Jinajir Yuhi I L R, 12 Bom 377

untraminelled and free, so as to be furly exercised according to the exigencies of each case 1

When the Local Government did not appeal against an order of acquittal nuthin the time prescribed by the Law of Limitation and applied to the High Court, on revision, for reversal of that order, the All island High Court refused to interfere vianing that, on the five of the Magistrate's order acquitting the accused, there was no error in law, and that after su long an interval from that order of acquittal and of the alleged crime it was not desirable on revision to enter upon the merits of the case. It was added that although it was not intended to lay it down is an inflexible rule that where the Government has the right of appeal and does not exercise that right, powers of revision crinion the exercised, still they should be sparingly used, and, was in very exciptional instances, not at all in reference to questions of fact. S 439 (5) since enacted would apparently now har such an application for revision as the Local Government had the right of arocal and no incred was brought.

Interlocutory order, pending case

The High Court will not interfere with a pending cise in a lower Court unless there is some manifest and pitent injustice on the face of the proceedings ealing for prompt rediess. [See S. 337 in regard to the restriction on the powers of a Court of revision unless a failure of justice has in fact been caused.] So, where the Magistrate erroneously overruled an objection that the prosecution was barred by limitation specially applicable to the case, his order was set aside on revision. If the Court has also interfered and stated an illeval prosecution.

"The Vadrax High Court also interfeed while a case pending lifer charges had been framed on the ground that a careful consideration of the evidence for the prosecution led to the conclusions that the ingredients to constitute the offences charged had not been made out and the case bore considerable evidence of fabrication." There can be little doubt that though the power has to be exercised with great care, the High Court his jurisdiction to interfere at any stage of the proceedings, if it considers that, in the interests of justice, it should so a No nard and fast sule can be laid down as regards the class of cases in which the High Courts will interfere. The Patina High Court indicated its opinion that 5 431 does not authorise a High Court tu direct a subordinate court to refrain from trying an accused person against whom such court has issued process?

The High Court is expressly empowered by this Code to pass certain orders in cases judicially helore a Court subordinate to it, viz ,-

 The High Court may in any case direct that a person be admitted to bail, or that the bail required by a police officer or Magistrate be reduced (§ 496) (2) A commitment made under S 213 or S 214 by a competent Magistrate, or by a Court of Session under S 477 or by a Civil or Revenue Court under S 478, can be quashed by a High Court, and only on a point of law (S 215)

[3] S 526 empowers a fligh Court for certain specified reasons to transfer an inquiry or trial its another Court ordinarily without jurisdiction under Chapter XV, but in other respects competent to hold such inquiry or trial, or to another Court subordinate to it of equal or superior jurisdiction, or to itself for trial or may order ail accused person to be committed for trial to itself or to a Court of Session

<sup>1</sup> Emp v Bankatram I L R 28 Bom 233 Ganesh Balwant Modak I L R 34 Bom 378

<sup>1,786</sup> See also Choa Lala R 38 Cal 68

(4) S 49t empowers the High Courts to pass certain orders of the nature of a Habeas Corpus in respect of persons within the limits of their respective ordinary cutof circular jurisdiction.

Orders not in trials of offences,

The High Court on revision has set aside an order requiring bonds to keep the peace where the amount of the security was beyond the means of the party bound over, on the ground thrit the Magistrate exercised no discretion at all, or exercised it in a manner altogether uncresonable. The High Court has also set raide an order disamissing an application for maintenance ($485) for non-payment of Court hees which were not legally payable. Also in order for the sale of concerned, is he was not hable for payment of maintenance. The High Court has also the powers of an Appellate Court to make or omend any consequential or incidental order that may be just or proper. [$5,423,(d)] See note thesecunder.

In addition to its powers under this Code, the Chaitered High Courts have large powers as Courts of Revision under the Statutes constituting them These nowers are not affected by S 430.4 The exercise of such powers has, however, as in rile, been limited to cases in which the lower Courts have acted without

jurisdiction

5111.

Sub section (4),

S 273, here excepted from revision under S 439, relates to an order passed in a trial before the High Court in which, at any time before the commencement of the trial, the Judge may stay the proceedings upon any charge or portion of the charge, if it appears to be clearly unsustainable, making on the charge an entry to that effect

By declaring that a High Court shall not on revision convert a finding of acquittal into one of conviction, if it sets aside an acquittal, the Legislature has deft unimpaired all the powers conferred on it by 5 43 read with S 439 (1) short of determining finally the facts of such a case. The High Court, on setting saide an acquittal on a point of law, can however consider the evidence on the record to determine whether it is sufficient to require a new trial, and in so doing will consider whether, in the case of an acquittal by a jury, if the trial had been held with the rid of assessors, it would have convicted, see note to S 423, 'Apreal from an order of acquittal'.

While sub section (4) declares that a High Court shall not convert a finding of acquittal into one of conviction S 423 (1) (b) (2) enables a Court of Appeal, on an appeal against a conviction, to alter the finding and maintain the sentence, and the powers of an Appellite Court are conferred on the High Court as a Court of Revision. The question has consequently arisen whether a High Court is competent to alter the finding in regard to one of the offences under trial on which there has been an acquittal to a conviction. If has been held that the restraining words in S 439 refer to cases in which there has been a complete acquittal as otherwise effect would not be given to sub-section (1) (b) (2) of S 423. So where the accused had been convicted of rotting and acquitted of murder, he was convicted of murder, the sentence of flour years impresonment being enhanced to one of transportation for hife, the lowest legal sentence for that offence."

<sup>1</sup> In re Jugget Chunder Chuckerbutty I L R 2 Cal 110 In re Umbika Proshad 1 Cal L R 268

<sup>183, (5</sup> c) 3 Cal W N, 49 Luldham

Elahoe Buksh B L R Sopp Vol 459 (sc) 5 W R Cr. 80

But it has been held by the Allshabrd High Court that in a case where there were clarges under both 5s and and paper Penal Code and an acquisition on the charge of murder and a consistion on the charge of culpable homicude the High Court could not convert the convertion into one for murder, except through the medium of an appeal by the Local Government!

Where the Local Government appealed against the acquitted of several persons and the High Court issued orders for their agreet with the result that only one was present the appeal was allowed against that one and was withdrawn as against the rest that the High Court talling the ease up in revision set as de the orders of acquittal in the case of the rest and left it to the authorities to take such steps towards their prosecution as they might consider suitable?

Where the Sessions Judge requitted certain persons of an offence under S 300 but convicted them under S 400 Penal Code the High Court had power even if there was a repugnance in the Judge's finding, to after the finding of acquittal under S 300 into one of conviction under that section maintaining the sentence 3

Sub section (5)

It will prevent in application for revision to the High Court by a party who had the right of appeal against the sentence or order which he desires to have revised, and has not mailed himself of that right. It is however, open to the High Court on revision to not on its own motion or on report made to it under $5.438 b) a Sessions Judge or District Magistrite. The High Court has refused to interfere as a Court of Revision so long as the right of appeal remains or until all other remed es have been exhausted. Where some only of the arcused appealed and the High Court on appeal set aside the conviction it was hell that the High Court was not deburred by sub-acction (5) from acting in respect of the conviction of others who had not appealed.

But the law would now be different The 'nppl cation' of sub-section (5) becomes more important by the inclusion of section 458 in the Code. This lays down that when more persons than one are convicted in the same trial and an appealable judgment in order has been passed in respect of any such persons all or any of the pe sons consisted at such rial shall have a right of appeal. So now if any of the accived persons convicted does not appeal sub-section (5) will bar him from 'applying in revision. The words however are "shall be entertained at the instance of the party". This would not seem to prevent the 'high Court reting som molin to prevent a miscrarage of justice.

The effect of the rule laid down in this sub-section has been considered in reference to an application by a complainant a private person to more the High C iii in rest on to consider an acquittal against which no appeal 1 di been middly the Local Government. It was pointed out that this would enable a private-prosecutor practically to obtain the hearing of his case as on appeal where is the Legislature had expressly reserved such a right to the Local Government by which alone an appeal can be made.

For further discussion on this point see above

The powers I the High Court is a Court of Resiston are also restrained by the Reformatory Schools At (VII of 1897) S. if which declares that nothing in this Code shall be construed to authorise any Court to alter on revision any order passed in respect to the age of a youthful defender or the substitution of

&lt;sup>1</sup> Γmp v Sheodarshan Singh I L R 44 All 332

Fmp v Rahmat I L R 37 All 419
Ramesh Chandra Banerje I L R 41 Cal 350

W N 330

<sup>346</sup> But see Kanwah Sardar I L R

an order for detention in a Reformatory School for transportation or imprisonment. This however would not affect the powers of the High Court to consider the legality or propriety of any sentence in substitution for which an order for detention in a Reformatory School has been passed and if such sentence be set iside, the order which depends on it would be void! The High Court has ibsolute discretion as a Court of Revision to set aside or modify a sentence or order, or even to consider a case, and if the order for detention be not in accordance with law, as, for instance, if it has been passed without any inquiry or evidence of the boy's age, it will be set aside so that proper proceed ings miy be held. There is also a limitation imposed by sub-section (3) on the powers of a High Court in passing sentence in a case tried by a Magistrate under his ordinary powers

Sub section (6).

This sub-section is new. There will now be no doubt as to the rights of an accused person who is called upon to show cause why his sentence should not be enhanced. He will be able to go into the facts and challenge the correctness of his conviction even though he may not have appealed

Review of High Court's order

Save as otherwise provided by this Code or by any other law for the time being in force or, in the case of a High Court established by Royal Charter by the Letters Patent of such High Court, no court when it has signed its judgment shall after or review the same, except to correct a clerical error 5 and

The High Court is not empowered to review or revise the judgment of one or more of its Judges in a criminal appeal or revision 3 So when a vacation ludge dismissed an appeal from a convict in joil this was a bar to the presenta tion of a second appeal

No appeal lies under cl 15 of the Letters Patent (Madras) against an order of a single Judge of the High Court in a revision petition under S 1234

On a difference of opinion in revision proceedings the opinion of the Senior Judge prevails under clause 36 of the Letters Patent (Calcutta) 5

No party has any right to be heard either personally optional with court or by pleader before any Court when exercising to hear parties its powers of revision

Provided that the Court may, if it thinks fit, when exercising such powers, hear any party either personally or by pleader, and that nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect section 439, sub-section (2)

See S 340 which declares that every person accused before any Criminal Court may of right be defended by a pleader

Any Court

S 440 applies to any Court, not only to a High Court, acting as a Court of Revision under S 439 but to a Sessions Judge or District Magistrate acting under S 436 S 437 or S 438

Reasut v Courtney I I R 28 Cal 423 See also Q Emp v Rama I L R 24 Mad 3 2 Emp : Makimuddin 1 I R. 27 Cal 133 Emp v Hari Das Mukherjee 3 Cal N N 0.65 N N 0.65 N Subbayys 1 L R 30 Mad 332 N Subbayys 1 L R 30 Mad 537 Warium Bewa t Werque Sardar 1 L R 47 Cal 438

Se 436 and 437 both require that an opportunity shall be given to the accused to show case who further inquiry should not be ordered, or why he should not be committed as the case may be In the case of S. 436 the provision is new, but it had already been held that where the accused had appeared in the previous proceedings, the court do not exercise a proper discretion in directing, further inquiry without notice to the accused.

S 439 (2) expressly declares that no order thereunder shall be made by the high Court in resiston to the prejudece of the accused unless he his hald an opportunity of heigh levid either person lift or by pleider in his own defence the High Court is not brund to act in revision under S 439, it is left to its discretion whether it should do so in the interests of justice. The terms of $490 rm perculiar It is discretional with a Court to hear a party or his pleider in any matter of revision but before the High Court can inder $439 make an order 1 the prejudece of the accused at must 3, ach bim opportunity of being heard $439, (2) so the High Court has refused to hear a private person applicing for the revision of an order of equattial of appearing to support an order giving him sanction under $190 of this Code to complain of an offere under $2 at 1 Penal Code? The Bombay High Court refused to hear Counsel against a report made under $6 438, but it also refused to interfere as a Court of Revision?

The distinction between the rights of a person concerned in an order made against him by a Criminal Court in an appeal by him and in a case before a Court exercising powers of revision, for the purpose of considering the order in respect of its regularity propriety or legality, (See 5 434) so as to determine whether it should be reported for the orders of the High Court should be noted in an appeal, the appellant is entitled to be heard in person or by pleader and the Appellate Court is bound to exercise its powers is set out in 423 in determine the appeal. In a matter brought up for purposes of revision no party has the right to be heard a discretion being given to the Court in hear him either personally or by pleader but before an order is passed to the prejudice of an accused he is entitled to be heard in his defence [S 439 (2) and Ss 436 437] and the High Court need not exercise its powers of it thinks it necessary to do so in the ends of revision uniess justice 5 The reason for this is probably to be found in the fact that the law (S 43n) declares that judgments and orders possed by an appellate Court shall be final except in the cases provided for in S 417 and Chapter X VII that is except where the appellnte Court has acquitted the appellant and an appeal has been preferred against that order by the Local Government or when the order of the appellate Court is before a Court of Revision which has a discretion whether it will interfere with it

Statement by Presi dency Magistrate of grounds of his decision to be considered by

High Court

When the record of any proceeding of any Presidency Magnistrate is called for by the High Court ate of under section 435, the Magnistrate may submit with the record a statement setting forth the grounds of his decision or order and any facts which be thinks material table sees and the

which he thinks miterial to the issue, and the Court shall consider such statement before over-ruling or setting aside the said decision or order.

Hari Dass Sanyal v Saritulla I L R 15 Cal 608 (624) per Fill Bench
 Thandavan v Perianna I L R 14 Mad 363 Sudduruddeen t Ramjov Mojoom dar 14 W R Cr 51

Jhalan Jaha v Buchar I L R 31 Cal 811

Reg v Devama I L R 1 Bom 64
Bhawoo Jivaji : Mulji R 12 Bom 377

This section would apparently apply only to cases in which the sentence or order was not appealable-(S 411) In all cases in which a Presiden) Magistrate inflicts imprisonment or a fine exceeding two hundred rupees or both he shall record a brief statement of the reasons for the conviction—S 370 (f)

So also in summary cases where no appeal lies S Magistrate or Bench to record a brief statement of the reasons for a conviction The omission to comply with these provisions in a case where there is no record of the evidence available to the High Court is a grave irregularity which in most cases would be sufficent ground for interference S 441 does not abrogate the terms of S 263 or of S 370 but where a Bench afterwards submitted under S 441 their reasons for convicting the High Court dd nat interfere 1

- When a case is revised under this Chapter by the High Court, it shall, in manner hereinbefore High Court's order to be certified to lower provided by section 425, certify its decision or Court or Magistrate order to the Court by which the finding, sen tence or order revised was recorded or pased and the Court or Magistrate to which the decision or order is so certified shall there upon make such orders as are conformable to the decision so certified, and, if necessary, the record shall be amended in accordance therewith
- S 425 provides that in the case of an appeal to the High Court if the finding sentence or order was recorded or passed by a Magistrate other than the District Magistrate the certificate shall be sent through the District Magistrate In cases of revision this certificate is to be communicated direct to the Cour by which the finding sentence or order was passed. The reason for this difference of practice is not apparent

The rules issued under S 425 carrying out the orders of the Appellate Court would apply equally here—(See note to S 425)

The Bombay High Court has passed the following special orders on this

When a case is revised by the High Court the Court or Magistrate to which the High Court cert fies its orders will proceed under S 425 or S 442 to issue a fresh warrant or order to the jailor. On the rejection of an application for revi sion from a prisoner in jail being communicated to the Court by which he was con victed such Court is at once to cause intimation of the decision to be given to the prisoner. In all cases in which a sentence or order is modified or reversed on revision a separate warrint should be issued as regards each prisoner whose sentence has been so modified on reversed. The Superntendent of the Jal. will acknowledge by letter the recept of any warrant or order or intimation and will inform the pr's ner of the re ult of his application reporting the fact in the latter

When the High Court on revision passes a sentence involving re-imprison ment of a person who has bready completed the term of imprisonment awarded by a subordinate Court of the accused appears the High Court will immed ately i non passing such sentence order his arrest, and a warrant will be issued in the usual form and immediate orders will be issued to the Sheriff for the con veyance of the convict to the pla  $\epsilon$  of imprisonment. If the accused person does not appear the rentence or order of the High Court will be sent to the Court by which the trial was held, and it will be the duty of the Court to carry into effect the sentence or order of the High Court in the same manner as if such sentence or order had been passed by itself

<sup>1</sup> Derv sh Hussain I L R 46 Mad 253

PART VIII.

SPECIAL PROCLEDINGS.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO CASES IN WHICH LUROPLAN AND INDIAN BRITISH SUBJECTS ARE CONCERNED.

Th, Chapter, consisting of seven sections only, was substituted for the normal Chapter NNIII, consisting of Se 441 to 403, by Se 27 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, MI of 1923, commonly known as the Raeial Discrimination Act. This Act, as set out in its preamble, was enacted in order to provide for the remoral of certain evisting discriminations between Luropean British subjects and Indians in criminal trials, and proceedings? It was monthly based on the report of a Committee appointed by the Concernment of India in December 1921, the report of the Committee was submitted to the Government of India in July 1922. The Bill was introduced in I ebruary 1923 and was passed a few weeks later, shortly before the main amending Act became law. Both Acts came into Trice later in the year.

It will be sufficient for the purposes of this commentary to enumerate the principal distinctions which existed prior to 1923 in the procedure in criminal proceedings applicable to European and Indian subjects of His Mujesty, and to indicate the extent to which and the manner in which they have been removed by the legislation of 1923.

- European British Subjects were not triable by a second or a third class Magistrate, and were only trable by a first class Magistrate, if he was a Justice of the Peace and himself also an Luropean British Subject, unless he was the District Migistrate or a Presidency Magistrue. This was laid down in 5 44. of the Code prior to amendment. This section has disappeared entirely, there is now no provision requiring a Magistrate to be a Justice of the peace before he can try an Luropean British subject 5 29A, which is new, however lays down no Magistrate of the second or third class shall inquire into or try any offence which is punishable atherwise than with line not exceeding fifty rupes where the accused is an European British subject who claims to be tried as such. (As to such a claim See Chapter XLIV A and notes thereto and to this Chapter) This is one of he few minor distinctions which the law still maintains As to the nationality of the presiding officer of the Court there is now no distinction, where however a decision is reached that the case is one which ought to be tried under the provisions of Chapter XXXIII, and the case is a summonscase, the trial takes place before a Beach of two Magistrates, one of whom is an European and the other an Indian This provision however creates no discrimination, for it applies whether the accused is an European or an Indian if the case is one to which Chapter XXXIII is held to apply
- 2 Ibc law as to the jurisdection of a Sessions Court over European British subjects was laid down in S 444 which provided that no judge presiding in a Court of Session, except the Sessions judge, shall exercise jurisdection over an Leuropean British subject, and, if he is an Assistant Sessions Judge, unless he has held the office of Assistant Sessions Judge for it least three years, and has been specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government Ibese restrictions are all abolished by Act All 10 jug3 As to the powers of a Sessions Court see below.

- It was laid down by S 446 that no Magistrate other than a District Magistrate or Presidency Magistrate should pass any sentence on an European british subject other than imprisonment for a term which might extend to three months, or line which might extend to one thousand rupees, or both, and a District Magistrate should not award imprisonment exceeding six months or fine exceeding two thousand rupees, while S 449 restricted the power of sentence of a Court of Session to imprisonment not exceeding one year, or hine, or both lor the present law, see S 34A The effect is that so far as sentences of death, penat servitude or imprisonment with or without fine or of fine only are concerned the powers of hist class Magistrates, District Magistrates and Courts of Session are identical in the case of European British subjects and Indian British subjects, with an exception however in the ease of Magistrates empowered under S 30 such Magistrates are restricted, in dealing with European British subjects, to the powers of sentence conferred by 5 32 on ordinary first class Magistrates (In regard to offences triable by Magistrates (S 30) there is no distinction) I mally, no Court other than a High Court can pass a sentence of whipping on an European British subject (I'm definition of "High Court ' in this connection, bee 5 4 (1) (1) )
- 4 Under the former law Luropean British subjects had the privilege, when bing tried before a High Court Court of Session or a District Magistrate, of cruming to be tried by a jury of which not less thin half the jurors were Luropeans or American's Csee Ss 450, 451 of the criginal Code). The first uncer of the mendments made in 1933 is to abolish triat by jury before a District is concerned, there is now no distinction between European and Ind an British subjects as regards the classes of offence which, before a Court of Session, are triable by a jury or with the aid of assessors. Finally, the I'w now gives to Indian British subjects equal privileges with European British subjects as regards the constitution of the jury in all jury cases. These privileges are reterred to later.
- 5 S 456 of the Code formerly enabled European British subjects to obtain temedies in the nature of Habeas Corpus which were more extensive than those provided for Indians 5 491 of the Code enabled the Presidency High Courts to issue directions of the nature of a writ of habeas corpus in certain matters regarding the detention of any person within the limits of their ordinary original civil jurisdiction, that is within the presidency towns 5 456 enabled an European British subject under detention anywhere to apply to the High Court having ordinary or appellate jurisd ction in the place of detention. In the first place, powers under 5 491 have now been conferred on all High Courts within the limits of their appellate criminal jurisdiction (Act All of 1923, S 30) In the second place, S 456 has disappeared its place has however been taken by a new section 491A, which enables a High Court established by letters patent to be empowered to exercise the powers conferred by S 491 as amended in the case of European British subjects who are outside the limits of their appellate criminal jurisdiction. This is a re-en-extment in a modified form of S 458, which has disappeared, it will only be effectual outside British India See notes to 5s 491 and 491A
- 6 There were distinctions between European and Indiant Eritish subjects in regard to their rights of appeal Under S 408 there was a provisio, now repealed, which enabled an Liu opean British subject, at his option, to appeal to the High Court where ordinarily the appeal would have loan to the Court of Sexion SS 413 and 414 (which by reason of S 416 did not apply in the case of European British subjects) restricted the right of Indians to appeal by barring appeals in cases where minor sentences had been passed S 416 has been repealed, so that there is now no distinction between Europeans and Indians, SS 413 and 414 have been amended so as to give more extensive rights of appeal in all cases. See notes to those sections.

- The European Vagrancy Act 1872 laid down that a person lost his privileges as a European British subject in criminal proceedings if declared be a vagrant under the Act but there was one exception to this S III of this Code laid down that the provisions of Sc 100 and 110 did not apply to European British subjects in cases where they might be dealt with under the European Vagrancy Act this Section of the Code has now been repealed
- Under the former law certain Courts which were High Courts under the Code in cases affecting Indians were not High Courts for the purposes of cases in which European British subjects were concerned. The amendment of S 4 (1) (1) which contains the definition of High Court " has partly removed this distinction. The Courts of the Judicial Commissioners of the Central Provinces Outh and S nd were by Act XII of 1923 declared to be High Courts in reference to proceedings against European British subjects or persons jointly charged with them The Court of Judicial Commissioner of Oudh has now become the Chief Court of Oudh (See Act \X\II of 1925)

These are the principal changes effected in the law by reason of the dicision of the Government and of the Legislature to remove racial discriminations from the Code. The distinctions which remain are few and may be enumerated as follows -

- (a) Furopean British subjects have the privilege of not being tried by Magisrates of the second or third class, sive for offences punishable only with fine not exceeding fifty rupees ($ 29A)
- (b) European British suspects have the privilege of being under a different High Court in the case of a few areas eg the North west Frontier Province in which the general Judicial Administration is not very highly developed (S 4 (t) (f)

(c) European British Subjects have the privilege of being able to obtain write in the nature of Habeas Corpus from High Courts of Judicature establish ed by letters patent when outside the limits of British India (S 491A)

(d) Puropean British subjects are exempt from the jurisdiction of Magistrates and Sessions Judges as regards sentences of wh pping and from the jurisdiction of Magistrates specially empowered under S 30 as regards the infliction of Sentences of imprisonment exceeding the years (S 34A)

Some of these distinctions are to be borne in mind in cases where the accused claims to be dealt with as an Furopean British Subject (See Chip XLIV A)

Though Chapter XXXIII deals only with a part cular class of cases in which Furopean and Indian British subjects are concerned and which may therefore tend to have a racial complexion it is convenient at this place to deal with the whole subject of special privileges. But it is to be remembered that except as summer sed in the preceding paragraph distinctions between European Br t sh subjects and Ind in British subjects have disappeared and that in cases where a special procedure is applicable it is available to Indians as well as to Furopeans

"The case ought to be tried under the provisions of this Chapter"

The number of criminal cases in which Europeans are concerned is a very small proportion of the total number of eases in British Irdia and t is not even in all these cases that the special procedure prescribed by chapter XXXIII is applienble. In the first place the accused must make a claim and the magistrate or if he rejects the claim the Sessions Judge to whom an appeal is preferred against the order of reject on must be sat sfied that the case is one which ought to be tried under the provisions of the chapter that is to say satisfied

' (a) that the complainant and the accused persons or any of them are respectively European and Indian British subjects or Indian and European British subjects or (b) that in view of the connection with the case of both European British subject and an Indian British subject, it is expedient for the ends of justice that the cases should be tried under the provisions of this Chapter."

Clause (2) is prefectly clear it is for the Court to decide a plain question of firet, bearing in mind the defention of European British subject in S. 4 (1) (0) and of "complainant" in S. 444. Where the case is one that solely concerns Furippean British subjects the Chapter will not apply, nor when the Indiana concerned in it are subjects of an Indiana State and not British Subjects. But in these cases the I uropen concerned can make a claim under Chapter MID and if it is admitted Se. 275, and 284A and other provisions of the Code may come into prostration.

Clause (b) is not so clear but it is obsously intended to provide for cases in which though the accused and the complanant are not of different nationalities yet both Furopean and Indian are so connected with the case that a special procedure is expedient for the ends of justice. This is the same enterion as that laid down in S 526 (i) (e) relating to a High Court's power to transfer cases.

Stage at which claim is to be made

The claim can only he made "in the course of a trial" that is the trial must have begun. The Chapter does not apply outside the presidency towns where the High Courts have ordinary original criminal jurisdiction. The accused person must make his claim.

(a) before he is committed for trial under S 213 or (b) before he is asked to show cause under S 242 or (c) before he enters on his defence under S 256

This must be read with S 447 which lays down that if at any stage of an induity or tril it appears to the Mad strate that the case is or might be held to be a case which outbut to be tred under the provisions of the Chapter he shall forthwith inform the accused person of his rights. Thus even if the accused had not made i claim before the various stages of the inauity or trial mentioned in S 44(1) yet the Magistrate is bound to invite his attention to the provisions of the law and the failure of a Magistrate to comply with this requirement in a case in which it was clear that he must have had some grounds for believing the Chapter to be applicable might be held to be a good ground in revision for ordering a new trial and as a matter of fact the revisional Court was of opini in that the case was one in which a claim if made should have been allowed and that the accuse! had been prejudiced. But as to this see

Who can make a claim

It is definitely laid down that only the accused person can make a claim and the accused must be under trial for an offence punishable with imprison ment. The complainant is given no rights under the Chapter.

"The Complainant"

It is obvious that it is only when the complainant has a personal interest in the case his nationality should affect the form of trial. So for the purposes of S 443 an elaborate definition of "complainant" has been given in S 444. In addition to the person who makes a complaint there is included in the definition in a case of when cognisione is taken under S 190(8) the person who has given information this is the case where cognisione is liken upon a report in writing from a Police officer. But from this general definition are excluded a Public Prosecutor [S 4 (1) (0)] a public servant (Penal Code S X) a member officer or servant of a local subnity, a railway servant as defined in Act IX of Son S X and also an officer or servant of any company association or other body specially notified by the Local Government in this behalf, and also police-officers it iking reports

The exemption of course is not absolute, the proviso lays down that these persons shall not be deemed to be complainants for the purposes of S 443 merely by reason of the fact that they have made a complaint, or a report or have given information

"Record a finding."

Whether the Magistrate admits the elaim or rejects it he must record a find ing in case of rejection the Vigistrate must stry his proceedings until the expiration of the period allowed for the presentation of an appeal, or, if an appeal has been presented, until it is decided

Appeal against rejection of claim

An appeal is specifically provided for against the order. This is not the same as in Chapter VLIV A, where the rejection of a claim can be made one of the grounds of appeal against the sentence or order passed in the trial [8 328 (3)]. By an amendment in the Lirist Schedule of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, made by Act VII of 1923, S. 42, a period of limitation of seven days from the date of the finding has been prescribed. The appeal lies to the Sessions Judge whose order is find.

Procedure after admission of claim

Summons Cate If the tise is a summons-case (See S. 4. (1) (2)) this Ung tract trying it shall direct that the case be referred to a stendt of two Ingistrates and shall send a copy of his order to the District Magistrate. The latter shall forthwith constitute is Bench of two Magistrates, one Luropean and one Innuan (S. 443 (1)). If the Magistrates constituting the Bench differ in opinion the cive is laid before the Sessions Judge, who disposes of it, he may receive witnesses or early for further evidence [S. 445(2)]. For the purposes of appeal the decision of the Bunch will be treated as a decision of a first class Magistrate II a locate country to constitued the District Magistrate should move the High Court to transfer the case to another district [Sub section (4)]. The Local Covernment may direct that the procedure for the trial of warrant-cases shall be adopted. [Sub section (5)]. Barrant cases If the case is a warrant case the Magistrate holding the natural cases. In the case is a wirrant case the magnificant noting the inquiry of trail may discharge the accused under S 200 or S 233, if he does not do so then, whether the case is or is not exclusively triable by the Court of Session, he must commit the case for trail to that Court There the trial will proceed in the ordinary way, except in regard to the choosing of jurors or assessors as the case may be If the case is to be tried by jury the Sessions Court shall proceed as if the accused had required to be iried in accordance with the provisions of $2.75, if the case is one which would in the ordinary course be with the add of assessors the accused, or all of them jointly, may require to be tried in accordance with the provisions of $2.84A But apparently if no such claim is made the trial will be by jury under the provisions of $5.250.

Choosing of jurors and assessors

The first point to be borne in mind is that a case which would ordinarily be triable with the aid of assessors does not automatically become triable by jury merely by reason of the fact that persons of a particular nationality we concerted in it in the manner mentioned in S 443. Under the ordinary ... so that the proof of Session shall be either by jury — S of, and all triab before a Court of Session shall be either by jury or with the aid of assistant, for $1 and trial in any particular District being deceded by the Local (spirit) and $1 and accused must be committed to the Court of Session. Have special as if the accused had made a successful elaim under S. 275, el. 4.65 at will be by a jury constituted in the special manner law. As special manner law. As special manner law. As special manner law. As special manner law.

ordinarily triable by jury or not. But the proviso to 5 446(2) lays down that if the trial would in the ordinary course be with the aid of assessors the accused may claim so to be tried, the assessors being chosen in the manner prescribed in 5 282A

275 contains the provision as to the special constitution of the jury The accused can claim, before the first juror is called and accepted, that a majority of the jurors shall, if he is an European British subject, be Europeans or Americans, or, if he is an Indian British subject, be Indians Similarly under S 284A, if the trial is with the aid of assessors, the accused can claim that all the assessors shall be of a particular race. But a condition precedent to the making of the claim in every case is that the accused person (or persons) who make it shall have been found under the provisions of the Code to be an European British subject, an Indian British subject, an European (other than an European Butish subject) or an American as the case may be 5s 275 (1) and 284A (1) ) This may arise in two ways. In the first place the case may be one to which the provisions of Chapter XXXIII have been held to apply When this has happened the Court of Session shall proceed as if the accused had required to be tried in accordance with the provisions of S 275; provided that where the trial would in the ordinary course be with the aid of the assessors and the accused, or all of them jointly, requiring to be tried in accordance with the provisions of S 284A, the trial shall be held with the eid of assessors all of whom shall, in the case of Luropean British subjects, be Europeans of American or, in the case of Indian British subjects, be Indians (5 446 (a)) This provision does not apply where the accused is an European (other than an European British Subject) or an American, it is for cases only to which the provisions of Chap AXXIII apply, that is, cases in which racial considerations arise between Luropean British subjects and Indian British subjects Cases to which the provisions of Chap AXXIII do not apply are dealt with in Cliap ALIVA Under S 528A any person in such a case can apply to be dealt with as an uropean or Indian British subject, or as an European (other than an European British subject) or an American The claim must therefore be determined by the Court, if it is rejected by the Magistrate it can be renewed in the Sessions Court to which the person making it is com mitted for trial Any rejection of a claim can be made a ground of appeal from the sentence or order passed in the trial So when a Magistrate had held that a person is entitled to be dealt with as a member of any of the particular races mentioned above or when such a claim has been rejected by the Magistrate but has been renewed before the Court of Session and there admitted, the jurors or assessors, as the case may be, will be chosen in the manner prescribed by S 275 or S 281A

In any case in which an European or American is accused jointly with a person not being an European or American, or an Indian British subject is accused jointly with a person not being an Indian, and the case is committed for trial, such European American, or Indian British subject and such other person may be tired together, but, if a 'trial' in accordance with the provisions of $2.75 or $2.844 is claimed and granted, then the other person may demand to be tred separately ($2.85A)

"When the jury has been constituted, or assessors have been chosen the trial will thereafter proceed in the same manner as any ordinary trial under Chao AMH.

For the purposes of this Chapter, though it does not apply to the presidency towns, Rangoon is placed on the same footing as a presidency-town, and all references to the Sessions Judge are to be construed as references to the High Court (S '448)

Appeals

The ordinary law of appeal is that where a case has been tried by jury an appeal lies only on a matter of law (Ss 418 and 423 (2)) But S 449 (1) lays down that where a case has been tried by a jury under this Chapter an appeal lies on the facts also Appeals to the High Court must always lie to two Judges

ORAF. AXXIII

General

- 443. (1) Where, in the course of the trial outside a Presipresent reduction of any offence punishable with paraning apparations imprisonment, the accused person, at any time of this chapter helore he is committed for trial under section 213 or is asked to show cause under section 242 or enters on his defence under section 255, as the case may be, claims that the case ought to be tried under the provisions of this Chapter, the Magistrate inquiring into or trying the case, after making such inquiry as he thinks necessary, and after allowing the accused person reasonable time within which to adduce evidence in support of his claim, shall, if he is satisfied—
  - (a) that the complainant and the accused persons or any of them are respectively European and Indian British subjects or Indian and European British subjects, or
    - (b) that, in view of the connection with the case of both an European British subject and an Indian British subject, it is expedient for the ends of justice that the case should be tried under the provisions of this Chapter, record a finding that the case is a case which ought to be tried under the provisions of this Chapter, or, if he is not so satisfied, record a finding that it is not such a case.

- (2) Where the Magistrate rejects the claim, the person by whom it was made may appeal to the Sessions Judge, and the decision of the Sessions Judge thereon shall be final and shall not be questioned in any Court in appeal or revision.
- (3) Where the Magnetrate rejects the claim, he shall stay the proceedings until the expiration of the period allowed for the presentation of the appeal or, if an appeal is presented, until it has been decided.

"European British subject' means-

(1) any subject of His Majesty of European .

male line born, naturalised or domiciled in the British Islands or any Colony, or

(11) any subject of His Majesty who is the child or grand child of any such person by legitimate descent—S. 4 (1) (1).

This definition was inserted in an amended form by Act XII of 1923 S 2. The important difference between the new definition and the old definition is that persons now included are restricted to persons of European descent in the male line. An analogy for this is to be found in the rules which gone elections to legislative bothes in British India. The few provisions which still maintain in the Code discrimination between European and Indian British subjects in the major of criminal procedure are summarised in the note at the beginning of this Chapter, which also deals with S 443 as a whole The section deals with trivits only. No special treatment can be claimed either by Europa or Indian in insection the consequence of the Code such as under Chaps VIII, X II, X II or XXVI The Code such as under Chaps VIII, X II, X III or XXVI The Code Chap XVIII preparatory to commitment of trial is treated as part of the trial is next it is prior to the arder of commitment under S 23 that the accused in the course of the tral must prefer his claim to be tried under the chapter As to the offences punishable with impresonment; see Sch II column 7

S 242 relates to the trial of summons cases the accused is asked to show cause as soon as he is brought before the Magistrate and the part culars of the offence with which he is charged have been stated to him

S 256 relates to the trial of warrant cases. After the prosecution evidence has been heard and a charge framed, the accused has pleaded, the winesses have been recalled and re-evinamed (if the accused so wishes) the stage is reached at which the accused is called upon to enter upon his defence. It is before this stage that r claim to be tried under the chapter must be made

The period of limitation for an appeal under sub-section (2) is seven days

(Limitation Act IX of 1908, First Sch.)

444 For the purposes of section 443, complainant infinition of comments any person making a complaint or, in taken under clause (b) of section 190, sub section (1), any person who has given information relating to the commission of the offence within the meaning of section 154

Provided that a Public Prosecutor, a public servant, a member, officer or servant of any local authority, a railway servant as defined in section 3 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, or an officer or servant of any company, association or other body to which the Local Government may, by general or special order published in the local official Grzette, declare the provisions of this section to apply, shall not, by reason only of the fact that he has made a complaint of, or given information of, an officine in his capacity as such Public Prosecutor, public servant, railway servant, member, officer by servant, be deemed to be a complain and within the meaning of this section, nor shall a police-officer

CHAP XXXIII SEC 445

be so deemed by reason only of the fact that a report under section 173 relating to a case has been made by or through him

Person making a complaint'

Complaint means the allegation made orally or in writing to a Magistrate with a size in his taking action under this Code that some person whether known or unlinown has committed an offence but it does not include the report of a police-officer—5 4 (1) (b)).

Under S 190 (b) certain Mighterites may take cognitance of any offence upon a report in writing of facts which constitute such offence made by any police-officer. Any person who has given to the police information relating to the commission of the offence is for the purposes of S 444 a complainant."

The exceptions are numerous and unportant. They are for the most part covered by the term 'public servant'' the echanistic definition of which provided in the Indian Penal Code is here applicable [see S. 4 (2)]. Mag strates and Judges are public servants and they will not be deemed to be complianted within the meaning of S. 444 merely by reason of the fact that they have under S. 476 S. 476 A or S. 476B made a compliant in respect of any offence referred to in S. 195. Nor will a police-office be a compliant in respect of any office referred sent to a Magistrate under S. 137 may be required if the Iocal Government to a freets to be submitted through a specified superior officer and a smilar requirement may be made in respect of reports under S. 137 and a smilar requirement may be made in respect of reports under S. 133.

If a public servant makes a complaint or gives information otherwise than in his capacity as a public servant he is a "complainant" under S 444

There is a somewhat similar provision in S 556. This lays down that no Judge or Magistrate shall except with the permission of the Court to which an app al les from his Court try or commit for trial any case to or in which he is a party or personally interested. An explanation to S 556 attempts to illustrate a bit is mount by personally interested, and there is a considerable volume of case law on the subject which is referred to in the note to $ 556 Some of the cases may assist a Court to decide whether it should treat a public servant or oth r person mentioned in S 444 as a "complainant within the meaning of he section. But the criterion is not exactly the same. Until cases actually come before the High Courts on this point it may be also useful to refer to some of the cases eited under S 526 in which the Courts have laid down criteria for the r own gu dance in deciding whether cases should be transferred or not Where a case is on the border line and the Court finds it diffcult t decide whether a public servant who has made a complaint given information or made a report should be treated as a complainant or not for the purposes of Ss 413 and 444 the safer course would ordinarily be to concede the special form of trial that roughly spe king is the principle followed in interpreting the provisions of S 556

445 (1) Where a Magistrate or a Sessions Judge decides under section 443 that a case ought to be tried under the provisions of this Chapter and the case is a summons case the Magistrate training the same shall direct that the case be referred to a Bench of two Magistrate and shall send a copy of such order to the District Magistrate who shall forthwith provide for the constitution of a Bench of two Magistrates of the first class of whom one shall be an European and the other an Indian, for the trial of the case

886

- (2) Where the Magistrates constituting the Bench by which a case is tried under this section differ in opinion, the case, together with their opinions thereoo, shall be laid before the Sessions Judge, who may examine any party or recall and examine any witness who has already given evidence in the case, and may call for and take any further evidence, and shall thereafter pass such judgment, sentence or order in the case as he thinks fit and as is according to law.
- (3) Any person convicted by a Bench under this section shall have the same right of appeal as if he had heen convicted by a Magistrate of the first class, and any person convicted by a Sessions Judge under sub-section (2) shall have the same right of appeal to the High Court as if he had been convicted by the Sessions Judge at a trial held by the Sessions Judge under this
- (4) In any case in which it is impracticable to constitute a Bench in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) in any district, the District Magistrate shall transfer the case for trial by a like Bench to such other district as the High Court may, by general or special order, direct.
- (5) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, the Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, direct that all summoos-cases tried under the provisions of this Chapter in any district specified in the notification shall be tried as if they were warrant-cases in accordance with the provisions hereinafter in this Chapter laid down for the trial of warantcases.

For definition of summons-case, see S. 4 (1) (2)
The ordinary procedure for summons-cases is prescribed in Chap XX
When the accused appears or is brought before the Magistrate, the particularof the offence of which he is accused shall be stated to him, and he shall be stated to how cause why he should not be convicted—S 242. It is before he is asked to show cause that the accused must make his claim to be tried under the provisions of Chap XXXIII. But if at any stage it appears to the Magistrate lit might so appear from the mere reading of the complaint that the case is or might be held to be a case which ought to be tried under the provisions of the Chapter, he shall forthwith inform the accused person of his rights under the Chapter .- S. 447.

When a claim for trial under the Chapter has been admitted by the Magistrate cr, if he has rejected it, by the Sessions Judge on appeal, the Magistrate shall direct the case to be referred to a Bench of two Magistrates. Magistrates should be careful to pass the proper order in the form of a direction. It would not be sufficient for a Magistrate mercly to send the case to the District Magistrate with a request that he will constitute a Bench. On receipt of a copy of the Magistrate's a request riant or win constitute a nestal. On receipt of a copy of the Angieraria falses, action forthwith. It direction or order the District Magieraria falses, action forthwith. It that the property of the subordinate Magieraria for the modification of the subordinate Magieraria. Angistrates, one European of the Case. Should he find may margarelleable to do so he should, unless the High Court has already CHAP XXXIII. SEC. 446 given directions, report to the High Court, which will direct to what district the case should be transferred. The word "imprectable" is clearly intended to convey something more than "impossible". If the necessary Magistrates were wailable a report to the High Court would probably not be justfield on the ground that they were busy, but if they were so busy with other important work, which could not be adjourned that the trail of the case would be unduly postponed there would be a good reason for asking for the directions of the High Court.

If in the trial by the Pench the two Magistrates differ in opinion (as to the guilt of the accused, or as to the centence to be passed) the case shall be laid before the Session Judge, who exercises powers in regard to it exactly similar to those exercisable by a Magistrate to whom a case is submitted under S 349

In the trial of the case the Bench will presumably have all the powers exerciseable by a Magistrate of the first class, though the section does not say so The Bench is not one constituted urder S 15, nor would rules made under S 16 seem to be applicable to it A question may at some time arise whether the Bench can take action, for instance, under S 250, and there may be other difficulties. It seems describle that the legislature should make the position clear. One inatter only is provided for, sub-section (3) lays down that for the purposes of apperal the judgment of the Bench shall be deemed to be the judgment of the Bench shall be deemed to be the judgment of that does make any the order of the Session Judge is appealable as if it had been made in a trial held by him under the ordinary grossions of the Code, what is meant is obviously a trial held with the aid of assessors.

The High Court may pass a general order in legard to the transfer of cases under the section, and if it has done so the District Magistrate can act thereon without referring the case to the High Court

Under sul-section (5) the Local Government may by notification in the local official Graette direct that all erses tried under S 445 in any special district shall be tried as if they were warrant-cases under Chap XXI If no such notification has been issued the Bench will follow the procedure laid down in Chap XX

- 446 (1) Where a Magistrate or a Sessions Judge decides Procedure in war- under section 443 that a case ought to be tried under the provisions of this Chapter and the case is a warrant-case, the Magistrate inquiring into or trying the case shall, if he does not discharge the accused under section 200 or section 253, as the case may be, commit the case for trial to the Court of Session, whether the case is or is not exclusively triable by that Court
- (2) Where an accused is commuted to the Court of Session under sub-section (1), the Court shall proceed to try the case as if the accused had required to be tried in accordance with the provisions of section 275, and the provisions of that section and the other provisions of Chapter XXIII, so far as they are applicable, shall apply accordingly.

Provided that where the trial before the Court of Session would in the ordinary course be with the aid of assessors and the accused, or all of them ionity, require to be tried in accordance with the provisions of section 284A, the trial shall be held with the aid of assessors all of whom shall, in the case of European British subjects, be persons who are Europeans or Americans, or in the case of Indians British subjects, be Indians

'Warrant-case '_means a case relating to an offence punishable with death transportation or imprisonment for a term exceeding six months — 5 4 (1) (2)

He ordinary procedure for the trad of warrant-cases by Magistrates is laddown in Chap XXI Where the case is one thable by the Court of Session or High Court the inquiry in the Magistrate's Court is according to Chap XVII, and the trial after commitment is according to Chap XXIII

When a occision has been reached that the case is one which ought to be tried utifier the procisions of Chap XAAIII the Magistrate cannot proceed to try it himself. Unless he exercises his power to discharge the accused under Sooj or S. 233 he must commit the case for trial to the Court of Session, whether the case is or it is not exclusively triable by that Court. The intention of subsection (3) seems to be that the trial in the Sessions Court will ordinarily be by jury and the Court will proceed to choose jurors in accordance with S. 275 as if the occused having been found under the provisions of the Code to be an buropean or Indian British subject had required to be tried in accordance with the provisions of that section, that is to svy a majority of the jury will consist, in the case of an Indian British subject of Europeans or Americana, and in the case of an Indian British subject, of Indians According to the Loade this will be ordinarily the result of a committed whether the case is one which would the thing that the tried is a second of a sessions. But if the rase is one which would in the ordinary course be with the aid of assessors, then the accused, or all of them jointly, instead of submitting to a trial by jury may require that the trial shall be held with the aid of assessors who shall be chosen in the manner laid down by S. 2848.

The words all of them jointly are apparently intended to mean the same thing as the wider phraseology of S 284A, that is to say they are equivalent to where there are several European British subjects accussed, of several Indian British subjects accussed, of of them jointly? Where the accussed are cut all of one nationality the provisions of S 28A come into operation, but if some of the accussed claim a special trial under S 275 or S 26A the thorteen may claim to be tried eperately

Court to inform accused persons of their rights in certain casts.

Le shall forthwith inform the accused person of this Chapter, this Chapter.

Cf S 454(2) of the Code as it stood prior to amendment in 1923

If the stage has been passed at which the accused can claim a special trial belore the Magistriae sees cause to hold that it might be held under the Chapter it would probably be only by the intervention of the High Court that the special procedure could be reserved to. The High Court could set aside so much of the proceedings as were not in accordance with the provisions of the Chapter and direct the proceedings to be renewed from that point. But 5 534 provides that an omission to comply with 5 447 does not of itself invalidate the trial

CHAP XXXIII SECS. 445 449

References to Sessions Judge to be construed as references to High Courl in Rangoon

448 For the purpose of the trial in Rangoon of any person under the provisions of this Chapter, references to the Sessions Judge shall be construed as references to the High Court of Judicature at Rangoon

The main intention of this section seems to be to provide that in Rangoon comm treents under the Chanter shall be to the High Court instead of to the Court of Session If this is so it would have been better had the Section contained a reference to the Court of Session as well as to the Session's lucce

449 (1) Where-Special provisions relating to appeal

- (a) a case is tried by jury in a High Court or Court of Session under the provisions of this Chapter or
  - (b) a case which would otherwise have been tried under the provisions of this Chapter is under this Code committed to or transferred to the High Court and is tried by jury in the High Court or
  - (c) a case is tried by jury in the High Court in a presidencytown and the High Court grants leave to appeal on the ground that the ease would if it had been tried outside a presidency town have been triable under the provisions of this Chapter

then notwithstanding anything contained in section 418 or section 423, sub section (2) or in the letters patent of any High Court, an appeal may be to the High Court on a matter of fact as well as on a matter of law

- (2) Not rithstanding anything contained in the letters patent of any High Court the I ocal Government may direct the Public Prosecutor to present an appeal to the High Court from an original order of requittyl passed by the High Court in any such tiral as is referred to in sub section (1)
- (3) An appeal under sub section (1) or sub section (2) shall where the High Court consists of more than one Judge be heard by two Judges of the High Court
- S 418(1) Lavs down that at appeal may be on a matter of fact as well as natter of las execut where the trial was by jury in which case the appeal shall be on a matter of law only
- S 423(2) bars the Appellate Court from altering or reversing the verdict of a jury except in c ses of m sdirection by the Judge or misunderstanding by the jury of the law as laid down by the Judge

In captal cases the High Court necessarily has to examine the facts insmuch as sentences of death require its confirmation. So S 418(2) non lays down that where in a tiral by jury any person is sentenced to death any oth person convicted in the same trial may appeal on a matter of fact S 44%(1) provides still further exceptions to the general rule. Sub-section (2) provides for an appeal against in original order of acquittal passed by the High Court inus making an addition to S 417 which enables a Local Government to direct an appeal against an order of acquittal (original or appellate) passed by any Court other than a High Court.

As to committal or trinsfer to the High Court, see S ga6A. Where any some subject to the Naval Discipline Act or to the Army Act or to the Air Force Act is accused if any offence such as is referred to in proviso (a) to S 4 i of the Army Act, the Advocate General shall if so instructed by the competent authority, apply to the High Court for the committal or trinsfer of the case to that High Court, and thereupon the High Court shall order that the case be committed for trial to or be transferred to itself and shall thereafter proceed to try the case by jury

450 463 [Repealed ]

CHAPTER XXXIV

LUNATICS

Since the Code of 1898 was enacted the general law relating to Lunatics has been consolidated and amended by the Indian Lunary Act IV of 1912 which in ide itally repealed S 472 and parts of S 471 of the Code

Lunatic as defined in that Act S 3(5) means an idiot or person of unsound mind. The use of the term is eschewed in this Chapter 464 (1) When a Magistrate holding an inquiry or a trial Procedure in case has reason to believe that the accused is of insound mind and consequently incapable of insound mind and consequently incapable of the Magistrate shall be supported as held accused.

ninto the fact of such unsoundness, and shall cause such person to the fact of such unsoundness, and shall cause such person to the examined by the Civil Surgeon of the district or such other medical officer as the Local Government directs, and thereupon shall examine such Surgeon or other officer as a witness, and shall reduce the examination to writing

- (1A) Pending such examination and inquiry, the Magistrate may deal with the accused in accordance with the provisions of section 466 ".
- (2) If such Magistrate is of opinion that the accused is of unsound mind and consequently incapable of making his defence, he shall record α finding to that effect and shall postpone further proceedings in the case

Where there is any reason for supposing that an accused person is of unsound mind and consequently incapable of making his defence it is imperatively necessary that the quest on should be inquired into or tried under the provisions.

of S 464 or S 465 before the Court proceeds to inquire into or try the substantive this ge !

And thereupon shall examine, etc.

The niere certificate of a medical officer is not sufficient and cannot be accepted. He must be regularly examined. So where a Magistrate in an inquiry appeared from the record to hive hid reason for believing that the accused was ord unsound mind, and sent him for medical examination, but committed him for trial without examining the medical officer, and the Sessions Judge convicted without taking evidence, so to the recursed sixthe of mind, are trial was ordered.

If the Civil Surgeon or other medical witness is at such a distance that it is more convenion to livic his examination conducted before another Vagistrate, anotheriton should be made to have him examined by commission under S. 503.3

The only issue that the Magistrate should try is whether the accused from unsoundness of mind is incapable of making his defence. He cannot, until the has found that the accused is capable of making his defence, proceed with an inquiry or trial regarding the offence alleged to have been committed. The Magistrate, therefore, cannot, while finding that the accused is incapable of making his defence, at the same time acquit him under S §4, Penal Code, on the ground that when he committed the offence he was by reason of unsoundness of mind incapable of knowing the nature of his act, or that he was doing what was either wrong or contrary to Irw, for he has had no opportunity of showing hat he did the net which ordinarily constituted the offence 4

Sub-section (1A) is new, and lays down the procedure to be followed while the preliminary examination and inquiry as to the accused's state of mind is being conducted. The Magistrate may deal with him in accordance with the provisions of S 466. Whether the case is one in which bail may be taken or not the accused may be released on sufficient security being given that he shall be properly taken eare of and shall be prevented from doing injury to himself or to any other person, and for his appearance when required. But if the case is one in which the Court thinks bail should not be taken (see S 496, 497) or il sufficient security is not given the accused may be detuned in sife custody, and a report shall be sent to the Local Government, provided that no order for detention in a lunatic asylum shall be made sine in accordance with rules made under the Indian Lunney Act IV of 1912. See note to S 466.

The words in sub-section (2) requiring the Magistrate to record a finding that the occused is of unsound mind are new

Wandering and dangerous lunatics are thus provided for by Act IV of

"13(1) Every officer in charge of a police stytion may arrest or cause to be arrested all gressors found undering at large within the lumits of bies station whom he has reason to believe to be lumintes and shall arrest or cause to be arrested all persons within the limits of his station whom he has reason to believe to be dangerous by reason of lumacy. Any person so arrested shall be taken forthwith before the Magistrate.

(2) Every officer in charge of a police-station who has reason to believe that any person within the limits of his station is deemed to be a lumitic and is not under proper care and control or is cruelly treated or neglected by any relative or other person hwing the charge of him, shall immediately report the fact to the Musistrate.

I Emp v Jhabbu I L R 42 All. 137

Eam Rutton Doss 9 W R Cr. 23

Mad Govt Sep 22 1876
Romon Audheekaree, W R Cr. 137

"14 Whenever any person is brought before a Magistrate under the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 13 the Magistrate shall examine such person, and if he thinks that there are grounds for preceeding further, shall cause him to be examined by a medical officer, and may make such other inquires to be thinks fit, and if the Magistrate is satisfied that such person is a lunate and a proper person to be detained, he may, if the medical officer who has examined such person gives a medical certificate with regard to such person make a reception order for the admission of such lurante into an asylum

Provided further that if any friend or relative desires that the lunatic be sent to a licensed asslum and engages in writing to the satisfaction of the Magistrate to pay the cost of maintenance of the lunatic in such asslum the Magistrate shall, if the person in charge of such asylum consents make a reception order for the admission of the lunatic into the licensed asylum mentioned in the engagement.

- is (t) If it appears to the Migistrate on the report of a police officer or the information of any other person that any person within the limits of his jurisdiction deemed to be a lunatic is not under proper care and control or is cruelly treated or neglected by any relative or other person having the charge of him the Magistrate may cause the alleged lunatic to be produced before him and summon such relative or other person as has or ought to have the charge of him
- (2) If such relative or other person is legally bound to maintain the alleged lunatic, the Magistrate may make an order for such alleged lunatic being properly cared for and treated, and, if such relative or other person wilfully neglects to comply with the said order, the Magistate may sentence him to imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month
- (3) If there is no person legally bound to maintain the alleged lunatic, or if the Magistrate thinks fit so to do, he may proceed as prescribed in section 14 and upon being stitsfied in mainten aforesaid that the person deemed to be a liniate is a lunate and a proper person to be detained under care and treatment may if a medical officer gives a medical certificite with regard to such lunatic make a reception order for the admission of such lunatic into an asylum
- 16 (1) When any person alleged to be a luntuc is brought before a Magistrate under the provisions of section 13 or section 15 the Magistrate may, by an order in writing, authorise the detention of the alleged luntuc in suitable custody for such time not exceeding ten days as may be in his opinion necessity to enable the medical officer to determine whether such alleged luntuc is a person in respect of whom a medical certificate may be properly given
- (a) The Magazinate may from time to time for the same purpose by order in writing authorise such further detention of the alleged lumitic, for periods not exceeding ten days at a time as he thinks necessary
- Provided that no person shall be detained in accordance with the provisions of this section for a total period exceeding thirty days from the date on which he was first brought before the Magistrate
- "17 All acts which the Magistrite is authorised or required to do by sections 14, 15 or 16 may be done in the Presidency towns or Rangoon by the Commissioner of Police and all duties which an officer in charge of a police station is authorised or required to perform may be performed in am of the Presidency towns by an officer of the police force not below the rink of an imspector."
- 91(1)(b) The Local Government may make rules to prescribe places of detention and regulate the care and treatment of persons detained under S 16

(1) If any person committed for trial before a Court 485 of Session or a High Court appears to the Court Procedure in case of person committed at his trial to be of unsound mind and conbefore Court of Session sequently incapable of making his defence, the or High Court being ury, or the Court with the aid of assessors, lunatic shall, in the first instance, tiv the fact of such unsoundness and incapacity and if the jury or Court, as the case may he, is satisfied of the fact, the Judge shall record a finding to that effect, and shall postpone further proceedings in the case and the jury, if any, shall he discharged '

(2) The trial of the fact of the unsoundness of mind and capacity of the accused shall be deemed to be part of his trial before the Court

It should be borne in mind that the issue, whether the accused is of unsound mind and consequently incapable of making his defence, should be tried and a verdict obtained from the jury or the opinions of the assessors recorded in the first instance that is before they are asked to determine the main issues in the case. It should be tried whenever the accused may show symptoms of unsoundness of mind so as to be incapable of making his defence, and, if so found, all proceedings on the trial should be postponed, that is stayed Where, at the same time the jury was required to consider whether the accused was. in the terms of S 84 Penal Code and S 470 of this Code, responsible before the law for the act charged, the verdict was set aside and a re-trial ordered. as it was held that the accused had been prejudiced by the error 1

Sub-section(1) was formerly loosly worded, and has been re-drafted by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 212 It makes it clear that it is for the Court to record a finding on the preliminary issue, after laking the verdict of the jury or the opinions of the assessors. The direction for the discharge of the jury is new As to the procedure to be followed by the Court on finding that the accused is of unsound mind see S 466 and as to the resumption of the trial, see Ss 467 and 468

466 Release of lunatic pending investigation or trial

(1) Whenever an accused person is found to be of unsound mind and incapable of making his defence, the Magistrate of Court, as the case may be, whether the case is one in which bail may be taken or not, may release him on sufficient security being given that he shall be properly taken care of and shall be prevented from doing injury to himself or to any other person, and for his appearance when required before the Magistrate or Court or such officer as the Magistrate or Court appoints in this behalf

(2) If the case is one in which, in the opinion of the Magistrate or Court, bail should not be taken, or if sufficient security is not given, the Magistrate or Court, as the case may be, shall order the accused to be detained in safe custody in such place and manner as he or it may think fit, and shall report the action taken to the Local Government

Provided that no order for the detention of the accused in a luntic asylum shall be made otherwise than in accordance with such rules as the Local Government may have made under the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912

The distinction between the law laid down in this chapter and S 341 should be borne in mind S 341 provides for the case of an accused person who though not insone, cannot be made to understand the proceedings, whereas Chapter XXIV provides the course to be taken (a) when an inquiry or trial cannot take place, because the accused is, by reason of unsoundness of mind incapable of making his defence, and (b) when the accused is acquitted, because, when he committed the charge he was by reason of unsoundness of mind incapable of knowing the nature of the act or that it was wrong or contrary to law

Where it was found that the accused was an imbedie and consequently unable to understand the proceedings but that he is not of unsound mind the case was referred to the High Court under S 341, that Court remarked that if the prisoner was unable to understand the proceedings it ws from unsoundness of mind properly so called, and from no other cause An order was consequently passed in the terms of S 4661

This section has been amended by Act No XVIII of 193 5 122 Firmerly cub section (1) dealt with the case in which bail might b taken and sub section(2) with the case in which ball might not be taken. Now, whether ball may be taken or not the accused may be released on sufficient security being given on the conditions laid down in sub-section (1) If security is not forthcoming or ' if the case is one in which, in the opinion of the Magistrate or Court bail should not be taken ' the Court is empowered to order detention of the accused in safe custody, but detention in a lunatic asylum must be in accordance with rules made under S or of the Indian Lunacy Act, IV of 1917 The wording of sub section (2) enables a Court to order detention in a bulable case, even if security is fortl coming if it thinks bail should not be allowed in the case, for instance of a dangerous lunatic whose movements and actions could not properly be controlled except in a place of safe custody. The distinct tion is no longer merely one as between bailable and non-bailable offences Nor is a previous report for the orders of the Local Government necessary (as formerly) when it is p oposed to detain the accused in custody the Court is itself competent to make the order provided it complies with the Local Government's rules under Act IV of 1912

A report is sent to the Local Government of the action taken

Ss 496 and 497 indicate in what cases bail be taken accusation is of a bailable offence (S 496) or (ii) when the accusation is of a non-bailable offence and there do not appear to be reasonable grounds for believing that the accused is guilty of an offence punishable with death or transportation for life Sch II, tol 5 declares what offences are bailable 5 466 does not require that bail shall be taken. It empowers a Magistrate or Court to release the accused on sufficient security as set out therein

Report to Local Government

The various Local Governments have issued executive instructions as to the channel through which such reports should be sent, and as t the contents of the report. These are not reproduced here, some of them are out of date, being based on the old law which embled the Local Governments to pass orders for detention.

Emp v Husen I L R 5 Bom 262

The regularity of the proceedings taken in India in declaring an European British subject a criminal lumitic and in removing him to England for safe custody has been discussed <sup>1</sup>

467 (1) Whenever an inquiry or a trial is postponed under Resumption of insection 164 or section 465, the Magistrate or caury or trial Court, as the case may be, may at any time resume the inquiry or trial, and require the accused to appear or be brought before such Magistrate or Court

(2) When the accused his been released under section 466, and the sureties for his appearance produce him to the officer whom the Magistrate or Court appoints in this behalf, the certificate of such officer that the accused is capable of making his defence shall be receivable in evidence.

The first point in such a case will be for the Magistrate or Court to determine on the evidence whether the accused is capable of mixing his defence. Until this is established the inquiry or trial cannot be commenced—(S 458)

Sub section (2).

It should be noted that whereas under S 464 the examination of the Civil Surgeon or other media. I differ as a watness as necessary the certificate of such officer is sufficient for a renewal of the proceedings under S 4766.

Under S 473 the Inspector General of Prisons or the visitors of the asylum, as the case may be, may certify that a person detained under S 466 is, in their opinion, capable of making his defence, and the person will then be produced before the Court and dealt with as provided in S 468

- 468 (1) If, when the accused appears or is again brought before the Magistrate or the Court, as the case may be the Magistrate or Court considers him before Magistrate or Court capible of making his defence, the inquiry or trial signli nuoceed
- (2) If the Magistrate or Court considers the accused to be still incapable of making his defence, the Magistrate or Court shall again act according to the provisions of section 464 or section 465 as the case may be, and if the accused is found to be of unsound mind and incapable of making his defence, shall deal with such accused in accordance with the provisions of section 466.

An addition has been made to sub-section (2) to make it clear that the provisions of S 466 will riso be again applicable to the case if the Court still considers the accused to be incapable of making his defence

The words "or is again brought before the Magistrate or Court" are to be read in connection with $ 473 which enables the Inspector General of Prisons, or the visitors of the lunatic reglum, as the case may be, to certify that the accused is capable of making his defence

When the accused appears to be of sound mind at the time of inquiry or trial, and the Magistiate is satisfied from the evidence given before him committed an act which, if he had been of sound mind, would have been an offence, and that he was, at the time when the act was committed, by reason of unsoundness of mind, incapable of knowing the nature of the act or that it was wrong or contrary to law, the Magistrate shall proceed with the ease, and, if the accused ought to be committed to the Court of Session or High Court, send lum for trial before the Court of Session or High Court, as the ease may be

Whenever any Magistrate acting under S. 469 shall send for trial before the Court of Session an accused person regarding inhose samity at the time of committing the offence he entertrins any doubt, he shall at the same time inform the juil authorities of the supposed state of the accused, in order that such person may be placed under careful surveillance prior to his trial before the Court of Session 1.

470. Whenever any person is acquitted upon the ground juggment of that, at the time at which he is alleged to have committed an offence, he was, by reason of unsoundness of mind, incapable of knowing the nature of the act alleged as constituting the offence, or that it was wrong or contrary to law, the finding shall state specifically whether he committed the act or not.

S 84 of the Penal Code declares that 'nothing is an offence which is done by a person who, at the time of doing it, by reason of unsoundness of mind, is incapable of knowing the nature of the act, or that he is doing what is either wrong or contrary to law."

5 St oil the Penal Code falls within Chapter IV of that Code, which relates to "General everptions", and S 105 of the Evidence Act Meclares that, "when a preson is accused of any offence, the barden of proving the existence of excumstances bringing the case within any of the general exceptions in the Indian Penal Code is upon him, and the Court shall presume the absence of such circumstances.

If, upon a tril, it is doubtful whether the accused was or was not sane at the time of the commission of the triminal act charged, the trial should be postponed, and he should be placed under the care of the Civil Surgeon, who should carefully watch his state of mind, with the view to discover whether he is subject to recurring fits of insanity or light headedness. The Calcutta High Court, on his appeal, remanded a case for this purpose, directing that after having had charge of the prisoner for a period not less than thrty days, the Civil Surgeon should report to the Sessions Judge and be examined on oath set to his state during the period.

* Hom Gaz 18/9 P 472 Mk Cir P 18 * Sheik Mustafa I W R Cr. I

The fact of unsoundness of mind must be clearly and distinctly proved before any jury is justified in returning a verdict under S 84, Penal Code Every man is presumed to be sine and to possess a sufficient degree of reason to be responsible for his icts until the contrary is proved 1

A finding of acquittal within the terms of S 470 must be after a trial by a regularly constituted Court So where the Sessions Judge, without choosing assessors, proceeded himself to try this point, took evidence and delivered judg ment, the proceedings were quished and re trial ordered with assessors

The following finding was given by the Calcutta High Court as a model in cases dealt with under Se 4-0-471 "The Court, concurring with the assessors, finds that Gazee Peer did till Bahoo Mundul by striking him on the head with a club but that by reason of unsoundness of mind he was incapable of knowing that he was doing an act which was wicing or contrary to law and that he is not, therefore guilty of the offence specified in the charge viz that he has committed culpable homicide not amounting to murder by causing the death of Babog Mundul and has thereby committed an offence punishable under S 304 of the Indian Penal Code and the Court directs that the said Gazee Peer be acquitted, and that, under the provisions of S 470 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the said Gazee Peer be kept in safe custody in the the orders of the Local Concernment 3

If the Sessions Judge disagrees with the verdict of the jury acquitting the accused under the terms of $ 470 he should submit the case under 5 307 for the orders of the High Court In such a case it was pointed out, it was not because a man commits a very horrible murder, or because he commits it while labouring under strong passions and feelings that therefore the world is to assume that he must have been insome when he committed the deed. The fact of unsoundness of m nd is one that must be clearly and distinctly proved before any jury is justified in returning a verdict under S 84 Penal Code Every man is presumed to be same and to possess a sufficient degree of reason to be respons ble for his crimes until the contrary is proved 4

It will not be cut of place here to quote the leading case in England on this point The following questions were put by the House of Lords in the case of Reg v McNaughten to Cl and F 200 (Archbold pp 1517) and received answers from the English Judges as below stated -

"tst-What is the law respecting alleged crimes committed by persons afflicted with insane delusion in respect of one or more particular subjects or persons as for instance where at the time of the commission of the alleged crime the accused knew he was acting contrary to law but did the act complemed of with a view under the influence of insane delusion of redressing or revenging some supposed grievance or injury or of producing some public benefit?

" an I-What are the proper guestions to be submitted to the jury, when a person alleged to be afflicted with insune delusion respecting one or more particular subjects or persons is charged with the commission of a crime (murder for example) and insanity is set up as a defence?

3rd-In what terms ought the questions to be left to the jury as to the prisener's state of mind at the time when the act was committed?

"4th-It a person under an instanc delusion as to the existing facts commits an offence in consequence thereof is he thereby excused?

sth-Can a medical man conversant with the disease of insanity who never saw the prisoner previous to the trial but who was present during the

<sup>1</sup> Q v Nobin Chunder Banerjee 13 B I R App -o (sc) 20 W R Cr -o

O P Cheft Ram 3 N P H C R 110

Cal H Ct Rules & 1 s W R C Let 19

Q a Nobin chunder Basetje 1 s W R Cr Let 19

Q b Nobin chunder Basetje 1 s B L R App 20 (sc) 20 W R Cr 70

whole trial and the examination of all the witnesses, be asked his opinion as to the state of the prisoner's mind at the time of the commission of the alleged crime, or his opinion whether the prisoner was conscious, at the time of doing the act, that he was acting contrary to law, or whether he was labouring under any, and whit, deliviou at the time?

To these questions the Judges (with the exception of Maule, J, who gate on his own account, a more qualified answer), answered as follows —

To the first question —" Assuming that your Lordships' inquiries are confined to those persons who labour under pastual delusions only, and are not in other respects insane, we are of opinion that, notwithstanding the party accused did the act compliance of with a view, under the influence of insane delusion, of redressing or revenging some supposed gricance or injury, or of producing some public beneft, he is nevertheless punishable, according to the nature of the crime committed, if he knew, at the time of committing such crime, that he was actual contrary to law, by which expression we understand your Lordships to mean the law of the land.

To the Second and third questions -" That the jury ought to be told in all cases that every man is presumed to be sure, and to possess a sufficient degree of reason to be responsible for his crimes until the contrary be proved to their satisfaction, and that, to establish a defence on the ground of insanity, it, must be elevrly proved that, at the time of the committing of the act the party accused was labouring under such a defect of reason from disease of the mind as not to know the nature and quality of the act he was doing, or, if did know it, that he did not know he was doing what was wrong. The mode of putting the latter part of the question to the jury on these occasions has generally been. whether the accused, at the time of doing the act, knew the difference between right and wrong, which mode though rarely, if ever, leading to any mistake with the jury, is not, as we conceive so accurate when put generally and in the abstract, as when put with reference to the party's knowledge of right and wrong in respect to the very act with which he is charged. If the question were in be put as to the knowledge of the accused solely and exclusively with reference to the law of the land, it might tend to confound the jury by inducing them to believe that an actual knowledge of the law of the land was essential in order to lead to a conviction, whereas the law is administered upon the principle that every one must be taken conclusively to know it, without proof that he does know it. If the accused was conscious that the act was one which he ought not to do and if that act was at the same time contrary to the law of the land he is punishable, and the usual course, therefore has been to leave the guestion to the jury. whether the party accused had a sufficient degree of reason to know that he was doing an act that was wrong, and this course, we think is correct, accompanied with such observations and explanations as the circumst nees of each particular case may require "

To the fourth question—"The answer to this question must of course depend on the nature of the delusion but, making the same assumption as we did before, that he labours under such partial delusion only, and is not in other respects insane we think he must be considered in the same situation as to responsibility as if the facts with respect to which the delusion exists were real. For example, if under the influence of his delusion, he supposes another man to be in the act of attempting to take way his life and he kills that man, as he supposes in "fledefence he would be evempt from punishment. If his delusion was that the delayaged his influeted a serious injury to his character and fortune, and he killed him in revenge for such supposed injury, he would be hable to punishment.

And to the last question —" We think the medical man, under the circumstances supposed, cannot in structures be added his opinion in the terms above stated because each of those questions implies the determination of the truth of the facts deposed to, which it is for the jury to decide, and the questions are not mere questions upon a matter of science in which case such evidence is admissible. But where the facts, are admitted or not disputed, and the question becomes substantially one of science only, it may be convenient to allow the question to be jut in the general form though the same cannot be insisted on as a malter of right "

471 (1) Whenever the finding states that the accused person committed the act alleged, the Magis-Person a-pathot on trate or Court before whom or which the trial such ground to be kent in safe custody has been held shall, if such act would, but for the incapacity found have constituted an offence, order such person to be detained in safe custods in such place and manner as the Magistrate or Court thinks fit, and shall report the action taken to the Local Government

Provided that no order for the detention of the accused in a lundic asylum shall be made otherwise than in accordance with such rules as the Local Government may have made under the Indian Linner Act. 1912

(2) The Local Government may empower the officer in Power of Local charge of the pal in which a person is confined Government lo re heve Inspector General of certan under the provisions of section 466 or this section to discharge all or any of the functions of the Inspector General of Prisons under secfunctions tion 473 or section 474

Power to act as a I ocal Government has been conferred on the Commissioner of Sindh !

There has been a similar change here to that made in S 466. Prior to its amendment by Act No XVIII of 1923 this section required the case to be reported to the Local Government, and it was the latter who ordered detention The power to order detention in a place of safe custody now rests with the Court, provided that an order for detention in a function asylum must comply with rules made under the Inlian Lunacy Act IV of 1912

In this section as elsewhere in this Chapter the word "detained" has been used instead of the words "kept" and "confined" thus bringing the phriseology into line with that of Act IV of 1912

Lunatic prisoners to be visited by Inspector-General (S 472 was repealed by Act IV of 1912)

478 If such person is detained under the provisions of section 466, and, in the case of a person where Procedu e detrined in a mil, the Inspector-General of lunatic prisoner is reported capable of Prisons, or, in the case of a person detained making his defense in a lundic asylum the visitors of such asylum or any two of them, shall certify that in his or their opinion, such person is capable of making his defence, he shall be taken before the Magistrate or Court as the case may be at such time as the Magistrate or Court appoints and the Magistrate or Court shall deal with such person under the provisions of sec tion 468 and the certificate of such Inspector General or visitors is aforestid shall be receivable as evidence

<sup>1</sup> Bom Gaz 1874 P 312

S 471(4) enables officers n charge of 12 is to be vested with the powers of an Inspector General of Prisons

(1) If such person is detained under the provisions of section 466 or section 471 and such Inspector Procedure lunatic confined under General or visitors shall certify that in his or sect on 466 or 471 is declared fit to be dis then judgment he may be released without danger of his doing injury to himself or to charged the Local Government may therenpon ana other person to be released or to be detained in custods or to be transferred to a public lunatic asylum has not been aheady sent to such an asylum case it orders him to be transferred to an asylum may appoint a Commission consisting of a judicial and two medical officers

(2) Such Commission shall make formal inquiry into the state of mind of such person taking such evidence as is necessary and shall report to the Local Government which may order his release or detention is it thinks fit

The Government of Bombay has under Act V of 1868 S 2 delegated the powers of a Local Covernment under S 474 of this Code to the Commissioner of Sindh 1

(1) Whenever any relative or friend of any person detained under the provisions of section 466 or Delivery of lunatic to care of relative or or section 471 desires that he shall be delivered fr end to his care and custody the Local Government may, upon the application of such relative or friend and on his giving security to the satisfaction of such Local Government that the person delivered shall-(a) be properly taken eare of and prevented from doing ioning to himself or to any other person and

> (b) be produced for the inspection of such officer, and at such times and places as the Local Government may direct, and

(e) in the case of a person detained under section 466 be produced when required before such Magistrate or Court.

order such person to be delivered to such relative or friend

<sup>1</sup> Bom Gaz 1874 P 312

THAT \\\\ SEC 476

(2) If the person so delivered is accused of any offence the trial of which has been postponed by it as on of his being of unsound mind and incapable of making his defence, and the inspecting officer referred to in sub-section (1), clause (b), certifies at any time to the Magistrate or Court that such person is incapable of making his defence, such Magistrate or Court shall call upon the relative or friend to whom such accused was delivated to produce him before the Magistrate or Court, and, upon such production, the Magistrate or Court shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of section 168, and the certificate of the inspecting officer shall be recreatable as cyclone.

The Government of Bombay has, under Act V of 1868, S 2, delegated the of Sind !

This section has been re-drafted and amplified by Act XVIII of 1923 S 127 Clause (c) is new, and enables the Concernment in the case of a person dutined under S 466 to require security that the accused binatic shall be produced before the Court if required, and sub-section (2) defines the circumstances in which the court may demand his production, and the procedure to be followed thereupon

CHAPTER XXXV

PROCEEDINGS IN CASE OF CHEATIN OFFLACES AFFECTING THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE

476 '1) When any Civil, Revenue or Criminal Court is,

Procedure in cases whether on application made to it in this behalf mentioned in section or otherwise, of opinion that it is expedient in the interests of justice that an inquiry should be made into any offence referred to in section 195, sub-section (1), he made into any offence referred to in section 195, sub-section (1), clause (b) or clause (c), which appears to have been committed in on in relation to a proceeding in that Court, such Court may, after such preliminary inquiry, if any, as it thinks necessary, record a finding to that effect and make a complaint thereof in writing signed by the presiding officer of the Court, and shall forward the same to a Magistrate of the first class having jurisdiction, and may take sufficient security for the appearance of the accused before such Magistrate or if the alleged offence is non-ballable may, if it thinks necessary so to do, send the accused in custedy to such Magistrate, and may bind over any person to appear and give evidence before such Magistrate.

Provided that where the Court making the complaint is a High Court, the complaint may be signed by such officer of the Court as the Court may appoint

For the purposes of this sub-section, a Presidency Magistrate shall be deemed to be a Magistrate of the first class.

<sup>1</sup> Bom Gaz 1874 P 312

- (2) Such Magistrate shall thereupon proceed according to his and is if upon complaint under maker section 200
- (B) Where it is brought to the notice of such Magistrate of any other Magistrate to whom the case may have been transferred that an appeal is pending against the decision arrived at in the judicial proceeding out of which the matter has arisen, he may if he thinks lit at my stage adjourn the hearing of the case until such appeal is decided.

Superior Court may Courte by section 476, sub-section (1), may be complain where sub-condition where sub-condition where sub-condition where sub-condition are considered to the court by t within the meaning of section 195 sub-section (3) in any case in which such former Court has neither made a complaint under section 176 in respect of such offence nor rejected an piphertion for the making of such complaint and, where the superior Court makes such complaint the provisions of section 176 shall apply accordingly

Appeals. Any person on whose application any Civil Revenue or Criminal Court has refused to make a complaint whom such a complaint has been made, may appeal to the Court to which such former Court is subordinate within the meaning of section 195 sub-section (3), and the superior Court may thereupon after notice to the parties concerned, direct the withdrawal of the complaint or as the case may be itself make the complaint which the subordinate Court might have made under section 476 and if it makes such complaint the provisions of that section shall apply accordingly.

Sections 4 ( 461 ) d 46B have been sub-tituted for former section 4-6 by N 1111 of 17 3 × 18 Th is one of the most important of the amendments receitly mid 1 it elect to ten erh under S 19, 2) prosequition was barred for any of the offences mentioned in sub-sect in (1) (b) or (c) of this section when such offences vere committed in or in relation to any proceedings in any Court or b) 1 parts to am proceedings in m Court except with the previous sanction of a) 1 parts to am proceedings in m Court except with the previous sanction or at the complaint of such Court or some other Court to which such Court was subordinate S 19, 1 is now been amended and in every case a complaint by Court is the exstry and previous sunction will no longer tyee a Court jutts deteo to inquire into or in (1) the offences mentioned in S 29, (1) (b) and (c) S 4 (prior to its immediated enabled a Court acting ato most to direct a process in in regard by any 1 the thence ment not in S 19, (1) (b) and (c) There is a similar of the second o

SEC 476

whether it merely supplemented that procedure. The legal position in this respect is now perfectly clear S 195 merely has the effect of barring the jurisdiction of a Court in legard to my of the uffences mentioned in subsection (1) (a) and (b) except on the complaint of a Court while S 476 gives the lower Court power to make a complaint and lays down the procedure to be followed by the Court in so doing There will therefore be no longer any doubt as to whether a Court taking action in respect of an offence committed before it is doing so under S 135 or S 476 The only action that a Court can take is to make a complaint and that complaint will be made under S 476 S 195 also enables a Court to take organizance of an affence mentioned therein upon complaint made by a Court to which the Court before which the original proceedings took place is subordinate and $ 4761, gives such superior Court power to make a complaint. This new provision serves to settle any doubt as to whether an offence was committed in relation to any proceedings before an Appellate Court where it had actually been committed in the Jower Court Finally, S 476B provides definitely for an appeal against the lodging of a complaint by an inferior Court as well as gainst an order by an inferior Court refusing to make a complaint when an application has been made to it in that behalf. This appeal lies whether the complaint has been made or an application to make a complaint has been refused under 5 476 or $ 4761 and doubts are thus removed as to the power of a High Court in certain cases to take action itself under 5, 476 is it formerly stood or to interfere in revision with an order passed by an inferior Court under that section

The position therefore is new as follows -Under 5 193 no. Court can take cognizance of any of the offences mentioned in sub-section (i) (a) and (b) with cut the compount of a Court Under S 476 any Civil Revenue or Criminal Court can make a complaint in writing to a Magistrate of the first class having jurisdiction in respect of any offence which appears to have been committed in or in relation to a proceeding in that Court Such Court can take action suo moto or on application made to it. If the original Court closes its proceedings without taking any action under S 476, or if no application to it requesting it to make a complaint has been rejected by it then the Court to which the original Court is subordinate within the meaning of S 195(3) can, following the same procedure as the original Court, make the complaint itself and, again the superity Court can ct on its own motion or on application made to it. This power is contained in S. 476A. Finally there is an appeal. If the original Court or the superior Court has refused on application made to it to make a complaint an appeal will be Likewise where a complaint has been made by either the original Court under S 476 or the superior Court under S 476A, an appeal will he by the person gainst whom the complaint has been made Appellate Court in every case will be the Court to which the Court whose action is compained of is subord nate within the meaning of S 195 (3) The Appellate Court is given power to lodge a complaint itself or to direct the with drawal of a complaint already made as the case may be For the purposes of these sections a Court shall be deemed to be subordinate to the Court to which appeals ordinarily le from the appealable decrees or sentences of such former Court or, in the case of a Civil Court, from whose decrees no appeal ordinarily lies to the principal Court having ordinary original civil jurisdiction within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such card court is situated provided where appeals le to more than one Court, the Appellate Court of inferior juris diction shall be the Court to which such Court shall be deemed to be ordinate And where appeals he to a Civil and also to a Revenue Court such Court shall be deemed to be subordinate to a Crist or Revenue Court according to the nature of the case or proceedings in connection with which the offence is alleged to have been committed-S 195 (3)

There was formerly a difference in phraseology between S 195 and S 476 which occasionally caused difficulty S 195 referred to an offence committ

in or in relation to any proceedings in any Court, while S 476 referred to an offence committed before a Court or breught under its notice in the course of a judicial proceeding. The words of S 195 have now been adopted in both sections

Sub-3 ction (3) of S 476 is new There was considerable doubt as to whether a Court should take next an in respect of an offence which appeared to have been committed before it when the facts of the case which appeared to machine Court which could useff take action if it took the same wew of the facts as the original Court Sub-section (3) now gives the Magistrate to whom the complaint is sent, or any other Magistrate to whom the complaint is sent, or any other Magistrate to whom the complaint is sent, or any other Magistrate to whom the case when it is brought to be notice that an appear is pending against the decision arrived at in the judicial proceedings out of which the metter has arrisen Finally it may be noted that $1.50 formers referred to any offence mentioned in $1.95 it now deals only with the offence mentioned in $1.95 it now deals only with the offence mentioned in $1.95 it now deals only with the offence mentioned in $1.95 it now deals only with the offence mentioned in $1.95 it now deals only on the proceeding of the cases are complaint in writing of the public servant of $1.95 it now deals only only the public servant continue other public servant to whom he is subordinate is required $1.95 its non-tend or of some other public servant to whom he is subordinate is required $1.95 its non-tend or of some other public servant to whom he is subordinate is required $1.95 its non-tend in the fact.

I orner's any Court taking retion under S 476 was required to send the case to inquiry or trial to the nearest Magistrate of the first elass. This menut this flow of the court would send a copy of its order giving its reasons for taking action and indicating also specifically the offences which in its Opinion had been committed. The Magistrate to whom the case came was then required to proceed as if a compliant had been made to him under S 300. The law how requires the Court taking action under S 476 to make a formal complaint in writing but nothing in S 200 shall be deemed to require the Magistrate to examine a complainant on oath in such a case—S 200 process (sa)

Under 5 477 of the Code before amendment a Court of Session could adopt an alternative procedure. That section enabled a Court of Session to charge a person for any offence referred to in S. 195 and committed before it or brought under its notice in the contract of juncial proceedings, and to commit or admit to the court of the court of juncial procedures, and to commit or admit to the court of the court of juncial procedures. This section has been repealed to the court of the conferred on Civil and Revenue Courts by S. 475—see note to that section.

These amendments of the law have rendered numerous cases decided under this section obsolete, but there are still many rulings which are applicable to the law in its form, and they are dealt with below

When any Civil, Revenue or Criminal Court,

In a question whether this expression includes the successor in office to the particular officer constituting the Court, or referred only to the officer before whom the offence was committed has been considered many times and has caused some difference of opinion. The Calcular High Court held that the power to act under S 476 was personal, and did not accrue to a successor in office an consequence of doubts expressed as to the correctness of this view the matter was considered by a Tull Bench of the Calcular High Court which affirmed the decision holding that the words of S 476 indicated that it is the Judge alone who tries the case who can take action. The Court pointed out the difference between S 195 and 8 476 indicated that the successor in office of a Judge might give sanction under S 195 (the law in this respect is of courtie of the size of courties of the size of the court of the size of courties of the size of the courties of the size of courties of the size of the court of the size of the size of the size of the courties of the size of t changed) "it was a very different thing from asking him to exercise the summary powers given to his predecessor under S 476":

I Kushna Govind Dutt of Cal W A 859.

CHAP XXXV Sec 476

The learned Judges apparently overlooked the terms of $5.476 which required that the offence might be one brought to the notice of the Court in the course of a judical proceeding. So that it was not necessary that the offence should have been committed before the Judge who held the trial of the case out of which the offence arose. These words have now been aftered, and the offence must now be one which appears to have been committed in or in relation to a proceeding in that Court. The Court based its decision to some extent on its expressed opinion that the power under $5.476 is exerciseable only during, or immediately after the conclusion of, the proceeding.

This case was considered by the Bombai High Court which disapproved of it. It was held that $5.476 was a supplement to $7.05 declaring the procedure by which a Court could make a complaint within the terms of $7.05 (a) (b) (c) and it was observed that there was nothing in $5.476 which makes it incumbent on a Court to act within any particular period or at any particular time?

The same matter came before the Madras High Court which followed the Calcutta case, and again in a Full Bench affirmed at disapproving of the Bombay case.

In two Allahabid cases the Madras decisions were not followed and orders passed under $ 476 some considerable period after the close of the proceedings were upheld?

By the view of the law tallen by the Calcutta and Madras Courts greater impediments than those imposed by the case law on 5 195 have been placed in the way of prosecuting those prime face believed to have committed perjury or forgery Reference may be made to the facts of a reported cases which are very similar to a case described by Chandravakar, J in the Bombay case as an instance of this. In that cases an exporte decree had been obtained in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes against a poor man in the Punjab and it was not until execution had been taken out against him in the Puniab that this was made I nown Having regard to the condition of the alleged debtor there can be no doubt that he would have been unable to carry the case further for the prosecution of the fraudulent claintiff in Calcutta. The case however attracted the attention of the Government who directed the Public Prosecutor to apply for sanction under S 195 to commence criminal proceedings. But from the lapse of time (some veirs) the Judge had vacated office and so the application was made to and granted by his successor in office. The case before a Full Bench of five Judges of the Culcutta High Courts mentioned above as well as the cases before the other High Courts on the same subjects were considered by another Full Bench of seven Judges of the same Court who disapproved of the former cases in that High Court holding that "Court" is to be understood in ite natural meaning in the sense of continuity notwithstanding any change of officers it does not mean only the Judge before whom the alleged offence was

Begu Sinch IIR 11 Cal 5xx (Sc) II Cal W N 568 (Sc) 5 Cal L I 5xx III Cal W N 568 (Sc) 5 Cal L I 5xx III overruled by Sheikh Bahadur II R I 75 per JEMENES C I and six judges

Aiyakannu Pillai I J R 32 Mad 49 per Weite C J and three Judges Miller

J dis K Emp v Zalim Singh All W N 1901 p 177 Girwar Prasad v K Emp, 6 All I 1 200

L J voz • Molla Furla Karım II R 23 Cal 193 * Begu Sirch II R 24 Cal 551 (se } 11 Cul W N 568 (se ) 5 Cal I J 508 • Flakshmidas Lalı I I R 32 Bom 184 Rahımadolla I L R 31 Mad 1 Girsar Prosod 6 All I J 39 committed or to whose notice the commission of the alleged offence ! trought in the curse of a judicial proceeding "

5 its it his been held that if the offence has been brought under i in the course I i judicial praceding the Court has jurisdict in to a > 476 even the ugh the effence mis live been committed in a different this case however is condered chester by the adoption of different land 5 476

In an Allah bid i see See see 1 held that the transfer of a case to Court dies not depene the fiese Court of its furisdiction to take action a natness under 5 476 even though the second Court may have fo different epinion is to the series of the witness. But in another cassume Court Boys I held that, in smuch as a successor in a Court is t Lourt as his predecessor charges it is not competent to a person who has c Le the presiding officer if a particular Court to act under 9 476 in rel a matter which was before him as presiding officer in a Court which he h. This was a cree referred by a flastrict Magistrate because of the codecisions on the point. The learned Judge's attention was apparently not to am of the cases cited above and he expressed an opinion that there room for doubt in the matter following two firmer decisions of the A High Court 5

The Labore High Court after discussing many of the reported caheld that the word court ' includes a successor "

A Divisional Officer hearing appeals under the Income Tax Act II is a Court Where a Collector transferred an inquiry under 5 58 (3) Bengal Tenancy Act VIII of 1883 to a Sub-Divisional Officer and the found certain documents to be fabricated he could take action under 5 4 Sub-Divisional Magisterite is competent to act under 4 475 in respect disobedience of prohibitory orders under 5 69 of the Bengal Tenancy let 1

A certificate Officer while proceeding under the powers conferred Bildy and Orisea Public Demands Recovery Art 1914 for the recovers dem nd or the adjudication of a petition filed in respect thereof is a R Court and can take action under $ 476 10

Any offence referred to in S 196

These offences may be roughly described as perjuty and forgers in al variations $ 476 has been appropriately declared to be a supplem 5 195" in as much as it provides the procedure by which a Court can m complaint within the terms of S 195 (1) (b) or (c) This is abundantly clear the two sections were amended. It is the char oter of the particular offen

111

Sheikh Bahadur I I. R 37 Cal 642 (50) 14 Cal W N 799 (90) 1

L J 45 Emp v Kamta Pershad J L R 97 AU 306

Emp v Sundar Lal I L R 44 All 642 Emp v Baldeo Pravad I L R 46 All 851

Muhammad Ibrahim v K Emp 12 All L J 1003 Re Nawal Singh I L All , 393,

<sup>1</sup> h 4 Lah 58 Cal 465 (80) 17 Cal W N 571 •

<sup>14 475</sup> 14 Cal 551 (80) 11 Cal N N 558 (80) 5 Cal L J 508 1 1 475 32 Born 184 But see contra Begu Singh 1

the manner in which it was committed as set out in S 195 which gives the Court Power to act in regard to it 1

Although S 195 (1) (c) refers only to forgers when committed by a party to a proceeding in respect f 1 document produced or given in evidence the Court may under S 750 proceed against a witness for that offence.

Committed in or in relation to a proceeding in that Gourt.

The words formerly used were committed before it or brought under its motive in the course of a judicial proceeding, the words now used are not so wide is brought under its notice. The Impurge of S. 195 has been adopted, and the rulings under that section is to their meaning will be applicable to S. 476, whereas certain rulings which are bised on the difference in the phraseology ised in S. 476 have now become obsolete. Judicial proceeding "includes any proceeding in the course of which evidence is or may be legally taken on onthe S. 4 (m). The new law goes further and refers to any proceeding "will be the mening, if S. 476 Action will be possible by an Appellate Court, and also by any Court acting in revision though a Sessions Judge in the impowered to take additional evidence when acting under Ss. 435—436 or by a Court proceeding in respect of an offence under Ss. 183—436 or by a Court factor when acting under Ss. 435—436 or by a Court session is the court of the

Apparently a departmental inquiry held in respect of the alleged misanduct of a public officer would be a proceeding, but it would be doubtful whether the officer conducting the inquiry could be regarded as a Court In fact the test is no longer whether evidence can be taken on oath or not, that is to 433, whether the proceeding is a judicial proceeding or not, but whether the officer conducting the proceeding is sitting as a Civil, Revenue or Criminal Court A Collector must be acting as a Revenue Court before he can acquire jurisdiction to act under $ 476. But though a Collector taking proceedings under the fand Acquisition Act 1894 cannot administer an oath he would be a Court. with power to talle action under $ 476 (1) Several cases on this point are now probably obsolcte. Thus it has been held that where a letter addressed to the Feligraph Department cluming money due to the estate of a deceased person was sent to the District Judge for verification, the Judge could not act under S 476 and a Collector acting under the Stamp or Registration Acts is not a Civil or Revenue Court competent to take action under S 476 11 has been held that proceedings should be taken without delay under 5 476 (4) and in one case an order was set aside on this ground? But it has also been held that delay does not amount to a want of jurisdiction so as to vitiate action taken ! It would probably be held now that delay would not ordinarily be a sufficient ground for an Appellate Court under S 476B to direct the withdrawal of a complaint

Where the Police, after investigation, reported certain information to be

. . . .

t.

alad Bhavani I I, R 18 5 Mad 274 Jadu Nandan

false, and the District Migistrate ordered in Inquiry by a subordinate Magistrate upon whose report he to k action under $ 476 against the informant, his proceedings were ser uside as being without jurisdiction !

Action somet be taken under $ 476 when an alleged offence under $ 211 Pen il Cole les not been committed in Court, but in relation to a police investigation only

In accused person was acquitted by a Magistrate who took no action under 5 476 shortly ifterwards mother Magistrate, having no seisin of the case took action under S 476 thereupon the District Argistrate, being duobtful as to the second Migistrate's jurisdiction expressed an opinion that the action should live been tiken by the first Magistrate, and the latter thereupon directed a prosecution. The ard is of both of the side edinate Magistrates were held to be bad *

Vitall Bench of the Midris High Court tax held that even where the facts of a case are fresh in the mind of the Judge he cannot take action under S 476 if the commission of an offence is discovered by fum only after the close of the proceedings 4. The correctness of this dicision seems to be doubtful

After such preliminary inquiry, if any, as it thinks necessary.

There is no essential difference between these words and the words " after making any preliminary inquiry that may be necessary " which occurred in the old section

It is within the discretion of the Court to determine whether any prelimi nary inquiry should be held ! If held it need not be in the presence of the recused in strict law no notice to show cause why a person should not be sent for trial or any preliminary inquiry is indispensible. Wit has to be borne in mind in each case is whether a preliminary inquiry is recessive in the interests of justice? The m terials before the Court should however be sufficient to satisfy it that one of the specified offences has been committed in or in rela tion to a proceeding before it

Where an order under S 476 had been passed for proceedings against a person for making a false complaint (S 211, Penal Code) and of abetment the order was set aside as there was no evidence before the Court to establish either of those offences. The mere fact that certain witnesses had not been believed is not in itself sufficient for an order directing that they shall be prosecuted for persury . Sumilarly where the Mag strate in acquitting the accused passed an order under $ 476 directing the complainant to be prosecuted for making a false complaint (5 zrr Penal Code) without holding any preliminary inquiry and there was no direct evidence in proof of that offence the order was set ande The discretion given to a Court under S 476 is arongly exercised if in a case in which there should have been preliminary inquiry preceding proceedings under

ċ

Haibirt Khan I I R 33 Cal 30 (schio Cal W N 30 bbdir Rahman 7 Cal I 371 Jadu Nandan Singh 11 Cal W N 330 (schi I R 37 Cal 250, fschio Cal L I 564 Dharma Das 12 Cal W N . 575 (sc) 9 Cal I J 303 Kanchabi Garbi 13
Cal W N 122

* Dharmadas Kawar t K Emp 7 Cal W N 373 Jadunandan Singh v K Emp 10 Cal I J 564 Tavebullat Fmp I I R 43 Cal 1152 (5 c) 20 Cal W N 1265

Bhim Lal Sah I L R 40 Cal 444

iatabadal I I hose I L R 6 730

Durpa Naram Bara 15 Cal W N 691 (692)

O v Baijoo Lal I L R 1 Cal 450 Khepu Nath v Girish Chunder, I L R, 16 Cal 730

this section, no inquiry has been held, the order so made will be set aside 1. But where no preliminary inquiry was held by the Chill Court, and there was nothing to show that it was necessary, or that if held it would have put the Magistrate in a beiter position for deding with the case before him, the High Court refused to interfere If however a court, in the course of a judicial proceeding, finds cle ir ground for believing that the parties to that preceding or their witnesses have committed an offence specified in S 195, it is justified in directing criminal proceedings under 5 476 without any further inquiry than that which has already been held. It is not necessary that there should be any evidence on the secord contradicting a case found to be false, or that there should be a preliminary inquiry, although it may sometimes well be that a preliminary inquiry should be held, the adoption of a rigid rule to that effect is neither made imperative by law nor is it desirable . There is nothing in the wording of S 476 to require that officers acting under it are bound to make their inquiry either in the actual course of the proceedings or so shortly thereafter as to make it really a continuation of the proceedings a

The foregoing rulings are equally applicable to the new section

As the terms of S 476 show that the order should be directed against some perticular person, if the Court has good reason to believe that an offence, eg., forger), his been committed, though it is unable on the information before it to determine by whom it was committed, it should hold a preliminary inquiry for the purpose of obtaining the necessary information before it can send the case to a Magnet to it cannot send the case to the Nagnistrate to make such enquiry. There with however to be no reason why, when the case is properly before the Magnistrie, he should not be competent to proceed against some other person if the evidence taken by him tends to satisfy him that such person has committed the offence rather than the persons named by the Court which proceeded under $476 Compart $195, (4) of the former law which declared that in giving sanction a Court need not name the accused, thus leaving it open to the person who complained to proceed against whomsever he thought proper person who complained to proceed against whomsever he thought proper

The fact that proceedings under S 476 are taken before an officer before what the alleged offence was not committed does not in itself make it necessary that he should held a preliminary indurry?

An inquity under S 476 is a judicial proceeding and consequently a false statement made in the course of it may constitute perjury a

In an inquiry under S 476 the occused is entitled to cross-examine the witness of the opposite parts

A summary of the statement of the witnesses examined in an inquiry under S 476 should be made, though the section does not provide for the manner in which the manury should be recorded 19

Make a complaint thereof in writing.

Under the former law, as enacted in the Code of 1898, the Court was componered to 'send the case for inquiry or trial'. The principles which should guide a Court in decrding whether it should take action under S 476 have been mp I L R, 20 Cal, 319

o8

Mahomed Bhakku I L R 23 Cal 532

Mahomed Bhakku I L R 23 Cal 532

N 132

had down in numerous cases, and they are equally applicable to the new law It should be observed that these principles will also apply to complaints made by a superior Court under 5, 476% and by an Applifate Court under 5, 476%

The complaint many clearly be in respect of some perticular person who in the opinion of the feart committed the particular defence. A Coul Cour should not take retion under S 476 with out coming to a finding is to which of the particular committed the infence. Under the new law which requires a Court to make a formal complaint in writing three will clearly be less tendency for a Court to act on vague allegations or susquenous. But the Magistrate to whom the complaint is forwarded will not be confined to the offences mentioned in the picture of camplaint, his powers to frame charges of offences recealed by the evidence will be unimparted.

There must be some direct evidence igainst the person in respect of whom it is intended to proceed either in the preliminary inquiry or in the earlier proceedings which have given rise to that inquiry. It is not sufficient that the evidence may ruse some sort of suspicion against him 5 The Court must prima facie be satisfied that the offener has been committed by some definite persons against whim proceedings in the Criminal Court are to be taken. The Court must have good ground for coming to some conclusion in respect of the guilt of the person concerned or the truth or otherwise of the document or evidence There must be some reason ble probability of conviction. The rule laid down in these cases is however more narrow than the stated by Placock C J in case,4 in which the propriety or leg lity of an order by a Civil Judge was under consideration The Civil Judge dismissed the cise, but, finding that the Nizir's books sent for by him did not correspond with a copy put in by the plaintiff he directed the Magistrate to inquire whether the copy had been forged and by whom PFACOCK, C J pointed out that S 171 of the Code of 1861 (which corresponds with S 476 of this Code before amendment) gave in express terms powers to any Court to send the case for investigat on linquity or trial is here used) to any Magistrate and directs that such Magistrate shall thereupon proceed according to law If there be a person distinctly accused, of course, the Magistrate can proceed equally against him as he can in investigating a case sent to him But there is nothing to prevent the investigation of a case when no particular individual is as yet accused. The investigation is to show whether any nr what person is to be charged under the law moreover no injustice is done by such an order to any one. In that case prima facte a forgery had been commutted and the Civil Court in sending the case to the Magistrate left it to that officer to determine who had committed that offence. The fact that a forged document might have been given in evidence by the plaintiff would not necessarily fix the guilt upon him and it would be imposing a duty foreign to the functions of a Civil Court to require that the preliminary inquiry which it was competent to hold should be such as to detect the offender. To require in such a case that, before proceedings could be taken by a Magistrate under S 476 under an order of a Court, that Court must find against whom they should be taken would practically be to present further proceedings and so to defeat justice This case was not cited before the Judges who decided the cases just referred to above 1 It seems to be requiring from the Court which sends a case to a Magistrate for inquiry or trial an amount of prima facie evidence which would justify commitment which would render the intervention of an inqu'ry

&lt;sup>1</sup> Mahomed Bakku <sup>2</sup> Q Emp I L R <sup>2</sup> Cal <sup>5</sup> Si Khepu Nath Sikdar I L R <sup>16</sup>

Amar Nath I L R 2 Lah 63

Khepu Nath Shkdar v Grish Chunder I L R 16 Cal 730
 Hurronath Roy 7 W R Civil 482
 Jadu Nandan Singh, I L R 27 Cal 250 (sc) 14 Cal W N 330 (sc) 10 Cal

Jour Nandan Singh, I L K 27 Cal 250 (Sc) 14 Cal W N 330 (Sc) 10 C L J 504 • Essan Chunder Dutt v Prannath Marshall 270

by a Magistrate unnecessary since under S 478 the Court which can act under S 476 has the power to commit to the Court of Session

But the law is now different. The Court is required to make a complaint, and if the evidence in the proceedings is not sufficiently clear to enable the Court to do so it is given discretion to make a preliminary inquiry and report, and then, acting on the report, make a complaint. But in one case it was held that the irregularity was covered by $ 537.

The commonest class of case which arises is, where i Magistrate, after examination of a complainent, has reason to distrust the complaint, and under S 202 directs an investigation to be made for the purpose of ascertaining its buth or falsehood before issuing process to connel the attendance of the accused. and then, after considering the result of that investigation, dismisses the complaint under S 203, because in his judgement there is no sufficient ground for proceeding, and, simultaneously with that order, directs the complamant, to be prosecuted for having intentionally made a false complaint-($ 211, Penal Code) Another common class of case is, where, after investigation of an offence, the Police report that it is false, and the Magistrate directs the party at whose instance the investigation was made to be prosecuted. Sometimes this order is passed in the absence of the complainant, and sometimes in his presence. and after a refusal to examine any witnesses on his behalf then present, or to issue summons for the attendance of witnesses. The Calcutta High Court has, in several cases, pointed out the unfairness of such a course to the compliment, and the injurious effect of thatting such power in the hands of the Police so no practically to enable them to determine when a complainant should be subjected to a criminal prosecution for although the Magistrate may have good reason for dismissing a complaint, no should give the complainant an opportunity of showing in the preliminary inquiry to be held under S 476, that his complaint is not of such a nature as to subject him to be prosecuted under S 211, or S 193, Penal Code, or for any other offence The duty of a police officer is moreover to collect evidence, while it is the function of the Magistrate alone to determine the sufficiency of the evidence so collected. At the same time if the complainant does not. after a sufficient interval of time, appear and dispute the police report, or ask to have his witnesses examined a prosecution may be ordered. See notes under S 195

A charge of perjury in the alternative may cause difficulty. Under the old law of sanction this difficulty did not arise. It was held that if it was intended to charge a person with intentionally going false evidence in making two contradictory statements, the Court which desires to take action should obtain sanction from the Court before which the other statement was made. The Court making the preliminary inquiry has no power to insist on the attendance of an accused person, but, if he is present it can if the offence is non-biolishe send him in custody to the Magistrate, or take sufficient security for his appearance.

It will be seen, with reference to the terms of $ 476, that $ 487 provides that no Magistrate can try a case of intentionally giving false evidence when that offence has been committed before himself. See also $ 478 poil.

But though a Magistrate, before whom or under whose notice an offence such as is provided for by S 476, has been committed, may not himself be able to try that case, there is no reason why, if the offence is trible by a Session-Court, and he is competent to make a commitment, he should not himself committed the case to the Court of Session Sec S 487 (2)

Formerly S 476 did not provide that a case should be sent necessarily to a Magistrate having jurisdiction to deal with the case. It had to be sent to the nearest Magistrate of the first class It was, therefore, to be assumed that the transfer was of itself sufficient to confer local jurisdiction So, a Magistrate of another sub-division had purisdiction to deal with a case transferred by a Sub-divisional Magistrate who had alone, ordinarily, local jurisdiction to hold the trial

Baijnath Singh : K Pmp : Pat L J 553
Govt v Karimdad Khan I L R 6 Cal 496 (5 C) I L R 7 Cal 467.

But the law is now aftered, and the complaint has to be sent to 4 Magistrate of the first class hiving jurisdiction. Under the old law an order under S 476 merch directing prosecution, and not forwarding the case was held to be irregular, but not illed it, and was covered by S. 537

Under the old law it had been held that 5, 476 did not apply to proceedings before a High Court In dealing with a case coming within it, it was the practice to send the requisite papers to the Government Solicitor if the offence had been committed before it on its original jurisdiction, or to the Legal Remembrancer if committed on its appellate or revisional jurisdiction. The High Court would thus have acted as if giving sanction under 5 195 to a complaint by one of the above mentioned officers. So when it appeared that an offidavit had been falsely made before it as a Court of Revision, the Calcutta High Court directed the matters to be placed before the Legal Remembrancer to take such action as he might think proper as they could not under 5 476 send it to ' the nearest Magnetrate of the first class since a Presidency Magnetrate though the nearest Magnetrate was not a Magnetrate of the first class. The law on this point is now altered in two respects. Sanction will no longer give a eriminal Court jurisdiction, under 5 195 the complaint of the Court will be necessary The High Court would therefore have to make a complaint if it desired netion to be taken, and S 476 as amended now enables the High Court to forward its complaint to the Chief Presidency Magistrate who is declared to be a Magistrate of the first class for the purposes of the section

Sub section (2). Shall proceed as if upon complaint made.

The matter on which proceedings have been taken is concerning 'any offence referred to in 5 195, sub-section (t), clause (b) or clause (c) and that section restrains the action of a Court in regard to such offences committed under the circumstances described in it as well as in S 476 except upon com plaint of the particular Court S 476 as supplemented to S 195 provides the procedure by means of which a complaint is made, and acted upon by it Magistrate who is thus relieved from the restraint otherwise imposed. He can now deal with the case as a judicial officer or if empowered to do so (S 192) transfer it to some other competent Magistrate for inquiry or trial Under S 200, proviso (aa), the examination of the complainant, who is a Court, is dispensed with

A Magistrate may discharge the accused if in his opinion there are not suffi cient grounds for conviction or commitment, and if the offence is exclusively triable by a Court of Session, the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate can under S 437 order the accused to be committed or order a further or fresh inquiry-S 436 See notes under Ss 436, 437 anie

S. 476, Sub section (8),

This is new It gives a Magistrate discretion to adjourn a case where an appeal is pending against the decision in the proceedings out of which the matter has arisen. It is to be observed that the expression " judicial proceedings " is used here though sub-section (1) refers merely to "a proceeding" amendment gives effect to the opinions expressed by some of the Courts 1. The alleged offence may have been committed before a Civil Court, and the Civil Appellate Court though it desagreed entirely with the findings of fact of the original Court, would have no power to set aside or even to stay proceedings in the Criminal Court based on an entirely wrong appreciation of the evidence in one case the Calcutta High Court went on far as to set aside the conviction of one of the parties to a suit who denied the execution of a deed and the order of the Appellate Court affirming the conviction without considering the case on its ments on the ground that a stiperior civil Court on appeal had found that the deed had not been executed and consequently no false evidence had been given. It was held that the basis of the order under 5 476 was gone and that the "judgment of the Civil Court on appeal as between the parties was res judicata in all subsequent proceedings between them and it was added that "it would be disastrous to the administration of justice in India if a final sudement of a Civil Court could be practically set aside by a sudement of a Criminal Court "

O Emp : Nagappa I L R 16 Mad 461 Re Suppa)a Tharagan I L R 37 Mad 317 Additam Miratam Bom H Ct Septr 25 1907

Kedar Nath Kot 3 Cal L J 357 Lakshmidas Lalji I L R 32 Bom 184 Neg v Pandurang Myral 5 Bom , 41 Cr Cas

Powers of High Court

It has already been posited out above that where the proceedings in the course of which the alleged offence is committed are in the High Court that Court can now itself talle action and make a complaint under $4.75 The High Court cannot in fact delegate its powers in this respect to the Public Prosecutor. So also in regard to an offence committed in or in relation to any proceedings in a Court which is subordinate to it within the meaning of $1.05, (a) that is a Crust from whose decisions an appeal ordinarily lies to the High Court thus will be enses where the lower Court has itself taken no action sun molis in regard to the offence or has not rejected an application made to it lodge a complaint. If an application has been made and rejected in the lower Court then the High Court cannot set under $4.76 A but if an appeal is preferred against the order of rejection then under $4.76 A but if an appeal is preferred against the order of rejection then under $4.76 A but if an appeal is preferred accomplaint. Similarly in mocal and enter $4.76 A but if an appeal is preferred accomplaint similarly in mocal and enter $4.76 A but if an appeal is preferred accomplaint similarly in mocal and enter the same section it can direct the with drawal of a complaint made by a lower Court.

Tormerly where the lower Court acted under S 476 it passed an order sending a case to a first class Magistrate for inquiry or trial Such orders frequently c me before the High Courts in revision. Now the lower Court will make a complaint and an apocal' is provided for There will be no revision of incoceedings (Liken under S 476 or S 476 at a my case in which an appeal can be preferred under S 476 See S 480 (A) No second opinional is convoled for

The High Court cannot for obvoods reasons exercise its revisional Juris diction under this Code in respect in dat proceedings under S 476B for the proceedings may have taken place in a Civil in Revenue Court. In such cases revisional powers are not conferred or controlled by this Code.

The rite tramendment of $ 476 embodied in $1.0 section (3) emphasises the owner of a Wigistrate to stay criminal proceedings when an appeal is pending in the case out if which those proceedings have arisen

The Calcuta High Court doubted whether it had power in the exercise of its civil purisplation to stry criminal proceedings mintrated by a District Judge under 5 and and held that 5 as of the Indian High Courts Act 1851 and not give the High Court power to reterfere in the case 3 In this case as well as in a well known Bothbay cases the Courts refused to stay proceedings on the ground merely that an appeal was pending. But the Madras High Court held that under S 15 of the High Courts Act, 1861, and under clauses 28 and 29 of its Letters Put nt It had power to stay proceedings instrated under 5 476 by a Court subject to its powers of sujerintendence and the Court stayed proceed ags not on the ground that the High Coart might ultimately quash the proceedings but on account of the injustice that might be done to the petitioners in preventing them from prosecuting their appeal

<sup>1</sup> Iogiah : Pmn 1 L R 31 Wad 510 2 Kannlish 12 Cal W N 1

Hem Chandra Ray I R 35 Cal 900

It not unfrequently happens that the proceedings of the Court which has under S 476 sent a case to a Magistrate for inquiry or trial are not final. They may be open to appeal or revision or a civil suit may be instituted with the object of finally determining the matter raised in the case sent to the Magistrate and the question has arisen whether proceedings before the Magistrate should be stayed until the matter in issue is finally determined and whether the High Court on revision is competent to stry the proceedings before the Magistrate. The Magistrate has a discretion to hold his hand. But without any application to the Magistr te for this purpose application is made to the High Court for an order to restrain his action. On the authority of cases in the Courts in England a it has been held that criminal proceedings should not go on during the pendency of civil litigation regarding the same subject matter as for instance the prosecution of a man for forgery where a suit has been instituted to have it declared a val d instrument . But the is not as invariable rule and it has been hell that this is not sufficient to enable the High Court to quash a commitment regularly made under $ 478 by a Civil Court (see 5 215) or to direct that the trial be adjourned (or postpined) 5 Under the Code of 1861, a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court held that in exercise of its civil or eriminal jurisdiction it was not competent to direct the tral on a commitment made by a Civil Court t be stayed until the decision of the appeal in the suit out of which the ease has THE SER PEACOCK C I stated If the Court as a Court of appeal or as a Court of Revision cannot alter such an order, I cannot see any inherent authority which it has to stay proceedings. In agreeing with the Chief Justice MacPHERSON J said- I may add that considering the Legislature has thought fit to empower Courts in their discretion to direct the criminal prosecution of persons who commit certain offences in the course of proceedings before those Courts it would as it seems to me almost amount to an absurdity if a prosecu tion so ordered to be had was to be suspended merely because an appeal is pend ng from the decree made n the suit in which the act or omission which is the subject of the prosecut on is committed *

(Pour of Court of Session as to certain offences com mitted before itself) [Repealed by Act XVIII of 1923]

This section has been repealed by Act XVIII of 1923 S 129 It enabled a Court of Session to charge a person for any offence referred to in S 195 and committed before it or brought under its notice in the course of a judicial pro ceeding and to comm t or adm't to bal and try such person upon its own charge

There was considerable volume of case law on this section which is now rendered obsolete. The only power which a Court of Session now has to deal with an offence of the nature mentioned is that conferred by 'Sections' 476 and 476. The joint Committee which considered the Bill later enacted as Act Will of 1923, pointed out that S 477 would be inconsistent with S 476 as intended because the latter section makes it obligators on the Court to make a complaint and send it to a first-class Ungestrate. The Committee rejected a suggestion to enable a Court of Session to 1873 a case committed to it, after a complaint had been made by itself and they therefore proposed the repeal of S 477.

<sup>1</sup> In re Bal Gangadhar Tlak J L R 26 Bom 785

<sup>1</sup> Jog ah 1 Emp I L R 31 Mad 510

Tilak

478 (1) When any such offence is committed before any

Power of Civil and Revenue Courts to complete inquiry and commit to High Court or Court of Session Civil or Revenue Court, or brought under the notice of any Civil or Revenue Court in the course of a judicial proceeding, and the case is trable exclusively by the High Court or Court of Session, or such Civil or Revenue Court thinks that it ought to be tried by the High Court or Court of Session, such Civil of Revenue Court may, instead of sending the ease under section 476 to a Magistrate for inquiry, itself complete the inquiry, and commit or hold to buil the accused person to take his trial before the High Court or Court of Session, as the ease may be

(2) For the purposes of an inquiry under this section the Civil or Resenue Court may exercise all the powers of a Magistrate; and its proceedings in such inquiry shall be conducted as nearly as may be in accordance with the provisions of Chapter XXIII in cases where that chapter appeals and shall be deemed to have been held by a Magistrate

This section gives to Civil and Revenue Courts a power somewhat similar to that which was possessed by a Court of Session under S 477 before that section was repealed

- A slight amendment has beer made in sub-section (2) by Act VII of 1923.

  2.8 The reference to S. 413 Ins been omitted in consequence of the dis appearance of that section as it formerly slood Chapter XXXIII is a new Chapter providing a special procedure for cases in which European and Indian British subjects are concerned. The Legislature seems to have overlooked in sub-section (1) an amendment consequential upon the redrafting of S. 476 A Civil or Revenue Court no longer sends a case under that section to a Magistrate, it makes a complaint
- "Any such offence" means "any offence referred to in section 195, sub-section (i), clause (b) or clause (c)" See S 476 (i)
- S 478 enables a Civil or Revenue Court, in a cise dealt with under S 476 to hold the inquiry and rommit to the High Court or Court of Session if the case is triable exclusively by such Court, or one which in its opinion ought to be tried by such Court— (Sch III, col 8) A commitment made under S 478 by a Civil or Revenue Court can be quashed by the High Court only, and only on a point of law—(S 213) The powers given by S 478 to a Civil Court are in excess of those vontered by the Code of Civil Procedure
- It Is discretional with a Civil or Revenue Court whether it should send a complant to a Majistrate for inquiry or trial or whether it should itself hold the inquiry and commit

There must be an inquiry held. A commitment cannot be made merely on proceedings held in the civil suit in which the offence is alleged to have been committed, nor on proceedings in a criminal trial in the course of which the alleged offence was committed after merely taking a statement from the accused Frees proved in evidence in tha trial are no evidence in a subsequent eriminal trial as the occused who was then a witness had no opportunity of crossexamining the witnesses who deposed to them "

The offence dealt with need not be one committed under the conditions set out in S 195 The offence must be one of those referred to in that section-(See S 476) So where S 195 of the Code of 1882 required that the offence specified in 5 at 3 Pen il ( sie if rgers) must have been committed by a party to the proceeding in the Court or in respect of a document given in ev dence in such proceeding and the accused was no party and the document in question had not been given in evidence but had been fled with the intention of being used as evidence, it was held that as the offence was one referred to in $ 195 it was immaterial whether it had been committed under the eircumstances specified in that section if it earns otherwise within S 476 (S 195 (c), It should be noted has been amended to as to cover such a case) So also proceedings and $ 476 mn; relate to a document alleged to be forged which has been produced not b). prify to the suit but by a witness. A commitment alleged by a Chit or Revenue ( our can be quaried by the High Court only and only on a point of law (S 214)

In this case also a diffeoity may prise in cases in which it is desired to charge a person with perjury in the alternative where the second statement was made in inother Court. Under the old law of sanction it was laid down that the sanction of the other Court should first be obtained. But sanction is no longer required. The other Court can make a complaint under S 476 but that would result in a dupl car on of proceed age. This case has been overlooked by the Leg slature Possibly one of the Courts might take netion in respect of the false at tement made before it and leave it to the criminal Court to frame a charge in the alternative $ 230 would no longer be a bar to such a proceeding. The only other course would be for the Courts to make a joint compla 11

When any such commitment is made by Civil or Resenne Court the Court shall send the charge Procedure of Civil or Revenue Court in with the order of commitment and the record such cases of the case to the Presidency Magistrate District Magistrate or other Magistrate authorised to commit for trial, and such Magistrate shall bring the case before the High Court or Court of Session, as the case may be, together with the witnesses for the prosecution and defence

(1) When any such offence as is described in section 175 section 178 section 179, section 180, or Procedure in cer-

section 228 of the Indian Penal Code is com tain cases of contempt mitted in the view or presence of any Civil Criminal or Revenue Court the Court may cause the offender to be detained in custody; and at any time before the insing of the Court on the same day may, if it thinks fit, take cognizance of the offence and sentence the offender to fine not exceeding two hundred tupees, and, in default of payment, to simple imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month, indees such fine be sooner paid.

<sup>1</sup> O v Runnatoonee 22 W R Gr 51 2 O Chima Vedag ri Shetti I L R 4 Mad 227 (sc) Wer 1071 4 Promino De and others Cal H Ct Jan 20 1883 4 O Emp Shankar I I R 13 Bend 184 Ranya Ayyar J L R 20 Mad 311 5 In re Dev J L R 18 Bom 581

(2) Nothing in section 29A or in Chapter  $\lambda\lambda\lambda III$  shall be deemed to apply to proceedings under this section.

This was an exception to the rule formerly laid down in So. 443, 444 which made European British subjects amenable only to Magistrias and Session Judges with certain special qualification. But this distinction, together with practically all of the proxisions which laid down a special procedure in the case of European British subjects, has now disappeared with the enactment of Act All 1 1943 S - 9A hars the jurisdiction of Magistriates of the scena and third class except in pctty cases in which on European British subject claims to be irred as such, and Chapter AVAIII provides a special procedure for certain cases in which European or British Indian subjects are concerned Neither of these special provisions applies to class under S 480

All persors are made hable to summary punshment for contempts of Court commuted by them in the view or presence of a Court A case within S 480 is also excepted by S 487 from the rule that no Criminal Court or Magistrate shall fry any person for an offence setered to in S 192 fail the offences set out in S 480 are referred to in S 195 (i), when such offence is commuted before a Court or Magistrate or in tomerspic of such authority

The Court may cause the offender to be detained in custody, and before the iring of the Court on the same day may take logituance of the offence and punish him as stated in S 480. It is not bound to take logituance of the offence if it considers that detention or custody until the rising of the Court is sufficient punishment, and even after it has taken logituance of the offence, the Court may in its discretion discharge the offender or remit the punishment ordered under S 480 on his submission to the order or requisition of the Court, or on an applicity being made to its satisfaction—(S 484)

The offences set out in 5 480 are under

S 175, Penal Code, which relates to the omission to produce a document before a public servant by a person legally bound to produce such document,

S 176, which relates to the refusal of a person to bind himself by an oath to state the truth when duly required so to bind himself by a public servant,

S 179, which relates to the refusal of a person, legally bound to state the truth, to answer any question put to him by a public servant in the exercise of his legal powers,

S 180, which relates to the refusal of a person to sign a statement made by him on lawful demand of a public servant,

S 228, which relates to an intentional insult or interruption to a public servant sitting in any stage of a judicial proceeding

It is only when any of these effences is committed in the view or presence of a Civil, Criminal or Revenue Court that such Court may proceed summarily under S. 480. If not so committed, a Magistrate may proceed on a complaint of the public servant concerned, r of some public servant to whom he is sub ordinate, ($\frac{1}{2}$ 1051 in which ease a regular trial will be held. A proceeding under S. 482 would be a complaint See S. 4 (h)

In regard to offences under S 175 and S 170 Penal Code, see S 485 which enables a Criminal Court summarily to sentence the offender to simple imprisonment, or to content him to the custody of an officer of the Court for a term not exceeding seven days, unless in the meantime such person consents to produce the document or thing in his possession that he has been required to produce, or to be extrimed and to answer questions put to him, provided that he gives reasonable excuse for his refusal, and if he persists in his refusal him has be proceeded advants under > 480 or $5.48.

I O Fma

Ibid

A village Munsift in the Presidency of Madras is not a Court under this Code (see S 1), and therefore S 480 does not apply to a contempt committed in list view or presence. But he can complain to a Magistrate of the commission of such an offence S 195 (a)

An application for the transfer of a sust from a particular Court on the ground of a probable miscarringe of justice is not a contempt.

Prevarication or refusal by witness to return a direct answer to a question will not render him hable to punishment under this section or under $ 228 Penal Code 2

An irrelevant question put to a witness cannot amount to a contempt under S28 Penal Code, though a persistence in versions or irrelevant questions after warning might amount to a contempt 4

It is the intention of the Legislature that proceedings under S 480 should be applied their and there or at any rate before the rising of the Court in whose view or presence a contempt has been committed which it considers could be properly and adequately 6.-It with under that section. But a postport ment to enable a person in a contempt proceeding to have an opportunity to show cause, though an arregularity, does not make the order allegal. The alleged contempt must be taken expeliance of on the some day.

Where a Court has taken constance under 5 480 of an offence committed in its view or presence, it is bound to record the facts constituting the offence with the statement (if any) by the offender as well as the finding and sentence (S 481). Where no reasons had been recorded, the High Court concluded that there was no good ground for the order of fine and accordingly set it aside. All orders of fine passed under S 480 are appealable to the Court to which decrees and orders made in regard to orders ordinarily appealable (S 480) and special provision is made in regard to orders passed by a Court of Small Causes of a duly empowered Registrar or Sub Registrar S 485 (4). Some record is necessary for such purposes.

If a Court consider that a person who is proceeded against under S 480 cannot be adequately punished with a fine not exceeding two hundred rupes, it imay, after recording the facts constituting the offence and the statement (if any) made by the accused, forward the case to a Magistrate having junsification to try it, requiring the accused to give security for his appearance before such Magistrate, and it sufficient security is not given, it shall form and such person in custody to such Magistrate—[S 482] If a Court against whom an offence specified in S 480 is committed does not proceed under S 480 or S 483 it earnot make the contempt the subject of complaint under S 195 of this Code to a Magistrate T This case was leveled under the Code of 1872. It sents to be contrary to S 463 of that Code which corresponds with S 195 of this Code S for S further provides for the compolant of such Court.

Zases Rer i Pandu bin Vithoji Cr 5

Sch. V (38) contains a form of warrant of commitment in cases of contempt distinct with under S 480 when a fine h is been imposed and has not been paid so as to make the alternative order of impresonment operative

As to the Court's paner to order parament of a fine by instalments and to stay execution of the sentence, see S  $33^{\circ}$

An appeal les gainst any sentence p ssel in ler 5 450 (5 486)

- 481 (1) In every such case the Court shall record the facts

  Record in such constituting the offence with the statement (if and sentence

- (2) If the offence is under section 228 of the Indian Penal Code the record shall show the nature and stage of the judicial proceeding in which the Conti interrupted or insulted was sitting, and the nature of the interruption or insult.

No person should be pure hed for contempt of Court unless the specific offence charged against him le distinctly stated and an opportunity of answering it given lim. Where this lad not been done the order of fine was set as del

An omiss on to comply with this section constitutes a grave defect in procedure and just fies the setting as de of the sentence  $^{\rm 3}$

- 482 (1) If the Court in any case considers that a person accused of any of the offences referred to in Procedure where Court considers that case should not be section 180 and committed in its view or pie sence should be imprisoned otherwise than in dealt with sect on 48n default of payment of fine or that a fine exceed ing two hundred rupers should be imposed upon him or such Court is for any other reason of omnion that the case should not be disposed of under section 180 such Court after recording the frets constituting the offence and the statement of the accused as hereinbefore provided may forward the case to a Magistrate living jurisdiction to tix the same and may require security to be given for the appearance of such accused person before such Magistrate or f sufficient security is not given shall forward such person in custody to such Magistrate
- (2) The Magistrate to whom any case is forwarded under this section shall proceed to here the compliant against the accused person in manner brembefore provided.
- If in a case of this kind dealth II unler S 48, the accused is an European Bortish subject, the restriction configured in S 204 will apply as the exception configured in the last part of S 480. It is not been extended to proceedings under

In re Pollar I I R 2 P C tof Punchanan la Tamb an 4 Mad H C R 20 S re dra Nath Baner ce 10 Cut W N rof (4 C ) (Ct L ) 15 1 Dal p C rown I I R 2 Tuh 308

The line cidently contemplares that the Court in whose view or present one of the offences specified in S. So has been committed shall not be competite to order punishment other than by sentence of fine not exceeding two hundred rupces. S. 187 (2) provides that a Universe to whom a case has been referred under S. 182, if he is rempostered to remmit to the Court of Session or High Court, may commit such a case. As the punishment of such offences cannot exceed imprisonment for more than six months or fine greater than one thousand supers or both, and a Magistrate of the first class can ordinarily influed such punishment (S. 13). A commitment to the Court of Session would apparently an longer arise at might have been necessary under the old section 466 when the iccused was an Puriosean British subject, and the sentence which the Magistrate could press or such in offender was unaccounter.

When the Local Government so durcets, any Registrat when Registrat or any Sub-Registrat appointed under the feedemed a Civil Court within the meaning of tons 48a and 48z section 480 and 482

This section must now be deemed to refer to the Indian Registration Act, 1998, (XVI of 1998) See General Clauses Act 1897, S 8

In Madras' and the United Provinces' District Registrars have been declared to be Civil Courts within the meaning of Ss 480 482

When any Court has under section 480 or section 482

Discharge of offender on submusion or delium to a Magistrate for trial for refusing omitting to do anything which he was lawfully required to do, or for any intentional insult or interruption, the required to do, or for any intentional insult of interruption, the Court may, in its discretion, discharge the offender or remit the numishment on his submission to the order of requisition of such Court, or on apology being made to its satisfaction

This section has now, by the "meadment made in it by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1914, been mide to "nop" to cases dealt with under S 482 as well as under S 480. It is now curiously worded. The Gourt which may discharge the edender is apparently the Court which lorwarded him to a Magistrate for trial, and presumably the effect of the discharge will be to require the Magistrate to stay his proceedings. It would be well if the section were amended to make this clear.

485 If any witness or person called to produce a document or thing before a Criminal Court refuses to answer such guestions as are put to him or to produce any document or thing in his possession or power which the Court requires him to or power which the Court requires him of produce, and does not offer any reasonable excuse for such refueal, such Court may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, sentence him to simple imprisonment, or by warrant under the hand of the presiding Magistrate of Judge commit him to the custody of an officer of the Court, for any term not exceeding seven days, unless in the meantime such person consents to be examined and to answer, or to produce the document of thing. In the event of his persisting in his refusal, he may be dealt with according to the provisions of section 480 or section 482, and, in the case of a Court established by Royal Chriter, shall be deemed guilty of a contempt.

Mad Man p 119 All Gaz 1888 Part 1 p 178

The acts dealt with by S 4b3 are punishable under S 179 or S 175. Penal Code and if committed by a pers in without reasonable excuse they can be summarily punished by a shot turn of simple impresonment unless in the meantime the offender submits, and in the event of his still persisting he can be proceeded against under S 4bo ar S 4S of this Code Both of these offences, is should be noted, are amongst those mentioned in S 4bo. An appeal lies against any sentence passed under S 485—15 485.

Sch V, (39), contains a form of warrant of commitment of a witness refusing

A witness shall not be ex used from answering any question as to any matter relevant to the matter in any civil or criminal proceeding upon the ground that the answer to such question will criminate or may tend, directly or indirectly, to criminate such witness, or that it will expose, or tend directly or indirectly, to expose him to any penalty or forfeiture of any kind? Provided that no such answer, which any witness shall be compelled to give, shall subject him to any arrest or prosecution; for giving false evidence by such answer—Act I of 1872 (Evidence Act), S 132

When a witness is cross examined he may be asked any questions which may tend (1) to test his veracity, (2) to discover who he is and what is his position in life, or (3) to shake his credit by injuring his character, although the answer to such questions might tend directly or indirectly to criminate him or might expose or tend directly or indirectly to expose him to a penalty or

forfeiture, Ibid -S 146

If any such question relates to a matter not relevant to the proceeding, except in so far as it affects the credit of the witness by injuring his character, the Court shall decide whether or not the witness shall be compelled to answer it, and may, if it thinks fit, warn the witness that he is not obliged to answer it, Ibid—S 148 Certain points for the consideration of the Court in exercising such discretion are laid down in this section, and Ss 151, 152 give further power to a Court to forbid indecent or sexualdous questions to be put, except under certain circum stances, also any question intended to insult or anno3, or be needlessly offensive in form

Ss 149 and 150 lay down the course to be taken when any such question as is specified in S 148 is 18ked without reasonable grounds for thinking that the imputation which it comess is well founded.

But there are certain matters which certain witnesses are declared by law to be entitled to withhold -- See Act I of 1872, Ss 121, et seq

486 (1) Any person sentenced by any Court under section Appeals from conthing herembefore contained, appeal to the Court to which decrees or orders made in such Courf are ordinarily appealable.

(2) The provisions of Chapter XXXI shall, so far as they appheable, apply to appeals under this section, and the Appellate Court may alter or reverse the finding, or reduce or reverse the centence appealed against

(3) An appeal from such conviction by a Court of Small Cruses in a presidency-town shall lie to the High Court, and an appeal from such conviction by any other Court of Small Causes shall be to the Court of Session for the sessions division within which such Court is situate

(1) An appeal from such conviction by any officer as Registrar or Sub-Registrar appointed as aforesuld may, when such officer is also Judge of a Civil Court, be made to the Court to which it would, under the preceding pointon of this section, be made if such conviction were a decree by such officer in his capreity as such Judge, and in other cases may be made to the District Judge, or, in the presidency-towns, to the High Court.

Compare S 195 (3) which declares to what Courts appeals ordinarily lie for the purposes of that section Sub-section (4) refers to S 483

487. (1) Except as provided in sections 480 and 485, no Judge of a Cuminal Court or Magistrate, other than a Judge of a High Court shall try any person for any offence referred to in section 195, *ε*σαλ*α*Ε Certain and Magistrates not to try otlences refer red to in section 195 when such offence is committed before himself when committed before themselves or in contempt of his authority, or is brought under his notice as such Judge or Magistrate in the course of a judicial proceeding

(2) Nothing in section 476 or section 482 shall prevent a Magistrate empowered to commit to the Court of Session or High Court from himself committing any ease to such Court.

The words and the Recorder of Rangoon' have been repealed by Act VI of 1900, the Chief Court of Burnin, established by Act VI of 1900, is a High Court within the definition of that term given in S 4 (i) of this Code

The returence to S 477 (now repeated) has also been omitted

The disqualification under S 487 is only personal. The successor in office in a Judge or Magistrate, who may be disqualified, is not debarred from holding the trial 4

By reason of S 487 -- xr ferred in S 195 when su trate can try a person to of that offence so comm ny of the offences re-&c. So no Magisor for the abetment for disobedience of

Anon I I R 1Mal 305 (S.C.) Weir, 1080

Mad H Ct Pic Mirch 21 1873 7 Mad H C R vvii App In 10 Safatooliah 22

N Cr 49 0 1 K Ki darin Singh I I R 1 All 129

Nad H Ct Pro Aov 6 1873 7 Mad H C R xxviii App

CHAP ANAL. DISQUALIFICATION OF JUDGES AND MAGISTRATES, 725 SEC. 487

an order made by him under S 1-4 of this Code,1 nor for an offence regarding which he has given sunction under 5 193 to make a complaint or refused to revoke a sanction given by a subordinate Vagistrate, or inade a complaint after proceedings taken under S 476 iii respect of such an offence. But a Magistrate may hold an inquiry and commit to the Court of Scesion or High Court-487 (2) There are cases to the contrary, but these proceeded on the Code of 2872, the terms of which were differently expressed in this respect. So also a Revenue Officer cannot, in his capacity as a Magistrate, try a person for having given false evidence before him as Collector He cannot try the case on a com plaint made by himself,2 nor for an oftence under S 174, Penal Code, for having neglected to appear before him in obedience to a summons 4. But it has been held by a I ull Bench of the Bombay High Court that the words as such Judge or Magistrate ' must be read with all the three classes of offences referred to in S 487, and a Magistrate is not debarred by law from trying an accused for disobedience of a summons issued by him as a Mamlatdar ($ 174, Penal Code) in a Civil Court though these constructions may lead to a distinction between offences committed before that officer as a Civil Judge and those committed before him as a Magistrate, for which there seems to be no sufficient reason 5. A Pull Bench of the Calcutta High Court has expressed the same view of the law in respect to a trial for an offence under S 195 Penal Code holding that a sanction for the prosecution given by the District Judge, as a Chill Court under S tos of this Code would not prevent the same officer from holding the trial as a Session. Judge 1 The prohibition in S 487 is restricted to a Judge of a Criminal Court, and does not include a Judge of a Civil Court A Sessions Judge is however not disqualified from holding the trial or hearing an appeal arising out of proceedings taken by him urder S 476 But see S 536 and illustration thereto - A as Collector upon consideration of information furnished as a Magistrate to him dire is the prosecution of B for a breach of the Lycise laws A is disqualified from trying the case. A distinction may however be drawn The Collector in this case is regarded as personally interested in the trial, because he is the chief efficer in the Ex ise Department of the district and therefore res ponsible for the administration. It is otherwise in a case of disobedience to a summons issued by a Civil Court where there is no personal interest involved

An order original or appellate granting refusing or revoking a sanction to prosecute under S 195 in a judicial proceeding and therefore a Magistrate who declined to revoke sanction is precluded from trying a case which proceeded cr it So also now a Court rejecting an appeal under S 476B would be precluded

It was held by the Madras High Court (INNES and FORBES JJ KERNAN J dis) that the Sessions Judge before whom the offence of intentionally giving false evidence was committed, could hear the appeal against a sentence passed by a Magistrate on convicti n of that offence on the ground that although he might

i Langadva Balu Kole Bom II Ct. June to 1897 R. v. Abdulla Saheb I. L. R. Mad 262. Luskut Hosini 12 Cat. W. N. 216 (s. c.) 7 Cal. L. J. 70. 10. L. J. 70. The v. Sehadri Ayyangar I. L. R. 20 Mad. 383. See however Ramasory

Lall o Q Emp 1 L R 27 Cal 452 (SC) 4 Cal W N 594

Subha Leg Rem 103 - All 405 See also Q Emp v Seshayya l L R, 13 Mad 24 ard Q Emp v Malhdum I L R 14 All 314

O Emp v Raiji Daji I L R 18 Bom 380 O Emp v Sarat Chundra Rakhit I L R 16 Cal 766 See also Emp v G D Silva I L R 6 Bom . 47 Contra Q Emp v Makhdum I L R 14 All 354 per STRAIGHT J

O Emp v Makhdum I L R 14 All 354 i Imp v Banka Behari Banit, 7 Cal W N 708 Q Emp v Schadri Ayyangar I L R 20 Mad 383

be debried from holding the trad, there was no bar to his hearing the appeal The Calcutta High Court has taken the same view of the faw

A I ull Bench in Cilcuits High Court line held that S 457 does not present I Judge, who, on the civil side of his Court has given sanction under S 195 of this Code, from trying a Judge of the Sessions Court a person charged with that offence *

A similar opinion has been expressed by the Bombay High Court 3

But though there may be no absolute disqualification in law, it is not desirable that such a trial should be hell, and it may be made the ground of application to a High Court, under S 526 for the removal of the trial to another Court

(See 5 550 post as to the disqualification of a Judge or Magistrate from holding a trial or inquiry in any case in which he is personally interested)

So a Mabistrate who passed an order under S 144 of this Code is disqualified from holding the trial of persons charged under S 188 Penal Code with disobeling that order 4

In British Baluchistan any Judge of a Criminal Court or Magistrate may himself try any offence referred t in S 195 committed before himself, or in contempt of his authority, or any offence brought to his notice in the course of A judicial proceeding Res VIII of 1896 Sch Art 16

CHAPTER XXXVI

OF THE MAINTENANCE OF WILLS AND CHILDREN

Several minor amendments have been made in this Chapter by Act VIII of 1923, Ss 131, 132 The amount awardable for maintenance has been increased from fifty to one hundred rupees In sub section (3) of S 468 the words without sufficient cause have been substituted for the words wilfully neglects," and a further provise has been added fixing a period of limitation of one year for the recovery by warrant of arrears due Sub section (7) which enabled the accused to tender lumself as n witness has been omitted, but this makes no alteration in the law is the matter is now provided for in S 340. In section 489

sub section has been added a high sequires a Magistrate to cancel or sary his cider in consequence of any decision of a competent Civil Court Throughout the Chapter the expression 'accused" has been eliminated

(1) If any person having sufficient means neglects or refuses to maintain his wife or his legitimate or Order for mainten illegitimate child unable to maintain itself, ance of wives and children

the District Magistrate, a Presidency Magistrate, a Subdivisional Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class may, upon proof of such neglect or refusal, order such person to make a monthly allowance for the maintenance of his wife or such child, at such monthly rate, not exceeding one hundred rupees in the whole as such Magistrate thinks fit and to pay the same to such person as the Magistrate from time to time directs

&lt;sup>1</sup> Kesavanja W 15 1081

&lt;sup>2</sup> Q Emp t Sarat Chundra Rakhit, I L R 16 Cal 766 See also Emp v G D Silva I L R 6 Bom 479 Contra Q Emp v Makhdum I L R 14 All 354 Per STRAIGHT ]

Emp v D Siha I L R 6 Bom 479 H C R 424 Reg : Parsappa I L R 180m 339

- (2) Such allowance shall be parable from the date of the order or if so ordered from the date of the application for maintenance
- (3) If any person o ordered fails without sufficient cause ender the comply with the order any such Magistrate order the content of the country for every breach of the order assue a warrant for levying the amount due in manner hereinbefore provided for levying fines and in a sentence such person for the whole or any part of each month's allowance remaining impaid after the execution of the warrant to imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month or until payment if sooner made

Provided that if such person offers to maintain his wife on condition of her hving with him and she refuses to live with him such Vagistrate may consider any ground of refusal stated by her and may male an order under this section notwithstanding such offer if he is satisfied that there is just ground for so doing

Provided further that no warrant shall be assued for the recovery of any amount due under this section unless application be made to the Court to levy such amount within a period of one year from the date on which it became due

(4) No wife shall be entitled to receive an allowance from her lineband under this ection if she is living in adultary or if without any sufficient reason she refuses to live with her husband or if they are living separately by mutual consent.

- (5) On proof that any wife in whose favour an order has been inide under this section is living in adultery or that with out sufficient reason she refuses to live with her hisband or that they are living separately by mutual consent the Magistrate shall cancel the order
  - (6) All evidence under this Chapter shall be taken in the presence of the linsband of father as the case may be or when his personal attendance is dispensed with in the presence of his pleader and shall be recorded in the manner prescribed in the case of summons cases

Provided that if the Magistrate is satisfied that he is wilfully avoiding service or wilfully neglects to attend the Court the Magistrate may proceed to hear and determine the case ex parte. Any order so made may be set aside for good cause shewn, on application made within three months from the date thereof

(7) The Court dealing with applications under section shall have power to make such order as to costs as may be mst

(8) Proceedings under this section may be taken against and person in my district where he resides or is, where he list resided with his wife, or as the ease may be the mother of the illegitimate child

If any Vingistrite not being empowered by I'm in that behalf males in order for maintenance his procedings shall be said - $ 530 (n)

Priceedings under $ 488 cumer be conducted is in a summary trial unde. Chapter VII Evidence must be taken as prescribed by $ 355. A new trial was ordered where summary procedure had been adopted t

If a Magistrate s otherwise connected to decide a case of maintenance he is not without jurisdiction because he may not have been empowered to take cognizance of offences without complaint the metter of such complaint not being an offence *

When a Magistrate who is competent to deal with the matter has dismusted an application under S 488 the District Magistrate cannot entertain it and the it de noto. The petitioner's remedy is in a super of Curi. There is no appeal but an order under $ 488 is subject to revision under $ 430 4

Local Jurisdiction of a Magistrate

This is defined 13 sub section (8)

Nature of a maintenance case

There must be (i) neglect or refusal to maintain (a) his wife or (b) his legitimate third (c) his illegut met child (c) his person hiving sufficient means to do so this (d) his illegut met child (c) his person hiving sufficient means to do so This must be regularly proved (n in application for manterinte made to the Majistrike in proceedings citlen thereon and not upon kin whedge acquired by the Magistrate in another case 5 The evidence on which in order for assistance is nassed must have been given on oath .

The word child a eans a person who has not attained the age of majority The attainment of piberty cannot be taken as the age when childhood ceases?

A child that possesses a right to maintenance from its mother's fara less not entitled to an order for maintenance against its father !

The words " unable to maintain itself ' are not confined to physical inabil to but include also pecuniary mability

The law will not treat prostitution as a prefession by which a girl might earth her livelihood, and maintain herself, it is against public policy to do so ?

The fact that a husband aguest whom an order has been made under S 488 is adjudicated an insolvent is conclusive as long as the order of adjudicabon stands that he mable to py arrears due and he is not therefore guilt of wild neglect within the meaning of eath section (3). The alteration in the language of sub-section (4) does not fleet the applicability of this ruling

Nah Dassi v Dugacharan I I R 20 Cal 321 in re Todd 5 N W P H C R 23

Liability to maintain wife.

There must be proof of a valid marriage 1

A husband is bound to muntium Is wafe unless it is proved that she is living in adultery or that without sufficient is soon she refuses to like with him, or that they are separated by mutual concett. He cannot refuse merely because he considers that his wafe's conduct is one to suspicion?

Where a married woman had given birth to an illegitimate child and had for two years subsequently lined a christ em di respectable life with her prents, it was feld that this single act of adultery did not disentitle her to maintenance from her husband. A single act of adultery does not come within subsection (5) or as to forfeit i right to maintenance. The word living in adultery there to a course of conduct rather than to a single lype from vartue. But a Magistrate may rightly refuse mintenance to a Hindu woman who, in consequence of having committed adultery with a man of lower caste, has become outcasted so to to mid et it muse subject for her bush and it has with her

Hindoos.

When a Hindoo girl has always lived in her father's house, her husband count be called upon by a Magastrate to maintain her until it is proved that he had refluxed to remove her to his own house when called upon to do so and that when required to pay for her maintenance be had refused or neglected to do so 8

As n in a just Hamlos family can be referred to maintain his wife as, although not presented of separate property. In most be taken to be able to utilize his juint interests as well for the maintainance of his wife as for his own, when it is necessary to to so?

Amongst Jats 1 l'arrox marringe is valid, and children the offspring of such a marringe are entitled t inherit Consequently a woman so married is entitled to claim muntenance from her husband.

Mahommedans

Although under Mehammed in Itw amongst Shiahs a moota wife is not entitled to municipate, the struttory law under S 488 remains unaltered, and the right may be maintained under 14,3 and 50 is 3 mkah wife entitled, for marriage with a mkoh wife is bigarny 16 and the children of 3 mkah wife are legitimate 18.

A Mugistrite cannot on complaint of the father of a child wife, order the husband to pay maintenance for her support in her father's house unless the husband Fas neglected or refused to muntant her. It is doubtful whether amongst Mahmedans there is any such habitity when she has not attained puberty or whether it is graderial whether the husband is or is not desirous that she should lite in his house 31b.

If the wife has been disorced before the order for munitenance has been made, the Magistrate can order munitenance only for the duration of the Iddat or

<sup>1</sup> In re Gulabdas Bhardas 1 I R 1 Ben 60

1 Soundarayawam Chettu Wer 1005

1 Kallu I L R 76 All 326

1 Patala Atchamma 1 I R 10 Vad 332

2 Fornayee I R 11 Vad 125

2 Fornayee I R 11 Vad 125

2 Fornayee I R 12 Vad 135

3 Fornayee I R 12 Vad 135

4 Fornayee I R 14 Vad 135

4 Fornayee I R 14 Vad 135

5 Fornayee I R 18 Vad 135

6 Fornayee I R 18 Vad 135

7 Vad 1 R 18 Vad 135

6 Fornayee I R 18 Vad 135

<sup>18</sup> N R Cr +1

period of probation. If it be found that she is with child possibly she would be entitled to maintenince during bestation !

Due though there is it be esculusiances which might justily a wife in refusing to the with her thisband, and so entitle her to maintenance and 5 400, there is no similar provision is to children bo, where there are no encomistances to justify a it mig that the father is neglecting to support his chi dich holwinsial on b oner made to manifain them, the Court should loid its hand, as it has no jurisdiction, mercily because the lather refuses to make a separate a towarte to children to live with the mother and apart from him, to make an order that he should maintain them with her. Nor 18 3 Magistrate competent to enter into any inquiry as to the fitness of unbiness of the father to ut as guardian of the children

Neglect or refusal.

This must be proved by legal evidence in the case 8

It may be by words or by conduct, that is, express or implied So if there is evidence of crue by trem which, with other evidence as to surrounding circum stances, the Court on presume neglect, evidence of cruelty cannot be excurred 4

when a wife has refused to live with her hubsand because of his cruelty. and the Ming strate being satisfied as to the ground of her complaint, directed the nusband to make her at a owners, the right court set as de the order as illegal, in ismuch as there had been no neglect or relusal on the part of the Fusingled, such as the law requires to manifain his wife. The Court remarked that 5 486 does not authorize a Manistrate to entertain applications for separate maintenance, on ite ground of itt it catment, made by wives whose husband have not neglected or refused to maintain them, but who have, of their own accord, left their lusband's houses and protection. He cannot order allowance to be paid to such wives on evidence of all treatment &

The inability of a wife to live with her husband without proof of cruelty is no ground for decreeing her a separate maintenance, nor is a mere disagreement with the husband's family, nor an incompatibility of temper and the presence of a second wife * Aithough amongst Aishomedans, noncoverent of prompt dower may be a sufficient reason for the wife to withhold fer person from her husband, it is not sufficient ground for a Magistrate to order the payment of maintenance to her *

A wife is not entitled to maintenance if she and her husband have entered into an agreement which provides that they shall live separately and they are so living separately by mutual consent is

But though the law requires proof of neglect or refusal of a husband with sufficient means to maintain his wife, if, after process issued on an application for maintenance, the husbaid offers to maintain her on condition of her living with him, the Magistrate may consider the grounds of her refusal to accept this offer, and may order maintenance to be paid, notwithstanding such offer,

Colam Moludin Weir 1089

&lt;sup>2</sup> Man Singh 29 Panj Rec 1894 p 64 <sup>3</sup> Lopotce Domnee v Tikha Moodie 8 W R Cr 67 Gonda v Pyari Das 13 W R Cr 19

Maktab Bil i Panj Rec 1880 p 27 10 Tirkamal halidas Bom H Ct Aug 20 1869

CHAP XXXVL SEC 489

of he is satisfied that there is just ground for her refusal-(Sub-section (a) DIAN ISO

Where a bushand and a fe ha consent refer their difference to a banchavet which awards the wife main counce a Magistrate is not barred from entertain ing under S 488 a claim by the wife for the muntenance awarded to her I

As a Hardon is not debarred from marrying a second wife the mere fact that he has due so does not justify the first wife in refusing to live with him or entitle her to senarate maintenance. An offer made hy a Hindon having two wises to maintain his first wife by offound her to live in his house and by supplying her with grain to be cooled and exten separately coupled with a refusal to his with her as husband and wife does not come within the meaning of the provise to S 4882 But this case his been disapproved 4. It was held that the object of S 488 is to recorde maintenance and not to enforce commit duties and that an offer to maintain the moman in his house but not as his wife is not a refusal to maintain her such as would justify a Magistrate's interference. The law does not require that a man should maintain a woman as his wife and therefore an offer to mantan her coupled with a denial of her claim to be his wife is not a refusal within the terms of S 488

Liability to maintain children legitimate or illegitimate.

A child means a person who has not attended the age of majority? A child entitled to maintenance from its mother's taxa hi is not entitled to a mainten ance order against its father . The nords " unable to ma ata a itself ' refer to pecuniary as well as to physical analytics. It must be proved that there has been neglect or refusal by a man with sufficient means to maintain his children

But it on there may be are metances while moth a stify a wife in refusing to live with her hishand and so entitle her to maintenance under S 483 there a no am lar nm ann as to children. So where there are no cire me tances to ustify a finding that the father is neglecting to support his children notwithstanding an offer made to maintain them, the Court should hold its hand as it has no jurish ction morely because the father refuses to make a separate allowance to children to live with the mother and apart from him to make an order that he should maintain them with her. Nor is a Mag strate competent to enter into any indury as to the fitness or unfitness of the father to act as quardian of his children ?

When the mother has renoved ber children without her husband's consent and will not allow them to return to his custody she is not entitled to an order for maintenance in respect of them even through she may have obtained a decree from the Cast Court for separate maintenance for herself on the ground of ill treatment by him *

Where the mother of alegamate children voluntarily received payment of a lump sum of money in core deration of her reneuncing any future claims for mainterant e on their behalf the Magistrate cannot find that there has been any neelect on the nort of the father to maintain them unless there was a valid subsequent agreement in supersession of the former agreement If a claim for maintenance has been privately adjusted by a bond under which certain

<sup>1</sup> Nathun Sonar 4 Pat I J 109 1 Arum 17am 17 Tulukonam I I R 7 Mad 187 (50) Weir 1096 2 Marakkalı Kandapna I L R 6 Mad 371 (50) Weir 1094

<sup>4</sup> In re Gulabdas Bhaidas I I R 16 Born 269 Krist naswami Ayyar I L R 37 Mad 565 Chantan I L R 39 Mad 957

Man Singh 29 Panj Rec 1894 p 64 Nenkatasubbaiyan Weir 1103

Yerukala Weir 1100

1 Bo 17 a monthly payments are to be made the Magistrate emnot pass an order at the terms of the compromise, ad thereby assume the functions of a Chil Court guing sudgment of i character which he has no power to efforce

A prefessional legger is not relieved of the obligation to contribute to the support of his illegitumite clid. If he is comble of labour, and the Magistate is satisfied that the chill is his child the Magistrate should order and enforce the payment of a reasonable sum.

Proceedings in the case.

An order under S 483 is not appealable but an order for the payment of monthly maintenance may be varied on proof of a change in the circumstances of either of the parties (5 489)

Subsection (s) provise gues the Magistrate discretion to pass an order for separare myntheance to a site notwithstanding that her bushand offers of maintain her on condition that the lives with him if he is satisfied that there is not provided for so did not such person is living in adultery or that he has bibutually been to have a wife curely' in the Code of 1885 for the did not such person is living in adultery or that he has bibutually been to have a wife curely' in the Code of 1885 thus giving ample discretion to deal with objections on the part of a wife to hie with her husbrind in considering in object on by 1 wife that her husband is living in adultery usages of the particular community to which the parties belong should be taken into consideration. Amongst Hindus the question would be whether the conduct of the husband is sufficient in the notice of the husband in the size possible and the husband as prepared to receive her the Magistrate may refuse to order separate maintenance.

Where the husband had obtained a decree for restitution of conjugal rights and later so ill treated his wife that the laid to leave him the Magistrate to whom she applied for an order for muntenance under S 488 could not be deemed to be bound indefinitely by the decree of the Civil Court, and was justified in making the order 3

Order which may be passed

The husband or father, as the case may be may be ordered to pay a mon hly allowance not exceeding one hundred rupees in the whole to such person is the Magistrate directs. The order cannot be for payment in kind 4 Ordinarily such allowance shall be payable from the date of the order but the Magistrate may order it to be payable from the date of the application for maintenance. Where the order made maintenance payable from a subsequent date the High Court in revision refused to interfere, because, though technically erroneous it had been prissed by consent of the parties 3. A discretion has been given by S 488 (2) of this Code, in modification of the previous law, to make the maintenance parable from the date of the application to the Magistrate under S 488 This supersed s many cases on the subject. The Magistrate may, if the person so ordered witfully neglects to comply with such order, on every I reac't of it, issue a warrant for levying the imount due. The Magistrate must be satisfied that there has been such wilful neglect before he issues a warrant! The warrant is to be executed as provided for the execution of a warrant for realistion of a fine (Se 3% 387) that is by distress and sale of any moveable property belonging to the person in default. If the whole or any part of the allowance remains unput after execution of the warrant, the Magistrate may sentence such person to imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month or until nament is sooner made. S 488 has been medified by this Code, so that if payment is made during sentence of imprisonment the remaining portion of the sentence must be remitted. Such sentence of imprisonment may he for the whole or any part of each month's aflowance [sub section (3)] Imprisonment annot therefore he ordered in anticipation of a default to pay an allowance ordered under S 488 to tan be ordered only after execution of a warrant and return made that the amount has not been paid or otherwise realised The imprisonment may be either rigorous or simple a [General Clauses Act (\ of 1890), S 3 (26)] The issue of one warrant for the realisa tion of maintenance payable ftr more than one month is not illegal 4 The imprisonment if seried previously did not absolve the person from liability for arrears of maintenance 5

In re Chaku 8 Bom H C R 124 Laranti v Ram Dal I L R 5 All 224

But the law is probably altered in this respect, since S 386 (1) provise lays down that if the whole of the imprisonment in default has been undergone a warrant for recovery shall not usue unless the Court for special reasons to be recorded in writing considers it necessary to issue it. There is however a difference between a fine and an award for munitenance. A fine is imposed as a punishment for an offence and ordinarily if the full term of imprisonment has been undergone in defailt of payment of the fine the offence may be considered to have been expirted. In award of maintenance is not a punishment, the wife or the child is just as much in need of the money when the full term of imprison ment has been undergone by the defaulter and a Court would probably ordinarily hold that there were special reasons for still taking steps to recover the arrears without sufficient cause must be talen in the Evidence of failure presence of the accused, or his pleader, before a warrant can be issued under Sub-section (3) (1) And therefore a Magistrate cannot issue a warrant for realisation of arrears against the estate of the person against whom the order was made when that person his died. No warrant shall be a sued for the recovery of arrears unless application is made within one year from the date on which the arrears became due (Sub-section (3) second proviso)

Sch V (41) contains a form of warrant to enforce payment of maintenance by distress and sale, and Sch V (40) of a warrant for imprisonment on failure to pay maintenance It is to be borne in mind that S 386 has been amended and that a fine can now he realised by proceeding through the Collector against the immoveable

property of the defaulter

<sup>1</sup> Nepoor Aurut : Jurat 19 W R Cr 73 In re Abdul Ali Ishmailji I L R 7 Bom

<sup>3</sup> Golam Mohidin Weir 1089

In re Kassam Pirbhai 8 Bom H C R 95 In re Abdul Ali Ishmailji I L R 7 Bom 180 Abdur Rohoman v Sakhma I L R 5 Cal 558 (5 C) 5 Cal L R 21 Zebunnissa v Mendu Khan All W N 1885 p 20

Ead Ali t Lal Bibi I L R 41 Cal 88 (sc) 17 Cal W N 1230

Modification of an order for maintenance

After an order of muntenance has been passed the Magistrate may either increase the allowance up to the emount of one hundred rupees per morth of he may reduce it in proof of a change in the circumstances of the parties either receiving or ordered to pay it 15 2 48) and note). But such an order can be passed only by the Wagnetrate who passed the original order for manera ince or by his successor in fice?

After an order for maintenance had been passed the parties entered into an agreement in medification thereof but netwithstanding this the woman applied to enforce the order. As the parts against whom that order had been passed had not applied to modify it it was held if it the Magistrate was not competent under 5 480 to refuse to enfire his presious order !

S 489 (2) new requires a Magistrate to vary his order in accordance with a subsequent decree of a Civil Court This to a large extent gives effect to the law laid down by the Courts but it renders some of the following rulings obsolete. So when after an order for maintenance land been passed the husband sued for restitution of conjugal rights and a counter decree was passed ordering him to pry maintenance in a certain sum and to provide his wife with a house to live in it was held that this decree superseded the maintenance order under S 488 *

A Civil Court is not competent to set wide an order for maintenance passed by a Magistrate. But when a Civil Court found that relationship of husband and wife no longer exists the per on ordered by a Magistrate to pay mainten ance to his wife could ask the Megistrate to abstain from giving effect to that order 3 It was held that the order of a Civil Court regarding the paternity of a child had no effect on the order of a Magnetrate making the putative father, whom the Civil Court may have exonerated, hable for maintenance

But it was later held that on obtaining a Civil Court decree that a child is not his illegitimate child a person is entitled to ask the Magistrate to cancel his order for maintenance, or at least not to give effect to it 1

But an order of a Civil Court for the restitution of conjugal rights and the guardianship of children will supersede the previous order of a Magistrate for muntenance if the wife should persist in relucing to live with her husband in compliance with such order 6

And where a husband obtained a decree for restitution of conjugal rights which was never executed the wife could not subsequently come under S 489 and ask the Vagistrate to enhance the amount awarded by the order under S 488 which had been put an end to by the Civil Court decree though the hisband had continued to pay the amount awarded? One case has been decided since the amendment of $ 489 and it was held that, where the husband had obtained a decree for the restitution of conjugal rights and subsequently so ill treated his wife that she had to leave him a Magistrate to whom she applied for an order under S 488 could properly make that order, and could not be bound indifinitely by the Civil Court decree . This case did not came under S 489 (2) which must refer to a Civil Court decision subsequent to the order under 5 488

Mahbuban v Fakir Bakhsh I I R rs All 143 (se) \lambda N \lambda 1593 p 63

Nur Mahomed I L R 27 All 483 * * R 14 Ca? ~76 (~08) Weir 1087 Cr 58

R Cr 52 In re Bulakidas I L R 23 Bom 484 In re Chandual Ranchhod I L R 43 Bom 885

Rajpati v Deoli I L R 46 All 777

CHAP. VXXVI

It is open to a husband, who has been ordered to pay maintenance, to prove after such order that his wife is hving in adulters, and, upon such proof, the

Magistrate may cancel it

Where the husband and wife are Mahommedans, the husband can divorce his write before an order of maintenance is passed and so get rehelf from such liability, except for any period before such divorce. But he will still be hable to maintain her during iddat, or the period of probation, and if it be found that she is with child she would be entitled it maintenance during gestation,<sup>2</sup> and after an order of maintenance has been passed, on proof of a valid divorce, the Magistrate ought not to execute his order, being functus officios 4 with the cessation of corjugal relations the responsibilities thereof cease. When application is made for a warrant to reake arrear of maintenance the Magistrate is competent to stay his hand and to try all questions affecting the right of the woman to receive it.

The judgments if the Allahabad High Court on this subject have been contradictory. In one case, the Magistrate was directed to inquire as to the date of the diverce and to realise maintenance accordingly. But this case has been dissented from by Khon, if who held that a person in whose favour an order for maintenance was bassed as entitled to require the Magistrate of the place, in which the person on whom it was made is or resides to enforce it, and the Magistrate is bound to do so in being satisfied in the mainer set out in S. 490. He is no power under the Code to stay execution of such order after being so satisfied, in to intertain and consider such an objection. This case was, however, overruled and it has been held that the Magistrate is bound to consider such an objection, and, if he finds that it is established it is his duty to decline to enforce the order liter any period subsequent to the date on which the marriage ceased to subsist between the parties but that this period will be only at the expression of the sadat.

No appeal lies under clause 15 of the Letters Patent against an order of a single Judge of the High Court dismissing a criminal revision petition filed against an trder of a Joint Magistrate passed under S 468.

- Attention in al person receiving under section 488 a monthly lowance allowance, or ordered under the same section to pay a monthly allowance to his wife or child, the Magistrate may make such illeration in the allowance as he thinks fit Provided that if he increases the allowance the monthly rate of one hundred rupees in the whole be not exceeded
- (2) Where it appears to the Magistrate that, in consequence on decision of a competent Civil Court, any order made under section 488 should be cancelled or varied, he shall cancel the order or, as the case may be, vary the same accordingly

&lt;sup>1</sup> In re Chaku 8 Bom. H. C. R. 124 Larauttı. Ram Dial 1 L. R. 5 Alt. 224 <sup>2</sup> Nepor Aurut v. Jura. 19 W. R. Cr. 73 In re Abdul Ab Ishmadii. I L. R. 7 Bom. 160 <sup>3</sup> Colam Vohidin. Wert 1089

In re hassam I irbhai 8 Hom II C R 95 In re Abdut Ali Ishmailii I L R 7

Bom 180

A thinge of circumstances under S 480 may be the result of a dictre mongst Mahi melons, to the fact that the wife who has obtained an order to maintenance is hing, in adultry 18, 48 (61), or a change in the pecunistry of other circumstances of the terson projent or receiving the allowance which would justify an increase of the amount of menthal allowance ordered to the that the child to be maintened has grown older, also the death of the child or the birth of another child.

No altermon in in allowance should be made, because the woman in whose future it has been made has been able to earn something towards her own support.

The existing order min be modified under $ 4b) on proof of a change of circumstances, but so long 3s that order remains in force it must earry with it is proper classiquences. An afternion in an allimance ordered can only be prospective and cannot affect recars.

A Magistrate may under S 489 after the rate of maintenance ordered, but he cannot pass an order for muntenance at a progressively increasing rate?

Notwithstunding an agreement between the parties after an order passed for maintenance which had been carried out the woman applied to enforce the order. It was held that the Magnatrate was not competent to reconsider his ocider except on application by the parts against whom it had been made and that as it is such application that been raised the original order must be influered. But where in a suit brught his the husband for restitution of conjugit rights after to his his been ardived. It a Vagistrate to maintain her, the parties came to terms the husband agreeing to pay a certain monthly sum for her maintenance and to provide a finuse for her to live in and a consent decree was passed to that effect it was held that the decree superseded the order under 5 488.

There have been several minings on the question as to what effect a Child Court decree may have an a maintenance order previously passed. These will be found in the note to S 488. The matter is new settled by the insertion of sub-section (2) in $180, it is no be noted that it is obligatory on the Magistrate to vary or cancel his order in conform by with the Child Court's decision.

490 A copy of the order of munitenance shall be given without pryment to the person in whose favour order of maintenance it is made, or to the guardian, if any, or to the person to whom the allowance is to be paid, and such order may be enforced by any Magistrate in any place where the person against whom it is made may be, on such Magistrate heing entistied as to the identity of the parties and the non-payment of the allowance due

A copy of an order of muntenance when given under $ 490 to the person

Nepoor Aurut i Jurai to B L R 33 App (se) to W R Cr 73

Lorvatham vici, 1100 Upendra Nath Dhalv Sondamini I L R 12 Cal 533

Prabhu Lalz Rami I L R 25 AH 165
 Nur Muhammad v Ayesha Bib I I R 27 AH 483 Sec also In re Bulakida*
 L R 23 Bom 484 Lutpotec Doomony v Tikha doodon 13 W R Cr 52

IVXXX TARO Sec. 490

in whose favour the order is made, or to his guardian (if any), or to the person to whom the alloy ance is to be paid, has been exempted from Court fee 1

Under rules passed by the Calcutta High Court under the Court fees Act S 20, cl 11, a fee of one rupee has been fixed for serving and executing a warrant for the less of maintenance of a sufe or child, and also a percentage on the amount of maintenance levied, res two per cent on sums not exceeding Rs 100, and when the sum exceeds Rs 100, then two per cent on Rs 100 and one per cent on the amount of excess Such percentage is to be deducted from the proceeds of any property so'd, or to be paid with the amount levied, and with the other costs of process as stated in the warrant.

An order for maintenance may be enforced by the issue of a warrant for levying the amount due in manner hereinhefore provided for levying fines [S 488 (3)], that is under S 3% by attachment and sale of any moveable property or by execution against the moveable or immoveable property belonging to the person against whom the order has been made $ 387 further declares that such warrant may be executed within the limits of the juriediction of the Court which issued it, and it shall authorise the attachment and sale of any such property without such limits when endorsed by the District Virgistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate wi hin the Local limits of whose jurisdiction such property This is made applicable to the enforcement of an order of mainten ance by S 488 (3) It is not elear whether the terms of the latter part of S 490 would not limit execution of a warrant to property in any place where the person against whom it is mide may be Probably it would not be so held, as the effect of this right he to enable an exacion of the order with result also that the person would be imprisoned for non-payment

A separate warrant should issue for each separate breach of an order for maintenance. but the levy by one warrant of arrears of maintenance for several months is not legal 4

Where arrears of mountanance had been included in a schedule filed under the Insolvent Act, it was held that the insolvent was thereby protected from arrest or impresonment in respect of it, and the Magistrate's order of imprison ment for default was quashed's

If after execution of the warrant, the v hole or any portion of each month's allowance remains unpaid the Magistrate may sentence the person on default to imprisonment (rigorous or simple) which may extend to one month or until payment if sooner made- $ 488 (a)

It would seem from the terms of S 490 that any Magistrate having juris diction in the place in waich the person against whom it is made may execute such a warrant notwith anding the terms of S 387, if the warrant is being executed beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court executing it. It would be safer in such a case to obtain the endorsement of the District Magistrate ir Chief Presidency Magistrate having jurisdiction over that place but no distress under the Code shall be deemed unlawful nor shall any person making it he deemed a trespasser on account of any defect or want of form in the writ of distress or other proceeding relating thereto (S 538)

<sup>1</sup> Gaz Ind 1986 Part I p 506 Cal H Ct Rules &c p 59 Mad Rules &c No

<sup>25 7(4)

**</sup>Cal Gaz 1874 p 478 21 W R Rules & 12

**Q Emp v Naram I L R 9 All 249

**6 Mad H C R App xxxxxx [sc] Weir 1084 7 Mad H C R App xxxxxx [sc]

Tookee Bibee v Abdool Khan I L R 5 Cal 536 (sc) 5 Cal L R 458 Halfhide v Halfhide I L R 50 Cal 867

CHAPTER XXXVII

DIRECTIONS OF THE NATURE OF A HABE IS CORPUS

491 (1) Any High Court may, whenever it thinks fit

Power to issue directions of the nature

(a) that a person within the limits of its appellate criminal jurisdiction be brought up before the Court to be dealt with according to law.

(b) that a person illegally or improperly detained in public or private custody within such limits be set at or private custody within such limits he set at liberty,

- (c) that a prisoner detained in any fail situate within such hmits be brought before the Court to be there examined as a witness in any matter pending or to be inquired into in such Court,
- (d) that a prisonel detained as aforesaid be brought before a Court-martial or any Commissioner netting under the authority of any commission from the Governor-General in Council for trial or to be examined touching any matter penning before such Court-martial or Commissioners respectively;
- (e) that a presoner within such limits be removed from one custody to another for the purpose of trial, and
- (f) that the body of a defendant within such limits be brought in on the Sheriff's return of ceps corpus to a writ of attachment
- (2) The High Court may, from time to time, frame rules to regulate the procedure in eases under this section
- (3) Nothing in this section applies to persons detained under the Bengil State Prisoners Regulation, 1818, Madias Regulation II of 1819, or Bombay Regulation XXV of 1827, or the State Prisoners Act, 1850, or the State Prisoners Act, 1858

This section formerly related only to persons within the limits of the order or original civil jurisdiction of the High Courts of Calcutta, Madras and Bonhay, that is, within a presidence from as defined by this Code

This section has I cent amended in two respects by Act No XII of 1931 in the here gives the gowers conferred by it are exerciseable by "any" in the house for the defination of which expression see S (4) (1) (1) in the second place the limits of the High Court's fursidation under the section were diversely according to given could be not the week.

second

appellate criminal juriediction. These limits are of course much wider, indeed the first amendment would in some cases have been inoperative without the

Under the Code prior to its amendment in 1923 European British subjects were able to obtain remedies in the nature of Habeas Corpus which were more extensive than those available for finding British subjects. Under S 456 which has now been repealed, an European British subject unlawfully detained in custodi could apply for an order to be brought before the High Court, and this privilege was not confined to the Presidency Towns So far as British India is concerned S age now equalises the privileges of both communities. The only difference is that contained in S 401A which enables the Governor General in Council to empower High Courts to exercise Habeas Corpus jurisdiction in the case of European British subjects in specified territories outside the limits of their appellate criminal jurisdiction. This is a re-enactment of S 458 of the Code as it stood prior to 1923 it enables powers to be exercised in India outside British India It is to be noticed that whereas it was formerly only the Chartered High Courts which could exercise any powers at all in proceedings against European British subjects such powers are now exerciseable also by the Chief Court of Oudh and the Courts of the Judicial Commissioners of the Central Provinces and Sind

For difinitions of "India" and "British India" See General Clauses Act of 1807 S 3 Clauses (27) and (2) respectively

Where the applicant was in receipt of only eight annas as monthly wages, and had for eight years, entirely neglected the support of her child, who had been brought up and educated at Zennan Misson School the High Court refused to give her the custody of the gril aged fifteen years on the ground that it was not made bona fide and that if acceded to it would be most detrimental to the welfare of the girl?

Where the father and mother of a girl unable to maintain and support her, made her over to persons having reason to believe that they would freat her kindly and affectionately and intending that she should become and remain a member of their family the Court will not restore her to her parents, unless it can be shown that the welfare of the girl demands the exercise of parental control which has been so abandoned?

An order passed by a single Judge of the High Court refusing an application under S 401 is appealable 2

491A Any High Court established by letters patent may exercise the powers conferred by section 191 in outside the limits of appellate jurisdation such territories other than those within the limits of its appellate criminal jurisdation as the Governor General in Council may direct

This section was introduced by Act No XII of 1923 S 31 See note to S 491

<sup>1</sup> In re Saithri I L R 16 Bom 307 In re Ganesh Sundar Debi 15 B I R 419
1 In re Joshi Assam I L R 23 Cal 290

In re Horace I vall I L R 23 Cal 286 (s c ) 6 Cal W N 254

PART IX.

SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

OF THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR.

In every trial before a Court of Session the prosecution shall be conducted by a Public Prosecutor—S 270

- 492. (1) The Governor General in Council or the Local Public Prosecutors case, or for any specified class of cases, in any local area, one or more officers to be called Public Prosecutors.
- (2) The District Magistrate, or, subject to the control of the District Magistrate, the Sub-divisional Magistrate, may, in the absence of the Public Proscentor, or where no Public Proscentor has been appointed, appoint any other person, not being an officer of police below such rank as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, to be Public Prosecutor for the purpose of any case.

"Public Prosecutor" means any person appointed under S 492, and includes any person aeting under the directions of a Public Protecutor, and any person conducting a prosecution on behalf of His Majesty in any High Court in the exercise of its ringinal criminal jurisdiction—S. 4 (i) (i).

Sub-section (2) has been,amended so as to enable the District Magistrate, or, subpect to his control, or Sub-Divisional Magistrate, to appoint any person, not being a police-offier below such rank as the Local Government may prescribe, to act as a Public Procedutor, in the absence of that officer, in any case, and not merely in the Sessions Court only The necessity for such action may equally well arise in other instances. For orders by local Governments under sub-section. (1), reference should be made to the various provincial Manuals of Rules and Orders

Where a Public Prosecutor had been appointed and the Local Government directed another officer to present an appeal the latter was not competent to do so under S 417 if he was not also appointed a Public Prosecutor under S. 421.

A Magistrate should not be appointed by the District Magistrate to act as Public Prosecutor in an inquiry or trial in which he has a personal interest, such as a Public Prosecutor should not have For this reason the Bonnax High Court' condemned the appointment of a Magistrate as Public Prosecutor in a inquiry held under his order in consequence of an allegation made that the confessions on the trial held by the Magistrate were the result of improper conduct of the Police See note to S 493, africe, regarding the duties of the Public Prosecutor.

Deputy Legal Remembrancer Bengat I L R 41 Cal 426
 Reg v Kashnath Dinkar, 8 Bom H C R Cr, 125

493 The Public Prosecutor in appear and plead without public Prosecutor may plead an all Courts and which are sease under his charge Pleaders privately instructed to be under in direction which in the prosecution and, if any privately instructed to be under indirection in any Court any person in any such case, the Public Prosecutor shall conduct the prosecution, and the pleader so instructed shall act therein under his directions.

Under the definition of 'Public Prosecutor' in S 4 (1) (1), a pleader acting under the instructions of the Public Prosecutor appointed under S 492 is also a Public Prosecutor.

The rights of the Public Prosecutor thus conferred are restricted to an inquiry, trial, or appeal S 440 makes it discretional with a Court exercising powers of revision to hear a party or his plender, except in a case in which it is contemplated to make an order to the prejudice of an accused person—S 439 (2)

Pleader' used with reference to any proceeding in any Court means a pleader or a mikhitar authorized under any law for the time being in force to practise in such Court, and includes (i) en advocate, a vakil, and an attorney of a High Court sia authorized, (2) any other person appointed with the permission of the Court to act in such proceeding—S 4 (1).

The Public procuror may avail humself of the assistance of Counsel returned by a provate individual In so availing himself of the Counself's services the Public Prosecutor by no means deprives himself of the management of the case The two may together work in harmony, if they do not, Counsel may return and the Prose-utor may claim to keep the further conduct of the case solely to himself'?

S 270 declares that in any trial before a Court of Session the prosecution shall be conducted by a Public Prosecutor

Duties of a Public Presecutor.

The Bonday High Court has thus described these duties -

The Counsel for the presecution has most accurately conceived his duty which is to be assistant to the Court in the furtherance of justice, and not to act as Counsel for any particular person or party. He should not by statement aggravate the case against the prisoners, or keep back a witness because his evidence may weaker the case for the prosecution. His only object should be to rid the Court in discovering truth. A Public Prosecutor should aword any proceedings likely to intimidate or unduly influence witnesses on either side. There should be on his part no unseemly eagerness for our grasping at conviction.

The Calcutta High Court has similarly expressed itself -

The only legitimate object of a prosecution is to secure not a conviction but that justice be done. The prosecutor is not, therefore free to choose how much evidence he will bring before the Court. He is bound to produce all the evidence in his power bearing upon the change. It is prima face his duty accordingly to call those winters is who, from their connection with the transactions in question, must be able to give irroritant information. The only thing that can relieve the prosecution from ceiling such winterses is the reasonable belief that, if called, they would not speak the truth. If such witnesses are not called without sufficient reason being shown (and the fact of their being summ ned for ite defence seems to us by no means sufficient reason) the Court may properly draw an inference adverse to the prosecution.

&lt;sup>1</sup> In re Narayan Pendshe II Bom H C R 120 <sup>1</sup> Reg t Kashinath D nkar 8 Bom H C R 126 (see p 153)

There is no corresponding obligation upon the necessed. He is merely on the defensive, and owes no duty to any one but himself. He is at liberty, six the whole or any part of the case against him, to sely on the witnesses of the case for the prosecution, or to call witnesses, or to meet the charge in any other way he chooses. And no inference unfavourable to him can properly be draw because he tall es one course rather than another. In the present case, these conderation appeal with peculiar force. If the witnesses referred to by the leaned Judge are thought to the prosecution to be trustworthy men the prosecution as bound to call them. If they are thought not to be so it seems to us to be specially unreasonable to reproach the accused without calling them?

All persons who are alleged or are known, to have knowledge of the facts of the fac

If a witness is not called for the prosecution the prisoner is not entitled to have him tendered for cross examination. It is unnecessary to refer to all the cases in the Allahabad High Court decided by Division Benches because these as well as all the other cross on the subject were considered by a Pull Beyon of that Court in the following judgment.—

"We can find nething in the Code of Criminal Procedure which Imposes an obligation on a Public Presecutor to call all the vintiesses entered in the calendar as witnesses for the recovention in a sessions trial. The question of a private protection does not represent the code of Crisinal Procedure a Public Prosecutor is the person to represent the Code of Crisinal Procedure a Public Prosecutor is the person to represent the Code of Crisinal Procedure a Public Prosecutor is the person to represent the Code of Crisinal Procedure a Public Prosecutor is the person to represent the Code of Crisinal Procedure and the conduction of the conduction of the conduction of the public Prosecutor conducting the case for the return and the calendar as witnesses for the Crown. It appears obvious to the calendar as witnesses for the Crown It appears obvious to the calendar as witnesses for the Crown It appears obvious to the calendar as witnesses for the Crown It appears obvious to the calendar as witnesses for the Crown It appears obvious to the companies of the Crown Crown Crown the Crown and the country to call or put into the witness box for cross examination a witness whom he believes to be a false or an unnecessary witness. The rule in Fingland is made perfectly plain from the decision of Alderson B 8. That learned the compelled to call a witness who is likely to speak falsely. Referring to such witnesses the said —

'For instance if they were called by the prosecutor, it might be contended that he ought not to give evidence to show them unworthy of credit however falsely the witness might have deposed?"

"That ruling of Aldprison B who was a very great Judge is supported by a ruling of PARKE B 7 who there followed a ruling of Long Castregit C J riter consultation with Capesawert J These Judges to whom we have referred were all eminent Judges of the Eng shy Bench

'It is the duty of a Public Prosecutor to conduct the case for the Crown fairly. His object should be not to obtain an unrighteous conviction but as representing the Crown to see that justice is vandicated and in exercising figure to the witnesses whom he should be readed not call he should be the

In to Dhunno has I I R & Cal, I I (sc) to Cal I R 151

O I'mp i Ram Siha I L R 10 Cil 1070 O I'mp i Bankhandi I L R 15 All 6

Reg : Tattechand Vastachand 5 Bom H C R 85 Emp v Kaliprosonno Does I

in mind In our opinion, a Public Prosecutor should not refuse to call or put into the witness-box for cross-examination a truthful witness returned in the calendar as a witness for the Crown, merely because the evidence of such witness might in some respects be favourable to the defence If a Public Prosecutor is of opinion that a witness is a false witness, or is ilkely to give false testimony if put into the witness box, he is not bound, in our opinion, to call that witness or to tender him for cross-examination. In cases in which a prisoner is undefended in a Sessions trial, the presiding Judge should, in our opinion, look at the deposition of any witness appearing in the calendar as a witness for the Crown, and not called un behalf of the Crown or tendered for cross examination, in order to ascertain whether he should not himself take action under S 540 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. All witnesses returned in the calendar as witnesses for the Crown are, whether they are called or not by the Crown, bound to be in attendance until the conclusion of the trial, unless they are bound to be in attendance until the conclusion of the 11st, unless they are released from attendance by order of the Court, and, before releasing them from attendance, the Court should satisfy himself that their evidence will not be required either by the prosecution or by the defence. We have used the term Public Prosecutor in the sense in which it is defined. (S 4)

Copies of all documents which a Pubile Prosecutor may require to take in connection with any trial or investigation on the part of Government, or which may be furnished to him under orders of a Criminal Court or Magistrate, have been exempted from Court fees 2

Any Public Prosecutor may, with the consent of the of the verdict, and in other cases before the drawal from prosecu judgment is pronounced, withdraw from the prosecution of any person cither generally or in respect of any one or more of the offences for which he is tried, and, upon such withdrawal.-(a) if it is made before a charge has been framed, the accused shall be discharged in respect of such offence or offences.

(b) if it is made after a charge has been framed, or when under this Code no charge is required, he shall be acquitted in respect of such offence or offences

This section has been amended in two respects by Act No XVIII of 1023 S 134 The power to withdraw from a prosecution is now vested in all Public Prosecutors and not merely in those appointed under S 492 (1) Secondly it is made clear that a Public Prosecutor can withdraw from the prosecution "either generally or in respect of any one or more of the offences ' for which the accused is tried. It had been previously held that a Public Prosecutor could under S 494 withdraw only all the charges under trial he was not competent to withdraw only one of the charges, and that the High Court on appeal against a conviction on the other charge is competent to order the trial of the charge so withdrawn?

This section marks the distinction between proceedings in which an acquittel or conviction must be ordered, and those in which the termination is not free! so as to operate as a bar to subsequent proceedings

In a trial before the High Court when it appears at any time Lifter the commencement of the trial of the person charged that any charge if all

Cost but Note Jan at 1886 Cal H Ct Rules to 6 71, Afiluddi 2 Cal L J 15 m

of it is clearly unsustainable, the Judge may make on the charge an entry to that effect Such entry shall have the effect of strying proceedings upon the charge, or portion of the charge as the case may be-S 273 But this does not amount to an acquittal in bar of subsequent proceedings See S 403 Explin

When more charges than one are made against the same person, and when a conviction line been lind on one or more of them, the complainant, or the officer conducting the prosecution may, with the consent of the Court, withdraw the remaining charge or charges, or the Court of its own accord may stay the inquiry into, or trial of, such charge or charges Such withdrawal shall have the effect of an acquittal on such charge or charges, unless the conviction be set aside, in which case the said Court (subject to the order of the Court setting aside the consiction) may proceed with the inquiry into or trial of the charge or charges so withdrawn -S 240

A person committed to the Court of Session cannot be discharged under S 494 He can only be acquitted If a commitment is bad in law, it should be referred to the High Court so as to be quashed but if the prosecution be withdrawn, there must be an acquittal 1. This would necessarily be subject to S 273 as explained by S 403, Expln

S 494 applies both to a Public Prosecutor appointed by Government under S 492, and to one appointed by a Magistrate under S 492 (2) for a particular case There has been an amendment of the law in this respect which renders former cases obsolete 5

And S 495 (2) as enacted by this Code gives a person, who is permitted under sub section (1) to conduct a prosecution, the same power of withdrawal as is given in S 494 S 240 permits the officer conducting the prosecution, with the consent of the Court on the conviction of the accused on one or more of the charges against him to withdraw the remaining charge or charges

A prosecution can also be abandoned when the offence has been lawfully compounded (See S 345 which declares what offences may be compounded by the parties, and what offences can be compounded only with the permission of tha Court) A composition within S 345 has the effect of an acquittal -S 345 (6)

If a summons ease has been instituted otherwise than upon complaint, a Presidency Magistrate a Magistrate of the first class or, with the previous sanction of the District Magistrate, any other Magistrate may, for reasons to be recorded by him, stop the proceedings at any stage without pronouncing any judgment either of acquittal or of conviction, and may thereupon release the accused ($ 249), and that does not operate as an acquittal in bar of proceedings subsequently taken -S 403 Expln

An necused person is, after withdrawal under S 494 and discharge, a competent witness <sup>3</sup> But this would now be so only after a complete withdrawal

The Court in which the prosecution is withdrawn under S 404 should be careful in recording the order of discharge or acquittal resulting from it so that its proceedings should be complete as it may be necessary to examine the person so discharged or requitted as a witness against others. So when this had been omitted it has been held that the particular person could not be examined as a witness under a conditional pardon (S 337) and his evidence was rejected as inadmissible 4 (From this judgment it might be contended that this person was not discharged or acquitted and would still be liable to be prosecuted-a result apparently not contemplated). But in another case it has been bill the enwithstanding the inidiertent admission to record a formal color of Zathere. the accomplice ceased to be on trial as soon as the prosecution accomplice withdrawn and that being so he became a competent witness !

<sup>1</sup> Q Emp v Sivarama I L R 12 Mad 35 Ramakrishna Nadan Weir 1109 Q Emp & Madho I L R 8 \11 291 Fert BENCH

* Kasem Ahı Emp I L R 47 Cal 154 * Banu Sogh I L R 33 Cal 1353 (SC) 10 Cal W N 962 Sce also Hammanta I L R 1 Bom 610 Asgar Ali I L R 2 All 250

In a cognizable case a private prosecutor has no locus stands. "The Co-is the prosecutor and the custodian of the public peace, and if it down to an offender go no other aggresed party can be heard to client on the second that he was not taken his full toll of of private vengeance "?

Where a Sub-divisional Magistrate permitted the complanter to men s. own value, the defence, after a charge had been framed, applied the livery trate asking that the case against them might be withdrawn of On this application being forwarded to the District Magistrate the large splent the Prosecuting Inspector, who up till then had had nothing to the case, to enter a withdrawal It was held that the action of the Dress ! ( rese was ultra vires and must be set aside 2

Neither an order of discharge not of acquittal can properly to a second acquittal where the accused have not been called upon to appear at a. So sign. police withdrew a preliminary charge sheet under S 107 of that City With a parties had been ordered to appear, this was no bar to provide it is a selfcharge sheet against some of the same persons, though the years, endorsed on the first charge sheet that the accused were acc.

In one Madras case Wallis C ) , held, in a case land left of the same In one startes core that withdrawn from the greater and that where a Public Prosecutor and withdrawn from the greater and and the startest and the starte summons-case before the accused had been served and the zero way way under S 404, further proceedings were barred whether the second under S 404 for the proceedings were barred whether the second under to have been tried or not. This point had been rained under the second state of the second under the second state of the second state further discussion of this case and other cases on the same year are one

With the consent of the Court.

An order giving consent to a withdrawal under S 434 n 2 7 mg. An order giving control to the High Court on territor and a figure should set our reasons to determine whether the lower Court has everysed its control of the court has been at the court had been at on the other hand the Patna High Court has held that on the other hand the rather stage when the stage of the reference a Court to record its reasons for concenting to the reference a family of the restrict of t a Court to record its reasons to successful of the process and where the Court has not, on the face of the process and where the Court will not interfer a control of the control of the court will not interfer a control of the court will not interfer a control of the control of t cretion arbitrarily, the High Court will not interfere in the

Where in a case under Ss 344 and 366, Penal Con-Where it a case under to assert on the growth of the withdraw from the prosecution on the growth of the Sessions Iudge should strafe. sought to withdraw from the processing Judge should south dence of use of force, the sessions some community of the examining the commitment record before going Is. examining the commitment record from face enders at

(1) Any Magistrate inquiring

may permit the prosper Permission to con any person other than any person other than any duct prosecution a rank to be prescribed by the Local

<sup>2</sup> Sherati Sheikh 18 Cal W N 2 23

• Gulh Bhagat I L R • Pat 708

Ram Gobind Singh I I R 46 All Ed In re Muthia Moopin I L R 36 Mad 31e Dudekula Lal Sahib I I R, 40 Mad 9.

Rajani Kanta Shah t L Gulli Bhagat I L R 2

but no person, other than the Advocate General, Standing Counsel, Government Solicitor, Public Prosecutor or other officer generally or specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf shall be entitled to do so without such permission

- (2) Any such officer shall have the like power of withdraw ing from the prosecution as is provided by section 494, and the provisions of that section shall apply to any withdrawal by such officer.
- (3) Any person conducting the prosecution may do so personally or by a pleader
- (4) An officer of Police shall not be permitted to conduct the prosecution if he has taken any part in the investigation into the offence with respect to which the accused is being prosecuted
- In UPPER HURMA (not including the Shan States), notwithstanding anything in S 495, a Court may allow any police-officer to conduct a prosecution -Reg 1 of 1925, Sch A

$ 495, it should be noted, is limited in its operation to inquiries and trials held by Magistrates It does not apply to security proceedings

S 145 of the Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890) declares that the Manager of a Railway administered by Government or a Native State and the agent of a Railway administered by a Railway Company may, by instrument in writing authorize any Railway servant or other person to act for and represent him in any proceeding before any Civil, Criminal or other Court, and that any person so authorized shall, notwithstanding 5 495 of the Code, be permitted to conduct such prosecution without the permission of the Magistrate

S 495 leaves it open to the Local Government (the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council is no longer necessary, see the devolution Act. 1920) to declare the rank below which no police officer can be permitted by the Magistrate to conduct the prosecution in any inquiry or trial before him, subject to such orders any person can be permitted to conduct a prosecution. The District Magistrate or, subject to his control, a Sub-divisional Magistrate may appoint any person to be a Public Presecutor (in the absence of such officer) for the purposes of any case, but il such person is a police officer he must not be below such rank as the Local Government may prescribe-S 492 (2)

No persons except certain specified officers, are entitled, as a matter of right, to conduct a prosecution in any inquiry or trial in a Criminal Court unless permirted by the Magistrate to do so With such permission such a person becomes a pleader as defined in S 4 (1) (7) With the defence it is otherwise Every person accused before any Criminal Court may of right be defended by a pleader-S 340

A Sub divisional Magistrate permitted the complainant to retain his own Vakil in a case pending before him. When the case for the prosecution was closed and a charge had been framed the accused put in an application to the trying Magistrate, asking that, on certain terms the case against them might be withdrawn On this application being sent to the District Magistrate latter directed the Prosecuting Inspector, who up till then had had nothing to do with the case at all, to withdraw the case, and he did so. It was held that the District Magistrate's action was ultra vires and must be set aside 1. This ease was decided under the old law, just after the new law, as laid down in S 492 (2) as amended came into force Now it would seem to be possible for the District Magistrate to appoint the Prosecuting Inspector to be a Public Prosecutor for the purposes of the particular case, so that he could enter a withdrawal Whether the District Magistrate would exercise a wise discretion in taking such action, is another matter, and if he did so the Court would probably be justified in withholding its consent to the withdrawal

&#x27; In re Muthia Moopan I L R 36 Mad 315

If a police officer so appointed under S 495 to conduct the prosecution in a case before a Magistrate has been engaged in the investigation of the case. his functions should be confined to his examination as a witness and to the suggestion of questions to be put by the prosecuting police officer, as it is undestrable that questions to be asked should be suggested directly to the Magistrate by the investigating police officer But if contrary to sub-section (4) the investigating police officer has conducted the prosecution it will not invalidate the trial a

It is not the proper duty of the Police to prosecute criminal cases which they have been engaged in inquiring into. It is at present a duty assigned to them, and it being assigned to them they are bound to perform it to the best of their ability, but it is not their proper duty and they should be relieved of such In this case the officer appointed to conduct the prosecution was a most important corroborating witness. The result of his having been appointed to conduct the prosecution was that the prisoner's Counsel objected to his being put in the witness box, because he had been present at the whole of the trial and at the examination and cross examination of all witnesses 4 (See also the last norts n of the note to S 403)

The following rules have been issued for the guidance of police officers in conducting prosecutions in Criminal Courts in Bencal -

I A POLICE-OFFICER TO ATTEND ALL CRIMINAL COURTS -It is that at the hearing of every criminal case sent up by the Police a responsible police-officer be in attendance to conduct the prosecution if the wishes him to do or otherwise to assist as he may be desired

II -With Officers to Prosecute -In cases of peculiar difficulty or great public importance the District Superintendent or his Assistant should unless there be good reason to the contrary attend in person

In ordinary cases this duty will devolve on the Court Inspector

In petty and simple cases or when two or more Cruminal Courts are sitting at one time head constables attached to the Court may be deputed At a subdivision the duty will be performed by the Head police officer employed in the Court except in such cases as it is expedient that the District Superintendent or his Assist nt should attend in person

III -PROSECUTION IN LOWER COURTS -The first duty of the police officer will be to make himself thoroughly acquainted beforehand with the facts of the case and the evidence adducible in support of such facts. Ordinarily ample time will elapse between the completion of the inquiry and the hearing of the case to enable the Court officer to make lumself complete master of the contents the special diaries. No pains should be spared for this purpose as it is obvious that in officer who attends the Court with an imperfect knowledge of the facts that each witness is able to prove may do the case material harm. The special diaries if carefully prepared will generally be found to contain all the informa tion essential for the proper conduct of the presecution. In intricate and hemous cases the officer who made the local investigation will as a rule himself appear as witness and n such cases he should arrange to see the District

Ram Gobind Sinoh I L R 46 AH 88

Mad Rules &e No 256

Emp v Tribhovan Das I I R =6 Bom 533

Superintendent and Court Inspector before the Court opens, and ascertain that the strong points of the case are thoroughly understood

IV -Sessions Case -in a Sessions case, either the Magistrate, or, should the Magistrate desire it the District Superintendent should draw up, for the guidance of the Government Pleader or other officer appointed to conduct the prosecution, a memorandum containing a concise history of the case and of the specific facts to which each witness is able to speak. This memorandum together with the special report or special diaries and copies of necessary evidence should be made over to the Covernment Vakil at least three days before the day appointed for the trial and should be returned at the close of the trial with such remarks as the prosecuting officer may wish to offer. The memorandum will be treated by the Plender or other officer as a confidential communication The Court Inspector or Police-officer acquainted with the case should be present to assist the Government Vakil throughout the case if the Magistrate 80 desires in appeals of importance the Vakil should be duly instructed, and should make himself acquainted with the contents of the file

V-CONMUNICATIONS OF FINAL ORDERS TO LOCAL POLICE -All final orders in cases sent up for trial, whether at the Sudder Station or at Sub-divisions should be communicated to the officer who held the inquiry. Nothing can be more discouraging to a police officer who believes he has sent up a true case on good and sufficient evidence than to receive from the Court Inspector only a brief notice that the case has been dismissed. Where errors on the part of the local Police arms from want of experience or insufficient knowledge of the laws of evidence much good would result from a careful explanation of their error by the District Superintendent. In a case where the acquitted is due to less satis factory causes it is the more incumbent on the District Superintendent promptly to mark his disapproval of the result by a timely warning addressed to the officer hy name

VI -Oniect of Rules - Every District and Assistant Superintendent is enjoined to assist the Magistrate to the utmost of his power to give effect to the above rule The procedure now ordered should tend at once to the more careful conduct of inquiries the more comolete preparation of special diaries and the better exposition and understanding of the evidence at the hearing of cases and no duties are more peculiarly the duties of a police-officer than these

The fees chargeable under the Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) have been remitted in regard to copies of all documents furnished under any order of any Court or Magistrate to any Government Advocate or Pleader or other person specially empowered on that behalf, for the purpose of conducting any trial of investigation on the part of the Government before any Criminal Court also on comes of all documents which any such Advocate or Pleader or other person is required to take in connection with any such trial or investigation, for use of any Court on which Magistrate may consider necessary for the purposes of advising Government in connection with my criminal proceeding 1

CHAPTER XXXIX

Or BATE.

The provisions of this Chapter apply, so far as may be, to bail given and bonds executed under S 132 of the Indian Radways Act (IX of 1800)-S 134 (4) of that Act

496 When any person other than a person accused of a in what cases but non-haulable offence is arrested or detained to be taken without warrant by an officer in charge of a

Gaz Ind 1889 Part I p 506

police-station, or appears or is brought before a Court, and is preparted at any time while in the custody of such officer or at any stage of the proceedings before such Court to give bail, such person shall be released on bail Provided that such officer or Court, if he or it thinks fit, may, instead of taking bail from such person, discharge him on his executing a bond without sureties for his appearance as hereinafter provided

Provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the provisions of section 107, sub-section (4), or section 117, sub-section (3)

"Bailable offence means an offence shown as bailable in the second Schedule or which is made bailable by any other law for the time being in force and "non-bailable offerce" means any other offence—S (4) (1) (b)

S 496 relates only to builable offences, for which obviously the person accused should be admitted to bail and discretion is given to release a person so accused on his own recognizance

Sch V (42) centains forms of a bond and bail bond taken under S 496

Bonds and bail bonds for personal appearance in criminal cases are exempt from stamp-duty-Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) S 10 cl xv)

Only a police-officer in charge of a police station can so release a person arrested or detained by him without a warrant, and then only if such person is accused of a builyble offence, bit if, in the course of an investigation into a non hailable offence such police-officer is of opinion there are not reasonable grounds for believing that the person accused of such offence has committed it, but that there are sufficient grounds for further inquiry into guilt such person shall be released on bail or on his own bond without sureties for his spapearance—S 497

A Vingistrate before whom a person is brought under arrest for an offence which is brithole in a warrant resured under the Extradition Act 1903 for his appearance before a Political Officer cannot release him on bail if there is no endorsement on the warrant authorising him to do so 2.

S 63 provides that no person who has been arrested by a police officer shall be discharged except on his own bond or on bail or under the special order of a Magistrate and although an offence may not be cognizable by the Police and beliable if the person has committed it in the presence of a police-officer, or when accused of such offence if he refuses on the demand of a police-officer, or give his rame and residence or gives a name or residence which that office—has reason to believe to be false he may be arrested until his name and residence may be ascertained subject to his being sent to the nearest Magistrate within twenty four hours from the time of his averest, or to his being released on his bond to appear before a Magistrate if so required, if his true name and residence be ascertained with n that time—S 57

If, upon an investigation at appears to the officer in charge of the policestation or to the officer making the investigation that there is not sufficient evidence or reasonable ground or suspicion to justify the forwarding of the accused to a Magistrate, such officer shall if such person is in custody, release him on his executing a bond with or without sureless, as such officer may direct to appear before a Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of the offence on a police report—S to

S 170 provides that if the offence under investigation is made out, he shall,

Rajkumar Datta 12 Cal W N 602

if the offence be bullable and the recused is able to give security, take security from him for his appearance before a competent Magistrate and for his attendance from day to day

S 513 also provides that when a person is required by any Court or officts to execute a bond with ar without sureties, such Court or officer may, excepin the case of a bond for good behaviour, permit him to deposit a sum of more or Government promissory notes to such amount as the Court or officer may in in her of executing such bond

The sufficiency of buil tendered in accordance with the order of a Magistrate should be determined by him and not be left to the Police 1 But there is no reason why the Police should not be directed to enquire into and report on such

The second proviso is new S 107 (4) has down that a Magistrate to whom a person is sent under sub-section (3) of that section may detain the person in rustedy pending further action by himself under Chapter VIII The first action to be taken would be the making of an order under S 112 Under S 117 (3) 0 Magistrate can require security pending the completion of the inquiry if in his opinion immediate measures are necessary for the prevention of a breach of the peace or disturbance of the public tranquility, or the commission of any offence or for the public safety, and can detain the accused in custody pending the furnishing of security. Neither of these provisions shall be deemed to be affected furnishing of security. Neither of these provisions shall be deemed to be affected by anything in S 406. It had already been held that S 107 (4) makes an exception to the general rule laid down in S 496 that bail shall be allowed in all cases in which a person is not accused of a non-bailable offence. But it has been held that when a Magistrate takes proceedings under S 107 to take security for keeping the pence he should ordinarily admit the person proceeded against to brill. The terms of S 107 (4) which give him a discretion to detain such a person temporarily in custody indicate this Even if he has been arrested he should be admitted to bail a

(1) When any person accused of any non-bulable offence is arrested or detrined without warrant When bad may be by an officer in charge of a police-station, or taken in case of non bailable offence appears or is brought before a Court, he may be released on bul, but he shall not be so released if there appear reasonable grounds for believing that he has been guilty of an offence runishable with death or transportation for life.

Provided that the Court may direct that any person under the age of sixteen years or any woman or any sick or infirm nerson accused of such an offence be released on bul!

(2) If it appears to such officer or Court at any stage of the investigation, inquiry or trial, as the case may be, that there are not reasonable grounds for believing that the accused has committed a non-hailable offence, but that there are sufficient groundfor further inquiry into his guilt, the accused shall, pending such inquiry, be released on bul, or, at the discretion of such officer

Q. Emp : Gayitri Prosunno Ghosal I L R 15 Cal 455
 Avarayana Sami Naicken I L R 36 Vad 474
 Raghunandan Pershad I L R 32 Cal 80 See also Narayana Sami Naicken 1 L R 36 Mad 474

OF BAIL

or Court, on the execution by him of a bond without sureties for his appearance as hereinafter provided

- (3) An officer or a Court releasing any person on bail under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall record in writing his or its reasons for so doing
- (4) If, at any time after the conclusion of the trial of a person accused of a non-bailable offence and before judgment is delivered, the Court is of opinion that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the accused is not guilty of any such offence, it shall release the accused, if he is in custody, on the execution by him of a bond without sureties for his appearance to hear judgment delivered.
- (5) A High Court or Court of Session and, in the case of a person released by itself, any other Court may cause any person who has been released under this section to be arrested and may commit him to custody.

'Ballyble offence' means an offence shown as ballable in the Second Schedule, or which is made ballable by any other law for the time being in force, "non ballable offence means any other offence—S 4 (1) (b)

S 497 declares in what circumstances a Court or an officer in charge of a police station may release on bail a person accused of a non-bailable offence The provisions of the old law up to 1923 were in some quarters criticised as being unduly stringent in the matter of allowing bail in non-bailable offences. A person accused of a non-bailable offence could not be released on bail if there appeared reasonable grounds for believing that he had been guilty of the offence of which he was accused, but under S 498 a High Court or Court of Session could adout any person to bail or reduce the bail in any case. The legislature has now considerably liberalised these provisions. The Court or the officer in charge of a police station can release on bail any person accused of a non-bailable offence, unless 'there appear reasonable grounds for believing that he has been guilty of an offence punishable with death or transportation for life is, by reason of the new proviso to sub-section (t) no restriction at all in the case of juvenile offenders, women and sick or infirm persons. Sub-section (4), which is new, enables a Court to release on personal bond pending delivery of the judgment, when it is of opinion that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the accused is not guilty of any non-bailable offence. In this case the proceedings are complete except for the delivery of the judgment, and the Court is not required to prejudge the case to the same extent as a Court acting under the earlier sub sections, nevertheless it is possible that the power conferred by sub section (4) may at times prove embarrassing to the Court To counterbalance the liberality of the bail provisions the legislature has provided in sub-section (5) that, not only the Court which has released on bail, but also the High Court and the Court of Session may cause any person who has been released under S 497 to be arrested and may commit him to custody

The legislature refrained from an attempt to give effect to many of the subordinate Courts in the application of the bail provisions. But many of the rulings will still be applicable

Every arrest without warrant must be reported by the officer in charge of a policy station to the District Magistrate, or, if he so directs, to the Sub-division Magistrate, whether such person has been admitted to bail or not-S 62

person who has been arrested by a police-officer shall be discharged except on has own bond or on bail, or under the special order of the Magistrate -5 63

If, upon an investigation of a cognizable offence, it appears to the other in charge of a pulice station that there is not sufficient evidence or reasonable ground of suspicion to justify forwarding the accused to a Magistrate, such officer may release him on his executing y bond with or without sureties—$\infty$ 169

Although to sworn testimony has been recorded against the prisoners in custody, an order of commitment to custody or remand to police custody may be passed if evidence is available but not recorded until further evidence, which is forthcoming is similarly available. It is often very desirable to postpone the commencement of an injury for a short period in order that, when commenced it may be continuous and conducted in such order in regard to the examination of witnesses as may best set out the facts to be given in evidence. The accuse have a right to have the evid one recorded at as early a period as possible, and the fact that there is or may be a great body of evidence forthcoming against them is not a good ground for detention for an inordinate period, but they are not entitled to be admitted to be almitted to be almitted to be almitted to the recomment.

On the first occasion that accused persons are produced, it is not necessary to g1 fully into the charge it is rollmarily sufficient to show, by the evidence of an officer of the Police that the Police are in possestion of information they believe to be reliable that an officine has been committed, and that the accused persons were concerned in its commonion. But when the accused persons are brought up after a remand some dire t evidence of the connection of the accused with the crime should be required to justify the Magistrake in refusing bail, and with each remand the necessity for the production of implicating proof becomes more strong.

The statement of a police-officer of superior rank that he has sufficient evidence which he believes to implicate the accused with the alleged offence is reasonable ground for refusing bail, but where there had been desention on remand for some weeks the presoner should have been admitted to bail.

An order for remand 'hard be passed in the presence of the accused person. To temand is to re-commit to custody, and therefore, as a Magisterial commit ment requires the presence of the prisoner, his re-commitment also requires this presence so as to give him opportunity of applying to be admitted to bail 4.

A Magistrate cannot require buil from an accused person against whom he finds that the evidence is insufficient to prove an offence, merely because more evidence ments turn up.

The amendment of sub section (t) leaves for more to the discretion of the police officer and the Court than did the old law, and at present they have little to guide them in the evercise of their discretion. There are however numerous reported cases showing the circumstances which have led the High Courts to release on bail in non bailable cases urder 5.468.

In one case the Calcutta High Court in setting aside an order refusing bail for a non-ballable offence, admitted a Raja to bail on his consenting to be guarded in his own house and debarred from all communication with persons said, rightly or wrongly, to be his associates in crime?

If after a remand no evidence of an incriminating nature is produced the

Banerjee 4 B L R 1 App 956 See also In re Mahesh Chandra

Ramial Tewari v Supharam I B L R 26 Short Notes [sc) to W R Cr 34

Court may reasonably con use that such evidence is not forthcoming and on that ground may admit the accused to bail.

An order by a subordinate Magistrate is not open to revision by the District Magistrate. If he considers that the order is wrong, he should report the matter to the High Court. He cannot under S. 528 transfer the case for the purpose of giving effect to his own opinion.

The detention of an accused during trial should not be regarded as penal, its object is to secure his attendance 2

It not infrequently happens that if the High Court has admitted a person to bad in reversal of an order of a Mag strate refusing bail, notice is sent by his Plender by telegram. The question has accordingly arisen how far the Magistrate is bound to act on such information for the correctness of which he has no guarantee. In one case it was held that the Magistrate should have acted on such a telegram, which on its face bore the stamp of genumeness, and that if he had any reason to doubt it, he should have satisfied the doubt by a telegram to the Registrar of the High Court. This decision is open to criticism, masmuch as it is an easy matter to send a false telegram and thus secure the release of a person, for whom the High Court had refused bail, before the High Court's order was received.

498 The amount of every bond executed under this Power to direct Chapter shall be fixed with due regard to the admission to bail or circiimstances of the ease, and shall not be excedited of bail control of the High Court or Court of Session may in any case, whether there be an appeal on conviction or not, direct that any person be admitted to bail, or that the bail required by a police-officer or Magistrate bo reduced.

A Court of Session may, in referring a case under S 438 to the High Court as a Court of Revision, direct that the person under sentence may be admitted to bail to bail

S 426 enables an Appellate Court, for reasons to be recorded in writing, to release an appellant on ball, or on his own bond, or to suspend the execution of a sentence or order appealed against

A District Magistrate is not competent to admit a person to bail in a case where bail has been refused by a subordinate Magistrate holding the trial. If he considers that the order is erroneous, he should refer the matter to the High Court for revision 4

Nor can a Sessions Judge admit to bail a person sentenced by him who has appealed to the High Court 5

The Aladras High Court has admitted to bail a person who had appealed to the Privy Council notwithstanding the objection taken that such an order can be passed only by a Court of appeal or resiston! 9

In acting under S 498, it was held the first point for consideration is whether there appear reasonable grounds for believing that he is guilty of the offence

98 Lal Mohan Mandal 0

,

LLF

of which he is accused, (this should now be " in offence punishable with death or transportation for life ! Notwithst inding that there was some evident which might go before a jury, the Cilcuita linch Court admitted some person accused of murder to bail, because the case against them was not consistent with that against others also in detention for the same offence, and the Coroner jury by a majority had found that the offence had been committed by some persons unknown, in the face of evidence repeated before the Magistrate Univ other evidence a is adduced it was held that the prisoners should be admitted to bail 1

the power given to the High Court is not affected by the Criminal Las Aniendment Act, 1908, Sr 12, 14 But in exercising it the High Court considers to under at the powers of all Courts other man the High Court and me Dessions Lourt have been made subject to the provision that no person remanded to custody in the course of proceedings under the Act shall be released on bail if there appears to be sufficient ground for inquiring into his guilt. But no restriction has been placed on the High Court, still that Court should apply 5 495 in the same way as 5 497. Where an accused person has not attended during the Magasterial inquiry the grant of bail by the proper authority cannot be called into odestion .

Part I of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, All of 1908, which included he to and to has been repealed by Act I of 1910, h 3 But the case is cited as indicating the attitude which a High Court would adopt towards such projustice and equity and should be followed by the High Court unless anything appears to the contrary the extended powers given to the High Court by S 40% are not to be used to get rid of the reasonable and proper provision of the Two land down to 5 497. This ruling was given with reference to the word ing of 5 497, before its amendment in 1923, whether the learned Judge would use the same language in regard to 5 497 as it now stands after amendment is a matter of opinion. In this case the Court refused bail where a confession of a co-accused implicating both himself and his co-accused was materially corroborated as to the latter by other evidence taken at the preliminary inquiry the offences were under 2s 307 and 337, Penal Code, it appears that hurt was caused, and the offence under 8 307 was therefore punishable with transporta tion for life, this ruling would therefore be applicable to the present law

The High Court can grant bail under clause at of its Letters Patent (Culcutta) only in cases failing within its provisions, and especially when the Court has declared the case to he a lit one for appeal to the Privy Council, or when special leave to appeal has been granted. It has no power to grant bail under clause 41 or under 5 498, in order to enable a person to petition the Prive Council for special leave to appeal, or until such petition has been disposed of S 498 is particularly wide, and a Sessions Judge has power to adout to bail a person whose case has been referred under S 123 (1) 4

Whenever the Court of Session under S 498 directs a person to be admitted to bail, the Session Judge shall order such bail to be given before the Nazir of the Court of before such Magistrate as the Judge may think most concenient

Bonds or bail bonds for personal appearance in criminal cases are exempt from stamp-duty -Court Fees Act, (VII of 1879) 5 19, Cl. xy

I John Mull 10 Cal W N 1012

Sourendra Mohan Chuckerbutty I L R 37 Cal 412 (Se) 14 Cal W N 512

Achral Aliv Emp I L R 42 Cal 25 Tuls: Telini v Emp I L R 30 Cal 585 Abmed Ali Sardar v Emp I L R 50 Cal 585 Abmed Ali Sardar v Emp I L R 50 Cal 569

Bom By Cir p 42

499 (1) Before up person is released on bail or released

Bood of accused on his own bond, a bond for such sum of money as the police-officer or Court, as the case may and sureties as the police-officer or Court, as the case may be, thinks sufficient shall be executed by such person, and, when he is released on buil, by one or more sufficient sureties conditioned that such person shall attend at the time and place mentioned in the bond, and shall continue so to attend until otherwise directed by the police-officer or Court, as the case may be

(2) If the case so require, the bond shall also bind the person released on bul to appear when called upon at the High Court, Court of Session or other Court to answer the charge

Sch V (42) gives the forms of a bond and bail bond taken under S 499 by a

Magistrate

Bonds and bail bonds for personal attendence in criminal cases are exempt from stampduty—Court Fees Act, VII of 1870, s 19 cl xv

There is nothing illegal in a bond for attendance "on the first inquiry or at other times required," and its penalty can be enforced on default to attend after serbal notice.

S 170 directs the Police in a bail-hile case which is sent in to the Magistrate to release the accused on bail for his appearance before such Magistrate on a fixed day and for his attendance from day to day before such Magistrate until otherwise directed

The sufficiency of bail officed should be determined by the Court requiring it it should not be left to the Poice, though the Court is at liberty to call for a report from the Police on the subject.

- 500 (1) As soon as the bond has been executed, the person from for whose appearance it has been executed shall be released, and, when he is in just, the Court admitting him to hall shall issue an order of release to the officer in charge of the just, and such officer on receipt of the order shall release him
- (2) Nothing in this section, section 496 or section 497, shall be deemed to require the release of any person hable to be detained for some matter other than that in respect of which the bond was executed.
  - 501 If, through mistake, fraud or otherwise, insufficient surcties have been accepted, or if they after-

Power to order surcties have been accepted, or if they aftersurfact taken is a warrent of arrest directing that the person released on hall be brought before it, and may reflect surface have and on his fallings at a do-order him to find sufficient sureties, and, on his failing so to do, may commit him to jail

Haslavaram Subba Reddi Weir 1888 O Emp & Gayitri Prosunno Chosal I I R. 25 Cal 455

S 501 apples only to cases where there are sureties and where through mit take fraud or otherwise insufficient sureties have been accepted it has no application where there are no such grounds. So the lissue of a warrant for the arrest of an accused person who has been released on his own hond is not justified by S 501 nor is it legal under S on unless the Court records its reasons?

Discharge of a person released on hall may at any sureties time apply to n Magnetine to discharge the bond either wholly or so fix as relates to the applicants

(2) On such application being made, the Magistrate shall issue his warrant of arrest directing that the person so released be brought before him

(9) On the appearance of such person pursuant to the warrant, or on his voluntary surrender the Magistrate shall direct the bond to be discharged either wholly or so far as relates to the applicants and shall call upon such person to find other sufficient sureties and if he fails to do so, may commit him to custody

It is only on the appearance of the person released on bail that the bond of the sureties is discharged (see subsection 3)

For the discharge of sureties for persons bound over under Chapter VIII see Ss 136 136A On an application by a surety for his discharge from 1 ab 1 ty on his bond

On an application by a surety for his d scharge from 1 abity on his bond the Magistrate has no opton no inequery or hearing of the application on its ments can take place. The Magistrate must issue a warrant of arrest?

CHAPTER XL

OF COMMISSIONS FOR THE EXAMINATION OF WITHESSES

508 (1) Whenever in the course of an inquiry a trial or witness may be to a Presidency Magnetitle a District Magnetiste and that the examination of a witness is necessary for the ends of justice and that the attendance of such witness cannot be procured with out an amount of delay expense or inconvenience which, under the circumstances of the case would be upreasonable such Magnetiate or Court may dispense with such attendance and may issue tasse of commiss a commission to any District Magnetiate or

Issue of commission to any District Magistrate or a on and procedure Magistrate of the first class, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such witness resides to take the evidence of such witness

----- with the evidence of Buon withes

<sup>1</sup> Re Karuthan Ambalam I L R 38 Mad 1088 2 Anunt Sh va; Bom H Ct Oct 17 1907

- (2) When the witness resides in the territories of any Prince or Chief in India in which there is an officer representing the British Indian Government, the commission may be issued to such officer
- (3) The Magistrate or officer to whom the commission is issued or if he is the District Vigistrate, he or such Magistrate of the first class as he appoints in this behalf, shall proceed to the place where the witness is or shall summon the witness before him, and shall take down his evidence in the same manner, and may for this purpose exercise the same powers, as in trials of warrant cases under this Code
- (4) Where the commission is issued to such officer as is mentioned in sub section (2), he may delegate his powers and duties under the commission to any officer subordinate to him whose powers are not less than those of a Magistrate of the first class in British India

The power to issue a commission is conferred on a Presidency Magistrate and a District Magistrate If any other Magistrate requires the issue of a commission he should proceed as directed by $ 506

A commission cannot be granted to examine a witness unless he be in British India or (sub-section 2) within the territories of a Prince or Chief in Ind a in which there is an officer representing the British Indian Government 1

Ss 188 and 189 are important in connection with this section. They enable the Local Government to direct that copies of depositions made or exhibits produced before a Political Officer or a Judicial Officer in or for a Native Prince or State in alliance with Her Majesty shall be used as evidence in the inquiry or trial held in the case of an offence committed by an European British subject in the Fore gn State in India or a Native Indian subject anywhere beyond British India in which a commission in ght issue for taking such evidence in respect to the matters to which such depositions or exhibits relate

The issue of a commission is entirely within the discretion of the Court. A commission for the examination of a witness for the prosecution was refused although the application was supported by the affidient of the Civil Surgeon that considering her age and present state of health it would be inadvisable if to the string her sign and present state of meaning in would be madusable in not danger miss for the witness to go to Calcutta at that I me of the year for her examination as a witness Wizzow J remarked that in a criminal case the size of a comm as on would be most unsatisfactory course of proceeding and one dangerous to the interests of the prisoner

Evidence taken on commission is admissible only in the case before the Magistrate who issued it. Thus if it is tallen in an inquiry before a Magistrate it would not be adm's ble at the trial on commitment to a superior Court? unless it were admiss ble under $ 33 of the Evidence Act (1 of 1872) If the evilence of a w tness so taken on a commission issued by the committing Magistrate during the inquiry be required at the trial, the application for a commission should be made to the Court to which the case has been committed for trial in sufficient time to have it ready for tender to that Court at the trial? If evidence taken on a commission in an inquiry be admitted at the trial the circumstance stated in S 33 of the Evidence Act to excuse the attendance of the witness must be established.

See Emp v S Moorga Chetty I L R 5 Bom 338
 Emp v Counsell 1 L R 8 Cal 896
 Emp v Dabee Pershad I L R 6 Cal 53° Q Emp v Jacob 1 L R 19 Cal

If a commission is required by the prosecution, it should be applied for before the trial. An application made during the trial and after the jury had been sworn was refused. The prosecutor is bound to go on with his crief.

The Bombay High Court issued a commission to examine in Bombay a Medical Officer who has been bound over to appear at the Sessions and had since received orders from Govertment to proceed to a very great distance. The Court, however, took into consideration that there was nothing special in the case which rendered it necessary in the interests of justice that he should personally attend at the Sessions and that the evidence both in examination and cross examination would be just as effective if taken by commission as if he were to appear in Court 4.

The Calcutta High Court directed the Magistrate to issue a commission for examination of a witness which that offeer had refused on the ground that she was a purdah nasheen lads. But Straicut, J., doubted whether this would be an 'inconvenien e within the terms of S 503 of the Code and held that furdah nasheen women were not of right exempted from personal attendance at Court . In dealing with this matter the learned Judge took into cons deration the nature of the charge (defamation) and the fact that she was the complainant and had set the criminal law in motion this materially altering her position as sh had the alternative of protecting herself by a civil suit in which case her attend nee in Court would have been excused. As she thought proper to elte her alleged defamer in the Criminal Court it is his right and privilege to have her evidence taken in the presence of such Court. Were it otherwise it is impossible to conceive the dangers and mischiels that would arise the false charges that would be preferred and the malicious prosecutions to which persons would be subjected. The petitioner invokes the criminal law to punish and should be required to guarantee the bons fide of her prosecution and that it has been really instituted by her or her own free will and not at the instigution of some other person by attending the Magistrate's Court The taking of evidence by commission should be most sparingly resorted to and ought not to be adopted save in extrema cases of delay expensa or inconvenience. The Court, however directed the Magistrate that if the complainant is found to be a purdah nashee i indy and if she elects to attend and support her charge she should be brought into his room at the Court habe in ner palks or, if this is not feasible that he should make such other irrangements as may enable her to remain in it and subject her to the least inconvenience or annoyance for the purpose of recording her evidence according to law in the presence of the accused after identification by some approved fem le witness *

A Hindu purdah ladv of respectable family was summoned to attend as a winners before a Migistrate. She ple-ded exemption under native custom and offered to come from some distance to private house for examination paying the expense of a commissioner and no objection was taken by the opposite side. The Migistrate refused a commission or to eximine her except in Court. The High Court directed her examination to be by commission and at her own expense as she had offered to pay for it But the Allahabad High Court stated that it was not prepared to go so for as that case, suggesting that the lady should be examined by the Vigisirite in an empty Court room in the presence of himself, the accused, and her pleader and the pleader for the prosecution, or in his own private room if no Court room be available. It is weakness to surrender as a general rule that purdah ladies whose attendance may be required in cuminal trials are to be allowed to compel the Court to examine them at some other place than the Court house itself 2

<sup>1</sup> O Emp v Jacob I L R to Cal 113 2 Emp v Burke I L R 6 All 224

Q Emp v Jacob I L R 19 Cal 113 approved in Q Emp t Ram Chandra

There has been some discussion as to whether a complamant, at the stage when his examination is necessary under 5 200, is a witness, and whether a commission can be issued for his examination. In the Allahabad case referred to ante (f) the point was not really considered but the report indicates that there was no bar in this respect to a complainant who was a purdah nasheer lady being examined on commission. The Calcutta High Lourt has definitely ruled that complainant at the preliminary stage is a witness a

Evidence taken under a commission is admissible in a trial for an offence committed on the high sens, the procedure applicable being that of the Court by which the trial was held 4

In connection with 5 501 the terms of 5 12 of the Evidence Act (1 of 1872) should be borne in mind -

Evidence given by a witness in a judicial proceeding, or before any person authorized by law to tak it is relevant for the purpose of proving in a subse quent judicial proceeding, or in a later stage of the same judicial proceeding the truth of the facts which it states, when the witness is dead or cannot be found, or incapable of giving evidence, or is kept out of the way by the adverse party, or if his presence cannot be obtained without an amount of delay or expense, which, under the circumstances of the case, the Court considers unreasonable Provided-that the proceeding was between the same parties or their representatives in interest that the adverse party in the first proceeding had the right and opportunity to cross-examine, that the questions in issue were substantially the same in the first as in the second proceeding

Explanation -A criminal trial or inquiry shall be deemed to be a proceeding between the prosecutor and the accused within the meaning of this section

So it has been held that evidence taken by commission while the case was before the Magistrate would not be admissible on the trial before the High Court, except under some of the circumstances specified in S 33 of the Evidence Act 5 The same rule has been applied to a trial before the Court of Session, and, where it did not appear upon the record that the deposition so taken upon commission had been properly admitted urder S 33 after the Judge had been satisfied that the same circumstances which induced the Magistrate to issue the commission existed it was held to be inadmissible as evidence at the Sessions trial has now been embodied in 5 500 But where the whole case depended on evidence taken on commission, and the identification of property alleged to be stolen was most important and this evidence should have been subject to cross examination which, under the circumstances, the accused could not obtain, it was held that the evidence should not have been taken on commission. The Court ilso observed that inconvence to usinesses is not a ground allowed und r S 33 of the Evidence Act, and the expense to be incurred by requiring the witnesses to attend was not unreasonable 1

<sup>1</sup> In re Din Tarini Debi I L K 15 Cal 775 See also Hem Cooman Dassi I L R 24 Cal 53 (see ) (Cal W N 333 1 In re Basant Hibb I L R 12 All 69

<sup>532</sup> See also Q Emp 1 Ramchandr Q Emp v Jacob I L R. 10 Cal.

S 505 embles the parties to a proceeding in which a commission is issued to forward interrogitories in writing, and it requires the efficer to whom the commission is directed to "xamine the witness upon such interrogatories h part) may appear personally or he represented by a pleader to examine crossexamile or re-examine a witness 5 505"

Where the evidence of an officer connected with the Mint, or the Currency Department is required as to the genuineness or spuriousness of a com or currency note, the Courts and Magistrates are recommended to send the coin of note to the Mint Master, or to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, as the case may be, under cover of their Court seal, or by a messenger whose evidence can afterwards be taken, and, at the same time, to issue a commission for the examination of such officer as a witness under the provisions of S 503 of the Code of (riminal Procedure This will present the great inconsenience of officers being called away from their duties on mere ordinary occasions. In special cases a careful discretion is to be exercised, regard being had to the considerations above stried.

(1) If the witness is within the local limits of the 504 jurisdiction of any Presidency Magistrate, the Magistrate or Court issuing the commission may direct the same to such Presidency Magis Commission case of witness being within presidencytrate, who thereupon may compel the atten dance of, and examine, such witness as if he were a witness in a case pending before himself.

- (1A) When a commission is issued under this section to a Chief Presidency Magistrate, he may delegate his powers and duties under the commission to any Presidency Magistrate subordinate to him.
- (2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the power of the High Court to issue commissions under the Slave Trade Act, 1876, section 3
- Sub section (1A), inserted by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 137, is new lt enables a Chief Presidency Magistrate, who receives a commission, to delegate his functions thereunder to a Presidency Magistrate subordinate to him Such power of delegation was formerly exerciseable only by a District Magistrate 5 503 (3)

The Statute (39 and 40 Vict C 46), referred to in sub-section (2), is for the punishment of offences against laws relating to the Slave Trade by British subjects or other persons protected by the British Government, S 3 enables the High Courts to obtain evidence by commission in such cases

The parties to any proceeding under this Code in Parties may examine which a commission is issued may respectively witnesses forward any interrogatories in writing which the Magistrate or Court directing the commission may think relevant to the issue, and the Magistrate or officer to whom the commission is directed or to whom the duty of executing such commission has been delegated shall examine the witness upon such interrogatories

O Emp v Burke I L R 6 All 224 Q Emp v Ram Chandra Govind Harshe I L R 19 Bom 749 Bom Bik Cir p 35

(2) Any such party may appear before such Magistrate or officer by pleader, or, if not in custody, in person, and may examine, cross examine and resymme (as the case may be) the said witness

See note to S 503 ante

506

resect the application

The words or to whom the duty of executing commission has been delegated were inserted by Act No \\\1110 in 1933 S 138 They correct what was clearly a mistake in the Code They will apply to delegations by the District Magistrate under S 503 (3) and the Chief Presidency Magistrate under S 604 (14)

Whenever, in the course of an inquiry or a trial or

Power of provincial and other proceeding under this Code before an Magistrate, other than a Presidency Magistrate or District Magistrate, it appears that a commission ought to be issued for the examination of a witness whose evidence is necessary for the ends of justice, and that the attendance of such witness cannot be procured without an amount of delay, expense or inconvenience which, under the circumstance of the case would be increasinable, such Magistrate shall apply to the District Magistrate may the reasons for the application and the District Magistrate may either issue a commission in the manner hereinbefore provided or

- 507 (1) After any commission issued under section 508 or section 506 hrs been duly executed, it shall be mission to the furned, together with the deposition of the witness examined thereunder, to the Courf out of which it issued, and the commission, the return thereto and the deposition shall be open at all reasonable times to inspection of the parties and may, subject to all just exceptions be read in evidence in the case by either party, and shall form part of the record
- (2) Any deposition so taken, if it satisfies the conditions prescribed by section 32 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, may also be received in evidence at any subsequent stage of the case before another Court

Read in evidence in the case

That is in the case before the Court from which the commission  $s_0$  evidence taken on commission issued during an inquiry before a  $\lambda$ could not be admissible at the terril held after commitment to the superior Couldunless it be admissible under \$ 33 of the Evidence Act in which case the accusastances under which the personal attendance of the witness is excused must be established.

Findence given by a witness in a judicial proceeding or before any permanuhorised by link title t is relevant for the purpose of proving in a subsequent judicial proceeding or in a first stage of the same judicial proceeding thruth if the firsts which is states when the witness is dead or cannot be found or is nearly ble of giving evidence or is kept out of the way by the odderese party or if his presence cannot be tedanced without an amount of delay or expense which under the current ranges of the case the Court considers unressorable

Provided that the proceeding was between the same parties or their representatives or interest that the adverse parts in the first proceeding had the right and apportunity to cross examine, that the questions in issue were substantially the same in the first is lift the second proceeding

Explanation—A criminal trial or inquiry shall be deemed to be a proceed by between the prosecutor and the accused within the meaning of this section—Friedence Act S 33

Subsection (1) enables a Court at any subsequent stage of a case to receive a deposition raken under a commission issued by nonther Court in a previous stage of the case, in wight that the cond tions presented by S. 31 of the Indian Padence Act have been satisfied. So in was held under the Code of 183 in that Chapter VL is not exhaustic and that a deposition then under a commission issued by a competent Magistrate during an analysi may be received as evidence in the Sestina stral provided that it is admissible under S. 31 of the Indian Dadence Act. The objection taken in that case was that the accused had not opportunity to cross examine the uniters. This Boes not mean that the should be present or have the opportunity of being present where the present of given cross interrogationers to be put to the wintess when examined by commission that was held to be sufficient within the terms of S. 33 of the Evidence Act.

508 In over case in which a commission is issued under adjournment of section 503 or section 506 the inquiry, trial of other proceeding may be adjourned for a specified time reasonably sufficient for the execution and return of the commission

It will be observed that there is no definite limitation as in the provision 5 333 for the duration of such an adjustance of The discretion about the exercised in reasonable migner so as not to subject an accused to unnecessory detention and if the same time to secure the return of the compussion. The Calcutt High Court has refused to issue a commission for the examination of a witness when the application was made after the trial had commenced as it would necessitate the all parameter of the trial?

Emp v Dabee Pershad I L R (Cal 532 Q Emp : Jacob I L R 19 Cal

O Emp : Ramchandra Covind Haishe I I R 1, Bom 749
O Emp : Jacob I L R 19 Cal 113

CHAPTER XLI

SPICIAL RIBES OF EMPEACE

(1) The deposition of a Civil Surgeon or other medical Deposition of media witness, taken and attested by a Magistrate in cal witness. the presence of the accused, or taken on commission under Chapter ML, may be given in evidence in any inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Code, although the deponent is not ealled as a witness

(2) The Court may, if it thinks fit, sum-Power to summen medical witness mon and examine such denonent as to the subject matter of his deposition

In all cases of murder, he ttendance of the medical witness at a trial should be procured unless grave inconvenience would thereby be caused. The special circumstances necessitating a departure from this rule ought to be stated 1

When the case depends entirely upon the medical evidence the examination of the Civil Surgeon before he Magistrate should not have been tendered or accepted as sufficient evilence. All the evidence before the Magistrate as to the alleged cause of death, arsennal poisoning, should have been re-taken. The Sessions Judge should also specially examine the Clvil Surgeon when his evidence taken by the Magistrate is essentially deficient or requires further explanation or elucidation. If the medical officer has been examined before the Court of Session, his deposition before the Magistrate does not become absolutely inadmissible. If it has been properly taken it may be put in, and the medical officer may then be called and further interrogated upon any points upon which there has not been a sufficient examination by the Magistrate

Magistrates should be required invariably to record the evidence of the medical officer before committing to the Court of Session any case regarding an offence affecting the human body (Chapter AVI, Penal Code), for the omission to record this evidence might very possibly lead to the acquittal of the accused person in the Sessions Court if through the sickness, death or unavoidable absence of the medical officer, his attendance cannot be procured before that Court 8

It is often of the greatest importance to have had the evidence of the Civil Surgeon regularly recorded by the Magistrate holding an inquiry It may happen that, in the exigencies of the service, the Civil Surgeon may have been removed to a distant quarter of India before the Sessions trial, and thus may be unable to give evidence before the Sessions Court. His evidence before the Magistrate if regularly recorded, would be evidence at the trial under S 509 and under S 33 of the Fvidence Act (I of 1872), again 1f, after proof that some of the accused persons have absconded so as to be beyond the immediate prospect of arrest, the Civil Surgeon's evidence has been recorded, it may, under such circumstances, be received as evidence under S 512 of this Code If these

<sup>1</sup> Mad Rules &c No 60

1 Mantapampalla Fadigadu Weir 113

1 Roghun Singh v Emp t L R 9 Cal 455 sc | Cal L R 569

4 In re Jhubboo Muhton I L R 8 Cal 739 (sc | 12 Cal L R 213

2 W R Cr Let 6

precautions are not taken, the medical exidence of a post mortem examination may be lost or obtainable unit at considerable means entering and expense

But where there is already sufficient prima facie evidence to marrant a commitment to the Sessions Court, and the evidence of the medical officer is bliefy to be of a purely formal chiracter, and great inconvenience would result from his being summined to a Vignierite's Court at a distance from the Subtration, the examination need not be taken before a Magistrate, but the attendance of the medical officer before the Session Court should be ensured Under all other circumstines, the Magistrate should invariably record the evidence of the medical officer before themself and in the presence of the accused.

A committing Migistrate should not, except for some special reason, bud over a medical witness, whise evidence he has taken, to appear in the Sessom Court. It is very undestrable that medical men in the district should be taken away from their dispensaries more frequently or for a longer period than is absolutely necessary.

The only opinion of a Civil Surgeon that can properly be received in evidence is what may have been expressed by him as a witness under the usual tests to which witnesses are subjected. A letter is not evidence, hor a lost mortem report unless it has been used for the purpose of refreshing his momory. To make such oridence legally admissible it must have been taken before all the accused against whom it is sought to use it, and not only before some of them?

S 500 requires that the deposition of a medical unities shall have been taken in the presence of the accused before it a admiss ble as evidence in any proceeding under this Code. This is in accordance with the general rule laid down in 3.31, but that section, in declaring that except is otherwise expressly provided, all evidence shall be tall on in the presence of the accused, adds or, when his personal attendance is dispensed with, in the presence of his pleader. The unission of these words in S 500 is probably due to the fact that medical evidence could not be required in cases in which the personal attendance of the accused is dispensed with

The deposition of the medical officer should be taken and attested in the presence of the accused, and it should show on the face of it, or be proved by the relations of winesses to have been so taken. It cannot be presumed under $1.50 of the tended of winesses to have been so taken. It cannot be presumed under $1.50 of the Evidence Act would not affect the matter. The Magistrate should make the appear that he has done so otheruse evidence should be taken in the Sessions Court to show this? The deposition should be attested thus — "Taken before me and signed in the presence of the accused."

Signature of Magistrate.

The following form of attestation has been prescribed by the Calcutta High Court — The foregoing deposition was taken in the presence of the accused who had an opportunity of cross-examining the witness. The deposition was explained to the accused and was attested by me in his presence.

(Sd ) A B , Magistrate

11 Q v Kamines

R 569

Q Emp ILR 18

IR - UC PL

Cal 129

* Bom Bk Cir p 18 Sce also Alf Rules &c No 38

* Cal H Ct Rules &c p 11

A similar form has been prescribed by the ALLAHABAD HIGH COURT

But where no objection had been taken when the evidence was put in before the Court of Session that that evidence had not been taken in the presence of the accused, it was held that such irregularity, even if it existed, did not vitiate the proceedings, as it was not shown that it had prejudiced the prisoner.

The fact that the evidence of the medical witness given in English was not interpreted to the accused was held to be immalerial, because he was defended by a pleader who understood it, and subjected the witness to a very full cross-examination *

trial 7

If relied on by the prosecution, this examination should be put in and read in Court before the accused is called upon for his defence. It should also be detached from the record of the inquiry, and attached to that of the trial.

510. Any document purporting to be a report under the Report of Chemical land of any Chemical Examiner or Assistant Examiner and the color of thing duly submitted to him for examination or analysis and report in the course of any proceeding under this Code, may be used as evidence in any inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Code.

Instructions have been given by the Governments of Bindal,4 and the United Provinces, in regard to the course to be taken in obtaining the report of the

The original report should be put in as evidence. A copy is not receivable as substitute*

If put in as evidence by the prosecution, the report from the Chemical Examiner should be read before the prisoner is called upon for his defence, and it should be detached from the record of inquiry, and attached to that of the

The report should be signed by the officer who detected the poison and who from personal knowledge could certify to the results embodied in it 4

The evidence should be complete as to the history of such articles and it should be shown that they have been kept in proper custody throughout?

511. In any inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Previous conviction or acquittal how proved, in addition to any other mode provided by any law for the time being in force,—

* ** 0 **

(a) by an extract certified under the hand of the officer having the custody of the records of the Court in which such conviction or acquittal was had to be a copy of the sentence or order, or (b) in ease of a conviction, either by a certificate signed by the officer in charge of the jail in which the punishment or any part thereof was inflicted, or by production of the warrant of commitment under which the punishment was suffered;

together with, in each of such cases, evidence as to the identity of the accused person with the person so convicted or acquitted

A previous conviction or acquittal for the same offence may be proved as a bat to subsequent precedings (40). A previous conviction of another offence may be proved as ground for passing in enhanced sentence. (See S. 75 Penal Code 5222, 2553, 348 and 310 of this Code)

- 512 (1) If it is proved that an accused person has absconded Record of en and that there is no immediate prospect of en and that there is no immediate prospect of the commendation of the control of the competent to try or accused commit for trial such person for the offence complained of may, in his absence, examine the witnesses (if any) produced on behalf of the prosecution, and record their depositions. Any such deposition may, on the arrest of such person, bo given in evidence against him on the inquiry into, or trial for, the offence with which he is charged, if the deponent is dead or incarpible of giving evidence or his attendance cannot be procured without an amount of delay, expense or inconvenience which, under the circumstances of the case, would be unreasonable
- (2) If it appears that an offence punishable with death Record of evidence when effence when effence in person or persons unknown, the High Court may direct that any Magistrate of the first class shall hold an inquiry and evaluate any witnesses who can give evidence concerning the offence. Any depositions so taken may be given in evidence against any person who is subsequently accused of the offence, if the deponent is dead or incapable of giving evidence or beyond the limits of British India.

In order to render depositions, so taken, to be evidence in any subsequent princeedings, it must be proved that the accused person has abstranded, and that there is no immediate prospect of arresting him. To bring a case within subsection (a), the orders of the High Court must be obtained, and in that ciss depositions taken by a Magistrate may be received in evidence against a person who is subsequently accused of an offence punishable with death or transportation only if the deponent is dead or incapable of giving evidence or is beyond the limits of British India? Compare 5 3 of the Indian Evidence Act (5 of 1872)

It may often be very describle to examine the witnesses for the prosecution if it be proved that an accused person has absonded and that there is no prospect of creating him as otherwise the evidence of an important witness, e.g. medical witness may be lost from his absence from India or his death, and even differ the arrest of the accused, the previous deposition may be used 15 corroborates.

the appositions of witnesses, iS 157 Evidence Act), or to refresh their memory (S 150), if the conditions sel forth in the Evidence Act exist

In order to render the evidence admissible under S 512, the absconding must be alleged, tried and established before the evidence on the particular charge is recorded 1

But where a Magistrate found that the accused had absconded, but fulled to add a finding that there was no immediate prospect of their arrest, the evidence was held to be admissible when there was evidence on the record from which the Magistrate might reasonable have inferred that there was no immediate prospect of their arrest?

Where a presoner has been commutated for trial by the Court of Session on depositions recorded under S 512 in his absence, and there was no evidence to show that he had absconded, and that there was no immediate prospect of arresting him when those depositions were recorded, the High Court refused to quish the commutation if the the accused had pleaded to the charge, holding that he was notified to be tried and that if the Sessions judge was of opinion that the production had not laid a basis for the reception of those depositions, he should adjourn the trial and summon such vitnesses, as he mucht deem material?

In another case, the commitment was quished, because there was no evidence against the accused except that of witnesses examined in his absence, and it was impricticable to obtain the attendance of these persons at the inquiry before the Maisstrate 4.

A person to whom a pardon has been validly tendered can be examined as a witness under the provisions of S  $512^{-5}$

CHAPTER XLII

Provisions as to Bonds

The provisions of the Chapter apply so far as may be, to bonds executed under S 132 of the Indian Railways Act, 1X of 1890

513 When any person is required by any Court or officer to coordinance. Court or officer may, except in the case of a bond for good behaviour, permit lim to deposit a sum of money or Government promissory notes to such amount as the Court or officer may fix, in lieu of excenting such bond

A bond with or without sureties may be taken from an accused person by an investigating palice officer to appear before a Magistrate as directed therein either on a fixed day (S. 170) or when so required by a Magistrate (S. 160), or by a Court to officer making an arrest in execution of a warrent (Ss. 76, 80, 91), or by a Court holding an inquiry or Irial (Ss. 496, 497), and it may be ordered by the High Court or Court of Session, whether there be an appeal on conviction or not (S. 498), and it may be so conditioned as to require such person to attend until otherwise directed by the police-officer or Court, or form a person convicted and sentenced to fine only and to impresonment on default of payment conditional for his appearance in the day for the return of the warrant for realisation

&lt;sup>1</sup> Ghurbin Ilind v Q Emp I L R 10 Cal 1097 Emp v Rustam I L R 38 All 29

Emp v Bhagwati I L R 41 All 60 Emp v Sagambur 12 Cal L R 120

Q v Bocha Chowkeedar 22 W R Cr 33 In re Dagdoo Bapu I I R 46 Bom 120

of that fine (S 388), or from a first offender to appear and receive sentence when called upon and in the incentime to leep the peace and be of good behavour (S 5f), or by a Court making a complaint (S 476 476B)

A bond with or without sureties may also be taken to keep the peace (Ss. 106, 118) or for good behaviour (S. 118).

A Court of Appeal may also release an appellant under sentence on ball of an his own bond (S. 42f) and a Sessions Judge or District Magistrate when referring a case to the High Court for revision may also so release the accord in confinement (S. 426).

S 513 enables a Court or officer in any case in which a person is required to execute a bond except for good behaviour to permit the person so required to deposit a sum of money or Goternment Promissory notes to such amount as such Court or offeer may fix in Leu of executing such bond

514 (1) Whenever it is proved to the satisfaction of the procedure on for Court in which a bond under this Code has been returned from taken or of the Court of a Presidency Magistrate of the first class, or, when the bond is for appearance before a Court to the satisfaction of such Court, that such hand has been forfested the Court shall record the grounds of such proof, and may call upon any person bound by such bond to pay the penalty thereof, or to show cause why it should not be paid

(2) If sufficient cause is not shown and the penalty is not paid the Court may proceed to recover the same by issuing a warnat for the attachment and sale of the inoceable property idonging to such person or his estate if he be dead

(3) Such warrant may be executed within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which issued it and it shall authorise the attachment and sale of any moveable property belonging to such person without such limits when endorsed by the District Magistrate or Chief Piesideney Magistrate within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such property is found

(4) If such pennity is not prid and earnot be recovered by such attachment and sale the person so bound shall be hable by order of the Court which issued the warrunt to imprisonment in the evul jail for a term which may extend to six months

(5) The Court may, at its discretion remit any portion of the neutly mentioned and enforce payment in part only

(6) Where a surety to a bond dies before the bond is forfeit ed, his estate shall be discharged from all liability in respect of the bond

(7) When any person who has furnished security under section 106 or section 118 or section 562 is conjucted of an offence

the commission of which constitutes a breach of the conditions of his bond, or of a bond executed in her of his bond under section 514B, a certified copy of the judgment of the Court by which he was convicted of such offence may be used as evidence in proceedings under this section against his surety or sureties, and, if such certified copy is so used, the Court shall presume that such offence was committed by him unless the contrary is proved

Sch V (44-33) contrains various forms for use under this section. There must be some prima faire ground for satisfying a Court that the conditions of the bond have been forfeited before proceedings can be taken under S 514 to enforce the penalty of a bond.

The distinction between forfeiture of bonds generally such as bonds for good behaviour or for keeping the peare and of bonds for appearance, should be noted in the former case proceedings may be tallen by the Court by which the bond was taken, or by a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class. But proceedings for forfeiture of a bond for appearance before a Court can be taken only by that Court. So when appearance was to be before a Court of Sessions proceedings could be taken only by that Court for the court of the c

Before issuing process under S 514 a Magistrate is bound to form a reasonable opinion that there has been a wilful default?

Before proceedings are taken for the forfeiture of a bond, care should be tall to ascertain whether its conditions have not been compiled with So where a billion was for appearance before a particular Magistrate before whom the case was pending non appearance before the District Magistrate to whom the case had been transferred would not necessarily entail forfeiture of the bond <sup>5</sup>

From the use of the terms 'whenever it is proved' prima facie proof by the taking of evidence is necessary before proceedings can be taken under 5 514 Such evidence must be taken in that particular matter. The Magistrate cannot proceed on evidence taken in a case to which the person bound was no party 8

But see sub section (7) and note below

There must be a legal indu ry and judicial trial evidence being taken in the presence of the accused or of his agent if he has been allowed to appear by an agent 4

There was some difference or opinion as to the nature of the proof required to justify forfeiture of a bond where the person bound over had been consisted of an offence which was a breach of the conditions on which he had been bound over. These doubts have now been set at rest but the principal cases may be referred to.

Certain persons became sureties for a person bound over to keep the peace. The latter was convicted under $^2_24$ Penal Code of voluntarily causing hurt and the sureties were thereupon called upon to show cause why their bonds should not be forfeited and the penalty recovered from them. It was held that the mere

<sup>1</sup> Hira Lal Shahru 14 Cal W > 259

Mid Rules &c No 31

R so Cal no t C R no L R s r

I R Cr 5; Fmp : Nob n Chunder Dutt 1 1

fact that the person for whom they were surenes had been convicted of a breach of the peace ought not to be sufficient to make their surety bonds hable to forfesture without any evidence taken in their presence to show that the forfe ture S 514 does not declare that the final order making a surely had been incurred liable can be made without taking any evidence in his presence, or giving him at opportunity of cross-examining the natnesses on whose evidence the forfeiture w held to be established. The judgment consicting the person bound over to keep the peace is admissible in evidence against him and may prove a sufficient basis for an order under $ 514 he having had an opportunity of cross-examining the n inesses on whose evidence the lorfetture is held to be established. So also in the case of a surety, the judgment in which the person is convicted of a breach of the peate would be admissible in evidence against the surety under S 43 of the Evidence Act as evidence of the fact of the convertion as a relevant fact. But when the bond is given by a surety and the condition in the bond is that it shall be forfeited not if the principal is consicted of a breach of the peace, but if he commits a breach of the peace, the judgment is no evidence against the surety who was no part, to it to prove that the person bound over to I eep the perce his really committed a breach of the peace. Such facts must be proved by evidence taken in the presence of the surety unless it is admitted by him. As there was no such evidence taken in this case, and the fact of a forfeiture having been incurred was not admitted the order of forfesture was set aside $

The Allahabad High Court has held contro that when a person who has been bound over to keep the peace is convicted of an offence amounting to a breach of the peace, the production of the order convicting him is sufficient evi dence upon which the Magistrate may proceed against the surety. It is not incumbent on the Magistrate to re try the case against the principal in the presence of the surety after he has appeared to show cause under S 514 s) as to prove in the presence of the surety that the principal was properly consisted nor is the surety entitled to cross examine the witnesses in that case to show that the con viction was wrong It is for the surety to show cause and he may show by his own evidence that the conviction of the principal was improper 2 Subsection 7) inserted by Act No XVIII of 1923 S 139 non clearly lass down that a certified copy of the sudgment consisting the person who had furnished security may be used as evidence and the Court shall presume that the offence was committed by h m unless the contrary is proved. This to some extent follows the Allahabad raling despite what was said by the Calcutta High Court it certainly seems describle that a surety should not be able to re-open the whole case and bring about what would amount to a second trial of the offence See Evidence Act, 1871, S 4

When a Magistrate has taken a bend from any person and that person is brought before him on trial for an offence committed within the period covered by the bond he ought, at the time of convicting for that offence to take into consideration the fact that there is an outstanding bond and to determine once for all, whether he will proceed on it or not. The Magistrate having abstained from making any order for the forfesture of the bond it must be taken that he determined not to proceed on it for that instance of breach of the prace. That being so it was not open to him to re consider and add to his order. The Allahabad High Court has declined to follow these cases and has held that 1 Magistrate may defer taking proceedings to forfeit a recognizance or security to keen the peace until the expiry of the term allowed for an appeal against a consiction or the dismissal of an appeal if made 4

Q. Emp v. Har Chandra Chowdbury. I. L. R. *25 Cal. 440
 Q. Emp v. Man Mohan "Lat. I. R. 21 All. 85
 In re. Ram Chunder I alla. 1 Cal. I. R. 134. In re. Parbuti Churn Bose. 3 Cal. L. R.
 In re. Ram Chunder I alla. 1 Cal. I. R. 134. In re. Parbuti Churn Bose. 3 Cal. L. R.

Fmp t Itaja Ram I L R 25 All 202

And when proceedings for the forfeiture of a bond for become the peace have been commenced before the expire of the period for which the bond was given the fact that such period line expired is no bar to their continuance 1

A Magistrate can proceed to forfeit a bond only when the conditions of that bond have not been fulfiled. So, when the bond required the attendance of the principal on the first day of the Sessions and he did so appear, the condition for which the surety engaged was fulfilled, and he could not be proceeded against for non attendance on any other day *

The payment by the surety of any penalty for default of the principal will not absolve the principal from punishment under S 174. Penal Code, for any offence committed by him a

S 174, Penal Code, provides for the punishment of any person who, being legally bound to attend in person or by an agent at a certain place and time in obed ence to an order proceeding from any public servant, intentionally fails so to attend or depart without permission

There is nothing illegal in a verbal order passed by a Magistrate directing the accused person to appear on the day to which the trial may have been adjourned A conviction under S 174 Penal Code, for non attendance on such varbal order was affirmed 4

There has been some difference of opinion as to whether a principal and his surety are both liable for the amount of the bond on forfeiture. The Calcutta High Court held that the principal and his surety are each hable and irrespective of the fact that the principal may have satisfied the bond. The object of taking a security bond is not to obtain money for the Crown but to prevent crime and the liability of a surety is not co-extensive with that of the principle as in the ordinary case of a surety for payment of a debt 5. The latter part of this ruling followed a decision in an Allahabad case, which was not however a case of forfeiture The Punjab Chief Court of the Lahore High Court have consistently taken the opposite view, and h ve held that the bond is for one amount, and is discharged on forfeiture by the payment of that amount either by the principal or the surety, and in no cas can a larger sum be recovered (7)

A person arrested in Gwalior was released on his giving security to appear before a Magistrate in the Punjab The arrest was afterwards held to be illegal, but his surety was held to be liable on the person's failure to appear, on the ground that S 128 of the Contract Act only explains the quantum of a surety's obligation when the terms of the control do not limit it and has no reference to the nature of the obligation of the principal

Where certain persons b und over to leep the peace brought a civil suit to establish their right to certain property which was the subject of dispute their bonds could not be forfeited on the ground that end litigation was likely to cause a breach of the peace

When a person on bail commits suicide his sureties are discharged from their chis ation to produce him to

Emp : Uma Dutt Misir I L R 44 All 657

<sup>2</sup> Weir 1117 See also Behari Lai Chatterjee I I R 36 Cal 749
Q v Tajumaddi Jahoyr IB L R Cr 1 (sc) 10 W R Cr 4
5 Mad H C R xv App Pro Jan 18 1870 see also Haslavaram Subba Reddi,

Wer 111

Salgram Singh I I R 36 Cu 362 (s c ) 13 Cul W N 555 (s c ) 9 Cul L J 766

Q Emp v Rahm Bakhth I L R 26 All 266

Q Emp v Rahm Bakhth I L R 26 All 266

Q Emp v Rahm Bakhth I L R 26 All 266 7 Crown v Abdul Azizi I L R 4 Lah 462 following haka i Q Emp 26 P R

(Cr.) 1894 Ali Muhammad t Emp 2 6 P I R 1911 Chajju Singh t Crown I L R 2 Lah 204 Sital v Crown I L R I Lah 310

<sup>19</sup> Re Vijiaraghavalu Na du I L R 37 Mad 156

Act, 1902 1

The Presidency Magistrate of Hombry has no jurisdiction under 5 514 to order forfeiture of bonds taken under 5s 106 107 of the City of Bombry Poles

Sub section (2)

This should be read with sub-section (6) The estate of an accused person sourcity would only be inble if the forfeiture took place before his death, but in the case of a deceased principal who had broken the conditions of his bond before his death, it might be otherwise

Sub section (3).

This corresponds with Ss 380 387 in regard to the realization of a fine. But though the amount of a fine can now be real sed by process against immoveable property it is only moveable property which can be proceeded against for recovery of the amount due under a forfeited bond.

514A When any surety to a bond under this Code becomes

Procedure in case of insolvent or dies, or when any bond is forfeited insolvent or death or under the provisions of section 514, the Court, surety is when a bond by whose order such bond was taken, or a little treated to the contraction of th

less, may order the person from whom such security was demand ed to furnish fresh security in accordance with the directions of the original order, and, it such security is not furnished, such Court or Magistrate may proceed as if there had been a default in complying with such original order

514B When the person required by any Court or officer to Bond required from execute a bond is a minor, such Court or officer may accept, in hen thereof, a bond executed by a surety or sureties only

Ss 514A 514B are new, having been inserted by Act No XVIII of 1932 5140 5 514A provides a procedure in the case of the death or insolency of a surety. Where a surety dies before a bond is forfeited his estate is dusharged from all shality in respect of the bond—[S 514 (6)]. If the bond has already been forfeited when the surety dies the penalty may be recovered from his estate—(S 514 (2)) S 514A is an elaboration of the words but the party who gave he bond may be required to find a new surety, which formerly occurred at the end of S 514 (5) it is now not only the Court by whose order the original bond was taken, but a Magistrate of the tirst class or a Presidency Magistrate who can call upon the person from whom security was demanded to furnish fresh security in onliteration can be made at this stage in the terms of the original order if fresh security is not furnished the Court or Magistrate can proceed as in the case of an original default, that is to say con commit the person to prison where the order was one made under Chapter VIII. But the term of imprisonment to be undergone will not be the whole original term the imprisonment will come to an end with the expiry of the period for which security was demanded, see

S milarly when a surety "becomes insolvent" the Court or a Presidence Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class will treat the security furnished as a

In re Hubert Crawford I L. R 42 Born 400 bee Gulab S ngh Panj Rec 1894 p 77

CHAP XLIII SECS 515 517

null not man demand fresh security. The words "becomes insolvent' will probably in practice be treated as equivalent to 'is adjudicated an insolvent', for the purposes of the section it would probably be held that proof of adjudication by a certified copy of the order would be sufficient justification for a Court or Magistrate to take action

S 514B enables a Court or officer, requiring a bond from a minor, to accept in licu thereof a bond executed by a surety or sureties only

Appeal from and other thru a Presidency Magistrate or District revision of orders Magistrate shall be appealable to the District Magistrate, or, if not so appealed, may be revised by him

If a Magistrate not being duly empowered by law in this behalf revises, under S 515 an order passed under S 514, his proceedings shall be void—S 530 1

516 The High Court or Court of Session may direct any beaver to direct Magistrate to lety the amount due on a bond to appear and attend at such High Court or court of Session

CHAPTER XLIII

OF THE DISPOSAL PROPERTY

- 516A When any property regarding which any offence order for eastedy appears to have been committed, or which and dappeal of the appears to have been used for the commission of any oftence, is produced before any Criminal Court during any inquiry or trial, the Court may make such order as it thinks fit for the proper custody of such property pending the conclusion of the inquiry or trial, and, if the property is subject to speedy or natural decay, may, after recording such evidence as it thinks necessary, order it to be sold or otherwise disposed of
- S 516A, inserted by Act No XVIII of 1923 S 141 supplements the law on the subject of d sposal of property connected with the commission of an offence, by enabling the Court to make orders for its proper custody during the pendency of the inquiry or trial, if the property is subject to speedy or natural decay the Court may order it to be sold or otherwise disposed of For disposal of such property, or the sale proceeds thereof, after the conclusion of the inquiry or trial, see the following sections
- 517 (1) When an inquiry in a trial in any Criminal Court order for disposal second condended, the Court may make such order as of property regarding it thinks fit fur the disposal by destruction, confiscation or delivery to any person claiming mitted of any property or document produced before it or in its custody regarding which any offence appears to have been committed, or which has been used for the commission of any offence

- (2) When a High Court or a Court of Session makes such order and eannot through its own officers conveniently deliver the property to the person entitled thereto, such Court may direct that the order be carried into effect by the District Magistrate
- (3) When an order is made under this section such order shall not, except where the property is livestock or subject to speedy and natural deeay, and save as provided by subsection 4, he carried out for one month or when an appeal is presented, until such appeal has been disposed of
- (4) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit any Court from delivering any property under the provisions of subsection (1) to any person claiming to be entitled to the possession thereof, on his executing a bond with or without sureties to the satisfaction of the Court, engaging to restore such property to the Court if the order made under this section is modified or set aside on appeal

Explanation—In this section the term "property" includes, in the case of property regarding which an offence appears to have been committed, not only such property as has been originally in the possession or under the control of any party, but also any property into or for which the same may have been converted or exchanged, and anything acquired by such conversion or exchange, whether immediately or otherwise

This section has been aniended by Act No. XVIII of 1923, S 142. In Subsection (1) the methods of "disposal" are illustrated, it can be "by destruction, confiscation, or elitery to any person channing to be entitled to possession the confiscation of the confiscation

A proceeding under S 117 is an "inquiry" within the meaning of S 517 than order for the disposal of property under S 517 can only be made upon the conclusion of an inquiry or trail, and not on the application of person subsequently made by him after the conclusion of the trial. He has his remedy by means of a Civil Suit 1

<sup>1</sup> In relyd: Ramanna I L R 42 Mad 9

Any Court may impound any document or thing produced before it under this

Cole—S 104
In order to enable a Court to pass an order under S 517 for the disposal of am property or document, such property or document (e) must be produced before it, or (b) be in its custody, or (c) it must appear that an offence has been committed regarding it or (d) it must have been used for the commission of an offence, and one of the conditions must exist in an inquiry or trail in such Court of S 517 does not provide for such in order by a Court of Appeal or Revision but i Court of Appeal may make any consequential order that may be just or proper [S 423 (i) (d)) and its is suited enable it to p sea no order under S 517 releting to any properts or document in thit appeal The High Court as Revision has the powers of i Court of Revision has the powers of it Court of Revocal under S 421—(S 430)

An order made under S 517 shall not be carried out for one month or, when an appeal is presented until such appeal his been disposed of, but this does not apply where the property is livestock, or is subject to speedy or natural deety, and sub-section (3) lies not prevent the Court from delivering property to any person claiming to be entitled to the possession thereof on his executing a bond with or without sureties to restore the property to the Court if the order is modified or set aside on appeal

The words "when an appeal is presented" do not indicate that an order under S syr is subject to appeal of itself they refer to the presentation of an appeal in the main case out of which the order has arisen. The order would be modified or set aside on appeal by means of an order under S 4-3 (1) (d) by the Appellate Court. Sub-section (4) seems to be defective in that it does not enable the Court to deliver property on the execution of a bond that it will be restored if the order is modified or set under on revision though at appears that the period of one month was prescribed in sub-section (3) to enable an application to be made in revision.

No order under 5 517 can be passed until the inquiry or trial is concluded a But an order can be made under 5 516A during the pendency of the inquiry or trial where the property in question is subject to speedy or natural decry

The term 'property specially difined in the Explanation of the Larcery Act (24 and 25 Vict c 66) S 1 property includes sale proceeds realised under S 516A

It is important to note that S 517 of the Code of 1808 was an amendment of the previous Code inasmuch as it introduced the words, "or in its custody or "It was held under the former Codes that to enable a Court to pass an order under S 517 some offence must have been committed in regard to the particular property or document or it must have been used for the commission of an offence, so that consequently if no offence was established no order could be prissed. But after the passing of the Code of 1803 it was held that the amendment of S 517 enables a Court t pass an order under that section in regard to property or a document produced before it or in its custody, even though no offence has been found to have been committed regarding it. So when a complaint of remnial bread of trust had been dismissed, it was held that whereas certain property in the hands of the Court admittedly belonged to the complainant it should be given to her a But nevertheless the High Courts of

Abdul v Ghulam Muhammad I L R 4 Lah 460 Haji Kasim Mohomed Bom H Ct March 16 1898

re Anna Purnabai I L R A iBom

al L L 44 overrul ng Surendra Nath 4 Brett J one of the Judges in both 1 overlooked

CHAP XILI SEG !

Madras and Bombay have held if no offence has been committed in regard or it has not been used for the commission of an offence, no order S 517 can be passed It must be restored to the person from whose pos it came It cannot be detrined by order of the Magistrate until the t rightful owner has been proved before n Civil Court 1 It is not Criminal Court under such circumstances to consider whether such per entitled to return possession. The Allahabad High Court has however prounde S 517 to determine the right to property before it, as if it were actin Civil Court So, where in a case of cheating in which it was found th accused had given halves of some currency notes to the complainant at other halves previously to a third party and all these halves were produ the trial, and the Sessions Judge on appeal had directed that they should them be given to the third party the High Court on revision set aside this holding that, as this party had by his regligent conduct allowed the accu return possession of the other half notes and given him an opportunity to the offence he should suffer, for "when a question arises between two f who shall bear a less resulting for m the fraud of a third party, the one who shall bear negligence shall suffice. [Foster Green 7 H & N, 88] p 883]. To provide for the contingency of this party, to whom the note been delivered under the order of he Sessions Judge having parted with and being thus unable to comply with the order for their return the High ordered in the alternative that in that case a certain payment of money should made in hell of the notes 3 (The jurisdiction of the High Court, as a Co Criminal Revision, to consider the rights of the parties and to make this seems open to doubt). On the other hand where the accused were acquit having criminally misoppropriated an elephant which they claimed as their the Calcutta High Court held that the Magistrate could not order it to be to the complainant whose property he had found it to be, and that the Magi should have left it in he possession of the accused the complainant havin remedy in the Civil Court on proof of his right to it 4

Under sub-section (2) the expression used is "deliver the property to person entitled thereto. This has not been followed in the amende carried out in sub-section (1) and (4) where the words ' person claiming entitled to the possession thereof have been adopted ' Possession' ther seems to be the criterion to be found Obviously a criminal Court summary order under this Chapter could not determine the title to properly between third parties, that must be a matter for a civil Court If in an in or trial the accused has been lischarged or acquitted the Court is boun restore any property in dispute to the possession of the party I am whom it taken unless the Court is of opinion that an offen e has been comm reg rding it, when such order for he disposal of the prope ty is seems should be passed. So, where property belonging to the estate of a dece person was found with a person who was acquitted by the Magistrate of he dishonestly taken it so as to amount t theft, it was hald that the Magis was not competent to order it to be given to the heirs of the Jeceased person his order was cancelled 5 But in another case in which the accused acquitted of having cut down and stolen wood belonging to the complainant on ground that he acted under a misapprehension that the land on which the t grew belonged to him, the High Court refused to interfere with the Magistri

In re Devdin Durgaprasasi I. L. R. 22 Bom. 841
 In re Ratanial Rangidas I. R. 73 Bom. 748 Kuppammull I. L. R. 29 Mad.
 Abdur Razzaq I. R. 72 All 630
 Baluram Gogai Q. Cat. V. N. 549
 In re Annapurnabar I. L. R. 1 Bom. 630 followed in Basudeb Surma Goss Patrudan I. I. R. 14 Cal. 834

SEC. 517

trder directing the wood to be given to the complainant, because he was clearly entitled to possession of it?

But the Madras High Court has held' that on the discharge of an accused person charged with theft of certain art les on the ground that the accused had a bona file belief that he was entitled to possession, this neutral count claim return of the articles to him as a matter of course. In a theft case where the accused is discharged, an order can be made for the delivery of the property to some party other than the party in whose possession it was found.

So also, where the accused was discharged of dishonestly being in possession of stolen property, and there was erms reason to believe that the property was stolen property, the High Court refused to interfere with the Magistrate's order directing a proclamation to be made under S 523 for the owner, and also refus ing to give it to the accused person 3

When money was produced by a man who was requitted of dacoity, it was ordered to be returned to him as no offence had been proved in regard to it 4

An order that an innocent purchaser from the third should restore a cow stolen from the complumant, could not include a call since born which was not in embryonic existence when the theft took place 4

But though, under the Contract Act a purchaser in good futh has no right to retain possession as against the owner of a chatted whose possession was lost by theft, this rule does not apply to the transfer of money or Gevern ment Currency notes which represent money, and do not stand upon the footing of other chattels * In the language of English law the pr perty passes by mere deluxer, and in the interest of commerce and the security of human dealing nothing short of fraud in taking an instrument payable to bearer will enginf an exception upon this rule (?). The Treasury was bound to cash the note, and the original owner has no claim to if * But it is only when the coins are a legal tender that the person receiving them acquires a valid title to them. This does not apply where the coins are not current coin of the realm and are not by Statute or by the law of merchants legal tender.

A stolen currency note was tendered to a goldsmith in payment for articles purchased and the goldsmith got it cashed by a neighbour who cashed it in good faith. In the trial the received we convected of criminal breach of trust in respect of the note and the Court ordered the note to be delivered to the Crown. It was held on the application of the neighbour that property in a currency note passed by mer del very and the applicant had obtained good title, though the accused had none. **

In making an order under S 517 for the disposal of counterfeit coins the Criminal Court should consider whether the coin should not be forwarded to the nearest Tressury or Sub Fressury officer with directions to deal with it in the manner prescribed by the Government of Ind's in the department of Finance and Commerce a copy of the judgment being also sent. The same course should be taken in respect to implements used in coming such as dies moulds etc(11). Where the accused has been conviced of insiding a brible (S 16). Penal

```
Veit 1220 Michell v Joggessur,
```

O Emp v Joti Rajnak I L R 8 Bom 338

Code) the Magistrate cannot pass orders in respect of money produced by a w ness and said to have been guen as a bribe, nor can a Magistrate deal wi money so offered, and order it to be given in charity "

Where an accused has beer convicted of embezzlement, the Magistrate cann order that certain ornaments found with him should be made over to the complain ant as representing the value of the loss suffered 2

On a summons assued for the appearance of two persons accused of ollence, certain property was prouced on a search warrant issued by Magistrate No further proceedings were taken against one of these persons, h he claimed the property seized as his own. He was entitled to immedia inquiry whether this property belonged as alleged to the complainant and form the subject of the offence under trial or was in possession of that accused pers ne his own 4

Mand for the commission of an offence.

On conviction of certain persons under 5 124% of the Penal Code for public ing a seditious article in a newspaper, the Press in which it is printed cou not be made the subject of an order under S 517 of this Code s

On a conviction for cambling under Ss 6 and 7 of Madras Act 111 of 16 an order of confiscation can be passed under S 517 only in respect of the mon actually used for gambling, and not in respect of other money found on t person of the gambler

Produced before it

Whenever any Court or, in any place beyond the limits of the towns Calcutta and Bombay, any police officer in charge of a police station conside that the production of any document or other thing is necessary or desirable if the purposes of any investigation, inquiry or trial by or before such Court officer, such Court may issue a summons, or such officer a written order, to the person in whose possession or power such document or thing is believed to b requiring him to attend and produce it, or to produce it, at the time and plan stated in the summons or order, such person may cause such document or thu to be produced instead of attending personally to produce it-S of A Cou niny issue a search warrant to obtain a document of thing when it has reason t believe that it will not be produced on a summons written order under S of-(S 96) A Magistrate cannot order a person who has been required under S 9 to produce a thing, to execute a bond to produce it when required in subsequen proceedings in the case if, when produced, it is found to be necessary for th inquiry or trial, it should be retained in the custods of the Court ?

Property produced before a Court n proceedings under S 110 can be the subject of an order under S 517, though there may be no proof that any offence had been committed in regard to it 9

Or in its custody.

This may be when a document or other thing is produced before a Court as just stried or, when after making an arrest without warrant, a police-officer

<sup>1</sup> Mad H Ct Pro Feb 13 1874 Weir 1121

<sup>1</sup> Man H Cr FTO FEO 33 10/4 West 1121
2 FTO July 20 1855 West 1122
2 Emp Fattan Chand I L R 24 Cal 4991(se) 1 Cal W N 435
4 In re Laksbana Gobund Nigude I L R 26 Bom, 552
4 Abnash Chander Bhattacbarjee I L R 34 Cal 998 (sc) 11 Cal W N 1046 (s c) 6 Cal L J 755

Re Appaji Ayyar I L R 41 Mad 644

Jarip Gazu v Emp 8 Cal W N 887

In re Pydi Ramanna I L R 42 Mad 9 searches the person arrested and places in safe custody all articles other than necessary wearing apparel found upon him-(S 51) Where some thieves escaped leaving stolen property in a boat, the Magistrate was not competent to confiscate the boat which was used for the commission of the theft 1 Powers under S 517 are large, and the Magistrate's discretion is wide, but the discretion must be exercised judicially and not arbitrarily Vithough S 517 is in its terms wide confiscation of property "produced" before a Criminal Court is not justifiable unless it has been used for the com mission of an offence, or an offence has been committed regulding it 3

On a conviction for gambling under Madras Act 111 of 1889 an order of confiscation can be passed under S 517 only in respect of any money actually used for gambling, and not in respect of other money found on the person of the rambler a

Property, part of which is joint family property and part the self acquired property of an individual undivided member can rightly be handed by the Court to the manager and the individual member on their joint receipt 4

518 In hen of itself passing an order under section 517 the Court may direct the property to be deliver-Order may lake ed to the District Magistrate or to a Sub diviform of reference to District or Sub-divi sional Magistrate who shall in such cases deal sional Magistrate with it is if it lead been seized by the Police and the seizure had been reported to him in the manner hereinafter mentioned

In such a case the District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate would proceed under S 523

But if the ease has been before the Sessions Judge on appeal, the District Magistrate eannot act under S 518 even where the Sessions Judge may have omitted to pass any order in regard to the disposal of the property. If the party concerned objects to the order passed by the District Magistrate he should go to the Sessions Judge 5

519 When any person is convicted of any offence which includes or amounts to, theft or receiving stolen Payment to mno property, and it is proved that any other person cent purchaser of money found on ac has bought the stolen property from him without knowing, or living reason to believe, that the same was stolen, and that any money has on his arrest been taken out of the possession of the convicted person, the Court may, on the application of such purchaser and on the restitution of the stolen property to the person entitled to the possession thereof, order that out of such money a sum not exceeding the price paid by such purchaser be delivered to him

This would not nuthorise payment of a sum of money to an innocent purchaser of stolen property by way of compensation out of a fine imposed on

Purna Chunder Handopadhya 7 Cal W N 522 Re Appaja Ayyar 1 L R 41 Mad 644 (per PHILLIPS J ) Re Appaja Ayyar 1 L R 41 Vad 644 (per Alling J ) Kanaga Sabai I L R 34 Vad 91 Laxaman Rangu Rar I L R 35 Bom 753

Laxaman Rangu Rar

Stay of order under the thief, the Court can only order money found on the convicted person to be so paid S 545 does not app's 1

A Magistrate cannot order certain ornaments found with a person consisted of embezzlement to be given to the complainant so as to replace the amount so lost by him *

520 Any Court of appeal, confirmation, reference or revi sion may direct any order under section 517, section 517 518 or section 519 or section 519, presed by a Court 510 subordinate thereto, to be stayed pending consideration by the former Court, and may modify, alter or annul such order and make any further orders that may be just

Make any further orders that may be just,

Similarly a Court of Appeal may male any consequential or incidental order in the case under appeal that may be just or proper [S 423 (1) (d)], and a Court in the case under appear that may be just of proper to 4-3 (1) (0.1). The of Revision can also make such an order for it may exercise any of the powers conferred on a Court of Appeal by S. 423. So under S. 520 as now expressed a Court of Appeal or Revision can say the curring out of an order passed by $\frac{1}{2}$. subordin ite Court under S 517 S 518 or S 519 and if it has been carried out by delivery of property to any person it can order its return and delivery to another person. The amendment of S 520 by the addition of these words has consequently rendered obsolete several cases on the subject in which it was held that, although an order for delivery of property of a person may be set aside if it has been so delivered a Court of Appeal or Revision can only set aside the order and cannot order restoration so as to give effect to its own order 8

It has been held that it is not necessary that there should be an appeal against the final order in a case to enable a Court of Appeal to act under S 520 for it may happen that an order under 5 517 S 518 or S 519 may in no way concern the person enovicted a

The Court of Appeal here indicated would properly be the Court to which appeals ordinarily lie from the Court which passed the order

But S 520 does not confer a right of appeal against an order under Ss 517 518 519, If the proceedings in which such order was made come before an Appellite Court in an append provided for by the Code S 520 gives that Court power to deal with the order If there is no append a person aggreed by the order can apply in revision See cases cited below A comparison should also be made with the language of S 524 (2) which expressly provides for an appeal

An order of a Magistrate, directing restoration in respect of which no offence has been committed to the person with whom it was found as not an order under S 517 and therefore is not appealable under S 520 $

An order under S 517 should not be revised without notice to the other side 7 Notice should ordinarily be given *

. ..

Purguthinni Paramutha Weir 1127

&quot;I W N 435 Weir 1123 Syed Mohidin Saib I Basudeb Surma Gossain . . v Naz

<sup>2 339</sup> Emp v Nilam bar Ba +10 Surendra Nath Sarma v Rai Mohan Das I L R 30 Cal 690 (sc) 7 Cal W N

<sup>1</sup> In re Lazman Rangu I L R 35 Bom 253

Arunachala Thevan I L R 46 Mad 162

Where a first class Magistrate converts the accused and made an order under S 17 for the disposal of property, and on appeal the Sessions Judge acquitted the accused but left undeathed the order under S 517, the District Magistrote has no jurisdiction under S 520 to interfere, though he might have done so if there had been no appeal to the Sessions Court 1.

A Sub-divisional Magistrue hearing an appeal under S 407 (2) has power to make an order under S 523 regarding the disposal of property either at the time of disposing of the appeal, or so soon thereafter that the order may be treated as part of the appeal proceedings.

Orders under S 517 are discretion 13 but where the discretion has been exercised in violation of accepted judicial principles it is open to correction 3

There has been some diseigence of opinion as to whether an Appellate Court has power to pass an order under S 520 even though an appeal may not have been preferred against the decision of the lower Court in the proceedings out of which the lower Court's order wore The Calcutta High Court held the words "Court of Appeal" are not necessarily limited to a Court before which an appeal is pending . The Allahabad High Court, in a case in which the accused liad been discharged and an order had been passed under S 418 of the Code of 1882, held that application to revise the order should be made to the court of appeal before resort was had to the High Court to exercise its powers of revision. The Madras High Courts followed these cases. This decision was under the Code of 1808. But a different view has been taken in later cases. The Bombay High Court dissented from the view taken in Queen Empress v Ahmed and held that where the accused had been acquitted of the offence of theft of eattle and the Magistrate had made an order as to the disposal of the eattle the Sessions Judge had no juri-diction to modify the order (7) And the Allahabad High Court held that the District Magistrate could not revise the order of a Subordinate Magistrate under S 517 where the accused had been acquitted since the District Magistrate was neither a Court of Appeal nor a Court of revision, the High Court being the only Court which has power to pass orders in revision. This appears to be the correct view. The phraseology of 5 520 indicates that it is the Court sitting as a Court of Appeal against the decision in the original case out of which the incidental order under Ss 517 518 or gio was made, or a Court which has powers to pass an order in revision in respect of such a case, 1e, a High Court, which ean exercise powers under S It is different with S 524 which expressly provides for an appeal

Where o person was converted by a Magistrate in respect of dishonestly recommendation of the property of the latter as to the disposal of the notes which the Magistrate had mide over to the complunant when he converted the accused Six months after his equitation the accused applied to the Sessions Judge for restoration of the notes. The Judge rejected the applied to the Sessions Judge for restoration of the notes. The Judge rejected the applied tom is being buried by limitation. It was held that the appliedation was to assen by way of appeal from the Magistrate's order but an independent upplication to the Judge with a view to his taking action under Ss 517 and 520 and no peniod of firmitation is prescribed for such in application and the Sessions Judge was directed to dispose of the application. "This words and make any further orders that may be just "in S 520 are Intended to cover cases of this nature and to enable superior Courts to pass proper orders in cases where properly has been erroneously disposed of under

In re Laxman Rangu I L R 35 Bom 253

S 517" But on the other hand it has been held that an order under S 520 should be passed at the time of giving the decision in appeal, or so soon thereafter the tile order might be easily to be a part of the appellate proceeding.

This aspect of the case does not seem to have been considered by the learned Judge of the Lahore High Court The section Itself does not indicate as do Ss 521 522 when the order should be passed In S 521 the words "on a conviction indicate that the order should be part of the main proceedings while in S 252 the order must be made when conveting such person or all significant must be made when conveting such person or all significant time within one month of the date of the gonvetton." The case of Arunachia The-anti-seems to indicate the correct new of the law on the point

(1) On a conviction under the Indian Penal Code section 292 section 293 section 501 or section other 502 the Court may order the destruction of all libellous and matter the copies of the thing in respect of which the conviction was had and which are in the custody of the Court or remain in the possession or power of the person convicted,

(2) The Court may in like manner on a conviction under the Indian Penal Code section 272 section 273 section 274 or scetion 275 order the food drink drug or medical preparation in respect of which the conviction was had to be destroyed

S 202 Penal Code relates to the selling of obscene books &c . S 203 to having In possession obscene books &c for the purpose of sale.

S 501, to printing or engraving matter knowing it to be defamatory
S 502 to selling or offering for sale such printed or engraved matter with such knowledge

S 272, to adulteration of food or drink intended for sale so as to make it noxious S 273 to sale or offering or exposing for sale such food or drink with knowledge of its state S 274 to adulteration of drugs

S 275 to sale or offering or exposing for sale adulterated drugs

It would appear that an order under this section should be passed at the time of conviction

(1) Whenever a per on is convicted of an offence attended by criminal force or show of force or by eriminal intimidation and it appears to the possession of im moveable property Court that he such force or show of force or criminal intimidation any person has been dispossessed of any immoveable property, the Court may, if it thinks fit when convict ing such person or at any time within one month from the date of the conviction order the person dispossessed to be restored to the possession of the same

(2) No such order shall presidue any right or interest to or in such immoveable property which any person be able to establish in a civil suit

Arunachala Theyan I L R 46 Mad 162

(3) An order under this section may be made by any Court of appeal, confirmation, reference or revision

This section has been amended by Act No. AVIII of 1923, So. 143, so as to enable the Court to restore possessions when possession has been disturbed by show of force or by crumnal intimidation, and not merely by criminal force. It is also made clear that the order can be made at the time of conviction, or at any time within one month from the date of the conviction. I urther sub-section (3) now time within one month from the date of the conviction. I urther sub-section (3) now an order under the section. This words used are the same as those of S. 520, and many of the rulings cited in the note to that section will be applicable to S. 522. But under the latter section no question can arise of an order passed when the accused has been acquitted.

S. 522 used, in the Code of 18St, to form part or the Chapter relating to disputes as to immoveable property, now Chapter XII of the Code, which enables a Magistrate to determine the possession of land, &c, regarding which there is a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace, the object being to maintain actual possession until the disputing parties shall have obtained an adjudication of their right to the land by an order of a competent court.

S 145 (4) provise as now enacted enables a Magistrate who finds that any party to such a case has been forcebly and wrongfully dispossessed of any land within two months next before the date of his taking proceedings, to treat the party so disposessed as if he had been in possession on such date, that is, he may declare such person to be entitled to possession of the land in dispute, and he can forbid all disturbance of such possession until such person is evicted in due course of law —S 145 (6). This might amount to a restoration of possession in the same manner as by an order under S 522. But apart from this S. 145 does not authorise a Vagistrate to out one party and put another party in possession S. 522 is the only provision which enables this to be done; and for the purpose of exercising the powers therein granted there must have been a conviction for an offence;

An order by a Magistrate gwing possession of real (immoveable) property is merely to prevent the occupation being disturbed by violence, and confers no right or title on the party put into possession.

no right or title on the party put into possession.

Attended by Griminal Force, or show of force, or by criminal intimidation,

All words and expressions used in this Code and defined in the Indian Penal Code and not defined in this Code, shall be deemed to have the meanings respectively attributed to them by that Code—[(§ 4 [2)] Criminal force is here used as defined by Ss 349, 350 of the Indian Penal Code under which the using of it is an offence 5 349, Penal Code, provides a definition of the use of force, and S 503 of the same Code defines "criminal intimidation"

Where criminal force is an ingredient of the offence of which the accused person has been convicted, and it has been found that in the commission of that offence the complainant has been dispossessed of immoveable property, there can be no question of the legislay of an order under S 22. But it not unfrequently happens that the conviction is for an offence for which criminal force is not an ingredient, e.g., criminal trespass, and hence an order under S 22 has occasionally been set aside. It has been held that, before an order can be passed under S 23, some person must have been convicted of an offence "attended by criminal force," and some person must have been dispossessed of immoveable property by such force. There must be a finding by the Court which has convicted the accurate persons that criminal force was in fact used by them and that the complainants as dispossessed of immoverable property by such force, and if there is no swh finding, and criminal force is not an ingredient of the officiace of which the accused have been convicted the order is bad. It is not necessary that criminal force should be an ingredient of that officiace.

The above remarks must however be read in the light of the amendancial made in sub-vection (i). The words are now by criminal force or show of force or by criminal intimulation. It held been light that show of criminal force was not enough

The question whether an order must be made at the time of convicting or could be made later had been discussed the amendment which allows a penod of one month within which an order must be made if at all, gives effect in substance to the wen taken generally by the Courts.

Such an order is not a part of the judgment so as to be within 5 369 which forbids the alteration of a judgment after it has been signed as it does not affect the terms of that judgment). If an order be passed under S. Saz giving posses sion of land to a certain person the Magistrate cannot att chi the crops or direct them to be given to a third party. If the right of such party are invertexed with he must seek remedy in the Civil Court.

The object of S 522 is to enable a Criminal Court by a summary order to restore the state of things at the time of a forcible dispossession by the connected person or persons. So when after a foreible dispossession a third party was justice possession by the connected person as his terrain the order was operative as against him. If it were not so it could be always evaded s

But such disposession must have taken place at the time of the commusion, of the offence. The Court enone consider and restore a possession lost previously, because the person to dispossessed may have attempted to obtain possession and been forcibly opposed. Where the accused were convicted of wrongful restraint by creating a hait so as to obstruct the passage of the complainant, and the Magistrate for the removal of the but, it was held by a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court that there was no inherent power in a Court to pass such an order, even though without it the obstruction found would still remain (?) But as the cudence showed that the offence had been attended by criminal force, the order was allowed to stand as if passed by itself under S 522

When after passing an order under S 522 for restoring a person to possession of finid of which he has been foreibly dispossessed the Magietzate finds that it was a portion of chir which was the "ubject of a case under S 145 he is competent to stry execution of his order, leaving the matter to be decided in the other case? It seems from the report that the matter under S 522 moded the possession of a tenant whereas the case under S 145 related to the possession if rival landlords though the fact was not referred to in the judgment.

An order under S 522 is an order consequential or incidental to the conviction It can undoubtedly be set aside by an Appellate Court before which the

In re Bata Kala Pottiayadu I L R 26 Mad 49 Mohini Mohan Chowdhry v

<sup>. 467</sup>

Rameswar Marwari v Biswanath 5 Cal W N 374
Narayan Govind v V 31 1 1 R +2 Rom

Mohan Mohan Chow 8 Cal
Sa8 per Macusan C J 1 diss
Problet Change Ch

conviction has been brought in appeal and therefore by a revisional Court in view of the wording of $ 439 But it had generally been held that it was doubtful whether a Court of appeal or reus on had power to make an order under S 522 In some cases the power was assumed and exercised 1 In others the High Courts declined to assume the power. The matter is now settled by the insertion of sub-section (3) Where a Court has refused to pass an order under S 522 for the restoration of property a Court of appeal or revision cannot compel it to do so nor will such Court even if it has power to do so ordinarily pass an order urder S 522 itself 3 The words underlined are now not applicable and other cases in which it was held that Courts of appeal and revision had no power to make orders under 5 522 are now obsolete It is doubtful whether a Court of appeal or revision would any longer hold that the power to it by sub-section (3) should only be used in circumstances No doubt due consideration would be given to fact that the trial Court is vested with full discretion and that it had after due consideration refused to exercise its powers but each case would have to be dealt with on its merits. In one case, the High Court has already exercised the power now conferred on it

In a pierious case it had been held that where a person had been assaulted and depossessed of a burgalow it was the duty of the Magistrate on convicting the accused under 5 32 Penal Code to make an order under $5 522 directing restoration of the bungalou 5

In order under $\int_{32}^2$ is not in useff populate because the Code does not cyrrests provide for such an appe I and $\int_{42}^2$ edectives that nn appeal shall I e from my judgment or order of any Crim rail Court except as provided for by a Code or by any law for the time being in force $\int_{42}^2$ But that case which was under the Code of $\int_{42}^2$ has been considered in a more recent case and declared the beobstele in consequence of $\int_{42}^2$ (1) (d) of the present Code which declares that in hearing an appeal the Court may make any amendment or any consequential or incidental order that may be just or proper (7). The correctness of this case may be open to doubt as the Code does not give the right of appeal aguinst an order under $\int_{52}^2$ to Yellow enables a Court hearing an appeal to retunder $\int_{52}^2$ 22. The H gh Court in Revision can also set as de an order under $\int_{52}^2$.

523 (1) The seizure by any police officer of property taken under section 51 or alleged or suspected to have

Procedure by been stolen of found under circumstances properly taken under which create suspection of the commission of sec 5f or stolen who is properly taken under which create suspection of the commission of

Magistrate, who shall make such order as he thinks fit respecting the disposal of such property or the delivery of such property to the person entitled to the possession thereof, or, if such person cannot be ascertained respecting the custody and production of such property

<sup>1</sup> Mank I L R 27 All 415 She kl Ahmed Ah I L R 36 Cal 44 (8 C) 43/

W N 77 Bhagat S] sha t Sad que Ostagar I L R 39 Cal 1050 Aziz Al; ad; ) , ) , Khan I L R 45 All 553

al f30 ( / 3/4 W+

786

date of such proclamation

(2) If the person so entitled is known, the Magistrate may thee order the property to be delivered to him on owner of property such conditions (if any) as the Magistrate eized unknown thinks fit If such person is unknown, the Magistrate may detain it, and shall, in such case, issue a procla mation specifying the articles of which such property consists and requiring any person who may have a claim thereto to appear before him and establish his claim within six months from the

S 517 relates to the disposal of property in an inquiry or trial, S 523 to the disposal of property seized by a police-officer or found under suspiciou does not relate to the disposal of property which has been the subject of a criminal trial, for that is a matter which should be dealt with under S 517 S 523 deals only with cases in which the Police may have seized property by virtue of their own powers eg under Ss 51 54, or 65 ind not in carrying out the orders of a Magistrate as in execution of a search warrant under S 96

If therefore the matter does not come within S 517 or S 523 there is no provision of law authorising the Magistrate to depart from the general rule that property taken under the authority of law from a particular person should on fulhiment of that purpose go back to the custody whence it came 2 So where the accused, from whose possession certain things were seized and sent in by the police in connection with the offence charged died before the trial it was held that they were rightly made over to his heirs notwithstanding that they were claimed by third parties on the ground that they had been left with the deceased on pledge The Magistrate was not bound to inquire into this claim Where there has been an inquiry or trial, that concludes the immediate right to possession under S 517, but where an order has to be made under S 523, the Alagistrate may, in the inquiry, proceed on such evidence as is available, and make an order for handing the property to the person he thinks entitled That does not conclude the right of any person. The real owner may proceed against the holder of the articles or for damages as for a conversion a In that case, an ornament which was stolen was melted down into a gold bar which was pawned to a third party. This was proved by the confession of one of the accused persons to the Police who were acquitted on appeal by the Sessions Judge The High Court on revision refused to interfere holding that, although a confession made to the Police was not evidence against the person, making it (Evidence Act 1 of 1872, S 25) so as to prove that he committed an offence, still it would be admissible for other purposes as an admission (S 18), against the person who made it (S 21) in a character setting up an interest in property, the object of litigation or judicial inquiry and disposal 4

A bag of money was pointed out by a person who was convicted of theft, and it was given to the owner Close by, another bag of money and a gold ring was found burried. The Magistrate issued a proclamation under S 523, whereupon a person claimed it as owner of the soil in which it was found. The claim was rejected, and an order under S 524 was passed placing it at the disposal of Government. He then sued the Secretary of State to recover this property on the ground that it was treasure trove, but on appeal this suit was dismissed.

Pryag Dutt Cal 11 Ct Sept 7 1883 In re Ratanal Rangildas I L R 17 Born 745 Doubted by Fulton I In re

On search of the petitioner's house certuin property was found which could not be identified and, therefore, he was acquitted. On proclamation issued by the Magistrite, no one came forward to claim this property, on which the petitioner applied for it and offered evidence to prove that it belonged to him but the Magistrate refused to issue process to obtain that evidence. The Calcutta High Court set aside this croter, holding that the Magistrate was bound to summon the witnesses named by the petitioner.

In making an order under 5 522 for the disposal of counterfeit coin or implements used in coming such as dese moulds etc the Criminal Court should not be forwarded to the nearest Trensury or Subtreasury officer with directions to deal with them in the manner prescribed by the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce a copy of the judgment being also sent?

A Magistrate before issuing a proclamation under S 523 is not bound to call upon the person in whose possession it has been found to show cause why he should not deal with it under that section, and he is not bound to pres any final order in the mitter until the expiry of six months from the date of proclamation 4

A Magistrate is not obliged to conduct a judicial inquiry on oath before making an order under $ \( \frac{2}{2} \) He can act on the police report $ But an order was not justified where the property was not recovered from the ostitomers' possession under $ \frac{2}{2} \) in diall that appeared from the police papers was that the petitinner was helieved to be intend at to misappronarise it at some future date and had brought a false charge against the owner of the property to facilitate the contemplated crime $ \frac{1}{2} \)

A High Court has power in revision to interfere with orders passed under  $S_{-2}$ ? (1)

The following instructions have been issued by the Government of Bengal (Cir. 2008, May 28, 1868) on an opinion of the Advocate General --

"The general rule of law with respect to moverable property found of which to owner cannot be decovered as that it belongs to the finder who may however to guilty of a criminal differee by appropriating it to his own use when leaves or has the mean of finding to do not state the first to the first fi

"Weeks are in the first instance to be retained by the salvors who have a special property in them by wav of len for the schage. It is illeral for the Pote to take salved wreck out of the possession of the salvors though upon d scovery of wrecked property in such possession notice of the salvors though upon d scovery of wrecked property in such possession notice of the same should be given by the Police to the Magistrate of the district. If the owners come forward the matter will be one for adaptiment between the parties. If the owners cannot be

Secretary of State : Vikhitsingh Meghram I L R 19 Bom 668

Sookhan Sahoo i Covt 18 W R Cr 5 See also Emp a Mambar Babu I L R.
2 All 276

Cal H Ct Rules Sc p 54
O Emp : Mahalabu Idim I L R 22 Cal 761
Chuni Inlt Ishar Das R 4 Lah 38

within six months

found, then, subject to the salvage claims, the wrecked property belongs to the State which may sue for its recovery in the same way as the owner might have done Where such a course is necessary, the Magistrate should give notice to the Collector, who will take the necessary legal proceedings

With these exceptions moverble property found in the possession of any private person and not claimed is the property of the innocent finder

"The provisions of Ss 25 27 Act V of 1861 apply to all unclaimed property of which any officer of the Police may be the finder

The right of the State of property which is left by deceased persons and to which there is no claimant stands on different grounds and is not the subject of these orders "

Instructions have been given by the Local Government, United Provinces for the disposal of property under S 523 when it has been forwarded to the head-quarters of a district *

524 (1) If no person within such period establishes claim to such property, and if the person in whose possession such property was found is unable to no claimant appears property shall be at the disposal of the Government, and may be sold under the orders of the Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate, or of a Magistrato of the first class empowered by the Local Government in this behalf show that it was legally acquired by him, such

(2) In the case of every order passed under this section an appeal shall he to the Court to which appeals against sentences of the Court passing such order would be

If any Magistrate not empowered by law in that behalf, erroneously in good faith sells property under S 524 his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being so empowered —S 529 (h)

In Madrus 2 all Magistrates of the 1st Class have been empowered to act under $ 524 also, in the United Provinces; also in the Punjan, also in BOMBAY, provided that they are not Honorary Magistrates, when a special order is necessary in each case.

A Magistrate is bound to summon witnesses named by a person to prove his claim to certain property seized by the Police as property suspected to have been stolen 7

If the person entitled to the possession of such pro-

Power to sell perish perty is unknown or absent and the property 15 able property subject to speedy and natural decay, or if the Magistrate to whom its eighte is reported is of opinion that its sale would be for the benefit of the owner, or that the value of such property is less than ten rupees, the Magistrate may at any

* All Bk Cir p 43 * Mad Gaz 1873 p 598 Man 110

All Man 202
Panj Gaz 1883 Part I p 52
Bom Gaz 1873 p 16 Snokhan Sahoo t Cost 18 W R Cr 5

SEC 526

time direct it to be sold, and the provisions of section 528 and 524 shill, as nearly is may be practicable, apply to the nett proceeds of such sale

If any Virgistrate, in a empeasance by Law in this behalf, erroneously in good faith, sells property under S 5.5 his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being so empowered —S 579 (h)

This section has been amended by Act Vo VVIII of 1973, S 1447, and the power to direct the sale of preperty applies now not only to perishable property, but also to property of traval value

CHAPTER ALIV

OF THE TRANSFER OF CRIMINAL CASES

High Court may

try it

526 (1) Whenever it is made to appear

- to the High Court—

  (a) that a fau and imported inquity or trial cannot he had in any Criminal Court subordinate thereto, or
  - (b) that some question of law of unusual difficulty is likely to arise, or
     (c) that a view of the place in or near which any offence
  - has been committed may be required for the satisfactory inquiry into or trial of the same, or
  - (d) that an older under thus section will tend to the geneial convenience of the parties or witnesses, or
  - (e) that such an order is expedient for the ends of justice, or is required by any provision of this Code.

it may order-

- (t) that any offence be inquired into or tried by any Court not empowered under sections 177 to 184 both inclusive, but in other respects competent to inquire
- into of try such offence (ii) that any prittenly case or appeal, or class of cases or appeals, be transferred from a Grammal Court subordinate to its authority to any other such Criminal
- Court of equal or superior purisdiction,
  (iii) that any particular case or appeal be transferred to
- and tried before itself, or
  (ii) that in accused person be committed for trial to itself
- or to a Court of Session
- (2) When the High Court withdraws for trial before itself any case from any Court other than the Court of a Presidency Magistrate, it shall, except as provided in section 267, observe in such trial the same procedure which that Court would have observed if the case and not been so withdrawn.

(3) The High may act either on the report of th

Court, or on the application of a party interested or on its own mitiative

(1) Every application for the exercise of the power conferred by this section, shall be made by motion, which shall, except when the applicant is the Advocate-General, he supported by affidavit or affirmation

(5) When an accused person makes an application under this section, the High Court may direct him to execute a bond, with or without sureties, conditioned that he will, if so ordered, pay any amount which the High Court may mider this section award by way of compensation to the person opposing the application

(6) Every accused person making any such application shall give to the Public Prosecutor notice in writing Notice to Public Prosecutor of appli-cation under this of the application, together with a copy of the grounds an which it is made and no order shall be made on the ments of the application unless at least twenty-four hours have clapsed between the giving of such notice and hearing of the application

(6A) Where any application for the exercise of the noner conferred by this section is dismissed, the High Court may, if it is of opinion that the application was tirrolous or resistions, order the applicant to pay by way of compensation to any person who has opposed the application such sum not exceeding two hundred and fifty rupces as it may consider proper in the circumstances of the case

(7) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect any order made under section 197

(8) If in any inquity under Chapter VIII of Chapter XVIII, or in any trial, any party interested intimates to the Court at any stage before the defence closes its case that he intends to make an application under this section, the Court shall upon his executing, if so required, a bond without surctics of an amount not exceeding two bundred surces, that he will make such application within a reasonable time to be fixed by the Court, adjourn the case for such a period as will afford sufficient time for the application to be mide and an order to be obtained thereon -

Provided that nothing herein contained shall require the Court to adjourn the case upon a second or subsequent intimation from the same party, or where an adjournment under this sub-section has already been obtained by one of several accused, upon a subsequent intimation by any other accused,

(9) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, a Judge presiding in a Court of Session shall not be required to adjourn a trial under sub-section (8) if he is of opinion that the person notifying his intention of making an application under this section has had a reasonable opportunity of making such an appli-

SEC 526 cation and has fuled without sufficient cause to take advantage of it

CHAP XLIV.

Explanation -Nothing contained in sub-section (8) or -ab-section (9) restricts the power of a court under section 314.

(10) If before argument (if any) for the admission of an app. :1 begins, or in the case of an appeal admitted, before the arguiters for the appellant begins, any party interested intimates to the Court that he intends to make an application under this service. the Court shall, upon such party executing, if so required . [20] without sureties of an amount not exceeding two hundred rates that he will make such application within a reasonable time to be fixed by the Court, postpone the appeal for such a period a sell afford sufficient time for the application to be made and in order to be obtained thereon in all utinities the Court shill not be bound to adjourn on any subsequium to not notice that the repulse for iterusfer mide by that same particular that where there are not not more than one recursed it shill not be possible for different to the court of successive intumations to sector, a series of adjournment to select a special plan in many cases where so a joint trial if two or more persons for when an application for transfel what if no excused his been mide and rejected, the right exhausts itself, and their incursed whose growing may be quite different, and who in no sense called to be represented by the accused making the only application allowed by section will be it the mercy of the trial judge if an occasion for see transfer uses later in

Under sub-section (5) as it stood before the amendment of 1923 when application was made by the accused the High Court could require him to security for the proment of costs of the prosecutor in the event of a convic resulting. This was not an altogether satisfactory provision, an application trunsfer might be based on reasonable grounds, and might be successful, no theless the Court had discretion to award costs if a consiction followed section (a) was therefore amended and a new sub-section (6A) was added by No XVIII (f 1) 3 But the safeguard provided by sub section (6A) was found be not ltogether effective ne reason being that applications in the High Co are usu ily apposed by or on behalf of the Legal Remembrancer, who is paid salary and not by fees which males it difficult to assess his reasonable exper incurred in opposing the application. To meet this criticism sub sections 5 and have been further amended by Act No NI of 1932 by providing for the paym of compensation in place of the payment of coets and fixing such compensation a maximum of Rs 250 Under the law as it now stands the High Court r require the applicant when he is the accused to execute a bond with or with sureties conditioned that he will if so ordered pay any amount not exceed Re 250 which the High Court has power under sub section 6A to nward by way compensation to the person opposing the application

Under 5 to 7 of the Government of Indin Act a Chartered High Community direct the transfer of any suit or appeal from any subordinate co to any other court of equal or superior jurisdiction. Under clause 29 of Letters Patent (Cilcutta) a High Court has power to direct the transfer of a criminal case or appeal from any Court to my other Court of equal or super

jurisdiction

S 178 empowers a Local Government to direct that any case or class cases committed for tiral in any district may be tred in any sessions division provided that such direction be not repugnant to any direction previously issue by the High Court under S 15 of the Indian High Courts Act 1861, or und S 177 of the Government of India Act or S 250 of this Code, and S 35 empowers the Governor General in Council to direct the transfer of any crimin case or appeal from a Criminal Court of one province to a Court of another.

InUrrer Burns (not including the Shan States) notwithstanding anythin in S 526 1 Court of Sess on mm-

(i) If it is absolutely debared by S 487 from trying any case committed to it or by S 556 from hearing any appeal direct that such case or appeal be trainered for trail or hering to any other Crammal Court of equal jurisdiction

(ii) Exercise as regards all Criminal Courts subordante to its authority at the powers with respect to the transfer of criminal cases and appeals conferred upon the High Court by S 5-6 Prouded first that an application for the exercise of the power conferred by this section if founded upon the report of Judge or Vizistrate before whom the case or appeal is pending need not be supported by affiliant or affirmation.

Pr yield further that the Court shall before directing the transfer of a case of a paperal under this section issue a notice to the accused requiring him to have use a certain day to be fixed in the notice why the said case of appeals soull not be transferred to some Court therein named or to such other

Court 1 e mpetent 1 red ction as may be determined

Provided also, that the High Court may, on application of the accused or of the Public Prosecutor, reverse or vary any order made by a Court of Session under this section, or substitute any other order in lieu thereof 1

Ordinarily the High Court does not transfer a case pending before a Sub ordinate Magistrate, unless the party applying has moved the District Magistrate for an Order under S 528 .

In the United Provinces, every application for the exercise of the powers conferred by S 526 must be made by motion supported by affidavit or affirmation Any Sessions Judge or District Vagistrate desiring to have an application made under S, 526 should send to the Government Advocate High Court or the Government Pleader for Oudh, an affidavit setting out the grounds which exist for the exercise of the power conferred by the section, and desire him to move the High Court or the Judicial Commissioner to exercise that power Provided that a District Magistrate shall not take steps for making such an application in any case pending before a Sessions Judge on the ground mentioned in clause (a) or (b) of S 526, without referring to the Government through the Commissioner for previous sanction.

If an accused person makes an application for the transfer of a case under of the application should care-fidavit are valid or not If the ted the Government Advocate. In as the case may be, should be invariably instructed accordingly and he should be requested to oppose the application. It is not expedient to agree to a transfer on general grounds while denving the truth of the statements made in support of the transfer If the statements made in the affidavit are held to be false the necessary steps should be taken for the punishment of the offender 3

If it be intended to make an application to the High Court by motion through one of the appointed law officers of Government, the course indicated by these orders should be adopted But this is no longer necessary under the Code in consequence of the enactment of sub section (3) in modification of the previous law under the Code of 1882 It was contemplated that action should be taken in the Code of 1882 in respect to an application to it, which is thus declared to mean an application of one of the parties interested, it enables the Court to act on the report of a lower Court or on its own initiative and in such cases no affidavit would The amendment was made because it often happened that the Judge or Magistrate before whom a trial was to be held or to whom an appeal had been made, felt that, from what had already taken place in connection with the subject matter of the trial or appeal he had been so far concerned as to make it undesirable that he should hold the trial or hear the appeal, and he consequently desired to be relieved from this duty as he could not take an unprejudiced view of the case would

It has,

port of a Session Judge or District Magistrate, with the consent of the parties in the case, and thus to deal with a matter without any delay Such a case would be where a Judge or Magistrate is disqualified under S 487 or S 556 of this Code, as for

<sup>1</sup> Reg 1 of 1925 Sch xt 1 Fonseca, Born II Ct, April 14 1904

All Man, p 36r

stated in S

when an acce

instance, where a Sessions Judge had sent under S 176 a complaint to a Magistrate of intentionally giving false evidence, and on the trial so held the Magistrate has convicted and an appeal is made to the same Sessions Judge, or if the Sessions Judge should be of opinion that a fair trial by mry cannot be expected owing to popular excitement as to the result which would prevent an unbiased and un prejudiced jury being obtained Similarly, the High Court can act under S 526 rder and direct on its own initiative as for instance if it should rat and t such proceedthat further process of the reasons ings should required only mane under 5 526 for transfer of a case by one ' if the High Court is moved to act on behalf of the Public Prosecutor, the application should marie or affirmation, unless it is made by the Advocate General

It has been held that where an accused person applies for a transfer support ing his application by an affidavit be cannot or at least ought not to be prosecuted for perjury in respect of statements made in the affidavit ! This was a case of transfer under S 528 but the same principle seems to apply The Lahore High Court has refused to follow this case, and has held that the provision in S 342 4 that no oath shall be administered to the accused refers only to the statement made by him in his examination under that section . This would seem to be the correct view, otherwise S 526 (1) becomes to a large extent inoperative. See note to S 342 Section 539A also contemplates an affidavit by an accused

In a Patna case it was held per Mullick | that a private person who sets the law in motion by givir- -to apply for a transfer under S 526 1 complainant rown and if is entitled to apply but I there is a difference of opi ... between a Private Prosecutor and the Public Prosecutor in the matter of the transfer of a case the view of the latter must prevail,

Sub-Section (1) (1),

The terms of sub section (1) (1) indicate that the High Court may for any of the reasons previously stated direct that any inquiry or trial may had the Court that is a Co -+ --

Ane Governor-General in Council - - y particular criminal case or appeal from one High court to another High Court, or from any Criminal Court subordinate to one High Court to another Criminal Court of equal or superior jurisdiction subordinate to another High Court.

Particular case or appeal-Sub-section (1) (11) and (111).

The words formerly used were "particular criminal case or appeal." The word "criminal" has been omitted, with the avowed intention of enabling the High Courts under this section to transfer miscellaneous proceedings under the Code, as to which there had been some divergence of opinion.

The Bombay High Court had held that these - a-- - . the prevention of an which there

1 Emp . ft -- ' * (

..

CHAP NEIV SEC 526

commission of some offence. The word "criminal" governs the word "appeal" as well as the word 'case" and therefore bears the same connotation in both connection. So, it was hell that proceedings under S 145 though an inquiry within the definition in S 4 (4) would n t come within S 526 so as to enable a High Court to exercise its power of transfer 1

The Vidras High Court declined to lollow this case, and held that both under S 5.6 of this Code and Cluse 20 of the letters Patent, it has power to transfer a

ense under S 1452

The Cilcutta High Court doubted its powers under $ 526 to transfer a case under S 145 but transferred it under S 29 of the Letters Patent 3 The Calcutta High Court has however in numerous eases without objection taken transferred cases relating to the prevention of offences In one case it refused to follow the Bombra case helding that a case under $ 145 was a criminal case within S 5.6 5

The Allahabad High Court tool the same view of S 526 in regard to proceedings under $ 145 4 and under $ 107 7 In a more recent case it has held! that an inquiry under the Worl men's Breach of Contract Act, 1859 comes within the pursion of S 50 (The Act referred to is repealed with effect from the 1st April 1926) And the Calcutta High Court had held that a proceeding under S 107 is a "criminal case" for the purposes of S 526 But the Allahabad High Court in one case refused to transfer a case under S 110 of the Code (security to keep the peace or for good behaviour) from the district of Mecrut to that of Bulundshahr, on the ground that the Code contemplates that such proceedings shall be held only in the district in which the person proceeded against is or resides and that consequently in Court in another di trict would have jurisdiction in such a matter 18 In another case the same High Court held that it had no power to transfer such a case when the Migistrate had acted under S 117 11 But such an objection should not affect the competence of a superior Court to transfer a criminal case from the Court of one District invite ordinary jurisdiction to a Court of another district, which but for such transfer would have no jurisdiction Section 526 (1) (c) (ii) nermits the transfer of a case to a Court of equal or superior surisdiction, thus indicating a Court empowered by law to entert un the same classes of cases and dispose of them in the same way. So a case can be transferred from the Chief Presidency Magistrate to another Presidency Magistrate 12

An order of the High Court transferring a criminal case or appeal under $ 526 can be made only when such a case or appeal has been entertained by a Court connectent to try or hear it 13 If it has been entertained without jurisdiction, the proceedings are invalid. If the Government of India or the Local Government has declared the Court by which a Judge or public servant not removable from his office without its sanction coused as such of any offence is to be tried

<sup>1</sup> In re Panduran Goven I I L R 25 Bom 179

&lt;sup>2</sup> In re Arumuya Tegundan I L R 20 Mad 1788 <sup>3</sup> Loht Mohan Mottra v Suryt hanta I L R 28 Cal 709 (5 c) 5 Cal W N 749 <sup>4</sup> Dhona Kirsto Samania t K Emp 6 Cal W N 717 Ahmudi Howhdar I L R,

<sup>29</sup> Cal 32 (sc) 6 Cal W N 595

Gurdas Nag 2 Cal L J 6r4

Jagsu Ahr I L R 24 All 543

I mp v Walted Ah Khan, I L R 3 All 642

&quot; hendra "ing ILR 30 \ll 47 But see mp # Fdwards I L R 9 Bom, 335 (44) (sc) IIR 9 111 tgt Q Emp

the High Court cannot under 5 526 transfer the case to any other Court Sub-section (7)

Application to High Court under S. 526.

Such application should be made by motion to the High Court supported by an affiduat or affirmation setting out the facts of the case and the grounds of which the application is made, unless the applicant is the Advocate General-Sub-section (4) Notice of such application of made by an accused person much be given in writing to the Public Prosecutor Copy of the grounds on which it is to be mide to be also given and the application cannot be heard until the twenty four hours from the gring of such notice -Sub section (6) The High Court can also act under $ 526 on the report of the lower Court, that is of the Court concerned or of some Court to which it is subordinate or on its own initia tive -Sub-section (3) The usual practice on such motion is if the High Court satisfied that prima facte there are sufficient grounds for the transfer applied for an order (1) sending for the record (2) calling on the opposite side, (the Distric Magistrate representing the prosecution) to slien cause and (1) directing pro ecedings to be stated until receipt of its orders on the motion. The High Cour may at the same time direct the incused if the application is on his behalf, to exe cute a bond with or without surcties conditioned that he will if convicted, po the costs of the prosecutor

Action of Court concerned on notice given of contemplated application Sub Sections (8), (9) and (10)

On being notified in the course of an inquiry under Chapter VIII or Chapter VIII or an in trial before the defence closes its crise by any party interested that he intends to make an application to the High Court under section 356 for transfer of the crise the Court is bound upon his executing if required a for that he will make the application within the time to be fixed by the Court adoubt the hering for such a period as will afford a reasonable time for the application to made and an order to be obtained thereon. But under sub-section (6) Sessions Judge may refuse an adjournment in a trial pending before him if himks that the person notifying his intention has find a reasonable opportunit to made his application and has fuded to take advantage of it. Reference handred does not be made to these sub-sections above.

It has been held that an application for postponement of a trial cannot be refused on the ground that the accused has had ample opportunity to more the Court and that any postponement would cause grave inconcentence to the Court to the public and to a large number of witnesses, and that it would also movide great expense to Government? This is still the has a regards a trial in a Magistrate's Court but it is obsolete as regards a Sessions trial by reason of the ensiting of the still be trial to the still be trial to grant, a postponement was thefal, the consistent and sendence where set would an an entirely has ordered by mother Court. But the Madrias High Court doubtle the correctness of this view as to the result of the refusal to grant a postponement.

But the postponement or adjournment should be only for a reasonable time for an application to be made to the High Court and an order obtained thereon. So when the applicant had already been given a reasonable time for this purpose there is no obligation to give him further time. The law would now seem to permit an adjournment for a short period to enable an application to be made, and a resumption of the proceedings on the cyping of the period if no application had been made. Where an application under $ 5.85 for the postconement of a $858105

Surat I all Clowding Emp I L R ag Cal 221 (se) 6 Cal W A 251

Rah Madah I L R 35 Mad 707 O Pmy v Virsami I L R, 19 Mad 37 5 Dion Kristo Samanta r K Emp Gal W N 727

trial was refu ed, and after the conviction of the accused it wis mide the ground for asking for an order setting aside the proceedings, the objection was disallowed on the ground that as the accused had ample opportunity to move the High Court during the trial, and had not done so, the objection afterwards tal en was not bong fide 1 This view of the law has been given effect to by the enactment of sub-section (a)

A postponement was obtained for the purpose of maling an application under 5 526 to the Ili li Court for transfer of the cist, but no such application was made, and advantage was taken of the order staying the proceedings to apply to have the prosecution declared premature and bad. The High Court severely condemned the course talen?

The Allahabad High Court has ordered that a Court shall not assue a judicial order by telegram 2. The Calcutta High Court, however, condemned the action of a Migistrate who proceeded with a trial notwithstanding an application to postpone it where orders had been passed by the High Court for the transfer of the case to another Magistrate, in proof of which a telegram from the petitioner's mulhtar had been received and was shown to the Magistrale. It was observed that if a Magistrate is credibly informed that an order has been made staying proceedings, he ought then and there to hold his hand, unless he has good ground for believing that this information was false, and that in this case he could have readily satisfied himself by a telegram to the Registrir of the High Court 4. This seems to be a somewhat dangerous rule to lay down

Sub-section (10) has been iilded by Act XXI of 193+ and relates to applications for transfer of appeals. Under this sub-section, the intimation to the Court by a person interested of his intention to apply for a transfer of the appeal must be made before the argument for the idmission of the appeal begins or in the case of an oppeal admitted before the argument for the appellant begins. Thereupon the Court is bound to adjourn the case for such reisonable time as is necessary for the application for transfer to be made and an order thereon to be obtained But the Court has the descretion to require the party applying for the postpone ment to execute a bond not exceeding Rs 250 that he will make such application within the time fixed by the Court

Grounds for an application to the High Court

These are set out in sub-section (1) Application for a transfer of a pending case or uppeal are also made because the Judge or Magistrate is personally interested therein or has shown some bias or prejudice. See S 556 and note

As a general rule, the High Court does not exercise its power of transfer in a e ise of forgers or perjure only on the ground that the Judge who is to try the case his already formed an i pini n that the document is forged or the perjury committed when sitting on the civil side of his Court. But when the transfer can be made without rist of my improper interference with the course of justice, and without much inconvenience to the pirties and witnesses it is not only a fair concession to the person charged but is a means of relieving the Judge from a position which he himself would desire to moid 5-(See 5 480)

The High Court will also we require some very strong grounds for transferring a case from one Judicial Officer to another af it is stated that a fair and impartial

Johanuddin Sarkar t Emp 8 Cal W > 910 2 Gunamony Sapus t O Emp 3 Cal W > 758 3 All Rules etc > 0 71 5 Cal

W N 498 In re 1733a Varayan Sineli 38 Cul 293 See Emp | D silva I L R 6 Bom

I L R , 18 Bom , 380 and note to $ 487

R 16 Cal, 766 Q Emp r Rain D

inquiry or trial cannot be held by him especially when the statement implies a personal censure on such officer

Where however there are circumstances which might reasonably lead ore of the parties to believe that the Migistrate had to some extent prejudged the case against him and that he would in consequence be prejudiced at the trial a trunsfer is expedient and should be made 1 trunsfer was accordingly ordered because in a summons case without any apparent reason, the Magistrate had issued a warrant of arrest and there was reason to believe that in other proceed age connected with the cruse of dispute in this case the Magistrate had formed a conclusion unfavourable to the accused?

So where there were counter cases regarding effences committed in the same transaction the cutting of paddy on lands the possession of which was in dispute and the Magi trate after dismissing one case proceeded to try the other, that case was transferred to another Magistrate on the ground that the Magistrate had expressed a decided opinion on the question of possession which was of vital importince in the c e still ender tri I (per Guose J.) Stirmes J doubted the correct ness I this principle but felt bound to foll w the practice of the High Court 3

But the mere fact that in another case the Sessions Judge may have come to a particular notice in a not in tack afficient ground for a transfer of a trial to another Judge 4 nor the fact that a Court trains two cross cases of riot has on the trial of the first case expressed or mons a meschat unfavourable to the necused in the second case 3

Where the accused stated that he would equire the evidence of the Magistrate who would therefore not be a proper person to hold the trial the case was transferred although the Magistrate in an affiducit stated that he could give no evidence material or relevant to the case. The High Court beered that an application to issue process for the attendance of the Mag strate as a witness could be refused only on the ground that it was made for the purpose of veration or delay or for defeating the ends of justice and that if the case remained before the Magistrate he would alone decide this which would not be proper

But before a transfer should be made on the ground that the trying Magistrate is to be summoned as a nitness it must be shown that the Magistrate is in a posi tion to give some evidence bearing directly on the case or on the innocence or guilt of the accused?

What the Court has to consider is not merely the question whether there has been any real bias in the mind of the presiding Judge against the accused but also whether me dents line not happened which though they may be susceptible of explanation and have happened will out there being any real bias in the mind of the Judge are nevertheless such as are calculated to create in the mind of the accused a reasonable apprehension that he may not have a fair and impartial trial 1 It is not every apprehension of this sort which would be taken into consi deration but when it is of a reasonable character and notwithstanding that there mas to be no real bias on the matter the fact that incidents have tallen place

<sup>1</sup> Shankar Abaji Hoshing 6 Bom H C R 69 Gangadin All W N 1837 P 139

* In re Wilson I L R 18 Cat 247 f t per Guose J Stephen J see

\simuddi i Cal W N 426 Emp Sarkar I L R 31 Cal 715 (sc)

ه د ه 5 Emp v Itargobind I L R 33 Alt 583 • Emp v Ablui Latif I L R 76 Att 536

<sup>* 1</sup> imp v 10.101 Latti 1 L R * 6 Ml 536

'S la Chrumana I mp 45 Inlant acse 680 Raig Dishadur Singh i hatiman

Cr L J * 60 S v dat Lilv Cronn I L R * 1 Lah 441

Dueps rone Drive. I L. R * 23 Cst 493 Farzand Ah v Hanuman I L R * 1)

M (4 In re Wilson I L R * 18 Csl * 497

calculated to raise such reasonable apprehension ought to be a ground for ordering a transfer 1

A transfer to another district was ordered where the proceedings were initiated by the District Magistrate and a Deputy Magistrate of the same district was an important witness 1 A transfer is admissible if the actions of a judicial officer though susceptible of explanation and traceable to a superior sense of duty are calculated to create in the mind of the accused an apprehension that he may not have an impartial trial. In other cases it was pointed out that in considering be transferred But in applying the doctrine of a reasonable apprehension regard d case! KNox J agistrate may be 1 allegation that that most of the icient ground for transfer? The mere possibility of bias is not sufficient.

Lord Esher delivered himself of the following exposition of the I au Public policy requires that in order that there should be no doubt about the purity of the administration any person who is to take part in it should not be in such a position that he might be suspected of being biased. To use the language of MELLOR I in the Queen v Allanto it is highly desirable that justice slould be ad ministered by persons who cannot be suspected of improper motives I think that if you take that phrase literal y it is somewhat too large because I know of no case in which a man cannot be suspected. There are some people whose minds are so perverse that they will suspect without any ground whatever. The question of incapacity is to be one of substance and fact and therefore it seems to me that the man's position must be such as that in substance and fact it cannot be suspected. Not that any perversely minded person cannot suspect him, but that he must bear such a relation to the matter that he cannot reasonably be suspected of being biased I think that for the sake of the character of the administration of justice we ought to go as far as that but I think we ought not to go any further Where Magistrates of the District were witnesses and the cause to apprehend that the Court before whom he is being tried is not completely free from bias a transfer should be directed 11 And where the District Magistrate refused to grant an interview and cancelled the arms license of a person under trial before the Joint Magistrate it was considered a good ground for transfer of

Dupeyron a Driver I L R 23 Cal 495

<sup>Dupsyron: Driver I L R 23 Cal 495

Bans Gopal v Emp 21 Indian cases 31185 (sc)roCal W N 93

Kali Charan Choes: Lasp I L R 33 Cal 19185 (sc)roCal W N 93

Kali Charan Choes: Lasp I L R 35 Cal 195 (sc)roCal W N 93

Franci Alav Haniuman I L R 95 Cal 196 (sc)roCal W N 186 Cal 247

Rajam Kanta Dutt I I R 36 Cal 994

Emp v Nobo Gopal Bose I L R 96 All 297

Q t Handisey (1883) 8 Q B D 38 Cal 491

Q t Handisey (1883) 8 Q B D 38 Cal 491</sup>

Allinson v General Council of Medical Education & Registration (1894) 1 Q B D 16 Queen v Allan (1864) 4 B and S 915

<sup>11</sup> Sardari Lal : Crown I I R 3 Lah 443 see also Farzand Ali : Hanuman 1 L R 10 All 64

the case, not only from the Joint Magistrate's Court, but from the district of together 1

Whether such apprehension is reasonable must be determined with reference to the mind of the Court rather than to the mind of the accused. The Court cannot accept as reasonable grounds what the Indees ! -- .

able, simply because the higants so would be to an a -which would application under trial b could not for transfer t un LIUL · inicipaliti get a fair trial, because the D i he lifely and all Magistrates in the dis to be affected and influenced by what it was suggested might be the state of the mind of the District Magistrate

Where the apprehension is unreasonable the High Court will not transfer a case merely in deference to the susceptibility of one of the parties. The foolish idea of one of the parties cannot be the criterion for judging what is a reasonable apprehension, but it is the duty of the Court to place itself in his position and to consider the facts and circumstances attending his position. Abstract reason ableness ought not to be the standard .

But although each of several grounds imputing bias may not be sufficient in itself for ordering the transfer of a case to another Court they may be taken together from reasonable grounds for the accused apprehending that he may not have a fair trial *

So, when the Magistrate issued a warrant of arrest without option of bul, and, on the appearance of the accused under arrest, exacted heavy bail it was held that the accused had reasonable apprehension that a fair trial would not be held, and the case was transferred to another Court

So, where the Magistrate niter releasing the accused on bail still required him to report humself to the authories at that place, and, when he applied for leave to go to Calcutta and Charbassa, he was allowed to go only to Charbassa was held to justify an order tonestrate. The principle laid d Court which directed a tran an order had been refused, t accused for whose attendanc an occir previously issued, because he had heard rumours that he intended to abscond, and before the return of the warrant had issued, a proclamation under S 87, and simultaneously the attach-ment of the whole of his property, moveable and immoveable. The High Court pointed out that such attachment was illegal, masmuch as it could not be made until after the proclamation had issued, and that the Momet-- been influenced by rumours which the Magistrate had improperly told t (security for good behaviour), that, necessary security, he would be dealt held that, although it had no powe '

- oc us the Magistrate idu

Emp : Ram Kishan Das, I L R . 35 All . 5 1 Narain Chandra Bancijee v Howrah Municipality, 20 Cal W N 441 . Kill Churt Ghose, Ibid, 793 - J (sc) I L R, 33 Cal, 1183.

N. 589 Dupeyron t Driver I L R, 23 Cal, 495 Farzand Ali v Hanuman Presad, I L R, 19 All, 64

acted under S. 117, the proceedings would be quashed, but that any other Magistrate might take fresh proceedings against the accused 1

It is the duty of the Court to have regard to the importance of scenning the confidence of the public generally, of every section of the community, in the fairness and impartiality of the trial that is to be held, and it is equally its duty to see that no undue regard is shown to the abnormal susceptibilities of any section of the eful that

-מנו biased and open mind so as to have a fair and impartial trial in that district, and these statements were uncontradicted, an order was made for the removal of the trial to the Sessions Court of another district *

The best evidence must be offered that the jury cannot be trusted to do their duty impartially, before the High Court on an application by the prosecution and against the wish of the accused, will order the transfer of a trial from one district to another on the ground that owing to popular excitement as to the result, a fair trial cannot be expected. There is less reason in India for such an order than in England because the law of India imposes many safeguards against an undue bias by a jury These are the rights of challenge, the power on the part of "

ver 3.0 10 wit

that incre would not be a rain than in his Court .

The same matter was considered in another case in which the following judgments were delivered -4

PHEAR ] - 'It appears to me that instances drawn from the practice of the Court of Queen's Bench in England with reference to the granting or withholding of writs of certiorars to bring up an indictment from an inferior Court are not near enough-not nearly parallel enough-to this case as to afford us any real assistance in forming our judgment. In England, all criminal trials, except trials for small offences, are heard by jury, which I may sav is drawn somewhat promiscuously from a not very high class of the population. There is therefore some risk that the impartiality of the tribunal so constituted should be affected by existing causes of popular feeling or excitement bearing on the matter to be tried And then the verdict of this body is final without appeal. Any risk of miscarriage of this kind, by such a tribunal if it is to be prevented, can only be prevented by removal to a better or less presudiced tribunal for trial Hence a comparatively small cause may possibly be found inducing the Court of Queen's Bench to remove criminal cases in England which might not be sufficient to render a removal necessary or justifiable under a different kind of procedure

"In the present case, the prisoners will be tried at Patna by a Judge assisted

<sup>1</sup> In re Gudar Singh, I L R, 19 All, 291 2 Legal Remembrancer v Bharrab Chandra Chuckerbutty, I L R, 25 Cal, 727, (sc)
2 Cal W N, 65
In re Deputy Legal Remembrancer, I L R, 6 Cal, 491

O v Kisto Chunder Ghose, 2 W. R Cr., 58 Q v Ameer Khan, 7 B L R, 240 (269) (se) 15 W R Cr., 69

as to remove the grounds for supposing that they will not have a fair and impartial trial at Patna

There remains perhaps on the lace of these affidavits themselves enough to indicate that there has been a long continued and zealous activity on the part of the Police in procuring witnesses in support of the prosecution such as may not possibly be without an effect upon the character of the evidence upon which the 24 11

Sessions Court will have to act

PL C L 10 exercise the 1

Finally it appears to me that it is not hilely that points of law will anse in the course of this that such as the Sessions Court cannot satisfactorily deal with and in saying this I bear in mind that should the Sessions Court by any misfortune err in this matter the error can be set right afternards in this Court

MACPHERSON J — I concur in the opinion that sufficient grounds have not been made out to justify the High Court in transferring this case for trial before itself in Calcutta

The cases referred to as shewing the circumstances under which a criminal case may in England be brought up by certiforar to trail in a superior Court appear to me to have little or no applicability to the present matter. In England their SI may say practically no appeal in a criminal case from the decision of the Court which tries it—no remedy for a miscarriage of justice. From the decision of the Patina Court if it tries this case there is an appeal to the High Court on buffacts and law. In my opinion therefore, the mere possibility or probability that difficult questions whether of law or fact will arise is no reason for transferring a case for in the event of a miscarriage on the part of the motosial Court a sufficient remedy is provided in the right of appeal to this Court.

A very much stronger case must be made out to justify us in transferring a case to this Court than would in England justify the removal of a case by certiorar:

Where the complaint stated facts which formed the defence in another trial and held and the Magistrate who held that trial had necessarily expressed his opinion on the evidence by which it was sought to prove that complaint the trial was transferred to another Magistrate <sup>1</sup>

The Calcutta High Court rejected an application for transfer of a case to itself based on the ground that there was a question of law of unusual difficulty which had arisen in the case *

The High Court has no power to transfer a case committed to a Court not having jurisdiction from that Court to a Court having jurisdiction * R * L alleged that a Chief Presidency * r

Court had no jurisdiction to in this were so or not it could direc

Transfer of cases

This might happen in proceedings under Chapter XXXIII in cases in which European and British Indian subjects are concerned. Action would then hat to be taken under S. 445 or S. 446. A Magistrate can stay proceedings and report to the District Magistrate whenever the evidence appears to him to warrant a presumption that the case was one which should be tried or be committed for

Cal W N 824 Sitanath Mondal v Emp
8 Cal
L R 36 Mad 387

trial by some other Magistrate in the district and the Magistrate to whom the case is so submitted may, if so empowered either try the ease himself or refer it to any other Magistrate subordinate to him having jurisdiction or commit the accused for trial So also if a Magistrate of the second or third class having jurisdiction after conclusion of the trial, is of opinion that the accused is guilty and ought to receive a sentence which he is not competent to pass or should under S 136 be required to execute a bond to I see the peace he should record his opinion

other Magistrate subordinate to him and competent to act (S 528) The Court to which an appeal hes ordinards from such Magistrate may however permit him to act in it

If the Magistrate concerned is not subordinate to a District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate the matter should be reported for the orders of the High Court 1 The High Court has no jurisdiction to control or interfere with any order in an inquiry held by a Magistrate under order of the Government into the truth of an accusation against a person for having committed an offence in a Foreign State for whose surrender a requisition has been made * But when a European British subject was under trial before the Cantonment Magistrate of Secunderabad within the Foreign State of Hyderabad on a charge of defamation the Bombay High Court under S 526 of this Code transferred the case for trial by itself holding that as the Extradition Act (IV of 1903) provides that the Penal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure shall subject to such modifications as the Governor General in Council shall from time to time make directly apply to all British subjects in the dominions of Native Princes and States in India in alliance with Her Majesty it had jurisdiction to act under S 526 (1)

Consequence of refusal to postpone or adjourn

The Calcutta High Court has beld that a Court is bound to postpone or adjourn its proceedings and that if it refuses to do so all proceedings subsequently taken are youd So on this ground on the appeal of the person convicted a new trial was ordered to be held by another Court and on revision an order of acquittals and a conviction and sentences have been set aside and new trials ordered by another Court But this view of S 526 (8) has been disapproved in a later case if it was intended to hold that no proceedings could be taken to record the evidence for the prosecution and that if so taken they were void . In this case it was held that a Magistrate's refusal to postpone the hearing might render his subsequent proceedings voidable if not void and Holmwood I held that in view of the technical objection that might be taken to the validity of the subsequent proceedings the case ought to be transferred The Madras High Court has also dis approved tholding that though the terms of S 526s in regard to postponement or adjournment may be obligatory the obligation is not to postpone or adjourn but to give the party reasonable time to obtain the orders of the High Court he has sufficient time to do so before the commencement of the trial there is no obligation to postpone or adjourn it for the purpose of giving further time

Q v Edwardes I L R 9 Bom 335
 Mohunt Dey Das 15 Cal W N 735
 Surat Lall Chowdhry v Emp I L R 29 Cal 211 (sc) 6 Cal W N 251

Q Emp t Gayıtrı Prosunno Ghosal 1 L R 15 Cal 455

Kishori Gir v Ram Narayan 8 Cal W N 77
 Kali Charan Ghose v Rajab Ali 10 Cal W N 793 (798) (sc) I L R 33 Cal

<sup>1183,</sup> Kalı Mudaly I L R 35 Mad 701

necessity or advisability of a postponement or adjournment is, under S 344 is condition precedent to the power to grant it. When, therefore, S 546 (8) says that under certain circumstrinees the Court shall exercise its powers under S 344 it carries with it the limitation contained in that section to cases in which it is seen sary, or, at least advisable in order to obtain the object on view, viz. to obtain the orders of the High Court on an application for transfer of the case made to it under S 326 So, where the interial between the refusal to postpone and the commencement of the trial was sufficient to apply to the High Court and to obtain its orders, and no such application was made, the High Court hold, on the appeal of the accused who had been convicted at the trial, that the refusal of the Session Judge was not illegal 1

Where the Sessions Judge refused to postpone a trial to enable an application to be made to the High Court for a transfer of the case on the ground that he had already tract others for the same offence because he considered that the application was not bone fide, the High Court refused to intrefere as this was no valid ground for a transfer, remarking also that such an application should have been made at an earlier stage of the proceedings, and before the accused had entered on his defence.

These cases were all decided before the amendment of 5 526, and the insertion of sub section (9). This makes it clear (giving effect to the view generally taked) that a Sessions Judge is not bound to adjourn a case in all circumstances; but no such discretion is conferred on a Magistrate.

Effect of an order of transfer

'When a case is transferred by order of the High Court under S 526 from the 526A. (1) Where any person subject to the Naval Discipline High Court to Act or to the Army Act or to the Arr Force Act or the Army Act or to the Army Act, the Advocate General shall, if so instructed by the competent authority apply to the High Court for the committed or transfer of the case to that High Court and thereupon the High Court shall order that the case be committed for trial to or be transferred to itself and shall thereafter proceed to try the case by jury.

(2) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare any officer to be the competent authority for the purpose of issuing instructions under sub-section (1) in regard to any class of cases specified in the notification.

Q Emp v Virasami I L R . 19 Mad 375

Joharuddin Surkar I L R 31 Cal 715 (se) 8 Cal W N 920 Mata Pershad I L R 19 All 249

* Lmp : Govind Sahai, I L R. 37 All 20

This section was inserted by Act No AII of 1923 S 32 It was thus explained in the statement of Objects and Reasons to the Bill

A person who is subject to military law is normally triable either by Courts martial or by the ordinary Courts But hy proviso (a) to S 41 of the Army Act Courts martial may not try persons who are subject to military law and who are not on active service if they are accused of the commission of an offence of either treason murder man slaughter treason felony or rape within one hundred miles of a competent civil court. The Bill proposes to make Courts of Session competence of the courts of the courts of the competence of the competence of the courts o

ropean soldier in soldiers are a High Court

The Bill accordingly gives power to a competent authority when a person subject to the Naval Discipline Act or to the Army Act or the Air Force Act is accused of one of the five offences to instruct the Advocate General who will then move the High Court as defined in the Bill. The High Court will then transfer the case to itself or order that it be committed to itself for the will then transfer the case to itself or order that it be committed to itself for the will be provided by the principly of $2.50 of the Code of which separate proposal is an extension. The proximon is contained in clause 29 of the Bill. Sub section (2) of the proposed $2.50 A which is contained in that clause proposes to emposer the Governor General in Council to declare by notification the officers who shall be the competent authority for this purpose The Governor General in Council proposes to appoint the following authorities to be competent authorities if the Bill is enacted.—

- (1) For persons subject to the Naval Discipline Act— His Excellency the Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Forces in the Fast Indies
- (2) For persons subject to the Army Act— The General Officer Commanding either the Northern the Southern the Fastern or the Western Command to whom the person is subordinate and if he is not subordinate to any of these Army Commanders His Excellency the Commander in Chief and
  - (3) For persons subject to Air Force Act The Air Vice Marshal
- In this respect the Government of India have thought that it was desirable together proposed power of issuing instructions to the Advocate General only to officers who are already entrusted with very high responsibilities and they are confident that it will be only in exceptional cases that these officers will use the power which it is proposed to vest in them
- 527 (1) The Governor General in Council may by notification in the Gazette of India direct the transfer of General in Council to transfer criminal cases and appeals.

  Court to another High Court or from any Criminal Court subordinate to one High Court to another Criminal Court of goal or supergray sursediction subordin to another Criminal Court of equal or superior jurisdiction subordinate to another High Court whenever it appears to him that such transfer will promote the ends of justice or tend to the general convenience of parties or witnesses

The Court to which such case or appeal is transferred shall deal with the same as if it had been originally instituted in, or presented to, such Court

This section supplements S 526 by enabling the transfer of any case or appeal from a Court of one province to a Court of another a power which a High Court obviously could not exercise

This section originally referred to "any particular criminal case or appeal but the word "criminal" has been omitted by Act No XVIII of 1923 S 14 As to the effect of this alteration, see note to S 526 where the same change ha been made.

The Local Government can also under S 178 direct that any case or class ( cases committed for trial in any district may be tried in any sessions division

528. (1) Any Sessions Judge may withdraw any case from or recall any case which he has made over to Sessions Judge may withdraw cases from any Assistant Sessions Judge subordinate t Assistant Sessions him. Judge

District Subor Magisdivisional trate may withdraw or refer cases

(2) Any Chief Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate ( Subdivisional Magistrate may withdraw an case from, or recall any case which he has mad over to, any Magistrate subordinate to hin and may inquire into or try such case himself, refer it for inquiry or trial to any other such Magistrate competer to inquire into or try the same to withdraw classes of cases

(3) The Local Government may authorise the District Magistrat Power to authorise to withdraw from any Magistrate subordinat to him either such classes of cases as he think proper, or particular classes of cases

- (4) Any Magistrate may recall any case made over by hir under section 192, sub-section (2), to any other Magistrate and ma inquire into or try such case himself.
- (5) A Magistrate making an order under this section shall record in writing his reasons for making the same.
- (6) The head of a village under the Madras Village-police Regulation, 1816, or the Madras Village-police Regulation, 1821 is a Magistrate for the purposes of this section.

This section has been amplified by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 147 Sub-Section (1) is new, it enables a Sessions Judge to withdraw any case from or recal any case which he had made over to any Assistant Sessions Judge subordinati to him. The power to make over cases to an Assistant Sessions Judge subordinati to him. The power to make over cases to an Assistant Sessions Judge for trais contained in S. 193 (2). No question anses here whether "case" included "appeal" as Assistant Sessions Judge size not given any powers as Appellate. Courts .- See S 409

Sub-sections (2) and (3) are original sub-sections (1) and (2) without alteration Sub-section (4) is new Certain Magistrates may be empowered to transfer cases under S, 192 (2); any such Magistrate is now enabled to withdraw any case so transferred in the exercise of that power, and to inquire into or try such case himself

Sub section (5) 18 Original sub-section (3) without alteration

Sub section (6) is original sub section (4) amended so as to include a reference to Reg XI of 1816 as well as Reg IV of 1821, the former Regulation having been omitted apparently by oversight

Sub section-(1)

Assistant Sessions Judges shall try such cases only as the Local Government by general or special order may direct them to try or as the Sessions Judge of the division by general or special order may make over to them for trial-S 103 (2)

All Assistant Sessions Judges shall be subordinate to the Sessions Judge in whose Court they exercise jurisdiction and he may from time to time make rules consistent with the Code as to the distribution of business among such Assistant Sessions Judges-S 17 (3)

Sub-sect ons (2), (3) and (4)

Sub-section (2) was formerly sub-section (1) It has not been amended It gives a Chief Presidency Magistrate powers under this section. The exercise of such powers may depend upon orders issued under S 21 (2) by the Local Gov ernment declaring what Presidency Magistrates are subordinate to the Chief Presidency Magistrate and defining the extent of their subordination. See note to S 21 for orders issued on this subject

So in Bombay the Ch ef Presidency Magistrate can withdraw a case from one Presidency Magistrate and refer it to another for inquiry or trial but only after notice to the parties concerned 1

c In BENGAL and Assam District Magistrates have been authorized to act under sub-section (3) of S 528 *also in the United Provinces *also in British Burna .* also in the PUNIAB

Section 192 empowers a District Magnetrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate to transfer any case of which he has taken cognizance for enquiry or trial to any Magistrate subordinate to him and a District Magistrate can empower any Magis trate of the first class who has taken cognizance of a case to transfer it for enquiry or trial to any other specified Magistrate in his district competent to deal with it

Section 528 enables such Magistrates to withdraw or recall any case so made over So also S 346 which enables a Magistrate outside a Presidency town to stay proceedings in an inquiry or trial so as to obtain the orders of the Magistrate to whom he is subordinate if he is of opinion that the inquiry or trial should be held by some other Magistrate

Section 192 empowers certain Magistrates who are competent to take cogniz ance of offences (S 190) to transfer cases to Magistrates subordinate to them S 528 enables them for reasons recorded in writing to withdraw or recall any case so made over

Section 528 relates to any case in which an inquiry or trial may be held and therefore it includes a case under Chapter XII (S 145) or a case under S 107 requiring security to keep the peace or semble for good behaviour. Such cases are inquiries as defined in S 4 (k)

Formerly it was held that a District Magistrate could not transfer a case to an Additional District Magistrate because the latter was not subordinate to him

<sup>1</sup> Sitaram Finsalkar Bom H Ct June 22 1800

Cal Gaz 1873 p 67 Assam Man p 184 Gaz 1873 Bk Cir p 129 4 Gaz 1873 Part II 5

• Gaz 1883 p 53 Bk Cir p 71 • Satish Chandra Panday v Rajendra I L R 22 Cal 898 Guru Das Nag 2 Cal

&#x27; In re Dinendro Nath Shamal I L R 8 Cal 851

Parkas Chunder Dutt I L R 34 Cal 918

28 All

But this has now to be read with new sub-section (3) of S 10, which declars that for the purposes of S 528(2) and (3) an Additional District Magistrate is subordinate to the District Magistrate

When a first class Magistrate in a district is appointed to be a whole time. Chairman of a Municipal Board in the district, he is divested of his functions as a Magistrate, and is not subordinate to the District Magistrate.

Notice

Before an order under S 528 withdrawing or recalling a case can be passed notice must be given to all the parties concerned in it, i (if they have appeared before the Magistrate), so as to enable them to show cause why such order should not be made.

But where the Magistrate himself applied to the District Magistrate to finished aces from his Court it was held that this was an exception to the general rule tequining notice to be given which applies only to an application for transfer made by one of the parties. Where however a case had been withdrawn by the Magistrate of the District, and no further proceedings had been taken by him, the High Court on Revision refused to interfere as it was still open to the District Magistrate to consider any objection made to him a course calculated to ensure an early decision of the matters in dispute to the convenience of the parties soft in the interests of justice. Although it is desirable that notice should be given to the accused before a transfer is ordered omission to do so is a mere irregularity, and is not sufficient ground for setting aside the order of transfer?

Reasons for an order, sub-sections (5)

Reasons must be recorded in writing for an order under S 528 But if this not been done, it is an irregularity which does not invalidate proceedings subsequently taken unless it has prejudiced the party objecting to it! They must be such as to justify the order So, a Magistrate cannor withdraw a case because after hearing the evidence for the prosecution the subordinate Magistrate has expressed an opinion that it is not reliable? It may be a proper ground for withdrawing a case that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had before the Magistrate, but the fact that he has shown an undue lementy towards the accused by releasing him on bail is no sufficient reason for withdrawing a case with the object of only giving effect to an opinion that that order has wrong! Nor can a case to withdrawn in order that the Magistrate may give effect to his own opinion after seeing the place of the alleged occurrence and without hearing the witnesses who have already been examined. Nor can a case be withdrawn by the Disting Magistrate in order that he may give effect to his own opinion and dismiss it, on the ground that no offence was committed because the police officers, who were the accused persons were protected by the warrants which they were executing when the alleged offence was committed. But the Distinct Magistrate may withar as a continuation of the proposed of trying certain persons against whom a subordinate of the purpose of trying certain persons against whom a subordinate.

<sup>3</sup> All 513 3 All 749; La re Tescotta Shekdar, I L R, 8 Csl. p r Sadashiv Narayan John, I L R, 22 Bom, 549 Cal W N, 114 Secontra Dukh, Khewat I L R,

<sup>28</sup> All 4<sup>‡1</sup>

SEC. 528 Magistrate had refused to proceed I because the Police had reported that no offence had been proved against them

It is not a sufficient reason for the withdrawal of a case to his own file that the District Magistrate desired to inform himself as to the nature of a dispute between a landlord and his tenants a After he has withdrawn a case the Magistrate is bound to proceed from the stage at which the proceedings have been taken he cannot summarily dismiss the complaint under $ 202 of this Code when process has been issued for the attendance of the accused after examination of the complainant and he cannot proceed with the trial on evidence already recorded by another Magistrate 4

But a contrary opinion has been expressed in respect of a case which in con-

note to S 350 ante)

CRAY, XLIV

If, however, the District Magistrate has withdrawn the case, he can dismiss the complaint on the ground that he has no sunsdiction to try the offence although the first Magistrate may have held that he had surisdiction

furisdiction

The powers of a District Magistrate and of a Sub-divisional Magistrate under S 528 are co ordinate and though the latter may be subordinate to the former (S 17) and the District Magistrate may withdraw a ease from a Sub-divisional Magistrate he eannot eauced an order passed under S 528 by a Sub-divisional Magistrate if he considers that such an order is illegal or improper he should under S 438 report the matter for the orders of the High Court !

But in a later cases the same High Court dissented from this view. The learned I done referend to an earlier enter a I ah a Ti chant Mamptonta = toon fen His

to тh Judge who decided Rashunatha Pandaram v Emp! In the case of Santhappa Sethurame it was held that a District Magistrate was not precluded from exercising his powers of transfer by reason of the fact that the Sub divisional Magistrate had already refused an application for transfer made by the same party

A District Magistrate cannot pass an order in a case not before him and which he has not withdrawn So when he has under consideration the prosecution of a complainant for making a false complaint he cannot dismiss that complaint which is under trial before another Magistrate so as to enable him to sanction the prose cution of the complainant 10

Vyen Mahmad Vkand r K Emp 5 Cal W N 488
 Amrit Ma hr r Fmp I L R 46 Cal 854
 In re Raghoo Parrabh 10 B I R 26 App (sc 1 29 W R Cr 28)
 Q Fmp r Bashr Khan I L R 14 All 346 (sc ) Al W N 1892 p 10
 Mohesh Chandra Saha I L R 13 Cal 437 (sc ) 12 Cal W N 146 \ nu Sheskh
 L R 37 Cal 812 Kudratulla I L R 39 Cal 781 Secontra Dep Legal Remembran cere Upendra Kumar Choose 2 Cal W N 140

Vilaetee Khanum : Meher Ali 24 W R Cr

<sup>7</sup> Raghunatha Pandaram r Fmp I L R 26 Mad 130

Santhappa Sethuram I L R 40 Mad 791

* Thaman Chetti t Alagiri Chetti I L R 14 Mad 399 10 Q v Mrs Belilias 12 W R Cr 53 Q v Girish Chunder Ghose 7 B L R 513 (sc) 16 W R Cr 40

It was formerly held that a District Magistrate could not transfer a case to an Additional District Magistrate as that officer was not subordinate to him 1 The enactment of sub-section (3) of S to which declares that an Additional District Magistrate is subordinate to the District Magistrate for the purposes of S 5 8 sub section (2) and (3) has non provided for this case

A District Magistrate who had initiated proceedings under S 107 (2) against a person not at the time within the hmits of his jurisdiction can transfer such proceedings at a later stage to a subordinate Magistrate though the latter was not competent to initiate such proceedings 2. This was a case of transfer under But the principle laid down was that once proceedings had been instituted the powers of transfer were exerciseable. But in a later cases which professed to follow this decision it was held that where in a case under S 107 the District Magistrate had not issued a notice to show cause he had not himself taken proceedings and could not transfer the case either under S 102 or S 528

Chief Presidency Magistrate

A Chief Presidency Magistrate can withdraw or recall any case which he has made over to any Magistrate subordinate to lum. Such subordination would depend on orders assued on this subject by the Local Government under S 21 (2) See notes thereunde

Sub section (6)

This was introduced into the Code of 1898 to meet an objection raised in a reported case. But the head of a village in Madras acts as a Magistrate also under Mad Reg. XI of 1 '6' 1' 1' 1 1 1 that in respect of trials so held the head of '1' 1 1' 1 1 1 the terms of S 28 the terms of S Hence the inclusion of a retot i Pe

CHAPTER XLIV A

SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS RELITING TO EUROPEAN AND INDIAN BRITISH SUBJECTS AND OTHERS

Chapter XLIVA was inserted by the Criminal Law Amendment Act All of 1923 $ 33 In its present place in the Code it is new but it contains in a modified form much that appeared in Chap XXXIII before its amendment

The object of Act XII of 1923 was to amend the Code and other enactments in such a way as in the words of the preamble to provide for the removal of certain existing discriminations between European British subjects and Indians in criminal trials and proceedings. For a description of the distinctions which previously existed and the manner in which and the extent to which they have been removed reference should be made to the note at the beginning of Chap XXXIII The matter has been dealt with in two ways in the first place certain privileges which Europeans enjoyed in the matter of their trial have been abolished in the second place other privileges have been modified and have been conferred on Indians likewise A lew distinctions remain which will be referred to below S 528D now provides that all enactments which confer on Magistrates or on the Court of Session jurisdiction over offences shall be deemed to apply to European

<sup>Prakas Chunder Dutt I L R 34 Cal 918

N Emp v Munta I L R 24 All 151 followed in Surjia Kanta Roy Chowdhry

The Chunder Chund</sup>

Sevakolandal v Ammayan I L. R. 26 Mad . 304

British subjects although such persons are not expressly referred to therein, unless there is something repugnant in the context

Chapter NAMII deals with a special class of cases which may be roughly described as cases in which racial considerations arise or are likely to carse. If such cases the accused whether he be a European British subject or an Indian British subject can make a claim to be tried in the special manner laid down in that chapter and the claim has to be determined by the Court before it proceeds further with the inquiry or trial. When a claim has been admitted or in other words it has been determined that the case is one which ought to be tried under the provisions of Chap NNIII a special procedure comes. Into operation as laid down in that Chapter. The provisions of Chap NLIVA are not applicable so far as British subjects are concerned to cases to which the provisions of Chap NXIII apply. Those cases are defined in S. 443. They are cases in which the Vagistrate inquiring into or trying the case after making such inquiry as he things necessary is statisfed.

(d) that the complainant and the accused persons or any of them are respersons or any of them are ressubjects or Indian and European British subjects or

(b) that in view of the connection with the case of both a European British subject and an Indian British subject it is expedient for the ends of justice that the case should be treed under the provisions of this Chapter. Where a claim to be tried under the Chapter has been disallowed by the Magistrate an appeal against the order of rejection lies to the Sessions Judge whose decision is final.

'Any case to which the provisions of Clip XXXIII do not apply. This means in the first place any case in which no claim has been made and determined under $5.44$. In the second place it means a case in which a claim having been made has been disallowed by the Magistrate and if an appeal has been preferred the order of rejection has been upheld by the Sessions Judge. In such case there will be no special form of trial for a European or Indian British subject.

But the accused can claim to be dealt with as a European or Indian British subject. The Magnistrate is bound to inquire into the claim. If he rejects it and commits the accused for trial it can be renewed before the Court of Session. When the trial Court whether it be the Court of a Magnistrate or the Court of Session rejects a claim the decision may form a ground of appeal from the sentence or order passed in the trial. The difference between this and an appeal under S. 443 (2) must be noted an order of rejection by a Magnistrate under Chap XXXIII is appealable at once and the decision of the Sessions Judge in appeal against the order of rejection is final

As already stated 1 uropean British subjects and Indian British subjects do not make claims under S > 28A in cases to which the provisions of Chap XXXIII apply. Chap XXXIII does not deal with Europeans who are not British subjects or with Americans Such persons can in any case claim to be dealt with as Europeans (other than British subjects) or as Americans as the case may be. There are no restrictions whatever on the jurisdiction or powers of sentence of the Courts in regard to Europeans who are not British subjects or to Americans. But under S 275 (2) they can after estiblishing a claim under S 25A require before the first juror is called and accepted that a majority of the jurors shall consist of Europeus or Americans and the jury will be so constituted if practicable S 28A (2) similarly provides for trails with the aid of assessors who will all be Europeans or Americans if practicable S 285A (a) sangles to them and enables a separate trait to be claimed in the circumstances set out therein

Before describing the effects of the admission of a claim under S 528A to be dealt with as a member of a particular race or nationality it will be convenient to recapitulate the distinctions which the Code still maintains in regard to Europeans

- 1 No Magistrate of the second or third class shall inquire into or try offence which is punishable otherwise than with fine not exceeding fifty ru where the accused is a European British subject who claims to be tried as 5 (S 20A)
- 2 Certain Courts and officers which exercise the ordinary powers of a life Court under the Code in regard to Indians are not. High Courts in reference proceedings against European British subjects or persons jointly charged theorems. British subjects [5 4 (1) (j)]
- 3 Any High Court established by letters patent may exercise the poconferred by S 491 in the case of any European British subject within such tones, other than those within the limits of its appellate criminal jurisdic as the Governor General in Council may direct (S 491A)

4 Notwithstanding anything contained in Se 31 32 and 34-

- (d) no Court of Session shall pass on any European British subject any sent other than a sentence of death penal servitude or imprisonment with or will fine, or of fine and
- (b) no District Ungestrate or other Magistrate of the first class shall pass any European British subject on sentence other than imprisonment which the extend to two years or fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or b IS 34AI.

The har in S 19A against the jurisdiction of second and third class Magistrover European British subjects is not absolute it arises only where the acciliants to be tried as such. The section will have no application to cases to w. Chap XXXIII applies, it refers to a claim made under S 28A. The of refer to a claim to be theless if the case is better the case in the case is the case.

s not apply a claim can he jurisdiction of the Con to try and pass sentence S 528A cannot apply to S 491A A European Brit subject making an application to a High Court to exercise its powers under S 49 would have to establish his right to apply and the High Court would have to de mune the question whether he is or is not in fact a European British subje A question may arise as to whether S 528B overrides other provisions of the Co That section lays down that if in any case to which Chap XXXIII does not ap a European British subject does not claim to be dealt with as such by the Maj trate (before the conclusion of the trial, or, in a case triable by the Court of Sessi before he is committed for trial) or if a claim has been made and rejected a: alter committal, has not been renewed before the Court to which he has be committed he shall be held to have relinquished his right to be dealt with as Furopean British subject, and shall not assert it at any subsequent stage of t case, is during the trial in the Sessions Court or apparently in appeal or revision This would specifically apply to S 29A which refers to an accused person 'w claims to be tried as such'.' But these words do not occur in S 34A. The pi visions of S 34A are prohibitory, they are not made subject to the provision of S 528B It would appear therefore that a sentence contravening S 34A on person who was in fact a European British subject but who had made no class to be dealt with as such would have to be held to be illegal The special provise as to powers of sentence in S 34A would override the general provision in S 528 The insertion of the words who claims to be tried as such' in S 29A, and the would have no jurisdiction over a person who was in fact a European Britishebet though he might not have claimed in the lower Courts to have been deawith as such it is an established principle that where the Code says that a Couhas no jurisdiction no action or inaction on the part of the accused can confi jurisdiction The definition of High Court in S 4 (1) (f) is not made subject to the provisions of S 528B

The converse case is provided for in S 528C where a person who is not a European British subject an Indian British subject a European or American is dealt with as such and does not object the inquiry commitment trial or sentence shall not by reason of such dealing be invalid

There is in Chap \LIVA no provision corresponding with S 447 which requires a Magistrate to invite the attention of the accused to his rights to make a claim under Chap \N\111

The rulings under the old law can hardly be taken as sound guidance under the present law. The effect of the failure to claim to be dealt with as a European British subject or to deal with such claim was considered in several cases some of which may be referred to here.

Where the accused pleaded that he was a European British subject but the Magistrate who was competent to try limit without deciding this plea tried and sentenced him to a sentence beyond his powers over such a person and on appeal he claimed to be a European British subject the High Court held that the trial was without jurisdiction and set aside the connection and ordered a new trial.

An accused person pleaded before the Distinct Majastrate that he was a European British subject but did not claim to be tired by jury under S 451 fle Majastrate found that be was not a Furopean British subject and tried and convicted him under his ordinary powers. On appeal the Sessions judge found that he was a European British subject and directed a new trial by jury. The High Court on revision held that as he had not claimed to be so tried the sessions Judge sorder was wong and as the sentence passed was one which the Distinct Majastrate was competent to pass on a European British subject directed the Sessions Judge to hear the appeal against the conviction and sentence on the ments 1

It is quite true that to a certain extent the language of the Code as it now stands is the same as that of the Code on which these rulings were based. But as pointed out above a new phraseology has been introduced in S 29A section expressly bars the jurisdiction of Magistrates of the second and third classes except in petty cases where the accused is a European British subject who claims The words in italics can only mean the same as who claims to be tried as such to be dealt with as such which is the phraseology of Chap XLIVA interpretation of an enactment it has to be assumed that words which can be assigned a meaning have that meaning and are not mere superfluity. The last seven words of S 29A would be entirely superfluous if read with S 528B in the sense suggested by some of the 11 dements of the Courts and since they do not occur in 5 34A it must be assumed that the legislature has intended that in that section at all events the limitations on the powers of the Courts are absolute and are not dependent on the raising of a claim by the accused to be tried of dealt with as a European British subject. On the other hand it may be argued that S 528B must have a meaning and that it is intended to override the provisions of S 34A The position is by no means clear and seems to ment the attention of the legislature. A possible interpretation is that it applies only to S 29A and that it is reproduced in the Code to male it clear that the claim which has the effect of barring the jurisdiction of the lower class Magistrates must be made before the conclusion of the trial or in the case of an inquiry by a second class Magistrate into an offence triable by the Court of Session or High Court before the accused is committed for trial it cannot be raised in appeal or revision

Section 528D is important in this connection. It first of all lays down that unites there is something repugnant in the context all enactments made by the Governor General in Council or the Indian Legislature which confer on Manistrates

Emp : Berrill I L R 4 Ali 141
Fmp v Powell I L R 27 All 307

or on the Court of Session jurisdiction over offences shall be deemed to apply to European British subjects although such persons are not expressly referred to therein The Code of Criminal Procedure itself is an enactment made by the Governor General in Council and amended by the Indian Legislature S 3580 (goes on to say that nothing in the section shall be deemed to authorise any Conto exceed the limits prescribed by the Code as to the amount of punshment which it may inflict on a European British subject or to confer jurisdiction or any Magistrate of the second or third class for the trial of such subjects. The again the words are not European British subject who claims to be dealt will as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects when the such tried as such or such subjects who claim to be tried as such or such subjects that a court may have jurisdiction over an account of the such such as the such as a such or such subjects when the such as a such or such subjects when the such as a such or such subjects when the such as a such or such subjects when the such as a such or such subjects when the such as a such or such subjects when the such as a such or such subjects when the such as a such or such

So far this note has dealt with the distinctive privileges of European Bribbs subjects. But this chapter deals with claims made by European British subjects Indian British subjects Europeans Gother than British subjects and American and when a claim has been established certain privileges arise which are not confined to European British subjects.

Section 275 lays down-

- (1) In a trial by jury before the High Court or Court of Session of a person who has been found under the provisions of this Code to be a European or Indian British subject a majority of the jury shall if such person before the first jury is called and accepted so requires consist in the case of a European British subject of persons who are Europeans or Americans and in the case of an Indian British subject of Indians
- (2) In any such trial by jury of a person who has been found under the provisions of this Code to be a European (other than a European British subject) or an American a majority of the jury shill if practicable and if such European of American before the first jurior is called and accepted so requires consist of persons who are Europeans or Americans

Section 284A lays down-

rson who has been found under Indian British subject if the iere there are several European subjects accused all of them jointly before the first assessor is chosen so require all the assessors shall in the case of European British subjects be persons who are Europeans or Americans or in the case of Indian British subjects be Indian British subjects be Indian.

(2) In a trial with the aid of assessors of a person who has been found under the provisions of this Code to be a European (other than a European British subject) or an American all the assessors shall if practicable and if such European or American before the first assessor is chosen so requires be persons who are Europeans or Americans.

> on who has been found under far as I uropean and Indian tablishment of a claim inder inder Chap XXXIII that the case is one which ought to be tried under it e provisions of that Chapter Furepeans (other than European British subjects) and Americans can only be found under the provisions of this Code to be such as it e result of a claim under S gis8.

Jurors and assessors have to be chosen in a particular manner. The list of juror and assessors from among which the necessary number of persons is summoned specifes those who are Europeans and Americans (S 321) inder S 117 the Sessions Court shall if it thinks needful cause to be summoned such military commissioned and non-commissioned officers as it considers to be necessary to make up the jurice required for the trial of persons charged with offences before the High Court and under S 326 the jurice or assessors summoned for a trial in the Sessions Court are to include where any accused person is a European or American as many Europeans or Americans as may be required for the purpose of choosing juriors or assessors for the trial

There is one more provision supplementary to Ss 275 and 284A conferring a special privilege S 285A lays down—

In any case in which a Turopean or American is accised jointly with a dian British leand such other person may be tried togetl er. I ut if I e requires to be tried in accordance with the provisions of S. "5 or S. %] And is so tried and the other person accused requires to be tried separately, such of I er person if all be tried separately in accord ance with the provisions of this Chapter.

This section like Ss ~75 and 284A confers on Indian British subjects equal rights with it lose enjoyed by Europeans and Americans to claim separate trails An Indian who is a subject of a State in India is granted no rights under these sections on the other hand where the complainant is an Indian b t not a British subject an accused person who is a Puropean British subject an anotic claim to be tried under the provisions of Claip XXXIII For definitions of India and British India see General Clauses Act X of 1807 S x

Procedure of claim Chapter XXXIII do not apply any person of a prison to be dealt with as European or Indian British subject or where any person claims to be dealt with as a European or Chapter XXXIII do not apply any person claims a European or Indian British subject or where any person claims to be dealt with as a European (other American)

American than a European British subject) or an American he shall state the grounds of such claim to the Magistrate before whom he is brought for the purpose of the inquiry or trial, and such Magistrate shall inquire into the truth of such statement and allow the person making it a reasonable time within which to prove that it is true and shall then decide whether he is or is not a European British subject or an Indian British subject or a European or an American as the case may be and shall deal with him accordingly

- (2) When any such claim is rejected by the Ungistrate and the person by whom it was made is committed by the Magistrate for trial before the Court of Session and such person reperts the claim before such Court such Court shall after such further inquiry if any as it thind is fit decide the claim and shall deal with such person accordingly
- (3) When any Court before which any person is tried rejects any such claim as aforesaid the decision shall form a ground of appeal from the sentence or order passed in such trial

Though a claim for a spec al trial under the provisions of Chap XXXIII has to be made before a particular stage of the inquiry or trial is reached [S 443 {v}] the Code does not contain any similar provision in regard to claims under Chap XLIVA S 528B implies that a claim must be examined and determined if it is made before the conclusion of the trial in the Magistrate's Co ir or before the accused is committed for trial, it cannot be raised at any later stage but a dam which has been rejected by a committing Magistrate can be repeated in the Session Court

It must be borne in mind that this is an entirely different thing from the dam under S 443 for a special procedure, as to which see the note to Chap XXXIII

The rejection of a claim does not give ground for a separate appeal, as bile case under Chap NNVIII S 443 (3) but it may form a ground of appeal against the sentence or order passed in the trial

A Magistrate is no longer required if he has reason to believe that a perce brought before him is a European British subject to ask him whether he is o er not this was the law formerly cootained in S 434 But S 44 requires a Magistrate to inform the accused person of his rights as soon as it appears to lain that the case is or might be held to be a case which ought to be tried under the provisions of Chap XXXIII

528B. If in any such case a European or Indian British Failure to plead subject or a European (other than a European atatus a waiver British subject) or an American does not claim Entish subject) or an American does not claim to be dealt with as such by the Magistrate before whom he is tried or by whom he is committed, or if, when such claim has been made before and rejected by the committing Magistrate, it is not repeated before the Court to which such person is committed, he shall be held to have relinquished his right to be dealt with as a European British subject or an Indian British subject, or a European or an American, as the case may be, and shall not assert it in any subsequent stage of the case

Section 528B is discussed in the note at the beginning of this chapter replaces S 454 (1).

528C. Where a person, not being a European British subject, frail of person as is dealt with a European British subject or, not being an Indian British subject, is dealt which he does not with as an Indian British subject, is dealt with as an Indian British subject or, not being a European (other than a Éuropean British subject) or American, is dealt with as a European or American, and such person does not object, the inquiry, commitment, trish, or senteuce, as the case may be, shall not, by reason of such dealing, he invalid.

528D. (1) Unless there is something repugnant in the context,

Application of Acts conferring jurisdiction on Magistrates or Courts of Session all enactments made by the Governor General in Council or the Indian Legislature which confer on Magistrates or on the Court of Session jurisdiction over offences shall be deemed to apply to European British subjects, although such persons are not expressly referred to therein.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorise any Court to exceed the limits prescribed by this Code as to the amount of punishment which it may inflict on a European British subject or to confer jurisdiction on any Magistrate of the second or third class for the trial of such subjects

CHAT XLV SECS, 529-530

CHAPTER XLV

OF IRPFCULAR Proceedings

lrregularities which do not rituate pro ceedings the following things, ceedings the following things, arms to do any of the following things, are shown in the following the following things are shown in the following the following things are shown in the following the followi

(a) to issue a search warrant under section 98,

(b) to order, under section 135, the Police to investigate an offence.

(c) to hold an inquest under section 176,

- (d) to issue process, under section 186, for the apprehension of a person within the local limits of his jurisdiction who has committed an officnce outside such limits,
- (e) to take cognizance of an offence under section 190, sub section (1) clause (a) or clause (b).

(f) to transfer a case under section 192

(q) to tender a pardon under section 337 or section 338,

(h) to sell property under section 524 or section 525, or (i) to withdraw a case and try it himself under section 528,

(i) to withdraw a case and try it himself under section 528, crroneously an good futh does that thing his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being so empowered

Sch. III and IV specify the ordinary powers of Man strates of different classes and offices and the additional powers with which aid by whom they may be invested amongst them powers are the ester to in S 579 and 530

Good Patth —Nothing is sa 1 to be done or believed in good faith which is done or believed without due care and attention—S 52 Penal Code and S 4 (2) of this Code

In applying S 520 the Allahabad High Court has held that it refers to acts done by a Magistrate in no way empowered by law to do those acts and not to a Magistrate empowered to do them but not possessing jurisdiction over the particular offence. So a conditional partion given by a Magistrate who had no juris diction over the offence was ignored and a conviction of the person to whom it had been so tendered was affirmed as it was no protection so as to bar proceedings against lim!

530 If any Magistrate not being empower ed by law in this behalf does any of the following things, namely—

(a) attaches and sells property under section 88,

(b) issues a search-warrant for a letter, parcel of other thing in the Post-office, or a telegram in the Telegraph Department;

(c) demands security to keep the peace;
(d) demands security for good behaviour;

(e) discharges a person lawfully bound to be of good behaviour;

(f) cancels a bond to keep the peace;

(4) prohibits, under section 143, as to a local nuisance;
(b) prohibits, under section 143, the repetition or cor-tinuance of a public nuisance;

(1) issues an order under section 144;

(i) makes an order under Chapter XII:

(k) takes cognizance, under section 190, sub-section (1), clause (c), of an offence.

(l) passes a sentence, under section 349, on proceedings recorded by another Magistrate;

(m) calls, under section 435, for proceedings;

(n) makes an order for maintenance :

(a) revises, under section 515, an order passed under section 514:

(p) tries an offender;

(q) tries an offender summarily; or

(r) decides an appeal;
 his proceedings shall be void.

Schs III and IV specify the ordinary powers of Magistrates of the several classes and offices, and the additional powers with which and by whom they can be invested, amongst their powers are the powers to act a set out in Ss. 329, 530

If the proceedings of a Magistrate are void for this raison, no order of a superof Court is necessary to set them aside connectent Court. They are no bar under S 403 to a trial by a connectent Court.

Tries an offender (p), tries an offender summarily (q)

Clause (19) was first introduced into the Cobe of Criminal Procedure by the Code of 1882 clause (9) by the Code of 1882 in the meaning of $5.30 has been considered, in reference to these two matters, in cases in which a Magistrate "tried an offender" or 'tries an offender summarily, "for an offence within his jurisdiction, when the facts before him show the commission of another offence of a gravit character beyond his jurisdiction either to hold a tril or to hold a summary find. In both instances, the same question is raised, whether under $5.30 the Magistrate proceedings are void, or whether it is a matter for the consideration of the Court of Appeal or Revision, having regard to $5.37, whether in exercise of its described the Court should interfere in the interests of justice. In Loth instances, its Magistrate has assumed a jurisdiction which the case on the facts before him does not justify. The terms of $5.30 the was some doubt in this respect. They declar that "if any Magistrate not being empowered by Invo on this behalf" acts in it minner. In a proceedings shall be void. "In a case under appail, the Sessor."

<sup>1</sup> Q Prop 1 Hussem Gaibu, I L. R., S Born , 307

ludge held that the proceedings were void under S 530, Lecause the evidence showed the commission of an offence triable only by a Court of Session, whereas the Magistrate had convicted of a minor offence within his jurisdiction, and he was accordingly directed to commit On revision, the High Court of Madras' las beld that this view of the law was erroneous, the Magistrate laving purediction to hold the trial for the offence tried by him, and that, except in the interests of justice, that is, unless the sentence raised was inadequate the Sessions Judge was not competent to direct him to commit, when the facts disclose an effence within the jurisdiction of a Magistrate it is a fallact to say that he is not empowered by law to try this person charged with that offence which is within his jurisdiction, because the same facts disclose an of ence which is beyond I is junediction WI other in doing so he adopts a proper course is another question. No doubt it is improper on the part of a Magistrate intentionally to ignore circumstances of aggravation which show that an offence beyond his jurisdiction was in fact committed as well as an offence within his jurisdiction. The action of the Magistrate would be improper, but his proceedings would not be void. If the improper action of a Magistrate has led to a failure of justice as for instance by causing the punish ment to be madequate, it would be open to the proper authorities to apply a remedy by instituting a second prosecution on the same facts for the more aggravated offerce (S 403). It would also be open to the revising and appellate authorities to set aside the Magistrate's proceedings and order a fresh trial, if such a course was required in the interests of justice but not otherwise and the reason for setting them aside would be not that the proceedings were void ab unito but because they were improper and the interests of justice required them to be set aside There is a difference between proceedings which are without purisdiction and therefore void and proceedings which are improper and therefore hable to be set aside, though not void 1

The Bombay High Court has interpreted S 530 (b) in the same way 1 In that and controlled certain pressors of voluminal Code) an offence that he was competent that the offence disclosed was under S 226.

Penal Code, and beyond the jurisduction of the Magistrate who held the trial, but, as the accused had not been prejudiced the order was allowed to stand and the appeals were dismissed. The Sessions Judge however also referred the case under S 438 to the High Court for revision as in his opinion the proceedings were void under S 530 (p). The Bombay High Court refused to interfere holding that the Magistrate was not wholly without jurisduction, and it was not suggested that the sentences were unduly lement or that the accused had been prejudiced. At the same time it was pointed out that it is an evasion of the law to treat an arguavated offence as an ordinary offence and thus to introduce a different jurisduction, or a lower scale of punishment. When the evidence discloses a circumstance of aggravation, which makes the offence cognizable only by a higher Court it becomes the duty of a trying Magistrate to use the proper procedure for sending the case to that Court.

When however the same course has been taken by a Magistrate in trying a case summarily (5 260) for a minor offence so trable when the facts before him show the commission of a graver offence not so trable the Calcutt's High Court has declared the proceedings to be void under S 530 (g) *

The principle involved in these two classes of cases seems similar but the consequences to the accused are very different. In a regular trial a Court of Reussen would be able to judge whether on the evidence on the record the sentence passed for the numor offences was sufficient in the ends of justice; but the evident, as recorded in a summary trial, is in brief, and therefore is not calculated to show the entire case. The prosecution nught therefore justly complain of such a result on the office hand, the accused if convicted in a simmary trial, would not appeal given to him against all except the lightest sentences. An encouragement would also be given to a careless Magistrate to adopt the easier and less forms mode of trial, and so avoid the proper supervision of a Court of Appeal or of Revision.

ITT-a t all Da Mal Ca

The question of the validity of a trial held by a Bench of Magistrates whe there has been a change in the constitution of the Bench during the trial has been considered in several cases. The enactment of $5.30A$ now settled the matter. If at the time of delivery of judgment the Bench is properly constituted, and if all the Magistrates at that time constituting the Bench and delivering judgment, have been present throughout the proceedings the trial is valid. This was the view consistently taken in cases prior to the recent amendment of the Code? But no so far as these cases may be taken to indicate that there can be no changewhat ever in the constitution of a Bench of Magistrates during a trial they are obsolet for a Magistrate who was present at an early stage can drop out, and his absence will not vitate the trial, provided the Bench is still properly constituted without him. Where a Magistrate tried summantly an officine which was not so that, and acquitted the accused, the High Court in revision set as de the proceedings and ordered a retrial?

531. No finding, sentence or order of any Criminal Court Proceedings in shall be set aside merely on the ground that the wrong place. inquiry, trial or other proceeding, in the course of which it was arrived at or passed, took place in a wrong sessions division, district, subdivision or other local area, unless it appears that such error has in fact occasioned a failure of justice.

S 531 applies solely to cases in which there is no jurisdiction by reason of the inquiry, trail or other proceeding being held in the wrong local area. (See Chapter XV). It applies to a case in which a Magistrate, competent in commit, commits, but without local jurisdiction to hold the inquiry.

"Failure of justice" probably means, as expressed in the Code of 1872, S. 79, "that the accused was actually prejudiced in his defence, or the prosecutor in his presecution by such error."

Similarly, S. 156, while declaring the power of a police-officer to investigate a cognizable offence to be conferminous locally with that of a Magistrate under Chapter XV, also provides, that no proceeding of a police-officer shall at any stage be called in question on the ground that the case was one which such officer was not empowered for this reason to investigate Where a Magistrate of Nasik which had no local jurisdiction to hold the trial, it was field under S. 331 that the committed not be supported in the state of the state o

Hardwar Sing or Lall t Khega Ojha, 1 L R, 20 Cal, 870; Q Fmp. r. Basapto, Ayyar, 1 L R, 18 Mad, 394; D - Khega Ojha, 1 L R, 20 Cal, 870; Q Fmp. r. Basapto,

R. 13 Mrd. 304
Razya Bhagwanta

Med., Gor Dorsswam, Manov, i. i. a., 30 Ann. 94.

Med., Gor Dorsswam, Manov, i. i. a., 30 Ann. 94.

to Bon Imp t Thake, i. I. i. 8 Bon 312, see also Q. Lmp, t James Ingle, I. L. R.

to Bon 20 Imp t Abbritedd, I. R. 17 Mad 4, cor Q. Emp, t, Ram Del, I. L. R.

18 VI 180

But although a Magistrate may commute without having local jurisdiction to act in the particular case, and the commitment may be protected by $ 532, on objection may be taken to the trial being held by the Sessions Court to which the commutation may have been made on the same ground.

When a commitment made by a Magistrate not having local invisdiction to a Court of Sessions having, under S 177, no jurisdiction to try it, the commitment is illegal, the High Court had no power to transfer it to a Court of Sessions having jurisdiction, and the commitment must be quashed 1 But where it was alleged that a Chief Presidency Magistrate who committed the accused to the High Court on a charge of murder had no local jurisdiction to inquire into the case, and that the High Court had ro local jurisdiction to try the case, it was held that the irregulanty or illegality, if any, in the Magistrate's proceedings was cured by S 531, and that even if the High Court on its original side had no jurisdiction to try the case it could make an order under S 526 directing that the trial should take place at the High Court Sessions, and an order was made accordingly * It would seem that under clause 24 of its Letters Patent the High Court has power to try rersons for offences committed outside the limits of its ordinary original criminal juris diction 1 In the case of Ganapathy Chetty v Rext reference was made to an Allahabad case, in which the High Court maintained an order of commitment where four accused persons had been committed to the Court of Sessions at Saharanpur, and it appeared that some of them had committed offences within the jurisdiction of the Sessions Judge of Moradabad, and directed that the case be transferred to the latter Court.

Where two men kolnapped a gul in the Buduan district and took her to the Etah district, and were there joined by two other men, and the whole party then proceeded to the Punjab, a conviction of the two latter men along with the other accused by the Court having jurisdiction in the Buduan district was upheld, as no failure of justice was occasioned, and the case was covered by $5.51.4

Where a Magistrate who has jurisdiction to hold an inquiry and commit, commits to a Sessions Court which has no jurisdiction to hold the trial, no Sessions Court having been appointed for that purpose, the case was under S 526 transferred for trial to the High Court?

If a commitment is made to a Court of Session ordinarily having jurisdiction to hold the trial, but the Sessions Judge is by Jaw disquilified from holding the trial, the commitment is valid, but the case must be transferred to some other Court of Session 4.

An appeal was presented to the Sessions Judge of Bijnor-Budaun at Bijnor within that Sessions Division, but it was beard at Moradabad by the Sessions Judge, at which place he was empowered to exercise civil but not criminal jurisdiction. It was held by a Pull Bench of the Allahabad High Court that this was an irregulanty, out, as it had seen soned no fails re of justice it was covered by S 53r, and did not render the hearing of the appeal a nullity.

The introduction of the words "other local area," provides for a case in which the local jurisdiction is not confined to the same Province or High Coint, a defect in S 70 of the Code of 1872 which was pointed out in a case tried under that Code."

Assirtant Session Judge, North Arcot I I. P , 36 Mad , 387

Ganapathy Chetty: Rev. I. L. R. 42 Mad 791 Geo. Q. Emp. James Ingle I. L. R. 16 Bom., 200, Ganapathy Chetty t. Pex.

<sup>1.</sup> L. R. 42 Mad., 791 Ganapathy Chetty: Res. I I R. 42 Wad. 791.

532 (1) If any Magistrate or other authority purporting commitments may be not so conferred, commits an accused person for validated trial before a Court of Session or High Court

the Court to which the commitment is made may, after penisal of the proceedings accept the commitment if it considers that the accused has not been injured thereby, unless, during the inquiry and before the order of commitment, objection was made on behalf of either of the accused or of the prosecution to the jurisdiction of such Magistrate or other authority

(2) If such Court considers that the accused was injured or if such objection was so made it shall quash the commitment and direct a fresh inquiry by a competent Magistrate

The distinction between S 331 and S 532 is that S 531 de Is with a case in which except for want of local jurisdict of the criminal Court is competent to act that is it is vested with legal unthority to act but not in the particular case for want of such juris-viction while under S 53 the Criminal Court purports to exercise judicial povers which have never been duly conferred on it that is it commits an accused person for trial by the Sessions Court when it has not been empowered by S 200 to commit The Magistrate may indeer S 532 be competent to deal with the offence but is not competent to commit for some reason other than that of want of local jurisdiction.

But S 532 has been applied to a commutment made by a Magistrite who was not competent to take cognizance of the case because synction under S 197 had not been given by the Government of India or the Local Government and therefore not competent to exercise it. An objection raised before the High Court on this account was held to be cured by S 337.2°

But a conviction by a Sessions Court will not be set aside simply on the ground of a defect in the initiation of proceedings or because of some irregularity in the pro c lags, in the Magistrates Court more especially when the point was not raised in the lover Court.

A S suors Juige his no power after he has heard the whole case and recorded the opinions of the Vss-sors to quash the commitment and direct a fresh inquirinder S 532 on the ground that he was of opinion that the preliminary sanction for the proceedings was invaid and that the joint trail of two accused persons was irregalar his poper course was to move the High Court to quish the commitment under S 215.

The terms of S 532 are expressed differently from those of S 33 the corresponding section of the Code of 1872 so that a case in the Allahabad High Court on the subject is obsolete *

Objection taken before commitment, sub section (2)

In such a case the Court of Session or High Court is bound to quash the comment and to direct a firsh inquiry by a competent Magistrate. But if not made during the trial it will not be entertained by a Court of Revision

ments

(1) If any Court, before which a confession or other statement of an accused person recorded or purporting to be recorded under section 164 or with provisions of section 164 or 364 section 364 is tendered or has been received in evidence, finds that any of the provisions of either of such sections have not been complied with by the Magistrate recording the statement, it shall take evidence that such person duly made the statement recorded, and notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, section 91, such statement shall be admitted. if the error has not injured the accused as to his defence on the

(2) The provisions of this section apply to Courts of Appeal, Reference and Revision

This section is enacted in modification of S 533 of the Code of 1882 in the widest terms. Its object is to prevent justice being frustrated by reason of a Vigistrate having neglected to comply strictly with the terms of S 164 or S 364 in regard to the evanuation of an accused person and to meet any objection raised to the reception of such examination in evidence by enabling a Court before which such an objection is raised to take evidence purporting to show that the statement recorded was duly made. This will appear on a comparison between S 533 of the Code of 188, and S 533 as now enacted by the Code of 1898. The words or purporting to be recorded and or has been recorded in evidence finds that any of the provisions of either of such sections have been inserted to emphasise the object of S 533 Sub section (*) is also new By the words it shall take evidence &c it would soom that the action of the Court holding a trial hearing an appeal or acting on revision is obligator; to endeavour to correct an error in form so as to enable it to deal with the case on the merits. In considering the cases on this subject it should be borne in mind that with the exception of one 2 they were all decided under the Codes before that of 1898 the terms of S 533 of which are different

There are six ral reported cases in which the High Courts have applied S 533 Wh & a confession was recorded notier S 104 in English though given in Hindi a language which the Magistrate understood and could write it was leld that the statement so made could not be made admissible in evidence by the examination of the Magistrate. It is again to missions to sign the confession and the certificate and to ce tify all the facts that the Magistrate is required to certify that S 533 was intended to provide a remody by allowing evidence to be taken that the accused person duly mal the statement recorded. The recorded statement to be proved must be a statement re orded in accordance with the provisions of the Act and not in violation of them as when the Act makes it imperative that it shall be recorded in the language in which it was made it is recorded in another language !

Tas care was doubted in another case also before the Calcutta High Court in with the Magistrate who recorded a confess on under S 164 omitted to make the ce tificate required by that section and it was objected on appeal that the confession s not and dol m II I to land and m as given but in Bengah the at the trial and it was dis as practicable for the officers

the proceedings of the Magis

<sup>10</sup> fmp Anti M N N 159 p 60 Q Fmp 1 Nsrim Dabaii I I R 21 Bm 495 Q Emp R Nu i I R 23 Bm +21 Pm 12 R 11 mp v Lai Shekh i Cal W N 157 Jai Nrajan Rai I L R 17 Q 1 S62

trate were not conducted in accordance with law 1 The Bombay High Court also refused to follow that case, and to hold that S 533 is limited to any particular non-compliance with S 364, and evidence was admitted to show that a confession made in Marathi and recorded in English was duly made? The same High Court followed this case holding that S 533 is intended to apply to all cases in which the directions of the law have not been fully complied with. In that case, the Magistrate had not required the accused to sign the statement recorded. The confession "2" admitted and on the appeal of Government against the acquittal, the accused was convicted ?

The Calcutta High Court has also held that when it was shown that there well no means available to reco which it was made the pr apparently distinguishing case this was not shown to In another cases in which the Government appealed against an order of ac quittal in a Sessions trial, the Magistrate who recorded a confession under S 16. of this Code had omitted to make the prescribed certificate that he believed that the confession was voluntarily made, and his evidence to supply this omission was rejected as inadmissible. This was made one of the grounds of appeal. BANERIES J. held that it was not the intention of S 533 to prove confessions not recorded in accordance with Ss 164 and 364 by proof that they were admissions made by the accused, as that would practically reduce to a nullity the wholesome provision elaborately laid down by those sections S 533 means only that when a confessor or other statement made by an accused person is duly made that is, made in accordance with the provisions of the law, but in recording it those provision have not been fully complied with, oral evidence is admissible that the confession or other statement was duly made, or in other words, when the defect in recording the confession or other statement of an accused person is one not of substance but of form only as, for instance, when the Magistrate had through madvertance omitted to state in the certificate that the statement was taken in his hearing though it was so taken, or when he has omitted to sign the certificate through mere insidertance, oral evidence may be taken to remedy the defect by proving that the statement recorded was duly made, and the learned Judge also rehed or the form of the questions put, and the fact that one of the witnesses stated that the examination of the accused was conducted by the Inspector of Police, as showing that the confession was not voluntarily made MACLEAN, C I commented on the fact that the confession was not recorded by the Magistrate as voluntarily made as there was no such expression of behel by the Magistrate and looking at the circumstances under which the statements were made, it is impossible to hold that they could have been made voluntarily. But the learned Chief Justice does not in the report seem to have referred to the objection that the evidence of the Magistrate, who recorded the confession and was prepared under S 533 to speak to their havenbeen voluntarily made, was held to be inadmissible, and that that was one of the grounds of appeal. None of the cases to the contrary mentioned in this note were referred to in these judgments

All those cases were decided under S 533 of the Code of 1882. In one reported case on S. 533 as now expressed in the Code of 1898, on an appeal and also on" reference for confirmation of the sentence of death passed by the Sessions Judge, the Calcutta High Court under S 533 directed evidence to be taken that the accused duly made the confession recorded under S 164, because the Magistrate had not signed the record of that confession or the ventication required by law, and, on

&lt;sup>3</sup> Lalchand I L R 18 Cal 549 <sup>3</sup> Q Emp : Visram Pabaji I L R 21 Bom 495

O Imp t Raghu I L R 23 Bom 221

Q Lmp : Bhar to Chunder Chuckerbutty, 2 Cal , W \ 702

being satisfied with that evidence, the confession was taken into consideration, and the appeal was dismissed 1

The Madras High Court has held that it is not, under S 164 obligators on a Magistrate holding an investigation or preliminary inquiry under S 159 to record in writing a confession made to him and such confession can be proved by the Magistrate's oral testimony 1

A confession was held to be admissible where the Magistrate removed the police satisfied himself that the accused had not been intored and recorded the confession in English in a narrative form and translated it to the accused who signed it 3 But where the Magistrate did not mention in the memorandum or in his evidence subsequently tak in that the occused was asled whether he was making his confession voluntarily though in his evidence he stated that the accused did in fact make the confession voluntarily the High Court in appeal held that it was inadmissible 4

There are several reported cases on the question whether the latter portion of S 342 is mandatory and whether an omission to examine the accised after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined vitiate the trial. For these see note to S 342 It is to be noted that S 533 does not deal with these cases but only with cases where a statement or confession has been recorded and there has been some irregulanty in the manner of making the record

The provisions of S 164 have been elaborated by the amending Act No AVIII of 1923 and the Magistrate is now required to explain to the accused that he is not bound to make a confession and that if he does so it may be used as evidence against him and the memorandum under that section must include a statement that the Magistrate has complied with this requirement

The Court shall take evidence that such person duly made the *tatement recorded

These words so in to make it obligators on a Court to take evidence in such cases to correct an error which is not one of substance but of form and sub-section (*) declares that S 533 shift apply to Courts of Appeal Reference or Revision If a Ma istrate is required to give evidence he is not bound to answer any questions as to his conduct in Court as such Magistra e or as to anything which came to his knowledge in Court as Magistrate but he may be examined as to other matters which came to his knowledge while he was so acting but he may be required to do so by order of a Court to which le 1 subordinate and in such a proceeding he would probably be subordinate to 1 to rt of Session r High Court (See Fyidence Act S 1 1 and III)

If the error has not injured the accused on the ments

That must be determined in each case before a confession is admitted in evidence at a trial, and even after evidence taken under S 533. Where the Magistrate omitted to take the signature or marl of the accused to his confession it was contended that this had deprived him of the opportunity of denying the accuracy of the confession as recorded. But if the signature had been omitted through an oversight it is difficult to see how he could be prejudiced by the oriussion. It is not as if he denied the accuracy of the statement as recorded and on this account his signature was not taken. Such an objection would not be so much one of prejudice as one of no confession at all. But where at the Sessions trial, the accused denied having made the statement the Se sions Judge should have talen the evidence of the Kulharm to who was deputed the duty of asking the accused to put his mark to it, and of the Magistrate who examined the accused, and he should have ascertained whether the accused duly and voluntarily made the statement recorded, and why his signature or mark was not taken, and he should have then decided whether the statement should be admitted.

<sup>1</sup> Emp v Lal Sheikh 3 Cal W N 387 2 Gangedupalle Pedda Obigadu I L R 45 Wal 23 2 I mp t Deo Dat I I R 45 All 116 4 laril: Crown I L R 1 ah 325

Where there was no memorandum and no evidence to show that the Magistate had asked the accused whether he was making a confession voluntarily it was held that the accused was prejudiced.

534 An omission to inform under section 447 any person of his rights under Chapter XXXIII shall not affect the validity of any proceeding.

Under S 454 (2) of the Code prior to its amendment by Act No. XII of 1923 a Magistrate was required to ask the accused whether he was a European British subject or not, unless he had reason to believe that he was not, and S. 534 land down that an omission to put this question should not affect the validity of the proceedings. The whole of Chapter XXXIII in which S 454 occurred has now disappeared, and a new Chapter has taken its place. It lays down a special procedure to be adopted in certain cases in which both European and Indian British subjects are concerned and the accused claims, before a certain stage in the proceedings has been reached, that he should be tried under the provisions of the Chapter. S 447 lays down that if at any stage of an inquiry or trial under this Code it appears to the Magistrate that the case is, or might be held to be, a case which ought to be tried under the provisions of Chapter XXXIII he shall forthwith inform the accused person of his rights under the Chapter Act No XII of 1923. S. 34, has now amended S. 534, which lays down that an omission to inform under S. 447 any person of his rights under S 447 shall not affect the validity of any proceeding

- 535. (1) No finding or sentence pronounced or passed shall be deemed invalid merely on the ground that no charge was framed, unless, in the opinion of the occasioned thereby.
- (2) If the Court of Appeal or Revision thinks that a failure of justice has been occasioned by an orms on to frame a charge, it shall order that a charge be framed, and that the trial be recommenced from the point immediately after the framing of the charge-
- S 225 declares that no error in stating the offence or the particulars required to be stated in the charge, and no omission to state the offence or those particulars shall be regarded in any stage of the case as material, unless the accused was misled by such error or omission.
- S 232 is similar to S. 535 (2) It declares that a Court of Appeal or the High Court in revision shall direct a new trial to be had on a charge framed in whatever manner it thinks fit, if it is of opinion that any person convicted of an offence was misled in his defence by the absence of a charge or by an error in the charge, but it also provides that, if the Court is of opinion that the facts of the case are such that no valid charge could be preferred against the accused in respect of the facts proved, it shall cursh the conviction

S. 226 provides for the case of a person committed for trial without a charge or with an imperfect or erroneous charge.

t firit Crown I I, R 2 lah, 325.

Cnar XLV Sec. 536

S 537 (a) provides that no finding sentence or order passed by a Court of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed or altered by a Court of confirmation appeal or revision on account of any error omission or irregularity in the charge. unless it has in fact occasioned a failure of justice

So 535 and 337 (a) do not apply to a case where the accused is charged with one offence and is convicted of a totally different offence. Such a case is governed by S. 233 236 So it would be not merely an irregularity but an error of law vitiating the trial to convict of murder an accused person charged with rioting or to comm t him to the Court of Sessions without framing a charge 1

(1) If an offence triable with the aid Trial by jury of of assessors is tried by a jury, the trial shall not offence triable with assessors on that ground only be myalid

(2) If an offence triable by a jury is tried with the aid of assessors, the trial shall not on that ground only be invalid, unless the objection is taken before sors of offence triable by jury the Court records its finding

Trials before a Court of Session are ordinarily with the aid of assessors is only when an order under S 26; has been made by the Local Government with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council that the trial before the Court of Session of all offences or of any class of offences is to be so held in the particular district that trial is held by uirs S 269 (3) further declares that when the accused is charged at the same trial with several offences of which some are and some are not triable by jury he shall be tried by jury for such of those offences as are triable by jury and by the Court of Session with the aid of jurous as asses, or for such of them as are not triable by jury

If, in a trial held with the aid of assessors which all ould have been tried by jury no objection has been taken it cannot be afterwards taken in the High Court on appeal

The distinction between trials wrongly held by jury and trials wrongly leld with the aid of assessors should be noted. In regard to the former it is provided that the trial shall not on that ground only be invalid. In regard to the latter it is added unless objection as taken before the Court records its finding that is to say before judgment is pronounced and signed (S 367) If objection be so taken and it is a valid objection a new trial should be held by jury

The Sessions Judge has under S *35 a discretion to try simultaneously cases reparding different offences committed in the same transaction and consequently he can, in the same trial try such offences some of which may be triable by jury and others with the aid of assessors taking a verdict from the jurors and the opinions of the same persons as assessors

Where a trial has been held by yory when it should have been held by the S ssions Judge with the aid of assessors or vi e versa a difficulty arises in hearing the appeal for when a trial has been held by jury the appeal shall he on a matter of law only (S 418) So when a trial had been erroneously held by jury the High Court heard the appeal on the evidence the Sessions Judge's charge to the jury being treated as lus judgment. But the Bombay High Court has refused to adopt this practice holding that 5 418 in declaring that where the trial was by jury the appea shall be on a matter of la v only means where the trial was in fact held by jury not where the trial ought to have been by jury, and that consequently in such a case, an appeal hes on a matter of law only 1. See note to S. 418

Sita Alurı Emş I L R 40 Cal 168 1 Q Lmp r Ganapathı Vannusı arı I L R 23 Mad 632 Norkoo 18 W K Cr 59, Lmp r Mohum Chunder Ras I L R 3 Cal 765 i Pentu balındı Wer 1003

+ O v Doorga Clura Stome 24 W ll Cr 30

Another difficulty has arisen where n a trial which should have been held with the aid or assessors but which I is been erroneously held by jury the Sessions Judge has refused to accept the veidict and has referred the case to the High Coast under S 307 In considering the cases on this point the changes in the law urder which they were decided should be borne in mind. The Code of 1882 (S 260) which first specially provided for such cases declared that when the accreed to charged at the same trial with several offences of which some are and some are not tnable by jury he shall be tried by jury for all such offences This was modified by Act X of 1886 S 9 which was in the same terms as now expressed in S 269 (3) of this Code So where the Sessions Judge after recording the vertical of the jury found that the trial should have been held with the aid of assessors and not by jury and treating the verdict which acquitted the accised as opinions delivered by assessors convicted the accused it was held that the trial was complete when the verdict was returned and that if the Sessions Judge disagreed with that verdict he could only proceed under S 307 and refer the case to the High Court The conviction and sentence were accordingly set aside and the Sessiors Judge was directed to proceed accordingly . In another case in which the Sessions Judge made a reterence under S 307 because he disagreed with the veidict of the jury on a charge of an offence not triable by jury it. High Court proceeded to conside the evidence on the reference though it was held that it e procedure of the Essions Judge was most uregular. So where the accessed was committed on charge of dacoity (S 305 Penal Code) and dacoity with murder (S 306) the former offence being alone triable by jury and the Sessions Jidge held the trial first only of that charge and under S 367 of the Code referred the case to the High Court it was pointed out that if the circumstances had been different so as to give ground for supposing that the accused might be guilty of dacoity without Lemg guilty under S 396 of dacout, with murder the Sessions Judge night lase empanded a jury, and at the conclusion of the trial he might under S 269 of the Cede have asked their dunder S 396 Fend guilty of that offence Code and the verdict of the jury

But as the is binding

sider the reference on that charge 4

Subject to the provisions hereinbefore contained, no finding, sentence or order passed by a Court Finding or sentence by of competent jurisdiction shall be reversed or altered under Chapter XXVII or on appeal or

ourt proceeded to con

when reversible reason of error or omission in charge or other proceedings revision on account-(a) of any error, omission or irregularity in the complaint, summous, warrant charge, proclamation, order, judgment or other proceedings before or during trial or in any inquiry or other proceedings under this Code, or (b) of the omission to revise any list of jurors or assessors in accordance with section 324, or

<sup>1</sup> K Lmp 1 Parbhu Shankar I I R 25 Bom 680 2 Surja kurmit Q Lmp I 1 R 25 Cal 555 Secalso In 12 Bhootnath Dey 4 Cal-L R 405 heard under the Code of 1872

O Imp : Jeyram Haribhai I L R 23 Bom 696 Q Lmp : Anga Valsyan I L R, 22 Mad, 15

(c) of any misdirection in any charge to a jury.

unless such error, omission, irregularity or misdirection has in fact occasioned a failure of justice.

Explanation .- In determining whether any error, omission or irregularity in any proceeding under this Code has occasioned a failure of justice, the Court shall have regard to the fact whether the objection could and should have been raised at an earlier stage in the proceedings.

In UPPER BURNA (not including the Shan States) notwithstanding anything in this Code, a finding, sentence or order shall not be reversed on appeal or revision on account of any irregulanty of procedure unless the irregulanty has occasioned a failure of justice, Reg 1 of 1925, Sch XII but this will not affect this Code in its application to European British subjects in inquiries or trials or with respect to sentences or appeals therefrom-Ibid Sch XIII

By Act No XVIII of 1923 S 148 clause (b) has been omitted It referred to 'the want of or any irregulanty in any sanction required by S 195, or any irregularity in proceedings taken under S 476 ' The amending Bill has removed altogether the requirements of sanction under S 195 In every case under that section a complaint either by an officer or by a Court is required in order to give a Court power to take cognizance of any of the offences mentioned therein, and S 476 describes how and in what circumstances a complaint (an he inade by a Court Clause (b) of S 237 can therefore no longer serve any useful purpose At the same time a consequential amendment was made omitting the word want" towards the end of the section Finally the Illustration was also omitted, the reason given being that it was inappropriate. It mentioned one very trivial irregularity, whereas the section was undoubtedly intended to cover irregularities of a more semons nature

S. 537 is not intended to apply to a case which has not been finally disposed of. The test for determining whether an error, omission or irregularity should be a ground for setting aside an order is one which can be properly applied only after the final result of the case is known. For until then it cannot be determined whether it has occasioned a failure of instice

To what cases S 537 can be applied

'S 537 only applies to errors, omissions or irregularities of a formal nature and does not cover a substantial departure from the mode of conducting criminal trials laid down by law. This seems to be clear from the Illustration given at the foot of the section which shows the class of pregularity contemplated . It is to be noted however that the Illustration has now been omitted

A recent judgment of their Lordships of the Judicial Committee of the Privi Council has an important bearing on S 537 The case was one in which the accused had been convicted of several charges of more than three offences of the same kind and extending over more than one year, contrary to $ 234 of this Code and it was contended that this was an error or irregularity within the terms of S 537 held that 'disobedience to an express provision as to the mode of trial was not a Such a phrase as irregularity is not appropriate to the illegality mere irregularity of trying an accused person for many different offences at the same time, and those offences being spread over a longer period than by law could have been joined in one indictment. The remedying of mere aregularities is familiar in most systems of jurisprudence, but it would be an extraordinary extension of such a branch of administering the criminal law to say that, when the Code positively enacts that such a triel as that which has taken place shall not be primitted, that the contra vention of the Code comes within the description of error, omission or irregularity Their Lordships also stated that the Illustration of S 537 'itself sufficiently choss what was meant.' The rule here laid down would overrile a large number 6 cases, in which S 537 has been applied in the sense of the object of that ective as expressed by four, C ], that it is to prevent justice being frustrated by reason of a Magistrate (or a Court) not having fully complied ' with the teims et the law, and it would thus after the practice of all the Courts in British India sixte the first Code of Criminal Procedure Lecame law in 1862. That practice has him expressed in many reported cases which have been considered by the Legis'still in 1872, 1882 and 1898, when successive Codes have been passed, will cut and amendment, but rather in approval of it The Illustration first given in the Code of 1898 was evidently intended to overrule a case in which the control was held and there is no indication that it was intended to express the meaning of S 53 or to contract its operation, as held by all the Courts since the first Code of Cummid Procedure became lan in 1862 This is shown by the fact that the words of 5 337 go much beyond the limitation non declared to express the meaning of that section as an instance the declaration of the effect of the want of any canction required by S 195 may be mentioned That section declares that no Court shall take cogmisance of certain offences specified in it without sanction of some Court indicated in it but $ 537 declares that the want of such sanction shall ret, in itself reidel proceedings taken in regard to such offences void

<sup>1</sup> Miratan Sent Jogesh, I L R. 23 Cal., 983 (990). (8 C) 1 Cal., W N. 57, per Banerice J Allut Crown, I L R. 4 Lah , 376

It remains for consideration how far this expression of opinion regarding the mining of S 33 will be accepted as affecting the exercise of the powers of revision given to the High Courts generally by the Code of Crimmal Procedure

So where the accused had been tried on changes of offences which idd per constitute one series of acts so connected together as to form the same transaction (S. a3s) the Madras High Court, on the authority of this case, held that the missioner of charges cannot be treated as an irregularity curable by S. 337, and set aside the conviction ordering a new trial. The Calcutta High Court has also adopted this rule.

But the same High Court held that a single head of charge relating to three offences of the same kind is defective for duplicity and not for misjondler, and a trial under such a charge is not bad unless the accused has been prejudiced thereby. But where a case was instituted on a single complaint against the accused that he had cheated a bank by two separate transactions and two separate inserthods, and the Magistrate heard the prosecution evidence on both infences together, but then framed separate charges and numbered them as separate calendar cases, and thereupon when the winesses came to be cross-examinated fauled to keep the charges separate and allowed cross-examination indiscriminately in respect to both, the Madras High Court has four three was a joint trial which was held by reason of S. 233, and that the illegality could not be cured by S. 537. The Lahore High Court has held that there was a joint rail contraction of the express provisions of the law the trial is vitiated, and the defect cannot be condoined by the fair that the accused had not been prejudiced. The learned Judges followed Substantial Courts and the other proposed contracting the carried proposed followed Substantial Courts and the secured had not been prejudiced.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Subrahmanja Ayyarı R Emp. L R, 28 I A, 257, (sc.) I L R, 25 Mad, 61, (cc.) S. Cal, W. N., 25, (sc.) I L R, 25 Mad, 61, (cc.) S. Cal, W. N., 2892, p. 60, approved in Q 1.mp. t. Veram Habil 1 L, R, 21 Hom. 495 (sor)

Bradu Bradu 1.1.1.655

Public Prosecutor i Kadırı lioşa, I L. R. 39 Mad., 527.
Pahlad i Crown, I. L. R., 1 Lah., 562.

mania 4 mar x King Emperor 1 but their decision is no more than an oblice diction as in this case their held that the joint trial was not confirm; to live because the offences constituted one transaction. For further descrision of the case of Subrah mania Alyar see note to S 134 where it is pointed out that High Courts have contentines followed the case with refluctance and have not been too ready to extend its implications to cases not exactly covered by the facts and circumstances of that case.

The Madras High Court has held that this case refers to a misjoinder in a furil and that misjoinder in an inquire will not affect the salidity of a commitment so as to render it illegal either in regard to misjoinder of offences or offenders as the Se sions Judge can I old separate that 2 So also as the law (8 oo) directs that the examination of a complainant of all be signed 1, bits in sevidence recorded without his signature has not been made in accordance with law and cannot be used in a trial in which he is charged with intentionally guing false evidence.

It has been pointed out by the Rombys High Court that the case before the Privy Council's related to a trial held in a manner prohibited by law and that S 337 could be applied only to a case in which the trial was before a Court competent to hold it so when the irregularity was in the manner in which the trial was conducted before a competent Court insamich as the prosecution was conducted by the investigating police officer contrary to S 492 (4) it was I cld that this was curable by S 323.

S 537 does not apply to a case which has not been finally disposed of for the test prescribed by it is whether an error has in fact occasioned a fail ire of justice and that can be applied only after the final result of the case is loowin and while there is time to correct it it would be unreasonable to hold that S 537 intended the error &c to remain uncorrected *

(But the High Court as a Court of Revision has under S 430 interfered in case under trail to prevent a failure of jistice likely to result from an eroneous or irregular order or unnecessary, exp ns- to the parties if proceedings were allowed to continue A party objecting, to sich an order is required by S 371 to rise his objection at the earliest stage ("ec. Expl.) See also note to S 430 p 517 anic)

Sabiect to the progisions hereinbefore contained

It has been held that the words show that it was not intended to override the provisions of $195 which require a previous sanction or complaint of certain office of Courts b fore a Vi<sub>20</sub>strate can tale cognitant of octain offences our mitted under certain specified caream times, so as to enable a Vigistrate to proceed without such sanction or complaint? $555 however expressly provides that the ground for the reversal by a Court der by a competent Court unless TI's case has been disapproved.

hat this construction of the law $ 537, subject to the provisions t follows in that section and not so as to give no merning to the subsequent clause relating to want of sanction

Subrahmanis Ayars K Emp L R 28 I A 257 (sc) I L R 25 Mad, 61 (sc) 5 Cal W K 867 (sc) 1 L R 25 Mad, 62 (sc) 1 F 60 Governo L L R 25 Mad 592 (Bayoo Mandale Emp 6 Cal W N 849 (sc) 1 F 75 Mad 61 (sc)

CHAP XLV Sec 53"

acted

The matter for consideration in such a case is whether the want of sanction under 5 195 has in fact occasioned a failure of justice. In so far as these cases deal with claise (b) of S 537 and the want of sanction they are obsolete as clause (1) has since been repealed, but they are still applicable in so far as they indicate the meaning to be ascribed to the words subject to the provisions herein before It seems probable that these words have reference to the precedual sections of Chapter XLV only For instance notwithstanding anything contained in S 537 if a Magistrate da's my of the things mentioned in S 530 his proceedings are void and under S 533 in the event of non-compliance with any of the provisions of S 164 or S 364 the Court is required to take evidence on the point. The preceding sections also indicate the course to be taken by a Court in certain cases where it finds that an irregularity has occasioned a failure of justice

A Court of competent jurisdiction

This may be (1) either in respec-(a) whather the Court is con

col 8), or where the (b) to pass the particular

(2) if the Court has local jurisdiction over the offence (Chap 11)

If there is any disqualification such as under 487 or 556 the judicial officet is not a Court of competent jurisdiction *

So also, where the trial had throughout been held by the Sessions Judge with the aid of only one assessor the Court of Session was not properly constituted and was not therefore a Court of competent juri-diction . Where the parors were not selected in accordance with law and objections to them had not been properly heard, it was held that this affected the constitution of the Court and was therefore an irregularity which was not curable by $ 537 $

Where the trial was commenced before a Sessions Judge and after he had vacated office was resumed by his successor who relied on the evidence recorded by his predecessor and concluded the trial, it was held that the trial was not by a Court of compreent junsdiction. Where in a sessions trial held with the aid of assessors the Sessions Judge delivered judgment convicting the accused but without obtaining the opinions of the assessors it was held that the accused lad not been prejudice 1. And whe e a Sessions Judge after recording the assessor comio is and discharging them re-orded further evidence the trial was vitiated also where, after a verdict had been taken further witnesses were called, and the jury was asked to reconsider its verdict. In this case, there were several other irregularities in the way the case was conducted. See note to S and

The Court must be a prop rly constituted Court. Where the trial was held by a jury consisting of more p more than ordered by the I ocal Government under S 271 if was not properly held *

So also in a trai held by a Bench of Vagistrates it one of the Hagistroft after an absence resumes his sent on the Bench, the Bench is not a Court of com petent jurisdiction " (See note to S zor ante). But see now S 350A

O Emp t Krishna Bhat I L R to Bom 319 0.5-185 · Emp . Sakharam Pandurang I L-

* en 18 a di 1 DAS 1 E A 1 Au 110 * 1 kmp v Jansuki | L R 43 AB, 125 . see also Q Emp r. Rara Lai I L R. 13

Tymer Croan I L R., 4 Lab., 382.

Sump Booth I I R. 20 MI, 237.

Sump Booth I R. 20 MI, 237.

Sump Booth I R. 24 MI 304. Hardwar Singh S. Khegy, I L. R. 29.

Sump Booth I R. 19 Mal. 304. Hardwar Singh S. Khegy, I L. R. 29.

Sump Booth I R. 24 Mal. 304. Hardwar Singh S. Khegy, I L. R. 29.

Sump Booth I R. 24 Mal. 304. Hardwar Singh S. Khegy, I L. R. 29.

Sump Booth I R. 24 Mal. 304. Hardwar Singh S. Khegy, I L. R. 29.

Sump Booth I R. 24 Mal. 304. Hardwar Singh S. Khegy, I L. R. 29.

Sump Booth I I R. 24 Mal. 304. Hardwar Singh S. Khegy, I L. R. 29.

Sump Booth I I R. 24 Mal. 304. Hardwar Singh S. Khegy, I L. R. 29.

Sump Booth I I R. 20 Mal. 304. Hardwar Singh S. Mal. 304. Hardwar Singh f C C 23 Cal Tij Rin S n le D Rajab Mr I I R 12 Cal 559

rccused

es aping the just penalties of their crimes

Has in fact occasioned a failure of justice

This will probably be interpreted to mean as was expressed in S 223 of the Cole of 187; that the accused his been actually prejudiced in his defence or the prosecutor in his prosecution by such error. Prejudiced has been held to mean being unfairly affe ted as to his defence on the ments? I twas further styted in that case that the intention of the Legislature is to remedy defects of a formal character which may have arisen through madyertence or neglect defects which the law and the Legislature thin! ought not to be made the means of culprits

b-fore If he fails in this the error omission or irregularity complained of has not in fact occasioned a full reof justice as it cannot have materially prejudiced the

Consent of the parties

The accuse leancons intrinctling athistical which must bergalarly conducted? Consigned the depositions of witnesses given at another tradication to read as eviden a in a trial even with the cons into the accused. The witnesses must be regalarly evaluated at the lattice that here at the suggestion of the attrincy for the decident of the attrincy for the decident has deposition of each with as for the prosecution given before the Mays trate war and a very lence and without infurite evaluation the winness was cross and mined, that he let although a retiral would have been order in this ourse had by make you must own motion or on the motion of the processor that we will be a trade of the secure of the conduction of the decident of the conducted and the accused had been a loved to cross examine these witnesses the objection was disallowed and the appeal was dismissed because the evidence obtained in this cross examination established the offence.

Where in the cross cases the accused on both sides asked that the prosecution witnesses in the other case might be travel as their defence witnesses and conneil made the same regiest so that no defence witnesses were act ally examined the mithod of trail was illegal and the illegality could not be cured by the fact that the parties and their counsel had consented to it. Where a Nagistrate is debarred from holding a trail by reason of $5.56 the consent of the accused cannet give him jurishiction. And where a Magistrate acting under S 133 on the party app and to show cases sent the case to another Magistrate for inquiry and report there was an irregularity ship the proceedings motivitistanding that the parties had onsented to at.

Salhara t Pan I ran I L R 6 Bom so

105

<sup>30</sup> L Salbara i Pin

V

* Mu ( Crown I L R + Lab 3 6

7 Tmp ( B 34 e8b) r Bhittel and I I R 7

1 In re Larayypp I I R 47 Bom 89

The matter for consideration in such a case is whether the want of sanction under S 195 has in fact occasioned a failure of justice. In so far as these ca es deal with clause (b) of S 337 and the want of sanction they are obsolete as clause [9] has since been repealed, but they are still applicable in so far as they indicate the meaning to be ascribed to the words subject to the provisions herein before It seems probable that these words have reference to the preceding sections of Chapter XLV only For instance notwell stand and g contained proceedings ID S 527 If a 3fa a provis ons are v The preof S was to be taken by a Court in certain cases ceding where it finds that an irregularity has occasioned a fulure of justice

A Court of competent jurisdiction

This may h (1) either in respect of the powers with which such Court is vested (a) wh ther the Court is competent to hold the trial of the offence (Sch II col 8) 1 or where the ac used is a European British subject (5 443) of (b) to pass the particular order under consideration (Schs III IV) or (2) if the Court has local jurisdiction over the offence (Chap XV)

If there is any disqualification such as under 487 or 5.6 the indicial officer is not a Court of competent jurisdiction *

So also where the trial had throughout been held by the Sessions Judge with the aid of only one assessor the Court of Session was not properly constituted and was not there'ore a Court of competent juri-diction ! Where the jurous were not selected in ac ordance with law and objections to the n had not been properly heard, it was held that this affe ted the constitution of the Court and was therefore an irregularity which was not curable by S 537 .

Where the trial was commenced before a Sessions Judge and after he had vacated office was resumed by his successor :

his predecessor and concluded the trial it i Court of comp tent junsdiction ! Where in assessors the Sessions Jidge delivered judgment convicting the accused by without obtaining the opinions of the assessors it was held that the accused lad not been prejudiced! And whe e a Sessions Judge after recording the assessors opinions and discharging them re-orded further evidence the trial was vittated also where after a verdict had been taken further witnesses were called, and the tury was asked to reconsider its verdict. In this case there were several other irregularities in the way the case was conducted. See note to S and

The Court must be a pop rly constituted Court Where the trial was held by a jury consisting of more p rson, than ordered by the Local Government unler

S 274 it was not properly held * So also in a trial held by a Bench of Wagistrates if one of the Magistrate after an absence resumes his seat on the Bench the Bench is not a Court of com petent jurisdiction 10 (See note to S of ante) But see now S 350A

O I'mp r Kusl na Bhat I I R to Bom 319 Sudhama Upadhya r Q Emp I L R 3 Cal 3 S h Fmp r Jayram I L R 25 Bom 694

* Brojen Ira Lai Sukarı A 1 mp 7 Cal W 183
O R 2000 Nath Dass 23 W R Cr 59 . K Emp : Sakharam Panduran" 1 L

R 2010n 50

*Inwaran Day I L R I MI 610

*Lung v Jesuki I L R 43 All. 1 5. see also Q Emp r Ram Inl I L R 15

All 136 - Court v. Court I.L.R., 4 Lah 382 - Court V. Court II.R. 4 Lah 382 - Court II.R. 4 Lah 382 -

Has in fact occasioned a failure of justice

This will probably be interpreted to mean as was expressed in S 223 of the Cole of 1872 that the accused has been actually prejudiced in his defence or the prosecutor in his prosecution by such error Prejudiced has been held to mean being unfairly affe ted as to his defence on the ments 1 It was further stated in that case that the intention of the Legislature is to reincdy defects of a formal character which may have arises through inadvertence or neglect defects which the law and the Legislature think ought not to be made the means of culprits escaping the just penalties of their crimes

The explanation added by this Cole to S 537 states that in determining this, in fact occasioned a malar of justice as it cannot have materially prejudiced the accused

Consent of the parties

The accused cancons attornoth agathistical which must be regularly conduct ed ! Consequent! t e depositions of witnesses given at another trial cannot be read as eviden and a trial even with the consint of the accused. The witnesses must be regularly evanined at the title But where at the suggestion of the atterney for the de e c the deposition of each with as for the prosecution given before the Mag strate war ad a evidence and without further examination the winess was cross examined, it was held that although a re that would have been ordered if this ourse had been taken by the Judge on his own motion or on the motion of tie pros cutor this was minece sarv as it must be assumed that the attorney acted in the interests of his chen the accise 1. So where copies of the evidence given by witnesses at another trial were read without objection on behalf of the accused and the accused had been a lowed to cross examine these witnesses the objection was disallowed and the appeal was dismissed because the evidence obtained in this cross examination established the offence 5

Where in two cross cases the accued on both sides asked that the prosecution witnesses in the other case might be treated as their defence witnesses and counsel made the same rejuest so that no defence witnesses were actually examined the m thod of trul was illegal and the illegality could not be cured by the fact that the parties and their counsel had consented to it " Where a Vigistrate is debarred from holding a trial by reason of S 556 the consent of the accused cannot give him jurisdiction? And where a Vigistrate acting under S 133 on the party app anny to show cause sent the case to another Magistrate for mounts and report the e sas an irregulanty which sitiated the proceedings not withstanding that the parties had obsented to it .

Reg v D a Dyal ri B m H C R 3 Se al o Q Fmp i Juin Jll W V 1802 p Co O I np Vis an Babaj I I R at Bon 493 (501) Q Fmg t Raghu I L R 23 Bom 2 I

R 23 Donn 2 Den Ruks: 1 Emp I L R 6 Cal 96 (sc ) 6 Cal L R 5 T 9 (t B shornth Fal t W R Cr 3 Mtorney General of N S Males # Bertra u, 161 J 5: Procy Cox and Creek K Imj t Sal harron Pan Israng I L R *6 Bom 50 361 J 51 Frey Comment of the Comment of the Comment of Salbba (2) Emp I I R o Mad 83 (2) Emp I L R o Mad 83 (4) Emp I L R o Mad 83 (5) Emp I L R o Mad 83 (6) Emp I L R o Mad 83 (6) Mar Crova I L R o Mad 3 (6)

Imp : B sheshar Bhattacharya I I R 3 M 635 In te Karusappa I I R 47 Bom 89

<sup>105</sup>

On account of any error, omission or irregularity

(1) In the complaint

S 529 (e) declares that il any Magistrate not empowered by law erroneoush in good faith takes cognizance of an offence upon a complaint, that is, if he is not empowered under S 190 to proceed under S 200 upon a compluint, his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being so empowered

A complaint of an offence under S 124A, Penal Code, is not defective because it did not set out the speeches or alleged seditions words which were the subject of the charge Even if such omission is a defect it is cured by S 537 unless it has occasioned a failure of justice 1

(u) In the summons or warrant

An omission in a summons in a case of requiring security to keep the Feater and security for good behaviour, to state the amount and nature of the security required will not affect the validity of the proceedings or order passed $

The omission to record reasons for issuing a warrant instead of a summers under S go is an irregularity not covered by S 537 *

Where a Magistrate signed the endorsement on a bailable warrant directing the accused to be liberated if he furnished bail but only initialed that part of the warrant which directed arrest he was guilty of gross carelessness, but the omission was not an illegality which vitiated the arrest . Though it is intended that a warrant should be obtained for the search of a house for exciseable articles under United Provinces Act IV of 1910, a conviction is not rendered invalid by the absence of a search warrant 5

Where a Magistrate issued a summors and, on the accused appearing and submitting that the summons disclosed no offence issued a fresh simmons without any fresh or supplemental information the irregulanty, if any was covered by 5. 537 °

(m) In the charge

Ss 225 232, 535 are important

No error in stating either the offence or the particulars required to be stated in the charge and no omission to state the offence or those particulars, shall be regarded at any stage of the case as material, unless the accused was misled by such error of omission -S 225

If any Appellate Court or the High Court, in the exercise of its rowers of revert or of its powers under Chapter ANVII, is of opinion that any person convicted of an offence was inisled in his defence by the absence of a charge or by an error in the charge, it shall direct a new trial to be held upon a charge framed in whiteser manner it thinks fit

If the Court is of opinion that the facts of the case are such that no valid clarge could be preferred against the accused in respect of the ficts proved, it shall quash the conviction

Illustration - 1 is convicted of an offence, under S 196 of the Indian Penal Code upon a charge which omits to state that he knew the evidence, which he corruptly used or attempted to use as true or granine, was lalse or fabricated. If the Court thinks it probable that A hal such knowledge and that he was missed in his delence

<sup>1</sup> Chidambaram Pilat i I'mp I L IR 32 Wid 3 1 Abasu Begum i Umda I L R 8 Cal 724 But see Contra Q, 1 Ganga Singh 20

it Cr. 30
R Fixtullin Ambilam I I R 38 Mid 1088

A Dankey Behrry Smight K I mp 3 Pat I J 493

Lung t Mid 13 id Khan I L R, 15 Ml 358, Emp t Ahmal Ali Khan

D 24 Au

<sup>1 1</sup> R 46 All 16 · Inp : Jecvanji I L R 31 Bom 611

by the one soon from the charge of the statement that he had it, it shall direct a n w trial upon an amended charge; but if it apprais probable from the proceedings that I had no such knowledge, it shall quash the conviction -S 232

No finding o seatence pronounced or passed shall be deemed invalid merely on the ground that no charge was framed unices, in the opinion of the Court of Appeal or Revision, a failure of justice has been occasioned thereby

If the Court of Appeal or Revision thinks that a failure of instice has been occasioned by an omission to frame a charge, it shall order that a charge shall be framed, and that the trial be recommenced from the point immediately after the framing of the charge -- S 533

So 535 and 537 (a) do not apply to a case where the accused is charged with one offence and is convicted of an entirely different offence To convict an accused person of murder where he is only charged with moting or to commit him without framing a charge would be not merely an irregularity but an error of law vitiating the trial "1

Where the Magistrate omitted to frame a charge, but nevertheless tried and acquitted the accused in a warrant case it was held that it was a valid acquittal and until set aside, it was a bar to further proceedings 1

Whether an error, omission or irregularity in a charge las in fact occasioned a failure of justice will in many cases appear from the examination of the accised as recorded and his defence, and it will be for a Court of Appeal or Revision to consider whether an objection on this account would or should have been made before the Court holding the trial (See Explu) The law requires that a charge shall be read and explained to the accused when he is called upon to plead to it (Ss 255, 271), and it has been held that when a charge has not been so explained he has not been properly tried * This is especially necessary when the accused has been convicted on his plas of guilty to a charge, and it is sought to implicate him for acts not committed by himself, but by others with whom he was in commany !

The omission to read out and explain to the accused a fresh charge added at the trial is an irregularity which, unless it has prejudiced the accused, does not affect the result of the trial The accused being defended and his Counsel having been asked if he wished for a new trial and declining one it was held that there had been no failure of justice 6

And where the Magistrate had given the accused clearly to understand the nature of the charges against him it was held that the omission to draw a formal charge did not occasion a failure of justice such as to call for the interference of the High Court 1

A misjoinder of charges contractor and all a hand all he all and and an ar the Indicial Committee of the Pri

and not an error or irregularity wi this has since been applied to a charges of distinct offernes not committed in the same transaction?

Where a misjoinder of charges is likely to embarrass the accused in their defence

```
1 Sita Ahirt Lmp I L R 40 Cal 168
1 Inte Joija Pashan 3 Cal L R 131
```

Cal, 3%5 (5 c) 6 Cal W A 468 Shyambox

Reg : Gobindas Haridas 6 Rom H C R 76
Inte Gopal Dhanuk I L R 7 Cal 96 (sc ) 8 Cal L R 4/1, hijavut Q Emp

<sup>11</sup> Cal 106 LR 8 Bo 200 Lmp : Gurdu l L R 3 All 1.9 R 28 I A 257 (5 C) I L R 25 Mad, 61

-

CHAP NLV SEC 537

by having to meet many disconnected charges or the prospect of a fair trial is likely to be endangered by the production of a mass of evidence directed to many matters and tending by its mere accumulation to induce an undue suspicion against the accused the propriety of combining the charges may well be questioned.

as as nd

(11) In the proclamation

An enussion to comply with S 87 (b) in respect to the proclamation being under for the sale of the property notwithstanding S 537. It was held that the proclamation had not been legally made and that the Vagistrate was not competent to dispense with one of the necessary formalities for making it.

But if the property has been sold the High Court in Revision cannot pass an order affecting the title of purchasers who were no parties to the proceedings. The parties raust look elsewhere for their legal remedies?

(v) In the judgment

nner judgment should be pronounced and subsection shall be construed to lung in any way $5.337 See notes to $5.366 and 367 for cases in Courts have been declared to be contrary to law so as to require a reheating of the appeals S 263 (h) provides that in a summary that where on pipeal lies the Magnitrite or Bench of Magnitrates that in a summary to constitute record a brief statement of the reasons therefor and in the same manner in all cases in which a Presidency Magnitrate inflies imprisonment of the reasons for the convention. There reasons should be so recorded as to satisfy the High Court on Revision that there were sufficient materials to support the conviction. Where it is not shown that there is evidence on which the conviction was proper it was set aside. It is impossible in such a case to 33) what the result of the error on the part of the Magnitrate may have been or that it has not occasioned a fuller of justice.

with tion udge had clearly in view the only point for determination it. The credibility of the evidence of the witnesses for the prosecution, and had expressed limited on that point 1 et had sufficiently complete with S 367 in stitling that the Magistrate was quite appeal or otherwise submitted for determination?

Where a judgment is defective and the findings are insufficient to establish the charge the High Court in revision will consider the case on its ments.

Where the Magistrate passed sentence before he had completed his judgment, and therefore before he delivered judgment in accordance with S 366 but the Sessions Judge properly heard the appeal without objection taken on this ground, the High Court refused to interfere as a Court of Revision. But where on a trial, the final order, whether of conniction or acquittal, is passed before the judgment is written, pronounced in the presence of the accused and signed, the proceedings are contrary to law and bad, and they cannot be cured by $5.37. A new trial becomes necessary. But a contrary view was taken by the Calcutta High Court. And also where the Sessions Judge at the end of the trial wrote a document headed 'judgment containing the opinions of the assessors and his own finding agreeing with them, that the accused were not guilt, and then acquitted the accused and then at a later date wrote a detailed judgment the irregulantly in procedure was covered by $5.37. But this was an application by a private person in revision against an order of acquittal and the High Court would probably not have inter-greed in any case

Where the charge did not state nor the judgments of the Vagistrate or of the Sessions Judge on appeal expressly find what was the common object of the members of the unlawful assembly by whom noting was committed the High Court or revision refused to interfere on the ground that evidence proved the common object?

If the evidence on the record be sufficient for a conviction, the High Court will not as a Court of Revision set it aside merely on the ground that the view taken of the evidence is not sustainable or that some fact which ought to have been found is not found or has been incorrectly found.

(vi) In other proceedings

When, on a trail of char<sub>o</sub>es some of which were trable by jury and one with the aid of assessors the Sessions Judge took the opinions of only some of the jurors as assessors it was held that this was not an omission of irregularity to which S 537 applies

The sentence on that charge was accordingly set aside?

The omission to evanuae the complainant before issue of process for the attendance of the accused is an irregularity which cannot prejudice the "accused." Nor can it prejudice the complainant whose complaint has been dismissed when his petition of complaint does not disclose the commission of an offence.

So also an omission on the part of a Vigistrate to record his reasons for distrusting a complaint and postponing issue of process after having examined the complainant is an irregulanty not similicent to set aside his order after an investigation dismissing the complaint infless it can be shown to have occasioned a failure of justice. It is an illegabity including subsequent proceedings so did or a Magistrate on receiving a complaint to call upon the person accused for a report as to the truth or falsity of the charge, against firm?

Damu Schapatir, Sidhar I L R. 21 Cal. 121 per Pertsate and O Artestas.). J T Programme and Control of the contr

Where the Magistrate who had not been authorised under S 3-7 to take down the evidence in English recorded in English the memorandum of the substance of the evidence which he was required to make under S 355 the error did not occasion a fadure of justice 'so where without any objection the deposition of a medical officer taken before the Magistrate was received in evidence at the Sessions Court and it did not appear on the record that it had been taken in the presence of the accused and the medical officer appeared at the Sessions Lourt and was cross examined by the accused the deposition before the Magistrate was received because if objection had been taken it might have been shown that the accused were present when that evidence was given ?

An irregularity in recording a confession or examination of the accused under S. 164 or S 364 has been specially provided for by S 533

questions to the accused at any stage for the Court examined and before he is caled on for his

I that this requires the accured a statement to be recorded after all the projectation witnesses have been examined in chief cross examined and re examined and there has been considerable discussion as to whether an omission to do this is an illegality or a mere irregularity covered by S 537 I or a full reference to this point the note to S 342 should be seen The Madras High Court has held that in a warrant case where once the accused has been examined it is not obligatory on the Court to question him again after the cross examination and re examination of the prosecution natnesses recalled under S 256 at the instance of the accused . This indicates that in the opinion of the Court there was not only no illegality but no irregulanty even requiring to be cured by S 537 The Allahabad High Court (per Stuart J) held that the proceedings were not vitiated and $ 537 was applicable when after the statements of the accused had been recorded one prosecution witness was examined whose evidence added nothing material to the case for the prosecution . The Calcutta 11 ml Ca et 12 1 11 prejudiced. The Lahore High Court to a land at and the treused has not been direction to question the a examination when he list be the cross examination of the tion failure to comply in such a case is cured by 5 537 unless there has been a fulure of justice? The Patria High Court set aside connections and remanded the case for re-hearing from the stage where the trial became illegal when the accused had been questioned only after the prosecution witnesses had been examined but before their cross examination and re examination. See also note to S 312

<sup>1</sup> Q. Ling 1. Corold Godind in I. R. 19 And 269 1 Into Jinbboo Mahton J. R. 8 C21 - pp. (8C) 25 Cil. I. R. 233 1 Vrigal Routhers. I. Imp. 1 L. R. 46 And (4) over ruling. In se Varida Mathin

Vanntin I I R 45 Mad 8 o Imp i Beclu Chaube I I. R 45 Ml 124

Mazahar Mai Imp II R 50 Cal 23 Mazahar Mai Imp II R 50 Cal 23 Bino le liklari Nathr Imp II R 50 Cal 285 I Ian 6 coun II R 4 Lah 63 Mitr ju Singha K Imp 6 I at L J 644

The refusal of a Magistrate to summon a witness cited for the defence without recording his reasons for the same was held to be a good ground for setting aside the conviction and directing proceedings to be re opened and the evidence of that witness to be taken 1 And a refusal not based on any ground mentioned in S 257 is an illegality which cannot be cured by S 537, and which involves the setting aside of the consiction 1

Where after a conditional pardon had been withdrawn at the trial, the witness was forthwith tried with those against whom he had been a witness and convicted, a new trial was ordered on the ground that he was not properly tried before the Sessions Court on a commitment made to it after an inquiry held by a Magistrate 3

Where instead of choosing the jurors by Jot, (S 276) the Sessions Judge selected them he committed an irregularity but it did not prejudice the accused the report does not show that objection was taken until the appear)

But in another case it was held that if the rules for summoning jurors and selecting them by lot (ss 276, 326) are not observed, the jury is not properly empanelled so as to constitute a competent Court, and this is not therefore within 5 237 Where an accused had not been called upon at the close of the prosecution to make his defence but had been asked what he wished to say, a new trial was ordered as it was difficult to say that the omission had not occasioned a failure of iustice 4

Where the Magistrate before whom a contempt was committed did not then and there take proceedings under s 480 of the Code but delayed until the following day it was held to be an irregularity which was cured by S 537 ?

Where there are two cases of riot on counter charges, the evidence in one case was partly heard and the trial was suspended with the consent of the parties, until the evidence on the second trial before the same jury was completed, it was held to be irregular which the consent of the parties did not legalize. A fresh trial was acco dingly ordered *

But where there were two cases of not against contending parties, and after the first trial was held and concluded the second trial was held with the aid of the same assessors the arguments were then heard, and the assessors were invited to give their opinions on both cases at one time, it was held on appeal that this was irregular, but not to be sufficient to vitiate the convictions, for it must not be presumed that the evidence was so affected by the circumstances under which the witnesses gave it that the weight to be given to such evidence. The case last cited was distinguished, masmuch as in that case the trial was held by jury whose verdict was final on the facts whereas in this ease which was tried with the aid of assessors. the entire case including the grounds for the conviction was before the Appellate Court, and the question whether prejudice has been caused to the prisoner can be determined

The exclusion of the occupants of a place during its search is not a technical but a substantial vitition of the law is 103 (3) the effect of which is to

A 11

6 Cal L L, 571 See also Zunwar

<sup>1</sup> In re Sat Narain Singh 1 L R 3 All 392 2 Narayana Mindaly v Fmp 1 L R 31 Mad 131 See also Emp 1 Purushottam, 1 L R 26 Eom 418

<sup>1 12</sup> Cal L R 233

require a very careful scruting of the evidence of the search, and if the Court finds that no advantage has been or could be talen of such an irregularity it can have no effect.

If it is irregular for a Court acti Magistrate for inquiry and report a Magistrate acting under S 133 sent the case with the consent of and report and made the final order on receipt of the report, there was an illegality which vitated the proceedings.

To these cases it may be added that an omission to take an oath or take an affirmation or a substitution of one for the other or an irregularity in the form of an oath or affirmation as administered will not invalidate any proceeding or render inadmissible any evidence whatever in or in respect of which such has taken place or affect the obligation of a witness to tell the truth-Act X of 1873, S 13 opinions of the High Courts have differed in interpreting the effect of this lim In the Calcutta High Court it has been held by a Full Bench that such an omission includes any omission and is not limited to accidental or negligent omissions In the Madris High Court the same opinion has been expressed, and in another case, PARKLE J a opted this view of the law, 1 at Collins, ( J, hell that S 13 refers only to acts of omission and not to acts of commission, such as an intentional breach of the law in not examining a witness on oath or affirmation . The Bombas High Court has considered this matter JARDINE J followed the opinion of the Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court but Parsons I considered it unnecessar) to deal with it as the other evidence was sufficient for the conviction of the necused In the Allahabad High Court MAHMOOD, I disapproved of that case, but he nevertheless dismissed the appeal because the other cyidence proved the offence charged In another case STRAIGHT and TARRELL JJ refused to accept as evidence the statement of a witness not under an oath or affirmation and sent for and examined the child witness

Evidence Act 1872 S 167

Proceedings taken under S 476

Before the omission of clause (b) 'any irregularity in proceedings taken under S 476 was covered by S 537 As S 476 merely provides for an inquiry and the making of a complaint the retention of clause (b) was innecessary since an irregularity at these watters as covered by clause (a) The omission of clause (b) has rendered numerous cases obsolete.

A petition impugning the police report is a complaint and there is no statutory provision requiring such petition to be finally disposed of before action betaken under S 476. It is a matter of discretion and the High Court will not having regard to S 537 interfere with a conviction if the accused has not been prejudiced. 9 prejudiced -

3

Cal 350 553

"r Couch C J, and three Judges JACKSO"

(1) On account of any misdirection in any charge to a jury

(1) On account of any misorrection in any charge to a jury

See note to S q ante for several cases of misdirection in the charges to tunes by Sessions Judges

As a Court of Revision a High Court is empowered by S. 439 to exercise the power of an appellate Court under S. 423 sub-section (a) of which declares that nothing therein contained shall authorise the Court to alter or reverse the vertice of a jury unless it is of opinion that such verdict is errinceous owing to a misdirection by the judge or to a misunderstanding on the part of the jury of the law as laid down by him.

The remarks of Pracock C J are important on this subject - to the

lge and assessors It appears to me that the question to be considered is not whether upon a proper summing up of the whole evidence a jury might possibly have come to a different

a different ver

statement of t

that evidence and the weight which attaches to the several parts of it as a sound judical discretion would suggest. If every defect we ret to be regarded as ground for setting aside a verdict of guilty, it is clear that the door of escape would be opened wide to or mains?

Misdirection includes non direction such as an omission to explain to the jury the law relating to the charges. Where the charges were of a complex costacter an omission to explain the distinction between them was held to have occasioned a failure of justice and a new trial was ordered. The verdict was found to be unintellingible as the jury convicted of dacotty and acquitted of theft in the same house.

e as the jury convicted of dacoity and acquitted of theft in the same house

It would appear to be a good ground for a new trial that a direction has been left so bare as to require an explanation to prevent its being misunderstood. But new that It is dangerous to pick out particular expressions from a Judge's summing up and to criticate them separately when he is substantially right in the direction he gives to the pirts.

The law on the subject has been explained by the Privy Council in regard to the practice of the Privy Council in dealing with objections as to musdirection otherwise substantial and gross injustice has been done (These words seem to reproduce the terms of S 537 'lias in fact occasioned a failure of justice"). Then Lordships refused to interpret these words as meaning "whenever there has been misdirection in a criminal case leaving it uncertain whether the misdirection and or did not affect the Jury's mind, "and they declared " at al with the Courts of Celementary right of week sich misdirection li s in fact occasioned munic of justice )

Sm ther I L R 20 Mad 1 35 (96) Cr Cases per Sargent J

:

law or within the p. of metice -- "

There are also reported cases in which statements not inadmissible in evidence have been placed before a jury for consideration in arriving at a verdict

The improper admission of evidence is not sufficient ground for a new trial if there is legal evidence on the same point -- I the madmissible evidence would have however, it was found that there had had no effe t 1) together with S 423 (2), it was held in the latter, the result of the mis-. vio but that a 1 am -

tive by prevent of the la such me

711

But in other cases, it was held that, under S 423 (2) and S 537 (d), before a verdict of a jury can be set aside on the ground of inisdirection, the High Court

- on of the misdirec facts and find for In another case ald that, although can be altered or

Cal

powers of the Co ---the manners pro

The Bombay mentioned in S wanty order a new final t of the High Court has also refused to follow that one 4 evidence in a for 11 Court, 3 record оп арре

.. quasu tue verdict and order a new trial ! under S In regard to the course to be taken when the Sessions Judge has admitted and placed before the jury evidence which is not admissible on the trial, the reported cases are not altogether concurrent Wafadar Khan's case, in which it was held that the High Court has no power to review the facts, which as already shown has been disapproved in some more recent cases, proceeds mainly on the fact that an

<sup>1</sup> See Marı Nalyar, I L R , 30 Mad ... - ...
2 Channing Arnold 18 Cal W N

Wfadar Khan I L R . 21 Cal

Ali Fakiri Q Emp, I L R, 25 Cal, 230
 Taju Pramaniki Q Emp, I I R, 25 Cal f711
 Wafadar Khani Q Emp I L R, 22 Cal 955
 Q Emp I Ram Chandra Govind Harshe, I L R, 19 Bom, 719

- of law but that apparently powers It does not hmit another case 1 where the respect of the order to be

was not competent to substitute for an erroneous verdict, the verdict of the Court founded mainly upon a perusal of the evidence But that case was not an Indian case nor did their Lordships of the Privy Council or the Judges of the High Court in following that case take into consideration S 167 of the Indian Evidence Act

> t might S 167 would

It is therefore seem that the section would be applicable to the case under trial doubtful whether that case is any authority on the point under discussion

With the exception of the cases mentioned it has been the practice that when a verdict of a jury has been declared to be erroneous and bad in consequence of evidence not relevant or admissible being placed before it the High Court should consider the other evidence on the record and on that determine on the ments of the case what order should be passed A Full Bench of the Calinta High Court in 1866 held that where the verdict of a jury was bad for misdirection it ought question reserved under S 434 of the Code by the Judge who held the trial *

No attachment made under this Code shall be deemed unlawful, nor shall any person making the Distress not illegal same be deemed a trespasser, on account of nor distrainer a tres any defect or want of form in the summons, passer for defect or want of form in pro writ of attachment or other proceedings ceedings relating thereto 1 Faju Praman k t Q 1 nj I L R 25 Cal 711 2 Makin 1 Attorney General for N S Wales L R (1894) A C 75 2 Q Emp t Ramel andra Govind Harshe I L R 19 Bom 749

Subrahmama Ayyar : K Emp L R 28 I A 257 (SC) I L R 25 Mad 61

(sc) 5 Cal W N 866 Llahee Bukesh 5 C W R Cr 80 (sc) B L R Sup vol 459 See also R v Shack Taleb to Cal L J 13

Reg v Fattichani Vastacland 5 Bom H C R Cr Ca 85

Reg t Rumswamt Mudhar 6 Bom H C R 47 See also Reg t Amrita Govinda 10 Bom II C R 497

* Imp : Pitamber Jina I L R *Bom 61 See also Q Emp : OHara I L R 17 Cal 642 Subtuman a Vyyar: K Emp I L II 25 Iad 61 (74) ($C.) 5 Cal W S 176($C.) R 281 V 257 Q : Hurribole Chunder Chose I L R : Cal 207 (52) 86 W R Cr 3

Q Lmi i Appa Sublana Mendre I L R 8 Born ... 00

In S 538 the word attachment has been substituted for distress by Act No AVIII of 1923 S 149. The same amendment has been made elsewhere in the Code. An attachment is made of moverable property inder S 386 for the levy of a fine and the provisions of the Code in relation to the issue and execution of warrants for the levy of fines apply to all fines imposed by any Act, Regulation rule or bye law unless otherwise expressly provided—(General Clauses Act, No 1897 S 25). Any money other than a fine psyable by virtue of any order made under this Code shall be recoverable as if it were a fine [S 547 post]. This would include an order for the payment of costs for carrying out an order under Chapter XII. (public nuisinces) (S 140) or an order for costs in a case inder Chapter XII.

lie transfer of a a comp amant or an order or payment to the complying at the fees paid by him on conviction of the accused —Court I ee i Act (VII of 1870) S 3t, cl is or an order for maintenance [3 483], or a fine imposed on an absent juror or assessor (S 33.) or a fine summanly ordered for contempt of Court (S 480). There are also several local or special Acts which provide that penalties under them shall be realised as fines under the Code.

2

Under 5 88 a Court may attach any property moveable or immoveable, belonging to a person who is found to have absconded or concealed himself so as to prevent execution of a warrant for his arrest and does not appear within the time specified in a proclamation duly published. It was doubtful whether an attachment so made would be a distress within S 538, but the recent amendment makes the matter clear.

CHAPTER XLVI

MISCELL INEOUS

Courts and persons before whom affidavits and affirmations to be used before any before whom affidavits and affirmed before such Court may be sworn and affirmed before such Court for the Clerk of the Crown, or any Commissioner or other person appointed by such Court for that purpose, or any Judge, or any Commissioner for taking affidavits in any Court of Record in British India, or any Commissioner to administer oaths in England or Ireland, or any Magistrate authorised to take affidavits or affirmations in Scotland.

of a other

other.

the High Court and even under S 74 an affidavit is admissible before a Magistrate only under special circumstances. The law evidently contemplates that, in cases before other Courts such evidence shall be given personally by evamination as a witness in the case.

An affidavit or declaration in writing when made for the initiodiate purpose of being filed or used in any Court or before the officer of any Court is exempt from stump duty—Indian Stamp  $\Delta ct$  If of 1899 Sch I,  $\Delta rt$  4

But in all Criminal Courts a fee of one Rupee shall be levied for administering the oath to the declarant in the case of an affidant except—

- (i) affidavits made by process servers regarding the manner of service of
- (ii) affidavits made by a public officer in virtue of his office

The fee shall be paid by means of a Court fee stamp of not less than the value of the above amount and will thereupon be credited to Government and entered in the daily register of Court fees realised

Similar orders have been issued by the High Court and by the Government of Bombas  ${\bf P}$

An application to a High Court under S 526 for the transfer or withdrawal of a criminal case or appeal must be supported by an affidivit or affirmation except when mide by the 'Mocate General (S 526 (4)) but the High Court may act on the report of the lower Court or on its own initiative—(Sub section 3)

An affidant cannot be used as affording materials for reviewing a Magistrate s decision. Where the charge is such that if true it would give the Magistrate jurisdiction his decision is final.

539A (I) When any application is made to any Court in Affidant in proof of the course of any inquiry, trial or other conduct of public serproceeding under this Code, and allegations are made therein respecting any public servant, the application by affidavit, and the Court may, if it thinks fit, order that evidence relating to such facts be so given

An affidavit to be used before any Court other than a High Court under this section may be sworn or affirmed in the manner prescribed in section 539, or before any Magistrate

Affidavits under this section shall be confined to, and shall state separately, such facts as the deponent is able to prove from his own knowledge and such facts as he has reasonable grounds to believe to be true, and in the latter case, the deponent shall clearly state the grounds of such belief

- (2) The Court may order any scandalous and mrelevant matter man affidavit to be struck out or amended
- S 539A is new having been inserted by Act No VVIII of 1923 S 150. In the Bill as introduced there was a provision that no accused person should be compelled to make an affidavit. This was struck out by the Joint Committee on the Bill, mainly on the ground that it would be inconsistent with S 526 (4) which requires that every application for Viransfer under that section except when made by the Advocate General shall be supported by affidavit or affirmation. The Under sub-section (2) the Court may order may scandalous and irrelevant matter in an affidavit to be struck out or amended. It is to be observed that the matter must be both scandalous and irrelevant

In some reported cases it has been considered whether in view of S 342 (4) an accused whether a pro ment contained secution for u seems to be in the affid that 5 342 (4) refers only to the examination of the accused under that section! This view is supported by 5 526 (4) and is strongly confirmed by 5 539A though a different view has been taken ! (1) Any Judge or Magistrate may, at any stage of any 539B inquiry, trial or other proceeding, after due Local inspection notice to the parties, visit and inspect any place in which an offence is alleged to have been committed, or any other place which it is in his opinion necessary to view for the purpose of Properly appreciating the evidence given at such inquiry or trad and shall without unnecessary delay record a memorandium of any

(2) Such memorandum shall form part of the record of the ease If the Public Prosecutor, complainant or accused so desires, a copy of the memorandum shall be furnished to him free of cost

Provided that, in the case of a trial by jury or with the aid of assessors, the Judge shall not act under this section unless such jury or assessors are also allowed a vew under section 293

S 539 B is also new The powers of a Court in regard to making a local inspection have been the subject of comment in many reported cases which are in the note to $ 344 If reference is made to that note it will be seen that $ 537 B as now enacted for the most

the matter The essential por can be made at any stage for that notice must be give facts observed must be entitled to obtain free c relevant irties are he Judge desire to make a local inspection be must allow a view also to the juriers or assessool

Though the law expressly recognises the Magistrate's right to make a loca inspection and lays down also in $ 556 that he shall not be deemed to be personally interested by reason only that he has viewed the place in which an ffence is alleged offence is alleged . .

restrictions under not confine his in evidence did not into his judgment matters of opinion and inference not based on the record he committed an error of judgment which might have materially prejudiced the accused and the conviction was bad in law . For other cases on this point under the old law see note to S 556 relevant facts observed at such inspection

i See Ghulam Muhammad i Crown I L R 3 Lah 46 Emp Bindeshri Singh I I R -8 All 331

Babbon Sheik r Emp I L R 37 Cal 340

540 Any Court may, at any stage of any inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Code, summon any

Power to summon material witness or Derson examine present person as a witness, or examine any person in attendance, though not summoned as a witness or recall and re examine any person already examined, and the Court shall summon and examine or recall and re examine any such person if his evidence appears to it essential to the just decision of the case S are enables a Magistrate after a commitment and before the commencement of a trial to summon and examine supplementary witnesses and to bind them over to appear and give evidence at the trial The parties are entitled to cross examine and cannot be restricted in their cross evanuation to the point on which the Court has examined 1 As a general rule witnesses when summoned by order of a Court are entitled to be paid their costs eundo redeun lo et mora ido " A Court is bound to summon and examine any witness whose evidence may appear to be essential to a just and proper decision of the case and although an accused person in a sessions trial may through his neglect have lost his right to demand that a witness whom he had not named before should be summoned and the trial adjourned for that purpose still if he satisfies the Judge that such evidence is material and his application is not merely to delay the trial the Judge should take the necessary steps to procure his attendance A Court is not competent to examine an appellant as a witness for the Code does not authorise the examination of an accused as a witness. An appeal is the re is provision to the contrary cannot be examined as to the giving false evidence in respect proceedings are instituted under or Chapter XXXVI or under S

A Magistrate does not wisely exercise the discretion which S 540 confers on him if without good reason he allows witnesses on the part of the prosecution to be interposed in the midst of the case of the accused. But it is entirely within the discretion of a Magistrate to admit evidence on either side at any stage of the trial when he may think it necessary to do so for the purposes of justice

A Magistrate is competent to call for and examine a witness even after the evidence on both sides has been taken and the case has been adjourned for judg ment ' But if he does so he should give the recused an opportunity of rebutting the evidence so given

S 540 does not however authorise a Sessions Judge to examine the witnesses for the defence before the case for the prosecution is closed *

There is not ling to prevent a Magistrate from examining as a witness for the prosecution a person who has been suspected and arrested for the offence under trial and who I as been discharged. So also a person apprehended by the Police and brought before the Magistrate together with the accused is a competent winess provided that at the time he was examined, he was not charged with the accused and placed upon his trail.

Court as a Court c

So also a Sessions Judge has an inherent power to summon a witness for the defence though he most beautiful and the least the Hahle of Hall of the Hahle of the H

Where there was no evidence regarding the nature of the injuries which formed the Subject of the offence under trial the Sessions Judge was bound under 5 540 to summon the indical officer as a witness.

Where a police officer was called and examined as a witness by the Sessons light the accused is entitled to cross examine him. The fact that he had attended as a witness for the defence and was not examined by the accused is no sufficient reason to refuse cross examination when he was afterwards examined by the Sessions Ludge.

The Public Prosecutor cannot demand as of right that a witness not examined in the Magnetrate should be called and examined. It is within the discretion of the Court. Acr is the Public Prosecutor bound to examine any witness merel because he was examined before the Magnetrate if he is of opinion that no reliance can be placed on such testimon; and the Court is not bound to examine such a witness. You is the Judge bound on the application of counsel for the defent to examine a witness examined before the Magnetrate during the inquiry except in a matter necessitating inquiry or where there is a matter to be cleared up if the witness is one upon whose testimon) he could place no confidence.

The Judge (and this term apparently includes a Magistrate) may in order to discover or obtain proof of relevant facts ask any question he pleases in any form at any time of any witness or of the parties, about any fact re evant or irrelevant asked with a view to criminal proceedings being taken against the witness he is not legally bound to ansiver. The prosecution and defence are entitled to cross examine a witness summoned and examined by a Court and the accused does not lose this right because he may have asked for his attendance and afterwards have withdrawn that application.

On the examination in cline! being finished the Sessions Judge questioned almost all the witnesses at considerable length upon the very points to which he must have known that the cross examination would certainly and properly be directed. The result of this was to render the cross examination of the pleader to a great extent intellective by assisting the witnesses to explain away in anticipation the points which may have afforded proper ground for useful cross examination. It is not the province of a Court to examine the witnesses in legalests on

```
Reg : Narayan Sundar 5 Bom H C R Cr Cr 1
In re Raya of Nantit I L R 8 All 665
Ram Sarup Rau : Emp 6 Cal W N 98
```

either side have omitted to put some material question, and the Court should as a rule leave the winesses to be dealt with by the pleaders as laid down in S 138 of the Evidence Act 1.

540.1. (1) At any stage of an inquiry or trial under this Code, provision for inquiries and trial being held in the absence of accused in certain cases of the Judge or Vagistrate is sytisfied, for reasons to be recorded, that any one or more of such accused is or are incapable of remaining before the Court, he may, if such accused is represented by a pleader, dispense with his attendance and proceed with such inquiry or trial in his absence, and may, at any subsequent stage of the proceedings, direct the personal attendance of such accused

- (2) If the accused in any such case is not represented by a pleader, or if the Judge or Magistrate considers his personal attendance necessary, he may, if he thinks fit, and for reasons to he recorded by him, either adjourn such inquiry or tital, or order that the case of such accused be taken up or tried separately
- S 510A was inserted by Act No VIII of 1973 S 157 It is entirely new Hitherto the only power to dispense uith the personal attendance of the accused was continued in S 70. When the Magnetire issues a summons he may if he sees reason so to do dispense with the personal attendance of the accused and permit him to appear by his plender. This applies when a warrant would ordinantly be issued in the first instance if the Migistrate in the exercise of his distribution of the accused and control under $204 [1] issues a summons. But in impressions case a warrant would almost inevitably moved the summon summon summon summon summon summon sees of several accused was for the summon su

Court and by reason of illness or other cause his removal becomes necessary But it is unlikely that this narrow interpretation nould be put on the words and the section is clearly intended to cover the ease where on the day fixed for hearing one of the accused does not ippear. If the accused is in custody ordinarily a letter from the Superintendent of the pinson would satisfy the Court of the accused as inability to appear. It would have been more stuty-story if instead of the word remaining the words appearing or remaining lind been employed for the use of the single word at let it indicates that the accused must have been before the Court at some time and sub-section (i) could not it would seem be employed when one of the accused was taken if after commutanent and before the case came before the Sessions Court. In such a case the Court would have to adjourn or separate the that limit the second place before the Court and subspense with the second place before the Court and subspense with that is to say the accused a pleader must be present at every hearing at which the accused a personal attendance is dispensed with the Court may at any stage require the accused to appear in person —: 18 - 50.5 the court may at any stage require the accused to appear in person —: 18 - 50.5 the court may at any stage require the accused to appear in person —: 18 - 50.5 the court may at any stage.

If the accused is not represented by a plender the pre existing law and practice will be followed that is the Court will adjourn the case until the accused is capable of appearing in person or direct that the case of thit particular accused person be taken up separately and proceed with the case against the rest. Similarly even if the accused is represented by a pleader but the Court thinks that the cas is such that his personal attendance is necessary, it will adopt the same procedure that is either adjoint or separate the cases. An obvious case in which this might arise is a case where evidence of identification of the particular accused person is necessary for the purpose of establishing the charge against him or the plea for the defence. In such a case most of the evidence might be taken in the absence of the accused and the hearing then be adjointed until the accused was fit to appear. There must be an incapacity to attend on the part of the accused who would be a physical incapacity. Powers under this section would not be exercise able merely because the Court was of opinion that the accused not be required to attend

Noor Bux halts Imp I L R 6Cal 9 (sc) - Cal 1 R 185

541 (1) Unless when otherwise provided by any law for the time being in force, the Local Government may direct in what place any person liable to be imprisoned or committed to custody under this

Removal to criminal jail of accused or con victed persons who are in confinement in civil jail and their return to the civil jail

Code shall be confined

(2) If any person hable to be imprisoned or committed to custody under this Code is in coafinement in a civil juil, the Court or Magistrate ordering the imprisonment or committal maj direct that the person be removed to a criminal full.

(3) When a person is removed to a criminal jail under subsection (2), he shall, on being released therefrom, he sent back to the civil jail, unless either—

(a) three years have elapsed since he was removed to the enimual juli, in which case he shall be deemed to have been discharged from the civil juli under section 342 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or

(b) the Court which ordered his imprisonment in the civil jail has certified to the officer in charge of the crim nal jail that he is entitled to be discharged under section 341 of the Code of Civil Procedure

Under S 383 places are appointed for transportation and for the confinement of European British subjects and under S 471 for the custod) of lunatics

The references to the Code of Civil Procedure are to Act No NIV of 1882 See now Act V of 1908 S 58 and the Proxincial Insolvency Act V of 1920 S 3

542 (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Prison Power of Presidency Magnation and Prison Power of Presidency Magnation of the prisoner of a destrous of examining as a witness or an accussed person, in any ease pending before him, any person confined in any jud within the local limits of his jurisdiction, may issue an order to the officer in charge of the said gail requiring him to bring such prisoner in proper custody, at a time to be therein named, to the Vagistrate for examination

(2) The officer so in charge, on receipt of such order, shall let in accordance therewith and shall provide for the safe custody of the prisoner during his absence from the jul for the purpose aforesaid.

The Prisoners Testimony Act \( \) of 1869 lits been repealed by the Prisoners Act of 1990 and it nould seem that S 542 has been practically repea ed by some of the provisions of the latter Act

Act IfI of 1900 S 37 lays down that-

Subject to the provisions of S 30 any Criminal Court may if it thinks that the evidence of any person confined in any prison within the local limits of its

the prison

Provided that if such Criminal Court is inferior to the Court of a Magistrate of the first class the order shall be submitted to and countersigned by the District Magistrate to whose Court such Criminal Court is subordinate or within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such Criminal Court is situated

S 30 of the same Act ena ts that-

(1) When a person is confined in a prison within a presidency town or in a first subor funds or

Judge or f he thinks ce in such that selled e directed to a collect an emarge of the prison

(2) The High Court making an order under sub-section (1) shall send it to the District or Suddi siminal Magistrate within the local limits of a hose jurisdiction the person named therein is confined or in the case of a person confined in a prison within a presidency town to tl

Commissioner shall cause it to I which the person is confined

45 46 provide for the issue of

on finement in a prison as a witness in a civil suit it does not provide for such procedure for the examination of such person in a criminal inquiry or trial and 5 503 of this case does not supply the omission.

543 When the services of an interpreter are required by any Criminal Court for the interpretation of any evidence or stritement he shall be bound to state trustificially the true interpretation of such explence or

statement

Whenever any evidence is given in a large and inderstood by the accused in the is present in person, it shall be interpreted to lum in open Court in language understood by him.

the

If he appears by pleader and the evidence is given in a language other than the language of the Court and not understood by the pleader at shall be interpreted to such pleader in that language.

When documents are put in for the purpose of formal proof it shall be in the discretion of the Court to interpret as much thereof as appears necessary —S 361

The Orths let ( of 18,3) 5 5 emets that -

On the or affirmations shall be administered to interpreters of questions put to and evidence given by witnesses but nothing therein contained shall render it law full to administer in a criminal proceeding an orthor affirmation to the accupation or necessars to administer to the official interpreter of any Court after the last entered on the duties of this office, an orthor affirmation that he will faithfully discharge those duties.

The following forms of oaths and aftermations have been prescribed by the several High Courts -

By the CALCUTTA HIGH COURT -

(Oath)

I swear that I will well and trolly interpret translate and explain all questions and answers and all such matters as the Court may require me to interpret translate and explain. So help me Cod

(1firmation)

I solemnly declare that I will well and truly interpret translate and explain all questions and answers and all such matters as the Court may require me to interpret translate or explain

By the MADRAS COURT? -

(Oath)

You shall make true interpretation of the questions put to and the evidence given by the witnesses before the Court according to the best of your skill and understanding. So help you God

(Iffination)

I solomnly affirm in the presence of Almighty God that I will truly interpret the questions put to and the endence given by the witnesses before the Court according to the best of my skill and understanding

By tle Allahabad High Court -

(Oath)

I shall well and truly interpret what is deposed by the witness (or witnesses) between our Sovereign Lady the Queen Empress and the prisoner at the bar So help me God

(1ffirmation)

I solemnly affirm that I shall well and truly interpret what is deposed by the witness (or witnesses) between our Sovereign Lady the Queen Limpress and the I misomer at the I ar prisoner at the lar

The law (S 364) requires that the examination of an accused person shall be recorded in language 1

interpreter is the language in which it should be recorded 4

the lange

<sup>2</sup> Cal H Cr Ruk Te 68

Mad R 1 &c No 117

Lmp t \_mbille I L R 5 Cd 8 6 Q Emj c Sagal Sajao I L R 21 Cal

Crimi -

mitness attending for the proceeding before a bit

The words which im a Connect to rules made u-4 c, of roro S 2 and Sel I I ence should be made to the 545 (1) Whereter = -

Court may when I as H 2 of the fine recovered to 1.

- (a) in defraying er.
  - (b) in the parmer.

    loss or injury.

    compensation

    able by such.
  - (c) when any per-off theft, trum 'trust, or the or retained, 'posing of the any bona fide of the yame if of the person to the pe
  - (2) If the fine is imposion of the appeal has the before the decision of the appeal has the before the decision of the appeal has the before the decision of the appeal has the appeal has sequence

nsertion
w of the ) yet it be open another
I to any
I Court
ceed on and the o longer

nnot be under indarytion of one ormed on to on of trate?

ingent i Act dras held nted any n on hild.

of any nnocent operty to ion of the It comes ichides theft of having dis ison T dis contra

l 35 1 Papi Bom If he appears by pleader, and the cyclence is given in a language other than the language of the Court, and not understood by the pleader, it shall be interpreted to such pleader in that language.

When documents are put in for the purpose of formal proof, it shall be in the discretion of the Court to interpret as much thereof as appears necessary.—S 361

The Oaths Act (A of 1873), 5 5, enacts that .-

Oaths or affirmations shall and evidence given by witnesses and evidence given by witnesses ful to administer, in a criminal person or necessary to administer to the official interpreter of any Court, after be has entered on the duties of his office, an oath or affirmation that he will faithfully discharge those duties.

The following forms of oaths and affirmations have been prescribed by the several High Courts -

By the Calcutta High Court (Outh)

I swear that I will well and truly interpret, translate and explain all questions and answers and all such matters as the Court may require me to interpret, translate and explain. So help me God

(Affirmation)

I solemnly declare that I will well and truly interpret, translate and explain an explain and all such matters as the Court may require me to interpret, translate or explain

By the Madras Court --

(Oath)

You shall make true interpretation of the questions put to and the evidence given by the witnesses before the Court according to the best of your skill and understanding. So help you God

(Affirmation)

I solemnly a" " God that I will truly interpret the witnesses before the Court according to the

By the Allamadan High Court -

(Oath )

I shall well and truly interpret what is deposed by the witness (or witnesses) between our Sovereign Lady the Queen-Empress and the prisoner at the bar So help me God.

(Affirmation)

I solemnly affirm that I shall well and truly interpret what is deposed by the witness (or witnesses) between our Sovereign Lady the Queen Empress and the prisoner at the bar

The law (S 364) requires that the examination of an accused person shall be recorded in the language in which he is examined, or, if that is not practicable, in when an interpreter is employed, the

ed is conveyed to the Court by the

Cal H (r Ruks &c 68

Mad Rike &c No 117

G,

All Ruke Ac Ao 34 Lmp t \umbellet I L R, 5 Cal, 826, Q Emp t. Sagal Sajao, I. L R, 21 Cal, made by the widow of a deceased person on account of injury to her in consequence of the death of her husband !

The expression now used is "any loss or injury" and though the insertion of the word 'loss" would not seem to add anything to the section, in view of the definition of 'injury (S 44, Penal Code, read with S 4 (2) of this Code), yet it may be that some of the decisions of the Courts on this point might now be open to reconsideration and revision Moreover clause (b) has been redrafted in another respect, in that it now makes it clear that compensation can be awarded to any person, who in the opinion of the Court could recover damages in a Civil Court The cluef cases on the point are as follows Some of them seem to proceed on the assumption that S 545 deals with a matter as between the accused and the complying to only the amendment of clause (b) makes it clear that it is no longer so, whatever may have been the previous intention of the law

Loss of time incurred by the complainant in prosecuting the accused cannot be properly taken into account as entitling a complainant to compensation under $ 545, nor expenses incurred by the employment of an Ameen to restore boundary marks which had been destroyed by the accused But the cost of restoration of such boundary marks might be estimated and awarded as compensation as an miury caused by the offence committed

Compensation may be given in a case of entiting away a wife for injury done to the honour of the husband 'but not to the widow of a man whose death formed the subject of the charge of nor for loss caused by the inability of the complainant to attend to field work on account of the time being taken up with the prosecution of the accused * nor for expenses incurred in bringing an accused before a Magistrate? except such as may be payable under Court fees Act 1870 S 31 (III) (See now S 546A of this Code)

In the case of Yalla Gangulu v Manual Dalis referred to above Benson, I was of opinion that in a case where death had been caused by a rash and negligent act compensation could be given to the widow by reason of the provisions of Act XIII of 1855 read with S 545 But in view of an earlier decision of the Madras High Court to the contrary he referred the matter to a Full Bench which upheld the earlier decision. The Calcutta High Court considered this case and dissented from it 10 It is quite clear now from the new wording of S 545 (1) (b) that any person who is indicated in Act XIII of 1855 as entitled to receive compensation on account of the death of any person 112 the wife husband parent and child, if any, of the deceased can be awarded compensation under S 545

Clause (c) Compensating any bona fide purchaser

This clause is new S 519 provides that when any person is convicted of any offence which includes or amounts to their or receiving stolen property an innocent purchaser of the property can be compensated on restitution of the property to the person entitled thereto out of any money taken out of the possession of the accused on his arrest (See S 51) Clause (c) of S 543 goes further. It comes into operation when any person is convicted of any offence which includes theft criminal misappropriation criminal breach of trust or cheating of thating dis

<sup>1</sup> Yalla Gangulu : Mamidi Duli I L R , i Wad 4 (I B) Bonson T dis contra Emp i Morgan I I R 36 Cal 3.

* Imp : Narayan Bamana Pahil I L R Bem 4 5

O i Moorut Lul (W R Cr o Abbioo Punj Rac i 8 p 3

In re Roop Lal Sinch to W R Cr 39 In ie Lutchmaka I t R 12 Wad 35 bdufR thir ianvaled Idu Paji Bom

<sup>438</sup> 16 189* 74

offence With this provision S 546A should be read. When any person is convicted of a non cognizable offence, regarding which a complaint has been made, the Court may, in addition to any penalty imposed upon limit, order the accused to pay to the complainant the court-fee paid on the complaint, or where the complaint is not made in writing, on the examination of the complainant, and the court-fees paid for serving processes. This provision was formerly contained as 3x of the Court-fees her VII of 1870, which section has been repealed by the No. XVIII of 1923, S 163. It is not discretionary with a Court to direct the payment of these fees, whereas it was previously obligatory. Under S 545 payment of these fees, whereas it was previously obligatory. Under S 5,515 no order c in be made unless a sentence of fine has been passed. In both case discretion is left to the Court, in both cases also powers are exerciscable by Courts of appeal and revision. Under S 545 an order can be made also in confirmation proceedings.

The converse case, of payment of compensation to the accused when the Court finds that the accusation was false and either frivolous or veratious, is provided for by $2.50.

On conviction,

So when an accused is discharged, or where no fine is imposed, no order for compensation can be passed under S  $545^{\circ}$

On passing judgment.

An order for compensation under S 545 must be passed by a Court of first parties and in consideration of the case then before it. It cannot be passed either wards? It is a part of the order in the case. It may be passed afterwards? It is a part of the order in the case. It may be passed of the Appeal or Revision, although the Court holding the trial may not have thought proper to do so, for it is a consequential or incidental order within the terms of 423 (1) (d). But it can be passed only when the accused has been sentenced to fine, for it is an order appropriating the fine or a portion of at to the purpose stated in S 545. 1.

ing away money so elapsed, or, it an order under S the Court of Ap the Tourt o

Such expenses would not include repayment of Court fees under S 5/05 as the complainant on a conviction for any of the offences mentioned therein can ask for such an order whatever may be the nature of the sentence passed

In a case under Chapter XII, (disputes as to immoveable property) the Magistrate may direct by whom the costs, including costs incurred for witnesses of pleaders fees or both, shall be paid, and such costs may be recovered as if they were fines, that is, as provided by S 386 S 148 As to costs see also S5 526 [6A] and 488 [7].

Clause (b) Compensation for any loss or injury caused

'Injury' denotes any harm whater or illegally caused to any person, in body, mind, reputation or property—S 44, Penal Code The Madras High Court has considered the meaning of this word in reference to S 545 in regard to a claim

Mad 30

O Emp. r Yamana Rao, I L. R. 24 Bom L Rep. 976

made by the widow of a deceased person on account of injury to her in consequence of the death of her busband 1

The expression now used is "any loss or miury" and though the insertion of the word 'loss' would not seem to add anything to the section in view of the definition of 'injury (S 44, Pen'll Code read with S 4 (2) of this Code) yet it may be that some of the decisions of the Courts on this point might now be open to reconsideration and revision. Moreover clause (b) has been redrafted in another respect, in that it now makes it clear that compensation can be awarded to any person, who in the opinion of the Court could recover damages in a Civil Court The chief eases on the point are as follows Some of them seem to proceed on the assumption that S 545 deals with a matter as between the accused and the complainant only , the amendment of clause (b) makes it clear that it is no longer so, whatever may have been the previous intention of the law

Loss of time incurred by the complainant in prosecuting the accused cannot be properly taken into account as entitling a complainant to compensation under 5 545 . nor expenses incurred by the employment of an Ameen to restore boundarymarks which had been destroyed by the accused a But the cost of restoration of such boundary marks might be estimated and awarded as compensation as an injury caused by the offence committed

Compensation may be given in a case of entiring away a wife for injury done to the honour of the husband 1 but not to the widow of a man whose death formed the subject of the charge ' nor for loss caused by the mability of the complainant to attend to field work on account of the time being taken up with the projecution of the accused a nor for expenses incurred in bringing an accused before a Magistrate? except such as may be payable under Court fees Act 1870 S 31 (111) (See now S 546A of this Code)

In the case of Yalla Gangulu v Mamidi Dali' referred to above Benson, J was of opinion that in a case where death had been caused by a rash and pegligent act compensation could be given to the widow by reason of the provisions of Act XIII of 1855 read with S 545 But in view of an earlier decision of the Madras High Court to the contrary he referred the matter to a Full Bench which upheld the earlier decision . The Calcutta High Court considered this case and dissented from it 10 It is quite clear now from the new wording of S 545 (1) (b) that any person who is indicated in Act Alll of 1855 as entitled to receive compensation on account of the death of any person ere the wife husband parent and child, if any, of the deceased can be awarded compensation under S 545

Clause (c) Compensating any bona fide purchaser

This clause is now S 519 provides that when any person is convicted of any offence which includes or amounts to their or receiving stolen property an innocent purchaser of the property can be compensated on restitution of the property to the person entitled thereto out of any money til en out of the possession of the accused on his arrest (See S 51) Claime (c) of S 345 goes mirther. It comes into operation when any person is convicted of any offence which includes theft, criminal misappropriation criminal breach of trust or cheating or of having dis-

<sup>1 1 18:</sup> Gangulu : Mamidi Duli I I R .: Mid 4 (I B) Bonson T dis contra Emp : Morgan I L R 36 Cal 3>

&#x27;Imp t Narayın Bimanjı Pitil I L R Bom 1 5

In ic Luichmaka II R r Mad 3a F B) Abdulk dminne alad Idu Pan Bom R 13 R Bom 438

Rama Swami vilid Madpuß Bom H Ct June 16 1892 Yalli Gangulu Mamidi Dili I R 21 Mid 74 In re Lutchmal a I L R 12 Mad 352 Fim r t Morgan I L R 16 Ctl 362

honestly received or retained, or of having voluntarily assisted in disposing of, stolen property knowing or having reason to believe the same to be stolen See Ss 370 380 381, 382, 103, 101, 406, 107, 409, 409, 111, 412, 113, 411,417, 4188 419 420, Penal Code Tytortion is not included, but robbery and dacoity mai include theft , see 5, 390, 391 Penal Code This antendment of the section render many cases on the point obsolete. For instance it had been held that a Magistrite could not order compensation out of the fine to be given to an innocent purchaser of stolen property which may be restored by his order to the rightful owner, for the sale to him was not an injury caused by the offence committed 1 Such a case could only be deat with, if at all by S 510 or by the bringing of a Civil suit, and the High Court has under S 519 directed payment to an innocent purchaser out of money found on the accused at the time of his arrest 1 It has also been held that on a conviction for cheating the Magistrate could not order compensation to a person with whom the accused had pledged a portion of the property obtained by the cheating. This case even now would not be covered by clause (c), for the person to whom compensation was awarded was not a "purchaser" But it would apparently be covered by clause (b), for such person could recover com pensation in a civil suit

S 108 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1871) declares that no seller can give to the buver of goods that is of any moverble property (S 76) a better fitte than himself (except in specified cases none of which are applicable) and it gives as an illustration A bigs from B in good faith a con which B has stolen from C property in the case is not transferred to A

Sub-section (2).

The law does not expressly provide a means for enforcing repayment if compensation has been paid notwithstanding sub section (2) and the order is set aside on appeal by the reversal of the conviction of sentence or otherwise or if the order by set aside on revision after payment made. If when called upon to refund such amount, the person refuses to do so the person entitled to the money has his remedy by a civil suit. The Allahabad High Court has held that the order of the Court implies that the fine out of which the payment was made, in whosoever's handthe money might be should be payable to the accused, and that the amount can be recovered under S 517 as if it were a fine 5

Fee payable,

In non-cognizable cases, when an application is made by a complainant for the recovery of compensation ordered under S 545, eight annas is chargeable in BENGAL and Assam, and four annas is chargeable in the Uniten Provinces !

At the time of awarding compensation in any subset to be quent civil suit relating to the same matter, the Court shall take into account any sum paid or taken into account in subsequent suit recovered as compensation under section 545. The "taking into account 'referred to in S 546 means that any sum awarded as compensation by the Magistrate is to be taken into consideration at the time of awarding damages in any subsequent civil suit, not that it is to be deducted from any sum that may be given as damages in such suit 1

<sup>2</sup> Q v Reddon I L R 6 Mad 286 (S c ) Werr, 1144 . 7 Mad H C R , App . 13

Dhordu Kanu Bom H Ct, Oct 5, 1901.

Emp v Ramchandra Bapup, I L R 46 Bom 893.

Mad H Ct Pro March 25, 1979, Wert, 1143.

Mutacaddi: Vam Ram I L R, 19 AN, 112.

Cal H. Ct Rules & Op 115 and 116.

All , Rules &c No 9 Love v. Amsworth 22 W. R., 338, Cruil Rulings.

CREE, XLVI. Sec. 5161

5464. (1) Whenever any complaint of a non-cognizable Order of payment of certain fees paid by complainant in noncornizable cases offence is made to a Court, the Court, if it convicts the accused, may, in addition to the penalty imposed upon him, order him to pay to the complanant-

- (a) the fee (if any) paid on the petition of complaint, or for the examination of the complament, and
- (b) any fees paid by the complament for serving processes on his witnesses or on the accused, and may further order that, in default of payment, the accused shall suffer simple unprisonment for a period not exceeding thirty days

(2) An order under this section may also be made by an Appel late Court, or by the High Court, when exercising its powers of revision

The matter provided for in S 5461 was originally dealt with in the Court Fees Act VII of 1870 S 31 It has been introduced into the Code by Act No. AVIII of 1923 Ss 153 and 163 The Court Fees Act S 31 made it obligatory on the criminal court to award when convicting on a complaint of a non-cognizable offence the fee paid on the complaint or when the complaint was not made in writing the fee of eight annas payable on his being examined (Court Fees Act

Fees Act there was no provision for imprisonment in default of payment of the amount ordered to be repaid though the amount was recoverable as a fine. This is now expressly provided for in S 546A

"Non cogmitable offence means an offence for which a police officer within or without a presidency town may not arrest without warrant S 4 (1) (m) These are specified in col 3 of Schedule II

An order under $ 546A can be made by a Court of appeal or revision (subsection 2) this renders several cases obsolete

The fee paid on a power of attorney and the subsistence allowances and travelling expenses of witnesses cannot be made the subject of an order under S 546A though they may be awarded out of the fine under S 545

In a case under the Cattle Trespass Act 18,1 the accused cannot be ordered to pay stamp and process fees under $ 5461 but such costs could be awarded under

S 22 of the Cuttle Trespass Act 1 The High Courts have held that an order under S 31 of the Court Fees Act is not part of the sentence and cannot therefore be set aside on appeal against the conviction. And an order for compensation cannot be tal en into account so as to give an appeal against a sentence which standing by itself would not be appeal

i Shaik Hussain : Sanjivi I L R 7 Viid 345 i Emp i Vaddipvili Subbuvijadu I L R 31 Viid 547 See al o Emp i Karuppana Pilli, I L R _9Viid 188 Vadun Vindut HvunGbos I L R o Cil 687

able. An order by an Appellate Court under S 31 of the Court Fees Act is not an enhancement of the sentence.

Where two persons are convicted the Magistrate cannot make an order against one only the repayment should be ordered to be made by both jointly?

S 546A requires that there must be a complaint of a non-cognizable offence but does not say that the conviction must be of the offence complained of So it has been held that when a complaint of a non cognizable offence results in a conviction of a cognizable offence an order for payment of fees can be made. Dut this case was dissented from.

547 Any money (other than a fine) payable by virtue of any order made under this Code and the method to be pad recoverable as fines a fines.

S 547 will apply to compensation awarded under S 250 costs physable under S 4,488 and 5 6 and fees repeat under S 5,64 Except where costs are expressly provided for it is not the intention that costs should be awardable in crimical proceedings.

See also S 148 (3) as to realisation of costs in cases under Chapter XII (disputes as to immoveable property)

It has been held that this empowers a Court, which on appeal or revision has set aside an order for the payment of money, to enforce its re-payment if it should have been paid by the inferior Court.

548 If any person affected by a judgment or order presed by a Chmmal Court desires to have a copy of the Judge's charge to the jury or of any order or de position or other part of the record, he shall, on applying for such copy be furnished therewith

Provided that he pays for the same, unless the Court, for some special reason thanks fit to furnish it free of cost

An accused person is on his application entitled to have without delay a copy of the judgment or hen have a case is to be a

heads of the chite to me jury (5 371)

A copy of every order under S 112 shall be delivered to the person affected by the officer serving or executing a summons or warrant on him—S 215. The actived can claim to be farmished with a copy of a statement made to the police—S 2102 (1).

Or res of records made under S 16, (1) and (3) shall be a raished to the owner or occupier of a place serviced but shall be 1 aid for except for special reasons—S 16, (5) similarly in the case of a record made inder S 166 (1)

CRAP XLVI SEC 548

A copy of a report made under 5 173 shall be furnished to the accused on application but shall be paid for unless the Magistrate specially directs otherwise-5 172 (4)

Under S 21n an accused person of the so requires it, is entitled to a copy of the charge free of cost

If a Vingistrate (not a Presidence Vingistrate) after commitment and before the commencement of the trail examines supplementary witnesses, the evidence of such witnesses shall, if the accused so require be given to him free of cost-S 219 5 548 provides for an application by any person affected by a judgment or order of a Criminal Court for a copy of any part of the record. Ordinarily payment at the prescribed rates must be made but the Court for some special reason, may furnish such cons free of cost Is to the definition of public documents, and the use of certified copies thereof as evidence see the Indian Lyidence Act, I of 1872 https://doi.org/10.1001/

In order to aid Appellate Courts in computing the period of limitation under 12 (3) of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 evers Criminal Court subordinate to the High Court of Bomby, has been ordered to endorse the following particulars on every copy of a judgment order or charge to a jury, furnished under S 548 of the Code of Criminal Procedure are the date on which the copy was applied for , the date on which it was ically for delivery the date on which it was delivered To prevent unauth rized alterations being made the dates should be written in letters in a distinct liandwriting, and such endorsement should be signed by some responsible officer of the Court on the date to which it refers 1

On application made by the Magistrate of the District to the Sessions Judge for a copy of any judgment delivered by him the Judge should permit a copy to be made by any person whom the Magistrate may depute for that purpose. Such copies will be granted to Vingistrates and committing officers only for their inform ation and guidance they are not at liberty to case at the judgment of the Sessions Court, or to enter into any discussion with the Judge upon the merits. When the Judge's notes form the only record of the ease the parties should be allowed to have comes of such notes on paying the authorized charge for making the same a

Every complainant shall upon showing good cause be entitled to receive certified copies if depositions and all documents recorded in evidence in the case Such copies shall be made at the expense of the person applying for them 4

A Magistrate acts contrary to law in determining whether such copies are necessary or not He can only determine at the hearing of the case whether the documents filed are or are not admissible as evidence but a Magistrate is not bound to give copies of the depo mons of the witnesses for the prosecute n when the trial has only reached that stage S 548 does not apply 6

The terms of this section apply to all Magistrates It was held under the pre yously existing lim that all prosecutors whose charges have been dismissed by a Presidency Migistrate are affected by the order of discharge and are therefore, entitled to the copies of the orders made by and the depositions taken before the Magistrate 7

Bom Gaz 1871 p 601 Bk Cir p 7

Cal Rules &c P 101 Subbaya Gundan I Vad H C R 139

<sup>**</sup> Bom Gar 18*9 p 47*

* Sheeh Pershad Pandah 14 W R Cr 77

* Prag Sahn All W N 1893 p 140

** Emp v Dinonath ** N 1 L R 8 Cd 166 (s c) 10 Cd L R, 190

(1) The Governor-General in Council may make rules, 549 consistent with this Code and the Aimy Act and Delivery to mili-

the An Force Act and any similar law for the authorities persons liable to be time being in force, as to the cases in which tried by Court martial persons subject to military or Air Force law shall be tried by a Court to which this Code applies, or by Court martial, and when any person is brought before a Magistrate and charged with an offence for which he is liable, under the Army Act, section 41 or under the An Poice Act, section 41, to be tried by a Court-martial, such Magistrite shall have regard to such rules, and shall in proper cases deliver him, together with a statement of the offence of which he is accused, to the commanding officer of the regiment, corps or detachment to which he belongs, or to the com manding officer of the nearest military or Air Poice station, as the case may be, for the purpose of being tried by Coint-martial (2) Every Magistrate shall, on receiving a written applica tion for that purpose by the commanding officer Apprehension such persons of any body of froons stationed or employed at any such place, use his utmost endeavours to apprehend and secure any person accused of such offence

The following rules have been made by the Governor General in Council under S 549 in regard to cases in which persons subject to military law shall be tried by a Court to which the Code applies or by a Court martial

(t) Where a person subject to military law is brought before a Magistrate and charged with an offence for which he is hable under the Army Act, S 41, to be tried by a court martial such Magistrate shall not proceed to try such person of to issue orders for his trial by a jury or to inquire with a view to his commitment for trial by the Court of Session or the High Court for any offence triable by such Court, unless-

(a) he is of opinion for reasons to be recorded that he should so proceed authout being moved thereto by competent military authority, or

(b) he is moved thereto by such authority

(2) Before proceeding under rule 1 clause (a) the Magistrate shall give notice to the Commanding Officer of the accused and until the expiry of a period of (fire)1 days from the date of the service of such notice he shall not-(a) requit or convict the accused under S 243 245 247 or 248 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 (Act V of 1898) or hear him in his defence under 5 244 or

(b) frame in writing a clarge against the accused under $ 244, or

(c) make an order committing the accused for trail by the High Court of the Court of Session under S 213 of 214 or

(d) issue orders under $ 451 sub section (2) for the trial of the accused by jury

(3) Where within the period of (five) days mentioned in rule 2 or at any me thereafter before the Magistrate has done any act or issued any order referred to in rule 2 clauses (a) to (d) the Commanding Officer of the accused gives notice to the Vagistrate that, in the opinion of competent military authority, the accused should be tried by a court martial, the Magistrate shill stay proceedings and, if the accused is in his power or inside his control, shall deliver him, with the statement prescribed by S 519 to the authority specified in the said section.

<sup>1</sup> Substituted for fifteen by Notification to 1630 dated 11th September 1903

CHAP. XLVI SEC. 549

- (4) Where a Magistrate has been moved by competent military authority under rule t, clause (b), and the Commanding Officer of the accused subsequently gives notice to such Vigistrate that, in the opinion of such authority the accused should be tried by a court mirtial, such Vagistrate if he has not, before receiving such notice, done any act or issued any order referred to in rule 2, clauses (a) to (d), shall stay proceedings and if the accused is in his power or mider his control, shall in the like manner deliver hun, with the statement prescribed in S 549 to the authority specified in the said section.
- (5) Where an accused person, having been delivered by the Magistrate under rule 3 or 4, is not tried by a court martial for the offence of which he is accused, or other effectual proceedings are not taken, or ordered to be taken, against lum, the Magistrate shall report the circumstance—
  - (a) in cases occurring in the Province of Madras or Bombay, to the Local Government, and
  - (b) in all other cases through the Local Government to the Governor-General in Council 1

The reference in rule 2 (d) to S 451 is now obsolete

1 See Caratta / I 1a

Similar rules have been made in reference to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore

S 70 of the Indian Arms Act VIII of 1911, provides that when a criminal Court liaving jurisdiction is of opinion that proceedings ought to be instituted before itself in respect of any alleged offence it may by written notice require the prescribed military authority at its option either to deliver over the offender to the nearest Magistrate to be proceeded against according to law or to postpone proceedings pending a reference to the Governor-General in Council

In one case a soldier an European British subject was committed by a Magistrate for that to the High Court. Appleation was made to have the commitment quashed and the prisoner sent for trial by Court martial but it was held that as the Military authorities had made over the prisoner to the Magistrate and the Magistrate had jurisdiction the commitment was valid. The trial was accordingly held. In another case it was held that S rot of the Mutin; Act was only permissive, and that as the Criminal Court had got possession of the investigation into the offence and the Military authorities had not availed this passelves of the alternative procedure of trying the offender by Court-martial, the commitment was regular, and the trial should proceed.

In the UNITED PRONNETS it has been ordered that if such a Military offender is in early custody, the Magistrate shall not proceed until the has communicated with the prescribed Military authority and that if he is dissatisfied with the decision of the officer in about of a Court martial he should report the case for the orders of the Covernor General in Council but in the meantime he should deliver the accused into Military sustody.

550 Any police officer may serze any property which may be alleged or suspected to have been stolen, or Powers to Police which may be heard any proper property to the police which may be served to be police which provides any property to be police.

Powers to Police to seize property suspected to be stolen which may be found inder circumstances which create suspicion of the commission of any offence such voluce officer. If subordulate to the officer such police officer, if subordinate to the officer in charge of a police station shall forthwith report the seizure to that officer

So also under S 54 (i) Cl iv any police officer may without an order from a Magistrate and without a war and arrest my person in whose possession anything is found which may reasonably be is specified to be stolen property and who may be reasonably suspected of having commutted an offence with reference to such thing See also S 51 under which a poleco officer may search a person under arrest in execution of a warrant and take charge of all articles other than necessary wearing appute found on him

Powers of superior in rank to an officer in charge of a police station may exercise the same powers appointed, as may be exercised by such officer within the limits of his station

The powers of officers in charge of police stations are for the most part  $\cos$  tained in Chapter  ${\rm NIV}$

Under S. 157. Indian Evidence Act. I of 1872. In order to corroborate the testimony of a witness any former statement made by such witness relating to the same fact at or about the time when the fact took place or before any authority legally competent to investigate the fact may be proved. In a Madras case, timed by a Special Bench under Act. NIV of 1908 it was held her Whitti C. J. and Aythro. J. that the words before any authority legally competent to investigate the fact are general and should not be restricted to police officers and to investigations in the sense in which the word is used in the Code. The words are competent to investigate not a case but the fact. The words are competent do not mean only competent under some express provision. Therefore an Inspector of the Criminal Investigation Department can investigate cases to which S. 156 of the Code applies throughout the Presidency of Madras. Sankars NAIR J. (dissentients) hower.

investigate by certain section empowers an Inspector of the

Snortly afterwards the same t

Court in a Letters Fatent Appeal on a certificate of the Advocate General under clause 26. It was held by Benson Wallia and Milliam JJ that an Inspector of the Cruminal Investigation Department is an anthority legally competent to investigate the fact within the meaning of S 157. Evidence Act and generally investigate the fact.

ity to investigate sundara Allar that the Inspec tors had been appointed to a local area consisting of the whole Presidences as to give them the same powers that an officer in charge of a police station has under S 157 of the Code

&lt;sup>1</sup> K. Inj. Mid it IIR 35 Md 47 Mutlu Kurini. ni Iillu i K. Ling. 35 Mid 37

CHAP. XLVI SECS. 552 533

552. Upon complaint made to a Presidency Magistrate or Power to compel District Magistrate on onto 6 the abduction or restoration of abducted fermales:

almost a determine of a woman, or of a female child under the age of sixteen years, for any unlawful purpose, he may make an order for the immediate restoration of such woman to her liberty, or of such female child to her husband, parent, guardian, or other person having the lawful charge of such child, and may compel compliance with such order, using such force as may be necessary

'Sixteen was substituted for 'fourteen' by Act XVIII of 1924, S 5 A person against whom proceedings are taken under this section may tender himself as a witness S 3.00

In order to justify an order under S 552 there must be an unlawful detention

S 552 1

After examination of a complainant under S 552 a Magistrate is competent to issue a search warrant under S 100 for the woman or female child?

553 (1) Whenever any person causes a police officer to conspination to arrest another person in a presidency town, if it operates a presidency town appears to the Magistrate by whom the case is heard that there was no sufficient ground for causing such arrest, the Magistrate may award such compensation, not exceeding fifty rupes, to be paid by the person so causing the arrest to the person so arrested, for his loss of time and expenses in the matter, as the Magistrate thinks fit

- (2) In such cases if more persons than one are arrested, the Magistrate may in like manner, award to each of them such compensation not exceeding fifty rupees, as such Magistrate thinks fit.
- (3) All compensation awarded under this section may be re-covered as if it were a fine, and if it cannot be so recovered, the person by whom it is payable shall be sentenced to simple imprisonment for such term not exceeding that days as the Magistrate directs, unless such sum is sooner paid.

In Madras venatious or unnecessary seizure of property or arrest by a Forest Officer or police officer is punishable under Mad. Act V of 1832 S. 25. and under the Abbari Law by Mad. Act I of 1886 S. 39. and in Bondal by Bom. Act V of 1878, S. 49. 50.

<sup>1</sup> Abraham v Mahtabo 1 L R , 16 Cal 487 2 Gora Mun 1 L R 39 Cal 403

Power of chartered in Council, the High Court at Fort William and, with the previous sanction of the Local cules for inspection of records of subordinate Courts

Royal Charter, may, from time to time

dinate Courts by Royal Charter, may, from time to time make rules for the inspection of the records of subordinate Courts

Power of other High Courts to make rules lor other purposes

(2) Every High Court not established by Royal Charter may, from time to time, and with the previous sanction of the Local Government.—°

(a) make rules for keeping all books, entries, and accounts to be kept in all Criminal Courts subordinate to it and for the preparation and transmission of any returns or statements to be prepared and submitted by such Courts.

(b) frame forms for every proceeding in the said Courts for which it thinks that a form should be provided,

(c) make rules for regulating its own practice and proceedings and the practice and proceedings of all Criminal Courts subordinate to it, and

(d) make rules for regulating the execution of wairants issued under this Code for the levy of fines

Provided that the rules and forms made and framed under this section shall not be inconsistent with this Code or any other law in force for the time being

(3) All rules made under this section shall be published in the local difficial Gazette

555 Subject to the power conferred by section 554 and by section 107 of the Government of India Act 1915, the forms set forth in the fifth schedule the curb annuture of the groundstates of each care required.

with such variation as the circumstances of crob case require may be used for the respective purposes therein mentioned, and if used shall be sufficient

S 77 does not lay down that the name of the police officer to whom a warrant is directed as to be included in the warrant and though form II of Schedule V suggests that both name and designation are to be included the omission of the name will not invalidate the warrant. It would certainly be extremely difficult ocarry on the police administration of the country if every warrant had to be directed by name to a police officer and upon his transfer it were to become incapable of execution till the name of some other officer had been substituted in his place. If but where the officer to whom a warrant is originally directed males it over for execution to another officer the litter's name must be endorsed on the under S 79 1

<sup>1</sup> Bankey Behair Singh v K Emp 3 Pat L J 493

556 No Judge or Magistrate shall, except with the per of the Court to which an appeal lies f

Court, tiv or commut for trial any case ın wh ch Judge or Magistrate which he is a party, or personally into is personally interested and no Judge or Magistrate shall hear an from any judgment or order passed or made by lumself

Explanation - A Judge or Magistrate shall not be to be a party, or personally interested within the meaning section, to or in any case by reason only that he is a Mu Commissioner or otherwise concerned therein in a public ca or by reason only that he has viewed the place in which an is alleged to have been committed or any other place in any other transaction material to the case is alleged to have ou and made an inquiry in connection with the case

Any case in S 556 includes an appeal 3

with t parts 1 appeal from any judgment or order passed or made by himself be when the judgment or order was passed by a Magistrate will mucht after be appointed the Sessions Judge in whose Court the appeal must come hearing It would then be his duty to apily to the High Court for the of the appeal under S 126 to some other competent Court Similarly S 487 declares that except as provided by Ss 42, 41, n a Judge of a High far 1 when such off the gr is I rought in the t xeeding hita ! 7 'fee commit it fir ! aling .

, ,

of Session or High Court The offences referred to in 5 195 et es .

. 11 from some person offer than a joince on eer of upon su; has been committed (S 1)0) the accused is entitled to have the another Magistrite and the Magistrate who has taken (1) 1 21/11/11 to bound so to inform the accused before any evidence is the the Magistrate cannot hold the trial He mist either iff. commit the accused to the Court of Session or truss file are 1,8 41, trate (S 1)1)

So also under 5 337 a Magistrate who has to find 2 4/1 . must commit the case

To the explanation to S 551 which excepts the following have been added -

Dirga Tivia Rihaman Bux 4 (3) W 1 85 Nistanan Deli 1 C Glose I L R 23 (21 4) 1 Dirga Taxaa

A member of a District Board in the Punjab (Act XX of 1883, S 58) or a member of a Municipal Committee in the Punjab (Act III of 1911, S 230), or in British Burna, (Burna Act III of 1888, S 1981).

A Municipal Commissioner is often a Magistrate, and the question has ansen how far he is competent to try breaches of the Municipal law by reason of his being a party to or personally interested in the case. The explanation to S 556 declares that a Judge or Magistrate is not within those terms only by reason of his being a Municipal Commissioner or otherwise concerned therein in a public capacity.

A Magistrate who, as President of the Octroi Sub-Committee has ordered a prosecution, is personally interested in the case within the terms of S 556, and is therefore not competent to hold the thail, even with the consent of the accused 'So also where he has already taken action as Chairman of the Local Board, a Magistrate is not competent to act index S 133 *

Whether a Magistrate is personally interested in such a case because he is also a Municipal Commissioner would depend upon whether he has taken any part in the institution of the proceedings or prosecution So, when the Magistrate as Chairman of the Municipality was the very person interested in abating the nuisances is respect of which proceedings were taken, he was a very different person from an ordinary Municipal Commissioner, and was disqualified from trying the case as he was a Judge of his own cause? So also, if the Magistrate has taken any part in promoting the prosecution, as for instance, by concurring in it or sanctioning it at a meeting of the Managing Committee or otherwise, he would be doubtlesdisqualified by reason of the existence of a personal prior of ay and above what may be supposed to be felt by every Municip ( Municipality, but he is not disqualified mere · 12 of the Managing Committee or Vice-Preside . . . . was Chairman of the Minicipal Commissioners at a meeting which passed an order, for disobedience of which there was a prosecution, it was held that he was practically one of the prosecutors and the Judge, and was consequently disqualified to hold the trial another case a conviction by a Bench of Magistrate was set aside, because one of the members was a salaried officer of the Municipality A distinction was drawn between a Magistrate who, as Municipal Commissioner, was merely discharging a public and honorary office, and a Magistrate whose time and service are, in consideration of a salary, given to carry on the work of the Municipal Corporation But where a Magistrate had been a member of a subcommittee of a Municipal Board which recommended the prosecution of a person for obstruction of a public thoroughfare he was not personally "interested so as to debar him from holding the trial?

Some English statutes contain provisions similar to those set out in the explana-

this Act by

Deen ledd does not remove the disqualification of a Justice of the Peace, who has acted at a member of the Committee which directed the prosecution, to try the case afterwards. The section has not the effect of enabling a person to act a suppose the and under in the same matter. It would require express.

produce that effect The meaning of the secta there might be inconvenience in carrying out t boroughs of getting Justices to sit who are not members of the Corporation. .

Visher

Emp. v Bisheshar Bhaitacharya, I. L R, 32 Ali 635 Kistri Kanta Panja, 10 Cal L J 484.

. Municipality of Benares t.

Circa XLVI Sec 556

Legislature therefore went one step in the direction of removing that difficulty by enacting that the mere fact of membership should not disqualify the lustice The section therefore removes one ground of interest merely There is no warrant for holding that when the Justice has acted as a member by directing a prosecution for an offence under the let he is a sufficiently disinterested person so as to be able to sit as a Judge at the hearing of the information 1 It was held that it is not sufficient merely to show that an adjudicating Justice is a Member of the Town Council and as such has a pecumary interest in the result of the complaint or information or that he is a member of the Corporation which is charged with the duty of prosecuting the offence which he sits to admidicate upon , but that, in order to disqualify the Justice, it must be established that he has such a substantial interest in the result of the hearing as to make it likely that he has a real b as in the matter. Such an interest was held to be when the Justice was himself the appellant in one of several cases set down for hearing which all involved the same point. It was held that he was disqualified from trying those cases and afterwards from prosecuting his own 2 In one English cases it was laid down that the interest of the Instice must be substantial so as to make it likely that he had a real bias. In the case of Queen Handdan' it was held that the mere possibility of bias is not sufficient to disquality Lord Esher laid down the law on the subject of bias as follows -- "Public policy requires that in order that there should be no doubt about the purity of the administration any person who is to take part in it should not be in such a position that he might be suspected of being biassed. To use the language of Mellor, I in The Que n v Allan' It is highly desirable that misties should be administered by persons who cannot be suspected of improper motives. I think that if you take that phrase literally it is somewhat too large, because I know of no case in which a man cannot be suspected. There are some people whose minds are so perverse that they will suspect without any ground whatever. The question of incapacity is to be one of substance and fact, and therefore it seems to me that the man's position must be such as that in substance and fact is cannot be suspected Not that any perversely minded person cannot suspect him but that he must bear such a relation to the matter that he cannot reasonably be suspected of being biassed I think that for the sake of the character of the administration of justice we ought to go as far as that but I think we ought not to go any further."

A common ground for an application or transfer under S 526 is that the trying Magistrate or Judge is disqualified under S 556 Further cases on the point will be ound in the note to that section

The accused is entitled to object to the trial by the Magistrate of a case in which he has taken cognizance of the offence, not on complaint or police report, but on information received from any person other than a police officer, or upon his own knowledge or suspicion that such offence has been committed (S 191) A Magistrate is also debarred by S 487 from trying certain offences, (see note, supra) A Magistrate who has examined as witness an accused person under conditional pardon cannot try that person (S 337) But in cases within S 487 and S 337 the Magistrate may hold an inquiry and commit the accused to the High Court or the Court of Session (Ss 337, 487) A District Magistrate by reason of his being the head of the Police of the district is not debarred from trying a police officer under Act V of 1861, S 29 for breach of an order of an Inspector #

O Milledge, L. R. 4Q B. D. 332, Q v. Gibbon, 6Q B. B. 168, Q v. Lee, 9 Q B. D. 394 Sec Q v. Hundsky, 8Q B. D. 383 Q ue.on on the prosecution of F. D. Palmer v. The Justice of Great Yarmouth 8 Q B.

&lt;sup>7</sup> Q. Linj. i. Astani emga, I. L. R. ... Au., 340

The fact that a Magistrate has, on a complaint, held an investigation under

S 202, before using process, does not disqualify him from holding the trial?

S 526 man company of the second disqualify him from holding the trial?

to direct that ion, whenever any Common Court subordinate to it, or that such an order is expedient for the ends of justice

The law in England has thus been laid down ' has any legal interest in the decision of the gues how small that interest may be The Jaw, in regard not so much, perhaps, to the motive which might be supposed to bas the Judge as to the susceptibilities of the hitgard parties. One important object at all events, is to clear away everything which might eigender suspection and distrust of the tribunal, and so promote the feeling of confidence in the administration of justice which is so essential to social order and security.

convicted the accused, had before the trial commence the C concurring) said—m'The Deputy Magistrate states. In this, as in that case, I was the chief actor and investigator. I have in this, as in that, is separate, and, so far as in me left to banish from the record, and, if it were possible from my own recollection, to the evidence of the chief of the system of the chief of th

. .... ... .... but third person

d a

What was the particular obligation under which the Deputy Magistrate supposed limiself to have liboured, and which constrained him to 'change,' as he says, 'his identity, it is perhaps difficult to inderstand. It has been held by this Court, and is accordance with the general principles which govern the confider of an English Court of trumnal justice, that while a preson is not necessarily disqualified from presiding as a Jindge or acting as a jury man upon an inquiry into of investigation of facts, because he may have been himself a witness of some of the social form being seems to have refe

of to make know observed, to which me munseif can bear testimony. And, moreover, the prisoner, who is being tried by a Jindge in this situation, has a right, if he thinks it desirable to cross enamine the Judge, who, under these circumstances, and to this extent must be viewed as a witness, and his evidence should be recorded. It is quite erroneous in our opinion to suppose, on the containt, as the Deput Magastrate appears to have supposed that he was bound to keep out of sight altogether the part inlich he ladd played in the mitter and to pretently dive cannot use any other word than that) that he have nothing about the facts excepting so much as the windless told him in Court. It is always changerous for any main in whose right conduct others are concerned to set up and endeavout to carry out a fiction such as this. It is most specially dangerous for a Judge, who is under the grave reponsibility which attaches to the office of a Criminal Judge, to attempt any thing of the kind of the Judge who had to take unon

Ananda Chunder v Vasu Mudh I L R , 24 Cal , 167

* Sergent t. Dale, 2 () B D , 55% (see p 567).
* Hurro Chunder Paul, 20 W. H. Cr , 7v.

Criminal Judge being the principal vitness in the case which he has to try is no doubt most apprient, this honever is a reason for his declining to the case, not for his endexnounting to assume an innerd character.

S 555 of the Code of 18% first enacted the I'm whom expressed in the body of S 556 of this Cod, is already stated its meaning has been explained by the explanation as smended by thit Code and as will be presently shown that explanation relieves to another matter connected with this subject.

The disqualification of a Vi_strate to hold a trial wis held by a Luil Bench of the Calcutta High Court under the Code of 1860 to be not interely a pecuniary interest. Int a personal or a pecuniary interest. A Viagistrate could not fry an assault upon limiself. The High Court has held that a Viagistrate was not disqualified by personal interest because as Registrat of Deeds he had sanctioned a prosecution which earne before him for trial. *Locate C_I in ging the judgment of the Court added. Leannot suppose that because an officer in his position sanctions a prosecution his mind is made up as to the guilt of the pirts, and that he is not willing, to consider the evidence which may be produced when he comes to try the case though it may serv well be that the Court in its discretions outly in similar cases direct the transfer of the case in order that it may be tried by some other officers.

So where a Magistrate is a shareholder of a company in respect of which a mais charged with eniminal breach of trust he is personally interested and is consequently disqualified from holding the trial 2.

Where the Magnetrate's wife was driving when the accused committed the offence of richkesh and furnously driving on a public throughfare and the corn plaint was made by his servant, he was personally interested and incompetent to try it?

When a Judge has a pecumary interest in the success of the accusation he must not be a Judg. When such a pecumary interest exists the law does not allow any further inquiry as to 0 bether his mind was actually biased by pecumary interest. The fact is established from which the inference is drawn that he is interested in the decision and he cannot act as a Judge. But it must be in all cases a question of substance and of fact. The question must be has the Judge, whose impartiality is impugned taken any part whatever in the prosecution either by lumpel or his access?

So wi did not be so the so the

and was by no means free from the possibility of being responsible for the money embezzled he was disqualified to sit on the Lench of Wigistrates to try the case.

A Collector and representative of the Court of Wards is not as District Magistrate, disqualified from trying a case in which the Court of Wards is interested if he has nothing to do with the initiation of the prosecution. But a District Magistrate who as Inspector of Factories has ordered an inquiry and synctroned a prosecution is disqualified from trying the case? And where a Tahsddar made a report concerning a certain person to the Deputy Wagistrate and the latter authorised it e Tubuldar to prosecute that person on such charges as might be capable of being frained the Deputy Magistrate was not disqualified from trying the case, for the authorisation which he gave did not amount to a direction that the accused should be proceeded.

Disqualification from personal interest on the part of a Magistrate has frequently come under consideration in reported cases under the Code of 1882 and in connection with those cases, the terms of the explanation of the words 'personally interested' now given in this Code should be considered, and it may be that the first than the conduction of the considered of the co

of the h

the h tecused

the h

some supra) from the active part he has taken in a local inquiry held by him and in collecting evidence. But in this respect, too, the terms of the explanation as not expressed may require some of these cases to be reconsidered. An objection taken by the accused, a servant of a club, to his being tined by the Magistrate a member of that club, does not prevent the Sessions Judge, the Court of Appeal from deciding whether he should give permission under S 556 to that Magistrate to hold the trial because he is also a member *

A Sessions Judge, who has under S 195 given sanction, or under S, 476 ordered 7, 556 from nee based

The effect on a trial of the fact that a Magistrate has viewed the scene of the occurrence has been considered in many cases, some of which are referred to below All of these housever were decided before the enactment of $5.30B$ There was previously no express provision in the Code authorising a Magistrate or Judge to make a local inspection. This is now contained in $5.30H$ The presiding officer of the Court is required to give notice to the parties, and to record without delay a memorandum of "any relevant facts observed at sinch inspection. Such memorandium shall form part of the record of the cite, and copies must be given record to all the parties at their request. See notes to $5.3BB and 344.

trate is absolutely disqualified by what he may have done after the commission of the ofence. If he has imported into the case knowledge that he may have on a conviction based solely on such evidence There are eases, however in which which the offence is stated to have been committed, because there was not express provision in the Code authorizing him to do so. The High Court relied on a value of the evidence given by witnesses before him at the trial it is difficult to understand what objection can be resionably raised. He is only applying his sight to an examination of the place as le would apply it to the demension of witnesses or the examination of documentary evidence or his hearing to the state ments made by witnesses or the accused before him in Court. He does not necessarily become a witness by income the spots on st to become menaphile of holding the trial because he cannot be examined as a witness before lumself. This view of the law has been affirmed by S 330 B.

.

The Calc a Magistrate limited the > ond what he acquires from the view of ien there is a dispute as to the exact spot where the occurrence is said to have taken place. It will be wise to defer his visit until he has heard the whole of the evidence?

which cannot be understood except by the Magistrate's cing the place hims If

When a Magnetiate goes to view a place for the purpose of understanding the evidence he should be careful not to allow any notion of internation as a partiting to him which might projude in the fall of any notion of internation as a partiting to him which might projude in the fall of the project of the fall of the fa common sense but also common I nowledge of what ordinard, passes in life .

<sup>1</sup> Hurpurshad : SheoDyal L R 31 1 239

<sup>2</sup> Bom II Ct , Teb 18 7 2 Hari Keel ore Mitra : Akini Bali I L P 21 Cal 9 0

<sup>4</sup> In re Lahi I L R 19 11 302

I may probable on the econodizations that the London response field the control of the control o thec. It is a seam makes ak name menant to some 31 1107 oc 12 (CT) wheel 3 at 1 from 1 - 1 about 25% process Figuration and and an add

ב ל לשונה אל בי ל מו ב מולה אל פי ל מולה אל בי לה בי לה בי היה בי היה ל מולה בי לה מונה בי ל

The trace as the control of the one make the terms medically of the processing the state of the processing the state of the control of the co was and the contention and some me with had been commend on a real was a solid met to be made that it was made to that it will be the solid of the s מישו בים לו שוני של של מותר מבלר בי סדם סיי רישונים, בים לר בו ביישור the loadier or from anythme to need the routh and had the gone been that the dad in gone been and the gone of the control of t שום נישימו ה אנכיפיק מ לה צים ב חיש נדיון שבו ם ביינים זו על כל בנה ולבוציים m git be examined - a v mess of her mare is.

S 3 B pew expenses recomes the Magnet of power to make a low inspection. Put it will no be in all case in which he does so that S 550 W. while a happened and the does no observe than he had to have an analysis of the first than the happened and the does no observe than he had to have a whole just date than the happened in o happened and the does no observe than he had to have a first than the happened in o happened in other had to have a first than the happened in other had to happened in the happened in the had to have a first than the had opra ca and inference based on exempetan is no on the mord he was he have comm and an error of judgment which vittaged the conversor. This was act and teo law partitions of period for the Tx

יול - מייסרייתן יולדי הייחות ב לי מיים ב משמשה בי ב בייחלוו of the area of a real of terms of the area of terms of the area of

Except with perm is on of the Appender Court.

The name with the tid qualita County on rance committing a comby reason o 5. 550 m Ino d bar an Aprila - Count on the mention ton errrated by that chon*

H Laller 1 L.C. 5 م عدى دو د جيم كي سيده r Q Emp, I L.F., (Cal a s

The state is the second of the

Illustration to S 556

Similarly the accused is entitled to require that a Wagistrate who has taken cognizance of an offence upon information received from any person other than a police-officer or upon his own knowledge or suspicion, and not upon a complaint made to him or on a police report shall not hold the trial but that it shall be held by some other Magistrate (S 191) See also S 487 for the disqualification of a

Opium Act (1 of 18,8) merely by reason of his duty being to see that that law was maintained and enforced in the part of the district of which he has charge 1. A Magistrate is not competent to try a person for contempt of his authority as a Settlement Officer in disobeying his order to appear before him $

The words directs the prosecution in the illustration mean institutes or gives order for the institution of the prosecution. So where on a report to the Deputy Vagistrate regarding the conduct of a certain person made by a Telisildar the Deputy Magistrate authorised him to prosecute that person on such charges as were capable of being proved the Deputs Magistrate was not disqualified from holding the trial *

The mere circumstance that the complainant is a servant of the Magistrate

the District Magistrate is concerned in the management of the Estate 1 visions follow the salutary rule that a Judge shall not be a Judge in what may be called his own cause but they draw the line advisedly as I imagine at trial or commitment and do not go the length of impeding mere cognizance of crime

See note to S 526 for other cases on this subject

No pleader wlo practises in the Court of any Magis trate in a presidency town or district, shall sit as pleader Practising not to sit as Magis a Magistrate in such Court or in any Court trate 151 certain within the inrisdiction of such Court Courts

<sup>1</sup> in te Ganesi: I L R 15 Ali 19* 2 Lmp v Sukhan I L R Ali 40

Lmp v Sukhari I L R All 405 O Lmp : \henel : Reddt I L R 24 Mad , 238

558 The Local Government may determine what, for the purposes of the Code shall be deemed to be the decide Pover to language of Courts language of each Court within the territories administered by such Government, other than the High Courts established by Royal Charter

Hindi has been declared by the Government of Bengal to be the language in ordinary use in the Colema also in the Hill portion of the district of Dargeeling and Assumese in the districts of Aumroop Durrung Nowgong Sibsigor and Lukhimpore 3

In all the districts of the Patna Division that is in Patna Shahabad Gja Tirhoot Saran Nagri has been declared to be the character to be used in all Court documents the issue of such documents except exhibits in the Persian character being forbidden 4

In the PANJAB Urdu has been declared to be the language of the Criminal

In Burma English has been declared to be the language of the Appeal Court and Barmese the language of all other Courts *

In BOMBAY Canarese has been declared to be the language in ordinary use in the Criminal Courts of the district of Belgium also of Bijapin and Marathi in those of the Revenue District of Sholapur and in the Sessions Court of Sholapur-Bijapur 7

- (1) Subject to the other provisions of this Code the 559 powers and duties of a Judge or Magistrate may Provision for powers of Judges and magis be exercised or performed by his successor trate, be ng exercised in office by the r u cessors in
- (2) Where there is any doubt as to who is the successor in office of any Magistrate the Chief Presidency Magistrate in a Presidency town, and the District Magistrate outside such towns shall determine by order in writing the Magistrate who shall, for the purposes of this Code or of any proceedings or order thereunder, be deemed to be the successor in office of such Magistrate
- (3) When there is any doubt as to who is the successor in office of any Additional or Assistant Sessions Judge, the Sessions Judge shall determine by order in writing the Judge who shall for the purposes of this Code or of any proceedings or order thereunder, be deemed to be the successor in office of such Additional or Assistant Sessions Judge

This section has been substituted for the original > 559 which was superfluors in that it merely enacted that powers conferred by the Co e on the Government

Beng Gov Not \pi1126 1867

Cal Gaz 1873 p 116
Cal Gaz 1873 p 116
Cal Gaz 1873 p 116
Gov of Bengul \pin113 1880
Car $P$ 16 1854 Part 1 p 33 Bk Crr p 72
Car $P$ 16 1854 Part 1 p 439 \land 1 108

Bam Gaz 1834 Fart 1 p 149 \land 1 108

Ctar XLVI Sec 5.9

of Infin or the Local Government mult be exercised from time to time as o caston requires. This was a general rule of his already enacted in waste terms in the General Chuses set 1897 S. 14 as amended by Act No. VVIII of 1010 S. 2 and Sch. I. This section pow runs.—

Where by my let of the Governor General in Council made after the commencement of this Act any power is conferred then unless a different intention appears that power my be exercised from time to time as occasion require. Thus it is now not only the Government which can everyse powers from time to time. powers conferred on other authorities such as the High Court the Court of Scission Manistrias and police-officers are also covered by the provision as well as powers exerciseable by private individuals. Their might from 1919 omwards hive been some doubt about this had S. Sp. of the original Code of 1838 remained for inasmuch as it applied only to powers conferred on the Government the intention might have appeared that powers conferred on other authorities by the Code were rotted. Everyscable from time to time. It may here be remarked that the Code, increally a pears to require over hauling in the light of the provisions of the General Civus. Not. 1837 which in many places were ignored when the Code was canacted in the following year.

S 5.7 is it now stands is new and it provides for the functions of a Judge or Magistrate being, performed by his successor. Doubts had arise in some cases whether powers conferred were personal and on the trunsfer of the presiding officer to all 11 evers is 11 has a creesor. For instance it was doubted whether a Magistrate or Judicould grant sanction under S 105 or institute proceedings under S 1 in resect it is officer committed in his Court but before his predictions. In such it is distinct removed by the new S 559. The ordinary access to which if o section is applicable is that of action to be taken after the completion of the proceedings, warrants may have to be issued in sec 11th proceedings there may be a such as the proceeding section of the control of t

Dut the power confured on successors is subject to the other provisions of this Cole. This if it appeared that the intention of any particular provision of the Code, was that the power therein conferred was a personal power it would not be an excessor. Some orders for instance has to be passed at the time of delivering judgment. A successor in office could not take steps to award comp nation to an accissed person under S 250 or to a complanant under S 5.545 or $5.3464 where the best considered by $5.00 to $3.00 to $1.00 to $1.00

The next important provision of the Code to be borne in mind in connection with S (5) is S (3). If provides that 'a Vagistrate succeeding windher in the course of in inquiry or trial may continue the proceedings from the point where his prodicessor left them or may re summon winterses already heard by his predecessor and recommence the inquiry or trial but in a trial the accused may demand that the proceedings wind begin de mo of just the High Court or in cases trial overrides anything contained in S 559. For reference to cases decided under S 350 see note to that section Doubts may arise as to who is the sneed-sor in office of any particular J or Magistrate and these are provided for by sub-sections (2) and (3). A

Migistrate may be appointed to a district to try particular cases or an Additional button of Sessions cers may result in

The case of Magistrates is provided for by sub-section (2) and of Additional and Assistant Sessions Judges by sub-section (3). The litter officers have juris diction throughout a sessions division but can only deal with such case of in the case of Additional Judges) such appeals as may be made over to them. See St. 193 (4), 400 and 418 (2).

Office s con ried in sales not to purchase or bid for property 560 A public servant having any duty to perform in conrection with the sale of any property, under this Code shall not purchase of bid for the property

Special povisions with respect to offence of rape by a husband

- 561 (i) Notwithstanding anything in this Codo, no Magistrate except a Chief Presidency
- Magistrate or District Magistrate shall—

  (a) take eognizance of the offence of rape where the sexual intercourse was by a man with his wife or

(b) commit the man for trial for the offence,

(2) And, notwithstanding anything in this Code, if a Chief Presidency Magistrate or District Magistrate deems it necessary to direct an investigation by a police officer with respect to such an offence as is referred to in sub-section (1), no police officer of a rank below that of police inspector shall be employed either to make, or to take part in, til e investigation

This was specially enacted by Act X of 1891

561A Nothing in this Code shall be deemed to limit or affect saving of inherent between the inherent power of the High Court to make such orders as may be necessary to give effect to any order under this Code, or to prevent abuse of the process of any Court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice

S 561A is new having been enacted by Act No XVIII of 1923 S 156 Com

pare S 151 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908

In the original Bill as introduced in 1914 this clause recognised the inherent powers of all Courts but the Bill introduced on the basis of the report of the Lowndes Committee confined the operation of the clause to the High Courts. The powers recognised here are to make such orders as may be necessary (a) to give effect to any order under the Code (b) to prevent abuse of the process of any Court or (c) otherwise to secure the ends of justice

It was held in a Calcutta case that a criminal Court must have inherent power to male an order for giving proper and sufficient effect to the result consequent upon and arising out of a conviction. But this case was considered by a lill Bench of the Calcutta High Court and was overruled by a majority of three

Debendra Chandra Chowdhury t Mol mi Mohan Clowdl ury 5 Cal W N 43°
 Mol mi Mohan Clowdhury t Harei dra Chandra Clowdhury 1 L R 31 Cal 691

there was power to order removal under S 522, but the majority declined to agree that any Court had inherent power to make such an order

(1) When any person not under twenty-one years of age is convicted of an offence punishable with Power of Court to reimprisonment for not more than seven years, least certain convicted offenders on probation or when any person under twenty one years of good conduct ins of age or any woman is convicted of an offence tead of sentencing to punishment not punishable with death or transportation for life, and no previous conviction is proved against the offender, if it appears to the Court before which he is convicted, regard being had to the age, character or antecedents of the offender, and to the circumstances in which the offence was committed that it is expedient that the offender should be released on probation of good conduct, the Court may instead of sentencing him at once to any punishment, direct that he be released on his entering into a bond, with or without sureties, to appear and receive sentence whon ealled upon during such period (not oxceeding three years) as tho Court may direct, and in the meantine to keep the peace and be of good behaviour

Provided that where any first offender is convicted by a Magistrate of the third class, or a Magistrate of the second class not specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf, and the Magistrate is of opinion that the powers conferred by thus section should be exercised, he shall record his opinion to that effect, and submit the proceedings to a Magistrate of the first class or Sub divisional Magistrate, forwarding the accused to, or taking bail for his appearance before, such Magistrate, who shall dispose of the case in manner provided by section 380

(1A) In any case in which a person is convicted of theft, theft in a building, dishonest misappropriation, cheat-Conviction and reing or any offence under the Indian Penal Code lease with admonition pumshable with not more than two years' imprisonment and no previous conviction is proved against him, the Court before whom be is so convicted may if it thinks fit having regard to the age, character, antecedents or physical or mental condition of the offender and to the trivial nature of the offence, or any extenuating circumstances under which the offence was committed, instead of sentencing him to any punishment, release him after due admonition

(2) An order under the ection was be made by any Appellate Court or by the High Court when exercising its power of revision

(3) When an order has been made under this section in respecof any offerder, the High Court may, on appeal when there is a right of appeal to such Court, or when excreising its powers of revision, set aside such order, and in lieu thereof pass senter " on such offender according to law:

Provided that the High Court shall not under this sub-section inflict a greater punishment than might have been inflicted by the Court by which the offender was convicted.

(4) The provisions of sections 122, 126A and 406A shall star as may be, apply in the case of sureties offered in pursuance. of the provisions of this section.

S 501 has been controlly reducted by Act No XVIII of 1013 S. 157, and of scope has been considerably extended. The original section was applicable of cases of convictions of their their in a building dishonort rikappropriation to cheating (Se 3-0 380 403 and 417. Penal Code), or any other effence under the Penal Code not punis able with more than two years, impresonment. The Cocould release on probution it there was no previous conviction, and regard was ! be lad ' to the youth, character and antecedents of the offerder, to the train nature of the offence and to any extenuating circumstances under which the offence The elict defect in the old section was that action could rewas committed be taken in respect of offerees under special or local laws, no matter how this the nature thereof might be in is much as the operation of the section was con-reto of cross punishable under the Penal Code. In the second place its operate: was very limited, and cases constantly arose in which action under the sect () secred destrable but was not possible under the letter of the law. The Comwere powerless, and it was lett to the local Government to take action under S 41 The section dal net expressly state that the powers conferred therein were evenable by Co. res of any hal and revision, though it was held that such was the cree! There was always considerable doubt as to whether the reterence to dishousmisappropriation and clearing included the aggravated terms of these oftensions that is a second of the control to be applied only in the case of pricrite exemiers

In the new section a distinction has been drawn between presente and cit's? of enders, and women are sprenally dealt with. Powers are everywealt'e in traject or all persons under twenty one years of age and er all women, where the control " is et an offence not panishable with death or with transportation for Lie, that is to six of all but the risks seno, softenees. In the case of persons who are twenty one wars of ago and over an order can be made under the section where the or rection is of an online billing any influentment for bot kind of the In no case russ there have been a pressess connector, which mean, consumen or any offeree as defred in the Code ($ (4) (1) (c)) no matter low that In this respect that now section section to be resembled to its the formation to be not reasons le that a consistent for a point chance under some special or local has should deprive the person so consisted of the benefit of S. 300 m housing to make arms find I most betwee the Court for a trivial offerer, whereas a person of the ence only or a serious crime micht, it there were extending continuations to released on probable

CHAP. XLVI Sec 562

Regard must be had to the age (not the jouth as previously) character or antecedents of the offender and to the circumstances in which the offence was

The period for which a conrect may be bound over under the section has been increased from one year to three years. This is provedy consequential on the fact that far more serious offences than heretofore linke been brought within the purious of the section.

Powers under this section cannot be exercised directly by Magistrates of the third class or by Maistrates of the second class not specialls empowered in that belaff. If any such Magistrate after convicting the accused is of opinion that the case is or o which should be dealt with under the section he will act under the proviso (which is unaltered) that is to say he will record his opinion to that effect and send the case to a Magistrate of the first class or a 28b divisional Magistrate who will dispose of the case in the manner laid down in S 380. The subordinate Magistrate may take bail for the appearance of the accused before the superior Court. As to I rovisions for bail see Se 496 500.

Sub-section (IA)

This is now. The offences referred to tre the same as those which were covered by $ 56 pop to its recent amendment and the circumstances to be taken into consideration are practically the same. The power given is to release the accused after due admonition instead of passing sentence. There must first be a finding of conviction. The sub-section is eleast) not intended to be used as an alternative to giving the accused the benefit of the doubt. Powers under sub-section (rA) are exerciseable by all Courts.

Sub-sections (2) and (3)

Powers under sub sections (1) and (1A) can be exercised by any Appellate Court or by the High Court in revision. This is new but it had already been so held? When there is a right of appeal to the High Court and an appeal is filed Magistrate of the third or second class acts under the provise to the 3 b section it is their powers of jas in bentence which are to be borns in mind and not those of the first class. Magistrate or Si b divisional. Magistrate who passed orders under a 380. It had been held that a  $1 h_0 h$  Court in revision had no power to set aside an order under S 562 and substitute a sentence.

Sub section (4)

S 122 provides for an inquiry as to the fitness of a surety and for an order

S 562 must be read with Ss 563 and 564. The former section deals with the case where there has been a breach of the conditions on which the offender was released and S 564 requires that the Court shall be satisfied before making an order under S 56.2 that the offender or surety has a fixed place of abode or

i Emp t Birch I L R 4 M 306

(3) When an order las been made under this section in respect of any offender, the High Court may, on appeal when there is a right of appeal to such Court, or when exercising its powers of revision, set aside such order, and in lieu thereof pass sentence on such offender according to law

Provided that the High Court shall not under this sub section inflict a greater punishment than might have been inflicted by the Court by which the offender was convicted

- (4) The provisions of sections 122, 126A and 406A sl all so far as may be, apply in the case of sureties offered in pursuance of the provisions of this section
- S 562 has been entirely redrafted by Act No VVIII of 1923 S 157 and its cope has been considerably extended. The original section was applicible a cases of convictions of their their in a building dishonest misappropriation and cliesting (Ss 379 386 493 and 477 Penal Code) or any other offence under the Penal Code not punishable with more than two years impressment. The Control relicase on probation if there was no previous conviction, and regard was too had to the youth character and nuteccedents of the offender to the trivial nature of the offence and to any extenuating circumstances under which the offence was committed. The client defect in the old section was that action could not be taken in respect of offences under special or local laws no matter low trivial the nature thereof might be insame if as the operation of the section was confined to offences punishable under the Penal Code. In the second place its operation was very limited and cases constantly urose in which action under the section seemed desirable but was not possible inder the letter of the law.

be case

There was always considerable doubt as to whether the relevance to dishonest

' ' methoded the aggravated forms of these offender

419 and 420 kenal Code ' The words regard offender indicated that the section was intended

120 premier offenders

In the new section a distinction has been drawn between juvenile and offer officials and women are specially dealt with. Powers are exerciseable in respect of all persons under twenty one years of age and of all women where the constitution is of an offence not punishable with death or with transportation for his that is to say of all but the most second softences. In the case of persons who are eventually one years of age and over an order can be made under the section where it conviction is of an offence punishable with impresonment for not more that so years. In no case must there have been a previous conviction which means a conviction of any offence as defined in the Code [8 (4) (1) (1) on matter how thrul In this respect that new section seems to be unsatisfactory it appears to be in a conviction of that a conviction for a petty of ence under some special or local in should depin a the person so convicted of the benefit of S. 55° whenever he may again find himself before the Court for a trivial officine whereas a person convictione only of a senious crime mach if there were extenuating circumstances be released on probation

&lt;sup>1</sup> Emp t Brch I L R 4 MI 306
<sup>2</sup> Set Imp t Rivia Dudubla 16Cr L J 781 (5 c) 31 Ind a Cases 381 Harin
<sup>2</sup> a v Riji D v 12 MI L I J 105 (c) 1 Ind an Cases 43 S n Irim Ay) ar t h
Liji I L R 11 M I 531 hmj t I cia anta Ila 5 l at L J 307

Regard must be liad to the age (not the south as previously) claracter or antecedents of the offender and to the circumstances in which the offence was committed The circumstances might be provocation not great enough to justify conviction of a minor offence or the exceeding however slightly the right of private defence or generally committing an act which just failed to attract the provisions of the Penal Code as to general exceptions such as Ss 79 80 81 88 80 9

The period for which a convict may be bound over under the section has been increased from one year to three years this is probably consequential on the fact that far more serious offences than heretofore have been brought within the purview of the section

Powers under this section cannot be exercised directly by Magistrates of the third class or by Ma istrates of the second class not specially empowered in that belalf II any such Magistrate after convicting the accused is of opinion that the case is one which should be dealt with under the section he will act under the proviso (which is unaltered) that is to say he will record his opinion to that effect and send the case to a Magistrate of the first class or a Sub divisional Magistrate who will dispose of the case in the manner laid down in S 380. The subordinate Mag strate may tale buil for the appearance of the accused before the superior Court As to 1 roy mans for bail see So 490 500

Sub section (IA)

This is new The offences releared to are the same as those which were covered by S 562 prior to its recent amendment and the circumstances to be talen into consideration are practically the same. The power given is to release the accused after due admonition instead of Lassing sentence. There must first be a finding of conviction. The sub-section is clearly not intended to be used as an alternative to giving the accused the benefit of the doubt. Powers under sub-section (1A) are exerciscable by all Courts

Sub-sections (2) and (3)

Powers under sub sections (1) and (1A) can be exercised by any Appellate Court or by the High Court in revision This is new but it had already been so held ! When there is a right of appeal to the High Court and an appeal is filed or when the High Court takes a case up in revision it can set aside an order made under the section and pass sentence on the oftender This power is not exerciseable by a Magistrate or Court of Session sitting as an Appellate Court The sentence passed by the High Court must not exceed that which might have been passed by the Court which convict a the offend r the difference between this expression and the words the Court which passed the order is to be noted. So where a Magistrate of the third or second class acts under the proviso to the sub section it is their powers of cassing sentence which are to be borne in mind and not those of the first class Magistrate or Sub divisional Magistrate i ho passed o ders under s 380 It had been held that a High Court in revision had no power to set aside an order under S 56 and substitute a sentence 1

Sub section (4)

S 12° provides for an inquiry as to tle fitness of a suret, and for an order

S 56 must be read with Ss 563 and 564. The former section deals with the case where there has been a breach of the conditions on which the offender was released and 5 504 requires that the Court shall be satisfied before making an order under S 502" tlat the offender or suret, has a fixed place of abode or

<sup>1</sup> Emp v Bircl I L R 4 1 306 2 Emp v Ghasite I L R 37 All 31

(3) When an order has been made under this section in respect of any offender, the High Court may, on appeal when there is a right of appeal to such Court, or when exercising its powers of revision, set aside such order, and in lien thereof pass sentence on such offender according to law:

Provided that the High Court shall not under this sub-section inflict a greater punishment than might have been inflicted by the Court by which the offender was convicted

(4) The provisions of sections 122, 126A and 406A shall, so far as may be, apply in the case of sureties offered in pursuance of the provisions of this section

S 562 has been entirely reducted by Act No XVIII of 1023 S 151, and 18 cope has been considerably extended. The original section was applicable in cases of convictions of theft, theft in a building dishonest misappropriation and elicating (Ss 379, 380, 493 and 417, Penal Code), or any other off-nece under the Penal Code not punishable with more than two years, imprisonment. The Code could release on probution if there was no previous conviction, and regard was to ld not trivial

being had to the youth of the offender indicated that the section intended to be applied only in the case of invente offenders denote on lee been drawn between juvenile and other exerciseable in respect n, where the converse ortation for life that bersons who are twenty

<sup>| 1</sup> Fmp t Birch | L R | 24 M | 306 | 5ec Lmp t Runyu D debbas 16Cr | J. 28t | 3ec | 3t ladian Cases | 38t | Hirton Cases | Runyu D debbas 16Cr | J. 28t | Cases | 243 | Sundram Avyut | b | 1 mj | L R | 14 M d | 53 t | mj | t | L va | mt t | Jha, 5 Pat L | J | 367 |

Regard must be had to the age (not the joith as previously) character or anomatical of the offender and to the excumstances in which the offence was committed. The circumstances might be provortion not great enough to justify conviction of a minor offence or the exceeding however slightly the right of private defence or, generally committing an act which just failed to attract the provisions of the Penal Gode as to general exceptions such as $5, 70, 80, 81, 88, 80, 97.

The period for which a convict may be bound over under the section has been increased from one year to three years. This is promish consequential only fact that far more serious offences than heretofore have been brought within the purious of the section.

Powers under this section cannot be exertised directly by Magistrates of the third class or by Ma istrates of the second class not specially empowered in that celladi. If any such Magistrate after convicting the received is of opinion that the case is one which should be dealt with under the section lie will act under this provise (which is unaltered) that is to say be will record his opinion to that effect and send the case to a Magistrate of the first or a Sub divisional Magistrate who will dispose of the case in the manner had down in 5-386. The subordinate Magistrate may take buil for the appearance of the accused before the superior Court. As to trovitions for bails see Sign 1998.

Sub-section IIA)

This is now. The offences referred to use the same as those which were covered by $ 300 prior to its recent amendment and the errormstances to be till or into consideration are practically the same. The power given is to release the accussed after due admonition instead of passing sentence. There must first be a finding of conviction. The sub-section is clearly not intraded to be used as an alternative to giving the accussed the beneath of the doubt. Powers under sub-section (rA) are exerciseable, by all Courts

Sub-sections (2) and (3)

Powers under sub-sections (1) and (1A) can be exercised by any Appellate Court or by the High Court in revision This is new but it had already been so held 1 When there is a right of appeal to the High Court and an appeal is filed or when the High Court tales a case up in revision it can set aside an order made under the section and pass sentence on the oftender. This power is not exerciseable by a Magistrate or Court of Session sitting as an Appellate Court The sentence passed by the High Court must not exceed that which much have been passed by the Court which convict a the offender the difference between this expression and the words the Court which passed the order is to be noted. So where a Magistrate of the third or second class acts under the proviso to the sub section, it is their po c in mind and not those of the first e te who passed orders under s. 180 works had no power to set aside an

Sub section (4)

S 122 provides for an inquiry as to the fitness of a surety and in order refusing to accept a surety offende or rejecting a surety already notes $ 40.4 provides for an upp at against su h orders $ 1266 h lays deficiely forced to be followed when a surety has been rejected or applies to be for sed from the first of the followed when a surety has been rejected or applies to be for sed from the first of the

the case where there has was released and S 564 an order under S 5622

Lmp t Birch I L at and at 300 Lmp t Ghasite I L R 37 Ml 31

ar

regular occupation in the place for which the Court acts or in which the offender is likely to live during the pendency of the order

An appeal will he to the Sessions Judge from an order passed under S 563

in a summary trial i

Though the powers given by S 56° should be freely exercised still when cir cumstances permit action should be taken rather under the Reformatory Schools Act (VIII of 1897) S 31 in the case of boys or girls under fifteen years of age S 31 enables any Court 1 e a High Court Court of Session District Magistrate or any Magistrate specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf ($ 8 (2)) instead of sentencing such a person to transportation or imprisonment of directing him to be detained in a Reformatory School to order him to be (a) discharged after due admonition or

(b) del vered on : r I is t male adult relative on without sureties as the 1 (1 13 63 1 1 our for any period not Conrt ( ) exceed 6 1 the 1 toutus

S 31 of the Reformatory Schools Act (VIII of 1897) also in the same manner as in $ 502 provides for a case in which a Magistrate may not be competent himself to make such an order should be passed he need subm + to a c person T and receive

(1) If the Court which convicted the offender or a Court which could have dealt with the offender Provision in case in respect of his original offence is satisfied that the offender has failed to observe any of of offender failing to observe conditions of his recognizances the conditions of his recognizance, it may issue

a warrant for his apprel ension

(2) An offender, when apprehended on any such warrant shall be brought forthwith before the Court issuing the warrant. and such Court may either remand him in custody until the case is heard or admit him to bail with a sufficient surety conditioned on his appearing for sentence Such Court may, after hearing the case, pres sentence

(1) The Court, before directing the release of an offender vendulons 1s to under section 562 sub section (1) shall be vears off; so satisfied that the offender or his suret; (if an) convection of a sec of abode or regular occupation in the repect it bacts or in which it confined is likely to live during the solution of the operation of the conditions of the section or in sections 562 and 563 shall is a section 31 of the Reformator, Schools

"- 187 N !!

In regard to S 31 of the Reformator, Schools Act (VIII of 1897) see note to S 562 ant

Order for no slying address of previously convicted offender

565 (1) When any person having been convicted-

- (a) by a Court in British India of an offence pumishable under section 215, section 489A section 489B section 489C, or section 489D of the Indian Penal Code or of any offence pumishable under Chapter XII or Chapter XVII of that Code with imprisonment of either description for a term of three years or inwards or
- (b) by a Court or Tribunal in the territories of any Prince or State in India acting under the general or special authority of the Governor General in Council, or of any Local Government, of any offence which would, if committed in British India have been punishable under any of the aforesaid sections or Chapters of the Indian Peral Code with like imprisonment for a like term is again convicted of any offence purish able under any of those sections or Chapters with imprisonment for a term of three years or upwards by a High Court Court of Session. Presidency Magistrate District Magistrate, Sub divisional Magistrate of Magistrate of the first class such Court or Magistrate may if it or he tilms fit, at the time of passing sentence of transportation or imprisonment on such person also order that his residence and any change of or absence from such residence after release he notified as heromatter provided for a term not executing five years from the date of the expiration of such sentence.

- (2) If such conviction is sot uside on appeal or otherwise, such order shall become youl
- (3) The Local Government may make rules to carry out the provisions of this section relating to the notification of residence or change of or absence from residence by roleased convicts
- (4) An order under this section may also be made by an Appel late Court or by the High Court when exercising its powers of revision
- (5) Any person reginst whom an order has been made under this section and who refuses or neglects to comply with any rule so made shall be deemed within the meaning of section 176 of the Indian Penal Code to have omitted to give a notice required for the purpose of preventing the commussion of an offence

- (6) Any person charged with a breach of any such rule may be tried by a Magistrate of competent jurisdiction in the district m which the place last rotified by him as his place of residence is situated
- S 565 has been redrafted by Act No XVIII of 1923, S 158 amendment the only offences, previous conviction of which justified an order under the section, were offences under Chapters XII and XVII of the Penal Code, that is offences relating to Coin and Government Stamps, and offences against property. To these have now been added offences under S 215, Itaking a gift for helping in the recovery of stolen property while at the same time screening the offender), and Ss 489A, 489B 489C, 489D, Penal Code (offences relating to currency-notes It is also provided that an order will be justified by a conviction and Bank notes) by certain Courts in Indian States in respect of an act which, if committed in British India, would have been an offence under any of the Chapters or sections enumerated See also S 75, Penal Code It is necessary that the offence which was the subject of the previous conviction should have been punishable in British India with imprisonment for three years or upwards, it is not necessary that a sentence amounting to three years imprisonment should be passed. But in order that, on a subsequent conviction, action may be taken under S 565, a sentence of imprisonment or transportation must be passed, such an order cannot be added to a sentence of whipping 1 It must be made at the time of passing sentence, that is to say it nade by an in office, thus f VISION Appellate Cour

Powers under S 565 are now exerciseable by all first class Magistrates, and not only by such as are specially empowered

The former section enabled the Court to order that the convict's residence and change of residence should be notified. The new section provides also for notification of a temporary absence from the residence originally notified. It had been held that notice of residence is not for the purpose of preventing the commission of an offence, and that failure to give notice was punishable united his first part of S 776, Penal Code? This case is now rendered obsolete by the enactment of sub-section (5) which replaces the former sub-section (4) result is to enhance the maximum penalty from one month's simple impresonment, and a fine of five hundred rupees, to six months simple impresonment and a fine of one thousand rupees.

Rules as to notification of residence by released convicts have been made by all Local Governments, and will be found in the various provincial Manuals of rules and orders

Sub-section (6), which is new, defines the local jurisdiction of Courts over breaches of rules made under sub-section (3) The offence is triable by any Magis trate, having power to try an offence under S 176, Penal Code, in the district in which the offender's place of residence as last notified by him is situated

Emp : Fulji Ditya, I L R , 55 Bom 137.
 See Re Nadda \ hengadu, I.L R , 40 Mad 789, now rendered obsolete.
 Emp v Hussain Beg, I L R , 37 Mad 548.

SCHEDULE I. ENACTMENTS REPEALED

[REPEALED BY ACT X OF 1914]

TABULAR STATEMENT

CHAPTER V.--

EXPLANATORY NOT:—The entries in the second and seventh columns of this Code," are not intended as definitions of the offences and punishments described in these sections, but merely as references to the subject of the section, the number of The third column of this sebedule applies also to the police in the towns of

1	2	8		4
XLV of 1860 Section.	Offence, Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not		Whether rant or mons sha narily is the first in	a su Il o sue	m rdı- ın
109	Abetment of any offence, if the act abetted is committed in conse- quence, and where no express provision is made for its punish- ment	out wa	for the abet- abet- ay be without t, but	summo summo issue offence ted.	a II or	nay the
110	Abetment of any offence, if the person abetted does the act with a different intention from that of the abettor	Ditto		Ditto	•	•
111	Abetment of any offence, when one act is abetted and a differ- ent act is done, subject to the proviso	Detto		Ditto	•	•
113	Abetment of any offence, when an effect is caused by the act abetted different from that in- tended by the abettor	Ditto		Datto	•	•
114	Abetment of any offence, if abet- tor is present when offence is committed	Ditto		Ditto	•	•
115	Abetment of an offence, punish able with death or transporta- tion for life, if the offence be not committed in consequence of the abetment	Ditto		Dıtto	•	•
	If an act which eauses harm be done in consequence of the abet- ment.	Ditto		Ditto	•	٠
116	Abetment of an offence, pnnishable with imprisonment, if the offence be not committed in consequence of the abetment.	Ditto		Dıtto	•	•

OF OFFENCES

ARPTMENT

schedule, headed respectively "Offence" and "Punishment under the Indian Penal the several corresponding sections of the Indian Penal Code, or even as abstracts of which is given in the first column Calcutta and Bombay

5 6

7 я

Whether bailable or not

Whether compoundable or not

Punishment under the By what Court triable

According as the offence abetted is bailable or not

Ditto

Ditto

able or not ted

According as the The same punishment. The Court by which offence abetted as for the offence observed is compound intended to be abet.

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto The same punishment as for the offence

Ditto

Ditto Ditto

Ditto

Ditto Ditto

Ditto Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

committed Ditto

Ditto

Not bailable

Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine Imprisonment of either description for 14 years and fine Datte Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Imprisonment extend ing to a quarter part of the longest term and of any descrip-tion provided for the Ditto

According as the offence abetted is bailable or not offence, or fine or both

CHAPTER V -

1	2	3	4
LV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war tant or a sum inons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
	If the abettor or the person abet ted be a public servant whose duty it is to prevent the offence	May arrest with out warrant if arrest for the offence abet ted may be made without warrant but not otherwise	According as a warrant or summons may issue for the offence about
117	Abetting the commission of an offence by the public or by more than ten persons	Ditto	Dutto
118	Concealing a design to commit an offence punishable with death or transportation for life if the offence be committed	Ditto	Ditto
	If the offence be not committed	Ditto	Ditto
119	A public servant concealing a de sign to commit an offence which it is his duty to prevent if the offence be committed	D <sub>i</sub> tto	Ditto
	If the offence be punishable with death or transportation for life	Ditto	Ditto
	If the offence be not committed	Ditto	Ditto
120	Concealing a design to commit an offence punishable with impra- sonment if the offence be com- mitted	Ditto	Ditto

II —(Contd )

ABETMENT-(Contd)

5

6

both

8

Whether bailable or not

Whetber eompoundable or not

7

Punishment under the By what Court triable

According as the According as the offence abetted is bailable or not offence abetted is compound able or not and of any description provided for the offence, or fine or Imprisonment extend The Court by which tending to half of the offence abetted is the longest term, triable

Ditto

Not bailable

Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either description for 3 years or fine or Imprisonment of either description for 7

Ditto

Ditto

[Barlable] According as the Ditto Ditto

Imprisonment of either description for 3 years and fine Imprisonment extension to half of the longest term and of years and fine

Ditto Ditto

offence abetted 15 bailable or not any description provided for the offence or fine or both Impresonment of either description for 10

Not bailalle 'JBaiJable]

Ditto years Datto

Imprisonment extend ing to a quarter part of the longest term Ditto Ditto

'[According as

Ditto

and of any descrip offence or fice or hoth Imprisonment extend the offence con cealed is bail able or not] mg to a quarter part of the longest term and of any description provided for the offence

Ditto

Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment 4 1923 (XVIII of 1923)

CHAPTER V -

1
XII
1860 Secto	) on

2 Offence

Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not

Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance

If the offence he not committed

May arrest with out warrant if arrest for the offence abet ted may he made without ted warrant hut

3

According as a warrantor summons may issue for the offence abet

2[CHAPTER VA -

Criminal conspiracy to commit an May arrest with According as a 120B offence punishable with death transportation or rigorous im prisonment for a term of two years or upwards arrest for the offence which is the object of the conspiracy may be made without war rant hut not otherwise not otherwise

out warrant if offence which is the object of the cons Diracy

warrantor

summons may issue for the

Any other criminal consuracy

Shall not arrest Summons without a war rant

CHAPTER VI -OFFENCES

Waging or attempting to wage Shall not arrest Warrant 121 war, or abetting the waging of

without war rant

war against the Queen 121A Conspiring to commit certain of Ditto Ditto fences against the State

Collecting arms etc with the in 122 tention of waging war against

Ditto Ditto

the Queen

123 Concealing with intent to facili tate a design to wage war

Ditto Ditto

This chapter was inserted by S 6 and the Sch of the Indian Criminal Law Amendment Act 1913 (VIII of 1915)

II - (Contd )

ABETMENT-(Contd)

5 Whether bailable G

7

ABETMENT

or not

Whether compoundable or not

Punishment under the By what Court triable

fine or both

8

'[Bailable]

lecording as the offence abetted is compound able or not

Imprisonment extend ing to one-eighth part of the longest term and of the des cription provided for the offence or

The Court by which the offence abetted is triable

CPIMINAL CONSPIRACY ]

offence which is the object of the conspi racy is bail able or not

According as the Not compound The same punishment Court of Session when as that provided for the apetment of the offence which is the objec of the conspi PACY

the offence which is the object of the conspiracy ia triable exclusively by such Court in the case of all other offences Court of Session Presidency Magistrate

Bailable

Ditto

able

Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 6 months and fine or both or Magastrate of the first class or Magistrate of the first class

ACAINST THE STATE

Not bailable Not compound Death or transports Court of Session tion for life and able finel Ditto Ditto Transportation for life Ditto or any shorter term or imprisonment of eith r descript on for 10 years '[and fine] Ditto Transportation for life Ditto Ditto or imprisonment of either description for 10 years and [fine] Ditto Imprisonment of either Ditto Ditto description for 10 years and fine Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment Act. 1923 (XVIII of 1993)

*This word was substituted for the words forfeiture of property by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act 1923 (VIII of 1923)

These words were inserted by ibid

CHAPTER VI.-OFFENCES

1	2	3		4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether police may without w or no	arrest	Whether a rant or a mons shall narily issu the first inst	sum ordi- e in
121	Assaulting Governor General, Gov- ernor, etc. with intent to com- pel or restrain the exercise of any lawful power.	without	arrest war-	Warrant .
124A	Sedition	Ditto		Ditto .	•
125	Waging war against any Asiatic Power in alliance or at peace with the Queen, or abetting the waging of such war.	Ditto		Ditto •	•
126	Committing depredation on the territories of any power in alliance or at peace with the Queen	Pitto		Ditto .	•
127	Receiving property taken by war or depredation mentiooed in sections 125 and 126.	Ditto		Ditto •
128	Public servant voluntarily allow- ing prisoner of State or war in his custody to escape	Ditto		Ditto •
129	Public servant negligently suffer ing prisoner of State or war in his custody to escape.	Ditto		Ditto .	٠
130	Aiding escape of, rescuing or har- bouring, such prisoner, or offer- ing any resistance to the re- capture of such prisoner.	Ditto		Ditto .	٠

II -(Contd)

AGAINST THE STATE-(Contd)

	 ,
5	c	-

Whether bailable or not	Whether compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable
or not	or not	Indian Penal Code	-y what court (plante

or not	or not	Indian Penal Code	by what Court (plante
Not bailable	Not compound	Imprisonment of either description for 7	Court of Session

		years and me
Ditto	Ditto	Transportation for life or for any term and fine or imprison ment of either des cription for 3 years and fine or fine	Court of Session Chief Presidency Magis trate or District Magistrate or Magis trate of the first class specially empowered by the Local Lovern

		fine or imprison ment of either des cription for 3 years and fine or fine	true or District Magistrate or Magis trate of the first class specially empowered by the Local Government in that behalf
Ditto	Ditto	Transportation for life and fine or im prisonment of either description for 7	Court of Session

			ment in that behalf
Ditto	Ditte	Transportation for life and fine or im prisonment of either description for 7 years and fine or hne	Court of Session
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine and forfeiture of certain	Ditto

Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine and forfeiture of certain property	Ditto
D tto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine and forfeiture of certain property	Ditto

Ditto	Ditto	Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Ditto
Ba lable	Ditto	Simple imprisonment f r 3 years and fine	Court of Sess on Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class

				first class
Not	bailable	Ditto	Transportation for life or impresonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Court of Session

143

SCHEDULE

	CHAPTER VII.—OFTENCES RELATE
1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence.	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi harily issue in the first instance
131	Abetting mutiny, or attempting to seduce an officer, soldier or sailor from his allegiance or duty	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant .
132	Abetment of mutny, if mutiny is committed in consequence thereof	Ditto	Ditto .
183	Abetment of an assault by an officer soldier or saidor on his superior officer, when in the execution of his office	Ditto	Ditto .
131	Abetment of such assault, if the assault is committed	Ditto	Ditto ·
135	Abetment of the desertion of an officer, soldier or sailor	Ditta ,	Ditto .
136	Harbouring such an officer, soldier or sailor, who has deserted	Ditto .	Ditto .
137	Deserter concealed on board mer chant vessel, through negligence of master or person in charge thereof	Shall not arrest without war rant	Summons
139	Abetment of act of insubordina tion by an officer, soldier or sailor, if the offence be commit ted in consequence	May arrest with out warrant	Warrent
240	Wearing the dress or carrying any token used by a soldier with intent that it may be believed that he is such a soldier	Ditto	Summons . *
	CHAPTER VIII.—OFFENCES AGAINST

Being member of an unlawful May arrest with Summons assembly out warrant

8

Detto

II —(Contd)

5

TO THE ARMS AND NASS

6

Whether badalle or not compoundable or not or the ladian Penal Code ladian Penal Code

7

Not bailable Not compound Transportation for life Court of Session able or imprisonment of either description for 10 years, and fine

Ditto Death or transporta Ditto

prisonment of either description for 10 years, and fine

Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either Court of Session Press description for 3 dency Magistrate of years and fine Magistrate of the first class

Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either Court of Session description for 7 years and fine

Bailable Ditto Impresonment of other Presidency Magnitude description for 2 or Magnitude of the post of fine or first or second class both

Fine of 500 runees

Ditto Ditto Ditto

Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either Ditto description for 6 months or fine or Bitto Imprisonment of either Any Magistrate description for 3 months or fine of 500 rupees or both

THE PUBLIC TRANQUILLITY

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Bailable Not compound Imprisonment of either Any Magistrate description for 6 meths or fine, or

CHAPTER VIII .- OFFENCES AGAINST

1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section.	Offence.	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not.	Whether a war- rant or a sun- mony shall ordi- natily issue in the first instance
144	Joining an unlawful assembly armed with any deadly weapon,	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
145	Joining or continuing in an un- lawful assembly, knowing that it has been commanded to dis perse	Ditto	D <sub>i</sub> tfo
147	Rioting	Ditto	Ditto
148	Rioting, armed with a deadly weapon	Ditto	Ditto
149	If an offence be committed by any member of an unlawful assembly, every other member of such assembly shall be guilty of the offence	rest may be made without	According as a warrant or summons may issue for the offence
150	Hiring, engaging or employing persons to take part in an un- lawful assembly	May arrest with- out warrant	According to the offence torve mitted by the person bired, engaged or employed.
151	Knowingly joining or continuing in any assembly of five or more persons after it has been com- manded to disperse	Ditto	Summons
152	manded to disperse Assaulting or obstructing public servant when suppressing riot, etc.	Ditto	Warrant . '
153	Wantonly giving prospeation with intent to cause 150t, if risting be committed	Ditto	Ditto · ·
	If not committed	Ditto	Summons
153Å	Promoting enmity between elasses	Shall not arrest without war-	Warrant

II .-- (Contd.)

THE PUBLI	cТ	RA	VOUILLITY	—(Ca	ntd.).
5			6		7	8
Whether by or not		le	Whether Compound or not	lable	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable
Bailable			Not com able	pound	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years, or fine, or both	Any Magistrate
Ditto	•		Ditto		Ditto	Ditto .
Ditto			Ditto		Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	•	•	Ditto	•	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years, or fine, or both	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
According offence 1 able or	s ba		Ditto		The same as for the offence	The Court by which the offence is triable
Ditto	•		Ditto		The same as for a member of such as sembly, and for any offence committed by any member of such assembly	Ditto
Bailable	•		Ditto	•	Imprisonment of either description for 6 months, or fine, or both	Any Magistrate
Ditto	•		Ditto	•	Imprisonment of either description for 8 years, or fine, or both	Court of Session, Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto		•	Ditto		Imprisooment of either description for 1 year, or fine, or	Any Magistrate
Ditto			Ditto	•	both Imprisooment of either description for 6 months, or fine, or	Ditto
Not bail:	ble	•	Ditto		both Impresonment of either description for 2 years, or fine, or both	or Magistrate of the

CHAPTER VIII -OFFENCES AGAINST

1	2	8		4
LV of 1860 ection	Offence	Whether police may without to or no	y arrest varrant	Whether a v rant or 4 si mons shall o narrly issue the first instan	rd 10
151	Owner or occupier of land not giving information of riot etc	Shall not without rant	arrest war	Summons
155	Person for whose benefit or on whose behalf a riot takes place not using all lawful means to prevent it	Ditto		Ditto
156	Agent of owner or occupier for whose benefit a riot is commit ted not using all lawful means to prevent it	Ditto		Ditto
157	Harbouring persons hired for an unlawful assembly	May arres	t with rent	Drtto
153	Being lured to take part in an unlawful assembly or riot	Ditto		D tto
159	Or to go armed	Ditto		Warrant
160	Committing affray	Shall not without rant	arrest war	Summons
		CHAPTER	1X(	FFENCES BY	o
161	Being or expecting to be a pullic servant and taking a gratifica tion other than legal reminera tion in respect of an official act	Shall not without rant	ntrest , war	Summons
103	Taking a gratification in order by corrupt or illegal means to in fluence a public seriant	D tto		$D_itto$
163	Taking a gratification for the ex- ercise of personal influence with a public servant	Ditto		Ditto
Ìus	Abetment by public servant of the offences defined in the last two preceding clauses with refer- ence to himself	Ditto		Datto

II .- (Contd )

THE	Public	TRANQUILLITY-(Contd	).
	3	6

3	•
Whether bailable or not.	Whether Compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable
Bailable .	Not compound able	Fine of 1,000 rupees	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class
Ditto	Ditto .	Fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 6 months, or fine or both	$\mathbf{D}_{\mathrm{ltto}}$
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years or fine, or hoth	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 1 mouth, or fine of 100 rupees, or both	Any Magistrate
RELATING TO P	UBLIC SERVANTS
Bailable	Not compound able	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years or fine, or both	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Simple imprisonment for 1 year or fine or both	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years or fine, or both	Court of Session, Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of first class.
118		2011	Treat rines!

		CHAPTER IX.	OFFENCES BY OR
1	2	8	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
165	Public servant obtaining any valuable thing, without considera- tion, from a person concerned in any proceeding of business transacted by such public servant	Shall not arrest without was rant	Summons
166	Public servant dis-obeying a direc- tion of the law with intent to cause injury to any person	Ditto .	Ditto
167	Public servent framing an in correct document with intent to cause injury	Ditto	Ditta
168	Public servant unlawfully engaging in trade	Ditto	Ditto
169	Public servant unlawfully buying or bidding for property	Ditto	Ditto •
170	Personating a public servant	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant .
171	Wearing garb or carrying token used by public servant with fraudulent intent	Ditto	Summons
		¹[CHAPTER I	XAOFFENCES
171E	Bribery	Shall not arrest without war rant	Summons
171P	Undue influence and personation at an election	Ditto .	Ditto .
171G	False statement in connection with an election	Ditto	Ditto .
Act, 1920	entries were added by S S of the In XXXIX of 1920)	dian Elections Offe	nces and Inquines

II -(Contd)

RELATING TO PUBLIC SERVANTS (Confd)

5 6 R Whether Punishment under the Thether bailable Ce mpoundable By what Court triable or not Indian Penal Code or not Bailable Not compound Simple imprisonment Presidency Magistrate able for years or fine or Magistrate of the or both first or second class Ditto Ditto Ditto Simple imprisonment for I year, or fine, or both

Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presidescription for 3 dency Magnitrate or years or fine, or both first class

Ditto Ditto Imprisonment Presidency Magnitrate

Ditto Ditto Simple imprisonment for 2 years or fine, or Magistrate of the first class

Ditto Ditto Simple imprisonment Ditto for 2 years or fine, or both and confis cation of property, if purchased

Ditto D tto Impressment of either Any Magistrate description for 2 years or fine, or both Impresonment of either Ditto description for 3 months or fine of 200 rupees or both

RELATING TO ELECTIONS

bailable Not compound Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the nble description for 1 year, or fine or both or if treating OT first class only, fine only Imprisonment of either Ditto Ditto Ditto description for 1 year, or fine or both D tto Ditto Fue Ditto

CHAPTER IX A -OFFENCES

		CHAPIER I	A A -OFFERE
1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offenre	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
171H	Illegal payments in connection with elections	Shall not arrest without war rant	Summons ,
171]	Failure to keep election accounts.	Dotto	Ditto
	CHAPTER	X —CONTEMPTS	OF THE LAWFUL
172	Absconding to avoid service of summons or other proceedings from a public servant	Shall not arrest without war rant	Summons
	If summons or notice require at tendance in person, etc., in a Court of Justice	Ditto	Ditto
179	Preventing the service or the affix ing of any summons or notice, or the removal of it when it has been affixed or preventing a proclamation	Ditto	Ditto
	If summons, etc require attend ance in person etc., in a Court of Justice	Ditto	Ditto
174	Not obeying a legal order to attend at a certain place in person or by agent, or depart ing therefrom without authority	Ditto	Ditto
	If the order require personal at tendance, etc in a Court of Justice	Ditto	Ditto
175	Intentionally omitting to produce a document to a public servant by a person legally bound to pro- duce or deliver such document	Ditto .	Ditto
	If the document is required to be produced in or delivered to a Court of Justice	Ditto	Ditto

II .- (Contd.)

RELATING TO ELECTIONS-(Contd.).
. 5	e	7	8
Whether bailsble or not	Whether Compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable.
Bailable .	Not compound able	line of 500 rupees	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto .	Ditto	Fine of 500 rupers .	Ditto
AUTHORITY OF	PUBLIC SERVANT	9.
Bailable	Not compound able	Simple imprisonment for 1 month, or fine of 500 rupees, or	Any Magistrate
Ditto	Ditto	Simple impresonment for 6 months, or fine of 1,000 rupees, or	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	both Simple imprisonment for 1 month, or fine of 500 rupees, or both	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second elass
Ditto .	Ditto	Simple imprisonment for 6 months, or fine of 1,000 rupees, or both	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Simple imprisonment for 1 month, or fine of 500 rupees, or both	Any Magistrate
Ditto	Ditto	Simple imprisonment for 6 months, or fine of 1,000 rupees, or both	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Simple imprisonment for 1 month or fine of 500 rupees, or both
Ditto	Ditto	Simple imprisonment for 6 months, or fine of 1,000 rupees, or both	Ditto

ı

2

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER X .- CONTEMPT OF THE LAWFUL

•	-
KLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether police may without wo or no	y arrest arrent	Whether rant or mons sha narrly is the first in	as II o sue	tu ngi
176	Intentionally omitting to give notice or information to a public servant by a person legally bound to give such notice or in formation	Shall not without rant		Summons
	If the notice or information re- quired respects the commission of an offence, etc	Ditto		Ditto	•	•
177	Knowingly furnishing false information to a public servant	Ditto		Ditto
	If the information required respects the commission of au offence, etc	Ditto		Ditto	•	•
178	Refusing oath when duly required to take oath by a public servant	Ditto		Ditto	•	•
179	Being legally bound to state truth, and refusing to answer questions	Ditto		Ditto
180	Refusing to sign a statement made to a public servant when legally required to do so	Ditto		Ditto		•
181	Knowingly stating to a public servant on oath as true that which is false	Ditto		Warrant	٠	•
182	Giving false information to a public servant in order to causa- him to use his lawful power to the injury or annoyance of any person	Ditto		Summons		•
 183	Resistance to the taking of pro- perts by the lawful authority of a public servant	Ditto		Ditto		•

Ditto

II .-- (Contd.)

A	 T3	C	(C1)

Ditto

Authority	OF	F	UBLIC SER	VANTS	-(Contd.).
5			G		7	8
Whether ha		le	Whether Compound or not	lable	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code.	By what Court triable
Bailable		•	Not comp able	ound-	Simple imprisonment for 1 month, or fine of 500 rupers, or both.	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class,
Ditto			Ditto		Simple imprisonment for 6 months, or fine of 1,000 rupees, or both
Ditto	•		Ditto		Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	•	•	Ditto		Imprisonment of either description for 2 years, or fine, o both.
Ditto	•		Ditto		Simple imprisonment for 6 months, or fine of 1,000 rupees, or both
Ditto			Ditto		Ditto	Ditto.
Ditto			Ditto		Simple amprisonment for 3 months, or his of 500 rupees, or both	•
Ditto			. Ditto	•	. Imprisonment of either description for years, and fine	Court of Session, Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto			. Ditto	•	. Imprisonment of either description for to months, or fine of 1000 rapees, or both	f first or second class

904

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER X -CONTEMPT OF THE LAWFUL

	Ollis Ilin
1	2	3		4
KLV of 1860 section	Offence	Whether police may without w or no	arrest arrant	Whether a wrant or a sur mons shall or narrly issue i the first instan	ր dı n
184	Obstructing sale of property offer ed for sale hy authority of a public servant	Shall not without rant	arrest war	Summons
185	Bidding by a person under a legal incapacity to purchase it for property at a lawfully author rized sale, or bidding without intending to perform the obliga- tions incurred thereby	Ditto		Ditto
186	Obstructing public servant in dis charge of his public functions	Ditto		Ditto
187	Omission to assist public servant when bound by law to give such assistance	Ditto		Ditto
	Wilfully neglecting to aid a public servant who demands aid in the execution of process the pre vention of offences etc	Ditto		Ditto
188	Disobedience to an order lawfully promulgated by a public servant if such disobedience causes obs- truction annoyance or ir jury to persons lawfully employed	Ditto		Ditto
	If such disobedience causes danger to human life health or safety, etc	Ditto		Ditto
189	Threatening a public servant with injury to him or one in whom he is interested, to induce him to do or forbear to do any official act	Ditto		Ditto
£90	Threatening any person to induce him to refrain from making a legal application for protection from injury	Ditto	•	Ditto

R

II —(Contd )

5

114

AUTHORITA	OF	Public	SERVANTS-	(Contd)	١

6

Whether. Punishment under the By what Court triable Whether bailable compoundable or not or not Bailat le Not compound Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate able description for 1 or Magistrate of the month, or fine of first or second class 500 rupees, or both Ditto . Ditto . Imprisonment of either Ditto description for 1 month, or fine 200 rupees, or both Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either Ditto description for 3 months or fine of 500 rupees or both Ditto Simple imprisonment Ditto Ditto for 1 month, or fine of 200 rupees or both Ditto Ditto Simple imprisonment Ditto for 6 months or fine of 500 rupees, or both Ditto Ditto Simple imprisonment Ditto for 1 month or fine of 200 rupees or hoth

Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either Biffo description for 6 months, or fine of 1.000 rupees OI both

Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either Ditto description for 2 years, or fine, or both Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either Ditto description for or fine year both

CHAPTER XI -FALSE EVIDENCE AND

1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
193	Giving or fabricating false evid ence in a judicial proceeding	Shall not arrest without war rant	Warrant
	Giving or fabricating false evid ence in any other case	Ditto	Ditto
191	Giving or fabricating false evid ence with intent to cause any person to be convicted of a capital offence	Ditto	Ditto
	If innocent person be thereby con- victed and executed	Ditto	Ditto
193	Giving or fabricating false evidence with intent to procure courselon of an offence punishable with transportation for life or with imprisonment for T years or upwards	Ditto	Ditto
196	Using in a judicial proceed ng evid ence known to be false or labri eated	Ditto	Ditto
197	Anowingly issuing or signing a false certificate relating to any fact of which such certificate is by law admissible in evidence	Ditto	Ditto
198	Using as a true certificate one known to be false in a material point	Ditto	Ditto
199	False statement made in any de claration which is by law receiv	Ditto	Ditto
200	able as evidence Using as true any such declara	Ditto	Ditto
20t	tion known to be false Causing disappearance of evidence of an offence committed or giv ing false information touching it to acreen the offender, if a		Ditto

II .- (Contd )

Overs one course There are the

OFFENCES AGAINST PUBLIC JUSTICE.
5	G	7	8
Whether bailable or not	Whether compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable
Bailable	Not compound able	Impresonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Court of Session, Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Impresonment of either description for 3 years, and fine	Ditto
Not bailable .	Ditto	Transportation for life, or rigorous imprison ment for 10 years and fine	Court of Session
Ditto	Ditto	Death or as above	Ditto
'[Not baslable]	Ditto	The same as for the offence	Ditto
According as the offence of giv ing such evi dence is bail able or not	Ditto	The same as for giving or fabricating false evidence	Court of Session, Presidency Magistrate of Magistrate of the first class
Bailable	Ditto	The same as for giving false evidence	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Court of Session

&lt;sup>1</sup> The words 'Not bailable" was substituted for the word "Bailable" by Part II of the Second Schedule to the Repealing and Amending Act, 1903 (I of 1903)

1

2

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER XI -- FALSE EVIDENCE AND

XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
-01 -(contd)	If punishable with transportation for life or imprisonment for 10 years	Shall not arrest without war rant	Warrant
	If punishable with less than 10 years imprisonment	Ditto	Diffo
202	Intentional omission to give information of an offence by a person legally bound to inform	Ditto	Summons
203	Giving false information respect ing an offence committed	D tto	Warrant
704	Secreting or destroying any document to prevent its production as evidence	Ditto	Ditto
_0 5	False personation for the purpose of any act or proceeding in a suit or eriminal prosecution or for becoming bail or security	Ditto	Ditto
206	Fraudulent removal or conceal ment ete of property to pre vent its seizure as a forfetture or in satisfaction of a fine under sentence or in execution of a decree	Ditto	Ditto
207	Cla ming property without right or practising deception touch ing any right to it to prevent its heing taken as a forfeiture, or in satisfaction of a fine under ventence or in execution of a	Ditto	Ditto
208	decree fraudulently suffering a decree to pass for a sum not due or suffer ing decree to be executed after it has been satisfed	Ditto	Dit o
209	False claim in a Court of Justice	D tto	Ditto

II -(Contd)

5

OFFENCES AGAINST PUBLIC JUSTICE-(Contd)

Whether bailed le or not	Whether compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	В	what Court trial le

•

Bailable	Not compound alle	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class

Ditto	Ditto	Impresonment for a Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the est term and of the description, provid by which the offence of for the offence, or is triable

		fine or both
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 6 or Magistrate of the months or fine or first or second class both

Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of description for years or fine both	r 2		0
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto		Presidency	Magistrate

		both
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of est	her Court of Session, Presi

		first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Pres description for 3 dency Magistrate of years or fne or Magistrate of the firs both class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrat description for 2 or Magistrate of the years or fine or first or second class both

Ditto	D tto	Detto	D tto

D tto	Ditto	Ditto	Pres dency Magistrat or Magistrate of th first class
D tto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 2	Ditto

years and fine

CHAPTER XI.-FALSE EVIDENCE AND

1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not
210	Praudulently obtaining a decree for a sum not due, or causing a decree to be executed after it has been satisfied	Shall not arrest without war rant	Warrant
211	False charge of offence made with intent to injure	Ditto .	Ditto
	If offence charged be punishable with imprisonment for 7 years or upwards	Ditto . ,	Ditto .
	If offence charged be capital, or punishable with transportation for life	Ditto	Ditto
212	Harbouring an offender, if the offence be capital	May arrest with out warrant	Ditto · ·
	If punishable with transportation for life, or with imprisonment for 10 years	Ditto	Ditto
	If punishable with imprisonment for 1 year and not for 10 years	Ditto	Ditto
213	Taking gift, etc., to screen an offender from punishment, if the	without war-	Ditto offence be capital  If punishable with transportation for life or with imprisonment for 10 years	rant ] Ditto	Ditto
	If with imprisonment for less than 10 years	Ditto	Ditto . '
214	Offering gift or restoration of pro- perty in consuleration of screen ing offender, if the offence be- capital	"[Shall not arrest without war- rant]	Ditto · '

These words were substituted by S 159 of the Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act 1923 (NVIII of 1923)

II -(Contd)

OFFENCES AGAINST PUBLIC JUSTICE-(Contd)

5 6 7

Whether bailed le or not	Whether compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable
Bailable	Not compound able	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years or fine or both	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto .	Ditto	Court of Session
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either ilescription for 5 years and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Bitto	Imprisonment for a quarter of the long est term, and of the description provid ed for the offence or fine or both	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class or Court by which the offence is triable
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for T years and fine
D tto	D tto .	Impresonment of either description gor 3 years and fine	dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first
Ditto	, Ditto	Impresonment for a quarter of the long est term and of the description, provid ed for the offeace or fine or both	class Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class or Court by which the offence is triable
Ditto .	. Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years, and fine	Court of Session

	CRAF	TER XL	Falsi	EVIDEN	E S	S TD
1	2	3		4
XLV of 1970 Section	Offeste.	Whether police may without wa er not	arrest reant	Whether rant or i more shall narily us the first in	l su l cr	ndr na
-(rentd)	If punishable with transportation for life, or with imprisonment for 10 years	Shall not without rant.	arrest war-	Warrant	•
	If with imprisonment for less than 10 years.	Drtto		Ditto	•	•
215	Taking gift to help to recover moreshie property of which a person has been deprived by an off-nce, without causing appre- hension of offender.	'[May # r: without rant.]	rest war	Ditto
g16	Harbouring an offender who has escaped from custody, or whose apprehension has been ordered, if the offence be capital	Ditto		Ditto	•	•
	If punishable with transportation for life, or with imprisonment for 10 years	Ditto		Ditto	•
	If with imprisonment for 1 year, and not for 10 years	Ditto		Ditto	•	•
2164	Harbouring robbers or dacoits .	D tto		Ditto	•
217	Public servant disobeying a direction of law with intent to save person from punishment, or property from forfeiture	without	arrest war	Summons	•
218	Public servant framing an in correct record or writing with intent to save person from capital ~			Warrant		•
These	e words were substituted by S. 159 , 1923 (XVIII of 1925 of 1923)	of the Code	e of Ci	riminal Pro	oced	11TC

II .- (Contd.)

(01)
OFFENCES AGAIN	эт Ривыс Јизт	ice—(Contd.)
5	6	7	8
Whether bailable or not	Whether compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	B; what Court triable
Bailable .	lot compound	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years and fine	Court of Session, Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment for a quarter of the long est term, and of the description, prosid ed for the offence, or fine or both	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class, or Court by which the offence is triable
Ditto	Ditte	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years, or fine, or both	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto .	Ditto	Impresonment of either description for 7 years, and fine	Court of Session, Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years with or with out fine	Court of Session, Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment for a quarter of the long est term, and of the description, provid ed for the offence, or fine, or both	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class, or Court by which the offence is triable
Ditto	Ditto	Rigorous imprison ment for 7 years, and fine	Court of Session, Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years, or fine or both	or Magistrate of the
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 8 years, or fine, or	Court of Session

CHAPTER XI -FALSE EVIDENCE AND

	CHAPTER AT -FALSE INTIBATED
1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
219	Public servant in a judicial pro- ceeding corruptly making and pronouncing an arder, report, verdict or decision which lie knows to be contrary to law	Shall not arrest without war rant	Warrant
220	Commitment for trial or confine ment by a person baving autho- rity, who knows that he is acting contrary to law	Ditto	Ditto
221	Intentional omission to apprehend on the part of a public servant bound by law to apprehend an offender, if the offence be capital	Ditto	Ditto
	If punishable with transportation for life, or imprisonment for 10 years	Ditto	Ditto
	If with imprisonment for less than 10 years	Ditto	Ditto
222	Intentional omission to apprehend nn the part of a public servant bound by law to apprehend per son under sentence of a Court of Justice, if under sentence of death	Ditto	Ditto
	If under sentence of transporta- tion or penal servitude for life nr transportation imprisonment or penal servitude for 10 years or upwards	Ditto	Ditto
	If under sentence of imprisonment for less than 10 years nr law fully committed to custody	Ditto	Ditto
223	Escape from confinement negli- gently suffered by a public servant	Ditto	Summons
224	Resistance or abstruction by a person to his lawful apprehen sion	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant

8

Magistrate of the first

7

II.-(Contd.)

- 5

Ditto .

OFTENCES	AGAINST	PUBLIC	JUSTICE-	(Contd.).

Ditto

Whether Punishment under the By what Court triable. Whether bailsble compoundable. or not. Indian Penal Code or not Bailable . . Not compound. Imprisonment of either Court of Session. able description for 7 . years, or fine, or both Ditto . Ditto Ditto . Ditto. Ditto . Ditto . Imprisonment of either Ditto. description for years, with or without fine.

out fine Ditto Ditto . Impresonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 2 or Magistrate of the years, with or withfirst or second class. out fine.

years, with or with-

. Impresonment of either Court of Session, Presi-description for 8 dency Magistrate or class.

Not bailable Ditto . Transportation for life, Court of Session or imprisonment of cither description for 14 years, with or without fine

Ditto . Ditto . . Imprisonment of either Ditto. description for years, with or with-. Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presidescription for 8 dency Magistrate or Bailable Ditto . years, or fine, or both Magistrate of the first class Ditto . Simple imprisonment Presidency Magistrate Ditto for 2 years, or fine, or both or Magistrate of the first or second class. , Imprisonment of either description for 2 Ditto . Ditto Ditto years, or fine, or

CHAPTER XI.-FALSE EVIDENCE AND

1	2	3		4
XLV of 1860 Section.	Offence ~	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not.		Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ord narrly issue in the first instance		m di n
225	Resistance or obstruction to the lawful apprehension of another person, or rescuing him from lawful custody.	May arrest out war	with- rant.	Warrant
	If charged with an offence punish- able with transportation for life, or imprisonment for 10 years	Datto		Ditto
	If charged with a capital offence	Ditto		Ditto
	If the person is sentenced to tran- sportation for life, or to tran sportation, penal servitude or imprisonment for 10 years or upwards	Ditto		Ditto		•
	If under seotence of death .	Ditto		Ditto	•	٠
225Å	Omission to apprehend, or suffer- ance of escape on part of public servant, in cases not otherwise provided for—
	(a) in cases of intentional omission or sufferance	Shall not without rant		Ditto	•	•
	(b) in case of negligent omission or sufferance	Ditto		Summons		•
225B	Resistance or obstruction to law- ful apprehension, or escape or rescue in cases not otherwise provided for.	May arrest out war	t with- rant	Warrant		•
226	Unlawful return from transporta-	Ditto		Ditto	٠	•

8

first or second class

Magistrate of the first class

Ditto

Ditto

Punishment under the II3 what Court triable

Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 2 or Magistrate of the Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presi description for B dency Magistrate or Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presi description for 3 dency Magistrate or years, or fine or Magistrate of the first

Transportation for life, Court of Session class Simple imprisonment Presidency Magistrate for 2 years or fine, or Magistrate of the first class

Ditto

Imprisonment of either Court of Session

II - (Contd )

Whether bailst le

or not

Bailable

Not bailable

Ditto .

Ditto

Ditto

Raulable

Ditto

Ditto

[Not bailable]

OFFENCES	ACAI\RT	Public	JUSTICE-	(Contd )
5		6		-

OFFENCES	AGAI\ST	Public	JUSTICE-	(Conti

OFFENCES	AGAINST	Public	Justice-	(Cont

d)

Whether

compoundable

or not at compound

able

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Indian Penal Code

years, or fine, or

years, and fine

description fo for 7

Transportation for life

or impresonment of either for 2 years or fine, or both

Imprisonment of either

description for 6 months, or fine, or both

and fine, and rigorous imprisonment for 3 years before trans portstion

description for 10 years, and fine

Datto

both

both

CHAPTER XI -FALSE EVIDENCE AND

	CHAPTER AT - TABLE 2
1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence *	Whether the police may arrest without userant ar not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ord havily lasue in the first instance
£25	Resistance or obstruction to the lawful apprehension of another person or rescuing him from lawful custody	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
	If charged with an offence punish able with transportation for life or imprisonment for 10 years	Ditto	Pitto
	If charged with a capital offence	Ditto	Ditto
	If the person is sentenced to tran sportation for life or to tran sportation penal servitude or imprisonment for 10 years or unwards	Ditto	Ditto
	If under sentence of death	Datto	Ditto
2254	Omission to apprehend or suffer ance of escape on part of public servant in cases not otherwise provided for—
	(a) in cases of intentional omission or sufferance	Shall not arrest without war rapt	Ditto ·
	(b) in case of negligent omission or sufferance	Ditto	Summons
225E	Resistance or obstruction to law ful apprehension, or escape of rescue in cases not otherwise provided for	May arrest with out warrant	N arrant
226	Unlawful return from transports	Ditto	Ditto

٠

II .- (Contd.)

or not

OFFENCES AGAINST PUBLIC JUSTICE-(Contd.).

compoundable

5 6 7 8 Whether Whether bailable Punishment under the By what Court triable.

or not. Bailable . Not compound Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 2 or Magistrate of the able sears, or fine, or first or second class Not bailable · Impresonment of either Court of Session, Presi-description for 3 dency Magistrate or Ditto scars, and fine Magistrate of the first class. Ditto Ditta . Imprisonment of either Court of Session description for scars, and fine

Ditto Ditto Ditto . . Ditto ٠

Ditto . Ditto . Transportation for life, or imprisonment of Ditto either description for 10 years, and fine

Bailable . Ditto . . Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presidescription for 8 dency Magistrate or years, or fine, or Magistrate of the first years, or fine, or both class Ditto . Simple imprisonment Presidency Magistrate Ditto for 2 years, or fine, or both or Magistrate of the first class

Ditto

Ditto . Imprisonment of either Ditto description for 6 months, or fine, or both

. Transportation for life, Court of Session. [Not bailable] Ditto . and fine, and rigorous imprisonment for S years before trans portation

CHAPTER XI.-FALSE EVIDENCE P

	Char	TER XI.~FALSI	EVIDENCE IND
1	2	2	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether s was rant or s tum thous shall ords narily issue in the first instance
227	Violation of condition of remission of punishment	Shall not arrest without war rant	Summons
248	Intentional insult or interruption to a public servant sitting in any stage of a judicial proceeding	Pitto	Difto
229	Personation of a juror or assessor	Ditto	Ditto
	Спарт	er XII ~Offe	ces relating to
231	Counterfeiting, or performing any part of the process of counter ferting, coin	May arrest with	11 arrant
232	Counterfeiting, or performing any part of the process of counter feiting the Queen's coin	Ditto	Ditto
233	Making, buying or selling instru- ment for the purpose of counter feiting com	Detlo	Ditto
234	Making, buying or selling instru- ment for the purpose of counter	Datto	Ditto
233	feiting the Queen's com. Possession of instrument or mate- r al for the purpose of using the same for counterleaving com	Ditto	$D^{ij}$ to
	It Queen's com	Ditto	Ditta
$36	Abetting in British India the counterfeiting out of British India of coin	Ditto	D1tto
257	Import or export of counterfest cost knowing the same to be counterfest	D <sub>i</sub> tto ,	Ditto .

ľ

II -(Contd)
OFFENCES AGAIN	ST PUBLIC JUST	cr.—(Contd)
5	6	7	8
Whether bailable or not	Whether compoundable or not	l'unishment under the Indian Fenal Code	By what Court triable
Not bailable	\at compound able	Punishment of original sentence, or if part of the punishment has been undergone, the residue	The Court by which the original offence was triable
Bailable	Ditto	Simple imprisonment for 6 months, or fine of 1,000 rupees or both	The Court in which the offence is committed, subject to the provisions of Ch XXXI
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years, or fine, or both	or Magistrate of the
COIN AND GOVE	RUMENT STAMPS
Not failable	Not compound at le	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years, and fine	Court of Session
D tto	Ditto	Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 10 years, and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years, and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7	Court of Session
Ditto .	Ditto	years, and fine Imprisonment of either description for 8 years, and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10	Court of Session
Ditto	Ditto	years and fine The punishment pro wided for abetting the counterfeiting of auch coin within Bri tish India	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years, and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the class

SCHEDULE

				SCHEDULE
	1		Chapter XI ~	False Evidence and
		2	3	4
	XLV 1860 Section		Whether police may a without was or not	the Whether a war- rent or a sum trant upons shall ordi- marily 1850e in the first instance
	99~	liciation of condition of remissi- of punishment	on Shall not an without v	rrest Summons war
	228	intentional in alt or interruption to a public servant atting in an stage of a judicial proceeding	n Ditto	Ditto
	229	Personation of a juror or assessor	Detto	Detto
	231 232	Counterfecting or performing any part of the process of counter feiting, con Counterfeiting, or performing any part of the process of counter feiting the Quiers a con		ences relating to Warrent Ditto
	233	Making buying or selling instrument for the purpose of counter festing coin	Datto	Ditto
		Making buying or selling instru- ment for the purpose of counter fetting the Queen's com- Possession of instrument or mate- rial for the purpose of using the same for counterfeiting the	Ditto	D tto
		f Queen's com	Ditto	Datto
	236 /	lbetting in British India the counterfeiting out of British India of coin	Ditto	D tto
;	237 ]	mport or export of counterfest coin knowing the same to be counterfest	Ditto	D tto

II —(Contd)
OFFENCES ACAIN	ST PUBLIC JUST	cr—(( ontd )
5	6	-	8
Whether bailable or not	Whether compoundal le or not	I unishment under the Indian I enal Code	By what Court triable
Not ba lable	ot compound able	Punishment of original aentence, or if part of the punishment has been undergone the residue	The Court by which the original offence was triable
Bailable	D tto	Simple imprisenment for 6 months or fine of 1 000 rupees or both
D tto	D tto	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years or fine or both
COIN AND GOVER	NHENT STAMPS
Not bailable	Not compound able	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Court of Session
D tto	Ditto	Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
D tto	Ditto	Impresonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Court of Session
Ditto .	D tto	Imprisonment of either description for 8 years and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10	Court of Session
Ditto	Ditto	years and fine The pun shment pro vided for abetting the counterfeiting of such com within Bri tish India	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Impresonment of either description for 3 years, and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class

CHAPTER XII.—OFFENCES RELATING TO

	CHAPTER ZEIL-OTTERCES K-
1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offenee	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
238	Import or export of counterfeits of the Queen's coin, knowing the same to be counterfeit	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
239	Having any counterfest coin known to be such when it came into possession, and delivering etc., the same to any person	Ditto	Ditto
210	The same with respect to the Queen's coin	Ditto	Ditto
211	Knowingly delivering to another any counterfeit coin as genuine which, when first possessed, the deliverer did not know to be counterfeit	Ditto	Ditto
212	Possession of counterfeit coin by a person who knew it to be counterfeit when he became possessed thereof	$\mathbf{D}_1$ tto	Dutto
243	Possession of Queen's coin by a person who knew it to be counterfeit when he became possessed thereof	D <sub>i</sub> tto	Ditto
211	Person employed in a Mint causing coin to be of a different weight or composition from that fixed by law	Ditto	Ditto
245	Unlawfully taking from a Mint any coining instrument	Ditto	Ditto
216	Fraudulently diminishing the weight or altering the composition of any coin	Ditto	Ditto
247	Fraudulently diminishing the weight or aftering the composi- tion of the Queen a coin	I) <sub>i</sub> tto .	Ditto
248	litering appearance of any coin with intent that it shall pass as a coin of a different description	Ditto	Ditto .

II -(Contd)

COIN AND GOVERNMENT STAMPS-(Contd)
5	e	7	8
Whether bailable or not	Whether Compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable
Not bailsble	Not compound at le	Transportation for life or imprisonment of eitler description for 10 years and fine	Court of Session
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either discription for 5 years and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years or fine of ten times the value of the coin counter feited or both	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years and fine
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Court of Session
Bitto	Ditto	Ditto	Datto
D tto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years and fine	Court of Session, Press dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Ditto
D tto .	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 8 years and fine	Ditto

CHAPTER XII.—OFFENCES RELATING 10

1	2	8	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence.	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not.	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi- narily issue in the first instance
249	Altering appearance of the Queen's coin with intent that it shall puss as a coin of a different description	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
250	Delivery to another of com- possessed with the knowledge that it is altered	Ditto	Ditto
251	Delivery of Queen's coin possess ed with the knowledge that it is aftered	Ditto	Ditto
252	Possession of altered com by a person who knew it to be altered when he became possessed there of	Ditto	Ditto
253	Possession of Queen's coin by a person who knew it to be alter- ed when he became possessed thereof	. Ditto , .	Ditto
254	Delivery to another of coin as genuine which, when first pos sessed, the deliverer did not know to be altered	Ditto , -	Ditto
255	Counterfesting a Government stamp	Ditto	Ditto
236	Having possession of an instru- ment or material for the purpose of counterfriting a Government stamp	Ditto	Ditto
257	Making, buying or selling instru- ment for the purpose of counter- letting a Government stamp	Ditto	Ditto
258	Sale of counterfest Covernment	Ditto	Ditto
259	Having possession of a counterfest Government stamp.	Ditto	Ditto

II -(Contd)

COD AND GOVERNMENT STAMPS-(Contd.)
5	6	7	8
Whether 1 ailal le or not	Whether compounded le or not	I mishment under the Ind an I enal Co le	By what Court triable
Not la lable	ot compound alle	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 5 years and fine	Ditto
D tto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Impresonment of either description for 3 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto .	Ditto	Impresonment of either description for 5 years, and fine	Ditto
D tto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 2 3 cars or fine of ten times the value of the com	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class
Ditto	Ditto	Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Court of Session
Ditto	D tto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Ditto
D tto	Ditto	1) tto	Ditto
Ditto	D tto	Ditto	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER XII -OFFENCES RELATING TO

ī	2	8	4
LV of 1860 ection	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war tant or a sum mons shall ord narriy issue in the first instance
260	Using as genuine a Government stamp known to be counterfeit	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
261	Effacing any writing from a sub- stance bearing a Government stamp or removing from a document a stamp used for it with intent to cause loss to Government	D <sub>1</sub> tto	Ditto
262	Using a Government stamp known to have been before used	Ditto	D tto
263	Erasure of mark denoting that stamp has been used	Ditto	Ditto
263A	Fictitious stamps	Ditto	D tto
	Снаг	PTER XIII -OFF	ences relating
261	Fraudulent use of false instru ment for weighing	Shall not arrest : without war rant	Summons
263	Fraudulent use of false weight or measure	$\mathbf{D}_{1}$ tto	Ditto
266	Being in possession of false weights or measures for fraudu lent use	$\mathbf{D}_{1}$ tto	Ditto
267	Making or selling false weights or measures for fraudulent use	$D_{1}$ tto	Ditto
	Chapter XIV -O	FFENCES AFFECTIN	O THE PUBLIC

Negligently do ng any act known May arrest with Summons to be I kely to spread infection of any d sease dangerous to I fe

II -(Contd)

COIN AND GOVERNMENT STANDS-(Concid)

5 6 7 8

Whether ballable Whether Propulment up to the

Whether I salable compountable compountable or not Punshiment under the B3 what Court triable or not

Bulable on compound Impresonment of either Court of Session, Presidency Impresonment of either Court of Session, Presidency Impresonment of control of the Impresonment of either Impresonment of either Impresonment of either

description for B

years or fine or Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of other Presidency Magnitrate description for 2 or Magnitrate of the years or fine or first or accord class both Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either Court of Session Presi

Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either Court of Session Presidency Magistrate or years or fine or Magistrate of the first both

Ditto Ditto Fine of 200 rupees Presidency Magistrate of the or Danistrate of the first class

TO WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

Bailable Not compound Impresonment of either Presidency Magnitrate description for 1 or Magnitrate of the year or fine or first or second class both

Ditto Ditto Ditto Ditto Ditto

Ditto . Ditto Ditto Ditto

Ditto Ditto Ditto

HEALTH, SAFETY, CONVENIENCE, DECENCY AND MORALS

Bailable Not compound imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 6 or Vagistrate of the months or fine or first or second class

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER XIV.—OFFENCES AFFECTING THE PUBLIC HEALTH,

1	2	3	4
LV of 1860 ection	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rapt or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
270	Halignantly doing any act known to be likely to spread infection of any disease dangerous to life	May arrest with out warrant	Summons
271	Knowingly disobeying any qua	Shall not arrest without war rant	Ditto
272	Adulterating food or drink intend ed for sale, so as to make the same noxious	Ditto	Ditto
273	Selling any food or drink as food and drink knowing the same to be noxious	Ditto	Ditto
274	Adulterating any drug or medical preparation intended for sale so as to lessen its efficacy, or to change its operation, or to make it noxious	Ditto	Ditto
275	Offering for sale or issuing from a dispensary any drug or me dical preparation known to have been adulterated	Ditto	Ditto
276	Knowingly selling or issuing from a dispensary any drug or me dical preparation as a different drug or medical preparation	Ditto	Ditto
277	Defiling the water of a public spring or reservoir	Ditto	Ditto
278	Making atmosphere novious to health	Shall not arrest without war rant	Ditto
279	Driving or riding on a public way so rashly or negligently as to endanger human life cte	May arrest with out warrant	Ditto
280	Navigating any vessel so rashly or negligently as to endanger human life etc	Ditto	D tto

Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second clas

II .- (Contd.)

Drtto ,

Ditto .

SAFETY, CONVENIENCY, DECENCY AND MORALS-(Contd.).
5	6	7	8
Whether bailable or not	Whether compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable
Bailable	Not compound able	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years, or fine, or both	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class
Ditto	Ditto	Impresonment of either description for 6 months, or fine, or both	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 6 months, or fine of 1,000 rupees, or both	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto .	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto .	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditta	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto .	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 3 months, or fine of 500 rupees, or both	Any Magistrate
Ditto	Ditto .	Fine of 500 rupees .	Ditto
Ditto ,	Ditto .	Imprisonment of either description for 6 months, or fine of 1,890 rupers, or	Ditto

CHAPTER XIV -OFFENCES AFFECTING THE PUBLIC HEALTE,

1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
281	Exhibition of a false light mark or buoy	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
282	Conveying for hire any person by water, in a vessel in such a state or so loaded, as to en danger his life	Ditto	Summons
283	Causing danger, obstruction or injury in any public way or line of navigation	Ditto	Ditto
284	Dealing with any poisonous sub- stance so as to endanger human life ete	Shall not arrest without war rant	Ditto
285	Dealing with fire or any combus tible matter so as to endanger human life, etc	May arrest with out warrant	Ditto
286	So dealing with any explosive substance	Ditto	Ditto
287	So dealing with any machinery	Shall not arrest without war rant	Ditto
288	A person omitting to guard against probable danger to human life by the fall of any building over which be has right entitling him to pull it down or repair it	Ditto	Ditto
289	A person omitting to take order with any animal in his posses sion so as to guard against danger to human life or of grievous hurt from such animal	May arrest with out warrant	Ditto
290	Committing a public nussance	Shall not arrest without war rant	Ditto
291	Continuance of nuisance after injunction to discontinue	May arrest with out warrant	Ditto .

II - (Contd )

SAFETA, CONVENIENCE, DECENCY AND MORALS-(Contd.) 5 7 Whether Punishment under the By what Court triable Whether bailable compoun lable Indian Penal Cole or not or not Bailable Not compound Impresonment of either Court of Session description for 2110 years or fine or Ditto Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate Ditto or Magistrate of the description for 6 months or fine of first or second class 1 000 or rupees both D tta Fine of 200 rupees Ditto Thtto D tto Imprisonment of either Ditto Ditto description for months, or fine of both Ditto Ditto Any Magistrate Ditto Ditto Ditto Ditto Ditto Presidency Magistrate Ditto Ditto Ditto or Magistrate of the first or second class Ditto Ditto Ditto Ditto Detto Any Magistrate Ditto Ditto Ditto

Ditto Ditto Fine of 200 rupees .

Simple imprisonment Presidency Magistrate Ditto Ditto or Magistrate of the for 6 months or fine, or both first or second class 117

CHAPTER XIV.—OFFENCES AFFECTING THE PUBLIC HEALTS,

	CHAPTER XIV.—OFFENCES AFFECTING THE PUBLIC HEALTH
1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
281	Exhibition of a false light, mark or buoy	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
282	Conveying for hire any person, by water, in a vessel in such a state, or so loaded as to en danger his life	Ditto .	Summons
263	Causing danger, obstruction or injury in any public way or line of navigation	Ditto	Ditto
284	Dealing with any poisonous sub- stance so as to endanger human life, etc	Shall not arrest without war- rant	Ditto
285	Dealing with fire or any combus tible matter so as to endanger human life, etc	May arrest with out warrant	Ditto
28G	So dealing with any explosive substance	Ditto .	Ditto
287		hall not arrest without war rant	Ditto
288	A person contting to guard against probable danger to human life by the fall of any building over which he has right entiting him to pull it down or repair it	Ditto	Ditta
289	A person omitting to take order M with any animal in his posses sion, so as to guard against danger to human life, or of grievous hurt, from such animal	ay arrest with out warrant	Ditto
$30	\ v	all not arrest	Ditto
$31	Continuance of nuisance after Ma injunction to discontinue o	ns arrest with little later warrant	Ditto +

II -(Contd)

Ditto

IALS-(Contd)
IALS-(Cont	d)

5

6

Ditto

7

Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate

Whether Whether bailable Punishment under the By what Court triable compoundable DE DOL or not Bailable. ont compound Imprisonment of either Court of Session at le description for 7 description for 7

years or fine, or

description for 6 or Magistrate of the months, or fine of first or second elec-1,000 rupers, or

both

Ditto Ditto hane of 200 rupees . Ditto

Ditto Ditto Impresonment of either

Ditto description for 6 months, or fine of 1 000 supces or both Ditto Ditto Ditto Any Magistrate

Ditto Ditto Ditto . . . Ditto Ditto

Ditto Ditto Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class

Ditto Ditto Ditto Ditto

Ditto Any Magistrate Ditto Dittu .

Ditto Ditto . . Simple Imprisonment Presidency Magistrate Ditto .

fam of 400 ratees .

nitto

Ditto for 6 months or fine, or Magistrate of the first or second class or both

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER XIV -OFFENCES AFFECTING THE PUBLIC HEALTS

1	2	3	4
•	-
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
281	Exhibition of a false light, mark or buoy	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
282	Conveying for hire any person by water, in a vessel in such a state, or so foaded as to en danger his life	Ditto	Summons
283	Causing danger obstruction or thurry in any public way or line of navigation	Ditto	Ditto
281	Dealing with any poisonous sub- stance so as to endanger human life etc	Shall not arrest without war rant	Ditto
285	Dealing with fire or any combus tible matter so as to endanger human life, etc	May arrest with out warrant	Patta
286	So dealing with any explosive substance	Ditto	Ditto
287	So dealing with sny machinery	Shall not arrest without war rant	Ditto
288	A person omitting to guard against probable danger to humen life by the fall of any building over which he has right entiting him to pull it down or repair it	Ditto	Ditto
289	A person omitting to take order with any animal in his posses aion so as to guard against danger to human life or of griesous hurt from such animal	May arrest with out warrant	Ditto
290	Committing a public nuisance	Shall not arrest without war rant	Ditto
ราเ	Continuance of nusance after injunction to discontinue	May arrest with out warrant	Ditto .

first or second class.

Ditto.

II .- (Contd.)

STEETY, CONVENIENCE.	Drette	AND MODALS.	_ff antd \

5 C =

11 hether Whether bailable Punishment under the By what Court triable. compoundable. or not. or bot.

Bailabl-. Not compound. Impresonment of either Court of Session. able.

description for 7 years, or line, or both, Ditto Ditta . . Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 6 or Magistrate of the months, or fine of 0.

Ditto . . . Any Magistrate.

1,000 rupees,

both. Ditto Ditto . Fine of 200 rupers . Ditto.

Ditto Ditto . . Imprisonment of either description for 6 months, or fine of Ditto. 1,000 rupees, 70 both. Ditto Dreta . . Any Magustrate.

Ditto .

Ditto Ditto Ditto Ditto .

Ditto . Presidency Magistrate Ditto Ditto . ٠ or Magistrate of the first or second class. Ditto .

Ditto Ditto . . Fine of 200 rupees . Ditto.

Ditto . Simple imprisonment Presidency Magistrate Ditto . for 6 months, or fine, or Magistrate of the or both. first or second class.

Ditto .

Ditto .

Ditto

Ditto

2

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER XIV.—OFFENCES AFFECTING THE PUBLIC HEALTS,

3

XLV of 1860 Section	Offence.	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not.	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily resue in the first instance
292	Sale, etc., of ohscene books, etc.	May arrest with- out warrant.	Warrant
293	Having in possession obscene books, etc., for sale or exhibi- tion	Ditto	Ditto
291	Obscene songs	Ditto	Ditto
29$A	Keeping a lottery office	Shall not arrest without war- rant	Summons
	Publishing proposals relating to lotteries	Ditto	Ditto .
		CHAPTER	XVOFFENCES
293	Destroying, damsging or defiling a place of worship or sacred object with intent to insult the religion of any class of persons	May arrest with- out warrant	Summons .
296	Causing a disturbance to an assem hly engaged in religious worship	Ditto	Ditto
297	Trespassing in place of worship or sepulture, disturbing funeral rith intention to wound the feelings or to insult the religion of any person, or offering indig- nity to a human corpse	Ditto	Ditto
208	Uttering any word or making any sound in the hearing, or making any gesture, or placing any object in the sight of any person, with intention to wound his religious feeling.	without war-	Ditto

SATETY, CONVENIENCE, DECENCY AND MORALS-(Concld.).

or not.

5 G 7

Whether bailable Whether compoundable

Punishment under the By what Court triable

Bailable . Not compound Impresonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 3 or Magistrate of the months, or fine, or first or second class tools.

Ditto . Ditto . Ditto . . Ditto

Ditto . . Ditto . . Ditto . . '[Any Magistrate]

Ditto . . Ditto . Impresonment of either description for 6

description for 6 months, or fine, or both

Ditto . Ditto . . Fine of 1,000 rupees . Ditto

RELATING TO RELIGION.

Bailable . Not compound Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 2 or Magistrate of the years, or first or second class both Ditto . Ditto Impresonment of either Ditto description for one year, or line, or both

Ditto Ditto Ditto

Ditto . . . Compoundable . Ditto . . . Ditto

&lt;sup>1</sup> Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) 1923 (XVIII of 1923)

SCHEDULE

			SCHEDULE
		CHAPTER 2	XVI —Offences
1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
			Of Offences
302	Murder	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
303	Murder by a person under sen tence of transportation for life	Ditto	Ditto
301	Culpable homicide not amounting to murder, if act by which the death is caused is done with intention of causing death etc	Ditto	Ditto
	If act is done with knowledge that it is likely to cause death, but without any intention to eause death ete	Ditto	Ditto
304A	Causing death by rash or negligent act	Ditto	Ditto
305	Abetment of suieide committed by a child or insane or delinious person or an idiot, or a person intoxicated	Ditto	Ditto
30G	Ahetting the commission of suicide	Ditto	D tto
307	Attempt to murder	Ditto	Ditto
	If such act eause hurt to any	Ditto	Ditto
	Attempt by life convict to murder if hurt is caused	Ditto	p tto
308	Attempt to commit culpable homicide	Ditto	Ditto
	If au h act cause hurt to any person	Ditto	D tto

II -(Contd)

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Barlable

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

AFFECTING THE HUMAN BODY

5	6	7	8
Whether bailshile or not	Whether compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable
assecting Life
Not bailable	tot compound	Death, or transporta- tion for life, and fine	Court of Session
Ditto	Ditto	Death .	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 10 years, and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years, or fine, or both	Ditto
Bailable	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years, or fine, or both	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Not bailable	Ditto	Death, or transporta for life, or imprison ment for 19 years and fine	Court of Session
Ditto	D tto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years, and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Ditto

Transportation for life,

Impresonment of either

Imprisonment of either description for 7 years, or fine or hath description for 3 years, or fine, or both

Death or as above

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

2

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER XVI -OFFENCES AFFECTING

8 4

XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
309	Attempt to commit suicide	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
811	Being a thug	Ditto	Ditto
	Of the Causing of Miscarriage,	of Injuries to U	nborn Children
312	Causing miscarriage	Shall not arrest without war rant	Warrant
	If the woman be quick with child	Ditto	Ditto
918	Causing miscarriage without woman's consent	Ditto	Ditto
314	Death caused by an act done with intent to cause miscarriage	Ditto	D tto
	If act done without woman's consent	D tto	Ditto
315	Act done with intent to prevent a child being born alive, or to cause it to die after its birth	Ditto	D tto
316	Causing death of a quick unborn child by an act amounting to culpable homicide	Ditto	D tto
817	Exposure of a child under 12 years of age by parent or person having care of it with intention	May arrest with out warrant	D tto
318	of wholly abandoning at Concealment of birth by secret disposal of dead body	Ditto .	Ditto

II .- (Contd )

Whether bailab e

or not

Ditto

THE HUMAN BODY - (Contd )

5	6

Whether

Punishment under the By what Court triable cempoundable

8

or not	or not	Indian Penal Code	, Basial !-	Not compound	Simple imprisonment for one year, or fine,	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the a Die	or loth	first or second class
ot badable	Ditto	Transportation for I-te, and fine	Court of Session of the Exposure	of Infants and	of the Concealment o	f Births.
Batlat le	ot compoun!	Imprisonment of either description for 8 years, or fine, or both	Court of Session
Ditto	Detto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years, and fine	Ditto
Not bailable	Ditto	Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 10 years, and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years, and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Traesportation for life, or #5 above	D <sub>i</sub> ito
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years, or fine, or both	Litto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years, and fine	Ditto
Ballable	Ditto	Impresonment of either description for 7	sidency Magistrate or years both or fine or

Imprisonment of either Court of Session Presi description for 2 dency Magnirate or years, or fine, or Magnirate of the both

Magistrate

Ditto

&#x27;This entry was substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act 1923 (AVIII of 1923)
'The words' or second' were amitted by ibid.

	CHAPTER XVI,-OFFENCES AFFECTING
1	2	3	4
XIV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall orde- narily issue in the first instance
			O(
323	Volunterily causing hurt .	Shall not arrest without war- rant	Summons
324	Voluntarily causing hurt by dan gerous weapons or means	May arrest with- out warrant	Ditto · ·
845	Voluntarily causing grievous hurt	Ditto	Ditto · ·
326	Voluntarily causing grievous hurt by dangerous weapons or means	Ditlo	Ditto .
327	Voluntarily causing hurt to extort property or a valuable security, or to constrain to do anything which is illegal or which heay facilitate the commission of an offence	Ditto	Warrant .
325	Administering stupefying drug with intent to cause hurt, etc	Ditto	Ditto
329	Voluntarily causing grievous hurt to extort property or a valuable security, or to constrain to do anything which is illegal, or which may facilitate the com- mission of an offence.	Ditto	Ditto
730	loluntarily causing hurt to extert confession or information, or to compel restoration of property, etc	Dato	Ditto

_
II.—	(Contd.)

Whether bailable

or not

Ditto .

Detto

THE HUMAN BODY-(Contd.).

5

Whether compoundable

or not

Ditte .

7 Indian Penal Code

Punishment under the Bs what Court triable

8

Hurt Bailable

Ditto .

. Compoundable . Impresonment of either Any Magistrate description for 1 year, or fine of 1,000 supees, or both description for 3

Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presi

. Compoundable when permis alon is given before which a prosecution is pending years, or fine, or both . Impresonment of either description for 7 years, and fine

description for 10

years, and fine

Ditto

dency Magistrate or

Magistrate of the first or second class

Not bailable Not compound Transportation for life, Court of Session, Presi-able or imprisonment of dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the either description for first class 10 years, and fine, . Imprisonment of either '[Court of Session, Pre-Ditto Ditta .

class 1

Detto . . "[Court of Session 1

sidency Magistrate or

Magistrate of the first

Ditto Ditto

Ditto

Transportation for life, or imprisonment of either description for 10 years, and fine

Ditto

Ditto

Bailable . Ditto .

. Impresonment of either and fine.

Substituted by S. 300 of the 1928 (XVIII of 1928).

Criminal P

(Amendment) Act,

	CHAPTER XVI.—OFFENCES AFFECTING
1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum- mons shall ord narrly issue in the first instance
331	Voluntarily eausing grievous hurt to extort confession or informa- tion, or to compel restoration of property, etc	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
332	Voluntarily eausing burt to deter public servant from his duty	Ditto	Ditto
333	Voluntarily causing grievous hurt to deter public servant from his duty	Ditto .	Ditto
331	Voluntarily causing hurt on grave and sudden provocation not in tending to hurt any other than the person who gave the pro- vocation	without war	Summons
335	Causing grievous hurt on grave and sudden provocation not in tending to hurt any other than the person who gave the pro- vocation	May arrest with out warrant	Ditto
836	Doing any act which endangers human life or the personal safety of others	Ditto	Ditto
337	Causing hurt by an act which endangers human life etc	Ditto .	Ditto
838	Causing grievous hurt by an act which endangers human life, etc	Ditto	Ditto

H - (Contd )

3

Whether bailable

THE HUMAN BODY - (Contd )

Whether compoundable

Indian Penal Code

Punishment under the By what Court triable

8

Or not Not bailable

or not.

Not compound Impresonment of either Court of Session

Restable

able Ditto

description for 10 years, and fine Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presi

Not haulable

Ditto

years, or fine, or both years, and fine

description for 3

first class Imprisonment of either Court of Session description for 10

dency Magistrate or

Magistrate of the

Magistrate of the

Bailable

(ompoundable

Imprisonment of either Apy Magistrate description for month, or fine of 500 rupees, or both

Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presi description for 4 dency Magistrate or rupees, or first or second class

Datto

sion is given before which a prosecution is pending

Compoundable when permis

compound Imprisonment of either Any Magistrate years, or fine of 2 000

both

Ditto

Not able description for 8 months, or fine of 250 rupees, or both

Ditto

Compoundable when permis sion is given before which a prosecution is pending

Impresonment of either Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the description for 6 months or fine of first or second class 500 rupees, or both

Ditto

Imprisonment of either description for 2 years, or fine of .000 rupees, OF both

Datto

Ditto .

			SCHEDULE
	Сная	TER XVIOFF	ENCES AFFECTING
1	2	8	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offenee	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
		Of Wro	ongful Restraint
341	Wrongfully restraining any person	May arrest with out warrant	Summons .
342	Wrongfully confining any person	Ditto	Ditto
843	Wrongfully confining for three or more days	Ditto	Ditto
814	Wrongfully confining for 10 or more days	Ditto	Ditto
345	keeping any person in wrongful confinement knowing that a writ has been issued for bis liberation	Shall not arrest without war rant	Ditto
અહ	Wangdal confinement or secret	May acrest with out warrant	Date +
547	Wrongful confinement for the pur pose of extorting property or constraining to an illegal act, etc	Ditto	Ditto .
848	Wrongful confinement for the pur pose of extorting confession or information, or of compelling restoration of property, etc	Ditto	Ditto .

II -(Contd )

THE HUMAN BODY-(Contd)

ĸ

6

7

8

Whether bailable or not

Whether compoundable or not

Punishment under the By what Court triable

and Wrongful Confinement

Ditto

Compoundable

Simple imprisonment Any Magistrate for 1 month, or fine of 500 rupees, or Imprisonment of either Court of Session Presi description for 3 dency Magistrate or

Ditto

Ditto

description for 1 year, or fine of 1 000 rupees or both Imprisonment of either

hoth

Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class

Ditto

when permis sion is given before which the prosecution is peoding

[Compoundable

description for 2 years or fine, or both Ditto

Ditto Not compound able ] Not able

years and fine Imprisonment of either description for vears in addition to imprisonment under Magistrate of the first or second class Ditto

Ditto Ditto

[Compoundable when permis

compound

any other section Ditto

Ditto

sion is given before which the prosecution is pending]

Imprisonment of either description for 3 years and fine

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Not compound able 1 Ditto

Ditto

Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class

Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Ameodmeot) 1923 (XVIII of 1923)

312

313

311

215

846

847

818

SCHEDULE
CHAPTER XVI.—OFFENCES AFFECTING
3 4	2	1

1	2	3	•
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance

Wrongfully confining any person

Wrongfully confining for three or

Wrongful confinement in secret

Wrongful confinement for the pur pose of extorting property or constraining to an illegal act,

Wrongful confinement for the pur pose of extorting confession or information, or of compelling restoration of property, etc

Wrongfully confining for 10 or Ditto .

Keeping any person in wrongful Shall not arrest confinement, knowing that a without war-writ has been issued for his rant

more days

more days

liberation

etc

Wrongfully restraining any person May arrest with- Summons . . .

out warrant

Ditto

Ditto

May arrest without warrant

Ditto .

Ditto

Of Wrongful Restraint

Ditto .

II -(Contd)

THE HUMAN BODY -- (Contd )

5

G

7

8

Whether bailable or not

Whether compoundable or not

Punishment under the By what Court triable

and Wrongful Confinement

Ditto

Compoundable

Simple imprisonment Any Magistrate for I month or fine of 500 rupees, or

Ditto

Ditto

description for 1 year, or fine of 1 000 rupees or hoth

hoth

. [Compoundable Imprisonment of either

Impresonment of either Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class

Ditto

hy the fourt before which the prosecution is pending l '[Not compound

able 1

when permis description for 2 years, or fine, or both Ditto

Ditto Ditto

Not compound able

years and fine Imprisonment of either description for 2 years in addition to imprisonment under or second class Ditto

Magistrate of the first

Impresonment of either Court of Session, Presi description for 3 dency Magistrate or

Ditto

'[Compoundable when permis sion is given by the Court before which the prosecution any other section Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

is pending! able ]

[Not compound Impresonment of either description for years and fine

Ditto

Ditto Ditto

Ditto

Court of Session Press dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class

Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act 1928 (XVIII of 1928)

SCHEDULE

	Силр	TER XVI -OFF	ENCES AFFECTING
1	2	3	*
XIV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narrly issue in the first instance
		0	Criminal Force
352	Assault or use of erim nal force otherwise than on grave pro- vocation	Shall not arrest without war rant	Summons
953 1	Assault or use of criminal force to deter a public servant from discharge of his duty		Warrant
854	Assault or use of criminal force to a woman with intent to out rage her modesty	Ditto	Ditto
355	Assault or criminal force with in tent to dishonour a person otherwise than on grave and sudden provocation	Shall not arrest without war rant	Summons
856	Assault or criminal force in at tempt to commit theft of pro- perty worn or carred by a person	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
857	Assault or use of criminal force in attempt wrongfully to confine a person	Ditto	Ditto
358	Assault or use of criminal force on grave and sudden provoca tion	without war rant
		Of Kidnapp	ing, Abduction
363	Kidnapp ng	May arrest with out warrant
564	At Inspp ng or abducting in order to murder	Ditto	D tto

Ditto

-

II .- (Contd.)

5

тне Нима	r Bopy-	(Contd.)."
----------	---------	------------

. Whether Punishment under the By what Court triable Whether bailable compoundable or not or not and Assault.

Ditto

Bailable . Compoundable . Imprisonment of either Any Magistrate description for 8 months, or fine of 500 rupees, or both

. Not compound Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate a ble description for 2 or Magistrate of the years, or fine, or first or accound class both

Ditto .

Ditto . . Ditto . Ditto

. Compoundable .

Not bailable Not compound Imprisonment of either Any Magistrate able description for 2 years, or fine, or both Bailable . '[Compoundable Impresonment of either Ditto when permisdescription for 1 sion is given year, or fine of 1,000 rupees, or both before which ٠, the prosecution is pending) . Compoundable . Simple imprisonment Ditto for 1 month, or fine of 200 rupees, or

Slavery and Forced Labour.

. Not compound Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Preside description for 7 dency Magistrate or [Bailable] description for 7 years, and fine Magistrate of the first class

both

'[Not hallable . . Transportation for life, Court of Session Ditto . or rigorous imprison ment for 10 years, and fine

<sup>1</sup> Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1928 (XVIII of 1923)

ECTING

	CHAPTER XVI OFFENCES AFFECTIN
1	2	$	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
365	Kidnapping or abducting with intent secretly and wrongfully to confine a person	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
366	Kidnapping or abducting a woman to compel her marriage or to cause her defilement etc	Ditto	Ditto
366A	A Procuration of minor girl	Ditto	Ditto
366B	Importation of girl from foreign	Ditto	Ditto
867	eountry Kidnapping or abducting in order to subject a person to grievous hurt slavery etc	Ditto	Ditto
868	Concealing or keeping in confine ment a kidnapped person	Ditto	Ditto
3 (0	Lidnapping or shducting a child with intent to take property from the person of such child	Ditto	Ditto
370	Buying or disposing of any person as a slave	Shall not arrest without war rant	Ditto
371	Habitual dealing in slaves	May arrest with out warrant	p tto
572	Selling or letting to hire s minor for purposes of prostitution etc	Ditto	p tto
378	Buying or obtaining possession of a minor for the same purposes	Ditto	Ditto
874	Unlawful compulsors labour	*[Shall not arrest without war rant]	Ditto

II .- (Contd.)

THE HUMAN BODY-(Contd.).

5

7

2

Whether bailable or not

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Not bailable

Whether compoundable or not

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Datto

Punishment under the Bs what Court triable

Not bailable . Not compound able

description for 7 years, and fine

dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class . Impresonment of either Court of Session

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presi

Ditto Ditto description for 10 years, and fine Ditto .

Ditto Ditto .

description

Ditto Ditto

, Punishment for kid napping or abdue tion Imprisonment of either for years, and fine

first class I Ditto Court of Session

"[Court of Session, Pre-

sidency Magistrate or

Magistrate of the

Bailable Ditto

Ditto . . Transportation for life, or imprisonment of

Datto

Ditto . Ditto either description for 10 years, and fine

, Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presi description for 10 dency Magistrate of years, and fine Magistrate of the first dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto .

Datto

. Compoundable . Imprisonment of either Any Magistrate Bailable

description for 1 year, or fine, or both

'Added by S 4 of the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Act (XX of 1923)

SCHEDULE

	Сна	PTER XVI.—OF	ENCES AFFECTING
1	2	3	4
XLV of 1869 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
			O)
376	Rape— If the sexual intercourse was by a man with his own wife	Shall not arrest without war rant	Summons .
	In any other case	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
			Of Unnatural
877	Unnatural offences	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
		CHAPTER XV	/II.—Offences
			Of
379	Theft	May arrest with to	Varrant
380	Theft in a building, tent or vessel	Ditto	Dıtto
381	Theft by clerk or servant of pro- perty in possession of master or employer	Ditto	Ditto .
	Theft, preparation having been made for causing death, or burt, or restraint, or fear of death, or of hust or or estimate, or fear of such theft, to the committing of such theft, or to return after committing it, or to returning property taken by it taken by it.	Ditto , .	D <sub>i</sub> tto •
			O <sub>I</sub>

. Shall not arrest Warrant . . . without war-

tant.

II -(Contd)

THE HUMAN BODY - (Concld )

5

G

Whether bailable compoundable or not or not

Whether

Punishment under the By what Court triable

8

Rape

Bailable Not compound able

Transportation for life Court of Session or imprisonment of either discription for 10 years and fine

Not bailable Ditto Ditto

Ditto

ъ.

Offences Not bailable

Not compound able

Not compound

Ditta

Impresonment of either Any Magistrate

AGAINST PROPERTY

Theft Not bailable

able. Ditto

description for 3 years, or fine, or both Impresooment of either

Ditto description for

Ditto

Ditto

Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class

Detto Ditto

Rigorous imprisonment Court of Session Presi for 10 years and dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first

Extortion

Railable

Ditto

Not compound able fine or ears oth

fine

Imprisonment of either Court of Session Presi description for 3 dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class

c1455

386

387

388

41

392

393

291 mit extertion

extortion

offence

Robbery

robberv

unnatural offence Putting a person in fear of accusa

Extortion by putting a person in fear of death or grievous hurt Putting or attempting to put a person in fear of death or grie

yous hurt in order to commit

Extortion by threat of accusation of an offence punishable with death, transportation for life, or imprisonment for 10 years If the offence threatened be an

tion of offence punishable with death, transportation for life, or with imprisonment for 10 years, in order to commit extortion If the offence be an unnatural

If committed on the bighway be-

Person voluntarily causing burt in committing or attempting to person jointly concerned in such

tween sunset and sunrise

Attempt to commit robbers

SCHEDUL	E
CHAPTER XVII.—OFFENCE	ES

Putting or attempting to put in Shall not arrest Warrant .
fear of injury, in order to com without warrant

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

May arrest with out warrant

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto .

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Of Robbery Warrant

		CHAPTER	XVII.—OFFENCES
1	2	8	4
			Whether a war

1	4	3
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not or not the first inside	ordi e in

II.-(Contd)

5

AGAINST PROPERTY - (Contd )

	u	•
Whether bailable or not	Whether compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable
Bailable	ot compound able	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years or fine or both
Not bailable	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Court of Session
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Ditto
Bailable	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Transportation for life	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Transportation for life	Ditto and Dacotty
ot bailable	Not compound able	Rigorous imprisoment for 10 years, and fine	Court of Session, Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Rigorous imprisoment for 14 years, and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Rigorous imprisoment for 7 years, and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Transportation for life, or rigorous imprison- ment for 10 years, and fine	Ditto

RECEIVER

		Chinamak 2	($23'-EJInderser
3	±	4	4
re non prof. 13.1 %	Shows	Milester the feder mer securit federates something to me	Minister & war- ment and their mark and their mark issue it mark issue it
2444	Down to	and maniety give remost with	Margarit
	Streets in discours	tour	min -
*4	to come there is the most negative to the control of the control o	י אוייות	Dim -
	Kreming in summit medicing in the other wines would also be marked	2016	ដាពេធ
*	Minking resignation to summit	min	かれい
	Schulling to a point is personal to be consisted for the personal to be because to be because the second	D.m	Ţ)itir
Α'n	fedulating it a wand only built a woman a last timbs continued in the sup-	2)1114 " "	minn
٩ĽĽ	that we have to more presented assumbled for the pureous in security that the sort	m.C	~ AIIIG"
		Commission (	teettellingilinging in 412	and the state of t	That any arrest	Al Frankly dire	"Tochistica produpting activity of pos- perior knowing that I was to perior to a polynomial took to the fault, upon that I was be said feel to the processorial or was species by all qualities to be	יוויה	Dan -

II -- (Contd )

5

AGAINST	PROPERTY (Contd )
---------	-------------------

6

Ditto

Ditto

•		•	•
Whether bailahle or not	Whether compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable
not bailable	not compound able	Transportation for life or rigorous imprison ment for 10 years and fine	Court of Session
Ditto	Ditto	Death transportation for life or regorous imprisonment for 10 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Rigorous imprisonment for not less than 7 years	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Rigorous imprisonment for 10 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Transportation for life or rigorous imprison ment for to years and fine	Ditto
			a D

Ditto

Ditto

of Property
Bailable	[Compoundable when permis- sion is given by the Court before which the prosecution	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years or fice or both	in; Magistrate
Ditto	is pending] Not compound able	Imprisooment of either description for ? years and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second clas

Historius imprisonment for 7 years and fine dency Magistrate of Magistrate of first class

Ditto Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate of first class Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate of the first class

&lt;sup>1</sup> Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Ame 1923 (XVIII of

If by clerk or person employed by Shall not arrest Warrant .

2

Offence

decrased

Criminal breach of trust

carrier, wharfinger, etc

or servant

or agent etc

Criminal breach of trust by a Criminal breach of trust by a clerk

Criminal breach of trust by public petty, knowing it to be stolen

Disbonestly receiving atolen pro-perty knowing that it was ob-tained by decosty

Ifsbitually dealing in stolen pro-

Assisting in concealment for dis-posal of stolen property knowing servant or by banker, merchant

052

1

XLV of 1860

Section

406

407

403

409

411

412

413

414 perty

it to be stolen

Amendment) Act 1923 (XVIII of 1925)

SCHEDULE

Of Criminal

Ditto .

Ditto .

Ditto .

Of the Recenting

Ditto .

Ditto

Ditto .

Whether the

without warrant

Ditto .

Ditto .

Ditto

out warrant

Ditto .

Ditto

Ditto

Dishonestly receiving atolen pro- Way arrest with- Warrant .

The figures "405" were omitted by S 150 of the Code of Criminal Procedure

May arrest with Warrant . out warrant

Whether a war rant or a sum police may arrest mons shall orde without warrant

narrly 1854e in or not the first instance

3

II .- (Contd.)

AGAINST	Pror	FRT)	(Contd.)

5

G

7

Whether I mishle or not

Whether compoundable or not

Punishment under the By what Court triable

8

Bailable

able

linuoquos to/ Impresonment of either Court of Session, Presidescription for 7 dency Magistrate or years and fine

Magistrate of the first or second class

Breach of Trust

Not bailable Not compound able

sears or fine or both

Imprisonment of either Court of Session Presi description for 3 dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class Imprisonment of either Court of Session Presi description for 7 ilency Magistrate or

Ditto Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

years and fine Ditto

Magistrate of the first class Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class

Court of Session Presi

Ditto

either description for 10 years and fine

Transportation for life

or imprisonment of

dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class

of Stolen Property Not bailable

Ditto

Not compound Imprisonment of either Court of Session Presi-allo description for 3 demy Magistrate or Ditto years or fine or Transportation for life Court of Session

loth

Van strate of the first or second class

Ditto Ditto

or imprisonment for 10 years and fine Transportation for life or imprisipment of either description for

Ditto

Ditto Ditto

to sears and fine vears or line or Imprisonment of either Court of Session Prest description for 3 dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the hirst or second class

SCHEDUL

Ditt.

					SCHEDO
					CHAPTER N	VII.—OFTENCE
1		2			a	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence		Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not.	Whether a nar rant or a sum mons shall orde narily issue in the first instance
$17	Chesting				. Shall not arrest nethout war-	Warrant .

119	Cheating a person whose interest the offender was bound, either by taw or by legal contract to protect	Ditto	Ditto	•
111	Chesting by personation	May arrest with put warrant,	Dutto

620	Cheating and thereby dishunestly inducing delivery of property or the mixing, alteration or des- truction of a valual te security	Ditto	•	Ditto •
	truction of a valuable security

				Of	Frand	nlent Deed	* 11"
$21	ment ef	removal or preperty, distribution	etc. to	without	arrest War	Wairant.

Ditto .

I rau lulently presenting from teing maile available for his creditors a del t or demand due to the offender

472

II - (Contd )

5

or not

ACAINST PROPERTY - (Contd )

Whether Whether build le companidal le er not

G

Punishment under the By what Court triable

Ť

(heating

Bailable

when permis hy the Court

the prosecution is pending l

before which

Compoundable Impresonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for I or Magistrate of the sear, or line, or hirst or second class

R

when permis sion is given before which the prosecu tion is pend

[Compoundable Imprisonment of either Court of Session Presi description for a years or fine nr hoth

dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class

Ditto

Ditto

| Compoundable when permis sion is given by the Court hefore which the prosecu ing 1

ing l

Ditte

Ditto

Ditto

when permis sion is given by the Court before which the prosecut tion is pend

[Compoundable Impresonment of either Court of Session Presidescription for 7 years and fine

dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class

Disposition of Property

Bulable

able

ing I

Not compound Impresonment of either Presidency Magistrate description Sesrs cr for 2 or Magistrate of the

Ditto

Ditto

Datte

Datto

Substituted by S. 159 of the Cole of Criminal Procedure (Amen Iment) Act. 1923 (XVIII of 1923)

SCHEDULE

		CHAPTER X	VII -OFF	FNCFS
1	2	3	4
.1 V of 1800 action	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a rant or a muns shall narily issi	sum ordi ne in
123	Transdigent execution of ilera of transfer continuing a false state ment of consideration	Shall not arrest without war rant	Warrant
421	I randulent removal or concest ment of property, of humself or any other person or assisting in the doing thereof or dishonestly releasing any demand or claim to which he is entitled	Dittn	Ditto
				0/
126	Mischief	Shall not arrest without war rant	Summons
នេះ	Mischief and thereby causing damage to the amount of 50 rupees or upwards.	Ditto	Warrant
4.29	Mischief by killing, poisoning, maining or rendering liseless any animal of the value of 10 rupers or upwards	May arrest with nut warrant	Ditto
$29	Visional by killing, possiming, maining or ren laring useles, any elephant, camel horse, ele- whatever may be its value or any other animal of the value of 50 rupers or upwards	Dytta	Ditta
470	Vischief ly causing diminution of supply if water for agricultural purposes etc.	Datta	Ditto

956

II .- (Contd.)

ACAINST PROPERTY-ICuntd.).

8

6

8

Whether bailable or not

Bhether compoundable or not

Punishment under the fly what Court trible

Radable

. Not compound Impresorment of either Presidency Magistrate

Ditto .

able Ditto

hoth Ditto

Ditto

description for 2 or Magistrate of the years, or fine, or first or second class

Wischief. Bailable

Ditto

caused is loss or damage to a private per Son

Compoundable

Ditto

when the only description for a months or fine or loss or damage both Impresonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 2 or Magistrate of the first or second class sears, or fine, or

Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presi

oksemption for 5 depey Vagistrate or

Impresonment of either Any Magistrate

Datta Not compound able

Ditto

years, or fine, or

Ditto

Ungistrate of the first

Ditto Ditto

both Ditto or second class Intto

Datto (Compoundable

when permis sion is given by the Court before which the prosecu ing ] Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Commai Procedure (Imendment) 1923 (\) III of 1924)

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER XVII.-OFFENCES

3

	-
XLV of 1960 Sertion	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without narrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ords narily issue in the first instance
171	Mischiel by injury to public road, bridge, mangable river, or may gable channel and rendering it impassable or less safe for trailed ing or conveying property.	May arrest with out warrant	Warrant
t 3.2	Vischief by eausing inmidation or obstruction to public drainage, attended with damage	Datto .	Ditto
433	dischief by ilestroying or moving or rendering less useful a light house or see mark, or by ex- hibiting false lights	Ditto	Ditto •
43 t	Nischief by destroying or moving, etc. a land mark fixed by public authority	Shall not arrest without war rant	Ditto .
433	Mischief by fire or explosive sub- stance with intent to cause ilamage to amount of 100 rupees or upwards, or, in ease of agri cultural procedure to rupees or	May arrest with out warrant	Ditto
4%	upwards  Vischief by fire or explosive sub- stance with intent to destroy a finuse, etc	Ditto	Ditte -
43"	Mischiel with intent to destroy or make invale a decked vessel or a vessel of 20 lims burden	Date .	Ditto .
478	The mischief described in the last section when committed by fire or any explosive substance	Ditto	Ditta
479	Running vessel ashere with intent to commit theft, etc	Date	Ditto .
410	Vischief committed after prepara- tion made for causing death or hint, etc.	Datio .	Putto •

II .- (Contd )

5

Ditto

46 AINST	PROPERTY-	Contd	١.

6

		•	ō
Whether bullable	Whether	Punishment under the	By what Court trouble

or not	compoundal le	Punishment under the Imban Penal Code	By what Court triable,
Bailable	'INot compound able ]	Imprisonment of either description for 5 years, or fine, or both	Court of Session, Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class
Ditto	Not compound able	Imprisonment of either description for 5 years, or fine, or both	Court of Session, Presi ilincy Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years or fine, 01 both	Court of Session
Ditto	Ditta	Imprisonment of either description for 1 year, or fine or both	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Court of Session, Presidency Magistrate of the first Class

Not bulable	Ditto	Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Court of Session
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years and line	Dilto
Ditto	Drtto	Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10	Ditto

Ditto

Imprisonment of either Court of Session Presi description for 5 dency Magistrate or years and fine Magistrate of the first class Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act 1923 (XVIII of 1973)

SCHEDULE

		CHAPTER N	VII.—OFFENCES
1	2	3	4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi rarily issue in the first instance
			Of Criminal
117	Criminal trespass	May arrest with out warrant	Summons
413	Hause trespass	Ditto ,	Warrant .
119	House tresposs in order to the commission of an offence punish able with death	Ditto	Ditto ·
130	House tresposs in order to the commission of an offence punish able with transportation for life	Ditto ,	Ditto .
431	llouse tresposs in order to the commission of an offence punish able with imprisonment	Patto	Ditto
	If the offence is theft	Ditto .	Ditto
152	House trespass, having made pre- paration for causing hurt, as sault, etc.	Ditto .	Ditto
133	furking house trespass or house breaking	Datte	Ditto
451	furking house trespass or house treaking in order to the eam mission of an effence punish able with imprisonment	Ditto	Ditto

II -(Contd )

AGAINST PROPERTY -- (Contd )

5

7

Whether bailable or not

Whether compoundable or not

Punishment under the By what Court triable

Trespass

Batlal le

Compoundable

Imprisonment of either Any Magistrate description for months or fine of 500 runees or both or rigorous imprison

description for 10

Ditto

Ditto Not compound

able

Imprisonment of either description for one Ditto year or fine of 1 000 rupees or both Transportation for life Court of Session

Not bailable Duto

Ditte

ment for 10 years and line Impresonment of either Ditta

Bailable

(Compoundable when permis sion is given by the Court clore which the prosecu years and fine Imprisonment of either Any Magistrate description for

Not bulable

Not compound able I

sears and fine

ing 1

Impres ament of eather Court of Session 1 rest description for 7 derry Magistrate or Muristrate of the first or second class Ditto

Datto

Ortio Ditto years an I fine Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Impresonment of citler Presidency Magistrate description for 2 or Magistrate of the first or second class

Ditto

Imprisonment of either Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or description for 3 years and fine Magistrate of the first or second class

Sul stituted by 5 159 of the Cole of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) (\\ III of 19-3) 121

Section

155

156

457

133

459

170

461

4~?

If the offence is theft

breaking by night

If the offence as theft

house breaking

night, etc

tain property

PAIRC

Lurking house trespass or house

Grievous hurt caused whilst com

Death or grievous hurt caused by one of several persons jointly

Dishonestly breaking open or unfastening any closed receptacle containing or supposed to con

Being entrusted with any closed receptacle containing or supposed to contain any property, and fraudulently opening the concerned in house breaking by mitting lurking house trespass or breaking by night after prepara tion made for causing hurt, etc.

breaking by night in order to the comission of an offence punishable with imprisonment breaking after preparation made for causing hurt, assault, etc

962

SCHEDULE

CHAPPED VIII

narily issue in the first instance

Ditto .

Dilto

13:tto •

Ditto .

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto .

Ditte .

without warrant

or not

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto

Ditto .

Ditto .

May arrest with Warrant out warrant

		CHAPTER XVII,—OFFENCES
1	2	3	4
λLV of 1860	Offence	Whether the	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi

II —(Contd)
AGAINST PROPER	Ti —(Concld)
5	6	7	8
Whether I nilable or not	Whether compoundable or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court triable
Not bailable	Not compound alle	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine	Court of Session, Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 10 years, and fine	Court of Session, Presidency Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years and fine	Court of Session, Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 5 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Imprisonment of either description for 14 years and fine	Ditto
Ditto	Ditto	Ditto	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Ditto	Ditt ;	Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 10 years and line	Court of Session
Ditt i	Ditto	Ditto	Ditto
Bailal le	Ditta	Imprisonment of either description for 2 years or fine or both	or Magistrate of the
Ditto	Ditto	Impresonment of either description for 3 years or fine or loth	Court of Session Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class

465 Lorgery

460

471

4-2

...

purpose

forged

frit

		SCHEDULE
	CHAPTER XVIII.—OFFFACES RELATING	TO DOCUMENTS
		å

	CHAPTER XVIII	.—Offfncfs relating	TO DOCUMENTS
1	2	3	4
XLV of			Whether a war

rant or a sum

1860 Offence

police may arrest mons shall ordinarily issue in Section or not the first instance

Shall not arrest Warrant . .

without warrant Ditto ton Largery of a record of a Court of Ditto .

fustice or of a Register of Births etc, kept by a public servant 467 Ditto .

Forgery of a valuable security. Ditto will or authority to make or transfer any valuable scentity, or to receive any money, etc.

Ditto . When the valuable security is a May arrest with promissory note of the Govern- out warrant ment of India

Ditto 468 Forgers for the purpose of cheat Shall not arrest ing without war cant

> When the forged document is a May arrest with promissors note of the tovern

Making or counterfeiting a seal, Shall not arrest plate, etc. with intent to commit a forgery punshable under section 47 of the Indian Penal Color of the Property and Little of the Pr lorgery for the purpose of harm-ing the reputation of any

Using as genuine a forged docu-ment which is known to be Code, or possessing with like intent any such seal, plate, etc., knowing it e same to be counter person, or knowing that it is likely to be used for that

Ditto .

Ditto .

Ditto .

Ditto .

Ditto .

Ditto .

out warrant

II -(Centd)

AND TO TRADE OR PROPERTY MARKS

AND TO TRADE OR PROPERTY MARKS
5	6	7	8
Whether In lable or not	Whether compoundal le or not	Punishment under the Indian Penal Code	By what Court trialle
Bulti le	∖ot compound alle	Impresonment of either description for 2 years or fine or both	Court of Session Presi deocy Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class
Not I aslat le	Ditt	Ingresonment of eatler description for 7 years and fine	Court of Sess on
I) tto	D tto	Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 10 years and line	Ditto
D tto	Ditto	Intto	Ditto
D tto	Detto	Imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Court of Session Presi dency Mag strate or Magistrate of the first class
Baila} le	D tto	Imprisonment of either description for 3 years and fue	D tto
D tto	D tto	Punishment for forgers of such document	Same Court as that by which the forgery is triable
D tlo	D tto	D tto	Court of Session
D tto	Ditto	Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 7 years and fine	Detto

1

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER XVIII. - OFFENCES RELATING TO DOCUMENTS

	2		•
XIV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
473	Making or counterfeiting a seal, plate, etc., with intent to com mit a forgery punishable other wise than under section 467 of the Indian Penal Code, or possessing with like intent any such seal, plate, etc., knowing the same to be counterfeit	Shall not arrest without war- rant	Warrant
474	Having possession of a document, knowing it to be forged, with intent to use it as genuine if the document is one of the des cription mentioned in section 466 of the Indian Penal Code	Ditto	Ditto
	If the document is one of the description mentioned in section 457 of the Indian Penal Code	Ditto .	Ditto · ·
475	Counterfeiting a device or mark used for authenticating down ments described in section 467 of the Indian Penal Code or possessing counterfeit marked material	Ditto	Ditto · ·
476	Penal Code or possessing connterfeit marked material	Ditto	Ditto
477	Fraudulently destroying or defac- ing, or attempting to destroy or deface, or secreting, a will, etc	Ditto .	Ditto
t⁻7A	lalsification of accounts	Ditto .	Ditto .

II -(Contd )

AND TO TRADE OR PROPERTY MARKS-(Could)

5 G 7 8

Whether bailable Whether Punishment under the By what Court triable compoundal le or not

or not

Bailable \ot Imprisonment of either Court of Session compound able description for 7 years and fine

Ditto Ditter Datto Ditto

Ditto Ditto Transportation for life Ditto or impresonment of either description for 7 years, and fine

Ditto Ditto Ditto Ditto

Not bailable [Imprisonment of either description for 7 years or fine or both] Difte Ditto

Ditta Ditta Transportation for hic Detto or impresonment of either description for 7 years, and fine, of 'ICourt of Session, Pre "[Bailable] Ditto '{Imprisonment either description for sidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the 7 years or fine or first class ] f aib ì

Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Let . (NIII of 1923)

2

SCHEDULE

	CHAPTER XVIII —OFFENCES RELATING TO DOCU
1	2 .	3	3
XIV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ord narily issue in the first instance
			Of Trade and
182	Using a false trade or property mark with intent to deceive or injure any person	Shall not arrest without war rant	Warrant
453	Counterfeiting a trade or property mark used by another, with in tent to cause damage or injury	Ditto .	Ditto
48$	Counterfesting a property mark used by a public servant or any mark used by him to denote the manufacture quality, etc of any property	Ditto	Summous
48 0	Fraudulently unking or having possession of any itie plate or other instrument for counter feiting any public or private pro- perty or trade mark	Ditto	Ditto
486	Anowingly selling goods marked with a counterfeit property or trade mark	Ditto	Ditto
497	I raudulently making a false mark upon any package or receptacle containing goods with intent to cause it to be believed that it contains goods which it does not contain, etc	Ditto	Ditto
188	Making use of any such false mack	Ditto .	D tto

II -(Contd)

AND TO TRADE OR PROPERTY MARLE-(CORID )

5 6 7

Whether bailable or not Compoundable or not Indian Penal Code By what Court triable

R

or second class

Property Marks

Bulable [Compoundable Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate when permis description for 1 of Magistrate of the sion is given par, or fine, or first or second class by the Court both the prosecu tion is pend

Ditto Ditto . Imprisonment of either description for 2 years, or fine, or both

Ditto '[Not compound Impresoment of either Court of Session, President of Session of Session, President of Session of Ses

Ditto Ditto Imprisonment of either Ditto description for B

bitto

'[Compoundable Imprisonment of other Presidency Magnistrate when permis description for I or Magnistrate of the py the Lourt before which the prosecution is pending I

Ditto [Not compound able ] Impresonment of either deery Magistrate or both or both or line or long to the property of the prop

&#x27; Substituted by S 139 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act (XV III of 19'3)
122 to cause maury

bank notes

notes

notes

bank notes

Using as genuine forged or coun

489C Possession of forged or counter

489D Making or possessing instruments or materials for borging or terfest currency notes or bank fest currency notes or bankcounterfeiting currency notes or render personal service during a voyage or journey or to convey or guard any property or person and voluntarily omitting to do

Being bound to attend on or supply the wants of a person who is helpless from youth, unsoundness of mind or disease. and voluntarily emitting to do

489

489B

490

491

50

Of Currency Notes

Ditto .

Ditto .

Ditto .

rant

out warrant,

Dutto .

Ditto .

without a warrant.

CHAPTER XIX.—CRIMINAL BREACH

Ditto . Ditto .

Ditto . .

CHAPTER XVIII .- OFFENCES RELATING TO DOCUMENTS 3 2

1 Whether a war Whether the XLV of rant or a sum police may arrest mons shall ordi 1860 Offence.

without warrant narily issue in or not. the first instance

Removing, destroying or defacing Shall not arrest Summons .

489A Counterfeiting currency notes or May arrest with Warrant . . .

Being bound by contract to Shall not arrest Summons .

'This portion was added to the Schedule hy S 3 of the Currency Notes Forgery Act, 1809 (XII of 1800)

Section

any property mark with intent without war-

II - (Contd )

AND TO TRADE OR PROCERTY MARKS- (Concld ) G

5

7

8

or not

Whether Whether bailal le compoundal le or not

Punishment under the By what Court triable Indian Penal Code

Bailable

Not compound Imprisonment of eitler Presidency Magistrate description for 1 or Magistrate of the year or fine or first or second class both

and Banl Notes

Not be lable

abia

Not compound Transportation for life Court of Session or imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine

D tto

D tto

Transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for 10 years and fine

Ditto

Railable

D 110

Impresonment of either description for 7 years or fine or both Ditto

Not ba fable

Ditto

Transportation for life or impresonment of 10 years and fine

Ditto

OF CONTRACTS OF SERVICE

Bailable

Compoundable

Imprisonment of e ther Presidency Magistrate description for 1 or Magistrate of the month or fine of 100 first or second class rupees or both

D tto

D tto

Imprisonment of either description for 3 months or fine of 200 rupees or both

D tto

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER XIX .- CRIMINAL BREACH

1	2	8		4
XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether police may without w or no	arrest	Il hether rant or a mons shal narrly 155 the first in	l ord:
492	Being bound by contract to render personal service for a certain period at a distant place to which the employer is conveved at the expense of the employer, and voluntarily descring the service or refusing to perform the duty	Shall not without : rant	arrest a war	Summons
		Cita	PTER	XX011	FENCES
493	A man by deceit causing a woman not lawfully married to him to believe that she is lawfully married to him and to cohabit with him in that belief	Shall not without rant	arrest War	Warrant
491	Marrying again during the life time of a furband or wife	Ditto		Ditto
495	Same offence with concealment of the former marriage from the person with whom subsequent marriage is contracted	Ditto		Ditto	•
496	A person with fraudulent inten- tion going through the ceremony of being married knowing that he is not thereby lawfully married	Ditto		Ditto
497	Adultery	Ditto		Ditto
499	Foticing or taking away or detain ing with a criminal intent a married woman	Ditto		Ditto

II .- (Contd.)

OF	CONTRACTS	OF	Service-	Consta
••	COMMICIS	Or	OF RAIGH	i Concia. i

5 6

7

8

Whether bailable or not Whether compoundable or not

ble Punishment under the By what Court triable

Bailable . . Compoundable . Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 1 or Magistrate of the month, or fine of first or second class flowlet the expense securities, or both

BELATING TO MARRIAGE.

Not bailable . Not compound able Impresonment of either Court of Session description for 10 years, and fine.

Eatlable . . '[Compoundable with permis sion of the Court before which the prosecution is pending ] able Imprisonment of either '[Court of Session, Presidency Magistrate or the yeara, and fine fore pro-

<sup>2</sup>[Bailable] . <sup>1</sup>[Not compound able ]

Imprisonment of either 1[Court of Session]
description for 10
years, and fine

Ditte

Ditto .

Ditto

Ditto .

Imprisonment of either description for 7

Ditto

Bailable . . Compoundable

Imprisonment of either Court of Session, Presidescription for 5 dency Magistrate or years, or fine, or Magistrate of the first class

. Imprisonment of either Presidency Magistrate description for 2 or Magistrate of the years, or fine, or first or second class both

Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, (NVIII of 1923)

2

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER XXI -

3

XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or pot	Whether a war rant or a sum mons shall ordi narily issue in the first instance
500	Defamation	Shall not arrest without war rant	Warrant ,
501	Printing or engraving maller knowing it to be defamatory.	Ditto .	Ditto . ,
502	Sale of printed or engraved sub- stance containing defamatory matter, knowing it to contain auch matter		Ditto .
	Chapter	XXII.~CRIMINA	L INTIMIDATION,
501	Insult intended to provoke a breach of the peace	Shall not arrest without war- rant	Warrant .
505	Talse statement, rumour, etc circulated with intent to eaust mutiny or offence against the public peace	Ditto	Ditto .
50g	Criminal intimidation	Ditto	Ditto · ·
	If threat be to cause death or grievous hurt, etc	Ditto	Ditto .
507	Criminal intimidiation by anony mous communication or having taken precaution to coneca whence the threat comes	Ditto	Ditto · ·
508	Act caused by inducing a person to believe that he will be rendered an object of Divine dis pleasure	Ditto	Ditto · *

II -(Contd.)

•	 ,

DEFAMATION.	•
5

Whether bailable Under Punishment under the or not compoundable ladian Penal Code:

By what Court triable

7

or not compoundable or not leading Penal Code:

By what Court triable leading Penal Code:

By what Court triabl

Ditto Ditto . Ditto . Ditto . Ditto

INSULT AND ANNOYANCE.

Bulable Compoundable Imprisonment of either Any Magistrate description for 2 years, or fine, or both

Not builable Nut compound able Ditto . . Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the Bailable Compoundable Ditto . Presidincy Magastrate

Presidency Magastrate of the configuration of the first or second class Ditto Not compared to ather Court of Session, Pres

Ditto Not compound Impresonment of either court of Session, Fresundary Magistrate or Years, or fine, or Magistrate of Magistrate of Magistrate of the first Class

Ditto Ditto . Impresonment of either description for 2 years, in addition to the punshment under shore section

The punshment under shore section

The punshment of either Presidency Vagnitus

Ditto . [Compoundable] Imprisonment of either Presidency Viagistrate description for 1 or Viagistrate of the season of the seaso

<sup>1</sup> These words were substituted for the word "Datto" by Part II of the Second Schedule to the Repealing and Amending Act 1908 (I of 1903), General Acts, but V "Substituted by S 159 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) A (XVIII of 1923)

2

SCHEDULE

CHAPTER XXII -CRIMINAL INTIMIDATION,

XLV of 1860 Section	Offence	Whether the police may arrest without warrant or not	Whether a war cant or a sum mons shall ordi parily issue in the first instance
509	Uttering any word or making any gesture intended to insult the modesty of a woman, etc	Shall not arrest without war rant	Warrant ,
510	Appearing in a public place, etc., in a state of intoxication and causing annoyance to any per son	Ditto	Ditto
		CHAPTER XXI	III —Attempts
511	Attempting to commit offences punishable with transportation or imprisonment, and in such attempt doing any act towards the comission of the offence	According as the offence is one in respect of which the police may arrest without warrant or not	According as the offence is one in respect of which a sum mons of war rant shall ordinarily issue
		Off	ENCES AGAINST
	If punishable with death, trans l portation or imprisonment for 7 years or upwards	May arrest with V	Varrant .
	If punishable with imprisonment for 5 years and upwards, but less than 7	Disto	Ditto
	If punishable with impresonment S for 1 year and upwards but less than 3 years	hall not arrest Su without war rant	ammons •
	If punishalle with impresonment for less than 1 year, or with fine only	Ditto .	D <sub>i</sub> tto .

II -(Contd)

INSULT AND ANNOYANCE—(Concid )

5

6

7

8

Whether bailable or not Whether compoundable or not

Indian Penal Code

Punishment under the By what Court triable

Bailable

when permis sion is given by the Court before which the prosecu tion is pend

[Compoundable Simple imprisonment when permits for 1 year, or fine, sion is given or both Ditto

Ing ]

Ditto . [Compoundable Sumple impresonment Any Magnetrate able | for 24 hours, or fine

According as the Compoundable for 24 hours, or fine of 10 rupees, or both

TO COMMIT OFFENCES

offence con templated by the offender is bailable or not when the of lesser attempt ed is compoundable

Transportation, or im prisonment not exceeding half of the longest term and of any description provided for the offence, or fine, or both The Court by which the offence attempted is triable

Not bailable

Not compound

Court of Session

Ditto
Fxcept in eases under the In dian Arms Act
1878 Section
19 which shall be bailable

Ditto

Court of Session, Presi dency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class

Court of Session, Presidency Magistrate of Magistrate

Isailable

Ditto

or second class

Ditto Ditto

tto Any Magistrate

<sup>1</sup> Substituted by S 150 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Ac (N-HI of 1923)
123

SCHEDULE III

(See section 36)

ORDINARY POWERS OF PROVINCIAL MAGISTRATES.

I -Ordinary Powers of a Magistrate of the Third Class

- (1) Power to arrest or direct the arrest of, and to commit to custods, a person
- committing an offence in his presence, section 64
- (2) Power to arrest, or direct the urest in his presence of, an offender, section to
- (3) Power to endorse a warrant, or to order the removal of an accused person arrested under a warrant, sections 83, 84 and 86
- (4) Lower to issue proclamations in cases judicially before him, section 87 (5) Power to attach and sell property land to dispose of claims to attached pro-
- perty) in cases indically before his, section 88
  (6) Power to restore attached property, section 87
  (7) Tower to reguire easier to the mid-for jetters and telegrams, section 95
- (8) Power to assue search warrant, section 96

section 130

- (9) Power to endorse a search warrant and order delivery of thing found, seemon
- (10) Power to command unlawful assembly to disperse, section 127
- (11) lawer to use civil force to disperse unbaful assembly, section 128 (12) Lover to require nulture force to be used to disperse unlawful assembly
- (14) Power to authorise detention [not leng detention in the custodi of the police] of a person during a police investigation section 167 I (14a) I oner to postpone issue of process and inquire into case himself, section
  - 202 1
  - (15) Power to detain an offender found in court section 351 (16) lower to take cognizance of offence, although committed in Purojent British subject and to issue process returnable before a Magn-trate harder authorities seements.
  - (17) lower to apply to District Magnetrate to issue commission for examination of
- (18) Power to recover forfeited lond for appearance before Magistrate's Court,
- section of4 '(and to require fresh security, section 5141) [18(a) Power to make order as to custods and disposal of properts pending inquite
  - or trial, section 516 \ 1
  - (19) Power to stake order as to disposal of property, section 517 (20) Power to sell so property of a suspected character, section 525
- [(21) Power to require affidavit in support of application, section 5:94]
- 1 (22) Power to make local inspection, section 539B ]

II -Ordinary Powers of a Magistrale of the Second Class.

- (1) The ordinary powers of a Magistrate of a third class
  (2) Power to order the police to investigate an offence in cases in which the Magistrate has jurisdiction to tris or commit for tris), section 155
- [(4) Lower to postpone issue of process and to inquire into a case or direct investigation, section 202 ]
- These words were interted by a 169 of the Code of Criminal procedure (Amend n ent) Act, 1923 (AA III of 1923)
  - These items were omitted ly ibid
    - These items were inserted by thid These words figures and letter were added by 1911. The word 'perishable' was omitted by 1914.
    - · These stems were added In thid
    - 'This item was splistituted by fold

SCHEDI LE III-continued

III -Ordinary Points of a Magistrali of the First Class

(1) The ordinary powers if a Magistrate of the second class

(2) Power to issue search warrant etherwise than in course of an inquiry, section (3) Power to more search narrant for discovery of persons arongfully confined, section 100 (4) Power to require so units to keep the peace, section 107

(5) Power to require so ur to for avail behaviour, section 109

(6) Power to dis harge setting section [1264] 2[(61) Loner to make orders as to local nuisances, section 133]

- (7) Power to make orders the in presession cases, sections 145, 146 and 147 (73) Power to record statements and confessions during a police investigation,
- section 164 I(faa) fower to ault rise detention of a person in the castials of the police during a police investigation section 167.]

[76) Power to hold imprests sertion 174 ]

(8) I ower to con mit for trial section 206

(9) Power to stop 1 roccedings when no complaint, section 249 [(93) Power to tender pardon to accomplice during inquiry into case by himself, section 337 } (10) Power to make orders of mainte tance, sections 488 and 489

(11) Power to take evidence on commission, section 504
(12) Power to recover penalty on forfeited bond, section 514

(12a) Loner to require fresh scentis, section 5141 ] [(12b) Power resall case made over by him to another Magnerite, section 528 (4) ]

(13) Power to make order as to first offenders, section 562 [14] Power to order released connets to notify residence, section 565 ]

Il' -Ordinary Powers of a Sub-divisional Magistrate '[appointed under section 13]

(1) The ordinars powers of a Magistrace of the first class

- (2) I ower to direct narrants to landholders, section 78 (3) I ower to require security for good behaviour, section 110
- (5) Power to make order- prohibiting repetitions of misance, section 143 (6) Power to nake orders under section 144
- (7) Power to depute Subordinate Magistrate to make local inquiry, Section 148 (8) lower to order police investigation into cognizable ease, section 156 (9) I ower to receive report of police officer and pass order, section 173
- (11) Power to issue process for person within local jurisdiction who has committed
- an affence outside the local purisdiction, section 186
  (12) Power to entertun complaints, section 190
  (13) Power to receive police reports, section 199

(14) Power to entertain cases without con plaint, section 190

- (15) Power to transfer cases to a Subminute Magistrate, section 193
- (16) Power to pass sentence on proceedings recorded Ly a Sabornhaue Magistrate, section 349
- (17) Power to forward record of inferior Court to District Magistrale, section 435
- (16) Power to sell properts alleged or suspected to have been stolen, etc., section 524

These figures and letter were substituted for the figures "126" by a 160 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Mendment) let, 1923 (N.111 ef 1923)
These items were inserted in 1914

This item was ailded by thit * These words and fingures were in-erted to ibid These items (4) and (10) were countred by this

SCHEDILE III-continued.

(19) Power to withdraw cases other than appeals, and to try or refer them for trial, section 528

1 -Ordinary Powers of a District Magistrate.2

- (1) The ordinary powers of a Sub-divisional Magistrate
- "[(1a) Power to try juvenile offenders, section 291]
  - (2) Power to require delivery of letters, telegrams, etc., section 95
  - (3) Power to issue search narrants for documents in custody of postal or telegraph authority, section 96
  - (4) Power to require security for good behaviour in case of sedition, section 108
- (5) Power to discharge persons bound to keep the peace or to be of good behaviour, section 124
  - (6) Power to cancel bond for keeping the peace, section 125
- *[6a] Power to order preliminary investigation by police officer not below the rank
  - of Inspector in certain cases, section 196B ]
- (7) Power to try summarily, section 260 [(7a) I'ower to tender pardon to accomplice at any stage of a case, section 337]

  - (8) Power to quash convictions in certain cases, section 350 (9) Power to hear appeals from orders requiring security for '[keeping the peace
- or good behaviour, section 406 (9a) Power to hear appeals from orders of Magistrates refusing to accept or
- rejecting sureties, section 4061 ] (10) Power to hear or refer appeals from connections by Magistrates of the second
  - and third classes, section 407
- (11) Power to call for records, section 435 "[(12)] Power to order inquiry into complaint dismissed or case of accused dis-
- charged, section *[436] "[(13)] Power to order commitment, section "[437]
  - (14) Power to report case to High Court, section 438
  - (15) Power to try European British subjects, section 443
  - (16) Power to sentence I propean British subject to nore than three months' in prisonment or one thousand rupees fine, or both, section 446
  - (17) Power to appoint person to be public prosecutor in particular case, section 492
  - (18) Power to assue commission for examination of witness, sections 503, 506
  - (19) Power to hear appeals from or revise orders passed under sections 514, 515 (20) Power to compel restoration of abdacted female, section 552
- <sup>1</sup> The item (20) was omitted by a 169 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (AVIII of 1923)

  <sup>2</sup> Under the Puijah Prontier Crimes Regulation, 1901 (III of 1901), additional Protection of the Puijah Prontier Crimes Regulation, 1901 (III of 1901), additional Protection of the Puijah Prontier Crimes Regulation, 1901 (III of 1901), additional Protection of the Property of the Prop District Magnetistries approinted under 6 4 of the Regulation have the powers specified in Part V of the Third Schedule—see 4 4 (2) of the Regulation, P and N W P Code
  - N W I' Code "These ttems were inverted by $ 160 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) 4ct, 1923 (XVIII of 1923)
    "These words were inverted in fold
  - * Original items (12) and (13) were remainlered (13) and (12) respectively
  - In Ibid These figures were substituted for the figures "437" In Ibid
    - 'These figures were substituted for the finres "436" by Ibid

SCHEDULE IV

(See sections ,- and , )

Additional powers with which Provincial Migistrates may be INVESTID

TITE Local

GOVERNMENT

By THE DISTRICT

MAGISTRATE

(I) I wer to require security for good beliaviour in case of sedition, section 108 (2) Laner to require security for good Lahranur, section 110 ** * * * 141 I ower to make order prohibiting repititions of nuisances, section (b) Power to make orders under section . I44

(7) Pamer to usue process for person within local jurisdiction who has committed an offence outside the Iceal perisdiction, section 186 (8) Power to take cognizance uffences upon complaint, section

(9) l'oner to take cognizance offences apon police reports.

section 190 (10) Power to take cognizance of offences without complaint, sec tion 190 (11) I'mer to try summarily, section 260

(12) Power to hear appeals from con-viction by Magistrates of the second and third classes, section

(13) I'ower to sell property alleged or suspected to have been stolen, etc section 524

(15) lower to ter cases under section 1211 of the Indian I enal Code

(1) Power to make orders prolubiting repetitions of nursances, section 113 (2) Power to make orders under sec tion 144 (4) Power to take cognizance offences upon complaint, section 190 (5) Power to take cognizance of offences upon police reports, sec tion 190 (6) Power to transfer cases, section

1 Items (3), (6) and (14) were control in a 161 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act 1823 (AMI) of 1923)

192

POWERS WITH WILICII

MAGISTA ATI OIL

PIRSI CLASS

MAY BE IN

VESTED

THE

Item (3) was omitted by fold

SCHEDULE IV-continued

- (2) Power to make orders prolubiting renetitions of timisances, section
  - (3) Power to make orders under sec tion 133
  - [(3a) Power to record statements and
    - confessions during a police in vestigation, section 164] I (3b) Power to authorise detention of a person in the custods of the
      - police during a police investiga-tion, section 167]
    - (4) Power to hold inquests, section 174
    - (5) Power to take cognizance of offences upon complaint, section 190
    - (6) Power to take cognizince of offences upon police reports, section 190
    - (7) Power to take cognizance of offences without complaint, section 190
    - (8) Power to commit for trial, section
    - (9) Power to make order as to first o'ferelers, section 562
    - (1) Power to make orders prohibiting repetitions of unisances, section
    - (2) Power to make orders under section
    - (3) Power to hold inquests, section 174 (1) Power to take cognizance of offences
    - upon complaint, section 190 (5) Power to take cognizance of offences upon police reports, section 190
    - (I) I over to make orders prohibiting relietitions of nuisances, section
  - (3) Power to hold inquests, section 171
  - (1) I mer to take cognizance of offences
  - upon complaint, section 190 (5) Power to take cognizance of offences upon police reports, section 190
  - (t) Power to make orders prohibiting
  - repetitions of nuisances, secti n , jit
  - (3) I ower to hold inquests, section 174
  - (4) Power to take cognizance of offenceupon complaint, section 190
  - (5) Power to take cognizance of offences upon police reports, section 100

Bs TILI Locu. GOVERNMENT

POWERS WITH

WHICH MAGISTRATI OF THE SI COND CLASS MAY BY IN VESTED

> WINCH MAGISTRATE OF

THE

HIRD CLASS

MAY BE, IN-VESTED

By THE DISTRICT MIGISTRATI

THY LOCAL GOVERNMENT POWERS WITH

By THE DISTRICT

MACISTRATI

Item (I) was repealed in the Whipping Act, 1909 (IV of 1909)
These stems were inserted to a 16t of the Code of Crimital Procedure

(Amendment) Act, 1923 (AAIII of 1923)
Heins (2) and (6) were counted by this

' Item (2) was omitted by told

SCHEDULE IV-continued

POWERS WITH WHICH SUBDIVE SIONAL VIA Rs THE LOCAL Power to call for records, section 435 GIST K ATI GOLI KAMLAY MAY BI I١ VESTED

SCHEDULE V

(See section 555 1)

PORMS

I -SUMMONS TO AN ACCUSED TERSON

(See section (8)

of

To

Hirraris your attendance is necessary to answer to a charge of (state shortly the offence charged), you are hereby required to appear in person (or by pleader, as Inc case may be) before the (Mayistrate)

, on the day of Herein fail not 18

Dated tine

day of

(Seal )

(Signature)

II - N 4RRANT OF ARREST

(See section 75.)

to (name and designation of the person or persons also is or are to execute the carranti

Whirf 45

stands charged with the offence of (state the offence), you are hereby directed to arrest the said , and to produce hun before ne Herein fail not

Dated this (Seal )

day of

(See section 76)

(Signature)

This agreant may be endorsed as follows -

If the said shall give I all himself in the sum of , with one sureti in the sum of (or two sureties each in the sum of to attend before me on the dry of and to continue so to attend until otherwise directed by me, he may be released

Dated this day of T

18 . (Signature)

III -BOND AND BUL BOND AFTER ARREST UNDER A WARRING

(See section 86)

I (name), of temp trought before the District Magistrate of (or as the case may be) uniler a warrant issued to compet my appearance to answer

<sup>1</sup> These figures were sat statuted for the figures " 554" by Part II of the Second "thedale to the Repealing and Amending Act, 1903 (t of 1903)

(Schedule V .- I orms.)

to the charge of do hereby hand myself to attend in the Court of on the day of nettern makes to misser to the said charge, and to nontinue so to attend until otherwise directed by the Court, and, in case of my making defund her in. I ham involt to forfeit, I fire Magesty the Queen, Lamptees of Imha, the sum of rupies Dated this day of 18

(Stenature)

I do lurchy diclare myself surety for the abovename ! that he shall attend before in the Court of on the next to answer to the charge on which he has been arrested, and shall continue so to attend mutil otherwise threefold in the Court, and, in case of his making defuult therein, I famil myself to forfeit in Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India, the sum of rupees Dated this day of 18 (Signalure)

IN -PROCESSION REQUIRES THE METABLICE OF A PERSON ACCUSED

(See section 87)

WHEREAS complaint has been made before me that (name, description and a tires) has commuted for is suspected to have committed the offence of the proposition of the commuted the offence of the commuted that the original proposition is supported to have committed the offence of the commuted that the original proposition is supported to have committed the offence of the commuted that the original proposition is supported to have committed the original proposition and the original proposition is supported to have committed the original proposition and the original proposition is supported to have committed the original proposition and the original p of the Indian Penal Code, and it has been returned panishald under section to a wirrant of arrest thereupon issue I that the said (name) cannot be found, and whereas it has been shown to my satisfaction that the said (name) has absconded for is concerling limiself to aximi the service of the said warrant),

Freeling ation is hereby made that the said to appear at (blice) luftre line Court (or before me) to answer the earl complaint

fon the dis of 18 Datal this day of (Signature) (Scal )

I -PROGRAMMON REQUIRES THE ATTENDANCE OF A WITNESS

(See section $7)

Whereas complaint his tren made before me that (name, description and all in 55) has committed for is suspected to have committed) the offence of (mention the offence concludy) and a warrant has been issued to compil the attendance of thame, description and attress of the atness) before this Court to be examined touching the matter of the and complaint, and whereas it has been returned to the said warrant that the said (nime of cities) earn it is street, and it has been shown to my setisfaction that he has all combal (it is concealing houself to avoil the service of the soil warrant), Proclamation is hereby made that the said framel is required to appear at

(Place) before the Cent of on the day of the offine complained of nt malak to be examined from him;

19 Dated this day of (Slevature )

I I -OPDIE DA MARCHINAL DO COMPTE AND PARADISCE DA WALLER

(See section St)

To the Peliceoffeer in charge of the Pelice station at Willers a warrant tas been duly assued to compel the attendance of mame, description and affrest) to testify concerning a complaint fending before this it of tenni

(Scal )

days from this These virils were substituted for the words 'within date" is that the Second Schedile to the Repealing and An ending Act, 1903

(Schedule 1' - Forms )

Court, and it has been returned to the said warrant that it cannot be served and whereas it has been shown to my satisfaction that he has absconded (or is conce if ing himself to avoid the service of the said warrant) and thercupon a '[Proclama bon has been or is being duly issued and published requiring the said to appear and give evidence at the time and place mentioned therein, " . . This is to authorize and require you to attach by seizure the moveable property belonging to the said to the value of rupees which you may find within the Di trict of an! to hold the said property under attach ment pending the further order of this Court, and to return this warrant with an

day of endorsement certifying the number of its execution

ŧR

Dated this (Seal )

(Signature)

ORDER OF ATTACHMENT TO COMPLET THE APPEARANCE OF A PERSON ACCUSAD (See section 88)

To (name and designation of the person or persons who is or are to execute the marrant)

WHERFIS complaint has been made before me that (name, description and address) has committed for is suspected to have committed) the offence of punishable under section of the Indian Penal Code, and it has been returned to a warrant of arrest thereupon issued that the said (name) cannot be found, and whereas it has been shown to my satisfaction that the said (name) has absconded

(or is concealing himself to avoid the service of the said warrant), and thereupon a Proclamation has been or is being duly issued] and published requiring the said to appear to appear the said charte within days and whereis to appear to answer the said charge within days and whereas is possessed of the following property other than land paying the said revenue to Government in the village (or town) of village (or town) of , in the District of , and an order has been nade for the attachment , 11. thereof,

You are hereby required to attach the said property by seizure and to hold the same under attachment pending the further order of this Court and to return this warrant with an endorsement certifying the manner of its execution

Dated this day of 18

(Seal )

(Signature)

ORDER AUTHORIZING AN ATTACHMENT BY THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER AS COLLECTOR.

(See section 83)

To the Deputs Commissioner of the District of

Whereas complaint has been made before me that (name description and address) has committed for is suspected to have committed) the offence of of the Indian Penal Code, and it has been returned punishable under section to a warrant of arrest thereupon issued that the said (name) cannot be found and whereas it has been shown to my satisfaction that the said (name) has abscouded

(or is concealing himselm to avoid the service of the said warrant) and thereupon a [Proclamation has been or is being dult issued] and published requiring the said to appear to answer the said charge within days, " , and answer the same to Government whereas the said in the District of in the village (or town) of These words were substituted for the words "Proclamation was duly issued." I here words were smortuness or me words "Troctamation was dal, reque"t by 162 of the Code of Cruminal Procedure (Amendment) Act 1823 (VIII of 1823). The words "and he has failed to appear" were consisted by 161d. The words but he has not appeared were consisted by 161d. The words but he has not appeared were consisted by 161d.

<sup>124</sup>

(Schedule V .- Forms )

Nou are hereby authorized and requested to cause the said land to be attached, and to be held under attachment pending the further order of this Court, and to certify without delay what you may have done in pursuance of this order

Dated this day of

(Seal) (Signature)

VII -WARRANT IN THE FIRST INSTANCE TO BRING UP A WITNESS

(See section oo)

to (name and designation of the Police officer or other person or persons the is or are to execute the narrant)

WHEREAS complaint has been made before me that is suspected to have commuted the olience of (mention the affence conclicts), and it appears likely that (none and description of authors) can give evidence concerning the said complaint and whereas I have good and sufficient reason to believe that he will not attend as a witness on the hearing of the said complaint unless compelled to do so.

This is to authorize and require you to arrest the said (name) and on the day of to bring him before this Court, to be examined touching the offence complained of

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of 18

(Seal) (Signature)

VIII -WARRANT OF SEARCH AFTER INFORMATION OF A PARTICULAR OFFENCE

(See section 96)

To (name and designation of the Police officer or other person or persons who is or are to execute the narron!)

WHEREAS information has been laid (or complaint has been made) before me of the commission (or suspected commission) of the offence of ineution the offence conclictly, and it has 'een made to appear to me that the production of (predi) the thing clearly) is essential to the inquiry now being made or about to be made into the said offence or suspected offence.

This is to authorize and require you to serich for the said the thing specified in the (describe the house or flace or part thereof to which the search is to by confinely and if found to produce the same forthwith before this Court returning, this warrant with an endorsement certifying what you have done under it immediately upon its execution

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of 18

(Stanture)

IN -WARRANT TO SPARCE SUSPECTED PLACE OF DEPOSIT

(See section 98)

To (name and designation of a Police-officer above the rank of a Constable)

WHERE is information has been bud before me, and on due inquire thereing had I have been fed to believe that the idearthe the house or other place) is used as a piece for the deposit for sale) of stolen property for if for either of the other parties expressed in the section state the purpose expressed in the section state the purpose in the works of the section.

propose expressed in the section state the purpose in the worts of the section in. This is to authorize and require von one other the said house (or other place) which such assistance as stall be required and to use if necessary, reasonable (orce to that purpose and to earch every part of the said house (or other place, or if he search is to be confined to a part, specify the part clearly and to seize and take possession of any property (or documents, or stamps, or seals, or come, as the case may bet-[Add (when the case requires it) and also it any instruments and materials which you may reasonably believe to be kept for the manufacture of forged docu ments, or counterfest stamps, or false seals, or counterfrst coins fas the case may bell, and forthwith to bring before this Court such of the said things as may be taken possession of, returning this warrant, with an end reen ent certifying what you have done under it, immediately upon its execution

(Schedule 1' - Forms )

Given under ny hand and the seal of the Court, this day of (Seat ) (Sienature )

X-ROAD TO LEEP THE PEACE

(See section 107)

WHERES I (name), inhalitant of (place), have been called upon to enter into a d to keep the neace, for the term of Yor intil the completion of bond to keep the peace, for the term of the inquiry in the matter of non pending in the Court of need injustry in the matter of now pending in the your of hereby land myself not to commit a l'each of the perce, or do any act that may probably occasion a herach of the peace, during the said term 'for until the completion of the said inquiril and in case of my making default therein, I hereby land mivell to forfeit to Her Majesty the Queen, Himpress of India, the sum of

Dated this day of 18

(Signature)

31 -Boar for Good Brillia love

(See sections 108, 100 and 110)

a Wirkers I (name), inhabitant of (place), have been called upon to enter into a bond to be of good behaviour to Her Vapety the Queen, l'impress of India, and to all Her uniter for the term of (late the feritod) flor until the completion of the matter of my pending in the Court of 11 hereby line matter of my good behaviour to Her Mayesty and to all Her subjects during the said term with the completion of the said inquiry), and, in case of my making default therein, I band my eith to forted to Her Mayesty the said term.

Dated this day of

(Signature)

18

(Where a bond with sureties is to be executed add)-We do hereby declare our selves sureties for the abovenamed that he will be of good behaviour to Her Magazi urcutes for the abovenamed that ne win ne ne good occurred to the property of the said trem (or near the completion of the said numpi), and, in case of his making default therein and ourcities, jointly and secrally, to forfeit to Her Majest; the cam of renear the property of the of rupees

Dated this day of

(Stenature)

XII - SUMMOVS ON INFORMATION OF A PROBABLE BREACH OF THE PEACE

(See section 114)

То

WHEREAS it has been made to appear to me by credible information that (state the substance of the information), and that you are likely to commit a breach of

These words were inserted by a 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (VIII of 1923)

(Schedule V .- Forms.)

the peace (or by which act a breach of the peace will probably be occasioned), vou are hereby required to attend in person for by a duly authorized agent) at the Office of the Magistrate of on the day of ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause why you should not be required to enter [uhen suretfes are required, add], and al-o 'o into a boud for rupees give security by the bond of one (or two, as the case may be) surety (or surelies) (each If more than one)] that you will keep the peace in the sum of rupees for the term of Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this

day of

(Signature) (Seal)

XIII -WARRANT OF COMMITMENT ON PARLURE TO FIND SECURITA TO KEEP THE PEACE

(See section 123)

To the Superintendent (or Keeper) of the fail at WHERE'S (name and address) appeared before me in person (or by his authoin obedience to day of rised agent) on the

a summons calling upon him to show cause why he should not enter into a bond for with one surety (or a bond with two sureties each in rupees and whereas an order was then made requiring the said (name) to enter into and find such security (state the security ordered along it differs from that mentioned in the summons), and he has failed to company the security (state the security ordered along it differs from that mentioned in the summons), and he has failed to company the security of t in the summons), and he has failed to comply with the said order. This is to authorize and require you, the said Superistendent (or Keeper), to receive the said (name) into your costeder, together with this warrant, and him safely to keep in the said Jail for the said period of (term of prironment) andesafely to keep in the said Jail for the said period of term of prironment) and the shall in the meantime [be lawfall] ordered to be released] and to return this fee shall in the meantime [be lawfall] ordered to be released. warrant with an endorsement certifying the manner of its execution

Guen under my hand the seal of the Court, this

(Signature) (Scal )

MIV -WARRANT OF COMMITMENT ON FAILURE TO FIND SECURITY FOR GOOD REHALIOUR

(See section 223)

To the Superintendent (or Keeper) of the Jail at

WHEREAS it has been made to appear to me that (name and description) has having no ostensible means of been and is lurking within the district of having no ostensible mean subsistence (or that he is unable to give any satisfactory account of himself).

WHERE'S evidence of the general character of (name and description) has been addited before me and recorded, from which it appears that he is an habitaal additional breaker, etc., as the case may be);

and whereas an order has been recorded stating the same and requiring the And whereas an order has been recorded stating the same and requiring the And whereas an order has been recorded stating the same and requiring the And whereas an order has case to be as the case. WHE cutering into a bond with one surety for two or more sureties, as the care

, and the said surets (or each of the said , and the said (name) has failed to comply with the I have unself for rupees o place (Empecs loses express were substituted for the words "comple with the said order 15

this is to a wrets for sureties) entering into the said bond, in which case the assistance accessed and the said (name) released!" by Part II of the second

purpose, an english and Amending Act. 1903 (I of 1903)

(Schedule 1'.—Forms)

said order and for such default has been adjudged imprisonment for (state the term) unless the said security be sooner farmsched

The st to authorize and require out the sud Superintendent (or Keeper), to recue the sud (name: into your custods) together with this warrant and lim safely to keep in the said Jail for the said period of them of infrasionment) infless he shall in the meanine 'the lawfills ordered to be released] and to return this warrant with an endor-sement certifying the manuser of its execution.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Lourt this day of 18

(Sept ) (Signature)

11 - MARRANT TO DESCRIBER A PERSON IMPRESONED ON 1 ALLURY TO CIVE SECURITY

(See sections 103 ant 124)

To the Superintendent (or keeper) of the Jail at ahose custody the person is

Whereas (name and description of prisoner) was committed to your custods under warrant of the Court, dated the day of and has since daile grices execute under section of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

4

and there have appeared to me sufficient grounds for the opinion that he can be released without hazard to the community.

This is to authorize and require you forthwith to discharge the said (name) from your custods unless he is liable to be detained for some other cause

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of 18
(Scal)
(Scal)

XVI -ORDER FOR THE REMOVAL OF MUSICIS

(See seciton 133)

To (name, description and address)

WHER is it has been made to appear to me that you have caused an obstruction (of musance) to persons using the public roadway (or other public place) which the, (describe the road or public place), by, etc., (talet what it is that causes the obstruction or nuisance) and that such obstruction (or nuisance) still exist,

0

With grass it has been made to appear to me that you are carrying on as owner, or manager, trade or occupation of state the particular trade or occupation ard the place where it is carried on), and that the same is improve to the public health for comfort by reason (state briefy in what manner the infarrows effects are caused), and should be suppressed or removed to a different place.

~

Without it has been made to appear to me that you are owner (or are in Possession of or have the control over) a certain tank for well or excaration) adjacent to the public way (describe the throughfure), and that the safety of the

These words were substituted for the words 'comply with the said order to himself and his surely for sureties), entering into the said bond, in which case the said will be received, and the said [nome] released to the Repealing and Amending Act, 1903 [f of 1909—5re s 7 and lart II of Second Schedule

(Schedule · V -Forms )

public is endangered by reason of the said tank for well or excavation) being without a fence (or insecurely fenced).

or

WHEREAS, etc., etc., (as the case may be).

I do hereby direct and require you within state the limit allowed to state that is required to be done to about the missance; or to appear at in the Court on the day of next, and to show cause why this order should not be enforced.

7

I do hereby direct and require you within (tale the lime allowed) to easier arriving on the said trade or occupation at the said place and not again to carry on the same or to remove the said trade from the place where it is now earned on, or to appear, etc.).

-

I do hereby direct and require you within (state the lime allowed) to put up a sufficient fence (state the lind of fence and the part to be fenced), or to appear, or to.

I do hereby direct and require you etc, (as the case may be)
Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of 18

(Seal)

(Signature)

XVII -MAGISTRATE'S ORDER CONSTITUTING & JURY

(See section 138)

WHEREAS on the day of 18, an order was issued to (name) requiring him (state the effect of the order), and whereas the said (name) has applied to me, by a petition bearing date the appointing a Jury to try whether the said recited order is reasonable and proper, I do hereby appoint (the names etc., of the five or more Jurors) to be the Jur try and decide the said question; and do require the said Jury to report their they are decided the said question; and do require the said Jury to report their decision within days from the date of this order at my office at Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of

(Seal ) (Signature)

XVIII -- VACISTRATE'S NOTICE AND PERSONNEN ORDER AFTER THE L'INDING BI A

(See section 140)

To (name, description and address)

I HI RREN give you notice that the Jury duly appointed on the petition presented by you on the day of have found that the order issued on the day of requiring you (state substantially the regulation in the order) is reasonable and proper Such order has been reade absolute, and I hereby direct and require you to oley the said order within (state the line allowed), on period the penalty provided by the Indian Ienal Code for the dissolutions: therefore, the day of 18

(Signature)

(Seaf )

FORMS

(Schedulo 1' .- Forms )

AIX -INCYCLON TO PROVIDE AGAINST IMMINEST DANGER PRODING INQUIRY BY JURY

(See section 142)

To (name, description and address)

WHERE'S the inquiry he a Jury appointed to try whether my order issued on the day of 18, is reasonable and proper is still pending, and it has been made to appear to me that the nursance mentioned in the said order is and other mote to appear to me that the nulrance mentioned in the said other as defined with so immunent serious danger to the public as to render necessary in include measures to present used danger, I do hereby under the provision of other though the total continual Procedure, direct and enjoyin you forthwith to fellow plants what is required to be done as a temporary safegantly, pending the result of the local injury in the Jury.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of

(Scal) (Signature)

VA - MACISTRAJE'S ORDER PROBLEMING THE RELETITION, FIC, OF A NUISANCE

(See section 132)

To (name description and address)

WHIREAS it has been made to appear to me that, etc.) state the proper recital, guided by Form No VI for Jonn to A.M. as the case may be,

I do herely strictly order and enyon you not to repeat the said musance by again playing or causing or permitting to be placed, etc., (as the case may be) Onen under ny band and the vest of the Court, this

day of 18

(Segt )

(Signature)

XXI - MAGISTRATE'S ORDER TO PREVENT OBSTRUCTION, RIOT, MIC

(See section 111)

Whereas it has been made to appear to me that you are in possession (or have the management of describe deerly the property, and that, in digging a drini in the said land, you are about to throw or place a portion of the earli and stone drug up upon the adjourning public road, so as to occasion risk of obstruction to persons using the road. or

WHEREAS It has been made to appear to me that you and a number of other persons (mention the class of persons) are about to meet and proceed in a religious Procession along the public street, etc. (as the case may be), and that such procession is likely to lead to a riot or an affray .

WHEREAS, etc., etc., (as the case may be).

I do hereby order you not to place or permit to be placed any of the earth or stones dug from land on any part of the said road,

I do herely prohibit the procession passing along the sail street, and strictly and enjoin you not to take any part in such procession for as the case recti

(Seal )

(Schedule V -- Forms )

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of (Scal)

(Signature)

18

XVII -- MAGISTRATE'S ORDER DECLARING PARTY ENTITLED TO RETAIN POSSESSION OF LAND, ETC., IN DISPUTE

(See section 145)

It appearing to me, on the grounds duly recorded, that a dispute, likely to induce a breach of the peace, existed between (describe the perities by name and rendence or residence only if the dispute be between bodies of villagers) concerning certain (state concursly the subject of dispute), situate within the local limits of my purisdiction all the said parties were called upon to give in a written statement of their respective claims as to the fact of actual possession of the said (the subject of dispute) and being satisfied by due inquiry had threupon, without reference to the ments of the claim of either of the said parties to the legal right to possession that the claim of actual possession by the said (time or names or description) is

I do decide and declare that he is (or they are) in possession of the said (the subject of dispute) and entitled to retain such possession until ousted by due course of law, and do strictly forbid any disturbance of his (or their) possession in the

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of

18 (Signature)

NYIII - WARRANT OF ATTACHMENT IN THE CASE OF A DISPUTE AS TO THE POSSESSION

OF LAND, ETC (See section 146)

To the Police-officer in charge of the Police station at [or To the Collector of

Whereas it has been made to appear to me that a dispute likely to induce a breach of the peace existed between (describe the parlies concerned by monte and residence or residence only if the dispute be between bodies of villagers) concerning certain (state concisely, the subject of dispute) situate within the limits of my purishetion and the said parties were thereupon dure called upon to state in straint their respective claims as to the fact of actual possession of the said (the subject of dispute), and whereas upon due inquiry into the said claims I have decided that neither of the said parties was in possession of the said (the subject of disput) [or I am unable to satisfy miself as to which of the said parties was in possession.

as aforesaid].

This is to authorize and require you to attach the said (the subject of disput) by taking and keeping possession thereof and to hold the same under attachment until the decree or order of a competent Coart determining the rights of the parties or the claim to possession shall have been obtained, and to return this warrant with an endorsement certifician the manner of its execution.

warrant with an endorsement certifying the manner of its execution Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of

(Scal) (Signature)

NATE WATER

(See section 147)

A DISPUTE having arisen concerning the right of use of (state concisely the subject of dispute) situate within the limits of my jurisdiction, the possession of which land (or water) is claimed exclusively by (describe the person or persons), and it appearing, to me on due sugary into the same, that the said land (or water) has been open to the empoyment of such use by the public for if by an individual or last of persons describe him or them) and lift he use can be enjoyed throughout his year) that the said use has been enjoyed within three months of the institution of the said inquiry (or if the use is enjoyable only at particular seasons, say "during the last of the seasons at which the same is enployed only and particular seasons, say.

(Schedule V -Forms)

I do order that the said the claimant or claimants of possession, or any one in their interests shall not take for retain possession of the said land (or water) to the exclusion of the enjonment of the right of we aforesaid, until he (or they) shall obtain the decree or order of a competent Court adjudging him (or them) to be entitled to exclusive poscession

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of 18

(Signature)

NAV -BOND AND BULL BOND ON A PARTIMINARY INQUIRY PEFORE & POLICE-OFFICER

(See section 169)

I (name) of , being charged with the offence of , and after inquir) required to appear before the Magistrate of

or

and after inquiry called upon to enter into my recognizance to appear when required do lierch bind myself to appear at , in the Court of , in the day of , next for on such day as I may meet for on such day as 1 mys liberafter le required to attend) to answer further to the saud charge, and, in case of my making default berein I land myself to forfest to Her Majestv the Queen, Pmpress of India, the sum of rupees

Dated this

day of 18

(Signature)

I hereby declare my-eff (or we jointly and severally declare ourselves and each of ins) surety for sureties for the above-said that he shall attend at in the Court of you then the said attend at the court of the day of next (or on such that as he may hereafter he required to attend), further to answer to the charge pending against hereafter he are to this making default therein. I hereby bond myself or the hereby had not been a such as the said of the said o

Dated this

day of 18

(Sienature)

XXXI -BOND TO PROSPCUTE OR GIVE EVIDENCE

(See section 270)

I (name), of (place), do hereby band maself to attend at an the Court of order, on the day of next and then all three to prosecute (or to procedute and give evidence) for to give evidence) in the matter of a charge of against one A R, and in case of making fluid, the sum of rupers of India, the sum of rupers of India, the sum of rupers

Dated this

day of 13 .

w

(Schedule V.—Forms.)

AAVII -Notice of Commitment by Magistrate to Government legider

(See section 218)

THE Magistrate of hereby gives notice that he has committed one for trial at the next Sessions, and the Magistrate hereby justified the Government Pleader to conduct prosecution of the said case

The charge against the accused is that, etc (state the offence as in the charge)

Dated this

day of 18

(Signature)

XXVIII —CHARGES

(See sections 221, 222, 223)

(1) CHARGES WITH ONE HEAD

(a) I [name and office of Magistrate, etc.] hereby charge you [name of accused person | as follows -(b) that you, on or about the day of waged war against Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India, and thereby committed an offence punishable On Penal Code, sec 121 under section 121 of the Indian Penal Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Session [uhen the charge is framed by a Presidency

Magistrate for Court of Session substitute High Court]
(c) And I hereby direct that you be tried by the said Court on the said charge [Signature and seal of the Magistrate ]

[To be substituted for (b)] -

day of

(2) That you, on or about the with the intention of inducing the Honble A B, Member of the Council of the Governor General of On section 124 India, to refrain from exercising a lawful power as such Bember, assaulted such Member and thereby committed an offence punishable under section 124 of the Indian Poula Code, and within the Cogmizance of the Court of Session [or Inch

Department, directly (3) That you, being a public servant in the accepted from [state the name], for another party [state

On section 193 the name] a gratification other than legal remuneration as a motive for forbearing to do an official act, and thereby committed an offence punishable under section 161 of the Indian I enal Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Session [or High Court]

(4) That you, on or about the day of

, did [or omitted to do, as the case may be] On section 166

such conduct being contrary to the provisions of Act , section and thereby committed known by you to be prejudicial to an offence punishable under section 166 of the Indian Penal Code, and with the cognizance of the Court of Session [or High Court]

, at (5) That you, on or about the day of in the course of the trial of on section 193 " which statement you either

hefore , stated in evidence that " "which statement you either knew or I cheved to be false, or did not believe to be true, and thereby committed in offence punishable under section 193 of the Indian Penal Code, and with the cognizance of the Court of Session [or High Court]
(6) That you, on or about the day of

, committed cutpable homicide not amounting to

On section 904 marder, causing the death of and thereby committed an offence punishable inder section 304 of the Indian lenal Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Sesson [or Ingh Court] On section 304

. nt

FORMS (Schedule | - I orms )

(7) That you, on or about the day of shetted the commission of suicide by A. B., a On section 306 person in a state of intoxication, and thereby committed an offence punishable under section 306 of the Indian Penal Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Session [or High Court] (8) That you, on or about the day of

, voluntarily caused grievous hurt to , and therely committed an offence punishable under section On section 325 325 of the Indian Penal Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Session for High Court !

(9) That you, on or about the day of robbed Istate the name |, and thereby committed On section 392, an offence pumshable under section 392 of the Indian lengl Code and within the cognizance of the Court of Session [or High Court] (10) That you, on or about the ilay of

, committed dacoity, an offence punishable under section 195 of the Indian Penal Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Session [or High Court] (In cases tried by Magistrates substitute "within my cognizance" for "within the countraint of the Court of Session," and in (c) orant "by the said Court "]

(11) Littarce with two or more litabs

(a) I [name and office of Magistrate etc ] hereby charge you fuame of accused person | as follows -

(b) I irst -That you, on or about the day of knowing a com to be counterfest, delivered the On section 241

On section 241 same to another person, by name A B, as genuine, and thereby committed an offence pumshable under section 241 of the Indian Fenal Code and within the cognizance of the Court of Session [or Jingh Court] Secondly -That you on or about the , at das of a com to be counterfer, attempted to induce another person, by name d B, to crucia ta s genuine, and thereby committed an offence pum-shalle under section 241 of the Indian I rank Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Session [or thigh Court]

(c) And I hereby direct that you be tried by the said Court on the said charge [Signature and seat of the Magistrate ] [ Fo be substituted for (b) ] -

(2) First - That you, on or about the day of , committed murder by causing the death of On sections 302 and 304 , and thereby committed an offence punishable under section 302 of the Indian Penal Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Session (or High Court)

Normally—The many countries the day of the causing the death of causing the deepen from Wighton, a causing the causing the deepen from Wighton, a causing the death of causing the deepen from Wighton and the death of causing the deepen from Wighton and the death of causing the deepen from Wighton and the death of causing the deepen from the deepen Court !

(3) First -That you, on or about the day of

, committed thelt, and thereby committed On sections 379 and 382 an offence punishable under section 379 of the Indian lengl Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Session [or High Court]

Secondly -That you, on or about the day of , at committed theft, having made preparation for causing death to a person in order to the committing of such theft, and therebs committed an offence punishable under section 323 of the Indian Lenal Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Session [or High Court]

Thirdly -That you, on or about the day of , at committed theft, having nade preparation for causing restraint to a person in order Thirdly -That you, on or shout the to the effecting of your escape after the committing of such their, and thereby committed an offence punishable under section 382 of the Indian Penal Code, ar t within the cognizance of the Court of Session [or High Court]

(Schedule V - Forms.)

Fourthly -That you, on or about the day of committed theft, having nade preparation for causing fear or hurt to a person in order to the retaining of property taken by such theft, and thereby committed an offence punishable under section 382 of the Indian Penal Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Session [or High Court]

(4) That you, on or about the day of

in the course of the inquiry into Alternative charges on hefore , stated in evidence that " and that you, on or about the day of section 193

, at , in the course of the trial of , stated in the evidence that ", one of which statements before you either knew or believed to be false, or did not believe to be true, and thereby committed an offence punishable under section 193 of the Indian Lenal Code, and within the cognizance of the Court of Session [or High Court]

[In cases tried by Magistrates substitute "within my cognizance" for "within the cogmizance of the Court of Session" and in (c) omit by the said Court 1

(III) CHARGE FOR THIFF AFTER PREVIOUS CONVICTION

I (name and office of Magistrate, etc.), herein charge you (name of accused person) as follows -

and thereby committed an offence purshable under section 379 of the Indian Penal Code, and within the cognizance of the Code and th may bel

And you, the said (name of accused), stand further charged that you, before the committing of the said offence, that is to say, on the day of convicted by the (state Court by which conviction was had) at punishable under Chapter VII of the Indian Jenal Code with imprisonment for a term of three years, that is to say, the offence of house breaking by night (describe the offence in the words used in the section under which the accused was convicted) which conviction is still in full force and effect and that you are hereby hable to enhanced punishment under section 75 of the Indian Penal Code

And I hereby direct that you be tried, etc

XXIX -WARRANT OF COMMITMENT ON A SENTENCE OF IMPRISONMENT OR PINE IF PASSED BY A MACISYRATE

(See sections 215 and 258)

To the Superintendent (or Keeper) of the Jad at

18 , (name of prisoner), the (tst, WHEREAS on the day of of the Calendar for 18 2nd, 3rd, as the case may be) prisoner in case to was convicted before me (nome and official designation) of the offence (mention the offence or offences couclistiv) under section (or sections) of the Indian Fenal Code ), and was sentenced to (state the punishment fulls and (or of Act distinctly)

This is to authorize and require you, the said Superintendent (or K.eepet), to receive the said (prisoner's norme] into your control in the said Jul, tocetter with its warrant, and there carry the diorected sentence unto execution according to law Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this

(Signature)

days unless

FORMS (Schedule V -l orms)

\\\ -\\ GREAT OF IMPRISONMENT ON I MELLES TO RECOVER AMENDS BY "[ATTACHMENT csp sur l

(See section 250)

To the Superintendent (or Keeper, of the Jail at Wittness iname and description) has brought against (name and description of the accused person) the complaint that twentien it concisely) and the same has been dismissed as "Ifalse and frivolous for sexitions, and the order of dismissal awards payment to the said mame of comblainants of the sum of rupecamends, and whereas the said sum has not been paid 30 0 and an order has been made for his simple impresonment in Jul for the period of the aforesaid sum to somer pant,

This is to authorize and require you, the said Superintendent (or keeper), to receive the card (manne) into your castoch, together with this warrant, and him safely to keep in the said Jail for the said period of (term of imprisonment), subject to the proxy-ison of section 69 of the Indian Penal Code, unless the said sum he sooner paid, and on the receipt thereof, forthwith to set him at liberty, returning this warrant with an endorsement certifying the manner of its execution Guen under my hand the seal of the Court, this

(Seal ) (Signature)

YYVI -SUMMOVS TO WITNESS

(See sections 68 and 252)

To

WHERE'S complaint has been made before me that (or is suspected to have) committed the offence of (state the offence concisel) with time and place) and it appears to me that you are likely to give material evidence for the prosecution, you are hereby summoned to appear before this Court on the do of the custon summones to appear before any Court on the court of the court of the said complaint, and not to depart thence without leaks of the Court, and you are hereby warned that, if you shall authority not excuse neglect or refuse to appear on the said date, a warrant will be issued to compel your attendance

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this dat of

(Signature) (Seal )

XXXII -PRECEPT TO DISTRICT MAGISTRATE TO SUMMON JURORS AND ASSESSORS (See section 106)

To the District Magistrate of WHERKAS on the have been duly and Assessors persons to atte within such da Given unde

(Here enter the names of Jusors and Assessors)

(Signature) (Seal ) 'These words were substituted for the word "Distress" by a 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XXIII of 1923)

These words were inserted by ibid The words "and cannot be recovered by distress of the moreal le, the said (name of comblainant)" were omitted in a 162 of the Code of Irocedure (Amendi 1 rocedure (Amenda

(Schedule V .- Forms )

XXXIII -SUMMONS TO ASSESSOR OR JUROR

(See section 328)

To (name) of (place)

PURSUANT to a precept directed to me by the Court of Sessions of requiring your attendance as an Assessor (or a Juror) at the next Criminal Session, you are herely summoned to attend at the said Court of Session at (place) at ten o'clock in the forencon on the day of next day of Given under my hand and the seal of office, this

day of 18

(Seal)

(Scal)

(Seal)

(Signature)

XXXIV - WARRANT OF COMMITMENT UNDER SENTENCE OF DEATH

(See section 374)

to the Superintendent (or Keeper) of the Jail at

WHEREAS at the Session held before me on the day of 18 , (name of prisoner) the (1st, 2ud, 3rd, as the cose may be) prisoner in case No of the Calendar at the said Session, was duly convicted of the offence of enlipable homicide amounting to marder under section of the Indivir Penal Code, and sentenced to suffer death, subject to the confirmation of the said sentence by the Court of

This is to authorize and require you, the said Superintendent (or Keeper), to seceive the said (prisoner's name) into your custody in the said Jail, together with this warrant, and him there safely to keep until you shall receive the further warrant or order of this Court, carrying into effect the order of the said Court

Given under my hand and the scal of the Court, this day of 18 .

XXXV -- WARRANT OF EXECUTION ON A SENTENCE OF DESTIT

(See section 381)

To the Superintendent (or Keeper) of the Jail at Wierris (name of prisoner) the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, as the case may be) prisoner in case No of the Calendar at the Session held before me on the day of case No , 18 , has been by warrant of this Court, dated the

, commutted to your custody under sentence of death; and whereas the order of the Court of confirming the said sentence has been received by this Court,

The is to authorize and require jew, the and Superinhendent (or Keeper), to carry the said sentence into execution by causing the said to be hanged

ly the neck until he be dead at (time and place of execution), and to return this warrant to the Court with an endorsement certifying that the sentence has been

e secuted Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of

(Signature)

XXXVI -WARRANT APTER A COMMUTATION OF A SENTENCE

(See sections 38x and 38x)

To the Superintendent (or Keeper) of the Jail at 18 , (name WHEREAS at a Session held on the day of WHEREAS IN A Session field on the day or of priconer) the (1st, 2nd, 3rd, as the case may be) prisoner in case No Valendry at the said Session, was convicted of the offence of online section of the Indian Penal Code, and sentenced to of the punishable , and

(Signature )

FORMS ana

(Schedule 1' -l orms)

was thereupon committed to your custody, and whereas by the order of the (a duplicate of which is hereunto aunexed) the punishment adjudged by the said sentence has been commuted to the punishment of transporta tion for life (or as the case may bei

This is to authorize and require you, the said Superintendent (or Keeper), safely to Leep the said (frisoner's name) in your custody in the said fail as by law is required, until he shall be delivered over by you to the proper authority and custody for the purpose of his undergoing the punishment of transportation under the said order, or if the initigated sentence is one of imprisonment, say after the words, "custody in the said Jail," and there to carry into execution the punish ment of imprisonment under the said order according to law."

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this (Seal )

(Signature)

XXXVII - WARRANT TO LEVY A FINE BY "I ATTACHMENT | AND SALE

(See section 3% "I(1) (a) 1

To (name and designation of the Police officer or other person or persons who is or are to execute the warrant)

Whereis (name and description of the offender) was on the 18, conveted before me of the offence of (mention the offence concisely), and sentenced to pay a fine of rupees and whereas the said (name), although required to pay the said fine has not paid the sante or any part thereof,

This is to authorize and require you to "[attach any] moveable property belong ing to the said (mune) which may be found within the distinct of and of the motion (mune) which may be found within the distinct of within (state the number of days or hours allowed next after "[such attachment] the and sum shall not be paid for forthwith) to sell the moreable "[property attached], or so much thereof as shall be sufficient to sairty, the said fine, returning this warrant with an endorsement certifying what you have done under it, immediately upon its execution

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of

(Seal ) (Stenature)

[XXXVIIA -BOAD FOR ALLIARANCE OF OFFINDIR REGIASED PENDING REALISATION OF PINE 1

(See section 383)

Mirras L (name) inhabitant of (place) have been sentenced to pay a fine of and in default of payment thereof to undergo unprisonment for rupecs and whereas the Court has been pleased to order my release " . . on condition of my executing a bond for my appearance " on the following date for dates) namels -I hereby bind myself to appear before the Court of the following date (or dates) namely I and in case of making default

'This word was substituted for the word 'Distress" by < 162 of the Code of

Cimmad Procedure (Amendment) set 1923 (AVIII of 1923)

The figure letter and brackets were inserted by ibid
These words were substituted for the words 'male di trees by seizure of ans. In: bild.

'These words were substituted for the words 'sneh distress' In: bild.

'These words were substituted for the words "property distrained" (x ybild.)

'These words were substituted for the words. 'I orm \\\III was inserted by ibid'
'The words until the day of " were omitted by s 5 of the day of Code of Criminal Procedure (Second Amendment) Act, 1923 (NANT) If of 1923) These words were substituted for the words "on that day" "on the said day of next" and "on the day of next" In this

(Schedule V .- Forms )

herein I bind myself to forfeit to His Majesty the King, Emperor of India, the sum of Rupees

Dated this day of 18
(Signature)

Where a hond with sureties is to be executed, add—
We do hereby declar, ourselves sureties for the above-named that he will pear before the Court if for the following date for dates) named—appear before the Court if Ion the following date for dates) namely—and, in case of his making default therein, we bind ourselves jointly and severally to forfest to His Majesty the King, Emperor of India, the sum of Rupces

(Stenature)

XXXVIII —WARRANT OF COMMITMENT IN CERTAIN CASES OF CONTEMPT WHEN A TIME IS IMPOSED

(See section 40)

To the Superintendent (or Keeper) of the Jail at Williams at a Court holden before me on this dri (name and description of the Court on the presence (or view) of the Court committed wilful contempt.

And whereas for such contempt the Said (name of offender) has been adjudged.

by the Court to pri a fine of rupees or in default to suffer simple impresonment for the space of islate the number of months or days). This is to authorize and require you, the Superintendent for Kerper) of the said Jul, to receive the said (name of offender) into your eastedy, together with this warrant, and him safet to keep in the said Jul for the said period of them of the said July to the said t imprisonment), unless the fine be sooner prid, and on the recourt thereof, forthwith to set him it better the the set in the manner of its execution and the seal of the Court, this day of 18

Given under nix hand and the seal of the Court, this day of 18 (Signature)

VVVIX -VIAGISTRATE & OR JUDGE'S WARRANT OR COMMITMENT OR WITNESS REFLESING TO ANSWER

(See section 45)

To (name and description of officer of Court)

WHEREAS (nature and description), being sammoned (or brought before this Court) as a winters and thus das required to give evidence on an inquiry into an allecced offence, refused to answer a certain question (or certain questions) put for bim touching the said allecced offence, and data recorded, without allecung any sexuese for such refusal, and for his contempt has been adjudent detention in unstand for (therm of alterition adjudged).

This is to nathern and require yet to take the said (name) into custods and lim soles to Leon or the space of days unless in the meantime he shall consent to be examined and to answer the question acked of him, and on the last of the said days, or forthwith on such consent teams known, to tring him tefore this Court to be dealt with according to law, returning this warrant with an endorsement certifying the manner of its execution.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of 18

(Scal) (Signature)

NL -Werent of Impersonment on Pallure to the Maintenance (See section 483)

To the Seperanten lent (or Keeper) of the Jail at WHEREAS (name, descriptin and address) has been proved before me to be possessed in sufficient means to maintain his safe (name) [or his child (name), who FODMS 1001

And

(Schedule 1 - I orms)

is by reason of state the reasons unable to maintain herself or himself)] and to have neglected for refused) to do so and an order ha, been duly made requiring the said (name) to allow to his said wife (or child) for maintenance the monthly sum of runees and whereas it has been further proved that the said mame) in wilful divregard of the said order has failed to pay rupees being the amount of the allowance for the month (or months) of thereupon an order was made adjudging him to undergo simple (or rigorous) imprisonment in the said Jail for the period of This is to authorize and require you, the said Superintendent (or Keeper), to receive the said (name) into your custody in the said fail together with this warrant and there carry the said order into execution according to law, returning this warrant with an endorsement certilizing the manner of its execution Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of

(Seal ) (Signature)

ALI - WARRANT TO ENFORCE THE PAYMENT OF MAINTENANCE BY I[ATTACHMENT] AND SHE

(See section 488)

To (name and designation of the Police-officer or other person to execute the a grrant)

Whi Reas an order has been duly nade requiring (name) to allow to his said wife (or child) for maintenance the monthly sum of rupees , and whereas the said (name) in wilful divregard of the said order has failed to pay rupees , being the amount of the allowance for the month (or months) of

This is to authorize and require you to "fattach any" moveable property belong ing to the said (name) which may be found within the district of and if within (state the number of days or hours allowed) next after "fauch attach ment) the said sum shall not be paid (or forthwith) to sell the moveable afproperty attached or so much thereof as shall be sufficient to satisfy the said sum, returning this warrant with an endorsement certifying what you have done under it, imit e diately upon its execution

Guen under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of

(Signature)

18

(Scal)

VLII -- BOAD AND BALL BOND ON A PRELIMINARY INQUIRY BEFORE A MAGISTRATE

(See sections 406 and 409)

I (name) of (place) being brought before the Magistrate of (as the case may be) charged with the offence of and required to give scenario for my us) charged with the other of and at the Court of Session, it required, do bind myself to altend at the Court of the said Magatrale on even day of the prehumary inquir) into the suid charge and should the cache be sent for that by the Court of Session, to be and appear lefore the said Court when called poin to nawer the charge Her Mejesty the Queen, Empress of India, the sum of rupees day of Dated this 18

(Signature )

'This nord was substituted for the word "distress" by $ 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (AVIII of 1923)

- "Amendment) Act, 1923 (AVIII of 1920)

by s

words such distress, pr ibid

e words ' properts distrained" by Ibid

1.0

(Schedule V -- Forms)

I hereby declare myself (or We jointly and severally declare ourselves and early of us) surety (or sureties) for the said (name) that he shall attend at the Court of on every day of the preliminary inquiry into the offence charged against him, and, should the case be sent for trial by the Court of Session, that he shall be, and appear, before the said Court to answer the charge against him and in case of his making default therein, I bind myself (or we bind ourselves) to forfeit to Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India, the sum of rupees

Dated this

day of

18 (Signature)

ALIII - WARRANT TO DISCHARGE A PERSON THERISONED ON LAILURE TO GIVE SICURIA

(See section 500)

To the Superintendent (or keeper) of the Jail at

(or other officer in whose custody the person is)

WHEREAS (name and description of prisoner) was committed to your custody , and has since under warrant of this Court, dated the day of with his surety (or sureties) duly executed a bond under section 499 of the Code of Cummal Procedure

This is to authorize and require you forthwith to discharge the said (name) from your custody, unless he is liable to be detained for some other matter

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this (Seal ) (Signature)

ALIV -WARRANT OF ATTACHMENT TO ENFORCE A BOND (See section 511)

To the Police ofheer in charge of the Police station at MERREAS (name description and address of person) has failed to appear the (mention the occasion) pursuant to his recognizance, and has by such default forfested to Her Majest, the Queen Propress of India, the sum of rupees the penalty in the bond) and whereas the said (name of person) has, on due notice to him, failed to pay the said sum or show any sufficient cause nly payment shoul!

not be enforced against him,

This is to anthorize and require you to attach any moveable property of the said (name) that you may find within the district of , by seizure and detention, and, if the said amount be not paid within three days, to sell the property so attached or so much of it as may be sufficient to realise the amount aforesaid, and to make return of what you have done under this warrant immediately upon its execution

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this

day of

(Signature) (Seal 1

MIN -NOTICE TO SUSETY ON BREACH OF A BOND

(See section 514)

To Warrens on the of day of surety for (name) of (place) that he should appear before this Court on the day of and loand yourself in default therefore this Court on any of super-day of the Court of the Court of the Court of the same of super-son from the Court of the Court of you have forfeited the aforesaid sum of rupees

(Schedule I -1 orms)

You are herely required to pay the said penalty or show cause, within days from this date why tayment of the said sum should not be enforced against you Given under my hand and the seal of the Lourt, this day of

(Seal ) (Signature)

VIVI - NOTICE TO SURETY OF LORFFITURE OF BOND FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

(See section sta) To of Um RI 48 on the day of 18 , vou became surety to a bond for (name) of place) that he would be of good lehaviour for the period of and bound voorself in default thereof to forfeit the sum of rupees to Her Mapesty the Queen, I mpress of India, and whereas the said (name) has been connected of the offence of (mention the offence concisely) commit ted since you became such surety, wherehy your security bond has become forfeited,

You are herely required to pay the said penalty of rupees se within days why it should not be paid cause within

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this 18 day of (Seal ) (Signature)

LLVII - WARREST OF ATTICHMENT ACREST A SURETY

(See section 514) To

WHERE'S (name, description and address) has bound himself as surety for the appearance of (mention the condition of the bond), and the said (nome) has made default and thereby forfeited to Her Wajesty the Queen, Empress of India, the sum of rupees sum of rupees files and the fenalty in the bond), files is to authorize and require you to attach any movemble property of the said (name, which you may find swithin the district of , by seizure and detention and if the said amount be not paid within three days, to well the projects so attached or so much of it as may be sufficient to realize the amount aforesaid and make return of what you have done under this warrant immediately upon its execution Given under niv hand and the seal of the Court, this day of 18

(Seal ) (Signature)

LA HI - WARRANT OF COMMITMENT OF THE SURFIX OF AN ACCUSED PERSON ADMITTED TO BAIL

(See section sis)

to the Superintendent (or keeper) of the Civil Jail at

WHEREAS (name and description of surets) has bound himself as a surety for the a pearance of (state the condition of the bond) and the said (name) has therein male default wherein the penalty mentioned in the said bond has been forfeited to Her Majesty the Oucen Empress of India and whereas the said (name of surely) the date notice to him, failed to pay the said sum or show any sufficient cause and an order has been made periot)

uperintendent (or Keeper), to arrant and him safely to keep in the sail Jail fer the sail (term of imprisonment) and to return this warrant with an endorsement certifying the manner of its execution

( even un ler my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of 18 (Seal)

(Signature)

(Schedule V.-Forms)

NLIN -NOTICE TO THE I RINCIPAL OF PORFEITURE OF A BOND TO KEEP THE PEACE

(See section sta)

To (name, description and address)

WHEREAS on the day of 18 . you entered into a bond not to commit, etc (as in the bond), and proof of the forfeiture of the same has been given before me and duly recorded, You are hereby called upon to pay the said penalty of rupees days why payment of the same should not be enforced cause before me within against you Given under my hand and the scal of the Court, this day of

(Signature) (Seal)

L-WARRANT TO ATTACH THE PROPERTY OF THE PRINCIPAL ON BREACH OF A BOAD TO KEFP THE PEACE

(See section 511)

To (name and designation of Police officer) at the Police station of 15 , enter into oranness rame and description) did on the day of 18, enter into a bond for the sum of rupees building himself not to coming a breach of the peace, etc (as in the bend), and proof of the forfeiture of the said bond has been given before me and duly recorded, and whereas notice has been given to the said (name) calling upon him to show cause why the said sum should not be paid, and le has failed to do so or to pay the said sum.

This is to authorize and require you to attach by seizure moveable property belonging to the said faunch to the said said of the said sum. WHEREAS (name and description) did on the day of

within the district of and, if the said sum be not paid within , to sell the property so attached or so much of it as may be sufficient to realise the same, and to make return of what you have done in a sum of the same, and to make return of what you have done in the same, and to make return of what you have done in the same, and to make return of what you have done in the same, and to make return of what you have done in the same and the same upon its execution day of Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this

(Signature) (Seal )

LI-WARRANT OF IMPRISONMENT ON BREACH OF A BOND TO KEEP THE PEACE

(See section 514)

To the Superintendent (or Keeper) of the Civil Jail at NHERS proof has been given before me and doly recorded that (name and description) has committed a breach of the bond entered into by him to keep the pace, whereby he has fortieded to Her Majesty the Queen, Himpers of Junious and superson the same of rupees and the same of rupees and whereas the said theme) has failed to pin close with and whereas the said theme) has failed to pin close who are the said theme; has failed to pin close who are the said theme; has failed to pin close the said control of so, and bayment thereof cannot be enforced by attachment of his movestile property, and an order has been made for the impersonment of the said (name) in the Civil Juli for the period of (term of imprisonment of the said (name) in the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said of the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said of the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said of the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said of the said of the said (name) that the said of the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said of the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said of the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceether with the said (vil Juli, to receive the said (name) into your custody. Iceeth

manner of its execution

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court this day of

(Signature) (Seal )

FORMS (Schedule V.—Forms)

LII - WARRANT OF ATTACHMENT AND SALE ON FORFITTERE OF BOND FOR GOOD REHALIOUR

(See section size)

To the Police-officer in charge of the Police station at

WHEREAS (name, description and address) did, on the day of give security in bond in the sum of rupces for the good behaviour of (name, etc. of the principal), proof has been given before me and duly recorded of the commission by the said (name) of the offence of whereby the said bond has been forfeited, and whereas notice has been given to the said (name) calling Epon com to show cruse why the said sum should not be paid, and he has failed to do so or to pay the said sunt,

This is to authorize and require you to attach by seizure moveable property belonging to the said (name) to the value of rupees which you may find which you may find within the district , and, if the said sum be not paid within , to sell the property so attached, or so much of it as may be sufficient to realise the

can e, and to make return of what you have done under this warrant immediately rion its execution

Guen under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of

(Signature ) (Seal )

LIII -WARRANT OF IMPRISONMENT ON FORFEITURE OF BOND FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

(See section 511)

To the Super utendent (or Keeper) of the Civil Jail at Witeress (name, description and address) did, on the day of give security by bond in the sum of rupees for the good behaviour of (name, Rive security by lond in the sum of rupees for the good behaviour of (name, etc., of the principal), and proof of the breach of the said bond loss been given kelore me and dult recorded, whereby the said (name) has forfeited to Her Miyesty the Queen, Pimpress of India, the sum of rupees , and whereas he has failed to pay the said sum or to show cause why the said sum should not be paid although duly called upon to do so and payment theeso cannot be enforced by attacliment of his moreable property, and an order has been made for the imprisonment of the said (name), in the Civil Jail for the period of (term of imprisonment), to receive the said (name) in the Civil Jail for the period of (term of imprisonment), to receive the said (name) in the voir custody, together with this warrant, and him safely to keep in the said Jail for the said proof of (term of imprisonment), retirency the subtract with one moderatement certifying the manner of the securious.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court, this day of

(Signature) (Seal 1

ADDENDA OF CASES.

Section 4 (1) (h)

The essence of a complant as defined in Section 4 (1) (h) of the Code of Criminal Procedure is the statement of facts relied on as constituting an offence The complainant has only to state the facts in his own language, and it is for the Magistrate to apply the law to those facts—Mussama Naubaty iv Cronn, 6 Lah 375

Section 4 (2)

A Magistrate is a judge within the meaning of Section 19 I P C, read with Section 4 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure only when he is exercising jurisdiction in a suit or proceeding. Therefore an affidavit sworm before a magistrate cannot be used in the High Court-Ram Ch. Wolde vs. Emperor, 5 Pat. 110

Sections 15, 16 and 250

A trial held by a Bench of three Magistrates, of whom only one is present throughout is bad under Section 350A, Criminal Procedure Code, as the quorum of the Bench consists of two—Bannar is Crown, 7 Lah 122

Sections 29A and 528A

The claim to be tried as a European British Subject under Section 29A in a case falling within the provisions of Section 523A must be made before the trial or inquiry actually commences—Carmen is Obrien, 54 Cal 1011

Scetion 35 (1)

Section 85 (1) of the Criminal Procedure Code is applicable to cases where the accused is convicted of two or more distinct offences at one trial and not where the accused is convicted of separate offences at separate trials—Emperor vs. Dulli, 17 All 19

Section 35 (1), Criminal Procedure Code does not authorise the passing of separate sentences under Sections 147 and 326 read with Sec 149 I P, C-Bajo Sing te Emperor, 8 Pat 274

Sections 37 and 190

Section 37 and the Fourth Schedule of the Criminal Procedure Code must be read with Section 190 of the Code, hence a District Magistrate cannot confer upon a Subordinate Magistrate power to take cognizance of an offence which such Subordinate Magistrate is not empowered by the Fourth Schedule of the Code to try or commit for trial-Bengali Gope vs Emperor, 5 Pta 417.

Section 45

The owner of a house who fails to inform the police of a suicide committed by a member of his family by falling into a well situated in the compound of the house cannot be proceeded against, as the duty of giving information to the Police under Section 45 (1) of the Code is east on the owner or occupier of land and not of a house — Emperor is Hiru Satua, 53 Dom 18;

Section 54

The words credible information" and "reasonable suspicion" in Section 54 severally, refers to the mind of the police officer who receives the information and such information must afford sufficient materials for the exercise of his independent judgment at the time of making the arrest—Subodh Ch Roy Chowdhury vs Imperor, 25 Cel 319

Sections 51 an 1 56

An arrest effected 1; a constable according to the orders of a Sub-Inspector on the dilegal samply because the substance of the order was not explained to the a use is required by Section 56 of the Code. The issue of a written order does not limit the powers conferred by Section 55 -Kishen Mandar ts Emperor. 5 Pat 533

Section 59

The all se

Section 75

By reason of the provisions of Section 75 (2), a warrant of arrest remains in force until it is cancelled or executed even though it bears a returnable date-King Emperor La Binda Ahir, 7 Pat 478

Sections 77 and 79

A wa-- . . the conditions laid cannot endorse a down in . Section 79 of the warrant : Code-Pa-

Sections 87 and 88

The maintenance of a wife, is according to Hindu Law, a matter of personal obligation, which is liable to he defeated by the attachment and sale of his property under Sections 87 and 88 of the Code—Unsammat Darg us Secretary of State for India, 10 Lah 263

Section 99A

In order to justify forfeiture under Section 99A, it is necessary for the Crown to satisfy the Court that on the evidence produced by the prosecution, a conviction should have been had under Section 153A of the Penal Code—Hai us Crown, 9 Lah 693

Section 99B

A person applying under Section 99B for setting aside an order of forfeiture on the ground that the matter published does not fail within the muschef of Section 183 I P of has so notify the Court that his contention is right, and the order compliance of the section of the section 183 I P of the section of the High Court under Section 99B of the Criminal Procedure Code to set aside an order of foresture of a publication made under Section 99, be onus is on the Government to satively the Court that the publication contained seditious matter—Emperor vs Bainath Kedia, 47 All 298

An application to set aside an order of forfesture under section 99B must be rejected where it is clear that the intention of the author was to promote feelings of enginty or lattred between two communities such as would suitify a conviction of capitally or lattred between two communities such as would suitify a conviction of enmity or liatred between two communities such as would justify a conviction under Section 183A I P C-Chamupati vs Crown, 13 Lab 152

Sections 99A, 99B and 251

An order of forfeiture having been made by the Local Government in respect of a certain book written by the accused and an application to the High Court to set aside the order length been rejected, it is competent to a Majestrate typing to set aside the order lection 153 L P C for an offence in respect of the same the accused in close the case without recording further evidence and to convict the accused—Emperor vs Kali Charan Sarma, 50 All 157

The object of Section 103 Criminal Procedure Code is better achieved by permitting independent witnesses to assist in the search, and by rendering such assistance they do not cease to be competent witnesses of the search_Limperor vs Win Na cori, 5 Hang 291

Sections 102 and 103

Section 102 and 103 of the Code do not apply to searches which are governed by Chapter IX of the 1ct-Harbhanian San to Emperor, 54 Cal 601

1008 Section 106

The necessity and desirability of requiring security under Sec 106, Criminal Procedure Code must depend upon the fact as to whether the circumstances indicate that such a breach of the peace is likely to recur-Emperor vs Mewalal, 51 All

The expression "offences involving a hreach of the peace" in Section 106 of the Code includes not only offences of which a breach of the peace is a necessary ingredient and in which a breach of the peace has actually occurred, but includes also eases of offences in which an evident intention to commit a breach of the

also eases of offences in which an evident intention to commit a breach of the peace is expressly found—Abdul Gaffur vs Mahamed Mirza, 50 2.01 659
Although an offence punishable under Section 323 I P C is not one of the offences referred to in Section 106 of the Criminal Procedure Code, yet where a person has been convicted under section 222 I P C, he can be bound down under section 106 of the Criminal Procedure Code, if it is found by the Magistrate that the offence involved a breach of the peace—Atma Ram vi Emperor, 40 All 131
A person convicted of an offence under Section 504 I P C cannot be bound down under Section 106 of the Criminal Procedure Code, which Section is applicable down under section 100 of the comman a recent to the peace is an ingredient—Asoke Prosono Bal vs Emperor, 31 C W N 631

An offence under Section 333 I P C necessarily involves a breach of the peace and hence a person convicted of such an offence may be bound down under Section 106 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, without an enquiry and a formal finding-Hayat Khan vs Crown, 13 Lab 836

Section 107

A person consenting to give security when called upon to do so is deemed to be properly bound down under Section 107 of the Code without any necessity of prosecution evidence being called before taking a bond from him—Emperor vs Nasir Ahmed, 50 All 120

A person consenting to give security when ealled upon to do so may be bound down under Section 107 of the Code without further enquiry, when the Magistrate is satisfied that such person fully understood the meaning of the notice—Emperor vs Kishen Narayan, 50 All 359

An order requiring security under Section 107 of the Code from certain persons

An Nature requiring security under section 107 of the Code from certain persons drawing water from a public well on the ground of resistance by other persons and the likelihood of a breach of the peace following such resistance, cannot be justified, as the act complained of is in itself perfectly lawful—Khazan Chand te Crown, 7 Lah 422

Section 108

A person found on a solitary occasion of distributing notices which may have effect of promoting cunity between classes may possibly be prosecuted under Section 153A I P C, but he cannot be proceeded against under Section 1636 of the Criminal Procedure Code —Emperor us Chranjall, 50 All 831

Section 109

Section 100 contemplates an offence of a person coming into the Magistrate's uniform for some netarious purpose and taking precautions to conceal the fact that he is present in that jurisdetion—Limperor vs. Bhairon, 49 All 240

Section 110

No hard and fast rule can be laid down as to the quantum of information necessary to justify a Magistrate in taking action under Section 110 of the Code, and a Magistrate is perfectly right in proceeding under Section 110 against a person, who, he is informed is a habitual thief and is within the local limits of his jurisdiction -- Emperor ts Ram Gbulam 2 Lah 157

An order under Section 110 is not unstituble when a large body of respectable witnesses of the locality testify to the good character of the accused as against the evidence of Police Officers—Lundan at Crown 9 Lah 133

A person registered as a member of a eriminal tribe, though prevented thereby the control of the contr

rom committing many of the offences for which preventive action under Chapter Will of the Criminal Procedure Code may be necessary, is jet deemed to have sufficient liberty left in him to require proceedings under Section 110 of the Code—Balu Mir vi Emperor, 31 Cal. 279

The provisions of Section 110 (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to the harbouring of thieses are not applicable to the offence of harbouring of dacoits, which is covered by the substantine provisions of law embodied in Section 216A, I P C -- Emperor ts Manifal Awastbs 51 All 459

Sections 110 and 256

1 Magistrate conducting proceedings under Section 110 of the Code is bound to give the accused a reasonable opportunity of cross examining the prosecution writnesses — Emperor vs Triok, 50 All 71

Section 112

An order under Section 1t2 of the Criminal Procedure Code need not contain anything which will show to the person against whom proceedings are taken, the nature of the case against him — imperor vs. Run (Rulam, 2 Luck, 157). Merely setting out in a notice under Section 112 that a man is a habitual third or robber without recording the substance of the information received, and having the prosecution witnesses read; there and then to go on with the case, is not the procedure contemplated by law - Emperor vs Nihal, 49 All 5

Sections 117 and 360

Section 360 of the Code is not applicable to proceedings under Section 117, and hence it is not necessary to read over the deposition of the witnesses to them in the presence of the person called upon to furnish security-Legal Remembrancer is Jafar Raki, Cal 668

Section 118

A person against whom an enquiry is held under Section II8 of the Code is not an accused person but is a quasi accused and he cannot be deemed to be an accused nor when an order is passed against him be "deemed to be committed"— Charan Mahato ts Emperor, 9 Pat 131

Sections 118 121 and 514

Sections 119 and 136

It is not competent to a District Magistrate to order further enquiry under Section 436 in respect of a person against whom proceedings are taken but who was discharged under Section 119 Such a person is not a person accused of an offence within the meaning of Section 436—Emperor vs Nem Abir, 51 All 408

Section 123

The Sessions Court before which proceedings are laid under Section 123 (2) has neither the duty nor the power to test sureties offered by the person who is bound down - Emperor vs Beraik Nagendra Nath Sen, 9 Pat 741

Section 133

When a person against whom a notice under Section 133 is issued appears to show cause it is the duty of the Magistrate to record evidence before he makes the show cause it is the duty of the significant to record evolution between the mass the order absolute—Imperor its Bechan Teb. 47 All 341.

It is not competent to a Magnitrate to make an order under Section 153 of the Code, absolute simply on the bases of a local inspection made by him and sythout recording any evidence—Tirkha is Annak, 49 All 475.

"Ture Code which prevents a Sub-Divisional."

'ure Code which prevents a Sub-Divisional r under Section 133 from referring the Magi to him for disposal. It is only when matt to time for a composition of the form matt recording evidence, even where the parties stated their willingness to abide b decision of the Magistrate arrived at after a local inspection -Bhoora vs Tara Singh, 49 All 270

In proceedings under Section 183 of the Code where there is any evidence before the Magistrate that the path in dispute is a private path, it is the duty of the Magistrate to stay his hand immediately until the matter of the existence of a public right is decided by a competent Civil Court-Matahar Molla vs Golam Parijaton, 57 Cal 388

When a Magistrate passed an order under Section 133 stopping a trade of brickmaking and of filling up the barrow pits made for the purpose on grounds.

of public health, it was held that Section 133 did not cover such on order to restore the status and by filling up the existing pits

Sections 133 and 137

In proceedings under Section 133 and 137, a Magistrate has no jurisdiction to make his order absolute on the mere report of the Tabsildar without going into evidence -Emperor vs Abdul Karım, 49 All 453

Where a person appears and shows cause against an order passed under Section 133, the Magistrate is hound to take evidence as in a summons case and failure to do so makes his order liable to be set aside in revision by the High Court -- Achbru vs Emperor, Il Lab 247

Sections 133 and 140

Although a Civil Court eannot question a conditional order made under Section 133 of the Code yet it is quite competent to question an absolute order made under Section 140 —Emperor vs Dulishand 51 All 1025

Section 137

The provisions of Section 137 (1) are imperative and the failure of the Magistrate to follow the same vitiates the proceedings—Tirkha vs Nanak, 49 All 475

Sections 137 and 139 A

Where in the course of proceedings under Chapter X of the Code, it is found that there is a bona fide question of the private rights of the parties involved the proper course for the Court is to stay the proceedings until such time as the rights of the parties concerned have been decided by a competent Civil Court—Munna Tewari us Chandraball, 50 All 871

Section 139 A

Section 139 A requires only evidence and not proof, and where the Magistrate upon the materials before him has no reason to think the evidence to be false, he is perfectly justified in staying further proceedings -Thakur Sao 12 Abdul Aziz

On staying proceedings in accordance with the provisions of cl (2) of Section 139 A, a Magistrate is competent to direct a party to the proceedings to so have the question of the existence of public right in dispute, decided by a Civil Court within a prescribed period -Risal Singh vs Ballit Singh, 51 Ali 890

Scettons 139A and 540

There is nothing in Section 189 A which can exclude the existence of the Court's inherent powers under Section 540 of the Code-Kishori Mohan Paramanik us Krishna Behari Basak, 58 Cal 461

Section 144

In the case of a dispute between owners of two rival bazars, which is likely to lead to a breach of the peace, a Magistrate has jurisdiction to pass an order under Section 141 restraining an owner temporarily from holding a new market —itam Gopal Goenka vs. Narayan Das, 55 Cal 1077

In a Criminal trial it is for the Court to determine the question of the guilt of the accused and it must do so upon the evidence before it independently of decisions in Civil litigation between the same parties Trollokyanath Das is Emperor, 30 Cal 156

An order of a Magistrate under Section 141 of the Code, not being the order of a Court is not open to revision by the High Court—Vedappan Servai ts Persanam Servai 52 Mad 69 t

The effect of the omission of clause (3) to Section 435 is to invest the High court with powers to interfere in revision with orders passed under Section 144 of the Code—Muthuswanni Servaigaron 14 Thatugammal Ayyar, 53 Mad 320

Sections 144 and 561 A

Section 144 of the Code cannot be used for the purpose of procuring the transfer of property and documents from the person in possession to the claimant, and when it has been so used, the Court has jurisdiction under Section 561 A of the Code to direct that the property and documents in question be retransferred -Hafizuddin vs Laborde 50 All 414

Section 145

An order of a Criminal Court under Sec 145 of the Code is no bar to a suit under Section 9 of the Specific Relief Act -U Kyaw Lu and others vs U Shwe So, 6 Rang 667

It is open to a Magistrate who passed a preliminary order under Section 143 directing the parties to file written statements as regards their respective claims to possession of the subject matter in dispute, to subsequently drop the proceedings if he is satisfied that there was no likelihood of a breach of the peace—Narasayah ts Venkish, 49 Mad 232

A Magistrate has no jurisdiction under Sec 145 to attach a land for the purpose of collection of produce in order to avoid future hitigation about the actual amount of the produce collected -Atma Singh vs Harnam Singh, 7 Lah 134 An adverse order under Section 145 passed against a father of a joint Hindu family in his capacity as the representative of the family blinds the other members, it, his sons —Venkata Swamaraju us Vahaharalaju, 32 Mad 787.

**The An order under Section 115 of the Code can be passed only by a Magnetrate barring local jurisdiction of the land in dispute—Challapath Naidu us Subba

Naidu, 52 Mad 241

n failure to serve a copy of the preliminary order under Section 145 clause (1) on the respondant and failure to post the order on the land are irregularites cured by Section 537 of the Code—Maung Mank and anr vs. Maung Po Yon, 3 Rang 169

Tı -

an mega belief do exist and the enquiry by the Magistrate has been duly made—Naung Po ta Maung Chit Pyu, 8 Rang 129

An order under Section 145 cannot be reviewed or set aside by the Magistrate who passed it or by his successor—Lailan Missir us Ram Riccha, 48 All 253

A Magistrate who took proceedings in respect of certain shops regarding which a dispute had arisen could not appoint a receiver of the property before taking evidence or declaring who was in possession—Crown vs. Diwan Chand, 10 Lah. 800

Sections 145 and 526 (8)

A party to a proceeding under Section 145 is not entitled under Section 526 (8) to a postponement for the purpose of enabling to move the High Court to transfer the case -I oka Mahtan 18 Kale Singh, 6 Pat 553

Section 146

Section 146 has no application when a Civil Court has already determined the rights of the parties as to the matter in dispute -Parabhans Pande vs Sheodarshan Singh, 28 All 397

Section 117

The expression 'land or water' in Section 147 is not necessarily restricted to private property, but its also applicable to such a case as when the use of a public street by one community is resisted by another community living in that locality—Amir khan is 'Mahalingam Pilla' 51 Wad 173 'The claim to bury the dead in a bural ground can also be determined under Section 117 of the Code, and the duty of a Wingstrate acting under that Section to see whether the right if exercisable on particular occasions or at part the same of the same and the same as particular to the same and the sa

The state of the series of the

when we have the set of the set o

the transfer of the transfer o Nin.

we state the state of the state ` '` • " .

The solution for the property of the property 1 we a

A SULP DE SULP SE SULP

the state of the s

han the first hand to be a refer to the property of the proper of the state of th

The state of the s

called for the prosecution (2) the Court has ordered the accused to be furnished with a cop, and (3) the written record of the statement has been duly proved—Bahadur Singh to Crown 7 Lah 268

When a statement made by a proscution witness has been recorded under Section 162 of the Code, the accused is entitled to demand that a copy of it should be furnished to him, only when the witness is in the witness but of give his evidence against the accused and its sought to be cross examined under Section the of the Tydence (tt-huperor is Sebth Usman, 25 Bom 193).

The Court has no jurisdiction to refuse to furnish copies of statements recorded under Section 161 of the Coole to the accused, if he so wants, unless the case comes within the Ind provise to Section 162—Jhari Gope us Emperor, 8 Pat 272

Under Section 102 of the Code, it is obligatory on a judge to give the accused copies of statements subject only to the exclusion of irrelevant matters, but the judge is not lound to grant copies of the statements recorded under Section 101 of the Code before the cross-examination has been opened—Madari Sikdar vs Emperor 5.5 Cal 207

As soon as a witness is produced in Court and the accused applies for a copy of his statement before the Police recorded in writing, the Court is bound under Section 162 of the Code to refer to the writing and direct that the accused be furnished with a copy thereof—Hameglaim Teli by Emperor, 7 Pat 203

If a police officer records statement of witnesses in his diary, or inserts them in his diary from original notes which he destrops the accused is entitled to ask the Court to refer to them and subject to the propose to Section 102 of the Code he is entitled to copies of the statements for the purpose of contradicting such prosecution witnesses —Sulaman Muhamed Bholat vs. Lupperor, v Bang 672

When a witness tendered but not examined in chief by the prosecution, is not cross examined the accused is not entitled to a copy of the statements made by the witness in the course of the Police investigation—Hakim Wazid Ali vs Emperor, 7 Pat 163

Sections 167 and 476

Section 162 does not prohibit the use of statements made by any person to a police officer during investigation under Chapter XI\ in proceedings under Sec 470 where the slieged offence which is under consideration in the proceedings under Section 470 was not under investigation at the time when the statements were made —U IIIn Gyaw & others vs Emperor, 5 Rang of the statements were made —U IIIn Gyaw & others vs Emperor, 5 Rang of the statements were made —U IIIn Gyaw & others vs Emperor, 5 Rang of the statements were made —U IIIn Gyaw & other svs Emperor, 5 Rang of the statements were made —U III of the statement were made —U III of the statement when the statement were supported to the statement of the stateme

Section 161

A statement made by an accused before a Magistrate under Section 161 of the Code, though not a confession but is of an exculpatory character, may be admitted in evidence against the accused at his trial is evidence of a fact relative to the prosecution case—Golam Mahammed Khan up Emperor, 4 Pat 327 A confession otherwise admissible in evidence, is by virtue of Section 29 of the Evidence Act admissible, even though the caution prescribed by Section 161 (3) of the Code had not been administered—In re Vellamonyi Goundan, 53 Mad 711 The absence of the signature of the confessor in a confession duly recorded under Section 164 does not render the confession madmission dun's recorded under Section 164 does not render the confession madmissible when the Magnitrate recording the confession and his clerk site examined as to the statement recorded having been duly made by the accused—Ba I as to Limperor, 7 Ring, 720.

Section 163 does not apply to a confession recorded in a Presidency town in course of a police investigation not held under the orders of a Presidency Magnitate under Sections 155 and 156 (3) of the Code —Emperor is Panchrown Dutt 52 Cal

Section 167

When the question whether the accused shoul I be remanded to police custod, or sent to pudicial lock up has been duly considered by the Marstrate and he makes an order remanding the accused to police custody, the custody cannot be held to be ullegal ~Amobal Rism tr Emperor, 12 Lah "11

Sections 173 and 191

In the case of a recommen lation being made to the Sub-Divisional Vigistrate under Section 173 of the Code, that no proceedings be taken against the acruse persons and the latter refuses to take congrusance of the alleged offence on Section 191 (b), it is not open to the District Magistrate to direct the police to submit a charge sheet in the case -Shukadava Sahay vs. Hamid Mian, 7 Pat 561

Section 174

The procedure which governs the grant of copies of statements under Section 162 governs also the grant of copies of statements made at the inquest. The accused is not entitled to copies of statements made at an investigation under Section 174 of the Code, but he is entitled to copies of the post mortem certificate and of the inquest report (excluding statements therein) - Maruthamuthu Kudamban vs Emperor, 50 Mad 750

Sections 179 and 188

Section 188 overrides the provisions of Section 179 in any case to which Section 189 applies -Superintendent and Remembrancer of Legal Affairs vs Sundar Ch Das, 59 Cal 1065

Section 181

Section 181 of the Code of Criminal Procedure gives jurisdiction to try the offence of criminal breach of trust not only to the Court within whose jurisdiction offence of criminal breach of trust not only to the Court within whose jurisdiction the offence was committed, but also to the Court within whose jurisdiction the property which is the subject matter of the offence was received or retained by the accused person—Emperor vs Laximan, 51 Bon 101

In a case when the accused was entrusted with certain negotiable securities with instructions to collect the amounts due upon them at various places and to account for the receipts at Rangoon, it was held that the offence of criminal breach of trust in respect of the proceeds of such collection can be tried by the Rangoon Courts—Yacoob Ahmed vs. V. M. Abdul Ganny, 6 Rang 380

Section 188

A person committing two offences, one in British India and the other in a Native State, cannot be tried for the latter offence, in British India without a certificate from the Political Agent —Emperor vs Sana Mathen, 54 Bom 171

Section 190 Magistrates mentioned in Section 190 are entitled to take cognizance of non cognizable offences upon a report made in writing by a police office without examining the officer on oath "Shankar Lal w Crown, D Lab 230 Where a Sub-Divisional Magnitartae being deputed to enquire into a certain matter reported that an offence of theft had been committed, and the Dist Magnitae that the return distribution of the case, it was held that the Sub Divisional Magnitariae was the case, and the sub-Divisional was the case of the case o Magistrate acted illegally in not giving the accused an opportunity to be tried by a separate Magistrate -Lachmi Narayan vs Emperor, 4 Luck 353

The report of an Excise Sub-Inspector is a police report for the purpose of Section 190, Criminal Procedure Code—Radhica Mohan Das vs Hamid Ali, 54 Cal 871

Sections 190 and 200

Magistrates mentioned in Section 130 are by virtue of the provisions contained in Sections 100A (b) and 200(aa) entitled to take cognizance of even non cognizable offences upon a report made in writing by a police officer without examining the officer upon oath -- Public Prosecutor vs Ratnavalu Chetty, 49 Mad 525

Sections 190 and 202 to 204

A Magistrate is not entitled to call upon the accused to appear before him to answer to a complaint, unless and until he is antisfied from an examination of complainant and his witnesses that there is a primar force are against the according to the control of the cont

Section 195

The word 'Court'" in Section 195(1)(e) refers only to a Court in British India and does not include a Court in a Native State Patal Mulji Bhia, In re. 49 Hom 860

The Commissioners appointed under the Public Servants Act, 1850 are a Court, though their conclusions take the form of advice to superior authority Consequently a complaint by them is necessary under Section 195-M M Khan ts Empecor, 12 Lah 391

In Section 195(1)(a) a document produced or given in evidence" means a document produced or given in evidence either by the party who is alleged to have committed the offence or by anyone else—Bhai Vyankatesh, In re., 49 Bom 603

Section 195

A complaint made by a Magistrate under Section 195(a) is not a judicial order and the Magistrate does so as a "pubble servant" and not as a Court and consequently Sub-bection (3) of Section 195 Criminal Procedure Code can have no application to the ease—Maint Missir us Emperor, 6 Fat Section 2007 A complaint lodged by an Additional Judge of a Provincial Small Causes Court is a good complaint in assumed as under the provisions of Section 8 (2) of the Provincial Small Causes Court, the Additional Judge has the same powers as the Judge to a matter which had been assigned to him by the Judge—Ghulam Mahammed ts Crown, 13 Lab 16

Under Secti of an offence enumerated the relation to, an such Court or a ts Jagyn Mal, 6 Lah 41 Section 195 (1) (c) which prevents a Sessions Judge from taking cognizance of the offence of forgery in the absence of a complaint from the judge in whose Court the document alleged to have been forged was first produced has no application in a case where the forgery occurred before proceedings started in a Court of Law -

a cute where the lorgery occurred priore processing a state in a bout of a cut of the complainant of the cut of the complainant of the cut of the complainant of the cut of the c A Magistrate before whom a false complaint is made cannot himself enquire into the offence made by the complainant under Section 211, I P C-Ambrea Singh or Emperor, 5 Pat 450 Where a decree for a portion of a claim having been disallowed in one Court, the accused fraudulently obtained the decree in another Court, it was held that proceedings under Section 210, I P C could be taken against the accused by the second Court only, in relation to whose proceedings the offence was committed or by a Court to which both the Courts in question were subordinate -Vishnu Ram us Crown, 6 Lah 445

A person against whom a complaint of an offence mentioned in Section 195 (1) is made, is no more entitled to an opportunity to show cause why the complaint should not be made than a person against whom a complaint of any other offence is made—Subhag Ahr us Emperor, 11 Pat 135 The provisions of Section 195, Criminal Procedure Code cannot be evaded by the device of charging a person with an offence to which that Section does not apply, and then convicting him of an offence to which it does, upon the ground that such latter offence is a minor offence of the same character - Emperor ts Sri Narayan Singh, 17 All 114

Sections 195 and 476

The Sessions Court has jurisdiction under Section 476 to file a complaint for perjury against a witness examined before it in respect of contradictory statements made by him before itself and before the committing Magistrate -55 Mad 536 made by him before used and before the commutating suggestive—So was 3000 An officer of forgrey cannot be said to have been committed in relation to and the said of the said is not thereafter open to a private person to lodge a complaint that an offence has been committed in respect of it by a party to the case in which it was produced, but proceedings can only be taken in respect of such a document by the Court which it was produced or by some other Court to which that Court is subordinate -hanhayia Lal 18 Bhagwan Das. 48 All 60

Sections 195 and 176

There is no law which confers upon an accused person immunity from prosecution in respect of a false statment made in an affidavit tendered by him in support of an application for transfer, and such statment can be the subject matter of a charge for perjury - Crown vs. Pir Quadir Baksh Shah, 6 Lih 34 Offence uniler Section 403 I. P. C. is not one of the offences referred to in Section 195 or 476 -Inderpt Singh vs Emperor, 1 Luck 527

Sections 195 and 537

A Court cannot take cognizance of an offence punishable under Section 467

P C when there is no complaint as required by Section 195(c) of the Criminal Procedure Code Absence of a complaint under Section 195(e) vitiates the whole proceedings and the defect is not cured by Section 537 of the Code -Ram Samujh vs Emperor, 1 Luck 523

Section 196

In view of the provisions of Section 196 of the Criminal Procedure Code, a Magnistrate has no jurisdiction to entertain a complaint of an election offence unless it was made by order of or under authority from the Governor General m Council or the Local Government—Labb Singh vs Niranjan Das, 6 Lab 185

Section 197

Sanction under Section 197 must be obtained, before a public servant can be prosecuted for acts purported to have been done officially-Ganga Raju us Vanki, 52 Mad 602

The sanction of the Court is not necessary to prosecute a receiver appointed by the High Court for an offence committed by him in excess of his authority as Receiver - Aumchand w Devkaran Mulji 22 Bom 893

A tahisidar discharging the duties of a polling officer in a municipal election cannot be said to be acting or purporting to act in the discharge of his official duties. Hence previous sanction of the Local Government is not necessary for his prosecution for falsification and fabrication of election records—Jagannath Swami Naidu vs Maninkyam, 5t Mad 209

Section 203

An order dismissing a complaint or discharging an accused person does not operate as an acquittal under Section 403 and does not bar the taking cognizance of a fresh complaint of the same offence even though the order of dismissal or When a complaint is dismissed under Scetion 203, any Magistrate with co ordinate jurisdiction can take cognizance of a subsequent complaint on the same te -In re

.. .

if was not 1.5 Days

Ram, 2 Luck 573

Sections 203 201 and 136

When a complaint has been dismissed under Section .03 or 201 in contra distinction to an accused person being discharged, notice to the person against whom the complaint was made is not necessary before further enquiry into the case can be ordered—P miperor is a Capral Single, 47 All 122.

Section 205

In place of an examination under Section 312 the pleader for the accused may explain on behalf of his client any incriminating circumstance, when the attendance of the accused has been dispensed with under Section 293 of the Code— Maung Po Nyun te Haka Singh and two, 4 Rang 50

Sections 203 240 an 1 243

When the Court dispenses with the personal attendance of an accused and permuts him to appear by pleader under Section 203 it can act upon a plea given by his pleader in a case falling under Sections 212 and 213 -Emperor vs Dorabsha Bomanji

Sections 207 234, 347 and 348

If before the commencement of an enquiry or trial, the Magistrate is of opinion that the ease ought to be tried by a Court of Sessions, he has ample powers to inquire into it with a view to commitment and subsequently at any stage upto the signing of the judgment, to commit if the evidence justifies that course -Emperor ts Ispahat 3 Rang 42

Section 208

In committal proceedings, it any delence evidence is tendered, it must be considered and failure to do so is not merely an irregularity, but an illegality— Emperor to Nga Khaing and others, 6 Rang 53t

Sections 208(2) and 215

In committal proceedings, where the cross examination of the prosecution witnesses was resumed with the permission of the Magnitrate, but subsequently the Magnitrate accused to the Sessions without affording the accused to the Promised opportunity, it was held that the commitment was allegal—Nanooram Goodak to Fulchand Jospuria, 57 Cal 915

Section: 209 250 and 253

A lagistrate is not empowered to pass an order for compensation under Section 250 in a case where the complaint made to him relates to several offences some of which are exclusively trable by a Court of Sessions, and the Magistrate discharges the accused under Section 200 of the Code—Hayihar Dan us Maqsud Ali, 43 All 16

Sections 215 and 254

Under Section 104 Presy Towns Insolvency Act read with Section 251, Criminal Procedure Code, a commitment to the High Court Sessions for an offence referred to In Section 133 of the Insolvency Act is illegal, such a case being a warrant case punishable with rigorous imprisonment for two years only Under Section 215 a Plag Court Judge exercising original criminal jurisdiction can quash a commitment made to it—Emperor us Girish Ch Kundu, 56 Cal 785

Section 221

A charge for an offence under See 120A(1), I P C of having agreed to do or cause to be done a series of sliggal acts need not be set out in all its details the specific acts which the comparisons are alleged to have agreed to do or to tause to be done -- Hitin Gyaw and others vs Emperor, 6 Rang 6

Sections 221 and 537

When a charge is inaccurate and vague, but has been well understood by accused and his counsel, objection to its validity raised for the first time during around the control of the charge will be deemed to be cured by Section 337 of the Code—K C V Reddy to Emperor, 8 Rang 25

Sections 225 and 537

An irregularity in the charge by reason of specifying three distinct offences under one head is not such a sital defect as to render the conviction illegal unless the accused has been misled thereby -Bhure Khan to Emperor, 2 Lah 433

A person charged in the alternative with embezzlement or abetiment thereof has to meet two distinct sets of tried for six offences. This is against the provisions of Section 236 cannot of embezzlement and abetment . . the altern tr J Das, 51 All 511

1018

Section 231

The accused has a right to recall prosecution witnesses after the alteration of the charge, even if such alteration does not affect his defence, and the Section applies to cases falling under Section 223 of the Code—Ramalinga Odayar, In re, 52 Mad 346.

Section 231

In case of prosceution for offences under Scetions 199 and 427, I P C in respect of wrongful removal of trees from Government Forest, it was held that distinct charges were necessary in respect of the two offences—U Ka Doe vs Limpetor, 8 Riang 13

Sections 233, 234 and 235

When several persons are charged with conspiracy to force and use as genuine certain letters and cheques, they can all be tried at one trial for all thous offences together even though there may be more than three offences alleged to have been committed within a period of twelve mouths—Emperor us Ramras Manges Burde and others, 56 Hom 305

Section 234

The offences of criminal breach of trust (Section 198 I P C) and falsification of accounts (Section 477A I P C) are not offence of the same kind, within the meruning of Section 231 of the Criminal Procedure Code —Emperor is Manant, 43 Rom 892

There is no misjoinder of charges within the provisions of Section 231, Criminal Procedure Code when persons are tired together upon several charges, the first being criminal conspiracy to commit murder and other offences unlief Section 10, B I P C and the other charges being various specific offences committed in pursuance of the criminal conspiracy, as murder, etc —Mukund Singh vs Limperor, 8 Linh 230

Section 235

When several acts are so committed by community of purpose and continuity of action as to form not only one transaction but a single offence proximity of time between the performance of the various acts composing that offence not being the sole test of the unity of the transaction, all persons accused of doing those amay be charged and tried at one trial under Section 233, although some of the accused took part only after some of the others had been arrested—hallaypa to Lumpetor, 49 All 74

Lawrith ben' three distinctions are committed on three different occasions the false entires connected with one definition cannot be said to form part of the sate transaction with the other deficientions or falsifications connected with them, within Section 235, Criminal Procedure Code —Emperor vs Mannat, 49 Ibom 89.

Section 236

Section 236 applies only when there is a doubt as to the law applicable to proved lasts II facts are in doubt, alternative charges may be framed but the Magistrate cannot compromise his doubts as to the true lasts by Iraming alternative charges—Empror is 10 Thin (94), 7 Rang 96

Sections 236 and 237

Section 137 applies only to cases which fall within Section 236. Norther of the time Sections applies to a case when the facts are in doubt, but they apply only to a case where there is no doubt as to facts but doubts arise as to the inferences to be deduced from them making it doubtful which of several offences the facts proved will constitute "Maher Shekh I: Emprove," S. Cal. 8

A charge of roting deep not include an a mine officine any specific act of volcare and the control of the control of the convertion under the convertion under the convertion way. I P C when no charge of assault has been framed against the accused list such a convection may be nevertheless jurtified 1). Sections 22 and 227 of the Code where the accused has not been misled in his defence—Maltu (ore v Improve 0 P at 612

Where several persons were charged for offences under Sections 407 and 103 real with Section 51 I P C and some of them having been acquitted, the rest were convicted, under Sections 567 and 193, I P C only Held that the conviction was valid -- Emperor 13 Dastarali, 58 Cal 822

Was Yalid—Emperor 13 DASGERIU, 35 Cal 822
Under Sections 2% and 237, the convection of an accused for abetiment of theft under Section 379 read with Section 114, I P C is legal when charged only with the substantive offence under Section 379 if no prejudice is caused—Debi Prosad Kalwaer 18 Imperor, 30 Cal 1192 Section 236-37 do not warrant that a person charged under Section 467 109

I P C with the abetment of forgery of a Kobala, to be convicted under Sections 471 and 477 of a dishonest user of it on a subsequent date by presentation to a sub-Registrar for registration, without a charge for the latter offence-An accomplice, though not produced, acquitted or convicted, when not jointly tried with others is a competent witness either for or against the accused - A \ Joseph is Emperor. 3 Rang 11

Section 237

An accused charged under Section 302, 1 P C cannot, according to Section 237, Criminal Procedure Code be convicted under Section 201, I P C with out a further charge—Begu us 1 hipperor, 52 I A 191, 6 Lah 226

A trial is not vitiated by reason of the fact that an accused person has been charged substantively under Sections 390 and 414, I P C-Damodar Ram Mohuri

rs Imperor, 8 Pat 731

An Appellate Court has no jurisdiction to alter a charge and conviction under the I P C into one under a special Act -I mperor vs Nga Shwe Zon, 4 Rang 365

Sections 237 and 417

An accused charged with murder but acquitted, was held hable to be convicted on appeal, of the offence of fabricating false evidence if there is evidence of the same—Emperor us Ismail Khadir Sab, 52 Bom 835.

Section 2.19

When several articles stolen at one theft are received by different persons, all or any of the receivers are triable jointly for the offence of receiving stolen property—Mast Guljana vs. Emperor, 6 Pat. 583

Joint trial of several accused for perjury is not illegal when there was identity of purpose and the perjury was committed by the accused in the course of the same transaction—Emperor tr Rahuz Zaman Khan, 48 All 325

A Court has no jurisdiction to try an offence of abstract along with the principal offence unless the abstract took place within its territorial jurisdiction — Sachidananda us Gopal Alyangar, 52 Mad 93!

Sections 212 and 537

Omission to comply with the provisions of Section 212 is an illegality which vitiates the trial and not a mere irregularity so as to be cured by Section 537 — Gopal K baha vs Matilal Singh, 51 Cal 359

Section 217

A Magistrate is entitled to take up a summons case at any time of the day

A Magnetrate is entitled to take up a summons case at any time of the day fixed for because, and it does complement to und then yeveron, to secure, the secured under Section for the complement of the complement of the complement during the pendency of a summons case, the Magnetrate has no paradiction to adjourn the case and allow the deceased complanant as son to come on the record, but the Magnetrate should dismiss the complement under Section 247 of the Code—Apala Nauda, In r. p. 52 Wald 339

Sections 217 and 103

An order of acquittal under Section 247 is a final order and under Section 403 of the Code operates as a bar to the trial of the accused on the same facts— Shankar Dattatraya ts Dattatraya Sadashiv, 53 Bom 673.

Section 248

A Magistrate can allow a complainant to withdraw his complaint only with it is satisfied that there are sufficient grounds for permitting the withd Sour Kumar Mitter 1s Corporation of Calcotta, 53 Cal Cat

Section 250

A Magistrate can come to the conclusion that a case is false and vexatious, and award compensation under Section 250, only after examining all the evidence that the complainant wants to adduce - Parthasarathi Naicken vs Krishnaswami Ayyar, 51 Mad 337

The provisions of Section 250 (1) is deemed to have been complied with when the order to show cause is practically simultaneous with the order of acquittal or

discharge - Mongol Chand vs Makhan Goala, 9 Pat 100
A person ordered to pay compensation to several accused persons separately is hable to suffer imprisonment for default of each such separate payment -Emperor liable to suiter imprisonment for default of each such separate payment—Emperor 18 Maung Kha Gy, 3 Rang 93

An order passed by a first class Magistrate under Section 250 directing companant to pay compensation at Rs. 50/- each to seven accused, i.e. Rs. 350/10 all, is appealable to the Sessions Court under sub-section (3) of that Section—Sarb Dial via Bir Singh, 9 Lah. 462

An order of compensation exceeding Rs. 50/- in the aggregate is appealable under Section 250, Criminal Procedure Code, notwithstanding that the amount awarded in ordered to be distributed among more accused than one—Pereiri 18

Threadle On Berg 140. Demello, 49 Bom 410

An Appellate Court cannot order compensation to be paid to the accused in a case of acquittal -Kharar vs Kanta Ram, 7 Lah 152

Section 252

Under Section 252, Criminal Procedure Code, a Magistrate has absolute dis cretion to summon or refuse to summon any witness, wanted by the complaint -- Mennon vs Krishnan Nayar, 47 Mad 978

Sections 252, 253 and 259

In trials of non-compoundable or cognizable warrant cases, whether instituted on complaint or otherwise, the final responsibility for the conduct of such cases rests with the State, who alone can set the machinery of law in motion or arrest its progress—Manung Tha Daw vs U Po Nyun, 5 Rang 180.

Section 253

The term "groundless" in Section 253 means that the evidence is such that no conviction could be rested on it, and not that the evidence discloses no offence whatever—Kashi Nath Iylini is Shanmugar Phlia, 52 Med 73

Section 256

The recording of the statements of two accused collectively instead of separately is an illegality which vitiates the proceedings -Msst Ghasite vs Crown, 6 Lah 551

Under Section 256, a Magistrate must record his reasons, when he asks an accused who is not represented by a lawyer, forthwith to state whether he wishes to cross examine the prosecution witnesses and failure to so record his reasons 740

ting to the mode of trisl,

no more than an irregu

arge is framed Therefore iss-examined the prosecu their attendance does not stnesses further after the

· Pat 110

A person proceeded against under Section 110 has no right to further cross examine prosecution witnesses under Section 236, Criminal Procedure Code -Bija ts Imperor, 8 Lah 265

Sections 256 and 257

An accused person who has been called upon to give security for good between the many security for good between the many security with the security for cross-examination under Section 250, Criminal Procedure. (ode - haruthaswami Servai, In re. 53 Mad 173

Sections 263 261 and 265

When the judgment of a Bench of Magistrates is prepared by the presiding officer, it is sufficient if he alone signs it, but all the members must be present when the judgment is prepared, and when reserved must be read to them before delivery—Ram Notiah is Subbin Rao, 52 Mad 237

Sections 263 264 and 355

In cases to which Sections 263 and 264 are applicable, the Magistrate is free to take notes or not as he pleases which are his private property. The provisions of Sections 273 and 264 are controlled by Section 355 - Mantu Tewari us Emperor, 49 All 261

Sections 263 312 and 361

Although Section 312 which requires the Court trying an offence to examine the accused persons after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined, applies to the summary trial of a warrant esse, it is not necessary in such a trial for the Court to record the questions put to the accused persons or his answers—Parsottam Das vi Emperor, 6 Pat 504

Sections 274 and 326.

It is not absolutely essential to summon 18 persons for a murder trial and when less than that number is summoned, a trial will not be beld illegal unless it has occasioned a failure of pistice. But a sufficient number must be summoned to allow the choosing of the requisite number of jurors from among them in the manner provided by law -Bibari Mahton vs Emperor, 10 Pat 107

Section 276

Persons who are within the precincts of the court building either because they have been summoned for other cases or by mere chance, are persons 'present in court' within the meaning of Section 276 It is not necessary that they should be within the four walls of the court room—Israel by Emperor, 50 Cal 1123

Sections 276 and 279

When in a trial for murder and culpable bomicide, a person whose name was on the jurors special list, but who was not in attendance in Court was requisitioned from the local school to sit as a juror and being unchallenged was accepted as such, it was held that this mode of requisitioning a jury was contrary to law—Emperor vs Abedal; Fakir, 56 Cd 835

Sections 287 and 350

Where the Magistrate who had recorded the statement of the accused at the enquiry was succeeded by another Magistrate who committed the ease for trial, it was held that in view of Section 350, the statement was rightly admitted under Section 287 -Musst Gulam Janumat vs Crown, 7 Lah 70

Section 288

A Sessions Judge can act upon the evidence given by a witness before the Magistrate in preference to his evidence before him, if it appears to him that the former was true and the latter false—Lungeror is Telli, 47 All 27 The statement of a witness made before the Committing Magistrate and trans

Le sautement of a wisness more seriore the committing lagistrate and transferred to the Sessions record under Section 25% can be acted upon precisely as if that evidence had been deposed to before the Sessions Judge—Amir Zaman vs. Crown, 6, Lab. 199.

Crown, 6 Lah 199

The discretion to admit the evidence given in the preliminary enquiry is one that must be carefully exercised. The Judge should not use a statement of a wintess made before the Sessions and his deposition had not been given as a victorial to during the Sessions and his deposition had not been given as a victorial to during the trial—Khadem to I imperor, 57 Cal 190

When a confession made by an accused before the Committing Magistrate has been retracted at the Sessions Court, the Court will consider whether it is corroborated in material particular out of these states and a sub-old is a truthful production.

statement, and may no either of those eases give full weight to it —lihikan Pat 18 hoperor, 0 Pat 922

1020 Section 250

A Magistrate can come to the conclusion that a case is false and vexations, and award compensation under Section 258, only after examining all the evidence that the complainant wants to adduce - Parthasarathi Naicken vs Krishnaswami

Ayyar, 51 Mad 837

The provisions of Section 250 (1) is deemed to have been complied with when the order to show cause is practically simultaneous with the order of acquittal or discharge—Mongol Chand us Makhan Gonla, 9 Pat 100 A person ordered to pay compensation to several accused persons separately is liable to suffer imprisonment for default of each such separate payment -Emperor

us Maung Kha Gyi, 8 Rang 93
An order passed by a first class Magistrate under Section 250 directing com planant to pay compensation at Rs 50/ each to seen accused, i.e. Rs 330/in all, is appealable to the Sessions Court under sub-section (3) of that Section—Sarab Dial vs. Bir Singh, 9 Lab 462 An order of compensation exceeding Rs 50/ in the aggregate is appealable under Section 250 Criminal Procedure Code, notwithstanding that the amount awarded is ordered to be distributed among more accused than one—Pereira vs Demello, 49 Bom 440

An Appellate Court cannot order compensation to be paid to the accused in a case of acquittal -- Kharar vs Kanta Ram, 7 Lah 152

Section 252

Under Section 252, Criminal Procedure Code, a Magistrate has absolute dis-eretion to summon or refuse to summon any witness, wanted by the complaint -Mennon vs Krishnan Nayar, 47 Mad 978

Sections 252, 253 and 259

In trials of non-compoundable or cognizable warrant cases, whether instituted on complaint or otherwise, the final responsibility for the conduct of such cases rests with the State, who alone can set the machinery of law in motion or arrest its progress—Maung Tha Daw us U Fo Nyun, 5 Rang 186

Section 253

The term "groundless" in Section 253 means that the evidence is such that no conviction could be rested on it and not that the evidence discloses no offence whatever -- Kashi Nath Pillai vs Shanmugar Pillai, 52 Mad 78

Section 256

The recording of the statements of two accused collectively instead of separately is an illegality which vitiates the proceedings -Misst Ghasite vs Crown, 6 Lah 551

Under Section 236, a Magistrate must record his reasons, when he asks an accused who is not represented by a lawyer, forthwith to state whether he wishes to cross examine the prosecution witnesses and failure to so record his reasons

reisions relating to the mode of trial, amounts to no more than an irregu until the charge is framed Therefore d the prosecti

a statement by the defence tion witnesses before the cha deprive the accused of his framing of the charge—Har A person proceeded age examine prosecution witnesses as all section and a or

Sections 256 and 257

An accused person who has been called upon to give security for good behaviour has no absolute right to recall prosecution witnesses for cross-examina tion under Section 236, but he has a right under Section 257, Criminal Procedure Code -haruthaswami bersai, In re , 53 Mad 173

the jury under one charge and referring to the High Court the case for ilecision of another charge, on which the verdict of the jury is characterised as perverse -Emperor ts Hazarilal, 11 Pat 395

The Sessions Judge should not refer a case under Section 307, unless his dissent from the opinion of the jury is such a complete dissent as to lead the judge to consider it necessary for the ends of justice, to submit the ease to the High Court - Emperor us Rufi Mian, 11 Pat 669

. . . . with the aid of a jury and the judge direc one of the charges jointly as a jury and rs, such case cannot be referred to the case cannot be reterred to of a disagreement, the judge could refer the case on the charge on which the verdiet was returned by the jury and dispose of the other charge himself—In re Arunachella Heddy, 55 Mad 717 the like a jury has given its verdiet on the lasts of the case, it is not open to the High Court to revise that vechet on a reference by the trial judge made under Section 307 of the Code, where it is not alleged that there has been any moderation by the judge or any meaningestanding by the jury of the law as laid down by the judge — Emperor vs. Shera, 50 All 625

The practice followed by the High Court in a reference under Sec 307 of the Code, is not to interfere with the verdet of the jury in a case of acquittal unless the verdict is

In a refe will not note evidence on sraj Behari, 3 Luck 456 Code, the High Court ot be supported by the

Sections 307 and 413

In the case of a trial by jury under the provisions of Chapter XXXIII of the Code, an appeal would lie on a matter of fact as well as a matter of law, and hence the High Court in dealing with a reference made by a Sessions Judge in such a ease under bection 307 of the Code can go lote the facts of the ease "Crown us Bimal Prosad. 6 Lah 98

Section 333

A nolle prosequi puts an enil to the indictment on which the prisoner is brought before the Court, and he cannot be proceeded against on the same charges , but the rule does not affect the legality or otherwise of any proceedings taken thereafter by the Crown against him - Emperor us Jitendra Nath Bose, 52 Cal 690

Section 337

The power of the Magistrate to grant a pardon to the accused under Section 337 of the Cole is not affected by the fact that the case may be postponed —

Emperor vs Balchand, 49 All 181
According to clause (2) of Section 337 of the Code, any person who has accepted a tender of pardon under Section 337 must be examined as a witness in the Court of the Committing Magistrate and the subsequent trial of every person tried for the same offence, provided of course that it is physically possible for the Crown to produce the approver - Wahla vs Emperor, 11 Lab 230

Section 351

A reference to the High Court by the District Vagistrate under Section 311 of the Code is not entertainable, where the arcused is a deaf mute but ean understand the proceedings by signs -Allah Dia 15 Crown, 10 Lah 566

Section 312

The provisions of Section 342 have to be complied with in summons cases also -Bechu Lai Kayastha ts Lmperor, 51 Cal 286

Section 342

Under Section 312 of the Code, it is the duty of the Court to put to the accused the salient facts and circumstances of the case in a succinct form and to ask him if he has any explanation thereof to offer, but meriminating questions and questions in the nature of a cross-examination must be avoided -limperor as Alimuddi Naskar, 52 Cal 522

Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 332, it is not necessary for a Court to on asking questions to the accused at the close of the trial, when the accused reliused to answer a question, and especially when the accused prison a written statement at the time meeting the points of the prosecution. The failure on the part of the Court to further examine the accused after two of the prosecution witnesses had been recalled for further cross examination after the charge had been framed was held not to be an error going to the root of the trial -Nga Illa U vs Emperor, 3 Rang 139

When the prosecution evidence is complete (i.e. an accused against whom a charge has been framed has cross examined the witnesses for the prosecution) an accused may be questioned generally on the case - Emperor vs Nga Po Byn, 4 Rang 361

An accused person making false defamatory statements against the complainant in course of his examination by the Court under Section 342 of the Code, is exempt from prosecution in connection with the statement so made by reason of Section $12 (2) of the Code -Emperor vs Murh Pathak, 50 All 169

The examination of the accused after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined is essential to a proper trial —Emperor vs Nga Po Byn, 4 Rang 361

The word "examination" includes cross examination and re examination, ic, the complete examination of the witnesses -Obedar Rabman vs Emperor, 50 Cal 1157

Section 342 does not apply to trial of summons cases - Emperor vs Nga Lu Gyi,

9 Rang 506

The object of the examination of the accused under Section 312 is clearly to enable him to explain anything appearing in evidence against him—Maung Ba Chit by Emperor, 7 Rang 821

Unless a failure of justice has resulted, a conviction is not hable to be set aside on the ground of its not being in conformity with the provisions of Section 312 of the Code —U Ba Thein vs Emperor, 8 Rang 872
In examining the accused under Section 312 of the Code it is not proper for the Court to seek in any way to entrap him with admissions which may fill gaps in the prosecution case. But the Court can take into account answers given to legitimate questions—Kalu Manjhi vs Emperor, 9 Pat 501

Sections 312 and 428

The provisions of Section 312 as regards the examination of the accused do napply to additional evidence taken under Section 423 of the Code, and failure of the Court to do so is not in any way material—Emperor us Narayan Keshav, 52 Bom 69

Sections 342 and 488

A person against whom proceedings for maintenance are instituted under Section 488 of the Code is not an accused person and it is not therefore incumbent under the provisions of Section 312 of the Code to examine such person - Mehr Khan 18 Mast Bakht Bhari, 10 Lab 406

Section 345

Compounding of an offence with one or more of several accused persons has not the effect of acquittal in respect of the remaining accused between whom and the complainant no composition has been arrived at -Crown v. Mohena, 7 Lah 311

Sections 346 and 350

A Magistrate to whom a case has been transferred from the file of another Magistrate not competent to try the same, cannot act on the evidence recorded by the said Magistrate, and a consiction based partly on such evidence is bad in law -Budhu Tetna ts I mperor, 55 Cal 65

Section 317

In a case triable both by Magnitrates or 13 Sessions the Magnitrate should use his discretion as to whether he should try the case himself or commit the accused to the seriors. The importance of the case, the maximum penalty provided by law for the offence and the desirability or otherwise of a trial 1y jury or assessors should be taken into consideration by the Magnitrate—I operor to Hari Volum Josh, 50 Bom 61

Section 319

A Magistrate forwarding an accused to another Magistrate under Section 349 has no right to record any conviction of the accused, and if he does so, it may be treated as a nullity not requiring to be formally quashed - Imperor to Narayan Dhaku

Sections 353 530 and 537

Except in the cases mentioned in Section 333 of the Code, a trial is vitiated by failure to examine the witnesses in the presence of the accused persons-Bigan Singh ts Laperor, 6 Pat 691

Section 360

The provisions of Section 360 requiring the deposition of the witnesses to be real are provisions of section 202 requiring the approximate the protect witnesses and also help the accused --lihagwat Singh vr Emperor, 4 Pat 23.

The party in an engury under Section 115, Cramanal Freedure Code, not being an account cutdence of witnesses, taken in side enquiry though necessary to be read over to the witnesses need not be read over in the presence of the parties or their pleaders—Varenta Ch. Rudar Palts. Salarati, Bhujya, 52 Cal. 721

Section 350 of the Code applies to proceedings where a person is called upon to show cause why he should not furnish security for good behaviour and that the omission to comply with its provisions vitates such proceedings - Sanatan Bhattacharya tr I mperor, 52 Cal 632

Where the accused does not understand either the language of the Court or of the witness, there is no provision of the deposition of a witness being interpreted to the accused after it has been read over and interpreted to the witness -Abdul Rahman to Imperor, 5 Rang 53

The reading over, in the presence of the accused of the deposition to a witness during the examination of another witness by the Court, is not a compliance with the provisions of Section 300 of the Code, the intention of which is that the evidence should be read to the deponent in such a manner that the accused can hear what is being read over, and take objection to it -Daraghi vs Emperor, 52 Cal 490

Section 362

Under Section 362 (t), a Presidency Magnistrate may, if he likes, record evidence, but his refusal to do so cannot be questioned in revision by the High Court —P D Souza we Emperor, 56 Hom 200

Section 367 (5)

Under the provisions of Section 267 (5) it is not necessary that the judge should write out his charge before it is delivered, but it is right that the judge should place the heads of charge on record as soon as possible and whilst what he said is fresh in his recollections—Rupan Singh vs Emperor, 4 Pat 626

Sections 367 and 369

A conviction and sentence is illegal where the essential points of the judgment was not prepared until three weeks after pronouncement of judgment in open Court -Jhardal ts I mperor, 8 l'at 905

Sertions 367 and 121

When the facts are intricate and the evidence is contradictory, the Court of appeal should set out clearly the points for decream, the decision and the reasons for the same to help the High Court in case of an application for revision—

11 Pat 143

Sections 367, 531 and 537

All omission to sign and date a judgment by a Magistrate in open Court at the time of pronouncing it as required by section 50° amounts to a mere irregularity, curable by Section 530° amounts to a mere irregularity, curable by Section 530° All Manual Hayat Valla z. Emperor, 7 Rang 30°

The column provided for the purpose of recording a memorandum of the statement of an accured must be filled up somehow, even by the word "denies" Sadagar Chowdhury 15 Imperor, 36 Cal 106".

129

Section 386

1026

The immovable property of an agriculturist can be attached and sold in execution of an order passed under Section 386 of the Code Dist Magistrate, Satara vs Mahendra Raphu, 50 Bom 814

The words "movable property" in See 386 (1) (a) is sufficient to cover a share in a point Ilindu family estate, so far as it consists of movable property—Silvalingappa vs Gurlingawa, 49 Bom 906

On a claim set up by a third person to a property attached under Section 386 of the Code, in the absence of any rules framed by the Local Government for summary determination of such claim the duty of the Court is to stay the sale of the attached property for a reasonable time to allow the claimant to establish his rights thereto in a Civil Court - Emperor vs Pandurang, 56 Bom 364

Section 393

A person who is sentenced in two different cases to punushments which collective exceed the term of seven years cannot be punushed with whipping—Nga Nyi Gyi us Emperor, 7 Rang 769

Section 397

The word "sentence" in Section 397 of the Code includes an order of committal to or detention in prison within the meaning of Section 123 -Emperor vs Nga Pye, 9 Rang 110

Section 403

An acquittal by an Appellate Court on the ground that the trial Court had no puradiction does not har a fresh trial under Section 305, Criminal Procedure Code—bletch Mohammed Yasin ve Lumperor, 5 Pat. 452

An acquittal under Section 223 I P C is no bar to prosecution under Section 10 (e) Arms Act—Imperor es Manyll Bhai, 53 Bom 601

Section 10 (e) Arms Act—Imperor es Manyll Bhai, 53 Bom 601

Section 490, 1s no bar to, convictiones successively under Section 323, I P C and

Section 8 of the Madras Town Nusiance Act in respect of the same conduct of being guilty of disorderly behaviour -Subbiah Kone vs Kandaswamy Kone, 55

Sections 107 and 176 B

A District Magistrate, empowered under clause (2) of Section 407 to hear appeals from sentences of subordinate Magistrates is not competent to hear appeals under Section 476 B from the orders of such Magistrates, not being a Court to which appeals from such Magistrates ordinarily he Wilhim Ch. Nath Bhowmick to Emperor, 56 Cal 824

Section 108

A Magistrate of the 2nd class, who during the course of a trial is invested with 1st class powers, will be deemed to be a Magistrate of the 1st class in respect of such trial, and an appeal from a conviction in such trial will be to the Court of Sessions - enkalta Reddy is Rammaja, 51 Mad 157, Babu Ram is Crown, 8 Lah 203

Section 112

Where the accused was convicted by a first class Magistrate on his plea of guilty and the Sessions Court without jurisdiction entertained an appeal against the consistion and set it aside, the High Court on appeal, against such acquitted would not reimpose the sentence without considering the propriety of the conviction -I mperor 13 Nga Lu Gale, 5 Itang 710

Section 413

The words "a sentence of fine" must be held to include the cases where the aggregate sentence does not exceed a fine of its 50-Nawab Ah as Jamab libb. 5J Cal 1151

Sections 417 and 418

The provisions of Sections $17 and $18 of the Code make it clear that in an at real from an acquittal, if the High Court thinks that the subordinate Court has taken erroneous view of the evidence, it is bound to not on this opinion and convict the accused - I mperor is Vigung Tun Avan

Section 121

Appeals raising questions of fact should not be dismissed summarily under Section 421 but the original records should be called from the lower Court — Hussain Saheb In re , 43 Mail 385

Where a Sessions Judge in ignorance of the fact that an appeal in the same case had been filed by a mukhtear, dismassed a criminal appeal from Jail, it was held that though the Sesuons Judge could not review his own order, the High Court could set it aside in revision—Imperor to Mewa Ram. 48 All 208

Section 122

A convict appealing from Jail, if not represented by a legal practitioner, has a right if he so ilesires to appear in person at the hearing of the appeal -Emperor vs Lal Bahadur 50 All 543

llaving regard to the wording of Section 422 of the Code, an appeal cannot be ailmitted on the limited ground of sentence only, however convenient and practical that course may appear Gaya Singh va Emperor, 4 Pat 254

Sections 121 and 123

An appellate court cannot dismiss an appeal summarily for non appearance of appellant, but is bound to decide the appeal on its merits -Roora vs Emperor, 11 Lah 242

It is not illegal, though undesirable for the appellate Court to summarily illumiss an appeal in respect of one charge whilst admitting the appeal in respect of another charge in the same trial—L. M. Ismail vs. Emperor, 5 Raug 274

Sections 122 and 515

An Appellate Court should, in the exercise of a proper discretion give notice of the hearing of the appeal from a conviction to the complainant, when an order of compensation has been made in his favour under Section 515 of the Code—Bharsas Nan US Sukdeo, 53 Cal 969

Section 123

Under Section 423 of the Code, the Court is bound, even when the appellant is not present, to go through the record itself and to decide the appeal on its merits - Kuldin Singh vs Imperor, 6 Pat 16

Under Section 473 of the Code, the Appellate Court has power to alter a Under Section 32 of the Code, the Appenate Court has power to after a sentence of imprisonment into one of whipping where the offence is punishable with whipping in lieu of any other punishment. It can so after the sentence in the ease of an accused who has already undergone a part of the original sentence of imprisonment—Emperor vs. Nga Aung Myai, 10 Rang 317

An order by the Appellate Court reversing a convection and sentence, not on the ments of the case but for non compliance with the provisions of Section 360, of the Code, is not an order of acquisital of the accused—Limperor us Miajan 53 Cal 192

Section 123

The High Court will not interfere in an appeal from a trial held 15 jury, unless the judge's misdirection has caused the jury to come to a conclusion, which is in fact, wrong ~Saroj kumar Chakravaria ts † Emperor, 59 Cal 1361

Sections 123 237 and 238

The only section under which an Appellate Court can alter the finding and hase a conviction for abetiment is Section 423 But this section must be read with Sections 237 and 238 of the Code—Empetor 13 Mahlu ir Prosed 49 All 120

Sections 4°3 and 439

The High Court has a resolution under Sections 423 and 439 of the Code to set asule an improper order of discharge and direct that the person so discharged be committed for trial—Public Prosecutor as Ponnuswami Najak, 52 Mad 156

Section 386

The immovable property of an agriculturist can be attached and sold in execution of an order passed under Section 385 of the Code Dist Magistrate, Salara us Mahendra Raghu, 50 bom 84

The words "movable property" in Sec 386 (1) (a) is sufficient to cover a share in a joint Hindu family estate, so far as it consists of movable property—

Shivalingappa vs Gurlingava, 49 Bom 906
On a claim set up by a third person to a property attached under Section 386 of the Code, in the absence of any rules framed by the Local Government for summary determination of such claim, the duty of the Court is to stay the sale of the attached property for a reasonable time to allow the claimant to establish his rights thereto in a Civil Court -Emperor vs Pandurang, 56 Rom 364

Section 393

A person who is sentenced in two different cases to punishments which collectively exceed the term of seven years, cannot be punished with whinning -Nga Nyı Gyı us Emperor, 7 Rang 769

Section 397

The word "sentence" in Section 397 of the Code includes an order of committal to or detention in prison within the meaning of Section 123 - Emperor vs Nga Pye, 9 Rang 110

Section 403

An acquittal by an Appellate Court on the ground that the trial Court had no jurisdiction does not bar a fresh trial under Section 403, Criminal Procedure Code - unsaticular does not par a fresh trial linker Section 403, t/Immai Procedure Code—bleik Mohammed Yasın v Limperor, 5 Pat 132

An acquittal under Section 324, I P C is no bar to prosecution under Section 19 (e) Arma Act — Emperor vs Manul Bhai, 53 Bom 604

Section 403 is no bar to convictions successively under Section 323, I P C and Section 3 of the Madras Town Nusance Act in respect of the same conduct of being guilty of disorderly behaviour—Subbiah Kone vs Kandaswamy Kone, 55 Mad 788

Sections 107 and 176 B

A District Magistrate, empowered under clause (2) of Section 407 to hear appeal L ar appeals under Court to wmick us which Lmper

Section 108

A Magistrate of the 2nd class, who during the course of a trial is invested with 1st class powers, will be deemed to be a Magistrate of the 1st class in respect of such trial, and an appeal from a conviction in such trial will be to the Court of Sessions - Venkatta Reddy vs Rammsya, 51 Mad 257, Babu Ram vs Crown, 8 Lah 203

Section 412

Where the accused was convicted by a first class Magistrate on his plea of -- ---- against the h acquittal conviction

Section 413

The words "a sentence of fine" must be held to include the cases where the aggregate sentence does not exceed a fine of Rs 50—Nawah Ali vs Jainab Bibi, 59 Cal 1131

Sections $17 and $18

The provisions of Sections 417 and 418 of the Code make it clear that in an appeal from an acquittal, if the High Court thinks that the subordinate Court has taken erroneous view of the evidence, it is bound to net on this opinion and convict the necused -- Emperor is Maung Tun Nyan

Section 421

Appeals raising questions of fact should not be dismissed summarily under Section 421, but the original records should be called from the lower Court—

Hussrio Sahch In re, 13 Mad 383 Where a Sessions Judge in ignorance of the fact that an appeal in the same case had been filed by a mukhtear, dismissed a criminal appeal from jul, it was case had been filed by a mukhtear, dismissed a eriminal appeal from jail, it was held, that though the Sessions Judge could not review his own order, the High Court could set it aside in revision—Emperor vs Mewa Ram, 48 All 208

Section 4'2

A connict appealing from 1stl, if not represented by a legal practitioner, has a right if he so desires to appear in person at the hearing of the appeal—Emperor vs Lai Bahadur 50 All 513

Having regard to the wording of Section 422 of the Code, an appeal cannot be admitted on the limited ground of senience only, however concenient and practical that course may appear (aya Singh 1s I meror, 4 Pat 254

Sections 421 and 423

An appellate court cannot dismiss an appeal summarily for non appearance of appellant, but is bound to decide the appeal on its merits—Roora vs Imperor, il Lah 22

It is not illegal, though undesirable for the appellate Court to aummarily diamies an appeal in respect of one charge whilst admitting the appeal in respect of another charge in the same trial—L M Ismil vs Emperor, 5 Rang 275

Sections 422 and 545

An Appellate Court should, in the exercise of a proper discretion, give notice of the hearing of the appeal from a conviction, to the complainant, when an order of compensation has been made in his favour under Section 515 of the Code ~ llharaya Nam vs. Sukdeo, 53 Cal 969

Section 123

Under Section 423 of the Code, the Court is bound, even when the appellant is not present to go through the record itself and to decide the appeal on its

In the present to get a tribustance record tasts and to vertice a special of the Lord. The Lord of the Lord, the Appellate Court has power to alter a sentence of imprisonment into one of whipping where the offence is punishable with whipping in lieu of any other punishment. It can so alter the sentence in the case of an accused who has already undergone a part of the original sentance of imprisonment. Emperor vs. Niga Aung Myst, 10 Hang 317

An order by the Appellate Court reversing a conviction and sentence, not on the merits of the case but for non-compliance with the provisions of Section 860, of the Code, is not an order of acquittal of the accused—Property Minjan, 33 Cd 192

Section 423

The High Court will not interfere in an appeal from a trial held by jury, unless the judge's misdirection has caused the jury to come to a conclusion, which is in fact, wrong ~Snor Kumar Chakravarti 12 Emperor, 59 Cal 1361.

Sections 423, 237 and 239

The only section under which an Appellate Court can alter the fieding and have a conviction for abetiment as Section 423. But this section must be read with Sections 277 and 288 of the Code -- imperor is Mahabir Prosad, 49 All 189

Sections 423 and 439

The High Court has jurisdiction under Sections 4.3 and 439 of the Code to set aside an improper order of discharge and direct that the person so discharged I committed for trial "Public Procedure vs Ponnavami Nayak, 52 Mai 157

Sections 423, 476A and 476B

All applications under Sections 476, 476A and 476B originating in Civil Courts should be dealt with according to the provisions of the Livil Procedure Code - Surendra Nath Maiti to Sushil Kumar Chakrayarti, 59 Cal 68

Sections 423 517 and 520

Under Section 423 (1) (d), as well as under Section 520, the Appellate Court is competent to pass appropriate orders for the disposal of movable property produced at the trial, even though the trial Magistrate had not passed any order in respect of it under Section 517 of the Code -Thirai ts Crown, 10 Lah 187

Section 135

The High Court will, under Section 435 of the Code interfere with the pro-ceedings in the Lower Court at any interlocationy stage only when the accule is not guilty on the lace of the proceedings and in order to present his further hartassment—Shripad Chandavarkar, In re. 52 Bom 151

A subordinate Vagastrate cannot record a compromise in a case, the record of which are under orders of transmission inder Section 435 of the Code to the District Magistrate -In re Maruthi Vithu. 19 Bom 533

Sections 133, 136 and 176

A Sessions Judge has power under Section 435 of the Code to call for the records of an order of livelarge passed by a Magistrate in a case instituted under Section 176 and to order a further inquiry—Phan Pal 18 Sagry Mal, 19 All 230

Sections 135 and 139

An accused person must want till he is charged before he defends himself, and if he is consieted his first remedy in most cases is by way of appeal and not by way of revision—In re Ranireddi, 54 Mad 251

Section 136

On a petition under Section 136 of the Code for revision of an order of discharge, all that the Sessions Judge is empowered to do if not satisfied with the correctines of that order is to direct the Magnistrate to hold a further enquiry and to proceed then in accordance with law—brahm 12 Guran Ditta Mal, 13 Lali 599. A subordinate Magnistrate directed to make further inquiry into a warrant case by an order under Section 436 of the Code, has all the powers provided for by Chapter AxA of the Code—Emperor vs Maung IB at Thon, 18 Rang 239

Section 137

When the order of discharge is one which cannot be said to be either perverse or prima facic incorrect and there is no suggestion that any lurther evidence is lorthcoming, no further enquiry should be directed under Section 437 of the Code— Imperor is Alam, 49 All 879

Section 438

The District Magistrate is not empowered himself to make a reference to the In construct magistrate is not empowered numselt to make a reterence to like flush Court under Section 488 for the enhancement of a sentence passed by the Sessions Judge. The powers conferred on hum by that section are limited to proceedings before an inferior Court and do not apply to proceedings before a superior Court—Emperor vs. Maung Myat, 9 Rang. 362.

Where there is no appeal by the Local Government in a case of acountial, the High Court ought not to interfere in resistion on a reference under Section 588, especially when it cannot do so without hearing the case on the evidence—Daburudot Nackar is Shakat Molla, 56 Cal 225

Sections 439 and 439

Section 458 covers all cases of pregularity and injustice including erroneous acquittals and certainly all such acquittals as the High Court would interfere with in revision finder Section 439 at the instance of a private part) —Warir Kunjis 12 Imperor, 7 Pat 579

Section 139

When a person has been tried under Section 302 and convicted under Section 304. at does not mean that he has been sequetted under Section 302, and the High Court on revision is competent to alter the consiston under Section 302, i. P. C.—Parl Khan as Imperor, 8 Lah 136 section 302, II P. C.—Parl Khan as Imperor, 8 Lah 136 section 302, II P. C on a charge of murder into one of conviction - Kan Thein vs Emperor, 4 Rang 140 A notice to enhance sentence may be issued by the High Court only after it has dealt with the appeal on its merits -Emperor as Mangal, 49 Bom 450

Where the Crown has not preferred an appeal against an order of acquittal, the High Court will interfere in revision only when there has been a claring defect in procedure or evidence taken by the lower Court -Kamikha Prosad vs

Emperor, 2 Luck 680 The fact that the High Court sitting as a Court of Appeal might possibly have come to a different finding from the trial Magistrate is no ground for exercising its revisional jurisdiction against the order of acquittal made by him - Umin 18 Maung Taik, 8 Rang 663 The High Court will interfere with an order of acquittal in revision under Section 433 of the Code at the instance of a party, only when there are very broad grounds of the requirements of public justice - Emperor vs Rameshwar Harnath,

53 Bom 561 The High Court can enhance a sentence on the application of a private person, who has been the complanant in the lower Court, when it appears that there is no unfair or vindicule motive, and when notice of the same is served on the accused and he has had the advantage of being represented by a pleader—
I T Das to E D Aboo, 8 Rang 378

An accused person showing cause against the enhancement of his sentence is entitled under Section 439 (6) of the Code to show that his trial was illegal and his conviction contrary to law -Emperor vs Manant, 49 Rom 892 When a petition for revision against his conviction has been dismissed by the High Court, and a notice has been subsequently issued on the convict to show cause why his sentence should not be enhanced, be has no right given to him to show cause against his conviction under Section 439 (6) of the Code -Crown vs Dhanna Lal. 10 Lab 241

Section 449

A Court in deciding an application for leave to appeal has to consider only the question of status under Section 443 of the Code, and not whether there are other circumstances rendering the case a ht one for the grant of permission -Martindale vs Emperor, 52 Cal 636

An appeal under Section 459 (1) being governed by Article 155 of the Limitation Act, no application for leave to appeal would be maintenable if the appeal itself is barred at the time of presenting the appeal -Thomas as Emperor, 53 Cal 746

Sections 471 and 475

A person who is acquitted on a charge of murder by reason of his insanity, but is found to be sane at the time of the trial may be ordered by the Local Government under Sec 475 of the Code to be detained in sale custody of his relatives, but the Court trying the case has no jurisdiction to make such an order -Legal Remembrancer to Satish Chandra Roy, 56 Cal 208

Section 476

It is only when a Court is expressly of opinion that it is expedient in the interests of justice that an enquiry should be made anto the offence of giving false evidence that an order under Section 476 can be made —Keramat Ali 13 Emperor, 55 Cal 1312

The proper authority to make a complaint under Section 40 is not the Court which took cognisance and issued process but the Court which tried and disposed of the original case - Tarakeshuar Mukhopadhaa us Emperor, 53 Cal 488

In case of an application under Section 46 in respect of an offence alleged to have been committed in a proceeding before a judge of the High Court the word "Court" in the section must be taken to mean High Court , and any other judge of that High Court would therefore have power to dispose of the application -Kasturbai vs Bu Matildas, 49 Bom 710

In a proceeding under Section 476 of the Code, it is not necessary that the Court should satisfy itself that an offence has been actually committed, but the Court has only to decide whether an effence of the kind contemplated by the section appears to have been committed, and whether in the interests of justice, it should be further enquired into —Raja Rao vs Emperor, 50 Mad 660

The proper authority to make a complaint under Section 476 of the Code is not the Court which took eognizance and issued process, but the Court which tried and disposed of the original ease -Tarakeshwar Mukhopadhya us Emperor,

53 Cal 488

Section 476 of the Code does not authorise a complaint with reference to offences described in Section 195(1)(a) committed in or in relation to a proceeding in a Court. The jurisdiction to make a complaint under that sub-section is limited to such cases as are provided for in Section 195(1)(b) & (c) only—Emperor vs. Ram. Nath. Buksh., 2 Luck. 395

When instead of making a complaint, the Court ordered the prosecution of the appellant under Section 476 and forwarded a copy of the order to the District llagistrate for action, held that this was only a formal defect and did not vitiate the order -Maung Shwe Pha and others vs Ma Ma Hmoke, 3 Rang 48

A complaint in respect of a forged document may be made by Court under Section 476 even when it is moved to do so by a person who was not a party to the proceedings in which the document was used—Haraktishna Parida us Emperor,

Where an application is made under Section 476, it is not necessary that the person against whom the order is sought to be should be given an opportunity of being heard upon the preliminary enquiry -II C Ganti vs T L Harcourt.

58 Cal 215

When a witness for the prosecution sends a telegram to the D S P that the accused with other persons not charged stabbed the deceased, the mere fact that the telegram is exhibited and filed in the case does not make the contents of ta matter "in relation to the proceedings" in the Court, so as to give the Court jurisdiction to take action under Section 476 Criminal Procedure Code—Registration High Court, Madras vs Kodami, 55 Mad 611

Section 476B

No appeal lies under Section 476B to the High Court from an appellate order of the District Judge making a complaint under Section 476, which the Sub Judge might himself have made but refused to make—Mahammad Idris vs Crown, 6 Lah 56

An appeal lies to the High Court from the order of the District Judge making a complaint on appeal from the Suhordinate Judge, who had refused to do so - n companie on appeal rives the Sourceman Sugge, who had retaked to do with Narayan Meher to Phana Meher, 10 Pat 486

When the trial Court refused to lay a complaint under Section 476, and the lower Appellate Court on appeal offered such complaint, an appeal does not lie to the High Court against such order—Ma On Khin vs N K Khim, 5 Ryag 523

The fact that Section 476B gives a right of appeal against a complaint under Section 476 cannot debrt the High Court sitting in revision from laying a complaint under Section 476 of the Code - Emperor vs Syed Khan and others, 3 Rang 303

An appeal under Section 476B should be filed within 30 days of the date when the finding under Section 476 is completed by an actual enquiry-Emperor vs

Daya Debu , Chandra Kumar Sen vs Mathuriya Debi

In calculating the period of limitation for an appeal under Section 476B, the appellant is entitled to allowance of the time necessary for obtaining a copy of the order -- Doulat Ram vs. Kanhya Lal, 47 All 462

In an appeal under Section 476B, the Appellate Court has no jurisdiction to remand the case directing the Court of first instance to file a complaint, but must do so itself—Mann Ahamed Chowdhurt ys Jogesh Chandra Roy, 25 Cal 1277

In an appeal under Section 476B, the Appellate Court has no jurisdiction to take additional evidence for the disposal of the matter coming up before it under take anomonal evidence for the disposal of the matter coming up hence it and the Section, whether the party objected to the reception of such evidence or not Sami Vannai Namar us Panasami Nadu, 51 Mad 603

When an appeal is preferred under Section 476B against an order of the Ministff under Section 476 refusing to direct a complaint to be made, on the yield that he had no jurisdiction in the matter, it is the duty of the Judge to decide first of all whether the Ministf was correct in the view he took about jurisdiction— Kanas Lal Saha tr Makhan Lal Saha, 55 Cal 330

In an appeal under Section 1761l, the Appellate Court should reconsider the entire matter on its merits, and there is no proper disposal when the judge disposes of the appeal by endorsing the view of the Lower Court without specifying his own view of the facts - Jagabondhu Chowdhury ts Abdul Subhan Sarkar, 57 Cal 500

Sections 176 and 176B

Election Commissioners appointed under the provisions of the U.P. Council rules are not "Civil, Revenue or Criminal Courts" within the meaning of Section 476 of the Code, and are therefore not competent to pass an order under that section purporting to act as a Civil Court But where as a matter of fact they do pass such an order, an appeal therefrom will be under Section 176B Bilas Singh vs Emperor, 47 All 931

Section 488

For the purpose of jurisdiction under Section 188, mere casual residence for a temporary period, or occasional visits within the jurisdiction from a place of fixed residence outside it, is not sufficient -Ram Dei vs Jhennilal, I Luck 313.

Ahairunnissa ts Basir Ahmed, 53 Bom 781 When the parties have no fixed residence, residence at a place for even eight days with the intention of residing permanently at that place, if employment was found, will confer purisdiction under Section 483 on the Court within whose jurisdiction such place was situate - Khairunnissa vs Bashir Ahmed, 53 Bom 781

The expression "living in adultery" in Section 488 refers to a course of conduct and means something more than a single lapse of virtue -Fulchand Maganlal, and means sometimes the control of t under Section 488 cannot be refosed merely on the ground that the offer made by the father to maintain her, if the child resides with him is declined —Mussammat Sarlaraz Begum by Miran Bakba, D Lah 313

Res judicata does not bar any proceedings by general principle but only by special enactments and hence dismissal for default of a former application under See 183 would not bar a fresh application—Maung Hla Maung vs Ma On Kin, 5 Rang 607

A stay of two months in a temporary place of residence with occasional visits during that period to the permanent place of residence can be regarded as amounting to a "residence within Section 488—Sher Singh as Amir Kunwar, 49 All 479 A conditional order on the husband to maintain his wife or in default to pay Rs 15/ per mensem as maintenance is ultrovires and must be set aside Nathu Singh vs Mussit Hanuman Koer, 7 Lah 313

An order under Section 488 for the muntenance of a girl cannot be cancelled on her marriage without proof that she has thereby become able to maintain herself and ceased to depend upon the maintenance ordered - Meenatchi Ammal ts Muthuswarm Pillar, 18 Mad 501

19 Muthuswam Fillar, 18 Mad 501 An office type a father who has neglected to maintain his children to do so in future is not sufficient by itself to debar a Magistrate for making an order for their maintenance under Section SSS—Limperor vs Sassoon 4 B Bom 562 When before the passing of an order under Section 383 in favour of the wife against the husband the Magistrates attention was alrean to the fact of the husband linving given talak to the wife, it was the duty of the Magistrate to consider the fact of the sum fails. Amband Ansam Mollah vs. Mathur Bib.— 59 Cal 833

The word means in Scition 188 includes a capacity to earn money and if a man can lie shown to be capable of carning money, then lie has the means to maintain his wife within the meaning of the section. Muni Kantivirajayji vs Bai Lalawati, 56 Bom 260

An order for maintinance can be enforced by a Magistrate against the person who is liable for it even if he resides outside the jurisdiction of his Court — In re Ganaembal, $2 Mad, 77

A person who has undergone a sentence of imprisonment on account of his his fulure to pay certain arrears of maintenance under sec 48 cannot be sentenced Maung Kyi Pa as Ma Iltu In , 16 Rang 176

Against a claim for arrears of maintenance ordered under see 488 in res of a child, it is 'sufficient cause" within the meaning of Cl (3) of that to move that the unit has now attained the new a imagener and is able to maintain need. —"The Thaining on "Vis how It Time Its.

the game to being the manual and about the child a frame with A difference of some the stream of the transfer and the transfer and the stream of the property of the following the following the stream of t

At order of moment masses by the Probate Court in England, and not exercised by the wife is no his to use order under to time 485 of the Long. - Top' to Eent

I' THE STE I have a lamb for the matriciners of his regional to a discountry child unable is maintain itself his and in the chief a his wife is a firsten instand— Anda Lahim in Tea, and Begins, "Lah 255.

Section 27

At anyther the size of a process of the size of the state of the section of the size n' un mune should be then't well for the form of the emperimental in the main a which is the view are more response and proper recurrence terms in. Thencene terms, it has box

5, 100 200

Execute it interstants comments became amose in the purchable such unit terms of interstants should not be became or but 2 is not described to what arrowed no but what are weather change to a not bull coast and for the allowed without at other at the light Court.—Theret Shark is Lincoln (2) the allowed without at other a, the light Court.—Theret Shark is Lincoln (2) the

The four chould give due where it the means alonged in the annihilation for half and There is no compare at the armitiant accommon he should be so maken. Improve the Tatas, four it the A. A.

We written out he need while forting 522 whiles at the time of taking the ביונה בה מו-כות ע --יינועל ב מיינילות נותם ברבו ליינות אוני וה נתב tenn cons.-Enneue or Swars, rage & tl. 73.

Ser un Ta

s Tiprocrate a nound, when he course the time of a home to take a fresh beaut, weather the armost to arrow on the altered date whire the original band men time the time the angular of the angular of the specific time in the size of rate or date as met he and he memon of the fire of thisles limit to Tantarar 3: Blance 227

As rouse al institute al autore bone, as sendent constitut vision motive to the survives mult to the effect that he was resumbly suscepted by the Police to here conserved it contain these all noise breaking and exercise is dispu-Ansien Linnan ve Emperor 34 Ca. 3%

5 -- TITE --

When the majors forming the subject market of the object under Section 45 around regional section in the market the Court remain these or may make position 35 aroundment in possession of the resigner—Section 25 at 5, 1064. Des to lan 74

5-100 500

As more in manufact our be nessed under service and of the Code where there is in though that the arrived his free remains force, att, it dies second the ration among it, he property—the Single tax Drewn ! Link.

of much second with war and with a man in management made, because the n the Cour I the Court mad that recognitives in the complaining, and the more visit methodocenic for love —forces. Yound June, 35 Bon. 17.

View country had an one in taking represent of the communitary p on the Comme States and Thomas to be judge and the Stateshould have victed under Section 498 and 113, I P C, held that the Court was competent to order restoration of possession of the house to the complainant -Rameshwar Singh 15 Emperor, 4 Pat 438

Section 526

The reference in Section 526 (8) to "enquiry" or "trial" is intended to apply to these returning a detunit and the properties of the Code of the

Badal Misra, 49 All 189

A court can without contravening the provisions of Section 526 (8) of the Code, reject an application for adjournment under Section 526, if such application was presented at the time of pronouncing judgment—Public Prosecutor by Chockalingu Ambalam, 52 Mad 3.5 Before hearing evidence in the case, if the Magistrate forms and expresses an opinion strongly adverse to the petitioner, it is fit that the case should be trans-ferred—Vaung Po Thit 1. Vaung Pyu 8 Rang 634 Where a Vagustrate has interested himself in a case pending before him in the way of obtaining a settlement by the parties it is to the interest of both the parties and only fair to the Magnetrate himself that he should not hear the case—

Vazaffar Hossan ts Uuhammad Yakuh, 47 All 411

In dealing with an application for transfer, the Court must consider not merely whether there has been any real bias in the mind of the presiding judge against the applicant, but whether incidents may not have happened which though they may be susceptible of explanation are nevertheless such as are calculated to create in the mind of the applicant a justifiable apprehension that he would not have an impartial trial. Amar Singh vs. Sadhu Singh 6 Lah 306.

The word trial in Section 326 includes the judgment, and the refusal hy a

Magistrate to grant an adjournment after notice under Section 526 (8) received after the close of cases on both sides but before arguments were heard and the judgment delivered is erroneous on the ground that the triel is at an end—Nyamat Shah vs Emperor, 59 Cai 478

Section 528

Although it is a sound rule of practice that there should be something on the record showing why an order under Section 523 is made, the mere omission to record reasons for his order is not fatal to the order —Sharif vs Rai Hari Prosad Lal 5 Pat 229

Section 537

The omission by a Magistrate to sign and date a judgment written with his own hand is a mere irregularily which is cured by Section 537 of the Code -Imperor vs Ram Sukb 47 111 -54

A mere omission or irregularity to comply with the provisions of Section 360 unaccomprined by any probable suggestion of any fulure of justice having been thereby occasioned is not enough to warrant the quashing of a conviction—block

Rahman vs Imperor, 5 Rang 53

Defect in a trial due to misjoinder of charges vitiates the trial and the defect cannot be cured under Section 537 of the Code—Merial is Emperor 8 Rang 632

Section 539B

A local inspection by a Magistrate is only permitted by Section 530B for the purpose of properly appreciating the evidence in the case and cannot take the place of evidence itself—trikla is Annal. 30 III 475.

The omission to record a memorandum under Section 539B in an enquiry under Section 133 is not an idlegibity visiting the proceedings but an irregularity which does not affect it unless the prities have been prejudiced—Forles its All Italiar Alman 53 Cal. 48

An onussion to record any relevant facts that may be of served by a Magistrate at the inspection under Section SPB is an irregularity cured by a Magistrate Code -- Khusai to Imperor, 50 Rom 680

The omission to place on record the memo of a local inspection is an illegality vitiating the conviction -Hriday Govind Sur vs Emperor, 52 Cal 148

Section 540

There is nothing in Section 139A, which can exclude the exercise of the Court's inherent powers under Section 510 of the Code -Kishori Mohan Pramanik vs Krishna Bihari Basak, 58 Cal 461

If a witness is called under Section 540 of the Code, both sides have a right to

at a witness is caused under section 540 of the Lode, both sides have a right to cross examine him freely—Emperor us Flta, 47 All 147
Section 540 of the Code does not contemplate the Magustrate making personal inquiry out of court in order to find out any witness whose evidence appears to be necessary—P A Fakir Mahammad tr Emperor, 4 Rang 106

Section 556

Where a Magistrate who had before the commitment proceedings began in his court himself attended an identification parade at which the accused had been identified, and the committing Magistrate has therefore been called as a witness for the prosecution in the trial, held that there was no illegality —Bhola Ram vs Crown, 13 Lah 461

Section 559

A Magistrate ordering remand to enable the Police to complete their investigation should, in each particular case, decide whether the accused should be released on bail or not, and if not, in what custody he should remain -In re Lvans, 50 Bom 741

Section 561A

The High Court has inherent jurisdiction to stay the execution of its own orders when the ends of justice require it. It can admit to bail a convicted person whose appeal has been admitted by the Privy Council —Emperor vs. Ram Sarup, 49 All. 247

Section 562

Section 562 has not been enacted with the intention of letting off without imprisonment every juvende offender on his first conviction for an offence described in the section regardless of the circumstances in which the crime was committed -Lmperor vs Alia, 10 Lah 876

Where an accused is released on probation, the imposition of a fine is illegal

Karim Buksh vs Crown, 10 Lah 722

An appeal lies under Sections 407 and 408 of the Code from an order passed under Section 562 -Bahadur Molla vs Ismail, 52 Cal 463

INDEX.

A		Absence-(contd )
Natement no—of proceedings under see 145 by reason of the death of any party, see 145 (7) —of appeals on death of secused, see 431 —of appeals, none from sentence of fine, see 431 Abducted female	179 612 642	of accused, record of evidence in, see 512 of witness, power to postpone proceedings for, see 314 of sessions judge, power to delegate functions, see 17 (4) of officer in charge of police station, see 4 (6). of juror or assessor without lanuful cause, see 882	766 503 18
power to compel restoration of- sec 533	863	Absolute conditional order for removal of nuisance when made—, see
Jurisdiction of court in eases of— sec 191 (4) —of married woman compound able see 343	246 510	136, 137  procedure on order heing made—, sec 140  Magistrate's order to be made—	147 152
Abeliment eognizance of the offence of—, sec 195 (4) joint trial of persons accused of an	275	where jury finds it reasonable, sec 139 order for the removal of obstruc- tion to public way, river, or channel when made—, see 139A	150
offence and persons accused of—, see 230 (b) pursidiction in charge of— see 180 illus (a) —of any offence punishable with imprisonment is a breach of the bond for good behaviour,	368 215	Accomplice  -accepting tender of pardon shall be examined as a witness, see 337 (2)  power to direct tender of pardon to— see 338	48a 490
sec 121  of certain offences compound able sec 315  of offences involving Freach of peace sec 106	125 510 98	procedure in trial of— for perjury sec 3394 Prosecution of—, for concealing material facts or giving false evidence sec 339 (1)	492 491
summary trial for—of certain offences see 206 (h)	401	sanction of H C necessary before prosecution of—, for perjury, sec 339 (3) statement made by—may be given	492
proclamation requiring attend ence of— sec 87 attachment of property of— see 88 restoration of attached property	76 77	in evidence against him, sec 339 (2) summing up as to the evidence of— sec 297	492 430
of— sec 89 record of evidence when accused person is an— sec 512 (1) Absence	79 766	tectusation false, fravolous or rexatious— sec 250	3%0
of complainant in summons case see 217 of complainant in warrant case see .59 of puror procedure see 22 of assessor, procedure, see 285	5 401 421 426	Accused  to be furnished with a copy of statement to police made by an witness see 162  not entitled to call for police diary see 1°2 (2)	201

Accused(contd)	- 1	Accused—(Contd )
-triable in district where act is		acquittal of-on withdrawal of done or where consequence		complaint sec 248	379 transfer or commitment on appli	213	release of-where there is no com
cation of—, sec 191	266	plainant, sec 219 compensation to—for false, frivo	380
issue of process by Magistrate for	200	lous or vexations accusation, attendance of-, sec 201 (1)	313	sec 250	380
Magistrate may dispense with		discharge of-in warrant cases
personal attendance of , see		sec 253 (1)	391
205 (1)	314	charge against-in warrant cases,
right of—to cross examine prosecu		when offence appears proved,
tion witnesses, in Magisterial enquiries into Sessions cases,		sec 201 plea of-and conviction thereon,	393
sec 208 (1)	31.3	sec 255	391
process for the production of		defence by-, sec 256	395
further evidence, on the appli		process for compelling production cation of—, sec 208 (2)	319	of evidence at instance of-,
to be discharged when Magis		sec 257 (1)	398
trate does not find sufficient ground for commitment, sec		acquittal of-in warrant cases	400
ground for commitment, sec 209 (1)	323	sec 258 (1) conviction of—in warrant cases	400
Magistrate's power to discharge -	040	see 258 (2)	400
at any previous stage of the		discharge of-in warrant cases for ease, sec 209 (2)	323	absence of complainant, sec
when charge to be framed against		259	401
sec 210 (1)	325	charge to be read out to-in Scs charge to be explained and copy furnished to , sec 210 (2)	325	sions trial sec 271 conviction of—on plea of guilty,	407
list of witnesses for defence to be	023	see 271 (2)	417
furnished by-sec 211	328	objection to juror by-, sec
furnished by - sec 211 commitment of for trial by Court		277 (2)	423 or bessions, see 213 (1)	329	examination of-before Magistrate custody of pending trial by Court	333	to be evidence in Sessions trial,	430
of Session, sec 220 fact date and place of previous conviction of—to be stated in	000	sec 287 production of evidence by—in Scs	430 conviction of-to be stated in		sions trial sec 289	439 charge, sec 221 (7)	310	defence of- sec 200	412 charge to contain particulars of		right of-as to examination and offence committed by-, sec 221 (1)	311	summoning of witnesses, scc	410
power of Appellate Court or Ifigh	011	retrial of-after discharge of jury,	412
Court to quash conviction of-		sec 308	469
for material error in charge,		power to examine - sec 312	493
sec 232	351	no influence to be used to an-to when there may be joinder of	252	induce disclosures sec 313	501 charges against—, sec 233 —may be charged with and tried	353	interpretation of evidence to-or	533
for three offences within a		his pleader, see 361 examination of—how recorded, see	505
year, sec 234	355	361	537
in trial of summons case, the subs		mode of delivering judgment on-,
tance of accusation should be		sec 366	542
stated to—when brought up	373	arrest of in appeal from acquittal,	636
before Magistrate, see 242 conviction of—on admission of	313	see 427 abatement of appeals on death of	000
truth of accusation, sec 213	371	— see 431	642 truth of accusation, sec 213 where no admission made Magis		procedure in case of-being luna	and
trate to hear—and his evi		tie, sec 461 (1)	692
dence, see 211 acquittal of—in summons cases,	374	procedure where appears to have	698
sec 215 (1)	376	when-to he released on bail, see sentence on-in summons cases.	3.0	496	718
sec 215 (2)	376	bailhond of - sec 499	753
acquittal of-in summons cases,		record of evidence in absence of-,	76C
on non appearance of com- plainant, see 217	224	transfer application by-, see 526	789
SCC 24/ 4	377	rransier application of, see one when trial may proceed immediate ly after-, see 228 when new trial may be directed on 347

318

319

:03

Addition of Charge-(Contd )

ed, sec 227

-, sec 229

nesses see 500

folia for all accepted by or		- bar dead bar to a consider - a false, frivolous or vexatious		when trid may be suspended on accusation see 250	330	-, sec 229	349
-of accused in warrant cases,		stay of proceedings if is one for sec 253 (1)	100	which sanction necessary sec discharge of accused on stay of		230	350
prosecution by Advocate Gene		recall of witnesses after-, sec 231	351
ral does not amount to-,		recent to the control of the con-	-
see "33	483
		Addition of Parties
judgment of-, see 367 (4)	515	-to proceedings under see 115 on- person not liable to be tried again for same offence, sec
40,3 (1)	583	Additional Sessions Judge appeal by Govt from order of-,		appeal from-lies to High Court,
sec 417	601	sec 410	593
Power of appellate court in dispos		appointment and jurisdiction of
ing of appeal from an order of		—, sec 9 (3) (4)	13
ing or appear from an order or		disposal of urgent application by — sec 423 (1) (α)	612	disposar of digent application by arrest of accused in appeal from		-in the absence of Sessions
-, see 427	636	Judge sec 17 (1)	18
High Court, in revision cannot convert a finding of-into one		Local Govt or Sessions Judge convert a finding of-into one		Local Govt or Sessions Judge of conviction sec 139 (a)	667	may direct sec 199 (2)	271
judgment of-on grounds of		-may exercise in revision all lunacy, see 470	698	powers of a Sessions Judge on-on grounds of lunacy person	000	sec 438 (2)	661
to be detained in safe cus		sentence which-may pass, see to be detained in sale cus	701	31 (2)	26
tody sec 471	101	01 (2)
-on withdrawal of prosecution,
sec 491 (b)	713	Adjournment
	713		50ა
sec 491 (b)		of inquiry or trial see 311	50ء
sec 494 (b) Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat		-of inquiry or trial sec 311 of inquiry or trial for execu	50.
sec 491 (b) Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre	e	-of inquiry or trial sec 311 -of inquiry or trial for execution and return of commission	50.s
sec 494 (b) Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat		of inquiry or trial sec 311 of inquiry or trial for execution and return of commission sec 508
sec 494 (b) Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat ——when subordinate to Chief Pre- sidency Magistrate sec 21 (2)	e	of inquiry or trial sec 311 of inquiry or trial for execution and return of commission sec 508 of inquiry or trial for allow
sec 491 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrate—when subordinate to Chief Presidency Magistrate sec 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate	e	of inquiry or trial sec 331 of inquiry or trial for execution and return of commission sec 503 of inquiry or trial for allowing application for transfer	762
sec 491 (b) Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre- sidency Magistrate sec 21 (2) Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec 10 (.)	21 13	of inquiry or trial acc 351of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission sec 508of inquiry or trial for allow ing application for transfer sec 526 (8)	762 790
sec 491 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrate—when subordinate to Chief Presidency Magistrate sec 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate	e 21	of inquiry or trial see 351 of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 503 of inquiry or trial for allow ing application for transfer see 5.16 (8) of summons case sec 247	762
sec 494 (b)  Additional Clife Presidency Magistrate—when subordinate to Clife Presidency Magistrate sec 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec 10 (-) powers of—sec 10 (-)	21 13	of inquiry or trial sec 314 of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission sec 503 of inquiry or trial for allow ing application for trinsfer sec 526 (8) of summons case sec 217 on addition or alteration of	762 790 377
sec 491 (b) Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre- sidency Magistrate sec 21 (2) Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec 10 (.)	21 13	of inquiry or trial sec 314 of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission sec 508 of inquiry or trial for allow ing application for transfer sec 250 (8) of stutumons case sec 217 on addition or alteration of charge sec 299	762 790
sec 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magastrat  —when subordinate to Chief Pre- sidency Magistrate sec 21 (2)  Additional Distrett Magistrate appointment of—sec 10 (1)  —when subordinate to Dist Ma	21 13 13	of inquiry or trial see 314 of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 509 of inquiry or trial for allow ing application for transfer see 2.50 (8) of stumons case see 217 charge see 20 there	762 790 377
sec. 494 (b) Additional Chief Presidency Magistrate —when subordinate to Chief Pre sidency Magistrate sec. 21 (2) Additional District Magistrate appointment of— sec. 10 (1) —when subordinate to Dist Ma gistrate sec. 10 (3)	21 13 13	of inquiry or trial see 314 of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 503 or of trial for allow of guptleation for transfer see 526 (8) of summons case sec 217 on addition or alleration of charge see 229 or of trial for allowing arrives of trial for allowing arrives	762 790 377 319
sec. 494 (b) Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre- sidency Magnitrate sec. 21 (2) Additional District Magnitrate appointment of—sec. 10 (.) powhen subordinate to Dist Ma gistrate sec. 10 (.6) Additional Evidence	21 13 13	of inquiry or trial see 314 of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 509 of inquiry or trial for allow ing application for transfer see 2.50 (8) of stumons case see 217 charge see 20 there	762 790 377
sec. 494 (b) Additional Chilef Presidency Magistrate —when subordinate to Chilef Pre sidency Magistrate sec. 21 (2) Additional District Magistrate appointment of sec. 10 (1) —when subordinate to Dist Ma gistrate sec. 10 (a) Additional Psidence appellate court may direct subor	21 13 13	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 503  of inquiry or trial for allow- see 503 (8) or trial for allow- see 525 (8) or trial for allow- see 525 (8) or trial for of sutumous case sec 217  on addition or alloration of charge see 229  when trial for allowing applies tion for transfer sec 5 % (9)	762 790 377 319
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre- sidency Magistrate sec. 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate appointment of— sec. 10 (4) —when subordinate to Dist Ma- gertrate sec. 10 (4)  Additional Tyndence appellate court may direct subor- dinate court tray direct subor- dinate court tray direct subor- dinate court to take— sec.	21 13 13 14	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 503  of inquiry or trial for allow- see 503 (8) or trial for allow- see 525 (8) or trial for allow- see 525 (8) or trial for of sutumous case sec 217  on addition or alloration of charge see 229  when trial for allowing applies tion for transfer sec 5 % (9)	762 790 377 319
sec. 494 (b) Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre sudency Magistrate sec. 21 (2) Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec. 10 (-) —when subordinate to Dist Ma gistrate sec. 10 (3) Additional Friedence appellate court may direct subor 128 (1) cellist to take—sec. 128 (1) cellist to take—sec.	21 13 13	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execution and return of commission see 508  of inquiry or trial for allowing application for trinsfer see 5.56 (8)  of stumons case see 217  on widition or alteration of when Sessions, Judge may refuse ton for trial for allowing applies ton for trial for allowing applies ton for trial for allowing applies.	762 790 377 319
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre- sidency Magistrate sec. 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate appointment of— sec. 10 (s) —when subordinate to Dist Ma- gentrate sec. 10 (d)  —when subordinate to Dist Ma- gentrate sec. 10 (d)  Additional F. ridence appellate court may direct subor  List (1) court may direct subor  List (2) court may direct subor  List (3) court for taken in appeal sec.	21 13 13 11	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 505  of inquiry or trial for allow me applies for allow me applies  of stramous case sec 217  on addition or alloration of charge sec 229 when Sevaion Judge may refuse of trial for allowing applies tum for transfer sec 59 (9)  dammistration of Justice  Proceedings in case of certain	762 790 377 319
sec. 494 (b) Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre- sidency Magistrate sec. 21 (2) Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec. 10 (a) powhen subordinate to Dist Ma- gistrate sec. 10 (a) Additional Tyidence appellate court may direct subor- dinate court in appeal sec. 123 (1) at taken in appeal sec. 428 (1) taken in appeal sec. 429 (1)	21 13 13 14	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execution and return of commission see 508  of inquiry or trial for allowing application for trinsfer see 3.56 (8)  of stumons case see 217  or trial for allowing applies ton for trial for allowing applies to force and trial for allowing applies to force allowing the see of certain offences affecting the see the see that the second of the see that the second of the second o	762 790 377 319 90
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre sudency Magistrate sec. 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec. 10 (4) —when subordinate to Dist Ma givitate sec. 10 (4)  Additional Fudence appellate court may direct subordinate court to take—sec. 128 (1) taken in appeal security of accused to be present	21 13 13 14	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execution and return of commission see 508  of inquiry or trial for allowing application for trinsfer see 3.56 (8)  of stumons case see 217  or trial for allowing applies ton for trial for allowing applies to force and trial for allowing applies to force allowing the see of certain offences affecting the see the see that the second of the see that the second of the second o	762 790 377 319
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre sidency Magnitrate sec 21 (2)  Additional District Magnitrate appointment of— sec 10 (-) powers of—sec 10 (-) powers of—sec 10 (-) powers of—sec 10 (-)  Midditional Trudence appellate court may direct subor dinate court may direct subor dinate court may direct subor dinate court in appeal sec 128 (1) —may 1 c taken in appeal sec 128 (1) right of directed to be present	21 13 13 11	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 503  see 503  or 504  or	762 790 377 319 90
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre sudency Magistratu sec. 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrat appointment of—sec. 10 (-) —when subordinate to Dist Ma girtrate sec. 10 (3)  Additional Fridence appointment of the sec. 10 (3)  Additional Fridence appointment of the sec. 10 (3)  Additional Fridence appointment of the sec. 12 (3)  Tamping taken in append sec.  128 (1)  Tright of Coursel to be present when and the sec. 18 (4)  Tright of Coursel to be present subordinate court to extra 1 (4)	21 13 13 11 633 647	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 505  of inquiry or trial for allow- ing application for trinsfer ing application for trinsfer of stramous case sec 217  on addition or alloration of charge sec 229 when Session Judge may refuse- of trial for allowing appliea tion for transfer sec 59 (9)  doministration of Justice Proceedings in case of certain offences affecting the— see 176 197  Odmiralty	762 790 377 319 90
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre- sidency Magistrate sec. 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate appointment of— sec. 10 (d) —when subordinate to Dist Ma- gertrate sec. 10 (d)  additional Tradence appellate court may direct subor- dinate court to take— sec.  128 (1) —may 1c taken in appeal sec.  423 (1) —may 1c taken in appeal sec.  424 (1) —accused to be present without accused to be present subordinate, court to certify—to appellate court	21 13 13 14	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execution and return of commission see 508  or of many or trial for allower of trial for allowing application for transfer see 250 (8)  of summons case sec 217  on addition or alteration of charge see 179  of trial for allowing applies tion for transfer sec 5% (9)  definition of Justice  Proceedings in case of certain offences affecting the—see 170 (57)  diministration of Justice  Tructedings in case of certain offences affecting the—see 170 (57)  Turnsfer of Justice of Presidence—jurisdation of Presidence	762 790 377 319 ~90
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre sidency Magistrate sec. 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec. 10 (a) powhen subordinate to Dist Ma gistrate sec. 10 (a)  Additional Tyidence appellate court may direct subor direct court may direct subor direct court to take—sec —may It taken in appeal sec —any It taken in appeal sec —any is taken, sec. 18 (3) subordinate court to certify—to subordinate court to certify—to taking of—subpret to prosistens of	21 13 13 11 633 647	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 505  of inquiry or trial for allow- ing application for trinsfer ing application for trinsfer of stramous case sec 217  on addition or alloration of charge sec 229 when Session Judge may refuse- of trial for allowing appliea tion for transfer sec 59 (9)  doministration of Justice Proceedings in case of certain offences affecting the— see 176 197  Odmiralty	762 790 377 319 90
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre sudency Magistrate sec. 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec. 10 (4) —when subordinate to Dist guitate sec. 10 (4)  Additional Fudence appellate court may direct subor- dinate court in take—sec. 128 (1) taken in appeal sec. may 1c taken, sec. 18 (3)  right of accused to be present when—is taken, sec. 18 (3)  subordinate court to certify—to appellate court  appellate court of the present when—is taken, sec. 18 (3)  subordinate court to certify—to appellate the presisten so the court of the court	21 13 13 14 035 637 637	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 505  of inquiry or trial for allow- see 505 (8) to framework a 505	762 790 377 319 ~90
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre sidency Magistrate sec. 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec. 10 (a) powhen subordinate to Dist Ma gistrate sec. 10 (a)  Additional Tyidence appellate court may direct subor direct court may direct subor direct court to take—sec —may It taken in appeal sec —any It taken in appeal sec —any is taken, sec. 18 (3) subordinate court to certify—to subordinate court to certify—to taking of—subpret to prosistens of	21 13 13 11 633 647	of inquiry or trial sec 314  of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission sec 503  or 502 per or trial for allow- ing application for transfer sec 426 (8)  of stummons case sec 217  on addition or alteration of when Sessions Judge may refuse of trial for allowing applies tion for transfer sec 5% (9)  doministration of Justice Proceedings in case of certain from the second of trial for allowing applies to first transfer sec 5% (9)  doministration of Justice The second of trial for allowing applies for a flecting the— second of trial for allowing applies for the second of the second	762 790 377 319 ~90
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre sudency Magistrate sec. 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec. 10 (-) —when subordinate to Dist Ma gistrate sec. 10 (-)  Additional Fridence appellate court may direct subor- dinate court may direct subor- dinate court to take—sec 128 (1)  —may it taken in appeal sec —may it taken in appeal sec.  Tight of accused to be present subordinate court appellate court appellate court facility appeals and the court of the court of the certify—to appellate court taking of—subpect to provise ms of Chap axiv of the Code sec.	21 13 13 14 035 637 637	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 505  of inquiry or trial for allow ms applies for allow ms applies for allow of stramous case sec 217  on addition or allowing applies to first for allowing applies to for transfer sec 59 (9)  doministration of lustice Proceedings in case of certain offences affecting the— sec 176 197  doministration of presidency Warnistbirth duty of Judge to decide all gues	762 790 377 319 ~90
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre sidency Magistrate sec. 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec. 10 (d) —when subordinate to Dist Ma givirate sec. 10 (d)  Additional Trudence appellate court may direct subor dinate court may direct subor dinate court in take—sec. 128 (1) —may 1c taken in appeal sec. 128 (1) —may 1c taken in appeal sec. 128 (1) sibordinate court to tertify—to appellate court taking of—subject to provisens of Chap Xvv of the Code sec. 128 (4) Addition of Charge.	21 13 13 14 035 637 637	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execution and return of commission see 508  or of survey or trial for allowing application for transfer see 250 (8)  of summons case see 217  on addition or alteration of charge see 102 may refuse— of strain for allowing application for transfer see 5% (9)  definition of Justice  Proceedings in case of certain offences affecting the—see 170 tst.  directly—jurisdiction of Presidency lagistrates see 20  definition of Judge to decide all questions regarding the—feet evidence to see 100 tst.	762 790 377 319 ~90
sec. 494 (b)  Additional Chief Presidency Magistrat —when subordinate to Chief Pre sudency Magistrate sec. 21 (2)  Additional District Magistrate appointment of—sec. 10 (-) —when subordinate to Dist Ma gistrate sec. 10 (-)  Additional Fridence appellate court may direct subor- dinate court may direct subor- dinate court to take—sec 128 (1)  —may it taken in appeal sec —may it taken in appeal sec.  Tight of accused to be present subordinate court appellate court appellate court facility appeals and the court of the court of the certify—to appellate court taking of—subpect to provise ms of Chap axiv of the Code sec.	21 13 13 14 035 637 637	of inquiry or trial see 314  of inquiry or trial for execu- tion and return of commission see 505  of inquiry or trial for allow ms applies for allow ms applies for allow of stramous case sec 217  on addition or allowing applies to first for allowing applies to for transfer sec 59 (9)  doministration of lustice Proceedings in case of certain offences affecting the— sec 176 197  doministration of presidency Warnistbirth duty of Judge to decide all gues	762 790 377 319 ~90

with defective charge see 220 315

371

376

377

Acquittal

210 on withdrawal of charge, sec

--- in summons cases, sec 215

of complainant see 217

-of accused on non appearance

compensation to accused on-of

Admissibility—(Contd) —of deposition of witnesses to prove the absconding of aceus ed sec 512 —of evidence taken on commis sion, sec 503 —of report of chemical examin er, sec 510 Admission	766 757 765	servant, see 539A —in proof of service of summons, see 74 (1)	841 845 67 790
conviction on—of guilt in Sessions trial, see 271 (2) conviction on—of guilt in Summons cases, see 243 conviction on—of guilt in Warrant cases, see 255 (2)	417 374	Affirmation application for transfer to be supported by—, see 526 (4) application for transfer, when made by Advotate General need not be supported by—see 526 (4)	790 790
Adulteration  Court may order destruction of food drink drug or medical preparation for—, see 521 (2)		Courts and persons before whom- may be affirmed, see 539	814
Adultery eancellation of order for main tenance on proof that wife is living in—, see 488 (5)	927	power of Magistrates to issue certain summary orders to pre- vent an—, see 144 (1) power of Local Govt to extend summary orders beyond two	150
offence of—compoundable sec 315 who may institute proceedings in respect of the offence of—, sec 199 wife living in—not entitled to	510 298	months when there is a likeli hood of an-, see 111 (6)	156
maintenance from her husband, sec 488 (4)	727	objection to Juror on ground of—; see 278 (b)  power of Court to release on pro	4°3
Adult Male Member service of summons by leaving one of duplicate summons with some—of bis family, see "0 affidavit in support of service on —of his family, see 71	65 67	bation of good conduct persons under 21 years of—, see 562 (1) release of persons convicted of certain offences with due ad monition having regard to his—, see 562 (1A)	877 877
Advocate  —included in definition of I'leader, sec 4 (v)  —other than Advocate General	9	Agent of owner or occupier of land bound to report certain matters
or Standing Counsel cannot claim the right to conduct prosecution without permis sion, sec 493	745	Aggregate Sentence —in case of conviction for several offences to be deemed a single sentence for the pur pose of appeal, sec 25 (3)	31
Advocate General application by—for transfer need not be supported by affidivit or affirmation, see 596 (4) definition of—, see 4 (6) information by—, see 194 (2) —may conduct prosecution with	790 4 273	Aid Public bound to—Viagistrate or Police in certain circums tances, see 42 —to person other than Police officer executing warrant, see 43	58 59
out permission from Magis trate sec 495 (1) power of—to stay proceedings in High Court, sec 333	745 483	Aliensge —is a ground of objection to juror, sec 278 (b) 4	23
Amdasit application for transfer need not be supported by—when Ail vocate General is applicant, sec 526 (4)	790	Atlowance alteration in—, sec 489 reascellation by Magistrate of order for payment of—, sec 488 (5)	35 27

death hound to-all ques

into sudden

1039

239

date elective, sec 455 (2)	121	death hound to-all ques power of Magistrate to order		tions except such as would monthly-for maintenance of		expose him to a criminal wife or child, sec 488 (1)	726	charge, sec 175 (1)	239
when wife not entitled to-,		questions to and-by accused in sec 488 (4)	727	his examination by Court to be recorded in full sec 361	537
Alteration		witness at Police investigation
no-of judgment by Court after		bound to-all questions except signing, sec 369	531	such as would expose him to a
-of allowance in maintenance		criminal charge, sec 161 (2)	202
cases, sec 439	726
-of charge by Court, sec 227	317	A
-of finding etc. by Appellate	014	1 partment of finding etc, by Appellate Court, see 423 (1) (b), (2)	612	breaking open of-occupied by of order by Appellate Court,	67.5	women to effect arrest, sec 48	47
sec 423 (t) (c)	610
	612	Apology
-of order for disposal of pro		Discharge of accused on-, sec 484	700
perty by any Court of Appeal,		Discharge of accused on-, see 404	144
sec 520	780
when trial may proceed immediate		Appeat
ly after-of charge, sec 223	313	for purposes of-aggregate of con secutive sentences to be deem Alternative		ed single sentence, see 85 (8)	31 accused may be charged in the-,		-from order to pay compensa	91
when there is doubt as to what		trons order to pay compensa offence committed, see 236	362	tion for frivolous accusation,	381
Court's power to pass judgment in		sec 250 (3) Inmitation for—against death sen	991
the-, sec 367 (3)	545	minitation for against death sen
, ,		tence to be informed to accused on being sentenced,
Amendment
	347	see 371 (3)	5ა5
-of charge, sec 227 -of record of Lower Court in	341	no-except as expressly provided,
accordance with the order of		sec 101	502
If C sec 425 (2)	631	-from order rejecting applica
-of verdict of Jury, see 301	463	tion for restoration of attach	_ or verdict of Jury, see 301	403	ed property sec 405	592
Americans		-from order requiring security for keeping the peace or for see European British Subject?		good hehaviour, sec 406	593
American de anno		——from order refusing to accept
Ammunitions		or rejecting a surety, sec 406 1	594
trial of offences against law relat		from sentences of Magistrates ing to-, sec 181	249	of the second or third class,
4		sec 407 (1)	591
Amount		transfer of-to first class Magis
of bailbond not to he exces		trates sec 407 (2) —Irom sentence of Asst Sessions	591
514e, sec 498	753	——Irom sentence of Asst Sessions
		Judge or Magistrate of the Animais		first class sec 403	596
investigation by police into death		-tn Court of Session how heard, caused by-, sec 171 (1)	237		597
		-Irom sentence of Court of Annovance			538
power of Magistrate to issue sum		-from sentence of Presidency
mary orders to prevent-,			593
sec 111 (1)	153	no-in certain cases when accused (-/			598
Answer			599
by Jury to questions by Judge		no-from certain summars con to be recorded, sec 303 (2)	458		600
imprisonment or commital of per		special rights of-in certain cases,	~~
son refusing to—questions put			103 to him by Court, see 485	722	-on behalf of Govt in ease of	~~ person summoned by Police officer			601
faction administred by a once outcer		magazeni, ett. 7ti

INDEX

727 inswer-(Contd)

investigating

Allowance-(Contd )

order for payment of-, from what date effective, sec 488 (2)

Arrest-(Contd )

warrant of-directed to Police

Assessors-(Contd)

duty of-to attend at every ad Journed sitting, see 295

officer, sec 79	72	Journed sitting, see 295	415
notification of substance of		delivery of opinions of-, sec 309
warrant of-, see 80	72	liability to serve as-, sec 319	477
person under-to be brought be		preparation of list of -, sec 321	479
fore court without delay, see 81	73	publication of list of-, see 322	479
where warrant of-may be execut		objection to list of-, sec 323	479
ed sec 82	73	Fevision of list of-, sec 323	479
warrant of-forwarded for exceu		Dist Magistrate to summon-tion outside jurisdiction, sec		sec 326	480
	71		400
83 (1)		power to summon another set of-,	400
warrant of-directed to police		sec 327	482 officer for execution outside		exemption of Railway servant from jurisdiction, see 81 (1)	74	serving as-, sec 329	482 procedure on-of person against whom warrant issued, see 85		court's power to excuse attendance
whom warrant issued, see 85	75	of-, sec 330	482 procedure by Magistrate be		preparation by court of list of-fore whom person under-is		sec 331	481 brought, sec 86	75	penalty for non attendance of-issue of warrant of-in lieu of, or		sec 332	483
in addition to summons, see 90	81	trial by jury of offence triable
-on breach of bond for appear		with-does not invalidate trial,
ance, sec 92	82	sec 536 (1)	827 warrant of-for person required		trial with-of offence triable by under sec 103, 109 or 110,		Jury does not invalidate trial
sec 114	115
power of military authority to-	120	unless objection taken before court records finding, see power of military gumbles to		educt records informe, see	827
in dispersing unlawful assem	136	536 (2) finding or sentence not rever-	544
bly, sec 130	130	finding or sentence not rever-
-to present commission of		sible on account of omission to cognizable offence sec 151	192	revise list of-ete, with power to issue warrant of-for		sec 321, sec 537	828
offence committed beyond local		A 1 - 4 - ·
purisdiction, sec 186 (1)	250	Assistance
-of person improperly discharg		public when to render—to Magis
ed by inferior court, sec 437	655	trate and police, see 42	88 compensation by person wrongfully		Assault as a side of the causing a police officer to-any		Asst Chemical Lyaminer other person sec 553	863	report of analysis by-may be used as evidence, sec 510	765
Assam		Assistant D S P
Dist Magistrate or Magistrate of 1st class in-may try all		-may be appointed special	16 offences not punishable with		Magistrate, sec 14 (1) .	10
death, sec 80	25	Assistant Sessions Judge
,		appeal from sentence of-, see 403	59G
Assault			13
offence of-compoundable, see 313	510	appointment of -, sec 9 (3)	10
security for keeping the peace on	•••	disposal of argent application by	18 conviction for-, sec 106	97	in the absence of 5 J, see 17 (4)	27
contriction tor—, see too	٠.	powers of sentence of -, sec 31 (3)	271
Assembly		what cases—may try, sec 193 (2) —subordinate to S J, sec 17 (8)	18
see "unlawful assembly"		subordinate to S J, sec 17 (3)	10
see numanin assembly		Attachment
Assessors		of property of person abscord
		ing see 88	77
trial by same-of several offenders	420
in succession, see 272	425	claim to or objection to—of pro- perty of absconder, see 83
—how chosen, see 284 —for trial of European and	423	(6A to 6E)	78
for trial of European and Indian British subjects and	426	-by Magistrate of property sub	183
others, sec 28t1	420
procedure when-unable to attend,	426	-and sale of movable property
sec 295		of juror or assessor to re view of locality by -, see 293 [1]	551	cover fine for non attendance, see 832 (2)	133
when-may be examined, sec 231	115	acc 352 (2)

\ttachment-(Contd)		В
appeal from order rejecting appli cation for restoration of pro	592	Bad Liselihood
perty under-, see 405	392	proceedings for , sec 110	111
		proceedings for , see 110	**
Attempt		Bail
joint trial of persons committing		taking of-by person arrested by a	١.
offeace and persons who—to commit such offence, see 239 (b)	900	police under a warrant sec 51 person charged with offence may	303	of person on execution of-	:
be convicted of an-to commit		bond, see 76 (1)	6
such offence without separate		bond, see 76 (1) —to person brought on arrest	;
charge, sec 238 (2A)	363	before a Magistrate, sec 86	7.
police may arrest without warrant		release of accused on-bond when any persons who—to escape from lawful eustody, see 54 (5)	19	evidence deficient, see 169 admission of accused to—when	23
police may interpose to prevent—to	13	Sessions Judge differs with injure public property, see 152	192	jury and refers case to High power of Bench of Magistrates		Court, sec 307	40
to try summarily to commit	403	appellate court may order release certain offences sec 261 (d) —to commit certain offences may	405	of accused on-, see 426 (1) release on-of accused arrested in	633
be tried summarily, sec 260 (1)	404	appeal from acquittal, sec 427
to commit offence compound		release of accused on-on reference able when substantive offence		by Presidency Vingistrate to so sec 815 (3)	512	High Court sec 432	GIS
to commit offence punishable with imprisonment is a breach of		release of lunatic on-pending in vestigation or trial, sec 466 (1)	693
bond for good behaviour,		-to accused pending trial for	003
sec 121	125	oftenees affecting administra tion of justice see 478 (1)	717
Attendance		in what cases—to be taken, sec 496 when may be taken in case of non	748
eourt's power to excuse of Gov		basiable offence see 497	7"0
ernment or railway servant		power to direct admission to-or summoned as juror or assessor		reduction of-, sec 498	753
see 329	482	discharge from custody on execu
or assessor see 330 (1)	482	tion of-bond sec 500 power to order sufficient-when	755
Magistrate's power to dispense		that first taken is insuffi jen.
with personal—of accused,		sec 501	~+5
sec 205 (1)	314	discharge of sureties for att n1
Magistrate's power to require per sonal—of accused see 205 (2)	315	ance of person releas d on-, sec 502	756
police officer s power to require—of		300 800	100
witnesses see 160	202	Italiable offence power to dispense with personal-	116	grant of bail in-to person arrest in security cases see 116 summons for-of accused, see 201	313	ed outside jurisdiction, sec 86 bail may be claimed as of right	~6
when-of witnesses may be dis		in-, sec 496	748
pensed with sec 503	756	meaning of-, see 4 (b)
		Ear to trial
1 tra-mai		see autrefors acquit
Attorney of High Court included in		see auticiois acquit term pleader, sec 4 (r)	9	Behavlour
-		security for good-, see ' security"
Autreiois acquit		Bench of Judges
-whether bars subsequent pro-		-when divided in opinion
ccedings sec 403	583	equally case to be referred to another judge sec 3"8	555
Autrefois convict  whether bars subsequent pro-		—to bear appeals sec 429 —composing Court of Revision,	යා
ceedings sec 403	593	sec 439 (1)	606

Bench of Magistrates		Bombay appointment of—, sec 15 (1) any member of a—may sign form	16	Criminal Procedure Code does not	Ŀ of warrant of arrest, sec 75	67	ordinarily apply to the Com missioner of Police or the constitution of-in Presidency		Police in the town of-towns sec 19 —in Presidency towns see 18	20	Sec 1 (2) (a)	1
-may be authorised to employ		Criminal Procedure Code does not ordinarily apply to village
clerk to prepare record, sec 263 (2)	413	police officers in the Presi
-not subordinate to Sessions	413	dency of—, sec 1 (2) (a) application of sec 68 to the police	. 1
Judge except as expressly provided sec 17 (5)		in the town of-, sec 68 (3)	63
provided see 17 (b) powers exercisable by—in absence	18
of special direction, see 15 (2)	17	Rend power of Chief Presidency Magis trate to regulate the constitu		release of person accused of tion of-, sec 21 (c)	21	offence on executing—to nower of Chief Presidency Magis trate to regulate the mode of		appear before Magistrate.
settling differences of opinion		see 57 (2)	58
between members of a sec	-	discharge of person arrested on execution of , sec 63	62
21 (d)  power of Chief Presidency Magis	21	endorsement in warrant for release
trate to regulate the time and		of person arrested on execu- tion of—, sec 76 (1)	69 place of sitting of—, sec 21 (b) power of—to try summarily certain	21	power to take-for appearance, offences, sec 260 (1) (c)	403	sec 91 —for keeping the peace, see 106,	81
power of-invested with 2nd or 3rd class powers to try summarily		107	97
eertain offences, sec 261	408	sons disseminating seditions power to frame rules for guidance	17	sons disseminating seditious matter, sec 108	108 of-, see 16 -subordinate to District Magis	1,	-for good behaviour from trate, sec 17 (1)	18	Vagrants and suspected per sons, sec 109	100
—subordinate to Sub Divisional Magistrate when exercising		-for good behaviour from habi powers in a subdivision,		tual offenders, sec 110 particulars as to—to be stated by	110
aec 17 (2)	18	Magistrate in writing, sec 112	114
Bigamy		order to execute bond for keeping the peace or to be of good eourt cannot take cognisance of		Dehaviour, sec 118	121
an offence for—except upon complaint by person aggriev		contents of , see 121 power of Dist Magistrate to cancel	125
ed, sec 198	203	any-for keeping the peace or in what circumstances complaint for-may be made by some		good behaviour, sec 125 cancellation of—on discharge of	133
person on behalf of the person	-	surety, sec 126	133
aggrieved, sec 198	205	security for unexpired period of—, see 126A	131
Rinding over		-of complainants and witnesses, to keep peace or to be of good behaviour, see 'security'		see 217	336
behaviour, see security		release of person accused of non ballable offence, on execution
Body		of—, sec 497 —of accused and sureties, sec 499	750 755
of deceased person 15, to draw		discharge from custody on execu
un a report, sec 174 (1)	237	tion of -, sec 500	753
marks of injury on-of deceased to be described in police report	237	sureties, sec 502	756
Magistrate's power to disinter-of deceased for examination, see		deposit of money in lieu of execu	767
deceased for examination, see		procedure on forfesture of-, sec
		when required from a minor,	768
Body corporate service of summons on, sec 69 (3)	68	see 514B	768

Bond—(Contd)  appeal from, and revision of orders of forfeiture of—, sec 515 proceedings void, where Magistrate not empowered by law, can cels a—to keep the peace,	773	Building—(Contd) — meluded within the term "place", see 4 (2) Magistrate may recover costs of performing his order by sale of—, see 140 (2)	9
sec 530 Books information in cognizable cases to	817	Rnoy police officer may interfere to pre yent injury of—, sec 152	192
be entered in-, sec 154 power of High Courts to make rules for keeping all-, sec	191	c
554 (2) (a)	861	Calcutta
Breach of Contract prosecution for—, sec 198	293	Criminal Procedure Code does not ordinarily apply to the Com- missioner of Police in the town breach of Peace public bound to assist police on demand to prevent, see 42	38	of—, see (1) (2) (a) nor to police in town of—, ibid Presidency Magistrates are ex	1 security from person committing offence involving— sec 106 security from person believed	97	officio justices of peace in-, sec 25	22
likely to commit—, sec 107 security from persons habitually committing offences involving	110	Camping ground —included within the term 'public place' in sec 133 (2)
-, sec 110 (a) power of Magistrate or Police officer to disperse assembly	111	explanation Canal	142
likely to cause—, sec 127 procedure where disputes concern ing land etc., is likely to cause	131	public bound to assist police in preventing any injury to a-, sec 42 (b)	38
a—, sec 145 procedure where disputes concern ing rights of use of immovable property etc is likely to lead to—, sec 147 (1)	162	Cancel atlon of Bond —for keeping the peace or for good behaviour, see 125 —on appearance of the person	133
Breach of Trust see 'Criminal Breach of Trust'		sought sec 126A —at the instance of a surety, sec 126 (1)	133
Brief Statement Magistrate to give—of reasons for conviction in a summary trial, sec 263	410	Cance lation of Orders  of Magistrate regarding any dispute concerning land, sec 145 (5)	163
British India Criminal Procedure Code extends to the whole of—, see 1 (2) liability of British subjects for	ι	ment of maintenance to wife, sec 488 (5)  for payment of maintenance	7.27
offences committed out of-, sec 188	232	in consequence of a decision of a Civil Court sec 489 (2)	783
power to issue summons or warrant for offences committed within or without—, sec 186 warrant of arrest may be executed at any place in—, sec 82	250 "3	Cancellation of Powers of subordinate officers by the Local Government or Dist Magis trate, sec 41	37
British subject liability of—for offences committed outside British India, sec 183	2,2	Capital Sentence In—cases confirmation or new order to be signed by two judges sec 3.7	558
Pullding conditional order for removal or repair of—in a dangerous con dition, sec 133	141	-not be confirmed till the ex- pury of period allowed for appeal or till disposal of appeal sec 3"6 (proviso)	533

Capital Sentence—(Contd) —not to be executed unless con		Ceruficate—(Centd)  as to manner of execution of firmed by High Court, see 37 order of High Court in—eases to be sent to Court of Sessions	4 555 0	sentence to be forwarded to Court, sec 100	580
sec 379 execution of—, sec 381 postponement of—on pregnan	539 539	Court, see 425	631
woman sec 382 power of High Court to confirm- or annul conviction, sec 376	501	late court, sec 428 (2)	637
power of High Court to direct further enquiry or additional evidence in—cases, sec 375 (1)	t I	be sent to lower court sec 442  —by Inspector General of Prisons	678 proceedings of Sessions Court pass ing-to be submitted to High Court, sec 374		prisoner to make his defence, see 473  by Inspector General of Pri	701
Cases		sons about fitness of lunatie	w00
Local Government may direct Magistrates to sit together as a Bench and try certain elasses		to be released, sec 474 lunatic in care of relative and friends to be produced on—of	702
of-, see 15 power to frame rules respecting the	16	inspecting officer as to his capicity to make his defence, see 475 (2)	703
class of—to be tried by Beach of Magistrates, sec 16 (a) transfer of—on application of	17	previous conviction or acquittal of accused may be proved by a copy of sentence or order with nctused sec 191 transfer of-by Magistrates, sec 192	266 266	a-by record keeper, see 511 Challenge to Juror	765
Sessions Judge may withdraw— from Assistant Sessions Judge see 528 (1)	806	by accused or prosecutor, sec 277 (2)	423
District Magistrates may withdraw —from subordinate Magis	806	on certain specified grounds,	428
trates, see 528 (2) power to authorise Dist Magis trates to withdraw classes of—, see 528 (3)	806		423 424
Cattle Trespass Act		obstruction to-, sec 133 (1)	141 definition of "offences" includes complaint under see 20 of—, sec 4 (0)	8	Charge definition of—, sec 4 (c)	4
offences under sec 20 of-, may be tried summarily, sec 260 (m)	401	no-need be framed in inquiry in security cases, see 117 (2) 1 when-to be framed in cases triable	17
Caution police officer not to prevent by-		by Sessions Court or High Court, sec 210 (1)	25
any person from making a voluntary statement, see 163	210	— when to be forwarded to High Court or Court of Session, sec 218
Cepi Corpus Sheriff's return of-to a writ of attachment, see 491	738		39
Certificate		description in—, see 221 (2) 33 what implied in—, see 221 (5) 33 language of—sec 221 (6)
no inquiry into any offence com- mitted by British subjects out		out in—, sec 221 (7)	0
of British India without-of Political Agent, see 188	252	and person sec 222 51 when manner of committing offence of presiding Judge or Magis trate regarding examination of accused, see 361	537	words in taken in sense of law	2 punishment of whipping not to be inflicted without—of Medical officer, see 991	571	able sec 221 effect of errors in-, sec 225

INDEX 1017

		Chards to Iver (Contd.)
.harge—(Contd )		Charge to Jury - (Contd )
procedure on commitment without		copy of heads of-to accompany
-or with imperfect-, sec 226	315	petition of appeal sec 419	606
	317	copy of judge s-may be furnished court may alter-, sec 227	317	copy or junge a may be furnished when trial may proceed immediate		to any person affected by the ly after alteration in—sec 228	3tS	judgment or order of the Court, when new trial may be directed or		sec 548	858 then her than may be directed or trial suspended on addition to		Cheating or alteration of-, see 229	213	Cheanny stay of proceedings if prosecution		court's power to release first of offence in altered-require		offender on conviction of-
		see 562 (1A)	877
previous sanction, sec 230	350	Sec 202 (172)	٠., recall of witnesses when-altered,
sec 231	351	Chemical Examiner report of-may be used as evi effect of material error in-,		dence, sec 510	765
sec 232	351	nence, sec 510	100
separate-for distinct offences,		Chief Commissioners
sec 233	333
	200	-are ex officio Justices of the three offences of same kind may		Peace see 25	22 be tried together under one-		a cucc see as sec 231	355	Chief Justice 033
-in the alternative, when doubt		to appoint time of holding sit
ful what offence has been		tings of High Court Sessions.
committed, sec 236	362	sec 331	481
			404
when conviction for one offence on		to appoint officer to give notice
a-for another may be allowed,		of sittings sec 335 (3)	د48
see 237	361
when conviction can be had for		Chief Presidency Magistrate
When conviction can be had not		appointment of- sec 18	19
offence not included in-		appointment of sec 19
sec 238	365	powers of- sec 21	20
what persons may be tried together		power of-to call for letters and under same- sec 239	368	telegrams from postal authors ties see 95	81
withdrawal of some—on conviction		1163 366 00	0.8
on others see 210	371	power of-to issue warrant for the formal-not necessary in summons		search of letters etc in the cases sec 212	373	custody of Postal or Telegraph authorities sec 96 (2)	85
in warrant_cases —to be framed			63
when offence appears proved		power of-to require security for sec 251	303	good behaviour from persons
-to be read and explained to		disseminating seditions matter,
	491	sec 108	108
accused sec 255	001		103
no formal-necessary in summar)		power of-to release persons im trials where no appeal lies		prisoned for failing to give sec 263	410	security sec 121	131
-to be read and explained to		power of-to cancel any bond for accused in Sessions trials		keeping the peace or good below the peter of good sec 271	117	behaviour set 125	133
entry on unsustainable- sec 273	121	power of-to issue order absolute effect of omission to propare-		at once in urgent cases of nui sec 533	826	sance or apprehended danger,
	020	see 241 (2)	266
finding or sentence when reversible		300 141 (1)	111
by reason of error or omission		power of-to transfer cases see in—sec 537	8_8	192 (1)	267 consent of-required for prosecu tion for certain classes of Chards to Turn		oriminal account classes of Charge to Jury		criminal conspiracy sec 1964	290
-by Julge after defence and		-may enforse warrant for levy
prosecutors reply concluded		of fine set 38"	563
see 29"	416	-may withdraw case from sub-duty of milge in his- see 298	455	ordinate Magistrate see 529 (*)	SOC on treal to turn County of Course		power of-to compel restoration in trial by Jury Courts of Session		of abdusted females asstoration of abducted females sec 55.	A.1
36- (5)	313	power of-with respect to offince
copy of heads of-to be given		of rape b) husban! sec 5/1	876 to accused on allheateon		power of-to treat certain of enders	-
sec 371 (1)	5,,,	as first offender, sec 5/2	8

171

deponent

for examination sec examination of accused believed to evidence

be a lunatic, 13 - see 401 (1)

although deposition of-may be used as not ealled sec 509 (1)

237

£92

763 definition of-, sec 1 (t) (d)

witnesses to-, see 211 (2)

Magistrate may, on commitment

enre mitnesses, see al6

leave to summoning of def

524

535

78

78

78 hear objections to jury list, see 2.1 (1)

273

on commitment to High Court Sessions, charge etc., to be sent	315 236	Cegnisance of Offences—(Contd)  —by High Court, see 194  —punshable under see 172 to 188 I P C to be taken only on complaint of the public servant concerned, see 195
to prepare list of common and special jurors for High Court, sec 313 (1)	475	(1) (a)  —punishable under certain sections of the I P C to be	27 discretion of-in preparing jury	473	taken only on complaint of court sec 195 (2)	27
314 (1) affidavits may be shown before,	475 844	tions of the I P C to be taken only on complaint of some court, sec 195 (1) (c)	27
Closed place		-against the State to be taken only upon complaint made by person in charge of—to allow search sec 102	92	order of officer specially em powered, see 196 —of criminal conspiracy see	28
Code of Criminal Procedure		196A	29 date of enforcement of—, see 1 extent of application of—, sec 1 (2)	1	<ul> <li>of breach of contract, defama tion and against marriage, see 198</li> </ul>	29
-does not apply to Commis of Calcutta, Madras or Bom bay, or to Police of Calcutta and Bombay, sec 1 (2) (a)		case sec 201 (1) —under sec 190 sub see (1)	80
and Bombay, acc 1 (2) (a;  does not apply to heads of villages in Presidency of St	1	el (a) or (b) by Magistrate not empowered sec 529 (a) —under sec 190 sub sec (1)	81
George, sec 1 (2) (b) does not apply to village police	1	cl (c) by Magistrate not empowered, sec 530	81
officers in Bombay Presidency, see 1 (2) (c) reference to— and other repealed	1	—of rape by husband to be taken only by Chief Presi dency Magistrate or District
enactments sec 3 (1)	3	Magistrate, sec 561 (1) (a)	87
Lugmsable Case		Coln
definition of—sec 4 (e)	+	police officer may take into
Cognisable Offence		of being privy to the deposit, definition of, sec 4 (e) arrest by police of person con	•	sale or manufactrue of counter	8
arrest by police of person con cerned in-, sec 51 (1)	43	fert —sec 99 (1) (c) provisions relating to counterfert—	0
private person may arrest any person committing— sec 59 (1) police to prevent the commission	59	to apply to certain things, sec 98 (2)	8
of sec 149	192	Ceinage
commut— sec 151	192	trial of persons previously convict information relating to the com	191	ed of offences against— sec 318	515
	197	Co tector
procedure where commission of-		attachment of revenue paying land
	198	to be made through-of the
-see 'Case		district sec 83 (4)  of Revenue or Customs ex empted from hability to serve	77
Cignisance of Offences		as jurors or assessors see
	256		4
	266	assessors sec 321 (1) —to sit with sessions Judge and	4~9

26

sec 192

192

Collector—(Contd)		Commitment
-to sign revised jury list,		cognizance of offences by Court of sec 321 (3)	479	Session, only on-by duly
• •		empowered Magistrate, sec
Lombined Sentences		193 (2)	271
sce "Sentence"		cognizance of offences by High Court on-in manner provided
Limmanding Officer		by eode, sec 194 (t)	273
duty of-in dispersing unlawful		power of Magistrate to discharge assembly, sec 130	136	accused, when no sufficient duty of-in the selection of mili		ground for-, sec 209 (1)	323
tary jurors, see 317	476	order of—, sec 214 quashing of—, sec 215	329
Communication Co. 1		quashing of-, see 215	333
Commercement of Code		summons to witnesses for defence	20.5
date of -, sec (1)	1	on-of accused, sec 216	335 336
Commencement of Proceedings		when to be notified, sec 218 (1) power of Magistrate to summon	830
before Magistrates, see 201		supplementary witnesses after and 205 313	314	-and before commencement of in Sessions trial, sec 271 (t)	417	trial, sec 219 (1)	337
		-of accused to custody pend
Commission		ing trial, see 220	333
-of formal enquiry into the		procedure on-without charge or state of mind of an alleged		with imperfect charge, see 226	345
lunatic sec 474	702	-of person to whom pardon has been tendered, see 839 (1)	491
sec 503	756	-of persons previously convicted in case of witness being with		of offences against comage, in Presidency town, sec 504 (1)	760	stamp law or property, sec 348	518
power of provincial subordinate		power to order-, sec 437 power of Civil and Revenue Courts	655
V Magistrate to apply for issue		power of Civil and Revenue Courts of—, sec 506 return of—, sec 507	761 76t	to order—to High Court or Court of Session for offences adjournment of inquiry or trial	100	affecting administration of for execution and return of		justice, see 478 (1)	717
-sec 509	762	procedure on-by Civil or Rese-
		nue Court, sec 479	718
Commissioner		-of person refusing to answer
-exempted from serving as		or produce documents see 485	722
juror or assessor, see 320	477	when irregular-may be validated,
		see 532	822
Commissioned Officer		no-by Magistrate in ease in of Army may disperse unlaw		which he is personally inter ested, sec 556	$ 3
ful assembly by mulitary force,	137	-for trial of husband for rape	0 5
201 201	101	on wife, sec 561	8-6
Commissioner of Police
Criminal Procedure Code does not		Compensation
apply to-in the Presidency		-to accused for false, fra olous
apply to-in the Presidency towns, sec 1 (2) (a)	1	or vexatious accusation, sec
-includes Deputy Commissioner		259	380
of Police, sec 4 (g)	5	order for imprisonment of com-court issuing warrant to be exe		plainant in default of payment	881
cuted outside its jurisdiction			201
may forward the same to-in Presidency towns, sec 83 (1)	71	order to pay-does not affect civil or criminal liability, see when person arrested in Presidence	7.	950 (96)	125
town to be taken to-, see 83	75	ennest from order to pay-
-shall direct removal in custody		sec 250 (3)	331
of person arrested to court		not to be paid to accused till which issued the warrant,		disposal of appeal, see 250 (4)	382
sec 86 .	75		355
Commissions of Business or Confer	_	-out of fine, sec 515 psyment of to be taken into Commissioner of Revenue or Custom  exempted from service as	3
juror or assessor, see 320 (c)	477	sequent suit, see 516	36
paron of assessor, see and (c)		acquest said

INDEX 1051

empensation—(Contd)		Complaint—(Confd)
to persons groundlessly given		prosecution on-of court for cer-
in charge in Presidency town,		tain offences relating to docu
sec 553 (1)	863	ments given in evidence, sec
		195 (1) (c)	274
Committing Magistrate		prosecution for breach of contract, examination of accused before-to		defamation and offences against be evidence, see 287	430	merriage only on-by nercan
oc cridence, see asi	450	marriage only on—by person aggreeved, see 198	295
Common Jurors		aggireven, see 195	203 prosecution for adultery or en list of—, sec 313	475
		only on-of husband, see 199	298
Commutation		examination of complainants in-to of sentence of death on preg		Magistrates, sec 200	300
nant woman, see 382	561
-of sentence of whipping, see		to a Magistrate not competent 395	571	to take cognizance of the case,
power of Governor-General in		sec 201	305
Council or Local Government		dismissal of—, sec 203 dismissal of—for non payment of	310 in-of sentence, sec 402	582	dismissal of-for non payment of sec "Compensation"		fees payable, sec 204 (3)	313
bee compensation		in summons ease, finding not limit	010
Competent Court			377
		ed by—, sec 246	379
person once acquitted or convict-		withdrawal of-, sec 248	010
ed by-not to be tried for		payment of compensation for false same offence, sec 403 (1)	583
finding or sentence of-when re		250	880
versible, sec 537	828
		for purposes of sec 403, sec
Complainant		403 explanation	583
Magistrate may require—to exe		power to order further inquiry into cute bond to appear before		any-which has been dismiss
Magistrate to prosecute or		ed, sec 436	650
give evidence, sec 270	416	finding or sentence when reversible not to be required to accom		by reason of error or omission
pany police officer sec 171	233	in—, sec 537	828
examination of-, sec 200	300
bond for appearance of-, see		Compoundable Offence
217 (1)	336	discharge of accused for absence detention in custody of-on refusal		of complainant in—sec 259	899 to execute bond, sec 217 (2)	336	list of—, sec 315 510, non appearance of-, sec 217	377	list of , sec ors	711
name of-to be entered in record in summary trials, see 263 (d)	410	Compulsory Labour definition of-for purposes of		unlawful-compoundable, sec 315	510
sec 413 sec 411	686
adjournment of proceedings on-		Concealment
notifying his intention of		proclamation for person lying in applying for transfer sec		— sec 87 (1)	76
526 (8)	789	assisting in the of stolen property court may direct payment of		trashle summarily, ser 260 (g)	7.0
expenses of-by Government		semant remaind, see non (8).
sec 511	853
		Conclusive Evidence
Complaint		of publication of proclamation,
definition of-sec 1 (h)	4	sec 57 (3)	76
cognizance of offence by Magis	- trate on receiving of facts,		Concurrent Jurisdiction
sec 190 (1) (a)	236	of Sessions Judge and District prosecution for contempt of lawful			16 authority of public servants on		of Destrict Magistrate and Sub-
-of public servant concerned		Divisional Magistrate sec 525
sec 193 (1) (a)			n.
prosecution on-of court for cer		**
tam offences against public		Concurrent Sentence
justice, sec 195 (1) (b)	24	court's power to pass-, sec 35 (1)

Conditional order  —for removal of nuisance, see 133 service or notification of—, see 134 consequence of failure to perform —sec 136	144	sec 486 (1) 723 prosecution for—of lawful autho-
Conditional Pardon see 'Pardon'		Continuence
Conferment of powers, see 89	37	-of powers of officers appointed, see 40 37
Cantessians power to record—sec 164	211	Continuing Offence place of inquiry or trial for -,
Confinement search of person in wrongly -, sec 100 offence of wrongful-compound	91	see 182 217 Contract see 'Breach of Contract''
able, see 345  of youthful offenders in reformatories see 399 (1)  of lunatic see 466 (2)	510 575 695	Convict warrant to landholder for the arrest of escaped—, see 78 71
Confirmation of death by H C.		Conviction security for keeping the peace on —see 106 97
of sentence by H C, see 376	26 558	previous—, when to be set out in charge, 221 (7) 839—of offence not in charge, sec
procedure in case aubmitted to II C for—, see 879	558 559	238 & 257 withdrawal of some charges on— on one or more, sec 210 371
Confisestion of property when no elaimant appears within 6 months sec 524	788	on admission of truth of accu sation, see 243 876 —In summons cases, see 245 876 —for offence not stated in com plaint or summons, see 246 877
Consecutive Sentence court's power to pass—in case of aeveral offences at one trial, see 35	31	limit of imprisonment in—in summary trials, see 262 (2) 410—on plea of guilty in Sessions trial, see 271 (2) 417
Consequential Orders  power of appellate court to nake  any-, sec 423 (d)	6[2	—of offence, a disqualification for being a jurot, see 278 (b) 423 trial of person with previous—of offences against coinage, stamp
Conspiracy	UL2	law or property, see 348 (1) 518
prosecution for criminal—to com mit certain offences, see 133 (4) prosecution for certain classes of	215	one Magistrate and partly by another, sec 350 (1) 522 person once convicted cannot be criminal—, sec 196 A preliminary enquiry in certain	290	tried for same offence, sec 403 (1) 583
cases of criminal—, see 196 B	291	from—, sec 423 (1) (b) 612 power to direct admission to bail procedure in certain cases of , sec 480		on—and pending appeal, sec 493 753 record in cases of—, sec 481 case of—, when to be sent to Magnetrate, sec 482 (1) when Registrar or Sub-Registrar	721 721	previous—how proved, sec 511 765 power of Court to release persons on—as first offenders, sec 562 877
can take cognisance of ease of —, sec 483	722	order for notifying address of of fender previously convicted, sec 563
discharge of person accused of pn sulmission or apology, see 491	722	Coorg investure of District Magistrate with apecial powers in—, see 20 25

ору		Counterfest Coin or Stamps
-of list of things seized in the		search for-, sec 98	8 course of search by police to		• be delivered to occupant of the		Court place, sec 103 (3)	92	20 and 105 (1) (a) (b) (a)
-of cecord made in course of		in see 195 (1) (a) (b) (c),—in includes, Civil, Revenue or search to be sent to nearest		Court and Total	-
Magistrate, sec 165 (5)	123	Criminal Court, sec 195 (2)  to be open to public, sec 352	27 52
-of charge to be furnished to		complaint by of offences affect	32 accused on request, sec 210 (2)	325	ing administration of justice of evidence of supplementary		sec 476 (1)	70
witnesses to be given to	337	judgment of subordinate appellate accused, sec 219	334	—sec 425	63
- of judgment to be given to accused on application, sec		powers of appellate-in disposing	**
371 (1)	535	of appeal, sec 423	61
- of heads of charge to jury to	555	power of superior-to complain
be furnished to accused on ap		when subordinate—has omitt
plication, sec 271 (2)	555	ed to do so, sec 476A	70
- of order of H C in cases sub		power of Civil and Revenue-to mitted to it for confirmation to		complete inquiry into offences be sent to Court of Session,		affecting administration of see 879	559	justice, sec 478	71
-of beads of charge to jury to		procedure of Civil and Revenue-	_ accompany petition of appeal,		in such cases, see 479	71
see 419	606	power of-to detain offender for
-of ground of appeal to be fur		contempt, sec 480	71
nished to officer of Local Gov		when Registrar or Sub Registrar to be deemed Civil-, sec 483	72
ernment, sec 422  of order of H in reference by	610	power of-to sentence to impri	12
-of order of H in reference by		sonment person refusing to Presidency plagistrate to be		answer or produce document,
seot to such Magistrate, see	643	sec 485	72
433 (1) previous conviction or acquittal	043	practising pleader not to sit as	••• may be proved by certified—of		Magistrate in certain-, see sentence or order, see 511	765	557	87
-of proceedings to person affect		power to decide language of-,
ed by judgment or order,		sec 558	87
sec 548	858	inberent powers of High-,
		sec 561A	57
Corporation
service of summons on—, sec 69 (3)	61	Court Honse service of adminions on -, acc os (o)	••	publication of proclamation for person absconding to-, see 87	70
Costs			-
deduction of-of attachment on		Court Martial restoration of attached pro		delivery to military authorities of perty, sec 89	79	persons hable to be tried by recovery of of removing nuisance,	152	— sec 549 (I)	860
sec 140 (2) order as to—in local enquiry, sec	152	apprehension of person liable to be 148 (3)	190	Iried by- see 519 (2)	86 deposit of-for summoning wit nesses sec 216	$35	Court of Session
-of reference to H C, see 433		establishment of-, sec 9	1:
(2)	643	power of to try offences under in applications for mainten		Penal Code, sec 28	2
ance, sec 488 (7)	727	power of-to order security for bond for payment of of applies	200	keeping the peace, sec 106 (1)	9
tion for transfer, sec 526 (5) power of Il C to direct payment	790	to be laid before, sec 128 (2)
of-for frivolous or vexatious		cognitance of offence by -, see 128 (2)	120 application for transfer, see		committal of accused for trial to-	270
526 (6 A)	790	see 206	817
power of court to pay -out of fine,		trial before—to be by Jury or sec 545 (1)	646	Assessment and Mrs

Court of Session-(Contd)		Criminal Bresch of Trust
local Government may order trial		inquiry into and trial of offence
hefore—to be by jury see _rg	415	of _, sec 181 (2)	216 trial before to be conducted by Pullic Prosecutor, see 20	416	Criminal Court number of jury in trials before-		see Court
sec 2 <sup>-4</sup> (_)	421	Court verdict in-when to prevail see	163	Criminal 1 orce power of-to summon another set	163	offence of use of-compoundable
of jurors or assessors see 327	492	ter Si5	510
-may excuse attendance of any	702	restoration of possession of immov	510
juror or assessor see 330 (1)	182	able property to person dis
-may exempt special jurors from liability to serve again		possessed by -, see 522 (1)	752
from liability to scrie again		- ·
as jurors for 12 months see		Criminal Intimidation
830 (2)	432	security for keeping the peace on
	193	consiction for—, sec 106 (1)	97
	133	offence of-triable summarily, sec
to send copy of finding and sentence to District Magis		, 50 (i)	403 trate see 373	556	offence of-when compoundable,	510
sentence of death by-to be sub-		sec 315	310
mitted to High Court for		Criminaj Jali
confirmation see 374	5ა7	remasal of accused or consicted
Ifigh Court may direct further evidence to be taken by-		berson from eval to-, see
sec 375 (1)		511 (2)	850
order of High Court in cases	5ა7	Adeste a sur Lut.
submitted to it for confirma		Criminal Misappropriation
tion to be sent to— see 370	5.9	offence of , where trisble, sec	216
appeal to how heard sec 109	597	release as first offender, of person	210
appeal from sentence of - sec 410	598	convicted of -, sec 562 (IA)	877 procedure in case of person com mitted before—being lunatic, sec 465 (1)	695	Criminal Treapass power of Civil and Revenue Courts	693	offence of-compoundable, see 845	510
to commit to-for offences		Crops affecting administration of justice aec 478 (1)	717	see 140 (2)	162
appeals from convictions in con-		-10 (2)
tempt eases by Court of Small		Cress Examalnation
Causes to lie to-, see 486 (3) power of-to direct admission to	721	see Examination bail or reduction of bail		— of prosecution witnesses by see 498	753	arcused in Sessions eases	319
power of-to issue commission for		of prosecution witnesses by	919 examination of witnesses see		accused in warrant cases be 503	756	fore Magistrates sec 256 (1)	3 95 power of-to direct levy of amount		_ due on certain recognizances sec 516	773	Custody order for disposal of property	*	power to arrest person escaping	63
regarding which offences com		from lawful—, sec 66	00
mitted by- sec 517 (2)	773	police may arrest any person es caping from lawful— sec
irregular commitments to-, see		51 (t) fifthly	48
532 (1)	822	order by court for-of crops or other produce of property in	163
Court of Small Causes			100 appeal from conviction for con		procedure, when person detained in-and investigation cannot tempt by-, sec 486 (3)	723
		Ste 167 (1)	26
Court of Wards		recusant complainant or witness officer of-to report certain		may be forwarded in-, sec	33
matters to police, sec 45 (I)	41	171

lusiody—(conid )		power to sell unclaimed property inquiry into death of person dying		which is subject to-, sec 225	314
while in police—, see 176 (1) offence of escaping from lawful—,	240	The leave to a where triable, sec 181 (1)	246	Who may make a complaint for where triable, sec 181 (1) detention in-of complainant or		see 193	295
witnesses refusing to attend or		offence of-or of printing, engrav
execute bond, sec 217 (2) —of accused pending trial, see	336	ing or selling of printed defa
220	338	matory matter, compoundable,	***
of lunatic, sec 466 (2)	695	see 315	510
detention in safe of lunatic.		Defeet acquitted on ground of lunaes, sec 471 (1)	701	attachment not illegal for-in the discharge from-of accused on	101	writ of attachment, sec 538	813
executing bond, see 500 (1)	755	****
Customs		list of witnesses for-on trial,
Commissioners and Collectors of-		sec 211 (1)	328
exempted from serving as		Magistrate may allow further list
juror or assessor, see 320 (c)	477	of witnesses for-, sec 211 (2)	328
Police officers and persons engaged		—in summons cases, sec 214 —in warrant cases, sec 258	371
in the preventive service in the-Dept, exempted from		when court to call upon accused to	003
serving as juror or assessor,		enter on his-in Sessions trial, sec 320 (d)	477	sec 289 (4)	439
			412
D		right of accused to enter on his	414
		-through pleader, sec 310	495
Dacoity		postponement of proceedings where offence of-where may be inquired	246	accused being a lunatic is incapable of meeting his-, into or tried, sec [81 (1)	246	sec 464 (2), 468 (2)	602
Danger		procedure where Magistrate con siders accused believed to be conditional order to destroy, con		funatic, to be capable of mak fine or dispose of any animal that is a source of -, sec 133 (1)	111	ing his-, sec 468 (1)	697
power to issue order absolute in	111
eases of apprehended—, see		Definitions 4 to	10
141	155	Advocate General	4
Death		bailable offence	4
sentence of-, see "Capital Sentence"	•	charge	1
duty of certain persons to report		Clerk of the Crown cognizable case	- 2
the occurrence of any sudden or unnatural, sec 45 (1) (d)	41	cogmzable offence	- i causing-of person who resists		Commissioner of Police	5
police to enquire into all—by	45	complaint I uropean British subject	144455666
suicide, or in other unnatural		High Court	6 circumstances, sec 174	237	Inquiry	6
abatement of appeals on—of accused or appellant, see 431	642	investigation judicial proceeding	7
 *		judicial proceeding non bailable offence	3
Death Sentence		non-cognizable ease	8
see 'Capital Sentence'		non-cognizable offence offence	8
Debts		officer in charge of P S	8
attachment of-due to person abs		place pleader	9 9
conding sec 88 (1)	77	police station	9
Decay		Public Prosecutor	9
power of court to dispose of pro- perty in its custody, which is		sub-division	9 subject to—, sec 5164, 517	773	summons case . warrant ease .
•

Delay application by accused for process for the production of any evidence may be refused on the ground that it is made for the purpose of -, see 237 (1)		Desperate and Dangerous character security for good behaviour from persons of—, see 110 (b) Deserter police may arrest without warrant,	110
Delegation of Power —to Dist Magistrates, sec 13 (2)		-from Army or Navy, sec 51 (1) (6)	19
		Destruction
Delivery attachment of property of als		-of libellous and other matters, see 521 (1)	782
conder by probleting sts—to him sec 83 (3) (c)	77	—of adulterated, food, drink, dring or medical preparation, sec 521 (2)	782 of lunatic to care of relative or friend, see 475	702	Detention of property seized by police to the person entitled to the		no-in police custoily for more possession thereof, see 523 (1)	785	than 21 hours, sec 61	61
		-of letters and telegrams sec 95 power of Magistrate to authorise-	81
Demeanour		of person in eustody pending
record of-of witness by Sessions		investigation, sec 167 (2)	227
Judge or Magistrate, sec 863	537	in custody of recusant com
Donnelt		plainant or witness, see 171	233
Deposit search of place believed to be used		-of accused pending retrial on	469
for the of stolen property,		discharge of jury, acc 303	400
sec 98 (1)	87	-m eustody of person accept ing tender of pardon, see refusal to aummon unnecessary		337 (3)	485
witnesses unless—of costs		-of married woman compound	-10
made, sec 216 —of reasonable expenses for	335	able, sec 3:5 (1) —of offenders attending court,	510
—of reasonable expenses for attendance of witness in		ace 351	520
summons cases see 211	374	in eustody of lunatic, see
-of reasonable expenses for at		166 (2)	69.s
tendance of witness in warrant eases, sec 25	393	Government on reput of com
-of money or G P Notes in	555	mission of enquiry, sec 474 (2)	702
lieu of executing bond see 513	767	power of High Court to direct re-
D		lease of person kept in illegal
Deposition see "Evidence"		or improper—, see 491 (1) (b) release from—of person accused of	738
taken on commission may be		bastable offence and arrested received in evidence, sec		without warrant on giving 507 (2)	761	bail, see 496	748 of medical witness, sec 509 (i) record oftaken in absence of	762	when person may be released from on furnishing bail in ease of accused sec 512 (1)	756	mon builable offence sec 497	750 of property seized by police
Depute		where owner unknown, sec	376 power to-subordinate Magistrate to conduct local enquiry,		523 (2) power to compel restoration of	,,,, sec 148 (1)	190	females kent in unlawful—.
power to-subordinate Magistrate		see 552	363 to hold investigation or pre liminary enquiry, sec 159 power to-subordinate Magistrate	139	Disty  of proceedings in investiga to enquire into the truth or		tion, sec 172	34
falsehood of complaint sec
202 (1)	306	mode of settling-between Magis
Deputy Commissioner		trates sitting at a Bench.
Commissioner of Police includes—		ear 16	17
Commissioner of Police includes— of Police, sec 4 (g)	5	- among judges composing court	39
powers of-, sec 30	25	of appeal, sec 429

Directions		Dismissal—(contd )
power to issue—of the nature of a habeas corpus, see 491	739	power to order further enquiry into a complaint which has been dismissed, sec 436	650
Discharge
of person apprehended, see 63	62	Disobedience
- of person informed against,		consequence of—of order in case of nuisance, sec 140 (2)	152
sec 119	123
of person imprisoned for fail ing to give security see 123 (1) of sureties, sec 126	131 133	Dispensing with personal attendance of
—of accused after enquiry, see	323	accused, sec 205 with attendance of witnesses	314
- of accused in trial of warrant		see 503 ~	756
cases, see 253  of accused for absence of com	391	Dispersion plainant, see 259	401	-of assembly on command of of jury, see 282 of jury in eases of sickness of	424	Magistrate or police officer, sec 127	134
prisoner, see 283 of jury in trial by High Court,	425	use of civil force to effect—of un lawful assembly, see 128	136
sec 305	463	use of military force to effect-of	136 of accused on stay of prosecu- tion by Advocate General, sec 333	483	unlawful assembly, sec 129 duty of officer commanding troops required by Magistrate in the
of accused under sec 273 does not amount to an acquittal,		-of unlawful assembly, sec 180 powers of commissioned military	136
see 403 power of Appellate Court to-the	583	officer in the—of unlawful as sembly, sec 131	187
accused, see 423 (1) (b) power to order inquiry into the	612	• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •
case of any person accused of		Dispule an offence who has been-,		-as to immovable property,
sec 436	650	see "Property '
power to order commitment of a person improperly—d, see 487	650	Disqualification of jurors, sec 278	4.23
of offender on submission of apology, sec 484	722	-of certain judges to try	423 of accused on withdrawal of prosecution, sec 491	713	offences specified in sec 195 when committed before them from eustody on execution of	755	selves, sec 487 (1)	721
bond sec 500 effect of of a person bound to be	155	Disqualification of good behaviour by a Magis		-of Judges or Magistrates to
trate not empowered by law, sec 530 (c)	818	try a case on ground of personal interest, see 556	863
Discovery  of person wrongfully confined,		Distinct offences
sec 100	9t	sentence in case of—in one trial,	31
Dishonest Misappropriation
see "Criminal Misappropriation"		District
particulars to be specified in a charge of—, sec 222 (2)	311	what is—, see 7 (1) power to alter limits or number	12
Disinterment		of—, sec 7 (2)	12
of dead body for investigation sec 176	210	altered, sec 7 (3)	12
	- 10	Presidency town to be deemed,	12
Dismiseal ——of complaint, see 203	510	power of Local Government to divide—into suli-divisions, sec
<ul> <li>of complaint is not an acquit tal barring a fresh trial, see</li> </ul>		8 (1) proceedings in wrong-does not	12
403 Expl summary—of appeal, see 421	553 608	nullify finding, sentence or summary—or appear, see 421		order, sec 531

District Magistrate		District Magistrate-(contd)
appointment of—, sec 10 (1)	13	power of-to attach and release appointment of addl, sec 10 (2)	13	property which is the subject delegation of powers to-by Local		of dispute, sec 146	183
Government, sec 13 (2)	15	power of concerning disputes as local Government may invest-		to rights of use of immovable with power to try all offences		property etc., sec 117	186 not punishable with death,		power of-to direct local inquiry,	190
sec 80	25		190
ordinary powers" of-, see 36	36	sec 171	237 control of investing power of ,		power of-to assue summons or sec 88	37	warrant for offences committ
-may withdraw powers con		ed beyond local jurisdiction,
ferred by him on subordinate		sec 156	250
Magistrates, sec 41 (1)	37	cognizance of offences by-, sec 190	236
may direct warrant to any		consent of-necessary for institut landholder, etc., for arrest of certain offenders see 78	71	ing prosecution for certain
-may call for letters and docu		elasses of eriminal conspiracy,
ments from Postal authorities		sce 106 1	290
sec 93	81	-may order preliminars enquiry
-may grant a warrant to search		in certain eases, see 196B	291
for document parcel etc in		power of-to commit for trial
the custody of Postal authori		see 206
ties see 90 (2)	85	power of—to try certain offences summarily see 260	403
-may issue warrant for the			100
search of a house suspected		power of-to tender pardon to accomplice, sec 337	495 to contain stolen property,		Court of Session to send copy of sec DS (1)	87	finding and sentence to-,
-may order persons convicted		sec 373	556
of certain offences to furnish		appeal from sentence of-, sec 403	596 security for keeping the peace	97	no appeal from sentence of fine not
-may order persons likely to		exceeding Rs 50 passed by-, commit a breach of the		sec 413	599
peace to furnish security for		power of-to eall for records of keeping the peace see 107	100	inferior courts see 433	615
-may require security for good		power of-to direct further inquiry,	444
behaviour from persons disse		sec 436	650
minating seditious matter,	103	power of-to order commitment for	63a
sec 103 —may require security for good	103	trial, sec 437	000 behaviour from vagrants and		power of—to report to High Court for reversing or altering a suspected persons sec 109	109	sentence see 433	661
may require security from		power of-to issue commission habitual offenders, sec 110	120	for examination of witness, power of-to release persons un		see 503	756 prisoned for failing to give	13t	delivery of property attached security, see 124 power of—to eancel bond for keep	151	by court to-for disposal	***
ing the peace or good be		sec 518	779
haviour sec 125	133	power of-to order sale of property discharge of surety by-, sec 126	133	not claimed within six months see 52t	788
conditional order by-for removal		power of to withdraw case from of nuisance see 133	141	subordinate Magistrate, sec may prohibit repetition or continuance of public nuis		5_3 (2)	806 continuance of public nuis	151	Local Government may authorise-
-may issue order absolute at		to withdraw classes of cases	806
once in urgent cases of nuis		sec 528 (3)	000
ance or apprehended danger,		power of-to compel restoration of	863
sec 144	155	abducted female sec 552 power of to take cognizance of power of-in regard to disputes
as to immovable property,		Office of valve by garage	876

power of court to order destruction of noxious-, sec 521

Dist Sundt, of Poice

warrant may be forwarded to-for execution outside jurisdic

782

782

65

455

186

tion, sec 83 (1) may require postal authorities	74	7 to make search for document		Drug or parcel wanted for any		power of court to order destruction of adulterated—, see 521	782
purpose, sec 93	84	or additerated—, see 521	782
• •		Duplicate
		aummons to be issued in-, sec
Divisions		68 (1)
creation of sessions-, sec 7 (1)	12
power to alter number or limits of		mons in the back of-, sessions—, sec 7 (2) . existing sessions—to le maintain	12	sec 69 (2) 70 6	4 65
ed, sec 7 (2)	12	D
effect of proceedings in wrong		Duty sessions-, sec 531	820	arrest without warrant of person obstructing police officer in the execution of his-, sec 54 (5)
D		of judge in charge to jury,
Documents		sec 298	455
summons to produce or other		****	,,,,
things see 91 (1) power to require postal authors	82
tien to produce any, parcel		E
or thing, sec 93	81	farm .
when aearch warrant may be		fasements issued for the production of		disputes concerning-, see 147	186
anv see 96	84	Liection offences search of house suspected to con		prosecution for-under Chap IX A
tain forged -, sec 93	87	I P C, acc 196	287
forfeiture of seditious-, sec 99A search warrant for searching of	89	•	20.
any premises for aeditious-,		f mergency see 991	89	order under sec 144 in cases of-application to High Court for sett	03	may be passed exparte, sec 144	155
ing aside order of forfeiture		I mnouse at the team of—, sec 99B	89	Impowered by law pregularities which do not vitiate meaning of -, sec 994 (2)	89	proceedings committed by power to impound-, sec 104	94	Magistrates not-, sec 529	817 prosecution for certain offences		irregularities which vitiate pro-relating to-given in evidence, sec 195 (1) (c)	274	ceedings committed by Magis process for production of-in trial	217	trates not-, see 530	817
of summons cases, see 241	874	I malon.
Judge's duty in Sessions trial to		I ndorsement decide upon meaning and cons		on back of duplicate summons sec 69, 72 64	65
truction of all-given in evi	4==	duplicate summons with-admis	65
dence, see 298 (b) discretion of court to interpret—	455	sable in evidence sec 74 (1)	67
put in for formal proof,		- on warrant of arrest for sec 861 (8)	536	allowing execution of bond imprisonment or committal of		Sec 76 (1)	69 person refusing to Produce-,		what should be stated on such-, see 485	722	sec 76 (2) on warrant directed to police	70
courts power to order disposal		officers, ser 79 of-produced before it, at the		on warrant forwarded for conclusion of trial or inquiry, sec 517 (1)	773	execution outside jurisdiction,
DEC 941 (4)	110	Sec 83 (1) (°)
Door		on warrant directed to police breaking open-for effecting arrest,		officer for execution outside jurisdiction sec 81	-1
sec 48	$7	attachment of property of abscon	•
power of police officer to break		der situate in different district open-for purposes of libera		nn-by Magistrate of such tion see 40		3	-

i naorsement-(conta )		1 1101
cost of enforcing nuisance order		in charge not material unless it recoverable from another dis		has occasioned a failure of trict on-by Magistrate of such		justice sec 225	311
district, sec 140 (2)	152	effect of material-in charge.
by Magistrate, on return of		sec 232	351
complaint which he is not		court may correct clerical-in judg
competent to take eognisance		ment, see 369	551
sec 201 (1)	305	finding or sentence when rever
warrant for levy of fine may be		vible by reason of-or omission
executed outside jurisdiction		in charge or other proceed
on-by Magistrate of the Dis		ings, sec 537	828
trict see 397 (1)	565	mga, acc par	0.0
warrant for the recovers of	343	Гасарс .
penalty of bond by attachment of property in other instrict		person arrested not to be subject on-by Dist Magistrate of such		ed to more restraint than is necessary to prevent-, sec 50	47
district see 514 (3)	768	power of police to arrest with out warrant persons who-
English Language		from fawful custody, sec 51	45
translation into of second when		power on-to pursue and retake, translation into-of record, when commitment to High Court,		sec 66	63 commitment to sligh Court,	337	inquiry into offence of-from law
sec 218 (2)	221	ful custody, sec 181 (1)	246
evidence given in-, when to be translated see $56 (2) translated see 336 (2)	529	I scaped Convict translation in-of evidence given in		certain persons bound to report the any other language sec 356 (3)	529	presence in his locality of any power of Local Government to		person believed to be an-direct Sessions Judge or Magis		person believed to be an- see 45 (1) (b)	41
trate to take down evidence		warrant to landholder for arrest
nemorandum in-of examination	:32	of-, see 78 (1)	71
memorandum in-of examination		execution of sentences on—,	,,
of accused sec 361 (3)	533	sec 396 (1)	572
judgment may be written in the		sec 990 (1)	314
judgment may be written in the-, sec 307 (1)	544	1 uropean British Subject 6
		ilefinition of—, see 4 (i)	·
I nhancement		sentences which Courts and Magis	30
Appellate Court cannot pass an		trates may pass on-, sec 34A	420
order of—of sentence see 423	612		425
High Court's power of of sen			423
tence in revision sec 439		trial of-or European or American
(1) (6)	667	Jointly accused with others	426
			420
m at		mode of selecting jurors for trial	400
Intlement			480
-of a married woman, com		applicability of special provisions of Chap XXXIII to—, sec 443	685
poundable sec 845	510	of Chap XXXIII to-, sec 413	683
prosecution for-of married woman,		procedure in summons case where sec 199	298	one of the parties is an-	007
			687 procedure in warrant case where
Lntry		one of the parties is an-,	000
			689
information relating to cogniz		court to inform accused who is an-
able cases sec 154	194	as to his rights in certain	690
on unsustenable charges and			990
effect of such-, sec 273	421	special provisions relating to	91
-on charge by Judge to the			191 effect that accused should not		special provisions relating to-, be retried after discharge of		not to apply to certain cases	19
jury operates as an acquittal		of contempt sec 480 (2)	10
sec 308	469	procedure of claim of a person to
	403	The state of the s
High Court's power of revision	103	be dealt with as—, sec 528A	15
High Court's power of revision does not apply to an—made under sec 278 sec 439 (4) 421		be dealt with as—, see 528A 6	816

-to be ordinarily taken down in the form of a narrative procedure on completion of-interpretation of—to accused or his pleader, see 361 record of—in Presidency Magis remarks respecting demeanour of trate's Court, sec 362

I vidence-(contd)

see 360

816

see 359 (1)

1061

533

534

535

536

possession until—by legal pro- cess see 145 (6)	163	witness while giving—, sec 363 —of accused, how recorded	537
Lvidence		see 364 record of-in High Court,	537
		see 365	541
recording of-in inquiries into		power of High Court to direct	341 security cases, sec 117 (2)	117
report of local enquiry to be-in		further-to be taken in capital case under see 145 see 148 (2)	190	sentence cases, sec 375	557 statements to police officers, when		power of Appellate Court to ms; be used in-, sec 162 (1)	203	direct further-, sec 428	636
police diaries not to be used as-		certificate of Inspector General in the ease, see 172 (2)	231	of Prisons regarding lunstic record of-in inquests by Magis		accused to be received in-trates, sec 176 (1)	210	473	701
power to direct copies of deposi-		in proceedings under sec 488
tions and exhibits to be receiv		for maintenance of wives and ed 1n-, see 189	255	children, see 488 (6)	727
record of-in Magisterial inquiries		report of commissioner and deposi into Sessions cases, see 208	319	tion of commissioner to be-in record of-in summons cases,		case see 507	761
sec 244 (1)	374	deposition of medical witnesses	•••
	314	may be given in-, see 500	763 record of-for prosecution in war	389	report of chemical examiner may rant cases, see 252 (1)		be used as-, see 510	765
-for defence, see 256 (1)	395	record of-in absence of accused,	••• process for compelling production		sec 512	766 of-st instance of accused		500 DIE
sec 257 (1)
	398 examination of accused before	31/3	Lyambatina examination of accused before Magistrate to be—at Sessions		I vamination examination of accused before	430	of witnesses by police sec 161	202 examination of accused before Magistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287		of witnesses by police sec 161	202 800 examination of accused before Magistrate to be—at Sessions	430	of witnesses by police sec 161 of complainant, sec 200 of complainant by Magistrate
examination of accused before Magistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287 —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288		of complainant, sec 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases,	800
examination of accused before Magistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287 —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288 statement of approver may be	430	of witnesses by police sec 161 of complainant, sec 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, sec 208
exmination of accused before Magistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287 —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288 statement of approver may be given in—in proceedings	430 432	of witnesses by police sec 161 of complainant, sec 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions eases, sec 208 of accused by Magistrate	800
exmination of accused before Magistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287 —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288 statement of approver may be given in—in proceedings against him, see 239 (2)	430	of witnesses by police see 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 208 of accused by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases,	213
examination of accused before Magistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287 —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288 statement of approver may be given in—in proceedings against him, see 339 (2) answers of accused in his examina	430 432	of witnesses by police see 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magnstrate enquiring into Sessions eases, see 208 of accused by Magnstrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 209	800
examination of accused before Magairate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287 —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288 statement of approver may be given in—in proceedings against him, see 289 (2) answers of accused in his examination may be used in—in any	430 432	of witnesses by police sec 161 of complainant, sec 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, sec 209 of accused by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, sec 209 of witnesses by Magistrate	213
examination of accused before Magairate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287  —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288  statement of approver may be given as the second of approver may be given as the second of the second	430 432 492	of witnesses by police see 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 203 of accused by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 209 of witnesses by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases	819 523
examination of accused before Magnitrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions to the process of the session of t	430 432	—of witnesses by police see 161 —of complainant, see 200 —of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 208 —of accused by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, —of avtinesses by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 212	213
examination of accused before Magairate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287  given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288 statement of approver may be given in—an proceedings against him, see 280 (20 main any see 190 (20 may be used in—an any other tinal of accused, see 312 (2) conviction on—partly recorded by	430 432 492	of witnesses by police see 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, or a secued by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 of witnesses by Magistrate with the seed of the seed o	819 523
examination of accused before Magnitate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287  —given at preliminary enquiry and the session of the	430 433 492 499	or winesses by police ace 161 of complainant, sec 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, sec 203 by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, sec 203 of accused by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases were 212 of supplementary witnesses by Vagistrate after commitment,	819 523
examination of accused before Magaistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287  —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288 statement of approver may be given in—in proceedings against him, see 859 (2) answers of accused in his examination may be used in—in any constitution of accused, see 312 (2) in of accused, see 312 (2) one Magaistrate and partly by one Magaistrate and partly by another, see 230 (1)	430 432 492	on winesses by police see 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 of witnesses by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 of witnesses by Magistrate after commitment, are 219 digital after commitment, are 219 digital and policy of supplementary witnesses by Magistrate after commitment, are 219 digital and policy of supplementary witnesses by Magistrate after commitment, are 219 digital and policy of supplementary witnesses by Magistrate after commitment, are 219 digital and policy of supplementary witnesses by Magistrate after commitment, are 219 digital and policy of supplementary witnesses by Magistrate after commitment, and policy of supplementary witnesses	819 523
examination of accused before Magairate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287  given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288  statement of approve may be grainst him, see 839 (2)  answers of accused in be examination may be used in—in any other trial of accused, see 282 (3)  conviction on—parity recorded by another, see 830 (1)  another trial of accused, see 300 (2)  see 322 (3)  another accused, see 320 (3)  another accused, see 320 (3)  another, see 830 (1)  —to be taken in presence of taken in presence of the see 320 (1)  —to be taken in presence of the see 320 (1)	430 432 492 499 523	or witnesses by police ace 161 of complainant, sec 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, sec 203 of accused by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, sec 203 of accused by Magistrate authorises by Magistrate and Sessions cases were 212 of supplementary witnesses by Vagustrate after commitment, are 219 of complainant in summons	819 823 829 837
examination of accused before Magnitate to be—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions to the Session of th	430 433 492 499	on witnesses by police see 161 of complanant, see 200 of complanant by Magnatate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 208 of accused by Magnatate see 209 into Sessions cases, see 209 of witnesses by Magnatate enquiring into Sessions cases see 212 of supplementary witnesses by Magnatate after commitment, and see 200 of the second service 212 of supplementary witnesses by Magnatate after commitment, and see 200 of the second service 200 of the second second service 200 of the second sec	800 819 523 529
examination of accused before Magairate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287  —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288  statement of approver more dings argainst him, see 839 (2)  answers of accused in his examination may be used in—in any other trial of accused, see 312 (3)  conviction on—partly recorded by one Magairate and partly by —to be taken in presence of accused see 253  manner of recording—in Presidency and accused see 353  manner of recording—in Presidency	430 433 492 499 523 526	on witnesses by police ace 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, on the second of accused by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 of witnesses by Magistrate with the seed of witnesses by Magistrate after commitment, are 210 political magistrate after commitment and political magistrate after commitment a	819 823 829 837
examination of accused before Magnistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 257 — at Sessions trial, see 257	430 432 492 499 523	of omplanant, see 200     of complanant see 200     of complanant by Magnatate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 208     of arcused by Magnatate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 208     of arcused by Magnatate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 219     of supplementary witnesses by Magnatate enquiring into Sessions cases see 219     of seep see 219     of seep see 219     of seep see 219     of accused to form part of accused to form part of record in summary trials.	819 523 329 837 571
examination of accused before Magairate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287  —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288 statement of approver may be given in the second of approver may be given in the second of a second	430 435 492 499 523 526 527	on winesses by police see 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 of the seed of t	819 823 829 837
examination of accused before Magnistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287 —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288 states at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288 states at the see 288 states at the see 288 (2) answers of accused in m=n proceedings against him, see 839 (2) answers of accused in his examination may be used in—in any other trial of accused, see conviction on—partly recorded by one Magnistrate and partly by another, see 330 (1) —to be taken in presence of accused see 353 manner of recording—in Presidency accused see 353 manner of recording—in Presidency access 353 accused see 353 summons cases, see	430 433 492 499 523 526	on witnesses by police ace 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 208 by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 208 of accused by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases we 212 of supplementary witnesses by Vagistrate after commitment, are 219 of complainant in summons cases see 24 form part of complainant in summons cases see 24 form part of econod on summary trials, see 203 record a summary trials, see 203 records are used to the summary trials, see 203 records of accused before Vagistrate	819 523 329 837 571
examination of accused before Magnitate to be—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions trial, see 257—at Sessions to the Session of th	430 432 492 499 523 526 527 527	on winesses by police see 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 of the seed of t	800 819 823 829 837 874 411
examination of accused before Magistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287  given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288  statement of approve may be accused in a see any trial, see 289 (2)  answers of accused in his examination may be used in—in any other trial of accused, see 312 (3)  conviction—partly recorded by another, see 330 (1)  —to be taken in presence of accused see 353  manner of recording—in Presidency towns see 353  manner of recording—in Presidency towns see 354  record of—in summons cases, see 355  record of—in summons cases, see 355  record of—in other cases, see	430 433 492 499 523 526 527 527 529	on witnesses by police ace 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, or a secured by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 of witnesses by Magistrate with the seed of witnesses by Magistrate after commitment, are 210 of supplementary witnesses by Vagistrate after commitment, are 210 of supplementary in mismons cases see 214 of seeded to form part of record in summary trials, are 223 of the seeded before Magistrate of seeded before seeded of seeded of seeded before seeded of seeded before seeded of see	819 523 329 837 571
examination of accused before Magnistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 257 — at Sessions to session trial, see 257 — at Sessions to see 257 — at Sessions trial,	430 432 492 499 523 526 527 527	—of witnesses by police see 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magnstrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 complainant by Magnstrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 complainant sees of 200 complainant in Sessions cases, see 201 complainant in summons cases see 214 of complainant in summons cases see 214 complainant in summons cases see 215 complainant in summons cases complainant in summons cases cases and complainant in summons cases cases and complainant in summons cases cases cases and complainant in summons cases	800 819 323 329 337 374 411 450
examination of accused before Magistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 287  —given at preliminary enquiry admissible see 288  statement of approver may be statement of approver may be statement of approver procedures are successful as a season than see 289 (20 manyers of accused in be examination may be used in—in any other trial of accused, see 312 (3)  —conviction on—partly recorded by one Magistrate and partly by mother trial of accused. see 312 (3)  —accused see 553  —accu	430 432 492 499 523 526 527 527 529	on witnesses by police see 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 of accused by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 of witnesses by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 of supplementary witnesses by Vagistrate after commitment, are 219 of complainant in summons cases see 20 to form part of record in summary trials, see 203 of accused before Magistrate to be evidence in Sessions cases see 201 of security of accused before Magistrate to be evidence in Sessions cases see 201	800 818 323 329 337 374 411 450 442
examination of accused before Magnistrate to be—at Sessions trial, see 257 — at Sessions to session trial, see 257 — at Sessions to see 257 — at Sessions trial,	430 433 492 499 523 526 527 527 529	on witnesses by police see 161 of complainant, see 200 of complainant by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, on the second of accused by Magistrate enquiring into Sessions cases, see 200 of supplementary witnesses by Vagistrate after commitment, are 219 of supplementary witnesses by Vagistrate after commitment, are 210 of complainant in summons of complainant in summary trials, see 221 of accused before Vagistrate for accused before Vagistrate for accused as to—of witnesses 221	800 819 323 329 337 374 411 450

luropean British Subject-(contd.)

528D

l viction

trisl of person as an-who is not party declared in possession of property under see 145 to retain really so, not invalid, see 523C 816 application of Acts conferring jurisdiction on Magistrates or Courts of Session to—, see

ndorsement-(contd )		i cror
cost of enforcing nuisance order		in charge not material unless it	t recoverable from another dis		has occasioned a failure of	ŧ.
trict on-by Magistrate of such		justice see 225	31
district, sec 140 (2)	152	effect of material—in charge, see 232	33
complaint which he is not		court may correct clerical-in judg	33
competent to take cognisance,		ment, see 369	55
sec 201 (1)	205	finding or sentence when rever	55
warrant for levy of fine may be		sible by reason of-or omission
executed outside jurisdiction		in charge or other proceed
on-by Magistrate of the Dis	•	ings, sec 537	82
trict, sec 387 (1)	565	P
warrant for the recovery of penalty of bond by attachment		I scape of property in other district		person arrested not to be subject ed to more restraint than is of property in other district on-by Dist Magistrate of such		necessary to present, sec 50 district, sec 514 (8)	763	power of police to arrest with	- out warrant persons who-
Inglish Language		from lawful custody, sec 51	45
translation into-of record, when		power on-to pursue and retake, commitment to High Court,		see 66	63
sec 218 (2)	337	ful custody, sec 181 (1)	246
evidence given in-, when to be		141 (03104), 866 181 (1)	- translated, sec 356 (2)	529	1 scaped Convict translation in—of evidence given in any other language, sec 356 (3)	529	certain persons bound to report the power of Local Government to	040	presence in his locality of any direct Sessions Judge or Magis		person believed to be an-,	41
trate to take down evidence		sec 45 (1) (b) warrant to landholder for arrest	41
in-sec 337 proviso	:32	ol-, sec 78 (1)	71
memorandum in-of examination	538	execution of sentences on-,
of accused see 364 (3) judgment may be written in the-,	203	sec 396 (1)	572
sec 367 (1)	514	1 manness Politich Subject (-,		definition of , sec 4 (i)	6
l'nhancement		sentences which Courts and Magis
Appellate Court cannot pass an		trates may pass on-, see 34A	30
order of-of sentence, see 423	612	jury for the trial of -, see 275	422
High Courts power of-of sen		assessors for trial of-, see 284A	425
tence in revision, sec 439		trial of-or European or American jointly accused with others,
(1) (6)	667	see 285A	426
		mode of selecting jurors for trial	٠.
Inticement		ol-, see 326	450
-of a married woman, com		of Chap XXXIII to sec 443	685
poundable see 345 prosecution for—of married woman,	510	procedure in summons case where	055 see 199	298	one of the Parties is an-
300 200		sec 445	687
m 4		procedure in warrant case where
Entry		one of the parties is an-,	689
in book of the substance of information relating to cogniz		court to inform accused who is an-	000
able cases sec 154	194	as to his rights in certain on unsustenable charges and		cases, see 447	690 effect of such— sec 273 —on charge by Judge to the	421	special provisions relating to	691
effect that accused should not		appeals by—, sec 449	034
be retried after discharge of		special provisions relating to-, not to apply to certain cases
jury operates as an acquittal		of contempt, sec 480 (2)	719
sec 308	469	procedure of claim of a person to	815
High Court's power of revision		be dealt with as-, sec 528A	013
does not apply to an-made		failure to plead status of-amounts	816

Appellate Court-, see 430

-not limited by complaint or Summons in summons case, record in cases tried summarily.

power of Appellate Court to alter or reverse- sec 423 power of Appellate Court to alter where no appeal lies to contain-, sec 263 (h) Court's power to record a-in trial with aid of assessors where it finds no evidence against accused sec 289 (3)

l'inai

I inding

sec 216

1063

377

410

439

612

863

prosecution for—by approver not to be entertained without sanction of High Court, see 339 (3)	492	or reverse—in contempt cases see 486 (1) —of Criminal Court not to be set aside for proceedings in a wrong place see 531 —not to be deemed invalid on	723 820
Fa'se Name and Address person committing offence before police officer may be arrested for giving—, see 57 (1)	58	the ground of omission to pre pare charge, see 535 (1)  when reversible by reason of error or omission in charge or other proceedings, see 537	826 828
False Seals Warrant to Police Officer to search for and seize—, sec 98	87	Fine power of Magistrates to pass sentence of—, see 82 power of Magistrate to aentence to imprisonment in default of—,	27
Farmer Warrant may be directed to a—, for arrest of escaped convict, ace 78 (1)	71	see 33	28
Father order on—for making montbly allowance for maintenance of child, see 488 (1)	726	leability of juror or assessor to-	273 483
Fees order on accused to pay certain— paid by complainant in non cognisable cases see 546A payment of pleader s—in local enquiry, see 148 (3)	857 190	370 (i) warrant for levy of-, sec 386 execution of warrant for levy of-,	554 563 565 566
lemales mode of searching person of— sec 52 exemption of—from sentence of whipping, sec 393 (a) power to compel restoration of abducted—, sec 532	43 5"0 863	sentence of imprisonment in default of payment of—, 388 (2) 565, power of Court to sentence to—in leu of sentence of whipping,	566 571
tencing conditional order for the—of tank, well or excavation sec 133	141	tion out of fine, see 545 moneys ordered to be paid re coverable as—, see 547 compensation awarded under	633 358 right to, see 143	162	553 to be recovered as, sec 553	ic.

Failure-(contd )

Laise Answers

False Charge

laise Evidence

finding or sentence not to be reversed on account of mis accused not punishable for giving ---, but Court and Jury may draw such inference as they prosecution for-, sec 195(1)(b) 274

think just, see 342 2)

reversed on account of mis-direction in charge to jury, unless there has been a—of justice, see 537

sec 161 (2)

see 175 (1)

persons summoned at inquests not bound to answer questions which would expose them to-,

of pardon to accomplice,

lirst Information —see 'Information'		Forged Documents see "Documents" search for—, sec 98	87
lirst Offender power of Court to release—on pro- bation instead of senteneing to punishment, see 552 (1) conviction and release of—with admonition, see 562 (1A) power to deal as—may be exer	8 7	lorgery who can institute complaint for offence of-relating to docu ments given in evidence, see 195(i)(c)
cised by Appellate Court or by High Court in revision, sec 562 (2) High Courts power to set aside order of release as—, and to pass sentence on such offender, sec 562 (3)	877	Forms  power of High Court to Irsme—for use of subordinate courts, see 551 —under the eode, see Schedule V
haviour of persons dealt with as-, sec 562 (4)	878	lorwarding  of accused to Magistrate when investigation eannot be com pleted in 21 hours, sec 167	226
provision in ease of—failing to observe conditions of his re- cognizance, see 563 conditions as to abode of—, see 561	880 880	of accused to Magistrate for trial or commitment, sec 170 (1)	231
lisheries Included in the expression I and or water', sec 145 (2) disputes as to—sec 145	162 162	witness who refuses to attend police investigation, see 171 —of particulars of offence to Magistrate, see 173(1)(a)	233 236
lood destruction of adulterated—, see 521	782	Friends delivery of lunatic to care of-, see 475	702
lorce use of envil— to disperse unlawful assemblies, see 123 use of military—to disperse un lawful assemblies, see 129	136 156	l rivolous Accusation compensation to accused for—in summons eases, see 250 (1) ,, appeal from an order directing payment of compensation for—, see 250 (3)	280 281
loreign Civil Court execution of commission by—, sec 503	756	Fugitive Offenders power of police to arrest without warrant persons punishable under the Act, sec 54 (1)
foreman of Jury Migistrate to nominate—in nuis ance cases sec 138 apointment of—in Sessions trials, sec 280 verdict of jury to be informed by—, sec 301	148 431 457	Further Evidence High Court's power to direct tak 10g of - in capital sentence cases, see 375 (1)	48 556
Forfeiture —of Bond, see "Bond" witness at police investigation not bound to answer questions, which would expose him to—,		High Court may direct—into com	556

202

491

Gare Hills

or sec 204 (2)

G

code not in force in-, sec 1

Government Servant

1065

65

Local Government may extend		service of summons on,-, sec 72	65
orders under sec 144 beyond two months by notification in		certain—exempted from serving as	477
official sec 141 (1)	155	Juinto de Dao	411 publication of preliminary and re-		Government Solicitor
vised list of jurors for High Court in the local official-		-can conduct prosecution with sec 311 (1)	475	out permission of Court,
notice of sittings of High Court		sec 495 (1)	745
Sessions to be given in local		Corena official—, sec 335 (3) power of Governor General to	484	Governor —-is an ex officio Justice of the power of Governor-General to transfer cases and appeals by		peace, sec 25	22 notification in-, see 527 (1)	805	1, publication of rules framed by		Governor General In Council
High Court for inspection of		sanction of required for prosecu records of subordinate courts in local official—, sec 55% (3)	864	tion of officer or soldier in in total dinetal—, see 339 (s)		Army, sec 132 prosecution for offences against	137
		State under authority from-General Repute fact that a person is a habitual		sec 196	287 offender may be proved by		prosecution for certain classes of offender may be proved by evidence of -, sec 117 (4)	117	criminal conspiracy under authority from—, sec 196A	290
•		may exempt salaried officer of	200
Good Behavlour		Government from serving as a
See ' Security'		nuror, see 318 (4)	813
security for-from persons disse-		-may direct place where High Court should hold its sittings, minating seditious matter, sec 108	108	sec 335	484
security for-from vacrants and	-00	power of-to suspend or remit suspected persons, see 109	109	sentence, sec 401 (1) —may call for opinion of Judge	580
security for-from habitual offend ers, sec 110	110	who passed the order of convic procedure in cases of security for-	110	tion as to the suspension or to be same as in warrant cases,		remission of the sentence,
sec 117 (2)	117	sec 401 (2) 530,	582
order that a Magistrate may pass	121	power of—to cancel suspension or remission of sentence.
for maintaining—, see 118 (1) appeal from order requiring secu	121	see 401 (3)	581
rity for-, sec 406	593	-may give directions as to suspension of sentences sec	582
Good Tsith no suit to lie in respect of any		581 581, power of—to commute sentence, thing done in-, sec 110 (3)	153	see 402 (1)	582
Magistrate not empowered by law		power of-to appoint Public Pro
doing certain things in-, his		secutor, sec 492 power of to transfer criminal	740 proceedings not to be set aside, sec 529	817	cases and appeals, see 527	805
300
Government		Grievous Hurt
See Local Government"		offence of—compoundable with permission of court, see 345 (2)	510
service of summons on-servant,	63	permission of court, see 513 (2)	310
sec 72 (1) attachment of land paying revenue	63	Grounds to-to be made through Collec		public place includes camping-tor of District, see $8 (4)	33	and-left unoccupied for sani-
when—servant may be excused		tary and recreative purposes, see 133	111
from service as juror or assessor, see 329	452
		Guardian
Government Advocate		complaint by-with leave of court for adultery or enticement of married woman, sec. 199	299
General Sec 1 (a)

Gazette

Guilty

invardian—(contd)

copy of maintenance order may be given free to—of person allow ed maintenance, see 490

736

Hearing-(contd )

evidence of witnesses to be record ed in presence and—of Magis trate or Sessions Judge, sec 336 (1)

Magistrate to certify that examina

5.29

plea of—, see "Plea"  H  Habeas Corpus power of High Court to issue directions of the nature of ac- sec 491	738	Magistrate to certify that evamination of accused was taken in inspreseme and—, see 854 (2)—  The state of th	537 538 608 610 612
Habitual arrest of-offenders see 55 security for good behaviour from security for good behaviour from security for good behaviour from the factor of general repute see 117 (4) order for notifying address of-offenders, see 561	55 110 117 880	Judgment of Appellate Court need not be delivered in-of accused, see 123 — before third judge when judges are equally divided in opinion, see 420 — of pares in revisional applications not compulsors, see 440 High Court	633 639 676
Heads of Charge to Jury's  ee' Charge to Jury'  Heads of Villagers  Cr. P. C. not to apply to—in Madras Presidency, see 1 (4) (b) —bound to report certain matters to Police, see 8; investigations into sudden deaths may be made by—in Presiden cies of Madras and Bomboy, certain—in Medras are deemed Magistrates authorsed to with draw classes of cases, see 528 (6)	1 41 238	meaning of— see 1 (i) judges of—are at officio Justices of the Pearce, see 25 sentence which—may pasts, see 31 (1) sentence of death passed by Sessions Judge subject to con firmation by— see 31 (2) —may require Postal or Tele graph authorities to deliver any document in their posses soons see 20 (1) see 101 (1) power of—to order convicted person to furnish security for keeping the peace, see 106	6 22 26 26 81 273
Health conditional order to desist from entrying on trade or occupation injurious to—, see 133 power to issue order absolute in urgent case of apprehended with the seed of apprehended with paning not to be inflicted on offender not in a fit state of health, see 301  Hearing affidavit supporting service of summons necessary, when make the seed of the case, see 74 record of confession to bear the certificate of Magnitare that it was taken in his presence and—, see 164 (8)	141 155 571 67	(1), (3) power of -to decide place of trial or inquiry in case of doubt, see 185 commutment to—for trial, see 206 made under see 218 and 214 see 215 order of commitment to—, see 218 on commitment to— charge etc, to be forwarded see 218 power of—to direct a new trial where charge defective, see definition of—, see 266 trial before—fo be by Jury, see 267 —may stay proceedings when charge appears to be clearly unusuatriable, see 27b before—	98 249 317 833 329 -39 351 414 421 421

High Court-(contd) High Court-(Contd)
and by special mirors in-, sec may miret jety of amount 276 (thirdly) 422 due on certain recognizances,
-treation to purers in trial belone - are but	3
may make rules for locking up examination of any wilness, coc 996 430 400 201) . 7.5	a verdict of jury in-, when to pre power of chartered-to make rules vail, see 303 463 for inspection of records of of accused after discharge subordinale courts, see 511 80 of jury, in-, see 308 469 affidants for use before-, see 579 85 and before Advocate General	-
-to hold sittings on such days See "Bench if Magistrales" as Chief Justice appoints 191 can 335
	0
	•
496 of a door by window (il-for nower of to allow compounding of	17 offence, sec 313 (3/3) 17 or the taking of additional emdence, sec 375
of to confirm sentence	63 of death or annul conviction, states of suspected to contain
Constant of death sentence of	87
In telescrice assess	43
sec 378 Ilouse Search reference by Presidency Magis House Search reference by Police Officer, sec 165
trate to-, see 432 by Press	22.3
order of on telepence dency Magistrate see 333 offence of—compoundable, tet 315 offence of—triable summarily offence of—triable summarily 510 403 inferior courts, sec 435 (1) 646 Hurt inferior courts, sec 435 (1) inferior courts, sec 436 650 offence of causing—triable sum power of—to order inquiry sec 436 650 marily, sec 200 power of to truer industry for report to by Sessions Judge for report to by Sessions Judge for of causing compound to report to—by Sessions Judge for offence of causing—compoundable with leave of court sessions.	403 reversing or aftering sentence, 661 with leave of court, see 315
Thehand	510
powers of revision of Press to consider statement by Press dency Magistrate of grounds dency Magistrate of grounds of his decision, see 411 677 of his decision, see 412 order of—to be certified to lower order of—to be certified to lower 412 678 court of dayler to be Rangoon, see at relating to hall of see 315 (4) on be special provisional to- see 419 691 who may make a complement	512 appeals from and to— see 419 691 who may make a complaint for appeals from and to— see 419 691 who may make a complaint for appeals from on behalf of—husband, sec 199
sec 491	203
power of outside the see 491A 739 see Arrest

fflegal Custody see "Habeas Corpus"	Imprisonment—(contd)  power to appoint place of—  sec 511  830
filegitimate Child order for maintenance of—, sec 188 726
filness  police officer present at police sta  tion to be in charge of police	esidence in jury trial, see station on—of permanent otherer in charge, see 4 (p) 8 discharge of jury for—of prisoner, see $3	Incapacity  of lunatic to make his defence, see 461 (2) 672
finmerable Property see 'Property disputes regarding—, see 145 162	Incidental Orders  power of appellate courts to make  such—as it might ileem just or  proper, see 123 (1) (d) 612
[mpsrtia]	Incompetency of Magistrates transfer of ease where applicant has legitimate grounds for believ- ing that be will not get fair and impartial inquirs or trial	to hear ease in which he is personally interested, see 556 963
sec 526 789 Imperfect Charge	incorporated Company mode of service of summons on-, see 69 64
see "Charge" procedure on commitment with-, see 226 345	Inducement Impoundingof document or thing produced before Court by Court, see 104 94	knowledge should not be offered sec 313 501
Imprisonment limits to sentence of-by Courts of	Inference Judge and jury may drau-from Magistrates see 32 27 power of Magistrate to sentence to —in default of fine, see 33 28	refusal of accused to ansuer questions or for ansuering falsely, see $12 (2) 499
limit to sentence of—by Magistrate specially empowered limiter see 30 see 51 25, 30	Inferior Court sentence of—on European British subjects, see 311 30	power to call for records of—, see 435
in default of furnishing secu rity for keeping the peace or	Influencenot to be used to induce dis for good behaviour, see 123 (1) 123 power to release from of person failing to give security for	elosures sec 343 501 Information
tion allowed for frivolous or	duty of certain persons to send- to nevrest police station about false accusations see 250 380 execution of sentence of—, sec 383 561	public to give-of certain offences, warrant for execution of sentence of, see 381, 385 563	see 44 (1) 59 police may arrest without warrant suspension of execution of sentence of—, see SSS 563 limit of—in summary trials, see 262 410 —of person refusing to answer	search of house upon-that it is questions or produce docu ment sec 185	used for deposit of stolen pro- perts, etc sec 98 (1) 87 —regarding the commission of A breach of the peace sec 107 100

141 lunocent Purchaser

107

110

115

116

162 public to assist Magistrate or Police in preventing-to Rail payment to-of money found on accused sec 519 way Canal, Telegraph or Public property, sec 4. power to issue temporary orders to prevent—, to health sec 144 (1)

Information-(contd)

-upon which the Magistrate can

Magistrate to set out only substance of received see 112 114 inquiry as to truth of-, sec 117 -regarding existence of public nusance, sec 123 (1)

---received by Magistrate about dispute likely to cause a breach of peace sec 145 (1) on which the Magistrate pro

-by Magistrate about presence of habitual offenders within his proceed, sec 107n

jurisdiction, sec 110

38

155

in cognizable cases sec 151 1: in non-eognizable cases, sec	186 194 195	power to hold—and procedure relating to same, sec 178 when Magistrate himself to hold— sec 176 —by Magistrate not empowered by law do not vitiate pro- ceedings, sec 579 (c)	23 21 81
	198	Inquiry definition of— sec 4 (1)
other accidental death sec 174 2 cognizance of offence by Magis	237	-as to truth of information upon which action under see 112 taken sec 117	210
trate on received from any person other than a police		by police into cases of stricide, officer sec 190 256 2 		ordinary place of-of offence, sec 177	237
Ingress		-by Court into offence in dis- trict where act is done, or	219
person residing in house to allow free—to police officer search	46	where consequence ensues sec 1"9  —into offence of being a thug	213
power of police officer to break open door or window to obtain	•••	or belonging to a gang of dacoits sec 181 place of—where scene of offence	210
ingress for purposes of search sec 48	47	uncertain sec 182 —into offence committed on a journey, sec 183	217
or more respectable of the	92 237	—into offences against Railway, Telegraph and Arms Act, see 184 High Court to decide place of— where uncertain see 185 pour of Vagastrate to make—into offence committed beyond local variabletion see 186	215 219 219
Initiation of Proceedings conditions requisite for- see 190 2	256	into offences committed by Betish subjects out of British India see 188 into case by Magistrate on	254
Injunction  —by Magistrate pending enquiry in cases of public puisance		receipt of complaint of an offence see 202 power to examine accused at any stage of - see 312	306
sec 142	151 150	power to order— sec 436 resumption of—into offen	498 650
Injurious Trade or Occupation		-into certain offences affecting	697
power to suspend-, sec 133	141	4"6	703

Inquiry—(contd) power of Civil and Revenue Courts to complete—and commut to High Court or Sessions Court, see 478 power of High Court to oriler— into offence by some other court, see 526	717 789	Interpreter —bound to interpret truthfully, sec 543 Interrogatories when parties to forward—, sec 503 Interruption	851
Insanity See Lunatie"		record in contempt cases to show nature of-or insult, sec 181 (2)	721
Inspection  Court may specify in warrant particular place for search and —, see 97 person in charge of closed place to allow-to person executing warrant, see 102 —of weights and measures, see 153 deposition of witnesses examined by commission to be open to- of the parties, see 507 (1) —of lunative by officer appointed Local—by Judge or Magnirate, see 550B power of High Court to make prover of High Court to make prover of Trecords of sub ordinate courts, see 551 (1)	86 92 761 702 816 861	In all what proceedings are—, sec 529 what proceedings are not— sec 530 proceedings not—by reason of their being done in wrong place, sec 531 siregular commitments not—when objection not taken during enquiry and before commit ment, sec 532 proceedings not—by reason of omission to give information under sec 457, sec 535 made in the by jury for offence the with by jury for offence the with assessors, sec 536 (1) train not—by reason of being held with assessors for offence triable with jury unless object.	817
Inspector General of Prisons eertificate of—as to capacity of lunatic prisoner to make defence, see 473 eertificate of—as to fitness of lunatic accused to be released, see 474 (1)	701 702	tion taken before finling, see 535 (2) finding or sentence when not— by reason of error or other sion in charge or other pro- ceedings, see 537 (2) attachment not—on account of defect or want of form in proceedings see 538	827 828 843
Instruments search of—for counterfeiting coins sec 98	87	Investigation —defined, sec 4 (l) —into non cognizable cases,	7
Insult offence of—compoundable, see 345 offence of—with intent to provoke breach of peace triable sum manly, sec 200 (1) (1)	5]0 403	see 155 (2) —nto cognizable cases, see 156 —into case, where cognizable offence suspected, see 157 where local—dispensed with, see 157 (1) (c) report of local—see 153	196 197 198 198 199
Interest personal—of Judge or Magistrate, a bar to their trying the case, sec 556	865	power to hold—or preliminary enquiry, sec 159 police officer making—may require attendance of witnesses sec 160 power of police officer making—to examine witnesses, sec 161	199 202 202
Inter ocutory Orders ——in sec 144 proceedings, sec 144	155	statements made to police officer in course of to be signed sec 162	203
Interpretation  of evidence to witness, sec 260  of evidence to accused or his	531 535	search by police officer making	220 223
pleader sec 361 (1)  of record of examination of accused, sec 364 (1)	535 537		226

231 Joinder of Carges See "Charge"

231 Joinder of Parties

230 warrant to be lodged with-when prisoner is to be confined in jatl, sec 385

Investigation-(contd)

sec 170 (1)

report of by subordinate police officer, sec 168 release of accused when—does not justify trial or commitment, sec 169 case to be sent to Magistrate when -discloses sufficient evidence.

563

duary of proceedings in-sec 172 -to be completed without undue	231	when there may be-, sec 239	36
delay, sec 173 (1)	236	Joint Appeal right of-when appealable sentence subordinate Magistrate about truth or falsehood of a com	200	has been passed in respect of one of the parties, see 415A	60
plaint, sec 202  —by police by order under sec 155 by Magistrate not	306	appeal on both fact and law in-by persons, one of whom has been sentenced to death, sec 418 (1)	60-empowered by law, does not vitiate proceedings, sec 529	817	Joint Sessions Judge not to be conducted by police officer below the rank of police		in former Acts to mean Additional Session Judge, sec 3 (2)	4 inspector, sec 561 (2)	876	Joint Trial when there may be-, sec 239	368
Irregularity		when there may be-, see 205	øud which does not vitiate pro- ceedings, sec 529 —which vitiates proceedings,	817	Journey jurisdiction in offences committed on a-, tec 183	245
acc 530 —on ground of proceedings	817
taking place in wrong place, acc 531 —caused by omitting to give	820	Appointment of—for every Sessions Court, sec 9 (1)	12
information under sec 447	826	Assistant Sessions—, sec 9 (3)	18
in preparation of tharge, acc 535	826	power to suspend or remove-,	22
finding or sentence when reversible by reason of—in charge or	044	prosecution of-for offence com mitted in discharge of official other proceedings, sec 537	828	duties sec 197 duty of-in trials by jury, sec 208	291 455
ate attachment, sec 538	843	procedure where—disagrees with verdict of Jury sec 307	461
3		power of—to question jury for ascertaining verdict, see 303 exemption of salaried—from service	158
Jail		as jurors, sec 320 procedure in case of difference of	477
direction of warrant for execution to officer in charge of— sec 384	563	opinion between Bench of—s, see 378	508
warrant to be lodged with jailor when prisoner is to be confined in- sec 385	563	Appeal are equally divided, see 429	639 appellant in-may file appeal through officer in charge of-	607	referred to in sec 195, when committed before themselves.
sec 420 release from—on execution of bul		sec 437	721
bond, sec 500 (1) removal of person in civil— on conviction, to criminal—, sec	755	personally interested, sec 536	865
541 power of Presidency Magistrate to	850	Judgment order prisoner in—to be brought up for examination		record of—in summary trials, sec 264 language of—in summary trials,	413
sec 512	850	Sec 265	413

Indgment-(contd)		Jurisdiction-(contd)
in Sessions trial held with the		of Court to try eases where act aid of assessors, see 209	469	done or where consequences mode of delivering-, see 866	5 t2	ensue, sec 179	243
language and contents of -, see	5t1	to try offence of being a
	21.	thug, or belonging to a gang	216
tise, see 367 (3)	515	of dacosts, see 181 (1) —to try offences of criminal	3 10
order under sec 118 or sec 123 (3)	210	misappropriation and criminal to be deemed a-, see 367 (6)	515	breach of trust, sec 181 (2)	246
contents of a-, sec 867n	515	-to try offence of theft, see defective, see 367n	5t7	181 (8)	215
of conviction, sec 367n	518	to try offence of kidnapping or court not to alter-, sec 369	551	abduction sec 181 (4)	245
Presidency Magistrate's-, see 370	53 t	-to try offences committed in copy of-to be given to accused on		unascertained place or at application, sec 371	555 556	different places and for con
when to be translated, sec 372 of subordinate Appellate Court,	336	tinning offences, see 182	247
sec_42t	633		248
-of High Court on appeal to be	400	journey, sec 183	213
certified to lower court, see		to try offences against Rail way, Post office and Arms Act sec 181
423	63t	Act see 161	219
-of aequittal on ground of	-	-of Magistrate to issue summons
lunaey, sec 470	693	or warrant for offence com
finding or sentence when reversible		mitted beyond local-, sec 186	250
by reason of error or omission		into offences committed by in—, sec 537	828	British subjects out of British
Indiate Territor		India, sec 188	252
Judicial Inquiry See 'Inquiry		of Magistrates to take cogni
age inquiry		zance of offences, sec 190	256
Judicial Proceedings		of Courts of Sessions to take cognizance of offences see 103	270
-defined, sec ; (m)	7	of High Court to take cogni	210
		sance of offences see 194	273
Jurisdiction		-of Courts to take cognizance
local limits of-of subordinate		of courts to take cognizance of offences for contempt of Magistrates sec 12	15	unlawful authority of public
-to take cognizance of ollences under I P C sec 28		servant, sec 193 (a)	27t
under I P C sec 28	23	-of Court to take cognizance of
-to take cognizance of other	2t	certain offences against public justice, see 195(1)(b)	274
offenees, sec 20 to try European Bentish sub	4.	-of Court to take cognizance of	217
jects sec 29A	25	certain offences relating to
-in the case of juveniles,		documents given in evidence
sec 29B	25	$ee 195(1)(c)	274
-of District Magistrate and		of Court to take cognizance
1st Class Magistrate in certain		of offences against the state, territories to try all offences			287 not punishable with death,	25	- of Court to take cognizance of pursuit of offenders into other-,	2.5	cettain classes of criminal cons	290
sec 58	59	piracy, sec 198A  of Court to take cognizance of service of summons outside local		offence committed by public limits of-, sec 73	66	servants sec 197	291
warrant forwarded for execution		-of Court to take cognizance outside-, sec 83 warrant directed to police officer	75	of offence of adultery or	000
warrant directed to police officer			298
for execution outside-, sec	74	offences summarily, sec 260	403
power of police officer to investi		offences summarily, sec 260
gate into cognizable cases		Jurors within his-, sec 156 (1)	197	to be chosen by lot, sec 276	192 trial of offences committed within		nersone not summoned when local limits of Court s-, see		eligible to be chosen as-,	122
177	212	see 276, Proviso (2)

Jurors—(contd )		Jury—(contd )
trials before special- sec 276.		discharge of-in case of sickness trials before special-, sec 276, Proviso (3)	422	of prisoner, sec 283	425 names of-to be called, sec 277 (1)	423	view of place of occurrence by-, objection to-, sec 277 (2)	423	see 293	411
grounds of objection to-, see 278	423	locking up of-, sec 296	416
decision on objection to-, see	*	charge to-, sec 297	446
279 (1)	421	retirement of-to consider verdict, supply of place of-against whom	751	sec 300	457 objection allowed, see 279 (2)	424	procedure where-differs, see 302	458
swearing of -, see 281	421	discharge of-, see 305	463 procedure when—ceases to attend,		no judgment in trials by-,	400
sec 282	421	see 367 (5)	545
when-may be examined see 291	445	appeal on point of law only in	~ special list of-in High Court,	7.3	trials by-, sec 418	601
sec 312	474	verdict nf-, when can be altered list of common and special	7.7	or reversed in appeal, sec
sec 313	475	423 (2)	612
publication of preliminary and	210	discharge of-where accused found revised list of persons hable		to be a lunatic by Court or to serve as common and		pury, sec 465 (1)	695
special— see S14	475	trial not ravalid, on ground of	000
special—, sec 314 number of—to be summoned in	413	being held by-instead of by Presidency towns, see 315	476	assessora, sec 536 (1)	827
summoning of supplementary-,	2.0	trial with assessors of offence	٠
sec 315 (3)	476	triable by-not invalid unless summoning of-outside Presidency		objection taken before finding towns sec 316	476	recorded sec 536 (2)	827
Military-, sec 317	476	finding or sentence when reversible	•
failure of -to attend, sec $18	477	by reason of any misdirection liability to serve as-, sec 319	477	in charge to- sec 537	829 exemption from service as-sec 320	477	Justice
list of-in Sessions Courts see 321	479	procedure in case of offences
District Magistrate to summon- for Sessions Courts, sec 326		against sec 476	703
for Sessions Courts, sec 326	480
power to summon second set of-,		Justices of the Peace
sec 327	482	-for molussil, sec 22	21
form and contents of summons		ex officio see 23	22
to- sec 328	432	suspension and removal of-,
Court's power to excuse attend		see 27	22
ance of-, see 330 (1)	482
Court may relieve special-from		Juvenile Offenders liability to serve again as-for		confinement of-, sec 3.99	575
twelve months, see 330 (2)	482 preparation of list of-attending at each Session sec 331
at each Session sec 331	133	K
penalty for non-attendance of-		Kidnapping
sec 332	483	offence of-, where triable, sec
		181 (1)	216
T
See "Jurors"		Anculedge
person against whom order for		cognizance of offences by Magis removal of nuisance served		trates on their own-of may apply for appointment		commission of offence, sec
of— see 135	146	190 (I) (a)	256 procedure where claimed, see 138 procedure on failure to appoint-or omission to return verdict		I.
sec 141	153	Landholders
-for trial of European and		-bound to report certain
Indian British subjects and		matters sec 45	41
others, see 275 (1)	422	warrant may be directed to-for	71 appointment of foremen of-,		arrest of escaped convict,
sec _50	424	sec 78	71
191			• 1

INDEX

162

Leilers-(contd)
search warrant for search of-or

documents, sec 96
proceedings void, where Magistrate not empowered issues search warrant for—, sec 530 (b)

81

818

1074

I and or Water

I and Mark

sec 145 (2)

expression-includes building etc.

police officer to prevent injury to disputes as to-, sec 145 (1)

public-, sec 152	192	letlers Patent engnizance of offence by High
I anguage		Court does not affect its	040
in commitment to High Court,		powers under-, sec 191 (1)	273 record not in Inglish-should be		eriminal eases transferred to High translated, sec 218 (2)	337	Court under-may be tried by of charge sec 221 (6)	839	jury, sec 267	414
of record and judgment in			• summary trials sec 265 (1)	413	Levy
objection to juror ignorant of the		See "Fine"
-in which evidence given,		of eosts, sec 143 (8)	190
ser 278 (g)	423	warrant for of fine, see 336 (1)	563
-of record of evidence, see		power to direct-of amount due on 357 (1)	532	certain recognizances, see 516	773
interpretation of evidence, where		and the same
-in which it is given is not		Libelious matter understood by accused, see $61	535	destruction of-, sec 521	773
evidence given ir English-, when		00000000 01-, 860 021	,,, to be translated, sec 856 (2)	529	Licut Governor in which memo of examination of accused may be written,		ex officio Justice of the Peace,	22
see 364 (3)	537	800 25	22
-of judgment, see 367 (1)	514	Limit power of Local Government to		21 decide-of Court, sec 558	874	service of summons outside local-,	66
		sec 73	00
I aw		forwarding of warrant to Magis trate or District Superinten
questions of-to be decided by		trate of District Superinten
Judge in Jury trial, sec 298 (a)	45.	dent of Police within the local budge in but I trials acc 455 (a)	450	of whose jurisdiction it is to	74
Lawful Custody		be executed, sec 83	74 arrest without warrant of person		execution of search warrant escaping from-, see 54	48	beyond local-of jurisdiction of	-00
power to pursue and retake person	40	Court issuing it, sec 99	89
	63	security for good behaviour from escaping from-, sec 66	03	vagrants and suspected per Legal Practitioners		sons found within local-of any Magistrate's jurisdiction	109
	477	see 109	109
not to sit as Magistrates in	311	Magistrate's Power to require secu certain Courts, sec 557	873	rity for good behaviour from certain Courts, sec 557	010	habitual offenders found with l egal Representative		in the local—of his jurisdiction.	110
substitution of—on death of a		sec 110	110
party to a proceeding under		I imitation
sec 145, sec 145 (7)	162	for detention in police custody,
sec 145, sec 145 (1)	102	sec 61	61
Legitimate child		-for restoration of attached
order for maintenance of- see		property, sec 89	79
488	726	-for application for setting
100		aside exparte order for main
I etters		tenance sec 488 (6)	727
power of Court to call for-and		-for application for restoration telegrams from Postal authors		of possession of immovable ties sec 95 (1)	84	property, sec 522 (1)	782 order on Postal Department to cause search for any-, see		list
90 (2)	81	See "Juror", 'Jury"
* "		•

22

89

92

Local Generament-(contd)

Peace, sec 22

-may appoint Justices of the power of to suspend or remove

Judges or Magistrates sec 26 power of to suspend and remove

Justices of the Peace, sec 27

may invest District Magis

list-(contd)

-of things found in search beyond jurisdiction of Court issuing search warrant, to be Issuing search warrant, to be kept, see 99

—of things taken possession of, in searching a person to be prepared see 103 (4)
—of witnesses for defence when to be furnished, see 211

prepared see 103 (+)	92	may invest District Magis
of witnesses for defence when		trate or Magistrate of 1st class to be furnished, sec 211	328	to try all offences not punish able with death, sec 30	25
Live stock		- may confer additional powers disposal of-regarding which		on Magistrates, see 37	36 offence committed, sec 517 (3)	774	-may withdraw powers con
onence committed, see 311 (a)		ferred under this Code, see 41	37
		-may make rules for publica
I ocal Area		tion of proclamations see 131	145
- of Sessions division, sec 7	12	-may empower any Magistrate	110
- of Sub Division, see 8	12	to take cognizance of offences
-of jurisdiction of any Magas		for a back he was done
trate, see 12	15	for which he may try or com
-of purisdiction of special		mit for trial, sec 190 (2), (3)	256
Magistrate, see 14	16	power of-to direct copies of of jurisdiction of Presidency	10	depositions and exhibits pro or jurisdiction of Freshelley	20	duced before Political agent or Magistrate, see 19	20	other officer to be received in place of enquiry, when it is un		evidence at inquiry or trial certain in which-offence com		see 189	255
mitted sec 182	217	Additional Sessions Judge and effect of proceedings in wrong-		Assistant Sessions Judge to try aee 531	820	only such offences os-may direct them, see 103 (2)	271
Local Extent		consent of essential for prosecu
of Criminal Procedure Code		tion for certoin classes of sec (1) (2)	1	criminal conspirory see 196A	200
1100 (1) (2)			200
Local Government		sanction of-necessary for prosecu
power of-to extend operation of		tion of judges and public power of-to extent operation of		servants see 197	291
Code to excepted persons,	1	power of-as to prosecution uf
sec 1, Proviso		judges and public servonts,
-may alter the limits or number		sec 197 (2)	202
of divisions and districts	12	power of-to invest Magistrates to see 7 (2)	12	try certain offences summarily.
-may divide districts into sub		see 261	403
divisions sec 8 (2)		-may authorise the prepara power of-to establish Courts of		tion of record or judgment in Sessions and to appoint		summary trials held by a Judges for the same see 9	12	summary trials held by a Bench of Magistrates by an
-to appoint District Magistrate		officer appointed by Court, in every district sec 10	13	sec 265 (2)	413
-may appoint additional Dis		-may order trials before Court	413
trict Magistrates, sec 10 (2)	13	of Session to be by Jury
		sec 269
Mogistrates and define local			413
limits of their jurisdiction		-may prescribe the number of 19 (1)	15	jurors for particular districts
-may appoint Sub-Drussional		and particular offences sec
Magistrates, sec 13	15	271	421
-may appoint special Magis		may exempt any salaried
	16	officer of Government from
-may form Benches of Magis		serving as a juror sec 313 (4)	4*3 trates sec 15	16	may exempt any person from	-
- of to feame tules for		liability to serve as juror or guidance of Benches, sec 16 —to appoint Presidency Magis trates for Presidency towns,	1~	assessor sec 320 (c)	478 to appoint Presidence Maris		may direct place of holding of sittings of High Court,
trates to Trestant, tours,	19		451
sec 18

1	ocal Government-(contd)		I snatic power of-to suspend or remit		procedure in ease of accused sentence, sec 401 power of—to commute punishment,	580	being-, sec 461 (1)	692
	sec 402	582	procedure in ease of accused com mitted to Session being appeal on behalf of-in ease of		sec 465	695
	acousttal, sec 417	601	release of-pending investigation	000
	report to-of action taken by		or trial, sec 466 (1)	695
	Court for detention of lunatie,		custody of-, sec 466 (2)	695
	sec 466 power of—to relieve Inspector	€95	resumption of inquiry or trial of-,	com
	General of Prisons of certain		sec 467 procedure on resumption of in	697 functions, see 471	701	quiry or trial of—, sec 468	679 power of-to order release of		procedure when accused appears to	0.0
	lunatic, sec 471	702	have been a-at the time of may order delivery of lunatie		commission of offence, see 469	698
	to care of relative or friend, sec 475	702	medgment of acquittal on ground	con
	Registrar or Sub Registrar to be		of accused being a-, see 470 person acquitted on ground of	698 deemed a Civil Court within		being a-to be kept in safe
	sec 480 and 482 by direction		custody, sec 471	701 of-, see 483 power of-to appoint Police Pro	722	procedure where-prisoner is power of-to appoint Police Pro		reported capable of making secutors, see 492 power of-to appoint place of	740	his defence, see 473	701
	imprisonment, see 541	850	procedure where confined under sec 466 or 471 is declared fit power of-to authorise District		to be discharged, sec 474	702
	Magistrates to withdraw classes		delivery of-to care of relative	••- of eases, see 528 (4)	806	or friend, see 475	702 rules hy-for payment of expenses to complainants and witnesses,		Tunette Antoni
	see 511	853	Lunatic Asylum
	power of-to decide language of		detention of accused in-pending investigation or trial, see 466
	Courts, see 558	874	(Proviso), 471 (Proviso) 695,	701
_			appointment of commission to con
L	oeal Inquiry		sider propriety of detaining
	See Inquiry"		lunatic accused in a-, sec 474	702
L	ocat Inspection
	See 'Inspection"		M
	-by Court for properly appre		**
	ciating the evidence given at	811	Machinery inquiry of trial see 539B	011	duty of police to enquire where a person has been killed by-,
ĭ	ocal Investigation		see 174 (b)	237
	See 'Investigation'
	when local-may be dispensed		Madres with, sec 157(3)(a)	198	Critminal Procedure Code does not
T	ocal Jurisdiction		apply to Commissioners of
-	of Court of Session, sec 7	12	Police in the town of-unless extended by Local Govern
	-of District Magistrate, see 7 -of Sub Divisional Magistrate,	12	ment, sec I(2)(a)	1
		10	Criminal Procedure Code does not sec 8of subordinate Magistrate.	12	apply to heads of villages in-,	1
	sec 12	15	sec 1(2)(b)	-
	-of special Magistrates, see 14	16	Magistrates
	-of Benches of Magistrates,		See "Bench of Magistrates Dis
	sec 15	16	trict Magistrate, Special Magis
1	ocal Limits		trates Presidency Magistrates, Chief Presidency Magistrate
-	See 'Limits', "Local Jurisdiction"		expression as used in former Acts,
			see 3	4
1	ccal or special Laws —not affected by Criminal Pro		<ul> <li>when subordinate to District and Sub Divisional Magistrates,</li> </ul>
	cedure Code, sec 1 (2)	1	and Sub Divisional Magistrates,	18
	, ,-/	-	and 31

Magistrates-(contd)		Magistrate-(contd )
suspension and removal of-,		power of-to issue warrants for sec 26	22	power of-to issue warrants for search of persons wrongfully power of Local Government to put—in charge of sub divisions.		eonlined, see 100	91
sec 13 (1)	15	power of-to direct search in his trial of European British subjects	13	presence, sec 105	94
by 2nd and 3rd class—, see 294	25	power of certain—to order con victed persons to furnish secu jurisdiction of-in regard to juve		rity for keeping the peace, nile offenders, sec 29B	25	see 106	97
power of certain—in specified areas to try all offences not punish		power of certain-to order security able with death, sec 30	25	for keeping the peace in cer sentences which—may pass, see 42	27	tain eases, sec 107 (1)	100
power of-to sentence to imprison		to order security, see 107 (3)	101
ment in default of fine, see 33	23	information upon which—can pro	101
special powers of certain—, see 34 sentences which—may pass upon	30	ceed under sec 107, sec 107n	107
European British subject, see		power of certain-to require secu
34A	30	rity for good hehaviour from ordinary powers of -, sec 36	36	persons disseminating seditious
additional powers conferrable on-		matter, sec 108	108
sec 37 public when to assist—, sec 42	36	power of certain—to require secu certain matters to be reported to	38	rity for good behaviour from vagrants and suspected per nearest-by village headman,		sons, see 109	109
landbolder, etc., sec. 45	41	power of certain-to require seen power of-to appoint village head		rity for good behaviour from man, see 45 (3) person arrested to be taken before	42	habitual offenders, see 110	110
-without delay, see 60	60	power of-to dispense with per special order of-to detain arrested	•••	sonal attendance of person called upon to furnish security, person beyond 21 hours, see 61	61	sec 116	116
police to report to—the eases of all persons arrested without		inquiry by-as to truth of infor warrant, see 62	62	mation upon which action power of-to order arrest of person	02	taken under sec 112, sec 117	116 committing offence in his pre		order by-to furnish security for sence, sec 64	62	keeping the peace or maintain ing good behaviour, see 118	121
arrest by or in presence of—sec	62	power of-to reject surety, sec 122	125 power of certain-to direct warrant	0.2	power of certain-to release per	120 to landholders, etc., for the		sous imprisoned for failing to arrest of certain offenders,		give security, sec 121	131
sec 78 (1)	71	power of certain-to cancel any duty of—in executing warrant sent to him for execution, see $3		bond for keeping the peace or good behaviour, sec 125	***
and 84	74	power of certain—to discharge	133
procedure by-before whom person		sureties for peaceable conduct arrested is brought, sec 86	75	or good behaviour of another power of certain—to require Postal authorities to deliver any		person, sec 126	133 letter, parcel etc , sec 95	81	power of-to order dispersal of power of certain—to grant a	-	unlawful assembly, sec 127	131 warrant to search for docu		power of-to disperse unlawful assembly by civil force, see ment, parcel, etc., in the custody of Postal authorities,		123	136
sec 96 (2)	85	power of-to disperse unlawful power of certain-to issue warrant	-	assembly by military force, for the search of house		sec 129	136
suspected to contain stolen property, forged documents		-dispersing unlawful assembly not property, forged documents etc, sec 98	87	liable to prosecution for acts done, sec 132	137 power of-with regard to things	٠.	power of certain-to issue order found in search beyond juris		for removal of nuisance, sec
diction, sec 99	89	133	141

Magistrate-(contd )		Magistrate-(contd)
		procedure by not competent to	• appears to show cause against		take cognizance of the case, order for removal of nuisance,		sec 201	305
sec 137	117
		inquiry into complaint by-procedure by-where jury claimed		see 202	306
by person ordered to remove		dismissal of complaint by-,
nuisance see 138	148	sec 203	310 inquiry by-into existence of any inquity by-into existence of any		issue of process by-, sec 301	818 public right, see 139A	151	-may dispense with personal power of-to issue injunction pend		attendance of accused, sec 205	314
ing inquiry, see 142	151	precionance of accused, see 100
	131	power of-to commit for trial,
may prohibit repetition or con		sec 206	317
tinuance of public nuisance.		procedure to be adopted by-in
sec 143	154
power of certain-to issue order		inquiries preparatory to commitment, sec 207	318
absolute at once in urgent		taking of evidence produced by-,
cases of nuisance or appre			210
hended danger, see 144	138	sec 208	319
	100	discharge of accused by-, sec 209	323
power of certain-to inquire into		when charge to be framed by-disputes as to immovable pro		against accused, sec 210	325
perty which is likely to cause		agamet accused, see 210	023
	163	power of-to examine witnesses breach of the peace, sec 145	100	named in list given by accused,
power of-to attach subject of dis		see 212	829
pute, scc 146	183
		power of-to examine supple-power of certain-to inquire into		mentary witnesses, see 219	537 disputes concerning rights of		-may convict accused in use of immovable property, 186
etc, see 117	100	mission, sec 213	374
power of-to order local inquiry,		procedure by-when no admission
sec 146	190		375
		made see 214	213
order of-necessary for investiga		power of-to record order of tions into non cognizable eases,		acquittal, sec 245	576
sec 155 (2)	196	power of-to sentence accused,
power of certain-to record state	•	power of to sentence atenseu,	470
power of terring-to record scare		see 245 (2)	376
ments and confessions, sec		finding by-not limited by com
164 (1)	211	plaint or summons sec 246	377 power of-to authorise detention		power of-to acquit accused for	• of accused in custody for a		paner of to acquir accused to of accused in custody for a		non appearance of complain period of 15 days, pending in		ant, sec 247	377
vestigation, see 167	227	power of-to permit withdrawal police officer to send accused to-		of complaint, sec 218	379
when evidence sufficient to		power of to stop proceedings	-00
justify his trial, sec 170	231	when no complainant sec 219	380
power of-to detain recusant com		power of-to award compensation
plainant or witness in custody,		for fales supplements or reportions
	231	for false, frivolous or vexatious	200
sec 171	231	accusations sec 250	380
inquiry by-into cause of death of		procedure by-in trial of warrant person dying in police custody,		cases sec 251 259	389
	240		00-
see 176 (1)	240	power of-to discharge accused in power of-to order dead body to		trial of warrant cases see 253	391 be disinterred and examined,		power of-to convict accused on his
sec 176 (2)	210		394
Sec 170 (2)	210	pleading guilty sec 255	05-
power of certain-to issue sum		issue of process by-for compelling power of certain-to issue sum mons or warrant for offence		production of evidence, see 257	393 committed beyond local juris		power of to acquit or convict
J. 102 003 109 (1)	250	power of to acquit of convict	400
diction sec 188 (1)	230	accused see 258	200
cognizance of offences by-, see		power of-to discharge accused 190	256	for absence of complainant,
		see 259	401
power of-after proceedings taken under sec 190 sec 190n	265	power of certain-to try offences	403
transfer of cases by-, see 192	267	aummarily, sec 260	443 powers of-after transfer, see 92n	269	examination of accused before to 200	be evidence in Sessions trial, examination of complainant by		ne extreme in pessions civily	430
—sec 200	300	sec 287	-50

Magistrates-(contd)	Magistrates-(contd)
power of certain-to tender pardon to accomplice, see 337 485	5 · · · 8t
procedure where Provincial-	, "
cannot dispose of any ease,	- 41
sec 316 518	5 local inspection by—, see 53913 81
procedure when after commence	notat inspection by—, see 53913 85
ment of inquiry or trial,-finds	-not to try case in which he is ease should be committed	personally interested, sec 556 86 sec 317 51	praetising pleader not to sit as-power of-to act on evidence re	in certain Courts, see 557 87 eorded by his predecessor, exercised by their successors record of evidence in trials by	_ power of-to take committee of offence of rape by husband, procedure in cases submitted by-not empowered to act under,	87
sec 562, see 380 55
power of-to stay execution of	Maintenance sentence of whipping, sec 391 57 appeal from order of-requiring security for keeping the peace	Plagistrate may direct payment of or for good behaviour, see 496 59	3 — Hom tiate of application appeal from order of-refusing to accept or rejecting a surety,	conditioned of bruer of-
see 406A 59
appeal from sentence-s by 2nd and 3rd class-sec 407 50	11 17 from Busband Bot entitled transfer of appeals to 1st class-, sec 407 (2) 55	Magistrate may cancel order of-appeal from sentence-s by 1st	on proof of wile's adultary on class— sec 408 95
no appeal from sentence by-on plea of guilt by accused sec	when Magistrate may detarmed no appeal from sentences by-in no appeal from summary convic
no appear from summary convic	nature of—case see 488n madility of husband for with power of-to eall for records of procedure by-in ease of accused power of-to release lunatie pend 95 alteration in allowance for-, sec
resumption of inquiry or trial	97 enforcement of order of 73
	97 enforcement of order of , sec 490 73 procedure on lunatic accused	order for-by Magistrate not em
	97 powered by law vitiate pro ceedings sec 530 procedure by-where accused	eeedings see 530 - 81
appears to have been meane	98
	Majority
-not to try offences referred to	opinion of—of jurors under sec in sec 195 when committed verdict of a of jurors in Sessions 149, 15 power of certain-to issue orders	trial ser 301
for maintenance of wises and	126
power of-to make alteration in	35 Maes
	-between 21 and 60 years enforcement by-of order of main	36 age liable to serve as jurors or tenance sec 490 power of provincial subordinate—exemption of certain-from f
to apply for issue of comme	61 tence of whipping see 333

Memorandum-(contd)

1080

Manager

527

see 514B

Minor—(contd) power of Court to treat—offenders as First Offenders, see 562 Minor Offence conviction for—though not charged with it, see 233	877	Mosable Properly levy of fine by attachment and sale of—, see d86 attychment and sale of—for re- covery of penalty on forfested bond, see S14 order for deposed of—regarding	563 768
Misappropriation offence of criminal—where triable, see 181 (2) charge of criminal—to specify gross sum covering a period of one year, see 22 offence of dishonest— compound able with permiss on of Court, see 315 (2)	215 311 510	which offence committed, sec 517  Unilcipal  Summerly trial of offence against— Judge of Magistrate not personally interested by reason only that he is a—commissioner, sec 556  Mander	773 408 865
Mischiel security for good behaviour from person believed to cruse—habitually, see 110 (d) offence of—compoundable, see 333	110 510	offence of being a thing and com mitting—and of decotty with—, where triable, see 181	246
Misdirection what constitute—, sec 298 verdiet of jury ein only be altered or reversed by Appellate Court on ground of—by judge, sec 233 (2) instances of—to jury, sec 2976 finding of Court not to be reversed on the court not to a failure of justice, sec 557 (c)	435 612 413	Name and address arrest of person committing, offence and refusing to kines, see 67  Narraine endence to be ordinarily taken down in form of see 359  Nationality of jurors in trul of Puropean and Indian I mush subjects see 275	58 533 422
Misjonder See "Jonder of Patites"  Mistake amending verdict of jury deliver ed by—, see 304 power to order antheent seeum tes when manificient secumite have been accepted through— see 300  Mixed Jury —for the Britsh subjects and others, see 275 (1)	103 755	Naturalised	252 427 252 757
Money deposit of—in lieu of bond see 513 payment to innocent purchaser of —found with accused see 515 Mother		suffect a 4 h ft	6

used for- ser 152

1213

532

192

43

136

See 'Maintenance

Mother tongue local Government may alreet evid ence to be taken m-of judge or Magistrate, see 357 (1)

eglect order of maintenance of wives and children upon proof or—to do so see 488	7.26	Notice  —of sittings of H C Sessions to be published in local official Gazette, sec 3% (3)  —of appeal to be given to appel lant sec 422  —to I table Prosecutor of applica-	484 610
when—may be directed on altera- tion of charge sec 229 power of appellate court to direct	349	tion for transfer, see 526 (6)	790
on account of material error in charge, sec 232 (1)  on charge of jury, sec 282  when assessor is unable to	351 424	Nursance conditional order for removal of—, see 133 service of order for removal of—, see 134 (1)	141
attend sec 285 (2) —on discharge of jury sec 308	476 469	urder for removal of-when to be made absolute, see 140	152
on change of Magistrate, sec 350 power of H C to orderon hear	523	consequence of disobedience to order for removal of—, sec 140 (2)	152
ing reference under sec 374 sec 376 (b) power of appellate court to direct	558	injunction pending inquiry into existence of—, sec 142 Magistrate may prohibit repetition	154
- sec 423	612	or continuance of public-, sec	154
non appearance effect of—of complainmit in sum mons cases sec 247 effect of—of complainmit in warrant	377	power to assue order absolute at once in argent cases of—, sec 144 (1) proceedings soid, where Magistrate act empowered in law makes	155
cases 4ec 259	401	an order as to a local—sec 530 $(g)$ and $(h)$	818
definition of -, set 4 (1) (b) commission of -in or near village	4	0 to be reported by village head man buddolder etc to nearest Magistrate sec 45 (1) (c) privite person may arrest and person committing—in his	41 59	Oath evamination of complainant on—, sec 200 no inquiri by Magistrate into truth of complaint indees com	300 warrant to landholders etc for arrest of person accused of—		plamant examined on -, see 202 (11 (a)	306
offence see 78 (1) when bail may be taken in case of —offence see 497	71 7ə0	power of Magnetrate to take evidence of naturesses on—, sec 202 (21)	306
•		-to jurors on being empanuelled, sec 281	424
definition of—, sec 4 (n) arrest of person committing—	8	no-to be administered to accused, sec 342 (4) 499 forms of-and affirmations, sec	503
offence, sec 57 information in—, sec 155 (1) investigation into—, sec 155 (2)	58 195 196	543 (n) Objection	852
discharge of accused in—, for absence of complainant sec 259	401	to jurors when may le taken sec 277 to juror without stating grounds, sec 277	423 423
Non commissioned Officer		grounds of—to juror, sec 278 decision on—to juror, sec 279 (1) supply of place of juror against	423 424
-may be required to disperse	136	nhom—allowed, sec 279 (2)	424
-may be required to disperse	136	to order of communication by	822 822

Offences-footed)

195 (1) (c)

cognizance of-relating to does ments given in evidence, sec prosecution for-agunst the State, cognizance of-of criminal conspi-

Obscene

Obstruction

power of court to order destructors

of-books or things, sec 521

arrest of person without warrant 274

287

for cassing—to police ofiseer in the execution of his duty, see $4 fffth! power of Magistrate to direct remosal of any—to way, river or channel, see 140 (1) of direct of Magistrate and a direct of the control of the	49 141 155	cognizance of—of criminal conspiracy, see 198% see 198% or of charge in clare breit committed see 2.88 when, person charged with one—, can be contacted of another, when—proved meluded in—charged 2.88 (1) see 2.32 agrees for distinct—, see 2.52 agrees for distinct—,	36 36 36
Occupant  of place searched to be per mitted to attend during search, sec 103 (3)	92	what—man be jointly fried, see 239 three—of same kind within year mrs be charged together, see 234 (1)	36
Occupation prive of Vigoystrae to direct any person to desixt from certaine physical comfort of the com- mutate, see 139 (1) Occupate of land bound to report certain matters to police or Vigosafrite ee 43	144	power to its tertain-sumainful sec 200 het of compoundable-sec 316 — affect is a summistration of — affect is a summistration of for what-but into be taken sec 106 trail by jury of-trable with rescenses, sec 516 (1) trail with asserts of-trable in continues of the second of-trable in	40 51 70 74 82 82
Offences  See "Cognuzable Offences". Non- Cogna il le Offences "Missor Offences"  Offences and the Offences "Missor Offences"  definition of to cognuzable—, see 4 (1) (b)  definition of cognuzable—, see 4 (1) (b)  definition of to cognuzable—, see 4 (1) (a)  trail of—mules   1   1   see 28  trail of—mules   1   1   1   see 28  trail of—to of British India  see 184  power to issue process for—committed of—opening process for—committed of process fo	1 1 8 8 8 2 1 1 2 5 2 5 2 5 2 5 2 5 2 5 2 5 2 5 2	incision in case of failing to observe conditions of his recog- mentices see Sed conditions as to alrade of see	57 41 110 525 563 574 575 722 766 880

Offender-(conid)

Offensive Weapons

See "Wcapons"

power of court to release certain convicted—on probation of good conduct, see 562 (1)

877

Officer in charge of police station-(contd ) ordinate police officer to be forwarded to— see 168 power of—to release accused on lise executing a bond, where there there is not sufficient evidence against luni, sec 169	23

Officer		to send accused to Magistrate	:
duty of-commanding troops re-		when evidence is sufficient, sec
quired by Vigistrate to dis-		170	23
perse unlauful assembly, sec		dats of-to inquire and report on 130	136	eases of suicide, etc., sec 174
conducting prosecution mas		power of-to release accused on	ı
nathdraw remaining charges on		ball, sec 496	748 consiction on one of several charges, sec 240	371	Devloate a in superior civil employ ex-		Onission
empt from liability to serve as		-to are information under sec jurory or assessory sec 320	477	447 does not vitiate proceed-commission for examining witness		ings, sec 534	826
in Native States man be issued		effect of-to prepare charge, sec	826
to-representing British Gost,		535
sec 503 (2)	757	finding or entence when re-concerned in sales not to pur-		versible by reason ofin charge
chase or bid for property, sec		or other proceedings, sec 537	828
580	876
		Opening Case
Officer in charge of jail		for prosecution, sec 286 (1)	428 warrant for execution of sentence		for defence, sec 190	442
		lot delence, see 200	***
of imprisonment to be directed to— sec 384	303	Opinion
whipping to be inflicted in presence	563	judge may express on question of
of— sec 391 (2)	203	fact or of mixed law and fact,
Office to Charte of Batter Contract		≤ec 298 (2)	455
Officer in Charge of Police Station	8	delivery of-of assessors, sec 309
definition of , sec 4 (p)	8	(1)	469 procedure when-deputes subor
dirates to arrest without war-		Oral Exidence rint, sec 56 (1)to report all (ases of arrest	3/	See 'I vidence '
		0.0 2
without narrant to District	60	Order
Magistrate, sec 62	62
may using written order for production of document of other	82	hy subordinate police officer,	57
thing, sec 94 (1)	62	sec 56 (1)	01
-may command unlawful assem-	134	for attachment of property of	77 bly to disperse, sec 127	1 24	person absconding, sec 88 (1)	" bly by civil ferce, sec 128	136	written-by police officer for pro- duction of document or other power of-to inspect weights and	1440		82
n easures sec 153 (1)	193	thing, sec 94 (1)  —b) Magistrate for furnishing	32 information in cognizable cases to	131	security for keeping peace, be given to—, sec 154	191	sec 112	114
information in non cognizable cases	131	copt of-ander sec 112 to accom
gnen to— sec 155	195	pany summons or warrant, sec power of-to investigate into cog-	133	115	116
nizable cases, sec 156	197	conditional—for removal of nui-procedure to be followed by-where	131	sance, sec 133 (1)	141
cognizable offence is suspected,		service of-under sec 133, sec
sec 157	198	134	145
power of to direct search of any	120	shoolate in irreent cases of place sec 165	123	nuisance, sec 144	155 when-may require another to issue 190

Penal Code-(contd )

courts competent to try offences

judge or Magistrate not to try case in which he has any, sec 556

Person In Authority

873

courts competent to try offences inder—, ec 28 release of person convicted of offence under—punishable with	23	100	210
not more than two years' in prisonment, with admonition, sec 562 (1A)		appeal to be presented in form of a -, see 419	606
Penal Servitude persons sentenced to—not pumsh- able with whipping, see 393 (b)		Petty Cases no appeal in—, sec 413 appeal in—on combination of two	599
execution of sentence of—on escap- ed convict, sec 396 (1) sentence on offender already	572	or more punishments, sec 415	600
power to commute sentence of -, sec 402	582	Place definition of—, sec 4 (q) —of string of Court of Session,	9
Penalty —for non-attendance of jurors before H C, sec 318	477	sec 9 (2) search of—entered by person sought to be arrested, sec 47 procedure where ingress to—to be	13 46
nnd assessors, hefore Sessions Court, sec 332	483	searched, not available, see 48 power to break open door or	47
Perishable Property power of court to order immediate		window of any—for purposes of ilberation, sec 49 —of holding sittings of High Court, sec 335	47
sale of—belonging to absconder, see 88 (5) order for disposal of—regarding which offence committed, see	78 773	Court, sec 335 effect of proceedings in wrong—, sec 531	484 820
517 (1) power to sell—, sec 525	758	llea of accused in narrant cases, sec 255	394
Perjuty cognizance of offence of—, sec 195 (c)	274	-of accused to be entered in record in summary trials, see	411
prosecution for—in respect of state- ment made by approver, sec 339 (3)	492	—of guilts in sessions trials, see 271 (2) —to be recorded see 271 (n)	417 419
Permission offences compoundable with—of Court, sec 345 (2)	510		554
	745	no appeal on conviction on-of guilte, see 412	.9R
l'ersonal Attendance power to dispense with-of person		Pleader definition of—sec 4 (r)	9
required to furnish security for keeping the peace, sec 1:6	116	Magistrate may permit accused to	314
Magistrate may dispense with—of accused, sec 205 (1) record of evidence in maintenance	314	-exempted from serving as juror	195
proceedings when-of husband is dispensed with, sec 488		may of right be defended by a-, sec 340 (1)	95
when—of witness may be dispensed with, sec 503	727 756	by for appeal may be presented by for appellant, sec 419 6 engaged for prosecution to act	06
Personal Interest judge or Magistrate not to try		nuder directions of Public Pro-	11 case in which he has any-,	_	trates in certain courts sec

le i may tequire assistance fron public ec 42
Code 1 of to all to-n to 1s f
Calcutta and Bon ba sec 1
(2) (4)
pre entire acto of— Clap 10 et> of—to te t gate Clap to cr to to se ze troperty sus po er of super or officers of sec
po er of super or officers of sec
551

Pelice

	l'ol ce Report
	-not a co plait sec 4 (1)
38	to Le for arded to May trate tal ng cognizance of offence ec 173 (1)
1	- cales of a cide etc sec
	174 1001

-by ubor I nate pol ce officer

cogn zance of offence by Mag s trate pot a -- sec 190 (1) (b)

869 101 ce Staton definition of sec 4 (5)

'ost Office—(contd) proceedings void where Magistrate n t empowered issues search warrant for production of ans-		Pregnant woman postponement of capital sentence on —, sec 382	561
thing in the-, see 530 (b)	818	Preliminary enquiry power of Magistrate to hold—, sec 159	199
of issue of process, sec 202	306	in certain cases, sec 196B	291
or trial, see 344 (1) of capital sentence on pregnant	505	Presence commission of non-cognizable woman, sec 382 —of proceedings where accused	561	offence in-of police officer,	59
of Sessions trial where accused	692	person committing offence in lins—, sec 59	59 appears to be a limitic, sec 465	695	Magnetrate may arrest person com- mitting offence in his-, sec 64	64
owers
—of Courts, Chap III	23	Persidency Magistrate
of Local Govt to relieve I G		See "Magistrate" "Chief Presi- denes Magistrate" sec 471 (2) —of G G in Council to transfer	701	Appointment of—, see 18 local limits of jurisdiction of—,	19
criminal cases and appeals, sec 527 (1)	803	when subordinate to Cluef Presidency Magistrate, sec 21	2.0
-of Local Govt to authorise District Magistrate to withdraw		(2) Sentences which—may pass, sec	21 classes of cases, sec 528 (3)  of court to summon material	806	32 (1) (a)may issue warrant for search	27
present, sec 540  —-uf Local Govt to appoint place	847	of house suspected to contain stolen property, forged ducu
of imprisonment, see 541 (1) —of Fresidency Magistrate to	850		87
order prisoner in jail to be brought up for examination,		of persons wrongfully con- ined, see 100 ——may in convicting a person for	91
sec 542 (1) —af Court to pay expenses or compensation out of fine, sec	850	offence involving breach of peace, order him to furnish se-
545	85 3	curity for keeping the peace, sec 106	97
<ul> <li>to police to seize property sus pected to be stolen, sec 550</li> <li>of superior officers of police,</li> </ul>	862	may require security from per- son likely to disturb the public sec 551 —of certain Magistrates to com	862	-may require security for good	100
pel restoration of abducted female, sec 552	863	behaviour from person disse- minating seditions matter, sec 108	108 of Chartered H Cs to make rules for inspection of records		-may require security for good behaviour from vagrants and of subordinate Courts, sec 554  of Local Government to decide	864	other suspected persons, sec	109
language of Courts, sec 558 provision for—of Judges and Magic trates being exercised by their	874		10
successors in office, sec 559 —of court to release first	874	confessions, sec 164 2 power of—to assue summons or	11 offenders on probation of good conduct, sec 562	877	herond local muscliction, see redecessor		cognizance of offence by—, see 190 2	50 56
power of Magistrate to rescuid or after order made under sec			B0
144 by his—in office, sec 144 (4)	155	complice, sec 337	35

Presidency Magnistrate—(could) report of evidence in court cl—, see 362 judgment bl—, see 370 no appeal from judgment of—, where accused pleads guity;	536 554	I revious Sancilion  —of I ocal Govt necessary for prosecution for offences against the State, see 196  —of Local Govt necessary for prosecution of judges and	287
sec 412 reference by—to II C, sec 432	593 643	public servants, sec 197	291
statement by—of grounds of his decision to be considered by H C, see 441 power of—to issue order for main tenance of wises and children,	677	Priests exemption of—from serving as jurior or assessor, sec 320 (b)	477
5ec 488	726	Prince hability of British subject for of any witness, see 503  -may order alluched property	75€	offences committed in the ter	252
appears within 6 months, sec		witnesses residing in the ter power of to order privater in	78	friory of any-in India, sec 503 (2)	757
ful to be brought up for ex- ammation, sec 542	850	Printing offence of defamators matter com
Presidency towns		poundable, sec 345 (1)	510 to be deemed districts, sec 7 (4)	12	Note of a Passer number of jurors to be summoned in-, sec 315 (1)	476	Private Person arrest by— sec 59	49
appeal from convictions in contempt cases iii—, sec 484	723	Procedure commission in case of wilnesses being within sec 504	760	-b. Magistrale not en pawered to order security for keeping
ing arrest of any person within -, sec 553	863	The peace sec 107 (3)  Where person appears in show cause against an order for	101
	000	removing public nursuice sec	147
Prevention police officer may interpose for-		trung whether the order to
of cognizable offence, sec 149  — by police officer of injury to public properly, sec 152	192	state a public univitic is reasonable of not sec 135	148
I tevenine Service		order directing removal of public numance to be reason persons engaged in the-in the Customs Dept exempted from		where existence of a public	150
serving as juror, sec 320 (d)	477	- on order being made alsolute	151
Previous Acquilint —ol person bars Iresh Irial for		on lathre to appoint jury or onession to return verdict,	152
same offence sec 403 (1) ——liow proved, sec 511	583 765	where dot use concerning land,	153
Previous Conviction		of rea e see 145	162
sec 221 (7)	340	pected or 157	193
procedure in Irial in the of-	19 3	- where point investigate it can not be completed within 21
hars fresh Iral for same offence, see 403	583		26
when accused may be refried not withstanding-of offence con-		been touch to a subordinate
tituled by the same acts see	583	on up licate in for execution to	52

Procedure—(contd )		Procedure-(contd)
-by Magistrate not competent		in case of person committee to take cognizance of case,		before H C or Court
sec 201	30:
in inquiries preparatory to com-		465	695
mitment sec 207	318		or
<ul> <li>on commitment without charge or with imperfect charge, sec</li> </ul>		Court, sec 468	697
226	345
in summons case, see 211	372		s
where no admission is made		defence, sec 473	701
by accused, sec 244	37	-where lunatic confined und	T
	389	see 466 or 471 is declared f
-for summous and warrant cases		to be discharged, see 474	702 applicable in summity trials		in case of offences affecting the administration of justice
sec 262	410	sec 476	703
attend, sec 285	426	sec 480	718
for prosecution in sessions		on forfeiture of bond sec 51	4 768 for prosecution in sessions trials sec 289	439	-m case of insolvency or death where jury not unanimous sec	300	of surely or when a bond i
302	458	forfested sec 5141	772
-where Sessions Judge dis		perty stolen sec 523 (1)	785
agrees with verdict of jury		-where no claimant to attached sec 307	464	property appears within an	:
		months, sec 524 (1)	783
9LC 310	472	where person claims to be dealt with as European or sec 339A	492	Indian British subject or as Furopean or American, sec
where accused does not under		528 \	815
<ul> <li>where accused does not under stand proceedings, sec 341</li> </ul>	496	528 \	815
-where accused does not under stand proceedings, sec 341 -when after commencement of	49 6	528 \ Proceedings stand proceedings, sec 341  when after commencement of inquiry or trial, Magistrate	496	528 \ Proceedingssubsequent to order to furnish stand proceedings, sec 341  when after commencement of inquiry or trial, Magistrate finds that case should be com		528\ Proceedingssubsequent to order to furnish security, sec 120 126\
stand proceedings, sec 341  when after commencement of inquiry or trial, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, sec 347	496 516	528 \ Proceedingssubsequent to order to furnish security, sec 120 126 \ conditions requisite for initiation	21 34
stand proceedings, sec 341  when after commencement of inquiry or trial, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, sec 347  when Magistrate cannot pass		Freccedings valsequent to order to furnish security, vec 120 126 \ conditions requisite for initiation of -, see 190 190 \ 25
stand proceedings, see 341  when after commencement of inquiry or trial, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, see 347  when Magistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, see	516	Freedings subsequent to order to furnish security, see 120 126 \( \) conditions requisite for initiation of see 190 199\( \) commencement of—before Magis	21 34 stand proceedings, see 341  when after commencement of impury or trial, Magistrate finds that case should be come nitted, see 347  when Magistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, see 349		Proceedings subsequent to order to furnish security, see 120 128 \ conditions requisite for initiation of—, see 190 199\ 28 countencement of—before Magis trates, see 204 205 in case of certain offences	21 34 6-300
stand proceedings, sec 341  —when after commencement of unpury or trial, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, sec 347  —when Magistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, sec 349  —procedure in regard to evidence	516	528 \ Proceedings	21 34 6-300 13 16
stand proceedings, sec 341  —when after commencement of impury or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be com inteed, sec 347  —when Magistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, sec 349  —procedure in regard to evidence when completed, sec 360	51 6	Proceedings —subsequent to order to furnish security, see 120 128 \ Conditions requisite for initiation of—see 190 199\ Counsetteement of—before Magis trates, see 204 205 —in case of certain offences a ff c c i i ng administration of justice, see 476-68.	21 34 6-300
stand proceedings, sec 341  —when after commencement of unpury or trial, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, sec 347  —when Magistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, sec 349  —procedure in regard to evidence	51 6	Proceedings subsequent to order to furnish security, vec 120 126 \ conditions requisite for initiation ofsec 190 199 199 22  ofsec 190 199 22 in case of certain offences affecting administration of justice, sec 476-87  Tregularities which do not utate	21 34 6-300 13 16
stand proceedings, see 341  when after commencement of infinity or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, see 347  when Vagistrate cannot pass agencies sufficiently severe, see 349  -procedure in regard to evidence when completed, see 359  -in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, see 378	51 6	Proceedings —subsequent to order to furnish security, see 120 128 \ Conditions requisite for initiation of—see 190 199\ Counsetteement of—before Magis trates, see 204 205 —in case of certain offences a ff c c i i ng administration of justice, see 476-68.	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817
stand proceedings, sec 341  —when after commencement of impury or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, sec 347  —when Vagistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, sec 349  —procedure in regard to evidence when completed, sec 350  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, sec 378  —in cases saturated to 34 C	516 520 534 558	Freedings	21 34 6-300 13 16
stand proceedings, see 341  —when after commencement of impinry or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, see 347  —when Vagistrate cannot pass settlence sufficiently severe, see approaching in regard to evidence when completed, see 360  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, see 788  —in cases submutted to 14 C for confirmation, see 379	516 520 534	Proceedings subsequent to order to furnish security, sec 120 126 \  order to security sec 120 126 \ \text{ order to requisite for initiation of, sec 190 1991 22 \ \text{ consumer terment ofbefore Magis trites, sec 204 205 \ \text{ order to make the sec 204 205 \ \text{ order to sec 205 205 205 \ \t	24 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817
stand proceedings, sec 341  —when after commencement of impury or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, sec 347  —when Vagistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, sec 349  —procedure in regard to evidence when completed, sec 350  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, sec 378  —in cases saturated to 34 C for confirmation, sec 379  —in cases saturated by Magis	516 520 534 558	Freedings	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817
stand proceedings, see 341  —when after commencement of impinry or trail, Magastrate finds that case should be committed, see 347 —when Magistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, see 349  —procedure in recard to evidence when completed, see 369 —the completed, see 369 —the completed, see 369 —the completed, see 369 —the completed composing a bench, see 378 —to cases submitted to M C for confirmation, see 379 —in cases submitted by Magistrate not empowered to act	516 520 534 558 539	Proceedings subsequent to order to furnish security, sec 120 126 \ \text{Conditions} requisite for initiation of—, sec 190 1991 22 \ \text{Conditions} requisite for initiation of—, sec 190 1991 22 \ \text{Conditions} requisite for Magis furties, sec 20 205 3in case of certain offences of the second of t	24 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817
stand proceedings, sec 341  —when after commencement of impury or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, sec 347  —when Vagistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, sec 349  —procedure in regard to evidence when completed, sec 350  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, sec 378  —in cases saturated to 34 °C for confirmation, sec 379  —in cases saturated by Magis trate not empowered to act mider sec 582, sec 380	516 520 534 558	Proceedings — subsequent to order to furnish second, we 120 126' to onditions requisite for initiation second to sec	24 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817
stand proceedings, sec 341  —when after commencement of impury or trail, Magastrate finds that case should be committed, sec 347  —when Magastrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, sec 349  —procedure in recard to evidence when completed, sec 360  —in case of difference of opinion bench, sec 360  —in case submutted to H C for continuation, sec 379  —in cases submutted by Magastrate not empowered to act mider sec 562, sec 380  —where pumishment of whip	516 520 534 558 539	Proceedings	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817 820
stand proceedings, sec 341  —when after commencement of impury or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, sec 347  —when Vagistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, sec 349  —procedure in regard to evidence when completed, sec 350  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, sec 378  —to cases submitted to 34 € for confirmation, sec 379  —in cases submitted by Magistrate not empowered to act mider sec 562, sec 380  —where painsliment of whip pag cannot be midred, sec 180	516 520 534 558 539	Freedings	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817 820 828 843
stand proceedings, sec 341  when after commencement of impinry or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, sec 347  when Vagistrate cannot pass serience sufficiently severe, see a serience sufficiently severe, see the completed, sec 350  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, sec 378  —in cases submitted by Magistrate not empowered to act not empowered to act not empowered to act notice commitment on the process of the commitment of the process of the proce	516 520 534 558 559 559	Proceedings	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817 820
stand proceedings, sec 341  when after commencement of impinry or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, sec 347  when Vagistrate cannot pass serience sufficiently severe, see a serience sufficiently severe, see the completed, sec 350  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, sec 378  —in cases submitted by Magistrate not empowered to act not empowered to act not empowered to act notice commitment on the process of the commitment of the process of the proce	516 520 534 558 559 559	Freedings	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817 820 828 843
stand proceedings, see 341  —when after commencement of impinry or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, see 347  —when Vagistrate cannot pass settlence sufficiently severe, see approaching in regard to evidence.  —procedure in regard to evidence when completed, see 360  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, see 378  —in cases submitted by Magistrate not empowered to act mider see 582, see 380  —where punishment of whip ping cannot be inflicted, see -where judges of court of appeal are equally divided, see 429  —where judges of Court of appeal are equally divided, see 429  —where judges of Court of appeal	516 520 534 558 559 559	Proceedings	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817 820 828 843
stand proceedings, see 341  —when after commencement of impairy or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, see 347  —when Magistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, see 349  —procedure in regard to evidence when completed, see 360  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a beach, see 478  —in cases exhausted in 34 C for confirmation, see 379  —in cases exhausted by Magis in the see 562, see 380  —where punishment of whip ping cannot be inflicted, see 399  —where judges of Court of appeal are equally dauded, see 429  —when question arising in on giral jurisdiction of II C,	516 520 534 558 559 559 571 639	Freedings	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817 820 828 843
stand proceedings, see 341  —when after commencement of infinity or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, see 347  —when Vagistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, see —procedure in regard to evidence when completed, see 360  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, see 778  —in cases submitted to 31 °C for confirmation, see 379  —in cases submitted by Magistrate not empowered to act mader see 562, see 380  —where pumishment of whip page cannot be inflicted, see 429  —where judges of Court of appeal are equally dauled, see 429  —where judges of Court of appeal are equally dauled, see 429  —where judges of Court of appeal are equally dauled, see 429  —where judges of Court of appeal are equally dauled, see 429  —when question arising in on ginal jurisdiction of II °C, reserved by Judge, see 434 (2)	516 520 534 558 559 559	Proceedings	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817 820 828 843 858
stand proceedings, see 341  —when after commencement of impairy or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, see 347  —when Magistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, see 349  —procedure in regard to evidence when completed, see 360  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bencil, see 378  —in cases exhaustral to 34 C for confirmation, see 379  —in cases schauttral to 34 C for confirmation, see 379  —in cases submitted by Magis mader vee 582, see 380  —where punishment of whip ping cannot be inflicted, see 399  —where judges of Court of appeal are equally dauded, see 429  —when question arising in on ginal jurisdiction of II C, reserved by Judge, see 434 (2)  —for trail of Furopon British	516 520 534 558 559 559 571 639	Freedings	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817 820 828 843 858
stand proceedings, see 341  —when after commencement of impiny or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, see 347  —when Magistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, see 349  —procedure in record at o evidence of the completed, see 369  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, see 378  —in cases submitted to M Correlation of the commitments of the commitment of the commitment of the commitment of the commitment of the ping cannot be inflicted, see 389  —where punishment of whip ping cannot be inflicted, see 389  —where judges of Court of appeal are equally divided, see 429  —when question arrang in or commitment of the c	516 520 534 558 559 559 571 639	Proceedings subsequent to order to furnish security, see 120 126 \ \text{conditions} requisite for initiation of, see 190 199 for initiation of, see 190 199 for Maggia on case of certain offences affect in g administration of justice, see 476-87 7 rregularities which do not uttate, see 529 rregularities which do not uttate, see 529 in wrong place, effect of, see 531 finding reason of error or omission by received the see 548 representation of form in, see 538 copies of -, see 548  Process  See Summons', "Warrant', "Proclamation" podpacement of issue of -, see 204 years of -, see 204	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817 820 828 843 858
stand proceedings, see 341  —when after commencement of impiny or trail, Magistrate finds that case should be committed, see 347  —when Magistrate cannot pass sentence sufficiently severe, see 349  —procedure in record at o evidence of the completed, see 369  —in case of difference of opinion between judges composing a bench, see 378  —in cases submitted to M Correlation of the commitments of the commitment of the commitment of the commitment of the commitment of the ping cannot be inflicted, see 389  —where punishment of whip ping cannot be inflicted, see 389  —where judges of Court of appeal are equally divided, see 429  —when question arrang in or commitment of the c	516 520 534 558 559 571 639 643	Freedings	21 34 6-300 13 16 03 26 817 817 820 828 843 858

INDEX 1091

Process—(conid) —to compet at endance sec 68-93 63-87	Prosecution—(contd)  for certain ofences relating to locuments given in evidence
Proclaimed Offender duty of village leads in and offers to report resence of withit	ec 195 (1) (c) 274  —for eleters again tile State sec 196 —for tertai classes of cri iat
tle i liace sec 40 (1) (b) 41 power of police to arrest—without warrant sec 54 (3) 48	cousi irac; sec 196 A 290  of judges a 1 jublic set a t sec 197 (1) 291
arrest b greate person of sec. 59  Froclamation	for breach of contract defana to and offences agaist narrage sec 198 for adulters or enters a marred volum sec 199 298 opening on e for sec 286 (i) 428 procedure after evan nation of t public nu sauce nay be by— sec 134 (2) —requiring appearance of perso claiming attacted properties	po er of 1dvocate General to tay sec 233 auctor of H C eee sy for-
523 (2) 785 Fraduction of Documents	for gv i, falso ev de ce sec 339 f3 49 rgit of lubic Pro ecutor to con
summons for— sec 84 87 search narrant for— sec 96 84	effect of wildra at fro - ec
Proof  of sers ce of sun nons sec 74 67  of just cat on of proclau at o	peris m t o luct- ex 495 745 p m r of co t to pa expense for-out of fine ec 545 853
sec 87 (3) 76	1 conecutor
Property prevent on f injury to public— sec 47 b 38 attachment of—of person absco d	a viti irasv relanng die or to on ne or ore clarge sec 240 317 to ore a e ir prost to re torat on of atta le ! se 89 79 arre t of tere er of stole sec $5	ec 286 ()  exa part rof tese ()  exa part ro
l sputes a to n o able— se 145 148 162-191 order for c stody and 1 po al of —pending trai sec $16A 273	rgit of reti of— s 29 441 Publ — le a titra fr n
a der for d posal of-recarding i l offen a 1 d e 517 773	proet e 494 743 1 mo at ec 995 74
power to te ture po e or of rouble— 5 procedure by Poice upon erre of tole e 5.3 785	Iterative and on the control of the state of poner to sell per slable— see 5 a 785 proceedigs n t o 1 le e M L trate tot n p n ered ell t	ge al po er of Mag trat n certa —s 30
pert a der see 574 or 525 etc 5.9 {	Provak g breach of peace fe of-company able we say $10
frosecution frosec	It is a trace if the exist of t
nt of tal errouts	ta live of ert of not ex 44 39 I not solve f revoral (
the late see las t to	nu - 2000 133 141 court to be open t - sec 25° 523

Publication		Punishment—(contd )
of proclamation for arrest of		power to commute-, see 402	582
absconder, sec 87 (2)	76	-for refusing to answer or pro-
-of notification for removal of public nuisance, sec 134	145	duce documents, sec 485	722
paone nuisance, see 134	113	Purchaser
Public Health		payment to annocent-of money power to issue order absolute in		found on accused, sec 519	779
case of danger to-, sec 144	155	lound on accused, see of	110
		Pursult
Public Justice		-of offenders in other jurisdie
prosceution for offences against-,		tions, sec 58	59
sec 195 (b)	274	-of person escaping from lawful enstody, sec 66 .	63
Public I andmark	100
prevention of injury to-, sec 252	192
Public Nuisance		Q
See nuisance"		Quanking
The state of the s		-of commitment only by II C
Public Place		on point of law, see 215	333 order for removal of nuisance from		•
—, sec 133	141	Questions
B 44 B - 4		person examined by police, bound
Public Property		to auswer all-, see 161	202
public to assist police in prevent	33	-to jury by Judge in Sessions	450
mg mjury to-, see 42 prevention of mjury to-, see		trial, sec 303	458
252	192	power of Court to-seeused at any stage of inquiry or trial,
202		stage of inquiry or trial,	498
Public Prosecutor		-put to accused and his answers	400
definition of-, sec 4 (t)	9	to be recorded in full, see
		364	537
tal on behalf of Government,		-of law may be referred by sec 417	601	Presidency Magistrate to II C
power to appoint, see 492	740	sec 482	537
may plead in all courts in cases under las charge, see		transfer of case on ground of its 493	741	myolving some difficult—of law, sec 526 (b)	789 effect of withdrawal from prosecu		200 (0)	*00
tion by-, see 494	743
-not to require permission of		R
court to conduct prosecution,		Railway sec 495	745	public to assist Magistrate and notice to—on application for trans fer, 526 (6)	790	Police in preventing injury to	38
101, 525 (0)		service of summons on-servants,	30
Public servant		sec 72	65
prosecution for lawful authority of		offences against-where triable, sec
—, sec 195	274	184	249
prosecution of-, sec 197	291
-concerned in sales not to pur		Rape
chase or bid for property, sec 560	876	special provisions with respect to offence of—by a husband,
	0,0	offence of-by a husband, sec 661	876
Public tranquility		900
securty for keeping the peace for		Reading over Deposition disturbing-, sec 107	100		E01
Duni-lanear		pleader, sec 360	534
Punishment See "sentence"		Do arrest maximum term of—, sec 35
(1) (a)	31	arrested by private person, accused not hable to-by refusing		sec 59	59
to answer questions put in ex		- of person escaping from lawful	63
anunation, sec 392 (2)	499	custody, sec 66	0.3

	INE	er 1	093
Re strest—(contd.) —of accused in case of appeal from requirids, sec 427 power of H. C. to—per-on released on lists, sec 437 (3) pomer of toget to order—of per-on teleased on insufficient batt, sec 501.	636 751	Receipt  symature of—of summons, sec 89 —for summons when person summoned cannot be found, sec 70  Receiver	65
Reasonable Cause power to postpone proceedings for any—, see 344 Reasonable Expenses	505	presence in allage of any—of stolen properts to be notified to police or Migristrate, sec 45 (1) (a) appointment of—for property of absconder attached, sec 88	41
Magnetrate may require parment of witness before summoning him, sec 244 (3) Reasons in writing	375	(4) (b) powers and duties of such—, see 88 (b) security for good behaviour from habitual—of stolen property,	77
—to be recorded before issuing narrant in hen of summons, see 90 —to be given in cancelling bond for keeping the peace or good	81	appointment of—of property atta ched as being subject of dis- pute, see 146	183
behaviour, see 115necessary when Ungistrate orders detention of accused in police casted beyond 24 hours,	131	Receiving Stolen Property offence of—, where triable, see 181 (3) offence of—triable summarily, see	246
sec 167 (3)  for not issuing process for production of farther evidence, sec 208 (3)	227	260 (2) Recognizance to be forwarded to Court, see	403
- for commitment to II ( or Laurt of Sessions see 213 (1) for stopping proceedings when no complainant, see 249	329 389	76 (3) deposit instead of—may be per mutted by Court sec 513 power to direct less of amount due	76 767
charge considered groundless, sec 253 (2)	392	on certain-, sec 516	773

410

484

505

Sec. 8

635

B06

351

395

101

520

806

84?

power to-statements and confes-

-in cases tried summarily where en summons cases and in trials

by 1st and 2nd class Magis-

-n other cases in trials in Pre-language of-of exidence, sec 357

-of examination of accused, sec

-of case to be sent for by amendment of in accordance with order of appellate Court, sec

pomer to call for-of inferior Courts

appellate Court sec 423

erdency towns sec 356

of evidence in Presi

-of evidence in H C

trate's Court sec 362

there is no appeal sec 283

211

410

412

413

527

529

532

537

536

612

637

648 υŧ

Magis-

sec 365 541

absence 1f1

stons, sec 164

trates sec 355

sec 265

361

sec 435

~of explence

accused, sec 512

-in appealable cases

language of-in summary

for postponement of proceed

crecution pending

> any 1350

when

appent

Vigistrate

-for conviction by Press Magis withdrawing

of witnesses for cross-examina to whom case trasferred under ١,

tion in accused, sec 256 power to-witnesses sec 260 (2)

poner to-nameses by Magnitrate

alreads examined, sec 540

witnesses

altered, sec 231

case sec 528 (4)

power of Court to-ans

sec 263

sentence

sec 426

sec 319

-ol

sec 528 (5)

~for Recali

30--- trate, sec 370

-for suspending

Record—(contd)  power of H t to make rules for inspection of—of subordinate Courts, see 554	864	Relative delivery of lumitic to care of— sec. 475	, 70
method of—of time, sec 386 —as fine of money ordered to be paid, sec 547	563 858	Release  of person committing non cog- much offence on executing bond for appearance, sec 57 power to—persons imprisoned for falling to give security, see
Re examination See I summation right of—of witnesses, see 290	412	-of accused when evidence defi- cient, sec 169	23
of witness where commission has been issued, see 505  of witness alread, examined by Court, see 540	760 847	when no complaint, sec 249  of appellant on bail by Appel-	38
Reference	0.,	late Court, sec 426  of lunatic pending investiga- tion or trial, sec 466	69
—to If C where Sessions Judge disagrees with verdict of jury, sec 307	461	on bail of accused, see 496 -on bail of person accused of non bailable offence, see 497	740
not understand proceedings, sec 341 to H C for confirmation of	496	poner of H C and Sessions Court to direct—of accused on bail, see 498 —of accused on execution of	753 sentence of death, sec 374  —by Presy Magistrate to H C, sec 452	557 643	—of accused on execution of bond, sec 500     —of offenders on probation of good conduct, sec 562	753 877
of question of law by Judge of If C exercising original cri minal jurisdiction sec 444     to H C by Sessions Judge, sec 436	643 661	Religious feelings offence of wounding-of any person -, sec 345	510
100		Remand
Reformatory confinement of youthful offenders in-, sec 399 (1)	575	of accused to custody pending investigation, sec 167 (2) Sessions Judge, on referring case to H C under sec 307, mayaccused to custody, sec 307	227
Refreshing memory use of diary by police officer for purpose of—, sec 172	234	accused to custody, sec 307  —of accused to custody on ad- journment of proceedings, sec 344	464 505
Refusal  of person arrested to give his name and address, sec 57	58	-of accused to enstedy pending decision of point of law by H C, sec 434 (2)	643 to summon unnecessary winess unless deposit made, see 216 detention in custody of com		Remission —of sentence of whipping where recused not in fit state of planants and witnesses for—to attend or execute bond, sec 217 (2)	3 36	health, sec 395 —of sentence by G G or Local	571 580
—by accused to answer questions put by Court, sec 342 (2) impressiment or committal of	499	of apology, sec 484  of penalty on forfesture of	722
person for-to answer or pro- duce document, sec 485	722	bond, sec 514 (5)	768
Registrar		Remotal —of judges and Magistrates, sec or Sub Registrar to be deemed a Civil Court within sec 480	722	of Instices of the Peace, sec	22 22
and 482, sec 483 appeal from conviction by -, see	724	conditional order for-of musance,	141

Remosa'-(conid.)		Removal—(contd)
to criminal jail, sec 541 (2)	ხამ	tion for-of attached property, Repetition		power of Court to order—of power of Magistrate to prohibit-of		attiched property, sec 522 782
public nuisance, sec 143 proceedings void, where Magistrate	154	power to compel—of abducted female, sec 552 863 not empowered prohibits-of		Pro-de-public nuisance, sec 530 (h)	818	person under arrest not to be sub Reply		jected to nunecessary-, see prosecutor's right of-, sec 192	443	compluments and witnesses not to Report		be subjected to-, sec 171 234
-of police officer not included in		Retake
(h) complaint", sec	5	power to pursue and-person escap
-of local inquiry under sec 148,	3	ing from lawful custody, see may be read as evidence in the	100
case, sec 148 (2) of police older about con	130	Retirement of jury to consuler verdict, mussion of cognizable ofence, sec 157 (1)	198	sec 300 457
-under sec 157 how submitted,	193	Retracted Confession
sec 158 (1)	199	See Confession"
<ul> <li>of investigation by subordinate police officer, sec 168</li> </ul>	230	Retrial of police officer, sec 173	236	of accused after discharge of police to inquire and—on sincide, etc, sec 174 cognizance of offence by Magis	237	pure sec 308 469 permer of 11 C to under—of case
trate on-by police, sec 190		sudmitted under see 374, see
(1) (b)	256	power of appellate Court to order-
		see 423 (1) (a) 612
or altering sentence, sec 438	661	Return of commission to impure into state of mind of lunate, sec		- of screage summons, sec 74 67 - of commussion sec 507
474 (2)	70.1	adjournment of inquiry or trial of Chemical Paninner see 510	765	pending-of commission, sec
Reprieve		762
right of His Majesty or of the Governor General to grint,		officer employed in the collection
sec 401 (5)	581	or-bound to report certain
Repute		Commissioners and Collectors of 41
See General Repute?		jurors or assess resected as Reservation		. **//
Original Jurisdiction of H C	,	complaint by of any offence affect sec 434 6	113	ing a minustralism of instead
Resistance		Lewers of puller by the 703
	45	be (herejoed by burnets and)
	••	u real fr m ar ler of met
Respectable search to be made in presence of		make a complete under sec
	92	Delice of A
Restoration		int steme hm cr. sec to
—of attached property sec 89	74	Cent -ce 478 C5 1005
		7 ;

Sale—(contd.)  of perishable property, sec 525 officers concerned in—not to purchase or bid for property, sec 560	758 876	Scarch Wassanl—(contd) seruch of closed place to be allowed our production of—, see 102 proceedings not cond where Magis- trade not empowered, issues— under see 98, see 529	92 817
Sanction		Security
of Local Government required for prosecution for acts done in dispersing unlawful assem- blies, see 132 of G G in Council or Local Government required for pro-	137	Court issuing varrant of arrest may direct—to be taken, see 76—for keeping the peace on conviction, see 106—for keeping the peace for preventing disturbance of public	69 97
secution for offences against State, se. 196 —of G G in Council or Local Government required for pro-	287	franquility, -ec 107 for good behaviour from persons disseminating sedition, matter.	100
secution for certain classes of criminal conspiracy, sec 196 A —of Local Government for pro-	290	for good behaviour from vagrants and suspected persons, sec 109	108
secution of indges and public servants, sec 197 —of High Court necessary for pro-	291	tan offenders, see 110	109
secution of approver giving falce evidence, sec. 339 (8)	492	order to give—when to be made, sec 118	114
Sealing		continencement of period for which	121
68 (1) 	63 67	imprisonment in default of furnish- ing- sec 123 power to release person imprisoned	128
Search -of arrested person, sec 51	47	for fathing to give , sec 124	131
of noman, sec 52 for letters and telegams, sec 95	48 84	proceedings coul where Magistrate not empowered demands—for keeping the peace or for good	131
of house suspected to contain stolen property, forged docu- n ents, etc., sec. 98	87	benderour, sec 530 (c) and (d)	818
disposal of things found in-beyond jutisdiction, sec 99 —for person arongfully confined,	89	appeal from conviction in Magis- trate for-, sec 408 (c)	596
sec, 100	91	Seddious Matter
sec, 100 —of closed place, sec 103	92	security for good behaviour from witnesses, see 103	92	persons disseminating— sec	108
Magretrate may direct—to be made	Q1	Sentence	,,,, in his presence, sec 105  ———————————————————————————————————	223	aluch H ( and Sessions Judge man pass see 31
	~	nluch Vagn-trate mas pass	26
Search List of things found in course of search, sec 103 (2)	92	power of Magnetrile to-to impri- consent in default of fine	27
Search Warrant See "Warrant" when-may be issued, see 96	84 84	powered under see 30 mas	28
power to restrict, sec 97  for search of house suspected to contain stolen property, etc. sec 93	86 87	I rush subjects see 34 \
tions see 99	89 91	offences at one trial are 35 in trial of an rions cases see directions etc., as to-, sec 101		-

Revenue Court-(contd )

Rules-(contd )

Revenue Court-(contd.)		Ruies-(contd)
procedure of-on commitment to		power of Dist Magistrate to make
H C or Sessions Court, sec		-for distribution of business
479	718	among subordinate Magistrates.
powers of-in cases of contempt		sec 17 (1)	18 committed before, it, see 480	718	power of Session Judge to make -for distribution of business
Reversal		among Assat Sessions Judges
		sec 17 (3)	18
-of finding and sentence by		power of Chief Presidency Magis-	10 appellate Court, sec 423 (1) (b)	612	Power of Chief Presidency Magistrate to make-for the conduct
Review		of business in Presidency	_
no-of judgment by Court except to		Magistrate's Courts, sec 27	20 correct clerical error, see 369	551	power of H C to make-regard-power of H C to alter sentence	701	tssue of summons, sec 68	63 passed by judge exercising		power of Local Government to passed by judge exercising		make-for the publication of original jurisdiction, on-of case, sec 434		proclamations, sec 134 (2)	145 case, sec 434	643	power of H Cs to make-about manner of taking down evi
Revision		dence, see 365	541
—by H C; Sessions Judge or Dist Magistrate, sec 435 powers of—of H C, sec 439		local Govt may make-regarding	٠.,
Diet Magestrate ten 475	646	execution of warrants for levy
porters of of H C see 430	666		563
of an amin of committed as son	000	of fine, sec 386 (2) power of chartered H Cs to	300
- of an order of acquittal or con	 viction, sec 439 (n)	6 69	make-for inspection of records
no party has a right to be heard		of subordinate Courts, sec
by any Court exercising powers		554 (1)	864 of-, sec 440	676	power of other H Cs to make -for certain purposes, sec
Rigorous Imprisonment		554 (2)	864
See "Imprisonment"		Local Government may make-for cce imprisonaciie		the notification of residence or thange of or absence from Riot		tendence by released convicts,
public to give information about		hec 565 (3)	882
	39	46C 303 (0)	002
any—, see 44 (1) security for Leening the neace on	39	(6)	002
security for keeping the peace on		46C 000 (0)	002
conviction of -, see 106	39 97		002
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see 106 power of Magistrate to direct any		$	002
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do		s	002
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, sec. 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent	97	S Sale	002
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do		Sale of perishable property attached	002
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, set 144 (1)	97	Sale of perishable property attached as belonging to absconder, see
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, see 144 (1)	97	Sale  of perishable property attached as belonging to absconder, see 88 (5)	77
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, set 144 (1)	97	Sale  of pershable property attached as belonging to absconder, see 88 [5] proceeds of—of property may be
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, see 144 (1)  River jurisdiction of Presidency Magis- trate in regard to navigable—	97	Sale  of perishable property attached as belonging to absconders, see 88 (5) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his	77
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, see 144 (1)  River jurisdiction of Presidency Magis- trate in regard to navigable—	97	Sale  of perishable property attached as belonging to absconder, see 88 (5) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his apprograph before Court, see 89
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, see 144 (1)  River jurisdiction of Presidency Magis- trate in regard to navigable—	97	Sale  of perishable property attached as belonging to absconders, see 88 (6) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his appearing before Court, see 89 of property for recovery of	77
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, see 144 (1)  River jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency town, see 20	97	Sale  of pershable property attached as belonging to absconder, see 88 [5] proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his appearing before court, see 89  of property for recovery of tosts of carrying out the orders	77
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent of the peace of the peace of the urisdiction of Presidency Magis- trate in regard to navigable— leading to port of Presidency town, see 20 conditional order for removal of	97 155	Sale  of pershable property attached as belonging to absconder, see by proceed of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his appearing before Court, see 89  of property for recovery of todays of carrying out the orders of the Magnerate under see	77
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, see 144 (1)  River jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency town, see 20	97	Sale  of pershable property attached as belonging to absconder, see 88 [5] proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his appearing before court, see 89  of property for recovery of tosts of carrying out the orders	77
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct am person to do or not to do some act which may prevent act see 144 (1) River purisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency town, sec 20 conditional order for removal of obstruction to—, sec 133 (1)	97 155	Sale  of perishable property attached as belonging to absconder, see 88 (8) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his appearing before Court, see 89  of property for record, see 89  of property for record, see 80  of the Magnetate under see 136, 137 or 139, see 140 (2) power of Magnetate to order-of	77
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent s—, see 144 (1)  River jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency town, see 20 conditional order for removal of obstruction to—, see 133 (1)  Robbery	97 155	Sale  of perishable property attached s belonging to absconders, see 88 (8) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his suppearing before Court, see 89 of property for recovery of tosts of carrying out the orders of the Magnetrate under see los, 137 or 159, see 140 (2) power of Magnetrate to concend	77
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct amy person to do or not to do some act which may prevent act see 144 (1) River purisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency town, see 20 conditional order for removal of obstruction to—, see 133 (1) Robbery duty of village headmen and others	97 155	Sale  of perishable property attached s belonging to absconders, see 88 (8) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his suppearing before Court, see 89 of property for recovery of tosts of carrying out the orders of the Magnetrate under see los, 137 or 159, see 140 (2) power of Magnetrate to concend	77 79 152
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct any person to do or not to do some act which may prevent see, see 144 (1)  River jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency town, see 20 conditional order for removal of obstruction to—, see 133 (1)  Robbery duty of village headmen and others to report about any—within these	97 155 20 141	Sale  of perishable property attached as belonging to absconder, see 88 (8)  proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on ins appearing before Centry, ene of the Magnetrate under see 136, 137 or 139, see 140 (2) power of Magnetrate under see 136, 137 or 139, see 140 (2) power of Magnetrate to order-of property subject to speedy decas, in proceedings under	77
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct amperson to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, see 144 (1)  River jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to mayigable—leading to port of Presidency conditional order for removal of obstruction to—, see 133 (1)  Robbery duty of village headmen and others to report about any—within the village, see 45	97 155 20 141	Sale  of perishable property attached s belonging to absconders, see 88 (8) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his suppearing before Court, see 89 of property for recovery of tosts of carrying out the orders of the Magnetrate under see loss, 137 or 159, see 140 [br-of property subject to speedy property subject to speedy loss of the proceedings ander see 145, see 145 [8]	77 79 152
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see 106 power of Magistrate to direct am person to do or not to do some act which may prevent as the person of the perso	97 155 20 141	Sale  of perichable property attached as belonging to absconder, see $8 [5] proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his supearing before Court, see $9 —of property for recovery of tosts of carrying out the orders of the Magnetate under see $136, 137 or 129, see 140 (2) power of Magnetate to order—of property subject to openly decat, in proceedings ander to fine high property of prop	77 79 152
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct amperson to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, see 144 (1)  River jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency conditional order for removal of obstruction to—, see 133 (1)  Robbery duty of village headmen and others to report about any—within the village, see 45 arrest of habitual robbers, see 55 Security for good behaviour from	97 155 20 141	Sale  of perichable property attached as belonging to absconder, see $8 [5] proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his supearing before Court, see $9 —of property for recovery of tosts of carrying out the orders of the Magnetate under see $136, 137 or 129, see 140 (2) power of Magnetate to order—of property subject to openly decat, in proceedings ander to fine high property of prop	77 79 152
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct amy person to do or not to do some act which may prevent act are 144 (1) River purisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency town, see 20 conditional order for removal of obstruction to—, see 133 (1) Robbery data of village headmen and others to report about any—within the arrest of habitual robbers, see $5 Security for good hehavour from person believed to be robbers from person believed to be robbers.	97 155 20 141 41 55	Sale  of pershable property attached as belonging to absconder, see by proceed of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his appearing before Court, see 89  of property for recovery of tosts of carrying out the orders of the Magistrate under see 136, 137 or 139, see 140 (2) power of Magistrate to order—of property subject to speedy decat, in proceedings under see 145, see 145 (8)  of movable property of prior for keovery of first the recovery of any first rampoed by Court, see	77 79 152 163 483
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct amperson to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, see 144 (1)  River jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency conditional order for removal of obstruction to—, see 133 (1)  Robbery duty of village headmen and others to report about any—within the village, see 45 arrest of habitual robbers, see 55 Security for good behaviour from	97 155 20 141	Sale  of perichable property attached as belonging to absconder, see $8 (5) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his superaring before Court, see $9 of property for recovery of tosts of carrying out the orders of the Magnetrate under see $136, 137 or 129, see 140 (2) power of Magnetrate to order-of property subject to special decay of the second property of the second property of	77 79 152
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct amy person to do or not to do some act which may prevent act are 144 (1) River purisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency town, see 20 conditional order for removal of obstruction to—, see 133 (1) Robbery data of village headmen and others to report about any—within the arrest of habitual robbers, see $5 Security for good hehavour from person believed to be robbers from person believed to be robbers.	97 155 20 141 41 55	Sale  of pershable property attached as belonging to absconder, see 88 (5)  proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his delivered to abscord on his delivered to abscord on the see file, 137 or 133, see 140 (2) power of Magistrate to order—of property subject to speedy decat, in proceedings ander see 145, see 145 (8), decovery of fine, see 332 decovery of fine, see 332 decovery of fine, see 332 decovery of fine, see 333	77 79 152 163 483 563
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct am person to do or not to do some act which may prevent act and the peace of the properties of the provided properties of the provided properties of the provided provided provided provided provided properties of the properties of the provided prov	97 155 20 141 41 55	Sale  of pershable property attached as belonging to absconder, see (6) processes to property may be delivered to absconder on his appearing before Court, see 89 of property for recovery of costs of carrying out the orders of the Magistrate under see 136, 137 or 139, see 140 (2) power of Magistrate to order-of property subject to speedy decat, in proceedings under see 145, see 145 (8) of movable property of the covery of fire, see 329 of property for the recovery of single the see of the see of the see of the seed of the see of the see of the seed of t	77 79 152 163 483
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct amperson to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, see 144 (1)  River jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency conditional order for removal of obstruction to—, see 133 (1)  Robbery duty of village headmen and others to report about any—within the village, see 45 arrest of habitual robbers, see 55 Security for good behaviour from persons beheved to be robbers by habit, see 110 (2)	97 155 20 141 41 55	Sale  of perishable property attached as belonging to absconder, see 88 (8) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his appearing before Court, see 89 of property for recovery of tests of carrying out the orders of the Magnetrate under see 186, 137 or 189, see 140 property as upiect to speedy becas, in proceedings under see 185, see 145 (8)—of mosable property of juror for kecovery of fine, see 332  of property for the recovery of any fine imposed by Court, see 302  and movable property on for-ferting of bond.	77 79 152 163 483 563
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct amy person to do or not to do some act which may prevent act as the control of the	97 155 20 141 41 55	Sale  of perichable property attached as belonging to absconder, see $8 (5) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his suppearing before Court, see $9 of property for recovery of tosts of carrying out the orders of the Magistrate under see $136, 137 or 129, see 140 (2) power of Magistrate to order-of property subject to specify the see $15, see 145 (39, audiet) of morable property of juror for kecovery of fine, see 332.  of movable property of your for legislating imposed by Court, see 385.  of movable property on for-legislating imposed by Court, see 361.  of movable property on for-legislating imposed by Court, see 361.  of movable property on for-legislating imposed by Court, see 361.  of property attached, but not	77 79 152 163 483 563 768
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct amperson to do or not to do some act which may prevent a—, see 144 (1)  River pursaitction of Presidency Magistrate in regard to navigable—leading to port of Presidency town, see 20 conditional order for removal of obstruction to—, see 133 (1)  Robbery duty of village headmen and others to report about any—within the village, see 45 arrest of habitual robbers, see 55 Security for good behaviour from persons believed to be robbers by halit, see 110 (1)  Rutes power of Local Government to frame—for gnidance	97 155 20 141 41 55	Sale  of perishable property attached as belonging to absconder, see 88 (8) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his appearing before Court, see 89 of property for recovery of costs of carrying out the orders of the Magnetrate under see powers of the Magnetrate to order—of property subject to order—of property subject to speedy decas, in proceedings under see 145, see 145 (8)—of monable property of juryor for kecovery of fine, see 332  of property for the recovery of any fine imposed by Court, see of movable property on for seems of movable property on seems of movable property on for seems of movable property on seems of property on seems of property attrocked, but not claimed within six months, seems of the seems of t	77 79 152 163 483 563
security for keeping the peace on conviction of—, see, 106 power of Magistrate to direct amy person to do or not to do some act which may prevent act as the control of the	97 155 20 141 41 55	Sale  of perichable property attached as belonging to absconder, see $8 (5) proceeds of—of property may be delivered to absconder on his suppearing before Court, see $9 of property for recovery of tosts of carrying out the orders of the Magistrate under see $136, 137 or 129, see 140 (2) power of Magistrate to order-of property subject to specify the see $15, see 145 (39, audiet) of morable property of juror for kecovery of fine, see 332.  of movable property of your for legislating imposed by Court, see 385.  of movable property on for-legislating imposed by Court, see 361.  of movable property on for-legislating imposed by Court, see 361.  of movable property on for-legislating imposed by Court, see 361.  of property attached, but not	77 79 152 163 483 563 768

571

Stay-(contd )

appeal from conviction in contempt cases by-, sec 486 (3)	724	of proceedings where provincial Magnetrate cannot dispose of case, sec 346
Soldier		of execution of sentence of doing any act in obedience to orders for dispersing unlawful		whipping, sec 394 (2)of order under sec 517, 518 or	571
assemblies commits no offence, sec 132 (d)	137	519, sec 520	780
Solitary Confinement		Stolen Property  presence of receiver of-in village power of Magistrates to inflict sent- ence of , sec 32 (1) (a) (b)	27	to be notified to police, sec 45 (a)	41
		police may arrest without warrant
Special Forms of Procedure		person possessing, sec 54 (4) search of house suspected to con-	48
affected in Code, sec 1 (2)	ţ	tain-, sec 98	87
Special Jurisdiction		offence of receiving of reforming conferred by any other law not		triable summarily, sec 260	100 affected by Code, see 1 (2)	1	(i) (b) payment to innocent purchaser of	403
Special Juroes when to be empanelled, see		-of money found on accused, sec 519	950
276 (3)	422	sec 219	779
list of, sec 312, 313 474, preparation of list of, sec 325	475 480	Sub Division meaning of, sec 4 (u)	9
}		power of Local Govt to divide
Special or Local Law		districts into-, sec 8 [1] existing-to be maintained, sec	12
sec 1 (2)	5	8 (2)	12
trial of offences under, sec	24	power of Local Gott to put Magis- trate in charge of-, sec 13 (1)	15
Smarted Maddada-6		San-Derisional Magistrate
Special Magistrate appointment of, sec 14 (1)	16	See "Vagustrate"	14
appointment of, sec 14 (1) term of appointment of, sec 14(2)	16	See "lagistrate" appointment of-, sec 13 ordinary powers of-, sec 36	16 36
appointment of—, sec 14 (1) term of appointment of—, sec 14 (2) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on	16	See "Vagistrate" appointment of, see 13 ordinari poners of, see 36 additional powers conferrable on appointment of , sec 14 (1) term of appointment of , sec 14(2) who may be appointed , sec 14 (3)	16	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 36 additional powers conferrable on —, see 37 — may to search the search of	36
appointment of—, see 14 (3) term of appointment of—, see 14(2) who may be appointed—, see 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on certain police officers, see 14(4) Special Rules of Fuidence	16 16	See "Vagistrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 36 additional powers conferrable on —, see 37	36
appointment of—, see 14 (1) term of appointment of—, see 14(2) who may be appointed—, see 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on certain police officers, see 14(4)	16 16	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 36 additional powers conferrable on —, see 37 —must issue warrant for search of house suspected to contain stollen property, etc., see 38 —must issue warrant for search	36 86
appointment of—, sec 14 (1) term of appointment of—, sec 14(2) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on certain police officers, sec 14(4) Special Rules of Fidence tee sec 509—12 763 Standing Counsel	16 16	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 ordinary powers ordinary of the search of the same value of the same variant for search of person wrongfully confined, see 109	36 86
appenaturent of—, sec 14 (1) term of appointment of—, sec 14(2) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on certain police officers, sec 14(4) Special Rules of I'sidence see sec 509—12 763—	16 16	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 oddenous powers of—see 36 oddenous powers of—see 36 oddenous of—see 36 oddenous of—see 36 oddenous oddeno	36 36 87
appointment of , sec 14 (1) term of appointment of , sec 14 (2) who may be appointed -, sec 14 (3) powers of -may be conferred on certain police officers, sec 14 (4) Special Rules of Fidence sec 509—12 763- Standing Counts — may conduct pro-ecution without permission, sec 495	16 16 16	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 additional powers conferrable on additional powers conferrable on the see 15 ordinary powers of the see 15 ordinary to the same variant for search of presson wrongfully confined, see 150 ordinary of the power see 150 ordinary or see 150 ordinary or see 150 ordinary or see 150 ordinary ordinary or see 150 ordinary ordina	36 86 87 91
appointment of—, sec 14 (1) term of appointment of—, sec 14 (2) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on certain police officers, sec 16(4) Special Rules of Fidence see 509—12 763- Standing Counsel——may conduct pro-ecution without permission, sec 495 State	16 16 16	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 ordinary powers of—, see 38 ordinary powers of— see 39 ordinary powers of search of howe suspected to contain stolen property, etc., see 38 — was a same warrant for search of person wrongfulls confined, see 109 — ordinary powers of see 100 — ordinary powers of see 100 — ordinary ordin	36 87 91 97
appointment of , sec 14 (1) term of appointment of , sec 14 (2) who may be appointed -, sec 14 (3) powers of -may be conferred on certain police officers, sec 14 (4) Special Rules of Fidence sec 509—12 763- Standing Counts — may conduct pro-ecution without permission, sec 495	16 16 16	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 oddenous powers conferrable on addenous powers conferrable on the search of house suspected to contain stoken property, etc., see 89 — sua's issue warrant for search of same warrant for search of the same warrant for keeping the peace on conviction see 106 — may require security for keeping the peace to present for keeping the peace to present the same the peace to present the same the peace of public transputities.	36 86 87 91
appointment of—, sec 14 (1) term of appointment of—, sec 14 (2) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on certain police officers, sec 14(4) Special Rules of F-idence—ee sec 509—12 763-Standing Coursel ——may conduct pro-secution with—out permission, sec 495  State prosecution for offences against—,	16 16 16 -767 745	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 28 additional powers conferrable on the conferrable of the conferrable of the conferrable of those unspected to contain stollen property, etc., see 89 — way issue warrant for search of person wrongfulls confined, — man order security for keeping the peace on conviction see 106 — man require security for keeping the peace to prevent disturbance of pubble tranquistics.  — which is the peace of prevent disturbance of pubble tranquistics.  — which is the conferrable of the conferrable of pubble tranquistics.  — which is the conferrable of the conferrable of pubble tranquistics.	36 86 87 91 97
appointment of—, sec 14 (1) term of appointment of—, sec 14 (2) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on Sectian police officers, sec 14 (4) Special Rules of F-idence ee sec 509—12 763- Standing Coursel ——may conduct pro-ecution with- out permission, sec 495 State prosecution for offences against—, sec 196 Statement ——to police officers in course of	16 16 16 -767 745	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 ordinary powers of—, see 38 oddenotal powers conferrable on the see 15 ordinary powers of the see 16 ordinary of 1	36 87 91 97
appointment of—, sec 14 (3) term of appointment of—, sec 14 (3) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of the sec 14 (3) powers of the sec 14 (3) powers of the sec 14 (3) Special Rules of Fidence we sec 509—12 763.  Standing Counsel ——nay conduct provecubon with—out permission, sec 495  State prosecution for offences against—, sec 195  Statemnt — to police officers in course of investigation, sec 162  in inducement to be made for independent of the police officers in course of investigation, sec 162  in inducement to be made for incourse of the second of	16 16 16 745 287 203	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 oddenous powers conferrable on addenous powers conferrable on the seed of the see	36 87 91 97 100
appointment of—, sec 14 (1) term of appointment of—, sec 14 (2) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on certain police officers, sec 14(4)  Special Rules of Fidence we sec 509—12  Standing Counse —may conduct pro-ecution with— out permission, sec 495  State pro-secution for offences against—, sec 196  Statement — to police officers in course of no inducement to be made for obtaining an—, sec 102	16 16 16 -767 745	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 ordinary powers of—, see 38 oddenously powers of—, see 38 of 38	36 87 91 97 100 109
appointment of—, sec 14 (3) term of appointment of—, sec 14 (3) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of the sec 14 (3) powers of the sec 14 (3) powers of the sec 14 (3) Special Rules of Fidence we sec 509—12 763.  Standing Counsel ——nay conduct provecubon with—out permission, sec 495  State prosecution for offences against—, sec 195  Statemnt — to police officers in course of investigation, sec 162  in inducement to be made for independent of the police officers in course of investigation, sec 162  in inducement to be made for incourse of the second of	16 16 16 745 287 203	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 ordinary powers of—, see 38 oddenotal powers conferrable on the seed of the see 30 ordinary powers of the seed of the same warrant for search of preson wrongfully confined, see 30 order same warrant for search of preson wrongfully confined, see 30 order security for keeping the peace on conviction see 100 order security for keeping the peace on conviction see 100 order security for keeping the peace of present disturbance of public tranquility.  See 10 order security for good behaviour from vagrants and suppected persons, see 109 order security for good behaviour from habitual oftenders, see 110 order, see 110 order of 50 ord	36 87 91 97 100
appointment of—, sec 14 (3) term of appointment of—, sec 14 (3) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on certain police officers, sec 15(4)  Special Rules of Fisience we see 509—12 763  Standing Counsei ——may conduct pro-secubon without permission, sec 495  State prosecution for offences against—, sec 166  Statement — to police officers in course of mestigation, sec 162 no inducement to be made for mestigation, sec 162 power of Magistrate to record—, sec 164	16 16 16 -767 745 287 203 210	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 oddenous powers conferrable on addenous powers conferrable on the seed of the see	36 87 91 97 100 109 110
appointment of—, sec 14 (3) term of appointment of—, sec 14 (3) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on extended to the sec 15 (4) Special Rules of Fidence see 509—12 763.  Standing Counsel————————————————————————————————————	16 16 16 -767 745 287 203 210	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 ordinary powers of—, see 38 oddenously powers of—, see 38 of 38	36 87 91 97 100 109
appointment of—, sec 14 (1) term of appointment of—, sec 14 (2) who may be appointed—, sec 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on certain police officers, sec 14(4) Special Rules of F-idence ee sec 509—12 763- Standing Coursei ——may conduct pro-secution without permission, sec 495 State prosecution for offences against—, sec 196 Statement ——to police officers in course of investigation, sec 162 on inducement in—jece 172 power of Magistrate to record—, sec 164 Stat	16 16 16 -767 745 287 203 210	See "Vagustrate" appointment of—, see 13 ordinary powers of—, see 38 ordinary powers of see 38 ordinary of see 48 ordinary of see 48 ordinary of see 100 ordinary of person wrongfully confined, see 100 ordinary of see 50 ordinary ordinary of see 50 ordinary of see 50 ordinary ordinary of see 50 ordinary ordinary of see 50 ordinary ordi	36 87 91 97 100 109 110

Small Causes Court

Sentence-(contd)		Sessions Judge
		See "Judge"
258 (2)	400	appointment of—, sec 9 (1)	1
procedure when Magistrate cannot		Asst Sessions Judge subordinate	1:
pass—sufficiently severe, sec, 349	520	to-, sec 17 (3)
	550	Peace, sec 25	23
of death, sec 368 (1) of transportation, sec 368 (2)	550	senience which—may pass, sec 31 limitation for appeal from of	000	procedure where-disagrees with death, sec 371 (3)	555	verdict of Jury, sec 307	46
copy of-to be forwarded to Dist	003	appeal from sentence by-, sec	10
Magistrate by Court of Ses		410	599
sions, sec 373	550	power of-to call for records of in
-of death to be submitted		ferior Courts, sec 435	646
to H C, sec 374 power of H C to confirm-, sec	557	power of to order further inquiry, power of H C to confirm-, sec		sec 436	650
376	558	power of-to order commitment, postponement of capital-on pre		sec 437	655
gnant woman, sec 382	561	power of-to withdraw cases from execution of of transportation or		Asst Sessions Judge, sec 528	806 imprisonment, sec 383	661
warrant for execution of-, sec 384	563 563	Sessions Trial of fine, how executed, see 386 suspension of execution of-of im	5 03	See "Trial"
prisonment, sec 389 (1)	565
execution of-of whipping only, sec	000	Signed 390	567	summons for service on Govt or execution of-of whipping in addi		Railway servants to be received
tion to imprisonment, sec 391	568	and-by head of office, sec 72	65
-of whipping not to be executed		ber of Court, sec 75 (1)	67
by instalments, sec 393	571	search list to be-by witnesses to	0, execution of-on escaped convicts,		the search, sec 103 (2)	92
sec 396	572	information in cognizable offences	- 574	to be reduced to writing-by in for another offence, sec 397 power to suspend or remit—, sec	3/4	formant, sec 154	194
401	580	statements to police not to be-,
power of Appellate Court in regard	•••	sec 162	203
to-, sec 423 (b)	612	confessions to be-in manner pro-suspension of-pending appeal, sec		vided in sec 364, sec 164	211
428	635	judgment of Bench of Magistrates power of H C as to-in revision,		to be-by each member, sec 265 (2)	413
sec 439	656	record of evidence in summons	413 cases and in trials by 1st and Servant		2nd class Magistrate to be-by service of summons by leaving it		Magistrate, sec 355	527
with-, see 70	65	record of evidence to be-by Ses service of summons on Government	00	sions Judge, sec 357	532
or Railway-, sec 72	65
• •		Simple Imprisonment
a		•
Service
See 'Summons"		هود المناري	129 sentence of-for failing to give
Sessions Courts		security for good behaviour,
See "Courts of Sessions"		under sec 108 or 109, sec	129
		123 (6) —for failure to pay compensation	120
Sessions Division		for false or vexations accuea-division of provinces into-, sec 7	12	tions, sec 250 (2 A)	381 power to order cases to be tried in different—, sec 178	242	Slave Trade Act trial in wrong-does not vitiate pro-		issue of commission under the-,	760
ceedings, sec. 531 .	820	sec 504 (2)	,00

Magistrate cannot dispose of case, sec 346

-of execution of sentence of

---- of order under sec 517, 518 or presence of recener of-in village nolice may arrest without warrant to be notified to police, sec person possessing-, sec 54 (4)

whipping, sec 394 (2)

519, sec 520

515

671

780

41

48

Stay--{contd }

Stelen Property

45 (4)

724

137

27

	1	search of house saspected to con tam-, sec 98	87
Special Jurisdiction	1	offence of receiving or retaining —of value less than Rs 50 triable summarily, see 260 (1) (b)
5pecial Jurors	422	payment to innocent purchaser of —of money found on accused, sec 519	779
		Sub Bivision meaning of, sec 4 (n) power of Local Govt to divide	9
Special or Local Law	1	districts into— sec 8 (1) existing—to be maintained, sec 8 (2)	12
trial of offences under- sec	24	power of Local Govt to put Magis trate in charge of— sec 13 (1)	15
Special Magistrate appointment of— sec 14 (1) term of appointment of—, sec 14(2)	16	Sub Divisional Magistrate See Magistrate ' appointment of sec 13	15
who may be appointed— sec 14 (3) powers of—may be conferred on certain police officers, sec 14(4)	16	ordinary powers of , sec 36 additional powers conferrable on — sec 37	36 36
Special Rules of Tyldence	767	of house suspected to contain stolen property etc. see 99	87
Standing Counsel  may conduct protecution with out permission, sec 493	745	of person wrongfully confined, sec 100 —may order security for keeping the peace on conviction sec 106	91 97
State prosecution for offences against-, sec 196	287	may require security for keeping the peace to prevent dis- turbance of public tranqually sec 107  may require security for good behaviour from vagrants and	100
Statement —to police officers in course of investigation, see 162 no inducement to be made for obtaining any—see 163 power of Magistrate to record—.	203 210	- may require security for good behaviour from habitual offen ders see 110 power of-to discharge sureties,	109
sec 164	211	power of-to war order absolute in arkent cases of nationice, acc 144	133 155 of proceedings where prosecu- tion in aftered charge requires previous sauction, sec 230	350	powers of in regard to disputes regar ling sunmobable property sec 145	-

Small Causes Court

sec 132 (d)

Special Forms of Procedure

Salitary Confinement

Soldier

appeal from conviction in contempt

-----doing any act in obedience to power of Magistrates to inflict sent-orders for dispersing unlawful assemblies commits no effence, ence of-, sec 32 (1) (a) (b)

cases by-, sec 486 (3)

Sub Divisional Magistrates-(contd )

powers of-re disputes concerning use of immovable property, see power of-to order local inquiry,

sec 148
power of—to hold inquests, see 186

Smelde

sec 174 (1)

190 Summary Convictions power to inquire and report on-, no appeal from certain-, sec 414 600

174 (5)	238
power of-to issue summons or		Summary Dismissal
warrant for offence committed		-of appeal, sec 421	608 beyond local jurisdiction, sec
186	250	Summary trial
cognizance of offences by-sec 190	256	powers of-, sec 260	403
power of-to transfer cases, see		procedure in- sec 260 (n)	407
192 (1)	267	power of Bench of Magistrates for power of-to commit for trial,		holding-, sec 261	408
sec 206	317	procedure for— sec 262	410
power of-to call for records of in		record in-where there is no appeal, ferior Courts, sec. 435	646	see 263	410
power of-to order payment of		record in-in appealable cases, see maintenance, sec 488	726	264	412
power of-to appoint Public Prose		in cases not so triable illegal
cutors, sec 492	740	sec 530 (q)	816 power of—to order sale of property where no claimant appears, sec 524	788	Summing, up power of-to withdraw cases from	703	by prosecutor of case for pro-subordinate Magistrate, sec 528	806	secution, sec 289	439
adolumnie magionere, see olo		by defence of case for accused,
Subardinate Court		sec 290	442
transfer of case from-, sec 528		-of evidence by Judge in charge
(1) (a)	769	to jury, sec 297	446
(-/ (-/
Subordinate Magistrate		Summons
appointment of sec 12 (1)	15	form of—, sec 68 (1)	63
power of provincial-to apply for		-b) whom served, see 66 (2)	63
isssue of commission, sec 506	761	——how served, sec 69 (1)	64
		signature of receipt for-, sec
Subordination		69 (2)	64
-of Magistrates and Benches to	••	service of-when person summoned
Dist Magistrates, sec 17 (1)	18	cannot be formed, sec 70	65
-to sub Divisional Magistrate,	16	service of—on Govt or Railway servants, sec 72	65
see 17 (2) —of Assist Sessions Judge to	10	servants, sec 72 service of—outside local limits, sec	63
-of Assist Sessions Judge to	18	73	66
Sessions Judge sec 17 (3) —to Chief Presidency Magistrate,		issue of warrant in lien of or in	- sec 21 (2)	21	addition to-, sec 90	81
Sec 21 (2)
Sub-Registrar		things sec 94	82
-when to be deemed a Civil		power to issue-for offence com-
Court, sec 483	722	mitted outside local jurisdiction, appeal from conviction by-in con		sec 186	250
tempt cases, see 486 (4)	724	for attendance of accused, sec
		204	313
Substituted Service			335
of summons how effected, see	-	accused committed, sec 216	333
71	65	power to-supplementary witnesses,	337
Successor		sec 219 —to jurors in Presidency towns, warrant for execution of sentence		sec 315	476
may be issued by-of Magistrate		-to jurors outside Presidency passing sentence, see 389	567	towns, sec 316	476
r-ming continue, boo		power to-another set of jurors or Sudden or unnatural death		assessors, sec 327	482 occurrence of-in village to be re-		power to-medical witness, sec	***
ported to police, sec 45 (d)	41	509 (2)	763

Summons—(contd) finding or sentence when reversible by reason of error, omission or		Tank power to-material witness, sec 540	828 817	order by Vagistrate to fence-, see
Summons Case —defined, sec 4 (v) trial of—by Magistrates, sec 241—249 record in—, sec 355	9 -389	Technical Terms duty of jury to decide meming of all—, sec 299 (b)  Telegraph
Superintendent See "District Supdt of Police"	V 23	power of Magistrates to call for purposes of intestigation, any- thing in the custody of—notho-
Surety	68 111	rities, see 95 what Magistrates can gramt warrant for search of things in custody of—authorities, see 96 (2) public to basist Magistrate and Police in presenting injury to anti-see 42
order to execute bond nith— sec 118 power to reject—, sec 122 bond of accused and—, sec 499 discharge of— sec 592	115 121 125 755 756	offences against this existing to hiera triable, see 181 2 persons employed in the—Dent ex- empted from serving as invos- (20 () whith if—Injt in Magnifiede not empowered see 539 (b)
proceedings against—, sec 514 (7) procedure in case of insolvence or death of— sec 514 A acceptance of bond executed by—sec 514 B Surgeon	768 722 772	Temporary Orders  priver to system in argent cases of neumance or appreceded danger see 144  griber see 144 by Magnitude and
See Civil Sargeon" dead body when to be forwarded to Civil-for examination see 174-18 exemption of—from -ensing as first or assessor see 320 fb Gepatition of— or 509	239 478 763	Tent included in the expense g
Suspected person security for Look behaviour from— sec. 109	159	offerce of a where trail and 249 of the control of Suspension See Removal —of judges and Blass for excessed	22	release with advances of second consisted the page 207.  These and Journey of the Jean of In- color see 2014 or 2014 and execution of vertices of in- terpretation of vertices of in-	22 3*2 5/5	to point of boots of the till and written of things to we sold control for the G of the Control or Local Good and the sold and the sold the s	571 581 615	Trate  order to be record  order to be record  order to the sec
Suspicious death  Oremore of the of the village to		Impletor the

INDEX

Sub Divisional Magistrates—(contd) powers of—re disputes concerning use of immovable property, see 147	186	Suicide  power to inquire and report on—,  sec 174 (1)	237
power of—to order local inquiry, sec 148 power of—to hold inquests, sec	190	Summary Convictions no appeal from certain-, sec 414	600
power of—to issue summons or warrant for offence committed be ond local jurisdiction, see	238	Summary Dismissal ——of appeal, sec 421	608
cognizance of offences by-sec 190 power of-to transfer cases, sec	250 256	powers of—, sec. 260 procedure in— sec. 260 (n)	403 407
192 (1) power of—to commit for trial, sec 206	267 317	power of Bench of Magistrates for holding—, sec 261 procedure for—, sec 262	408 410
power of—to call for records of in ferior Courts, sect 435 power of—to order payment of	646	record in—where there is no appeal,	410
maintenance, sec 488 power of—to appoint Public Prose-	726	record in—in appealable cases sec  264 —in cases not so triable illegal,	412
cutors, sec 492 power of-to order sale of property	740	sec 530 (q)	818
where no claimant appears, sec 524 power of—to withdraw cases from subordinate Magistrate, sec 523	788 806	Summing, up by prosecutor of case for pro- secution, sec 289	439
Subordinate Court			442
transfer of case from-, sec 528 (1) (a)	789	to jury, sec 297	446
Subordinate Magistrate		Summons
	15		82
appointment of—, sec 12 (1) power of provincial—to apply for issue of commission, sec 506	15 781	form of— sec 68 (1)  —by whom served sec 68 (2)  —how served sec 89 (1)	83 83 64
appointment of—, sec 12 (1) power of provincial—to apply for issue of commission, sec 506 Subordination		form of— sec 68 (1)  —by whom served sec 68 (2)  —how served sec 89 (1)  signature of receipt for—, sec 69 (2)	83
appointment of -, sec 12 (1) power of provincial-to apply for issue of commission, sec 506		form of— sec 68 (1)  —by whom served sec 68 (2)  —how served sec 89 (1)  signature of receipt for—, sec	83 64
appointment of—, sec 12 (1) power of provincial—to apply for issue of commission, sec 506 Subordination —of Magistrates and Benches to Dist Magistrates, sec 17 (1) —to sub Divisional Magistrate, sec 17 (2) —of Assist Sessions Tudge to	781 18	form of— sec 68 (1)  —by whom served sec 68 (2)  —how served sec 89 (1)  signature of receipt for—, sec 68 (2)  ervice of—when person summoned cannot be formed, sec 70  service of—on Govt or Railway servants, sec 72  service of—outside local limits, sec	83 64 84 65 65
appointment of—, sec 12 [1] power of provincial—to apply for issine of commission, sec 506 Subordination —of Magistrates and Benches to Dist Magistrates, sec 17 [1] —to sub Divisional Magistrate, sec 17 [2] —of Assist Sessions Judge to Sessions Judge, sec 17 [3] —to Chief Presidency Magistrate, Judy Chief Presidency Magistrate,	781 18 18	form of— sec 68 (1)  —by whom served sec 68 (2)  —how served sec 89 (1)  squature of receipt for—, sec 69 (2)  ervice of—when person summoned cannot be formed, sec 70  servants, sec 72  servants, sec 72  service of—outside local limits, sec 73  serve of outside local limits, sec 73  serve of watrant in lien of or in issue of watrant in lien of or in	83 64 84 65 65 68
appointment of—, sec 12 [1] power of provincial—to apply for issine of commission, sec 506 Subordination —of Magistrates and Benches to Dist Magistrates, sec 17 [1] —to sub Divisional Magistrate, sec 17 [2] —of Assist Sessions Judge to Sessions Judge, sec 17 [3] —to Chief Presidency Magistrate, sec 21 [2]	781 18	form of— sec 68 (1)  —by whom served sec 68 (2) —how served sec 89 (1) signature of receipt for—, sec 68 (2) errice of—when person summoned cannot be formed, sec 70 service of—on Govt or Railway servants, sec 72 service of—outside local limits, sec 73 issue of warrant in lien of or in addition to—, sec 90 —to produce documents or other	83 64 84 65 65 68 81
appointment of—, sec 12 [1] power of provincial—to apply for issane of commission, sec 506 Subordination —of Magistrates and Benches to Dist Magistrates, sec 17 [1] —to sub Divisional Magistrate, sec 17 [2] —of Assist Sessions Judge to Sessions Judge, sec 17 [3] —to Chief Presidency Magistrate, sec 21 [2] Sub Registrat —when to be deemed a Cvirf Court, sec 483	781 18 18	form of— see 68 (1)  —by whom served see 68 (2) —how served see 89 (1) signature of receipt for—, see 69 (2) ervice of—when person summoned cannot be formed, see 70 service of—on Gort or Railway servants, see 72 service of—outside local limits, see service of—outside local limits, see 150 produce documents or other things see 90 —to produce documents or other things see 94 power to issue—for offence committed outside local jurisdiction,	83 64 84 65 65 68 81 82
appointment of—, sec 12 (1) power of provincial—to apply for usasne of commission, sec 506 Subordination  Augustrates, sec 17 (1) but Magistrates, sec 17 (1) but Magistrates, sec 17 (1) but Divisional Magistrate, sec 17 (2) -of Assist Sessions Judge to Sessions Judge, sec 17 (3) - to Chief Presidency Magistrate, sec 21 (2) Sub Regislara	781 18 18 18 21	form of— see 68 (1)  —by whom served see 68 (2) —how served see 89 (1) signature of receipt for—, see 69 (2) ecruce of—when person summoned cannot be formed, see 70 service of—on Goot or Railway servants, see 72 service of—outside local limits, see 73 issue of warrant in lien of or in addition to—, see 90 addition to—, see 90 things of summits or other things of summits or other things of summits of see 185 power to issue—for offence committed outside local jurisdiction, see 185 —for attendance of accused, see	83 64 84 65 65 68 81 82
appointment of—, sec 12 (1) power of provincial—to apply for usasne of commission, sec 506 Subordination —of Magistrates and Benclies to Dist Magistrates, sec 17 (1) —ec 17 (2) —of 17 (2) —of Assist Sessions Judge to Sessions Judge, sec 17 (3) —to Chief Presidency Magistrate, sec 21 (2) Sub Registrar —when to be deemed a Civif Court, sec 483 appeal from countries of the con- tempt cases, sec 486 (4) Substituted Service —of summons how effected sec	781 18 18 18 21 722 724	form of— see 68 (1)  —by whom served see 68 (2)  —how served see 89 (1)  signature of receipt for— see 69 (2)  ervice of—alien person summoned cannot be formed, see 70  service of—outside local limits, see 73  issue of warrant in lien of or in addition to— see 90  —to produce documents or other things see 94  power to issue—for offence committed outside local jurisdiction, see 24  of the distribution of accused, see 204  —to witnesses for defence when accused committed see 216  —to witnesses for defence when accused committed see 216	83 64 84 65 65 68 81 82
appointment of—, sec 12 (1) power of provincial—to apply for ussane of commission, sec 506 Subordination —of Magnitrates and Benches to Dist Magnitrates, sec 17 (1) —to tub Divisional Magnitrate, —of Assist Sessions Judge to Sessions Judge, sec 17 (3) —to Chief Presidency Magnitrate, sec 21 (2) Sub Registrar —when to be deemed a Civif Court, sec 483 appeal from conviction by—in con- tempt cases, sec 486 (4) Substituted Service —of summons how effected sec 71	781 18 18 18 21	form of— see 68 (1)  —by whom served see 68 (2)  —how served see 89 (1)  signature of receipt for— see 69 (2)  evice of—when person summoned cannot be formed, see 70  service of—on Goyt or Railway servants, see 72  service of—outside boad limits, see 73  issue of warrant in lieu for in addition to— see 90  —to produce documents or other things see 94  power to issue—for offence committed outside local jurisdiction, see 186  —for attendance of accused, see 100  accused committed see 216  power to—supplementary witnesses, see 219	83 64 84 65 65 68 81 82 250 313
appointment of—, sec 12 [1] power of provincial—to apply for usasne of commission, sec 506 Subordination —of Magistrates and Benches to Dist Magistrates, sec 17 [1] —to sub Divisional Magistrate, sec 12 (2) —to Chief Presidency Magistrate, sec 21 (2) —to Chief Presidency Magistrate, sec 21 (2) —to Chief Presidency Magistrate, sec 483 appeal from conviction by—in contempt cases, sec 486 (4) Substituted Service —of summons how effected sec 71 Successor warrant for execution of sentence	781 18 18 18 21 722 724	form of— see 68 (1)  —by whom served see 68 (2)  —how served see 89 (1)  signature of receipt for— see 69 (2)  evice of—when person summoned cannot be formed, see 70  service of—outside boal limits, see 180  see 186  outside local service of offence committed outside local jurisdiction, see 186  for attendance of accused, see 298  —to witnesses for defence when secused committed see 218  power of see 186  power of see 186  for attendance of accused, see 298  —to witnesses for defence when secused committed see 218  power of see 186  power of see	83 64 84 65 65 68 81 82 250 313 335
appointment of—, sec 12 (1) power of provincial—to apply for usasne of commission, sec 506 Subordansidor Alegistrates, and Benches to Det Magistrates, sec 17 (1) —to the Magistrates, sec 17 (2) —of Assist Sessions Judge to Sessions Judge, sec 17 (3) —to Chief Presidency Magistrate, sec 21 (2) Sub Regisirar —when to be deemed a Cvif Court, sec 483 appeal from conviction by—in con- tempt cases, sec 486 (4) Substituted Service —of summons how effected sec 71 Successor	781 18 18 18 21 722 724	form of— see 68 (1)  —by whom served see 68 (2) —how served see 89 (1) signature of receipt for— see 69 (2)  ervice of—when person summoned cannot be formed, see 70 service of—other person summoned cannot be formed, see 70 service of—outside local hunts, see 73 issue of warrant in lien of or in addition to— see 90 —to produce documents or other things see 94 power to assue—for offence committed outside local jurisdiction,—for attendance of accused, see 20  —to witnessees for defence when accused committed see 216 power to—supplementary witnesses, see 219 —to juriors in Presidency towns, see 315 —to in so, see 316 power to—nother set of juriors or	83 64 84 65 68 81 82 250 313 335 337 476 476
appointment of—, sec 12 (1) power of provincial—to apply for usasne of commission, sec 506 Subordination —of Magnitates, and Benches to Dist Magnitates, sec 17 (1) sec 17 (2) sec 17 (2) sec 17 (2) —to Chief Presidency Magnitate, sec 21 (2) —to Chief Presidency Magnitate, sec 21 (2) Sub Registrar —where to be dreemed a Civif Court, sec 483 appeal from convictiont bi—in con- tempt cases, sec 436 (4) Substituted Service —of summons how effected sec 71 Successor warrant for execution of sentence may be issued by—of Magnitates	781 18 18 21 722 724	form of— see 68 (1)  —by whom served see 68 (2)  —how served see 89 (1)  signature of receipt for— see 69 (2)  ervice of—ahen person summoned cannot be formed, see 70  service of—ahen person summoned cannot be formed, see 72  service of—outside boeal limits, see 73  issue of warrant in lieu for in addition to— see 90  —to produce documents or other things see 94  power to assue—for offence committed outside local jurnsdiction, see 186  —for attendance of accused, see  —to witnesses for defence when accused committed see 216  power to—supplementary witnesses, see 219  —to jurors in Presidency towns, see 316  —to jurors outside Presidency towns, see 316  —to jurors—outside for jurors or jurors or provider to—nuclear set 70  mover to—nuclear set of the presidency towns, see 316  meter to—nuclear set 70  meter to—nuclear set 70  meter to—nuclear set 10  meter to—nuclear set	83 64 84 65 65 68 81 82 250 313 335 476

INDEX 1101

Summons—(contd.)  finding or sentence when reversible by reason of error omission or		Tank
power to-material witness, sec 540	828 847	order by Magistrate to fence-, sec 133
Summons Case ——defined sec 4 (v) tral of—by Vagustrates sec 241—249 record nu— sec 355	9 -380 527	Technical Terms duty of jury to decide meaning of all— sec 299 (b)  456  Telegraph power of Magistrates to call for
Superintendent See District Supdt of Police		purposes of investigation any thing in the custody of—autho- rities sec 95 84
Surety required where person arrested is not resident in British India,		what Magistrates can graut warrant for search of things in custody of—authorities sec. 96 (2) 85
sec 57 (2) —for good behaviour sec 110 number character and class of—	58 111	Police in preventing injury to required to be stated in order, sec 112 order to execute bond with— sec 118	115	ant - sec 42 offences against laws relating to - where triable sec 184 persons employed in the-Dept ex power to reject— sec 122 hond of accused and—, sec 499 discharge of— sec 502	125 755 756	empted from serving as jurers sec 320 (1) search of-Dept 1: Magistrate not proceedings against— sec 514 (7) procedure in case of insolvency or death of— sec 514 A	768 722	tmp were t ec 530 (b) 818 Temperary Orders acceptance of bond executed by-	772	or to issue—in urgent cales of im ance or appreceded danger to Surgeon See Civil Surgeon dead bods when to be forwarded		under et 144 by Magnetrate not tillereret sec 530 )
to Civil-for examination sec 174 (3) exemption of-from serving as prior or assessor sec 320 (b)	238 478	Tent included in place dejosition of— sec 509 Suspected person		Theit offence of when security for good behaviour from-,	109	offen e of-ul
Suspension See 'Removal		release with admor of Justices of the Luce sec 27 of payment of empenation under sec 280 sec 260 (4) of everation of sentence of im prisonment sec 388	22 29 38£ 565	Thug    re   re   m xilly     t   pole   e     t   pole   e     ct   18 of sentence of whipping sec 395 of sentence to G G in Council	571	Trade or Local Got sec 401  or Local Got sec 401  of sentence rending appeal se  4%	530 630	recutate
Suspicious death occurrence of.—in or near village to be reported to Police sec		Tranquility c ar to for t tarked
45 (d)	41	10. (1)

Fransaction		Triat(confd )
nal of observe commuted in the		" " till twee and yel-course of same- sec 223		•e0 4/7
(a) and (d)	æ,	4 mil 117 103
trial of more than one offence com		- telefe H - n1 Tor one
mirted in the sair-, etc -235	*57	-tales H & b fers, ere ber	414
Fransier		- Jeffe South Court to bit	114 of case or application of		Title of Section to the gay	415 accused sec 191	26	-telms was a Conti to b con	•••
of cases hi Mamstrates se		do ted by Pelli Procentor
192	"ሕ7	× 270	114
-of case by Maristrate and com		commencement of ger ton a sec
petent to dispose of sec 946 —of appeals he list clas Maris		271	417
trains sec 407 (2)	594	— -by wame just of average of several effections who 2/2	421
cares or order of TI C sec		Joint -60 295 4	177
520	780	place of of I mapons British out of cares he Ti C to steel see		into an ear	101
126\	ыз	r loses of limits penting the r of G G m Lounni to-		re-imposes of of hundre to 187	1711
officers and appeals see	805	re-imption of of huntin in 187 elfort of the junt of effects fronte	1917
i wer of person Tinguitrite te-	4417	the tree size and after a tell
( )hes see 776 (2)	50	44 KW	7-7
ANTICIA TEL CART PAY			٠.
Tenslation
mto English or Vernardar		4
record in cese of commisment	200	Marine and American
	-3537	Part of Masterite to some and-
Improvemental of Judgment to	735	to dipere by 17	171
of judgment, when required,	*	שים היד ויון לה לה אחת לה או אם הידו
4C 22 _	32 7	126	July 1
		the of military force to theprine-	١
Trai ; tion		rx 120	jm
powers   semicine to see, si	26	केर्यर सार्काताला एक्टर उन्होंने हैं। वेर्यर सार्कात केर्यर अनुसर्वे सार्	1m mails I Diet Magistrates spe-		had bit bet bet entitlete bet ben et	F 411
- L e	33		12-
per ter	175	मही गार — नेगानर गरावृद्धि हुत न्यालक व्यक्तिया मार्गावृद्धि कृष्ट में हुत हुत ने क्ष्य sentence of services	841	the tre - Author bleife Kis eginen	117
furth tanced to not to be much to be punished with whipper in punished with whipp-		betted on 11 f. 19 bil 450 belong mi vec 393 (b)	870	bellet and the first and the first me	719
		to the windle at 1834	٤ì
Trespar-
f chiking attachment not to		Unionful Matthelian
t diffied a -, see Sts .	814		141
		DE: 1813	111
1		Ifanainest Beatly
To Haus   Ince of   ser 178	213	sminite ber forter life i all bases bit	117
in different sessions divisions,		THE THE	±17
178	13
inquiry or—, see 177-181 Mi-	611	threatth bille
after alteration of tharge, see		rive additional to a man व्यव
when new-may be directed, see		v,
209	810	Wasser, I
-for more than one edience, eas	057	Ascelled by thickly of summons cases, sad	95 7	freding to In asa	Havielista, se	- 11

Vord.

Volunteers

stregularities by Magistrates which render proceedings-, sec 530 817

Vagabond,

Vagrants

power of police officer to arrest

-, sec 55 (1)

regions for good behaviour from , see 109  Aakii — included in term "pleader", see 4 (t)  Variation of Sentence, — of death in case of pregnant woman, see 382 — of whipping if offender not an fit state of health, see 295	9 561 571	Volunteers —enrolled under Indian Volunteers Act may be required by feers Act may be required by ful assemble, disperse unlaw- ful assembly and assembly doung any act under orders, in dispersing unlawful assembly not hable to prosecution, see 132  Voyage onience committed on—when tria ble, see 183	136 137 248
Verdict  See "Jury"  of jury appointed under see 138  cutterenent of jury to consider—, see 300  diver of-of jury, see 301  diver of-of jury, see 301  of jury to amend-, see 301  of jury to amend-, see 301  of jury in Sessions Court when to prevail, see 305  of jury in Sessions Court when to prevail, see 306  precedure where Sesvicina judge disgrees with—of jury, see 307  Véasel  -included in expression place", see (4) (a)	149 457 457 458 463 463 463 464	Mariani and to person other than police officer executing—, see 43 when police commission rises authout —, see 43 procedure when police officer deputes subordinate to arrest without—, see 58 (1) continuance of—of arrest, see 75 (1) continuance of—of arrest, see 75 (1) — to show directed, see 77 (2) — to show directed, see 77 (2) — to show directed, see 79 ordification of substance of—see 78 (2) — directed to police other see 79 modification of substance of—see 89 shortem—nt be executed, see 51 shortem—nt be executed, see 52 shortem—nt be executed, see 53 shortem—nt be executed, see 54 shortem—nt be executed as the shortem of the shor	39 48 57 67 71 71 71 72 72
heads of—in Madras deemed to be Manystrates for certain pur poses, see 528 (b)  Sistor —of lunatic valum to certify about capacity of lunatic to	350 444 41 42 238 806	outside purediction execution outside puredict per 68 (1) directed to Police (iffeet for even ton outside jurisdiction see $1 (1) see of —in lead of in addition to summons set. 90 (1) see of —in lead of —in lea

Warrant~(contd)

ment sec 383

for execution of sentence of tran portation or imprison

Whipping-(contd )

stay of sentence of—on grounds of directs work for account	561	•

directi n of-for execution see 384	563	Wite
-with whom to be lodged, see		order for maintennice of-, sec 488 726
So	563	not entitled to allowance if his
-for leve of fine sec 386	563	mg in a fulters, sec 488 (4) 727 effect of-for less of fine sec 387	563	* * (
wh nat issue-for execution of		Window .
entence sec 389	567	power to break open-for arrest
ret rn of -on execution of sent	501	power to break open-for purposes
re ec 400	580	ing offender, sec 48 47
f r arrest of accused in appeal	200	of liberation set 49 47
from ecquittal sec 427	636	01 100013000 Set 49 47
- ir prement of maintenance	0.10	20.240 2
under, sec 488 sec 488 (3)		Withdrawal
- f r recovery of penelty on bond	727	- f renaming charges on con
ec 514		tiction on one of several
	763	charges see 240 371
Warrant Case		power of Dist Magistrate as to-
	_	of appeals from subordinate nearing of -, sec 4 (u)	9	Magi trate see 407 (2) 595
praedure for-to be followed in		effect of-from pro ecution sec 494 743 proceedings requiring securits		-by H C of case for trial by for good behaviour, see 117 (2)	117	ntelf, sec 526 (2) 789 procedure in trial of- sec
251-279 389-	250	Withdramal
••		- of cases by Sessions Judge or
Way		Dist or Sul-Divisional Magis order for removal of obstruction		trate <ee (1)="" (2)="" 528="" 804<="" td=""></ee>
to sec 133 (1)	141	 1
		\\ Itnesses
Weapons		See Fullence
power to seize offensive- sec 53	45	searches to be made in presence of found in search to be sent to Magnetrate along with accused		— ee. 103 92 not to be required to accom
-required in evidence to be sent	237	pant Police Officer to Court to Court sec 218 (2)	336
to Court vec 215 (2)	100	power of police officer to require attendance of— see 160 202
Wearing approval		examination of— sec 208 319
-not to be taken possession of		tist of—for defence sec 2t1 378
by officer searching arrested		power of Magistrate to examine-
	47	ramed in list sec 212 329
person see 51	•/	s m ons to-for defence, sec 216 335
II debte and Manager		bond of- sec 217 336
Weights and Measures	193	tower to sun mon supplementary offences relating to weights and	1-3	— sec °19 337 measures may be tried sum		recall of-nhen charge altered
marily see 260 (b)	103	sec 231 351
marity see 200 (c)		cro-s-examination of prosecution
		— sec 256 395
Well		process for con pelling attendance
order for fencing of-, sec 133	141	of-at instance of accused sec
		257 398
Whipping		right of accused as to examination
See Sentence"		and summoning of, sec
power of Magistrates to sentence		291 442
	27	evidence of-how to be recorded execution of centence of-, cec		sec 754-360 527, 534
	-67	remarks by Judge respecting
execution of sentence of-in adds		den ennour of- sec 363 537
	68	12 presonment of-for refusal to
	69	mower questions, sec 485 722
exenption from centence of -, sec		when attendance of may be dis- pensed with sec 503 (1) 756
793 5	70

Withesses—(Conta)		44.11
tion of sec 503	756	power of H C to issue—ofhabes- corpus, sec 491	738 commission in case of-being with		• • in presidency town, sec		Written Statement
504	760		162
parties may examine-where com		by accused, sec 256	396
mission has been issued sec		ey accepted Sec 200
505	761	Wrongful Confinement
deposition of medical-, section		search for persons kept in-, sec
509 (1)	763	100	16
power to summon medical-, sec		offence of-compoundable, sec 345
509 (2)	763	outlier of con-poundable, see one
power of Court to summon material	,,,, witness, sec 540	847
withers, see ord		v
Women		•
search of apartment occupied by		Youthful Offenders
-, sec 48	47	confinement of-in reformatories,
mode of searching-, sec 52	48	sec 399	575
who may initiate prosecution for en	40	SCC 355	010
ticing narried-, sec 199	298
postponement of capital sentence	200	Z.
on pregnant—, sec 382	561	-
-not to be sentenced to whip-	301	Zenana
ping, sec 393 (4)	570
poner to restore liberts to-unlaw	370	person sought to be arrested, fully detained, sec 552	863	sec 48	47
	203	000 40	••

Warrant-(contd )

-for execution of sentence of direction of-for execution, sec 384

-with whom to be lodged, sec

transportation or imprison ment sec 383

561

563

563 Wile

Whipping-(contd)

stay of sentence of—on grounds of health, sec. 394

-not entitled to allowance, if his order for maintenarce of-, sec 488 726

for the set of	36.1	not entitled to allowance, it live for levy of fine sec 386	563	ing in adulters, sec 488 (4) 7 effect of-for less of fine sec 39?	Er-who may issue-for execution of	. 500
sentence, sec 389		Window sentence, see 389	567	power to break open-for arrest return of-on execution of sent		power to break open-for purposes
ence see 400	580
-for arre t of accused in appeal	200
or arre that accused in appeal		of liberation, see 49 4
from ecquittal, sec 427	636
for payment of maintenance		Withdrawal under, sec 488 sec 483 (3)	- mach et 100 att 100 [1]	727	-of retraining charges on con for recovery of penelty on bond,		siction on one of several sec 514	763	charges see 240 37
	,00	power of Dist Magistrate as toharrant Case
		of appeals from subordinate meaning of -, sec 4 (a)	9	Magistrate, sec 407 (2) 59:
procedure for-to be followed in		effect of-from pro-cention, sec 494 743 proceedings requiring security		-by H C of case for trial by for word believens are 112 to for good behaviour, sec 117 (2)	117	it <elf, (2)="" 526="" 789<="" <ec="" td=""></elf,> procedure in trial of-, see 251-259 389.	_250	Nothdrawa!
		of cases by Sessions Judge or or cares of resistons ladge of l as		Dist or Sub-Divisional Magis-order for removal of obstruction		trate <ec (1)="" (2)="" 528="" 804<="" td=""></ec>
to—, sec 133 (1)	141
 /   (*/		Witnesses
$ eapons		See 'I's idence '
power to seize offensive-, sec 53	43	searches to be made in presence of
found in search to be sent to		, sec 103 92
Magistrate along with accused		-not to be required to accom
sec 170 (2)	232	pans Police Officer to Court,
-required in evidence to be sent required in evidence to be sent		see 171 233
to Court, sec 218 (2)	336	power of police officer to require nttendance of-, see 160 202
A caring approval		examination of- see 208 319
not to be taken possession of		het of-for defence sec 211 328 not to be taken possession of by officer searching arrested		power of Wagistrate to examine-person, sec 51	47	ramed in list sec 212 329
		sorn one to-for defence sec 216 335
Later and Managers		bond cf-, sec 217 336
leights and Measures	100	toner to summon supplementary inspection of-, sec 153	193	- sec 219 337
offences relating to weights and		337
measures may be tried sum		recall of-when charge altered, marily, sec 260 (b)	403	<ec 231="" 351<="" td=""></ec>
marrie, see -ee (1)		crose-examination of prosecution
		, sec 256 395
l ell		process for compelling attendance
order for fencing of-, sec 133	141	process for con penns, archange order for sements or 1 occ and		of-st instance of accused sec.
		257 398
Ahipping		right of accused as to examination
See 'Sentence'		and an mmoning of -, see
See Sentence
power of Magistrates to sentence
to-, sec 32	27	evidence of-how to be recorded execution of sentence of-, sec		see 354-360 527, 534
390	67	remarks by Judge respecting execution of sentence of-in adds		den canour of, sec 363 537
e recution of sevence of the addit	eca	17 prisonment of-for refusal to tion to imprisonment, sec 391	568	11 prisonir cut of lettral to 569	answer emestions, sec 485 722
even ption from sentence of- sec		when attendance of-may be dis-
	570	pensed with, sec 503 (1) 756

Witnesses-(contd)	Pro	Writ power of H C to issue—ofhabes-tion of—, sec 503	756	corpus, sec 491	738
commission in case of—being with in presidency town, sec 504 parties may examine—where com	760	Written Statement —in proceedings under sec 145 —by accused, sec 286	162 396
mission has been issued, sec 505	701	Wrongful Confinement
deposition of medical—, section	101	search for persons kept in-, sec
509 (1)	763	100	٠.
power to summon medical, sec		offence of-compoundable, sec 345	91 510
509 (2)	763	,	010
power of Court to summon material	847
witness, sec 540	04/	v
Women		•
search of apartment occupied by  —, sec 48 mode of searching—, sec 52 who may initiate prosecution for en tening married—, sec 199	47 48 298	louthful Offenders confinement of—in reformatories, sec 499	575
postponement of capital sentence		Z
on pregnant, sec 382	561	~
-not to be sentenced to whip ling, sec 393 (a)	570	Zenana Breaking open-for search of power to restore liberty to-unlaw fully detained, sec 552	863	person sought to be arrested	47

